Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

Kathy McGuire Windsor contacted us recently, seeking information about the Belleville High School Class of 1971. She assumes there will be a 20th Reunion sometime this year, but she has not had any word on it. She can be contacted at 13 Oak Hollow Court, Voorhees, NJ 08043. ●●●●● Dr. Manny Alfano is District Governor for UNICO and his current project is to organize a local chapter of the service organization. It is astounding to realize that Belleville does not have its own UNICO chapter. Dr. Alfano said that the town did have a chapter, but that it fell apart over some political argument. As if Italian-Americans ever had arguments! The special appeal of UNICO is that it encourages appreciation of Italian heritage while contributing to the good of American society. Besides, as an actor said in a recent movie, "A country that was discovered by one Italian and named after another Italian must be an Italian country." Dr. Alfano said he wants to recruit 20 men of Italian lineage to form the chapter, and keep Belleville in the mainstream of civilization. He can be reached at (201) 429-2818. ●●●●● Mattie Scherer has been custodian at the Belleville Middle School for 27 years, and is a major reason why the veteran structures that make up the school are as clean and graffiti-free as they are. The surroundings in which the students spend their formal learning time are important, and the maintenance of Board of Education property is something the taxpayers should appreciate. The original building that housed the high school until its move to newer and brighter quarters was built in the 1920s. The newer section was built in the Depression era by the Works Projects Administration, and the WPA did a good job. "They had the best people around, good workers who needed a job," Scherer said. The result is a solidly built pair of buildings with many years of good service left in them. Scherer is a native of the Down Neck section of Newark, and he came to Belleville because he found a lifetime job at the Pittsburgh Paint Co. plant, which was followed by a lifetime job at McKesson and Robbins, which also closed down. Then he did find a lifetime job that extended beyond October, joining the staff of the Board of Education. His son, Matthew, Jr., is also with the Board of Education. Their mission: keep the schools available for future generations, or self destruct. ●●●●● Councilman William Cook says there are many good workers available in these slow economic times, making it a good time to do public works jobs. "The contractors are eager to work," he said, as the town prepares to launch a $2.5 million capital improvement program. The councilman is an engineer by trade, with Hoffmann-La Roche, and if you think Belleville is launching a major road and building improvement effort, think of Hoffmann-La Roche's $170 million plant renovation. Boy, does that take a lot of headache pills to underwrite! The Swiss-owned pharmaceuticals manufacturer has been riding out the Recession nicely, and there is no talk of layoffs in the foreseeable future. Of course, the firm forestalled layoffs in the immediate future by dropping 1,100 employees a short time ago. It wasn't that the company was losing money, it was just that the accountants had projected a flattening of earnings. So the layoffs came on the principle that if anyone was going to suffer, it wasn't going to be the accountants.

Politics at observances

An intrusion of politics into Memorial Day services came with the appearance of two political candidates at Belleville ceremonies, Monday, with Primary Election Day next Tuesday.

Featured as the principal speakers, Assemblyman John Kelly, seeking re-election, and Anthony Imperiale, candidate for Essex County Sheriff, spoke at the ceremony held at the Union Avenue Veterans Memorial.

Kelly, who is unopposed for the Republican nomination to the Assembly, spoke briefly, attacking "the media" for what he called the distorted view of the Vietnam conflict which he said had poisoned American opinion of Vietnam veterans.

Imperiale, a former Newark Councilman from the Fourth Ward, dominated the ceremonies with a 15-minute oration that touched on law and order, Communism, his religious convictions and the laying off of county police officers, a move which he denounced as weakening law and order.

Imperiale is seeking the Republican nomination for Sheriff, and he faces Freeholder Arthur L. Clay, a former Undersheriff, and Louis E. Greenleaf, formerly with the Essex County Prosecutor's office, who has the endorsement of the Essex County Republican Organization.

Clay has issued a campaign flyer in which he prints the photos of himself, Imperiale and Greenleaf, who is black.

On the Democratic side, Acting Sheriff Armando B. Fontoura faces Ralph Grant of Newark for their party's nomination for Sheriff. Grant has campaigned in Newark and Orange, urging blacks to vote for black candidates. Fontoura says he is basing his claim for the nomination on his 25 years of experience in the Sheriff's office.

Both parties have primary contests to fill the unexpired term of the late Freeholder-at-large Michael Delehanty. Because Mr. Delehanty was a Democrat, the Democratic Party had the right to name a Democrat to fill the post until the November general election.

Linda Lordi Cavanaugh, daughter of former Essex County Prosecutor Joseph Lordi, was given the post. She is seeking renomination, and her opponent is a political ally of Grant, Gerald Johnson, who also has been calling for the election of black candidates to office.

On the Republican side, Albert S. Pamullo, who ran unsuccessfully for Freeholder last year, is opposed by Philip M. Nufrio, who has the endorsement of the regular organization. Pamullo has allied himself with Clay, as an insurgent slate.

The only other primary fight in the area is in the 36th Legislative District, where former Belleville Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto is opposing two candidates endorsed by the Essex Democratic Organization, Alfred Restaino of Nutley and Louis Gill of Passaic, for nomination to the Assembly.

Missing from the primary lists is the name of Senator Carmen Orechio, who currently represents the towns of Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield. Bloomfield will be part of the 34th District. Nutley and Belleville have been carved into the 36th District.

A resident of Nutley, Senator Orechio could have sought renomination in the 36th District. Instead, he chose to support the renomination of Democrat Gabriel Ambrosio, who is unopposed in the primary. Also unopposed for Senate nomination in the 36th District is Republican John Scott of Lyndhurst.

In the 34th District, Republican Senator Joseph Bubba of Wayne is unopposed for renomination, as are Assembly members Marion Crecco of Bloomfield and Gerald Zecker of Passaic County. Opposing them in November will be Joseph Mecca of Wayne, for Senate, and Sabina O'Brien and Victor Rabbat, both of Passaic County, for Assembly.

In the 34th District, Robert Zitka is seeking election to the County Committee, facing regular organization candidates Todd Heuer and Lorraine Heuer.

Most eyes will be on the contests for Sheriff nomination. Imperiale is expected to make inroads into areas where Clay normally gets support, and Greenleaf's chances depend on how many party regulars respond to the regular organization's endorsement of him.

In the Democratic primary, Fontoura will need strong support outside of Newark to defeat Grant, who is expected to garner most of the big city vote.

Budget confab set by county

The Passaic County Superintendent of Schools has invited members of the Belleville Town Council and the Board of Education to discuss "problems among the members" in the wake of a half-million-dollar reduction in the school budget mandated by the council.

The council agreed to have the conference, where objections to the cuts may be aired. There is also a possibility that some of the cuts may be in violation of state law, but this was not made specific at Tuesday's meeting of the council.

In a fairly low key meeting, the only fireworks were generated by former Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni, when he accused Councilman Frank Messina of using Public Works employees to load debris from Messina's property onto a township truck.

"I hate to disappoint you, Vince," Messina said, "but that was my own truck, and I did the loading myself, for three days."

"Wasn't it a yellow truck?" Frantantoni asked.

"No," Messina responded. "It was a red truck."

Belleville High School students taking part in Student Government

Day were on hand as the council session began. One of them, Cynthia Adams, function as Town Clerk, stayed through the entire session.

Social Studies Supervisor Richard Graves thanked the council for affording the students the opportunity to observe the workings of municipal government at first hand.

The council rejected several applications for limousine licenses, stating that the recent proliferation of limousine licenses required some policy to be set in granting and administering them.

The best news of the evening came for residents of the Silver Lake area, where a long awaited drainage program will be started, with a $79,370 appropriation. The program has been in 10 years in the planning stage.

One person shouted, "There'll be no more life guard on the avenue Victory!"

The school budget stayed on people's minds, with one person urging the closing of School 9 as an economy measure. The Council quickly denied that it had made any such suggestion.

IN REMEMBRANCE - Robert Browning, chairman of the Belleville Memorial Day Observance, speaks at the tribute held before the Veterans War Memorial on Union Avenue.

Fatality on Route 21

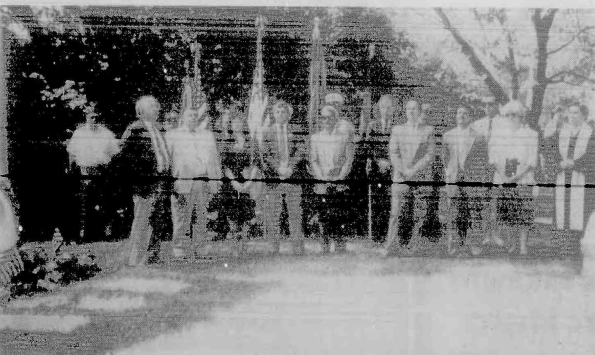

A lost license plate led to a fatal accident on Route 21 on May 22.

Police said that the passenger car of Robert Lazerowitz, 59, of Fair Lawn plowed into the rear of a truck that had been halted in the northbound center lane of Route 21, near the Rutgers Street exit.

The driver of the truck, Jimmie Frierson, 41, of Paterson, had stopped the vehicle to retrieve a lost license plate, police said. Mr. Frierson had just started the truck again when the accident occurred.

Mr. Lazerowitz was pronounced dead at the scene by the MIC unit of Clara Maass Hospital.

Mr. Frierson could face motor vehicle violations charges for stopping his truck in the middle of the highway.

Middle School students will use their after school time to assist town residents with springtime chores, Student Council Advisor William Hollis reports.

The program, sponsored by the council, is a repeat of last year's successful program, in which student volunteers did babysitting, shopping, dog walking, tutoring, shopping, lawn care and housecleaning, among other helpful work, at no charge, for their neighbors and other residents.

The services will be available until June 20, and applicants for help may contact the council by telephoning the Middle School at 450-3332.

Callers may leave their names, telephone numbers and addresses. A student will return the call and set up an appointment or work schedule.

Fornarotto seeks nod for District assembly

Joseph T. Fornarotto, a former commissioner and a building maintenance inspector with the Township of Belleville, will seek the nomination in the June 9 primary for the 36th District for the Assembly.

The new district now includes the towns of Belleville, Nutley, Passaic, Lyndhurst, North Arlington, Rutherford, East Rutherford, Wallington and Carlstadt.

Fornarotto said this will be his first bid for a state office. If elected, he will fill the seat in the new 36th District which includes Essex and Bergen towns.

Fornarotto, running as an Independent Democrat, has been a regular Democrat for 40 years. He said people are tax conscious and feels, as an Independent, he will work for all the people.

Fornarotto said his main goal will be to fight to stop the tunnel going into the Passaic River, equalize taxes for all and help all senior citizens who need housing and rent subsidies.

As a U.S. Navy veteran and having worked for Essex County, the State of N.J. and 16 years with the Township of Belleville, Fornarotto said it makes him qualified to work in Trenton to serve the people.

This past Municipal Election, May 14, the results of elections that were held, showed that most of the regular Democrats were beaten, he said. The people have a good chance on June 4 in the 36th District, to vote for an Independent Democrat to serve them.

Joseph Fornarotto

Salute set for retirees

A dinner honoring four recently retired members of the Belleville Police Department will be held June 13, 7 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Bridge Street, dinner chairman Sergeant Joseph Rotonda has announced.

Those honored will be Captain Al Koelsch, Captain Joseph Oese, Lieutenant Nick Berrigan and Detective Bart Rossi.

Sergeant Rotonda said that tickets may be obtained by calling 450-3333.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The thought-provoking section of the newspaper generally provided on its editorial pages often offered thought stimulating views of syndicated writers such as Richard Reeves who recently wrote an article called "The business of America turns deadly."

It reads, "A lawyer I know, prefacing his remarks by saying he was making no moral judgments - do they ever? - said that the gulf war was a good thing, that it would be a real shot in the arm for American business."

"Why?" I asked. "Weapons," he said. "We've got the best in the world, and everybody saw that. They'll all want them. We've got something to sell now."

President Bush agrees, making no moral judgments either, and is urging American arms manufacturers to cash in on the free advertising broadcast during the short war. Get out there and cut that trade deficit.

Perhaps we have found an economic cycle we can live with, a logical if lethal extension of supply-economics: Sell arms to the lunatic leaders of small countries, then declare them a threat to world order and pulverize them with state-of-the-art weapons, creating new markets for the new stuff, including the resupply of the countries destroyed. That was what the rich countries did with Saddam Hussein's Iraq.

"The business of America is business," said one of Bush's predecessors, President Calvin Coolidge. And death and destruction are great business. If anyone wants to quibble about such things as right and wrong, there is a killer riposte: "If we don't do it, someone else will." Why should we let the Chinese or the Brazilians or other second-rate countries make money selling their missiles and planes and guns and bombs to third-rate countries with fourth-rate leaders?

The world wants first-rate weapons, American weapons. Quality sells. And who are we to deprive them? This could be a fairness issue. This is the white man's burden too, if the Japanese go back into the arms business. That seems a real possibility to me in terms of both economics and Japan's long-range national interest as a superpower dealing with a militarily assertive United States.

If you were running Japan, would you sit back and do nothing while an economically frustrated United States was both the world's chief of police and chief arms supplier?

Can anything be done about the profitable proliferation of military technology? Yes, if the United States and other rich countries really wanted to do something about it.

The rich countries' club, the lenders of last resort for poor countries, the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, met last week. The IMF and the bank provide loans for poor countries and, in return, demand "economic reforms" - a euphemism for more free-market capitalism.

To get the money, in the form of credits from the rich countries, the borrowers have to meet IMF-dictated reforms.

Usually that means both higher taxes and sharp reductions in government employment and in vaguely socialist spending, especially for the kind of subsidies that promote domestic tranquility, keeping down gasoline and food prices, or for free education or health care.

But the IMF has traditionally stayed away from dictating any reductions in even the most irrational military spending. So there are many countries where governments are more willing to double or triple bread and cooking oil prices than they are to buy one less American tank to use in case there are bread riots in the countryside.

By collective security agreements guaranteed by the United Nations and regional treaty organizations - in other words, a new world order. "Why shouldn't the arms-exporting countries impose on themselves a common discipline? Couldn't they study carefully the possibility of a ban on export credits for arms sales to the Middle East?... Think of the harmful consequences of excessive spending on arms for the budgets, balances of payments and the debt situation of developing countries." They could if they wanted to, but it would take the consent of the United States, which effectively controls the IMF and World Bank.

OUR OPINION

Thank You, Lord

Thank you, Lord, for simple things that brighten every day like sunshine in the morning and daffodils in May.

Thank you, too, for friends who care
when tears begin to fall and thank you, too, for answered prayer...
the greatest gift of all!

Thank you for each spring bouquet and for the summer rose, for rainbows in the meadow and every stream that flows.

Thank you, Lord, for simple things which really are quite grand for each one is a miracle wrought by the Master's hand!
—Clay Harrison

Seamy politics

One of the unpleasant aspects of the primary campaign has been an element of racism injected by two candidates for Essex County Sheriff. Freeholder Arthur Clay, seeking the Republican nomination for Essex County Sheriff, has issued a campaign piece which takes pains to indicate that one of his competitors, Louis Greenleaf, is black.

We deplore any appeal to racism, whether it is an attempt to have blacks vote for blacks, or whites for whites, solely on the basis of race.

We also happen to endorse Mr. Greenleaf in the Republican primary. We are not convinced of the capabilities of either of his opponents, Freeholder Clay or Newark's own Anthony Imperiale, a perennial candidate for any vacancy that comes along.

Our endorsement in the Democratic primary is Acting Sheriff Armando Fontoura, both because he is eminently qualified for the post after 25 years in the Sheriff's Department, and because his opponent, Newark Councilman Ralph Grant has also resorted to a racist appeal for votes. Of all the candidates in either party, Mr. Fontoura is the best by far.

In the new 36th District in which Nutley and Belleville find themselves, there is a primary battle of sorts on the Democratic line. Former Belleville Commissioner Joseph Fornarotto is opposing the candidacies of Alfred Restaino of Nutley and Louis Gill of Passaic for State Assembly. Both Mr. Gill and Mr. Restaino are far more qualified to represent the district in Trenton than Mr. Fornarotto, and we wish them a well earned success in November, as well. Senator Gabriel Ambrosio is unopposed for the Democratic nomination, and has our endorsement. The Republican Senate hopeful is John Scott, a completely unknown quantity, even in his home town of Lyndhurst. Unopposed for renomination in the 36th District is Assemblyman John Kelly. Also seeking the Republican Assembly nomination is Paul DiGaetano.

In the 34th District, which includes Bloomfield, Republican Joseph Bubba of Wayne is seeking renomination to the Senate. Unopposed in the Democratic primary for Senate is Joseph Mecca, also of Passaic County.

One of the oddities of the whole redistricting scheme has been that with the exception of Senator Richard Codey of West Orange, Suburban Essex will not have a single Essex County resident representing it in the Senate, anywhere.

Two other Essex Senators reside in the county, but they represent the City of Newark.

It is ridiculous that the largest county in the state should have its Senate interests represented by people from Bergen, Passaic, Morris and Union Counties, but that is the way the Legislature drew the lines.

This is something to think about the next time either party comes to Suburban Essex to solicit support, financial and otherwise.

YOUR OPINION

Crecco for initiative Zecca thanks friends

To the editor:

As the prime co-sponsor of ACR-63 which provides for initiative and referendum in New Jersey, I am pleased to be named as a member of the Assembly Republican Task Force which will work on this issue.

Establishing a method of I & R in New Jersey is long overdue. 26 states already have some sort of initiative and referendum in place for their citizens, and this is a right that should be given to the voters of New Jersey.

It is true that we live in a representative government, however, there are times when the elected officials do not represent those they were elected to serve. When this happens, or when the citizenry feels they have been deceived, they should have the opportunity to take matters into their own hands.

Very often, there are legislators who take their constituency for granted. These elected officials must be made fully aware that they can not continue to follow their own agenda and ignore the people, or they will not be returned to the Legislature. Instituting initiative and referendum is one method of restoring government to the people.

I have cosponsored legislation to provide initiative and referendum in New Jersey since I was first elected to the General Assembly in 1983. As such, I urge the Democratic leadership of the legislature to act this year and release this bill from committee exactly as we present it and give the power of initiative and referendum to the taxpayers of New Jersey.

Marion Crecco
Assemblywoman District 30

To the editor:

On April 27, the Concerned Citizens of Belleville held a beautiful ceremony at the Branch Brook Manor and presented me with a lovely plaque and monetary award for winning the essay contest entitled, "What I Would Do To Better My Community." I wish to thank the committee for a memorable and enjoyable evening. I would also like to thank all who attended, especially those who were responsible for coordinating this special evening. A special thanks is deserving to CCB president Vincent Frantantoni, and his wife Phyllis, for their combined efforts in making this evening a success.

Denise Zecca

To the editor:

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Italian Florentine Junior Woman's Club for the outpouring of love and support showed during my recent illness.

Also I want to personally thank the Belleville Police Department, Belleville Fire Department and all my family and friends that have donated blood in my behalf.

Special thanks to Melinda Troise for coordinating the blood drive.

Donna Rotunda Guyette

Don't blame School 9

To the editor:

Once again I feel School No. 9's voting district has taken the blame for something it may not be responsible for.

There were two districts voting there. You cannot state that it was School No. 9's district that voted down the budget, when it could have been Christ Church's district, which also voted there.

Let's not be so quick to point a finger without all the facts.

Mrs. Debbie Stefanello

A family's thanks

To the editor:

This letter is long overdue. We'd like to thank firemen Dave Murnock and George Royston for all their compassion, support and gentleness on the night my brother was dying from cancer. Dave and George are exceptional men and a credit to our town.

We'd like to extend our thanks to the Belleville policeman who stayed with us until 2 a.m. Our thanks to the Essex County Coroner, Mrs. Vitellio.

We shall never forget these beautiful people.

Marion Lee and son Anthony

A money raiser?

To the editor:

Since the township is so hard up for cash that we're facing the prospect of higher property taxes — again, for the umpteenth year in a row — we've come up with an idea to help raise revenue by leaps and bounds.

Simply stop a Belleville cop at the top of the hill at the Rutgers Street/Hornblower Avenue intersection from time to time. Since we live nearby, we can vouch that barely 10 percent of the cars coming up that hill ever actually stop at the very visible Stop signs at that location.

If the cops were to ticket even a fraction of the several hundred cars a day which travel this route which don't stop at the stop sign, the township would be rolling in cash in a matter of months! (That is, if these motorists pay up!) Not only that, but since getting a ticket for going through a stop sign is a moving violation, these jerks who drive like maniacs up that hill would also get points against their licenses, and then have to pay an insurance surcharge! We'd be helping the state out of its fiscal mess, too!

Come on, Chief, try it! You'll see!

The Nahirny Family

• ESSEX County Democrat Sheriff candidate, Ralph Grant, Jr., filed a line designation for the Primary Ballot four days beyond the deadline. Superior Court Judge Alvin Weiss ruled that Grant's filing did not bear the same slogan as the other individuals as required by state statute.

After learning of the judge's decision, Grant issued a statement saying, "It's unfortunate that Afro-Americans who have labored long in the Democratic vineyard and who've been supportive of every ethnic persuasion, now find the rules being changed when we come to bat for the purpose of the public being able to find their names on the ballot in a consistent manner." Grant's statement is a continuing emphasis on race. A couple of months ago, 25 black ministers demanded that the office of the Sheriff and the office of Essex County Prosecutor be filled with blacks. To them, it doesn't matter whether white candidates are better qualified or white incumbents are performing an excellent job, worthy of the black community, the emphasis is on color — a sad commentary of our times.

• NUTLEY'S Water Department Superintendent Anthony Monaco recently retired with the best wishes of the Township Commission and a framed, handlettered resolution to prove it. Tony Monaco has been an able, loyal, dedicated town employee. For 38 years, he was always at the ready — taking on any job, however unpleasant, and performing well at any task to which he was assigned, on weekends too.

In his retirement, we wish Tony the best of happiness and good health.

• STICKLETT's Armando Fontoura is the Democratic organizational candidate for election to the job of Essex County Sheriff. Sheriff Fontoura is the most qualified candidate of either party to succeed himself in the office which he obtained by appointment. The Essex County Sheriff's Office is nationally recognized for its competence, a reputation acquired under the leadership of former Sheriff Tom D'Alessio, our present Essex County Executive.

For the last five years, Fontoura has been the understudy to D'Alessio. Fontoura learned his job well, from one of the most experienced and able sheriffs in America. A life-long Democrat, Fontoura is a graduate of the FBI National Academy in Washington, D.C. His law enforcement experience started in 1967 when he joined the Newark Police Department, and through various civil service examinations, he rose to the command rank of Captain before D'Alessio tapped him as his principal assistant in the Essex County Sheriff's Office.

Fontoura implemented a full service Bomb Unit. He initiated a full service K 9 Unit which plays an important part in drug detection and location of explosive devices and missing persons.

Fontoura supervised the Bandit Squad and coordinated a Task Force of 18 detectives and a team of FBI agents on a special project involving solution to bank robberies. All this experience points to one important fact — Sheriff Fontoura doesn't need any on the job training — he is ready. Although a Democrat, Fontoura's management of the Sheriff's Office is non-political. With an even hand of justice, Fontoura manages the office with the same efficient manner that his predecessor, Tom D'Alessio did for six years.

By any measure — by any standard — an objective person must conclude that Fontoura has superior credentials to hold the job of Essex County Sheriff. When he is not on the job, Fontoura enjoys his off time with his loving family, his wife, Mary, and three daughters.

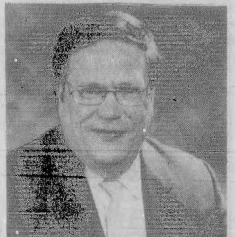

Armando Fontoura

The Bergen-Passaic Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society recently held its annual Dinner of Champions. The guest of honor was Donald C. Vaillancourt, Corporate Vice President of Communications and Consumer Affairs for Grand Union. Don Vaillancourt, an attorney, was the founder and first Chairman of the Board of the Family Council of the Essex County Veterans Center, a county center for the aged and needy. This group was awarded a special citation for volunteerism by the White House and was cited by President Reagan as an excellent example of private enterprise/governmental partnership.

Vaillancourt is a member of the Board of Regents of Felician College in Lodi, where he was honored in 1990 with the college's Founder's Day Award. Born in Newark, Vaillancourt received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Thomas Edison College, a Master of Arts degree from William Paterson College and a Juris Doctor degree from Pace University School of Law. He is currently matriculated for the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Fordham University. All of these college and university credits were earned attending the institutions in the evenings and weekends. Vaillancourt lives in Nutley with his wife, Diana.

Donald C. Vaillancourt

• NUTLEY'S Jack Gorman brings his rich Nutley Zoning Board experience to the Essex County Planning Board. There's a solid citizen in Nutley ever had one — a role model for volunteers — but wouldn't you know, after 20 years of volunteer service, sometimes working into the night, he got the boot without any prior notice. Is that a nice way to treat a decent fellow? Something to remember when people go to the polls to cast their ballots. Decency should be a pre-requisite for holding public office.

The Sergio Robles family of Nutley has a surprise for us. Three members of the family spend a good deal of time operating Robles Family Restaurant at 371 46th Street, between 8th and 9th Avenue in New York City. The specialty is Chilean food, but American and Italian menu items are also available.

Mary Kay speaker addresses cosmetology club

By Allison Zampino

Ruth Malamud, a senior director for Mary Kay Cosmetics, was the guest of the Belleville High School Cosmetology Club at their March 4 meeting. Malamud assisted in computer analysis makeovers for three BHS students, juniors Courtney Garry and Elena Nieves, and sophomore Nizelle Guadalupe. The students completed computer forms, which were analyzed through the use of a computer program used in the headquarters of Mary Kay in Dallas, Texas. The three girls each received individualized results.

Among the characteristics analyzed were skin tone, eye and hair color, and the individual's preferred color of clothing. The students received tips on applying makeup according to the results of their individualized report.

Gerard Risoli, a hair colorist at Le Shoppe in West Orange, was also a guest of the cosmetology club. Risoli demonstrated "highlights" and "lowlights" on a student model, senior Kim Ventola, while presenting the proper application of foil highlights and corrective coloring. Risoli discussed the importance of professional workmanship, adding that "a good colorist's work is his best advertisement."

BHS business students win awards

By Colleen Coppia

The Tri-Town Business & Professional Women's Club of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley is proud to announce that two Belleville High School seniors will be the recipients of awards.

Jacqueline Warnock will be awarded a $600 scholarship to be employed at the college of her choice.

Mary Ann Smith will be the recipient of $100 cash award for placing first in a typing contest.

Smith is also the recipient of a half tuition scholarship to the Citicore Institute from the NJCOBEA (N.J. Cooperative Office Education Coordinators Association). Smith scored high on the aptitude test required for acceptance to the Institute. Loraine Strollo, BHS business teacher, stated, "Mary Ann is a good student and works hard in her Co-op Education Program in the Law Department of Hoffmann-La Roche."

Miniature golf fund-raiser aids NHS

By Denise Zecca

Miniature golf is an activity that is enjoyed by many. But, did you ever think of it as a fund-raiser? Members of the Belleville High School chapter of the National Honor Society did. With the help of NHS advisor, Elsie Winship, each member received a booklet of ten tickets to be sold for $4 each. The profit raised from this fund-raiser will go to reimburse each member for their induction dinner. Tickets may be purchased by contacting any NHS member or Winship.

Yearbooks still available

By Gina DelGuercio

Do you want to be the only student left in Belleville High School without a yearbook? If not, you better move fast. To purchase one of these fascinating yearbooks, see Mr. Salese in room 154 as soon as possible. The cost for two volumes is $45. A deposit of $10 may be placed and the balance must be paid by the end of the month.

Attention seniors - time is running out! Books are scarce! Don't let these memories slip away!

Job placement score

A two-year program based in Belleville and aimed at putting severely retarded or impaired adults into the job market has resulted in the placement of 30 of 36 persons, according to Curt Flaherty, head of the Adult Training Program of the Association for Retarded Citizens of Essex County, Inc.

The success of the program, coupled with the need to conserve funds, has led to the closing of the Belleville training center, but six other centers remain in Essex County.

Those who have not yet been placed in jobs from the Belleville center will continue to receive training at the other centers, Flaherty said.

The major employer has been Pathmark Supermarkets, which has hired 17 adult clients of the Association. Other employers include a factory in Clifton, and various cleaner and lawn care services.

Pathmark pays each client employee $4,420 a year, plus benefits, holidays and vacations. At the outset, the employees did cleaning chores, then were graduated to stock inventory work. The Association pays for a supervisor, usually one to each four clients, to guide and assist the client employees.

"There was some initial resistance from their peers," Flaherty said, "but this changed. In fact, when a problem arose that made us feel we would have to withdraw the clients, their peers got together and found a solution to the problem so that the clients could remain."

County-wide, some 280 adults are receiving training at the centers which are located in East Orange, Irvington, Montclair, Newark, Nutley and South Orange.

"Any client can do the job," Flaherty said. "The issue is - what level of supports are needed?"

"Improving the supports is the point, not changing the client."

The Belleville High School News is a feature of the Belleville Times. It runs weekly, space allowing.

All stories are written by the students of Mr. Anthony Salese's journalism class. Their work is coordinated by student editor Denise Zecca.

Your children's nutrition can be as easy as A-B-C

Doctor warns not everyone should reduce dietary cholesterol and fat

Men and dad may thrive on a low fat, low cholesterol diet. But feeding it to their tots could be more harmful than healthy.

Though most adults know that too much fat and cholesterol is bad for them, millions of Americans—infants and toddlers under two—could be harmed by reducing dietary fat and cholesterol.

Studies, such as one conducted by Dr. Fima Lifshitz of Cornell University Medical Center in New York, show that infants placed on a low fat, low cholesterol diet may not grow and develop normally. Found for pound, even a growing teenager requires fewer calories than a developing infant, and because of babies' small stomachs, they need foods that provide a concentrated source of calories.

Why fat is important for infants

Fat is a vitally important source of calories for infants and young children.

Fat is an excellent source of calories, providing more than twice as many calories per gram as either protein or carbohydrate.

Fat also provides a feeling of fullness and satisfaction.

Fat provides essential nutrients important for proper growth and brain development.

Fat is needed to carry and absorb the fat soluble vitamins A, D, E, and K.

Fats are a source of the essential fatty acids needed for growth, which cannot be compounded by the body.

REDUCED FAT MILKS, especially skim milk, are not recommended for babies less than two years old, because they may not provide enough calories, according to Gerber Products Company nutritionists.

Fats contain cholesterol, which is necessary for babies.

The body uses stored fat as an energy reserve when metabolic demands are increased, for example, during illness or during growth spurts in infancy and adolescence.

Fat is an important constituent of every cell in the body, helping to regulate the intake and excretion of nutrients.

Deposits of fat beneath the skin serve as temperature regulators and act as insulators for the body.

Fat also surrounds and protects the vital organs, such as the heart and kidneys, against physical injury.

A healthy diet for baby

For the first four to six months of life, an exclusive diet of breast milk or infant formula is adequate for most babies. Later, follow with supplemental foods.

A selection of foods that contain fat, such as eggs, whole milk, cheese and meats, are needed to supply the calories necessary for normal growth and development of infants and toddlers.

Babies at risk

Infants at greatest risk of failure to thrive, according to Gerber nutritionists, are older babies who are fed reduced fat milk (such as skim) in place of breast milk or infant formula.

Breast milk provides almost half its calories from fat and also contains cholesterol. Infant formulas are nutritionally similar to breast milk.

"Dietary Guidelines for Infants," the first comprehensive nutrition guidelines to address the special needs of babies less than two years old, details the important differences between adult and infant nutritional needs, in the areas covered by the federal government's "Dietary Guidelines for Americans."

The booklet, developed and published by Gerber, draws upon published standards by the American Academy of Pediatrics and the American Dietetic Association.

In addition to fat and cholesterol, "Dietary Guidelines for Infants" also discusses six other topics, including fiber, sugar, sodium and iron. Parents can obtain the free 23-page guide by calling 1-800-4-GERBER between 9:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. (EST), Monday through Friday.

Give your indoor air a workout

With outside air pollution getting worse, more people are turning their homes into indoor comfort zones with high efficiency air cleaners.

Indoor air quality problems caused by airborne irritants often become more noticeable when you exercise. That is because every time you take a breath, you breathe in millions of tiny airborne particles that can cause coughing, sneezing and difficulty breathing.

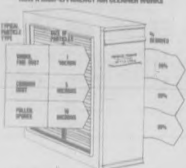

Even changing your furnace filters regularly won't get rid of many of the irritants. They are so small they pass right through ordinary furnace filters and are recirculated through your home.

One of the worst offenders is the dust mite. These microscopic creatures live in your rug, your bedding and other areas of your house. The mites themselves cause little problem, but their carcasses and droppings are considered a major source of indoor air pollution and irritation.

You can greatly reduce the problems caused by mites and other irritants by using a high efficiency air cleaner. A well-designed high efficiency media air cleaner can remove up to 99 percent of irritants such as pollen, dust and microscopic particles from household air. Media air cleaners are available in both room and whole house models. The room size models can circulate the air in an average size room as much as four times per hour.

Whole house models attach directly to your furnace and work with the fan on your heating system to effectively trap the dust and dirt your furnace filter misses.

Unlike electronic air cleaners, which must be cleaned frequently, high efficiency media air cleaners are designed to actually become more efficient as they gather dust. That means the cleaning media usually needs to be changed only once a year.

Also unlike electronic-type air cleaners, media air cleaners produce no ozone. Ozone can aggravate breathing problems for some people.

For information about how high efficiency air cleaners can help you get your indoor air in shape, write the Consumer Information Department, Research Products Corporation, P.O. Box 1467, Madison, WI 53701. Or call 800-356-9652. In Wisconsin, call 608-257-8801. Ask for the brochure, Air Cleaners for Allergy Relief.

TABLE TENNIS IS HOTTER THAN EVER. Now, smaller precision-sized tables, like the Pro-Action table, are making the sport more accessible to the entire family. The table measures three feet by six feet and requires half the space of regulation-sized tables. "Table tennis has tremendous aerobic value, and the Pro-Action table captures all the excitement and skill of tournament play. This new table will test the ability of professional and recreational players alike," says Sean O'Neill, three-time U.S. Table Tennis Champion and a member of the U.S. Olympic Team.

OVERCOMING OVEREATING

Are you the boss of your eating or does food rule you? According to psychotherapists Jane R. Hirschmann and Carol H. Munter, there are millions of people who refuse to keep a box of cookies in the house for fear of eating the whole thing in one sitting. Or who can't stop until they have finished the entire pint of Häagen Dazs. Ironically, these are the people trying hardest to keep themselves slim—chronic dieters for whom even a bite of cake can be the beginning of a vicious cycle of guilt, self-contempt, and more food.

In a new book that views food as the solution, not the enemy, to compulsive eating problems, Jane Hirschmann and Carol Munter show how to escape the futile diet/binge trap and lose weight naturally without ever dieting again.

Overcoming Overeating (Pawcett/Columbino) teaches people to "eat their way out of their eating problems," instead of trying to control their cravings through constant dieting. As pioneers of the anti-diet approach, Hirschmann and Munter believe that the deprivation of dieting actually causes compulsive overeating. They contend that no matter how successful the diet, people cannot tolerate being deprived of foods they really want and need—they fight back by binging.

School Three plants tree

On April 26, students at School Three planted a cherry tree in honor of Arbor Day. The tree was purchased by the Home & School Association to replace one of two trees that had died on Union Avenue. First through third grade students who are in the "Green Thumb Club" had help from the Student Council representative in grades one through six. Older students dug the hole while the younger ones supervised the activity.

A dedication speech was read by Dara Dunleavy and Michael Porcoco read a poem about the meaning of Arbor Day. After the tree planting the following text was read over the public address system by David Murray:

"Many times trees are planted in memory of someone who dies. A long time ago, a tree was planted in front of the school, possibly in memory of a very special person.

For some reason, the tree died.

Today, we replanted that tree with the hope that it will grow strong and tall. Perhaps someone will drive by the school, see the new tree, and remember who it was meant for.

We dedicated the tree to everyone who will appreciate its value, be it memories or beauty."

Health officer discusses rabies

During the past week, the Health Department has been besieged by callers asking about rabies, and what should be done if anyone is bitten by an animal. Thomas Longo, Director of Health and Human Services, answers some of your questions.

1. What is rabies?

Rabies is a disease caused by a virus. It is transmitted by a bite from an infected animal if the animal's saliva comes in contact with mucous membranes or breaks in the skin.

Once it enters the body, it travels along the body's nerve fibers. Fortunately, there is a treatment available that can prevent the development of rabies if a person has been exposed to the saliva of an infected animal.

2. What animals can be infected by rabies?

Dogs, cats, and raccoons can spread rabies, as can foxes, bats, skunks, woodchucks, opossums and other wild animals that bite. Rabbits, however, are at low risk, while squirrels, rats, and mice are generally never infected.

3. How can I prevent rabies?

Have your dog and your cat vaccinated. If your pet is sick, take it to your veterinarian. Keep your pets from running loose. Report stray animals to the health department. Do not feed or handle wild animals and stress this rule with your children.

4. If I am bitten, what should I do?

Immediately wash the wound with soap and water, then go to your doctor or to the nearest hospital emergency room.

After 4 p.m., call the Police Department, 450-3333.

There are pamphlets on rabies at the health department. Visit the department at 383 Washington Avenue, or call 450-3389.

Food co-op sales

Wakefern Food Corp., the food cooperative that supplies Shop Rite supermarkets, has announced record sales of $3.4 billion for 1990.

Thomas P. Infusino, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Secaucus-based cooperative, said the sales figure represented an increase of $200 million over that of the previous year. The 40-year-old company also said it expects new $22,000 square foot general merchandise distribution facility in South Brunswick to be completed this summer.

Member companies, which are both publicly and privately held, expect to build 21 new Shop Rite stores in the next three years. There are now 178 Shop Rite stores in the cooperative.

"Our unique structure has enabled us to prosper, even during these soft economic times. In the 1940s we joined together as a cooperative of independent grocers affiliated for the express purpose of volume buying, so we could offer consumers the lowest prices possible. And as we mark our 44th anniversary, we will continue to do that, strengthening our position as the low price leader in our marketing area," Infusino said.

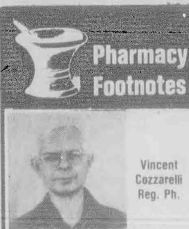

Excessive noise can harm hearing

Excessive noise exposure is one of the leading causes of hearing loss for more than 20 million Americans, says Mary Ann Cubelo, M.S., CCC-A, Audiologist at the Speech and Hearing Department, Clara Maass Medical Center. Cubelo explains excessive noise destroys the delicate hair cells of the inner ear which can never be repaired or replaced.

According to Cubelo, hearing impairment due to noise exposure is gradual and, in most cases, no physical symptoms are experienced.

The common ringing or buzzing in the ears after being exposed to loud music is called "tinnitus." Usually the ringing stops after a short period of time but, once damage has occurred, the tinnitus can last for hours and eventually be constant.

People with hearing damage may experience a distortion of sounds and an inability to tolerate loud noise, explains Cubelo. The slight muffling and distortion may cause difficulty holding a conversation in a crowded room or discerning exactly what people are saying.

HEARTENING NEWS

While their use is not limited to this purpose, the drugs known as beta blockers are used in treatment of high blood pressure. Some drugs in this group are used to prevent heart-related chest pain. Others are used to improve survival after a heart attack, treat heart rhythm problems, or treat migraine headaches, etc. This group of drugs work by blocking certain receptors in the body, lowering and regulating the heart beat, and lessening the heart's work load. Beta blockers may be taken on an empty stomach or with food, but a patient should not suddenly stop taking this type of medication. Failure to keep up the dosage schedule may result in a worsening of one's condition. Doses should never be doubled to make up for a missed dose. Instead, all questions regarding missed doses should be directed to the physician or pharmacist.

We're always happy to answer any questions you have on medications. Just give us a call at 759-1968 or 759-1956, ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. For Father's Day and graduation, we have a fine selection of greeting cards, toiletries, cameras, film and gift items. Hours: 9am - 10pm daily, 9am - 9pm Sundays.

NOTE: Women who take beta blockers should advise their physicians of any intention they have to become pregnant or breast feed.

Former county police hired

Three former members of the Essex County police have joined the Belleville Police Department.

The new appointees are Robert Charles, James Paterno and Michael Giuliano.

One week of in-house training followed their swearing in last week. Chief George Lister said the newly appointed officers are replacement for three retirees. Lister said he has asked for five additional police in his proposed budget.

Coping with stress

Your boss made an impossible request just before your vacation. Can the stress of coping with the task actually affect your body?

Indeed, the mind can produce measurable physical changes. Intense or continuous stress, for example, can affect the immune system, blood pressure and even the level of cholesterol in your blood.

Medical students under the pressure of exams have been found to have elevated cholesterol levels, higher than if they had eaten cholesterol-laden meals. Studies of immune system activity show that for one to two weeks after a period of extreme stress, the body is more prone to contracting an infectious disease because its immune cells have been weakened.

It is estimated that stress may be a factor in up to 70 percent of outpatient visits to physicians, although real physical problems may be present in most of these cases. Blood sugar levels, heightened by stress, can aggravate diabetic conditions. Gastrointestinal problems, such as irritable bowel and ulcers, are sometimes stress-related.

In some people, even the belief that they will get sick can cause illness. Some asthmatics, for example, if told that a certain substance will cause an attack, will react even if the substance is harmless.

Generally, the body is well-equipped to fight infection and adjust to stress. In fact, there is evidence that some stress actually improves immune function. Therefore, one should not retreat and be afraid to get sick, but should lead an active, fulfilling life that includes some stress.

How much is too much depends on the individual, his heredity, his body's immune structure and his lifestyle habits, such as whether he smokes, drinks alcohol or has poor nutrition. All of these can predispose one to disease.

Individuals also have different stress tolerances. For example, coping can depend on how effective a person is in handling problems. If you don't magnify small difficulties into major obstacles, you will help keep stress under control.

The old Greek adage, "A sound mind in a sound body," is still valid. So when you get that annoying pre-vacation assignment — or some other unexpected task — meet the challenge with a positive attitude. You'll get the job done, you won't get a headache and leaving for the day will be all the more gratifying.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lambert

After excelling at the Statesbury Regatta, the Belleville pairs team of Sean Kimball and Lee Hands took their act to the national level and came away with a silver medal at the national crew championships last weekend in Delaware.

Kimball and Hands' performance was the highlight of the day for the Buc crew team, which sent five boats to the nationals. "We were really happy with the performance of Sean and Lee," head coach Bob Cassin said. "Both men are seniors and this was an excellent way to end their high school careers."

According to Cassin, both rowers appeared to have that special flare for rowing back in the ninth grade.

"I remember the intensity in their eyes back when they first came out for crew. Those kids really wanted to do well."

The duo breezed in the semi finals, winning by 15 over its nearest competitor. In the finals, the team was defeated by a team from Michigan named Riverview High.

"The feeling at the end of the race was that our kids had lost to a better team," Cassin said. "We rowed a real good race, they just rowed a better one. We have no excuses. Finishing second in the nationals is certainly something to be proud of."

The girls junior four won its qualifying heat, then took fourth place in the semi finals. The top three shells in the semi advanced to the final race, so the Lady Bucs just missed out.

Coached by Dennis Villano, the girls are a young team that will return all its rowers next season.

"Only one of the girls will not row in that shell next season," Villano said. "That one girl (Sharon Trefger) will probably move on to a senior four shell or lightweight four."

This year, the girls junior four was made up of Trefger, Dana Nelson, Tiffani Lennon, Sue Anne Batista and coxswain Joshua Cardinale.

The girls senior four team took a fourth place in the qualifying race.

"Once again, that's a pretty young shell," Villano said. "We had two seniors and the rest were sophomores. I'm looking forward to having the young kids back next season."

The girls senior four shell consisted of Melanie Spillane, Tammy Bhamra, Danielle Groelling, Krissi Villano and coxswain Cecily Hascett.

Villano also credited Justine Ernst for putting in a courageous effort despite a bad knee.

"Justine had surgery on her knee and it was giving her problems throughout the season," Villano said.

"She asked out of the shell because she felt she couldn't give 100 percent. I really give her credit for that. She has a lot of heart."

A WORD ABOUT THE BOND BETWEEN A FATHER AND DAUGHTER, especially when that daughter rowed for three seasons for her dad.

Krissi Villano will be graduating from Belleville High School this spring. First of all, I want a re-count, because there is no way that 18 years have passed since Krissi first entered this world.

Coach Villano and I were neighbors back in the early 1970's. He was a young teacher at Belleville High and I was a snoot nose kid who thought he knew all the answers about everything and everybody.

Dennis had this way of letting you know that at the age of 14, you weren't ready to tackle the world problems quite yet.

In 1970, Dennis and his wife Issy welcomed their first child, Brian Dennis into the world. Three years later, Krissi came along. I remember when the Villano's brought Krissi home from the hospital. I remember when she first started to walk.

I remember her as a toddling tike shortly after the Villano's purchased their first (and current) home in Belleville. (I used to go to the Villano's home in 1975 for chemistry tutoring help when I was failing Mr. K's chemistry class at Belleville High.)

I cannot begin to imagine the feeling that Dennis and Issy will have as their daughter graduates from Belleville High School in a few weeks. The bond between a child and parent is forever. There is also that special bond between a coach and athlete, and I can only imagine it is extra special when that coach and athlete are father and daughter.

"When she does well, I'm at the top of the mountain," Dennis said about Krissi's success as a rower. "I'm happy as a coach and a father. At the nationals last year, they made it to the finals, before losing. I know what it's like at that end, too."

"I can safely say I've been to the mountain and the valley."

I remember baseball coach Nick Grande saying to me a few years ago how difficult it is to coach a son. In this case, it was his only son, P.J., and he had a fine career. Grande noted that it was especially difficult at the Varsity Club dinner to present his son with his senior award.

"Sam Guiffreda told me it wouldn't be easy," Grande said a few years back. "And Sam was right. He did it when his son Michael graduated and he later said it was one of the toughest things he's ever done."

Don't feel too bad for Villano quite yet. The reign of Villano rowers will continue for another four years. Karen, the youngest daughter, will be a freshman at Belleville High School in the fall.

"The years have a way of going real quick," Villano said. "But I'm looking forward to the next four years. It should be fun."

So, congratulations to Dennis and Issy. You did good. ANYWAY, GETTING BACK TO THE NATIONALS, the lightweight four boys team took a fourth place in the qualifying race.

The junior four boys finished third in the preliminaries and just missed on a trip to the finals.

The younger guys showed improvement in the nationals. Cassin said. "I was encouraged by their performance. We have basically a young team and the kids have hopefully learned from this season."

We'll have a complete wrap up on the '91 crew season in an upcoming issue.

TRACK TEAM RESULTS

The Belleville track team dropped a 74-49 decision to Bloomfield in the final dual race of the '91 campaign.

Head coach John Tosato noted that his team had some good individual performances in the race.

Emilio DeGua was outstanding, winning three events. The senior captured the intermediate hurdles in a time of 65.3. He won the high hurdles in 18.0 and set a new school record in the triple

Team finishes '91 with 16-12 record

Lady Bucs fall in states

By Mike Lambert

Although the Belleville softball team ended the 1991 season with two losses, head coach Carl Corino couldn't have been happier with his team's progress in this "rebuilding" campaign.

The Lady Bucs ended the year with a 16-12 record. We'll wrap up the season in an upcoming issue.

Last week, the team dropped a wild league contest to Immaculate Heart, 20-16 and lost to Parsippany, 11-1 in the Group III, Section II semi final game.

"We ended with a few losses, but the kids did a real nice job this year," Corino, who now has a career record of 270-72, said. "We hit the ball pretty good against Immaculate Heart and we battled back from a big deficit to have a chance to tie."

Immaculate Heart, who tied for the NNJL Pacific Division championship with Paramus this season, jumped out to an 11-2 lead after three innings of play. Belleville batted back and drew within 17-13 heading into the seventh inning.

"They scored three unearned runs in the top of the seventh,"

Corino said of Immaculate Heart. "We made a few errors which didn't help and that gave them a cushion going into the last of the seventh."

Belleville came charging back, scoring three times and loading the bases with two outs. Colleen Mannion then stepped to the plate for Belleville and drilled a line drive down the left field line which was destined for extra bases.

The I.H. leftfielder, however, was guarding the line and she made a fine catch of the ball to end the game.

"A few steps the other way and it's a tie ball game," Corino said of Mannion's drive. "Our kids made a nice comeback. I was proud of the effort."

Mannion had a good day, collecting three hits and driving home two runs. Kim Piscatowski was 3 for 5 with one RBI. Kristin Galioto had three hits, scored two runs and drove home three more.

Jennifer Ciarella walked three times and scored three runs. Danielle DeWork scored three times for the Lady Bucs. DeWork came up with the bases loaded in the fourth inning and hit a drive to leftfield that appeared to be good for extra bases, too. However, that leftfielder made another excellent play.

"Their leftfielder made some excellent defensive plays," Corino said.

Piscatowski pitched the first 2 2/3 innings before giving way to Keri Wendling, who hurled the final 4 2/3 innings.

Against Parsippany, Belleville was up against a solid ball club.

"They had a real good team," Corino said of Parsippany. "Our offense was held to two hits. It was a tough game."

Belleville scored its only run in the second inning. Piscatowski walked and was forced at second on a grounder by DeWork. With DeWork now at first, Judy Krich hit a run scoring double.

Krich and DeWork had the only hits in the game for Belleville. DeWork's hit coming in the fourth inning.

Bucs lose to Don Bosco 9-5

Tough season comes to end for baseball

By Mike Lambert

You can certainly describe Belleville's 9-5 loss to Don Bosco last Monday as a microcosm of the 1991 baseball season. Nick Grande's team fell behind early, fought back then lost the game late because of errors and seeing eye hits from the opposition.

The loss to Don Bosco was the season finale for the Bucs, who finished 1991 with a 7-18 mark. We'll wrap up the '91 season in an upcoming issue.

"It was the same story," a frustrated Grande said after the game. "It kept on going all season long. Why should the last game be any different?"

The Bucs jumped out to an early 2-0 lead in the first inning. Jason Nardachone singled and scored on a double by Art Caruso. Carmen Spina reached safely on an error and Rich Ferruggia walked to load the bases. Mike Alfano then

Ten year anniversary of GNT title

'81 Bucs enjoyed magical ride to crown

By Mike Lambert

Fourth in a series. The tenth anniversary of the '81 baseball Bucs

The Bucs were riding high after the exhausting 5-4 victory over Bloomfield in the Greater Newark Tournament semi final game on May 23, 1981. To recap you, the Bucs won a 12 inning thriller as pitcher Anthony Coco hurled the entire game. He threw 213 pitches and had enough left to strike out the final batter in the game with the winning run on second base.

It was now up to coach George Zanfini to get this team back up for the final exciting week of the '81 campaign.

The first stop was City Stadium in Newark on May 26, 1981 for a Group IV, Section II semi final game with a strong Barringer squad.

"After the Bloomfield game, I gave the kids off that Sunday and most of Monday," Zanfini said. "That Monday was Memorial Day and I called a late afternoon practice to go over what we would do against Barringer."

"Barringer had an excellent record coming into the game," recalled Zanfini. "I think they were 19-4. It was a tough assignment, especially coming off the Bloomfield game and the holiday weekend."

One thing was for sure heading into the Barringer game. Coco was not going to play.

Roger Lentz, who finished the '81 campaign with a 6-0 record was called upon to pitch and he pitched the first 4 2/3 innings before giving way to Bob Grogan.

Would you believe that the Barringer game would go into extra innings? Well it did, and the Bucs pulled out, believe it or not, a 5-4 victory, this time in nine innings. Grogan was the winning pitcher.

Dave Starr was 2 for 5 and Eugene Cancelliere was 2 for 3 with two RBIs. Starr had the game winning RBI, driving home Bob Brave in the ninth inning.

Frank Fazzini had another phenomenal game, going 4 for 4 with a homer and driving in two runs. In a memorable season, Fazzini put up numbers that bordered on the line of incomprehensible.

The victory assured the Bucs an appearance in the Group IV, Section II title game later in the week. But there was plenty of action before what would be "championship weekend."

"It was real proud of the team for winning that Barringer game," Zanfini said. "Two games in four days, 21 innings total and both scores 5-4 in our favor. It was a tremendous effort."

The inevitable meltdown occurred the next day, May 27, when the Bucs lost an independent game to Irvington, 6-4. This was the same Irvington squad the Bucs had beaten 4-3 in the first round of the state tournament eight days prior.

"We were tired going into that game," Zanfini said. "It was a tough game for the kids to get up for."

The loss dropped the Bucs record to 20-6. Before the sectional championship game, the Bucs had yet another game to play, this time against Nutley at the Oval on May 28.

The Raiders grabbed an early 4-1

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

Now that the Pittsburgh Penguins have won the Stanley Cup, name the only teams in the league that entered the NHL before 1972 that have not won the Cup.

Also, for trivia fans, the following teams once competed in either the NHL or professional basketball. Name who these teams are now; if, of course, they are still in business: The California Golden Seals, the Oakland Oaks, the Kansas City Scouts, the New Orleans Buccaneers, the New Orleans Jazz, the Kentucky Colonels, the Virginia Squires and the Atlanta Flames.

Kids Week at School 3

If you've seen some strange little people walking to and from School 3 in Belleville; it's nothing to worry about. It's just a healthy manifestation of the "Spirit of School 3."

This past week was designated "Kids Week" by Mrs. Saulino, principal, the faculty and the Home and School Association. For the entire week, the children were encouraged to use their creativity and imaginations to "show that spirit."

On Monday, Crazy Dress Up Day, the children used their imaginations to dress their craziest. Tuesday was the day on which they displayed their school colors "blue and gold," bold and proud! Hats were in fashion on Wednesday for Silly Hat Day. Their homemade hats really showed how creative the children can be. On Thursday, Buttons and Pins were in. The children wore buttons and pins of all shapes and sizes. On Friday the children put on their Sunday best for Fancy Dress Up Day.

MacFarlane to address Carmen Orechio Civic Association June 5

William "Bud" MacFarlane, who has appeared nationally on both TV and radio to discuss what he calls the "unprecedented phenomenon of the appearances of the Blessed Virgin Mary all over the world," will be the featured speaker at the June 5th meeting of the Carmen A. Orechio Civic Association.

The meeting, scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the Nutley AMVETS Post located at 184 Park Avenue in Nutley.

MacFarlane's talk, entitled, "An Explanation of the Unprecedented Phenomenon of the Current Apparitions of the Blessed Virgin Mary All Over the World," will focus on the documented sightings

In his talk MacFarlane explores some of the reasons why the Blessed Mother may be revealing herself at such an alarming rate during the last century-and-a-half.

According to MacFarlane, there are presently more than 300 different apparition reports of the Virgin Mary filed in Rome.

"Why is our Blessed Mother appearing all over the world?" MacFarlane said. "Why are her statues and images weeping?" "What are these urgent messages to her children all about? What about the references to 'these end-times' in which she says we are now living?"

The Verona resident said he will attempt to answer these and other questions during his talk.

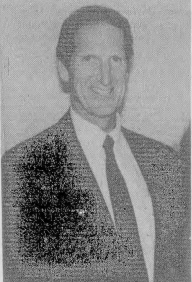

MacFarlane, who began talking on the apparitions of the Virgin Mary after visiting Fatima eight years ago with his wife, has spent the last 10 years making, what he calls, "an extensive, continuous and ongoing study into the Marian apparitions as well as other physical phenomena."

MacFarlane, a charismatic Roman Catholic, scoffs at the notion of calling himself a "mystic," and said he began speaking out on the subject after returning from Fatima. He has since made countless public appearances across the country speaking before both large and small audiences.

"After my pilgrimage to Fatima, I received strong spiritual insight and inspiration," MacFarlane said.

MacFarlane has since continued to explore this phenomenon by visiting shrines at Guadalupe, Paris, Belgium, La Sallette in France, Ireland, Fatima and Lourdes. He has re-visited Medjugorje three times.

The Carmen A. Orechio Association promotes charitable, educational, patriotic and civic endeavors for the welfare and benefit of the people and communities represented by Senator Carmen Orechio.

William MacFarlane of the Blessed Mother during the past 150 years, including her appearances at Lourdes, Fatima and more recently, at Medjugorje in Yugoslavia.

Presently, the Catholic Church is divided over the validity of the apparitions at Medjugorje. Although Pope John Paul II has not publicly confirmed whether the apparitions, according to Roman Catholicism, are valid, thousands of pilgrims continue to visit the shrine everyday.

Training course for food handlers

Thomas J. Longo, Director of the Department of Health and Human Services, and Health Officer of the Belleville Health Department, announces that a training course for all food handlers who work in Belleville will be held on June 4 at the Department of Health and Human Services, 383 Washington Ave., from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The State Health Department requires all New Jersey food handlers who have not attended such a course to participate.

Subjects discussed will be the state and local laws on sanitation in food establishments, and methods of preventing the spread of food borne disease. There will also be a demonstration and film on the Heimlich Maneuver. Educational materials will be distributed.

A certificate, suitable for display, will be given to every participant. Anyone wishing to attend but who has not received a letter from the health department is asked to register by calling Thomas J. Longo at 450-3389. A fee of $5, which will cover the costs of the program, will be charged for each participant.

If June 4 is not a convenient date for anyone wishing to participate, the same program will be presented in Nutley on June 3, at Parks and Recreation Building, 44 Park Avenue, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. and on June 12, at Hoffmann-La Roche (Chapel Bldg. No. 77), Kingsland Street, from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Attendance at one of these sessions will satisfy the requirements laid down by the State.

Combines all Segments of Appropriations within CAP and Excluding CAP.

The decrease in the estimated tax levy for Municipal Purposes (excluding the Reserve for Uncollected Taxes) for 1991, in the sum of $858,980.06, appearing above in the comparative table of levies and tax rates, can be summarized as follows:

Increase in General Revenues Anticipated in 1991 over 1990 $1,849,128.00

Less: Increase in 1991 Appropriation for Municipal Purposes over 1990 960,147.94

Net Decrease $858,980.06

After deliberations on the details of departmental requests, operating appropriations have been set at minimum levels to continue to provide needed services. In this connection it is pointed out that a substantial portion of operating expenses is determined by contractual obligations for both salary and other expense elements, over which the Governing Body has little or no control.

The Mayor and Council urge all taxpayers to attend the hearing on the Budget for the year 1991 to be held at Town Hall on June 11, 1991. The Mayor and Council shall be pleased to respond to any questions at that time.

Copper vs. Polybutylene Plumbing:
What You Should Know

Thinking about putting in new plumbing? Knowing the facts about copper vs. polybutylene plumbing could prevent your home improvement project from being a total wash-out.

Choosing the right plumbing material can save you a lot of worry and money, experts agree. Many people thought they could save money by choosing a plastic plumbing material called polybutylene instead of the slightly more expensive copper. The fact is, many people who picked polybutylene wound up having to pay for costly repairs when their plastic plumbing systems failed. The city of San Antonio, Texas, which installed some 380 miles of polybutylene piping, found it failing at the rate of 1,000 leaks a month!

Copper plumbing, on the other hand, has many advantages polybutylene can't match, says the Copper Development Association (CDA):

*Copper plumbing is built to last—it's virtually maintenance-free.

*Unlike plastic plumbing, copper won't burn or melt in service, or give off toxic gases if exposed to flame.

*Copper tubes and joints are strong. They can withstand pressure surges and rapid temperature changes without rupturing.

*Copper's an investment—it's

Copper plumbing can increase your home's value and save you money on costly repairs.

high quality can actually enhance your home's resale value.

*Copper meets or exceeds all standard plumbing codes in all 50 states.

*The manufacture of copper today is friendly to the environment and the process is energy efficient. Copper tube is made largely of recycled material and does not contain foreign oil or petroleum products as plastic does. The U.S. is self-sufficient in copper, with more than 50 percent of many plumbing products derived from recycled materials.

Did You Know??

Decorative molding — carved wood or plastic lookalikes — can turn a bare space into a gracious room. Lumberyards can offer pilasters and crown and cornice moldings of every width. Call in a pro to install it unless you're expert with a miter box and coping saw.

More with molding: paint a four-inch strip of accent color just below the ceiling. Then add crown molding — painted to match the room — at the ceiling, and a narrower strip below the accent.

Short of garden space? Grow herbs and flowers in pots or colorful tins and place them along a walk or stairway.

If driveway has no cracks or holes, you can wash and seal it the same day. Cracks should be filled level, then checked for settling and refilled if necessary. Let fill harden 24 hours before sealing.

Planning to move? Don't forget to send change-of-address cards to publications, contact utility companies, collect medical and dental records, and have prescriptions transferred to the new area.

Planning to move? We make it easier by taking over the home-selling job. List with the capable pros at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley, 235 9000.
