BOE picks Pisano for pres., Grossman for V.P.

By Anthony Buccino
Board of Education Trustee Pat Pisano was elected school board president by a vote of 5-0 during the board's annual reorganization meeting Monday night.

Trustees Gabe Nazzola, the other nominee for the top board seat, and Joseph Del Guercio abstained from voting.

Citing Pisano's voting record and stand on taxes, Nazzola abstained, saying he "would be voting against the best interests of the school district" if he voted for her.

Board member Seymour Grossman was unanimously elected as vice president.

Pisano, who cast the only vote against the school budget, said she did not feel the budget committee cut enough.

After the meeting, Pisano said it is "too early to tell" the fate of School No. 9, which the board has threatened to close. "There's always a possibility. Anything can happen," Pisano said.

Saying the board would have to make cuts, the new president said she would like to see the budget committee work with the township council in paring the budget.

Township Manager Bertrand Kendall said Tuesday the township and the board of education has tentative plans to meet Wednesday to discuss the budget.

"It's too early," she said, to speculate where cuts would be made.

Trustee Seymour Grossman said he would "rather close down a house of worship than close down a school."

"It wouldn't be fair to give an opinion without the complete board. You have to have a majority of the board willing to close it. You can't, one person can't close a school," Grossman said.

"We have to wait and see what's economically feasible for the community. We have to wait and see the enrollments of the children, whether there will be a decline in enrollment," he said.

Pisano said last year when closing School No. 9 had been researched, the projected annual savings was $200,000.

Although the new president had an acceptance speech ready, Pisano said she was momentarily overwhelmed. "It's a surprise, and I'm glad the rest of the board went along. The majority had faith in me."

Pisano had served as vice president for one year.

A Belleville Education Association spokesman said the teachers' union this year did not campaign as hard as last year to push budget approval.

"We supported it through our membership," she said.

"In light of OEA, we knew it would be a very difficult road to hoe. We did the best we could. We did support the budget. Absolutely. We put it in our newspaper. We supported it among the consolidated PTA's. We told them we would work with them."

According to the spokesman, the budget passed at Schools No. 3 and 5.

During the public portion of the meeting, resident Frank Montagna asked Pisano to review the five-minute public speaking limit at board meetings.

Under the ruling, citizens are allowed five minutes to speak, with the option of three more minutes for a concluding statement.

Montagna asked that speakers be allowed 10 minutes to address the board.

He also criticized school board election poll workers at Schools No. 3 and 4, saying the performances of polling place judges should be reviewed before the next school board election.

Resident Edith DeFeo told the board she was happy to have "two women" serving on the board, referring to Pisano and Angie Pascherchia, newly elected to the board. "The men have to stand up and listen," DeFeo said.

Reflecting on his fourth year as board president, Anthony D'Agostino said, "We are between a rock and a hard place when it comes to taxes. We have empathy for the seniors."

D'Agostino said the past year was his "most trying" as board president. "We are not perfect, we all make mistakes. But we are sincere...We have each sworn to provide a thorough and efficient education at costs that are comparable."

Pisano said it is a "challenge to replace a leader and a friend." She added the board is "striving for excellence in education."

"I am my own person," Pascherchia said. "I am not controlled by anyone." She said she would do away with the speech and let her actions speak for themselves.

In other business, the board approved the results of the annual school election vote. Total votes cast were 2,259, with Joseph Del Guercio receiving 1,244, and Angie Pascherchia receiving 1,204 votes.

Both were sworn in for three-year terms. Ralph Mazzuca, who was elected to a one-year unexpired term in 1990, received 1,165 votes.

Official records indicate there were 34 write-in votes. All votes

$24M municipal budget should offer taxpayers some relief

By Laurie Silberg
Belleville residents should see a decrease of five tax points from last year when the Township Council introduces its proposed $24 million municipal budget for 1991 on Tuesday night.

The budget worked out by the budget committee added up to a three-point decrease, but council members, led by Finance Director Izzy Padula, decided during their work session Monday night that they wanted to see a decrease of five points, which translates into $94,000.

One tax point is equal to approximately $47,000.

The budget in its present form is still very tentative, according to Township Manager Kendall.

Just where that money will come from is what council must work on now, Kendall said. "I don't know where it will come from yet" he said, adding, "Possible sources are increased revenues, cuts in health insurance and cuts in the refuse budget."

Kendall expressed satisfaction with the budget, saying "I think it's a good budget, made possible by a large amount of state aid. We've shrunk the work force (municipal employees) considerably, and it allows for employee salary increases.

As it stands, the entire municipal budget comes to $24,601,166, with $15,386,290 to be raised by taxes. However, with a five-point reduction, the figures will come in at $24,504,166 and $15,292,290 for the overall budget and the tax levy, respectively.

The budget committee is made up of Deputy Mayor Frank Caputo and council members Tom Spillane, Bill Cook and Frank Noonan.

The biggest items in the budget are employee salaries, Passaic Valley Sewage Commission fees, capital improvements and public works expenses, such as street paving and purchase of new street signs.

Kendall said fees to the sewage commission are up 42 percent due to the cost of "incinerating and or hauling away" depending on what the commission decides.

In a revenue-raising effort, the council voted unanimously to hike up by 20 percent Alcohol Beverage Commission fees for liquor-license owners. Councilman Jim Messina, owner of The Belleville Pub on Washington Avenue, left the room when the vote was taken.

Caputo expressed concern that taxpayers would question why, if the township received more than $1.4 million in state aid this year, the tax-point reduction would be so low.

Kendall said it would be up to council to explain to residents where the increased expenditures were coming from.

In an attempt to raise revenues and reduce expenses where possible, the council will look into raising building permit fees. They will also consider improvement and upgrading of parking meters, study health benefits for cheaper alternative plans, review utility costs, review the water operating budget and reduce the amount of employees given a car allowance.

"We have to have a meeting on the water budget. The whole area needs work," Kendall said.

The budget will be introduced during public session at 8 p.m. on Tuesday.

PBA settlement okayed by council

By Laurie Silberg
The Township Council's approval Monday night of a settlement with the Belleville PBA for its 1991-93 contract will result in the increase of police salaries by 6 percent each year for the next three years.

By approving the settlement, council eliminated the need for binding arbitration, a measure which would have proven costly for both sides. "This is only the second time since I've been chief that we've settled without binding arbitration," said Police Chief George Lister, who has been chief since 1980.

Negotiations for the contract, which is effective as of Jan. 1, 1991, began in the fall. A negotiating committee, made up of the township manager, police chief and four PBA members, met eight or nine times before an agreement to be voted on by the council was reached, according to Township Manager Bertrand Kendall. The contract will expire in 1993.

"The 6 percent is in line with what all the surrounding communities have given their police officers," Kendall said.

Under the new contract, a starting patrolman in Belleville will earn $26,131 per year, with a fourth-year maximum salary of $38,046. During the last year of the last contract, negotiated for three years in 1988, a first-year patrolman earned $24,652; a fourth-year patrolman earned $35,893.

In 1991, a sergeant on the Belleville police force will make $43,752; a lieutenant, $50,315 and a captain, $57,863.

In 1990, a Belleville sergeant earned $41,276; a lieutenant, $47,467 and a captain, $54,588.

Currently, a deputy chief in Belleville earns $62,777. The chief earns $72,193.

Comparatively, Bloomfield police officers, whose PBA contract was negotiated for three years in 1990, receive as follows: first-year patrolman, $23,655; fifth-year patrolman, $37,750; sergeant, $43,412; lieutenant, $49,489; captain, $56,420 and chief, $61,377.

A Bloomfield chief's salary will increase to $65,554 in the second year, according to Lillian Mergelsberger, Bloomfield's director of personnel.

At present, there are 84 officers in the Belleville Police Depart-

RISE IN THE RANKS. Eight Belleville police officers were promoted last week during a ceremony held at town hall. Congratulations are in order for, from left, Captains William Adelheim and Joseph Simonetti, Detective Sgts. Vincent Capetta and Edgar H. Panier, Lts. Christopher Kondreck and Leonard J. ## Canine cops have kids

'sniffing' at drugs

By Laurie Silberg
These pups are more than just your average run-of-the-mill Rovers. Exceeding the limits of fetch, roll-over and play dead, their canine talents extend to sniffing out and locating illegal drugs smuggled into the country via air, sea and border ports.

Representing the 30 dogs employed by the New York area division of the U.S. Customs Canine Enforcement Program, Mac — part black labrador retriever, part mutt — took center stage Tuesday, woofing it up for the students of School No. 9 during a "Say No to Drugs" program sponsored by the U.S. Customs Service.

The entire student body participated in the 45-minute program, designed by law enforcement personnel to help kids learn about the dangers of drugs. "We are constantly talking about a drug-free society in school, and we are tying the program in with our science curriculum," said principal Pat Forte, who read about the program in a national magazine for principals.

Kindergarten through sixth-graders heard from representatives of the canine program about the Customs Department and the role the dogs play in it.

The New York region uses mostly labrador retrievers, because they "are a good animal, they are high strung and work long hours," according to Morris Berkowitz, program manager.

He explained that of the 30 dogs, 23 are aggressive detector dogs, and 7 are passive detectors. Aggressive dogs, for example, have to have what is called a hard mouth, because they will scratch and bite at parcels of luggage which they believe contains drugs, Berkowitz said. "They will also go under cars and scratch and bite to locate drugs," Berkowitz added.

Passive detectors, which are generally smaller dogs and have soft mouths, will sit in front of a person or their luggage if they detect drugs. Using 1- to 3-year-old male or female dogs obtained from animal shelters from around the country,

A. Frantantoni at Space Academy

Anthony Frantantoni, a student at Belleville Middle School, recently completed a week long program at the U.S. Space Academy in Huntsville, Alabama.

The program trains students in the basics of space travel and exploration. Simulated flights include actual experiments inside the SpaceLab module and Space Station Freedom.

Frantantoni, an honor roll student, is also very active in sports. He played soccer for three years with the Belleville Soccer Association. For the past six years he played Belleville Recreation baseball, football, basketball, and last year joined the wrestling team.

As a member of Boy Scout troop No. 301, he looks forward to the monthly camping trips. Fishing and baseball card collecting are two of his favorite pastimes.

Frantantoni is looking forward to next year, when he plans to return to the U.S. Space Academy for another week of training.

Residents arrested on drug charges

A six-month investigation by members of the township's narcotics squad culminated in the arrests of two residents on drug charges

May 3, Sgt. Joseph Rotonda said Tuesday.

Michael Ferrara, 34, and his wife Maryann, 35, were arrested in their home at 57 Florence Ave. as the result of a six-month surveillance of their home.

Michael Ferrara was charged with possession with the intent to distribute and possession of marijuana. Police discovered he had in his possession a quarter-pound of marijuana, and a further search of the house revealed one more ounce of marijuana, Sgt. Rotonda said.

Maryann Ferrara was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of a controlled dangerous substance. Police said she was found to be in possession of amphetamines.

Rotonda said a periodic surveillance of the home was set up after repeated complaints by concerned citizens were called into the police department.

Maryann Ferrara was released on her own recognizance. John Ferrara was released after posting $500 bail. The couple will be arraigned June 12 before Municipal Court Judge Frank Zinna.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Is your pension fund safe? If an insurer holds it, it may not be guaranteed. The collapse of the Executive Life Insurance Co. is scary news for pension holders.

Billions of dollars in retirement funds are backed by insurance-company annuities like the ones widely sold by Executive Life — and much of that money isn't guaranteed. Executive Life can meet its immediate obligations (or so says California's insurance commissioner). But if its money runs out, the checks may stop.

Employers buy pension annuities for a couple of reasons: to make the insurer responsible for paying your pension, or to invest in the high interest rates some annuities offer. "Individual" annuities are bought in your name. "Unallocated" annuities provide pensions to a group of workers as a whole.

But what if the insurer fails? In theory, two safety nets hang between you and poverty: the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC), which protects against failed pension plans, and state guaranty associations, which clean up behind defunct insurers.

In practice, however, the PBGC won't cover all insurance-backed pensions. As for the guaranty funds, just 15 states specifically protect unallocated pension annuities. At least 21 cover individual annuities, mostly to $100,000 a person.

What's secure? To see if you're protected, check your situation on the following list:

- You're retired and getting a pension based on your age, salary and years of service. It's paid by your company, directly from the pension trust. You're safely insured by the PBGC, to a top of $2,250 a month for individual retirees at age 65.

- You're retired and getting a monthly pension funded by an individual insurance annuity. You are not protected by the PBGC or by your employer. You'll lose your income if the insurer runs out of assets, unless a guaranty fund steps in.

- You're working and your retirement fund is building up. Your protection depends on the type of pension you have.

- If you're guaranteed a fixed monthly benefit, and you fund buys such things as stocks and fixed-income securities, you're insured by the PBGC up to the maximum allowed.

- If you have a profit-sharing plan, a 401(k) or a typical Keogh, you're not insured. These plans rarely fail, although your investments could drop in value.

- If you're guaranteed a fixed monthly benefit, and it's backed by an insurance contract, the nature of your protection depends on the contract. With an unallocated annuity, your employer usually has to step in if the insurance company fails, says Carol Flowe, general counsel for the PBGC.

- If the pension plan fails, the PBGC would pay. But if your entire pension benefit is dumped into an individual annuity, the obligation is transferred to the insurer, Flowe says. If the insurer fails, and doesn't have assets to pay, your only hope is a guaranty fund.

Now for the rest of the bad news: when it comes to bad insurers, the guaranty funds are essentially a fraud. They couldn't even handle the much smaller Baldwin United failure back in 1983. That rescue package took years to assemble and involved insurers and stockbrokers as well as the state funds.

Right now, the pension insurance fund is nearly $2 billion in the hole. If it had to back annuities, too, premiums would leap — probably to more than employers could handle. Besides, it's foolish to ask the PBGC to guarantee the solvency of the whole insurance industry.

Who, then, will pay? If every insurance annuity were bought by individuals, the answer might be "no one." You're responsible for the investments you make.

'Four-footed sniffers'

the Customs Department employs a wide variety including Labrador retrievers, golden retrievers, German shepherds, Brittany spaniels, German shorthair pointers and mixed breeds. Only one of 45 dogs pass the required tests of temperament, sociability and trainability.

Prospective pooches being considered for a job in law enforcement must demonstrate an intense desire to retrieve any thrown object; have a bold and aggressive temperament; be energetic and enthusiastic; have a favorable association with people, and present an appropriate self-image.

According to Berkowitz, teams consisting of a dog and a canine enforcement officer are assigned to Customs international airports, seaports and border ports. The dogs are used to screen aircraft, cargo, baggage, mail, ships and vehicles.

For fiscal year 1990, New York area canine enforcement teams, which cover the tri-state area, made 209 seizures of narcotics and dangerous drugs, with a street value of more than $84,495,603. Detected were 5,120 pounds of marijuana, 1,266 pounds of cocaine and 151 pounds of heroin.

Detector dogs, affectionately termed "four-footed sniffers" were introduced for wide-scale use by the U.S. Customs Service in 1970 in a stepped-up effort to interdict narcotics being smuggled through border ports and major gateways.

The training center is located about 75 miles west of Washington, D.C. in the Blue Ridge Mountains, near the town of Fort Royal, Va.

A modern 125-unit kennel complex includes three heated and air-conditioned isolation kennels for quarantine purposes. A large administrative building houses instructor offices, an animal treatment center, and academic classrooms for dog handlers, who are all government employees.

Nineteen employees are on staff at the training center.

Training of the dogs takes 14 weeks, but it takes a canine an additional three months at its port of assignment to become acclimated with and proficient in its area.

Working 8-10 hours a day, the dogs are employed for as long as they can successfully perform. At the conclusion of their duties, they typically are taken home by their officer or another family.

The U.S. Customs Department has been educating children in their schools for 15 years, but this is their first time in Belleville, Berkowitz said. "Our main goal is to teach the kids to say no to drugs, that they are bad and will kill you. Law enforcement personnel can't solve the drug problem alone. We need the kids' help," he said.

At the conclusion of the program, each child received canine enforcement badges and certificates from the U.S. Department of Treasury, Canine Service, pledging to join the drug-free generation.

ON EXHIBIT...The drawings and prints of Belleville Middle School art teacher Marcia Miele were on display at the library last month. Miele's classes visited the exhibit and learned about printmaking as part of a school and public library cooperative project.

had to be certified by the county board of elections.

Voters defeated the $30 million budget on April 30 by a vote of 1,094 to 769.

This year's budget called for a tax levy increase of $1,169,301, or a hike of 25 tax points over last year's budget.

For the average Belleville homeowner, that would have meant an increase of $100 in their tax bill.

Also during the meeting, the board unanimously approved the following members as board representatives: Joseph Del Guercio, representative and delegate to the New Jersey School Boards Association; Patty Pisano, representative to the Essex County School Boards Association; Gabe Nazzola, representative to the Urban School Boards Association, and Vincent Marone, member of the Assembly of Essex County Educational Services Commission.

The board adopted the same board rules and regulations that were in effect prior to its annual organization meeting.

The next public school board meeting is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, 100 Passaic Ave.

ment. Twenty-two are between the rank of sergeant and chief. There are seven captains, six lieutenants, eight detectives, one deputy chief and one chief.

The best case scenario, according to Chief Lister, would be to get up to a 91-man force. "We've asked for it in the budget," he said, "but it's up to the budget to determine whether we will get 91 guys."

Lister said he hopes to employ some of the county police who live in Belleville and were laid off recently.

Because they are already trained, "it would save us 16 weeks of salary. All they would need would be one week of in-house training," Lister said.

Targeted during negotiation talks were such issues as salaries, overtime, uniform allowance (costs of uniforms and their maintenance), detective pay, vacation and personal time, hospitalization and medical and dental benefits.

Salaries negotiated were for officers from the rank of patrolman through captain.

Contracts for the town's management positions, which include deputy chief and chief, have not been settled yet, Kendall said.

As requested by the chief, included in the new PBA contract are changes in language in areas such as overtime, "where there needs to be tighter control," Kendall said.

"Only minor adjustments were made in the areas of uniform pay and detective pay. There was also an increase of on-call pay for detectives from two to four hours," Kendall said.

The township is presently working towards a settlement with the fire department's unions.

Peter Fraone, president of the PBA, could not be reached for comment as of press time Tuesday.

OUR OPINION

The following was written by Filomena A. Frantantoni of Belleville in memory of her mother Maria L. Bruno, December 1918 to November 1989.

MOTHER

Someone who loves you no matter what you say and do.
Someone who understands and talks to you.
Someone who does not judge the things you do.

Never take her for granted, Love her and cherish her for all the things she does. Tell her you love her before it's too late, then you never can. She will not hear you anymore.

To never see her smiling face, tear filled eyes, sometimes sad. You'll miss her calls, her visits, oh just to see her walking up the front steps one more time. God do I miss her.

You'll wish she was there to share special times in your life. Just to tell her "I LOVE YOU" one more time, would mean the world to me.

Health care shortchanged

By Essex County Professional Nurses

We thank Freeholders Monroe Lustbader and Arthur Clay for inviting the public to report inefficiencies, improprieties and irregularities in county government.

We appreciate the receptivity of these freeholders to the concerns of the citizens and the willingness of these freeholders to address the issues raised by the citizens.

We are alarmed by the many cutbacks in health care offered by Essex County. Health care has been and continues to be downsized by means of a cycle of understaffing, leading to loss of accreditation(s), loss of funding, phase out of services available and/or rendered. Many citizens are or have been denied admission, or fostered toward early discharge from transfer out of facilities without hope of future readmission, or rendered greatly reduced services.

We are chagrined by the wastage continued during the period of cutbacks/downsizing/layoffs and the inefficiency generated by the methodology of cutbacks/downsizing/layoffs enacted. In health care services, inept management is exacerbating a shortage of personnel that are already in short supply throughout the country, while utilizing very expensive, ineffective methods to correct the shortage created.

For example, the county first refused to negotiate competitive salaries for registered nurses while utilizing very expensive recruitment techniques and contracted services.

Then, due to a shortage of staff, the county lost accreditation(s) and millions of dollars and many of its registered nurse staff.

Next, the county closed admissions and enacted transfers and discharges in order to improve patient-staff ratios. The registered nurses lobbied, and the county negotiated to get the state to pay a hefty portion of the mental health care cost. However, the county refused to correct and/or ignored clinical/working conditions that lead to further resignations and further hindered the effectiveness of recruitment.

Now, the county has ceased to hire, laid off, demoted and reassigned registered nurse staff, which has resulted in additional overtime, retirements and resignations. Please remember that this is a group that is in short supply throughout the country and this is a group that renders direct services to the citizens.

Yet, during this period of cutbacks/downsizing/layoffs of services and personnel offering direct services to the citizens of Essex County, money is still being spent (via alternate budget lines) for non-direct service activities that do not nor will not provide for the citizens/taxpayers but rather, facilitate comfort and/or convenience of administrative personnel.

We advocate a service enhanced reduced budget for the taxpayers, not a reduction in service (which constitutes a rise in taxes). We advocate a well managed, effective, service oriented county government. We recognize that it is the role of government to provide services to the citizens/taxpayers in a cost effective manner. We, too, are concerned citizens and taxpayers and, as such, potential users of essential services.

WE WELCOME LETTERS of interest to our local area. They should be short and to the point, they must be signed for attribution and contain the address and telephone number for verification.

YOUR OPINION

'Talking to a brick wall'

To the editor:

This letter is addressed to those Belleville citizens concerned about the future of our town.

Several weeks ago, shopping at the Belleville Shopping Plaza on Franklin Avenue, I walked from Channel to my next stop, the Plaza Bakery.

At Antonio's Restaurant, I had to keep to the extreme right of the sidewalk, because a brick wall has been erected there to accommodate a private entrance, leaving approximately two feet of space for the pedestrian. About half way, a car approached to park (head on). I jumped back, realizing the possibility the vehicle could very easily pin me against the brick wall. (A large car, parking head on, will leave only about one foot between the bumper and the brick wall, if the vehicle in fact stops!)

Re-birth beginning

To the editor:

On April 19, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Department of Planning and Development sponsored a Facade Improvement Kick-Off Luncheon at Bella Casa Caterers.

Current owners of properties in the facade program target area, which is Washington Avenue bounded by William Street and Rutgers Street, were in attendance. Numerous local and state officials were also present to lend their support.

Representatives from the Economic Development Corp. of Essex County, Ellsworth Salisbury, executive director and Dorothy Merritt, economic development coordinator, advised property owners of the grant and low interest loans from CERF now available for facade improvements.

Our Board of Directors is very impressed with the efforts of our highly qualified and educated team of local government officials and of our active and energetic Building Development Advisory Council.

Furthermore, we applaud the dynamic leadership of our township's new form of government and the vital role each one of them is playing in this endeavor.

The Chamber of Commerce is quite excited with the long awaited purchase of several lots for municipal parking; the ongoing construction of the public safety annex; the tree planting efforts for beautification; and most importantly, now the funding available for our central business district.

We are sure that the people of our township will wholeheartedly agree that these are landmark strides that will truly enhance our business community. Needless to say, we sincerely hope that each property and business owner joins forces and takes advantage of this opportunity to be a vital participant in the "re-birth" of our township.

The Chamber of Commerce urges you to contact Bob Ringelheim, director of planning, at 450-3408, concerning the Facade Improvement Project. Each of us has a vested interest and a responsibility to take action, today!

Rita G. Troise, President
Belleville Chamber of Commerce

I reported this hazardous situation to the council, to "look into it," and what could be done to correct the condition.

At the following town meeting, I reported to the mayor and council that since I reported the condition to them, I had learned that the brick wall in question was a violation of the building code, and in fact, the owners were fined $100 — and ordered to correct (remove) the violation. Written documentation, in the form of correspondence is on file.

All this transpired shortly before the change in government, and this no doubt made it easier to "stonewall" the matter, perhaps hoping for a more "friendly" planning board.

Subsequently, I have learned, that not only was the construction of the private entrance, encroaching on the pedestrian sidewalk, a violation, the entire petition was a fraud and subterfuge, in that it was stated that the "addition" was requested to provide a "waiting area for customers only," and not a petition to expand the restaurant capacity, which in fact, was the intent and the result.

In addition, contrary to representations made at the time, the restaurant now also has a liquor license.

Responding to the complaint of the building code violation, construction of the brick wall without planning board approval, was "de minimus," so says the "new and improved" planning board.

At the Town Council meeting of Tuesday, April 22, appealing to the town manager for guidance or assistance to protect the citizens of Belleville from an "accommodating" planning board, the manager's response was, in so many words, "he couldn't begin to waste his time" on these matters — confirming the mayor and her council's position that the Planning and Zoning Boards are "quasi-autonomous."

In other words, the mayor, council and manager virtually have no jurisdiction over them, and, again in other words, these individuals, appointed by them to protect us from building code violations, non-confirming uses of premises, illegal building modifications or development, are an authority onto themselves, and in a position to do damn well as they please.

Meaning in my opinion, able to do what "interested parties" would like them to accomplish for their benefit.

My advice to those Belleville citizens concerned about the future welfare of your town, stay informed and on top of what is fact is happening to your town.

Cornelis P. Vander Zwan

School No. 9 tried

To the editor:

Once again it was budget time and the voters went to the polls. Much to our dismay the budget was defeated.

We represent the voters that tried in vain to pass the budget. We would like to stress that since the restricting in our area, the budget has not been passed at our school. To the best of our knowledge, No. 9 always passed the budget prior to the restricting.

So please, no bad publicity for School No. 9. The budget was defeated in the town of Belleville, not in any one voting place.

Jolene Dunn
Member of the School No. 9 PTA

• THE FEDERAL government's Office of Thrift Supervision which regulates the savings and loan industry and arranges for government takeover of financially distressed institutions apparently has a double standard.

Recently, the Alexander Hamilton Association founded in Paterson in 1940, with branches in Morris and Passaic Counties, was taken over by federal regulators. According to the feds, Alexander Hamilton was seized because it was "operating in an unsafe and unsound condition in that it had insufficient capital with no prospect of replenishment without federal assistance." The Alexander Hamilton Savings and Loan had assets of $211 million and liabilities of $214 million, resulting in a negative net worth of $3 million.

Now let us take a look at the Nutley Savings & Loan circumstances. According to its new vice president, Michael Shaughnessy, the institution "had its initial capital plan rejected by the regulators...we are undercapitalized, and we are doing something about it, but we have a limited amount of control over the process."

He further stated the bank had a negative net worth for the third quarter of $8.3 million. The Nutley Savings & Loan is a mutual savings bank, according to the Office of Thrift Supervision Regional Director Angelo Vigna, "There are no stockholders and the thrift is considered to be owned by its depositors and borrowers." This will come as a surprise to depositors and borrowers, since to our knowledge they were never informed of their legal ownership of the institution, nor were they ever solicited for opinions concerning election of board of director members and officers.

From a practical point of view, a mutual savings and loan has a board of directors that perpetuates itself until the end of time. It creates a kingdom for the top banana, placing within his grasp, deep pockets from which contributions can be made to any and all kinds of organizations and causes, thus enhancing the prestige and political power of the newly-born Santa Claus. It's time that mutual savings and loans be required to make an annual report to depositors similar to reports by Savings and Loans owned by stock holders. Quarterly statement of operations also should be required. For some institutions secrecy and concealment are main objectives.

The Office of Thrift Supervision has a lot to explain in maintaining an apparent double standard for the manner in which it treated Paterson's Alexander Hamilton Savings & Loan and the obvious LTC which it is showering upon the Nutley Savings & Loan. Maybe New Jersey Banking Commissioner Jeff Connor might hold the answer to this mystery. According to New Jersey Department of Banking records, the Nutley Savings & Loan directors listed with that office include at least one who died and another who resigned.

• A RECENT Democrat poll indicates while there is a residual voter concern over acts of the Florio administration, the voters' anger has substantially subsided; and some voters questioned about their attitude toward Governor Florio now say he may have done too much too fast, but at least he did something. Many voters are now willing to step back from the firing line and give Florio time to prove the truth of his statements that taxpayers generally will benefit from his tax re-allocation effort.

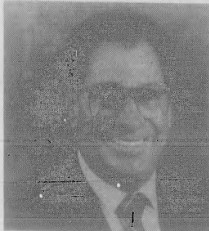

Republican State Chairman Bob Franks who doubts as a Union County Assemblyman, recently observed that two converted Democrats running on the Republican ticket in Union County is "an earthquake within the political community." Two people make an earthquake, Bob? And turncoat, opportunistic Democrats at that?

The longtime godfather of Nutley Amvets, Andy Andriola, is meeting regularly with a group of politically active Nutley citizens concerned with the diminishing quality of life in Nutley and determined to do something about it in the next Township of Nutley Commission election. Andy Andriola served several times as campaign manager for Nutley's former Mayor, and all-time native son, Harry Chenoweth.

Henry Martinez

• NEWARK—Councilman Henry "Hank" Martinez gained another four-year term as a member of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission. He was nominated by Governor Jim Florio and approved by the New Jersey Senate. Martinez is a quality public official — knowledgeable, dedicated and honorable.

• RECENTLY the Nutley Central Little League engaged in an opening day ceremony enceed by Nutley Parks Commissioner Frank Cocchiola. Four of the five Nutley Commissioners were present, and only three were asked to participate in the ceremony — and the most athletic of the Commissioners was ignored. Deliberate? Well, let's change the incident off to the small minds and prejudice of the people responsible for the event. One thing for sure — most of the parents of the Little League took notice of the happening and did not appreciate it.

Joel Weissman's photographs

The photographs of Joel Jay Weissman will be on display in the Trustees Room and Gallery of the Belleville Public Library throughout the month of May.

Joel Jay Weissman is a Passaic-based graphic designer and photographer who has won numerous awards for his packaging designs and his corporate promotional projects.

The hand-colored photographs that dominate much of Weissman's recent work have been widely shown in the New York area.

One-half of the Belleville Library show is a series of photographs collectively titled "Mythical Shrines and Altars." The images are based on antique children's building sets, some dating from the late 1800s through the 1930s. Describing this portion of the Belleville exhibit, Weissman said, "The structures I have built remind me of religious places. They are fabricated only to be photographed. I then process the negatives, make prints to archival standards and hand color them with oil paints."

The remainder of the exhibit contains earlier works. The Belleville Public Library is located at 221 Washington Ave. The photograph of Joel Jay Weissman can be seen during library hours, Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Wednesday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (Because of ongoing renovations to library, Thursday evening and Saturday hours have been suspended.)

Call the library at 450-3434 for more information about the exhibit of the photography of Joel Jay Weissman.

Friends Fun Auction

Once again in 1991, the Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will sponsor its annual Fun Auction on June 5, from noon to 2 p.m. with David S. Bryant as auctioneer and Dorothy Charen as chairwoman.

Isabel Wittlinger, president of the Friends of the Library, request that any new, or almost new item should be brought to the library the week prior to the auction.

Gift certificates from business establishments are encouraged. A list of the contributor to the auction will be distributed at the auction. Those whose donations have not been brought to the library by June 3 will not have their names listed on the list of donors to the auction.

Wedding planners

If you are planning a wedding, maybe the library can assist you. "Bridal Bargains: Secrets To Throwing a Fantastic Wedding on a Realistic Budget," by Denise and Alan Fields, covers how to save 20 to 40 percent off brand new nationally-advertised bridal gowns.

"The Groom-to-Groom Book: A Complete Wedding Planner for the Groom," covers everything you need to know from wedding rings to honeymoon travel, yet is short enough so it's not heavy reading.

The books are available in 395.22 in the New Books section of the library. If the book is not on the shelf, the Circulation Desk will be pleased to put the book on reserve for you.

Forthcoming Events

May 9 — The video "I Want To Live" will be shown at 1 p.m. as part of the film and discussion series at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Ave.

May 10 — A Mother's Day Craft will be held at 2 p.m. in the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room, 221 Washington Ave.

The Book Contest Awards will be held at 3:30 p.m. for Grades K-5 in the Meeting Room of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Ave.

May 14 — The Theater Workshop will take place from 7:30-8:45 p.m. at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, with funding made in part by the Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs.

The Book Contest Awards will be held for Grades 6, the high school level and the adult level in the Meeting Room of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Ave., at 3:30 p.m.

May 15 — A Lecture on Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" by Dr. Robert Gold, professor of English at Jersey City State College, will take place at 1 p.m. at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, as part of the Humanities Series "Lust for Life." Call the library at 450-3434 to register.

Friends' May 16 meeting

The May meeting of the Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will be held at 12:45 p.m., followed by a program given by Lillian Wescott on "Travels With Lillian: Colorado." Wescott's programs of slides and narrative have drawn accolades in the past. Call the library at 450-3434 to register.

Lust for Life continues

"Lust for Life," 10 lectures on theme and discussion, sponsored by a matching grant from The New Jersey Committee for the Humanities, will continue on May 15 at 1 p.m. with a lecture of William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The lecturer will be Dr. Robert Gold, professor of English at Jersey City State College. He is an author, scholar and reviewer.

Register by calling 450-3434.

Cosmetics make mother's day beautiful

There never was and probably never will be a mother who is not beautiful, because the true measure of a mother's beauty is in her heart and mind. That's where American mothers are their most beautiful.

But, the skin and hair sides of beauty are also important to mothers. Your cue? Give her cosmetics and hair care products. Cosmetics, these days, take on many forms: from costly perfumes to practical, everyday lipsticks, with many choices in between such as skin conditioners, bath salts, makeup kits, bath oils, creams and more.

For a good start, give serious thought to a gift of fragrance. Choose from elegant perfumes for special occasions to everyday spray colognes, priced for any budget and scented for any taste. Packaged in distinctive bottles, the containers are almost gifts in themselves!

If her inventory of fragrances rivals that of the cosmetics department, look further into the possibilities of bath oils and powders to pamper her. Body oils and lotions, bath beads and even special scented shampoos add a touch of luxury. If the lotion she normally uses is whatever's on sale in the discount drugstore, she might love a bottle of something more luxurious.

Make it a day

Then you have the option of going all out and giving her a day of beauty. She will love a day with a cosmetologist or hairstylist—getting pampered, rejuvenated and even educated in skin care, makeup techniques or hair care. With your gift or gift certificate she can indulge in a manicure, makeup consultation, pedicure, facial, even a head-to-toe makeover. A new hairstyle or color could make mom feel like a new woman.

Busy women often rely on color-coordinated makeup kits—packaged for easy use at home or on the commute to the office. You can give her one filled with powders, lipsticks, blushers and/or dozens of eyeshadow colors. Cosmetics in all their rewarding splendor are as close as the local drugstore or department store.

You can choose from high-tech products with designer names, or down-to-earth formulations concocted entirely of natural ingredients. Now you can even buy products that haven't been tested on animals, or that come in recyclable packaging to help her to become more environmentally aware.

Whether you opt for a fragrance, body conditioner, talc, bath oil, or makeup, feel certain that she will appreciate it.

All cosmetics come in attractive packages, ready for presentation, and you can shop as late as Saturday night on May 11, the day before Mother's Day.

Mother's Day brings an avalanche of gifts

When it comes to giving to our mothers on Mother's Day, we go all out, with an outpouring of almost nine billion dollars in gifts of every description.

Mother's Day wasn't always as costly. Anna Reeves Jarvis, whose idea Mother's Day was, favored a bunch of wild flowers, or a specially written letter or note, as a worthy remembrance. But Mother's Day has come a long way since 1908. Store-bought gifts and greeting cards are now the norm. Certain gifts, like lingerie and perfume, are perennial favorites, and each year there is a wider selection of these gifts than ever.

Labor-saving appliances are more sophisticated, more sophisticated, more efficient and complex than ever before. And it's no longer necessary to pick wild flowers, since many kinds of flowers are raised especially for Mother's Day giving. Now you can just pick up the phone and have flowers delivered almost anywhere. Candy hasn't changed much, and moms will love it.

The gifts of 1991 mirror the gifts of 1921 in general, but with the application of the scientific and electronic innovations of the past half-century, they find expression in different forms.

Field-grown daisies have become long stem roses. Electric toasters have metamorphosed into microwave ovens. Warm, comfy robes have become flimsy peignoirs.

The starch shirtwaist has given way to sporty, colorful casual shirts, knit or sewn. Fabrics, decades ago, were cotton or wool or silk. Now, it's easy-care or nothing for a lot of moms, which means the blending of natural with synthetics, for easier care.

Designer fragrances, yet to be born a half century ago, now scent the scene. And jewelry has as many interpretations as there are mothers (and there are about 80,000,000 of them in these United States). You can give her favorite, be it rings or earrings, bracelets or necklaces, pearls or pins.

In picking your gifts, keep in mind that although gift categories haven't changed all that much, the lives of our moms have. No longer do 95 percent of them work at home full time. Some still do, but as many as 75 percent of them do double-duty by holding down jobs outside the home. So, it's not bad advice to suggest that you keep your giving on the practical side with a mother's lifestyle. Gifts that are cute may be fun to give, but they leave something to be desired when it comes to usefulness.

Anyway, it's the thought that is meaningful. Take the time to think through your gift choice. She'll be more appreciative if it fits into her active lifestyle. But, gift or not, take the time out to write her a thoughtful note of love and appreciation. She'll cherish that above all on Mother's Day, which, in case you forgot, is Sunday, May 12.

Today's mothers are more mature

Once, not so long ago, most new mothers were young women in their late teens to mid-twenties. But times have changed. Today's economic realities are much different. Many women enjoy working—others don't, but have no choice. It's not uncommon these days for women to defer family formation until their thirties, even forties, as they develop careers and establish financial stability.

With achievement comes confidence, and that confidence has created a generation of "mattering aged" women who are about to have their first child. It stands to reason that older, more experienced women are likely to make better mothers, better equipped to manage a household and hold down a job at the same time. In the future, it's likely that the more mature motherhood will keep growing, because more and more women are earning advanced degrees—and that education is something that neither they nor society can afford to waste.

Of course, motherhood isn't always easy, no matter what the age of the mother.

All mothers deserve their day. And that day is Mother's Day. It's May 12 this year.

Child care is good business

It's just dawning on many big (and small) companies that good child care is also good business. Frustrated by a shortage of good child care for their employees, major U.S. corporations are beginning to recognize that the best immediate solution is to take a more active role by developing their own centers.

And IBM, a leader in the field with a $3 million investment scheduled for 1991, has said that it will devote an additional half million dollars toward upgrading present community facilities where there are large populations of IBM employees.

A spokesperson for IBM noted recently that the number of male employees has declined by 20 percent over the past three decades and the number of female employees has tripled.

As the available pool of employees declines during the next ten years, the value of each competent worker will increase exponentially. And retaining a capable, dependable employee team, with the high morale that leads to an efficient and productive workforce, becomes a key factor in success and profitability.

Although the participation of "big business" in providing quality child care for workers will not completely solve the problems, the business world's recognition of responsibility in helping to meet its employees' needs is a vital step forward.

Today, only about 6,000 out of six million employees provide some form of child care help.

IBM has announced that though the child care centers to be built are mainly for IBM employees, they will also be open to the public, and will therefore help the community while serving employees. Since the facilities will be subsidized by IBM, they will be able to supply quality child care at affordable costs. In many communities, the costs of building child care centers will be shared with IBM by other firms, including Pepsi, American Express, and a real estate developer, Maguire Thomas Partners. This arrangement may inspire groups of smaller companies in the same area to work together to organize programs for their employees and the public.

If child care costs are too great to be factored into a squeezed federal budget, private enterprise will find it increasingly important to provide these benefits in order to remain competitive in the global economy by retaining good workers. Keeping mothers of small children in the workforce will demand creative thinking by corporations to help them solve the problems that could otherwise inhibit their ability to recruit and retain good people. Parents comfortable with the care of their children are equally comfortable in their jobs.

A fun gift for mom: Book tells how to interpret handwriting

According to handwriting expert Claude Santini, there is a great deal to be learned from analyzing the handwriting and drawings of children. "If properly interpreted at each stage, children's doodles, drawings, and handwriting reveal surprising and accurate details about their personalities, health, and hidden talents," says Santini, author of Interpreting Your Child's Handwriting and Drawings: Toddlers to Teen, recently published by Plunkett House. The book would make a fine Mother's Day gift for the mom with a large for whimsy.

MOTHERS AT WORK NEED CARE THAT WORKS

It wasn't so long ago that a single mother left her five-year-old alone, locked in her car, while she worked overtime at her weekend job. This unhappy circumstance was uncovered by police, and the frantic mother lost custody of her child, while the courts sorted out the cause and effect. It turned out that the mother was unable to get a trustworthy sitter or responsible day care, so she took her daughter with her, and left her in the car while she was at work.

The drama is probably re-enacted many times a month as overworked mothers, many of them single, try to cope with running a household and holding a job or two, to provide for their children.

Some corporations have developed day care programs for their employees. These programs provide affordable, quality day care that pays off by giving peace of mind to caring mothers, so they can productively put in a day's work. But this is costly and only a few firms make the investment.

There are many demands on government these days for social programs that were unnecessary a generation ago. Most mothers work to provide a better lifestyle for their families. By using more sophisticated techniques and facilities for helping young mothers with their juggling acts, we'll not only strengthen them as individuals, but strengthen our society to better cope with the problems and challenges of the future. ## Murder set for June 7

Sip cocktails with the victims while you rub elbows with the murderer at the Clara Maass Medical Center auxiliary mystery dinner theatre presentation of STAR 91, 6:30 p.m. June 7 at the Chandelier Restaurant, Belleville.

It's an evening of diabolical deeds, clever schemes and gripping suspense direct from the glamour and decadence of Hollywood. As the evening unfolds, guests become prime suspects and ace detectives. Presented by the Actors Mystery Tour (AMT), a New Jersey based group of professionals who perform murder mysteries in repertory, the entire evening is a Sherlock Holmes case of whodunit. Throughout the evening, guests and actors mix and mingle until the culprit is eventually uncovered. Said Dolores Freedman, mystery dinner theatre chairperson, "The event promises to be a great evening of murder and mayhem."

Along with the mystery, guests will dine on breast of chicken complete with dessert. Red and white wine is also included with the dinner and will be available at the table. Cocktails will be available at a cash bar. Awards and other surprises will also be part of the evening's fun.

Tickets are $40, tax and tip included. For more information and reservations, call Marie Vanderzwan at 759-9420 or the Clara Maass Volunteer Office at 450-2150 during the day. In the evening, contact Kathy Karolski at 667-8258. Proceeds from the event will benefit the medical center.

Will you be the star witness or the prime suspect? Join with other amateur sleuths in solving the murder at "Star 91."

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

This week, we'll continue our look back at the 1981 Belleville baseball team. As most fans know, this is the tenth anniversary of that tremendous team which won the Greater Newark Tournament.

Two weeks ago, we started a feature on this team and had gotten as far as the Linden game. The Bucs were beaten convincingly by Linden, 10-1 and George Zanfini (the head coach) had told his team to relax for a few days and to keep their minds off baseball.

"I don't remember telling them that," Zanfini told me the other night. "You did George." I told him, "Okay," Zanfini said, "you have a better memory of these things than I do anyway."

The '81 Bucs were a team with good chemistry and Zanfini noted that there was a strong "family" approach to the team.

"Those guys were men," the coach said. "I treated them like that. We had our times when I let them have it behind closed doors if I felt they weren't playing up to their abilities. But that was it. After I spoke to them, I didn't carry it over to another day."

"I would see some of those guys later in the day after a game and anything we discussed at a game was a non-issue then. That's the way it was, we got it out in the open and cleared it up right away."

After the Linden debacle, the Bucs came back with a vengeance against Middletown South.

This was a game in which Frank Fazzini dominated. It was becoming more and more obvious that Fazzini was en route to a monster year and the Middletown game was a big step in that direction.

"Frankie was our only returning player from the '80 team," Zanfini said. "This was a kid who loved the game and absolutely hated to lose. He was extremely competitive and would run through a wall for the team. He accepted defeat gracefully, but you didn't discuss losing around Frankie."

Fazzini was marvelous against Middletown, as he was for the entire '81 season. Frank hit two grand slam homers in back to back plate appearances. For the day, he was 3 for 4 with ten RBIs. His "other" hit was a two run double.

The Bucs breezed by Middletown, 15-5, but the waters were far from smooth. There would be a few disappointing defeats before the eventual glory.

The Bucs earned a number two seed for the '81 GNT tourney, behind top ranked and defending champion Livingston. Before playing Cedar Grove in the opening round of the GNT at Belleville, the Bucs defeated Montclair 12-4 in an independent game.

Anthony Coco started the first round contest against Cedar Grove and the Bucs jumped out to a 12-0 lead. Cedar Grove scored three times in the last of the seventh, but the Bucs had an easy 12-3 victory. Zanfini wasn't exactly predicting a GNT title after the Cedar Grove game. As a matter of fact, he wasn't 100 percent satisfied with his team's intensity level. That dissatisfaction turned into rage after a loss at Seton Hall the following Tuesday.

The Bucs lost an 8-4 decision to the Pony Pirates and Zanfini did not mix words after the game.

"I blew up," the coach said. "We played with no intensity or desire. We committed four or five errors. I remember that I wouldn't let the kids go home with their parents from Seton Hall. I told them I let them go back in the bus."

"I really laced into them after that game. They knew they weren't playing up to their capabilities."

Zanfini's next game provided a spark as the Bucs breezed by Orange 8-1. The tying meeting was a second round GNT contest with Columbia at Belleville.

Even though the game was at Belleville High, the Bucs were the visiting team. After being retired in order in the top of the first, the Cougars came to the plate and teed off on Coco.

Columbia scored eight runs in the last of the first inning. Coco lasted just 1/3 of an inning before giving way to Eugene Cancelliere, "Fu" to his friends.

"I remember Eugene taking the ball in the first inning and telling the guys at the mound to keep it close, that we could chip away at the lead," Zanfini said.

Keeping the game "close" when it was already 8-0 was going to be a challenge in itself.

"Eugene was our only hope," Zanfini said. "We needed innings out of him and he did a phenomenal job."

Cancelliere got the Bucs out of the first inning with no further damage. In the top of the second, Fazzini blasted a solo homer to cut the lead to 8-4, but the game remained that way until the fourth inning.

"It didn't look too good," Zanfini said. "We're down seven runs in the fourth inning. Nothing was going our way."

The Bucs were not going to give in. They battled back and tied the game at nine in the sixth inning. Then, the key moment of the game occurred.

"There were two outs and no one on base for us," Zanfini said. "Fazzini is the better and he was playing a super game. Their coach elected to walk Fazzini, intentionally, with no one on base and two outs. They wanted to pitch to (Joe) Corbals."

Fazzini's prowess was well known by the Columbia game and the Cougars violated the number one rule in baseball, don't put the go-ahead run on base.

However, Frankie was so devastating that the opponents would rather walk him in close games, even if it meant putting a go-ahead run on base.

Corbals stepped up to the plate and proceeded to hit a big homer that put the Bucs ahead for good, 10-9.

"Blitz," as he was known to his friends, had a monster year of his own '81 and that homer was right at the top of the Bucs' highlight film. A demoralized Columbia team could only watch as the Bucs scored four more runs in the top of the seventh to win by a 15-9 margin.

I remember that Cougar eight run onslaught in the first inning. All during the rally, the Cougar players kept saying "it's not enough, keeping hitting."

At the time it sounded arrogant, but the Cougar players had a great deal of respect for the Buccaneer bats and they knew that the game could be a slugfest.

As for "Fu," he was phenomenal. Cancelliere hurled 6 2/3 innings. He allowed just five hits and one run. In addition, he was 2 for 3 with two runs batted in.

The offensive heroes were many in the Columbia game. Fazzini was 3 for 3 with a homer. Bobby Brave, who had a super season in '81, was 4 for 4 with three ribbies. Corbals was 3 for 5 with four ribbies. Dave Starr had one hit and played solid defense.

Spina's return sparks Bucs

By Mike Lamberti

It hasn't been the easiest of seasons for the Belleville baseball team. Nick Grande's club dropped three of four contests last week and fell to 6-11. However, there has been some encouraging performances, from both underclassmen and seniors.

The Bucs battled Hackensack and St. Joe's earlier this week. Tomorrow, the team heads to Paramus for a 4 p.m. game. On Saturday, Belleville travels to Nutley to face the Raiders in a first round Greater Newark Tournament game. That contest should commence at 1 p.m. Check your local listings to verify that time for the Nutley game.

Next Monday, Teanack comes to town at 4 p.m. Next Wednesday, the Bucs are home to Paramus Catholic.

Last week, Belleville lost conference games to Paramus Catholic 14-0, Nutley 18-10 and Don Bosco, 9-7. Last Saturday, the Bucs played a solid game and beat Caldwell 10-3 in a preliminary round, GNT contest.

Against Paramus Catholic, nothing went right for the Bucs.

"It was one of those games where we were absolutely flat. Paramus Catholic had been struggling, too, and they just broke loose against us. They hit the ball well. We hit the ball, but unfortunately it was right at people."

P.C. scored three times in the first inning and added two more in the third. They put the contest totally out of reach with five runs in the fourth.

Mike Capasso pitched the first 3 2/3 innings for Belleville. Mike Chirichella pitched the last 2 1/3 innings. The game was called after six innings by the umpire.

"He (the umpire) called the game because he said he didn't want anyone to get hurt," Grande said.

Crew team heads to Mid Hudson after City meet

By Mike Lamberti

The "second season" of Belleville crew has kicked off with the City Championships, which were held last weekend in Philadelphia. Bob Cassin's team had a decent week on the water, advancing two boats to the finals.

The Bucs will venture to Poughkeepsie, New York in the wee hours this Saturday morning for the Mid Hudson Regatta. The Bucs will leave Belleville at 4:45 a.m. The first race will commence at 7:30 a.m. from Poughkeepsie. The races are traditionally held early because as the day progresses, the waters become increasingly choppy.

By Mike Lamberti

As the season progresses, the Belleville softball team continues to show signs that it will be a significant force to be reckoned with. The Lady Bucs beat Paramus Catholic 15-10 and Paramus 7-2. The girls dropped league decisions to Nutley 10-0 and Immaculate Heart, 3-1. The team was also beaten in the quarterfinals of the county tournament by Cedar Grove, 6-1.

Belleville took an 11-8 mark into a game with Montclair last Monday. The girls faced Hackensack yesterday and will be host to Paramus tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m. Next Monday, the girls play at Teanack and next Wednesday, it's off to Paramus Catholic.

Coach Carl Corino was pleased with his team's effort in a few of last week's games.

"We played our best game of the season against a good Paramus team," Corino said. "It was a good win, especially since it came on the road."

"The loss to Cedar Grove was a good learning experience for our team. We played a good defensive game and the kids battled hard. We held our own against them."

The week started with a bizarre 15-0 win against Paramus Catholic. This was a game in which Belleville was out-hit 17-4. It was a game that Belleville trailed by a 10-said.

Against Nutley, the Bucs came out fired up and the game was a wild affair that wasn't decided until the last inning.

Nutley, ranked first in Essex County, scored a run in the top of the first, but Belleville came back with six in its half of the inning.

Sal Straface started things off with a single. Art Caruso singled and Rich Quine singled to score Straface. Rich Ferruggia lined a single to bring home Caruso and John McAloon smacked a hit that scored Quine and Ferruggia.

Mike Alfano doubled to score McAloon with the fifth run. Mike Melham singled to move Alfano to third. Jim DuHaime hit into a fielders choice, with Alfano erased at home plate. Bill Salvatore walked and Straface hit a fly to right field that brought home Melham.

Nutley came right back, scoring seven times in the second inning. The Bucs answered the challenge, scoring twice in the last of the second to tie the game at eight.

With one out, Quine walked and Ferruggia singled. McAloon singled, driving home Quine and moving Ferruggia to third. Alfano then hit a sacrifice fly to centerfield, scoring Ferruggia.

The game remained tied at eight until the fifth inning, when Nutley scored three runs. The Raiders followed with two in the sixth and five in the seventh to put the game out of reach.

Belleville didn't quit, scoring twice in the last of the seventh. Jason Nardachone walked and Carmen Spina came out to pinch hit. Spina lined a single, moving Nardachone to second.

Spina's hit was a welcome sight to Grande and the Bucs. He had injured his knee two weeks ago and it was first feared he would be out for the season.

As for last Sunday's races in Philly, Cassin felt his team learned some valuable lessons.

"We're basically a very young team," the coach said. "And the kids have learned that consistency is necessary, especially at this time of the year. The kids need to learn how to finish a race, especially when they have an opponent on the ropes."

The novice four boys team won its qualifying heat, then placed fourth in the finals.

"The team rowed very well to get to the finals," Cassin said. "They just lost some steam down the stretch of the final race. We were 2 deficit as late as the bottom of the sixth inning.

However, the Lady Bucs came back with 13 runs, on just two hits, in that sixth inning to win the game by five runs.

"We didn't do anything right the first 5 1/2 innings," Corino said. "But we came back from a big deficit and we'll take the win."

Belleville benefited from a series of walks in the last of that sixth inning. All told, eleven Belleville batters walked, one was hit by a pitch and the girls got singles from Kim Piscatowski and Carey Woodruff.

Woodruff's single came with the bases loaded and drove home two runs.

Belleville's other two runs came in the third inning. At the time, the Lady Bucs were on the very short end of a 6-0 count.

Christine Sansano singled and Woodruff walked. Kristin Galato grounded out, moving both runners one base. Nikki Luzzi hit a sacrifice fly to score Sansano and Colleen Mannion singled to score Woodruff.

Danielle DeWork pitched the entire game for Belleville and got the victory.

Against Paramus, Belleville played a solid all around game.

"We got good hitting, good pitching, good defense. It was good to see our kids play that type of game,"

"We took him to a specialist and it was determined he did not tear the ligament," Grande said. "I'm glad for Carmen, because I know how much he wants to play."

McAloon hit into a fielders choice, with Spina out at second and Nardachone moving to third. McAloon stole second base and Mike Alfano singled to score two runs. Melham singled to keep the rally going, but the next batter grounded out, ending the game.

Ferruggia started for the Bucs and pitched the first 5 2/3 innings. He struck out five and walked four while allowing 12 hits. Anibal Rodriguez hurled the final 1 1/3 innings, giving up six hits. He struck out one and walked two.

Belleville collected 13 hits. Melham was 2 for 4, Ferruggia was 2 for 3 with two RBIs and one run scored. McAloon was 2 for 4 with three RBIs and two runs scored. Alfano was 2 for 3 with four RBIs.

The Bucs played a good game against a solid Don Bosco club, but fell by a 9-7 count.

Jim DuHaime pitched the first 3 2/3 innings, giving up three earned runs and six hits. The senior struck out four and walked five.

Bucs do well in relays

By Mike Lamberti

Buc track coach John Tosato has been very pleased with the improvement of his '91 team. The Bucs ran into a buzzsaw in Paramus Catholic last week, but the team did come through with five first place finishes. At the county relays last weekend, Belleville received some outstanding performances.

The Bucs faced Nutley earlier this week. Tomorrow, the team will travel to Hackensack to start the NJUIL championships. The league race will conclude on Saturday, at Montclair. Next Monday, the Bucs will race in the Essex County Novice race, at South Orange. Next Wednesday, Bloomfield comes to town for a 4 p.m. meet.

Against Paramus Catholic, Belleville fell by a 10-3 count.

"They were loaded in a number of events," Tosato said of Paramus Catholic. "But we did get five first place finishes and the times continue to get better as the year progresses."

Steve Vogel won two races against Paramus Catholic, taking the 100 meters in 12 seconds and the 100 meters in 24.2.

"Both races were really close," Tosato said. "Steve did an excellent job."

Vogel's time in the 200 was his best of the season, so far.

John Alvarado won the discus event, with a throw of 130'. Steven Caponi won the shot put with a toss of 44'10".

Corino said.

DeWork pitched a sensational game for Belleville. The junior struck out two and walked three. She allowed just four hits.

Belleville trailed 2-0 entering the fifth inning. There, Luzzi and Mannion singled and Citterella walked to load the bases. Piscatowski doubled to drive in two runs and Sansano singled to bring home Citterella with the go-ahead run.

In the seventh, Belleville put the game away, scoring four times. Citterella singled and rounded the bases on a series of errors to give Belleville a 4-2 lead.

Lynn Giachetti doubled and scored on a Piscatowski triple. Woodruff walked and Galato singled to drive in two runs.

Luzzi had three hits for Belleville. DeWork and Piscatowski had two hits each.

The game with Nutley was the opposite of the Paramus game.

"As well as we played against Paramus, we were that bad against Nutley," Corino said. "We made too many mental and physical mistakes."

Belleville was held to four hits in the contest.

Against Immaculate Heart, the girls dropped a tough 3-1 contest.

"I was happy with that game," Corino said. "We played a nice ball game and did a good job in the defensive category."

"Jimmy pitched his heart out for us," Grande said of DuHaime. "But we got hurt by a bad fourth inning."

Don Bosco scored six times in the fourth inning, turning a 3-1 lead into a commanding 9-1 score.

Nonetheless, Belleville came back, scoring four times in its half of the fourth and two more in the sixth.

Jason Apple pitched 2 1/2 of an inning in relief of DuHaime. He had to be removed because of a sore arm. Rodriguez came in and pitched very effectively in the last 2 2/3 innings, allowing just two hits, no runs and striking out three.

The Bucs grabbed a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first. Nardachone walked and Quine reached safely on a throwing error. Spina walked to load the bases and McAloon singled to score Nardachone.

In the bottom of the fourth, with Don Bosco ahead 9-1, Belleville battled back. Kevin Johansen, who was playing shortstop in place of an injured Caruso, singled.

Mike Kimball singled and Quine singled to load the bases. Spina then lined a double to clear the base paths and Ferruggia doubled to (continued on page 12)

Emilio DeGula also won, taking the 110 high hurdles in a time of 16.1. That was also DeGula's best time of the '91 season so far.

DeGula took a second place finish in the 400 meter hurdles, with a time of 61.5. Once again, DeGula's time in the 400 hurdles was his best of the season.

Tom Popowich took a third in the 400 meters, with a time of 59.2. Alvarado finished third in the shot put (41'5").

The mile relay team of DeGula, Vogel, Popowich and Brian Harvey broke the four minute mark, finishing in 3:56.3.

In the county relays, Belleville scored 12 points, with the field team of Caponi and Alvarado scoring all the points.

The duo finished third in the javelin (292'9"), fifth in the discus (235'6") and fourth in the shot put (84'3").

"We were concerned about the field events because Caponi had hurt his elbow in the first day of the relays," Tosato said. "But needless to say, he was ready on the second day and the two guys did real well."

The two mile relay team of DeGula, Mike Jannicelli, John Kuebler and Brian Doyle finished with a time of 9:52.2. DeGula ran his half mile stint in a very impressive 2:14.9.

The sprint medley team of Vogel, Popowich, DeGula and Harvey had an excellent time of 4:06.3.

Belleville scored its only run in the fourth inning. Trailing 2-0, the girls cut the lead to one when Piscatowski tripled and scored on a single by Mannion.

Immaculate Heart, who was 12-2 entering the game, added an insurance run in the sixth inning.

Belleville had five hits in the game, with Mannion collecting two of them. Keri Wendling pitched a complete game for Belleville, allowing just five hits.

Against a powerful team in Cedar Grove, Belleville played another good game, falling in the late innings.

The Lady Bucs scored first, tallying a run in the first inning. Citterella singled and went to second on an error. Sansano grounded out, moving Citterella to third. Mannion then grounded out to score the run.

Cedar Grove scored solo runs in the second and third off Wendling. The game remained at 2-1 until the fifth inning, when Cedar Grove tallied four times to break it open.

Belleville was limited to two hits in the game. Wendling pitched very well, allowing just five hits. She struck out four and walked four.

"One of our goals was to play in the state tourney and we've enjoyed a berth there," Corino said.

"The kids are continuing to improve, especially on defense. They're doing a good job."

Bucs advance in GNT, defeat Caldwell

bring home Spina.

In the sixth, Belleville cut the deficit to two runs. Nardachone and Spina both singled and both men advanced one base on an error. With runners on second and third, McAloon reached safely on an error and Nardachone scored. Ferruggia then hit a sac fly that brought home Spina.

The Bucs threatened in the seventh inning. Jimmy Landon got a pinch hit single. Straface, also pinch hitting, connected on a line drive, but it was right at the first baseman and Landon was doubled up at first.

Capasso came through with a pinch hit single and Kimball pinch ran for him. Kimball took off for second on a steal attempt. The Don Bosco pitcher stopped his motion and attempted to pick Kimball off. It looked to be a balk, but the umpire did not call it that way and Kimball was out at second, on a run down, to end the game.

"It looked like a balk to me," Grande said. "The kids can learn from a game like this. They can't take anything for granted. They have to just play and let me talk to the umpire if there is a questionable call."

Spina was 2 for 2 in the game, with three RBI's and two runs scored. Ferruggia had two hits and two ribbies.

Against Caldwell last Saturday in the preliminary round of the GNT, Capasso pitched a solid game for the Bucs.

He did not allow an earned run and gave up just four hits in a complete game effort. Capasso struck out three and walked five.

The Bucs scored three runs in the bottom of the first. Nardachone was hit by a pitch and he stole second base. Caruso singled Nardachone to third and Caruso stole second base. Spina singled home Nardachone, with Caruso going to third. Spina stole second and Melham reached on an error, scoring Caruso. Alfano then grounded out and Spina scored.

Caldwell narrowed the lead to 3-2 in the third, but the Bucs came right back with three runs in the last of the third.

Nardachone started it off by being hit by a pitch again. On a hit and run play, Caruso singled and Nardachone advanced to third. Caruso stole second base and Spina doubled to score both runners. On Spina's double, the ball was mishandled and the senior outfielder came around to score the Bucs sixth run.

In the fifth, with Belleville leading 6-3, Caruso singled and Spina singled. On Spina's hit, Caruso was thrown out at third on a perfect throw by the Caldwell right fielder. Spina was able to take second base on the throw to third, however.

A wild pitch moved Spina to third and Ferruggia hit a line drive to the shortstop that was mishandled and Spina scored on the play.

In the sixth, Capasso helped his own cause with a double. Bill Gray pinch hit a single, moving Capasso to third. Gray stole second base and Quine, also pinch hitting, then singled to score Capasso.

very happy with their accomplishment, however."

The junior four boys also won its qualifying heat and took a fourth place in the finals.

"They were in second place most of the final race," Cassin said. "They were disappointed that they didn't finish higher."

The junior four boys shell is made up of Frank Koch, Mike Capezio, Mark Giessen, Jack O'Connell and coxswain Alexandra Lynch.

The girls junior four and senior four teams have been beset by illness. The team has continued to compete and Cassin is hoping the team will be back to normal for this weekend's regatta.

The senior four boys team has disbanded its team in favor of "pairs". Thus, Lee Hands and Sean Kimball will row a pair shell and Giessen, who was rowing for both the junior four and senior four boys, will concentrate solely on the junior four.

The odd man out in this formation is Jim Mastropolo, who is too old to row for the junior four and a victim of the numbers game because there aren't enough rowers to field a senior team.

"Jimmy has been working with the team in a teaching capacity now," Cassin said. "He's very competitive and he wants to be out there, but he was a victim of the numbers game."

The coxswain of the senior four boys team, Heather Apruzzese, has moved to the lightweight four shell.

"Heather's rowing experience has really helped that boat," Cassin said. "She should be a big help there down the stretch."

The lightweight four team was rowing a fine race in the qualifying race until an injury to one of the rowers put the boat out of commission.

"We're hoping the kids learned from the City championships and will apply that to the Mid Hudson's," Cassin said. "The experience of rowing against solid competition will help these kids in the future, too."

Cobras continue streak, stop Monroe, Millburn

The Cobras, a Division one member of the Belleville Soccer Association, posted two victories last weekend, beating Monroe Township 5-0 and Millburn 7-2. The victories improved Belleville's record to 5-0-1 and gave the team a commanding lead in the division.

Vernus Monroe last Saturday, Jim Wandling scored four goals, with assists from Marcelo DiGiano, Daren Lewis and Mike Gonzalez. The fifth goal was scored by Victor Guevara, with Wandling on the assist.

Belleville played a near perfect game, executing classic soccer techniques in achieving the win. Emanuel Anjo recorded his second shut-out in the nets.

In Sunday's game at Belleville against Millburn, the Cobras started off slowly, perhaps a bit worn down after the physical game the previous day at Monroe.

Millburn scored first, at the eight minute mark. However, the Cobras responded at the 25 minute mark. Steven Vogel passed threw a pass toward the pass and found DiGiano for the tying goal.

Three minutes later, Wandling tapped a give and go to DiGiano, who slammed the ball past the Millburn keeper for a 2-1 Belleville lead.

In the second half, Wandling scored again off a throw in to give Belleville a 3-1 advantage. Millburn cut the lead to 3-2 three minutes later, but Belleville then took over, scoring four unanswered goals.

Lewis scored off an assist from Vogel and Wandling. Lewis then scored two more goals for a hat trick. Mike Gonzalez assisted on one goal and the other was unassisted.

Gonzalez also assisted Guevara on a long direct kick from the 40 yard line.

The defense was paced by Ian Loneragan, Paul Mora and Franco Vitello. Kevin Noland and Greg Delmotte were outstanding in the midfield.

THE DIVISION 3B BANDITS battled Vernon to a five all tie last Sunday.

The Belleville goals were scored by Salvino Aguiar, Danny Bartosiewicz, Ljubisa (Juice) Provolovic and Mike Carino, who scored twice.

The defense was led by Ben Schwengel and Nick Andreola. Erick Guavara did a good job in goal.

Buc Shots

played very well, going 2 for 4 and driving home three runs.

"In the last of the seventh inning, I elected to put Michael Forte into the game for defensive purposes and take Scheuplein out," Zanfini said.

"He was limping a little on the leg and I didn't want to risk an injury. He wasn't happy about coming out, he wanted to stay in for the entire game. I told him I wanted him to finish the game, but at this point why risk an injury. The kids on that team were so competitive and no one ever wanted to come out."

The '81 Bucs had gained a big win, but the season was just starting to take shape. Next week, we'll look back at the state tourney games and a third round, semi final contest with Bloomfield that Zanfini later said was his most memorable game ever.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The Atlanta Braves last won an NL West title in 1982. Joe Torre managed the Braves that season. Atlanta lost in three straight games in '82 to St. Louis in the NL playoffs. Chris Chambliss played first base, Rafael Ramirez was the shortstop, Glenn Hubbard was the second baseman and Bob Horner played third base.

UNLOCK THE EQUITY

IN YOUR HOME!

NO APPLICATION FEE • 1-1/2% OVER PRIME • NO CLOSING FEES

For a limited time only, you may apply for a Home Equity Loan absolutely FREE from NJFCU. Take advantage of this offer now, and if you qualify, the money locked up in the value of your home will become a major source of cash for you. Once your line of credit is approved, all you have to do is let us know how much you want in your account and we'll put it in there for you. It's simple! What's more, there are no closing costs and our rate is only 1-1/2% over prime!

Since our rates only change every six months (in January and July), your low rate cannot go up during that six month period even if the prime is going up.

If you already have a home equity loan elsewhere, now is the time to transfer it to NJFCU! It won't cost you anything to switch and will probably even save you money!

Free application offer expires May 31, 1991.

Employees (and the families) of over 300 area businesses and school systems are eligible for membership in NJFCU. Call and find out if you're one of them.

Cardiac rehab program available at Clara Maass

Clara Maass Medical Center offers a Cardiac Rehabilitation Program available through physician referral to individuals who have or have had a heart attack, angina, heart surgery, angioplasty or heart disease.

Cardiac rehabilitation at Clara Maass may also help those who are at risk for developing heart problems.

Supervised by James H. Fredrickson, exercise physiologist and coordinator for the program, cardiac rehabilitation provides a medically supervised and prescribed program of exercise conditioning and education.

Candidates for the program must have a physician referral to be considered. After the initial test is taken, a stress test, pulmonary function test and blood work will be taken. Afterwards, programs according to an individual's level of fitness will be developed using test results.

Exercise is the primary focus of the rehabilitation, with state of the art equipment used to improve cardiovascular function and total body conditioning, according to Fredrickson.

In addition to the exercise program, there is an educational component designed to help reduce personal risk factors, such as poor nutrition, smoking and stress. Counseling provided by a registered dietitian, social worker and psychologist may also be arranged.

The basic program consists of 36 sessions arranged by appointment and lasting about one hour. Fredrickson said, adding participants sign up for three one-hour sessions per week. Heart rhythm, blood pressure and one's body reactions are closely monitored during each session.

Graduates of the 36 sessions may continue to participate in a medically supervised program.

For more information, call the Clara Maass Medical Center Cardiac Rehabilitation Center at 450-2960 or 450-2050.

Felix Garruto named V.P.

Felix M. Garruto of Belleville has been named vice president and chief financial officer of the Wayne, New Jersey-based Chronos Richardson Inc.

In this role he will be responsible for developing and maintaining appropriate financial systems and controls necessary to ensure the continuing financial integrity of the USA operation.

Formerly controller of the Coromant Division of Sandvik, Garruto brings with him considerable expertise in the financial arena. After joining Sandvik, he held the post of finance manager for Johnson & Johnson in their Ultrasound Division. Prior to this promotion at Chronos Richardson, Garruto held the post of controller.

Chronos Richardson holds a bachelor's degree in accounting from Fairleigh Dickinson University.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
SEALED proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the Township of Belleville, County of Essex, New Jersey, for the Replacement of Roofs and the Removal of Underground Storage Tanks on Thursday, May 23, 1991, at 10:00 a.m., and will be immediately opened and read aloud thereafter.

The Instructions to Bidders, Bid Form, General Conditions, and Specifications and other Documents, will be on file at the office of Paul J. DeMaasi & Associates, Architects and Planners, 576 Valleybrook Avenue, Lyndhurst, NJ 07097. Copies thereof may be obtained upon paying a deposit of $100.00, for each complete set, payable to Paul J. MAKING A COSMETIC CHANGE
Any woman who has visited the cosmetic counter at a fashionable department store can attest to the fact that there seems to be no limit to the high price of cosmetics and toiletries. However, fancy packaging and designer names cannot disguise the fact that high-priced cosmetics differ little from pharmacy-brand cosmetics. Because the U.S. Food and Drug Administration strictly supervises the ingredients used in all cosmetics, there is little quality difference between those found in pharmacies and those sold in department stores. Manufacturers of pharmacy-brand cosmetics have spent millions of research and development dollars to produce hypoallergenic, ophthalmologist-tested, moisture-protective, sunscreens, and vitamin-enriched makeup. The only difference is that they charge less for their products than designer lines do for theirs.

The difference between our service and others in the area is our friendly, knowledgeable staff. For all your prescription needs see us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. Many gift items, including cosmetics, cameras, Timex watches and transistor radios are available for Father's Day. We also have greeting cards and Russell Stover candies. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. Have a very happy Mother's Day.

NOTE: Another advantage to shopping in the pharmacy for cosmetics is the absence of high-pressure counter "help."

Free Government Help For Small Business

(NU) - Most people do not realize that the federal government has millions of dollars of free help available to aid both existing small businesses and the individual entrepreneur thinking of beginning a small business.

And many of these grants, loans and other aids are never spent because the average small businessman simply doesn't know where and how to begin when he or she hits the maze of free departments and regulations.

But now, so small businessman should be reluctant to tap into federal government help to support a business venture if armed with a newly revised paperback book that tells how to do it.

The book's title telegraphs its message: "Free Help From Uncle Sam to Start Your Own Business (Or Expand the One You Have)" by William Alarid and Gustav Berle.

The book was selected "best of the best" by the Public Library Association.

solution for its graphic and down-to-earth approach to tapping Uncle Sam's considerable information and even financial support for good ideas. Using examples from actual cases where the government helped, the book shows you how to break the bewildering maze of red tape, including names and phone numbers. Discover how to get started using federal assistance, find new products, new markets, use information sources, enter international trade, find financial aid and programs for minorities.

The book may be ordered from the publisher, Puma Publishing Co., 1670-U Coral Drive, Santa Maria, CA 93454. The book is $13.95 postpaid ($14.70 to California addresses). It may be ordered via credit card by calling toll free 1-800-255-5730, ext 110. It is also available at better bookstores, such as Waldenbooks and Crown, and several hundred independent bookstores.

PERSONAL NOTICES

NOVINA TO ST. JUDE This novena has never been known to fail. This novena must be said for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. Oh, Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, grant to virtuous and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly pray for whom God has given great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and call you to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys and 3 Glorias. M.S.
