JACKPOT!

Belleville's new manager to spend 700 Grand

By Joyce M. Steel
A big part of Bertrand Kendall's responsibilities, as the town's new manager, is to save money. But one of the first things he's planning to do is spend more than $700,000.

The treasure chest represents all or part of 15 grants given to Belleville within the past five years. Kendall said the "biggest chunk of the money comes from the federal government" in the form of Community Development grants.

Belleville has in its coffers about $250,000 in balances from seven municipal aid projects like the Overlook and Wallace Street Improvements, the Valley Parking Lot, varied tree planting projects and the Valley Area Watermain Project. The remaining eight grants, which total nearly $600,000, are for projects not yet begun, such as facade improvements and repaving of Valley Street and Belleville Avenue.

Most grant monies come to municipalities with the stipulation that the work be started within three years. A majority of the untouched grants were given to the town this year; however, a $19,000 gift, for the purposes of reconstructing Beech Street, was received in 1988 and has not yet been expended.

Kendall said that grant, along with facade improvement money, will be "put to good use as soon as possible." He said that, with the help of two new administrators hired last week, the township will be able to put the finishing touches on existing plans, and draw up new ones, to get the dormant projects off the ground.

At last week's council meeting the members introduced salary ordinances for a director of engineering and public works, and a director of planning. Although residents were up in arms about spending nearly $120,000 for the two staffers, Kendall believes they will save the township money by eliminating, to a large extent, the fees paid out to private engineering and planning firms.

Kendall announced Friday that Stanley Stires, a former engineering and public works director in Freehold, would assume that position at Belleville at a salary of $66,000 a year. Robert Ringelheim took the position of director of planning, at a salary of $53,000 per year. He held that post in West Windsor and Orange before coming to Belleville.

In addition to organizing the plans for grants Belleville has already received, Stires and Ringelheim will be meeting with Kendall and council members in the coming weeks to draw up applications for more money. The deadline to submit grant applications is Dec. 13, and Kendall said the areas in which Belleville will request aid in 1991 include watermain and road improvements, crime prevention and tree planting.

Kendall said he hopes to have a public hearing on the grant applications placed on the Nov. 27 council meeting agenda. The council is also expected to pass the two new salaries at that meeting, and Kendall said neither of the new employees, who began work this week, would be paid until the ordinance is passed.

'Can-do' attitude prompts Ruffalo to shoot for the gold

By Mike Lazorchak
Don't ever tell Rich Ruffalo that he can't do something.

In 1983, Ruffalo picked up a javelin for the first time in ten years. At the age of 51, when most athletes are already contemplating retirement, Ruffalo was making a comeback. The ten year layoff posed enough of an obstacle, without even considering that Ruffalo is blind.

After battling an eye disease known as retinitis pigmentosa, Ruffalo lost his sight in 1983.

Now, seven years later, the name Ruffalo is synonymous with success in track and field. 1990 proved to be another banner year as Ruffalo distinguished himself in state, national and international competition. Traveling as far as the Netherlands to compete, the Belleville High School biology teacher garnered numerous medals in javelin, discus and shot put competition.

"I like to be known for the things I can do, not the things I can't," Ruffalo said.

With this desire in mind, Ruffalo constantly looks for challenges. This year he once again competed against able-bodied athletes at the TAC Masters N.J. Track and Field Competition. The competition gives Ruffalo a chance to prove his contention that disability is a state of mind.

There could be no more convincing evidence than the gold and silver medals that he won. In the last seven years he has won four state titles against able-bodied competition.

"Everyone has obstacles to overcome," Ruffalo philosophizes. "Athletics are the vehicle I use to show people how to overcome them."

Even though he has won 13 international medals, including six World Titles, Ruffalo maintains a level headed approach. Working with people, especially kids, and helping them overcome their obstacles is his goal. When he retires from competition, he wants to devote his energy to coaching in hopes of returning something to the sports that gave him so much.

"Records and medals are always going to be taken by someone else," Ruffalo said. "I would rather be remembered as a humanitarian."

Next June Ruffalo plans to compete in the Can-Am Games against 43 other countries. His main focus, however, is on the 1992 Handicapped Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. In the 1988 games in Seoul, South Korea, Ruffalo brought home a gold medal in the discus.

In what he considers the greatest competitive thrill of his career, he won the gold on the final throw despite having torn ligaments in his ankle earlier in the competition. Having tasted Olympic gold once, Ruffalo is determined to sweep all three of his events in '92.

Ruffalo would like the Olympics to be the final feather in his cap before he retires from competition. Just three more obstacles, and don't try to tell him he can't do it.

Belleville High School, which received mixed reviews on the 1989 state School Report Card, is battling some of its problem spots with innovative programs and a dose of concern.

After the 1989 study, Gov. James Florio and his administration nixed the annual report card — a statistical breakdown of each school district's progress — claiming lack of funding. However, BHS administrators took the last analysis to heart.

"We realize there are areas that we need improvement, and we are working on them," said Dr. Richard Benninger, director of guidance at BHS. The school's dropout rate, which hovered just over 4 percent at the end of the 1989 school year and, according to Benninger, has since dropped to about 3.8 percent, is a top priority.

"If it's one kid, it's too high," Benninger said. High School personnel began studying the trend toward dropping out, and traced it back to students' study habits and circumstances in middle school.

"We noticed that, around the seventh grade, students who had a tendency to discontinue their education at the high school level were separated from their classes or experienced other problems," Benninger said. He said a Disaffected Students program was put into effect recently to make these students feel better about themselves and their education.

By Anthony Buccino
The Board of Education ratified a three-year contract with the Belleville Education Association by a vote of 5-1 with Trustee Gabe Nazzola abstaining. Board Vice President Patty Pisano cast the lone vote against the contract settlement.

Pisano said the teachers are the "second most important part in the children's education" but the three-year contract "causes me concern."

She said she proposed an alternative course calling for a 1-year contract which would renew negotiations after the "fiscal crisis facing us" has ended.

Pisano said the anticipated loss of state aid and the uncertainty of state funding for teachers pensions should be resolved before the board ratified the three-year contract. The district's financial future is uncertain, she said.

The contract calls for a blanket 7 percent increase in salary for 1990-91, and increases in 1991-92 and 1992-93 of 6 percent, with an additional 3 percent added in February of both years. However, BEA spokesperson Elaine Idenden stressed that those figures are derived from and applied to the entire salary budget, and doled out according to a detailed salary guide.

Some teachers receive smaller increases, while others, depending on their level of education, years with the district and other factors, receive larger pay hikes. The starting salary will increase only 5 percent according to the contract, and the raise for teachers at the top of the scale will increase less than 6 percent.

Trustee Joseph Del Guercio complimented the BEA for encouraging their members to keep teaching while negotiations were in progress. He voted in favor of the contract noting the rising cost of education. He cited the teachers' plight, saying "dedication and commitment do not put bread on the table or put our children through college." He indicated the current contract will "pay our teachers a just and fair wage."

Board President Dr. Anthony D'Agostino said the district does have a "quality system." During negotiations, he said, "there was a controlled atmosphere...with emotionalism at a minimum."

Salary guides indicating what teachers at various levels of service with various levels of education will earn are scheduled to be prepared by the BEA now that the board has ratified the contract.

Nazzola, prior to abstaining from voting, referred to "allega-

BHS tries to remedy ills in '89 report

By Joyce M. Steel

Belleville High School, which received mixed reviews on the 1989 state School Report Card, is battling some of its problem spots with innovative programs and a dose of concern.

After the 1989 study, Gov. James Florio and his administration nixed the annual report card — a statistical breakdown of each school district's progress — claiming lack of funding. However, BHS administrators took the last analysis to heart.

"We realize there are areas that we need improvement, and we are working on them," said Dr. Richard Benninger, director of guidance at BHS. The school's dropout rate, which hovered just over 4 percent at the end of the 1989 school year and, according to Benninger, has since dropped to about 3.8 percent, is a top priority.

"If it's one kid, it's too high," Benninger said. High School personnel began studying the trend toward dropping out, and traced it back to students' study habits and circumstances in middle school.

"We noticed that, around the seventh grade, students who had a tendency to discontinue their education at the high school level were separated from their classes or experienced other problems," Benninger said. He said a Disaffected Students program was put into effect recently to make these students feel better about themselves and their education.

As part of the program, students who were kept behind during grade school or middle school are given the opportunity to take classes with their peers in the higher grades. In addition, Benninger said support services are available through the school, and tutoring programs such as Peers Educating Peers (PEP) offer assistance from fellow students.

"They appear to be making progress," Benninger said of the disaffected students, and pointed to the lowered dropout rate as an indication of the program's success. But in another area where Belleville High received criticism from the 1989 report, more recent statistics show declining results.

According to last year's report card, only 43.6 percent of the graduating seniors attended, or planned to attend, college. And the combined score of students' Scholastic Aptitude Test (S.A.T.), which most of the nation's colleges use as criterion for admission, was 800. The state averages at the time of the report were 64.6 percent of students attending a two- or four-year college, with an average combined S.A.T. score of 890.

Benninger pointed out that the study failed to recognize BHS's vocational arts program, which he said prepares students to go either into the workforce or on to a trade or technical school. However, the program's director, Victor DePaw, admitted that "very few" of the students enrolled in vocational arts pursue it as a career.

DePaw said, due to state funding of the program, he is responsible for issuing a follow-up report on alumni to the state each year. His research has indicated that "many of my former students actually attend college after high school."

Although the specialized programs may keep the number of college-bound seniors from Belleville High at a minimum, those who do decide to go are scoring almost 100 points below the combined state average score on the S.A.T. Benninger said academic programs already in place, along with pilot plans and anticipated additions to the curriculum, are helping BHS attempt to improve the statistics.

For the first time Belleville High is offering an Advanced Placement course designed to challenge students proficient in calculus. Any of the 21 students taking the AP Calculus course who passes the final test will receive college credits. In addition, Benninger said BHS is hoping to offer an AP French course next year.

Project Acceleration, a veteran program in the high school, gives students the chance to earn college credits through Seton Hall University in English, French, Spanish and Italian. And the Academically Talented course of study challenges advanced students in every major subject, plus art," Benninger said.

Benninger estimates that one third of BHS students do not speak English as a native language, and identifies that as a factor in the low S.A.T. scores. He said English As A Second Language is offered to those students "until testing reveals it's no longer necessary."

For all students planning to take the college boards, Benninger said an S.A.T. preparatory course was introduced as part of the curriculum this year. Traditionally, such courses are offered outside school hours, and a fee is often applied. According to Benninger, BHS students spend about 4.9 hours per school day in class, about an hour less than the 1989 state-reported average.

If the scores of the High School Proficiency Test are any indication, Belleville High might be able to look forward to an upswing in test scores and overall academic performance. The 169 students who took the S.A.T. in the spring — mostly juniors — scored lower than this year's freshmen in all three H.S.P.T. categories when they took the tests as freshmen.

The H.S.P.T. tests the general knowledge of ninth graders in reading, writing and arithmetic, and indicates whether or not students can perform those tasks at a high school level. In 1987, the mean score in reading was 89.1, writing was 86.1, and arithmetic, 77.2. This year's freshmen accomplished mean scores of 94.6 in reading, 88.0 in writing and 82.9 in mathematics.

SITTING PRETTY and priming for the 1990 Veteran's Day Parade is Karen Auerbach, Belleville resident and winner of the Miss New Jersey Pre-Teen Hostess pageant. The parade featured a half dozen bands, more than 40 marching units and several vehicles and floats. It was a huge success!

Clara Maass pediatrician elected to Pediatric Society

Barry Prystowsky, M.D. was recently elected president of the New Jersey Pediatric Society.

Dr. Prystowsky, a board certified pediatrician, is an associate physician in pediatrics at Clara Maass Medical Center. He also practices at Children's Hospital of New Jersey.

In addition to his private practice in Nutley, Dr. Prystowsky is the school physician for the Township of Nutley, Chairman of the School Health Committee for the Essex County Medical Society, a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics - New Jersey chapter, and the Council of Public Health - Medical Society of New Jersey.

Same day stay facility opens at Clara Maass Medical Center

Recently the Same Day Stay facility at Clara Maass Medical Center opened its doors to the public. The first patient was Mrs. Rose Avena of Orange, a patient of Eugene Chiappetta, M.D., attending physician in ophthalmology at the medical center.

The facility, part of a $23.8 million expansion/renovation program, consists of two spacious, private dressing rooms for men and women, a pre-operative area where patients are admitted and prepared for surgery, three operating rooms and a post-operative recovery/discharge area complete with a waiting area for family members.

"The new facility is something we can all be proud of. It reflects growth not only for the Medical Center, but for the community as well," said Robert S. Curtis, president and CEO of Clara Maass

Medical Center.

Same Day Stay minimizes both the cost of medical care and the patient's time away from work and family, enabling the patient to return home after surgical procedures that do not require hospitalization.

Free van service is available for Same Day Stay patients who live within the local area. For more information on Same Day services at Clara Maass Medical Center call 450-2133.

Seniors pack goodies

Belleville senior citizens are busy making up packages to be sent to our fighting men and women in Saudi Arabia.

Each box contains soap, shampoo, hard candy (chocolate would melt in the hot desert), reading material, games and other small items that our young soldiers may find interesting. A personal note is enclosed with each box.

"With the holidays coming soon, we want them to know we are thinking of them," said Betty Barr, president of the club.

Joseph Dillon, John Chialella and Al Insano noted that when they were in the service during World War II, little mementos from home meant a lot to them.

Nutley man snagged in Belleville with half pound of marijuana

A Nutley man was arrested by Belleville narcotics officers last week after he attempted to elude them in a car chase that ended in the high tension wires off of Passaic Avenue.

Detective Sgt. Joseph Rotonda said police received information that a Nutley resident had been "dealing significant amounts of marijuana in our town." Surveillance was set up, and police observed the suspect's vehicle entering Belleville around 9:50 p.m. Nov. 8.

When the officers attempted to pull the suspect over, Rotonda said, he refused to stop and the police gave chase. During the pursuit, officers noticed a plastic bag was discarded through the passenger side window of the vehicle.

The bag, which contained about one half pound of marijuana, was retrieved, and when the suspect was apprehended near the high tension wires off of Passaic Avenue, he was arrested.

Police charged 29-year-old Gregory Schmalz, of 248 Centre St. in Nutley, with eluding police, possession of marijuana, and possession with intent to distribute. The narcotics squad and members of the police force then searched Schmalz's apartment. Marijuana, scales and other paraphernalia, and more than $1,000 in cash were confiscated.

Nutley police arrested Schmalz on Nov. 9, charging him with possession of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia and possession with intent to distribute. Schmalz was released on $1,000 bail in Belleville, and a court date is pending.

Sgt. James in Middle East

Sgt. Kathleen M. James has deployed to the Middle East with American military forces participating in Operation Desert Shield.

Operation Desert Shield is the largest deployment of U.S. military forces since Vietnam. The operation is in response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia.

"It is the presence of dedicated military people like James that brings America's principles to life and gives them strength and meaning," President George Bush said.

She is the daughter of Mortimer and Sara Kelleher of Forest St., Belleville, and sister of Eileen Mascari of Nutley.

James is an inventory management specialist at George Air Force Base, Calif.

The sergeant is a 1984 graduate of Belleville High School.

Airman Majia deployed

Airman 1st Class Alexander Mejia has deployed to the Middle East with American military forces participating in Operation Desert Shield.

Operation Desert Shield is the largest deployment of U.S. military forces since Vietnam. The operation is in response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia.

"It is the presence of dedicated military people like Mejia that brings America's principles to life and gives them strength and meaning," President George Bush said.

He is the son of Angel M. and Rafaela Mejia of Cedar Hill Avenue in Belleville.

The airman is a pavements maintenance specialist at Barksdale Air Force Base, Bossier City, La.

He is a 1988 graduate of Belleville High School.

Belleville resident Susan Wold and co-star Michall Kerns rehearse a scene from Edward Albee's searing drama "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" currently playing at the Studio Playhouse, Upper Montclair. Performances continue on Nov. 15, 16 and 17 at 8:30 p.m. For information and reservations call 744-9752.

Board votes yes on contract

tions...small minds propagate" concerning the possible conflict of interest posed by his three children teaching in the school district. He also served on the negotiating committee representing the board.

Quoting from NJ Statutes, Title 18A, Nazzola said that in cases of potential conflicts of interest, members should abstain from voting, but in a cited case, he said, "however it is overly cautious" to abstain because he was voting on a collective bargaining contract, not a specific settlement involving any of his children.

"While I have every legal right to vote yea, I will abstain," Nazzola said.

Board members Vincent Marrone, Seymour Grossman and Ralph Mazzuca voted without comment in favor of the contract.

In other business, Pat Taibi, awareness chairwoman for the Belleville Alliance for Substance Education presented a proposal for Graduation Celebration '91, an alcohol and substance free all-night celebration for BHS seniors.

Taibi asked the board to determine the exact graduation date so BASE could look in a date about the Spirit of New Jersey cruise yacht. The group placed an $11,185 deposit for the trip which will be provided to BHS seniors the night of graduation.

Scheduling a rain date for the graduation ceremony would defeat the purpose of the cruise as an all-night celebration, Taibi said. Recent all-night celebrations have had dwindling attendance, and using a public restaurant or location with a bar requires the celebration to end at 2 a.m.

Taibi said the choice of the Spirit of New Jersey yacht for the celebration would keep the graduates together and following the cruise, school buses would return the students to the high school cafeteria for breakfast. She told the board that BASE would fund the entire event and pay the overtime for bus drivers. BASE would provide chaperones at the rate of one for every eight students.

Belleville senior Kristin Villano said the cruise would "make it a little bit more special."

War veterans plan breakfast

North Essex Post 146, Jewish War Veterans of USA, will hold a breakfast meeting at Temple B'nai Israel, 192 Centre St., Nutley, at 9:30 a.m., Nov. 25.

Band parents fundraiser set

The Belleville Music Parents Association has announced that their first major fund raiser for this year will be a Tag Day, to be held throughout the township on Nov. 17.

The Music Parents fund raisers help raise money for two purposes. The money is split between the organization and the band and color guard participants. The Music Parents use the money to pay for scholarships, equipment for the music department and to help defray the costs of band camp. The students raise their portion to help pay for the expenses incurred in planning the annual spring trip. This spring, the band will be participating in a band festival in Canada. On Nov. 17, members of the band and color guard will be at locations in front of stores throughout Belleville, in uniform. Each member will have a coffee can for donations.

OUR OPINION

The Difference

I got up early one morning and rushed right into the day.
I had so much to accomplish,
I didn't have time to pray.
I wanted to see joy and beauty, but the day toiled on, gray and bleak.
I wondered why God didn't show me.
He said "You didn't seek."
I tried to come into God's presence.
I used all my keys at the lock.
God gently and lovingly chided,
"My child, you didn't knock."
I woke up early this morning and paused before entering the day.
I had so much to accomplish,
I had to take time to pray.

Spending our children's inheritance

On the back of a gleaming new recreation vehicle, we saw recently one of those bumper stickers: "Don't mind us, we're spending our children's inheritance." Presumably the message is meant to be funny, and most likely the retired folks (like most retired folks) do plan to leave an inheritance or, to avoid the "death" tax, have already provided for their children.

Yet the bumper sticker message could apply to our failure, as adults, to provide for the national inheritance to our children, and to our children's children as well. We are familiar with the nearly three-trillion-dollar federal debt, with a sizeable portion consumed in endless federal programs for this and that special interest, including the so-called grey lobby. Yes, we are spending our children's inheritance; and we will leave them bills, bills and more bills to pay.

By the year 2035, the number of folks 65 and older will increase by 119 percent from the 35 million Americans now at and beyond that age. Even more startling, the number of Americans 85 and older will rise by 206 percent! And if further breakthroughs occur in preventing and in treating victims of heart disease and cancer, the percentages will be revised sharply upward.

Conservative philosopher Robert Nisbet suggests that our society is moving towards a new class struggle of sorts: the young and working, who will pay the taxes, versus the elderly and retired, who will live off, via governmental handouts, the taxes. Half in humor, he considers Karl Marx may have been right, after all: "Youth of the world unite, you have nothing to lose but ... your taxes!"

One newspaper editorial couldn't possibly compress the many ways in which this disparity between the young and the old can be bridged. One way would be to allow folks to work longer, beyond age 65, without loss in benefits they had earned previously.

Another way would be to phase out Social Security, so that the generations (say, under 30 years of age) would enter into a kind of IRA program, paid from weekly earnings and with interest, to be distributed at retirement. Any kind of IRA — barring an end-of-the-world crisis — would pay at least double the monthly allocations now doled out through Social Security. The complexities of transferring America from Social Security dependence to an IRA independence would be no more difficult than the process in which America entered into Social Security dependence in the 1930s.

At the present pace, we are bankrupting our children, as politicians spend and spend and spend — and let the next shift of workers and taxpayers worry about the tab! This issue should be fundamental in any political campaign: When will we stop spending our children's inheritance ... in America?

Subsidizing subsidized schools

Our attention has been directed to an announcement of Sussex County Community College — and we suspect this of other taxpayer-subsidized schools as well — that it has agreed to allow Pennsylvania residents to enroll at less than full tuition charged to out-of-state residents. Full-time tuition for out-of-staters is usually $3,530, but this particular Pennsylvania county would get the cut rate of $1,780.

We have no argument against Pike County Pennsylvanians wanting to take advantage of the courses available at Sussex County Community College. But, when we consider the extremely high taxes imposed on New Jersey residents to subsidize the state community colleges, how in heaven's name can N.J. Department of Higher Education permit this kind of subsidization upon subsidization to out-of-staters? Or are those topsy-turvy, shaft-the-taxpayer, cut-rated tuitions applied elsewhere in our state?

This practice should be stopped. If a community college cannot secure sufficient students, it should downsize its operations or close. Sorry to give you the more "negative" news, dear generous taxpayers!

YOUR OPINION

'UN-GAGGED!'

To the editor:

I read your editorial in the November 8 edition with great interest. From my limited knowledge of the "gag rule" issue in Belleville, and my knowledge of Acting Manager Charles Burns as a professional, I believe this policy was misunderstood. It was an attempt to recognize a new unified voice for the Council-Manager government, and not a desire to step on anyone's rights. In effect, and with a brand new Council-Manager government, who else can talk policy or direction? In almost 20 years of local government with 18 years as a city manager in Cedar Grove, Montclair, and Ridgewood, I have never issued a "gag rule." I don't feel such edicts are proper or necessary, and I realize that the press often wants to talk to several levels of local government. When the press calls I always urge them to talk to the Mayor or Council Members for policy statements, or to myself or concerned staff members for operational questions.

I trust the judgment of our employees to make responsible statements, and I hope that a free press can separate fact from rumor. I am too busy in my new job to worry about who calls whom. The "gag rule" — if there ever was one — is finished as far as I'm concerned.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the many kind people of Belleville and Nutley for their support and help at the death of our mother, Mrs. Marie Buccino.

Special thanks to the Belleville Fire Department ambulance squad, Jim Cozzarelli, Father Pat at Holy Family Church, and our many friends and neighbors. Your love and prayers made a very difficult time a bit easier to handle. God bless you all.

Prayers and fears

To the editor:

Perhaps by the time this letter is read by your public, America may be thrown into a conflict far beyond our "wildest" wartime nightmares.

As a veteran of a conflict in Vietnam, I pray that no aggression by our forces or the Iraqi forces takes place.

It is the eve of Veteran's Day and a time of remembrance. As Americans we must all gather our thoughts to those soldiers and sailors abroad and hope and pray that this unconscionable conflict be brought to a peaceful end.

My fears are with these Americans that have been thrown into a psychological battle between a democracy and a dictator like the likes this world has not seen since the days of Adolf Hitler.

We face a foe armed with our own American-made weapons as sophisticated and deadly as modern warfare could produce.

I ask all who feel the gravity of our Mid-East situation to take the time to think about our soldiers and the noble sacrifices that they are now making, and that God grant us peace with no wartime losses.

Cheers for the band

To the editor:

As a proud parent and Belleville citizen for well over 20 years, I feel that I must express my disappointment in the fact that there is never any articles on the Belleville High School Marching Band.

This is a great group of young adults who also work very hard to achieve excellence. They practice several hours after school, perform at all High School football games, march in the Columbus Day and Veteran's Day parades, and enter several band competitions during the course of the school year. A lot of time is devoted by these youngsters and I feel they should be recognized for their great talent.

In the Bloomfield Band Competition held on Oct. 21, the Belleville High School Band won first place for best music, best band front and best percussion line. At the Wayne Hills Band Competition held Oct. 28, the band won second place in the group competition.

So how about letting this great group of youngsters know how proud we are that they represent our town and appreciate the great job they are doing. Thank you.

Turkey franks? Baloney!

To the editor:

Recently, for the first time, I dined upon "turkey" frankfurters. What a disappointment! After the first bite, I could not restrain myself from exclaiming: "Where's the turkey?"

As one who loves the meat of that Thanksgiving Day bird, I would warn my fellow turkey lovers (they who might be tempted to give turkey franks a try) that the uniquely delicious flavor of turkey meat, most definitely, is not present in hot dogs — of the turkey kind.

• LAST Tuesday's election results surprised many voters — many political leaders — and many of us who follow politics as an avocation.

The surprise is not to be found in people going to the polls to vote their resentment against the Florio tax package. In doing so, the voters neglected to use their good judgment in the election of public officials to conduct the public business — i.e. in the case of the United States Senator — for the next six years — the Essex County Executive for the next four years — the County Clerk for the next five years — members of the Board of Freeholders for the next three years. It was a travesty to vote against Bill Bradley to get even with Florio.

Bill Bradley is an American patriot. Bill Bradley has served well the people of New Jersey and the United States. Because of his longevity, Bill Bradley speaks for New Jersey in the United States Senate with a voice made more powerful because of his length of service. Moreover, the U.S. Senate is controlled by Democrats. If a Republican was elected to replace Bradley, New Jersey would have had a U.S. Senator with practically no power to influence matters concerning the interests of New Jersey.

Fortunately, there were at least 15,000 of us — many Republicans — who decided their votes should be cast for Bill Bradley to better serve our state interests.

Essex County Sheriff Tom D'Alessio was elected to the job of Essex County Executive to succeed Nicholas Amato. Tom D'Alessio won with approximately 16,000 vote majority. D'Alessio's majority would have been 80,000 votes at the very least, except for the fact that voters turned their Florio wrath against D'Alessio to send a message to Florio. What a ridiculous waste of votes. Regardless — the best candidate won.

D'Alessio knows county government. He will need no on-the-job training to learn the intricacies of interfacing with a Democrat Essex County Board of Freeholders. He has been doing this very successfully for the last eight years.

D'Alessio can be expected to make changes in the way the Essex County Executive's Office is administered. Tom D'Alessio will bring his own style of management to the office. He recognizes the business of government is actually a business — and though the commercial terms of profit and loss are not relevant, the fact still remains the Office of County Executive has a responsibility to manage government within the framework of an austere budget. D'Alessio has been doing this for years at the county level.

In a desperate 11th hour mailing effort to defeat D'Alessio, his opponent accused D'Alessio of favoring every tax man/woman ever conceived — and in addition, invented a few more.

Tom D'Alessio, throughout his campaign, has stated that he does not buy the tax package adopted by the Florio administration. D'Alessio believes the teachers' pension problem should be back on the table and not on the backs of the taxpayers.

D'Alessio believes the tax on paper products should be repealed. Even before he is sworn into office, D'Alessio intends to consult with Governor Florio and the Essex County legislative delegation to review possible reforms in the Florio tax package, adopted earlier in the year. We wish Tom good health and wisdom to continue his excellent administrative objectives so overwhelmingly approved by the public during his tenure as Essex County Sheriff.

In winning, Tom D'Alessio can stand tall, shoulders back, head high, secure in the knowledge that fairness characterized his entire campaign.

Tom D'Alessio

• AT A RECENT event, I had the pleasure of meeting up with an old friend, Newark Star Ledger Manager Editor, Andy Stasiuk. I guess he loves his job so much it nourishes his youthful looks and excellent health. It's a good feeling as one achieves senior citizen status to meet old friends — an experience that gets the juices flowing.

The Ledger reference brings to mind a sad story — the recent passing at age 77 of New Jersey's most prominent and most able state business reporter, John Soloway, the Ledger's business columnist for the last five decades. John was so well respected in the business community that his column, more often than not, contributed to the success of many industrial giants. Upon his frequent visits to neighboring Hoffmann-LaRoche, we had many luncheons in our former restaurant, The Eighth Floor.

• JERSEY CITY Mayor Gerald McCann has a love affair with the city that gave him birth — honor. Last week, he fought a losing battle in an attempt to induce the major commodity exchanges to leave New York City and settle in his Jersey City.

The only reason McCann lost out was because financially hard-pressed New York City offered financial rewards that the commodity exchanges could not afford to reject — and that from a city that's on the verge of bankruptcy.

Mayor McCann criticized the competition for business between Jersey City and New York City and offered a suggestion to establish a regional tax in order to reduce the destructive bidding process for corporate business that causes a perpetual problem for Jersey City and New York City. McCann's proposal is long overdue and should be enacted.

Here's to your health

To the editor:

On October 24, the Belleville Health Advisory Board had its first meeting at the Belleville Health Department.

Health Officer Tom Longo outlined the functions of our local Health Department and suggested ways in which health services to our citizens could be expanded over the next year. The present equipment in our health department was noted and the committee felt that upgrading of current facilities was of urgent need. The dental facility was absolutely deplorable and in need of immediate upgrading.

Quality nursing care that would be approved by Medicare and Medicaid was discussed. The committee felt that the necessary certificate of need should be immediately sought from the state health department, so that Belleville could establish home health care of a quality equal to any in the area.

The committee intends to look into the health care facility currently in operation in the Bergen County town of Lodi.

I, Cathleen Modesta Noonan, was elected Chairperson of the Health Advisory committee by the members. I am the office manager for my husband, Dr. Frank J. Noonan and have been active in the medical field the last 20 years. I took courses relating to the profession at Rutgers University and at Caldwell College. I am particularly interested in preventive medicine as it applies to women and children. I feel that the problems of women over 65 must be addressed with more determination in our area.

I feel that the Health Advisory committee needs to be a more dynamic one. I would like to have meetings at least once a month. I noted that Tom Longo, Mrs. Bruno, the other nurses and workers are doing a great job. I promised that the Health Advisory Board would stand behind Mr. Longo and his staff and would do everything possible to help them continue the great work they are doing.

Cathleen Modesta Noonan

We're being taken, again

To the editor:

Since the invasion of Hussein's troops into Kuwait about three months ago, I feel the United States has over 300,000 servicemen and women serving our country too long already and a loss of 43 servicemen.

Through the press, I've been reading where Hussein said American families can visit Iraq at Christmas to see their loved ones who are hostages.

MacArthur, Clark, Patton, Nimitz, Wainwright, Eisenhower and many other hero servicemen who died for us must be lauded in their graves. When are our politicians in Washington going to realize that we are being taken again?

I also believe anyone serving a term of less than 5 years in jail should be accepted to volunteer and serve in Saudi Arabia with training so our people serving time there already can come home. If so, our jails here in this country can be emptied. After serving their time, they should be pardoned.

If a war comes about, good citizens, serving their country, can be brought home and the bad citizens can prove to become good citizens by serving their country.

Joseph Fornarotto
World War II veteran

A councilman hears

To the editor:

Taxes of every kind must be reduced. This is what the electorate is telling us. If we are going to balance our budget, we must accomplish this by reducing spending, not by increasing taxes.

Frank J. Noonan
Councilman

Where was the BOE?

To the editor:

I would like to direct this letter to the Board of Education and Town Council Members.

On Sunday, October 21st the Belleville High School Marching Band represented the Township of Belleville in competition at the "Annual Fall Marching Band Invitational" in Bloomfield. Our Band won First Place in their division for Best Band, Best Band Front and Best Percussion — which should make our township very proud!

The thing that gets me mad enough to write this letter concerns the fact that the board members/council members are constantly saying how much they care about our town and our children — well, not one member showed up at this competition to give our band their support.

For two weeks I have been reading in the newspaper about the disagreement concerning whether or not all of the board members/council members should go to Atlantic City to stay for two days. Atlantic City is 150 miles away — Bloomfield is one mile away.

The boys and girls in the Band/Color Guard performed their hearts out to represent the Town of Belleville (they competed against Montclair and Nutley).

I guess the leadership in the town feels Atlantic City is more important than coming to see the youth of our town make us proud.

Congratulations to Joe Kraemer, Band Director, all of his staff and the members of the Belleville High School Marching Band — My hat is off to you for a job well done.

Chris Albanese Jr.

Children must play

To the editor:

Belleville needs Washington Avenue.
Silver Lake needs a playground.

Every day there is some type of comment as to the needs of children... but the kids in the "Lake" area are starving for a play area. Some place where they can throw or kick a ball around after school or in the early evening. Some children are too young to cross Franklin Street and others may fear walking home from there in the evening. Their needs are small; the rewards are great.

Some thought should be given to this idea at one of the council meetings.

ON YOUR GUARD

Just because Labor Day is long past, do not pack the sunscreen away with the bathing suit and lawn furniture. Averting the aging and potentially unhealthy effects of sun exposure requires year-long vigilance. Rough, wrinkled skin, and even skin cancer, is largely the result of accumulated exposure to sunlight. Many of these exposures are brief, but occur at regular intervals throughout the year. The face and hands stand in mute testimony to repeated, brief assaults by the sun. They are the areas of the body most likely to display effects of aging, while those areas consistently shielded by clothes remain firm and supple. Accord the same protection to the face, hands, and arms by wearing sunscreen year-round.

For year-round service you can depend on our pharmacists at ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Our full line of items includes greeting cards for Thanksgiving and other holidays, cameras, film and gifts. Hours: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Sundays.

HINT: If it is taken care of, skin does have the capacity to repair itself.

'Project Acceleration' helps students get a head start

By Chris Vitell
On Saturday, November 3, five Belleville High School teachers attended Seton Hall University in South Orange for a Project Acceleration Workshop. Barbara Klotz of the Guidance Department, John Klotz of the English Department, and Jules Palmieri, Josephine Miodzienski, and Irene Richter of the Foreign Language Department have been part of the project for five years. Project Acceleration is a program conducted by Seton Hall University which permits high school students to accrue college credits during their junior and senior years. The importance of programs such as Project Acceleration, and the Advanced Placement courses, also represented at Belleville High School with calculus under the guidance of Jack Ayres, is that the students not only get a head start on their college careers, but also get accustomed to what college classrooms are like.

Project Acceleration now comprises 520 New Jersey students with 74 teachers participating. During the Nov. 3 workshop, Dr. Smith of Seton Hall University specifically referred to Belleville as an outstanding example of how high school curricula meet college standards and often supersede them. Belleville High School can be proud of its Foreign Language Department which allows students to receive college credits in Italian, French, and Spanish. Along with Palmieri, Miodzienski, and Richter, Linda Albanese and Alvina Selva are participating in the project that Seton Hall places on par with its own teaching staff.

ABBA rep lectures cosmetology students

By Anthony J. Iannini

Anthony Rossi of ABBA Hair Care Products recently visited Belleville High School to give a lecture to the vocational cosmetology students. ABBA Hair Care Products is a professional hair care product line started by Rossi on the west coast one and a half years ago. He recently decided to bring his product line to the east coast, so he set up a shop in Woodbridge, which has been here for three months.

First, Rossi discussed the ingredients in his hair products, and explained to the students how his products worked on different forms of hair. ABBA Products is a 100 percent natural professional hair care product line. It is because of this that ABBA Products are now being used in the Belleville High School Cosmetology program. Due to the all-natural ingredients in ABBA hair care products, use in the cosmetology program ensures complete compliance with all OSHA standards.

Rossi pointed out to the students that his product line supports two important issues. The first is animal rights. ABBA does not use any animal proteins in their products at all. Instead, only natural ingredients such as carotene are used. Also, ABBA does not even test its products on animals, as they "do not believe that is proper or necessary," according to Rossi.

The second issue supported by ABBA is our environment. Rossi pointed out that all of his products are completely biodegradable, right down to the label on the bottle, and that all of his packaging and containers are 100 percent recyclable as well.

Rossi then went into a complete demonstration of the proper use of his hair care products using samples that he brought along with him and student volunteers. Rossi demonstrated and explained various procedures and uses for ABBA hair care products such as shampoo, conditioner, cream rinse, hairspray, gel-cream, and permanent solutions.

Toward the end of his presentation, Rossi had a question-and-answer period where the girls were able to ask questions and advice of Rossi. Rossi then began to ask the cosmetology students questions on the various topics discussed in his presentation, and distributed free product samples to the girls with the correct answers. Rossi provided the students with a very beneficial and educational look at the proper use of hair care products. The girls in the cosmetology classes had a great time, were very pleased with Rossi's presentation, and look forward to future visitations. Throughout the school year, the cosmetology students and teachers host several guest speakers from the industry to further enhance the educational value of Belleville High School's excellent and successful cosmetology program.

Anthony Rossi, of ABBA Hair Care Products, talks hair and other relevant issues with BHS cosmetology students.

Teacher gets kudos

By Cynthia Rodriguez
"Who's Who?" Linda Borella Albanese is "Who". Albanese, a Spanish teacher at Belleville High School, has been selected as one of America's finest teachers. Receiving a nomination from a former student, Albanese will be included in the publication, The Best Teachers of America Selected by the Best Students.

Receiving a nomination and being selected for this prestigious publication is a great honor. A teacher included in this "best of the best" list is nominated by one or more of his/her former students. The only students who are invited to select teachers are students who are listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students or The National Dean's List. These students who are the top five percent of high school and college students in America receive nomination forms and are asked to select one teacher from each school that they have attended. The teachers selected were teachers who made a difference in the student's life. Teachers who were knowledgeable, competent, enthusiastic, and caring. In the eyes of these academically talented students, these teachers were special. The Best Teachers in America Selected by the Best Students is a tribute to the outstanding teachers from the best judges of good teaching, the ultimate consumers of education, their former, grateful students.

Albanese is among the 25,000 outstanding teachers in America. She has been with the Belleville school system for 22 years teaching Spanish, English and basic skills on the middle school level and Spanish on the high school level. Albanese is a graduate of Montclair State College and is presently completing her graduate studies in Spanish literature.

Thousands of Belleville students have benefited from her expertise and have been touched by subtle humor, enthusiastic instruction, and academic prowess. It is no wonder that she is among the nation's best teachers.

Future journalists

By Denise Wjczak

BHS journalism students who are registered in The Star-Ledger NIE (Newsletters in Education) Program will be eligible to enter the Young Columbus Read-A-Thon. Mr. Salese's journalism students are participating in the program and will read a minimum of 50 articles from 20 different issues of the Star-Ledger by Dec. 21. One credit point is awarded for each article a student reads. Daily tally sheets are verified by the teacher and will be submitted to The Star-Ledger for certificates of participation issued by the newspaper. Students who earn more than 50 points will be eligible for certificates and prizes. Students who earn 200 points will qualify for "Phase 2" of this project. "Phase 2" consists of a 250-500 word essay to be written on the following topic: "What would be the effect on your town if newspapers did not exist?" All essays submitted must be accompanied by a teacher recommendation and a recommendation by the principal of the high school. All essays will be judged by a committee to be selected by The Star-Ledger. Three finalists will be selected and interviewed by the judge. The winner will be awarded the Young Columbus trip to Paris and the two runners up will be given color TVs.

'Of Mice and Men'

By Tina Selachitano

On Wednesday, October 24, students from Mrs. McFarland's and Mrs. Pasterchick's 11th grade enriched English classes attended a lecture at the Belleville Public Library. The lecture was given by Dr. John Moore about John Steinbeck's novel, Of Mice and Men. Dr. Moore's lecture was part of the library series of lectures on Pulitzer Prize winning novels. Having read the novel as a class assignment, the students were anxious to discuss Dr. Moore's opinions and interpretations of Steinbeck's plot.

OBITUARIES

Mildred Giovannucci

A Mam for Mrs. Mildred Giovannucci, 90, of Montclair, formerly of Belleville, was offered Nov. 13 in Immaculate Conception Church, Montclair, following the funeral from the Hugh Moriarty Funeral Home, Montclair.

Mrs. Giovannucci died Nov. 7 in Mountainside Hospital, Glen Ridge.

She was a member of the St. Jude Society.

Born in Canada, she lived in Belleville, West Caldwell and Clifton before moving to Montclair 22 years ago.

Surviving are four sons, John, Ralph, Francis and James, and four grandchildren.

Beatrice Guarino

Beatrice Guarino (nee Schiavone) of Belleville died Nov. 2 at Cedar Grove Manor, Cedar Grove. Born in Newark, she lived in Belleville for 47 years.

She was a member of the Belleville Senior Citizens and Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, Newark.

Survivors include two sisters, Marie Coviello Perma of Scotch Plains, and Faye San Filippo of Cedar Grove. Her husband Thomas died in 1973. Arrangements were by Shook's Cedar Grove Funeral Home, Cedar Grove.

Carmella Saragusa Fox

Carmella "Dolly" Fox (nee Saragusa) of Belleville, died November 10.

A funeral mass was offered at St. Peter's Church, with arrangements by the Kiranan Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fox is survived by her husband, Robert, a son, Steve, a daughter, Linda Amato, and a grandson. The family requests donations to the American Heart Association.

Anna Butvidas

Survivors include her children,

Mrs. Amyelia Krynicky of Belleville, Albert of Colorado, Peter of California, and August of Belleville; eight grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

James A. Lynch

James A. Lynch of Belleville, died November 5. A funeral mass was offered Nov. 13 at St. Peter's Church, Belleville.

He is survived by a cousin, Cora Mayville of Belleville.

Arrangements were by the Kiranan Funeral Home and interment at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

20-year scoutmaster honored

Larry Dempsey, a resident of Belleville, was recently honored by NJ Transit for his outstanding contributions to his community.

Dempsey has been a Scoutmaster for the Boy Scouts for nearly 20 years. His troop is comprised of multiply handicapped children and adults between the ages of 11 and 33. Dempsey was specifically asked by the Boy Scout Council of Belleville to start a troop for these children when they learned of his efforts on their behalf.

"NJ Transit values its employees and the professionalism they exhibit on the job," said Shirley A. DeLibero, Executive Director of NJ Transit. "Larry Dempsey is to be commended for his selfless devotion to his 'Special People' — as he calls them — for these many years. We are inordinately proud of him and wish him well in the future since he will be retiring shortly."

Dempsey is a 32 year employee with the statewide transit agency and serves as an instructor in NJ Transit's Operational Training Department. He will be retiring at the end of this year.

Principal dedicates special flag

As part of the celebration for American Education Week, Mario Di Maggio, principal of Belleville Middle School, will dedicate the Flag of Learning and Liberty. This flag was created in 1985 to call public attention to the importance of our schools.

The flag's central focus is a stylized flame symbolizing the Land of Learning. The gold flames represent learning and liberty. The blue flames signifies the key foundations of education — high expect-tations and effective teaching. Finally, the red flame symbolizes the cornerstones of democratic society.

The flag will proudly be flown at Belleville Middle School throughout the year as a reminder to teachers, students, and the public of the cultural role that education plays in our society.

Parents are invited to view the flag and classes at Belleville Middle School during American Education Week, Nov. 12-16.

Roast Beef at Christ Church

Christ Church, 383 Washington Avenue, has announced that they will be holding a Roast Beef Dinner on Nov. 17, beginning at 5 p.m., as part of their annual Christmas Fair.

The cost for the dinner is $8 for adults, $7 for seniors and $5 for children under 12. The dinner includes roast beef, real mashed potatoes, vegetable, gravy, dessert and coffee or tea. Dinner will be served until 6:30 p.m. and reservations are requested. Reservations can be made by sending your check and name to the church, attention Dinner or by calling 751-8820. The Christmas on Candy Lane Fair opens at 9:30 and will be open all day for those interested in obtaining some hand crafted bargains. In addition, there will be a Luncheon with Mrs. Santa from 11:30 to 12:30. The cost of the luncheon is $3.50 per person and includes a choice of hot dog or hamburger, beverage and a gift for the children, from Mrs. Santa.

For information on the fair, the luncheon or the dinner, call 751-8820.

MSC students opt for co-op

Two residents from Belleville are participating in the Cooperative Education program at Montclair State College. This program is designed to provide students with actual work experience during their college years, for which they receive both pay and credits. Susan De Gonge, a Home Economics major, is employed at Best Food CPC and Toniann Bottignoli, a Psychology major, is employed at Child Development Center, Bloomfield.

Montclair State's program, cited as one of the top in the nation by Better Homes and Gardens, places some 600 students in corporations, public agencies and industrial facilities each year. Significant numbers of these students go on to assume full-time employment with their Co-op companies following graduation, heightening the program's attraction for an increasing number of career-minded undergraduates.

Navy man completes training

Navy Airman Recruit Kenneth P. Henry, son of Richard A. and Doris V. Henry of Smith St., has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego.

During Henry's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields. His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

He is a 1990 graduate of Belleville High School.

Celebrating Children's Day

Councilmen William Cook and Mario Drozd presented School Five PTA with a resolution passed by the Mayor and Township Council in which they joined with the members of School 5 PTA to support the National PTA in sponsoring a National Children's Day, the second Sunday of October as designated by the Congress of the United States. The resolution recognizes the children of our nation as representing the future, hope and inspiration of the United States and deserving a day of commemoration. Frank Catrambone, principal of School 5, and Cathy Walsh, PTA president, accepted the plaque on behalf of the members of School 5 PTA.

Resident RN is director

Jane August, a registered nurse from Belleville, has been appointed Director of Nursing at the Valley Hospital in Ridgewood. It was announced recently by Joyce Howlin, R.N., Vice President of Nursing.

August, who had worked at Valley earlier in her career in the area of nursing education, is happy to return to assume a major administrative position. "After working in several other health care institutions, I'm pleased to 'come home' to the Valley Hospital," she says. "In my role as Director of Nursing, I will work diligently to maintain the highest standards of patient care."

A member of several professional organizations, August also holds a master's degree in nursing from Columbia University.

Disclosure proposal

Insurance companies would be required to disclose information about fire hazards to law enforcement agencies who request it under legislation sponsored by Senator Carmen A. Orechio (D-Essex) and approved by the Senate last week.

"This bill provides procedure for sharing information that can eliminate life-threatening situations," said Senator Orechio, chairman of the state's Fire Safety Commission. "In exchange for the information, insurance companies would receive immunity from civil liability for losses related to the hazard."

"The companies also would be required to notify an appropriate law enforcement agency if they become aware that a fire hazard exists," Senator Orechio said.

"The measure is modeled after an existing law which requires companies to disclose information regarding fire losses for the purpose of helping in arson investigations."

"This bill will help crack down on hazards before they lead to tragedies," Senator Orechio said.

Guerrera is IBA president

The Insurance Brokers Association of New Jersey installed new officers for 1990-91 during its 34th annual meeting, held recently at the Sheraton at Woodbridge hotel.

The following officers were inaugurated: Thomas Gurrera of Belleville, President; Ed Dowling of West Long Branch, 1st Vice President; Livio Mancino of Kenilworth, 2nd Vice President; and Lynn Whetsell of Montclair, Secretary.

In a speech as incoming president, Gurrera urged Department of Insurance officials to raise commissions for brokers servicing JUA policies, saying that in the past few years, the state has forced brokers to do more work for less pay. He warned that some brokers won't survive without additional compensation, adding that the public will be denied much-needed service if this occurs.

The IBA opposes any moves by the Department of Insurance to force brokers to subsidize operating deficits in the MTF, as has occurred under the JUA, and also opposes any plan that will force good drivers to subsidize bad drivers to cover MTF deficits, Gurrera said.

He also urged the Department to develop a no-frills auto insurance policy that the IBA first proposed in 1988. Under the proposal, auto insurance policies would contain two sections: The first would include basic medical, liability, and uninsured motorist coverage required by law in New Jersey. The second would include optional extra coverages in those areas, and other optional coverages such as collision and comprehensive.

Under the IBA proposal, motorists would be required to pay the first segment—usually about $400 per car—up front when they bought or renewed a policy. But the optional coverages would be billed by installments.

This way, Gurrera explained, companies would not have to cancel the entire policy of a motorist who failed to meet later installments, but would simply cancel that motorist's optional coverages.

Pucciarelli addresses Civic Association

Describing the Soviet Union's economy as "disparate," an international hotel developer told a crowd of about 100 people Oct. 31 that business conditions inside the U.S.S.R. present Western companies with "plenty of opportunity" as well as "a lot of risk."

Albert Pucciarelli, senior vice president and general counsel and secretary for Inter-Continental Hotels, speaking before members of the Carmen A. Orechio Civic Association at the AMVETS Hall in Nudley, said that economic conditions inside the U.S.S.R. are "too bad" that for the first time in their history the Soviets are inviting foreigners to invest in their country.

"The Soviets need to encourage Western investment, not discourage it," Pucciarelli said noting that the Soviet government, after years of fiscal austerity, is finally "trying to catch up with the West."

According to Pucciarelli, who has spent parts of the last two years living and working in the U.S.S.R., Soviet leaders have decided that the time is right to switch to a market-based economy.

"They're not going back to their socialist ideology," Pucciarelli said.

"The Soviets have come to realize that they lag far behind the West in consumer goods and are tired of seeing themselves as outsiders in a global marketplace," he said.

To dramatize his point, Pucciarelli held up a copy of a Politburo document which states in its preface that the Communists have come to realize that capitalism is by far the best economic system in existence.

"They admit that mankind has not created anything better than a market economy," he said.

According to Pucciarelli, who speaks fluent Russian and is a former teacher of the language, two significant developments in the last five years have brought about these fundamental changes in Soviet thinking. He said one is the easing of tensions between the U.S.S.R. and the United States, the other is Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev's sweeping economic reforms.

Pucciarelli, whose company builds hotels all over the world, described the Soviet Union as the "last frontier" for the hotel industry and likened hotel developers to ancient mariners searching for new lands.

"We're like the ancient navigators who traveled to distant lands looking for new riches," Pucciarelli said. "We await new settlers whom we call business travelers."

Presently, Inter-Continental Hotels has built 13 hotels in Eastern Europe and has begun construction of a hotel in Moscow. Pucciarelli said his company originally had plans to construct a hotel in the Soviet Union more than 10 years ago. However, he said the project was suspended after the Soviet Army invaded Afghanistan in 1979.

Talking about the differences between building a hotel in the U.S.S.R. as opposed to Europe, Pucciarelli said the Soviet Union presents "a unique challenge" to those in the hotel business. He said Inter-Continental Hotels' aim is to build a five-star hotel where a businessperson can "conduct business in a comfortable environment."

Pucciarelli admits that the goal is difficult, but one that is not unattainable.

"The main challenge is dealing with Soviet bureaucrats," he said.

According to Pucciarelli, bureaucrats of the hard-line communist regime still in power "find it difficult to make a decision." He notes that the old system had a "lasting effect on the people we're dealing with."

Other problems include acquiring land and obtaining financing.

Soviet banks don't give mortgages," Pucciarelli noted adding that his company's Moscow hotel will cost $300-million — $100-million of which Inter-Continental Hotels has raised itself.

And, Pucciarelli said that once the hotel is erected, the problems don't necessarily stop there.

"Bringing the Soviet hotel worker up to international travelers' standards is difficult," he said.

Two ways in which his company is attempting to overcome this obstacle Pucciarelli said is by having the Soviets train alongside veteran hotel workers and by having "promising" Soviet workers train at other hotels around the world.

Pucciarelli also spoke about other noticeable changes in the Soviet Union which include a resurgence of the Russian Orthodox Church and a rise in nationalism — changes which he said never would have been possible just two years ago.

However, despite the sweeping economic and social changes taking place in the U.S.S.R., Pucciarelli said it is still uncertain as to whether these changes will be lasting.

"The Soviet people are afraid of 'glasnost,'" Pucciarelli said. "They're

They include "The Plains of Passage," by Jean Auel, "Lady Boss," by Jackie Collins, "Four Past Midnight," by Stephen King, "Memories of Midnight," by Sidney Sheldon, "Longshot," by Dick Francis, "The First Man in Rome," by Colleen McCullough, "Rabbit at Rest," by John Updike, "The Burden of Proof," by Scott Turow, "Under Siege," by Stephen Coonts, "Oh The Places You'll Go!" by Dr. Seuss, "Hocus Pocus," by Kurt Vonnegut, "The Stand," by Stephen King, "Surrender the Pink," by Carrie Fisher, "Millie's Book," dedicated to Barbara Bush, "Get To the Heart," by Barbara Mandrell with George Vecsey, "The Cat and the Curmudgeon," by Cleveland Amory, "Ava," by Ava Gabor, and "The Great Waldo Search," by Martin Handford. If the books are not available, the Circulation Staff will be happy to put the books on reserve for you.

Friends' holiday program

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center are sponsoring a holiday program, entitled "Sketch Book of Christmas and Chanukah Around the World," on Dec. 12 at 1 p.m. Act One Theater Productions will do the performance, part of Theater '90, '91, at the library. Sponsored by a Matching Grant from the Essex County Division of Historic and Cultural Affairs, this will be the concluding program for 1990, with others to follow in 1990. Call the library at 450-3434 to register for the program.

Dining books, calendars

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center are selling the Celebrity Dining Books at $25 per book and the Entertainment '91 books at $35 per book. Both books, although carrying different offerings, have discounts for dining, entertainment events, discount coupons, hotels, etc. in this area. In addition, the Friends are selling two year calendar books for $2 per copy.

The books are available at the Circulation Desk of the library. All three books can be used for holiday giving or special occasions.

Board honors LaMin

The Belleville Public Library Board of Trustees honored library maintenance man, Joseph LaMin at its September meeting. According to Board President Joseph T. Casale, "We honored Joe LaMin to express our gratitude for his many hours of extra work and enthusiasm that made our renovation of the Trustees Room possible."

In addition to his regular responsibilities for maintaining both the Main Library at 221 Washington Avenue and the Shafter Branch Library in School Number 4 in Silver Lake, LaMin did the final painting of the Trustees Room. Installed the new ceiling and numerous other finishing touches to the beautiful meeting room/gallery space. Library Director David Bryant said, "Joe LaMin is completing his twentieth year at the library. His many skills and his attitude of getting every job done right, has helped our library tremendously. I was very happy that the Trustees honored him in September."

Senior Supper Club begins Nov. 19 at Clara Maass

As part of its ongoing commitment to its senior population, Clara Maass Medical Center has announced plans for a Senior Supper Club.

Beginning Nov. 19, the Senior Supper Club will be open to all seniors 62 years of age and older who possess a discount card available through the Volunteer Department.

Through the supper club, seniors will be able to dine in the cafeteria during dinner hours weekdays from 4:30 to 6:45 p.m. and weekends from 6:30 a.m. to 6:45 p.m. Through one of the two meal plans, seniors will be able to purchase a pre-planned meal for $2.95 or choose anything from an a la carte menu with a 35 percent discount on the price of the meal.

"Hopefully, the Senior Supper Club will improve the nutritional status of the participants and provide social interaction for the seniors," said Eileen O'Brien, managing director of the Food Service Department at Clara Maass Medical Center. Also offered will be pre-packaged take-out dinners. "Healthy Choice," nutritionally prepared dinners with the needs of the older population in mind, will be available for seniors to purchase and take home.

In addition to the dining program, there will also be a weekly newsletter. The newsletter will include a menu for the following week, tips on cooking for good health, news on nutrition and the name of the next guest speaker and

WHAT'S IN A NAME? — Barbara and Fred Judge of Belleville pose with son James and newborn son Christopher, the first baby born on Columbus Day at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville. ## Woman's Club members share talents

Two members of the Woman's Club of Belleville recently attended the Eighth District Creative Writing Day sponsored by the Literature Department of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs. The event was conducted at the VFW Hall in North Arlington.

Clubwomen were encouraged to share their original works in the categories of light verse, serious verse, Haiku, short stories, book reviews, essays and/or reports. Readings were done by Mrs.

Richard Drake, president of the Woman's Club of Belleville who shared an essay and by Miss Frances Zeiss who read poetry. These original works will now be submitted to the statewide contest held in the spring.

The Creative Writing Day was coordinated by Mrs. Horace Bogle, Eighth District Literature Chairman of North Arlington Woman's Club. Special Federation guests for the day included Mrs. Henry Bosman, State Literature chairman, Mrs. Edmond Murphy, ESO chairman and Mrs. Raymond Rush, Writing chairman as well as Mrs. Samuel Bisaccio, Eighth District vice president.

The NJSWFC Literature Department emphasizes scholarships for students of literature, support for local libraries and reading programs throughout the state. The next district wide Federation event will be the mid-year council, set for Jan. 16, 1991.

Whitney Houston benefit concerts Nov. 23, 24 at Convention Center

The Harlem Boys Choir, the New Jersey State PBA and the youth of Atlantic City will all benefit from singer Whitney Houston's only public concert appearance this year, set Nov. 23 and 24 at Convention Center, Atlantic City.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. shows may be ordered through Ticketmaster (1-800-736-1420) or can be purchased through local Police Benevolent Association offices throughout New Jersey. Call 733-6336 for branch locations. Tickets are priced at $25, $50, $75, $100 and $125.

Commenting on her upcoming benefit appearances, Houston said, "As part of the choir in my hometown of Newark, I learned about the soulfulness of singing, and that is one of the best music educations anyone could receive. Therefore, I am very thankful for the opportunity to assist the Harlem Boys Choir in its time of great need. As a New Jersey native, I support the youth programs and activities sponsored by the Police Benevolent Association and urban improvement projects such as the recreational facility restoration in Atlantic City."

Nutleyite Craig Shepard of Meadowlands Promoters Inc. noted that the group is proud to present Houston whose talent, generosity and commitment made the special event possible.

The Harlem Boys Choir will also perform at the concerts which are expected to raise over a quarter of a million dollars.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

SINUS DISEASE

Q: What is sinus disease?
A: Sinus disease is an inflammation of the air-containing cavities of the nose, face, and forehead.

Q: What are the symptoms of Sinus Disease?
A: Chronic sinusitis can include nasal congestion, pain or pressure of the eyes and forehead, nasal obstruction or nasal drip, or simply the sensation of a cold that doesn't go away.

Q: How is sinus disease treated?
A: Most sinus disease resolves with medical treatment, which includes antibiotic and allergy therapy.

Q: What about sinus disease that does not respond to treatment?
A: In more severe cases with chronic blockage or polyps, surgery may be indicated.

Q: Are there recent advances in the diagnosis of sinus disease?
A: Yes. With fiberoptic examination of the nose and sinuses in the office and advanced CT scan imaging, doctors are able to accurately diagnose sinus disease.

Q: Are there any recent advances in sinus surgery?
A: Yes. Recently introduced endoscopic sinus surgery is a major breakthrough in the treatment of sinus disease. This surgery makes use of micro-telescopic techniques - with no external incisions. These new techniques allow the surgeon to perform safer and more effective surgery. Most often the surgery can be performed with anesthesia on an outpatient basis. Recovery time is usually rapid, with patients returning to their normal activities within days.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lambert

Bucanier football coach John Senesky said something at the end of last Sunday's football game which put it all into perspective.

"This is what high school football is all about."

If a Hollywood film crew wanted to do a flick about a high school football game in an All American town on a typical autumn weekend, they needed only to watch the events at Belleville's Municipal Stadium last Sunday.

They were supposed to play this game last Saturday, but Mother Nature said otherwise and presented this area with about three inches of rain. If it were about 10 degrees cooler, we might still be shoveling the snow today.

Because of the high winds that were associated with this storm, the field condition was very good for Sunday's revamped kickoff. The weather was sunny, but rather windy and very cool if you weren't sitting in the sunny part of the stadium.

It was Homecoming Day, and this year the powers-to-be that run the Homecoming show decided that the King and Queen would not be decided until all the candidates (there were three finalists for the men and women) entered the field.

On the gridiron, the improving Belleville Bucs were slated to face a powerful group from Ramsey named Don Bosco Prep. This team came into Doc Ellis field with a 6-1 record (5-0 in the Pacific Division of the NNJHL). They were heading to a playoff berth in the Parochial ranks and needed only a victory over a small, but determined group of Bucs to make the dream of post season a reality. A victory over Belleville would ensure a playoff berth and would set up a battle with St. Joe's of Montvale on Thanksgiving Day (who is also unbeaten in the league) for the title.

The Bucs had other ideas about this game. After beating Teaneck a week ago, the general consensus around the lockerroom was that the game with Don Bosco was crucial toward the teams attempt at a winning record. Beating Teaneck improved the Bucs mark to 3-4. Belleville needed to win its next two games, against Don Bosco, then against Nutley in the Thanksgiving Day contest.

The feeling was that this team, which lost by a 34-0 margin to Hackensack back on opening night (that seems so long ago now, doesn't it?), could pull the upset here after coming so close against a tough Morris Knolls club three weeks prior.

So the Bucs and Don Bosco got together on an ideal football afternoon and faced off. At first it didn't look too good. Don Bosco was huge, just as big as Teaneck and just as talented as St. Joe's of Montvale.

They scored early. They appeared to have control of the contest. But there was this feeling that these Bucs would find a way to win.

Then, late in the first half, Jim DuHaime punted for Belleville and it was fumbled by the Don Bosco receiver at the DB 10. Mike Kimball, who has played so well recently, recovered the ball.

Kimball, a junior, who has developed into a fine kicker and punt returner, was a key ingredient to this win.

Quarterback Art Caruso quickly capitalized on the break, running for the tying score two plays later.

The score remained tied at six heading into the fourth quarter. The Bucs thoroughly dominated the third quarter, holding Don Bosco to just three offensive possessions. The Bucs faked a punt when DuHaime took the snap and ran for the first down in Don Bosco territory no less.

But the game was still tied. A tie wouldn't have been all that bad anyway, but the Bucs wanted this game. Badly.

They got the break they needed in the fourth quarter when Carmen Spina took a handoff from Caruso, began to run then decided he'd like to try his passing skills. So, he loaded his right arm and they bomb (the pass was so high it could have brought rain) to Billy Prosper. The junior split end made a fine over-the-head catch of Spina's perfect pass. He was brought down at the five.

Two plays later, Don Bosco hit Prosper with the go-ahead tally. Kimball kicked the extra point and, although the crowd was somewhat sparse for the contest, there was a feeling of electricity in the stands and on the field.

So this was it, right? A perfect ending. The Bucs win, everyone goes home happy.

Forget about it! Not in Belleville. Not right away, anyway. Don Bosco came storming back. Its quarterback pulled off a bootleg and left the entire Buc defense on the other side of the field. He had the sideline as his own personal turf. He was streaking toward the tying touchdown. Then, suddenly, John Alvarado came barreling from his safety position and caught the QB at the 17.

The defense bugged but wouldn't give in. Mike Citarella, Jim Mastropalo and Carl Harris applied pressure to the passer. Finally, Alvarado intercepted a pass. Finally, it's over. Right? Wrong.

The Bucs had possession, but due to two penalties, the team had to take possession at its own 3. They moved the ball somewhat, but were then forced to punt.

Once again, Don Bosco moved downfield. Once again, the defense allowed ground but refused to be beaten. The drive finally stalled when a pass to the tight end was intercepted by John McAlon. The look on his girlfriend's face, Michelle Pizzi, a co-captain of the cheerleaders, finally said that this game was over.

When the gun sounded, the players went crazy, the usually reserved coaches went crazy, the fans went crazy and if you looked out over the field without benefit of a calendar and just knowledge of Buc football, you would have sworn this was 1979 and the Bucs had just beaten Seton Hall Prep.

You could hear the players in the lockerroom from Division Avenue. When they finally came out, they were greeted by family, friends and fans. The players hugged everyone. Many of the parents cried with joy. (You can't make this stuff up, folks). The coaches were actually applauded by the fans who waited outside the lockerroom.

A football player, Jim Mastropalo was named Homecoming King. A cheerleader, Lisa Capriglione was the Queen. The other candidates were Jason Nardichone and Michael Capasso for the men and Danielle Italiano and Maria Ribon for the women.

Cheerleading advisor Carol Russo marveled at how well all the candidates handled themselves as the announcer said, "may I have the envelope please."

The Kiwanis Club did a fantastic job with the Homecoming (Continued on page 19)

Defense, Caruso lead Buc stunner, 13-6

By Mike Lambert

File this one with the all time great games in Buc football history. On a windy, chilly Sunday afternoon at Doc Ellis Field, the Belleville Bucs continued its resurgence with a stunning 13-6 win over powerful Don Bosco Prep.

The victory evened Belleville's season record at 4-4. It improved the Bucs' record in the tough Pacific Division of the NNJHL to 4-2. It was the first Belleville victory at Doc Ellis Field since October of 1988, when, ironically, the opponent was Don Bosco Prep. The victory was also Belleville's second straight, a feat last accomplished in the 6-3 campaign back in 1986.

The stage has been set for the Thanksgiving Day game with arch rival Nutley. The Bucs will be looking for their first victory over the Raiders since '86 and if that is accomplished it will mark the Bucs' first winning campaign since the '86 campaign. (More on the Thanksgiving Day game in next weeks issue).

An emotionally drained John Senesky reflected on this victory and made some comparisons to great wins of the past.

"This game reminded me of that Seton Hall game back in '79. As far as player and fan reaction it reminded me of that Passaic game in '82."

Both of those games, played at Belleville High, were certainly memorable. In the '79 game with Seton Hall, the game had originally been scheduled for a Saturday kickoff, but rain postponed the contest until the following Sunday afternoon.

The same analogy can be made

Beat Don Bosco. Spina pass to Prosper key. Alvarado, McAlloon thefts seal win.

about this game with Don Bosco. Because of the steady downpouring of rain last Saturday, the game was pushed back to a Sunday afternoon game.

As far as the '82 game with Passaic, the reaction of the players and of the fans who were in the stands certainly were comparable. That feeling of ecstasy and accomplishment lasted long after the final gun sounded.

The defeat was certainly costly for Don Bosco Prep. Entering the game with a 6-1 record, the Bergen County power needed the victory to assure a berth in the Parochial A playoffs. The loss eliminated them from the playoffs.

All season long, there was a feeling that the Bucs could win against a powerful opponent. They had come close in games with Bloomfield and Morris Knolls and this time, the team attained the goal.

It wasn't easy, however, Don Bosco, like all of the other teams in the NNJHL, had excellent size and easily outmached the Bucs on the front line in terms of weight.

The size factor wasn't enough to stop Belleville's aggressive defense and improving offensive line, which did a good job in allowing the running game to find openings.

Don Bosco scored first, tallying a TD early in the second quarter.

"It seems that's the way we like to play," Senesky said. "We fall behind by a touchdown, then begin fumbled by a Don Bosco player and recovered by Mike Kimball at the Bosco 11.

Quarterback Art Caruso quickly took advantage, running for five yards to the six and then finishing the job with a six yard run to tie the game. The point after attempt fell short.

In the third quarter, the Buccaniers (continued on page 16)

ATTEMPTING TO BLOCK A PUNT ARE John Alvarado (16) and a flying Scott Mayers (60). The players just missed on this attempt, but the Bucs prevailed over Don Bosco last Sunday afternoon.

GETTING READY TO PUNT THE BALL IS Buccanier Jim DuHaime. Defending on the play is Carl Harris (45). DuHaime's punt was good for 38 yards in second quarter. Bucs won thriller last Sunday 13-6. (Photos by Mike Lambert)

Cross country coach optimistic about 1991

By Mike Lambert

There were some positive developments for the Belleville cross country team this fall.

Veteran coach John Tosato had a very young team this fall, with just two seniors. The Bucs won its first conference match in two seasons, downing Barringer 27-28. The team also fared well in the conference and county races.

Senior Brian Doyle led the way with 21 points for the Bucs. He won the Barringer race with a time of 20:14. His best time this season was 20:10 at the Essex Catholic Invitational held at Branch Brook Park.

By the way, all times given are for 3.1 mile courses.

The other senior on the roster is Joe Lozano. He was hampered by a foot injury which kept him on the sideline for six weeks. Lozano did run a few races, his best time a 26:21 in the West Essex race.

Freshman Dave Laongo tied for second on the team in scoring. He finished with 17 points in the county championship and 21:27 in the county championships at Branch Brook Park.

Another freshman, Roger Hanoos, also scored 17 points. His best time was 21:51 in the West Essex race.

Tosato is very optimistic about these two freshmen, who could anchor a competitive club next fall.

Freshman Anthony LaRocca scored seven points and ran a personal best of 23:47 in the victory over Barringer.

Sophomore Huy Bui also tallied seven points, his best race coming in the county championships in a time of 21:53.

Freshman Sung-Bok Lee also showed marked improvement as the year progressed. Lee scored six points, with a personal best time of 23:34 in the Barringer race.

Freshman Sandip Desai tallied three points. He was hampered by a knee injury and missed most of the month of October.

Sophomore Robert Montalvo closed out the Buccanier scoring with one point. His best time was 24:56 in the West Essex dual race.

The manager of the team is junior Andrew Hutchinson. He provided a good deal of assistance to the younger runners, compiled statistics and kept score.

Most of the runners will now get ready for the indoor track season, which kicks off the day after Thanksgiving.

"We should have a pretty good turnout for indoor track," Tosato said. "This was a very enjoyable group of work with. They worked hard and we will return a good nucleus next fall."

Tosato also expressed thanks to the parents for all their help this fall.

"We had great support from the parents of the runners this year," Tosato said. "They were very enthusiastic."

Tosato also wanted to remind everyone that the team is still selling Entertainment '91 coupon books. Anyone interested in purchasing a book should contact Tosato, or a member of the cross country team, at the high school.

Gymnasts fall in season finale to Kearny H.S.

The Belleville gymnastics team dropped its season finale to Kearny 31-6-67-6 last week.

We'll wrap up the girls' season in an upcoming edition.

In results of the Kearny match are as follows.

VAULTING: Kristin Galatiello led the way for Belleville with a score of 6.45. Other scorers include Lori Aiello (6.3), Renee Coppola (6.25) and Kevin Piscatowski (6.1).

UNEVEN PARALLEL BARS: Danielle Groelling scored a 5.8 and finished second in the match. Other scorers feature Dawn Simonetti (5.3), Coppola (4.7) and Jennifer Kaster (4.35).

BALANCE BEAM: Coppola led the way with a score of 6.0, good for third place overall. Cristina Ferrera finished at 4.8. Nancy Matthews scored a 4.45 and Galatiello finished with a 4.05.

FLOOR EXERCISE: Maryann-ranne Ferrera took third overall with a fine score of 7.4. Cristina Ferrera tallied a 6.05, Aiello scored a 4.85 and Simonetti scored 3.95.

Head coach Gina Lemongello was hoping her team could eclipse the 70 point mark but was happy with the performance nonetheless.

The girls have been without the services of Denise Wujcik for the past month. She has a back injury and her status for next season is questionable.

Booters were impressive in season second half

The future is certainly bright for the Belleville soccer team. The varsity Bucs finished with a 5-1-1 record, but played exceptionally well in the second half of the season. The JV Bucs posted a 6-5-3 record, with the majority of that team made up of freshmen.

Head coach Gino DePinto considers the 1990 season as one of his most enjoyable, ever.

"We were a very competitive team and the kids really worked hard," the coach said. "Like I said before, I'm really sorry the season ended. Hopefully now, the kids will continue playing in the BSA (Belleville Soccer Association)."

Six players were named to the NNJHL team. Richard Preto, a senior fullback, was named to the first team. Named to the second team were Franco Vitello, a junior fullback, Enzo Vian, a senior midfielder, Greg Groelling, a freshman forward, Frank Crocco, a junior midfielder and Matt Kastner, a sophomore fullback.

The Bucs biggest victories this season came against Teaneck (4-2) and Weehawken (5-1). Both of those wins came in the second half of the year, when Belleville won three of its last five games.

"Hopefully next year, we can win those close games and turn the record around," DePinto said. "We were 5-1-1 and could easily have been the opposite this year."

The Bucs will lose four seniors to graduation. Preto was a four year varsity player and Vian played for three seasons. Milton Lopez and Ruben Andrade were first year varsity players who did well.

Other varsity players who should be back next year include juniors Alex Moreno, Steven Vogel, Ryan Ramirez and Robert Dugan. Freshman Giuseppe Memela has also shown good skills and should be a key to future teams.

Junior goalkeeper Rocco Constantino played very well and sophomore goalie Emanuel Arujo also played goalie with good results. Arujo could move into the midfield next season.

The J.V. team, coached by George Tortorello, finished with a winning record.

"This was the first team that we had a full JV team in five years," DePinto said. "The defense played very well and the kids showed improvement as the year went on."

The roster is made up of sophomores Frank Koch, Nicolai Castro, Tom Popovich, Pedro Pruvitye and Luke DePinto. The freshman are Greg Delmonte, Eric Toledo, Christian Castro, Jesus Gerez, Ibrahim Cruz, Diego Peres, Chris Imperatrice, Dominick Ardolino, Jeff Vogel and Anthony Vitello.

The goalie, freshman Michael Percio has outstanding potential for the future.

"Next year, our main concern is establishing a midfield," DePinto said. "If we can do that, and every-one coming back is healthy and in shape, we should be a pretty strong team next fall."

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Basketball leagues for grades 3-8

The Belleville Recreation Department is forming basketball leagues for children in grades 3-8 and applications are now available at the recreation office.

In preparation for the leagues, basketball clinics will be conducted at the middle school boys' gym. Boys' clinics will be held on Nov. 19 and 26 as follows: Grades 3-4 from 6-7 p.m.; grades 5-6 from 7-8 p.m.; and grades 7-8 from 8-9 p.m. Girls' clinics will be held on Nov. 20 & 27, at the same time listed.

Interested players should pick up application forms at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon Street, and return them with birth certificates before participating. The registration deadline for the basketball leagues is Nov. 30.

Fall/Winter programs

The Belleville Department of Recreation & Cultural Affairs has announced its November and December schedule of Fall/Winter programs, which has something for everyone.

Wrestling for boys ages 6-14 will start on Nov. 12 at the high school cafeteria. Ages 6-8 will meet from 6-7 p.m. while ages 9-14 will meet from 6-8 p.m. Wrestling is conducted on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, and participants must pre-register by completing an application at the Recreation office.

Both the Men's and Women's Volleyball League are scheduled to begin on Nov. 13. Men's volleyball league will be from 6-10 p.m. on Tuesdays at the Friendly House. Women's volleyball league will run from 6:30-9:45 p.m. on Tuesdays at No. 3 School. There will also be a Men's League on Thursdays at the Friendly House.

The Men's Over 30 Basketball League is slated to begin on Nov. 14, and will play on Wednesday evenings at the Middle School, 7-9 p.m. The Men's Basketball League will play Thursdays 6:45-9:45 p.m. at the Middle School, beginning Nov. 15. Adults who would like to play in the Men's & Women's volleyball or basketball leagues could call the Recreation office to put their names on the waiting list.

The Junior Basketball Clinics will begin on Nov. 19 and 20 at the Middle School - Boys' Gym. Grades 3-4 will meet at 6 p.m.; grades 5-6 at 7 p.m.; and grades 7-8 at 8 p.m. If there is sufficient interest, league play will be scheduled to begin in December or January on week nights and/or Saturdays. Interested participants should register by completing an application before participating in the clinics. Monday clinics are for boys, Tuesday clinics are for girls.

The registration deadline is Nov. 30. Beginning Nov. 20, Girls' and Boys' Gym Nights will be held on Tuesdays at No. 10 School. Girls in grades 3-6 will meet from 6:30-7:30 while boys in grades 3-6 can attend from 7:30-8:30.

For more information on upcoming programs like Gymnastics and Men's Open Basketball, please call 450-3422 between 8:30 a.m.-4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Women's volleyball players needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is taking names of people who would be interested in playing in the Women's Volleyball League on Tuesday nights at School 3. Belleville resident women, ages 18 or older, are invited to put their names on the waiting list, in the event that already established teams may be in need of individual players to fill out their rosters. If interested, call the Recreation office at 450-3422.

Buc Shots

Event.

There was a new P.A. system at the stadium, so that meant that the cheerleaders would finally get to perform the dance they have worked so feverishly on.

It almost didn't occur, because the teams came out of their lockerrooms a little earlier than expected. But the girls did get the dance in and the fans roared their approval.

Belleville had beaten the odds. They had won a game from a Parochial giant. They enter the Nutley game with a 4-4 record and a chance at a winning season.

(I'm getting goosebumps just writing this, folks). The "winning" season, should it come about, will be in record form, only. These kids have provided so much joy, so much excitement, so many memories that it will take a long time after the final gun on Thanksgiving to fully recount all the good times.

As a fan and reporter, I'm sorry this season has to end. But, in another week, it will. But the memories won't end. Not today, not next week, not ever.

Scorekeepers needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently seeking boys and girls age 16 or older to work as scorekeepers/timers in its basketball leagues. The leagues play their games on weeknights and Saturdays at the Middle School. Workers will be paid a minimum of $5 per game. If interested, call the recreation office at 450-3422.

Basketball officials needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking adult men/women to officiate games in its Junior Basketball Leagues for children ages 8-14. No formal training or officiating experience is necessary, however, a knowledge of basketball rules is desirable. This paid position would be ideal for college students, as games are played on weeknights and Saturdays. If interested, call 450-3422 for more information.

Basketball coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently seeking adults to volunteer as coaches in its Junior Basketball Leagues for boys and girls. Games are played on weeknights and Saturdays. If interested, call the recreation office at 450-3422.

Rec wrestling

Applications for Recreation Wrestling are now available at the Belleville Recreation Department at 407 Joralemon Street between 8:30-12 and 1-4, Monday-Friday. The Belleville Recreation Wrestling Program introduces boys, ages 6-14, to the fundamentals of the sport. Basic techniques, moves and strategy are taught to beginners as well as to the more advanced wrestlers. In competition, the boys are matched up against opponents of the same weight class.

Recreation wrestling will be conducted on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6-8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, beginning Nov. 12. Ages 6-8 are given basic instructions from 6-7 p.m., while the 9-14 year olds are prepared for league competition between 6-8 p.m.

Boys can register for the activity by completing an application at the recreation office before participating. Birth certificates are required for all applicants, who must be Belleville residents and cannot be above eighth grade. For further information call 450-3422.

For those who prize safety and assured growth.
Our 151 year pledge...

Established in 1839, The Provident was the first mutual savings bank in New Jersey—the first bank to be operated for the benefit of its depositors—the first bank to pay dividends for the monies placed in its safekeeping. In effect, we started New Jersey saving and have been imitated ever since.

In that time, The Provident has paid 293 consecutive, uninterrupted dividends and not one depositor has ever lost a penny at "The Old Beehive." It's a record no other bank in New Jersey can equal.

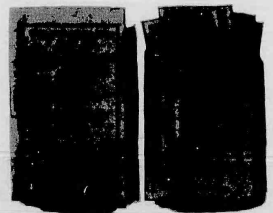

Plymouth and Washington Streets—Provident's first office (1844-1890) and the keys thereto... a far cry from the sophisticated security systems which protect Provident savers today.

"...to maintain the highest degree of safety and pay the highest dividends consistent with that aim."

Today, at each Provident office throughout New Jersey, you have a wealth of opportunities to make your money grow in checking, savings, money market accounts and certificates of deposit with varying maturities—all in absolute safety. You also have access to tax-advantaged mutual funds, annuities and even trust advisory investment accounts. Add to these The Provident's mortgage and personal loan services and you have every banking service necessary to manage your finances intelligently.

That's modern banking—with The Provident difference. It includes our pledge "to maintain the highest degree of safety and to pay the highest dividends consistent with that aim." That means if you bank in New Jersey, you can bank on The Provident. And you should.

Passbook No. 27318 dated 1872. The legend on the face declares, "Take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves." New or old, passbooks have one thing in common—they grow steadily with The Provident's uninterrupted dividends.

Catalano has also competed in the 123 pound class. He holds numerous records in drug free competition, dating back to 1981. Most recently, he is an A.D.F.P.A. life time drug free National champion at 123 pounds.

FREDERICK RICCIO: A 1959 graduate of Belleville High, Riccio was a standout baseball and basketball player. He started in the Belleville Little League program and worked his way up to the varsity level. He had a career batting average of .310 at Belleville and an incredible fielding percentage of 1.000 at the very difficult shortstop position.

He was captain of the freshman and later varsity basketball teams. He was the high scorer for the team in his senior campaign. He once scored 17 consecutive points in a game against Garfield. He was later named to the Honorable Mention, All County team.

After graduation from Belleville High, Riccio attended Albright College in Pennsylvania. While there, he was named to the Deans List and received a B.A. degree in Economics. He played basketball and baseball at Albright and also played semi-pro basketball in the Reading Pa. League.

Later, Riccio received an economic assistantship to Indiana University. While there, he majored in Radio/TV and theatre. Riccio had major roles for the Shakespeare Festival for the University.

After leaving Indiana, Riccio joined NBC in New York City as the guest relations department. He was responsible for procurement and coordination for several daytime network projects such as Sale of the Century, Concentration, Hollywood Square and the Tonight Show.

Riccio is a partner and president of Television Marketing Consultants, Inc.

Congratulations to all the inductees for 1990.

Driving home the steps to safety

All drivers must perform a series of coordinated tasks using their hands, feet, eyes, ears and body movements. Quick decisions need to be made each time we drive, which are converted into braking, steering, accelerating, signaling, or a combination of these.

For some of us, driving becomes increasingly difficult as we age. Many of us do not see or hear as well, or react as quickly as we used to.

Since we all become wiser with age, we can learn to adjust to the changes caused by the aging process and continue to be safe and confident drivers by following the suggestions listed below, which are brought to you by the New Jersey Division of Highway Traffic Safety and the New Jersey Task Force For Senior Drivers.

- Never drink and drive. Alcohol dulls the senses and decreases reaction time.
- When taking prescribed or over-the-counter drugs, check with your doctor and read all labels to determine whether they will affect driving ability.

Crecco offers education bill

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) has introduced a bill that would develop a program to help illiterate adults learn how to read and write.

The bill creates the New Jersey Adult Literacy Partnership Program as a joint venture between the state's education, Commerce and Economic Development and Labor departments.

"The U.S. Department of Education has estimated that there are approximately 27 million people in the country who are functionally illiterate," said Crecco. "There are between 700,000 and one million estimated illiterate adults in New Jersey."

Crecco stated that the bill establishes a partnership between the state and private sector to coordinate the services provided by the state operated literacy programs. She explained that several companies such as New Jersey Bell, AT&T, IBM, and K-Mart are already currently involved with literacy initiatives.

"The program would also have to coordinate referrals to literacy programs within the three sectors and foster the development, expansion, and support of additional literacy programs throughout all geographic regions of the state," Crecco concluded.

Resident sells myriad homes

Ron DePiro, President of DePiro Realtors has announced that Louise Sylvestro, Broker-Salesperson and Manager of DePiro Realtors West Essex, has sold or put under contract, $1,443,000 in homesales in 8 weeks.

"Sylvestro, a million dollar producer for the last 3 years, is working smarter in this market. Her dedication to her clients and customers is the road to her success. Referrals from customers are her key, Sylvestro joined DePiro Realtors in 1984 and has learned that her follow-up of all transactions is the most important thing," said DePiro at a recent sales meeting.

Sylvestro is a member of Bloomfield, Nutley, Glen Ridge and Belleville Board of Realtors and the West Essex Board of Realtors. She is chairperson of WEBOR Education Committee and chairs the Realtor Risk Committee.

• Always wear your seatbelt. In a crash, seat belts reduce the chances of death or injury by approximately 50 percent. Also, wearing a seat belt is the best defense against a drunk driver.

• Look to the rear to see if there is a car in your blind spot before changing lanes, entering the highway or backing up. If stiffness, arthritic pain or other physical problems keep you from turning and looking to the rear, inquire about medications and exercises that might improve your flexibility.

• Enroll in a driver refresher course, such as AARP 55/ALIVE, where you will learn in detail many ways to continue to be a safe and confident driver.

• If you get nervous or feel overwhelmed by driving in congested, complex, fast moving traffic, plan alternate routes and avoid driving during rush hour periods.

• If you experience vision problems, avoid driving after dark and at twilight.

• Keep yourself physically fit. Good physical health is directly related to driving skill and ability. Get regular medical check-ups and eye exams, eat right and exercise as much as is possible. Keep informed of current information on health practices and habits.

What if...

By Julie Frees Briggs

What if...

You are faced with a difficult decision... If you make the wrong one it will have a major effect on your life... How detrimental is it to make a wrong decision?

Many of us have difficulty making decisions and we are afraid if we make the wrong one it will have dire consequences on our life. Should we stay with our present "safe" job or take a new one, what if it doesn't work out? We would all like to place a safety net under ourselves, but not making any decision at all and remaining status quo keeps us from moving ahead in life. Those who "play it safe and never take a chance" never leave the shore and sadly they never see what is on the other side. If you find you have made the wrong decision, use it as a learning experience. You can always reverse the path you are on.

What if...

Your child has trouble in school... how can you as a parent work with the teacher and help him reach his potential?

Children should have a regular time set aside each night for homework. If the child is having trouble with one or more subjects or has a social problem, extra tutoring or talks with the guidance counselor early in the year would be helpful. A child who can communicate and is confident has a definite advantage in the classroom. Take an active interest in your child's school life by joining the PTA, assisting the class mother or serving on school committees; this will benefit your child as well as the school.

Sales associates honored at 'Breakfast of Champions'

Century 21 A CV Real Estate of Clifton is extremely proud to have three associates recognized at a "Breakfast of Champions," hosted by Century 21 of the Northeast. The "by invitation only" event was held Nov. 8 at the Sheraton Hotel in Mahwah. Agents ranked in the top 10 percent in their council area from North Jersey and Hudson Valley were present. Invited from Century 21 A CV were John Sass, Joe Hope and Gary Ambrosi. All are members of the coveted Million Dollar Club and multiple award winners within the Century 21 system.

This unique function provided the opportunity for recognition among their peers and the ability to share and exchange ideas and techniques. The Century 21 system fosters and promotes synergism within and among the individual agencies providing associates with an expanded scope of the marketplace and the ability to offer the best of service.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

Sleek, tailored look at the window comes from panels of fabric instead of pleats or gathers. Stretch fabric over hollow-core doors, or get a similar effect by simply arranging double-weight lengths of fabric (even sheets) over curtain rods. Pin or sew in place.

To repair small holes in wallboard — less than an inch in diameter — pack the space with cotton or fiberglass insulation, then fill the last quarter inch with spackling or joint compound. Sand smooth.

Today's new sprinkler systems are almost invisible. Piping is hidden behind walls and ceilings, and the water nozzles are almost invisible buttons indented into the ceiling.

Most fireplaces in modern homes are an inefficient source of heat because they draw furnace-heated air up the chimney.

It's smart to bring home sample swatches of upholstery, carpeting, draperies or wallcovering and check them in the rooms where they will be used. Colors and patterns vary in different light.

It's smart to start your househunting with the folks who really know local real estate. See us at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
