Undercount threatens funding

Town to challenge census estimates

By Mike Lazorchak

The 1990 census figures arrived and brought with them controversy of an undercount in Belleville that could be as high as 3,000 persons.

According to census bureau figures received by town clerk Mary Lou Hood, Belleville has a total population of 34,213.

However, in accordance with an appeal filed by the township in September 1990, there is reason to believe that figure is inaccurate.

In the appeal, filed by then interim manager Charles Burns, the township believed the census bureau failed to count 1,950 housing units. Hood said the Belleville estimates were compiled by tax assessor Tom Salzano with tax records.

Even if a vacancy rate is factored in to the uncounted units, there would still be a deficit of approximately 1,800 housing units. Another factor is each unit could house more than one person.

Using a conservative estimate of two people per housing unit, Belleville could have been undercounted by 3,600 people.

As it stands, the 34,213 figure would be a decrease of 856 from the 1980 count of 35,069. The 1970 census counted Belleville's population at 37,629.

A more significant discrepancy, however, comes from the 1988 Department of Labor estimate of 36,016. The labor department used two different methods to arrive at that figure, one of which is called the housing unit method and is similar to the method described above.

The administrative method was also used by the labor department. This method relies on birth and death rates along with migration trends to determine a population.

The ramifications of the undercount could mean a loss in funding for Belleville.

Councilman Bill Cook thought much funds as Safe and Clean Streets and Distressed Cities and even Community Development Block Grants could be affected by a loss of population.

Frank Brooks, a grantwriting consultant from Bruno Associates, acknowledged the headcount is a "component of the funding chain which could affect the amount of funding" Belleville would be eligible to receive.

An undercount also affect Belleville from the state and county level. State assembly districts could be redrawn and there is also the possibility of losing a congressional seat.

During a work session Jan. 29, the town council agreed to support any action Essex County may take regarding a recount.

THE MAN IN THE UNIFORM should be familiar to anyone who has watched television or read the newspapers since Aug. 2, 1990. You may have a little difficulty identifying the gentlemen who shared the reviewing stand with the major during the 1966 Veterans' Day parade. The story is on page 5.

False enrollments under fire

Superintendent of Schools Michael D. Nardiello has issued the following statement:

"Any parent, guardian or resident of Belleville who illegally enrolls a child in our school system will face court action and the possible imposition of heavy fines. Remember, an affidavit is a legal document. Giving false information is a crime and will be treated as such."

Hi-tech at Town Hall

By Mike Lazorchak

There is a building on Washington Avenue known as Town Hall. Bellevillites go there, among other things, to pay taxes, hear town meetings and ask why they received a parking ticket. If all goes well, all of these services will soon be made easier by a $25,000 improvement in the high-tech world of computers.

In a recent interview Town Manager Bertrand Kendall discussed the computer systems already in place and also his expectations for broadening Belleville's computer capabilities.

There are currently two computer systems in operation, one for finance and the other for the police department.

The police computer handles crime statistics and reports. The police blotter, for example, is made up of daily computer printouts of police activity. Case numbers and types of incidents are readily accessible through the use of a computer.

The finance computer system is designed for writing checks, tax collections and preparation of the budget. Upgrading this system is one of the ways the township is seeking to improve its service for residents.

One of the improvements to this system is putting the tax collection data on-line. This means once the taxes are paid the information will be processed immediately, eliminating extra work and keeping accounts up to date.

The next step, Kendall said, is to equip offices with personal computers for word processing and spread sheet capabilities.

In December, the council appropriated $25,000 to buy nine personal computers and software. Since then a committee, chaired by director of planning Robert Ringelheim, has met to find a computer firm that will provide the hardware, software and the necessary training for everyone using the computers.

According to Ringelheim, the committee will present a proposal to Kendall this week to make the purchase.

"We want common software," Kendall said, "so people can work in each department without retraining. If a person is transferred it fits right into the system."

The next step, once all of the equipment is in place, is to network the system to enhance interdepartmental communication. One example of the benefits of a networked system is electronic mail. Memos could be sent to every department at the touch of a button and responses could also be sent via the computer in minutes.

Another priority, Kendall said, is to computerize service requests and complaints to provide faster responses for resident concerns.

"We want to bring all of our offices into the computer age," Kendall said.

Grant to fund stadium facelift

By Mike Lazorchak

At one time or another, for one reason or another, Belleville residents will undoubtedly utilize the Municipal Stadium.

Located behind Belleville High School, the complex offers residents a variety of activities throughout the year, from high school football games to fireworks shows to recreation baseball.

Thanks to state Green Acres funding that was originally applied for in October 1988, the stadium should finally be receiving a facelift this spring.

The $150,000 came in the form of a low interest loan of $112,500 and a grant of $37,500.

The money will be used to restore some of the lost luster to the 1920s Works Progress Administration building.

The work to be done includes waterproofing of the concrete grandstand, restroom rehabilitation, a new sidewalk and landscaping for erosion control.

At last week's council work session, several council members expressed concern the grant could be rescinded because of the lapse of time since the application.

According to Kevin Richardson, a representative from the Bureau of Green Trust Management, there are some time limitations on the project, but there should not be much of a problem for Belleville.

The first deadline, the one of concern to the council, requires the township to provide the bureau with finalized plans and specifications for the project.

In accordance with a procedural letter Richardson sent to the township in September 1990, an account was being established for the project and the bureau should receive finalized plans within 150 days.

With that 150-day period ending in February, Mayor Marina Perna questioned the possibility of losing the grant at a town council work session. Perna's concern stemmed from the fact the finalized plans were not received yet from Neglia Engineering.

Barry Sutherland, a representative from Neglia, said the plans were "virtually completed" and would be submitted to town engineer Stanley Stires for approval within the week.

Another factor that could effect the project is a two year time frame for completion of the project from the effective date of the agreement. That date of agreement, Richardson said, is determined when the final approval comes from the state.

Richardson also said the date would come some time in February. Since the project only calls for refurbishing, the scope of the work should not threaten to go beyond the two year limitation, he said.

MUNICIPAL STADIUM...located behind the high school will have refurbishing work done with funds provided by a Green Acres grant.

Donald Vaillancourt named Felician regent

Donald C. Vaillancourt, corporate vice president of Communications and Consumer Affairs for the Grand Union Company, has been named to the Council of Regents of Felician College, Lod.

Donald C. Vaillancourt

Comprised of business and community leaders and reporting to the Board of Trustees, the Council of Regents serves in an advisory capacity and assists in the growth of the college, an independent four-year, coeducational liberal arts institution.

Vaillancourt has been a vice president and officer of the Grand Union Company since 1985. He joined the company in 1971 and prior to that was a reporter and editor with the Newark Evening News, Star Ledger and United Press International. Last April, Felician College presented Vaillancourt and Grand Union with its Founders Day award for corporate social responsibility.

Born in Newark and currently a resident of Nutley, Vaillancourt is a former chairman of the board of the New Jersey Food Council and active in numerous food marketing organizations. He is a member of the executive committee of the Better Business Bureau of Bergen, Passaic and Rockland Counties and active in the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce.

Decorative brooms add funds to support troops

Two Belleville women are making sure support for the troops remains high in the School No. 7 district. Janice McManus and Sherri White, both representatives of the school's Organization of Parents and Educators, are making decorative brooms garnished with yellow ribbons and the American flag.

For every broom sold, the pair will donate $2.00 to the New Jersey Family Assistance Program. The program helps families of soldiers cope with the pressures of life as their loved ones are at war.

So far, they have donated over $90, but they have orders that will push that total to over $300.

According to McManus, they can make about 25 in a little over an hour.

There is a chance even the White House may display the one of the decorative brooms. Dona Feldham, head of the New Jersey National Guard Auxiliary, sent one to President Bush and Governor Jim Florio.

Mina Rubino, president of the School No. 7 O.P.E., is hanging one of the brooms on her door and asks for the full support of the town.

"Although I might not be as crafty as these two women, I am helping with the sales for this worthy cause," Rubino said. "You will see a lot of these brooms in the School No. 7 area because we feel our support will help that much more."

To order a broom, keep an out for the flyers posted around town, or call 751-2075.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

In the Gulf war all is not quiet on the Western front. Public opinion analysts argue that the President might enjoy but three to four weeks of strong support, should the military campaign stall and U.S. casualties mount.

President Bush recently predicted that if a Persian Gulf war became a "long, dramatic conflagration," public support "would erode, as it did in the Vietnam conflict."

Operation Desert Storm, tapping a deep-seated American impulse to rally behind a president in times of crisis, has been greeted with widespread approval, and that seems likely to last as long as the battle goes well. In a Washington Post-ABC News poll, 3 out of 4 people surveyed backed the attack on Iraq. But the country was deeply divided before the battle began, and that skepticism could return if things go badly. "Americans are strongly ambivalent," says Niel Newhouse, a Republican pollster. "They want to see us stand up to Saddam Hussein, but they don't want it to cost American lives. I don't think people ever thought it would come to this."

The biggest public-relations problem facing the White House is inflated expectations. Like politicians trying to downplay their chances in an election, officials repeatedly warned against overconfidence, but it was hard to resist. The risk that the country would experience a roller coaster of emotions, soaring too high on good news and then plunging into disillusionment on bad. "Already, people are anticipating a war that's quite short and reasonably painless," says John Mueller, a professor of political science at the University of Rochester. "From Bush's standpoint, that could be really dangerous." Prof. Richard Brody of Stanford, an expert on war and public opinion, adds that despite the administration's efforts to keep euphoria in check, a drawdown conflict could provoke an emotional backlash against Bush.

There is a serious dispute inside the White House about the political significance of the peace movement. Senior aides such as Chief of Staff John Sununu and Secretary of State James Baker dismiss the protesters as well-meaning but "misguided individuals" who don't really threaten Bush's presidency. Bush himself seems to support that view, telling a press conference: "Yes, there is some protest, but this country is fundamentally united."

However, some younger, middle-level staffers and outside strategists — joined surprisingly by Vice President Dan Quayle — worry that their senior counterparts are underestimating the potential impact of the peace movement. "They are very effective using popular culture to move public opinion," said one Republican strategist, noting the release of the "Give Peace a Chance" rock video by John Lennon's son Sean and a host of rock stars. Another said of the antiwar feeling: "It's 100 times stronger now than at the beginning of Vietnam. And it's not based on an anti-establishment counter-culture. They are mainstreamers." Moreover, a third strategist added, the '60s protesters are now middle-aged, with influential positions in universities and the news media, and they can inject their ideas into the public debate.

Both factions agree that the best way for Bush to blunt these protests is to win a decisive victory in the Persian Gulf and to be more aggressive in using the "bully pulpit" of his office to convince Americans this war is necessary — something he's had trouble doing so far. They also know that a successful terrorist act on American civilians, or vivid images of a pillaged Kuwait, could galvanize resentment against Saddam Hussein.

The National Council of Churches — representing 42 million parishioners — signed a letter to Bush before war broke out, urging him "to give peace a chance." But to be effective, these activists say, they must avoid the mistakes of Vietnam and not denounce the soldiers in the field, only the policies that sent them there. "Don't mistake the warriors for the war," says Todd Gillin, a '60s antiwar leader now teaching at the University of California in Berkeley.

Car chase through Belleville ends with capture in Nutley

A car chase through parts of Newark, Belleville and into Nutley led to the arrest of three Newark teenagers late in the afternoon of January 24th, said Nutley Police Chief Robert DeLitta.

DeLitta said the chase ended at 3:55 p.m. after the stolen 1984 Pontiac struck a utility pole in front of 550 Centre Street near the corner of Bloomfield Avenue.

DeLitta said Ptm. Steven Rogers was nearly struck by the stolen vehicle while responding to the radio report. A moment later the stolen vehicle struck the utility pole. No one was injured, he added.

Police captured the juveniles, 13, 14 and 15 shortly after, the chief said. According to DeLitta, the youths drove north on Franklin Avenue from Newark with a couple of Newark police units in pursuit.

"At around Wendy's they (the youths) drove up on the sidewalk to avoid traffic," he said, "and continued past Chammel Lumber to 4th or 5th Street turning west."

When they reached Centre Street in Nutley, they turned right at the corner of Bloomfield Avenue just as Rogers was approaching that corner from the east.

The stolen car travelled between 200 and 250 feet before crashing into a car driven by Newark Councilman Anthony Carrino and the pole, he added.

The chief said they had a report that a pedestrian might have been hit in Newark and a vehicle struck in Belleville, but that proved unfounded.

Some Belleville police in pursuit behind the Newark police broke off the chase in Nutley.

Besides Rogers, there were Nutley Chief DeLitta, sergeants Joseph Rego, Craig Stewart and Richard Moran and patrolmen Jack Barry, Natale Ferrara and Phillip Keseling at the scene.

Newark police spokesman Det. Daniel Collins said the juveniles were charged with receiving a stolen automobile and eluding police.

The chase began, Collins said, when police received a call at 3:20 of a car being stolen at 9th Avenue and South 9th Street in Newark.

When plainclothes officers responded, the juveniles had taken off, Collins said. But police spotted the car at Central Avenue and South 9th Street and a chase ensued.

Collins denied a claim that police used excessive force or pursued the juveniles at high speed to apprehend the suspects.

"I have no problems with any police pursuing another vehicle provided it's done under state guidelines," said DeLitta. "We received the initial report over the state police emergency network at 3:41 p.m."

Orechio bill approved 35-0 in State Senate

The Senate has approved a bill, sponsored by Senator Carmen A. Orechio (D-Essex) to require the state to notify local officials almost immediately when it finds a dangerous situation caused by violation of a fire safety law or of an environmental, health or construction code.

"This measure makes it clear the state must notify the appropriate local authority whenever there is an imminent hazard to the public health, safety or welfare," Senator Orechio said.

The bill, S-1943, was approved 35-0 and now goes to the Assembly. The measure would require a state agency to provide oral notification to the appropriate local authority within one day of any violation that is determined to have created an imminent threat to public safety, health or welfare.

The oral notification would be followed up by a written notice of the dangers as soon as possible, according to the bill.

"This bill will ensure that a cooperative effort is undertaken without delay," he said.

"The state's resources should be focused to notify fire safety officials or any others involved in guarding a community's well being."

Cleanup will restore Belleville pride

Any person who drives past the public works yard would do a double take. Piles of rubbish, leaf bags and other waste are bulging through the fence.

The condition of the public works yard has become so deplorable the state Department of Environmental Protection saw fit to issue Belleville a 15 day notice for running a solid waste site without a permit.

Recently, questions about how the yard achieved such a lamentable state have been asked and asked again.

By now it should be clear these questions may never be answered, and should stop being asked.

It does not matter how the pile got there. The focus should be how to correct the problem.

The town officials created a proposal and sent it to the DEP for approval. The plan calls for a methodical clean up to be completed by July 1 at a reduced cost by using town employees and equipment. Without DEP approval of the plan, an expensive private contract would be needed to clean the yard immediately to avoid penalty.

Perhaps this may be a little longer than some people want. Maybe six more months of this blight on Belleville will put people in a frenzy. But the point is a definitive plan is implemented to take care of the problem.

A plan that had been non-existent for enough time to let the pile grow so large.

Isn't a plan, any plan, designed to correct the situation better than wasting time trying to figure out how it got there in the first place?

Critics seem to have lost sight of the community. Webster's defines community as "any group living in the same area or having interests, work, etc. in common." The result of this common identification should be positive. As it stands, Belleville has a waste yard standing as a testament to its community.

Part of that common interest should be pride in the area you live. If a window breaks on your house you don't sit there for months asking the gods why the window broke. You figure out how to fix that window because you want to be proud of your house and the appearance you give to others. Shouldn't the same be said of your community?

It is terribly difficult to be proud of a pile of garbage!

The condition of the yard mandates only one question: "How will it be cleaned up?" That is what Belleville should be concerned about and it appears to be the direction they are heading.

YOUR OPINION

Lack of support

To the editor:

I am a 9-year-old boy who lives in Belleville and I am troubled by a big problem. I wanted to go to the town hall to speak about my feelings but my dad told me about a famous saying which says that the pen is mightier than the sword so I decided to write to the newspaper.

Last night we went to visit my Uncle Johnny who lives in Caldwell. We drove through many towns to get there. I was happy to see all of the flags and yellow ribbons that went through the centers of the towns where the stores were. It made me feel glad.

When my parents and I were driving home I asked my mom and dad to drive to Washington Avenue in Belleville to see all the flags and ribbons through my town's center. I even got my 4-year-old brother excited about seeing them.

When we got to Belleville center there were no flags or yellow ribbons, except for town hall. I was very disappointed and mad.

I want my town to show more support for our soldiers. I'd like to ask the children of Belleville to pitch in and help raise the money for the flags and ribbons. I'll start by donating my allowance.

Cares for Belleville

To the editor:

I would like to respond to three letters that appeared in the last two editions of your newspaper, involving a letter, written by me, in which I take former commissioner Vincent Frantantoni to task.

The first letter, "To write or not to write," suggested I was not capable of writing such a letter and that I should stick to selling lemon ice. I don't profess to be a writer; I consider myself a businessman, and more importantly, a citizen of Belleville for approximately 50 years.

As a matter of fact, when my parents migrated from Italy, they settled in Portland, Me., where I and most of my family were born. Due to economic reasons, we moved to Newark very briefly, then we moved to Belleville, Silver Lake section. Some of my relatives and I attended No. 4 School (Shawyer School) and maybe some of you are my age remember a popular teacher, Mrs. Pole.

Once again, for business reasons, we went back to Newark, then to Maine and finally migrated back to New Jersey and, in 1949, Belleville again. I had decided something was drawing me back there and that's when I planned to stay and build my business. I felt very comfortable in Belleville and I realized how much I really cared for Belleville.

That's why I speak out through the media and also eye-to-eye with my customers and friends. When I feel something is wrong, I speak out, especially when it comes to town affairs. I don't intend to run for office. My being vocal is not for selfish reasons.

I have no political aspirations; my business will not permit it and I don't feel I'm qualified. It's very easy for any politician who aspires to run for office to say taxes are too high. We, the taxpayers of Belleville are well aware of that.

When Mr. Frantantoni ran for office, in essence what he was saying was, if we build the $10 million complex, taxes would soar. He came up with the figure of $2 million, suggesting that it would serve the same purpose and would be affordable for the taxpayers of Belleville. The taxpayers believed him and that's why he got the top vote. I believed him, like many other Belleville taxpayers. Now, it seems, from $2 million, we are well over $6 million, and I understand costs might exceed that.

In reference to your question, where was Jackie Rega when Vincent Frantantoni was going down to Town Hall meetings is obvious: This man is going to run for office. The people of Belleville gave him a royal opportunity of three years to implement some of his campaign promises, mainly to bring taxes down.

Belleville spent a lot of money to go for this change of government and the least we can do is give the town manager time to straighten Belleville out, which I'm confident he has the ability to do, and will do.

By the way, to the three women writers, I know you are sincere and you're not politicians. Although our views might differ in this matter, I still respect your opinion and to show there's no hard feelings, I invite you and your spouses to come down in May, when I open, to have a delicious cup of Jackie's lemon ice.

Jackie Rega

'Ransom' worked!

To the editor:

On behalf of the Executive Board and myself, I would like to extend to all who participated in the Kidnap and Ransom on Saturday, January 26th a heart-felt thank you!

It was a total community effort, from those who donated to all the dignitaries who had participated. Truly, God has blessed us with all these good people. They have helped to surpass what was anticipated. Through their efforts we have realized in pledges an amount that exceeds $7,000.

I would like to thank all those who gave of their time and efforts: Assemblyman John V. Kelly, Assemblywoman Marion Crecco, Councilman Bill Cook, Councilman Mario Drozdz, Councilman Jim Messina, Councilman Tom Spillane, Bloomfield Councilman Gary Jacobacci, Board Trustee Gabie Nazzola, Board of Education council, Frank Pomaco, Belleville High School Principal, Joe Ciccone, Former Mayor, Michael Marotti, Chamber of Commerce Chairperson, Rita Troise, Emil Nardachone, Mike Ippolito and Grace Purdue.

Last but not least, thank you to Richard Yanzuzzi, chairman of this event who also helped solicit pledges and co-chairperson Francine Pascheria and all the committee members. Belleville Post's Chris Gotto who was with us throughout the day to cover the event.

Your love and concern for the children of Belleville has shown through. Your gift to our seniors, in making their graduation night a memorable one is truly appreciated.

Barbara Cicalese
Chairperson - B.A.S.E.

Waste of money

To the editor:

Hiring a specialist to obtain grants, make plans for our future, coordinate the various agencies of Belleville — most importantly to eliminate the need for hiring agencies like the Bruno Associates, who almost everyone in town agrees have done nothing worthwhile over the last few years and have taken $30,000 a year to do it.

Now we have the planning specialist at over $50,000 a year, salary and you guessed it, Bruno is still sucking the blood of our taxpayers.

Why? With my limited intellect I can't find a single reason for this dichotomy.

I am sure Councilman Drozdz, Bert Kendall, and to be sure Mary Lou Hood, could give you very sound reasons.

Frank J. Noonan, M.D.
Councilman

Thanks for being there

To the editor:

My son Gerard attends School 3 and is in the Special Education class there. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Raffaella Saulino and Doctor Anthony Chirico for realizing the needs of all our children by having Dr. Pauline Rush, a child psychologist come into School 3 to talk with our children about their fears of this terrible conflict going on in the Persian Gulf.

My son was becoming withdrawn in school, not sleeping at night and talking back to his father and myself in ways that shocked us. We tried to alleviate his fears and to get him to talk about the war but he still kept his feelings to himself. After having one session with Dr. Rush he came home after school an entirely different child. At dinner he told us Dr. Rush made him feel happy and he wasn't as scared any more, but the best thing about Dr. Rush being was that he was with the "regular kids" (not Special Ed) and they were scared too, he was not different from them. No my son is not different, each one of us has our own little disabilities. Labels are for cans, advertisements, etc. They are not for people and certainly not children. I thank the good Lord for people like Dr. Chirico, Mrs. Saulino and Dr. Rush for being there for all our children.

Mrs. Judy Piscaro

Where's the efficiency?

To the editor:

Mr. Nazzola — you are something rare. Your provocations and innuendos wheel and deal from east to west, from north to south and down and around and where it goes no one knows. Wanna know? I chuckled when I read your script as you flipped from analogy to fantasy — I agree and disagree on the goods and bads but the bottom line is survival and the ability to pay.

The new administration has deceived the public, increased the budget and hired a multitude of professionals to the total tune of one million dollars or better. Is this responsible and efficiency promised? By the way — where did they hide the pot hole crew? For the last four months those dang pot holes have been staring me down and the weather was superb until Christmas. Still the same — no change — no organization.

The paper heroes you mentioned are responsible people — don't ya know? They also make the wheels turn, remember? And your personality kick is kid stuff and for the birds — your rhetoric sing-song.

Let's straighten out and fly right or we all go down the drain — and all is kaputt — lock, stock and barrel.

Dan Ippolito

'Soap opera' war

To the editor:

In their zeal to give the public instant updates on developments in the Persian Gulf, the TV media is frequently pre-empting the "Soaps." As a matter of fact it appears they are presenting the events as an "all station" soap opera.

I arrived at that perception from experience during WW II, because it seems the only difference in that "successes" were broadcast by radio, instead of TV. Following some examples:

At least twice the German U-boat command claimed to have sunk the British aircraft carrier "Ark Royal." Naturally the Allies would not refute that claim, reserving to themselves a "surprise! surprise!" Also we could not be sure if the German High Command took the claim from the U-boat skippers seriously or with a grain of salt. The claims were of course announced to boost German morale.

From personal experience, my submarine (Netherlands) was claimed sunk on several occasions. For example the time we picked up their radio broadcast announcing the destruction of an enemy submarine during a limited naval engagement in the Strait of Malacca. The limited naval engagement in fact related to this submarine having torpedoed and sunk their troop transport ship.

The Netherlands Navy required substantial proof, photographic or debris or a detailed description of damage by observation. It was for that reason, that following a night-time duel on the surface, concluded when we torpedoed and sank the U 95 with a broadside hit from our stern tubes, that we circled back to the spot to pick up some debris or perhaps an oil sample. Instead we picked up 13 survivors, including the commanding officer and a war correspondent, with the camera still around his neck, ready to record OUR demise.

Cornelis P. Vander Zwan

'Priceless' flag gone

To the editor:

On Tuesday, January 22, our American Flag was ripped from our flag pole outside of our home. The flag itself was taken and all that was left of the flag was a small remnant.

God only knows what happened to our flag. I know one can't put a monetary value on "OUR" flag because it really is priceless. The hurt and indignation I feel especially at this time cannot be measured. While our service people are in a far away land defending our country, some people have nothing better to do than to destroy the symbol of what they are fighting for.

Joe Trabucco town's newest cop

Belleville welcomed a new member to the police force when Joe Trabucco was sworn in Jan. 31. He will now face a 17 week training period at the Police Academy in Cedar Grove.

Trabucco, 24, is a lifelong resident of Belleville and is the son of Nicholas and Lois Trabucco. He is a graduate of Belleville High School and played baseball for the Bucs.

During the introduction Town Manager Bertrand Kendall proclaimed "Belleville is a winner today," citing Trabucco's high scores and excellent service record to the town. Police Chief George Lister was also happy to welcome Trabucco to the force.

Firewood available for residents Feb. 9

Shade Tree Commission announces the availability of firewood for its residents starting Feb. 9.

With the purchase of a log splitter and the readily available supply of tree trimmings pruned or removed under various maintenance programs, Belleville Township is now offering residents logs and tree trimmings for their fireplaces.

The log trimmings may be secured Saturday only, 8 a.m. to noon by residents who are responsible to load their own cars. The resident is to show proof of residency (driver's license) prior to loading his car. The firewood can be picked up at the Public Works facility located at 48 William Street opposite the recycling center.

The Shade Tree Commission is promoting this public service with the hope that pleased citizens will offer a donation to aid this year's budget. Viewed as a basic recycling effort, it is also considered a primary benefactor to assure continued tree planting programs.

If further information is required, please call 450-3417, Public Works.

General H. Norman Schwarzkopf is a part of Belleville's history

(The picture on the front page was submitted to the Times by former commodore Joseph Fornarotto. He thought Belleville residents might be interested to know that General Schwarzkopf's career path took him down Washington Avenue one day in 1966. Here is a brief account of that day from Fornarotto.)

Would you believe that the Commander of the Allied Forces in Operation Desert Storm, General H. Norman "Stormin'" Norman Schwarzkopf, was an honored guest of the Belleville Veterans' Council? I was chairman of the council at the time, a veteran of World War II and former commander of the Amvets of Belleville.

The general was a major at West Point in 1966 and I wrote to West Point requesting a speaker for the upcoming Veterans' Day parade.

The Office of Personnel at West Point wrote back to say they would send an officer to speak on our behalf. And they did.

Personally, I thought the 1966 parade was the finest parade we ever had in Belleville. Army, Navy, Marine and Coast Guard divisions all participated. Picatinny Arsenal sent a tank and missile. The Army sent marching men. Belleville Boy and Girl Scouts were in full complement also.

All the stores on Washington Avenue had flags on the sidewalks, donated by the Chamber of Commerce. Bands were reasonable then. Sometimes, all we had to pay for was their transportation.

After the Veterans' Day parade, the committee traditionally entertained the main speaker. I believe we took Major Schwarzkopf to The Fountain restaurant.

What I remember best about his speech was the emphasis on peace, freedom and always being prepared. He was a big guy and spoke very well.

As to the front page picture, from left, Bergen County Senator Matthew Feldman; the late Essex County Sheriff Leroy D'Aloia; Major Schwarzkopf; the late Doc Hood, the oldest veteran; Chairman Joe Fornarotto; the late Mayor Nunzio Pico; the late Nick Raimo, Italian American Veterans and Vice Chairman George Barra, VFW. The sign in back of the reviewing stand said, "Belleville Supports Its Veterans."

EMPLOYEES HONORED FOR SERVICE — Joan A. Martella of Belleville, left, principal clerk steno, is congratulated on 10 years of service to New Jersey Institute of Technology by Dr. Saul K. Fen ter, right, university president. Seventy-six university faculty and staff members, all with at least 10 years of service, were honored recently for contributing a combined 1,265 years of service to New Jersey's technological university.

Spencer Savings Bank in reporting assets over $842 million

Spencer Savings Bank, SLA rated as one of America's best savings institutions, has reported yet another year of successful operation for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990, highlighted by total assets of $842,620,504, an all-time high, according to Spencer President Nicholas Lorusso.

"Despite a sluggish economy and soft real estate market, Spencer Savings Bank continues to maintain a position of strength that has been built on a solid foundation of safety and stability for over fifty years," Lorusso said.

In addition to record total assets, members' savings increased by more than $17 million to $765,232,632, while retained earnings stand at $66,828,961. Spencer's first mortgage loan portfolio is at $691,678,521 according to 1990 year-end figures reported.

The institution has also reported total regulatory capital of $66,279,000, with excess capital over the tangible capital requirement of $48,457,000. Regulatory capital is the basis by which the office of Thrift Supervision determines whether a savings association is insolvent, and whether a savings association is meeting its regulatory capital requirement.

"Spencer Savings Bank is solid on service and pledges a continued effort in that direction for 1991," Lorusso emphasized. "On behalf of our Board of Directors, officers and staff, we sincerely thank our many customers and friends for their display of confidence and patronage during the past year," he added.

"The solid support of our loyal customer base has enabled Spencer to enjoy another period of healthy, progressive growth — a trend which should continue into the year ahead."

Lorusso also noted that through February 9th the financial institution is celebrating the official grand opening of its handsome new Wallingford office at the corner of Maple and Locust avenues. Newly constructed on the site of Spencer's former Wallingford office, the brand new facility is featuring prizes, free souvenirs and a checking account promotion to mark the occasion.

In implementing Spencer's "Solid on Service" tradition, all offices feature a full-range of thrift and home financing services, including Retirement Accounts and Home Equity Credit Lines.

Headquartered in Garfield, Spencer Savings Bank, SLA maintains other offices in Garfield, Lodi, Wallingford, Saddle Brook, Clifton, Lyndhurst, Belleville, Elizabeth and Union. Accounts are FDIC-insured to $100,000.

BHS faculty dazzles packed house

By Sean Kimball

Just when students are convinced that all teachers can do is teach, the shock of a lifetime occurs as "day-time" administrators, mathematicians, linguists and scientists jump up on stage to become "night-time" superstars and perform as the likes of Tina Turner, John Travolta, The Beach Boys, Diana Ross, and other singing sensations.

Postponed from Jan. 11 to Jan. 14 due to inclement weather, the Fabulous Faculty Fifties Show was a definite hit. Both students and parents packed the auditorium to see their favorite teachers lip sync and dance to some of the best hits of the 50s. It was clearly a "blast from the past."

The annual show was put together by Ms. Nazziola with the help of Mr. Silveira, Mr. Hollis and Mr. Lemongello. All proceeds will go to the Belleville High School Scholarship fund.

Some unforgettable acts performed were "Get It On" by Dennis Villano, "Earth Angel" by Nazziola with Joseph Ciccone as backup, "Surfin' USA" and "Shout" by Silveira and "The Twist" by the entire cast.

Mr. Villano served as master of ceremonies for the evening and performed an act that brought the entire audience to their feet. Rocking and rolling with Mr. Villano were students Sean Kimball, Marie Ribon, Dana La Cara, John Vincent Faliveno, Jennifer Apruzzese, and Mark Blondi. One high school student remarked, "The show was a lot of fun and I got to see my teachers in a different perspective."

Even though teachers are most often thought of in terms of homework, tests and grades, on Jan. 14 BHS teachers proved that they can do more than educate.

Belleville School News

Victor Afanador in D.C.

Victor Afanador of Belleville has been selected to attend the 1991 National Young Leaders Conference Feb. 5 to 10 in Washington, D.C. He is among 350 high school students from across the nation at the conference for outstanding young leaders sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today." Throughout the six-day conference, the scholars will meet with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program will include welcoming remarks from a member of Congress on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives, a government relations forum comprised of senior-level congressional staff and lobbyists from corporations and public interest groups, and a panel discussion led by prominent journalists at the National Press Club. Diplomatic embassy visits and a briefing at the State Department will also be among the week's activities.

Students will also meet with their elected representatives and senators or designated congressional staff members. These meetings provide an opportunity to discuss important policy issues and focus on topics of state and local concern. Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference will be "The Mock Congress on National Service" during which scholars assume the roles of United States representatives by debating, lobbying and voting on proposed volunteer service legislation.

Serio awarded graduate scholarship to Yale

By Denise Zecca

Tricia Serio, a 1988 graduate of Belleville High School, has been awarded a full graduate scholarship at Yale University.

Serio, who was valedictorian of her graduating class, attended Lehigh University for her undergraduate studies. Serio entered the pre-professional program in dentistry at Lehigh which consists of a special program, a seven year BDDS degree in conjunction with the University of Pennsylvania Dental School.

While at Lehigh, Serio changed her major to molecular biology and will complete her major in three years. She will graduate this June.

Yale University has now offered Serio a full scholarship to do her graduate work in molecular biological-physics, and biological chemistry at their institution. When asked what advice she has for BHS students Serio remarked, "Work hard, be well prepared and not limited."

Tricia Serio

The Belleville High School News is a feature of the Belleville Times. It runs weekly, space allowing.

All stories are written by the students of Mr. Anthony Salese's journalism class. Their work is coordinated by student editor Denise Zecca.

Batoff on honor roll

Dae-Sung Batoff

Dae-Sung Batoff of Belleville has been placed on the Montclair Kimberley Academy honor roll for the first trimester.

A semi-finalist in the 1991 National Merit Scholarship, he was named to the Headmaster's List and is a member of the Academy News staff, the Stylus literary magazine, the Asian Society and Sargan. He sings with the MKA Mastersingers and the New Horizons, a church singing group. Batoff also plays soccer and fences for Montclair Kimberley Academy.

Doctor donates

At least some soldiers in the Middle East will be able to get a restful night of sleep thanks to Dr. Paul Steffanelli.

Steffanelli, a chiropractor here in Belleville, is sending six or twelve cervical pillows to some lucky soldiers in the Gulf region.

A cervical pillow is round and forms to the individuals neck to provide a more comfortable sleep. "We can't do too much from here, but we wanted to show our support," Steffanelli said.

Steffanelli had also kept a list that patients could sign and write messages on and sent to raise spirits for the troops.

He expects to mail the pillows, which cost about $20 each, this week. The soldiers probably wish he had sent them five months ago, but no-one will shun the opportunity to have just a little more comfort in a very uncomfortable situation.

Espiritu, Pallante on dean's list

Two Belleville residents have been named to the Dean's List at the University of Delaware for the fall semester.

They are Thelma Yadoo Espiritu and Frank Alphonse Pallante.

Inclusion on the Dean's List requires a grade point average of 3.25 or above with no temporary grades.

AARP offers tax assistance to Essex County residents

Free income tax advice will be available again this year to residents of the Belleville area, thanks to the Tax-Aide Program of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP).

Using space provided as a community service by the Belleville Public Library, AARP volunteer counselors trained by the Internal Revenue Service, will again offer free tax counseling and tax-preparation services between Feb. 5 and April 15.

The service is intended to assist residents having low to moderate income, consisting primarily of pensions, interest, dividends, Social Security benefits and occasional capital gains. It covers either the preparation of both Federal and New Jersey individual income tax returns, or, if desired, merely a review of those returns that have been prepared by the taxpayers themselves.

Taxpayers are assisted at the Library by appointment only. To arrange an appointment, call the Library at 450-3434.

Taxpayers who desire to use the service should remember to take with them to the site copies of their 1989 Federal and State income tax returns, their 1990 income tax packets, and their federal information forms for 1990 (i.e., Forms W-2, W-2P, 1099-INT, 1099-DIV, 1099-B, 1099-G, SSA-1099, etc., or related substitute forms) and such other data providing details of their taxable income and deductible expenses for 1990.

Homeowners should know the amount of their 1990 property tax and the municipal block and lot numbers of their homes. Tenants should know the amount of rent paid in 1990, and name and address of their landlords.

Major changes have been made this year in New Jersey's tax structure. The Homestead Rebate, which heretofore was paid only to resident homeowners, may now also be claimed by resident tenants. On the other hand, the income tax residential property deduction and/or credit and the tenant credit have been terminated.

A new Homestead Rebate application form has been made part of this year's resident income tax return (Form NJ-1040). To obtain the rebate, applicants must first report in their tax returns the gross income taxable in New Jersey. Only then can their rebate application be completed and submitted to Trenton as part of their tax return.

The change in reporting requirements may create a hardship for many low-income residents who have not been required to file a New Jersey income tax return. Now, they must prepare and file an income tax return in order to receive the Homestead Rebate which, by current law, they are entitled to receive in place of the terminated credit.

The Essex County AARP volunteer staff plans to arrange meetings with groups of residents on dates to be agreed upon mutually to explain in detail New Jersey's new income tax filing requirements.

To make arrangements, call Bernard Verosub at 763-0769.

Exec visits site

County Executive Thomas D'Allesio visited the construction site of Belleville's new Public Safety building as part of a three town tour to see the result of the $183,000 Community Development Block Grant Belleville received to help fund the building.

The CDBG funding is allocated to provide handicapped access for the building.

"I salute the Belleville officials for their foresight in making this a barrier free building," D'Allesio said.

The funding for Belleville helped to provide for handicapped accessible rest rooms and an elevator connecting the new building with the old one.

D'Allesio also looked to the future and said the need for senior citizen housing for Belleville must be addressed.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Many people who suffer from arthritic symptoms, menstrual cramps, and pain associated with dental problems, tendonitis, bursitis, and sprains and strains (among others) are commonly prescribed drugs belonging to the NSAID group (nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs). They work to relieve pain by blocking the body's production of prostaglandins, the naturally-occurring chemicals thought to be associated with the pain and inflammation of injuries and immune reactions. NSAIDs are recommended by over a dozen different medical organizations. Each is accompanied by its own set of instructions, which patients should follow carefully. In general, a NSAID may begin to relieve pain symptoms in about an hour. In the case of severe arthritis, relief may be a week or longer in coming. Consult your physician immediately if side effects from NSAID use occur.

NSAIDs are available by prescription or over-the-counter drugs. For all your needs see us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We have a wide variety of items for your Valentine. Greeting cards, Russell Silver candles, cosmetics, toiletries, Times watches and transistor radios are just a few in stock. ## READ-A-THON

The students in grades four, five and six at School No. 7 participated in a READ-A-THON for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

An assembly program was held last fall to explain what MS is and why it is so important to raise money for this worthy cause. The children read as many books as they could in the six-week program and enlisted sponsors who pledged to contribute an amount for each book read.

The students raised $1,400.

Every child who participated received a certificate, Giants calendar, bookmark and coupons. Larger prizes such as T-shirts, radios, soccer balls and artist kits were also awarded, depending on how much money was raised. The school also received a free set of books, "Cornerstones of Freedom."

The READ-A-THON was directed by Mrs. Marie Kimble, reading teacher at School No. 7.

School relives history

If you walked into School No. 7 on Jan. 18, you might have taken a quick double take at your watch to make sure it was indeed 1991.

From Galileo to Shirley Temple to Tom Sawyer, fictional and biographical figures came to life on the third floor as fifth and sixth grade students took part in an exercise that was both fun and informative.

Students from the classes of Gioia Crawford, Susan DiRuggerio, Annette Woglom and Carolyn Fuscaldo dressed up as either a fictional character from a book they read or a biographical figure from a book they read. They also prepared a question card and display poster.

Once everything was in place, the other students in the school toured the displays and asked the questions on the card. This way everyone could learn about the character the student portrayed.

WE PAID HOMAGE TO HIM 24 YEARS BEFORE AMERICA DID.

Minted in 1909, the one cent piece was the very first coin to bear the likeness of a U.S. President. Not surprisingly, Abraham Lincoln was chosen to grace that coin.

It is even more fitting that the lowliest coin of the nation has stamped upon its face the profile of the man who is arguably the most revered in American history, a man who was truly of the people.

Though not for a moment would we ever compare ourselves to the greatness of our 16th President, First DeWitt Savings has always prided itself in likewise being of the people. Since 1885, we have ceaselessly served the needs of our customers, furnished the means to success, and helped dreams come true for millions.

And, also proudly, no customer who has trusted First DeWitt Savings has ever lost money by doing so.

Vacation cruises are seen as 'super hot' attraction

Travel agents from coast to coast agree cruises will be a "super hot" vacation attraction in 1991.

That was the report given this week by Jaye Tarantino of the West Orange travel agency, Travel Time. Ms. Tarantino was among hundreds of other travel professionals who attended the recent annual Leisure Travel Conference and Winter Cruise-A-Thon conducted by Travel Trade Productions and held at the Carnival Crystal Palace Hotel in Nassau, Bahamas.

The travel agents, Ms. Tarantino also reported, agreed that the Caribbean, vacation attractions in the United States, and in the Pacific would also be favorites this year.

During the Cruise-A-Thon segment of the trade conference, Ms. Tarantino and other agents went aboard a dozen luxury cruise ships in Nassau for on-sight inspections and luncheons. Ms. Tarantino was presented with an official Travel Trade/CLIA Ship Inspection Certificate which identifies her as a master cruise ship inspector and includes the name of each ship she visited.

The overall feeling of those attending the conference, Ms. Tarantino said, was that those planning vacations this year "should get ready to start packing because 1991 is going to be both an exciting and value-priced travel year."

"If area residents," she said, "are thinking about their next vacation in general or cruises in particular, we really have first-hand experience to help guide them. They can get all the information and service they need for planning an unforgettable vacation by contacting Travel Time at 736-5550."

An unusual gift for the bride

In this twentieth century, porringers are becoming favorite silver gifts at weddings. But the first porringers were made in the 17th century for eating porridge, which was not oatmeal but a kind of stew with meat and vegetables.

In England, the porringer had two handles, in America, it only had one handle and was used for all sorts of food items, including sugar, before the advent of sugar bowls.

Now you will find the porringer used for everything from an ash tray to a nut dish—but rarely for "porridge."

Inspired design for the groom

PIERRE CARDIN CAPTURES THE SPIRIT OF THE '90s — with "Ze tux," the black tie trend-setter. Tailored in all wool with satin collar and notch lapel, "Ze tux" is rakishly cut along free and easy lines with unique dimensional slanted seams starting at the cap shoulders and ending at the angled satin framed pockets. The jacket is nonvented, worn with pleated trousers, wing collar shirt and vertically-pleated bow tie — all by Pierre Cardin.

"One-Stop" shop for weddings and honeymoons

Moonlight on the waves, sipping cool drinks while gentle ocean breezes tempt you to "fall in love" all over again... cruises just seem to appeal to people in love. A very popular theme for one cruise line, just about says it all... the "Love Boat." One of the nicest experiences of cruising, is that you don't have to worry about a thing! The customary special attentiveness to cruise passengers is what keeps people coming back to cruise ships for the best value package today, and it is probably the least stressful of planning your honeymoon destination.

Recently, Travel Time Travel Agency in the Essex Green Plaza, West Orange, has created its own "honeymoon headquarters" with a "one-stop shop" concept which can help the future newlywed couple not only plan their "honeymoon," but a service from "Storybook Weddings" is being offered to actually have the wedding performed on a cruise ship prior to their sailing "off into the sunset."

Beginning with a "free computerized analysis" of the "perfect honeymoon ship" for you, the ceremony will be performed aboard the cruise ship of your choice. Included in the "Story Book Wedding" packages are all the customary amenities, such as the services of a photographer who captures the moment of the wedding vows, customary first dance and reception, flowers, marriage certificate and photo albums upon your return, all allowing you to relax and enjoy your "special day" without the usual "marriage jitters"... what a way to go!

On to the "honeymoon"... Travel Time has researched the destinations available which cater to "honeymooners" with special packages and discounts being offered. "From Sea to Shining Sea" you can't beat a "honeymoon" on any one of the "love boats!"

So if you want to have "smoother sailing" for the rest of your lives together, it's a wonderful way to start... "choose to cruise." For more information about "Storybook Wedding" packages and honeymoon destinations, contact "cruise specialist" Jaye Tarantino at Travel Time — 201-736-5550 or toll free 800-359-4786. You'll only have to make "one-stop!"

Former Belvillite honored with Ellis Island medal

Joseph Maselli, a 1942 Belleville High School graduate, who settled in New Orleans in 1946, was among those receiving the 1990 Ellis Island Medal of Honor in December at Ellis Island.

Maselli is the son of Italian immigrants who came to this country through Ellis Island. He and former President Carter are the only winners from the Deep South.

The award recognizes the efforts of its recipients to preserve or better their heritage groups, whether by leading exemplary lives, working to preserve the heritage, or serving humanity through their field, profession or occupation.

Maselli said the recognition of the 66 organization-member National Ethnic Coalition of Organizations means that "somehow or another, whatever my parents went through at Ellis Island it was worth it. I'm sure they never dreamed they'd have a son honored at Ellis Island."

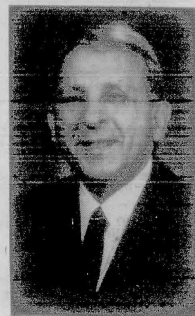

"I've pushed for people not to be judged by nationality or color or religion, but for what you are," Maselli said. "The only reward I can ask for is, I want to see my kids get the same opportunities I've gotten. Time will tell if my efforts mean anything."

Maselli began his business career in New Orleans in 1950, when he established City Wholesale Liquor Co., which is a multimillion dollar company today.

Car washes, real estate and a management and consulting firm round out the business expertise of the man who created and operated the Louisiana World Exposition's Italian Village.

Maselli is a special advisor to the mayor of New Orleans, chairman of the Louisiana Quincentenary Commission and a member of the New Orleans Aviation Board.

His work in the Italian-American arena is known to many, and as a board member of the New York Coalition of Italo-American Association, a member of the advisory board for the Italian-American Legal Defense & Higher Education Fund Inc., and general chairman of the American Italian Historical Association's 33rd annual conference, he has his finger on national happenings in his native culture.

Whether spearheading fundraisers for the victims of the Italian earthquakes in the late 1970s or founding the American Italian Renaissance Foundation's Museum and Library, he has continually worked for and with the Italo-American heritage.

Maselli also advised Presidents Ford, Carter and Reagan about ethnic matters in the country and has been the recipient of many awards.

Maselli is an advocate of interplay between all nationalities, and is proud of what Ellis Island represents and the immigrants it draws.

"The more people that come to the realization that our country is great, the better off we'll be," he said.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

This unexpected warm weather has many minds on baseball, even though spring training will not begin in earnest until the end of this month. Locally, the little league will begin its preparation for the 1991 season in less than two weeks.

The little league clinic will be held on February 20 and 27, at Belleville High School. The times for both clinics are 6 p.m.

According to American League president, Frank Caputo, the clinic will stress baseball fundamentals and will be presented by the little league coaches.

Tryouts for the 1991 little league season will begin on March 4 and continues on March 6. On the following week, tryouts will be held on March 11 and 13. All tryouts will be in the area of fielding. Applications for little league tryouts are at all public schools in the Belleville system.

Batting tryouts will be held on March 9, at 1 p.m. at Clearmont Field in Belleville. All applicants will have to have competed in the fielding portion of the tryouts before taking part in the batting portion.

If you need further information, contact Caputo at 759-3002 or Pat Turti, vice president of the American League at 751-0190.

BASKETBALL SEASON GETTING IN HIGH GEAR

Last Sunday, with temperatures hovering in the high 50's, I started thinking about baseball predictions. But then, the reality of the calendar which stated we're in the first week of February, took hold. Thus, it's time to talk about basketball, which is beginning to gain momentum as tournaments commence throughout the state for high school.

Here in Belleville, Karen Fuccello will once again run the Essex County girls' basketball tourney. Montclair Immaculate, the defending county champion, is the number two seed with an old favorite, Clifford Scott, occupying the number one spot.

Scott was a dominant team in the girls' ECT in the early 1980's. The Scotties won the ECT in 1981 and lost in the finals in '82 and '83 to Shabazz in two memorable games.

The '83 game, for those who witnessed it, was a classic. Played at Walsh Gym on the campus of Seton Hall University, Scott dominated the game for three quarters, building a lead as high as 18 points. Entering the fourth quarter, Shabazz employed a press that was devastating to say the least. The Lady Bulldogs cut the lead to one point with seconds remaining and the Shabazz fans cheering in high gear. The place was deafening and the tremendous crowd support certainly affected Clifford Scott.

Anyhow, Shabazz pulled out a one point victory and went on to an undefeated season and state championship. Scott regrouped for an emotional loss and won a second straight Group championship.

The following season, 1984, Scott and Shabazz appeared to be on a collision course for a third straight title game. However, Irvington upset Scott in the quarterfinals, and Belleville, led by Jennifer Apicella, beat Irvington in the semis to gain a berth in the finals against Shabazz.

In that championship game, Shabazz jumped out to a 16 point first half lead, but this time Belleville came storming back. The Lady Bucs trimmed the lead to one point with seconds remaining, but Shabazz held on for a 48-45 victory at Seton Hall University. Once again, it was a super game.

In '85, Shabazz won a fourth straight county title, but it needed every bit of heart to pull it out. Irvington, led by All American Tammy Hammond, led by as many as 22 points in the first half. But Shabazz, once again, showed the ability to come back in the big game. The Lady Bulldogs won a thrilling final by two points.

Shabazz' run at the county crown was stopped when East Orange upset the Lady Bulldogs in the semi finals of the '86 tourney. Irvington, which had wanted a rematch with Shabazz in the '86 finals, went on to beat East Orange for the championship. Irvington then won its second straight Group IV championship later in that season.

Irvington's county run was held at one year, because in '87 a new team, University High School, began to dominate. University won the championship in '87, beating Shabazz before a packed house at Belleville High School.

In '88, Bloomfield dethroned University in the championship game. The Lady Bengals were dominant in winning the title and in '89, Bloomfield repeated as champs, beating Montclair Immaculate for the crown.

Immaculate, who has been to the semis the past seven seasons, finally got the title, beating University for the crown after upsetting Bloomfield in the semi

Defeat Paramus, 40-28

Wrestlers close to crown

By Joe Piegaro

Since the summer of 1980 when this column first began, there have been many stories concerning the deeds of the BHS wrestlers. Never has it been so much of a pleasure to write an article than today, on the evening after routing undefeated (13-0) Paramus by a 40-28 margin.

A 12 point difference over the No. 2 ranked team in Region 1 is in itself a great victory, but in truth, the score did not indicate how dominant the Bucs really were. Only two Bucs lost matches, Allan Cruz and Dan Hywel, but even then Hywel's bout was at 6-5 when he lost control just for a moment and was pinned by the Spartan's best wrestler, Anthony Aiello.

Quite frankly, this dual meet was an ambush, a total annihilation of a team that had not had a close match all season. It was the 1927 Yankees, the Boston Celtics of Bill Russell's era and the Super Bowl Steelers all rolled into one.

Until this past Saturday the Bucs, despite posting an 11-1 mark, had not wrestled near their expected capacity. They had been winning on talent and experience, but lacked any fire. Against Paramus, there was enough fire to turn Yellowstone Park into a mound of ashes.

Perhaps it was because Junior Nordone returned to action after missing the entire season by scoring a 26 second default over Jason Mihalik. Or perhaps it was because Tommy Pontrella hounded Mike Mulligan by a 12-3 margin, a victory which surprised a great many people in the stands. Or maybe it had something to do with Jimmy Mastropolo's 21-13 donnybrook win over Keith McNair. It may even have been due to the tongue lashing given by Coach Joe Nisvoccia during practice on Thursday. Whatever it was, it was beautiful.

The consequences regarding this most wonderful of wins were enormous. It gave the Bucs a share of the NNJIL conference title. The matmen need only to defeat Hackensack this Saturday to win the title outright. It also guaranteed the Buceaners a spot in the Group 3-Section 2 State Sectionals for the eleventh consecutive year. Where our boys will be seeded in the eight team field remains to be seen, but to equal is an important thing and the boys have certainly done that. Finally, it gave the team the confidence and momentum to face the final challenges over the next three weeks, specifically the Districts, Regionals and States.

To pinpoint one wrestler for outstanding performance this week would be impossible as most of the team excelled. But to give each boy his due, a short recap would seem to be in order.

103 - Josh Cardinale - 2 pins, now 17-0 for the year.

112 - Mike Conte - 2 pins, now 16-2 for the year.

119 - Tom Pontrella - a decision loss to state qualifier Anthony Riotto and a Major Decision, now 12-6 for the year.

125 - Chris Talbot - a Major Decision loss to Bryan Stoll and a tie at Paramus, now 13-4-1 for the year.

130 - Angelo Torronco - a loss by fall to St. Joseph's, now 6-4 for the year. Junior Nordone - a default win at Paramus in his season's debut.

135 - Carlo Ritacco - a decision loss to Andrew Baeli and a tie at Paramus, now 12-4-1 for the year.

140 - Vinnie DeSimone - two Major Decisions, now 13-4 for the year.

145 - Allan Cruz - a decision and a loss by fall to Craig Ross, now 4-9 for the year.

152 - Lee Hands - a decision and a pin, now 17-1 for the season.

160 - Jim Mastropolo - a decision loss to St. Joe's and a Major Decision, now 9-7 for the year.

171 - Dan Hywel - a forfeit and a loss by fall to Anthony Aiello, now 9-1 for the year.

189 - Ricky Constantino - did not wrestle this week, now 1-2 for the

HWT - George Wallace - a pin over St. Joe's, now 9-5 for the year.

BUC NOTES: Lots to say here guys - George Wallace missed the Paramus bout due to another contest with the injury bug. The big guy's right knee will be tested for a diagnosis, hopefully a minor one... The County Athletic Director's Tournament was won by St. Benedict's this past weekend. The tournament was missing, guess who, US! - Sort of like running a Super Bowl tournament and leaving the Giants out of the field or not inviting the heavyweight champion to a round robin involving the best fighters in the world. What a joke, really!... Answer to last week's Trivia question - Heavyweight Harold Avalone was the first BHS wrestler to win a varsity tournament title. He won the Montclair Christmas tourney gold medal in the 1964-65 season. Back then, we were the Bellboys, remember?

Wrestler of the week goes to Tommy Pontrella for his inspirational match against St. Joe's Anthony Riotto and his crucial win over Paramus' Mike Mulligan... Trivia Question of the Week: How many BHS wrestlers have had more than one undefeated dual meet season? Remember, state sectional matchups are dual meets! See you next week!

Talmadge leads Bucs to two victories

By Mike Lamberti

Troy Talmadge scored 61 points in three games last week, helping the Belleville boys' basketball team to two victories and a near miss in a third game. The two victories boosted Belleville's season record to 6-10. Don Roll's troops battled St. Joe's last Tuesday. Tomorrow afternoon, Bloomfield comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. It's the only time this season that the Bucs and Bengals will meet. Next Tuesday, the Bucs travel to Paramus, also at 4 p.m.

The week started with a 63-53 victory over league rival Paramus Catholic. The Bucs then lost a 57-45 decision to Teaneck in a game that Roll felt was Belleville's for the taking. Last Saturday afternoon, the Bucs rolled past St. Aloysis, 86-66.

"I was encouraged by our performances last week," Roll said. "The game with Teaneck was ours. We just missed too many layups. We came out tentative, probably because the last time we played them (a 49 point Teaneck win in January at Belleville), we were blown out. This time, we played more to our ability and could have won it."

In the Paramus game, Belleville jumped out to an early lead and never looked back.

The Bucs used a balanced scoring attack in the first quarter to open a 17-9 lead. Sal Straface scored five in the quarter and Talmadge and Dennis DeWork scored four each. Jim DuHaime and Art Caruso tallied two each to account for the first quarter points.

Paramus Catholic whittled at the lead in the second and third quarters and trailed by five points, 42-37 heading into the final frame. There, the Bucs put it away, outscoring P.C. 21-16 and winning by ten points.

Talmadge led Belleville with 21 points. DeWork scored 14, DuHaime finished with 11, Straface scored ten and Caruso closed with seven points.

"We started out quickly in that game," Roll said of the P.C. game. "It was an important win, because we needed to get back on the track in league play."

Belleville also snapped a four game losing streak by beating P.C. Versus Teaneck, Belleville needed a strong game, for pride sake if nothing else. As mentioned, Teaneck rolled by Belleville by an incredible 49 points at Belleville in January and after that game, Roll expressed his displeasure with his club's lack of concentration.

This time, the Bucs played a solid defensive game and kept the High-

Girls' basketball drops two

By Mike Lamberti

Girls' basketball coach Karen Fuccello figured this would be a tough week for her young team when she first looked at the schedule some time last spring. Her intuition was right on the money, as the Lady Bucs lost decisions to NNJIL rivals Paramus Catholic 55-29 and Teaneck, 66-27.

The Lady Bucs took a 3-13 record into last Monday's game with Columbia. Last Tuesday, the girls battled Clifton. Belleville will not play again until next Tuesday, when Paramus comes to town for a 4 p.m. game.

In the Paramus Catholic game, Belleville stayed close for the first half, trailing 10-5 after one quarter and 22-13 at halftime. P.C. broke it open in the third quarter by outscoring Belleville 17-9, then coasted home with a 16-7 fourth quarter advantage.

Liz Ramirez continued her strong play by scoring 14 points. Jennifer Abrams, Adrienne Walsh and Yanina Calvi scored four each. Danielle DeWork had two and Mary Campbell scored one point.

Belleville shot 5 for 14 from the free throw line. Against Teaneck, the results were pretty much the same, although the Highwaywomen put the game away early, outscoring Belleville 22-6 in the first quarter.

It was Teaneck's 12th straight victory over Belleville, dating back to the 1983-84 campaign.

DeWork led Belleville with eight points. Colleen Mannion and Ramirez scored seven each, Calvi and Abrams scored two each and Walsh had one point.

Belleville didn't help itself from the foul line, where the Lady Bucs shot a poor 8 for 26.

"It was definitely a learning week," Fuccello, a veteran coach of 19 years said. "Poor foul shooting will not help. It's a matter of concentration, those shots are free-be's. In the close games, the foul shooting usually decides the outcome."

On Jan. 22, Livingston visited Belleville and our wrestlers walked them 87-6, notching a season-high of 12 pins. Wrestlers recording pins were: Tim Hands, Anthony Conte, Frank Zarro, Luke Cardinale, Keith Hands, John Perna, Chris Zarro, Jim Palo, Anthony Frantantoni, Jorge Hernandez, John Spina and Ed Miranda.

Back on the road the boys traveled to Milburn and scored a 72-18 victory with 9 pins. The pins were scored by A. Conte, Zarro, L. Cardinale, K. Hands, J. Perna, Hernandez, Dominic Tafari, J. Spina and Tom Havercik.

In six matches the Recreation variety wrestlers outscored their opponents by 434 to 96 with 46 pins. Record 6-0.

In the J.V./Novice level, a match in Caldwell produced similar results with nine boys scoring pins:

All in the Family

Currently, there are four family combinations wrestling recreation and High School variety:

Recreation

Tim and Keith Hands, Anthony Conte, Luke Cardinale, Adrian Cruz.

High School

This year, some new teams are vying for the crown. As mentioned, Scott is back in the running after missing out on the county Final Four for the past six years. Immaculate will be very tough, as their current undefeated record will indicate.

Livingston, which has never won the crown, is a third seed and West Side of Newark, who also has never won the title, is a fourth seed.

Bloomfield is seeded eighth, but the Lady Bengals are journey tough and should provide a tough challenge. Bloomfield and Montclair Immaculate are playing each other this weekend in an early matchup.

The semis and finals will be contested at West Essex High School this year. If you get the time, stop by and see the tourney. There will be some fine talent on display.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

Max McGee scored the first touchdown in the history of the Super Bowl. That game was played at the L.A. Coliseum. Willie Wood intercepted a pass in the third quarter of the game to break open a close game. Green Bay led 14-0 at the time, but the interception led to an easy score and the Packers breezed to a 35-0 victory.

DuHaime, Caruso, Straface, DeWork lead Bucs over P.C.

warymen on their heels for most of the game.

Teanek's best quarter was the first, when the Highwaymen opened a 12-6 lead. It was 27-20 at halftime and 39-31 after three quarters.

"I keep thinking of those missed layups and missed shots in the paint," Roll said. "I know we're as good as them and I know when our kids play to their ability, they can compete with any team in this league."

Talmadge led Belleville again, this time with 17 points. DeWork scored 12, Straface finished with seven, DuHaime scored six and Caruso had three.

Against St. Al's last Saturday at Belleville High, the Buc offense was in high gear as the team scored a season high 86 points.

The Bucs jumped out early, taking a 22-8 first quarter lead which ballooned to 42-24 by halftime.

It was 67-48 after three, with the final score of 86-66 looking quite decisive. However, Roll pointed out that looks can indeed be quite deceiving.

"I never felt we had the game under control," the coach said. "Even when we were up by 20, there was that feeling that we hadn't put it away."

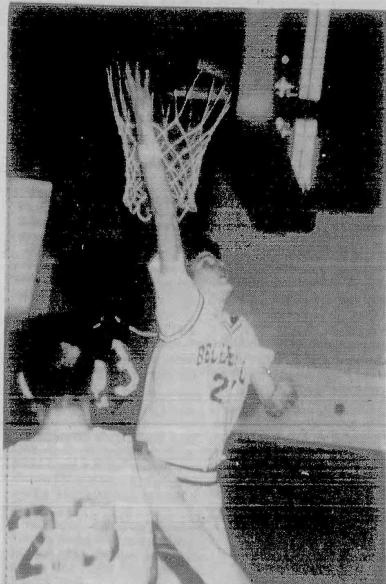

St. Al's did cut the lead to eight points in the second quarter, but the Bucs answered any challenge with a solid offensive game.

Ten Belleville players entered the scoring column in the contest, with Talmadge leading the way with 23 points. DeWork scored 16, DuHaime had 13, Straface tallied 12. Caruso played a solid game, finishing with 11, Ken Johansen scored three and Mike Kimball, Mike Vista, Bryant Jimenez and Marco Furman scored two points each.

The Bucs' objective for the remainder of the season is capturing a .500 season. In order to do that, the team will need to win five of its final six games.

"We'd like to finish the season strong," Roll said. "We've lost three games this year by one point each. Maybe we can take a few of the close ones down the stretch."

Belleville's Troy Talmadge has the advantage over St. Aloysius defender for layup during last Saturday's game. Talmadge led Bucs in scoring in all three games last week.

Buc's Art Caruso looks for operating room during recent game with St. Al's. Caruso, recovering from a knee injury, was in strong form against St. Al's, scoring 11 points and directing the offense well.

Belleville's Dennis DeWork is airborne for two of his 16 points during last Saturday's game with St. Aloysius. Bucs won game 86-66 to improve season record to 6-10. (Photos by Michele Suchomel)

Must I file a Tax Return?

Whether you must file a tax return generally depends on whether your income reaches the gross income filing requirement amount for your marital status and age, according to Bert Tobia, District Manager of H & R Block.

- You may also be required, or want to file a return if:
- You qualify for an Earned Income Credit
- You have a refund due. You have to file if you want to obtain your refund.
- You owe additional taxes.

According to Tobia, keep in mind that even though a federal return is not required, you may be required to file a state or local return.

If you have any questions, contact your local H & R Block office or call Tobia at 365-0999.

Local retailer pitching in

By Bob Leblin

Everywhere you look today, we see countless different objects for sale supporting our troops in the Persian Gulf. But did you ever wonder what happens to the money you pay to these people to show your support?

Tom Torsello, President of Scholastic Awards and Screen Printing of Bloomfield and a sponsor of OBC-TV high school sports, had that same thought as he heard from many people who wanted him to print shirts for them to sell.

"When I saw that the people wanted to profit from the war, it really bothered me," he said. "So my partner Jack Farrell and myself set out to do something about it."

What they did was find a group to which they could donate the proceeds from the sale of some specially made shirts. They also decided they would charge a fee to everyone who bought the shirts and use that toward the donation. Finally after about a week of calling everybody imaginable, they hit pay dirt.

"We had been selling these shirts which we designed right out of our store like crazy," Torsello noted. "The funny part was that we couldn't find anyone who would take the money. They were all afraid to touch it."

The group that will receive the profits from the sale of the shirts is: Fort Dix Chaplains Fund For Family Assistance Program P.O. Box 11 Fort Dix, NJ 08640 c/o Linda Hentnik - Sponsorship Chairman about the cause they immediately offered to help us in any way possible," Torsello said. "Arnie Ziem went out of his way to let us talk about this cause on TV as well as donate the space in the newspaper to tell about our work. Orechio Publications has really turned this into a community project."

"When we approached OBC

Anyone interested in purchasing shirts, either singly or in quantity can call Scholastic Awards and Screen Printing at 743-5200, 24 hours a day.

Crecco decries bargaining bill

Assemblywoman Marion Crecco has announced her opposition to legislation which would expand the scope of negotiations in public sector collective bargaining.

The bill, A-3181, has drawn opposition from municipalities throughout New Jersey because of the limitations the bill places on local governments.

"The main problem with the legislation is that it restricts the number of illegal subjects for negotiations and narrows the definition of confidential employees," explained Crecco. "The bill would permit the unionization of such employees and the ramifications to townships are increased costs."

Crecco explained the bill could lead to an increased dependence on private contractors for basic municipal services.

A-3181 is currently under consideration in the Assembly Labor Committee.

Assemblywoman Crecco is serving her third term in the General Assembly representing Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Nutley and Verona in suburban Essex County.

Century 21 Stanford Agency awards Superior Service

Century 21 Stanford Agency salutes exceptional sales associates who gave superior service and achieved remarkable success in 1990.

At a recent celebration, Nina Kaeser, broker of Century 21 Stanford Agency, presented annual awards to Michael Hawley (not pictured), Barbara Rambaldi, Marie Towey, and Louis Fusaro.

Michael Hawley, a Bloomfield resident and real estate agent for five years was awarded No. 1 gross closed commissions and No. 1 seller (most sales closed).

Barbara Rambaldi, a Belleville resident and real estate agent for four years was awarded No. 3 gross closed commissions and No. 1 seller (most sales closed, tied with Hawley).

Marie Towey, a Bloomfield resident and real estate agent for two years was awarded a new award for the company. Marie received Part Timer of the Year. She gave outstanding service and closed a record number of transactions for a part timer with the company.

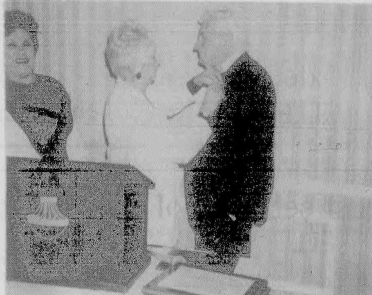

Louis Fusaro, a Nutley resident and real estate agent for four years was presented with the largest number of awards, being No. 2 gross closed commissions, No. 1 Prospector (most listings obtained), No. 1 Lister (most listings sold), On Track Award (annual award for greatest team spirit, best attendance at office meetings, Board of Realtor activity, highest ratio of selling company listings).

Mr. Fusaro was also presented with the most prestigious award given by the company. Salesperson of the Year is an annual award given to the individual with the most transactions closed, the most listings sold and the highest ratio of sales brought to closing.

Nina Kaeser, broker at Century 21 Stanford Agency said, "Our company has made an absolute commitment to legendary service to our clients and customers, and these awards are one way of recognizing our agent's dedication."

She went on to say, "The entire Century 21 Stanford Agency team salutes these sales associates for their service and remarkable success in 1990."

Patrick Meoli of Bloomfield was the newest inductee of the Board of Realtors Quarter Century Club. Here he receives his pin from Marge Monaco, as Lucietta Monteleone looks on.

Jay Baumgardner, Chairman of R.P.A.C. (Realtor Political Action Committee) and Lucietta Monteleone each hold Awards won from NJAR for third place early money contest and 3rd place for per capita donations.

Nina Kaeser, Community Service Committee Chairman, holds an award from NJAR (New Jersey Association of Realtors) for the 1990 Committee Projects Scrapbook. The scrapbook won 1st place. Flanking here are Lucietta Monteleone and Marge Monaco.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

For light and privacy, one couple built a glass-brick wall in their bathroom. Because it faces west, the wall glows at sunset.

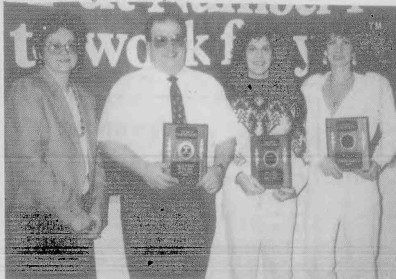

If a fireplace smokes, it often means that the flue lining inside the chimney is too small for the fireplace opening onto the room. This can be corrected most easily by installing an extra row of firebrick along the walls or on the bottom to make the opening smaller.

Philodendron is a large family of houseplants that manage to thrive even where there isn't much light. Potted plants with small leaves are related to the giant growths with tattered edges and holes.

If a nail protrudes from wallboard, here's what to do: Drive in a new nail into the stud, then remove the old nail or drive it in deeper. Fill both depressions with spackling or joint compound.

A place in the sun — Even if your home doesn't have a real porch, you can create one in a sunny room. Use light furniture like wicker, plus plants and other sunny accessories.

Want your own "place in the sun"? Let us help you find the right home for your family and your lifestyle. See the pros at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
