Planning board alternate questions billing payments

By Anthony Buccino

A retaining wall not on originally approved renovation plans at a Franklin Avenue restaurant delivered "angst to go" for planning board members.

Planning Board Chairman Rick Dombrowski said after the meeting he did not want the planning board reported on by the press the way past council meeting disturbances have been.

Dombrowski was referring to an early discussion between board secretary Sebastian "Sammy" Papa Jr. and board alternate Joseph Doyle.

Planning Board alternate Doyle questioned Township Director of Planning Bob Ringelheim about bill payments.

Ringelheim said bills were paid through the treasurer's office.

Doyle, who served on the planning board for nearly 20 years, asked why none of the planning board's bills were reviewed before they were sent to the finance department.

Ringelheim said he had turned over the bills to the finance department. Ringelheim added that the Planning Board "has no approval over bills. The bills are submitted to council to sign off and pay."

Councilman Mario Drozdz, a planning board member said, "Mr. Ringelheim knows the procedure. There's nothing to discuss... he's going in the proper direction. What happened in the past is past."

"I think that bills should be reviewed," Doyle said, adding that in the past they found simple billing errors. "This board has authority over its $20,000 budget. We should know what our expenses are and how they are being handled."

"I hope that it's clear we do not need approval," Doyle continued, referring to a note about expenses. "Due to budgetary expenses, please see me."

"On billing, we should see who's being paid what," Doyle said. "If Mr. Ringelheim says there is no money for education, then we should look into it."

Residents, officials question Gov. Florio Anti-tunnel rally draws crowd

By Laurie Silberg

Reports that the State Department of Environmental Protection had sent a representative to Washington last week to lobby for federal money for the Passaic River flood tunnel turned what was supposed to be a regular meeting of the Passaic River Coalition and the Belleville Concerned Citizens into a larger than expected anti-tunnel rally last week.

About 200 Belleville and other area residents, a state senator and local officials crammed into the Elks Club Thursday night, rallying against the $1.2 billion federal project for which the DEP has requested money be appropriated.

Belleville Council members were not present at the rally.

In a joint statement of the DEP and the State Department of Commerce and Economic Development, Maritime Advisory Council, a request was made April 10 to Congress for $6.75 million for next year to fund the tunnel. The statement was submitted by Bernard Moore, assistant director for engineering and construction in the DEP's Division of Coastal Resources and Joseph Grassi, executive director of the Maritime Council.

The money would be used by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to fund reconstruction, engineering and design of the 19.5-mile, 39-foot wide tunnel, which would transfer water from the Passaic River Basin to Newark Bay.

DEP Commissioner Scott Weiner is defending the Florio administration's request for funds, but says no decision has been made by the administration on its stance.

Calling residents the "hands and body" of the tunnel protest, Vincent Frantantoni, former commissioner and president of the Belleville Concerned Citizens, told citizens they must continue to hound Gov. Jim Florio with daily phone calls and weekly letters until "you see the Passaic River flood tunnel killed."

Sen. Gabriel Ambrosio, (D-36th), who has acquired Belleville, Nutley and other affected towns as the result of legislative redistricting, said Gov. Florio told him to tell residents "no one in the DEP was authorized" to give testimony on behalf of the two state departments.

A spokesman for the governor said he still has not changed positions on the issue, which he pledged to keep neutral about until a "white paper" study could be completed by the DEP. The study is due out in early May.

Adamently opposed to the tunnel, Ambrosio said when he walks into the governor's office "he sees 'no flood tunnel' across my face."

Ambrosio appealed to the residents for help in getting the tunnel question put on the ballot in November. "I urge you to go to your mayors and council for a November referendum on the flood tunnel. You can show once and for all that the people are against the tunnel."

Instrumental in the fight has been Ella Fillipone, executive director of the Passaic River Coalition. Ambrosio called Fillipone the "heart and soul of the movement."

Fillipone is questioning the governor's move in sending the DEP representative to Washington.

Under Fillipone's guidance, the Cardboard recycling sparks citizen dispute

By Anthony Buccino

Recycling was the center of controversy at the April 9 council meeting.

A former township official who objected to reported figures refused to leave the podium and was charged with disrupting the meeting, according to police.

Former commissioner Vincent Frantantoni, whose department was responsible for township recycling until June 30, 1990, disagreed with figures reported by recycling coordinator Joseph Scaperrotta.

Frantantoni said figures released by Scaperrotta "were very low." The former commissioner disputed figures for recycled tires and newspaper. He said the figures were "way off base."

Three departments were involved in recycling last year, Scaperrotta said, which made coordinating efforts more difficult.

Frantantoni complained about cardboard recycling.

As Scaperrotta and his former boss disputed figures, Mayor Marina Perna said, "I'm not looking to entertain a half-hour meeting here (on recycling). Please take it outside."

Frantantoni said he had a print-out which showed figures different than reported.

Perna questioned the authenticity of his document, saying it would be "ludicrous" to accept a document not authenticated by the township treasurer.

The mayor added that totals on the former commissioner's print-out "may not be exclusive to recycling."

Deputy Mayor Frank Caputo told the former commissioner that at the last council meeting the recycling program was discussed and the report given was an effort to gauge the program's success.

Mr. Frantantoni, you can sit down, your time is up," Mayor Perna said.

Frantantoni wanted to know why cardboard is not being picked up in

Three Board of Education candidates are profiled

By Laurie Silberg

Township voters will choose between two incumbents and one newcomer when they go to the polls for the school board election on April 30.

Vying for two three-year seats on the board of education are incumbents Joseph Del Guercio and Ralph Mazzuca, and 11th-hour entry Angie Pascheria.

Del Guercio, principal of Roosevelt Middle School in West Orange, said being an administrator and a board member "is an asset because you get to see both sides."

An educator for 22 years, Del

Guercio, 44, has served in urban and suburban school districts. His background includes six years as a teacher at East Orange High School, just under a decade as assistant principal of Orange Middle School, and one year as principal of Glen Ridge Middle School.

"My strength is my ability to deal with children from all walks of life," he said.

Del Guercio, who voted yes on this year's $30 million school board budget, said "I feel it is the best possible budget we can provide without having a negative impact on our kids - it's the most austere." He said he would have liked to have kept the tax increase to 20 points or lower, but said "we would have had to cut programs." This year, homeowners face a 25-point hike in their tax bills.

Taking office in 1988, Del Guercio said he's proud of his record during his first term on the board. "When I ran, I pledged to direct money to the kids."

When he ran three years ago, Del Guercio's platform called for upgrading schools, lowering administrative costs and lowering attorney fees. "Since I was elected, four of the elementary schools have new ceilings, new lighting and they've been painted."

Not afraid to eliminate administrative and staff positions, Del Guercio said he was instrumental in eliminating the position of maintenance supervisor. "We needed someone with a hands on approach, a working foreman. So now we have a lot of work done in-house." Instead of having to bid out, a lot of the maintenance and repair is done in-house, Del Guercio said.

"As a principal, I have a hands on attitude. I'm not sending teachers out to do something I wouldn't do myself," he said.

Del Guercio said it was his idea to eliminate the school board's former attorney, who was being paid $95 per hour, or about $95,000 per year. Since he's been on the board, Del Guercio said attorney fees have not exceeded $44,000 per year.

Administrative cuts which he said he's been instrumental in include the elimination of an assistant superintendent, an assistant board secretary, an assistant principal at the high school and four teaching positions at the high school.

Del Guercio said he would like to continue working to lower attorney fees, cut administrative costs, consolidate positions, improve teacher morale and upgrade schools.

Del Guercio also served on the budget committee this year.

Very disillusioned with the Quality Education Act, as amended by Gov. Jim Florio, Del Guercio said he thinks it had "more of a negative impact on the districts which achieved the state's expectations."

Seeking to continue his commitment to the youth and residents of Belleville, he said, "The stability of Belleville is its school system."

Del Guercio holds a bachelor's degree from St. Peter's College in Jersey City, and a masters in administration from Seton Hall University.

Born in Newark, Del Guercio moved with his family to East Orange when he was nine. He has lived in Belleville since 1969. Del Guercio is married to Mary and has two daughters, Donna and Gina.

Angie Pascheria, a 26-year resident of Belleville, believes her years of business and accounting experience, combined with her genuine concern for Belleville's children, will overcome her opponents' board experience.

Pascheria, who has devoted the last 10 years to volunteer work, worked for 18 years as assistant office manager for an attorney in Newark. "Now I work on committees, do fundraisers in Belleville and Bloomfield and volunteer for the seniors - I go wherever I'm needed," she said.

Pascheria, 35, has been vice-chairwoman of the Republican County Committee for almost a year. She serves on BASE, the Belleville Alliance for Substance Education, and the district's Special Education Advisory Committee, which she was appointed to by the board of education.

"The needs of special education children are not being fully met," she said.

A teacher's aide for 12 years, Pascheria is also involved in various home and school associations. "I have a soft spot for children."

Pascheria insists she's "not a politician and I have no personal agenda."

"I'm not an educator looking for a promotion," she said.

On the QEA, Pascheria said, "the first time was a total disaster, now it's a little better."

Not being on the board, Pascheria said she's not as acquainted with the budget as she would like to be. When it comes to the budget, she said she'll do her best for the children and the taxpayers, but "I'm only one of seven. I can't promise I'm going to cut the budget."

"I come from where you had to struggle, had to do without. When

Vaccination clinic set for May 2

A free rabies vaccination clinic will be held on Thursday, May 2 from 6 to 8 p.m. and Saturday, May 4 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Belleville Health Department, 383 Washington Avenue.

Thomas Longo, director of Health and Human Services is urging all residents who own dogs or cats to take advantage of the free rabies clinic.

The spread of rabies from wildlife to domestic animals is of major public health concern. Therefore, immunization of all dogs and cats against rabies is recommended.

All dogs vaccinated prior to the 1989 rabies clinic will require this re-vaccination. Dogs vaccinated at last year's clinic in the age range of three months to 11 months also will require re-vaccination.

Cats MUST be vaccinated annually. Rabies is a disease caused by a virus. It is transmitted by a bite from an infected animal if the animal's saliva comes in contact with mucous membranes or breaks in the skin. Once it enters the body, it travels along the body's nerve fibers. Fortunately, there is a treatment available that can prevent the development of rabies if a person has been exposed to the saliva of an infected animal.

Dogs, cats and raccoons can spread rabies, as can foxes, bats, skunks, woodchucks, opossum and other wild animals that bite.

Rabbits, however, are at low risk, while squirrels, rats and mice are generally never infected.

To prevent rabies, take sick pets to the veterinarian. Keep pets from running loose. Report stray animals to health department or the police. Do not feed or handle wild animals and stress this rule with children.

If bitten, immediately wash the wound with soap and water, then go to the doctor or the nearest hospital emergency room.

Call the Health Department (450-3389) right away to report the incident. If possible, include a description of the animal, its license number, the owner's name and address, and the animal's vaccination status.

After hours, call the Police at 450-3333 or the N.J. State Health Dept. Communicable Disease Service at 609-588-7500 days; or 609-392-2020 evenings or weekends.

There are pamphlets on rabies available at the Belleville Health Department, 383 Washington Avenue, or call 450-3389.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The Pentagon's next big battle is a new strategy based on a bold gamble. After the victory over Saddam Hussein, the U.S. military is coming home to confront two formidable problems — budget cuts and a world that will be changing.

The federal budget deficit and the shrinking Soviet threat mean the military machine that crushed Iraq must now reduce its spending, reshape its forces and redefine its missions.

Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney has sent Congress the outline of a sweeping new national strategy that addresses those demands. But it is based on a bold, and potentially risky, gamble. By cutting procurement for today's forces, the military can invest in expensive and exotic new weapons for tomorrow's.

Nearly all the major weapons systems used in the gulf war, including the M-1A1 tank, the Bradley fighting vehicle, and the F-16 and F-17A fighters, are being canceled in favor of a new generation of often exotic and certainly expensive weapons.

An example of this is the B-2, the Air Force advanced tactical fighter and the Navy AX advanced aircraft, all of which incorporate more up-to-date stealth technology than the F-17A bomber that performed so well over Iraq. The Air Force, for example, plans to buy no new fighters after 1993 until the APT is put into production.

Cheney's rationale is compelling. "Instead of using the Army procurement budget to buy equipment I don't need for units that are going to be deactivated anyway, I'd rather spend the Army's procurement budget on the R&D (research and development) side developing the next generation armored vehicle that's going to be in the force 15 or 20 years from now."

During the 1980s, the military was able to pay both for high-tech equipment and the training needed to make it work. But in the 1990s, critics warn, tight budgets could force the military to choose between the high-tech weapons it wants and the military training and unglamorous logistical equipment that also proved critical to America's victory in the gulf.

Township to cease collection of plastic bags on June 1

The township will no longer pick up leaves or vegetative waste contained in plastic bags beginning June 1, Township Manager Bertrand Kendall announced Monday.

Plastic bags will be picked up until the end of May. Kendall said the decision to stop picking up plastic was made by his office in conjunction with members of the Township Council and the Director of Public Works.

Homeowners will be asked to remove any plastic bags placed at the curb. Summonses will be issued to those who fail to comply, Kendall said.

"Last fall Belleville successfully conducted a leaf collection program using biodegradable paper bags. Unfortunately, this spring, hundreds of homeowners have cleaned up their properties, putting leaves and other vegetative waste in plastic as well as paper bags.

"This has presented Belleville with the dilemma of leaving hundreds of plastic bags at the curb and picking up only paper bags, or collecting both types of bags and causing storage and dumping problems at the DPW yard on Cortlandt Street."

Kendall said paper bags are biodegradable and are accepted by composting firms such as the one used by the township, Middlebush Inc.

Local hardware stores are being asked to carry paper bags, which cost between 30-60 cents each. No decision has been made regarding the sale or distribution of paper leaf bags by the township for the fall 1991 leaf program.

Cheney's list will be sent to the independent Base Closure and Realignment Commission, which is headed by former New Jersey Rep. Jim Courter.

The commission can change the list, but the system is designed to limit congressional efforts to interfere in the process.

However, lawmakers from New Jersey and other states have been lobbying Pentagon officials and Congress, and presenting a host of facts and figures in an effort to head off having their local facilities placed on the base closing list.

The base closure commission on July 1 will submit its list to the President, who can either reject it or submit it unchanged to Congress. Lawmakers will then have 45 days to accept or reject the entire package.

Recycling disputed

Township Attorney Vincent Nuzzi read a fax transmission he had received earlier in the day from township contracted scavenger Domenico Piccolo.

Nuzzi said Piccolo's fax alleged the scavenger was informed by Frantantoni in June 1990 to stop picking up cardboard pending further notice.

Nuzzi pointed out that the fax had been received earlier in the day and had not been followed up.

Many orders given by commissioners were done verbally, Nuzzi said.

Nuzzi said the township paid Mayor Perna repeated, "according to Piccolo, he received notice from Commissioner Frantantoni to cease cardboard pick up."

"There's a compliance problem," Nuzzi said. "The township manager has to notify merchants and residents how refuse has to be packaged."

Frantantoni requested a copy of the fax. Nuzzi left council chambers to make a copy. Frantantoni meanwhile refused to leave the podium at the direction of police officers.

The former commissioner was arrested and charged with two misdemeanor disorderly persons counts: obstructing administration of law or other government functions and disrupting meetings and processions.

He was released on his own recognizance and is scheduled to appear in municipal court May 15.

Council later voted to extend beyond five minutes time to people speaking on an individual speaker basis.

Following a council recess, Perna called the former commissioner's actions a "disgrace to rule and order."

Resident Dan Ippolito, speaking at the meeting, said to the mayor, "I feel it is a personal vendetta between you and him." He also questioned the council's recess.

Nuzzi said the chamber was "so disruptive and so loud, the people in the audience could not hear what was going on."

In other business, council adopted a resolution opposing Assembly Bill A-4548. The bill abolishes municipal welfare offices and transfers all functions to the counties.

Council objected because township residents would have to go to the county seat for welfare services.

cutting the budget, I would think 'what would the children lose as a result of it?'

Her role as a layman, not an educator, would be an asset to the board, she said. "Our board of education is made up mostly of educators - it causes tunnel vision."

Pascheria has two children, Francine and Carl.

Ralph Mazzuca has spent 32 years as an educator in the Newark school system. Twenty-two of those years have been in industrial arts, the last 10 of which he's served as industrial arts supervisor for the district's 65 schools.

Mazzuca, who is completing a one-year term on the board, said he is running for a full three-year term "because I think I can be effective."

I decided when I ran in 1990 that if I wasn't effective during my year on the board, I would bow out, but I found I was effective."

Everything he owns, Mazzuca said, "I owe to education. Now it's time to give something back."

During his term, Mazzuca was appointed to the teacher's negotiation committee, which negotiates salaries for teachers and administrators, and the vocational advisory council.

His area of expertise, Mazzuca initiated bringing federal grant money for industrial into the district, money which Mazzuca said board members were not previously aware of.

One of his main areas of concern is the upgrading of technical programs. "I want to prepare all the students, not just the academically elite."

"I'm interested in integrating basic skills with vocational programs. We have to set up programs to keep the kids in school, like the cosmetology classes. We need to assess these children and see where their aptitude lies."

Speaking on the budget, which Mazzuca voted in favor of, he said "education doesn't come cheap. I'm a taxpayer too."

Mazzuca said he is not happy with the QEA and the way it stands now.

If elected, he said he will continue to seek federal grants, implement new programs and get the best teachers. Mazzuca said he was instrumental in formulating teams consisting of board members and administrators who went into school to check for cleanliness and safety.

Mazzuca, 58, holds a master's degree in administration from Seton Hall University. He is married to Joyce. They have two daughters, Danielle and Janine.

ing this board?" Papa asked Doyle.

"These are not criticisms," Doyle said.

Later, discussing a retainer wall added to renovation without board approval, Papa said, "We should thank them, instead of giving them a hard time."

Ringelheim said the addition of the retaining wall adjacent to parking and steps as a "solution offered does not take away parking spaces, it alleviates a safety problem because of a grade drop-off between the wall and the edge of the sidewalk."

Cops nab four on drug charges

A month-long investigation by the Belleville Narcotics Squad culminated earlier this month with the arrests of a married couple from Belleville and two others on charges of drug possession, police disclosed Tuesday.

Silver Lake residents Gary and Toni Cozzi were arrested April 5 in their home at 49 Lake St. by members of the narcotics squad, Sgt. Joseph Rotonda said.

Gary, 29, and Toni, 31, were charged with possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Also arrested were Gary Russo, 29, of Bloomfield and Lisa O'Conner, 29, of Staten Island, N.Y. Russo was charged with possession of cocaine and a paging device, or beeper, and O'Conner was charged with possession of cocaine and marijuana.

The police department started getting calls early in March about unusual activities going on in the house, plus a lot of traffic in and out of the house, Sgt. Rotonda said.

"We set up surveillance in the area, and on April 5 we executed a search warrant," Rotonda said. Members of the narcotics squad are Sgt. Rotonda, and officers James Delgrosso and Nicholas Krentz.

The Cozzis, Russo and O'Conner were released on their own recognizance. A municipal court appearance before Judge Frank Zinna is scheduled for May 21.

Boy robbed of gold chain

A nine-year-old township boy had his gold neck chain and cross stolen Thursday afternoon by a man who often hangs around the parking lot of School No. 10, according to police reports.

The boy told police he could identify the assailant because he saw him in the parking lot "a few days each week at around noon."

The victim said he was walking home and was in front of 85 Harrison St. when the suspect, driving an older model two-door white hatchback car, stopped to ask him for directions.

According to police reports, the suspect said, "Hey kid, come over here for a minute," showed him a business card for a towing service, and asked the youth if he knew where the place was.

Moving closer to the car to see the card, the victim leaned over to get a better look. The suspect grabbed the youth's left arm, ripping the chain from around his neck.

The victim told police the man said, "I'll kill you" while he was grabbing his arm.

OUR OPINION

Another rerun

Amid gasps of horror and outrage from the public, the gallery of press went about calmly taking notes. Cameras sat in camera bags, flashes slept, and reporters stifled yawns, oblivious to the drama unfolding before them in council chambers.

Oblivious because we've seen it before. Not that it is no longer news, it is no longer big news. It is roughly the same as watching a rerun on TV. Excitement dissipates when surprise becomes rote.

During last week's meeting, a former commissioner appeared, representing a citizens' group and appealing for support at an upcoming anti-flood tunnel rally.

But that's not what put the press to sleep. What cajoled them towards slumber was the staged encore performance of "my five minutes is longer than your five minutes, so I can stay at the podium as long as I want, whether the state law allows you to set procedures for protocol or not, nyah, nyah, nyah..."

This time the outcome of the drama took a different twist. Instead of peacefully rescinding to form and order, the former commissioner clung to the cherished podium that he, himself, had stood on the other side of less than one year ago.

This time, the former commissioner, clinging to his beloved podium, refused to leave, even at the request of a police sergeant. This time, the former commissioner was charged as a disorderly person and processed in police headquarters.

The arrest could have a chilling effect on innocent citizens who may fear voicing their honest feelings, afraid to say the wrong thing, and end up in the slammer. It seems unlikely that council would exercise this option on the average, respectful citizen. Here, the former commissioner was given more than five minutes for his questions and answers. And he was told to discuss disputed expense figures with his former employee outside council chambers.

He chose instead to cling to the podium in abject defiance of township fathers, not to mention, as did the mayor, "rule and order."

Ordinary citizens will have their say at township meetings. We are confident of that. We expect council to lengthen the public participation from its one hour limit when the time comes to discuss the municipal budget. The citizens have a right to question the budget, as long as they can ask all their questions in five minutes or less.

Now it's news

A minor disagreement among a few planning board members superseded the discussion topic as the most important news bite last week.

Following the meeting Thursday, Planning Board Chairman Rick Dombrowski pointed a finger at the Belleville Times reporter who was doing follow-up interviews. Mr. Dombrowski requested the reporter not write about a dispute between planning members.

Mr. Dombrowski said he did not want the planning board meeting treated in the press like previous council meetings have been.

We understand his efforts to preserve the image of the board, so newly under his guidance. His term in office is counted in months, not years. We admire his commitment to public service.

We seek good things happening in Belleville, and report on them. It is also our duty to report all the news — even if it's not so pleasant.

This newspaper will not shirk its duty to deliver good news and bad about this township.

Mr. Dombrowski's pointed finger (on a public sidewalk, in front of witnesses) directing our reporter not to write about something that happened at a public meeting is way out of line.

Perhaps he does not realize that board member disputes — when it comes to applications, resolutions and issues being decided on for the public good — are a healthy thing.

Opposing forces ensure both sides of an argument are heard. Actually, Mr. Dombrowski should take note that the dispute was deemed unimportant by the news staff until he suggested we not write about it.

That's when it became part of the news.

Welcome to the world of a public figure, Mr. Dombrowski. Remember, (and there's a lesson in this for all board and committee chairmen) as a member of a public body, you retain your rights to free speech. You can tell our reporters anything you want, you can even tell them off-the-record information.

However, Mr. Dombrowski, your authority does not exceed the planning board chambers. We will get the story with or without your consent.

You cannot censor certain parts of a meeting because it may make your board look bad.

The gag order will never apply to a public meeting. Not as long as the American Flag waves in front of Belleville Town Hall.

YOUR OPINION

National Library Week

To the editor:

The Belleville Public Library always features a full schedule of events during National Library Week. In 1991, we will offer 19 programs from April 14 - April 20.

At 7:30 p.m. April 18, we will honor Frank De Lisi of Belleville with our library's first Distinguished Service Award. Mr. De Lisi "retired" as a lecturer and teacher of English literature a decade ago but he has pursued his love of books through humanities programs at the Belleville Library.

Mr. De Lisi has been instrumental in the library's successful pursuit of grants to fund visits by scholars and the purchase of books for lively public discussions of the classics in the library setting.

To mark this special library event we have invited Dr. M. Jerry Weiss, noted educator and advocate of free access to information and the arts, to offer a special "Distinguished Service Award Lecture" in honor of Frank De Lisi. Professor Weiss has titled his talk, "Who and What Are On the Hit List Now?"

On behalf of the library's Board of Trustees, it is my pleasure to invite you to share the evening of April 18 with us as we honor Frank De Lisi, a gentleman who has enabled our library to combine its roles as Belleville's book and humanities center.

Supports mom for BOE

To the editor:

It is my great honor and pleasure to submit this letter on behalf of my mother, Angie Pascheria.

My mom has been a terrific mother. When my brother Carl and I were in school, she was very active in our Home and School Associations, and served as a teachers' aide for 12 years. She was always there for us, and still is.

Today, she remains dedicated and involved with our children and the township. She is involved in many charitable and civic organizations including the Board of Education's Special Education Advisory Committee, and the Belleville Alliance for Substance Education.

My mother does not have any personal agenda, and does not seek any personal gain from serving on the board of education. She wants to be elected because she knows she can represent the best interests of not only our children, but our taxpayers as well.

She has lived in Belleville for 26 years, and she has always been and always will be a caring person, who only wants the very best for her community, and her family.

On Election Day, April 30, please remember to vote, and please remember my mother, Angie Pascheria, 3-A. Thank you.

Francine Pascheria

DelGuercio supported

To the editor:

I have known Joe Del Guercio for a long time and I have always found him to be a man of his word. When he became a Board Trustee three years ago, he made many promises to represent the citizens of Belleville — but first and foremost, to always remember that the kids in Belleville were his main concern.

He has kept his promises and, above all, must be re-elected to the board for a second term to continue what he has started.

Joe has earned my admiration and respect, so therefore, I will do all I can to support his re-election for a second term. I know the citizens of Belleville will do the same. For the welfare of the kids in Belleville, elect Joe Del Guercio, 2A, on April 30.

Angelo Risoli

Fornarotto to Assembly?

To the editor:

This past week many taxpayers of the new 36th District which includes Belleville, Nutley, Lyndhurst, Carlstadt, East Rutherford, Wallington, Passaic, North Arlington and Rutherford, have signed my petitions to encourage me to file as a candidate for a position in the State Assembly.

I thank them for their belief in me. My employment with the municipality, county, state and the U.S. Navy will be a great asset to serve my voters in the nine towns.

As everyone who knows me knows, I'm a fighter for all people's rights and a community leader.

As a new Assemblyman, I will be available 24 hours a day. I have served the public well in the past, fighting for a new Senior Citizen's Home. Belleville doesn't have an elected official serving the state. We have been short-changed for many, many years.

If I'm elected, I will be in Trenton to fight against the proposed tunnel coming through our properties and to get monies that will help lower the rising taxes in our municipalities.

Joseph T. Fornarotto

Thanks Churchill

To the editor:

There are many sayings worthy of quoting but one of my favorites is Winston Churchill's: "You can measure a man's character by the decisions he makes on the threshold."

Thank you for printing.

• REPUBLICAN Essex County Chairman John Renna is moving quickly to provide a working organization for his popular Essex County Sheriff nominee, Louis Greenleaf is the Chief of Investigations for the Essex County Prosecutor's Office.

Republican Freeloader Arthur Clay and former Newark state senator, Anthony Imperiale, are challenging Greenleaf for the Republican nomination.

Clay, a former under sheriff, has charged that John Renna "stole" the nomination from him by refusing to have a closed-ballot vote at the G.O.P. Committee meeting. Newark City Council president, Ralph Grant, Jr., Democrat, also filed for the Sheriff's nomination, claiming major support from the black community. Newark Councilman Donald Tucker is a principal proponent of the black community who said recently, "It is time for a black sheriff and prosecutor in Essex County."

Tucker noted that in recent elections black officials supported Gov. Jim Florio, Sens. Frank Lautenberg and Bill Bradley (both D-N.J.) and Essex County Executive Thomas D'Alessio, adding they all won on the strength of support from the black community.

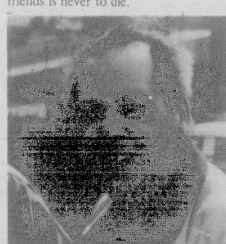

• SENATOR Carmen Orechio has no regrets as he retires from the New Jersey Senate after serving 18 years in the post. During his service in the Senate, Carmen has held every office serving as senate president for four years, the second such senator in the history of the state to do so.

His achievements in public office have brought to his family members a very special pride. My mother lived to share these glory days of Carmen's ascendancy in the world of state politics, even serving as Acting Governor several times. My brother, Carl, and I, together with my sister, Maria, share in the glory of his achievements.

Two words describe the motives that prompt Carmen to individualize his public service — "Carmen cares" — and that says it all. Regrettably, my father, Pasquale Orechio died in 1949, thus denied to share with the other members of our family the joy of his youngest son's success.

• OCCASIONALLY, experiences remind us of the fragility of life. Last week, Bob D'Alessandro, age 54, suddenly left this world, leaving behind a host of loving family members, his wife, Patricia, hospitalized for the last five weeks, his son, Robert, his father, four brothers, and a countless number of in-laws, uncles, aunts, nieces, nephews, cousins and friends, spanning the United States, from New Jersey to California.

To live in the hearts of relatives and friends is never to die.

Bob D'Alessandro

• THE redistricting process at the state and legislative district level, for all practical purposes, has destroyed democratic government representation in Essex County suburbs. For example, almost without exception, Essex County suburban communities are represented by state senators in Passaic County, Bergen County, Union County and Morris County. Within the City of Newark, the North Ward is split into three legislative districts. There are five voting districts in the 27th Legislative District represented by Democrat Richard Cody, 17 voting districts in the 28th Legislative District represented by Senator Ronnie Rice, and 19 voting districts in the 29th Legislative District represented by Senator Winona Lipman, So. — one ward, the North Ward is represented by three senators and six assemblypersons.

A major change in the Assembly representation is a problem redistricting created by placing three incumbent assemblymen in one district. They are Mike Adabato of north Newark's powerful Adubato clan, Harry McEnroe of West Orange and Jim Zangari of Irvington. The end result was the dropping of Mike Adubato from the Democrat party ballot line — a hair splitting decision by Dem leader Ray Durkin.

• THE Essex County Police Department unit was originally created to police our county park system. Essex County Executive Tom D'Alessio inherited a county deficit of $97 million. So, Tom is out to reduce the cost of government by $97 million. Quite naturally, he seeks to eliminate inefficiencies, waste and duplication in government. You may be surprised to learn that both Freeloader Monroe Lustbader and Arthur Clay on February 28th agreed with Tom D'Alessio's objective. Here is what Lustbader and Clay said on February 28th, "We are quite confident that important savings in government expenditures can be realized from the elimination of wasteful as well as irregular practices in Essex County government, including elimination of nonproductive jobs, duplication of services, over-staffing and outright fraud."

• Essex County government is facing a fiscal crisis of unprecedented proportions due to the enormous $97 million deficit left by the previous administration. It is incumbent upon all of us to expose and eliminate irregularities which will result in savings to our hard-pressed taxpayers."

That is exactly the objective and agenda of Essex County Executive Tom D'Alessio. And lo and behold, the greatest critic of D'Alessio economy measures is Freeloader Art Clay who happens to be a GOP candidate for Essex County Sheriff.

Since he declared his candidacy, Clay has conducted his campaign by running against a non-existent candidate, Essex County Republican Chairman John Renna.

Clay would be better advised if he put aside his strange feud with John Renna and address his qualifications for the office, and his experience or lack of experience, when compared with other candidates, both Democrats and Republicans. Clay raps Renna for supporting Lou Greenleaf as the Republican candidate. Greenleaf has 23 years experience in law enforcement. He is an attorney at law. He has impeccable integrity, and strong law enforcement experience which has earned him the plaudits of his contemporaries. Let Clay match those credentials.

• THE Essex County Clerk's office is running more efficiently and smoothly than ever under the management of County Clerk Pat Drake and her able deputy, Michelle Dalbo.

• NUTLEY businesswoman Jo Ann Andriola has been asked to consider a run for the Nutley Township Commission at next May's election.

NEWS FOR WOMEN

Women who suffer from annoying vaginal yeast infections can now take advantage of the fact that the FDA has recently approved the drug clotrimazole for over-the-counter sale. The drug, which has been offered on a prescription basis for more than a decade, is very effective in combating an overabundance of the naturally-occurring fungus called Candida. The condition which spots Candida's growth may be a result of the bacterial imbalance brought on by taking antibiotics or birth control pills. A vaginal yeast infection brings on such symptoms as itching, burning sensation, and occasional discharges and sores. Because these symptoms may be similar to those of other conditions, a physician's diagnosis should be sought initially. Once a woman learns to recognize the symptoms, she may want to try the product with over-the-counter medication.

For complete prescription service you can depend on our trained staff at ROSSMORI PHARMACY, 328 Washington Ave., 59-1956, 59-1968. Free delivery is provided. "Your Doctor knows Us. Your Doctor Trusts Us." See us for all types of controlled substances, including the sale and rental of canes, crutches, walkers and wheel chairs. Hours: Daily 9 am - 10 pm, Sundays 9 am - 9 pm.

NOTE: Diabetes and warm weather are sometimes factors in incuring a vaginal yeast infection.

Residents, officials speak out at anti-flood tunnel rally

 Council has concluded the project is not in the public's best interest. According to Fillipone, moving the flood waters from one area to another does not provide an adequate solution to the problem, but just passes it from one place to another.

Fillipone also said the project is not cost effective, and the state can't afford to spend money on it, or its maintenance.

The senator also said he would fight Democrats and Republicans, including the governor, to ensure the project would never happen.

Rep. Dear Galo (R-11th), Rep. Robert Roe, (D-8th) and Rep. Robert Toricelli (D-9th) back the project.

A spokesman for Senator Carmen Orechio (D-30th), who was not at the meeting due to a death in the family, said the senator favors the buyout plan proposed by the Passaic River Coalition.

The plan calls for buying out the most severely affected homes in the river's flood plains, which would cost 10 percent less than the tunnel. Also included in the plan is waterproofing homes and dredging the Passaic River. The area would later be converted into a natural wetlands.

Other officials at the meeting were County Executive Thomas D'Alesio, Nutley Mayor and Assemblyman John Kelly (D-30th), and representatives from Bergen County.

Members of high school crew teams, who would be affected by the tunnel, also showed up in force. Harry Kellan, co-sponsor of Kearny High School's SAVE, Students against the Vanishing Earth, said he'd like to start a SAVE program in Belleville.

Florio signs Orechio bill on smoke detectors into law

Senator Carmen A. Orechio issued the following statement last week after Gov. Jim Florio signed Orechio's bill, S-1968, to require smoke detectors in single- and double-family dwellings built before 1977.

"This law will provide for the increased safety of a large number of residents who live in older homes in five safety provisions enacted by the State Fire Safety Commission," he said.

"These homes are in greater need of smoke alarms because they are more susceptible to fires than most newer homes are.

"Smoke detectors save lives, plain and simple. This act will provide the incentive so that smoke detectors are installed in all homes, not just the ones built after 1977, as existing law provides for."

"An important element of this act is that older homes will have to be equipped with smoke detectors as a condition for a certificate of occupancy whenever the home is sold. Smoke detectors would have

Cardboard to be picked up

The Township of Belleville has announced that cardboard recycling pickups for business merchants have been reinstated and will begin tomorrow morning.

Belleville is under contract with Pucillo Sanitation of Hillside for its cardboard and newspaper recycling.

Pucillo informed the township last week that collection of cardboard was suspended last week, and township officials ordered the program reinstated in accordance with Pucillo's sanitation contract.

Merchants along Washington and Union avenues, Mill Street, and other commercial areas, are asked to comply by placing cardboard, bundled and tied, at the curb on Thursdays evenings.

If cardboard is not picked up, merchants should contact the Department of Public Works at 450-3417.

Each week, Public Works and recycling staff will review pickups to ensure compliance with the recycling ordinance.

Skull coordinates tax aid program

Resident Kevin Skull, an accountant, was a coordinator in the Tax Aid program which provided free tax return preparation to elderly and low income individuals.

The program is sponsored by Accountants for the Public Interest-New Jersey (API-NJ), the IRS, the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (NJSCPA) and Rutgers API.

Skull is a tax seminar senior with Green & Company in Woodbridge.

Chorus of Communities to sing Handel's 'Messiah'

By Emma-Lou Czarnecki

The Chorus of Communities, an ecumenical choir, has announced the soloists who will be singing with the chorus when it presents the Easter portion of Handel's "Messiah," 3 p.m. April 28 at St. Valentine's Church, Bloomfield.

They include Mary McGarvey, soprano; Luann Lindemann, contralto; Curtis Watkins, tenor and Marc Waters-Savant, baritone.

Mary McGarvey has achieved wide recognition as a recitalist and opera/oratorio singer with extensive performances throughout the United States. Recently, she has sung the roles of Becky in "Tom Sawyer" with the Queens (NY) Opera and Jenny in Britten's "The Beggar's Opera" in New York. With a degree from Northwestern University, she has just completed graduate studies at the Manhattan School of Music and is on the faculty of the Brooklyn Conservatory of Arts, the Newark Community School of the Arts and the SteckerHorowitz School of the Arts in Cedarhurst, N.Y.

Luann Lindemann continues her solo performing with the Chorus of Communities as she advances her vocal career in the Eastern region of the United States. Born and raised in Arizona, she has sung with symphony orchestras in numerous southwestern states as well as Mexico, establishing herself as a strong performer of the classics. She holds a master's degree in music from Northern Arizona University and currently enjoys dual careers in music and in radiation oncology at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

Curtis Watkins, a seven season member of the Orpheus Chamber Singers, has been a recitalist, oratorio and church soloist for churches, synagogues, choral societies and civic organizations throughout New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. His roles include Kasper in "Amahl and the Night Visitors," Sertus in Handel's "Julius Caesar" and Monostatos in "The Magic Flute." As an oratorio singer, he has performed for the Oratorio Society, Seton Hall University and the Washington Square Choral of New York University in various works that included "Judas Macabaeus" and, of course, Handel's "Messiah." Watkins, a graduate of Newark Arts High School, began serious vocal studies at Montclair State College with Brenda Miller Cooper. He transferred to Manhattan School of Music, studying voice with Conrad Thibault. He has also studied with George Shirley and most recently with Jonathan Morris in New York City. Watkins appears courtesy of Savant Productions Management.

Marc Waters-Savant, trained and coached extensively in Austria, has given concerts, recitals and musical theatre performances both here and abroad, including the "Sound of Music" palace, the Mozarteum and the Salzburg Musikschulwerke. He has been seen on regional stages from Princeton to New York, appearing at Beadle Bamford in "Sweeney Todd" and in the musical adaptation of Studs Terkel's "Working," along with performances with Opera at Rutgers in Donizetti's "Bellario" and Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Waters-Savant has earned a diploma in The Interpretation of Lieder under the tutelage of vocal coach Dr. Paul von Schillhowski and has been guided by renowned coaches and répétiteurs such as Margaret Singer of the Staatliche Hochschule für Musik in Karlsruhe, Germany and Horst Stein, former head conductor of the Berlin and Vienna State Opera companies.

The Chorus of Communities is made up of singers from various churches in Belleville, Bloomfield, Clifton, Cranford, East Orange, Glen Ridge, Harrison, Irvington, Kearny, Lyndhurst, Montclair, Newark, North Arlington, Nutley, Randolph, Roselle Park and Westfield.

The concert, under the direction of William Moore, with the Rev. Nancy Moore at the organ, will also feature members of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and is sponsored by the Belleville Ministerium with the proceeds benefiting the Pastoral Care Department at Clara Maass Medical Center.

Tickets are available at participating churches, Clara Maass Medical Center gift shop, Bethany Lutheran Church, Belleville or by calling 895-4563.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUCC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

We start this week with good news from the Belleville tennis team. Tony Salese's team is off to a 3-3 start, and with a few breaks the team could easily be 5-1.

"We're playing pretty well in the early going," Salese said. "Yes, with a few breaks we could be 5-1 right now. But we have a tough schedule coming up, and it's not good to look back."

Tennis first became a varsity sport back in the Spring of 1977. The team was coached by Mike Pollard for the first eight years, then Len D'Armentio took over for three seasons. This is Salese's fourth year as Buc coach.

Although the team is playing well, the Bucs will face a handicap this spring. Because of poor facilities at Belleville High, the Bucs will not have any home matches this season.

"There isn't much to say," Salese said. "Until the cracks in the tennis courts are fixed, we can't have home matches."

Belleville has posted victories over Becton 4-1, Paterson Kennedy 3-2 and Paterson Eastside 3-2. The losses were to Passaic and Barringer by 3-2 counts and to Caldwell by a 4-1 margin.

Sam Na has been outstanding so far this spring. The junior is 6-0 playing at second singles. In his first six matches, Na has lost just one set.

"Sam has played very well," Salese said. "The numbers speak for themselves."

In the Becton match, Jonar Gomez won at first singles by scores of 6-2, 2-6 and 6-4. Na won in straight sets, 7-5 and 6-2. Mark Mellinger also won in straight sets by scores of 6-2 and 6-3.

The doubles team of Semyon Kogen and Peter Prvolovic dominated its match, winning by 6-0, 6-0 scores.

Against Kennedy, all three singles players won in straight sets. Gomez prevailed 7-5, 6-0. Na breezed 6-1, 6-0 and Kogen coasted by scores of 7-5, 6-0.

Against Eastside, Na and Kogen won in straight sets and the doubles team of Mellinger and Prvolovic won its match, 6-1, 7-5.

In the loss to Passaic, winners included Gomez and Na. Versus Barringer, Na and the doubles team of Kogen and Prvolovic won a thrilling three set match by the score of 7-5, 2-6, 7-6 (7-2 in the tie breaker).

Na was the only Belleville player to prevail in the Caldwell match, rallying for a 5-7, 6-2, 7-5 victory.

Tomorrow, the Bucs play at St. Joe's of Montvale. Next Monday, the team travels to Hackensack and next Wednesday, it's off to Paramus.

Earlier this week, Belleville battled Bloomfield, St. Benedict's and Don Bosco. The Don Bosco match was Belleville's first in Pacific Division, NNJUL action.

CORINO HAPPY WITH SOFTBALL TEAMS' PERFORMANCE

Veteran softball coach Carl Corino has been very pleased with the play of his young team so far this spring.

"We're going to have our share of tough games, but the kids are very aggressive at the plate," Corino said. "We'll make mistakes, but these kids are also going to get better."

A freshman, Lynn Giachetti has been doing an excellent job at shortstop.

Sophomore Jennifer Citarella has done very well at second base. She has shown good speed on the basepaths and is playing good defense.

Kristin Galloto has done well in the outfield and at the plate. Galloto hit a grand slam homerun in a recent victory over Paterson Kennedy.

A sophomore, Colleen Mannion has looked good in center field and is coming around with the bat. She hit a homer in a recent victory against Passaic.

Rightfielder Sue Spirook is also doing a good job defensively. Her performance at the plate also continues to improve.

Spirook and Danielle DeWork are sharing the first base duties. DeWork is one of Belleville's pitchers, so when she takes the hill, Spirook moves into the infield.

"Veteran" third baseman Carey Woodruff has been steady so far this season. Woodruff is one of the few players who has varsity softball experience. She started as a freshman in 1989 at third base, then moved over to second base in her sophomore campaign. Now, in 1991, Woodruff has taken the shuttle back to the hot corner.

Sophomore Christine Sansano has been swinging the bat very well and has been another of the many pleasant surprises on the '91 roster.

The only senior on the team is Judy Krych, and she has provided a key leadership role and is one of the designated hitters.

Catcher Nik Luzzi continues to learn the very difficult assignment of throwing out opposing base runners.

The pitching staff, in addition to DeWork, features freshman Kim Piscatowski and Kerl Wendling.

The Lady Bucs were 4-2 in the early going, but the team has a difficult week of action coming up. Among the teams on the schedule this week are Livingston, Clifton and Ridgewood. Also, the NNJUL Pacific Division schedule kicks off next Monday, when the girls battle Hackensack.

"Our league will be very tough this season," Corino said. "There isn't going to be an easy game on the schedule."

Corino isn't making any predictions, but he is cautiously optimistic about the play of his young team. He cautions, however, that the season is early and the team has some big hurdles to clear.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The last time the Philadelphia Phillies won a divisional title was in 1983. The Phils were managed by Paul Owen, who took over for Pat Corrales at the half way point of the '83 season. In the playoffs, Philly beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3 games to 1. The Philly infield in '83 featured Pete Rose or Tony Perez at first base, Joe Morgan at second, Ivan DeJesus at shortstop and Mike Schmidt at third.

In the World Series, Philadelphia lost to Baltimore in five games.

FOR THIS WEEK

In the '87 National League Championship series, which player for St. Louis hit a three run homer in the second inning of the seventh and deciding game that broke the game wide open? Who pitched the game for the Cardinals? How did the Cards do in the '87 World Series? Who was named the MVP of the National League championship series in '87?

AND FINALLY...

The John Engel picnic is down to 37 days. It's early, but the St. Louis Cardinals are just one game out of first place. Nick Grande was livid after his Bucs lost to Parsippany last Saturday. He wasn't mad at his team, he was furious at the home plate umpiring. Grande planned to write to the head of the officials to express his anger.

Bucs fall to B.C., Bloomfield

By Mike Lamberti

After winning an encouraging 8-6 game against Passaic, the Belleville baseball team dropped 12-6 decisions to Bloomfield and Bergen Catholic and were on the short end of a 6-1 decision at Parsippany.

The three losses dropped Belleville's early season record to 2-4. Nick Grande's troops took on Barringer and Ridgewood earlier this week.

Tomorrow, St. Joe's comes to town in a 4 p.m. start. On Saturday, the Bucs head to Montclair for an 11 a.m. game. Next Monday, the team is at Hackensack and next Wednesday, Paramus comes to town as the Pacific Division games begin in earnest.

Last week, the Bucs started things off with a sharp 8-6 win against a good Passaic team.

"I was real proud of our kids," Grande said. "We battled back twice and won it in the top of the seventh inning. There were four lead changes in the game. We also won it on the road, which is a good sign."

Passaic jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first, but Belleville came back with two in the top of the second inning.

Jason Nardachone walked and scored on a triple by Jim DuHaime.

Carmen Spina, who had a tremendous game, then singled home DuHaime to give the Bucs a 2-1 lead.

Passaic tied the game in the third, but Belleville went ahead in its half of the fourth. Spina singled and advanced to third on a stolen base and throwing error.

Art Caruso then singled to bring in Spina and give the Bucs a 3-2 advantage.

The Indians came right back, scoring two in its half of the fourth inning off starting pitcher Anibal Rodriguez.

The Bucs went back ahead in the top of the fifth, scoring two runs for a 5-4 lead.

Nardachone singled and went to second on a DuHaime single. Spina then tripled to score both runners. The lead didn't last too long, however, as Passaic came right back, scoring twice in the bottom of the fifth.

Grande removed Rodriguez in the bottom of the fifth and replaced him with Michael Capasso, who shut the door on any further Indian uprising.

Passaic held its 6-5 lead until the top of the seventh. Nardachone started the final Belleville rally with Capasso hurled 2 1/3 innings of solid relief to gain the win. He struck out two and walked three while allowing just one hit. Rodriguez also pitched well in 4 2/3 innings of work. He allowed just one earned run on six hits. Rodriguez struck out three and walked one.

Offensively, Spina led the way with four hits, three ribbies and two runs scored. DuHaime was 2 for 4 with three runs scored and one run driven in. Nardachone and Salvatore

DeGuia paces Buc track in early season meets

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville boys' track team dropped its first two meets of the '91 season, falling to league rivals Don Bosco 84-38 and St. Joe's of Montvale.

John Tosato's team took on Paramus on Tuesday. This afternoon, the Bucs travel to Hackensack. On Saturday, the team competes in the Hudson County Relays at Kearny. Next Tuesday, Teaneck comes to town for a 4 p.m. meet.

Against Don Bosco, Steve Caponi led the weight team by winning the javelin and taking second in the shot put with a throw of 42'10".

John Alvarado took second in the javelin and second in the discus (121'10").

Emilio DeGuia had an excellent meet against Don Bosco, winning three events. He won the 400 meter hurdles in a time of 1:05.6. He captured the high hurdles with a time of 1:8.5 seconds and won the triple jump by leaping 37'8 1/2". Steve Vogel took second place in the 100 meters (12.8) and 200 meters (26.0).

Tom Popowich closed out the Belleville scoring with a second place finish in the 400 meters, running in a time of 1:05.0.

Against St. Joe's, Belleville lost to the league power by a 106.5-23.5 count. DeGuia continued his outstanding performance by winning the high hurdles (17.7) and the triple jump (37'0"). He also took a second place in the 400 meter hurdles with a time of 1:04.4.

Vogel finished second in the 100 (11.8) and was third in the high jump (5'7").

Brian Doyle finished third in the 1600 meters with a time of 5:22. Alvarado won the javelin event with a throw of 147'.

Caponi missed the St. Joe's meet. He should be back in action this week.

Crew team rowing well as 'May Madness' nears

By Mike Lamberti

So far, April has been a very pleasant month for the Belleville crew team. Bob Cassin's troops have competed in the first of a series of Flick races and last Saturday, the team did very well in the Kearny Invitational.

This Sunday, it's back to Philadelphia for another round of Flick races. On April 27, the Bucs will compete in the New Jersey State Rowing Championships, which will be held in Mercer County. More on that race in next week's issue.

While Cassin has been generally pleased with all his boats this spring, two of the shells have been especially dominant.

The junior four girls are undefeated with an 8-0 record after three weeks of competition. The girls won the Kearny Invitational and took home a Flick title two weeks ago.

"That boat has been a very pleasant surprise," Cassin said. "Coach (Dennis) Villano is very pleased with their performance so far. It's still early, but the early signs are good."

The junior four girls' shell is made up of Sharon Trefsgar, Kami

Bahama, Melanie Spillane, Sue Anne Batista and coxswain Joshua Cardinale.

The junior four boys entry has also done quite well. The team is 9-1 after three weeks of action.

"They are also rowing quite well," Cassin said of the boys' junior four. "Coach (Joe) Femicola worked with some of those kids last year as freshmen. It's a tall boat, with most the average height of the rowers about 6'1".

The Bucs won the Kearny Invitational, taking the qualifying race by :15 over Kearny. In the finals, the rowers overcome some difficult odds to beat a very talented Lawrenceville team.

"They had a broken seat and had to fix it while rowing," Cassin said. "They still managed to win the race."

Members of the boys' junior four are Frank Koch, Jack O'Connor, Mark Giesen, Mike Capezio and Alexandra Lynch.

The senior four girls were beaten by Lawrenceville in the semi finals of the Kearny Invitational.

"They know, and I know, they can row better," Cassin said of the senior shell. "They're talented and they will be ready come regatta (continued on page 12)

Lady Bucs lose first on Bengal rally

You have to hand it to the Belleville softball team. The girls have been very aggressive at the plate in the early going, and consequently the team has a 4-2 record.

Carl Corino's team faces a difficult stretch of games. The team battled Barringer and Ridgewood earlier in the week. Tomorrow, Clifton comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. On Saturday, the Lady Bucs travel to Livingston for an 11 a.m. contest. Next Monday, the girls host Hackensack in a 4 p.m. start. Next Wednesday, it's off to Paramus, also at 4 p.m.

Last week, Belleville scored an incredible 66 runs in four games. The girls rolled by Passaic 34-1, lost a heartbreaker to Bloomfield 7-6, blasted Eastside 25-2 on Danielle DeWork's no hitter and fell to powerful Caldwell 11-1.

"We're not trying to run the score up on anyone," Corino said after the twoiposided victories over Passaic and Eastside. "In the past, we've had battles with those teams. This year, we've been very aggressive at the plate. We're a young team and the girls are hitting the ball hard."

"In the Bloomfield game, we were right there. We had early leads (4-0 and 6-2) but they came back late to win. That was a game we could have won."

Against Passaic, five players had two or more hits. Lynn Giachetti was 3 for 5 with a homer and four RBIs. Nik Luzzi was 2 for 5 with four ribbies. Kim Piscatowski was 2 for 3 with four ribbies. Colleen Mannion was 2 for 4 with five RBIs and Carey Woodruff went 2 for 3 with three RBIs. Sophomore Christine Sansano hit a homer and drove home four runs. DeWork also had a homer and she drove in two runs.

Keri Wendling was the winning pitcher for Belleville, hurling five innings.

The Bloomfield game was a continuation of a fierce softball rivalry between the Lady Bucs and Lady Bengals that dates back to the early 1980's.

Belleville scored three times in the second for a 3-0 lead. Woodruff walked and Giachetti singled to put runners on: first and second. DeWork then cleared the bases with a two run triple. Wendling then lofted a sacrifice fly to score DeWork.

In the third, Belleville went ahead 4-0 when Mannion hit a solo homer.

Bloomfield scored single runs in the third and fourth innings off Piscatowski to cut the lead to 4-2. Belleville answered with two runs in the top of the fifth to boost the advantage back to four runs. Kristin Galloto walked and was sacrificed to second by Mannion. Jennifer Citarella singled and Piscatowski tripled in both runners.

Bloomfield rallied to tie the game at six in the bottom of the fifth inning. The Lady Bengals then went ahead for good with a solo run in the sixth.

"We made some defensive mistakes in the game," Corino said afterward. "That's going to happen with our team this year. But we played hard and we had a chance to win."

Piscatowski was 2 for 4 with two RBIs. Galloto also had two hits.

On the mound, Piscatowski threw a complete game, striking out three and walking four. She allowed eight hits.

Against Eastside, the hitting shoes were back in high gear as Belleville won by 23 runs.

DeWork threw a no hitter, striking out four and walking four.

Offensively, Citarella was 3 for 5 with two RBIs. Galloto was 2 for 3 with five RBIs and Mannion was 2 for 2.

Versus Caldwell, Belleville was up against one of the best teams in New Jersey. The Lady Chiefs came into the game ranked number two in the state and left with the ranking in tact.

"They have a good ball club," Corino said. "But I don't think the final score was indicative of how we played. Our kids played pretty well, it just that we were over matched by Caldwell."

Belleville's only run came in the third inning. DeWork walked and scored on a Citarella single and a subsequent Caldwell throwing error. The run cut the Lady Chief lead to 4-1, but Belleville could get no closer.

"We're going to have games like this," Corino said after the Caldwell loss. "Like I said, we're young and we're going to make mistakes on the field. We've got tough games with Ridgewood, Clifton and Livingston coming up this week. Then, the league schedule starts and that's going to be very competitive."

"Nuttley has a real good team this season. So does Paramus, Paramus Catholic and Immaculate Heart. I hear that Hackensack is much improved and Teaneck has a good team, too. We're going to have our hands full in the league."

The coach is happy with the effort of his team.

"They're a good group of kids to work with. I feel good about this team. The attitude is excellent. The team is young and eager."

M.L.

"We jumped out to an ea-lead and were in good shape," Grande said. "But Bergen Catholic blocks the plate and appears to have tagged the runner out at home. This guy calls the runner

Cobras, Spirit win in BSA play

Good news from the Belleville Soccer Association. The Cobras and Spirit both prevailed last week, the Cobras winning 6-0 over Summit and the Spirit winning a 6-2 verdict against Bloomfield.

The Cobras had a difficult first half with Summit, scoring just once. Joe Salamanca assisted on Kevin Noland's goal late in the half to give the Cobras a 1-0 lead.

After a lengthy half time discussion between the players and coaching staff, the Cobras came out fired up. Three minutes into the second half, Marcello DiGiano chipped a pass to Salamanca, who beat the Summit goalkeeper for a 2-0 Belleville lead.

Thirteen minutes into the second half, Cobras goalie Emanuel Arujo got off a long punt. Jim Wandling took the bounce on the net and slammed a shot into the net, giving Belleville a 3-0 lead.

The Cobra's attack became relentless as the second half progressed. Daren Lewis came out of a pack of players to score the Cobra's fourth goal. Semos Epitropakis got loose for a break away goal five minutes later. Epitropakis then scored his second goal of the game minutes later.

The Cobra's final goal came at the 75 minute mark, with DiGiano assisting on a goal by Victor Guevara.

The Cobra's victory could be attributed to their high style defense and aggressive play. The defense was sparked by Franco Vitello, Paul Mora, Steve Vogel and midfielder Greg DelMotte. Goalie Arujo had six saves in recording the shutout.

The Cobras are coached by Bill Cook and Tim Cook.

The Spirit, a Division 2 BSA entry, beat Bloomfield 6-2 last Sunday at Municipal Stadium.

Bloomfield opened the scoring at the ten minute mark of the first half, but ten minutes later Diego Paredes drilled a shot from the left corner to tie the game at 0-0. Belleville then followed with three more goals to take a comfortable 4-1 lead.

In the second half, Paredes scored his second goal of the game. Nick Castro scored the final goal for Belleville.

Other Spirit players who scored were Marcello Giorlando, Joe Mannelle and Bryant Capozucca.

The victory improved the Spirit's record to 2-1.

Choir and jazz ensemble to perform on April 24

By Colleen Coppola

Belleville High School's Show Choir and Jazz Ensemble will hold a concert on April 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The Show Choir consists of 45 selected members from Dr. Thomas Finetti's chorus classes. A repertoire consisting of selections from popular Broadway musicals such as "Hair," "42nd Street," "Cats," "Godspell," and many others, will be performed by the members.

Crista Tripodi, a junior at Belleville High School, will sing "Tomorrow" from the popular Broadway musical "Annie."

Tripodi stated, "Everyone involved has worked very hard, and the practices were very difficult. We are all hoping this concert will be a successful and enjoyable one."

This type of concert is a first for BHS. Dr. Finetti collated some existing arrangements as well as arranged many himself.

Several numbers contain dances choreographed by the students under the guidance of teacher Janice Nazziola.

Dr. Finetti stated: "The kids are all very excited. Everyone is anticipating a good performance."

The Show Choir members will be dressed in formal attire: tuxedo pants, a white wing-collared shirt with a red bow tie, and a matching red cummerbund.

Joseph Kraemer's three jazz groups will be performing as well. They will be using some straight-ahead jazz standards such as Miles Davis, Charlie Parker, and original work by Ben Guadalupe. The A Band, which Kraemer refers to as "The Most Dangerous Band," consists of 20 members. The B Band, or "The Second Most Dangerous Band," consists of 16 members from both the middle and high school. Styles such as swing, latin, funk, and music similar to styles like Frank Sinatra and Harry Connick Jr. will be featured.

An admission donation will be graciously accepted at the door. Kraemer commented, "This should be a hot concert, appealing to all."

TABLE-MAKER—BHS senior Anthony Cicchino shows off the hand-made colonial table he completed in school.

Cicchino constructs table

By Paul Parmenter

BHS senior Anthony Cicchino, under the supervision of teacher Harry Forina, recently completed a hand-made colonial table in his carpentry and construction class.

The table was made for the Belleville Fire Department Headquarters. The table is being used to display an antique piece of fire apparatus.

The idea for the design came from the television show "Old Yankee Workshop," in which many colonial pieces are talked about and constructed. The job was completed in only one month and was finished with three coats of regular stain and one coat of walnut stain.

Carpentry and construction inquiries are invited and can be accomplished by calling Forina through the BHS main office, 450-3545.

High school senior prom will be held on June 13

By Cheryl Puleo

It's party time once again. On June 13, the BHS senior prom will be held at the Richfield Regency in Verona. The festivities will begin at 7 p.m., with an hors d'oeuvre hour followed by dinner, music and dancing. A memorable evening is promised to all.

The cost of the prom is $110 per couple. Senior class advisor, Robert McDonough, is providing an installment payment plan.

The first payment was due on April 1, 2, and 3; second payment will be collected on April 29, 30, and May 1; third payment will be collected on May 20, 21 and 22.

McDonough and the prom committee strongly suggest that students not wait until the last minute to make reservations because seating is limited.

Table seating requests are due on May 1 with the final payment. If students do not submit preferred table arrangements, seating will be assigned by the prom committee.

Seniors are reminded to be energetic and supportive of their class fundraisers in order to reduce the cost of the prom bid.

The next activity is Chocolate Padding Wrestling scheduled for May 10.

New voters are urged to sign with Essex Board of Election

By Allison Zampino

Each year, the Essex County Board of Election contacts Belleville High School in order to register new voters in time for elections in November. On March 11, any students who had already turned 18 or would be 18 by the next election, were able to register to vote. The opportunity was announced during school in the mornings and the English and social studies teachers also notified their senior classes. The students had to register by stating their name, address, and type of citizenship. Richard Graves, social science department supervisor, helped coordinate the registration drive. "The campaign was quite successful with 117 new voters registered," Graves said.

The Belleville High School News is a feature of the Belleville Times. It runs weekly, space allowing.

All stories are written by the students of Mr. Anthony Salese's journalism class. Their work is coordinated by student editor Denise Zecca.

'Eat for health' nutrition program used by students

By Dana Damiano

Good nutrition is the key to health and happiness. The BHS Home Economics and Family Relations classes have been utilizing the "Eat for Health" nutrition computer program for the past school year.

The program was provided through the cooperative effort of the Genesee and Saginaw Intermediate School Districts' Nutrition Education and Training Resource Center. Materials for this program were financed through the Ruth Matt Fund Grant and a Michigan Nutrition Education and Training Grant.

The program enabled home economics students to evaluate their own diets in terms of nutritional value. Students recorded and coded their food intake for a period of time. The computer program analyzed and evaluated the data and provided each student a narrative print out.

The program enabled family relations students to understand the importance and process of nutritional planning for a family. Students were paired as married couples, given a family budget, and required to compose nutritional menus within their budgets. Menus were analyzed and evaluated through the program. The menus were critiqued in terms of nutritional values.

The "Eat for Health" computer program provides students with realistic feedback concerning their individual eating habits, nutritional guidance for a healthy future, and recommendations to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

Students must provide identification as proof of age.

Students may make appointments for donations and pick up pamphlets in the Buc Stop. The actual procedure will take about 10 minutes. Snacks will be provided by the Blood Center.

It is strongly recommended that on donation day, students eat breakfast and lunch before donating blood.

All donations will be credited to the Belleville High School account and will be available to the student body and their families in the event that blood is needed. The service is provided without charge by the North Jersey Blood Center.

Department is one of the many groups and organizations that have joined the cause. They are sponsoring a Donkey Basketball game at 7:30 p.m. April 28 in the high school gym.

REMODELING IS OUR BUSINESS

'Chorus of Communities' to sing Handel's 'Messiah'

Four soloists will join "The Chorus of Communities" in the Easter portion of Handel's "Messiah" Sunday, April 28, 3 p.m., at St. Valentine's Church, Bloomfield.

Mary McGarvey, soprano; Luann Lindemann, contralto; Curtis Watkins, tenor; and Marc Waters-Savant — each with extensive operatic or oratorio background — will sing with the ecumenical choir, under the direction of William Moore.

The concert is sponsored by Belleville Ministerium with proceeds benefiting Pastoral Care Department at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville.

Chorus members sing with congregational choirs in Bloomfield, Nutley, Belleville and in neighboring communities.

Assisting the chorus will be Rev. Nancy Moore at organ and members of New Jersey Symphony Orchestra.

In its first appearance in the Christmas portion of "Messiah," the chorus established itself as an outstanding choral group in the metropolitan region.

Tickets for "Messiah" are available at Clara Maass Medical Center Gift Shoppe, Bethany Lutheran Church, in Belleville, at participating churches, and by phone, (201) 895-4563.

Chamber sets facade lunch

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Department of Planning and Development, is sponsoring a facade improvement — kick-off luncheon at noon tomorrow at the Bella Casa Caterers, 2 Acme St.

The purpose of the luncheon is to inform and educate the business owners about grants and low interest money available for the revitalization of the central business district.

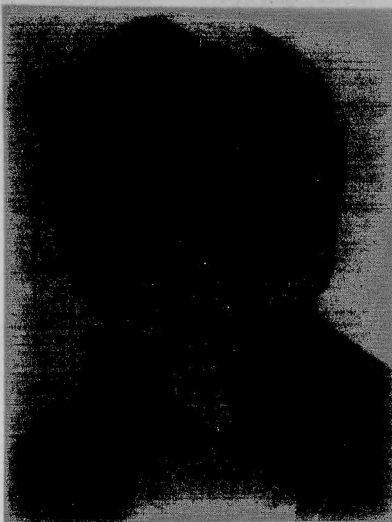

Guest speakers will be from the Economic Development Corporation of Essex County, Ellsworth C. Salisbury, executive director, and Dorothy Merritte, economic development coordinator.

The Chamber of Commerce encourages the business owners who own property in the facade program target area, which is Washington Avenue bounded by William Street and Rutgers Street, to make every effort to attend the luncheon.

Tickets are $15 and may be obtained by calling the Chamber Office at 759-4848.

Clarification

A story which appeared in the April 11 issue of The Belleville Times incorrectly identified a volunteer at Clara Maass Medical Center. The volunteer's name is Catherine Golin.

ANYTHING GOES...Belleville's David Flynn, a 1981 graduate of Belleville High, will appear as Billy Crocker in The Civic Theatre of Hudson County's production of "Anything Goes." Flynn was a member of the BHS Dramatic Ensemble and the Belleville Part-Time Players. The show will be performed on April 26, 27 and 28 and May 3, 4 and 5. For ticket information call Elaine Mincieli at 656-1745.

Library reduces hours

The Belleville Public Library, 221 Washington Ave., will have reduced hours during upcoming renovations.

Effective April 25, main library hours will be: Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, closed.

The reduced hours will help speed the replastering, painting and decorative work being done during restoration of the library's original 1911 Carnegie portion and the stacks area constructed in 1929.

According to David Bryant, library director, "By reducing the hours, we can assure a library environment that will be safe and comfortable during these major improvements. We anticipate a Belleville library that, when completed in the autumn of 1991, will be a point of local pride, operated with state-of-the-art computerized systems while having New Jersey's most welcoming and beautiful public library interior."

The improvements are being accomplished through privately donated funds, Bryant said.

The design for the main library was drawn up by James J. Cozzarelli, library trustee. His work can already be seen in the renovated Children's Room and Trustee Room.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Super camouflage for damaged walls and incidental storage: tenting. It takes yards and yards of shirred fabric to cover, but the costs are low and results dramatic.

Paintbrushes will last longer if they're dipped properly: no more the halfway into paint or other substances. If you must put the brush down, lay it flat. Neither brushes nor rollers should soak in liquid.

Kitchen and laundry appliances use a lot of electricity. When used simultaneously, they should be on separate circuits. For example, a steam iron uses 1,200 watts, a coffeemaker 975, and a standard microwave, 700.

Outdoor lighting is safer with low-voltage kits that contain all the components needed for installation. Transformer steps 120-volt household current down to 12 volts for the lights.

Rich living: old town houses on the upper East side of New York City, once used as schools or offices, are being re-modeled as single-family homes. They are being equipped with modern amenities.

You don't have to be rich to have a home of your own. Just ask the helpful househunters at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley, 235-9000.
