Aside From That

The air turned to champagne, and the sky was crystal blue, ednesday, after a period of hot humid weather that was weenessusy, after a period or not filming weather that was more like the dog days of August than late spring. Wednesday brought the weather one longs for all year. And it heightens thoughts of vacation, and adventure. Tricla Hawley, Camping Administrator for the GHr Scout Council of Greater Essex County, reports that she is taking applications for summer vacations at Camp Eagle Island on Upper Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks. You don't have to be a Girl Scout to be a camper, although they turned down my application for some discriminatory reason. Ms. Hawley can be contacted at 201 746-8200. camp a wonderful place to enjoy, without knowing any more than that it covers 32 acres, is accredited by the American Camping Association and is in an environment in which clear man that it covers 3.2 acres, is accredited by the American Camping Association and is in an environment in which clear cold air from Canada is washed by warm sunlight. We know the tales of acid rain, but in fact, the Adirondack Mountains are still a lot less humid and a lot cooler than the sweltering plains of North Jersey. We believe the Scouts are helpful with financial aid, where required. ● ● We hope the campers have a chance to meet some of the North Country people who inhabit the area year around. They have their own sense of humor, and it was the Watertown Times, the local daily up there, which once took to task the hapless Chancellor of Syracuse University, who had suggested in a well meaning way that atomic bombs be detonated in various uninhabited parts of the nation in order to impress on the public the awfulness of nuclear weapons. ● ● ● "In the northeast," he said, "it could be the Adirondacks." The Watertown Times responded: "Everybody thinks that nobody lives in the Adirondacks. We happen to have a daily circulation of 40,000, which would indicate that somebody lives here. We suggest that if the Chancellor needs a place to blow up an atom bomb, how about the wide open spaces between his ears?" ● ● ● The Historic Landmarks Committee has been activated and its chairman is Joe Grosch, who was Principal of Schoal 9 internitiently between 162 and 1085. atom bomb, how about the wide open spaces between his cars?" • • • • The Historic Landmarks Committee has been activated and its chairman is Joe Grosch, who was Principal of School 9 intermittently between 1962 and 1985, and one of the first projects on hand is to list all the Belleville residents who served in the Revolutionary War. More than 60 local people are thought to have served the American cause, and their names are still with us - the Joralemons, the Van Houtens, the Hornblowers, among them. Which explains the street names. • • • Mr. Grosch was the guest of Principal Pat Forte at a recent School 9 event where he met Angela Pizaplo, a Sixth Grader. "It aught your father, John," Grosch said. The school opened its doors in 1926, and under the principalship of Frank Gryczka it turned generations of immigrants' children into doctors, lawyers and accountants or at least started them in that direction. "He was a great man," Joe Grosch said. "In time, the building became covered with ivy, and he called it Our Own Yale." One thing that Joe Grosch notes, as a near-lifelong resident of the School 9 neighborhood, is that the houses have always been well maintained, and there has always been talk for closing the school. What people have against School 9 is hard to say, but they haven't reckoned with Pat Forte, whose love for the school is backed up by a fighting resemblance to Jake LaMotta. • • • • We offer aword on Edith DeFeo who was the originator of the campaign to have a traffic light installed in front of the Pathmark on Washington Avenue. That fight still goes on, but Ms. DeFeo points to one successful effort, to have lights placed in the parking lot of the senior citizens center off Branch Brook Park, a campaign that took four years to accomplish. Now retired, she is on the advisory board of the Office on Aging where she acts as advocate for senior citizens. DeFeo's the name, tenacity's her game. • • • years to accomplish. And if there was such a meeting, was it legal?
Caputo will neither confirm nor deny the reports.
According to the rumor mill, an informal session was held by several members of the council on the Saturday before last, at which it was decided that Marina Perna would remain as Mayor when the Council reorganizes on July 1.
Furthermore, according to the rumors, it was decided that William Cook would replace Caputo as Deputy Mayor. That was the point, sources said, when Caputo stormed out of the when Caputo stormed out of the meeting.

One problem with the rumored event is that a quorum of four Council members discussing personnel matters would constitute a regular meeting of the Council, and since it had not been announced beforehand, it would be in violation of the state's Sunshine law, requiring public awareness of such meetings.

Attempts to reach the alleged participants have met lukewarm success. Caputo, contacted at his office in Dover, asked what the rumors were, listened, and then declined comment.

Cook has not returned any calls, and Mayor Perna's law office in Newark reports her to be away.

The only councilman to talk with the Belleville Times is Frank Messina, who said he did not attend any such meeting.

the high vote getter be named Mayor. The Council reorganizes each year, and any member of the Council could be elected Mayor.
Stories about the alleged meeting surfaced at Sunday's PBA golf event, but they had been heard elsewhere during the week.

About the only verifiable fact is that there will be a reorganization meeting in July, when the final decisions will be made.

Should there be an even split, ith one Council member abstaining, then Mayor Perna would retain her office, as the high scorer in the

Fax victim warns Board he'll go to Prosecutor

Richard Yanuzzi, Belleville Republican leader who discovered that a school employee had used a Board of Education faesimile machine to send out campaign material detrimental to him, warned the Board of Education he was taking the matter to the Essex County Prosecutor.

"It was electioneering on Board time," Yanuzzi said, "Itwas illecal," Yanuzzi said, "Itwas illecal," Yanuzzi protested that no disciplinary action had been taken against the person responsible, whose identity - beyond being described as a woman employee of long service in the school system—was not made public.

Board Attorney Frank Pomarco said that he found no illegality committed.

"The closest analogy to using a fax machine is using a telephone," Pomarco said. "The employee made an offer of reimbursement in the amount of 22 cents."

Pomarco said, "This is a long-term employee with exemplary service. The punishment must meet the nature of the infraction, and it was not an infraction of significant nature."

BACK FROM THE GULF - John Zagami and his wife, Linda, were special guests as School 7 celebrated Freedom Day. The Postal Service employee is a Reserve Maste Sergeant who served with a medical unit. He thanked the pupils for their moral support, which he credited with providing '50 percent of the battle'.

"It has nothing to do with cost," Yanuzzi said. "A Board employee was using Board time in an election sponsored by the Board of Education.
"This is the first time this employee has left a track, after many years."
Trustee Vincent Marrone urged that the employee receive a reprimand that would become part of her service record.
The itemsent out over the facsimile machine was a filer issued by Yanuzzi, urging support of certain candidates. It had been faxed to Republican leaders in what Yanuzzi said was an attempt to discredit him.

zi said was an attempt to discredit him.

Pomarco said that the facsimile machine had been removed from the employee's office and relocat-ed to the office of Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, and of Schools Michael Nardiello, and that the employee had been warn-ed not to repeat the action. Yanuzzi said he was dissatisfied with the board's actions. "I will go to the Prosecutor's office," Yanuzzi said.

In other business, the tempera-ture of the High School auditorium where the Board met - and methods of reducing the heat-brought some warm discussion.

In particular, efforts by Trustee Gabe Nazziola to find fans at competitive prices raised objections from Trustee Dr. Anthony D'Agostino and President Patricia Pisano.

"We should be working as a team, not independently," Ms. Pisano said.

"It is misguidedness, in which we each do our own things," Dr. D'Agostino said. He said that the two fans which were in place were on loan from School S, at no charge to the Board. "How could we beat that price?" he asked.

The Board had decided that a price tag of more than $2,000 for new fans was too high, particularly at a time when the budget is severely restricted.

Nazziola had found fans at a Paramus store which were considerably lower in price than those previously offered the Board. He did not respond to the remarks of President Pisano or Dr. D'Agostino.

President Pisano or Dr. D'Agostino.

The Board voted to have the Belleville Times named official newspaper, which makes it the repository of legal notices.

Trustee Joseph Del Guercio asked that a free circulation newspaper be given official status, saying, "It has been kinder to us than the Belleville Times."

New Jessey law requires that an official newspaper have paid circulation, have an office located in the municipality, and be in continuous circulation in the municipality for at least two years.

Board drops its auditor

The Board of Education voted Monday to refuse a 7 percent fee increase asked by its accountant, the Samuel Klein Co. of Newark, endings a 20-year relationship. The fee would have been $18,500.

School trustee Dr. Anthony. D'Agostino led the opposition to the fee. He said he had no criticism of the services performed by Klein, but he wanted to know why a Belleville firm oudl not be found to do the job.

Board secretary Edward Appleton said that the Belleville firms which had been approached.

to do the job and declined, saying they had no one qualified to audit the schools' finances.

Dr. D'Agostino then asked if other firms, anywhere, had been asked to submit proposals.

Appleton said that an attempt had been made two years ago to find other firms, but none had made satisfactory proposals. He said that Klein had not requested an increase in two years. In the case of professional services, bidding is not required,

Don't worry folks, it's only a test; Energency Management exercize is set

A major test of the ability of local safety organizations to meet a disaster, one which will occupy the use of the entire Belleville Fire Department, is scheduled for June 29 at the Van Dyk plant, William and Main Streets.

Belleville police, the Belleville Department of Public Works, the Nutley Fire Department, Clara Masas Hooptial, the Essex County Office of Emergency Management, the Basex County Fire office and the Essex County Hazardous Materials Council will all participate, in a scenario prepared by Deputy Chief Richard Triano.

The action will include the Van Dyk safety unit, and a vacuum truck from Hoffman-LaRoche. Nutley will supply its Hazardous Materials unit. The county will direct the deployment of fire fighting units from other towns to cover for the movement of Nutley and Belleville units.

At the center will be two Van Dyk employees, who will act as victims of ethyl-acctate gas, escap-ing from a spilled liquid. The gas is such that the wearing of heavy protective wear will not be requir-ed, Triano said.

The procedure will test the com-patibility of the various safety organizations.

"It's a war game," Triano said.
Triano noted that in previous exercizes on a smaller scale, it was learned that the Bloomfield emergency radios are not compatible with those used in Belleville, and that the hose lines for carrying water used by the two towns were also incompatible.

"It gives us the opportunity to learn about these problems, and how to circumvent them, before a real emergency occurs," Triano said.

The scenario requires the use of ambulance units from Clara Maass, and possibly from the New Jersey University of Medicine and Dentistry, on the assumption that the Belleville emergency squad will be on another assignment. It will test the response times of the various units.

Beresford emphasized that the public should not be alarmed by the gathering of fire apparatus, ambul-ances, police cars and other equip-ment. He said that the test is required by federal law.

To help, Bloomfield Police Officer Anthony Monticello, a Belleville High School graduate, came to the class to talk about avoiding accidents at home and perils outside the home.

Dangers to youngsters range from scalding water and electrical outlets to street traffic and approaches by strangers.

The pupils are familiarized with specific strategies to keep themselves and others safe.

The pupils were put on a "safety mission" to encourage safety habits. The lessons involved reading comprehension, decoding, charting, self analysis and sharing.

Official Safety Certificates were issued to the pupils. Ms. Borgo said the pupils were "extremely responsive".

Consequently, Gallagher said, if he had heeded the state's advice, next year the tax rate would have shot up 10 points to replace, next year the tax rate would have shot up 10 points to replace the surplus and meet costs that would have to be funded with fresh revenues. With the State of New Jersey wallowing in the throes of fiscal despair Governor Jim Florio keeps saying. New Jersey's proble.us are manageable and there are signs the economy is coming back, the pain inflicted to reduce spending is histing directly at the masses. Times are had and the stage might have been set for him to appear as a champion of lower tuxes by a number of local office holders and tax collectors from all over the state. The municipal officials are up in arms over a letter from the Division of Local Government Services that they contend is ordering them to either lower property taxes or not get their budgets approved by the state before they can become official and before a tax rate can be established and revenues collected. The essence of the letter, which the administration calls advisory, is that towns carrying surpluses should use them to reduce the need for tax revenue. The advice is more of a legal opinion to municipalities expecting to share in the additional 3306 million in "property tax relief" they are entitled to this year as a result of changes made to the school ald distribution formula. "No one should resent the efforts to provide the people of New Jersey with property tax stabilization, even property tax relief, this should come as no sur-

The Governor and key administration officials maintain the flap symbolizes much of the argument raging over Florio's $2.8 billion tax and school aid plan. Florio, for example, said the state's tax system was completely overhauled to take the pressure off property taxes to provide essential services.

But on the other hand, Old Tappan Mayor Edward J. Gallagher, this year's chairman of the League of Municipalities, said the pressure to use surpluses to cut down property taxes 'stinks."

The founder's sons, Mario and John, were big men. They were big playsically, each being more than six feet tall, and each approaching 500 pounds in weight in their maturity.

And they were big-hearted.

During the 1930s, when many of their neighbors could not afford the five cents price of a loaf of bread, the Zinicolas delivered bread at no charge to those in need,

When World War II came, shortly after the death of their father, the brothers closed shop and entered the Army. The Army put them to work making bread, in this country and in the Philippines, baking, as much as 10,000 loaves a day.

The Zinicola name did not disappear from banked goods, locally. A friend, Frank Forte, made bread and delivered it to the Zinicola customers as Zinicola products.

In April, 1946, the brothers resumed business, and as the years went by, they added to their equipment, modernizing it and expanding their operations. The business recently acquirted a dough mixer at a price of $80,000.

"It was made in the United States, right here in New Jersey," John Zinicolas of the present generation said. "We can make kaiser rolls and Italian rolls with it."

The fact that Italian bread has no preservatives, and the only additives are yeast and salt, has provided it a market among those who are health conscious, as well those who just happen to like the texture and delicious crust of Italian bread. The fact that it it is made fresh daily is another attraction.

John Zinicola holds a Master of Sunsher attraction.

Cut the price of gasoline

Speaking with the men and women who have returned safely from Operation Desert Storm, one realizes that the experience of serving in that desert area and experiencing a culture that is centuries apart from their own was harrowing. The combat was real, and even if it lasted a brief time, it was an awesome event. It is pointless to compare the sufferings endured by soldiers in one war to those of another. It is enough to know that the Americans who served in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Iraq, and in the waters of the Middle East, underwent physical hardships and peril so enormous that they, and this nation, are entitled to far more than a mere thank you note from those whose liberties were rescued or restored. rescued or restored.

And one thing the oil producers owe the United States is a halt to the price gouging they have inflicted on America since 1973.

The very least the Saudis and the Kuwaitis could do is out their profit margin, especially on sales to the United States.

All they owe America is their very lives. Saddam Hussein is not noted for sparing his victims, particularly the ones he intends to rob. Like all cutthroats, he prefers to leave no witnesses.

But Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Iraq owe us a real debt.

And the paying of that debt could restore the American economy a lot faster than the slow end of the recession that is predicted.

It could speed up the return to prosperity, a prosperity that has been sapped by the oil producing nations for almost two decades.

There are some who argue that the high cost of fuel has forced conservation of energy, which is true enough. But it has also undermined the American automobile industry, which was not geared to small engines and smaller cars, while our European and Asian friends were.

The unsung battles that go on in any community are a measuring rod of the society in which we live.

A group of Boy Scouts stages an Indian dance for youngsters in a learning-disabled class. The idea is to keep the youngsters interested, and the volunteers and paid workers keep up their fight to have the children back in mainstream society, with a little help from the Scouts.

New government is criticized

New governm

To the editor:

At the budget hearing of June II, referring to my letter to the editor published in the June 6th edition, the 50 or so citizens in attendance heard Mr. Kendall, our Town Manager deny there is this $13 million bond issue proposal, adding that he doesn't authorize bond issues. He didn't quite say it that way, but the implication is, of course, that he has nothing to do with it. What do you, the concerned clitzen think? Of course we know that the majority of our elected Town Council will bear the ultimate responsibility for authorizing the bond issues. But that is all. Do you think Mr. Kendall has the future tax burden of our citizens in mind by putting current expenses tor un to run the town on a credit card, thus sticking future taxpayers with the bill when it comes due, and those taxpayers may very well be youl! In the meantime, I believe the whole scenerio is enacted by Mr. Kendall, to make him look good, giving us all these improvements without a tax increase, like not having to pay for them. Magic, magic, smoke and mirrors. What do you, the concerned clitzen think??

There is a town in New Jersey, recognized champion in recycling. It is done on a voluntary basis by a cooperative clitzenry. Mr. Kendall has stated several times, that Belleville is last in recycling, I this done, a woluntary basis by a cooperative clitzenry. Mr. Kendall has stated several times, that Belleville is last in recycling, I challenge him to provide us with the data he is basing this on, Belleville has done a very creditable job in recycling, with the voluntary program contributing thousands of dollars to our treasury. Nowhere is it written in State mandated requirements, that a municipality must contract with an outside vendor to do the recycling in Jun Mr. Kendall is determined to let our treasury. Nowhere is it written in State mandated requirements, that a municipality must contract with an outside vendor to do the recycling effort, seeing for themselves the barrels of color sorted glass, and the trail buy them under those conditions?

To the concerned citizens of Belleville, I urge them to get involved, and find some way to get out from under the regime of one man, I say, "where the buck stops" in spite of his denials to the contrary.
The smoke alarm has just gone off. Wake up before it is too late to get out!!!

Cornelis P. Vander Zwan

...and defended

To the editor:

Before I get into some important issues concerning our Township, I would like to address Mr. Vander Zwan who is consistently proposing that the new council form of government is not working efficiently and effectively.

Quite the contrary. In all of my travels around the township and I GET AROUND, I am hearing a renewed confidence in Belleville. Poople are feeling that change is in the wind. They are excited about it. For the first time in Belleville history has a governmental body in Belleville taken a strong stand to assist the taxpayers. Employee layoffs to trim a fattened budget was instituted. When Mr. Vander Zwan's friends were in office they did nothing to trim the excess waste. Township Manager Bert Kendall has brought into the community a new morale that has been sorely missing. Employees are performing well above their former production levels. They are no longer under political pressure. The Commission form of government put political ansient control in the production in the political favoritism through hiring friends and family who assisted in campaigns. This practice created over staffing in many departments.

While other communities enhance their infrastructure (roads, signs, sidewalks, lights, etc.) our former commissioners over spent $1.2 million dollars for the new public safety building, their friend Mr. Vander Zwan and his friends represent a small minority in this community. The majority of the community wants a professionally administration of integrity and general sense of governmental knowledge and public administration. Our township will flourish under this new administration, It is a pleasure to work with Mr. Kendall, as he is always prepared and is a professional in every sense of the word.

Mario Drozda.

NEW JERSEY Education Commissioner John Ellis is conducting a study that may lead to the involuntary regionalization of three school districts in Bergen County.

State Senate President John Lynch recently called for the elimination of many of the school district lines, contending the setup produces "unconscionable administrative costs."

Governor Jim Florio endorses the idea that New Jersey has too many school districts. Former Education Commissioner Carl Marburger in 1973. urged a dialogue on the subject.

New Jersey lawmakers and educations of the setup produces with the commission of Florida where a countrywide school system has proven to be very effective. The Florida system receives high marks for efficiency and productivity.

Of course, we must anticipate a hue and cry from community-based school officials who will come charging hard and fast with the claim that such a proposal is an invasion of Home Rule.

« IN a recent issue of the Bergen Record, I was pleasantly surprised to read that the former owners of Armando di Villa Restaurant have opened a new restaurant in Fairive, New Jersey, under the name of "Onofrio's Ristorante." It is located at 241 Broad Avenue at the juncture of Highways I & 9 South. The John community is 49 South. The bill, S-3452, won unanimous approval from the Senate Revenue, Finance and Appropriations Committee.

"This will replenish our seriously undermanned pool of civil court judges," Orechio said.

"Essex County handles one-sixth of the 240,000 civil cases in the state, but the county's civil division has only four judges, Filling these judgeships is an imperative.

The bill received the strong endorsement of the New Jersey Trial Lawyers Association, the New Jersey Trial Lawyers Association, the courts and Gov, Jim Florio.

An upcoming transfer of nine more civil judges to criminal courts will likely exacerbate an already difficult situation, Senator Orechio said.

"Our civil courts face a huge backlog, with more than 56,000 cases having awaited hearings for a year," he said.

"Here in Essex County, we are facing suspension of civil trials unless this bill is enacted."

Eight judges in the county are retiring by summer, he noted, adding, "More than 30,000 cases are pending in the main civil division, where judges hear malprac-

No other county would receive more than five new judges, the senator noted.

Orechio noted the widespread support former bar association president Alan J. Pogarsky had given the bill during testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which approved the bill May 13. "No bill in recent memory has been more important to the people of New Jersey who rely upon our justice system," Pogarsky told the senators.

Senator Orechio said.

Measles outbreak

serious threat

Far from the mild childhood disease most people remember, the measles resurging today is producing an unusually high number of linesses, some serious enough to require a hospital stay, according to physicians at Clara Maass Medical Center, Belleville.

Rudolph V. Messina, M.D., director of the Department of Pediatrics at the medical center, normally advises that children be voccinated for measles at 15 months of age and again before they enter school. However, during an outbreak such as the one New Jersey is experiencing, the recommendations change.

Belleville Times SPORTS

Our wrap up of the '90-91 school year continues with a the fall sports season. Last week, we began with the football team and its 5-4 (later 6-3 thanks to the Bloot forfeit) campaign. There were five other varsity sports competed in the fall.

forfeit) campaign. There were five other varily sports which competed in the fall.

The soccer team, led by coach Gino DePinto played very well in the second half of the season after a slow start. The team posted a 5-II-1 record. More importantly, the JV team finished above. 500 with a 6-5-3 mark.

Six players from the varsity soccer team earned NNJIL honors. Richard Preto was named to the first team. Other players who gained NNJIL nods were Franco Vitelo, Enzo Vian, Greg Groelleg, Frank Crocco and Matt Kanstner.

Belleville had big wins against Teaneck and Weehawkin in '90. Seniors on the '90 team included Preto, Vian, Milton Lopez and Ruben Andrude.

Seniors on the '90 team included Preto, Vian, Milton Lopes and Ruben Andrade.

The J.V. team, coached by George Tortorello was made up mostly of sophomores. Many of those players will be vying for varsily positions this fall.

The gymnastics team, coached by Gina Lemongello, captured one league victory in '90. The girls did receive some good individual performances.

In vaulting, Kristin Gallote did a good job, as did Lorl Alello, Renee Coppola and Kim Piscatowski.

In the uneven parallel bars, Groeling, Dawn Simonetti, Coppola and Jennifer Kastner excelled.

Coppola also did a fine job in the balance beam, as did Cristina Fercrera, Nancy Matthews and Galloto. In the floor exercise, Maryanne Ferrera, Cristina Ferrera, Alello and Simonettii were the leaders.

Maryanne Ferrera, Cristina Ferrera, Aiello and Simonetti were the leaders.

One of Belleville's best gymnasts, Denies Wujclak suffered a back injury late in the season and was questionable for the 1991 campaign. Whiciak has outstanding talent and Lemongello was hoping she would be okay for this fall.

Cross country coach John Tosato had just two seniors on the roster last fall. The coach was very pleased with the effort of his young team and also noted that the parents of the athletes were very supportive at the races.

Senior Brian Doyle led the Bucs with 29 points. He won the Barringer race and his best individual time was at the Essex Catholic Invitational.

The other senior on the roster was Joe Lozano. He was hampered by a foot injury which kept him on the disabled list for a good part of the season. Lozano did come back late in the season and rain in the West Essex race.

Freshman Dave Luongo had a fine, season, as did another freshman, Roger Hanos. Both Luongo's and Hanos scored 17 points and tied for second on the team in scoring.

Freshman Anthony LaRocca and sophomore fluy Bul scored seven points each. Other underclassmen who performed well included Sung-Bok Lee, Sandip Desat and Robert Montalvo.

The varsity volleyball team ended its season with a 10-15 record. Veteran head coach Grace Worley was pleased with the teams performance, especially in the second half of the year. The Lady Bucs JV squad also played well, posting a 15-10 record.

as and Kristia McCarthy. The lone sophomore on the varsity squad was Colleen Mannion.

Some of the girls on the JV squad who will be trying out for varsity positions in the fall are Shannon Edwards, Melanie VanDam, Diana Vian, Daszy Yanez, Michelle Pszonka, Cristen Caputo and Margaret Noonan.

New Athletic Director Karen Fuccello gave up her role as varsity tennis coach and Tony Salese, the boys head coach, took over the job as girls coach as well.

Key players on the '90 team included Justina Ernst, Carmelita Arceo, Sima Tallor, Justina Nguyen, Kathy Phana, Angela Trinh, Suzanne Daan, Rakhi Tallor, Amite Pareth, Manrisha Tray, Antonia Marzulo and Ashley Shah.

Salese was happy with the progress of his young team and feels the girls can be quite competitive this fall.

The Belleville High School band, under the direction of Joe Kraemer had an outstanding season, winning a band competition. The band also did a fantastic job at the Bue football games, entertaining the fans before a game or at halftime, depending on whether the Bues were on the road or at home.

The varsity cheerleaders also did a great job in the fall. The team advisor is Carol Russo. The girls worked for most of last summer on a dunce and finally got a chance to do the routine late in the football season. The dance was well received by the fans in the final two home games of the '90 season.

The team also competed in a cheerleader competition in January of '91 and placed fourth in a very competitive field. Over ten teams took part in the competition.

Russo plans to enter next, years cheerleading squad in competition, with more emphasis placed on gymnastics events. Next week, we'll continue our year in review with a look back at the winter sports.

In the 1990 Belleville-Paramus football game, Art Caruso scored the Bucs first TD. Caruso also scored the second TD that was called back in that wild game winning drive. John Alvarade threw a 33 yard pass to Jim DuHalime, As he was being tackled, DuHalime apparently fumbled and Caruso picked up the loose ball and ran it IS yards into the end zone. The official ruled that the ball was a lateral and negated the touchdown. The Bucs won the game anyway, 19-18 when Caruso hit Carmen Spina with the winning score.

FOR THIS WEEK

Let's stick with a Belleville football theme, but go back a few years. In 1982, the Bucs and Union High School played a thriller of a Group IV, Section II playoff game at Municipal Stadium.
Who scored the Bucs TD in that game? What was the final score?
Who eventually won the Group IV, Section II rown that season?

Cassin credits seniors for post-season medals

Crew family doing just fine

By Mike Lamberti
All is well with the Belleville crew "family" at the conclusion of the '91 season. Head coach Bob Cassin was very pleased with the performances of his rowers this year, especially the work turned in by the senior class.

The crew team in Belleville has taken on that family atmosphere for many years now. Sam Gluffida was a big advocate of that, and it was never more clearly shown than when his '76 senior eight shell was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1985. A majority of the rowers showed up for the induction ceremony and the closeness of that team was quite evident nine years after they rowed together.

Today, that togetherness is still quite apparent. On the girls' team, head coach Dennis Villane coach cached his daughter Krissi for three varsity seasons. Many of the seniors on this years team first started rowing in the eighth grade.

Two of the rowers, Sean Kluball and Lee Hands turned in a solid performance in the mens pairs, taking silver medals at the Stotesbury Regatta and the National championships. The Stotes and Nationals are considered two of the most prestigious races in the country.

"Sean has been with the program-presigious races in the country.

"Sean has been with the priogram for five years, Lee for four," Cassin said. "The coaching staff could see and you that they had that certain edge it took to be outstanding-rowers. They practiced hard, they asked a lot of questions. As juniors and seniors, they became leaders and were coaches in the boats.

"I relied on their input a great dead, especially this season."

Another key member of the senior contingent was Heather Appruzzese, the coxswain for five seasons. "Like Jimmy, Heather was another coach on this team," Cassin said. "I was spoiled with this group. They did so much for the success of the entire program." In the girls shell, Krissi Villano had a fine varsity career. She will attend Rutgers University next fall. Another. aid who will attend Another aid who.

"Justine' made the decision to stop rowing late in the season because she felt she couldn't give 100 percent to the team in the regattas," Villano said, "She worked hard at coming back. It got show the type of person she is. She wanted the team to do well and stepped aside to do that."

"We have some very talented towers coming back next year," Cassin said. "The sophomore class has a lot of potential. They have the ability, they need to work hard and give that dedication. That shouldn't be a problem, though. Those kids are determined."

Cassin, an '82 BHS grad, rowed four years of varsity. Villano was graduated in '64, Maureen Russos is an '84 BHS grad and a member of a national championship botat and '196 Fernicala rowed for Belleville and graduated in '86, "Joe will be attending medical school next year," Cassin said. As for Russo, she worked with the younger female rowers and did an excellent job.

This was a very enjoyable season," Cassin said. There is that special bond among the rowers.
The "76 team was very close, my senior class team is still close. Some of the girls from the "82 team still stop by and help out. It's nice to see the tradition continue."

"Needless to say, the pitching has been outstanding," Turi said after the Park Ridge game. "Our defense has also been excellent. The only aspect of our game that meeds work is the offense. But I feel that will also come around as the year progresses."

Against Bloomfield, Mike Murdy hurled another gem. He allowed five hits, all singles and struck out four batters. It was Mundy's second shutout of the young season. His first was no-hit effort in the season opener against Glen Ridge, Mundy has allowed just one earned run in 21 innings of work.

At the practices, the athletes were taught how to jump hurdles, throw the discus, high jump, tiple jump and long jump. They were also shown the correct technique for various running events.

All the athletes showed fine potential and could be future Belleville High School record breakers, if they continue their effort in the sport.

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Did You Know??

If there are weeds peeking up between sections of a concrete or fieldstone walk, use chlorine bleach (poured from a narrow-spout watering can) to do away with them. Sprinkle salt in the cracks to keep weeds from coming back.

Exposed shelves hold just as much as kitchen cabinets, but they don't look as massive, so the room seems bigger.

The legs of wooden picnic tables and benches that rest on the ground may be at risk of rotting. Prevention tip: place each leg in a coffee can or foil baking dish filled with wood preservative.

"Easement rights" are the right-of-way authorizing access to or over an owner's land. One common example is the right-of-way across private property that permits a utility company to string its wires.
