Orechio to step down after 18 years in Senate

State Sen. Carmen A. Orechio pledged today to continue to serve 30th legislative district residents until the completion of his term in December.

Sen. Orechio said he would leave the state legislature, where he has served since 1973.

"I shall continue to assist the residents of my hometown of Nutley as commissioner and I shall seek other avenues to help the poor and disabled and to work on behalf of the working middle class of our state," he said.

Sen. Orechio is director of public affairs in Nutley, having been elected to the township commission in 1968. He was mayor twice, from 1976-80 and from 1983-1988.

Long recognized for his knowledge of law enforcement, Sen. Orechio served as director of public safety in Nutley from 1972 through 1988.

On his decision not to seek reelection, Sen. Orechio said, "After the recent redistricting, I believe I can best serve the people of New Jersey and my hometown in another capacity. I have a deep commitment to help the needy and the disabled.

"Those who know me understand why I believe Essex County has been devastated through the recent redrawing of the political map. Although I would have preferred the districts to have been drawn otherwise, I have no bitterness in my heart for any political leader.

"The important thing is that the municipalities of Essex County are represented — at 101 percent, to use the expression — and that they not be taken for granted."

Reflecting on his 18 years in the Senate, the Essex County Democrat said his highest priority had

Voters to decide on $30 M BOE budget

By Laurie Silberg

The Board of Education Monday night approved a resolution for the 1991-92 school board budget, placing the fate of the $30,080,103 budget in the hands of Belleville residents.

The board voted 6-1 in favor of passing the 1991-92 school year budget on to township voters, who will get their say at the polls during the annual school elections April 30.

Board member Pat Pisano voted no on approving the budget, charging "the administration has not made appropriate cuts."

A group of about 15 residents appealed directly to the board and pleaded with trustees to cut the budget, called "way the hell overboard," by one resident.

The amount to be raised by taxes this year is $20,080,833, an increase of $1,669,301, or 25 tax points, over last year's total. For the average Belleville resident, with a home assessed at $41,302, that means a tax bill increase of about $100.

The actual increase over last year's budget is $2,098,820, or 8.5 percent. Of the $24,623,516 budget for 1990-91, $18,911,552 was raised by taxes.

This year's $30 million figure reflects a total increase of $5,384,587 over last year's budget.

Frantantoni arrested

Former township commissioner Vincent Frantantoni was charged Tuesday night with two misdemeanor disorderly persons offense counts for disrupting a township council meeting.

Frantantoni was charged with obstructing administration of law or other government function (2C:29-1) when he refused to leave the podium at the direction of Sgt. Chris Kondreck. The former commissioner was also charged with disrupting meetings and processions (2C:33-8).

During the public participation of the meeting, Mayor Marina Perna told the former commissioner his five minutes were up and that he should return to his seat. Frantantoni refused to leave the podium until township attorney Vincent Nuzzi provided him with a copy of a letter from scavenger Domenico Picullo which indicated that while still in office Frantantoni had told the scavenger to stop picking up cardboard in town.

Perna directed police officers to remove Frantantoni from the podium. The council then called a five minute recess.

The former commissioner refused to leave and Sgt. Kondreck removed him to police headquarters in Town Hall basement where he was processed and charged with the misdemeanor counts. He was released on his own recognizance and is scheduled to appear in municipal court May 15.

Charges filed against two policemen

By Laurie Silberg

A second Belleville police officer has been charged in the aggravated assault of a township man outside a Washington Avenue bar last month, police said Monday.

Officer Joseph Zarelo was arrested April 4 for the incident, which took place outside The Belleville Pub shortly after midnight on March 22. Zarelo, a township officer since 1987, was arraigned April 10 before Municipal Court Judge Frank Zinna.

Police officer Allan McGinn was charged March 22 and arraigned before Judge Zinna on March 27. McGinn is a 12-year veteran of the force.

Both men were off-duty when the alleged assault took place.

Tom King, 34, was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center for treatment of injuries including multiple abrasions to his face.

"He had swelling around both of his eyes and jaw, and multiple cuts to the facial area," Deputy Chief Raymond Kimball said.

When he came to headquarters to file a complaint on March 22, King told police he had been treated at the hospital for two cracked ribs. However, hospital spokeswoman Sharon Jordan said the hospital has no record of that. "He refused treatment," Jordan said.

King was found lying at the curb outside the pub at 140 Washington Ave. by police officers Victor Linfante and Robert Capece, who were on patrol in the area.

"Nobody called the incident in. The police car just came by at that time," Police Chief George Lister said.

Officer McGinn was outside with the victim when the patrol car arrived at 12:17 a.m., but Zarelo was "not at the scene," Lister said.

The assault took place outside the bar, but a verbal argument reportedly started inside the bar. "I don't think there was any assault in the tavern. From what we can ascertain, I think the argument was taken outside," Lister said.

Lister said he believes the victim was acquainted with "at least one of the officers."

According to Kimball, "There were three or four other people in the bar" at the same time that King and the two officers were.

Officers McGinn and Zarelo did not report having any injuries.

Both officers are on desk duty pending outcome of the case.

The tavern is owned by township Councilman Jim Messina, and was open earlier this year.

Kimball would not comment on the possibility of more arrests.

He would not say what the dispute was about.

The case has been turned over to the Essex County Prosecutor's office, where it will be referred to a grand jury, Lister said.

Investigation continues into Hernandez murder

By Laurie Silberg

A Silver Lake resident shot to death in his home had already been dead for 15 to 24 hours when his body was discovered on April 1, according to a report released to police by the county medical examiner.

Police are still seeking a suspect in the murder of Alvaro Hernandez, 41, found shot to death in the living room of his second floor apartment at 40 Florence Ave.

He was discovered lying on the floor in a pool of blood by a friend who told police he had stopped by to visit. Police arrived on the scene just after 11 p.m.

Hernandez, a native of Costa Rica, was shot twice and killed sometime between March 31 and April 1. He worked March 31, Easter Sunday, until 2 p.m. at Walter's Flowers on Centre Street in Nutley. He worked as a deliveryman and designer for the shop.

Neighbors said they did not hear any gunshots Monday night.

The initial autopsy on the body was completed last week, but the final report, including toxicological reports, won't be ready for another two to three weeks, Police Chief George Lister said.

Belleville police are investigating the murder in conjunction with the Essex County Prosecutor's Office.

"The case is still under investigation. We need to speak to more people," Detective Vincent Capetta said.

Hernandez, who lived alone, had a friend who visited often, according to the tenant who lived below Hernandez.

Residents of Florence Avenue said Hernandez was a model neighbor. One neighbor called him a devout churchgoer. Rev. Paul Lehman, the pastor of St. Antoninus Catholic Church in Newark, where Hernandez was a parishioner, said "he came to mass about two times a month. He usually came with friends."

Hernandez lived in the United States for 12 years. His body was expected to be sent back to his family in Costa Rica on April 9.

Police are asking that anyone with information call the detective bureau at 450-3354 or the police desk at 450-3333.

THEN...The pile of debris at the Public Works yard on Cortland Street at the end of January.

Yard cleanup extended

by Mike Lazorczak

The saga of the debris pile at the township's public works yard appears to be heading toward its final chapter.

Although the town has yet to receive official word from the state Department of Environmental Protection, the cleanup process has progressed according to schedule.

Town Manager Bertrand Kendall sent a letter to the DEP Jan. 17 requesting Belleville be given until July 1 to have the yard cleaned.

The town had been cited with a 15-day notice from the DEP for operating an unlicensed solid waste facility.

The primary reason for requesting the July 1 date was financial. In January, Kendall estimated a two-week cleanup contract could have cost as much as $100,000.

By setting the July 1 deadline, the town has been able to offset much of that cost by using town employees.

Kendall said there has been no emergency hirings of outside help.

"I think our people did a good job and the light winter helped give them more time," Kendall said.

NOW...The pile that once pressed against the back fence is now concentrated in the front.

The world-famous Belleville cherry blossoms are back in bloom in Branch Brook and Belleville Parks. See them soon, because these beauties don't last very long.

Knights of Columbus to hold drive on April 18

The Belleville Knights of Columbus will hold its annual drive to aid the mentally retarded from April 18-20.

One of the undertakings of the Belleville Knights of Columbus Council No. 935 is this annual drive. Past Grand Knight Frank Corbo is general chairman; Past Grand Knights Ralph Lardieri, co-chairman; Al Casaleto, co-chairman and Past Grand Knight Joe Wolf, co-chairman.

The Belleville Knights support the following groups of "special people": The Belleville Special Olympics, the Mal Condon Canteen, a local Boy Scout group made up of retarded boys from the Essex County area and Camp Patima.

There are more than 6,000 councils in the United States and the Belleville Knights have been doing charitable work for more than 86 years. The Belleville Council maintains a blood bank, sponsors a work shop for the retarded and formulates youth group programs.

The Knights also assist a little league baseball team, St. Johns Church, Newark, in its endeavor to feed the hungry, help provide assistance at veterans hospitals and provide scholarship and student loans. The group recently helped the needy children during the Easter holiday by making 75 Easter baskets and distributing them in the Belleville, Newark area.

Donations may be sent to the Belleville Knights of Columbus, 94 Bridge St., Belleville, NJ 07109 - Retarded Children: ob Frank Corbo.

For additional information call Richard Glogozta, Grand Knight.

Local man charged with car burglary and theft

A Belleville man and a Bloomfield juvenile were arrested by Bloomfield police shortly after midnight Sunday on theft and other charges after police said they broke into a car on Orange Street, Bloomfield.

Chief John McNiff said police responded to a report of a suspicious vehicle and possible burglary in the area of 108 Orange St. He said officers Edward Sousa and Michael Horton observed a car fitting the description they had been given and stopped the vehicle on Crown Street, where they questioned its two occupants.

In the car they observed an array of radios, equalizers, speakers and other sound equipment — including items identified as stolen from the auto on Orange Street — along with screwdrivers and vice grips, the chief said.

The suspects, identified as Gene C. Daza, 23, of Greylock Parkway, Belleville, and a 16-year-old, were charged with burglary, theft and possession of burglary tools.

Daza was held on $500 bail. The juvenile was released to his parents and will be referred to juvenile authorities, said McNiff, noting the investigation will continue.

The case will be heard in Bloomfield Municipal Court April 21.

CALL OF THE WILD. Wolf keepers Vincent Sharp and Laura Suski of West Orange inspect the snout of a male wolf, Zaphod, at the Essex County Turtle Back Zoo in West Orange. A wolf birthday celebration will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday at the zoo, 560 Northfield Ave. The celebration will feature music by the "Lone Wolf" country band, wolfing demonstrations, a wolf howling contest for children and a display of wolf art, books and artifacts.

Sam Alvino scholarship set for special education

The Belleville Fire Department FMBAA Local No. 29 will award the Sam Alvino Scholarship Award of $500 to an outstanding and deserving Belleville special education student. The scholarship will be applied to the costs of higher education incurred by the award recipient. Students will be selected based on good citizenship, their future goals, financial need and scholastic ability. Sam Alvino was a Belleville fireman for 15 years, before his untimely passing due to Lou Gehrig's Disease. The scholarship is named after him so he will not be forgotten. For further information about the scholarship, students should contact their teacher or guidance counselor.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The recession appears nowhere near over for cities and states, judging by the deepening budget deficits plaguing governments and forcing leaders to make even more desperate decisions than anticipated.

In New York City, Mayor David Dinkins has disclosed that a deficit once estimated as just above $2 billion is now projected at $3.1 billion.

Dinkins has asked city agencies to cut an additional $859 million from their already strained budgets, and he wants unions to roll back the costs of health and other benefits. In New York State, Gov. Mario Cuomo's efforts to slash a projected $6 billion shortfall by cutting thousands of jobs and $4.5 billion from the state budget sparked a riot weeks ago. Protesting the cuts, minority students tried to smash their way into Cuomo's Albany office.

The outlook is just as bleak for several other states, including New Jersey. The next round of budget slashes, according to Steven Hochman of Moody's Investors Service, is likely to come in Connecticut, where an estimated $707 million shortfall will probably climb to $770 million, and in Michigan, where the budget gap stands at $1.1 billion.

First there was the air war, then the ground war, and now comes the legal war against Iraq — which could make the others look tame.

Lawyers representing Americans and other foreign nationals are gearing up for lawsuits over destruction of property, disruption of business and a slew of contract breaches. "It will be the most complex and extensive legal proceeding," said international lawyer Markham Ball, "since the aftermath of World War II."

More than 1,000 claimants met a Treasury Department mid-March deadline for staking a claim to the $1.5 billion in Iraqi assets that the United States froze after the Kuwaiti invasion. (Other countries froze between $2 billion and $3 billion). But, with major chemical companies and banks heading the list, some experts say total claims could be a nightmare.

One option is to follow the model used after the 1979 Iranian Revolution; the United States filed claims in a special international tribunal at Hague, a process that has proven very slow. With so many countries affected this time, the United Nations almost certainly will get involved.

Under one proposal, Iraq would pay a settlement, with supplements from a tax levied against Iraqi oil. Then the assets pool would be divided among individual countries, which would settle claims in their own courts.

State Department sources say that nothing can be resolved until United Nations economic sanctions end. In the meantime, potential litigants fear they may not improve on the Iranian precedent. Ten years after those suits began, more than 3,300 claims are still pending.

Coming off a lukewarm yes vote for the existence of his country, Mikhail Gorbachev has sprung more bad news on his suffering public. On April 2, prices of basic foods and consumer goods skyrocketed. Milk and bread tripled in cost; eggs, tea and cooking oil doubled and cigarettes rose by 50 percent.

Alarmingly for Gorbachev, a swelling and determined number of consumers are out to get even with the system they blame for their hardship. For most salaried workers, Perestroika has meant shrinking earning power and a collapse of traditional values.

In scenes reminiscent of Poland in 1980, the working class is taking matters into its own hands, telling its Communist masters that it has had enough. Almost a fourth of Soviet coal miners are on strike and calling for nothing less than Gorbachev's resignation.

So far, the strikers are not solidly backing any alternative to the president. But the New Democrats, the liberal opposition to Gorbachev, who control Russia and the city councils in Moscow, Leningrad and other major cities, are rushing to form alliances with miners. Radio Russia, sponsored by leaders of Boris Yeltsin's Russian Federation, last week broadcast a bank-account number and asked listeners to give a day's pay to support miners. Authorities in major cities are sending food and other aid to the strikers.

Gorbachev may be forced to take quick, harsh action to preserve his hold on power, probably by depending upon support of the military to quell insurrection.

Caputo to host Ward meeting

Deputy Mayor Frank A. Caputo will hold a regular 2nd Ward meeting April 17 at the Recreation House, 407 Joramelon St. at 7:30 p.m.

The guest speakers will be Mary

Springer, health educator, and Bob Ringleheim, director of planning.

All residents of the 2nd Ward are invited and welcomed to be a part of the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Orechio will not seek re-election

always been to help find relief for property taxpayers who he said have been "victimized by the unfair burdens placed on them by an antiquated tax system."

As chairman of the County and Municipal Government Study Commission, Sen. Orechio had spearheaded the drive to require the state to pay for costs associated with judicial and welfare expenditures, thereby easing the tax burdens for property taxpayers.

In Essex County, for example, a state takeover of welfare and psychiatric care expenses would save taxpayers an estimated $44 million annually, he noted.

Sen. Orechio, who served as senate president from 1982 until 1986, said he was able to combine his experience as a former public safety director with his membership on the governing board of the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency to "better understand the need for a well-staffed judicial system to ensure swift and efficient justice for criminals."

He also has been a sponsor of much fire safety legislation. As chairman of the State Fire Safety Commission, Sen. Orechio sponsored measures to restrict dangerous kerosene heaters in residences, set standards for smoke detectors and fire alarms and established minimum training standards for firefighters and supervisors.

He also served on the Senate Special Committee on Automobile Insurance Reform, whose 1986 report was used as a basis for much of the auto insurance reform package recently enacted by Gov. Jim Florio.

An advocate for the disabled, Sen. Orechio has had a long list of measures signed into law. One, for example, created the Division of Developmentally Disabled.

Commenting on his efforts to improve conditions of the developmentally disabled, Sen. Orechio said he is "proudest" of the legislation he provided for the establishment of group homes for the mentally retarded in any community zone.

"By having people with developmental disabilities de-institutionalized and placed in group homes, they are afforded an opportunity to pursue an independent lifestyle and mainstream with the community," he said.

Sen. Orechio noted his experience as a local and state official often enabled him to cut through governmental red tape in his efforts to help constituents.

When 8-year-old Glen Ridge cancer victim Tishna Rollo encountered difficulties in securing health benefit coverage for treatment of a rare form of the disease, Sen. Orechio stepped in and ensured her family's peace of mind.

Under legislation sponsored by Sen. Orechio and Assemblyman Michael Aducci (D-Essex) and signed into law by Gov. Florio, Blue Cross and Blue Shield would be required to cover expenses of a bone marrow transplant required for the treatment of Wilm's tumor, the cancer which afflicted Tishna.

Sen. Orechio also led a drive to require health benefits coverage for treating victims of drug addiction.

Speculating on what the future holds for him, Sen. Orechio, 64, said he would be giving more of his time to his family.

He is the younger brother of Frank Orechio of Orechio Publications, Orechio Broadcasting Co. and other businesses. The eldest of the Orechio brothers is former Assemblyman Carl Orechio.

Sen. Orechio thanked his two brothers for their advice and support through the years and the "hundreds of colleagues with whom I have worked and the thousands of friends I have made through the decades in my legislative responsibilities. I thank each of them."

Freshmen taking state test

Mike Lazorchak

Some 316 Belleville ninth-graders are now taking the state mandated High School Proficiency Test, scheduled for April 9, 10, and 11.

"It's a competency test of math, reading and writing skills that students are expected to master for graduation," Assistant Superintendent Michael Lally said.

For now, the ninth-grade HSPT is the official graduation requirement test. However, in 1993, the difficulty of the test will increase and it will be administered to the 11th-grade.

According to Lally, the progression to the 11th-grade test is the result of several years of increasing minimum graduation requirements.

Until 1985, ninth-graders took the Minimum Basic Skills Test. True to its name, the test required only "minimum or lower order basic skills in math and reading," Lally said.

The current HSPT was designed with the concept of giving students the ability to "function in our present society."

"When colleges and businesses keep saying students are not prepared for life, we have to listen and make changes," Lally said.

In addition to minimum rote skills, the ninth-grade HSPT requires students to solve problems, think critically, infer meanings, draw conclusions and express themselves in a clear, organized manner.

Lally believes expectations for the 11th-grade HSPT will be higher. He also believes Belleville will be ready to meet the challenge.

The assistant superintendent bases his confidence on Belleville's record in state testing over the past five years.

"We are proud of our scores — five years ago we weren't — but we worked to align our curriculum with the skills needed for the HSPT," Lally said.

Lally cited several improvements the district has made:

- Implemented district writing projects.

- Provided in-service instructional programs.
- Administered practice tests in grades eight and nine.

"Made textbooks more current, especially in math."

The results are obvious.

The percentage of students passing the ninth-grade HSPT in 1986 were: 79.2 for reading, 77.7 for math and 77.1 for writing.

By 1990 those figures rose to: 96.7 for reading, 95.4 for math and 99.2 for writing.

Lally credits the results to the work ethics of Belleville's teachers.

"We are extremely proud, not only of our students, but of our teachers," Lally said. "This was a total commitment by our staff."

OUR OPINION

Look and Count the Blessings

*You can look at life's storm clouds
And find there's floods of rain
If you dwell upon your sorrows
You will grumble and complain.*

*But if you look for the roses
A fragrance will come to you
You'll find life a little sweeter
No matter what you may go through.*

*You will find that rainbows
Will have the brightest hue
After the sun has slipped out
And touched a raindrop or two.*

*So, look and count the blessings
These are yours to have and hold
And remember the Divine Creator Watches over each lonely soul!*

'Mandatory' community service for high school kids?

Beginning next autumn, Ridgefield Memorial High School seniors must complete a community service requirement to graduate, and this community service must include an average of two hours a week of volunteer work.

Many private schools, among them Dwight-Englewood School in Englewood, have implemented such programs. Because they are private, such schools could do as they please.

On the surface, such mandatory programs in public schools would appear as helpful in having young people understand early a commitment towards helping others less fortunate, towards reaching out for those requiring a helping hand.

The program is fraught with difficulties, however. What groups or individuals would benefit from the time, effort and free service offered to those in need? Would this volunteer service be abused by special-interest organizations and by so-called charitable groups who would simply use the volunteer service of high school youngsters to extend their administrative — read, bureaucratic — staff, with little time committed to the needy?

Before implementing this program locally, the board of ed should insist upon a scrutiny of its every nook and cranny. For example, what about young adults who must work every "free" hour available in their junior and senior years in high school, so as to be able to afford ever-rising college tuition costs?

Furthermore, what would happen to those volunteer groups and individuals already dedicated to assist others, as for example, the exemplary BHS Key Club?

Finally, we worry about "mandatory volunteer service." How can service be volunteer and at the same be said to be mandatory? Such bad usage reminds us of the overt nonsense of the job qualification: "equal opportunity employee/affirmative action employee."

To be sure, school officials should mandate curriculum matters. No one would dispute that policy. But to mandate that young adults volunteer for community service seems an unnecessary intervention by school authorities in the decision-making prerogative of students awaiting graduation.

Perhaps, instead of mandating students to contribute to community service, schools authorities should check among its board of ed members, its school administrators and its teachers to determine whether they would accept a mandatory community service requirement, volunteer and on their time of course.

Why should we expect of young adults a commitment to help others which few adults practice? Unless all school folks are included in this mandatory service concept, it sounds to us as just so much adult hypocrisy!

YOUR OPINION

Crecco ponders QEA law

To the editor:

As you are aware, the "new" Quality Education Act was recently approved by the State Legislature.

QEA was supposed to be a law that would lower property taxes and bring fairness to the education system. It did neither. It wasn't long before the Democratic sponsors of the much publicized law admitted it was a disaster. If they had bothered to listen to dissenting opinion when they rammed the bill through in record time last summer, they could have avoided the embarrassing retreat. Instead, the bill was enacted with great fanfare.

Now the Democrats appear condemned to repeat the mistake of the past. They have again acted with great haste and political expediency in trying to undo their errors. The very same people who ridiculed Assembly Republicans for urging caution and careful consideration last summer have pushed a sloppy repair job through the Legislature in a week.

I never thought I would see anything else move quicker than the QEA. But with the indifference to public concern demonstrated throughout the process, I should have known better.

There were a number of compelling reasons to proceed slowly. Just as the bill's supporters didn't have all the facts they needed to make an intelligent decision last year, they didn't have all the information necessary to know whether this plan would work either.

For the second straight month, income tax revenues needed to fund the plan have come in dramatically below estimates. If the trend continues, there is a very real possibility that there won't be enough money in the pot to pay for this plan.

The Democrats have produced, and then scrapped, one computerized list after another in a desperate bid to prove QEA will work. As far as I'm concerned, the latest plan has about as much credibility as every one of its predecessors, which is none.

It's almost humorous to hear the sponsors brag about how the latest plan will only result in "minimal" property tax increases when the plan was sold to the public as a means to lower taxes.

They weren't talking about "minimal tax increases" or "tax stabilization." What they promised the people was lower property taxes across the board. This plan does nothing of the sort.

If the Democrats really have a stash of money at their disposal and want to impress the taxpayers, then let's repeal taxes, instead of trying to buy votes.

The Democratic plan will wreak havoc on local school districts, which will have no choice but to implement layoffs, sacrifice academic excellence, and slash extracurricular activities.

They have a lot of nerve calling this a "quality" education plan.

Keep housing inspector

To the editor:

When the building of new homes and the selling of homes in Belleville are at a standstill, how can our town manager lay off a housing inspector that we need to keep up with property owners who don't repair their homes or keep their property clean.

We know of many home owners in our area of the Forest section that Mr. Fornarotto was called and the problems were taken care of.

We wish the mayor and council would check the cases and records of Mr. Fornarotto and see the proof of his work. He is needed.

The township of Belleville will lose a dedicated man who does his job with no partiality to any one.

We know because as a taxpayer he works honestly and for all of our home owners.

Marion Chianca

Sen. Orechio praised

To the editor:

The recent re-mapping of districts for New Jersey may cause a tremendous loss to our state. With the possibility of retirement of Senator Carmen Orechio to allow Senator Ambrosio the Democratic position for our November election, we could lose 18 years of experience and concern within our state legislature.

Senator Orechio has continually shown compassion and support to so many people. As a resident of Nutley for only five years, our family first experienced his genuine caring last year. My 14-year-old daughter has dystonia, a progressive neurological disease causing extreme disability.

In February 1990, I established the New Jersey Chapter of the Dystonia Medical Research Foundation. Senator Orechio agreed to be on our advisory board, but this was just the beginning. In September we had our first Dystonia Awareness picnic to help spread information about this dreadful illness as well as raise funds for research.

Senator Orechio gave us his blood, sweat and tears in support. He personally helped prepare, set up and even clean up on this day. I stood in amazement watching this man unload trucks, pick up ice, set up tables. This kind of support and caring is genuine.

And his support continues by attending all our meetings and participating with ongoing enthusiasm. As I speak to others, it becomes more and more obvious that this is not atypical of him. The senator is there when we need him, not only in name. He is there with no fanfare or expected credit, giving to his community and state.

I felt a need to speak up on his behalf since I know he would not. Politicians will come and go; however, we cannot replace Senator Carmen Orechio and his sincere contributions to our state.

Claire Contrella, President
Dystonia Medical Research Foundation

School 7 'sweep' a success

To the editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Nina Rubino of School No. 7 O.P.E. and the Belleville Times for the article of Feb. 7th on our Patriot Brooms. As stated in the article, a portion of the proceeds from the sale of each broom were to be donated to the N.J. National Guard Family Assistance Program. As of today we have donated over $800.

The article went on to state that the head of the Assistance Program donated a broom to the State. We recently received a thank you letter from Governor Florio. We'd like to give special thanks to Gary from Apollo Flag in Totowa. He came up with flags and ribbons for us when no one else would. He was given a certificate of appreciation from the Adjutant General of N.J. for his help.

Another certificate was given to Sal Mejilis of Flowerama. Thank you Sal, for getting us ribbon, donating to the cause, displaying our broom and for your concern. It was appreciated.

Thanks to Jim at Rosebud's for displaying and selling our brooms. You were a big help.

And a big thanks to Mike for procuring supplies and to John for our flyers and for your support.

Thanks to all of you who bought our brooms and are displaying them proudly on your front doors.

And finally a special thanks to all the soldiers. You have always been in our prayers for your safe return.

Along the Passaic

A gold star for the governor

By Ella F. Filippone
Executive Administrator,
Passaic River Coalition

Recently, Governor Jim Florio stopped the incinerator project in the City of Passaic. The pressure for this action came from the people in the city and Senator Gabe Ambrosio. Why must people band together to have government do what is logical and correct? In the press coverage of this cancellation, the comment was made that the County had completed an environmental impact statement (EIS). So? If the EIS recognized the impact of the incinerator on the hospital, churches, schools, etc., then why was this location pursued?

An EIS all too often is written the way the client wants it to be done. We have been involved in the review of many of these documents, including the Passaic County incinerator. You didn't have to be "an Einstein" to recognize the potential threats of public health from this facility. As a matter of fact, the legislation which called for an incinerator in every county should have been vetoed by the Governor when it was enacted several years ago. It has proved to be totally unworkable.

Currently, the airshed over New Jersey cannot attain air quality standards overall. So why pump more junk into the air via these many incinerators? Several years ago, an EIS was completed for an incinerator in Morris County, which used a numerical ranking system. The directive was "impact on Morris County." Therefore, for the site in northeast Morris on the Essex County boundary line, the air pollution impact was so insignificant that it bounced that location to the top of the list. Of course, all air emissions would be blown into Essex County. When the air quality element was removed from consideration, this site was the worst of all considered. It, too, was cancelled after public pressure. In discussions on the value of an EIS for land development with Congressman Peter Kostmayer of Pennsylvania on the Sterling Forest project, the Congressman quickly recognized that the public cannot rely on an EIS which is done with a specific goal in mind. If the public interest is to be served, he noted an EIS must be done by an independent party. So it should be for most major federal and state projects.

While some may feel that the N.J. Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) should also serve as an oversight committee on such documents, we need only point to the inadequate review of the Passaic County incinerator site and to the Passaic River Flood Control Tunnel Project by the DEP in previous years.

The policies associated with environmental review are guided by the person who is elected President of the United States and the Governor of a state. Under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, an EIS was to identify environmental impacts and proper remedial actions which may correct such problems. However, always to be considered was the "no action" alternative and the use of different approaches. Clearly, the only way the wishes of the people could be heard on the Passaic County incinerator was through the intervention of Governor Jim Florio. He deserves a gold star for the courage of that decision!

Taylor is welcome addition to Belleville High faculty

By Amy LoCoco

It may come as a shock, but teachers are people too! That's right, all of the teachers who stand in the front of the classroom everyday go home and actually have lives. They eat, sleep, brush their teeth, and even go out. Some of these "people" are even quite interesting!

Suzanne Taylor is one of the newest members of the faculty at BHS. Taylor is a graduate of Montclair State College, and completed her student teaching at Belleville Middle School.

In addition to teaching English, Taylor has many hobbies and interests.

She enjoys reading, writing poetry, going to the theater, and watching sports. A favorite sport of Taylor's is football. She is definitely a big Giants fan. Another one of her favorite things is spaghetti.

Taylor is characterized by her students as a caring and dedicated teacher. When asked to name her favorite holiday she said, "Christmas is by far my favorite holiday because it is happy and peaceful."

She enjoys her career, and she realized this after her first year at BHS. Taylor feels comfortable at BHS, and she enjoys the way the people make her feel welcome.

Another aspect about Taylor which makes her interesting is her personality. She is friendly and seems to have good rapport with her students. Taylor hopes to enlighten her students in order to make the difficult situations in life a little easier to bear.

BHS seniors are inducted into National Honor Society

By Denise Ferrara

On the evening of April 3, Belleville High School seniors were officially inducted into the National Honor Society at a prestigious ceremony held at the Chandelier.

Elsie Winship, a mathematics teacher at BHS and alumna of the National Honor Society, is the advisor of the BHS Chapter.

Joseph Ciccone, BHS principal, welcomed inductees and parents and began the ceremony with the Honor Society Pledge.

The traditional candle lighting ceremony was conducted with five

NHS members lighting candles, representing the qualities of knowledge, character, leadership, service and scholarship. The candle lighting ceremony was followed by the official induction of the candidates and the signing, by each member, of the NHS register.

Each candidate received a membership card, National Honor Society pin and certificate.

The evening concluded with a formal dinner and smiles of pride from the newly inducted members and their parents.

Hair show to begin May 7

By Linda Rose Marotti

The 6th annual Hair Show Extravaganza will be held May 7 at the Belleville High School auditorium at 7 p.m.

The show will feature the senior cosmetology students, who will be demonstrating the many skills and talents they have acquired during the two year program.

Haircoloring, permanent waving, manicuring and nail art, along with hair cutting and styling, will be among the featured talents. The students will have models from all walks of life including young children and working adults.

The styles will range from youthful casual to sophisticated and elegant. All are invited to see the talented future professionals exhibit their skills.

A small donation will be charged to defray the cost of products used. Refreshments will also be served.

High School librarian begins program for research paper

By Allison Langelino

This year, an innovative library program designed to help Belleville High School students write research papers was initiated by high school librarian Larry Herman.

Students enrolled in Karen Pasterchick's English 3 enriched class were the first to test a pilot program utilizing the fax facilities of the New Jersey Library Network in Trenton.

Herman believes the fax machine "would be helpful in doing research to obtain the most current articles in addition to retrospective articles from the past which could be used in historical research."

The students were offered this unique opportunity as an aid to the research they were required to do for their career paper.

Through combined usage of the "Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature" and a fax machine located in the board of education offices, students were able to request and receive material from virtually any magazine in print.

The service was extremely helpful to the students, who are now able to receive a great deal more information — and with greater convenience — than ever before.

Nancy Matthews, a student in Pasterchick's class, said, "It was a great opportunity to receive current information which otherwise wouldn't have been available to us." Also, junior Gaetano Gioino said, "It was convenient to use because the information came quickly."

Joseph Del Guercio, a board of education member, said he feels that a fax machine would be a "worthwhile item for the school system and the board of education should look into obtaining one for the school system."

If approved by the board of education, the purchase of the fax

Concert is set for April 24

By Colleen Coppla

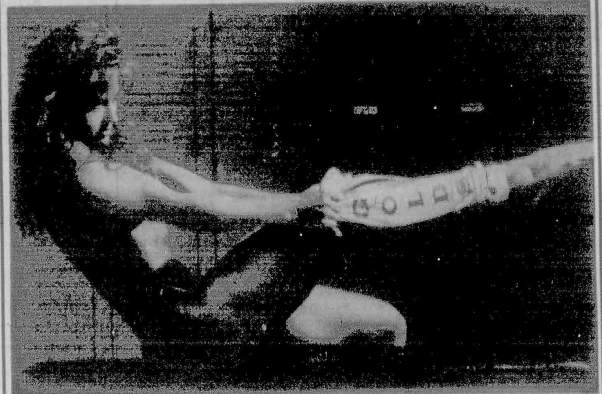

Belleville High School's Choir and Jazz Ensemble will present a concert on April 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Dr. Thomas Finetti's 45 show choir members will be performing a specialized repertoire of popular Broadway music including selections from "Cabaret," "Fiddler on the Roof," "Annie," and many others. Dr. Finetti adapted several existing arrangements as well as arranged many himself. Several numbers contain dances choreographed by Janice Nazziola.

Joseph Kraemer's three jazz groups will perform several "straight ahead" jazz standards that will include works by Miles Davis and Charlie Parker as well as original works by Ben Guadalupe. Kraemer stated, "It should be a hot concert, appealing to all."

Clara Maass celebrates National Volunteer Week

Volunteers - Our Greatest Resource.

National Volunteer Week was first observed in 1972 and is now recognized each year by a special message from the President, as well as a Proclamation by governors and local officials.

At Clara Maass Medical Center more than 300 volunteers from the tri-town area have donated 67,000 hours of service to the Medical Center in 1990.

At the Medical Center volunteers will be recognized by administration and managers at a reception April 18 in the Medical Center's dining room. Three volunteers will receive special recognition for long service. Kay Purdue of Nutley, and Dr. Reinhold Walter of Upper Montclair will each receive a plaque for 10,000 hours of volunteer service. Anita Alleman of Nutley will be added to the 1520 Club which recognizes volunteers with 15,000 service hours or 20 years of service.

"We appreciate all of the outstanding work done by our volunteers and we want them to know how vital they are to Clara Maass," said Marlene French, manager of Volunteer Service at the Medical Center.

Those wishing information on becoming a Clara Maass volunteer should call 450-2150, weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"It is a very rewarding experience," said Kay, a retired electrical company sales supervisor. Eight-and-a-half years ago Kay retired and began volunteering approximately two months later. "I've made many friends," she added.

For Kay and many others volunteering can be a gratifying experience. During the week of April 21 to 27, Clara Maass Medical Center and hospitals across the nation will celebrate National Volunteer Week. The theme for the week is

Adopting a Beneficial Policy

Thanks to the Orphan Drug Act, people who suffer from rare disorders may be able to be cured or effectively treated with appropriate drugs. An "orphan drug" is a compound that serves so few patients as to be economically unfeasible for a drug manufacturer to develop and sell. The term may also apply to a drug in the public domain which cannot be protected by patent and therefore would not warrant the monetary outlay for research and testing to bring it to market. However, the Orphan Drug Act guarantees makers of orphan drugs seven years of market exclusivity and a 50 percent tax credit for certain specific research expenses. Since the law was enacted in 1983, 41 drugs for rare disease have been developed to help victims of these disorders.

Whenever you have a question about a particular medication give us a call. We're always happy to provide the information you need at ROSSMORI PHARMACY, 330 Washington Ave., 2nd Floor, 29106. We are Blue Cross and Medicare approved. Baby needs, traveling cards and many other items are stocked. Open 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 10pm Sundays.

NOTE: There are 133 orphan drug products for 95 rare disorders just now entering the final stages of development.

Cool dudes, dudettes celebrate language week

By Denise Zecca

BHS students in Alina Selva's Spanish II class posted reports on the bulletin board that depict "Cool Hispanic Dudes and Dudettes."

Written and oral reports were presented to fellow students to celebrate Foreign Language Week and Women's month.

Students shared records and tapes of songs and music from the Hispanic world to further enhance their reports.

Some of the famous Hispanic celebrities included: Gloria Estefan, Jose Jose, Rafael, Julio Iglesias, Des Arnez, Edward James Olmos, Richie Valenz, Nancy Lopez, Koberio Clemente, Jose Canseco and Katherine Davalos Ortega, whose signature can be found on a one dollar bill.

Selva, who also teaches French at Belleville Middle School, felt the assignment was very worthwhile and that it provided relevant role models for her students.

Emanon staff preparing for another issue

By Gina Del Guercio

What exactly is Emanon? Emanon is a literary magazine composed of the literary works of BHS students. Emanon's history dates back to 1972 when Ariene McFarland, an English teacher at BHS, conceived and implemented the idea of publishing student's original work in the form of a literary magazine.

The staff of Emanon consists of approximately 10 members who meet once a week to discuss and select the literature that will be placed in the booklet. All students bachelor's degree to three residents bachelor's degree in electrical engineering; Michele Esposito, a bachelor's degree in business management, and Carl S. Wright, a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering technology.

are welcomed to contribute their poems, essays, or short stories.

The magazine, illustrating interesting and creative writing pieces, is compiled, organized, and assembled by McFarland and her staff. The magazine is enhanced with drawings and sketches provided by students with the assistance of the art department at BHS. The cost of the magazine is 25 cents.

Each year at the scholastic dinner in May, an Emanon award is given to an eligible senior who has contributed to Emanon and his illustrated a talent for writing.

The magazine is strongly recommended for anyone who enjoys reading and writing.

A staff member echoes the feelings of the students and staff of BHS. "I love Emanon! It's great to read all the poems and stories contributed by the students. This booklet is the best!"

Stuffed up nose may mean minor, serious health problem

Your nose is stuffed up and you can hardly breathe. The condition keeps you awake at night and uncomfortable during the day. Some days it improves, then the congestion returns in full force.

Any persistent nasal obstruction should be assessed by a physician because its cause could be any number of factors, some more serious than others.

The blockage could simply be a result of rhinitis, an inflammation of the nasal passages, accompanied by swelling and in increase in mucus production. The rhinitis may be caused by a viral or bacterial infection, an allergic reaction to your environment or a non-allergic but recurrent condition. The chronic congestion may be accompanied by drainage, with symptoms alternating between a stuffy nose and one that won't stop running.

If you try an over-the-counter medication to clear up the congestion, be sure to follow the directions. In the case of nasal sprays, if you take the medication longer than is recommended, you can actually create a rebound effect and worsen the problem.

Most people are somewhat sensitive to excessive dust, so a clean environment helps. Some people also have a problem with excessive dry nasal passages caused by heat-drying out the air. An over-the-counter saline spray to moisten your passages can also be helpful.

Chronic stuffiness can also be caused by a sinus infection. Unlike rhinitis, it is usually accompanied by severe pain in your forehead and around your eyes. If so, you'll require a doctor's care.

Obstructed nasal passages could also be an anatomical problem. The septum, the bone and cartilage partition that separates the nasal cavity into two passages, may be crooked and blocking airflow. The turbinates, structures that line the sides of the inner nose, may be enlarged.

A benign polyp or malignant tumor may also be the cause of nasal obstruction. Malignant tumors are rare. Polyps are not.

BUCC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

In the proud tradition that is Belleville High School baseball, there have been plenty of outstanding teams and numerous players who put up some marvelous numbers.

It's been ten years now since the '81 Belleville Bucs accomplished something very special. The team won the prestigious Greater Newark Tournament, beating Glen Ridge 10-4 in the championship game. That contest, played on May 31, 1981 in Verona Park, climaxed a month of May in which the Bucs reached just about every emotion possible in sports.

Now, ten years later, those memories are stored safe in the minds of all those who participated and witnessed that team. It was indeed a special team.

Over the next few weeks, we'll look back at the 1981 Belleville Bucs baseball team. We'll talk with George Zuffel, the man who coached that team to its first GNT championship. Hopefully, we'll talk with a few of the players who participated for that team.

My memories of that team are plenty. Perhaps two of the most vivid were pitcher Anthony Coco, who after being shelled in one of his rare bad outings, walked off the mound with the utmost confidence that his team would find a way to win.

At the time Coco felt that way, he probably wouldn't have had too many backers. Coco left the game in the first inning against Columbia in the quarterfinal round of the GNT. Belleville trailed, 8-0.

Seven innings later, Coco's "prediction" came true. Belleville rallied for a heartstopping 15-9 victory.

In the championship game of the GNT, Joe Corbals, the Bucs powerful third baseman, lined a double in the early stages of the game. The hit drove home two runs and gave Belleville the lead for good. I'll never forget Coco, sitting in the Buc dugout, screaming at the top of his lungs, "Bluto's my man, Bluto's my man." Corbals, as you probably have guessed, was nicknamed Bluto by his teammates.

The '81 Bucs were on a mission. Ten years ago, Belleville High School was an independent school. They didn't play in a conference, so the only way the school could win a championship was by taking a county or conference crown.

The day before the team won the GNT, it was ousted by Livingston in the championship game of the Group IV, Section II state tournament. The game with Glen Ridge was the final contest of the season and this group of players was bound and determined to win a championship.

Many of the players on that '81 squad had participated on the '80 Buc football team, which lost in the state title game to West Essex the previous autumn.

The players felt they had to win the game with Glen Ridge to prove they were winners. The people who truly knew those kids knew that the winner label belonged with the Bucs no matter what happened on May 31, 1981.

Players like Frankie "The Bear" Fazzini, Jerry Ross, Paul Schueplein, Ken Constantino, Eugene "Fu" Cancellieri, Phil Cerza, Bob Grogan, Anthony Starr, Coco and Corbals had combined to make Belleville baseball a dominant force in the early 80's.

When Belleville recorded the final out in that GNT title game, I'll never forget Jerry Ross coming up to me and saying that the team was now truly a winner.

Time has a way of going by quickly. Too quickly, especially as you get older. The next few weeks should be enjoyable, as we look back at a very special baseball team and some of the big games that made up the 1981 campaign.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL BEGINS

I don't know about you, but the start of the major league baseball season is always something special. With the heat wave we've encountered recently, baseball was especially welcome.

All winter long, we complain about the ridiculously high salaries of these players. We say the players have lost touch with reality, how it's hard to comprehend a player turning down $4 million a year because it isn't enough.

But then, opening day comes around and it all seems to be forgotten. The Mets drew over 49,000 for its opener with the Phillies. You can almost guarantee the Toronto Blue Jays will "average" 50,000 fans a game at the Skydome. The Jays could draw 4.5 million fans before the season is over.

I'll be in St. Louis next Thursday, watching my Cardinals in their home opener. It's become a tradition for me to travel to St. Louis and see the Cardinals run around Busch Stadium before the opener. The Cards aren't supposed to be a very good team this year, but they'll draw close to 3 million fans anyway.

Dodger Stadium figures to be more packed than ever, now that Darryl Strawberry is in town. Over in Chicago, the White Sox will introduce a brand new ball park next week. A very talented Chisox team is hoping to challenge the A's for the AL West crown. The Sox could also challenge a new team attendance mark.

Baseball is here, and it's bigger than ever. Forget that the price of going to the ball game has risen, thanks to the astronomical salaries. Just enjoy the game, because when all the discussion is over about salary, the game of baseball is an art that enraptures millions of people.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The ACC and the Big East sent eight teams to the Final Four during the 1980's. The Big 10 sent six teams, the Metro sent five, the Southeast Conference sent four, the Southwest Conference and Big Eight Conferences sent three each, the Pac 10 sent two and UNLV went one. No Independent schools made the Final Four in the 80's.

The coach who took his team to the most Final Four's in the 80's was Denny Crum of Louisville. He led the Cardinals to the Final Four in '80, '82, '83 and '86. The Cardinals won the championship in '80 and '86.

FOR THIS WEEK

When was the last time the Philadelphia Phillies won a divisional title? Who managed the Phillies that year? How did the Phils do in the playoffs? Who was the starting lineup for Philly in the infield that year?

AND FINALLY...

The Belleville baseball team won its first game of the season, stopping Kennedy 4-2 in its home opener last Friday. Rich Ferruggia pitched a solid game for the Bucs. The Belleville pitching staff did not allow an earned run in its first two games.

Congratulations to the Lady Buc softball team. The girls won its first two games, defeating Immaculate Heart and Paterson Kennedy. Only 44 more days to the John and Janet Engel picnic. The anticipation is mounting.

Capasso, Ferruggia sharp

Bucs split first two games

By Mike Lamberti

Two games, no earned runs. That's the early line on the Belleville baseball teams' pitching staff. The strong pitching helped the Bucs split its first two games of the '91 season, losing to Becton 3-2 and stopping Kennedy, 4-2.

Nick Grande's team faced a very busy week of action. Last Monday, the Bucs battled Passaic. Yesterday, the team played host to Bloomfield. Tomorrow, Bergen Catholic comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. On Saturday, Belleville plays a unique "doubleheader." At 10 a.m., the Bucs are at Parsippany. Then, at 3 p.m., Belleville is home to Caldwell. Next Monday, the Bucs travel to Barringer for an 11 a.m. game.

Belleville's season opening game was played on April 2 at Becton. A poor first inning proved costly as Becton scored all its runs in that inning.

"The kids were a little tight," Grande said. "It was a tough first inning, but our team hung in there and played well after that. We got an excellent pitching performance from Michael (Capasso) and the defense did a good job."

Capasso hurled a complete game for the Bucs. In six innings, he allowed just five hits and gave up three runs, none earned. Capasso struck out seven batters and walked five.

In the bottom of the first, Becton scored three runs with benefit of just one hit. Two walks, a single and a Buc error helped the Bergen County school to a 3-0 lead.

The game stayed that way until the top of the seventh, when Belleville staged a rally. Richard Quine led off with a pinch hit single. He scored second base, but the next two Belleville hitters were retired, leaving Carmen Spina as the last hope for the Bucs.

Spina kept the inning alive by drawing a walk. Michael Alfano singled to load the bases and Jason Nardachone walked to force home Quine. Rich Ferruggia then drew a walk to bring in Spina with the second run. The rally ended with a strikeout.

"I was pleased with the effort of our kids," Grande said. "The kids were nervous early on, but they didn't let down."

The Belleville bats were quiet in the opener. The Bucs were limited to two Alfano singles.

Against Kennedy in the home opener, Belleville won a hard fought 4-2 game.

Rich Ferruggia, who had a broken hand during the pre season, hurled a solid game. In six innings, he allowed just four hits and two runs, both of which were unearned. Ferruggia struck out nine batters and walked five.

"Rich threw the ball very well," Grande said. "It was very encouraging. He was in control of his pitches throughout the game."

Belleville scored once in the first inning. Art Caruso reached safely on a questionable error by the Kennedy third baseman.

"It was a tough ball for him to handle," Grande said of the third baseman. "I would have called it a hit, but it's not my decision."

Mike Kimball walked, but a double play ball erased Kimball at second with Caruso moving to third. Mike Melham then singled to score Caruso.

Kennedy scored twice in the second inning, with a big break coming on a two out wind blown infield pop that eluded the Buc defense.

Belleville came back in the bottom of the third. Melham walked, and after two outs, Jason Nardachone singled Melham to third. Ferruggia reached safely on a second questionable error, with Melham scoring the tying run. Jim DuHaine then stepped to the plate and lined a hard single that scored Nardachone and Ferruggia.

The game was halted after Kennedy batted in the top of the sixth because of darkness.

DuHaine led the Belleville attack with two RBI's. The senior outfielder also made an incredible diving catch in the fifth inning to prevent a possible double or triple.

"It was a great catch," Grande said of DuHaine's gem. "Once again, I was pleased with everyone's effort. These kids really want to win and there is an excellent work attitude here."

Belleville had six hits in the victory over Kennedy, with no Buc hitter getting more than one hit.

The Bucs now face a monster week, climaxed by that strange doubleheader this Saturday morning and afternoon.

"It was one of those scheduling glitches," Grande said of the Parsippany and Caldwell games. We'll be doing a little traveling on Saturday, playing on the road in the morning, then coming home for an afternoon game.

"We also have a real tough game with Bergen Catholic on Friday (tomorrow) afternoon. They're a powerhouse in their division."

One week of action is in the books and the early signs are quite positive for the Bucs. The pitching has been strong and the defense has done well. Grande now hopes it can continue during this marathon week of action.

NOTES: Grande expressed his thanks to the Township of Belleville for its help in getting the field ready.

"The field is in pretty good shape. The infield is just about there. The good weather coming up should put us in real good shape. I'd like to thank Mr. Kendall for all his help and his concern about the playing facility."

The JV Bucs won its first two games of the '91 season. The freshman team also did well, beating Kennedy in its opener.

Grande also acknowledged the help Bob Gayle has given the Bucs this season.

"Some of the former players have also stopped down to help out," the coach said.

Caldwell visits on Saturday

Softball team defeats M.I., Kennedy

By Mike Lamberti

Carl Corino had a very quick response when asked about his team's impressive start in the 1991 season.

"It's early."

This isn't to say that the coach was not pleased with his young team's performance last week. It's just that one week does not determine an entire season.

Belleville opened the '91 campaign with a 12-2 win over Montclair Immaculate and a 15-6 triumph over Kennedy.

The Lady Bucs battled Passaic and Bloomfield earlier this week. Tomorrow, the girls are at Paterson Eastside in a 4 p.m. game. This Saturday, powerful Caldwell comes to Clearmont Field for an 11 a.m. contest. Next Monday, the girls are home to Barringer. Game time has not yet been determined.

It could either be 11 a.m. or 4 p.m. Next Wednesday, the team travels to Ridgewood in an 11 a.m. start.

The season opener was originally supposed to be against Lyndhurst, but that game was rained out. Corino does not expect that game to be made up because of scheduling difficulties.

Thus, the season opener was against Montclair Immaculate and Belleville looked good in winning a 12-2 decision.

Danielle DeWork hurled the entire game, allowing just three hits. She struck out four and walked five.

The game was close for the first four innings. Belleville scored once in the first and Immaculate tied the game with a solo run in the fourth.

However, in the top of the fifth, Belleville broke the game open with five runs. The key hit in the inning was a bases loaded triple by Carey Woodruff. The triple scored DeWork, Kim Piscatowski and Judy Krych.

Belleville added more distance in the sixth inning by scoring six runs to increase the lead to 12-1. Immaculate's second run came in the bottom of the sixth.

Woodruff, one of three players who lettered on last year's team, led the Lady Bucs with four RBI's. Jennifer Ciarella, DeWork and Lynn Giachetti had two RBI's each. "DeWork gave us a solid game," Corino said of the junior pitcher. "Defensively, we played well. It was a good way to open the season."

Mike Popovich looking forward to challenge of coaching girls' track

By Mike Lamberti

Mike Popovich enjoys a challenge. He also enjoys the sport of track and field. He has the best of both worlds now as he takes over the job of head girls' track coach at Belleville High School.

Girls' track first made the scene at Belleville High in the Spring of 1977. Back then, Debbie Meola was the coach and the team was paced by a very talented junior half miler named Sue Smith.

Throughout the years, the program has turned out some very talented runners. After Smith was graduated in 1978, Dana Caruso began her reign as a standout middle distance runner. Caruso broke Smith's half mile record in 1981.

Barbara Gundry shared some of Caruso's spotlight in the early 80's. She came into her own by her senior year in 1982, competing in four events despite torn ligaments in her ankle.

After Gundry's departure, Patty Blais had some outstanding years. Joyce Luongo followed suit in the mid to late 1980's. Erica Townes had some excellent years in the sprint events.

In 1981, Cecelia Graham won the county high jump championship and advanced to the group championships.

There have been some excellent runners during the history of girls' track at Belleville High. However, that has not always translated into strong teams. Since the inception of the program, the team has not posted a winning season.

Popovich is making no promises, but his thinking is certainly headed in the right direction.

"The kids have to enjoy the sport," the 34 year old coach said. "The key now is to generate interest in the sport and do so at the early stages, preferably in the grade schools and the junior high school."

Popovich has been a part of track and field for 20 years. In high school, he competed in cross country and track at Passaic County Tech. After graduating in 1974, Popovich moved on to St. Joseph's College in Indiana, earning a degree in education.

He began his coaching career at his high school alma mater, coaching cross country, track and bowling.

"Those were my sports in high school," Popovich said. "It was a lot of fun."

Four years ago, Popovich moved to the Belleville Middle School, where he currently is a science teacher. He has been the assistant track coach to John Tosato the past four years.

"I was out of coaching one year, and I really missed it," Popovich said. "I'm glad to be coaching in Belleville. The kids are a lot of fun and they're willing to learn. They're also hard working."

Popovich does not discourage easily. He realizes that a winning record in girls' track will not come overnight, especially in the very competitive NNJIL.

"Right now, I just want to see improvement in the girls' performance," Popovich said. "I look forward to helping in building this program."

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Attention all teachers!

The Belleville Recreation Department announced applications for Summer Recreation positions are now available. Playground director positions are open to teachers and those who will have completed their third year of college by the summer of 1991. Preference is given to full-time teachers and to college seniors majoring in recreation, physical education, teaching and psychology. Previous leadership in recreation settings and/or outstanding athletic ability is a plus. Applicants must also have good organizational skills. There will be few positions open so those who desire summer employment are urged to apply promptly.

Persons wishing to apply should phone the Recreation Department office at 450-3422 weekdays to obtain an application. Interviews will be scheduled in the springtime. Potential applicants must be teachers or college students working toward a teaching degree and must be available to work for seven straight weeks from June 24 to August 9. All returning employees who qualify must also re-apply.

Recreation track

The Belleville Recreation Department will be offering a recreation track program for boys and girls in grades 6, 7 and 8. The program will tentatively be conducted Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays at the Stadium from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Scheduled to begin on April 1, the program will be designed to introduce aspiring runners to the fundamentals of track and field. Participation, rather than competition, will be stressed. Training will consist of instructions and fun activities, instead of intense physical workouts. This year's program instructor will be Donna Lee Daudein, a former runner for the Belleville High School track team.

Children in grades 6, 7 and 8 who reside in Belleville are eligible. Those children who will be playing baseball or softball should not take part in this program, however, since practices and schedules will conflict. To register, come to the Recreation Department office at 407 Joramem Street between 8:30-4:00, Monday-Friday, with your birth certificate.

Umpires needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is in need of adults and boys or girls, age 16 or older, to umpire games in the recreation baseball and softball leagues. Games are played on weekday nights and Saturdays during the months of April-June. For more information or to apply, please call the Recreation Department office at 450-3422 or stop at the Rec House on Joramem Street before 4 p.m. on weekdays.

Cheerleading registration

The Belleville Recreation Department announced applications for tryouts for the Junior Bucs Cheerleading squads will be available April 29 at the Recreation Department office on Joramem Street.

Three squads will be selected according to the girls' grade in school, one each for the "C", "B" and "A" traveling football teams. Cheerleading clinics will begin May 20 with the registration deadline for tryouts May 17. Birth certificates will be required of all applicants and everyone intending to tryout must register by the May 17 deadline. Girls who will be in grades 3-8 during the 1991-92 school year are eligible, and all returnees must re-apply.

For more information, contact the Recreation Department office at 450-3422.

Lady Bucs fall to I. Heart

By Mike Lambert

The Belleville girls' track team opened the 1991 season with a loss to a very good Immaculate Heart team.

Mike Popovich's team is off this week. The girls get back to work next Tuesday, against Paramus. "We're a pretty young team," said Popovich. "We have a lot of kids that have never run in a track meet before. The majority of our team are freshman and sophomores. We've shown a lot of improvement since the beginning of the year. We scrimaged Nutley a few weeks ago and we looked a lot better in the Immaculate Heart meet."

Cynthia Adams turned in a solid performance against I.H. She finished second in the 800 meters and the high jump and placed third in the 400 meter intermediate hurdles.

Diane Vian placed second in the 3200 meters and third in the 1600. Kim O'Mara was third in the 400 and Margaret Noonan took a third place in the 3200. Theresa Dellamercio closed out the Belleville scoring with a third in the triple jump.

"My main goal is for the kids to have fun with the sport and for the team to show improvement as the year goes on," Popovich said. "As long as we can do those things, the rest will fall in place."

Galioto grand slam defeats P. Kennedy

by nine runs, but the score was kind of deceiving. The Lady Bucs trailed by two runs in the sixth inning and the game was tied at six heading into the seventh frame.

"Kennedy is a much improved team," Corino said of the NJJIL Atlantic Division team. "They gave us a real tough game. The final score was not indicative of the closeness of the game."

Belleville trailed 5-3 after the fifth inning. In the sixth, Citarella hit a two run homer and in the seventh, Kristin Galioto connected for a grand slam to break the game open.

Piscatowski pitched the first six innings for Belleville. She allowed five hits and struck out seven batters. Karl Wendling hurled the seventh inning, retiring three Kennedy batters on three pitches.

Offensively, Galioto led the way with two hits and five RBIs. Galioto had a triple in addition to the grand slam homer.

Citarella had two hits and two RBIs. Woodruff and Piscatowski also contributed two ribbies each.

"We used 16 players in the Montclair Immaculate game," Corino said. "We had nine freshman players with the varsity and all of them got a chance to play. We're starting four freshman, two sophomores, two juniors and one senior so far this spring."

"With that kind of lineup, we're going to have our tough outings. But, I will say it's nice to start the season with two victories. It gives the team some confidence."

Cobras defeat Arrows, 4-3

The Cobras, a Belleville Soccer Association Division One team, stopped the Highland Park Arrows 4-3 last Sunday at Municipal Stadium. The victory improved the Cobra's record to 10-1 on the season.

Due to the very hot weather, the Cobras were forced to play a more conservative style. Nonetheless, it was good enough for the victory.

The first score of the game came off a Cobra corner kick 20 minutes into the game. Paul Mora, a left footed kicker with a natural hook, placed the ball to the far past as Jim Wandling was making a break. Wandling out leaped the Arrow's goalie and put a head ball into the net.

At the 25 minute mark, the Arrows had a throw in from the corner and perfectly placed the ball at the near side of the goal for the tying score.

The Cobras regained the lead when Daren Lewis broke downfield on a series of short, quick passes and rocketed a shot past the Arrow's goalie with five minutes left in the half.

The Arrows tied the game at the 52 minute mark on a corner kick, but the Cobras came back again, this time on a Wandling goal off a Lewis assist. Highland Park again tied the game, but the Cobras would not be denied.

Franco Vitello stole the ball, dribbled to midfield, then passed to Marcelo DiGiano, who then passed back to Vitello. Vitello then gave a one touch pass to Wandling for the winning goal.

The Belleville defense was paced by Greg DelMotte and Steve Vogel. Emanuel Arujo did an excellent job in the nets, recording 15 saves.

Karl Wendling delivers a pitch during recent game. Wendling recorded a save against Kennedy, retiring three batters on three pitches.

De Lisi receives award

Humanities scholar Frank De Lisi will receive the first Distinguished Service Award, given by the Belleville Public Library.

The award will be given annually to a person whose time, effort, and commitment to the library has led to improvements in library service to Belleville residents.

De Lisi has an undergraduate degree from Rutgers, a law degree from Fordham and a master's in English from Columbia University.

Though retired from teaching since 1980, De Lisi's work in arts programming and humanities lectures has led to the Belleville Library's progressive reputation and to our nickname "The University of Belleville," where education never stops.

A lecture by Distinguished Service Professor of Communications, M. Jerry Weiss will be presented at the library on April 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Magic show

Magician Joe Fischer will present a program of fantasy, illusion, and magic at 11 a.m. on April 20 in the Trustees' Room of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center. The show is part of the library's National Library Week celebration.

Call the library's circulation desk at 450-3434 to reserve tickets.

Photography courses

Margo Moss, professional photographer, will offer a program on April 20 called "A Photographic Walk," from 10-11:30 a.m. In addition, on Monday evenings from June 3-24, from 7-8:30 p.m., she will offer a course called "Photographing From the Right Brain." To register for the courses, call 450-3434.

George Street Playhouse

The George Street Playhouse will present "New Kid," written by Dennis Poon, a comedy about cross-cultural communication, on April 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Belleville Public Library.

Call the library at 450-3434 to reserve tickets.

Reyes completes

8-week training

Navy Seaman Recruit Jason R. Reyes, son of Artemio R. and Julita R. Reyes of Belleville, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Reyes' eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

His studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

Chamber luncheon

set for April 22

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will host a luncheon program on April 22, 1991 from noon to 2 p.m. at the Bella Casa, 2 Acme Street in Belleville.

The Westfield consulting firm of Berkowitz and Associates will discuss "Decision and Risk Analysis" (for better business decisions). Topics include clarifying decision making and quantifying business problems.

The cost of the program is $22.00 per person. Tickets can be obtained by calling the Chamber of Commerce at 201-759-4848.

Senior citizens need volunteers

The Friendly Visitors Program for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley needs some more volunteers who can visit senior citizens to reduce loneliness, spending an hour a week to assist elderly with business affairs, appointments and help connect them with appropriate services, discuss current events and share life experience.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Belleville Board of Education will meet in Private Executive Session at 7:00 p.m. followed by a Public Business Meeting at 8:00 p.m. on April 22, 1991. The meeting will be conducted at Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Avenue, Belleville, New Jersey.

'Medieval Times' arrive in township to the joy of students

The medieval times were brought to life April 5 when students of elementary schools No. 3 and No. 9 were treated to a little history, with a twist. To help his sixth-graders with their lessons, Pat Forte, principal of school No. 9, invited the kings and queens of The Medieval Times Restaurant in Lyndhurst to give a presentation. The lesson included live jousting matches and other activities. The student bodies of both schools participated in the event, which was presented by the restaurant free of charge. Pictured, clockwise from bottom left, school band members strike up a tune; Michelle Ferrara, 9, is chosen as Queen of Love and Beauty; a faithful knight poses with his fair lady; a knight on horseback is victorious after a jousting match, and students cheer for dueling knights. Century 21 Stanford Agency enhances customer service

NUTLEY, N.J. April 11, 1991. Century 21 Stanford Agency is instituting major changes designed to enhance customer service in the 1990's, according to broker/owner Nina Kaeser. All aspects of professional service throughout the Century 21 system will be affected. Changes having the most direct impact on the customer include the "Seller Service Pledge" certificate, a written pledge of service to home sellers that will be given with each listing taken after June 15, 1991. In addition two "Customer Satisfaction" surveys are being developed that allow consumers to evaluate and rate the quality of service they receive from a Century 21 sales associate. "Quality service will be the driving force of the Century organization and our office in the upcoming decade," said Nina Kaeser.

"This emphasis is systemwide, from the training our sales associates can receive to the monitoring of customer satisfaction long after the sale of a home!"

Quality service courses for both brokers and sales associates have been developed and distributed throughout the system.

"Our goal as an office is to provide a level of customer service to the community that is above and beyond anything else in our industry," noted Ms. Kaeser. "The Century 21 system is providing the tools and training to achieve this result."

In conjunction with the emphasis on service, Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, and Glen Ridge residents will notice new gold and black Century 21 Stanford Agency signs in their neighborhoods that feature an updated Century 21 logo. Residents will also notice that employees at Century 21 Stanford Agency are wearing new career apparel in a softer, more stylish gold.

Century 21 Stanford Agency has been serving the Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield and Glen Ridge communities since 1980. The office provides a full service real estate capacity.

The Century 21 system is the world's largest real estate sales organization. Century 21 Real Estate Corporation is a wholly owned subsidiary of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Did You Know???

The very nicest decorative accessories are personal: your favorite collection of "things," a youngster's sports or academic awards, or a special piece of art work by a family member.

Manufacturers report a return to manual reel lawn mowers; sales are up more than 50 percent since 1987. New mowers are lighter and easier to push than older models.

Bifold doors, whether latticed, louvered or paneled, are limited to doorways and windows. Hinge them together to make an attractive screen to shield an entranceway from a room, perhaps, or hide a TV.

Airtic insulation should extend to the edges of the ceiling, but it's important to leave the soffits uncovered so that air can circulate through them. This will forestall moisture problems.

History lesson: President Thomas Jefferson, in his magnificent home at Monticello, placed his bed in an alcove between his bedroom and his study; he could get up in whichever room he preferred that day!

Make history for your family with a wonderful home of their own. We'll help you find the just-right house for your needs at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley, 235-9000.

PERSONAL NOTICES

APPLICATION TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit you who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the Divine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me, I want this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory.
Thank you for your mercy
towards me and mine.
The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor will be granted even if it may appear difficult.
This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the fact. Only your initials should appear at the bottom.
