BURIED BENEATH BLANKETS of snow, many of Belleville's roads were unearthed early, thanks to DPW workers with plows and salters.

Bellevillite 'in the news'

By Joyce M. Steel

Who would know, at the tender age of 16, while diligently reporting on club activities and school plays for the Belleville High School newspaper, that the skills learned there would someday be used to report world and national events for one of the largest newspapers in the metropolitan area?

Beth Fitzgerald did. In fact, she attributes her success as the Business Page Editor of the "Believe it or not," she said, "I knew next to nothing about business when I started reporting it." However, Fitzgerald stressed the need to for journalists to specialize at some point during their careers, and advocated business reporting.

"These days, most of the biggest news stories deal in some way with the business world," she said, mentioning recent securities scandals and the savings and loan crisis. She added that, for business reporters, a Mother Nature missed the "White Christmas" mark by only a few days this year, dumping nearly eight inches of snow on Belleville and the surrounding area Friday.

Although the storm seemed to take Essex County workers by surprise, as many commuters found roads snowy, slick and, at times, undrivable, the town's department of public works more efficiently, according to Town Manager Bertrand Kendall, were ready for the snow.

"Everyone did a pretty good job, considering...we got more snow than we expected," Kendall said. He conceded that external conditions, such as the rising mercury during the late morning, the fact that students and some commuters are still on vacation, and the advanced warning of the storm, helped workers clear the streets more efficiently. Weather reports Thursday night called for 4-6 inches of snow, and Kendall said the bucket trucks carrying salt were spreading the streets by 11 p.m. Thursday.

D.P.W. workers were called in at 2 a.m. Friday, and the plows were clearing the major roadways by 3 a.m., Kendall said. He expected the secondary roads and side streets to be plowed by noon, and noted most of the complaints came from residents and commuters concerned with Route 21, Belleville Avenue and other county streets.

"We're prepared to go out and do those roads ourselves if the county doesn't get in here soon," Kendall said early Friday morning. However, by noon the county had responded by phone to Town Hall, assuring them its workers would be plowing and salting, but offering no estimated arrival time. Director of County Roads and Bridges, Samuel Angelo, could not be reached for comment.

A total of eight plows were operational in Belleville during the storm, Kendall said. He added that three additional plows, recently purchased for the township, were waiting to be picked up at a warehouse in Livingston, and will be available for future blizzards.

Some D.P.W. workers had scheduled personal days for Friday, in order to extend their weekends and utilize the days before they expired at the start of the new year. Kendall said many of them called Thursday, concerned they might be called in during a snow emergency and have to forfeit that paid day off. However, Kendall said none were called in, and, even if they had been, a provision for an extra personal day would have been made.

"We didn't have any extra workers today," Kendall said Friday, "but we had enough to get the job done."

According to emergency personnel, no major accidents, fires or requests for ambulatory services as a result of the inclement weather had been reported.

Two former commissioners to face off in court this month

By Mike Lazorchak

A complicated case involving two former Belleville commissioners should come to a head Jan. 9 in Bloomfield Municipal Court.

The case was scheduled to be held on Nov. 21, but it was postponed because of the unavailability of several witnesses.

Kevin Kennedy, Belleville, filed harassment charges against Joe Fornarotto, also of Belleville. Kennedy contends that Fornarotto is issuing summonses out of his title.

Fornarotto maintains that he is doing his job.

"I believe that I am doing my job," Fornarotto said. "When the time comes we will let the judge decide."

According to Fornarotto, he worked at the same job from 1984 to 1987 before being elected a commissioner. He has also worked 10 years in public works.

At present, Fornarotto works under the supervision of Director of Planning Robert Ringelheim.

According to Ringelheim, Fornarotto is supposed to enforce the property maintenance code. However, according to town clerk Mary Lou Hood, Fornarotto's title is Field Representative, Housing Inspector.

Kennedy believes the title is the crux of the matter, especially since Belleville does not have a housing code.

Belleville does have a property maintenance code. The enforcement of the code is listed in section four.

"The Building Inspector shall be responsible for all inspections, regulations, enforcement and hearings on violations of the provisions of this code, unless expressly stated to the contrary, shall be under his direction and supervision."

Since Kennedy alleges Fornarotto is working out of title, according to his job description, he feels that he has been harassed by receiving summonses from Fornarotto.

Kennedy also alleges that the issuing of the summonses were politically motivated, stemming from their service as commissioners.

Fornarotto maintains that there is no political motivation on his part. The case will be heard Jan. 9 in Bloomfield, not Belleville, due to the conflict of interest since both are former commissioners and Fornarotto works for the township.

WHAT A SCOOP... Beth Fitzgerald, a former budding journalist for the Belleville High School newspaper, is now the Business Page editor at the Star-Ledger in Newark.

Star-Ledger newspaper, based in Newark, to her experiences growing up in Belleville and attending Belleville High.

"I learned to discipline myself, and meet deadlines, as a high school student here in Belleville," Fitzgerald, now a resident of Boonton, said recently. "There were times in college when I thought high school was much stricter with those types of requirements."

After graduating BHS, Fitzgerald attended New York University as a commuter student, and successfully completed an internship at the Star-Ledger during her senior year. The paper then asked her to stay on as a general assignment reporter, she said.

"That was in 1976. Fitzgerald said she spent several years covering general interest stories for the Ledger before an opportunity arose on the business desk.

common "beat," or coverage territory, could be anything from a Wall Street brokerage firm, to the stock exchange, to a federal courthouse.

"The realm of business reporting has definitely gotten more exciting over the years," Fitzgerald said.

As a new mother, the excitement of raising a family presents Fitzgerald with almost as much of a challenge as the beginning of a new business day. But it's one she said she has met and conquered: Her husband, a freelance writer with the New York-based Journal of Commerce, works from home and cares for two-year-old Emma while she is busy "putting the paper to bed."

"It is definitely a challenge," Fitzgerald said. "But a little management and organization goes a long way," she added, "and I'm very happy with the way things turned out."

School No. 3 secretary retires after 30 years

The Home and School Association of School No. 3 said farewell to Mrs. Loesner at their annual Christmas Party last Monday night. Mrs. Loesner, the secretary of School No. 3 in Belleville is retiring after nearly 30 years.

All were invited to attend the party. There was a buffet and Mrs. Loesner was given a gift as a token of appreciation for what she has done in the past 30 years.

Former Principal Mr. Austin McArthur came to wish her the best. "Dotty loves everybody," he said.

Karen, the mother of a former student told of how 11 years ago a school in the Valley was closed and the students were integrated into other schools. She had fears that her child might not be accepted when she came to School No. 3 with her daughter.

"There was Mr. Mac, who made everything seem o.k. But then there was Mrs. Loesner... she would just hug and kiss the children! Any child, their color, creed, size or shape did not matter."

Karen said it became evident that "God's message was: we're all supposed to live on this earth together... regardless of our background, and it's as if God had written this message right across Dottie Loesner's heart."

Mrs. Janik said that it was like having your mother around all the time because although very loving, Mrs. Loesner was never afraid to tell it like it was. She'd tell you your hair was not combed or your outfit was a mess. Many children will tell of how Mrs. Loesner gave them a big hug and sent them back to class saying, "Sweetheart you'll live."

Mrs. Saulino, our new principal, was speechless. "If it weren't for Dottie..." Well, what can you say about someone who has not only been an invaluable part of helping School No. 3 run smoothly for 30 years, but also has become a dear friend to everyone who is lucky enough to have had their lives touched by her.

Dottie once said that after lunch was the busiest time of the day because that's when most of the children would come to her with their problems. "Every problem in the eyes of a child is such a big problem which needs immediate attention."

No one could have done a better job of taking care of those big problems than Mrs. Loesner did. All the children will miss her, and the adults?

"How do you thank someone who has taken you from crayons to perfume? It isn't easy but we'll try. Thank you Dottie, you are loved."

When asked about what she plans to do now, Mrs. Loesner said she is going to "pretend that it is the first day of summer vacation! And then, take one day at a time."

Nutley man arrested in child custody case

By Alfred Cook

A Nutley man sought by Belleville police in a child custody dispute was arrested Dec. 20 near his mother's Walnut Street home and arraigned Dec. 27 according to authorities.

Ronald Bergamino, 30, who was staying with his mother at 115 Walnut St., was wanted in Belleville for violating a restraining order and related indictable offenses, police said.

On Dec. 27 Municipal Court Judge Michael Viola set bail at $2,500 subject to the prisoner being placed in an inpatient psychiatric facility, said Court Administrator Michael Duffy.

In Nutley, he was charged with aggravated assault and resisting arrest. Duffy said Bergamino is under a doctor's care.

"His mother suggests she will post bail and then he will be released to Belleville," Duffy said.

The original bail was set at $7,500 soon after he was arrested, said Sgt. Russell Johnson of the police record room.

Johnson said Nutley Police Sgt. Johnson Rego and Ptm. Michael Stoffers were sent to serve an arrest warrant on Bergamino believed to be staying with his mother.

According to the Belleville warrant he was wanted in connection with terrorist threats and kidnapping charges.

"When they got there, they saw him run out the side door, and they gave chase," Johnson said.

"They called the Essex County Sheriff's office because they had bloodhounds," Sgt. Rego said, "but they never really needed them."

The chase, which lasted nearly 45 minutes according to the report, covered much of the east side, from Walnut Street to Washington Avenue, to Hay Street, to Villa Place and close to River Road — most of it through backyards.

The chase ended near Walnut and Park with Bergamino making a corner turn right into the sheriff's officers.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Amid the glamour and tinsel of the Xmas-Season which has now faded into memory with its fond expected and avid hopes, we must resign ourselves to the realities of our troubled and uncertain times as was so vividly delineated in a recent editorial in the December issue of the Belleville Times captioned "Our receding pursestrings."

It lucidly depicts the local taxpayer at the bottom of the funnel breaking out the raincoats and readying themselves for a deluge of despair...the bottom has dropped out of local property values, business is in a slump and buying is off. This is not surprising, however, the editorial stresses is how Belleville's local government is reacting, which is not good.

Most importantly, the editorial points out, Belleville's governing bodies don't seem to be catching on. First, it states, the mayor and council has hired over $200,000 worth of management employees over the past two months. And their support staffs, benefits packages and "perks" will easily pump the total up near a quarter of a million dollars.

Previously, Publisher Frank A. Orechio of the Belleville Times, suggested a $60,000 yearly stipend for a town manager as adequate for a township the size of Belleville...in Garfield, N.J., which is larger in size and population than Belleville, its Manager's salary is $58,000 a year...Why should our taxpayers pay more?

It is that they won't do much good if soaring increased local taxes force people out of Belleville leaving these "spendthrift" Council members with no one to rule or impress. Likewise, should the elected school board have its way we will be driven out with 26 percent increases in teachers' salaries.

The cogent editorial says it all...the board of education says the mayor and council have already sponged Belleville's for more than we can afford. If we're going to survive this recession, the decision-makers are going to have to 'Just Say No'..."Indeed the sentiments of most concerned Belleville taxpayers.

Entering the last decade of the twentieth century many Americans who read newspapers, check their bank statements or listen to the tiny reports from Washington have a hard time believing that 'tis the season to be jolly.

If people's behavior is gloomy, it is easy to understand why. They feel less wealthy, less safe and less certain about what the future holds than they did in past Christmases. Homeowners who think they live in $250,000 homes find they "lose" $30,000 when they try to sell. Out-of-work formerly well paid architects are invited to lunch at a soup kitchen for a bowl of chili and some free advice from colleagues who survived previous recessions. Beauty shops and hairdressers report that business is down; in hard times, people let it grow. There is not predicting when the job market will open up again, or prices stabilize, or tensions ease.

As consumers retrench and repent what many now consider the evil excesses of the Reagan years. The doomsayers seem to be savoring the chance to put priorities straight. "When the stock market crashed in '87, people thought the party was over — the bar was still open but the band went home," says a young financier who has been laid off by the junk-bond department of a New York City investment bank. "Well, now the bar has closed."

Poignant tales of lifelong workers facing a hollow old age having been laid off — just 3 years short of retirement. Bills must be paid. Taxes are going up, less money is coming in. It makes for a simpler life.

Those laid off from manufacturing jobs face even harder struggles in an age of weak unions, flimsy safety nets and cutthroat competition from overseas. "The people who used to scribble by are just making it today." Families that never were at risk before are having to make basic, tough decisions about which bill to pay: utilities, groceries or rent.

A laid off paper mill worker says, "Once in a while we used to like to go out to a lounge and have a few dances, a couple of drinks. Now we go to McDonald's." It is sad.

HAPPY RETIREMENT! Mrs. Dorothy Loesner, the secretary of School No. 3 for 30 years, was honored recently on her decision to retire and take things "one day at a time."

A vocational education 'makeover'

By Anthony J. Iannini
Vocational Education Advisory Council Committee Chairman
The Belleville High School Vocational Cosmetology students hosted a very special guest speaker recently. Ms. Henya Drescher of "Henya Cosmetics of Today," discussed the various procedures for proper makeup application and skin care.

Drescher started her own line of professional cosmetics in New York, and occasionally goes on educational tours lecturing about her products, proper skin care and makeup techniques. Her theme is "The educational approach to skin care and makeup for today's woman of the '90s." Drescher firmly believes that proper education and training is an absolute necessity for successful makeovers. In order to keep up with the times, she is constantly updating her line of cosmetics.

Drescher opened her presentation with a brief description of her products. After discussing topics such as proper application, color selection, mixture and combination and shading of various makeup, she asked for student volunteers for individual professional makeovers.

Each student was given advice on color choices, application procedures and on how to enhance their features, while she explained to the rest of the class what she was doing and why she was doing it.

Drescher has been to Belleville High School several times in the past and the students have always enjoyed her presentation. After a question and answer period, Drescher allowed the students to experiment with some of her products on each other. The girls learned a great deal from Drescher's lecture and were pleased with the results of their makeovers. Both students and teachers look forward to Drescher's return visit.

Holiday show was a huge success for Therapeutic School

Students and staff of the Therapeutic School and Preschool of Belleville held their Christmas Program on December 14, for an appreciative audience made up of relatives and friends of the school.

The students, who are referred by their local school districts, have severe developmental and emotional delays.

Perseverance in learning was displayed by all students; some sang in a group or played instruments; others played simple solos on the piano and electronic keyboard.

Seasonal sets and costumes were made by the art therapy department. Karen Hughes, music therapy instructor, was in charge of the event.

The Therapeutic School and Preschool is a part of Community Mental Health Services, a United Way Agency.

OUR OPINION

Let There Be Peace

Our servicemen and women
Are out there to protect,
To make the world a safe place,
And if's them, let's not forget.

The world's depending on them
Our prayers will never cease.
We want our soldiers home again.
We are hoping all for peace.

—Steven Azzano

Why Do People Not Like Each Other?

I wish one day all of the countries
Would come together and be at peace.

We're all one world and need each other.
So let the soldiers be released.

—Joy Castelli

A holiday tradition takes on new meaning

As each holiday season approaches, I remember the one thing I've always wanted, but never had. One of those train sets, running beneath the branches of my Christmas tree on a tiny track. One with little houses to spread out along the tracks, with little windows, illuminated by candles, giving the impression that someone — a whole family, perhaps — is inside, listening to the whiny whistle of the engine and enjoying a warm, peaceful holiday together.

I never think to buy one before Christmas, or after, because it is the holiday ambience that reminds me. Driving home from work, or a quick trip to the supermarket, I see so many little houses — and some big houses — with candles in the windows, and it's only then that I think of the train set. It's then that I think especially hard about the people and the families behind the windows.

This particular Christmas, my thoughts went beyond curiosity. I usually wonder if the people behind the windows are busily preparing to play Santa Claus for a parcel of children, or if they're caught up in the romance of their first Christmas together, or if maybe they're spending a quiet, reflective evening reminiscing Christmases past.

But this year, along with my simple and shallow wonderings came another thought: Is there a family behind that window praying for a son or daughter who is spending the first Christmas away from home in a Saudi Arabian desert? Are there brothers and sisters wishing for Santa to bring their sibling back home? Is there a mother, or a father, behind that window, fighting back tears at the thought of their child so far away in a place not nearly as peaceful and loving as the midst of their living room on Christmas Day?

Usually, my questions go unanswered, but my curiosity wanes by the time the house and its windows become a blur in my rear view mirror. It's just a way to pass the time and exercise my imagination. This year was different.

This year, as summer turned to autumn, which in turn passed into winter, I became more and more aware of the real people who live behind the windows. They've written me letters, asking for everyone's prayers for their son or their daughter. They've sent in their news items, proudly including photos of their somber-faced children in military uniforms in the hopes we would publish them. And they've called to say thank you, or to tell of care packages sent, or letters written.

So this year, as I passed by the houses and thought of the families behind the windows, I realized that many of them were spending the holidays with joy tempered with sadness, peace tinged with anxiety, and comfort dappled with apprehension. And I knew that little could be done, short of bringing their treasured, loved family member home, to take away those fears.

But then it occurred to me that, although the families behind the windows share those little things that make me so curious while they're inside, they eventually come outside to share the bits and peices they choose to. And that's when it's okay to offer help, ask questions, and assure them that there are people on the outside, looking through the windows and thinking of them.

YOUR OPINION

Shine light on negotiations

To the editor:

Regarding your December 20th article about the Newark Light lawsuit, we the concerned homeowners and residents on Floyd Street feel that the article failed to discuss the reasons why the Newark Light application was denied.

Newark Light was seeking numerous variances because their site plan did not conform with the zoning ordinances of the Township of Belleville. Some of the deficiencies were an excessive maximum lot coverage, no 50 foot setback as required under Zoning Regulation paragraph 23.19.11, fewer than the required number of off street parking spaces, a smaller than required size of the loading space, a violation of a 5 foot setback requirement for parking spaces and the construction of planters on the Washington Avenue sidewalk (property which is not even owned by Newark Light).

The zoning laws are on the books to protect the rights of all of the town's residents. You wouldn't want a toxic waste dump in a residential neighborhood next to your home. It is for situations like this that there are zoning regulations. It is for everyone's protection.

Newark Light was turned down because, in simple terms, they were trying to put too much building on too little land. This is why there were so many deficiencies. The Planning Board acted properly when they denied the application; a review of the testimony will show this. We therefore feel that there is no need for the Planning Board to meet with Newark Light regarding a settlement. If, however, the Planning Board decides to hold negotiations, we are hopeful that all interested parties are allowed to participate. The Sunshine Law in the State of New Jersey was adopted to do away with hiding things behind closed doors.

We are determined to exercise all avenues available to us to protect our interests, property values, and good welfare. We strongly urge the Planning Board not to hold any discussions with Newark Light unless all interested parties are involved.

The year with a Santa

To the editor:

The children at the Therapeutic School and Preschool in Belleville traveled by school van to visit Santa Claus at the West Belt Mall in Wayne recently. The Therapeutic School and Preschool is part of the Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley, a United Way Agency.

Sometimes we wonder — adults and children — if there is a Santa Claus. There certainly was one that day for the group of children with severe language difficulties. The children use sign language along with spoken language to communicate.

Picture the poignant moment after the children were introduced to Santa when he "signed" back to each child. Santa's actions ensured each child could understand him, and told them they were included in our society.

The teachers and I, who were told quietly by Santa that he was skilled in signing, wish to thank the West Belt Mall for their sensitivity in selecting their Santa.

Truly, there is a Santa Claus.

Elizabeth Callahan, Ed.D., Director,
Therapeutic School and Preschool

A chorus of thanks

To the editor:

Please allow me to express my personal appreciation for Russell Roemmele's article in the Dec. 20 issue of your newspaper.

The article was sensitive, showed a knowledge of music, and, most of all, was one of the few news articles I have read in years that was critical in a positive way. His approach was unique and again showed a clever, creative mind.

Thank you, Mr. Roemmele made me feel like we communicated the message of Handel's music.

Holiday festivities a success

To the editor:

At this time I want to take the opportunity to thank all those who were involved in making our annual Christmas Day Party a success. My committee, the people who attended and also the staff at the Branch Brook Manor for their fine services. Let us not forget the band, they were great.

Again I say thank you and a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all!

Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Inc.

• ESSEX County Executive-Elect Tom D'Alesio has made one appointment as we go to press. Steve Edelstein has been designated by D'Alesio as Essex County Counsel. Edelstein knows government. His selection is a good start for the D'Alesio Administration.

D'Alesio is making budget concerns his priority. His finance people project a shortfall of $50 Million in the current budget. The state owes Essex County an estimated $50 Million. In pursuit of these funds, Friday, D'Alesio went to Trenton to separate Florio's State Treasury from $50 Million. The state government is being operated on a budget which reflects an estimated shortfall of $600 Million, and this prospect has driven Governor Florio to seek a similar amount of cuts in the operation of the various state departments.

Because the state is in a tight money squeeze, D'Alesio will be a miracle man if he comes back to Essex County with a $50 Million check. This week will tell the story.

• THE Sierra Club and New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner Judith Yaskin complimented Hoffmann-LaRoche, Inc. for its "significant progress" in reducing emission of chemicals in Warren and Essex Counties.

• SOMEBODY, or some people, are mailing unsigned letters to various Republican leaders charging State Republican Chairman, Assemblyman Bob Franks with neglecting party interests. The letters state that Franks and Roger Bodman went to Australia for six weeks. Bodman is a public relations partner of Democrat Harold Hodes, a key player in the administration of former Governor Richard Hughes. Major criticism of Franks related to an alleged failure on his part to aggressively support United State Senate candidate Chris Whitman.

• ASSEMBLYMAN Bob Franks is a likeable gentleman who would be better as an Exalted Ruler of his Elk's Lodge than he would be as a State Chairman. The perception among some leaders is that Franks is not sufficiently combative, and is not taking full advantage of perceived Democrat weaknesses.

• ESSEX County Republican Chairman John Renna predicts in 1991 the Republican party will be the major party in the state Senate and the Assembly. Recent major Republican victories were scored under the leadership of former State Chairman Frank Holman — and there is an effort underway to bring back Frank Holman's leadership.

Holman was a key operator for former Governor Tom Kean. Holman's return to the helm of the New Jersey Republican Party would be seen as a resurgence of the Kean leadership in New Jersey. That wouldn't be too bad considering the fact that President George Bush runs for reelection in 1992, and it's almost a "given" that Vice President Danny Quayle will be hunting quail in 1992, thus creating an opening for Kean as the Vice Presidential candidate.

• YOUR next paycheck will be subject to a 7% state income tax — and that's for the privilege of living in New Jersey.

the Kansas City Royals and Mel's wife, Lisa. The Stottlemyre family lived diagonally across from the Maguire family home on Alexander Avenue, and next door to our home when Edith and I lived at 168 Alexander Avenue. The Stottlemyres were perfect neighbors.

• THE Bloomfield committee headed by co-chairman Nick Zola, owner of Rony Florist, and Capt. Peter Falco, to equip the police department's membership with bulletproof vests, reports at press time the committee raised $8,092 and needs $1,908 more to reach the $10,000 goal. This financial support clearly demonstrates commitment of our citizens to support our men and women in blue.

• ESSEX County Democrat Chairman Ray Durkin, while concerned over the negative results of the tax program of Governor Jim Florio, guarantees that when New Jersey residents begin receiving benefits in 1991, which is the other half of Florio's tax relief package, the voter will do a 360 degree turn. Durkin is convinced the voters of his county and state are fair-minded citizens.

Durkin is certain when the tax credits are realized by taxpayers in 1991 there will be dramatic changes in the standing of Jim Florio with the voters of the state. With some fine tuning that he expects the Legislature to make in 1991, it could be a banner year for Democrats.

• BLOOMFIELD Councilman-elect Gary Iacobacci has invited friends to attend his inauguration ceremony on Tuesday, January 1, at noon, at the Bloomfield Township Council Chambers. An open house reception will be held from 2 to 8 p.m. at the Parkway Plaza, second floor, 1285 Broad Street, Bloomfield. Councilman Iacobacci has our best wishes for a successful term. He certainly is well qualified.

• A NEW bank is being organized in Garfield, New Jersey. Last week, the Liberty State Bank formally initiated a drive to sell its stock to the public in its four-community trade area of Garfield, Todd, Elmwood Park and Saddle Brook. The bank's president, Ronald L. Cyr, in expressing his optimism, observed, "We will be successful as a hometown bank, because we will start up with no foreign loans or non-performing assets. We will be a $100 million bank within five years and we'll show profits about a year after we get going."

Chairman of the proposed Liberty State Bank is Thomas J. Duch of Garfield, a former mayor, who is now a member of the New Jersey Assembly.

Grecco urges Governors to veto proposed toll hikes

Assemblywoman Marion Grecco (R-Essex) has called on the Governors of New Jersey and New York to use their power to block the proposed toll increases for tunnel crossings and bridges.

The Assemblywoman, who represents Essex County, termed the toll hikes requested by the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey "the wrong step at the wrong time."

"New Jersey is currently experiencing an economic recession and the imposition of these increases would add to the financial burden of my constituents," Grecco stated.

"Instead of draining money from New Jersey commuters, the Port Authority should be looking to invest its money in New Jersey projects to strengthen our sagging economy," Grecco said. "We need to make sure that we are getting back our fair share of New Jersey's toll revenues."

"The people of New Jersey need help in every way. Increasing tolls will only burden them further," Grecco concluded.

PROTECTING CHILDREN FROM POISONING

It is certainly heartening to hear that fatal poisonings at home among children under the age of five declined from 110 cases in 1979 to 60 cases in 1988 (the last year for which there are statistics available). However, it must be pointed out that the number of non-fatal poisoning incidents among children in this age group remains high. According to the American Association of Poison Control Centers, children comprised 60 percent of the 1.3 million cases of non-fatal domestic poisoning reported during 1988. The most common cause for this type of poisoning, experts say, is the accidental ingestion of over-the-counter (OTC) medications such as cold medicines, aspirin, sleeping pills, and even vitamins. Parents and grandparents are reminded that OTC medications are drugs that can cause considerable harm in the hands of innocent children.

If you think your child has been poisoned immediately contact a doctor or poison control center for guidance. Complete prescription service is available at BOSSMORE PHARMACY, 318 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Contraceptives are stocked including wafers, wheel chairs, crutches and canes. Many topics on health and medications will be featured in our column. Watch for these various subjects in our column. Open: Daily 9am - 10pm, Sundays 9am - 5pm.

HINT: According to the American Academy of Pediatrics, children between the ages of one and three are at greatest risk for home poisoning.

School 3 spends time with 'Clauses'

Santa and Mrs. Claus took some time out of their busy schedules last week to visit the children of School No. 3.

Mrs. Santa visited with the morning kindergarten, and Santa went to see the other classes in the afternoon.

"Have you all made a list?" he asked. "I'll be checking it twice. I've come to find out who's been naughty or nice."

Some of the older children admitted being just a bit naughty. So, Santa gently reminded them to be good for goodness sake! Not only because he was watching but because "it feels better to be nice than it does to be naughty."

Mrs. Villano's 6th grade class gave Santa an especially warm welcome: They clapped and cheered "Santa Claus, my man, my hero!"

The younger grades were thrilled to see him; their eyes all aglow. They sang "Jingle Bells" with Santa as they all watched him go.

YOU BETTER WATCH OUT... and be on your best behavior when Santa Claus himself visits you in school! Just ask the School No. 3 students, pictured above with St. Nick.

PICKING UP THE SLACK while Santa was busy, Mrs. Claus handed out gifts to the good girls and boys at School No. 3 recently.

"Serving The Community For 40 Years"

What if...

By Julie Frees Briggs

WHAT IF...

You are ill, and want to be sure to describe your symptoms as clearly as you can in order to receive the correct treatment. How do you best explain what you are feeling to your doctor?

Before speaking with your doctor, have a clear picture of what you are experiencing, by asking yourself some questions, and writing down the answers, to either bring them with you to the visit or have them nearby when the doctor calls. Knowing when your symptoms started, whether they have ever occurred before and perhaps what could have caused them, moldy food, exposure to dampness, etc. Pick the best definition that describes the pain (sharp, dull, shooting, etc.) and whether anything you do, such as sitting, sleeping, eating, relieves the pain or makes it feel worse. If after the doctor's visit, you think of additional helpful information about your condition, don't hesitate to call him.

WHAT IF...

You can't seem to connect with an important client or business contact, what are some ways to make the connection?

Persistence and perseverance usually win out, so keep trying. If the secretary hesitates when you call, and says "Mr. Jones is in a meeting or out for the day," try calling very early in the morning. Many executives start their day before the business day starts. If all else fails, a certified letter or overnight mailgram attracts attention. A New Jersey radio interviewer who has a well-known coast to coast network show, got that job by finding out where the producer bought his newspaper in the morning. For three days he waited for him at the newsstand, then presented him with his resume.

P.S. He got the job.

Insurance bill wins

The Senate has passed legislation, sponsored by Senator Richard Codey, D-Essex, that requires health insurers to offer less expensive "bare bones" policies to customers.

Under the plan, policies would cost about $1,500 for singles and $3,000 for families — considerably less than the standard health insurance policies on the market today.

The newly formed "Chorus of Communities" presented Handel's "Messiah" to a packed house at St. Peter's Church in Belleville, Sunday, Dec. 16. The chorus is made up of residents from 13 area communities, including Nutley. Soloists with professional backgrounds were accompanied by members of the New Jersey Symphony, all under the direction of conductor William Moore. The concert was sponsored by the Belleville Ministerium, with all proceeds from the event going to the Pastoral Care Department at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

Spring fever spurs softball search

An established amateur men's softball league is searching for additional teams to play on Sunday mornings in the spring.

According to Tom Hayes, league organizer, the games are played "slow-pitch" style, and individuals or groups interested should call him at 450-0983.

marine biology.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today. Throughout the six-day conference, the scholars will meet with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program will include welcoming remarks from a Member of Congress on the Floor of the United States House of Representatives, a government relations forum comprised of senior-level congressional staff and lobbyists from corporations and public interest groups, and a panel discussion led by prominent journalists at the National Press Club.

Students will also meet with their elected representatives and senators or designated congressional staff members. These meetings provide an opportunity to discuss important policy issues and focus on topics of state and local concern. Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference will be The Meek Congress on National Service during which scholars assume the roles of United States representatives by debating, lobbying, and voting on proposed volunteer service legislation.

"I firmly believe that by touching one life, the National Young Leaders Conference enriches thousands more," said John Hines, Council Executive Director. "Scholars return to their schools and communities charged with the lifelong duty of leading all Americans to better understand their rights and responsibilities in this participatory democracy."

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

HOARSENESS

Q: What is hoarseness?
A: Hoarseness is an alteration in the normal production of the voice by the vocal cords.

Q: What are the causes of hoarseness?
A: Most cases are caused by infection (laryngitis). Some others are related to voice abuse, environmental exposure, or smoking, which can cause vocal cord nodules and polyps.

Q: Who should have an examination by a throat specialist?
A: Anyone who has hoarseness persisting for two weeks.

Q: Have there been recent advances in the diagnosis of hoarseness?
A: Yes. With the FLEXIBLE FIBROPTIC LARYNGOSCOPE, a complete examination of the voice box can be done in the office without discomfort.

Q: What if I need surgery?
A: Surgery can be done under general anesthesia on an outpatient (same day) basis. An removed tissue is sent for a biopsy study. Modern techniques such as the OPERATING MICROSCOPE and, in indicated cases, LASER, allow accurate and precise surgery. Recovery is rapid with patients able to resume most activities the next day.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Patience, patience and a little more patience. That's the philosophy that veteran girls' basketball coach Karen Fucello is taking into her 19th season as head coach at Belleville High School.

Fucello, if you'll pardon the cliché, has seen it all. She has coached AAU champions, she has directed some outstanding Belleville girls' basketball teams and she has won over 200 games at Belleville. She is a Belleville Hall of Famer and was honored with the elite sports figures in America as a standout coach in New York City a few years back.

Last season, Fucello learned something new. How to deal with a group of very young, very enthusiastic players who did not win a game on the varsity level. Difficult seasons have happened before. In 1985-86, the Lady Bucs posted a 2-18 mark. The following season, the record improved to 10-13. The next year, it got even better, finishing 16-12. The following season, the mark fell slightly to 13-12, but that was pretty good considering the rash of injuries during that '88-89 season.

Those teams showed marked improvement thanks to the continuing talents of Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski. Both girls finished their high school careers with over 1,000 career points. Edwards ranks second on the all time Belleville girls' basketball scoring list, trailing only the legendary Jennifer Aplella. Dondarski is third on that list.

After Edwards and Dondarski left for college, Fucello knew that a rebuilding phase would be in order. Last season began that transition, as the Lady Bucs were winless in 20 games.

This year, Belleville is 0-4 in the early going, but Fucello is far from discouraged.

"People ask me about the wins and if this will be my last year," Fucello said. "I tell them that wins and losses aren't what it's about right now. Sure, it's great to win, but coaching requires teaching."

"We're basically trying to get it together with a very young team. True, most of the girls played last season, but most of them were all freshman last year. We've lost composure at times this season and we're stressing more in defense, because we haven't been as strong defensively as I would have liked."

"But the kids' knowledge of the game is getting better. I enjoy working with these kids and I'll tell you, working with them is the highlight of my day."

Fucello, as most people in town probably know, assumed a new job this past fall. She is the Director of Athletics and Physical Education. She took over the A.D. job from Jim Silvestri, who retired last spring and the Phys Ed job from Al LoBallo, who also retired last June.

Needless to say, the job keeps Fucello busy and questions surround her ability to coach the team next winter.

"I don't see it to be a problem," Fucello said about coaching. "But we'll see next year. Right now, I'm coaching this team and I'm enjoying working with these kids."

Thus far in 1990, Belleville has lost to Ridgewood 70-24, Immaculate Heart 61-37, Nutley 43-29 and Queen of Peace, 74-37 in the first round of the Tri County holiday tournament, played last Thursday evening.

Belleville will get started with NNJIL play now. The Lady Bucs are home to Paramus Catholic this afternoon at 4 p.m. Next Monday, the team will be host to Barringer and next Tuesday, it's a road game in Teaneck. All games tip off at 4 p.m.

In the Queen of Peace game, Danielle DeWork led the Belleville attack with 14 points. Colleen Mannion scored 12, Nina Calvi had six, Zulay Fiallos and Jennifer Abrams had two points each and Liz Ramirez scored one.

Belleville fell behind early, trailing 32-6 after one quarter. It was 48-14 at halftime and 64-22 after three quarters. The Lady Bucs didn't quit. In the fourth quarter, it outscored Queen of Peace 15-10 to cut the final deficit somewhat.

"The kids played hard, they didn't quit," Fucello said. "That's all I can ask. Their (Queen of Peace) press hurt us. They converted too many layups off steals. One of their players scored 14 points in the first quarter off steals."

In the Nutley game, Calvi led Belleville with ten points. DeWork and Melanie VanDam had six points each, Mannion scored five and Fiallos had two.

Fucello has been pleased with the play of Ramirez, a freshman and Mary Campbell and VanDam, both of whom are sophomores. As for Fiallos, "she plays at 150 percent," according to Fucello.

"What can I say?", Fucello said. "These kids are trying and working hard. I can't ask for more than that."

Somewhere, you get the feeling that Fucello will find the victory column soon.

NEW YEARS WISHES

I'd like to wish everyone a very prosperous and joyous New Year. May 1991 bring all the happiness everyone desires.

As for some of my sports hopes in 1991...

The St. Louis Cardinals wrap up the N.L. East title in mid September and go on to win the 1991 World Series. My September prediction of the Buffalo Bills and San Francisco 49ers playing in the '91 Super Bowl will be fulfilled. (That has a better shot than the Cards winning the N.L. East).

UNLV wins the NCAA basketball title before the NCAA invokes the "Death Penalty" on the program. Karen Fucello leads the girls' basketball team into the 1991 state tournament. The New York Mets beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in all 12 head to head matchups. (If the Cards don't win the N.L. East, then let the Mets win the crown and go on to the World Series).

Sylvester Stallone makes an announcement that Rocky IV was just a dream and he will return for Rocky VI and a third match with Apollo Creed. (Apollo really won the fight in Rocky II, he was robbed).

George Foreman beats Evander Holyfield and then retires before Razor Ruddock gets a shot at him. By the way, Ruddock will beat Mike Tyson in their April heavyweight bout.

Dave Salata gets married, then has to say "yes dear" for the rest of his life. Gina Lemongello gets married, it couldn't

Talmadge nets 24, Bucs are 2-2

Bucs fall to Bayonne, 98-76

By Mike Lamberti

In the first round of the Tri County Holiday tournament last Thursday evening, the Belleville boys' basketball team found out that with youth and talent comes inconsistency.

Don Roli's team was defeated, 98-76 by Bayonne at Kearny High School. The loss dropped the Bucs record to 2-2 on the season. Belleville played the loser of the Queen of Peace-Kearny game in the consolation game last Saturday evening.

Belleville will get down to the business of NNJIL play. On Saturday evening, Belleville will play at Paramus Catholic, starting at 7:30 p.m. Next Tuesday, the Bucs are host to Teaneck at 4 p.m.

"We fell out of our offense after a good start," Roli said after the loss to Bayonne. "We weren't getting back on defense and we missed too many layups."

"25 turnovers," assistant coach Dick Baker said after the game. "You're not going to win with that many turnovers. We have talent on this team, but the kids need to learn from a game like this and stay focused on future games."

Staying focused appeared to be Belleville's biggest problem. The Bucs started off rather impressively, taking a 16-8 lead late in the first quarter.

With the score tied at two, Jim DuHaime hit a layup and was fouled. He converted the free throw to make the score 5-2. After four unanswered Bayonne points, Sal Straface hit a three point basket, DuHaime converted a layup off a pass from Troy Talmadge and Talmadge hit a layup off a fast break to put Belleville ahead 12-6.

After a Bayonne free throw, Ken Johansen hit a layup off another fast break and later, Dennis DeWork hit a layup to put Belleville ahead by eight, 16-8.

It was at that point that Belleville seemed to lose some concentration, turning the ball over twice and missing some easy shots. The result was eight unanswered points by Bayonne to end the quarter, with the score tied at 16.

DuHaime started the second quarter with a layup and Straface came back to hit a three pointer to put Belleville ahead, 21-18. The teams then traded baskets, with Talmadge hitting a layup off a steal in the backcourt.

With the Bucs leading 23-20, Bayonne scored the next six points to take the lead for good, 26-23. Talmadge converted a jumper to cut the lead to one, but four more Bayonne points boosted the advantage to 30-25. Bryant Jimenez hit a three point basket, but Bayonne was gaining control and a layup at the first half buzzer gave the Hudson County team a 36-30 lead at the half.

Bayonne came out firing in the third quarter, outscoring Belleville 14-2 to take a commanding 50-32 lead. The Bucs cut the deficit to 13 points on a few occasions in the third quarter, but got no closer.

In the fourth quarter, Belleville got as close as 66-54, but Bayonne closed it out with a notch and finished the game with six straight points and 98 overall.

Talmadge led the Belleville attack with 24 points. DuHaime scored 19, Straface finished with 13, DeWork scored ten, Jimenez had six and Michael Vista and Ken Johansen tallied two points each.

This was indeed a game in which Belleville looked young. The team did show the ability to run a very exciting, disciplined offense. There were some fine passes and backdoor layups. This is a team that could be very successful this winter. It just needs to stay focused and not play the other teams game.

Sal Straface was named Scholastic Awards and Screen Printing Back Player of game during recent OBC-TV game with Nutley.

Indoor track team heads to Point

By Mike Lamberti

The holiday season has been a busy one for the Belleville indoor track team. John Tosato's group took part in the West Point Invitational last week and the runners will be busy through early January with other invitations.

The Bucs took part in the Fairleigh Dickinson University Invitational last Friday. Last Monday, the team ran in the Minuteman Invitational in Elizabeth. This Saturday, January 5, the Bucs are set to compete in the Essex County Relay championships, at Seton Hall University.

At West Point, the Bucs ran in a fantastic indoor facility and the performances were very good.

Mike Trupia advanced to the finals of the 55 meter run. In the qualifying race, he ran a time of 6.9.

In the finals, Trupia bettered his time, finishing in 6.75.

Carmen Spina ran the 55 meters in 7.4 for Belleville.

In the shot put, Steve Caponi and John Alvarado continued their fine performances with throws of 41' 1/2" and 36' 1/2" respectively.

In the 300 meters, Trupia ran 40.9, Emilio DeGuia finished in 42.4 and Spina's time was 45.4.

For the girls, Jennifer Citarella ran the 300 meters in 47.3 and Chris Rykowski finished in 67.0.

In the 600 meters, Brian Orlando led the Bucs with a time of 1:46.2. Rykowski led the girls' team with a time of 2:36.

The 1000 meter run saw Brian Doyle run a 3:20.

DeGuia competed in both jumping events, jumping 15'11" in the long jump and 36'8 1/4" in the triple jump.

"Mike Trupia has done a very good job," Tosato said. "All of the kids have been working hard."

"We've got some big meets coming up, and unfortunately we have kids that are hit by the flu. Hopefully, most of the kids will be okay soon."

Strikers enjoy outstanding campaign

The Strikers, a member of the third division of the Belleville Soccer Association, clinched second place after dropping a tough 1-0 decision to an undefeated West Milford team in the Jersey Hills League title game for Premier third division teams.

The Strikers finished the regular season with a perfect 7-0 mark. In the first round of the playoffs, the team stopped a tough Ringwood squad, 3-2 in overtime. In the second round, the Strikers played a tremendous game against an undefeated Popton Lakes team, winning 1-0.

In the title game, the Strikers battled another unbeaten squad in West Milford. The Passaic County team entered the game having allowed only three goals the entire season. West Milford had scored 46 goals.

It was a valiant effort on the part of both teams, with the winning goal coming of a corner kick with two minutes left in the game.

The Strikers are sponsored by the Junior Women's Club of Belleville. Its coaches are Joe Colucci Sr. and Richard Pollak, Sr.

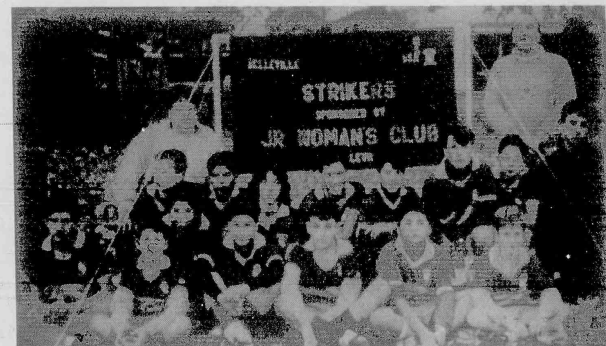

The roster is made up of Steve

Collett, Joe Colucci, Jr., Nick Colucci, Tony DiCarlo, Steve Dieguez, Kevin Augustowicz, Robin Guevara, Mike Guzman, Ivan Martin, Vic Mese, Rich Pollak,

Jr., Joe Sabatino, Santiago Salme, Frank Toledo and Dave Enriquez. Eight of those players were hoping for a spot on the Jersey Hills League Select teams (traveling All Star Team).

Congratulations to all the Striker players, and good luck to those players who are going for a spot on the All Star team.

Belleville Recreation Wrestling started practice for the upcoming 1991 season. The 1991 varsity team will defend the Essex County Championship. Last year this team was undefeated and carried a 26-1 record over the last three seasons. The varsity team is coached by Ralph Cardinale and Lou Riccardi. The junior varsity and novices are coached by Tim Buckley and Chris Tremel. The team is comprised of youngsters aged 6 through 14. Practice is held Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays at the High School. Any youngster interested in joining the team can stop by the High School between 5:45 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

The Colorado home of actor Dennis Weaver must be the ultimate in recycling. Its walls are made of recycled soda cans and tires, filled with topsoil for insulation.

First step in replacing broken window pane is to remove the old glass. For safer handling, wear heavy work gloves. Work the glass free, start on top of the pane, and place pieces in a box.

Some '90s decorating harks back to the 1890s and the Victorian look. Cover chairs in flowered chintz and add mounds of plump pillows. Place a plant stand at the window with a flowing Boston fern.

When the plywood panels of a garage door develop cracks that paint won't cover, use glazing or caulking compound to fill them in. It's better to smooth the compound while it's soft than to sand it later.

The "credit crunch" we hear about generally refers to large developers and major construction loans. Donald Trump may have trouble, but ordinary home buyers should have no problem getting a mortgage, say economists.

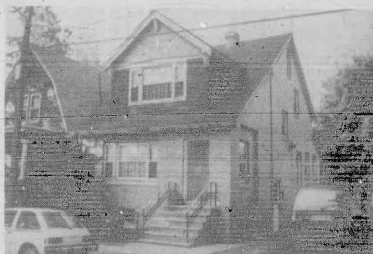

No problem finding the just-right home, either, with the help of the real estate pros at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, N.J. 07110. 235-9000.
