Belleville school board is among demanding figures

Local boards of education are facing the difficult task of trying to plan a budget without the necessary state aid figures. The 1991-92 figures, normally released in December, have yet to be made public.

Ed Appleton, Belleville's Board of Education Business Administrator, is beginning to feel the crunch of the delay in trying to prepare a budget.

"Under normal circumstances we have to submit our budget by Jan. 15," Appleton said, "but the state will have to revise its calendar."

Appleton thinks the delay is the result of resistance at the state level to the new proposals under the Quality Education Act.

With the passage of the QEA, there were fundamental changes in the structure of school funding.

Many expenses were transferred to local districts and state aid would increase in other areas.

According to Appleton, Belleville received $4,882,556 in state aid for the 1990-91 school year. There were also other areas of state funding that contributed to the budget and the local tax levy amounted to $18,911,532.

The total budget came to $24,623,516.

However, Appleton cannot even begin to prepare the 1991-92 budget without the tardy state aid figures.

"I'm in holding pattern," Appleton said.

Although estimates were provided last spring, which would give Belleville a slight increase in state aid, there has been nothing concrete provided for Appleton.

The New Jersey School Boards Association, of which Belleville is a member, has filed a lawsuit to force the release of the figures.

One problem that Belleville does not face, but many other Essex County school boards do, is the budget preparation for monitoring.

A bill is pending that would put off monitoring of some school boards for two years. If passed, the bill would afford schools that were originally budgeting funds to prepare for monitoring additional time to complete maintenance projects.

Appleton said that Belleville was one of the first school boards monitored in 1988 and the bill would not further complicate his budget plans.

Residents file suit against town, cop, post

By Joyce M. Steel

A Belleville couple claim to have been "greatly injured in their good name and...reputation" thanks to statements allegedly made by Det. Lt. William Adelhelm and printed in the Belleville Post, and have filed a civil suit against Adelhelm, the police department, the township, the Belleville Post and its managing editor, Chris Gatto.

According to the plaintiffs' attorney, Peter G. Caplan, Rexford and Donna Willett, of 50 Watchung Ave., are suing the defendants for an undisclosed amount in damages. He said the couple began proceedings after a news item concerning Mr. Willett appeared in a March, 1990 issue of the Belleville Post.

According to police reports, Willett was arrested in early March and charged with attempted robbery after he was identified by employees of the Krausz Food Store on Franklin Street as the man who attempted to hold up the cashier, but was foiled when workers grabbed his gun and baseball cap. Police further stated in reports that Willett became a suspect after they followed footprints in the snow leading from the store to Willett's apartment.

The crux of the suit, however, concerns a comment reportedly made about Willett's health.

According to Adelhelm and police reports, the suspect, when questioned about his whereabouts, said he had gone outside for air earlier in the evening. He allegedly said he was not feeling well, due to his affliction with HIV.

According to Caplan, a Bloomfield-based lawyer who is handling his first HIV-related case, the Willetts do not believe that the information was crucial, or even pertinent, to the attempted robbery story. They allege in their complaint that Adelhelm relayed the information to the press, knowing it would appear in the newspaper. Although Adelhelm dispensed the information to this newspaper as well as the Post, the Belleville Times did not publish it.

Caplan said the Willetts consider the Belleville Post and Gatto, then a staff writer with the paper, responsible for bringing the couple into "public scandal, infamy and disgrace," and believe Adelhelm, as well as the township and police department as his employers, are also accountable.

"I believe my clients have been treated wrongly and unfairly," Caplan said in a telephone interview last week, "and so do they." He said the township, the police department and Adelhelm have been served with summonses, and expects the Post and Gatto will be served sometime this month. Adelhelm said that, because Willett allegedly told police he was HIV-positive in response to police questioning, investigators were required to include it on police reports of the incident. He was unsure of how the township, his department or he would respond to the suit, but maintained he was "only doing his job."

The delay in serving the newspaper is the result of a mix-up, Caplan said. The Belleville Times was originally named in the suit, but the plaintiffs realized soon after that the article in question was printed in the Belleville Post. Both are local newspapers, and Caplan said he filed an amended suit, deleting the Times and adding the Post and Gatto, in late December.

Gatto, when reached last week, declined to comment on the suit; however, Don Veleber, the paper's executive editor, said he heard of the action, but was unsure of how the paper planned to proceed.

"As far as we're concerned, as a newspaper person, I believe everything was in place," Veleber said, referring to attribution within the article. He said the paper was within its rights to publish information contained in public records such as police reports.

Veleber said the police records to

Students can't visit Saudi Arabia so, Desert Shield soldiers send it to them

By Mike Lazorchak

A simple project of support for servicemen and women in the Middle East has become an educational lesson in friendship and humanity for students at School No. 3.

It started when the sixth grade class of Issy Villano and Fran Gallaway sent letters at the beginning of the school year to the troops. It has blossomed into a school project that has been a rewarding experience for all involved.

Principal Raffaella Saulino explained that although there was never any formal organization of the projects, the whole school seems to have embraced the idea of supporting the servicepeople.

The sixth graders also organized a project to send goods such as gum, playing cards and newspapers to service members. The students collected over 70 pounds of goods, packed them in boxes, and the Home and School Association paid the postage to send some cheer to the troops.

The first and fourth grade classes, taught by Louisa Licameli and Mary Bradley, have developed a special correspondence with the USNS Comfort, a hospital ship. The classes first started writing because Kyrstal Shashudo, a first grader, and her sister Gemma, a fourth grader, have an uncle aboard the ship.

Both classes received holiday greetings signed by numerous members of the Comfort's crew.

Such a wholehearted show of support has given the school a sense of pride. It can be heard in the enthusiasm of the teacher's voices and seen in the wonder of the children's faces.

This pride is best illustrated by Mary Ann Justice's class and a student named Gerard Fiscaro.

Fiscaro, 7, first wrote to Operation Desert Shield to offer his support. When PFC Sam Watson returned a letter, a long distance friendship began.

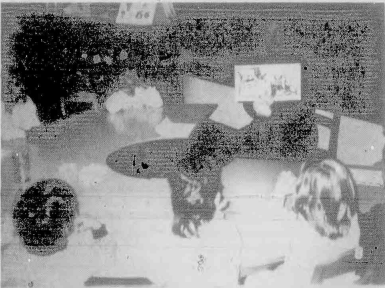

Since then Fiscaro and his mother, Judy, have kept in contact with Watson, their newfound pen pal. Despite being thousands of miles apart, years apart in age and having never spoken to each other, Fiscaro and Watson have become friends.

Recently, Watson sent Fiscaro a tee-shirt from Saudi Arabia along with an egg rock that is particular to that region of the world.

Justice's entire class has accepted Watson as a new friend and even sent him a package for Christmas.

A PEN PAL IN THE EAST...Gerard Fiscaro, flanked on the left by his mother, Judy, and his teacher Mary Ann Justice, Gerard has developed a pen pal relationship with a serviceman in the Middle East.

EDUCATING ABOUT EPILEPSY...Jeanna-Mar Carriere tells kindergarten students at School No. 9 a story about a rabbit who had epilepsy. The story is designed to teach kids that people with epilepsy are not different.

Kids learn tolerance and understanding

By Mike Lazorchak

While ignorance may be bliss, it can also be the root of negative stereotyped images. One group that battles this negativism everyday are people with epilepsy who are often treated different because others do not understand the disorder.

School No. 9 is educating its students about epilepsy to break those stereotypes. Principal Pat Forte invited the Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey, a private non-profit organization, to explain to the children that epileptics are ordinary people.

Jeanna-Mar Carriere, a representative of the foundation for the past 3 years, tried to teach the primary grades, K-3, by telling them a story.

The story was about a rabbit named Lee who had epilepsy. Lee was worried and confused, because she did not know about epilepsy and thought that she would no longer be able to do all the things she loved.

However, when her parents took her to the doctor, he explained that she could do everything as long as she took her medicine.

The message in the story is quite clear, and even the kindergarten class at School No. 9 was able to answer questions about epilepsy at the end of the story. The proper education at a younger age is a major step to eliminating the misunderstandings of epilepsy.

The Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey also runs programs for businesses, police departments, first aid squads and just about any group that is willing to learn.

CLASS APPRECIATION...Mary Ann Justice's class at School No. 3 hopes that PFC Sam Watson comes home soon from the Middle East.

WHAT'S A PHILATELIST? From left, School No. 3 third grade students Melissa Jacobs, Penny Lam and Vinnie Cozzarelli listen to school librarian talk about the importance of stamps.

Essex County Clerk Patricia McGarry Drake, left, administers the oath of office to Linda Lordi Cavanaugh as her husband, Dennis, holds the Bible.

Crecco pushes capital punishment

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco (R-Essex) has cosponsored legislation which would strengthen New Jersey's death penalty statute and reduce the role of the State Supreme Court in overturning death sentences.

The introduction of the two separate bills are in response to the overturning of all twenty-five death sentences reviewed by the Supreme Court, and in particular, a most recent case involving the hatchet slaying of a Plainsboro widow in which the Court suppressed a key piece of evidence, the confession of defendant Nathaniel Harvey, making it impossible for the state to retry the matter.

The first bill, ACR-76, asks the voters for an amendment to the New Jersey State Constitution to make it clear that the death penalty is not cruel and unusual punishment for defendants who purposefully or knowingly caused serious bodily injury resulting in the death of another.

The second bill, ACR-130, asks the voters to amend the state constitution to bar the State Supreme Court from applying stricter evidence-related rules in criminal cases than already required in the United States Constitution.

"The State Supreme Court has gone to absurd lengths to justify its distaste of the death penalty," said

Crecco. "This constitutional amendment will set rational rules for the court to follow."

Crecco explained that with the constant increase in the number of heinous crimes committed, enforcement of the death penalty must be carried out. "This is the main reason for establishing capital punishment," said Crecco. "This is the only deterrent we have to stop the heinous crimes which we have today. Our citizens must be able to feel safe to walk the streets safely which is not the case in today's society."

Crecco also stated that she welcomed the Governor has spoken out on the matter and has indicated support for these bills.

Kids become stamp pros

Any philatelist will tell you that stamps can do a lot more than get your letter from New Jersey to California. Not only can stamp collecting provide an interesting hobby, it can also be educational.

The students at School No. 3 learned this lesson from school librarian Betty Johnson. An exhibit of United States Commemorative Plate Blocks, about which students can learn, has been on display in the library since December.

Johnson explained to students how stamps depict historical events and people important to our American heritage.

Essex Cty. inducts its new freeholder

North Caldwell attorney Linda Lordi Cavanaugh was elected by the Essex County Democratic Committee as an interim at-large freeholder at a meeting in West Orange on January 5th.

Cavanaugh will fill the vacancy left by the death of Michael Delahanty on December 1st of last year. The interim term will continue until the general election in November at which time a freeholder will be elected to serve the remaining two years.

Cavanaugh, the daughter of the late Essex prosecutor Joseph Lordi, said "If anyone can say being a Democrat is in their blood, I can. I grew up with Democratic principals. I hope to make every one of you really proud of me."

Delahanty, a former Montclair Commissioner of Public Safety was appointed to the Board in January of 1990 to fill the vacancy left by Thomas Giblin when he resigned to become County Surrogate. He was elected to a three-year term last November.

Cavanaugh said that she knew Delahanty and that, "He was a wonderful man and that makes this responsibility even more overwhelming."

Immediately after her election, Cavanaugh was administered the oath of office by County Clerk Patricia McGarry Drake.

Among those offering congratulations to Cavanaugh after taking the oath was Board Vice President James Cavanaugh, who joked, "We needed another Cavanaugh on the Board to keep up with the Joneses," referring to the fact that Leroy J. Jones of East Orange and Johnny Jones of Newark both serve on the Board.

Freeholder President Joseph Parlavecchio welcomed Cavanaugh to the Board. "I've known her family all my life," he said, adding, "I have every confidence she will be an outstanding Freeholder."

Cavanaugh is a graduate of Boston College and Seton Hall Law School and was lauded by Francis

Golden Comments

Olle North seems to have had the latest laugh since a new ruling batters the case against Iran-contra defendants, raising doubts about congressional immunity.

Though this case ranked as the most invidious scam of the '80s, not one of the eight convicted offenders has spent a night in jail. A few weeks back a court ruling made it likely that two key culprits, Oliver North and John Poindexter, would also see their records scrubbed clean in legal terms. Further, the decision may force Congress to choose between spectacular public hearings and criminal prosecutions in future scandals.

The specific issue before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia dealt only with North, the retired Marine officer who as a White House aide managed the details of the Iran-contra scheme. After he was found guilty of three offenses, a three-member panel of the appeals court last July overturned one conviction on technical grounds and sent the other two back to the trial court. The special prosecutor handling the case, Lawrence Walsh, contested that ruling. But the full court let it stand.

The core of the decision was that North's constitutional shield against forced self-incrimination may have been violated. North had testified at the congressional hearings under a grant of partial immunity, meaning Walsh could not use information from North's public testimony in the criminal case unless he had obtained the evidence independently. By a 2-to-1 vote, the appeals panel ruled that the trial judge's scrutiny of this issue had been insufficient. In a dissent, Judge Patricia Wald said the decision would "make the prosecution's burden an impossible one." Poindexter, North's boss at the White House, also testified under an immunity grant, and is appealing convictions on five counts. (His six-month sentence is deferred, pending appeal. None of the other defendants were given prison terms.) Unless Walsh can get the Supreme Court to overturn the appeals-bench ruling, Poindexter is likely to benefit from the same reasoning applied to the North case. Walsh plans to take the case to the Supreme Court, but many experts expect him to lose. Says Joseph deGenova, the former U.S. attorney in Washington: "Congress didn't know the mess it was creating when it gave the witnesses immunity."

In fact, congressional leaders were aware of the risks and gave Walsh some time to gather evidence before putting North and Poindexter in the witness chair. But the legislators could not know three years ago that the appeals court would apply more stringent standards than ever before. Republican Senator Warren Rudman of New Hampshire and Democratic Congressman Lee Hamilton of Indiana, two of the senior members on the investigating committee, argue that granting immunity was correct regardless of the ultimate impact on the criminal cases. "You had a President on the razor's edge," says Hamilton. "People were talking about impeachment." By that reasoning, it was in the national interest to get out the facts quickly.

True enough. But the hearing had some odd ripples. One unintended result was to make North something of a national hero. And in the end, the congressional investigators failed to elicit from Poindexter hard information about Ronald Reagan's complicity. That remains murky. Former Senator John Tower, who headed a special Iran-contra investigative commission that operated independently of Congress, suggests in his upcoming memoirs that Reagan was directly involved in a "deliberate" cover-up effort.

The shortcomings of the congressional hearings, together with the latest ruling, suggests that the day of congressional hearings starring criminal suspects is passing. Says House Republican leader Bob Michel: "Congress ought to suppress its interest in public hearings if you want people to go to jail." Presumably, legislators want to punish the guilt at least as much as they covet the publicity yielded by splashy scandal investigations.

include information on Willett's condition was "a well-considered one," but admitted that the context in which Willett allegedly revealed the information "should have been included in the article." David Worral, owner of Worral Publications Inc. which publishes the Belleville Post, could not be reached for comment.

The Willetts have requested a jury handle the case, according to the Essex County summons, and are currently waiting for a court date, Caplan said.

Air Force basics

Airman Marguerite Ryan has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training the airman studied Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Ryan is the daughter of Clara E.J. and James J. Ryan of Davidson St., Belleville.

She is a 1990 graduate of Belleville High School.

Dep. Mayor Caputo to hold meeting

Deputy Mayor Frank A. Caputo will be holding his first monthly meeting for Second Ward residents on Jan. 16. The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Recreation House, 407 Jorammon Street.

Bertrand N. Kendall, township manager, and Stanley Stires, township engineer & director of the public works department are scheduled as guest speakers.

Caputo feels this is a way to build a closeness and better relationship with the people in his Second Ward. "I'm interested in the people of this ward. It is important the people know they are being represented," Caputo said.

Ives serves in Saudi Arabia

Marine Cpl. Dennis I. Ives, son of Irving and Elizabeth Ives of Union Avenue, Belleville, is now serving in Saudi Arabia, as part of Operation Desert Shield.

A 1986 graduate of Belleville High School, Ives joined the Marine Corps in August 1987. Cpl. Ives has also served in Okinawa and Thailand.

Prosecutors present check

On Wednesday, December 19th, the Essex County Prosecutor's Office presented a check to the Muscular Dystrophy Association for over $5,000. This money was raised via a benefit dinner on November 18th.

Gordon Eyer, of the Prosecutor's Office said, "The motivational force behind the success of our event was Kevin Kearney Jr., son of former Assistant Prosecutor Kevin Kearney Sr., who has Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy. Also, without the 100% participation we received from the Prosecutor's Office this event could not have been!"

The "Kearney Fund" dinner took place at the Roseland V.F.W. and coincided with the New York Giants football game. Food for this dinner was the responsibility of dinner chairman, Jack Farley who said, "Everyone, from the Prosecutor Herbert H. Tate Jr. on down, put their hearts into this worthy cause."

As the 1990 holiday season comes to a close, it becomes apparent that some people truly believe this is the time for giving and it is events such as these that give all of "Jerry's Kids", including Kevin Kearney Jr., the hope for a much brighter and healthier tomorrow.

BHS students give Regard to Broadway

By Tina Selachiano

Juniors and seniors from Mrs. Pasterchick's and Mrs. Hawley's English classes recently attended the Broadway production of "Cats" at the Winter Garden Theater in New York City. For many of the students, this was their first experience with a Broadway production.

According to Hawley, "The play was good, but many of the students had a hard time understanding what it was about because of the musical numbers and lack of dialogue."

Eleventh grader Barbara Bini didn't share the same opinion. "It was boring; all they did was introduce cats for two hours."

Junior Cristina Ferreira commented, "It was interesting and the acting was excellent."

Junior Angela Cultrara was impressed with the performance and said, "It was very interesting and exciting. I would really like to see it again!"

Another trip is being planned for the spring. Students will be discussing their recent Broadway experience and will be making a selection for their next visit.

Belleville High keeps troops near

By George Wallace

During their long stay in the Middle East, our soldiers are homesick and lonely, and correspondence from home is something they look forward to and cherish.

Recently, Belleville High students in their English classes wrote to the soldiers and one student received a reply from Sergeant First Class James Joyce, who is in a tank platoon. This letter is just one in many that the soldiers are writing. Sgt. Joyce has been in the Army for 15 years and plans to retire in five years. This is the first time he has been to Saudi Arabia, but he has been to Korea and Germany. His platoon is located about 50 miles from the Kuwait-Iraq border. "Mail is one of the most important things to a soldier," said Sgt. Joyce in his letter. The letters raise morale and make the soldiers feel like they are doing the right thing.

The most important message sent home from the soldiers, and the one Sgt. Joyce made clear in his letter, is that the U.S. military is in the Middle East to keep peace and not make war.

Seniors receive valuable advice

By Colleen Coppla

A financial aid workshop sponsored by the Belleville High School Guidance Department will be held in the BHS auditorium on Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m. Ms. Lisa Anderson from Fairleigh Dickinson University will be conducting the workshop.

The purpose of the workshop is to help college bound seniors and their parents complete financial aid forms. Mrs. Anderson will explain in the application process and answer questions. The program will be extremely beneficial to both students and parents. Everyone interested in attending should be on time and bring their Financial Aid Forms.

Talented faculty benefits scholars

By Max E. Figueroa

Even though it is the New Year, Belleville High School will be turning the clock back 40 years on Jan. 11 for its annual Faculty Talent Show.

The Faculty Talent Show was initiated two years ago by Ms. Nazziola. A 1950s theme will be the venue of the evening. The show will also feature a lip-synce contest and a professional D.J. that are sure to bring Elvis out of his grave.

Tickets for the show will be $5. Anyone dressed in '50s attire will be charged a $3 admission fee. That money that is collected from the show will be contributed to student scholarships. Those who attend are reminded to bring Shop Rite register receipts, please include your name and phone number or first period room number on the receipt. A raffle will be held and prizes donated by local businesses will be awarded.

The Belleville High School News is a feature of the Belleville Times. It runs weekly, space allowing. All stories are written by the students of Mr. Anthony Salese's journalism class. Their work is coordinated by student editor Denise Zecca.

OUR OPINION

May you walk always in sunshine

*May you walk always in sunshine
With blue skies every day.
May your journey be a safe one;
May you never go astray.
May your burdens all be light ones
And small the cross you bear.
May your future be a bright one
Enshrined by love and prayer.
May the wings of love enfold you
Like a blanket in the night,
And the arms of faith uphold you
Until the sky is bright.
May life's storm clouds quickly vanish
As rainbows come your way...
May you walk always in sunshine
With blue skies every day.*

Freedom VS. Humanitarianism

The need for government to make money, in order to provide us with the services we enjoy and need, is accepted and understood by just about everyone. And the need for private industry — from the "Mom & Pop" outfits to the huge conglomerates — to make a profit is the basis of our economic system, which most Americans champion. But it's just the way government and businesses choose to generate funds that sometimes leaves much to be desired.

A letter to the editor was received this week from Belleville resident Susan Kupp, and it appears at the right of this column. Enclosed with Ms. Kupp's letter was a recent report, released by the Humane Society of the United States, on the sad state of America's Wildlife Refuges.

Essentially, when President Theodore Roosevelt, himself an avid hunter, created the National Wildlife Refuge System in 1903, he did it to protect the many species of animals that were being "hunted out;" at the time, many animals that once roamed this country in droves were on the verge of extinction. Roosevelt realized that, while hunting was important to the sportsmen and women who enjoyed it, preservation of our ecological systems was important to the other 97 percent of Americans who don't hunt.

Refuges were defined almost 90 years ago as "inviolate sanctuaries" for wildlife. However, of the 452 refuges in the United States today, more than half of them permit hunters, who first must pay licensing and other fees, to go in and shoot more than 100 species of deer, bears, antelope, elk, swans, geese and ducks. Further, predator species on those refuge sites, such as coyotes, wolves, minks and bobcats, are systematically destroyed because they "compete" with the hunter, a practice that makes the defense of hunting in these refuges as a method for cutting down overpopulation of certain species a difficult one to believe.

Interestingly enough, a longtime hunter who came across the article agreed with most of it, and conceded that refuges should be left untouched by the hunting population. But, he added, local businesses surrounding these refuges, as well as strong sportsmen's lobbies such as the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, are serious advocates of refuge hunting, and are currently pressuring the government to open up even more of the refuges for that purpose.

And, of course, the government makes money each and every time a hunter walks through the gates of a refuge. The question, however, is this: hasn't the time come to stop seeking a profit at the expense of the delicate balance of nature and the lives of hundreds of thousands of defenseless animals?

YOUR OPINION

Criticizing the coalition

To the editor:

This past November, many voters stayed home rather than vote due to the Florio Tax Revolt.

Who does Mayor James and his coalition think they are by dictating and trying to tell us who to vote for? The main reason the black communities have been loyal to the Democratic Party is because the Democratic Party has always been for the poor, minorities and the black since the Roosevelt times.

I believe that if you look back to last Thursday evening's meeting in Newark of the coalition, most were politicians, including assemblymen, councilmen, mayors, senators and officials that were elected by Democrats — not blacks. I believe what Mr. James and Company is doing is not democratic, but racism. Why doesn't Mr. James and Company look into the entire Essex County for candidates? We should look for qualified men or women, white or black for these important positions. A screening committee could be set up by Essex county professional people who know qualified people with a clean record.

Is it fair to the rest of Essex County, just because the coalition knows the nominees who they would like to make the next Essex County Sheriff and Prosecutor? What about a qualified woman, who served as an assistant prosecutor, handling many cases, a very qualified attorney who also has a clean record? Mr. James, what happened to the slogan of your coalition of black politicians — "We serve all the people." When is your coalition and people going to pay their share? What happened to the term of working together — you got yours and want more.

Let's look at your City of Newark. Can you and your political coalition support yourselves with only Newark taxes? — NO! If you paid your right share like the rest of the taxpayers of Essex County, your coalition of friends and you wouldn't be where you are today. Cars, big salaries, expenses and all the other benefits are paid by the people who pay taxes — black and white.

Remember, we need a qualified person for the next sheriff and prosecutor who has a clean record and who will represent all the people of Essex County, not just the coalition from Newark and East Orange.

I believe, percentage wise, every ethnic group in political positions in Essex County is represented. Our Democratic Chairman of Essex County, Raymond Durkin, has done a good job. We have from Essex County a black Congressman, State Senators, Assemblymen, Councilmen, Mayors and many others in high places. There should be a little more patronage for a woman at this time. Hopefully, Governor Florio will make the right choice for Essex County Prosecutor and Sheriff. Why does the demand have to be for a black man for both jobs? Let's work together in 1991 for Black and White.

A letter back

To the editor:

Dear Ms. Donatiello:

In answer to your letter to Ed 12/20/90 edition.

The manager is the executive of our local government like President Bush at our national level. He is responsible for the day-to-day operations.

The council is the legislative branch like Congress in Washington. We are responsible for passing ordinances (laws at local level), releasing the tax money to be used by the manager to run the town, and advise and consent.

According to the statutes (state laws) we cannot give a single town employee an order. However, when we have agreed on sometime (at least 4 of the 7 votes) as a group then it becomes a law that the manager must carry out.

Frank J. Noonan, M.D.

Stop the cruelty!

To the editor:

As a lifelong resident of Belleville, too many times I have seen the bloody carcasses of what was left of the deer brought up to Butts & Bows on Washington Avenue.

I do not wish to defame the establishment, but, it is really necessary for the members to cut open and gut the deer and put them on display for their friends as a "prize."

Then to see them bringing the dead meat in the Red Deer Door, with the blood left split on the sidewalk for days. Killing the deer was not for a question of survival — it's a sick game, and very unnecessary.

I question society, and our citizens if they all support this cruelty.

Your comments, or maybe other readers' comments who would like to share their views.

Thank you for taking the time to listen.

Susan M. Kupp

To write, or not to write

To the editor:

Jackie we all know you never attended a town meeting, plus everyone knows that you never wrote that letter — you just signed it for your friend; after all Jackie, one hand washes the other. Just keep selling your lemon ice because a writer you're not.

• OUR former staffer and television commentator, Professor Bill Graver continues to enjoy the Phoenix, Arizona sunshine.

• BLOOMFIELD Democrat Mayor Jim Gasparini, is missing the boat for not supporting Municipal Judge Carl Stier for a one-year re-appointment. Judge Stier has served with distinction for the past 24 years. He has a reputation far and wide, for dispensing justice with fairness and firmness. Stier is a nonsense judge, and the world would be a better and safer place in which to live with more Judge Stiers. Over the past quarter century, Judge Stier has become part of the fabric of the community — and I might say the better part of it. Jim Gasparini leaves us with an enigma with his refusal to recognize that continuing Judge Stier in office would reassure the residents of Bloomfield that an impeccable, honest and fair judge would dispense justice to those who come before him.

• A LOCAL Nutley boy makes good — in Sea Isle City, Cape May County, New Jersey Gerard Desiderio, a Nutley High School graduate who commuted with his brother, Lenny, between Nutley and Sea Isle City for several years to look over the family business eventually decided Sea Island City should be his permanent home. While in Nutley, he spent many hours with Senator Carmen Orechio and me. It was my belief his total contact with politics was limited to the two Orechios. In 1990, Gerard won unanimous election as Chairman of the Cape May County Republican Committee — and that was a big step for a big man. In a special election to fill a state Senate vacancy, Gerard was in the forefront of an effort to elect a Republican to a Democrat seat. Gerard's candidate won — and now we have a kingmaker who formerly lived in Nutley. Gerard's decency, honesty and fairness, no doubt, have contributed to his political success in Cape May County.

• AT the New Year's mid-day reorganization, meeting of the Essex

County Board of Freeholders, Republican members Art Clay and his very popular counterpart, Monroe Lustbader, thought they would embarrass their opponents by accusing their Democrat colleagues of violating the state Open Meetings Act by caucusing to discuss county business.

The Open Meeting Act requires all city, county and state bodies to advertise in designated newspapers at least 48 hours before a meeting. Most of the business must be conducted in public and printed agendas must be made available. Clay said he was "shocked and chagrined" to be handed a program at the meeting which foretold who were to be elected as officers of the reorganized Essex County Board of Freeholders. Arthur Clay has all the money that one requires to have access to the best lawyers in New Jersey. He indicates full knowledge of the Open Meetings Act requirements. In the case, Clay knows he can file a law suit against those who violate the Open Meetings Act and oblige the presiding judge to fine the offenders and pay for the plaintiff's legal fees. If Clay believes his charges to be true, why doesn't he go to court and take advantage of the opportunities provided by law.

Clay doesn't pursue the matter in court, one must conclude that his rhetoric at the New Year's Day Swearing in ceremony was campaign dung and nothing more.

• WELL, when this newspaper hits the streets, my wife, Edith, will be on her way to our beloved Florida home. And I will commence my weekend commutes.

(Hence, the change in the identity of this column.) And by the way — I will be flying Eastern Airlines and look forward to meeting its Palm Beach International Airport's outstanding personnel, Supervisor Jane Semelshberger, Departure Agent Joe Vattiat, and Counter Representatives Patricia Molinari and Chuck Eldridge. Airline travelers who have need to use Palm Beach Airport will be well advised to remember these names, for these folks are among the most efficient airline personnel that I have met in 25 years of commuting.

• NATIVE Nutleyite, John Bruno, is the newest member of the Hackensack Meadowlands Development Corporation. He took the oath of office Tuesday, January 8th.

• A SPECIAL welcome to Nutley to my former, long-time secretary who provided a great deal of assistance to me as Chairman of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission permitting me to coordinate a team to build America's most modern filtration plant at the Wanakee Reservoir, Barbara Rempel.

• I WROTE to an old friend who returned to her home in Germany inquiring about the availability of a live-in housekeeper from East Germany.

I'll let you in on her closing paragraph comments, "Frank, you can forget it, because they do not want to work. Good people have their jobs and do not change. The rest are on welfare. So — I cannot recommend one of them. And the crime in that kind of society. They try to achieve in a few days what it took West German people to achieve with forty years of work." This note was written December 14th and arrived during the holiday season. So much for trying to recruit East German females for live-in duties.

• I RECEIVED season's greetings from a Young Republican friend of long ago, former Ambassador and former National Young Republican Chairman, Ralph Becker, his wife Ann, his son, Donald Lee Becker, and the new member of the Becker family, the former Karen Lee Kaufman.

Donald and Karen were married in All Saint's Episcopal Church in Belmont, Mass. this past fall. 1990 was a very exciting year for the Beckers. In addition to acquiring a new daughter, Ralph was a major player in the celebration of the centennial of Dwight D. Eisenhower's birthday. Ralph was a major contributor to the celebration held in Washington, D.C. and Gettysburg. Becker was one of the most active National Young Republican leaders the party ever produced.

At the height of his activity, other major players were Jack Wells of the law firm, Roger & Wells, and Bill Casey, the late Director of the C.I.A. I long for those days when political activists looked each other in the eye and leveled with each other. Today there is too much duplicity in politics — and with life in general.

'Boos' to the meter maid

To the editor:

I got a big kick out of the attached photo and your article in the December 27 edition of the Belleville Times. The first item of the revitalization of the Belleville district would be to get rid of the nasty "meter maid."

If you surveyed all the merchants, I guarantee you that they will concur with the above statement. You will notice Nutley does not have any vacant stores. Primarily, because of her harassment I moved my Parts and Services Department from Book Chevrolet to Book Buick taking out of Belleville some 25 people who spent part of their income in Belleville. My property is listed for sale and as soon as I sell it, I will move Chevrolet Sales into Nutley leaving another void.

All of the officials in Belleville and the business clubs are aware of the problem but everyone is afraid of her!

The new World Order

To the editor:

Now that we have established a new world order, here is what we must do after Iraq gives up Kuwait:

1. Force Israel to give up all the lands she has occupied since 1948.
2. Force the Russians to relinquish German territories which were ceded to Poland after WW II.
3. Surrender Texas, New Mexico, California, Arizona, etc. back to Mexico from whom we have annexed these lands.
4. Return all lands occupied in this hemisphere by Europeans back to the Indians. Force all former Africans back to Africa, along with all other non-indigenous peoples, back to their original home lands.
5. England, one of the most self righteous protestors of the occupation of Kuwait, must withdraw from Ireland, and other places she occupies.
6. Surrender the entire hemisphere to the rightful owners, namely the Indians, in its original condition it was found 500 years ago.

I think this would only be fair in our new world order.

Holiday thanks

To the editor:

We at the Department of Health and Human Services in Belleville want to thank Mrs. Sandra Finelli and all of our friends who participated in donating Christmas toys to the children who attend our WIC (Women Infants and Children) Program.

Once again the event was a complete success. Your generosity and thoughtfulness has enriched, cheered and inspired hope in all.

Our best wishes for a Healthy and Happy New Year.

Hail to the chief!

To the editor:

All too often people voice their complaints loudly and praise seems to be a murmur. We'd like to express our family's gratitude to the Belleville Fire Department, Chief Walter Beresford, Firefighter Richie Hanger and Firefighter Mike Marra for their courteous compassion in transporting Art from the hospital this December.

Art had been hospitalized for 25 days and required the Fire Department's assistance to get home. These people demonstrated efficiency, compassion and human kindness at a time when it was most needed.

We, the people of Belleville, are truly fortunate that this service is available to all of us.

The Saulino Family would like to express their appreciation from the bottom of our hearts.

Arthur and Raffaella Saulino

Correction, please

To the editor:

I am writing in response to your article in the Belleville Times concerning Mr. Glenn VanBenschoten's Elementary Band Program. While the article was good for the Band program and a nice commentary on Mr. Van's work, I must take exception to one sentence in the article that describes me as Mr. Van's assistant.

That is factually incorrect and I am wondering why I was not consulted before you decided to add my name to the article. Mr. Van has no assistants in his excellent band program, nor do I in my string program. Yes, we cooperate with one another, but neither of us is the assistant to the other.

Councilman recalls '90

To the editor:

After six months, our Town Council can look back on 1990 with a deep feeling of trepidation.

During these six months we broke most of our campaign promises. We have spent taxpayers' money with the same abandon as if we had inherited it from the estate of some rich uncle in Kuwait.

We are still acting like the rosy future of our town has been assured, when the tongues of fire lighted on the head of our council, as they sat in a cocktail lounge in Atlantic City.

We have lured the most expensive, we continue to retain the most expensive, we have laid the groundwork for the most extensive bureaucracy to be found outside the Board of Education.

We wait for that miracle to happen when Bert, like Joshua, will lead us to the perfect community.

Woe to him who comes up for re-election in less than 18 months, with only their record to urge their candidacy.

Frank J. Noonan, M.D.

Crecco retracts a published report

Essex County Assemblywoman Marion Crecco this week retracted statements contained in an article published in our Dec. 21 issue.

The item dealt with Crecco's request that Governor James Florio and N.Y. Governor Mario Cuomo veto proposed toll hikes at the Port Authority bridges and tunnels. She said her staff "misconstrued" her intent, and released the information without her approval.

Frank Lucariello, 75

Frank Lucariello, 75, a lifelong resident of Belleville, died November 16.

Mr. Lucariello had worked for Sonnetbome Co., Belleville and Becton-Dickinson Inc., East Rutherford, before retiring in 1979.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia (nee Romano); a daughter, Barbara Krause; two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Vincent F. Paddy, store manager, 25

Services for Vincent F. Paddy, 25, of Manalapan, formerly of Belleville, were held Jan. 4 in the La Monica-Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

A Mass was offered that morning in St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church, Newark.

Mr. Paddy, who died Dec. 29 at his home, was a department manager with Tops Appliances in Lakewood last year. From 1985 to 1989, he held the same position at Prince Range, an appliance store in Livingston.

The Belleville native, who moved to Manalapan last year, is survived by his parents, Marie and Sam; a sister, Susan, and a brother, Sam, all of Belleville.

Roland DeFilippis, 67

Roland N. DeFilippis, 67, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. and Verona died Jan. 1 at the University General Hospital in Tamarac, Fla.

He moved to Ft. Lauderdale two years ago and has been a resident of Florida for 15 years. He was the founder of Central Uniform Service in Belleville, and a member of the Glen Ridge Country Club in Glen Ridge.

He is survived by his wife, Antoinette DeFilippis of Ft. Lauderdale, a son, Steven Paul Serio of Boca Raton; two daughters, Kathleen Norton of Bloomfield, and Rita Ann Merola of Colts Neck; two brothers, Amiel of Voorhees and Robert of Wood Ridge; two sisters, Esther DeFilippis of Newark and Addie Janesko of Keanburg; and a granddaughter.

A private Funeral Mass was held at St. Joan of Arc and Entombment at Boca Raton Mausoleum.

The DeFilippis Family has requested expressions of Sympathy be made to St. Joan of Arc Catholic Church Hunger Program, 370 S.W. 3rd St., Boca Raton, FL 33432.

E. Montalbano, 61

Emanuel Montalbano, 61, of Belleville died Jan. 1 in his home.

A Mass was offered Jan. 4 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville, after the funeral from the Zarro Funeral Home, Bloomfield.

Mr. Montalbano was a cook at the Mama Mia Restaurant, Newark, for two years before retiring this year. He previously owned Gino's Pizzeria, New York City.

He was an Army veteran of the Korean Conflict. Born in Belleville, he lived in Newark before returning to Belleville 23 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Rose Mary; his parents, Charles and Margaret Montalbano; three sons, Joseph, Emanuel and Charles; three daughters, Mrs. Robin Villano, Michele and Linda, a brother, Salvatore; a sister, Mrs. Jennie Umbaldo and a grandchild.

Marine gets training

Marine Pic, Paul G. Auremma, son of Geraldine R. and John V. Auremma Sr. of Mount Prospect Avenue, Belleville, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 13 week training cycle, Auremma was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1990 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Marine Corps Reserves in July 1990.

THE BIG THREE

Despite all the claims by drug manufacturers, over-the-counter pain relievers consist of only three ingredients — aspirin, acetaminophen or ibuprofen. While all these medications display a similar pain-relieving ability, there are some notable differences. Aspirin and ibuprofen are known for their anti-inflammatory properties. Thus, either is a good choice if arthritis, a sprained ankle, or a musculoskeletal ailment is producing pain. Acetaminophen, on the other hand, does not reduce inflammation. However, it holds the advantage over aspirin and ibuprofen in its ability to deal with stomach upset. Aspirin or ibuprofen, with regular use, can erode sensitive stomach and bowel lining. Acetaminophen does not harm the stomach.

Take advantage of the knowledge of our staff when you need information on prescription or over-the-counter medications. Full prescription service is available at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 789-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Russell Stover candies, cosmetics and toiletries are handled. Hours: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Saturdays.

NOTE: Daily usage of acetaminophen for extended periods has been linked to increased risk for liver and kidney problems.

Stand Up and Be Counted

On January 24, Act One Presentations, will present "Stand Up and Be Counted" in the Belleville Public Library and Information Center at 1 p.m.

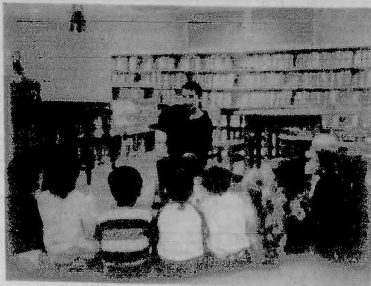

Written by Isaac Dostis and Diane Sunrise, the play deals with the white community who risked their lives in support of Martin Luther King Jr.'s Civil Rights Movement. Through dramatic sketches, Act One brings to life those famous and those unknown individuals who could not and would not remain silent during more than a decade of upheaval, that led by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., brought a monumental change in the way we treat our fellow human beings.

The program is part of Theater '90, '91 at the Library. Funding has been made possible in part by the N.J. Council of the Arts through grant funds administered by the Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs.

Call the Library at 450-3434 to register.

Book discussions to honor Lincoln, Washington

For American History Month and to honor George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center has planned a number of book discussions in the evening or the daytime. The Evening Book Discussion Group will read and discuss "Love is Eternal" by Irving Stone on January 28 at 7 p.m. in honor of Abraham Lincoln. On February 25 at 7 p.m., the Evening Book Discussion Group will discuss "George Washington: A Biography" by John R. Alden.

Registration is currently being taken for the Pre-School Storytime at the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room. Parents should register their children in person through Jan. 18.

We remember Dr. King

In honor of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Assistant Library Director Adrea Cohen will present a program at School Number 9 on Jan. 17 at 10 a.m. The program has been coordinated by School Principal Pat Forte, who is also Affirmative Action Chair for the Belleville Public Schools.

The program will cover the life and accomplishments of Dr. King. A bibliography of materials will be distributed to the students for further study.

Annual Dr. King lecture

The Annual Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. lecture will be delivered by Reverend William Watley of the St. James AME Church, Newark, on Wednesday, Jan. 23 at 1 p.m. The lecture has been made possible by a grant from the Martin Luther King Jr. Commission. Those interested in attending the lecture in the Library's Trustees' Room should call the Library at 450-3434. This is the fourth year that the Library has sponsored a lecture about events honoring Dr. King.

Afternoon at the Movies

The following feature films will be shown on Wednesdays at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center.

Jan. 16 — 1 p.m. "Kiss Me Kate" with Kathryn Grayson and Howard Keel.

On Thursdays, Feb. 7, 14, 21, 28 and March 7, the Civil War PBS Video Series will be shown at 1 p.m. Call the Library at 450-3434 to register.

News Forum at Library

Do you enjoy discussing current events? If so, the Belleville Public Library and Information center will conduct a "Current Events Forum" on articles of national, international significance, on current topics such as the environment, the space age, medical breakthroughs, famous people, new inventions, new products, new books, the theater, film, business etc. Be prepared to share your articles with others. You may also share a current book you have read.

Come to the Library on Jan. 17 and again on Jan. 24 at 1 p.m. Please call the circulation desk to register.

Top Notch Results in Job Hunting

If you are in the process of job hunting, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center has a number of books that should prove helpful to you.

Among them are "The College Student's Resume Guide" writing your own professional resume by Kim Marino; "The Complete Resume Guide" by Marian Faux; "The Executive Resume Book" by Loretta Foxman; "Knock 'Em Dead with Great Answers to Tough Interview Questions" and "The 90 Minute Resume" by Peggy Schmidt.

Also, "The Perfect Cover Letter" by Richard Beatty; "The Resume Handbook" how to write outstanding resumes and cover letters for every situation by Arthur Rosenberg and David Hizer; "Resumes for Sales and Marketing" by Marian Faux; and "What Color Is Your Parachute?" by Richard Nelson Bolles. These books are located on the second floor of the Library.

Children's Room Preschool

The James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room Preschool Storytime Program begins on Tuesday, Feb. 26 and Thurs. Feb. 28. One class is for children 2 to 3½ years of age and another for children 3½ to 5 years of age. Parents should choose one of the two days.

Registration will be held through Jan. 18. Parents should come into the Library to register their children, no registration will be taken over the phone. The Library requires that parents of preschoolers have a current Belleville Library card.

County 4H Club reorganizes for '91

The first meeting of the Essex County 4-H program Expansion and Review Committee (ERC) was held recently at the West Orange Public Library. The ERC is an organized group of adult and teen volunteers who assess the needs, concerns, and interests of youth in the county and suggest ways in which 4-H can respond. The meeting was conducted by Erika Leal, North Regional N.J. 4-H Agent, assisted by Mary Lou Mayfield, Essex County 4-H Program Associate. They introduced the committee members to the 4-H program in Essex County and explained the role of board members. The meeting was then broken into smaller groups which discussed: 4-H Visibility and Marketing, Youth at Risk, and Outreach/Networking. The smaller groups then reported to the whole committee before adjourning. The members who attended were Lolita Cohen, 4-H parent of Upper Montclair; Janet Baum, Director, National Council of Jewish Women, Essex Section; Mike DiGiacomo, 4-H alumni, of West Caldwell; Barbara Cinque, Essex County 4-H Teen Council

President, of Roseland; Gina Bottone, Teen Council member, of Roseland; Makaza Kamanyiko, Executive Director of Jewish House, East Orange; Carolyn Wallace, Director of the International Youth Organization, Newark; George Snider, alcoholic counselor, of Cedar Grove; Betty Robinson, of the East Orange Mayor's Office, and Marilyn Jackson of Protestant Community Centers, Inc., Newark.

The Essex County 4-H program is open to all boys and girls, regardless of race, color, sex, handicap or national origin. It is sponsored cooperatively by the County Executive, The Board of Chosen Freeholders, Rutgers—the State University and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

MINISTERING TO THE SICK — Archbishop Theodore McCarrick of Newark recently visited Clara Maass Medical Center and the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center. He met with patients at the medical center and residents of the long term care facility. From left, Archbishop McCarrick, Robert S. Curtis, president and CEO of CMMC, and Rev. Arthur Schute, managing director of Pastoral Care.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laratta — nee Monica Gilbert

Mr. and Mrs. Laratta honeymoon in Jamaica

Wedding vows were exchanged in Holy Family Church, Nutley, by Monica Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert of Nutley, and Frank Laratta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laratta of Nutley.

Rev. Bill Sheridan performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Nanina's in the Park, Belleville.

Maria Gilbert of Nutley was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Maria Diving, Gina Laratta and MaryAnne Ianicelli of Nutley, Lisa Ciccarelli of Belleville, Josephine Leone of Fairfield and Cheryl Zichello of Cedar Grove. Flower girl was Nicole Marie Lettieri.

Joe Laratta of Nutley was the best man. Ushering were Tommy Divins, Frank Gilbert, Jack Meneci, Sal Micicche, Carmen Micicche and Al Petracco, all of Nutley. Tommy Divins Jr. was ringbearer.

Mrs. Laratta, a graduate of Nutley High School and Capri Institute, is a manicurist at Chippennalls, Cedar Grove.

Mr. Laratta, an alumnus of Nutley High School and DeVry Technical Institute, is a video-audio technician with V.C.A. Co., Somerset. The couple honeymooned in Montego Bay, Jamaica following the June 3 nuptials. They have made their home in Nutley.

New outbreak of measles alarms health professionals

With the discovery of a vaccine for measles in 1963, this disease became the most common vaccine-preventable cause of death among children in the world.

After the discovery, the number of measles cases dropped significantly until in 1983, the United States achieved a record low of 1,500 cases.

For reasons still unclear, measles cases have markedly increased in the last two years, particularly in 1989 when 17,000 cases were reported.

Measles generally begin with an infection in the nose and throat, fever, achiness, teary and light-sensitive eyes. Three to four days later, a pink rash appears, starting on the face and spreading down the trunk. Simultaneously, white spots appear on the inside of the cheek.

A normal course of measles lasts from 10 to 12 days. Contagion begins from one to two days before the onset of symptoms and lasts to four days after the rash appears.

Complications are many, including ear infections, pneumonia and, less commonly, encephalitis (inflammation of the brain). One in every 2,000 patients contract encephalitis and of these, 15 percent die and 30 percent sustain permanent neurological damage.

Although it's rare, a degenerative disorder of the brain may develop 10 years after the disease strikes. This disorder begins with personality changes, then progresses to seizures and death.

According to the World Health Organization, one and a half million children died from complications of measles in 1989 throughout the world.

If you were born before 1957, you have probably had the measles. If you are college-age or work in a hospital or medical laboratory, you should be vaccinated a second time because your childhood immunity may have worn out.

Parents are urged to get their infants vaccinated at 15 months and again between the ages of 10 and 12.

Mrs. Brown is the former Kathy Stone, daughter of Lucille Stone of Belleville. Mr. Brown, son of Martin Leo Brown of Newark, is a teacher with the Jersey City Board of Education.

Alexander Paul Cabral

A first child, a son, Alexander Paul, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jose N. Cabral of Belleville Dec. 30 at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville. Birth weight was 9 pounds, 4 ounces.

Mrs. Cabral is the former Danielle F. Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Donnelly of Belleville. Mr. Cabral, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Cabral of Belleville, is a mason.

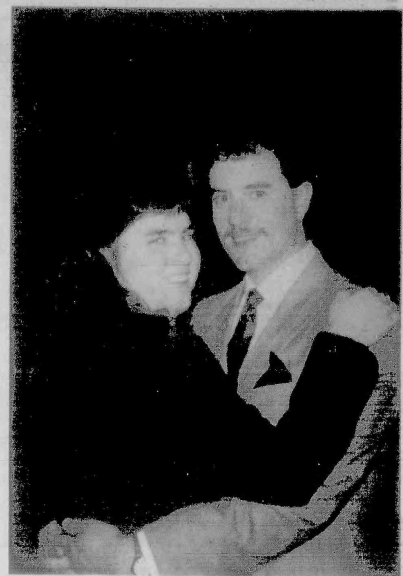

Clara Maass is seeking volunteers

Clara Maass Medical Center is seeking men and women with good interpersonal skills who are willing to volunteer three or four hours a week on a regular basis. Volunteers are needed to work as cashiers in the new gift shop, as receptionists at the information desks and as meal assistants for patients.

The new year is a time for new beginnings. Start the year by giving a few hours of your time to benefit patients and staff at Clara Maass. In return, volunteers become acquainted with the medical center, make new friends, learn new skills and feel good about the invaluable support they are giving others.

Volunteers donate approximately 60,000 service hours to Clara Maass annually. They work with staff, with the public and with patients. There are assignments for persons with all skill levels in most areas of the hospital. For information on how to become a volunteer, call 450-2150.

While the Belleville Times always appreciates the submission of photos for its social pages, we reserve the right to determine if they are suitable to be printed. Fuzzy, out-of-focus, too dark or too light pictures will not be used.

Joanne Mulheren — Kenneth Beck

Joanne Mulheren wed to Kenneth Beck

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mulheren of Dumont announce the engagement of their daughter, Joanne, to Kenneth W. Beck, son of Mrs. Mary Beck of Belleville and the late G. Ernest Beck.

The troth was made known Sept. 17. The wedding is planned for Sept. 19, 1991.

Miss Mulheren, an alumna of Culinary Arts Institute, Jersey City, is enrolled in the nursing program at Bergen Community College. She is a part time nurse.

Mr. Beck, a graduate of Culinary Institute of America, Hyde Park, N.Y., is the owner of Beck's Ice Creams and a chef at Bella Casa Caterers.

An engagement party was held Nov. 17 at Bella Casa Caterers.

Autumn Stages to entertain volunteers

"Autumn Stages" will entertain 2 to 4 p.m. Jan. 24 at the monthly meeting for volunteers in the Friendly Visitors program, sponsored by Community Mental Health Services. The meeting will be held at Fawcett Memorial Presbyterian Church, Union Avenue.

Members of "Autumn Stages," a non profit troupe, share memories of their lives, their lifestyles, in a repertoire of narratives mime, recites, songs and dances. The group also draws out and improves material from the audience's life stories, right on the spot. Dr. Rosilyn Wilder, artistic director, says that the presentation will be a participatory one, filled with much opportunity for the audience to share their memories and refine the immeasurable changes and experiences their lives contain.

The Friendly Visitors program has served the frail elderly for 13 years. Currently, 125 volunteers either telephone, visit or go grocery shopping for 150 seniors who are unable to get out easily.

Volunteers are invited to bring guests. Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer is welcome. Call Jean Libbey at 450-3135 for more information.

MEDICALLY SPEAKING

SINUS DISEASE

- Q: What is sinus disease?
A: Sinus disease is an inflammation of the air containing cavities of the nose, face, and forehead.
- Q: What are the symptoms of Sinus Disease?
A: Chronic sinusitis can include nasal congestion, pain or pressure of the eyes and forehead, nasal obstruction or nasal drip, or simply the sensation of a cold that doesn't go away.
- Q: How is sinus disease treated?
A: Most sinus disease resolves with medical treatment, which includes antibiotic and allergy therapy.
- Q: What about sinus disease that does not respond to treatment?
A: In more severe cases with chronic blockage or polyps, surgery may be indicated.
- Q: Are there recent advances in the diagnosis of sinus disease?
A: Yes. With tele-telescopy examination of the nose and sinuses in the office and advanced CT scan imaging, doctors are able to accurately diagnose sinus disease.
- Q: Are there any recent advances in sinus surgery?
A: Yes. Recently introduced endoscopic sinus surgery is a major breakthrough in the treatment of sinus disease. This surgery makes use of micro-telescopy techniques with no external incisions. These new techniques allow the surgeon to perform safer and more effective surgery. Most often the surgery can be performed with anesthesia on an outpatient basis. Recovery time is usually rapid, with patients returning to their normal activities within days.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUCC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

We start this week by offering good luck to the Belleville cheerleading squad. Carol Russo's troops will head down to Christian Brothers Academy in Lincroft, New Jersey on Sunday morning to compete in a cheerleading competition.

This is the first time a Belleville cheerleading squad has participated in competition. The Belleville Knights of Columbus are sponsoring the girls in the event.

The girls have been practicing long and hard for the competition. Over the Christmas holidays, the team practiced about three hours a day, five days a week.

NFL Playoffs

At the start of the season, the prediction here was Buffalo and San Francisco in the 1991 Super Bowl. I've got to stick with that prediction, but the playoffs this weekend should be exciting.

MIAMI AT BUFFALO: The Dolphins and Bills are long time rivals, back to the old AFL days. Too much is being written about the possible bad weather in Buffalo. The Dolphins aren't going to wilt if there is six inches of snow on the ground and the temperature is hovering in the low 20's.

This is playoff football, and it's possible this could be the most exciting game of the weekend. Buffalo gets the edge on defense, but Marino is on a roll for the Dolphins and should Buffalo not put Miami away by early in the fourth quarter, an upset is not out of the question. Go with the favorite and enjoy the game. It should be a good one. Buffalo 28-24.

WASHINGTON AT SAN FRANCISCO: If the 49ers are going to be caught, it will be in the first round of the NFC playoffs. It's very difficult to imagine San Francisco losing, at home, in the NFC title game, no matter who the opponent is.

But this is the first round and Washington will present a very difficult obstacle. The Skins have momentum and a healthy quarterback.

San Francisco? They have two straight Super Bowl rings, not much momentum because they haven't played a meaningful game since the Giants game, but they have a healthy quarterback by the name of Montana.

This could be a game similar to one the Niners played in the '87 playoffs against Minnesota. There, San Francisco had the best record in the NFL, home field throughout the playoffs and a supposed clear path to the playoffs. Minnesota had different ideas and upset the Niners that day.

This isn't another upset prediction, but it could be much closer than most people think. San Francisco 31-24.

CHICAGO AT GIANTS: This is a game where the home field should pretty much decide the outcome. Having played last weekend, Chicago might be a little sharper, especially in the early going. It could be one of those games where Chicago leads 10-0 at the half before the Giant offense chisels out a TD and ties it late with a Matt Bahr field goal. Defense will dominate here, since neither offense has even the slightest resemblance to the old Air Coryell days in San Diego.

Don't be surprised to see overtime here, with Bahr being the hero. Giants 31-10.

CINCINNATI AT L.A. RAIDERS: This could be the highest scoring game of the day and most are expecting a shootout 'till the end.

However, Cincinnati does not match up well with the Raiders, and with Brooks probably missing the game for Cincy, it's hard to imagine the Bengals keeping up with the high powered Raiders.

If there is one team that can beat Buffalo, it's Los Angeles. And once again, it doesn't matter where the game is played. A Bills-Raiders AFC title game could be one of the best matchups in years. Raiders 31-14.

Bills-Raiders, Giants-49ers, for the respective conference titles. It could be quite a weekend for the networks if those high profile games come to fruition.

On another note, this playoff format leaves a lot to be desired. If Cincinnati and Miami both win their playoff games this weekend, the AFC title game would be at Cincinnati, with the 9-7 Bengals hosting the 12-4 Dolphins. It seems with the new format, the league might have changed its decision about wildcard teams. Why should a team that won 12 of 16 games during the regular season be traveling to play a team that barely eclipsed .500 for the season? If the league wants to reward a divisional winner, then give them a first round playoff game, like it did last weekend. Then, the format should go strictly by record.

Nevertheless, this weekend should be the best weekend in the NFL season, with four quality playoff

Miele, Talbot among winners

Bucs win Bloomfield tourney

By Joe Piegario

On most great teams, character is formed by a number of ingredients blended together just at the right time of the year.

Those ingredients include exceptional talent, poise, great leadership and the ability to win under difficult conditions.

This Belleville team, though not yet great, possesses exceptional talent, established leadership in the person of Head Coach Joe Nisvoccia and this past Friday showed they can win under the worst of circumstances.

Wrestling with two starters missing (Junior Nardone and Dan Hywel are both recovering from knee surgery) and forfeiting all bouts in the 189 pound class (Scott Mayer still is not ready to take over the division), BHS still managed to take the team trophy at this year's Bloomfield Holiday Tournament.

The Buccaneers amassed 155 1/2 points to out-distance runner-up Caldwell, which scored 146 1/2 points. Nutley was third with 112 1/2 points, followed by Passaic Valley (112 points), Montclair (110 points), and host Bloomfield (95 points). Kittanning and West Essex were in the original field of entrants but withdrew because of the severe weather conditions.

Belleville High had four champions; Josh Cardinale at 103, Mike Miele at 125, Chris Talbot at 130, and Carlo Ritacco at 135, as did Caldwell (119, 140, 152, 189). Passaic Valley had three champs (112, 145, 171), while Bloomfield (160) and Montclair (HWT) split the remaining two crowns.

Joshua Cardinale (103) was Belleville's first gold medal winner. After drawing a bye in the opening round, Josh used only 43 seconds to pin Montclair's Eric Goodwin. In the championship round, Bloomfield's Anthony Frezza was the sacrificial lamb as Cardinale coasted to a 19-4 technical fall victory.

The only negative for Josh during the tournament was losing his perfect season. You see, until Frezza scored his four points, no one this year had scored upon Cardinale in any shape, manner or form. Sort of like a pitcher losing his perfect game in the seventh inning.

125 pounder Mike Miele was the next Buc to win the gold as he breezed to his first ever varsity tournament championship. Mike opened his tourney by pasting Bloomfield's Billy Sheridan 11-

3, then pinning Mike McCormick of Passaic Valley at 4:38 of the third period.

Caldwell's Bob Fiore fell victim to a 7-3 decision in the finals, extending Miele's record to a glistening 7-0.

Next up in the parade of BHS champions was 130 pound senior Chris Talbot. After a bye in the quarterfinals, Chris beat up on Nutley's Mike Romingino to the tune of a 14-2 major decision.

Talbot then faced Troy Schoettlin of Caldwell in the finals and scored a rare defensive pin late in the second period. Chris was attempting to reverse Schoettlin when the Caldwell senior lost his concentration and forgot to get off his back. In all fairness to Talbot, it probably didn't matter anyway as he was leading the match by six points and was in total control of the bout.

Finally, sophomore Carlo Ritacco remained undefeated at 7-0 by dominating his weight class. A 9-2 opening round decision over Montclair's Daron Yarns was followed by a 4-34 pin over Ryan Kraven of Nutley. Carlo then capped his perfect day by using a three quarter nelson to deck Vin Porzio of Caldwell at 5:22 of the last period.

Coach Joe Nisvoccia's Bucs had three silver medalists, Mike Conte at 112, Vinnie DeSimone at 140, and Lee Hands at 145. Allan Cruz (152) finished third, Tom Pontrella (119) and George Wallace (HWT) finished fourth, and Jimmy Mastropola finished fifth.

BUC NOTES: Injury report—Junior Nardone is expected back in late January or early February. Dan Hywel is due back in 3 to 4 weeks—George Wallace has a pinched nerve in his neck, but should not miss much action as luck was with him and the injury is not serious. Jimmy Mastropola's dislocated shoulder is fine and should not keep him out of any further action ... Eat Crow Department—Never thought Vinnie DeSimone could make 140 pound limit but the devil may care junior turned the tables and made the weight with more than a pound to spare ... Answer to last week's trivia question—Ralph Perna in his freshman season (1986-87) was the only BHS wrestler to go undefeated on three levels of competition: freshman, JV, and varsity ... Wrestler of the week belongs to Mike Miele for winning his first ever varsity gold medal ... See you next week!

Buc hoopsters win 67-32. DeWork: 22

By Mike Lamberti

Following a disappointing defeat in the first round of the Tri County Holiday tourney, the Belleville boys' basketball team came back to beat Queen of Peace, 67-32 in the consolation game.

The momentum of that victory didn't last long, however. Belleville got back into NNJIL action last Saturday evening at Paramus Catholic and the end result was a bitter 52-51 defeat to the Paladins. For the season, Don Roll's team is 3-3, 2-1 in the NNJIL Pacific Division.

The Bucs battled Teaneck last Tuesday. This evening, the Bucs are at St. Joe's of Montvale in a 7:30 p.m. start. The JV game tips off at 6 p.m. Next Tuesday, Paramus comes to town for a 4 p.m. game.

The Bucs had started the Tri County Holiday tournament by dropping a 98-76 decision to Bayonne. Roll and his coaching staff, particularly assistant coach Jim Sickinger, were dismayed by the defeat because it was felt Belleville was a much better club than it showed that evening.

The victory over Queen of Peace was somewhat uplifting. The Bucs took control early, leading 18-9 after one quarter and 37-16 by intermission. It was 54-21 after three quarters, with the final score 67-32.

"We played everyone in the program," Roll said. "It was a good chance for a lot of the younger kids to see action on the varsity level."

Dennis DeWork led the Bucs attack with 22 points. Sal Straface scored 13 and Troy Talmadge, the Bucs leading scorer so far this year, scored nine points in just two quarters of action.

Jim DuFaine and Bryant Jimenez had seven each, Marco Purnan, Michael Vista and Mike Puleo scored two each and Matt Kaster, Anthony Parzanese and Ken Johansen finished with one point each.

With a 3-2 record, Belleville began 1991 with a road game at Paramus Catholic.

"We didn't play well at all," Roll said. "This was a game we should have won. We should be 4-2 overall and 3-0 in the league. It would have been a good lift. But we made mistakes and had to rally from a big deficit. I give the kids credit for coming back the way they did, but we let it get away."

The first quarter was the Bucs downfall. Paramus Catholic jumped out to a 19-12 advantage after one and the Bucs had an uphill battle from there.

P.C. led by as many as 16 points in the first half, but Belleville rallied to cut the halftime deficit to 29-26. Paramus Catholic extended its lead to 40-35 after three quarters before Belleville came back in the fourth quarter to take a lead late in the contest.

The Bucs led, 51-50 with :08 left in the game. It had the ball under the P.C. basket and needed to inbound the ball to take time off the clock.

"We couldn't get the ball inbounds," Roll said. "Troy (Talmadge) looked like he was fouled trying to get the inbound pass, but the official didn't call it."

The pass to Talmadge was errant and gave P.C. the ball back. With :02 left in regulation time, the home team converted a basket to gain a one point victory.

A bright spot in this game was the return to action by starting point guard Art Caruso. The senior had injured his knee in the final

Lady Bucs win first game of season, defeat Barringer

By Mike Lamberti

Victory found its way to the Belleville girls' varsity basketball program last week when the Lady Bucs stopped Barringer, 57-23 in an NNJIL interdivisional game last Monday afternoon.

In other games during the Christmas holiday, Belleville lost to Kearny, 56-34 in the consolation game of the Tri County tournament and lost 52-33 to Paramus Catholic in an NNJIL Pacific Division matchup.

Karen Fucello's troops took a 1-6 record into last Tuesday's game against Teaneck. This afternoon, the girls are home to Clifton in a 4 p.m. game. Next Tuesday, the team travels to Paramus for a 4 p.m. game.

Following the victory over Barringer last Monday, Fucello expressed pleasure with the way her varsity football game back on Thanksgiving and is just getting back into shape.

Caruso didn't score, but having him in control of the offense gives Roll additional optimism as the season gets into high gear.
"It feels pretty good," Caruso said of his knee. "Sitting in the stands watching the games wasn't for me. I'm glad to be back in the lineup and hopefully, the knee will be okay. So far, so good."

DeWork and Talmadge led the Belleville attack with 14 points each. Straface scored 12, DuHaine, playing with a bad case of the flu, scored eight and Jimenez closed out the Belleville scoring with three points.

NOTES: Talmadge, leads the Bucs in scoring with a 17.5 ppg average. DuHaine is shooting 52% from the floor, tops on the team. Talmadge is second in shooting percentage at 46%. DuHaine practiced lightly with the team last Monday and was hopeful of playing last Tuesday against Teaneck.

team performed, especially in the second half.

"We played a conservative game," the coach said. "But I was happy that by the fourth quarter, we were passing much better and looking for each other on the break. We were filling lanes on fast breaks and it was nice to see the things we practiced finally come to fruition."

Pucello has now won 22 games as coach of the Belleville girls basketball team. However, victories have been hard to find recently. Win number 21 occurred in February 1989.

"We've struggled," the coach said, "but I see some very good development, especially with the younger kids. It was good to get the victory."

Belleville led 15-7 after one quarter and 24-12 by intermission. It was 42-18 after three quarters, with the final score 57-23.

Liz Ramirez led the scoring attack with a career high 16 points. Danielle DeWork had 14, Colleen Mannion tallied 11, Jennifer Abrams scored seven, Mary Campbell had five and Yanina Calvi scored four.

The game with Paramus Catholic was rather promising, despite the setback. Belleville played a very strong first half and had the Bergen County power on the ropes for a while.

"We executed well in the first quarter of the P.C. game," Pucello said. "It was no secret. The team did the things we practiced and it showed."

Belleville jumped out to a 10-4 lead at the end of the first quarter. P.C. came back in the second quarter, outscoring Belleville 14-7 and taking a slim 18-17 lead into halftime.

The third quarter was a bad one for the Lady Bucs, as P.C. went on an 18-5 run to take a commanding 35-22 lead. Belleville played well in the fourth, but was outscored 16-11 and lost by a 52-33 count.

"The press hurt us again," Pucello said. "We have to learn to pass through the press and not try and dribble through it."

Mannion led Belleville with 13 points. Ramirez had eight, Abrams scored five, DeWork scored four, Calvi finished with two points and Melanie VanDam had one point.

In the consolation game of the Tri County Holiday tourney, Belleville was beaten by Kearny, 56-34.

Mannion led the scoring once again, this time with 14 points. Other scorers in the game included Abrams (8), Ramirez (6), DeWork (4), Zalay Fiallos (1) and Calvi (1).

Ten Belleville booters gain Jersey Hills select program

The Jersey Hills Youth Soccer League conducted tryouts for the Select Team Program during the weekend of Nov. 17 and 18. Ten players from the Belleville Soccer Association were chosen.

The following players were chosen to play on various select teams:

Lawrence Martin (Devils), 1980 team; David Auerbach (Devils), 1980 team; Nick Colucci (Strikers) 1979 team; Vic Mesco (Strikers) 1978 team; Jim Moss (Bandits), 1977 team.

Also, Joe Colucci (Strikers), 1977 team; Steve Collett (Strikers), 1977 team; Steve Dieguez (Strikers), 1977 team; Ivan Martin (Strikers), 1977 team; Santiago Salme (Strikers), 1977 team.

The Select Teams are All-Star traveling soccer teams for players who were born in the years 1981, 80, 79, 78 and 77. The Select Teams will play in four tournaments starting in late Spring.

The tournaments will be: Mid-Jersey in Fort Dix; The Williamsboro Tournament in Williamsboro; the Pocono Cup in East Stroudsburg, Pa.; and the East Hudson Tournament in East Hudson, N.Y.

The teams will play a minimum of three to four games per tournament plus playoff games for those who qualify.

Tournaments attract teams from New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and as far away as Florida.

Congratulations to the players chosen and thanks to the parents, coaches, sponsors and the Belleville Soccer association for their continued support and guidance.

NOTICE OF ACTION TAKEN BY BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE

TAKE NOTICE that on September 4, 1990 the Zoning Board of Adjustment of the Township of Belleville, County of Essex, took the following action:

1. Application No. 679 - Mr. and Mrs. Jose Rebinhas were granted a variance to construct a two-story warehouse, and office structure to accommodate a retail landscape business at property known as lots 82, 81, 78 and 77 of Block 26, also known as 281 Main Street. The property is located in the R.B. Zone which is a two-family district.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

It's ironic that last weeks quiz was about the Philadelphia Eagles playoff history. The Eagles fired head coach Buddy Ryan last Tuesday after Philly lost a playoff game for the third straight year.

Anyhow, the Eagles last won a playoff game in 1980, when it defeated Dallas, 20-7 in the NFC title game at Veterans Stadium. The Eagles' coach in '80 was Dick Vermeil. Philly was 12-4 that season, then beat Minnesota in the first round of the playoffs before stopping Dallas in the title game. In the Super Bowl, the Eagles lost to the Oakland Raiders 27-10.

FOR THIS WEEK

We'll stick with a Super Bowl theme, with the big game just two and a half weeks away.

Who scored the Jets only touchdown in Super Bowl III? When was it scored? What was the score at halftime of that game? Who was the Jets' kicker who booted three field goals in the second half of Super Bowl III?

Who did the Jets and Baltimore Colts defeat in their respective title games to get the Super Bowl in '69?

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FIRST GAME

Congratulations to girls' basketball coach Karen Fucello and her team for winning its first game of the season over Barringer. It was the first victory for the Lady Buc program since February of 1989, when the girls won a state tournament game and were led by Simone Edwards and Laurie Donderski.

Fucello has been working with an extremely young group of athletes, and the victory will hopefully do wonders for the teams confidence.

Speaking of basketball, boys' coach Don Roll wasn't too happy last Tuesday after his Bucs were on the very short end of a 99-48 decision to a good Teaneck squad.

"They're (Teaneck) not 51 points better than we are," Roll said in his office following the game. "But our kids weren't ready to play today. We never got in the flow of the game. I don't mind losing, but when we play under our capabilities, then it becomes annoying. I know these guys can play better than this."

Wrestlers now 5-0, injuries mount

By Joe Pegaro

How many wrestling teams in the state are undefeated and still in jeopardy of dropping out of the Top 20 and failing to qualify for the state sectional playoffs?

Well, give that dubious distinction to Belleville High School. Coach Joe Niswecia had only two days to celebrate a 39-22 beating of neighboring Bloomfield before he received the news that senior Mike Miele will be out for four weeks with a broken wrist.

Miele's injury adds to a list that is growing longer each week. First, Junior Nardone injured his knee while working out at a private wrestling club. Surgery was performed, but a staff infection was discovered which may keep Nardone out for the entire year. Then Danny Hywel also went down with a knee injury and won't be back for another ten days to two weeks. Although Hywel's injury was formally announced as having occurred at the Ridgewood match, scutebutt has it that originally he too hurt himself while working out at a private wrestling club prior to the Ridgewood dual meet.

Next, Scott Mayer decided to quit the team for personal reasons, leaving the 189 pound division without an occupant. Now Miele's wrist injury forces the Bucs to continue the season with four starters missing and basically no one to hold down the fort until their respective returns. What is most galling is that Miele joins Nardone and Hywel as wounded warriors who were hurt at private wrestling clubs and not while performing for BHS.

The Bloomfield dual meet, which has become a fiery battle in the past few seasons, was over before the 152 pound bout took place. Belleville, won the first eight matches, then allowed Bloomfield to close the gap by giving up the last five bouts, two by forfeit.

As usual, Josh Cardinale opened the proceedings with a victory. This time he didn't have to remove his warmup sweats as Bloomfield forfeited the bout. Now at 7-0 with five pins, Cardinale will have to shoulder even more of the work load if the Bucs want to avoid a total collapse in the next three to four weeks.

Junior Mike Conte improved his record to 7-1 with five pins by scoring an 11-2 Major Decision over Anthony Prezza. The Bengal sophomore usually competes at 103 pounds but failed to make weight and was moved up in the lineup. It's too bad for him that Conte offered no sympathy for his weight problems as Mike simply proved to be the better wrestler.

Tom Pontrella was up next at 119 pounds and extended his personal record to 6-2 with five pins. The senior lightweight wasted very little time as he flattened Chris Kleinknecht at 1:19 of the first period. Pontrella, as with Cardinale and Conte, will be counted upon heavily in the next few weeks to absorb the slack caused by all those injuries.

At 125 pounds, Mike Miele kept his record perfect by pinning Sam Ventzia at 1:58 of the opening period. Now at 8-0 with six pins, Miele will probably be replaced in the lineup by Angelo Torromeo, depending upon Angelo's willingness to stay with the team and drop the extra five pounds to qualify for the 125 pound division.

The string of victories was kept alive by Chris Talbot as he dominated soph Mike Notare with a 7-0 decision. Chris has been quite a surprise this year, posting a 7-0 record while ringing up two pins. If Belleville is to have any chance at all today versus Bergen Catholic, Talbot must remain undefeated and continue his string of strong performances.

Belleville's fifth undefeated matman is Carlo Ritacco. Now at 8-0 with six pins, Carlo barely broke a sweat as he potted Tony Casale in only one minute and twelve seconds. Today, Ritacco faces the best wrestler Bergen Catholic has in three time state qualifier, Mike Haemmerle. It should be a doozy of a contest when these two unbeaten hit the mat.

Buc 140 pounder Vinnie DeSimone upped his record to 6-1 with two pins as he breezed to a 15-0 Technical Fall victory over Jason Baumgardner. Vinnie will probably face Bergen Catholic's Justin Naddoo in another crucial matchup later this afternoon. Naddoo recently won the prestigious 44 team Bergen County Tournament and is so far undefeated.

The last Buc winner on Friday was Lee Hands. In scoring a 7-0 decision over Walt Bratchenko, Lee bettered his stats to 7-1 with five pins. Although most of the lighter weights will have to score more points to keep BHS afloat, Hands must assume the role of team leader as he is now the senior man in terms of experience and longevity.

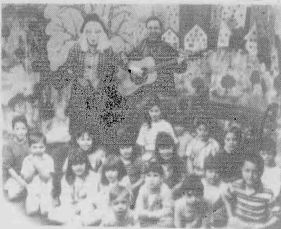

Bloomfield took the last five bouts, as Allen Cruz at 152, Jimmy Mastropolo at 160 and George Wallace at heavyweight all lost decisions. Belleville forfeited the 171 and 189 pound classes.

BUC NOTES: Trivia question of the week — Mondo Nardone was probably Belleville's greatest wrestler ever. His 101 wins are the most by a Buc matman. Can you remember how many state champs he beat during his career? Answer next week ... Buc Alumni Ken Henry looks all grown up as he is currently training in the Navy, based in Tennessee ... Joe Ombalsky is keeping his grades excellent at Rutgers-New Brunswick and looks fit enough to step on the mats right now ... Congratulations to Belleville's all time number one fan, Ray Rebol as he celebrated his 40th wedding anniversary with his wonderful wife Rose. We love you Ray! See you all next week!

Highway safety division reports stats

Five people died in motor vehicle accidents over the Christmas holiday and nine people died in crashes over the New Year's holiday, Director James A. Arena of the state Division of Highway Traffic Safety announced today.

According to Arena, in 1989 the total number of fatalities for the Christmas and New Year's holidays were nine and eight respectively.

"These numbers are particularly significant because last year these holiday weekends were three days long, compared to four days this year. These numbers show our programs are working," said Arena.

This year's Christmas holiday officially began on Friday, Dec. 21 at 6 p.m. and ended at 11:59 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 25. The New Year's holiday began on Friday, Dec. 28 at 6 p.m. and ended at 11:59 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 1.

In an effort to prevent holiday fatalities on New Jersey roads, entertainer Ben Vereen joined Gov. Jim Florio and Director Arena in a campaign to remind motorists to drive sober and wear their seat belts. Vereen teamed up with Florio to film a public service announcement, which was distributed to all television and cable stations in the tri-state area.

"We are continuing to work to lessen the injuries, deaths and property damage that occur on our roadways, not only during holidays, but also throughout the year," said Arena.

The division allocates funds in the form of grants, which come from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, to state, county and municipal governments, and to organizations and agencies.

The grants are used to fund public safety projects in such areas as drunk and drugged driving, seat belts and child safety seats, roadway safety, comprehensive community highway safety programs, police traffic services, emergency medical services, traffic records and motorcycle safety.
