Planning board, Newark Light approach variance settlement

By Mike Lazorchak

After more than a year of negotiations, it appears Newark Light Company will be granted a variance from the planning board to expand its Washington Avenue facility. The settlement is not final yet and residents of Floyd Street, located behind the building, still object to the variance.

The original application, filed under the previous planning board, was denied. According to board attorney Tom DiBiasi, Newark Light filed an appeal with the Superior Court Law Division.

The litigation hearing with the planning board is "a procedure for settling a case before it is actually tried," DiBiasi said.

DiBiasi said a special meeting has been scheduled Feb. 28 to summarize the settlement reached during the Feb. 14 meeting.

Planning board chairman Richard Dombrowski confirmed concessions were discussed at the meeting and everything needs to be consolidated and reviewed.

"Once we reduce the testimony to a summary we need to be sure all the conditions agreed upon are included," Dombrowski said.

It took almost one and a half hours of closed negotiations between the board, residents and Newark Light to arrive at the concessions.

However, residents of Floyd Street believe the settlement is unjust. Although DiBiasi said the concessions made by Newark Light "could be in the best interest of Belleville," the objectors believe their primary concern, a 50 foot setback from their property, was not addressed.

"I thought the decision was unfair because they completely skirted the issue of the 50 foot setback," one resident said.

The concessions released by DiBiasi were:

- Better buffering and screening.

$750,000 in the hole

By Mike Lazorchak

Belleville town officials began preparation of the 1991 municipal budget amidst concerns of three unanticipated appropriations which could exceed $750,000.

A first draft of this year's budget, the first under the new administrative code, should be viewed by the council this week, according to treasurer Izzy Padula.

Although many figures are not available yet, Town Manager Bertrand Kendall identified the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission increase, the large refunds for tax appeals and environmental concerns as high-priced appropriations facing Belleville.

The appropriation for the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission is the result of state legislation banning ocean dumping of treated sewage, as of March 17. The federal ban does not take effect until Dec. 31.

The sewage must be brought to a sludge dewatering facility and disposed as solid waste.

"Belleville is not the only municipality hurt by this," Kendall said. "It affects all 30 towns in the system."

Kendall estimated it could increase last year's million-dollar sewer contract by another $400,000.

The exact dollar amount for tax appeals will not be known until judgements are handed down by the state. Appeals filed to the county reached $356,000 in refunds.

The environmental concerns relate to the pile of debris at the public works yard. Kendall is still waiting for a response from the state Department of Environmental Protection regarding Belleville's proposed clean-up plan.

If the plan, designed to reduce cost by using town employees and equipment, is rejected Kendall estimates it would cost $100,000 for a private contract.

Further complicating this budget season, Kendall said, is proposed state legislation to change the budget year to six months.

The bill is an attempt to synchronize the municipal fiscal year with the state fiscal year.

The good news for Belleville is Kendall expects to gain revenue through an aggressive attempt to sell unused town property.

"We have two parcels of land up for sale that could bring in several hundred thousand dollars," Kendall said.

Officials wrestle with budget

Resident charged in attack

Police reported a verbal argument between residents of a boarding house, 72 Academy St., escalated into an alleged aggravated assault which left the victim in the intensive care unit of Columbus Hospital in Newark.

Thomas Dockery, 18, has been charged with aggravated assault and is being held by Belleville police on $75,000 cash bail according to Sgt. Edgar Panier of the Detective Bureau. Sgt. Joe Tortorello reported a juvenile, 15, is also a suspect and has been sent to a youth house.

The victim, Thomas Keeler, 21, is reported by Panier to be in fair condition after being transferred from intensive care to the trauma ward Monday morning.

The alleged attack occurred 11:15 a.m. Friday, Feb. 15, according to police reports.

Keeler suffered two jaw fractures, a fractured right foot, an orbital fracture just beneath the eye and multiple lacerations requiring sutures on his chest, back and face, Panier reported. Doctors are also waiting for results of neurological tests to see if brain damage occurred.

"With his injuries he's lucky to be alive," Panier said.

According to the police report, the alleged assault took place in the general living quarters of the boarding house. Keeler ran from the house and was chased by one of the suspects until he reached Washington Avenue.

Keeler proceeded to the police headquarters, reported the incident and was transported to the hospital.

"The aggravated assault is one charge short of murder with the way they beat him," Tortorello said putting the alleged assault into perspective.

Baby Bellevillite battles severe heart condition

by Mike Lazorchak

Keith and Maureen Jaret left the concrete jungle of Manhattan and came to Belleville hoping to raise a family in a hometown atmosphere. Maureen wanted their daughter, Megan, to grow up in safer environment with a yard where she could play. Neither she nor her husband knew Megan's life would be endangered by something they could not control.

Megan suffers from myocarditis, an inflammation of the heart, and will need a heart transplant.

Born just shy of one year ago, Feb. 26, 1990, she appeared to be a healthy baby.

"About three weeks later I noticed her breathing was a little strange," Maureen said, "but everybody reassured us that all babies have their little rough spots."

On March 23, the Jarets concern grew and they admitted Megan to Clara Maass Medical Center.

The next day the pediatrician noticed her breathing was extremely labored and decided to call a cardiologist. Dr. Milton Prystowsky had her transferred to United Hospital Medical Center in Newark.

It was there Megan was diagnosed with myocarditis, but a transplant was not yet considered necessary.

"They wanted to try medication first to see if they could control it," Maureen said.

Ten days later Megan was allowed to return home. Keith and Maureen administered the medication and devoted countless hours helping Megan regain her strength.

"It was difficult for her just to gain weight," Maureen said. "It took a month for her to gain one pound."

For the next six months everything progressed as expected until Oct. 7.

"We have the monitors in the room and we heard a strange, eerie cry," Maureen recalled with vivid detail.

"Keith picked her up and everything just went limp. Then she stopped breathing."

Maureen took her from Keith as he rushed to call 911 and the doctor. He returned to give Megan mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

"I could hear the sirens in the distance and it seemed like it took forever for them to get here," Maureen said with her hands clasped together.

"She looked gray, the doctors called it blue, but she was gray."

On route to the hospital Megan's heart stopped and a Mobile Intensive Care Unit met the ambulance. The paramedics were forced to defibrillate (restart) her heart before reaching the hospital.

Once stabilized, Megan was transported from Clara Maass to United Hospital. It was there doctors determined she would probably need a transplant.

After five days, they brought Megan to St. Christopher Children's Hospital in Philadelphia and she was placed on the list for a transplant Oct. 20.

Then, results of an electroencephalogram (EEG), which tests brain wave activity, indicated Megan had irreparable brain damage. She was taken off the list.

"Everything went fine, and then, right before they discharge her, we're told she would never walk or talk again," Maureen said.

The Jarets refused to give up and hired a physical therapist, Alice Johnson, to work with Megan.

Three and a half months later, Megan has been placed back on a transplant list Feb. 11 at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York. An EEG done on Jan. 9 showed Megan's brain activity pro-

Iceberg Team takes fifth in Klondkike Derby

On a cold January day, 13 teams competed in the 43rd Annual Garret Mountain Klondike Derby which was held for the Yanticaw District of Essex Council. The ideal weather conditions included snow on the ground for the first time in three years and weather cold enough to keep the snow frozen. The Golden Eagles team from Troop 147, Nutley, sponsored by Franklin Reformed Church, captained by Star Scout Marc Gingerelli, captured first place, the 10th consecutive victory by a Troop 147 team. This is the 28th Klondike Derby won by Troop 147 and the 20th first place finish in the 26 derbies (an unprecedented winning percentage of 77%) during Al C. Welenofsky's tenure as Scoutmaster of Troop 147.

The Klondike Derby is based on the 1898 Yukon Gold Rush. Teams of 8 scouts ranging in age from 10 to 15, pull a 50 pound sledge loaded with various pieces of equipment around Garret Mountain going to different "towns" and performing a different set of scout skills at each town. The boys are awarded points for the starting race up the hill, finding their correct first town and time it takes to complete the course (there are 10 stations). They also earn points for successfully completing the scout skills and tests at the stations. These tests include fire building using flint and steel, using a compass to follow a course in the field, knowledge of first aid, knots and lashings and American history, as well as a fun event, a dart throw at a target of Klondike A's image.

Other scouts on the winning Golden Eagles team this year were Ryan Landrigan, J.J. Bocchiaro, Aaron Stoddard, Chris Tyrpak, Rich Goldrick Jr. and Nick Fagioli. The Bear-Haw team, also from Troop 147, came in second place. Their captain was Mike Dokachev who was assisted by team members Joe Smith, David Reilly, Danny Parabough, Jason Chick, Jason Quinn, Sami Shaban and Scott Beckman.

The Little Warriors from Troop 2, Bloomfield, came in third place. Jeff Jeremias served as captain and was assisted by Ken Lawrence, Ray Bielski, Trevor O'Donnell, Joey Taylor, Adonis Dacasin, Jeremy Dimingo and Robbie Hook. In fourth place, the Icebergs team, was from Belleville Troop 301. Captained by Sung-Bok Lee, the scouts assisting in the race were: Ruben Scolavino, Mike Sobanko, Tim Sobanko, Mark Beverly, Chris Marin and Anthony Prantantoni.

The fifth place team also from Troop 147, Stephen Rizzi, the captain of the Frigid Bardot team was assisted by James Puertherm and Adam Reid, recent Webelos scout from Pack 141 who joined Troop 147 in January, and three scouts from Troop 22, Bloomfield: Louis Venezia, Mike Boden and Jude Ravo. The scouts from Troop 22 joined the team on the day of the derby.

The first through fifth place teams received a trophy for their performance. Every team received a ribbon of participation.

Other Nutley units which participated were Troop 142, and Webelos Scouts from Pack 148; other Bloomfield units participating were Troop 14 and Troop 23; other Belleville units which participated were Troop 312, Troop 350 and Troop 307.

For the fifth consecutive year, "Klondike" Al Welenofsky served as Governor of the Klondike Derby and was responsible for organizing the event. He was assisted by his Lieutenant Governor "Yukon" Mike X. Groome Sr. Other volunteers who served as mayors or assisted at headquarters were New Jersey State Trooper Frank Cordero Jr., Anthony Malanga Jr., Frank Ventura Jr., Jim Quinn Jr., Jim Balma, Michael Groome Jr., Gerard Tusa, Christopher Wentworth, Joseph Gibaldi, Phil Tusa, and Paul Arenis of Troop 147, Nutley, Bob and Diana Bochantin of Bloomfield, Jeff Fulton of Troop 23, Bloomfield and Scott Wentworth of Troop 350, Belleville. Special thanks once again to Dave Hill and his assistants from Troop 350, Belleville, for manning the road crew during the Derby. These key staff members were assisted by several leaders and junior leaders from the various troops which participated.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The most maligned war weapons of the 1980s have become the most proficient, marvelous war weapons of the 1990s. What skeptics sought to scrap or curb have now become the technological superiority of the war against Iraq... proving high tech works. The supersophisticated systems are the four S's — stealth, sea-launched cruise missiles, SDI-like defenses and space systems. These four rest on the fifth S, emiconductors. As it turns out, the emiconductors not only work, but save lives — our lives, by dramatically reducing hits on our aircraft, and Israeli and Saudi lives by reducing hits of their homes. They also save Iraqi lives because they enable the kind of precision that limits civilian casualties.

Advances in military wizardry have been awesome, altering the arithmetic of armed assault. Norman R. Augustine, chairman of Mart in Marietta calculates that from the Civil War through the Vietnam War, it took from 10,000 to 100,000 rounds of rifle fire to produce a single enemy casualty. And it took some five tons of air munitions, or three tons of artillery, to destroy a single target.

Precision munitions now enable our troops, for the first time, to both identify and hit the right target in a few tries. First came "smart weapons," which our forces need to keep aimed during their entire flight. Then came today's generation of "brilliant weapons," which troops need only shoot in the right general direction. The sensors and minicomputers of a "brilliant weapon" can tell whether it's spotting a tank, tree or bridge, and then guide it to the preselected target. Remarkable film has shown how "brilliant weapons" can hit an Iraqi building on the roof or enter through the front door. We may shortly see how they can clobber an enemy tank on the top of the turret.

Now deemed godsend, each of the four S's were once deemed peripheral, wasteful or even vena. The "defense reform movement," so fashionable a decade ago, stressed quantity over quality and urged that we procure more weapons of less capability. We've now learned how much quality counts. The initial waves of American assaults were conducted by some of our most badly maligned military merchandise — Stealth aircraft and sea-launched cruise missiles (SLCMs). Stealth aircraft, which evade enemy radar, enable us to hit Iraqi anti-aircraft systems quickly and hard.

These most maligned weapons systems of the 1980s are now a godsend. The Iraqi Scud attacks have shown how valuable the antiballistic-missile capabilities of the Patriots are. The public has grasped the message that antiballistic-missile capabilities are valuable. They can work, especially against the kind of Third World threat we're likely to face, rather than against an all-out Soviet missile attack.

And the last S — space systems — have been sneeringly called "spysatellites" each time there's an unexplained launch from Cape Canaveral. Yet these dastardly-sounding devices helped furnish superb tactical intelligence on Iraqi nuclear, chemical and other military sites.

Yet even satellites and other intelligence assets have their limits. Our efforts to locate mobile Scud missiles in Iraq — a country around the size of California — prove that efforts to spot all strategic missiles in the Soviet Union — a nation that spans all time zones — is utterly impossible. Years of arms controllers' claims that mobile missiles can be precisely counted have proven myopic.

None-the-less, the masterful development of the cryptic, esoteric weapons of war during the 1980s Star-wars period are now serving our armed forces well in the Persian Gulf battles against Iraq by neutralizing their modern lethal weapons of modern warfare, which ruthlessly subjects noncombatants to the same horrors of war as the military personnel.

Safety topic at ward meeting

Residents of Belleville's 2nd Ward gathered at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon St., Feb. 13 for Deputy Mayor Frank Caputo's second monthly ward meeting. Caputo implemented the informal get-togethers in January to open the lines of communication between people and government.

"The goal for these meetings is to educate, inform, listen and work together," Caputo told the crowd of 40 residents.

In addition to an open forum of question and answer, Caputo scheduled a guest speaker for each meeting.

Fire Chief Walter Beresford spoke about fire safety and prevention. He also answered questions ranging from fire hydrants to proper fire evacuation procedure.

Caputo invited Chief of Police George Lister to speak at the next meeting, scheduled for March 13 at the Recreation House.

A family separated by the war in the Gulf

Laura and Frank Pizzi met while stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia and married seven years ago. Both career Army, they expected to see many different parts of the country if not the world. What they didn't expect was that both would be deployed to Saudi Arabia as part of Operation Desert Storm and that their two children, Frank Jr., six and Joelle, two, would be sent north to Frank's native Belleville to live with his parents, Rose and Mike Pizzi.

Frank, assigned to the Signal Corps, was teaching a computer class at Fort Gordon when word came last August that he was being sent to the Persian Gulf. Laura, whose job includes routing equipment and classifying new troops, left a few days after Thanksgiving. She had joined the reserves after the birth of their first child. The couple last saw each other at the beginning of January when they had lunch at a Saudi Burger King. They were screened from the Saudi customers because, in that culture, women must be covered up.

In a recent letter to the children, Laura said, "Mommy and Daddy miss you both, Frankie, keep doing good in school, and Joelle, I hope you're potty trained by the time we come home."

As for Rose and Mike, becoming surrogate parents again after years as grandparents, they are proud of their son and daughter-in-law and only hope that "they get the job done and get home soon."

OUR OPINION

Supporting the War

We never thought of ourselves as philosophically attuned to President George Bush, but it is evident to us now that his instant determination to stop Saddam Hussein for his taking Kuwait was absolutely essential.

The similarities, as he and others have noted, between the events now occurring and those happening during the 1930s are so compelling as to be eerie.

Back then, as a way of justifying his ambitions, Hitler laid claims to lands surrounding Germany in the name of a "mystically pure" Aryan race having the right to Lebensraum, or living space.

That was a rather mythical concept rooted more in legend and song than in reality, and even though it neglected the record of how different peoples moved across borders for centuries, it was sellable to the Germans, who only in the latter half of the 19th century were nudged away from feudalism.

Similarly, in Iraq and elsewhere in the Middle East, the driving religious-nation concept is Moslem-Arabic; the notion being that despite such national boundaries as Iraq, Iran, Saudi Arabia, and Kuwait, loyalty belongs to the Moslem religion as a part of the Arabic nation.

And while there may be a greater historical justification for the Moslem-Arabic ideal than for a mythical Aryan race, we cannot allow that fact to prevent us from putting Hussein back in his box.

For while there may be a basic religious unity at work here, there has ever been factional and leadership differences, and inevitably this has meant a constant state of war.

However unlikely the similarities, each ruler considered himself a budding 12th century Saladin.

But even the unity he achieved was short-lived.

Hussein sees himself as that Egyptian Sultan tossed up in the 20th century, and like him considers it his mission to expell non-Moslems—in that like the Crusaders.

And therein lies his power.

In September 1938 Hitler finessed the allies with the promise of peace, but got in return the right to mess in Czechoslovakia and in addition scooped up a portion of the Sudetenland.

Hussein was on his way to a similar coup when he moved on Kuwait, and attempted to offer it up to the allies as a "fait accompli".

Bush and other leaders, however, knew enough about history to recognize what was really happening.

Neville Chamberlain, in Munich in 1938, had no such recognizable precedent and relied on trust and diplomacy, and arrived back in England waiving a piece of paper in one hand and an umbrella in the other while mouthing a lot of trash about "peace in our time".

Some peace—in March 1939, some six months after that shameful Munich pact, and without even a cursory to the other signers, he completed the partition of Czechoslovakia. German troops poured into Prague while Moravia and Bohemia were made dependencies of the Third Reich.

Just then, Hungary seized the Ruthenian province of the Carpatho-Ukraine.

Hitler bullied Lithuania into giving up Memel then began a vitriolic campaign against Poland charging that it was committing atrocities against the German minority.

When in April 1939, Chamberlain belatedly recast British foreign policy, much of the damage had been done.

This is why Bush and the remaining allies were correct in what they did; they understood what had happened and what was about to happen, and acted accordingly.

Had the allies not moved, it is possible Saudi Arabia, Turkey, the U.A.E., Jordan and Iran, with their resources and military supplies, would now be claimed by Iraq.

And this is why we support the President, the U.N. decision, and most assuredly the nation's men and women there—the men and women from our town.

YOUR OPINION

Responsibility, efficiency not proven

To the editor:

I would like to relate a mini-saga which I think has implications for the entire town of Belleville concerning just what kind of response we can expect from our local government. My home is adjacent to a property owned by the town of Belleville, which is also responsible for its maintenance and upkeep. Some of our more unscrupulous residents feel that this is a convenient place to dump leaves or whatever trash they do not want cluttering their yards, to hell with their fellow residents who then have to look at the mess. This is besides the point, as Belleville seems to harbor a larger number of careless individuals who see nothing wrong with this type of behavior than the Passaic County community I recently moved from. I accept it as just another cost of living in Belleville, along with outrageous taxes, and a dilapidated central business district that gets worse looking with each passing month. What truly angers me is the complete lack of response and uncaring attitude displayed by our Public Works Department, whose job it is to maintain public lands.

Sometime near the end of January, it seems that one local resident just could not be bothered disposing of or even looking at an old mattress any longer and decided to dump it at curbside in the vacant lot next door to mine. Being outraged by this blight to the neighborhood, I immediately called the D.P.W. where a very curt, some might say rude, secretary named Maureen Gilbert told me that the D.P.W. was not that kind of person at the present time and it would remain until sometime in mid-February, which at the time was approximately 3 weeks away. Aghast, I asked what if this debris were on the road, would it then remain for 3 weeks? In an annoyed tone she told me that it would be pushed to the side of the curb, where it would remain for 3 weeks. This truly floored me. The town that I pay over $500.00 per month in taxes to was basically saying that they cared so little about its appearance, they were willing to let debris sit in a residential neighborhood for three weeks. After verbalizing this thought to her, this "public servant" hung up the phone on me. I called the engineering department next and was given an assurance that it was indeed outrageous to have debris lying around for that length of time and a "work order" would be filled out to have it removed. One week later, the mattress still lying there, I called back the engineering department and the once helpful individual who placed the first work order was obviously annoyed that I expected it to be fulfilled within 1 week. I was passed on to a secretary who said she would place another work order. Days later, the mattress remained and I called again. This time another work order was placed and the mattress picked up within four days.

Drop the bomb

To the editor:

Many people are wondering why George Bush and his advisors don't drop the "A" bomb on Saddam Hussein and end the war.

When and if a racial like Hussein had the bomb, I think he would use it before us.

When President Truman dropped it on Japan in World War II, he shortened the war and saved millions of lives, both American and Japanese.

I back the President on the Persian Gulf affair, but I question his methods. When the enemy has you by the throat, it's up to you to bounce back and give your best. Let's drop the bomb and bring our men and women back home.

Lodge records sought

To the editor:

At the time of her death on Oct. 24, 1944, my grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Esther (Frank) Garabrant of Nutley, was a member of Sons and Daughters of Liberty No. 215 in Belleville.

I am attempting to research family and am in the hopes someone will know where the records of this lodge can be located. I have written to the registrar in Stroudsburg, PA., with no response. Any information any of your readers might have on these records would be most appreciated.

Please contact me at 4727 Matterhorn Drive, Lilburn, GA. 30247.

John M. Shore

In summation, for a simple matter like removing an abandoned mattress on the town's property in the center of a residential neighborhood, it took a total of four phone calls and over two weeks time. For the privilege of this service I pay amongst the region's highest taxes. No wonder our central business district is so desolate, what business wants to put up with this kind of response from the town? What customer wants to shop amongst uncollected debris littering the sidewalks and streets? Especially in the face of uncaring indifference from the town itself.

As far as I am concerned, all this speculation about the new form of government ushering a new era of responsibility to the public and government efficiency is just that, speculation. Sadly, it appears that Belleville is more likely destined to continue on its downward spiral towards mediocrity and eventual urban decay while a business as usual attitude pervades in town hall. Most of the employees I dealt with could care less about the problem I described. They could not grasp the implications of the town's lack of action, the lack of pride and industry it conveys to its residents and visitors.

Find the better way

To the editor:

A year ago today, Edison's birthday, a suggestion was made to President Bush to follow Thomas Alva Edison's slogan in his decision pertaining to the tunnel from Wayne, New Jersey: There is a better way — Find it.

Now it is up to New Jersey to make sure that a better way is found and that the Army Corps of Engineers utilizes it. Otherwise, our children and their children will be in for catastrophic taxes. New Jersey will be paying state and federal taxes on this project.

That's progress???

Take heed, Mr. Ippolito

To the editor:

Please take heed Mr. Dan Ippolito

I read the letter Gabe Nazzola submitted in the Jan. 31st issue of the Belleville Times and this past Feb. 7th issue, I read yours.

The difference in IQs was very evident!

Gabe as anyone else has a right to an opinion — as you do — but because Gabe doesn't agree with your trend of thought, you lambast his ideas in the editorial column with your grade school rhetoric. Honestly your rebuttal was "For the birds", beyond "sing-song" as your "off the wall" saying.

As for Gabe's finely written letter, he has the qualifications of conveying his observations on an utmost intelligent, gentleman like fashion. Don't let it be said by anyone that I was prompted or cued by my statements here. I also have a right to my opinions, and an open mind.

As you crudely stated, "Let's straighten out and fly right or we'll go down the drain — kaput."

Why don't you practice what you imply? True, if we don't work together for our Township of Belleville, it certainly will have a destiny you speak of — as anyone with a bitter attitude such as yours is a hindrance to efforts of the ones that are trying to improve living conditions in Belleville.

Those "dang robots" you speak of — forget about them. They are a "hot item" in campaign speeches. They were mentioned in many past election speeches, and will be in upcoming election speeches. Hopefully someday, some future candidate will really keep the promise of fixing them.

Though the Council panel did not keep their campaign promises of "no pay," time will tell if they are worthy of that designated amount they allotted to themselves.

I attend town meetings and believe me, I wouldn't trade places with any member of that panel — what they are subjected to each meeting with beligerent challenges.

I think it's only fair that Her Honor Mayor Marina Perna as the others, should get paid.

Would you donate your time and services free of charge if you were elected to the panel?

I doubt it! So "can it" — Dan.

An after thought...

Pardon my pun, but you wouldn't hit first base as a journalist! Anna Rosa Mazur

Trees, Woodlots, and Forests — Take Action

By Ella F. Filippone
Executive Administrator,
Passaic River Coalition

Joyce Kilmer's poem "Trees" has always been an emotional treat! How void a life would be without a unique relationship with some tree in the world. Think for a moment of some special moment in your life, sitting under a tree, or watching birds, or just looking at the flowering trees in the spring or viewing the autumn colors.

Many of the municipalities within the Passaic River Basin and elsewhere have begun programs of replanting trees in their communities. Project ReLeaf is a joint venture between Hunterdon and Somerset Counties. They plan to plant 10,000 trees throughout the two counties during 1991.

The program was first started by the Raritan Valley Community College Students for Environmental Awareness in cooperation with leaders from business, professional and civic organizations, and private citizens.

The trees are to be planted around schools, hospitals, downtown shopping centers, and other public areas. They will be planting a variety of trees, including Douglas fir, Eastern white pine, sourwood, red oak (the New Jersey state tree), pin oak, sugar maple, and Eastern redbud.

This type of project is such an excellent way to restore the diversity of trees within a community, and it would be well to have more projects of this nature throughout New Jersey.

In addition, every municipality should have a tree ordinance, which prohibits the indiscriminate cutting of trees. It isn't always necessary to cut everything in sight when building a house. The saving of mature trees on new housing sites, and commercial and industrial properties enhances the value of the new development.

A recent study showed that since 1973, development of forest land for homes and business had accounted for more than a 50 percent loss of forest land. The fragmentation of forests is particularly harmful to wildlife. Forests have many benefits. Forested lands absorb pollutants, such as acid rain, which fall from the sky. Trees help purify the air, and provide habitat for many species. They provide shade, which can reduce air conditioning costs, and cool river and stream waters, providing habitat for fish.

Trees, forests, and woodlots are also effective natural nonpoint pollution elements, which help reduce and often treat man-made and natural pollution sources. Certain trees, such as the willows, maples, etc., are also valuable as participants in flood management.

Here in New Jersey publicly owned forest land is small. We do have some lands held in open space under the forestry component of farming by private homeowners. However, the acreage left in virgin timber is quickly disappearing. Thus on the long list of things to do to help the environment in New Jersey, we can add: (1) "Plant a tree!" (2) "Establish a ReLeaf Project!" and (3) "Save the Forest!"

Corps plans test holes to prepare for tunnel

Seeks to contact property owners

By Alfred Cook

Despite an estimated loss of some $300 billion in the Savings and Loan scandal, a looming recession, and an ongoing war that threatens to absorb billions more, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is taking the first concrete steps to build the controversial 19.5 mile flood tunnel designed to dump flood waters from the Upper Passaic River Basin into Newark Bay.

"The Corps is in the process of seeking permission from property owners for access to perform sub-surface explorations," said Phyllis Kronick, a spokesman for the Corps. "The Real Estate Division of the Corps has begun contacting property owners and may contact others in the future."

The Corps is trying to assess the geologic condition along the new tunnel route under Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, Montclair, Clifton, Kearny and Newark, she said of the proposed $1.33 billion project that will channel the excess water between 200 and 300 feet below ground.

"Basically, it's to confirm the nature of the rock and quality of the rock," said Ray Boc, another spokesman for the Corps, "the geology is fairly consistent."

Boc said the Corps plans to start the program, which will take over five years, within the next couple of months.

"There will be about seven or eight subsurface holes drilled in Nutley, up to 20 in Belleville, and up to 12 in Bloomfield," he said.

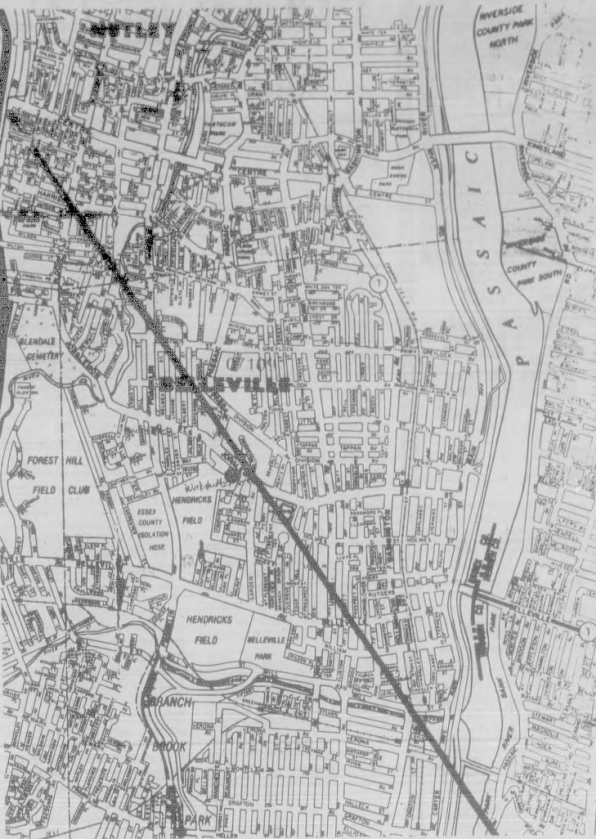

"Allowing the Corps access to perform exploratory drilling does not obligate the property owner in any way," said Kronick. "Property will be restored to its original condition upon completion of the work."

An earlier proposal would have carried the excess floodwaters to the Nutley-Clifton border, but vociferous complaints from residents on either side of the Passaic River prompted Rep. Robert Torricelli (D-NJ) to introduce an amendment that continued the tunnel on to Newark Bay.

Unlike the original proposal, the current plans do not call for the flood walls, dikes or nine miles of levees that would have blocked access to the riverside in Bergen and Essex counties. But by the same token, there will no longer be the protection against hurricanes.

"Subsurface explorations are just one of the means the Corps will be using to determine the best and most environmentally sound way to build the Passaic River Project," said Kronick.

An additional feature of the unpopular legislation, promoted by its chief sponsor, Rep. Robert Roe (D-NJ), provides New Jersey with credits toward its share of the cost, and places the financial responsibility for maintenance and operation with the federal government. But it will still cost the state $460 million according to the Corps fact sheet.

While that may make the project more palatable to New Jersey voters, it would be less acceptable to voters nationwide.

"All the people of the United States are going to be paying for the maintenance and operation of our tunnel," said Ella Filippone, chairman of the Passaic River Coalition, which has publicly opposed the tunnel solution for more than 10 years.

"It seems good for us now, but it sets a bad precedent. It means down the road we could be paying for other states' water resource projects," she added.

Youth support planned

Councilman Mario Drosdz and middle school teacher Jim Risoli are organizing a patriotic march for Belleville youth to show support for the troops. The proposed date is March 3 and the walk will originate at Belleville High School and wind up with a short ceremony at the Veterans Monument on Union Avenue.

Plans are being made to have student representatives speak at the ceremony.

Assisting in the coordination of the event are Maryann Lopreato, Belleville Home and School Associations and Barbara Tuck, who is planning the veteran participation in the ceremony.

The march will begin at 1 p.m.

Heart transplant needed

gressed to "almost normal," Maureen said.

"Maureen and Keith have followed the program beautifully," Johnson said. "It's proof of what parents can do for a child."

As if the ordeal to get Megan on a transplant list was not enough, the Jarets now face the wait for a donor.

"We worked so hard just to get her back on the list, just being there seems great," Maureen said. "But, when the call comes I don't know how I will react."

The Jarets are also faced with the astronomical cost of the medication, operation and therapy.

Scott Harvin, owner of Bell Press and friend of the family, has started the Megan Jaret Heart Fund. He has organized a variety of fundraisers including a roller skating night Feb. 27. He also plans to start a recycling program giving all proceeds to the fund.

"Scott has been tremendous, we will never be able to thank him enough," Maureen said.

However, the Jarets also emphasize the need for a donor.

Donors for babies are even harder to find because the trauma of losing a baby often prevents parents from allowing their baby to be a donor.

"All the money in the world won't do us any good if someone isn't willing to be a donor," Maureen said.

To make a donation please write the Megan Jaret Heart Fund, 49 Ralph St., Belleville, NJ 07109. Or call 759-2838.

Dr. Grundfest earns award

Warren S. Grundfest, M.D., Assistant Director of Surgery at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles, Ca., has received the Leon Goldman award for excellence in medical research.

This award, sponsored by the Laser Center of America, was presented at the plenary session of the International Society for Optical Engineering in Los Angeles Jan. 21. The award was given for the conception, development and implementation of an optimized system for excimer laser angioplasty. The research began in 1983 with a team of research scientists from Bell Laboratories, NASA Jet Propulsion Laboratory, and Cedars-Sinai Medical Center and has culminated in clinical application and FDA panel approval for this new treatment of heart disease.

Dr. Grundfest was the first to recognize and demonstrate the ability of pulsed ultra violet light to remove coronary arterial blockages with minimal damage to the adjacent vessel wall. The precision and accuracy of this system has permitted treatment of more than 1500 patients with coronary artery obstruction with a greater than 90% success rate. Unlike other techniques, the laser vaporizes the blockages and leaves a smooth vessel surface.

Dr. Grundfest is also an authority on laparoscopic and endoscopic techniques and is editor of the Journal of Laparoscopic Surgery. He was recently appointed Medical Director of Laser Research and Technology Development at Cedars-Sinai. He received his M.D. degree from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons and is a specialist in general surgery and interventional techniques. He was raised in Belleville and is a graduate of Passaic Collegiate High School. His parents, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Grundfest, are residents of Belleville.

Guest lectures cosmetology classes

By Amy La Coco

Anthony Rossi, a distributor of Abba hair products, recently lectured BHS cosmetology classes. Rossi demonstrated products with the help of Tracy, Grace and Andrea, shop operators employed by Beauregard Salon in Livingston.

Cosmetology students have now added one extra aspect to their curriculum. Every Monday and Tuesday during first and second period the cosmetology students will be given free haircuts to any student who has a study hall during those periods and wishes to have their hair cut.

New to BHS: Cosmetology Club

By Colleen Coppola

The Cosmetology Club, established this school year and advised by Lucille Cerreto, is open to all interested students and meets after school in the Cosmetology lab, room 254, on the first Monday of every month. Meetings last from one to two hours when a guest speaker addresses club members. The purpose of these educational meetings is to help students develop a well rounded background and additional knowledge in the evergrowing cosmetology profession. Each month the Cosmetology Club will feature a guest speaker/demonstrator to help keep the students up-to-date in the areas of nail, skin, and hair care.

In January, the guest speaker/demonstrator, Salvatore Minardi of "Ciro For Hair," a hair salon in Nutley, explained to students the procedures required for a client consultation prior to giving salon services. Minardi presented students with a film illustrating an overview of a typical day at his salon, followed by a practical demonstration of a long to short hair cut given by Anthony Accoli, a Minardi employee and a 1988 graduate of the BHS cosmetology program. Minardi illustrated, through the use of slides different hair styles and outlined procedures needed to achieve the newest looks of today.

In December, the guest speaker/demonstrator, Ann Marie Cerreto, a former BHS cosmetology student, presented the club with the newest forms of nail artistry. Cerreto specializes in free hand nail art. Cerreto demonstrated various Christmas and holiday designs with step-by-step instructions and techniques.

The Cosmetology Club officers are: Nicole Hughes, president; Ericka Fredricks, vice-president; Nicole Fitzgerald, secretary; Jennifer Zullo, treasurer. Thus far, all club members are female; however males are invited to join. Cosmetology Club meetings are announced through flyers and school announcements. All are invited to the next meeting!

BHS students visit C.P. Center

By Kim Dullaghan

On Friday, February 11, Mr. Christiano's classes, Art III and IV visited the Cerebral Palsy Center in Belleville to gain a better understanding and insight of this debilitating disease. Students from BHS will be competing in the logo contest for the annual CP Wheel-A-Thon.

Sanford Biber, the center's advisor, and his assistant led the classes on a tour of the center. "Mr. Biber and his assistant described the limitations and capabilities of cerebral palsy patients," Christiano said. "Some students were so interested that they wanted information on how to become a volunteer."

"I enjoyed the activities, such as football, that I observed involving cerebral palsy patients," Junior Stephanie De Vivo added.

"Going to the cerebral palsy center gave us ideas about the kinds of logos to make for the contests," stated Junior Frank Vitella.

Junior Pam Santora found the experience to be extremely informative.

Senior Renee Parrillo stated, "It was a heart wrenching experience to go there."

The Belleville High School News is a feature of the Belleville Times. It runs weekly, space allowing.

All stories are written by the students of Mr. Anthony Salese's journalism class. Their work is coordinated by student editor Denise Zecca.

"We Seniors have special needs."

"Saint Mary's understands. That's why they provide the Senior Passport to Health program. I still can't believe it only costs $15 annually. Since joining I've taken advantage of free monthly health screenings for cholesterol, glaucoma, breast cancer, podiatry and more. That's important if you're on a tight budget like I am."

"I've learned a lot from Senior Passport's free monthly educational programs. The topics range from Self Defense and Crime Prevention to Understanding Your Health Insurance and are presented in a friendly, informal atmosphere right at Saint Mary's."

"I've made new friends at Senior Passport social events. Other benefits include discounts at participating local businesses and discounts on selected health care services. Senior Passport concentrates on prevention and education. You ought to find out more about it."

Residential fires a danger

Residential fires cause more deaths and injuries than any other kind, and these fires increase during the cold weather months due to the use of room heating devices. Protect yourself and your family against fire by following a few simple safety rules.

- Regardless of your heating source, your home should have a working smoke detector. Over half the fire deaths in this country each year can be prevented by the early warning a smoke detector provides.
- Don't use fuel-burning appliances without proper ventilation to the outside. Burning kerosene, coal or propane produces deadly fumes.

• Be sure your heating device is clean and in good working condition. A dirty or malfunctioning heater is a critical fire hazard.

• Use the proper fuel for your heater; never substitute one fuel for another.

• Have the proper fire extinguisher handy and know how to use it. There are different types of extinguishers for different types of fires.

• Use a screen around stoves or space heaters with an open flame. Keep the unit away from furniture and other flammable items such as draperies, towels and clothes. Nightgowns, robes and blankets are easily snagged and ignited. Teach young children to stay away from heaters.

Belleville nursery schools volunteer to help children of Gulf families

Help is now available to families of military personnel serving in the Persian Gulf through Desert Storm Program for Parents, a private non-profit agency and a member of the United Way. The help, available at no charge, includes child care and seven Belleville nursery schools have each volunteered a slot for a family that needs that kind of help.

The list includes Little Scholar Nursery School, Magic Cottage, Nanny D's Infant Care Center, Sandy Lane Nursery School, Happle Apple Nursery School, The Kids' Place and Wise Owl Nursery School. Among them, they are equipped to take children from 0 to 6 years.

Other help available includes counseling, support groups, home and auto repairs. In addition, referrals can be made to doctors who will accept the military insurance without upfront payment; dentists, chiropractors and a physical therapist. For families experiencing financial problems, a financial consultant will intercede with creditors.

"This program is possible because of the extraordinary response of public service agencies, religious institutions, individual professionals and citizens concerned about the families of our military," noted Barbara Fedoroff, executive director of Programs for Parents. "Everyone seems aware that this war is being fought on the homefront as well as in the Persian Gulf because of the hardships families face."

"Reservists are especially hard hit financially. They have lost their regular paycheck and benefits as well as their Reservist pay and then have a waiting period until receiving their first military check. These financial pressures seem insurmountable to families trying to deal with the anxiety of having a loved one serving in the war," Fedoroff commented.

Families of military serving in the Persian Gulf can call Desert Storm Program for Parents for services at 857-5171.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

We start this week with good news from the Belleville recreation wrestling team, which won its second consecutive county title. The Bucs defeated West Orange and Maplewood to finish the '90-91 campaign with an 8-0 mark.

After dominating the regular season, the Bucs captured the prestigious Caldwell Tournament and also did quite well at St. Joe's of Montvale and the Nutley novice tourney.

Let's start with the West Orange match, where Belleville ran off with a 73-15 decision. Recording pins for the Bucs were Tim Hands, Anthony Conte, Luke Cardinale, Keith Hands, John Perna, Robert Caputo and Tom Haverick.

John Landosa earned his first varsity win by gaining a major decision, 11-1.

Versus Maplewood, the results were pretty much the same. Belleville won by a lopsided score of 71-14 as six Bucs recorded pins. Leading the way in the fall category were Tim Hands, Caputo, Chris Zarro, Anthony Frantantonio, Dom Tafuri and Jorge Hernandez.

Conte gained a big win over Brandon Krystzer of Maplewood and Caputo came from behind for his victory by pin in the third period.

In the Caldwell tourney, Conte, Cardinale, John Fitzgibbons and Tafuri won gold medals.

Taking a silver medal was John Perna while Zarro and Hernandez finished third overall. Fourth place finishers included Caputo and Ed Miranda.

At the St. Joe's tourney for juniors and intermediates, Cardinale, Zarro, Perna and Hernandez all took first place. Keith Hands finished second while Tim Hands, Caputo, Tafuri and Miranda placed third. Fourth place spots went to Jim Palo and Frantantonio.

In the Nutley novice tourney, Mike Palo, Joey Cassera and Fitzgibbons all took first place medals. Second place finishers were Wayne DeSmet, Dave Iarla and Mark Casella.

Finishing third were Adrian Cruz and Chris Gammario while Joey Pellegrino finished in fourth place.

At the Old Bridge tournament, Mike Palo, Cassera, Jimmy Smith and Casella all took first place. Mike Fusco and Mike Wallis finished and Gammario and Iarla captured third place.

Over the past four years, the Bucs have put together a marvelous record of 34-1. The team has won three championships under the direction of coaches Ralph Cardinale and Lou Riccardi.

Belleville will next compete this Sunday at the Essex County championships at Glen Ridge.

ECT GIRLS' BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT REACHES FINAL ROUND

A very intense rivalry from the early 1980's will renew itself here in the early 90's when Shabazz and Clifford Scott get together tomorrow night for the Essex County girls' basketball championship. The game is set for 7 p.m. at West Essex High School.

Shabazz won four straight county crowns from 1982-85. The Lady Bulldogs beat Clifford Scott for the championship in 1982 and '83, and, as mentioned last week, the '83 game was perhaps the finest ECT title game in the history of the 17 year old tourney.

Scott was one of the best teams in the state in the early 80's, winning the county title in '81 by upsetting defending champ East Orange and winning the state title in Group II in 1982 and '83 and the Group III crown in '84.

Scott has been away from the limelight for a while, but the Lady Scotties are back in full force in 1991. The team defeated Newark West Side last Saturday in the county semi finals to gain a berth in the county title game for the first time in eight years.

After winning four straight county titles from '82-'85 and taking the Group III championship in '83, Shabazz was upset in the county semi finals in 1986 by East Orange. In '87, Shabazz came back to play in the county title game, but neighborhood rival University beat Shabazz by 20 points in a packed gym at Belleville High School.

Shabazz has not been in the county finals since '87, but the Lady Bulldogs are back in it after upsetting defending county champ Montclair Immaculate in the semis last Saturday. Not only was M.I. the defending county champ, they were also undefeated for the season.

Our own Karen Fucello is the tournament director and she should be pretty happy with tomorrow night's match up. If you have the time, come on over to West Essex High to see the title game.

It should be quite a game.

1,000 POINT SCORERS IN B.H.S. MEN'S BASKETBALL

As mentioned in last week, we'll start a small feature on the 1,000 point scorers in Belleville men's basketball. The list starts with Ted Sochaski, who tallied over 1700 points during his career from 1984-88. Second place is Abdel Anderson, who scored nearly 1400 points in a three year varsity career from 1972-75. Remember, back in the 70's, freshmen were not eligible to play varsity basketball, thus the varsity career was no more than three years.

Phil Colalillo occupies third place on the list. Phil played from 1980-84 and probably would have broken Anderson's record had he not suffered from a ruptured appendix early in his senior campaign. Colalillo was the first Belleville boys' player to break the 1,000 point plateau in his junior year.

Wayne "The Train" Bubet is next, with over 1200 points. Wayne played from 1978-81 and had one of the best outside shots of the group. The fifth, and final member so far, is Leon Puentes, who played from 1984-88. Puentes is the only true guard to make the 1,000 point team and his coaches will tell you that Leon could have had many more points had he not dished off on fast breaks or passed to a teammate for two points. All five players were exciting to watch and in the next few weeks, we'll have features on all five, with memories of key games that those players participated in.

SPORTS NEWS

Paul Smith, the sports editor for the Bloomfield Life and I have season tickets for the Seton Hall basketball games at the Meadowlands Arena and during the course of the year, we've seen a Seton Hall team that is beginning to mature as playoff time comes around.

This is not a prediction that the Pirates will do what they did in 1989 and go to the NCAA title game, but when Seton Hall plays

Bucs, St. Benedicts favorites for crown

It's District time again

By Joe Piegario

They are here! It's district time again, time to put aside all the year's triumphs and failures, and dedicate this last team effort toward winning a seventh straight championship.

And, as happens every year at this point, it's time for my yearly predictions. So, without further ado, let's get to it.

103 — This is strictly a two horse race. Belleville's Joshua Cardinale and St. Benedict's Rich Bustamante are the cream of the crop here. Bloomfield's Anthony Frezza would be a district champ in most other districts, but should not present much of a challenge to Cardinale or Bustamante. Cardinale is undefeated and untied while Bustamante is undefeated with one tie. This is the classic case of the irresistible force meeting the immovable object. It's a shame one of these great athletes has to finish second. The pick is Cardinale by the closest of margins, possibly even in overtime.

112 — Three strong contenders here. Mike Conte of Belleville, Chris Marchetti of Glen Ridge and Omar Powell of St. Benedict's. Marchetti is a seasoned veteran, but appears a bit short of winning this class. Powell has an outstanding record, but has competed most of the year at 103 pounds. Conte has been super all year excepting his match against Warren Hills. Conte should win this division, probably facing Powell in the finals.

119 — This one belongs to Anthony "Mielnicki" of Nutley. St. Benedict's Joe Almeida is a fine wrestler in his own right, but he really could only win against Mielnicki in the biggest of upsets. Belleville's own Tom Pontrella is the probable third place finisher here.

125 — St. Benedict's will send out Cesar Bustamante, Rich's younger brother. Belleville hasn't made its mind up yet. Will it be Mike Miele or Junior Nardone? If it is Nardone, he wins, hands down. If it is Miele, the result is not so clear cut. Miele may not be fully recovered from his broken wrist and Bustamante is no pushover. Still, Miele is a three year varsity starter and should prevail if he reaches the finals.

130 — Again, Belleville has decided on Miele or Nardone. Challengers are Mark Vilardo of Kearny, a tough, physical type and slick Hector Ortiz of St. Benedict's. Ortiz is the Essex County Athletic Director's Tournament winner but is not in Nardone's class. A better matchup would be Ortiz-Miele. Here, settlement would be with Miele, but a full season under Ortiz' belt would make him the favorite.

135 — This is getting monotonous, but Belleville and St. Benedict's should again dominate. The Gray Bees have Malik Massi and the Bucs have Carlo Ritacco. Massi has more mat time, but Ritacco has a better record. This one might come down to the wrestler who is seeded better, thereby having an easier road to the finals. Try Ritacco as the winner here in a close fought duel with Massi.

140 — Belleville's Vinnie DeSimone will be top seed, challenged by Brian O'Donnell of Kearny and Herb Brooks of St. Benedict's. Both challengers are capable of topping DeSimone from his crown, especially since Vinnie's style of wrestling does not produce many pins. Still, DeSimone is on a roll, winning his last 11 matches consecutively. He should come out on top here, but he must guard against a letdown in concentration, something which plagued him earlier in the year.

145 — Lee Hands is top dog here, but he will be severely tested by Essex Catholic's Rory Walker-Graham. Nutley has Mark Colalillo, but he shouldn't reach the finals. Hands must erase his stunning loss to Warren Hills' Mike Rush and refocus himself on the task at hand — winning his second District 7 crown. He should do it, but Walker-Graham has the capability to win, and then it wouldn't be too much of an upset.

152 — Here, three boys head a rather weak field. Mark Lee of Benedict's, Steve Grober of Glen Ridge and Dan Holman of Bloomfield are the only real threats. Kearny's Stan Klotz is decent, but he won't penetrate that trio. Holman and Grober have had some real hum-dingers in the past with Holman usually the victor. The pick here is for Holman to win his first District 7 crown, probably over Grober in another back yard brawl.

160 — Normally, this would be a highly competitive division. Some tough guys here will have to wait 'til next year for a gold medal. Frank Messina of Bloomfield, DuJuan Lopez of St. Benedict's, Chris Dimaggio of Nutley all have little or no chance of unseating two time district champ Dan Hywel. Danny is now 100% recovered from his knee surgery and should breeze to his third District 7 crown.

171 — A very, very weak division this year. St. Benedict's should have a lock here with Tony Ballard, possibly with pins in every bracket. Jermain Johnson of Bloomfield, Jim Hetteshimer of Kearny, Mike Penaranda of Nutley and our own Jim Mastropalo should fill in the 2-3-4-5 positions. Mastropalo has a good shot for third here, but needs a bit more weight.

189 — St. Benedict's Kenya Moncur rules here. No challengers from any school are worth mentioning, that is how far ahead of the field he is.

HWT — A free for all where ever was one! Kevin Gregorovich of Bloomfield, Ron Edmonds of St. Benedict's, Raul Davila of Glen Ridge, George Wallace or Anthony Mastropalo of Belleville, Chris Clerico or Charlie Piro of Nutley. It should be Gregorovich, but really, anyone here could take it.

Team wise, St. Benedict's is a strong favorite because of their superior depth and confidence after winning the State championship in Parochial B. Belleville is short at 189 and thin at 152. The Bucs thought they had pulled an upset last year over the favored Gray Bees, but had to settle for co-champions based on incorrect scoring procedures. Benedict's felt they should have won the title outright, so the return engagement should be a doozy.

Good luck everyone, see you next week!

Hackensack wins despite Talmadge 28

Hoopsters lose fourth one point game

By Mike Lamberti

Oh, those one point defeats!

The Belleville Bucs have unfortunately become too accustomed to those setbacks, having lost its fourth one point game of the season last Thursday. Don Roll's team was beaten by league rival Hackensack, 76-75. Earlier in the week, the Bucs lost by 12 points to another league foe, Paramus, 61-49.

Belleville (8-12 overall, 5-9 in the NNJHL) took on Montclair earlier this week. The Bucs are at Clifton, tonight, in a 7:30 p.m. tip off. This Saturday afternoon, the Bucs conclude the 1990-91 campaign with a home contest against Morris Hills. Tip off there is set for 1:30 p.m.

The sting of the disappointment was somewhat nullified by the fact that Belleville played one of the best teams in the NNJHL down to the wire. Earlier in the season, Belleville had lost by ten points at Hackensack.

"I can't complain about the effort," Roll said of the Hackensack contest. "We fell behind in the third quarter, but made a nice comeback in the final frame. When you look back at the season and see four games decided by a total of four points, you realize how close you were to that winning season."

The game was tied at 12 after one quarter, but Hackensack nudged ahead by three points, 35-22, at halftime. The lead ballooned to 59-48 after three quarters before the Bucs staged a furious rally in the final eight minutes to cut the final deficit to that mere one point.

Troy Talmadge played an outstanding game for the Bucs, scoring 28 points. Dennis DeWork, a sophomore forward, played another strong game, hitting for 20 points. Sal Straface finished with 15 points and Jim DuHaine tallied 12.

Versus Paramus, Roll saw his team come out very flat and the result was a disappointing defeat. It marked the third time this season that Belleville had lost to a team it defeated earlier in the campaign.

"There are no excuses for that one," Roll said. "We didn't play well at all. The kids weren't up for the game and we lost a game we could have taken."

DeWork led the Belleville attack with 19 points. Talmadge was limited to 12. Straface scored nine, DuHaine scored six, John Sipp had two and Bryant Jimenez finished with one point.

Roll was expecting a tough game with cross conference rival Montclair last Tuesday. He was optimistic that his team could finish on a strong note and possibly end the year with double digits in the "W" column.

Lady Bucs 2 game winning streak snapped by Hack.

By Mike Lamberti

A poor second quarter proved to be the difference as the Belleville girls' basketball team lost to Hackensack, 40-31 last Thursday afternoon.

The defeat snapped a two game winning streak for the Lady Bucs and left them with a 5-16 record heading into the final week of the season. Belleville battled powerful Paterson Kennedy last Tuesday afternoon. The girls conclude the '90-91 season tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Bloomfield.

Head coach Karen Fucello was far from pleased with the game at Hackensack.

"We didn't play with enough intensity," the coach said. "We haven't reached that level of consistency yet and we have to play smart every time out."

Hackensack led 10-8 after one quarter. In the second, Belleville's offense was virtually non-existent as the Lady Bucs were held to four points and fell behind by a 21-12 count at halftime.

It was 29-19 after three quarters and Belleville wasn't able to make up the deficit, losing by nine points.

Belleville shot poorly from the foul line as well, hitting just 9 of 19.

Jennifer Abrams led the Lady Bucs scoring attack with ten points. Danielle DeWork scored eight points, including all four Belleville points in the second quarter. Le-Ramirez finished with six, Colleen Mannion scored three and Zulay Fiallos and Mary Campbell tallied two points each.

John Perna recorded his 100th win by scoring a pin in 30 seconds against West Orange on Feb. 7. The landmark victory gave Perna the record for most Rec wins and has compiled a 100-12-1 record. John is the youngest of the wrestling Perna brothers. Big brothers Joe and Ralph had outstanding varsity careers at Belleville High School and John will continue the family tradition next year when he enters Belleville High. John is team captain and will be a serious contender for the State title at 85 lbs. Pictured with John are coaches Ralph Cardinale and Lou Riccardi.

Registration deadline is March 22. The course and test are open to all persons 18 years of age and older. A 70% passing grade will be required. Successful applicants will then be qualified to umpire A.S.A. softball after paying membership dues and will be responsible for securing their own work assignments.

Sportsmanship, basic skills and fun are the objectives of the leagues. Every player on each team who attends required practices will play in every game. Come volunteer your time and share your interest and knowledge with the youngsters in town.

All potential coaches will be required to attend a training and certification course given by the Recreation Department.

Participants at these clinics will be given instructions on psychology of youth sports, first aid, maximizing performance and organization of practice, as well as tips on specific coaching techniques in the sports of baseball/softball. Participants will be certified by the National Youth Sports Coaches Association upon completion of the clinic. An attractive benefit afforded to all certified coaches is a $500,000 liability insurance coverage. The clinics for first-year coaches will be held on March 4-5, and March 20-21.

For further information or to register, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 between 8:30-4:00, Monday through Friday.

In all cases, the applications must be completed in full and signed by a parent, and all returning players must re-apply. Applications accepted after the March 22 deadline will be considered late and will be treated accordingly. Late applications cannot be guaranteed entry into the league. The Rec. All children attending required practices will play in every game. Our league stresses sportsmanship, basic skills and fun.

Grapplers fall in Sectionals

By Joe Fiegare

There are two ways to view this wrestling season at Belleville High School. First, it was a smashing success, winning the NNJL Pacific Division championship as well as fashioning a 15-2 record against a highly competitive schedule.

Additionally, the team qualified for the state sectionals for the tenth consecutive year and three individuals finished the dual meet season undefeated (Josh Cardinale 2-0, Mike Miele 11-0 and Junior Nardone 5-0).

And, don't forget winning the Bloomfield Holiday tournament and a second place finish in the Elizabeth Minuteman Classic behind state ranked Somerville.

Or, you can take the opposite view and paint the season as one that could have been so much more but came up short at every turn. For instance, the only regular season loss came at the hands of Parochial A champ Bergen Catholic by a 48-15 margin. Four starters missed that meet, and to all of you who follow closely, those four probably would have turned a whipping into a close victory.

Then there was the loss to Warren Hills in the sectional semi-finals by a 42-30 count. It denied the Bucs a shot at Phillipsburg in the Group III, Section II title match. Mind you, this was a loss where every individual win by Warren Hills was earned by a pin. Not one Buc who lost managed to stay off his back, a must if you are to consider yourself a state calibre squad.

In the Elizabeth tourney, the second place finish was gained minus Mike Miele, Junior Nardone and Danny Hywel.

Finally, the regular season ended with two cancellations against Cedar Grove and Montclair, caused by the scheduling conflicts arising from the sectionals. Both teams were guaranteed victories for the Bucs, costing Belleville a 17-2 record and forcing every Buc wrestler to enter the district with less than a full compliment of matches as allowed by the state.

Joshua Cardinale continued his excellent wrestling, winning both his sectional matches and going into the districts at 21-0. Twenty of Cardinale's foes scored a point with only Anthony Frezza of Bloomfield scoring a paltry four points for the entire season.

The Bucs whalloped Mt. Olive by a 45-15 margin in the opening round of the sectionals.

In the sectional victory, nine Bucs registered victories. Cardinale, Mike Miele, Lee Hands, Dan Hywel and Junior Nardone won by pin. Carlo Ritacco won by a 6-2 decision. Yvonne Deslaurie prevailed 7-2. Jim Mastropolo captured an 8-6 decision and Anthony Mastropolo won by a 9-1 count. Mike Conte contributed with two team points by wrestling to an eight all tie with the Marauders' best wrestler, Anton Atterbury.

Also worth noting were the courageous returns of Miele, Nardone and Hywel after suffering potentially season ending injuries. Remember, Miele was off to an 8-0 start and a Bloomfield Holiday tournament championship before he broke his left wrist. He didn't wrestle competitively from January 5th until his return against Cliffside Park on February 9th.

Nardone had surgery on his right knee prior to the start of the season.

That was complicated by a staff infection. He missed the entire season until his return on February 2 against Paramus.

And then there was Hywel, who after a 4-0 start needed surgery on his right knee for a cartilage tear and didn't wrestle from December 23rd until his return against South River on January 15.

All three deserve a great deal of credit for working so hard to save a season that at one time looked just about over before it had ever started.

BUC NOTES: Answer to last week's trivia question, Belleville has had five head coaches. They are Stan Scher (1963-64, record of 13-4), Sam Stellatella (1965, record of 6-3), Jim Silvestri (1966-76, record of 90-47-3), Gene D'Allesandro (1977-85, record of 99-18-3) and Joe Nisivocchia (1986-present, record of 78-15).

Wrestler of the week goes to Jimmy Mastropolo. Both of his wins in the sectionals were unexpected, yet he came through with a decision over Mt. Olive and a fall over Warren Hills.

Districts will begin Friday evening at St. Benedict's and will end on Saturday. No parking anywhere, so get there early in order to find a good spot for your car.

Buc Shots

to its potential, this team can play with just about anyone.

The Pirates will be even stronger than next two seasons. The team loses a key senior this year in Anthony Aveni. But the Pirates will have 7'1" center Luther Wright eligible to play next year, along with a blue chip freshman class coming in and two key players coming off injured reserve. Then, don't forget the young players who are doing well this year and it's easy to see why Seton Hall could be a legitimate Top 10 team next season. Seton Hall could dominate the Big East in the next two seasons.

Happy birthday to my very good friend, John Engel. John celebrated a "40 something" birthday last Monday. Remember, the John Engel Barbeque is coming up soon, set for the Memorial Day holiday.

Did you see "30 Something" last week on television? That was some ending.

So far, the best National Anthems played at sporting events since the War broke out are as follows. First, the stirring National Anthem played at Chicago Stadium before the start of the NHL All Star game the first weekend after the War started. If you saw it, you'll never forget the fan reaction.

Second is probably Whitney Houston's tremendous performance at the Super Bowl. A very close third is the musical rendition played by Bruce Hornsby and Branford Marsellis at the NBA All Star game two weeks ago. Honorable Mention to the San Francisco 49ers crowd at the NFC title game.

Without question, the most memorable version of the National Anthem will be the one played right after this War is over and our troops are on the way home. Maybe we can honor them, in person, on Opening Day of the 1991 Major League baseball season. The sooner, the better.

DISSOLVING CONFIDENCE

According to tests conducted at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy, taking vitamins and mineral supplements may not be enough to help maintain balanced nutrition. Some multivitamin supplements take so long to dissolve that they largely pass through a person's system without being of much benefit. In fact, six of fourteen multivitamin supplements required more than an hour to disintegrate under laboratory conditions that simulated the body's own. The vitamin-taking public should be aware that no government agency regulates the production of vitamin and mineral supplements. Therefore, it is up to consumers to purchase the highest quality products possible. The initials "U.S.P." (United States Pharmacopoeia) on the label indicates the approval of the standard-setting agency of the pharmaceutical industry.

For the convenience of our customers we maintain a large stock of prescription and over the counter medications, vitamins and supplements. We are Blue Cross and Medicare approved at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. "Your Doctor Knows Us: Your Doctor Trusts Us." Hours: Daily 9am-10pm daily, Sundays 9am-9pm.

NOTE: The phrase "rapid dissolving" on the label of vitamins and mineral supplements also gives assurance of their beneficial effect.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Classic color combination of blue and white seems to favor every style of furniture and every period, from classic tole designs or Delft tile to modern bold stripes. For an accent color, consider bright yellow or a brilliant chinese red.

Washing aluminum siding twice a year — more often in areas with severe air pollution — will keep it looking its best. If a hard spray from a garden hose isn't sufficient, scrub with a long-handled brush and a solution of non-abrasive cleanser in water. Dark spots may be mildew.

Entry-level introduction to home ownership for some first-time buyers is a condominium or townhouse. Down payment and monthly costs are usually lower than for a comparable single-family detached house in the same area, yet buyers are able to build housing equity.

A new tradition: To mark the end of building a new home or completing a renovation, one New York City designer suggests that the last nail hammered in be made of sterling silver.

Start new traditions for your family in a home of their very own. We'll help you find the right house at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.
