Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

Horse players would do well to follow the trail of Vincent Valenti, who gave up his Wise Potato Chip routes to start a stable of trotters, two years ago. His current top winner is Skipper Yankee, a two-and-a-half-year-old who came in second at the Meadowlands last week to share a $200,000 purse. His winnings are up to $54,000 for the year. Valenti has five other trotters, and they include Champagne Magic with $24,000 in winnings; Eagle Spencer, who ran up $58,000 last year until sidelined by a broken bone; Rock Wren, $18,000; Cjinski (that's right, Cjinski), $22,000, and the baby of the stable, Cold Lobell who has yet to race. This adds up to over $176,000, which Valenti says is almost as much as it has cost to maintain the herd. He learned the business from a trotting great, Trainer Carl Garafolo of Belleville. Skipper Yankee was nuzzling Valenti when we met the pair. To give an idea as to who is boss, Skipper Yankee was riding a trailer while Valenti was chauffeuring. ●●●●● Paul Hochstuhl who has been the town's purchasing agent, since 1978, says he has a surefire way to win bets. "Nobody believes there was a Brooklyn professional football team, the Brooklyn Tigers. I've got the program to prove it." Sure enough, he has the official game program for Oct. 15, 1944, for the game between the Tigers and the New York Giants. The Tigers played in the National Football League from 1927 through 1944, with their home at Ebbets Field. Hochstuhl remembers the Tigers well because a neighbor, Art Jocker, was a Tiger player in the 1940s. "He came from a family of weight lifters," Hochstuhl recalls. No mean athlete himself, Hochstuhl built his muscles as a boy working summers at the old Plunger farm - "Ten cents an hour, 10 hours a day, six days a week". In 1940, he did a stint of rowing for the old Nereid Boat Club, sculling down the East River past the old Polo Grounds. This was the sport which Bill Bennett developed to a high skill, building the racing shells and fashioning the oars, himself. He established the sport so firmly that it became the basis for the crew programs of Belleville, Kearny and Lyndhurst High Schools, putting us on a par with Harvard, Yale, and Oxford. Paul's father, William took him to the 1939 World's Fair to see the incredible Johnny Weissmuller in action at the Aquacade. "Six and a half kicks per second, can you believe it?" Father Bill was a Bloomfield boy, born there in 1886. Paul's work career is a litany of Belleville's industrial history, starting with Federal Leather which was acquired by Textron which was acquired by Air Reduction which was acquired by Chrysler which then moved the plant to Sandusky, Ohio. He has found a steady job since then, unless someone decides to move Belleville to Hawaii, or someplace. ●●●●● David Bryant, the Belleville Public Library director was too young to visit the 1939 Fair, but he recalls that his father ran a photographic processing exhibit at the Flushing extravaganza. And for some reason, the Art-Deco style of the Fair had an effect on his own art direction. Bryant is the creator of Art-Deco architectural pieces which reflect his idea of the kind of buildings popular in the 1930s. They come complete with lighting effects, and there is an art gallery in New Mexico that sells them. "It seems to fit in with the Southwest, somehow," Bryant says. Visitors to the library would do well to ask for a tour of his office, where he keeps some of his works. He may not have intended them for public showing but they are remarkable and interesting. Do we have an underground art colony here?

TAKING AIM - Manager Bertrand Kendall points out the areas of road improvement where reconstruction work will begin this summer. It ends a long drought of road maintenance work which Kendall says is long overdue. The projected work will be financed by bond.

Council cuts school budget

By Howard Klausner

After a 10-minute recess that stretched into two hours, the Belleville town council voted a cut of $537,500 in the school budget. This is the equivalent of 11.5 points in the tax rate.

The board of education had produced a budget with a 25 point tax increase. This was defeated by the public in a 2-1 vote last month.

Two members of the council did not vote. William Cook and Thomas Spillane abstained because both have wives employed by the school system.

Another member of the town council, Dr. Frank Noonan left the closed session early, having made his point early and then chose to stay out of the discussion. This left most of the remaining debate to Mayor Marina Perna, councilman James Messina and Mario Drozd. Both Messina and Drozd have children in the school system.

The council estimated that the cuts would not damage the teaching programs at Belleville schools.

Among the cuts that Mayor Perna announced were $36,000 by freezing administrative salaries;

$37,700 by freezing other employees' salaries; $156,000 by eliminating nine vacant positions; $15,000 by reducing the substitute teachers account; and reducing fuel outlay by $25,000.

In one case a restoration of $25,000 was made. This will go to the office of the truant officer.

Mayor Perna said the school budget was cut in response to the demand of the voters.

Veterans to be remembered in Memorial Day observations

Belleville will observe Memorial Day this Monday with events at Rutgers Street Bridge, Town Hall and the Union Avenue Veterans Memorial.

At 9 a.m., a Massing of Colors will be held at the Rutgers Street

Bridge, with a welcome offered by American Legion Post 299, the playing of the National Anthem and a rifle salute by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 275, followed by the playing of Taps.

At 9:30 a.m., at Town Hall, services will be held for deceased police and firefighters. The band of Post 105 will play the National Anthem, and the Rev. Jung Yung Na of Wesleyan Methodist Church will offer the invocation.

VFW Post 275 will provide the rifle salute after the wreath laying. Policeman's Benefit Association President Peter Fraon will offer remarks, and the Rev. Mr. Na will make the benediction.

At 10 a.m., there will be a Massing of Colors at the Union Avenue Veterans Memorial, and the playing of God Bless America by Post 105.

The Rev. Mr. Na will offer the invocation, and Robert Browning, chairman of the Memorial Day Committee, will speak.

Guest speakers will be Assemblyman John Kelly and Essex County official Anthony Imperiale.

Boarding house has problems

The superintendent of a licensed boarding house at 337-339 Washington Ave. says she was fired and given an eviction notice by the management company because she allowed an Internal Revenue Service worker to enter the premises and post tax levy notices.

"I had no choice but to let the IRS in," Carol Chaplin said.

After the incident, which occurred a week ago, a letter was sent to Mrs. Chaplin by the boarding house owner, Garden State Investments, 237 Centre St. Nutley, which stated that she was being dismissed for failure to maintain the premises properly. She was also ordered to leave her rent-free apartment by Sunday night.

"They did this because I advised the tenants that they would have to pay their rent to the IRS, until further notice," Mrs. Chaplin said. "But I was only telling them what the levy notices said."

The levy notice stated that the owner of the management company, Anthony Donadon, owed IRS a total of $26,993.61. A spokesperson for the Newark office of IRS stated on Friday that the levy was lifted a few days after being served, after a conference between Donadon and IRS officers. "We believe that Mr. Donadon is sincerely trying to pay the tax," an IRS official said. "He said that keeping the levy would make it difficult for him to obtain a loan to pay the tax."

Sixteen tenants of the building, who pay rentals of $90 a week, received notices advising them that rent would be payable to IRS that week. Several complied, and several others paid to an agent of Garden State Management.

Mrs. Chaplin said that her sympathies for the tenants got her into trouble with the management.

"We had a 74-year-old woman who had been sleeping in a car because her widow's pension check had been stolen. Welfare sent her here, and I gave her a room. We have a young couple here where the wife is fighting cancer. We have an 82-year-old man whom I invite in for dinner and a hot meal."

"They wanted me to lock people out if they were two days late with the rent. I can't lock people out like that. Besides, it's illegal. An eviction has to be ordered by a judge, after a hearing."

Several tenants described Mrs. Chaplin as considerate and helpful, despite problems of maintaining the building. A young man said that heat had been turned off in March. His employer had telephoned Mrs. Chaplin to register a complaint. "But there was nothing I could do about it," she said.

Mrs. Chaplin said that she had managed another property for the same firm, the Latham House in Nutley, and that the firm had asked her to take over the Belleville boarding house, named the Belle House, after the previous superintendent had been dismissed.

"The previous super was a friend of mine, Jessie Murch. She didn't like the idea of locking people out, and they tossed her out with her 16-year-old daughter who had pneumonia. This was in winter, and they had no money, no place to go, and no way to get there."

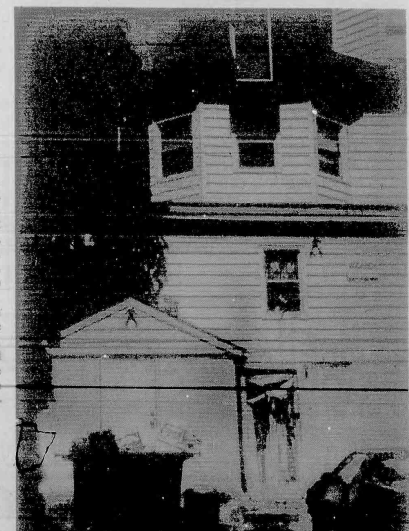

Elderly residents, who are either on welfare or pension, or both, expressed fear that they would have no place to go if they lost their rooms.

A spokesperson for IRS said that his office deplored penalizing someone for following IRS regulations, but there was little the government could do about it, short of using moral persuasion. "We don't want to get caught in the middle of it," the spokesperson said.

Mrs. Chaplin said she would go to court to delay her eviction.

TROUBLED HOUSE - The Washington Avenue boarding house has 16 tenants and many complaints about living conditions. Superintendent Carol Chaplin says she was fired for aiding the tenants.

Restaino to run for Assembly

Alfred R. Restaino, Nutley resident and longtime college educator and administrator, has decided to throw his hat into the political ring.

Restaino, athletic director at Bloomfield College as well as the school's former head baseball coach, said he will seek election to the New Jersey General Assembly as a candidate from the newly-reassigned 36th legislative district.

According to Restaino, the time "was right" to test the political waters.

Restaino, a longtime member of the Nutley Democratic Committee, joins incumbent Assemblyman Louis Gill and state Senator Gabriel Ambrosio as the Democratic Party's regular state candidates for the 36th District.

Gill, who until re-apportionment was teamed with Assemblyman Thomas Duch (D-Garfield), said he was "delighted" to have Restaino as his running-mate.

"Al Restaino offers voters an attractive and knowledgeable candidate," Gill said, adding, "I'm just glad he's on our side."

A member of the Passaic City Council, Gill said he is looking forward to campaigning with Restaino.

"Anytime you add a running-mate like Al to your ticket you're doing your constituents a real service," he said.

"By having Al on our ticket we present a more balanced state and one which, in my opinion, boasts a broader representation from within the district," the two-term legislator said.

State Senator Carmen A. Orecchio, (D-Essex), who recently announced his retirement from the Legislature after nearly 20 years in office, said he was "pleased" with the selection of Restaino to the ticket.

"They could not have found a better candidate or one who is more committed to the people than Al Restaino," the Essex County Democrat said.

Orecchio urged his fellow Nutleyites to carry on "the good fight" should he be elected.

"I know Al will serve the people of the 36th District well," Orecchio said.

No newcomer to the State House scene, Restaino, 60, is a former aide to Orecchio and has been an administrative aide to the Senate Democrats since 1980.

In fact, Restaino said it was his Trenton background which led him to run for office.

"Although I may not have held an elected office, I'm certainly no 'nookie' when it comes to matters involving the state or the district," Restaino said.

This background, according to Restaino, gives him an "edge" over other candidates.

"I feel my position with the Senate Democrats offers me a unique insight into key issues which are of vital importance to New Jersey residents."

According to Restaino, another reason he decided to run was because of re-apportionment.

"There needs to be representation from the 'old' 30th District towns that have been placed in the new district."

New Jersey law requires that all 40 legislative districts be redrawn every 10 years. The new districts are based on the federal census taken at the beginning of each decade.

This year, because of a population shift away from Essex County, the 30th District — of which Nutley and Belleville were a part — was dismantled and its towns were grouped with other out-of-county districts. Nutley and Belleville are now part of the newly-reassigned 36th District which includes Carlstadt, Lyndhurst, North Arlington, the City of Passaic, Rutherford, East Rutherford and Wallington.

Restaino, while pledging to address the needs of the entire district, said there are certain issues which are of a particular interest to Nutley and Belleville residents — issues which he said he will keep a "keen eye" on.

He offered the proposed Passaic River Flood Tunnel as one such example.

"Should that billion-dollar boondoggle ever be built, the end result will be devastating to both Nutley and Belleville," Restaino said.

"If elected, I will do everything in my power to make sure that that tunnel — and pardon my pun — never sees the light of day."

Both Ambrosio and Gill have also been outspoken opponents of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' plan to funnel excess storm water into Newark Bay.

Among his other campaign issues, Restaino said he will continue to help find ways to offer relief to property taxpayers. He said one of the ways he would accomplish this is by continuing to push for the state take over of judicial expenses — a legislative process begun by Orecchio.

According to Restaino, he sees his interest in public service and his decision to run for office as a natural progression for someone who has spent most of his life on a college campus.

"Whether it's in the classroom, or on the athletic field or as a member of the General Assembly, your ultimate goal is to try and help people," Restaino said.

"That's what my campaign is all about. That's why I'm running," he said. "I want to help people and I think I can do that if elected."

A lifelong educator, Restaino began his teaching career at

Alfred Restaino

Lyndhurst High School in 1964 after he was graduated from Bloomfield College with a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting.

While at Lyndhurst High, Restaino taught bookkeeping, general business and driver education. He was also the school's assistant football coach.

After two years of teaching at the high school level, Restaino fulfilled a childhood dream when he became a college professor at Bloomfield.

An associate professor of physical education since 1966, Restaino became the school's assistant director of athletics and intramural director before being named athletic director in 1985.

Besides being the former head baseball coach at Bloomfield College — a position he held for 23 years — Restaino was also the school's basketball coach from 1969 to 1972.

Restaino is married to the former Patricia Brough and they have four children: Alfred Jr., Carol Ann, Richard and David. The couple also have two grandchildren, Alfred III and Danielle.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Irvington is going through the throes of a recall drive in a court showdown, a petition drive that seeks to remove from office a Council person and give the voters the right to choose a successor.

Belleville could not yet consider a recall move, were it sought, incumbents must have completed one full year of incumbency before they could be subjected to a recall movement.

In Irvington the litigation centers around the validity of the wording of the petitions. Both sides are represented by counsel who are at variance upon the construction of the law, hence the litigation; which the Jurist scheduled a May 23 hearing for.

The present Council person's attorney maintains the petition, containing 1,194 signatures, has "fatal" defects and does not comply with state law. The other lawyer argues the statute "does not require malfeasance or nonfeasance in office, nor a bill of particulars delineating specific acts. It is obvious, by the number of verified signatures, that 25 percent of the ward voters found the cause sufficiently informative enough to sign the petition for recall."

The Council member's lawyer charged failure to comply with a law that requires that the main recall petitioner, sign "each paper submitted to the clerk. One signer of each page must sign an oath, not one signer," such as was done, "for all the pages. This is a fatal defect."

However, it was pointed out that Township Clerk Harold Weiner requested that it be "acknowledged each page of the petitions...to ensure correctness."

After Weiner verified April 6 that a sufficient amount of signatures to support the recall effort, he said he sent the Council member a registered letter advising they could either resign within five days or face a recall election...there was no response.

In the Irvington case, the petitions that "demand the removal of the Ward Council person at the election of a successor, for the reasons, and on the grounds, that they failed to adequately represent the interest of the Ward" contained 1,194 signatures, 15 more than required.

The judge called it vague asking "What has been done wrong?"

The attorney for the petitioners stated, the cause, as stated, cites the Council person for failing to represent the Ward residents, and that statement, while general in nature, still complies with the state requirement to get an elected official recalled.

The judge reiterated that the petition should contain something more specific. Countering the judge's hypothetical suggestions, the attorney called them "just as general" as those used in the petition seeking to remove the Council person from office. Voters "understood fully" what they were signing.

The judge said the state law on citing a specific reason on a recall petition "is a very gray area."

After the hearing, the attorney said he found "it very unusual that the (listed) cause was not sufficient enough. It was left intentionally general, so as to not unduly soil the reputation of the Council person's reputation, in the thought they might resign."

Before this legal political imbroglio is finally resolved? Can you just imagine what might ever happen here in Belleville after July 1st should this sorely troubled community were to become embroiled in a nasty political battle, such as now raging in Irvington? The one year deadline will have been reached!

Scholar-Athlete honors go to Krych and Caponi

By Stefanie Nyczkowski

Two BHS seniors, Judith Krych and Steven Caponi were recently honored at the Essex County Athletic Directors Association's annual Scholar-Athlete dinner. Both students have been successfully maintaining a high scholastic average while playing sports.

Each year, one male and one female is selected from each of the Essex County high schools to represent their school. The students were asked to attend a dinner held in their honor at the Mayfair Farms in West Orange and to speak about their accomplishments during the past four years of high school.

BHS science teacher, Rich Ruffalo, was among the guest speakers. Ruffalo, a gold medal Olympian and recipient of the Teacher of the Year Award for Belleville High School, reinforced the personal fulfillment and rewards of athletic accomplishment coupled with academic achievement.

James Silvestri, a former math teacher and wrestling coach at BHS was honored as 1991 Retired Athletic Director of the Year. He has previously been honored as the County Retired Coach of the Year as well as the Athletic Director of the Year. Silvestri is a past president of the ECADA and served as a member of the executive committee of the NJISAA.

BHS student designs Wheel-A-Thon logo

By Kristine Villano

"Good things are happening in Belleville," Franco Patello, a Belleville art student, was selected to have his personally created logo used as the logo for the Cerebral Palsy Wheel-A-Thon. Patello was one of eleven students who submitted a drawing. A committee of nine people chose the piece that was to be used. Sandy Biber, the development director at the Cerebral Palsy Center, was one of the nine judges. "We are very pleased," stated Biber when asked how he felt about Patello's art work. "This was the first year it was done. We wanted a piece that was unique and was a symbol created by a student."

A ceremony was held at the Wheel-A-Thon on May 5, to give recognition to Patello. Patello signed the artwork that is printed on T-shirts and other literature used to advertise and promote the Wheel-A-Thon.

Patello earned a $50 savings bond for his original design. The savings bond was donated by the Provident Savings Bank of Belleville and presented by Essex County Executive Thomas D'Alessio and Mary Perry, branch manager and assistant vice president of Provident Savings Bank.

Cetrulo receives award

By Cyndee Rodriguez

BHS junior, Helene Cetrulo, in recognition of outstanding leadership ability, was awarded the Katharine Gibbs 1991 Leadership Award. Her outstanding achievements as a business student at BHS were acknowledged at a special dinner honoring all of the Leadership Award recipients held at the Manor in West Orange. Candidates for this honor are chosen by the business department; faculty select a student who has demonstrated exceptional academic ability and practical application of course content. Cathy Schwartz, a representative from Katharine Gibbs School, presented the award to Helene who is a student in Constance Gonnella's office practice class. Two other juniors were awarded Honorable Mention, Angela Cultrara and Nita Prapapati. Business department supervisor, Ernest Musmanno, is "very proud to honor these students" and hopes they continue their education in the business field.

BHS students will run Town Hall for a day

By Amy LaCoco

On May 28, students from Belleville High School will participate in Student Government Day. and understanding the procedures of local government.

In addition, students will participate in mock council meetings and town planning programs. Student Government Day enables the future leaders of society to experience, understand, and participate in government systems on the municipal level.

Na to work on Wall Street

By Danielle Italiano

Sam Na, a junior at Belleville High School, was chosen to attend a Wall Street Seminar-Washington Workshop. Na was informed of the program by BHS history teacher, Anne Schneider. The workshop will be held on July 6-7 at New York University in New York City.

The New York University selection committee reviewed Na's application and based upon his SAT scores, grade point average, course selections at BHS and personal goals including career interests, notified Na of their decision.

Washington Workshop week is a week of educational training in a wide variety of subjects including first hand exposure to trading of stocks and bonds, the Wall Street atmosphere and future career planning.

Na is very enthusiastic about the seminar and said, "I hope this will be one of the best educational opportunities I have ever experienced."

The Belleville High School News is a feature of the Belleville Times. It runs weekly, space allowing.

All stories are written by the students of Mr. Anthony Salese's journalism class. Their work is coordinated by student editor Denise Zecca.

OUR OPINION

Minutes of Gold

Two or three minutes — two or three hours,
What do they mean in this life of ours?
Not very much if but counted as time,
But minutes of gold and hours sublime,
If only we'll use them once in a while
To make someone happy — make someone smile.
A minute may dry a little lad's tears,
An hour sweep aside trouble of years.
Minutes of my time may bring to an end
Hopelessness somewhere, and bring me a friend.

A time to remember

In terms of utter carnage, the most terrible conflict in America's history was the Civil War, in which 600,000 men died — one fifth of all those who served. Memorial Day arose from the bitter memories of that war, when Southern women laid flowers at the graves of Union soldiers in the aftermath of the war.

American history ever since has been an attempt to come to terms with that war. Complete reconciliation has never been achieved. Complete attainment of its goals have never been realized.

The great waves of immigrants who followed the Civil War did not share the memories which troubled much of the nation since 1865. Southerners continued to nurse grievances. Northerners went on to dominate the development of the nation. The victory of the north set the nation on a course that made it possible for newcomers to find a place in a growing nation. A victory of the Confederacy would probably have meant the creation of a nation, or a set of nations, hostile to the kind of free society in which immigrants are welcome.

The survival of the United States came at the cost of so much blood that we cannot estimate the damage it did. Indeed, it was often left to the newcomers to take on the challenges of creating an industrial power linked from ocean to ocean.

And each wave of immigrants had to pay its way in both toil and blood. Since 1917, the United States has undergone four major conflicts in which tens of thousands of immigrants, or the children of immigrants, have died, while millions have served. And every race that makes up this nation has made its contribution to our mutual survival.

Every name on the war memorials is an American name, no matter what its spelling, no matter what the ethnic origin of its bearer.

Memorial Day has the same significance to the most recent arrival in this nation as to those of most ancient lineage here. The magic of America is that it holds its arms open to all, and transforms them all into its own — a free people proud of its many heritages, forged into one great nation.

So, let us not forget those who paid our price of admission to this world of freedom and opportunity. It is a moment of tribute in which we are all one.

Another kind of welfare rip-off

How do you feel about paying about $240 in higher costs for clothing because Congress has agreed to protect — that is, to subsidize — private sector companies, in this instance domestic textile companies?

According to an article in "Global Trade" magazine, the present high tariffs on imported textiles cost American consumers about $20 billion a year, and counting.

This is even tougher on younger families, which tend to buy more textiles, especially as clothing for their children.

As reported, the cost to protect each job averages between $302,000 and $550,000!

We hear so much about welfare "queens" and $3,000 allocations to "the homeless" for new living room furniture, but why do we not hear about the welfare — and no other term is more appropriate — being handed out to prop up domestic companies which fail to compete in the marketplace against the imports?

Who protects the corner store from its competition at the supermarket? Who protects a Bloomfield Center store from its competition at the malls?

Then why should we protect domestic textile producers?

Library revamps

To the editor:

The Belleville Public Library and Information Center, located at 221 Washington Ave., is undergoing restoration of its original 1911 Carnegie Library and renovations to its 1929 stacks area.

These projects will give Belleville a public library and a public building of unsurpassed beauty. The plan includes state-of-the-art lighting within a neo-classical space, where readers, book browsers and researchers of all ages will find their library a new point of community pride. This major renovation is being funded from the library's recent inheritance.

Naturally, because of the scale of work being done and the need for long stretches of time for plastering and painting, there will be some inconvenience to the public. For this we apologize but we must also add that "safety first" is our motto. We have abbreviated main library hours to: Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Wednesday to Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturdays - Closed.

We advise that parents of school-age youngsters call the library at 450-3434 to determine if the reference and stack areas are off limits on any given day.

We can help students with research projects by bringing materials from closed areas to new temporary seating areas. But letting us know as early as possible will help us deliver our usual high standards of reference service. I have personally alerted each school principal's office about these changes to our normal hours and research facilities.

Any inconvenience you might find in using your library during the next few months will be quickly forgotten when you see your finished library in the fall. Belleville will have achieved a new level of excellence in public library service, delivered in a dazzling and timeless space, true to the tradition of Andrew Carnegie and to nine decades of library progress made possible by intelligent and spirited library trustees.

David Bryant, Library Director

Protecting puppies

To the editor:

Your readers have seen and read about the horrendous conditions under which puppies are raised and shipped for sale in New Jersey. Most likely they were shocked when 2020 and Connie Chung went undercover to expose these puppy mills on national television.

Now your readers can help change that. Senator Carmen Orechio has introduced S3215, which would prohibit the commercial transportation or sale of puppies in New Jersey under the age of 12 weeks.

The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) feels that this legislation would have a positive effect on curbing sick puppies from entering and being sold in New Jersey and urges your readers to write their State Senators in support of this important bill.

Fornarotto protests

To the editor:

This past week, before I was laid off, I was told that if I was laid off my hospitalization and other benefits would end, but if I retired before May 1, my hospitalization and benefits would continue.

What would any sensible person do?

When I was at my last meeting with the Town Council, I pleaded with the Council to make them understand that my job being abolished was not for economy.

I tried to explain that in 1977 an ordinance was made. That ordinance was number 1966 and is entitled "Property Maintenance Code."

"The purpose of this code was to protect the public health, safety, morals, and welfare by establishing minimum standards covering the maintenance, appearance, condition, and occupancy of residential and non-residential premises, to establish minimum standards governing utilities, facilities and other physical components and conditions essential to make the aforesaid facilities fit for human habitation, occupancy, and use, to fix certain responsibilities and duties upon owners and operators and distinct and separate responsibilities and duties upon occupants, to authorize and establish procedures for the inspection of residential and non-residential premises and to fix penalties for violations of this code."

Abolishing my job was political. The Council could have made the job part-time or asked me to retire at the end of the year.

No one is going to do property maintenance inspections, and someone else is going to have to be hired.

Now here are the facts. The properties that I wanted to issue summons to were taken away from me. Why? Because a certain councilman knew the owners and I was accused of harassing them.

One landlord told me that if I gave him a summons he would go over my head and take care of me. He had many violations and was issued a summons. One week later I received my notice that I was being laid off as of May 1.

I told my boss many times, and without cooperation, of many complaints of violations of variances. I went to court with a few cases for violations of ordinance number 1996. Today the same persons are breaking the same ordinance. Why? Because Fornarotto is out and because they know a Councilman.

Economy...no Politics...yes!

Is this economy? He works out of an office at 383 Washington Ave. How about paying out to a private contractor $21,000 per year for recycling when the garbage contract has in it that the garbage contractor picks up cardboard and newspapers and is required to keep records. Also the maintenance department used to take care of glass and aluminum a few days a week for the same salary. Where is the economy? Tully does all of this plus plastics. Why? There is the economy?

Remember, the council legislates and the manager carries out their orders.

In addition to Nutley and Belleville, the legislative district consists of the following communities: Carlstadt, East Rutherford, Lyndhurst, North Arlington, City of Passaic, Rutherford and Wallington. Some strange sounding names, right? The towns are in three counties — Bergen, Passaic and Essex.

The Democrat ticket of the new 36th District consists of incumbent Lyndhurst Democrat Senator Gabe Ambrosio, incumbent Assemblyman Louis Gill of Passaic and Nutley resident Alfred Restaino, the Director of Athletics of Bloomfield College. Also entered in the Democrat Assembly Primary is former Belleville Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto.

Among the attendees expected at the event are Joe Garagiola, Tommy John, Whitey Ford, Gil McDougall, Mickey Mantle and Herschel Walker, Tom Gibson of the Montclair Savings and Loan is the working Chairman.

• ASSEMBLYMAN John V. Kelly is seeking re-election from the new district. His Republican counterpart is Paul DiGaetano. The Republican Senate candidate opposing Senator Ambrosio is also a Lyndhurst resident, John Scott, who, I am told, nobody in Lyndhurst seems to know. Scott needs an awful lot of visibility if the Republican hopes to make a respectable showing in November.

Bill Parcell's retirement from the New York Giants sent a shockwave through the football community. His comments even got me to thinking about whether or not quitting time was at hand. It is something to ponder over. An arm's distance away from 74, the better part of wisdom suggests that I take a second look at the calendar — and, maybe, like Bill Parcells — give serious thought to moving on to other things.

Program placed thirty in jobs

A two-year program based in Belleville and aimed at putting severely retarded or impaired adults into the job market has resulted in the placement of 30 of 36 persons, according to Carl Flaherty, head of the Adult Training Program of the Association for Retarded Citizens of Essex County, Inc.

The success of the program, coupled with the need to conserve funds, has led to the closing of the Belleville training center, but six other centers remain in Essex County.

Those who have not yet been placed in jobs from the Belleville center will continue to receive training at the other centers, Flaherty said.

The major employer has been Pathmark Supermarkets, which has hired 17 adult clients of the Association. Other employers include a factory in Clifton, and various cleaner and lawn care services.

Pathmark pays each client, employee $4,420 a year, plus benefits, holidays and vacations. At the outset, the employees did cleaning chores, then were graduated to stock inventory work. The Association pays for a supervisor, usually one to each four clients, to guide and assist the client employees.

"There was some initial resistance from their peers," Flaherty said, "but this changed. In fact, when a problem arose that made us feel we would have to withdraw the clients, their peers got together and found a solution to the problem so that the clients could remain."

County-wide, some 280 adults are receiving training at the centers which are located in East Orange, Irvington, Montclair, Newark, Nutley and South Orange.

"Any client can do the job," Flaherty said. "The issue is - what level of supports are needed?"

"Improving the supports is the point, not changing the client."

Many cigarette smokers turn to a prescription product called nicotine palacater, gum in an effort to wean themselves away from the habit. When chewed, this gum releases small amounts of nicotine into a smoker's system and thus relieves many unpleasant symptoms of tobacco withdrawal. However, researchers at the National Institute of Drug Abuse's Addiction Research Center have found that the gum cannot effectively release nicotine in an acid environment. It was discovered that such beverages as coffee and juice rendered the saliva in a drinker's mouth too acidic to make the nicotine available to the lining of the mouth. For this reason, it is best to wait 15 minutes after eating or drinking before chewing on the nicotine gum.

We do our best to keep waiting time to a minimum at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 318 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. Free prescription delivery is provided. "Your Doctor Knows Us - Your Doctor Trusts Us." ## Tips to help reduce summer chore injuries

Don't let summer chores put you in the hospital emergency room this year. That's the message from the Insurance Information Institute, (an educational, fact-finding and communications organization for the property and casualty insurance business) which notes that carelessness with lawn mowers sends 55,000 people a year to hospitals.

And injuries associated with ladders send another 93,000 people to the emergency room.

"But people can minimize the risks," says Barbara Taylor, I.I.I.'s consumer consultant. "It's just a matter of following safety tips and using common sense."

Tips for using lawn mowers:

- Keep children and pets a safe distance away.
- Clear sticks, rocks and toys from the mower's path.

- Make sure the blades have stopped moving before cleaning beneath the mower or picking anything up nearby.
- Don't use an electric mower if it's raining or if the grass is wet.
- Wear sturdy shoes that cover your toes and feet.

Ladder safety tips:

- Make sure it's in good condition and set up in the safest possible way. Have somebody on the ground hold on to the ladder with both hands.
- Replace loose rungs, broken spreaders and frayed ropes on extension ladders.
- Never attempt to climb a wobbly ladder.
- Remember that stepladders can be as risky as extension ladders.
- For yard and garden safety:
  - Don't leave tools and hoses where somebody could trip over them.

- Keep chemicals out of the reach of children.
- Use insecticides, fertilizers and pesticides with care. Follow the instructions and pay close attention to wind conditions.

SURE FOOTING IN THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Many outdoors enthusiasts spend hours in the National Park system, hiking, camping, and sightseeing. They make about 300 million visits annually to the national monuments, recreation areas, seashores, and the 50 national parks.

This awesome frontier is part of our nation's protected wilderness — 90.7 million acres of rugged, unfettered, pristine land.

In pursuing their recreational lifestyles, outdoors devotees spend considerable sums for equipment and clothing; more of it should be for personal safety equipment and first-aid kits, says the National Safety Council.

Rock climbing, hiking, and skiing can be hazardous.

Bodily injuries, such as foot and ankle emergencies, occur frequently. In such cases, you should of course see a doctor or podiatric medicine immediately. If that's not possible, there are some things you can do to help yourself.

Reduce activity or get off your feet.

- Elevate the foot higher than the waist.
- Use cold compresses or an ice pack.

- For cuts, cleanse, apply pressure, and cover with a dressing.
- Leave blisters unopened if they're not painful or swollen.

Before running the risk of an injury outdoors, at home or on the job:

1. Wear the correct shoes for each event.
2. Don't wear any shoe beyond its useful life.
3. Use properly fitted steel-toe cap shoes for jobs that threaten foot safety.
4. Don't walk barefoot on paved surfaces.
5. Be alert for slippery surfaces.

For more information on foot and ankle injuries, call toll-free 1-800-

Good sun protection habits begin with sunscreen and moisturizer

Soaking up the sun isn't what it used to be. Today, "the deep dark tan is out," says Mallin DeSantis, Health and Beauty Editor of Cosmopolitan magazine.

You still may be looking for fun in the sun, but don't let your skin pay the price. To prevent premature aging and skin cancer, it's important to protect your skin with a good sunblock as well as a good moisturizer," says renowned dermatologist Dr. Albert Kligman of The University of Pennsylvania. A new line of sunscreens, Vaseline Intensive Care Moisturizing Sunscreen Lotions, combines the traditional benefits of sun protection with a moisturizer that helps prevent the dryness and tightness of sun-dried skin.

Good sun protection habits are important, especially for younger people, since 80 percent of all lifetime sun damage occurs before age 18. Experts suggest:

- Avoid the sun, especially during noon hours.
- Cover up exposed areas.
- Apply sunscreen regularly, preferably one that moisturizes.

For further information on skin care and a free brochure on sun protection, call the Vaseline Skin Care Institute at 1-(800) 654-1104.

Mini RV vacations provide escape for the whole family — the pets included

Over the next decade, Coachmen Recreational Vehicle Company expects more Americans to discover the benefits of mini vacations. With work and school schedules making it difficult to coordinate longer vacations, the extended weekend will provide families with much needed relaxation in the midst of busy schedules.

With over 20,000 campgrounds across the United States, there is always somewhere nearby to go on the spur of the moment. Since RV's can bring along their own meals or cook them on site, these spontaneous retreats can be quite inexpensive and require little pre-planning, often a source of stress in itself. Recreational vehicles allow families to bring along family pets, so arrangements don't have to be made for their care.

Away from ringing telephones and pressing chores, families can get re-energized and return to school and jobs refreshed and motivated.

THE MINI RV VACATION will be more popular than ever during the next decade, according to the Coachmen Recreational Vehicle Company.

MEMORIAL DAY

Beach lovers and boaters: Don't let the weather sabotage your fun in the sun

Bad weather can quickly dampen anyone's enthusiasm for enjoying the great outdoors. Beach-goers and boaters are especially at the mercy of the weather.

"If you want to have some fun on the beach or on the water, you can't change the weather to suit your plans, but you can anticipate it and prepare for it. A quick call to 1-900 WEATHER, the American Express telephone weather service, will give you a three-day Accu-Weather forecast for more than 600 U.S. and international cities.

In addition, from April through September, 1-900 WEATHER's special beach and boating reports provide weather information for coastal areas near the Atlantic Ocean, Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico, as well as locations close to the Great Lakes. Reports include sky conditions, the likelihood of rain, air and water temperatures, cloud coverage, wave height, wind speed and direction, and a tanning index for sun lovers.

"Because the weather at home may not be the same as it is at the shore, a quick call to 1-900 WEATHER gives callers the chance to prepare for the weather, or in some cases, to change their plans," says Jeff Bender, vice president at American Express.

The service is easy to use. Callers just press 1-900 WEATHER on a touch-tone phone, then punch in the area code for the city nearest their favorite beach or sailing location. After hearing the current weather conditions and three-day forecast for that city, callers can access the special beach and boating report for that area.

PLANNING A DAY AT THE BEACH or a boating trip? Outdoor lovers can find out specific weather conditions — from wave height to the tanning index — in the U.S. and all over the world by calling 1-900 WEATHER from a touch-tone phone.

Calls cost just 75 cents per minute and can be accessed from most touch-tone phones. (Some businesses, hotels and all pay phones currently block access to 900 numbers.)

1-900 WEATHER is a service of American Express Travel Related Services Company, Inc., a family of travel, financial, insurance, data-processing and communications businesses, and a wholly owned subsidiary of the American Express Company.

Times are changing in fashionable swimwear

Have you ever wondered what people thought was fashionable swimwear seventy years ago? Was it something that would still be accepted today? Is it something you would ever dare to wear?

"Splash! A History of Swimwear" by Richard Martin and Harold Koda (Rizzoli, 1990) shows just what it was like to visit beaches and boardwalks in the 1920s up through present day.

With photos of famous stars, star-lets and everyday people modeling the hippest in beachwear fashions you can get a sense for what was in swimwear.

The black-and-white and color photos in "Splash" show you how the textures, colors, as well as the styles in designer swimwear have changed throughout the years.

Although the fact of swimwear is textile, its image involves a sense of adventure. Would you choose to wear that daring thong or that barely there bikini? Should you go with the eternally acceptable black or try out that new prudish color that you've been looking at?

No matter what bathing suit you choose for your trips to the beach this year, odds are that in another century your relatives will be looking at photos of today's swimwear and wondering if they would dare to wear something so outrageous to their beaches.

Buc baseball players in action during recent league game.

Bucs fall to P. Catholic, Nutley

By Mike Lambert

A disappointing season is winding down for the Belleville baseball team. Nick Grande's club lost two league games last week, falling to Paramus Catholic 14-5 and Nutley 4-2. In both contests, the Bucs fell behind early only to come back and tie the game. Unfortunately, the momentum gained in tying the game wasn't enough to pull out a victory.

The Bucs were scheduled to conclude the 1991 season last Monday with a game against Don Bosco. Belleville was 7-17 heading into that game.

"I don't know what to tell you," Grande said after the Nutley defeat. "The team shows signs of coming around, but we have that bad one inning where we make too many mistakes."

"It's been that way all season long. We never can seem to get that break or that big inning where we open up a close game."

The Bucs lost by nine runs to Paramus Catholic, but the game was very competitive through the first six innings. It was tied through four innings at five a piece. P.C. scored solo runs in the fifth and sixth innings to take a 7-5 advantage.

Then, in the top of the seventh, the Bergen County school broke it wide open, scoring seven times.

The Bucs took a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Jason Nardachone and Art Caruso singled and Carmen Spina walked to load the bases. Rich Quine hit a sacrifice fly to center which scored Nardachone. Mike Melham then lined a single that brought home Caruso.

P.C. scored five runs in the top of the second off Buc starter Anibal Rodriguez.

"Most of the hits off Rodriguez were seeing eye singles," Grande said. "Anibal threw the ball pretty well, they just hit the ball where no one was."

Belleville came right back, scoring once in the second and twice in the third to tie the game at five.

In the second, Mike Alfano reached safely on a throwing error. Charley Giachetti singled and Nardachone hit into a fielders choice, with Giachetti out at second and Alfano moving to third. Caruso then brought Alfano home with a hard single.

In the third, Quine singled and Melham walked. Jim DuHaine doubled to score Quine and Rodriguez hit a sac fly that scored Melham.

Rodriguez hurled the first five innings, giving up nine hits and four earned runs. He struck out one and walked two. Mike Chirichella and Jason Apple pitched the final two innings for the Bucs.

Versus Nutley, the Bucs fell behind 2-0 in the first, then rallied to tie the game in the third. The Raiders then scored single runs in the third and fifth innings to win by two.

"We should have never lost that game," Grande said of the Nutley contest. "(Rich) Ferruggia did exactly what he had to do on the mound. He pitched a solid ball game. We out hit them, but we didn't capitalize on our scoring opportunities."

Belleville left eight men on base in the game. The Bucs out hit the Raiders by a 7-4 margin.

Ferruggia did an excellent job, allowing four earned runs and walking five. He struck out nine batters and gave up just four hits.

"Rich also did a good job in holding down the power in the Raider lineup," Grande said.

Belleville scored both its runs in the third inning. Kevin Johansen singled and Nardachone drew a walk. Quine then hit a triple scoring both runners.

"Richie (Quine) has been doing an excellent job for us," Grande said. "We're trying to get some of the younger players additional playing time. In the Paramus Catholic game I used 20 players. Against Nutley, a few of the younger players got a chance to start in a variety of ways."

With the season about to end, Grande is concentrating on the future.

"Legion ball will begin in a few weeks and hopefully the kids that are coming back will play this summer. It's important for them to play as much as possible."

Hands, Kimball earn silver medal at Stotesbury Regatta

By Mike Lambert

Belleville's Lee Hands and Sean Kimball combined for a silver medal in the crew pairs race at the Stotesbury Regatta last weekend. The pairs boat was the only Buc shell that advanced to the Stotesbury finals.

Bob Cassin's team will travel to Delaware this weekend for the national championships. Races commence tomorrow afternoon and conclude on Saturday. This is the final weekend of competition in the 1991 campaign.

"We were really happy for Lee and Sean," Cassin said. "There were some real powerful teams out there and considering this was their first pairs race of the year, I'd say we did very well."

According to Cassin, there were teams at the Stotesbury Regatta from as far away as Florida, Michigan and Canada. Some powerful boats from Philadelphia were also involved in the competition.

"The only boat that beat our pairs was a team from Canada," Cassin said. "That team is a powerhouse in Canada and we did a pretty good job against them. The final margin of victory for them was

Lady Bucs advance in states

By Mike Lambert

Playing by far its best softball of the season, the Lady Bucs captured four victories in five attempts last week. Included in those victories was a 4-3 win over Cranford that elevated Belleville into the semi finals of the Group III, Section II state tournament.

Carl Corino's team took a 16-10 record into last Monday's contest with Immaculate Heart. Last Tuesday, the girls had a state semi final game at Parsippany. Should Belleville win, it would play for the sectional championship either today or tomorrow. If the Lady Bucs lost, then the 1991 campaign would be over.

In addition to the win over Cranford, Belleville topped Teaneck 8-6, Montclair 10-3 and Paramus Catholic 3-0. The girls only lost last week came against Nutley, 11-5. One bad inning did the girls in against the Raiders.

"This was a big week for our team," Corino said. "We came into the week with a 12-9 mark and some difficult match-ups. This team has shown steady improvement all year long. I can't say enough about their effort. We've won 16 games so far and I wasn't too sure we would be able to do that at the start of the season."

Against Teaneck, Kim Piscitowski pitched a solid game for Belleville. Lynn Giachetti hit a triple in the fifth inning that drove home the game winning run. Danielle DeWerk led the Belleville offense with five RBI's.

In the Montclair game, Keri Wendling tossed a complete game and the offense was paced by Colleen Mannion (3 for 4, 2 RBI's) and Piscitowski (2 for 4). Sue Spiroch hit a two run triple.

Corino was especially pleased with the 3-0 victory over Paramus Catholic last Wednesday.

"Good pitching, good defense," the coach said. "It was our first shutout of the year. Games like that are very encouraging."

Throwing Belleville's first shutout of the season was Piscitowski, who allowed just three hits.

Belleville scored one run in the top of the first. Jennifer Citarella singled and scored when Mannion reached on an error and the throw ended up down the rightfield line.

The score remained 1-0 until the top of the seventh. There, Mannion and Giachetti singled. Piscitowski then hit a ball that was mishandled and Mannion and Giachetti both scored on the play.

The state tournament contest was another impressive win. There, Belleville received a well pitched game and took advantage of timely hitting.

The Lady Bucs were the visiting team even though the game was held at Clearmont Field.

In the top of the third, with the game scoreless, Mannion walked and stole second base. She came around to score on a DeWerk single.

Cranford tied the game in the bottom of the third, but Belleville came right back with two in the fourth.

Cary Woodruff walked and Kristin Galatiotti reached safely on a throwing error. Spiroch hit a sac bunt, moving the runners to second and third. Mannion then connected for a two run double, giving Belleville a 3-1 lead.

In the sixth, Citarella was hit by a pitch to start the inning. She stole second and third base. Mannion and Giachetti walked to load the bases and DeWerk lined a single to score Citarella with the fourth Lady Buc run.

Cranford rallied for two runs in the last of the sixth. Wendling relieved Piscitowski, the Belleville starter in the sixth, and hurled 1 2/3 innings of solid relief.

Piscitowski got credit for the victory, her third of the week. Wendling was credited with the save.

Offensively, Mannion was 2 for 2 and drove home two runs. DeWerk was 2 for 3 and also drove home two. Belleville appeared to be on its way to a big win against league rival Nutley. However, a poor sixth inning allowed the Raiderettes to score eight times and rally for the victory.

"That would have been a nice win for us," Corino said of the Nutley game. "We were playing pretty well for five innings, but the roof caved in in the sixth. Considering the type of week we had, I'm not too disappointed. As I've said, we're a young team and we'll make mistakes."

Belleville jumped out to a 3-1 lead after one inning and increased the margin to 5-2 after four. Nutley narrowed the lead to 5-3 in the fifth, then scored the eight runs in the sixth.

"We committed five errors in the sixth inning," Corino said. "We could have been out of the inning without any runs, instead we went from two runs up to six runs down. We'll learn from a game like this."

Citarella and Piscitowski had two hits each. Piscitowski pitched the first 5 1/3 innings and Wendling tossed the final 1 2/3.

NOTES: Belleville will be without the services of Christine Sansone for the rest of the season. She has a case of the chicken pox.

Corino had praise for the play of Mannion, who has been the catcher for most of the season.

"It was a new position for Colleen and she responded to it," the coach said. "She has also been one of our best offensive players."

Corino also had praise for the play of DeWerk at first base and at the plate. He is also happy with the performance of Giachetti, Piscitowski and Wendling.

Cobras capture sixth, defeat North Hunterdon Colts, 4-1

The Belleville Soccer Association Division One Cobras increased their record to 6-0-1 with a 4-1 win over the North Hunterdon Colts.

The contest was Belleville's second outing against the Colts, the first game resulting in a tie. The Cobras came out scoring early when, at the 12 minute mark, Joe Salamancra crossed a corner kick to Belleville's high scorer, Jim Wandling. North Hunterdon responded seven minutes later on a cross pattern, tying up the score.

At the start of the second half, Greg Delmotte gave a led pass to Wandling as he was breaking up the left side and Wandling slammed the ball into the net putting Belleville into the lead. Despite many controversial calls by the official, one of which involved the unwarranted ejection of a Belleville player for questioning a call, Wandling got the hat trick unassisted at 30 minutes into the second half on a quick turn from the 15 yard line.

Belleville wasn't finished yet as Daren Lewis followed two shots on goal to place the final score of the game, putting the Cobras' goalkeeper, tying Belleville on top 4-1.

Exceptionally strong play was exhibited by the Cobras defense of Steve Vogel, Ian Loneragan, Mike Gonzalez and Franco Vitella.

Commenting on the game, assistant coach Tim Cook noted "It's hard enough to play the Colts." They have an excellent team. The officiating was definitely not in Belleville's favor," referring to the fact that the Cobras were forced to play the last 25 minutes of the game with only ten players on the field.

Monday 'A' league starts

The three top teams in the Monday "A" League opened their 1991 seasons with doubleheader sweeps last week. Rosenthal's won 10-4 over Park Ave. Chiropractic and 14-

2 over Roselli's Amoco; Ritacco Bros. topped Roselli's 12-10 and Belleville Pub 11-2; while Printing Techniques edged Belleville Pub 4-3 and rallied past Park Ave. 9-2.

Michael's Roscommon House (3-0) is atop the Tuesday "B" League at (3-0) after defeating both Nutley Pet and Essex Design Contractors by the same 14-2 score. Sidbars Disposal (2-1) defeated Wallace & Tiernan 16-4 and B.P.S.C. 10-4; while Essex Design (2-1) won 4-2 over B.P.S.C. (1-2) and Nutley Pet (1-2) topped W & T

Bellwood Kennels (2-0) jumped out in front of the Wednesday "A" League with victories over Fine Line Graphics 7-0 and Megaro 11-6. Fine Lines (1-1) defeated the Aces 5-3; the Aces (1-1) edged Rosmore Pharmacy 7-6; Rosmore (1-1) edged Reunion 3-2; and Reunion (1-1) topped Megaro 7-4.

Andros Farms (3-0) leads the Thursday "B" League after recording wins over Philmore Associates 10-3 and Haynes Security 10-9. Haynes (2-1) bested Veniero Trucking 8-4; Chandelier (2-1) won a pair, beating Ab-Tech Printing 7-6 in eight innings and 8-7 over Veniero (1-2) and Philmore (1-2) beat Ab-Tech (0-3) by a 10-5 tally.

Tennis team wins first round county match, Sam Na stars

The Belleville tennis team has found the going tough over the past few weeks. Nonetheless, there have been some excellent individual performances as the season winds down.

Tony Salese's club was scheduled to play its final match of the '91 season this afternoon, at Emerson. Entering the final week of the season, the Bucs were 4-20. However, the team did accomplish something it hadn't done in eight years, win an opening round match in the Essex County tournament.

The Bucs defeated Glen Ridge, 3-2 in the tourney, then lost a 5-0 decision to Caldwell.

"It was far to be in the winners bracket," Salese said. "We knew the competition was going to be tough, but it was good experience for our team."

Against Glen Ridge, Sam Na won at first singles by scores of 3-6, 6-1 and 7-6 (7-3 in the tie-breaker).

Mark Mellinger prevailed at second singles, rallying to win, 6-7 (0-7), 6-4 and 6-3.

At third singles, Seymon Kogan won in three sets, 6-3, 3-6 and 6-4.

In league matches, Belleville dropped 3-2 decisions to Hackensack, Paramus Catholic and St.

Joe's.

In the Hackensack match, Na won in straight sets at first singles, 7-5 and 6-1. Mellinger also won in straight sets at second singles, 6-2, 6-1.

Versus Paramus Catholic, Na came away with a straight set win, 6-1, 6-4 playing at second singles. Mellinger won a hard fought match at third singles, 6-4, 7-6 (7-2).

Against St. Joe's, it was Na and Mellinger winning again, Na prevailing at second singles 6-4, 6-1 and Mellinger cruising 6-2, 6-1 at third singles.

The first doubles team dropped a three set heartbreaker in the St. Joe's match.

The second doubles team of Amol Shah and Lee Gryzinski won in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1 in St. Benedict's match for Belleville's only victory.

Against Teaneck, Na was the lone Belleville victor, winning in straight sets at second singles, 6-1, 6-2.

For the season, Na leads the Bucs with a very impressive 16-7 record. He has played four matches at first singles and the remainder at second singles.

Strikers defeat Wayne

The Division III Strikers of the Belleville Soccer Association added another win to their record by defeating previously unbeaten Wayne 3-0 (2-1) 3-1.

The win enabled the Strikers to improve their record to 4-1-1 and move back into first place of the Premier Division III, in the Jersey Hills Soccer League.

The Strikers, sponsored by the Junior Women's Club, played their finest game of the spring season by showing, on a hot and humid day, to be a team to be reckoned with. The first half, tied at 1-1 on a 25-yard goal by defender Joe Sabatino, was no indication of what was to happen.

The Strikers came out strong and fast, scoring early and totaling four goals before the game ended. Scoring in the second half was provided by Joe Galucci with three goals and Santiago Salme with one.

The game was an example of total team effort. Players providing scoring support were: Nick Colucci, Ivan Martin, Jim Berg, Rich Pollak, Tony DeCarlo and Robin Guevara. The defense, which allowed only five goals in six games was lead by goalkeeper Vic Mesce and defenders Steve Collett, Mike Guzman, Frank Toledo and Steve Dieguez.
