So long, trees...

TREES FOR THE TAKING... Employees from Belleville's Department of Public Works joined forces with workers from Public Service Electric & Gas last week to remove two large trees from in front of homes on the 800 block of Joramemon Street, across from Glendale Cemetery. Removal of the trees was requested by the homeowners and approved by the township's Shade Tree Commission. The homeowners complained that the trees were leaning over and the roots ripping up one of the driveways.

Planning board to revise master plan

By Lurie Silberg
The township is in the process of planning catch-up on its master plan, with planning board members hoping to have ready by fall the guidelines for future development in Belleville.
The master plan, which regulates development of a municipality, should have been revised and adopted in 1988, but, under the prior administration, was never completed.
Belleville does not face any penalties for being late, but could get into trouble under the housing element of the plan, according to Grace Harris, a consultant from The Planning Association of North Jersey.
"A builder could come in and put affordable housing anywhere...

...if someone sues, they could get the zoning put aside," Harris said.
Harris, who has been the consultant for Belleville and its master plans since 1968, met with planning board members April 18 for a master plan workshop.
Scheduled as an informal meeting to discuss the new recycling element of the plan, board members, unfamiliar with the plan and their role in it, spent two and one-half hours acquainting themselves with the master plan and its procedures instead.

A municipality must re-examine its master plan at least every six years, according to the state's Municipal Land Use Law. In 1982, the township re-adopted its master plan, making no significant changes from the previous one adopted in 1968.
In 1978, the planning board conducted new land use studies and determined that a new zoning ordinance was needed. The new ordinance was adopted in 1979.

Responsibility of revising the master plan belongs to the planning board, although the mayor and council must approve any zoning amendments.
The future direction of any township is dependent on its zoning ordinance.
Board member Sam Papa said he was concerned that the board would have no real power to implement change. Appealing to Harris, he said "I'd like to be able to have

Budget passage is key

38 teachers may face layoffs

By Anthony Buccino
The Belleville Board of Education Monday night voted 6-0 in favor of not offering employment to the district's 38 non-tenured teachers until the budget is approved or necessary cuts are made.
Superintendent of Schools Michael D. Nardiello said the Nutley school board always "reduces in force," or RIF's, its non-tenured teachers as a precautionary measure.

The board must notify teachers whether or not they will be rehired by April 30. In the event the teachers are not rehired without being notified, the board would have to pay them two months salary, Nardiello said.
Although he said he hopes not to lose one teacher from the 38 person list, Nardiello said, the board must protect itself in case the budget is not approved.

Trustee Jose Del Guercio said he hopes to "re-employ all these people."
Del Guercio asked Nardiello to make sure the teachers are aware that RIF notices will comply with statutes. "I do not want to lose any quality teachers" who receive this notice and go find another job.

The day after the cut was agreed on in private session Nardiello said, "I conveyed to the BEA (Belleville Education Association) that this was a formality."

Among the 38 non-tenured positions are 10 from special education, 4 from music and 3 from physical education.

Nardiello said "If the budget stays intact, most teachers will be returned."

The school district has 3,600 students, 317 teachers and 10 buildings including the board complex.

Del Guercio, who served on the budget committee with trustees Vincent Marrone and Gabe Nazziola, said the budget presented to them by the central office was cut by $934,367.

Nardiello said he expects to field budget questions when he meets parent groups tonight at School 10, on Belleville and Franklin avenues, in conjunction with candidates night.

School board president Anthony D'Agostino told Nardiello, "If the budget goes down, I hope your pencil is very sharp. We'll have to look more closely at closing some schools and staff cuts. The budget is down to the bone now."

Resident Joseph Della Volpe asked if the school district received any money from the various flea markets held at the high school.

Nazziola said the flea markets are sponsored by various parent groups and school associations. Those groups, he said, provide supplies for students that the board could not do under its budgetary constraints.

Nardiello told the school board

EDC to provide low interest grants and loans to merchants

By Lurie Silberg
Owners and merchants in the central business district are being encouraged to take advantage of money available to them through a county improvement program.

About 50 businessmen and women attended a luncheon sponsored by Belleville's Chamber of Commerce and Department of Planning at Bella Casa Caterers Friday to find out more about what the Economic Development Corporation of Essex County has for them in the way of funding incentives.

More than $60,000 in grants and low-interest loans is available through the EDC, established in 1984 to help provide assistance to businesses and serving Montclair, Nutley, Orange and West Orange. "We're giving away money here," Councilman Bill Cook said.

While the target area for improvements in 1991 is the area between Williams and Rutgers streets, landlords outside that area are encouraged to apply.

Ellsworth Salisbury, executive director of the EDC, explained the benefits of the program, including an on-the-job training program for employers. "The application process is straightforward. It's a win-win situation," he said.

Through the Community Economic Revitalization Program, or CERP, grant money is available for facade improvement. Matching grants of no less than $2,000 will be provided for renovation of store fronts along Washington Avenue, which currently has more than 40 empty stores.

grants and loans may be applied to fix up store fronts.

"CERP will pay for half of the project, which can be done by the owner or the tenant," said Dorothy A. Merritte, coordinator for the EDC.

Lou Cicenia, owner of Charles Jewelers, said it concerns him that the funds are available but the program is optional. "We have a digressing condition on Washington Avenue."

Addressing the issue of property maintenance, Township Planning Director Robert Ringleheim said "We will be enforcing the property maintenance code. If businesses are not up to the code, we will take action."

Troise, who renovated her insurance agency at 172 Washington Ave. a couple of years ago, said everyone in business "should be

Fire hydrants will be tested

The Belleville Fire Department has announced that fire hydrants will be tested by the fire department beginning Tuesday. Testing will be conducted on a daily basis to ensure there is proper water flow for fire suppression.

A GOOD CITIZEN... Resident Gerald Novellino was recognized by the township council this month for helping sustain the life of an elderly woman. Novellino, owner of Abbots Drugstore, was in his store on Washington Avenue when the woman reportedly suffered a heart attack while driving her car. Novellino ran out and performed CPR while his clerk called for help. Novellino is shown receiving the award from Mayor Marina Perna.

Belleville Times cover price to increase

Rising costs of newsprint and production, coupled with the effects of a recessionary economy, have made it necessary to raise the price of the Belleville Times.

Effective May 1, the price of a newsstand copy will be 50 cents. Subscriptions will be available for $16 per year ($8 for senior citizens).

Six local students in Optimist contest

Six students from Belleville Middle School participated in the Optimist Club of Belleville's Annual Oratorical Contest on April 4. The contest is open to students up to age 16.

A speech of no less than four minutes or more than five minutes must be given on a specified topic. This year's topic was "If Only."

Andrea Curran, an eighth-grader, won the girls' contest and Albert Alves, also an eighth-grader, won the boys' contest.

The students will go on to compete with other winners from the Bergen County area in the Zone Contest. The winners of the Zone Contest will be the representatives in the state Oratorical Contest.

The other student participants were: Ben Dookchitra, Michele Ganguly, Lisa Jablonski and Jessica Aufiero.

The students were accompanied to the contest by their principal, Mario DiMaggio; teacher coordinators, Carmine Guinta and Sharon Shapiro and teachers, Robert Silvestri and Barbara Spillane.

Robert Giordano served as oratorical chairman for the Optimist Club of Belleville.

Planning Board to consider township's future an impact for the better of Belleville. We want to know what we can implement. Show us the way."

Harris told Papa the only real power the board had to affect change was through subdivisions and site plans.

"What about condemning the eight stores across from The Belleville Pub and putting a theater there? Do we have that kind of power?" he asked.

"You have the power to plan it, but not to condemn it. You can strongly recommend it to the governing body," Harris said.

She also suggested the board work closely with the township manager for long-range planning.

Harris told the board that Washington Avenue would be the focal point of the land use element.

Board member Walter Beresford asked if declaring the area across from The Belleville Pub as "blighted" would result in quicker action being taken.

Harris said an effort was made a couple years ago to designate Washington Avenue "blighted," but they shouldn't have done that, she said. "It discourages owners from investing."

Township Planner Robert Ringleheim called Washington Avenue "20 years of frustration," and asked the board to be patient in regard to its future.

When the topic of the building advisory committee, a seven-member volunteer group appointed by the council, was brought up, many board members questioned its legitimacy, saying they were afraid the two boards would end up working against each other.

Board Chairman Richard Dombrowski wanted to know "why haven't we met with this board?"

Mario Drozd, council member and liaison to the planning board, said, "That's all they (the committee) are, an advisory committee. They won't interfere with our board's work."

Veteran planning board member Joseph Doyle, an alternate, said "It could backfire if we don't all work together."

The board agreed to ask representatives from the committee to their next meeting, set for May 9. James Cozzarelli, committee chairman, said Friday he and another committee member would be present at the meeting.

The goal of the planning board for this year is to complete development of new housing, land use and recycling elements. An amendment made to the Land Use Law regarding recycling was added in 1989, and includes provisions for the collection, disposition and recycling of recyclable materials.

Harris said the board will also consider re-adoption of the circulation plan, which deals with traffic and parking, and the community facilities plan, which focuses on schools, municipal building and parks. The community facilities and circulation plans were adopted in 1975.

In a developed township such as Belleville, "you often do updating where you have problems," eliminating the need to repeat studies in certain portions of the plan, Harris explained.

According to the re-examination report done in 1988 under the previous administration, the following problem areas were identified in 1982: problems with vacant stores and a lack of off-street parking in the Washington Avenue business area; shortage of municipal park and recreation facilities, need for senior citizen housing; traffic bottlenecks at key intersections and changing pattern of land use in the Valley due to a strong market for condominiums and little interest in industrial buildings.

In the re-exam report, Harris noted the same problems continue to exist.

Other changes made to the state planning policy which would affect the township's future fall under the housing element and deal with the Fair Housing Act of 1985.

In its master plan, Belleville must account for the needs of those with low and moderate income. According to the Council On Affordable Housing, Belleville must provide for 162 units. The units, however, can be handled through the rehabilitation of existing buildings, or through new construction.

Drozd informed the planning board that the township is currently looking into meeting the needs of senior citizens, but would not comment on how or where.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Former President Richard Nixon, 78, recently completed a two-week visit to the Soviet Union, his seventh since 1959. He met Mikhail Gorbachev and maverick reformer Boris Yeltsin and visited Lithuania, the Ukraine and Georgia.

Nixon shared his impression with three American reporters, including U.S. News Moscow Bureau Chief Jeff Trimble. Some of his comments and observations:

Excerpts: Arms control - "The way they (the Soviets) handle their internal problems is going to have a very substantial effect on whether or not they can go forward. If the impression is that the reactionaries are really in the saddle here, that Gorbachev owes his survival to them, then it is going to be very difficult to get Senate approval of a START (strategic arms) agreement."

In view of the enormous economic problems the Soviet Union has, the need for a treaty is not as great. They are not going to be able to afford the expenditures necessary for military modernization. If they're not going to be able to spend the money, then you have arms control without an agreement.

Gorbachev is a man with the weight of his country and the world on his shoulders. The bouncy spirit I saw in 1988 and the confidence I saw in 1986 were not as evident this time. His mental agility was as sharp as ever.

But he was obviously tired, not physically, but just tired of the tremendous burden. I am not among those who feel we are going to see Gorbachev leave the scene soon. The reason is that he is a brilliant politician. He is a competitor. He acquired power. He likes power. He intends to keep it. There is at present no alternative to Gorbachev.

My major surprise on this trip was Boris Yeltsin. Everything I had heard before this trip led me to the conclusion he was a very charismatic populist figure, interested in power but with no convictions, a lightweight.

He is no lightweight. This man is on top of the game. He does not deal with subtleties. He is very direct, very candid, and expresses beliefs with great conviction. In the American vernacular, Gorbachev is Wall Street and Yeltsin is Main Street. Gorbachev is Georgetown drawing room, Yeltsin is a Newark factory gate.

The only one who was as smart as Gorbachev, really smarter, was (Nikita) Khrushchev, who had no education but who had the quickest mind of any leader I ever met. One of the reasons we underestimate Yeltsin is the tendency of intellectuals to be more obsessed with style than substance. They looked at Khrushchev as crude, but he was quite a guy. So it is with Yeltsin.

The mood of the Russian people - In 1959, I (Nixon) remember going to the market and coming back laden with fruit, flowers and hearing people cheering for the United States. They were very poor, but they were warm and confident about the future. They had a fine spirit. That spirit is gone... they think nothing is working and there is nothing to believe in. I didn't see this malaise in Lithuania, the Ukraine, or in Georgia. (There) they have something going for them, the spirit of independence.

In foreign relations Gorbachev is very concerned that the Soviet Union still be considered by the United States to be the major player, an equal player. Reagan was lambasted for calling the Soviet Union an evil empire. In today's world, an empire that has only military power and is a Third World economic power, falling hopelessly behind, will eventually become irrelevant.

Budget vote key issue

he was asked by concerned parents if sports and music programs, field trips, courtesy busing and the substance abuse coordinator position would be cut if the proposed $30 million budget is defeated at the ballots next Tuesday.

"How much more can we cut without affecting education?" He said, "We're charged to provide a thorough and efficient education," he said.

Ralph Street resident JoAnn Verderamo said she has heard rumors that School 9 will close. She reminded the board that parents and other supporters showed up at a board meeting last year to save the school.

"When a budget is defeated," Del Guercio, "none of us want to anything to upset the education in town."

Nazzola said the rumors were creating "anxiety among the public. To keep them from coming true, the budget must pass."

He said the board would look closer at complimentary busing, under-utilized school facilities and keeping School 9 open even though it has been under-utilized for two years. "Everything lies in the voting booth next week."

T. Steve Ralph Mazzuca said the budget issue is "like pushing a wagon full of kids up a hill with the education at the top."

"I am against closing any school at any time," Marrone added.

In other business, the board voted to reject the lone $10 bid for a used school bus.

Board vice president Patty Pisano termed the bid "an insult." She asked for an investigation as to why the public bid advertisement was written without a minimum bid.

Pisano also questioned a request by sponsors of a charity fundraiser for the board to absorb the estimated $240-$320 cost of custodians for the event.

The correspondence was dated April 3, in time for the board's April 8 meeting, Pisano said. She cited a "general lack of information coming to the board" to make a decision.

Your vote counts

On Tuesday, critics and advocates of the school board budget get to register their opinions at the polls.

Based on past history — Belleville residents have supported only one of the last 22 budgets — it's likely that more votes will be cast opposing rather than supporting this year's $30 million budget.

The gap is narrowing, however. Last year's budget was defeated by a very slight margin of 33.

Taxpayers should keep in mind that while the $30 million figure reflects a total increase of $5,384,587 over last year, $3,285,767 is for the Teacher Pension and Annuity Fund.

This figure makes the budget seem higher than it is. For the next two years TPAF costs will be included as a line item in the budget, with all transactions made at the state level.

Taxpayers take note that TPAF costs are not included in the $20,080,833 to be raised by taxes.

Whether for or against the budget, Tuesday provides you with the opportunity to register in black and white what you believe.

There's more than just the budget to think of — two three-year seats expire this year. Incumbents Joseph Del Guercio and Ralph Mazzuca are attempting to retain their positions, while newcomer Angie Pascheria is trying to wrestle one of the seats away from herself.

On Tuesday, April 30, exercise your right as a resident of Belleville and vote.

YOUR OPINION

Last call before Board of Education election

To the editor:

At a recent Board of Education rally, someone came to the table where I was seated and made some derogatory remarks about another's character.

The individual (he left early) got my sympathy especially after I heard Ralph Mazzuca speak. Too bad, he did not hear those words. It was one of the finest speeches I have ever heard. The more Ralph spoke, the more you felt principles of the past/present/future magnified. My words are not verbatim but I picked up:

1. Strength lies in the attempt. If you fail, at least you tried.
2. Decisions should be based on total pictures — not just one segment. And most important:
3. No one is perfect. We all make mistakes. Character shows through when we admit a mistake — and try to correct it.

I heard these remarks as a kid growing up and so did you. We told it to our kids and pray they tell it to theirs.

Ann Douatiello

To the editor:

For many years, I had felt that either a person in the educational system or a person having retired would make an ideal choice to sit on the board of education. As of late, I have had second thoughts.

It appears as though such a person might be reluctant to hold back salary raises that seem excessive to others. After all, they too were hoping for those types of raises at one time or another.

Since the teacher's contract is in place for another year or two, not much can be done along those lines.

However, I see no sense in arguing and fighting from June until September or October because they want a 7, 8 or 9 percent raise for three years.

If that's the best you can do, give them their raise in June without bickering, or stand up for the rest of the town and give in to a modest raise. Expensive benefits alone should keep most people happy, even teachers.

Donald Capanear

To the editor:

Allow me to thank all of the concerned citizens and dignitaries that were able to attend my rally at the Knights of Columbus on April 12. The speeches by Mayor Marina Perna, Deputy Mayor Frank Caputo and Viola Spray, who presented a letter by Board of Education trustee Joseph Del Guercio who was unable to attend, was awe-inspiring.

The overwhelming support displayed by all the people in attendance gives me the confidence and encouragement that is needed to succeed in the coming election on April 30. I urge everyone to exercise their right to vote.

Ralph B. Mazzuca

To the editor:

It's time again to vote for your favorite board of education candidate and your dollar's salvation. It appears that the board needs a woman's touch, more compassion, accountable leadership and fairness to all people, not only a selected few.

The board approved the school budget recently with no modifications — such that they must cater to the unionized community in their midst, which they are a part of.

But all government bodies must be accountable to all people, especially the basic taxpayer who supports their needs.

It's obvious that more women must enter the board arena and be a part of major decisions, the school budget and keep an eye on the inner sanctum and money maneuvering for personal gain.

Let it not be that the basic taxpayer shrugs his shoulder in resignation that they are not being represented and must accept the "you can't beat city hall" stigma.

Angie Pacharia, a good choice, was a teachers' aide for 12 years, vice chairwoman of the special education advisory board, Belleville Alliance of Substance Abuse Education and others.

This is something to consider — that unbiased representation will be a good omen and keep the board on track for all people concerned, for school and community needs and dollars spent with discretion.

Dan Ippolito

To the editor:

My friend Joe DelGuercio is seeking re-election to the Belleville Board of Education. The past three years that Joe has served have been very productive.

We have seen a lot of changes that have been made in the best interest of the students and citizens. I wholeheartedly endorse his re-election to the board of education.

The kids in Belleville need Joe back on the board. Urge your friends and relatives to vote 2A on Tuesday, April 30.

Fellow graduate sought

To the editor:

I am writing you with the hopes of locating a former graduate of Central High School, Newark.

For over one year now I've been researching the history of Central High School. My hope is to put together a history of Central for my 50th reunion.

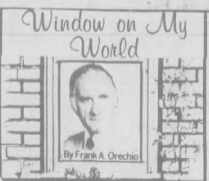

Ted DelGuercio graduated Central High School of Newark, Class January, 1946.

I'm told he presently resides in Belleville.

I need to make contact in order to make this school history complete.

Anyone with information should contact Bob Illig, 42 Franklin Ave., Rockaway, NJ 07866.

• AT long last, President Bush nominated Michael Chertoff to be the United States Attorney for New Jersey. Chertoff has been serving as the court-appointed U.S. Attorney for almost a year, succeeding Samuel Alito who became a federal appeals judge.

A magna cum laude graduate of the Harvard Law School, Chertoff is a career prosecutor receiving nationwide commendation for his success in prosecuting organized crime cases, as well as drug related convictions.

The importance of a permanent appointment of the U.S. Attorney is directly related to the quality of assistants the U.S. Attorney is able to hire. Any attorneys with outstanding qualifications would be difficult to recruit as long as Chertoff was denied nomination by the President of the United States. Late is better than never — and in the case of Chertoff, New Jersey residents are now assured that the best available talent occupies the highest law enforcement chair in the state of New Jersey.

Michael Chertoff

• THE favored June Democrat Primary candidate for the Sheriff's nomination is incumbent Acting Sheriff Armando Fonturo, and rightfully so.

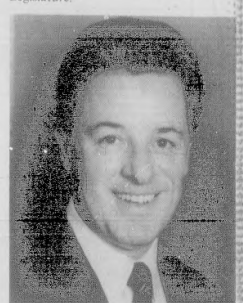

• THIS week, the Assembly passed a bill which rights a wrong. I'm not a smoker, but if a person wants to smoke at home or anywhere else, off the job, she or he should have that right. I don't like a smoking environment, but if others do, they should have the right to a slow death. The proposed legislation should be approved by the Senate and signed by Governor Florio.

• THE Adubato dynasty recently suffered a self-inflicted wound when former Assemblyman Steven Adubato, Jr. suggested that Essex County black clergymen were irresponsible in calling for a black sheriff. Adubato, Jr. suggested that blacks hire former Mayor Marion Berry of Washington, D.C. or former Mayor Jim Usry of Atlantic City (both were indicted to be sheriff). This unfortunate observation may have a life of its own.

• SENATOR Carmen Orechio was praised last week by no less a person than former Republican Governor Thomas H. Kean. When a neighboring daily newspaper reporter asked Governor election, Senator Orechio said, "Senator Ambrosio is a highly respected colleague. I am confident he will give the same caring representation that I have given to Nutley and Belleville for the past 18 years. It is easy for me to support Senator Ambrosio to represent our communities in the New Jersey State Legislature."

Gov. Jim Florio

• POLLS to determine the popularity of issues or public officials can be what you want them to be. For example, a recent poll conducted by the Bergen County Record, reported that 48 percent of the 467 registered voters contacted said Governor Jim Florio's performance was poor. Taking that statistic at face value, one could also conclude that Jim Florio is O.K., with 52 percent of the voters, or at the very worst, there are 52 percent of the voters out there who like Florio or have not expressed disapproval of the Governor's performance. This is a remarkable posture for Florio to be in at this stage of his administration.

• GOVERNOR Jim Florio, faced with a billion dollar shortfall next fiscal year, and the elimination of 4,000 state workers, plans to cut in half, subsidies to the New Jersey Network, a state run television system.

I think Jim Florio should go one step further — eliminate all contributions that subsidize the operation of the New Jersey Network. A random poll that I have taken of people we met, leads me to the conclusion that New Jersey Network has very few viewers. It ain't worth the taxpayers' money.

• PRIMARY ELECTION DAY is Tuesday, June 4th.

Senator Orechio to be honored as 'Good Scout of the Year' on May 13

State Sen. Carmen A. Orechio (D-Essex) has been named "Good Scout of the Year" by the Essex Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

He will be honored by the council's Yanticaw District during its fourth annual fundraiser dinner May 13.

Billed as a "Sup-O-Ree," the event will be held at The Palace at King's Court, 525 Riverside Ave., Lyndhurst. Dinner starts at 7 p.m. Tickets are $50 each. Tables of 10 are still available for $500.

"Sen. Orechio has been one of Scouting's strongest supporters over the years," dinner chairman David Olmsted said of the honoree's selection.

"His record of accomplishments in the state legislature and in the local communities is without parallel."

Orechio's relationship with Scouts dates to more than 20 years ago, when he was first elected to the Nutley Commission and employed the services of Boy Scouts to help distribute information flyers to residents.

"Being recognized by the Boy Scouts as their 'Good Scout of the Year' is certainly an honor I shall wear with pride and dignity," he said upon learning of his award.

According to Sen. Orechio, who regularly attends scouting events and award presentation nights, scouting prepares boys and girls on how best to be "productive and contributing members of society."

"Scouting teaches tomorrow's leaders to be better citizens today," he said.

"Considering all the pitfalls that lie out there for America's youth, it is heartwarming to know there are still young men and women who believe in what scouting stands for and decide to join.

"By the same token, one can not forget the people who make scouting possible — the fathers and mothers who freely give their time to help out."

For tickets or additional information contact Olmsted at 667-4333; Jack Dante, senior scout executive, at 622-2488; Dorothy Quigley at 235-1166; Shirley Sherman at 731-9558, or Ralph Colasanti at 743-6200.

The fourth annual Sup-O-Ree committee includes: Colasanti, Annette D'Angelo and Assemblywoman Marion Crecco from Bloomfield, Lucille Simonian, Jack Gorman and Ed Neiman from Nutley, and Mayor Marina Perna, Shirley Sherman and Robert Curtis from Belleville.

The Belleville Pub, owned by Councilman Jim Messina, was the first business to be completed under the new CERP program.

Ringleheim explained the completed applications should include an architectural sketch of the facade. All facades must follow the English Georgian style chosen by the Building Advisory Committee, a seven-member volunteer board appointed by the council and chaired by James Cozzarelli.

The committee was established to help upgrade the central business district.

Cozzarelli said the Georgian style was chosen to tie in with the design of Branchbrook Park.

According to Cozzarelli, low-interest loans are available for interior requires renovations as well.

Though the area being targeted is between Rutgers and Williams streets, Ringleheim said applications for other Washington Avenue stores will be considered on a case by case basis.

John Ianuzzi, owner of Flowerama, said "this is the strongest effort I've seen since I started renting in 1961. I detect a turnaround," he said, adding, "The chamber has made great strides in Ken Olsen, a businessman from Port Chester, N.Y. and owner of the eight vacant stores across from town hall, said he was very interested in applying for the money. "I would fix up the stores and then rent them out" he said.

Frank Brusco of Cliffside Park, landlord for the chain of seven stores which includes the Chamber of Commerce, said he is going to do the whole front of his building.

Town officials are also looking into funding mechanisms for Belleville's other business districts, according to Frank Brooks, grants consultant for the township.

Cook said the township will be planting about 100 trees up and down Washington Avenue in the near future.

Help in Migraine Prevention

Just as there is no definitive explanation of what causes a migraine headache, there are several approaches concerning prevention and treatment. The latest of these, as reported in the "Journal of the American Medical Association," suggests that aspirin may play a preventative role in migraine attacks. This medical strategy is based on the assumption that serotonin (a chemical found in blood platelets) plays a part in prompting migraine. Serotonin is released when platelets clump together. Studies show that low 325 mg. aspirin taken every other day prevents platelet clumping (clotting) and helps prevent heart attacks. As a secondary benefit, the release of serotonin is blocked. This is important because serotonin constricts blood vessels, and blood vessel constriction/dilation is thought to be part of the mechanism that causes migraine.

The American College of Radiology (ACR) has accredited more than 1,500 facilities nationwide. This program was started in response to two major concerns expressed by Radiologists, other national medical organizations, and the public: (1) That qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and (2) That dedicated mammographic equipment be used to ensure that women receive optimum mammographic examinations with the lowest possible risk.

The mammo facility at Nutley Diagnostic Center, Inc. has been accredited by the American College of Radiology (ACR).

So, if you're over 35, ask your doctor about a MAMMOGRAPHY, and consider coming to Nutley Diagnostic Center, Inc. to have your mammogram performed, because we are qualified to help you.

BUCS SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

We start this week with news from the Belleville Little League. The league will commence play on May 4, 1991 at the Marotti Little League field.

According to AL president Frank Caputo, the opening day ceremonies will start at noon, with players from National and American league teams taking the field. Local county and state officials have been invited to be a part of the ceremonies.

After the opening day festivities, NL champ K of C will play the AL champ Rotary Club. There is a full schedule of games set for May 4. A new pitching machine has been donated to the Little League as well, helping the players improve their hitting skills.

LET'S GO BACK A FEW YEARS. The hostages were back from Iran after 444 days in captivity. President Ronald Reagan was recovering from an assassination attempt. The prime interest rate was hovering around 20 percent. The Philadelphia Phillies were champions of the baseball world and the New York Islanders were the defending Stanley Cup champions.

In Belleville, standout athletes included Jennifer Apicella, Barbara Gundry, Phil Cerza, Anthony Coco, Frank Fazzini, Paul Scheuplein and Dana Caruso.

It's the Spring of 1981 and the Belleville baseball team enters the season with a great deal of question marks. Then coach George Zanfini remembers his predicament in the pre season.

"We only had one returning player back from the 1980 squad," Zanfini said. "Fazzini was the only guy back in the field. Coco was our only returning pitcher. The rest of the lineup was with players who had competed on the JV level the previous season."

Zanfini had a veteran team in 1980. The Bucs had advanced to the GNT championship game, where it lost an 8-6 decision to Livingston. Later in the state sectional tourney, the Bucs lost to Livingston again, this time by a 12-8 score. For the season, the team finished 17-7.

"We had a real good run in the '80 GNT's," Zanfini recalled. "We beat West Orange (3-0), Valley (4-2) and Seton Hall (5-0) to get to the finals. We got some excellent pitching and the team was pretty confident against a real good Livingston team."

The '80 Bucs featured Dick Vazzano, Michael Rainone, Lenny Mendola, John Guarino, Ed Aulisi, Anthony Nicolsa, Rich Vitiello, Steve Coffey, Coco and Fazzini.

In the state sectionals, Belleville stopped Linden 5-4 in an early round game. In that contest, Zanfini was on the game when Fazzini was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded. The team's hopes for a sectional crown were stifled, however, by the Livingston Lancers two days later.

"We began '81 knowing we had a lot of positions to fill," Zanfini said. "We lost a lot of talented players from the '80 season."

Coco was back for his senior season, having come off a "sub par" 4-3 record in 1980. As a sophomore in '79, Coco was 6-0 and a lot was expected of him in 1980.

"Anthony pitched pretty well in '80," Zanfini said. "But we knew he was primed to have a real good year."

Joining Coco on the pitching staff in '81 would be Bobby Grogan. The junior had just transferred to Belleville from Seton Hall Prep and he made an immediate impact.

Roger Lentz was the third pitcher on the staff and he compiled a fine 6-0 mark.

Fazzini would be the regular second baseman, Ken Constantino manned the shortstop position, Eugene Canelli would play first and Joe Corbally started at third base.

Dave Stary, Jerry Ross and Scheuplein were among the outfield troops. Cerza was the catcher.

Despite the new players on the varsity level, the season started pretty impressively. Belleville defeated Montclair, Essex Catholic, North Bergen, Valley, Barringer and Passaic before it was upset by a real good pitcher in Joe Sarno and the Bloomfield Bengals.

"Bloomfield came into that game with a 1-5 record," Zanfini said. "But they had an excellent pitcher in Sarno and you know what happened when we played them later in the season."

(The Bucs and Bengals met in the GNT semi in what turned out to be a classic game. More on that in a future issue.)

Belleville came back to beat West Essex 9-1 in the next game. I remember Scheuplein, who was recovering from a fractured ankle, wanting to play at all costs against West Essex.

Scheuplein was a member of the '80 BUC football team which lost to West Essex in the Group IV, Section II championship game the previous autumn in Giants Stadium.

"I'll probably play three or four innings, just as long as I get my shots at West Essex," Scheuplein said before the game at Belleville High School on that Saturday morning.

It was that kind of pride which epitomized the '81 BUC baseball team, and that, that matter, the athlete who attended Belleville High, both then and now.

Anyway, after the win over West Essex, the Bucs lost to Kearny, the blanked Caldwell 7-0 as Grogan tossed a no-hitter. Belleville won two more games, against East Orange and Essex Catholic to boost its record to 10-2. In unlucky game 13, the Bucs lost a controversial game to Nutley 7-6.

"We were up by two runs late in the game," Zanfini said. "Nutley had the bases loaded and the guy at the plate hits a shot down the right field line. It's easily foul by two feet, but the umpire calls it fair and they scored three runs and won."

The loss was demoralizing, to say the least. It carried over to the next game, when Belleville was trounced by Linden, 10-1 at Belleville High. "We committed seven errors in the game," Zanfini said. "The kids were down after the Nutley game."

Realizing his team needed a lift, Zanfini gave the following "pep" talk after the loss:

"Some of you guys are going on a school trip tomorrow, right?"

The players, a little worried about whether Zanfini was going to explode after that loss, acknowledged the question and gave a hesitant yes.

Zanfini's response was simple. "Well, enjoy it. Get your minds off baseball for a few days. We're pressing too much."

End of speech. I remember the look on Constantino's face as the team left the field on that early May evening. He was in shock that Zanfini had not administered a long hazing.

In my opinion, that game turned the '81 season around for the Bucs. We'll continue this story in next weeks issue.

LAST WEEK'S QUIZ

Jose Oquendo hit the three run homer in the seventh game of the '87, NLCS for St. Louis against San Francisco. Danny Cox pitched for St. Louis, hurling a complete game shutout. St. Louis lost the '87 World Series to Minnesota in seven games. Jeffrey Leonard won the MVP of the '87 NLCS.

FOR THIS WEEK

I'm on a roll with St. Louis. In '85, the Cards won the NL East, beating the Mets down the stretch. How many games did the Cards beat the Mets by in the standings? Which Cardinal pitchers won 20 games in '85? Which Mets pitchers won 20 in '85? Who did St. Louis play in the NLCS?

Team splits four games

Lady Bucs learning quickly

By Mike Lamberti

Traveling on opposite ends of the spectrum, the Belleville softball team blasted Barringer 13-0 and Ridgewood 19-5 then dropped one sided decisions to Clifton 9-2 and Livingston, 12-0.

Carl Corino's young team took a 6-4 record into this weeks action. The team faced Hackensack and Paramus earlier this week. Tomorrow, they're home to Teaneck in a 4 p.m. start from Clearmont Field. On Saturday, Queen of Peace comes to town for an 11 a.m. game. Next Monday, the Lady Bucs stay home to face a tough league opponent in Paramus Catholic, starting at 4 p.m.

"We have the potential and the experience," Corino said in summing up last weeks action. "We got some good performances, but against the stronger teams, we're not able to keep up offensively. We've also faced some outstanding pitching this season. I don't think we'll see anyone better than (Michele) O'Toole (from Livingston, last Saturday). She's the best I've seen in the county." (More on O'Toole and Livingston later in the article.)

In the game against Barringer, Belleville's pitching was sharp in a 13-0 win. Keri Wendling pitched a no hitter, striking out three and walking two.

Offensively, Lynn Giachetti and Kim Piscatowski had two hits each. Jennifer Citarella, Judy Krych and Colleen Mannion all had home runs.

Belleville broke it open with an eight run third inning, highlighted by a two run homer from Citarella. Belleville's big victory over a usually strong Ridgewood team was very pleasing to Corino.

"That was a good win for us. We swung the bat well and hit the ball hard against a well coached team in Ridgewood."

Danielle DeWork hurled a complete game for Belleville. She struck out one and walked one.

Giachetti had a 3 for 3 day at the plate, driving in five runs. Piscatowski was 2 for 3 with three RBI's. Citarella hit a two run homer in the first inning.

Clifton provided some very stiff competition. Belleville trailed 3-0 after one inning and 8-0 after three before scoring its first run.

Citarella singled, stole second and scored ... hit by Mannion. In the fourth, Belleville scored its second run when Christine Sansano singled and went to second on a walk to Carey Woodruff.

Niki Luzzi walked to load the bases and Citarella singled to score Sansano.

"We expected Clifton to be very strong," Corino said. "They also had excellent pitching and we're going to have our hands full against

Grande wants team to 'relax'

Inconsistency is hurting Buc baseball

By Mike Lamberti

Inconsistency has marred the early going for the Belleville baseball team. Nick Grande's team has taken one step forward only to take two steps back. Last week was a prime example as the Bucs defeated Barringer 8-6, then lost to St. Joe's 10-4 and Montclair, 13-3.

Belleville took a 3-6 mark into a very busy week of action. Last Monday's game with Hackensack was cancelled due to wet grounds. It will be made up this afternoon, at 4 p.m. in Hackensack. The team faced Ridgewood in a makeup game last Tuesday and battled Paramus yesterday. Tomorrow, the Bucs are at Teaneck and next Monday, it's another road game, this time at Paramus Catholic. Game times are 4 p.m. for all of this weeks contests.

Grande, who is becoming somewhat frustrated with his teams up and down performance, is still optimistic that the season can turn around in a positive direction.

"Confidence is the key," Grande said. "The kids have to go out there and enjoy the game and relax. The players are somewhat uptight and they're making mistakes that I know they shouldn't be making."

"We played a good game with Barringer, coming back to win on the road. But we're not playing with any consistency."

Against Barringer, the Bucs had to rally from 3-0 and 5-4 deficits to win in the late stages. Michael Capasso pitched the entire game for the Bucs, allowing just six hits. He gave up two earned runs, struck out six and walked three.

After falling behind 3-0 in the first inning, Belleville scored four times in the top of the second. Rich Ferruggia started the rally by being hit by a pitch. He then stole second base. Billy Salvatore walked and Jim DuHaime hit a sacrifice fly. On DuHaime's fly ball, Ferruggia came around from second base to score the first Buc run.

Mike Alfano bled to score Salvatore and Mike Kimball reached safely on an error. Art Caruso then cleared the bases with a two run double.

Barringer came right back with two runs in the last of the second to regain the lead, 5-4. The scored stayed that way until the top of the fifth, when Belleville went ahead for good.

Jason Nardachone walked and went to second when Carmen Spina reached safely on an error. Ferruggia walked to load the bases and Salvatore walked to first on Nardachone with the tying run.

DuHaime drew a walk, scoring Spina with the go-ahead and Alfano hit into a fielders choice, with Ferruggia out at the plate.

Capasso executed a suicide squeeze, scoring Salvatore and on an errant throw, DuHaime came around to score the fourth run of the inning.

Barringer scored once in the last of the seventh off Capasso to make the final score 8-6.

"Capasso pitched a good game after a slow start," Grande said. "He needs to get warmed up and once he does, he is pretty effective."

Caruso led the Belleville attack with two hits and two ribbies. DuHaime also had two RBI's.

Against St. Joe's, the Bucs fell behind early, trailing 5-0 after three and 6-2 after 3 1/2 innings. In the bottom of the fourth, the Bucs rallied for three runs to cut the lead in half.

Mike Melham and Ferruggia walked. Both men took a base on a throwing error. Nardachone singled home Melham and DuHaime walked to load the bases. Alfano walked to force home Ferruggia and Capasso reached on an error, scoring Nardachone.

St. Joe's came right back in the top of the fifth, scoring three times to regain a six run advantage.

"We did a good job getting back into the game, then we fell out of it with some mistakes in the fifth," Grande said.

The Bucs scored its fourth run of the game in the sixth inning. With two outs, Caruso walked and scored on a Spina single.

Ferruggia pitched the first 4 2/3 innings for Belleville. He allowed five earned runs and 11 hits. He struck out six and walked six.

Anibal Rodriguez hurled the final 2 1/3, allowing one run on two hits. He fanned one and walked two.

"St. Joe's has a good team," Grande said. "They can really hit the ball. We made it even more difficult for ourselves by making mental mistakes that gave them additional runs."

Against Montclair, the curtain closed early as the Bucs fell behind 6-0 after one inning. DuHaime pitched the first four innings, allowing just three earned runs on eight hits. He struck out two and walked one.

Nardachone finished for the Bucs, pitching two innings and not allowing an earned run. He gave up five hits and struck out one.

The Belleville offense was led by Chris Marantano and Richard Quine, both of whom had two hits.

"We were never in that game," Grande said. "The kids are pressing and it shows in the performance. I have to hope they will settle down and play the game to their ability this week."

Cassin on sideline as Bucs freeze in Philly

By Mike Lamberti

Want to know what kind of weekend the Belleville crew team had? The person who had the most "fun" was head coach Bob Cassin, and he was home in bed with the chicken pox.

Belleville will travel to Mercer County on Saturday morning to race in the state championships.

The Bucs competed in the Plick races last Sunday at Philadelphia in less than desirable conditions. A steady downpour of rain and temperatures in the low 40's made for a very chilling afternoon for coach Dennis Villano and company.

"It was wicked out there," Villano said about the weather conditions last Sunday. "It was cold and it rained all afternoon. But overall, the kids rowed pretty well."

"We're hoping to have coach Cassin back this week. The team really missed his presence last week."

Cassin, as mentioned, has been fighting the chicken pox over the past ten days. He's hopeful of returning to the docks by the middle of this week.

The boys' novice four shell took a first place last Sunday. The team, made up of Joe O'Connell, Robert Montalvo, Greg Groelling, Albert Evangelista and coxswain Jeff Vogel, cruised to an 11 second victory.

"That shell understroke all of its opponents and won impressively," Villano said. "Joe Fernicola coached that team and they really did the job."

The junior four boys, coached normally by Cassin, took a second place in the finals. The team is made up of Jack O'Connell, Darren Pierson, Mike Capezio, Mark Geisen and coxswain Alexandra Lynch.

The boys' lightweight four took a fourth place and the senior four boys and girls and the junior four girls finished in fifth place.

"We're pleased with the performance levels with the team this year," Villano said. "As far as we're concerned, this is just practice for the big races in May."

"I'd like to give special thanks to coaches Maureen Russo and Joe Fernicola for their work this week."
