Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

Both of them born and bred in Belleville, the two men stood in front of the Yerg Printing Co. plant on Washington Avenue, gazing glumly across the street at the fire-gutted remains of 78 Washington Ave., where four empty apartments and three empty stores, and one store about to be empty, now stood. Their gaze then swept north of the burned out building, and instead of the used car lot that reaches to the corner, they saw a vanished world. Alan Testa and John Mundi remembered the stores that had once lined the avenue. "From here to Rutgers Street was the best neighborhood in Belleville," Testa said. "Remember, there was Cafone's candy store on the corner, and next to it was Simon's apartment house, a beautiful place, with 20 apartments. And there were the other stores, and the big linoleum store - where Steve and his father, Big John built a boat in the basement, and they had to knock out the back of the building to get it out. And there was the little Jewish delicatessen, and the barber shop, and the butcher shop, and Hahne's bakery. And they're all gone." Mundi nodded, and commented, "Times change. Nothing stays the same." Testa continued, "And remember the Sears Roebuck, and the A and P, and the way they used to grind the coffee? The best street in Belleville." The men fell silent. Mundi shrugged, and began to walk away. Then both turned to look again at the street scene that existed now in their memories. It seemed more real to them than the wreckage and the car lot that now took its place. And as long as they were around, the old scene would still have its reality. ●●●●● Word comes from Mexico that Ron Carey, born Cienela, who starred for several years on the popular, and therefore discontinued, Barney Miller television series as Levitt, the would-be detective, is busy making a comic Western situation comedy series, which is intended for Italian television. And why not? Italy was the market for and producer of the Westerns that made Clint Eastwood famous. These days, Ron makes his living on the West Coast, and his close buddy is Dom DeLuise, among a group of funny men that includes Mel Brooks. Friends recall that Ron was always a joker, and that just as wild was his brother, Jimmy, who went into a different line of work. Jimmy operates Nesto Construction, a major contracting firm. There isn't much humor in the construction business these days. Ron may be in the running for Grand Marshall of the Columbus Day Parade here, so there could be a chance to see him without having to turn a dial.

Speaking of Columbus Day, there is now an idiosyncy being spread that makes Columbus into a villain, and the discovery of America a big mistake. This thesis is actually being given some credence by the New York State Board of Regents because there are some Third Worlders who want to downplay the European role in developing this nation. Dismissing the historic fact of Columbus' voyage of discovery will, of course, be a big help to inner city youngsters and will end the drug trade. And undiscovering America would certainly put an end to welfare, to say nothing of Western civilization. So they better hurry up the parade while we still have the chance to enjoy it. ●●●●● We know that the people of Belleville give all kinds of impressions, but we didn't expect the one expressed by a visiting Irish teen-ager, Linda Robb, in town under the auspices of Operation Friendship. "People here do seem short," she said. A shy girl, with the healthy beauty of a country lass, Linda stands five feet nine inches tall at the age of 16. At least two of the boys in the group of teen-age visitors with her are six-footers, so we can assume that County Armagh produces some tall people. As a matter of fact, Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Jackson, who were both of the same Gaelic stock, were each more than six feet tall. "And they are so friendly and open," Linda added. "I find it easy to like them." At home in the rural village of Tandragee, Linda has a comfortable home in a spacious house on a large tract of land. Her father manages a knitgoods factory, her mother is a part-time teacher and a former golfer who played on the Ulster Golf Team. Linda likes to test her strength against the wind and waves of the North Sea as a wind surfer. She attends Portadown College, which she says is the equivalent of an American high school, and she has some thoughts of going on to a university to study architecture. The awesome vastness of New York City, the energy of the crowded streets and the wonderful variety of things available in the stores and shopping malls are some of her outstanding impressions of life here. And the willingness of people of so many different ethnic strains to live together is another impression. What had she been warned about before she came here? "My uncle told me - Stay off the trans! And how is life at home? "Quite nice. People are pretty much the same there as here."

Fire under investigation

An investigation of possible arson is underway, in the aftermath of a fire that destroyed the two-story frame taxpayer building at 78 Washington Ave., early Friday. It was the third fire there in as many months.

It was a fire of "suspicious origin", Fire Chief Walter Beresford said.

Both the Fire Prevention Bureau of Belleville, under the direction of Captain Vincent Sorrentino, and the Essex County Sheriff's Arson Squad, are studying the results of tests made at the site.

The investigation by the county included the use of two hound dogs that specialize in sniffing out accelerants used to start fires.

The building, which included four stores and four apartments, has been bulldozed out of existence, on the orders of town officials, and with permission of the Sheriff's office.

The demolition was performed by the Foggia wrecking company of Newark. The cost of the demolition will be charged to the recorded owner of the property, Raim Depopolo, owner of an auto body shop in Newark.

Deputy Chief Robert Caruso headed the team of 40 firefighters who arrived shortly after 12 a.m. Friday to attack the fire from four sides.

Flames were pouring from the second floor windows with such intensity as to threaten a frame three-story apartment house at 74 Washington Ave. The heat leaped across the roof of a one-story taxidermist shop at 76 Washington Ave.

Firefighters played water on the apartment house to keep the walls from igniting.

A brief entry was made into the building, and firemen carried hoses up a stairway to the second floor, where erupting flames drove them back.

From that point, Caruso deployed the firemen into four groups, each attacking the fire from a side of the building. Fire hoses were run over the roof of the taxidermy shop to reach the rear of the burning building.

The two engines and a ladder truck which first arrived at the scene were augmented by four more engines, bringing the entire department into action.

Back up support was provided by Nutley, East Orange and Cedar Grove fire departments.

While the fire was brought under control by 1:30 a.m., fire apparatus remained nearby until after 11 a.m.

"It was a difficult fire," Caruso said. There was constant danger of imminent collapse of the building.

INFERNO THAT GREETED FIREFIGHTERS - Flames poured from upper floor of frame building at 78 Washington Ave., early Friday. Entire Belleville department was called out to bring fire under control.

AFTERMATH, BEFORE DISAPPEARANCE - The gutted building, which had stood more than a hundred years on Washington Avenue, was bulldozed flat after officials ruled it unsafe to be left standing.

Schools set goals for upgrading

An intensive effort to continue raising academic levels was outlined to the Board of Education by Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello on Monday.

Eight goals have been set, including a five-year plan to provide technology education at all grade levels, an effort to reduce the dropout rate and a career guidance program.

By 1992, 90 percent of the pupils from Kindergarten through Grade 9 "will participate in at least one activity to celebrate the cultural diversity within the community".

The schools will work to reduce the disaffected drop-out rate in Grades 5 through 12 by at least 10 percent.

Work on basic skills will continue to be a priority. "By June 1992, at least 80 percent of the students in all grades and in all schools will meet or exceed the state's level of proficiency in reading, writing and mathematics," Nardiello stated.

He said the schools will continue the SAT program in mathematics and English in Grades 10 through 12 to increase SAT scores in those subjects, a program aimed at aiding college-bound students.

Admission is free. Honored guests will include Assemblyman John Kelly; Assembly candidate Paul DiGaetano; Senate candidate John Scott; Sheriff candidate Art Clay, and Freeholder candidate Phil Nufrio. For reservations or information, call Mrs. Pascheria, (201) 759-5404.

At least, it's a cut in the tax rate

ENACTING BUDGET, AT LAST - At a special meeting last week, the Belleville Township Council passed the budget. Action had been delayed to learn if requested state aid would reduce tax rate more than the 11 points anticipated, but it never happened. Visible in the photo, clockwise from front, are Mayor Marina Perna; Town Clerk Mary Lou Hood; Councilman Tom Spillane; Councilman Frank Noonan; Deputy Mayor Bill Cook; Councilman Frank Caputo, and Councilman Jim Messina.

Republicans plan dance

The Belleville Republican Party Organization invites the public to a special 40's and 50's Dance scheduled Friday, Aug. 9, at the Belleville Knights of Columbus Hall, 94 Bridge St., starting at 7:30 p.m.

Richard Yanuzzi is chairman, Angelina Pascheria is vice-chairman.

Admission is free. Honored guests will include Assemblyman John Kelly; Assembly candidate Paul DiGaetano; Senate candidate John Scott; Sheriff candidate Art Clay, and Freeholder candidate Phil Nufrio. For reservations or information, call Mrs. Pascheria, (201) 759-5404.

The girls stayed together 45 years

Few people are able to keep in touch with close childhood friends throughout the years. As time goes by, there is less time for visiting and telephone calls, and often, friends move away.

But a group of Belleville women are more fortunate than most — they've been together as close friends for 45 years.

They all started out in St. Peter's Grammar School, but went to different high schools. After high school, the "Club" formed, starting as a Canasta Club — but since they all like to talk a lot, something their husbands might call an understatement, the cards were allowed to fall by the wayside. The conversation continued.

They all happened to get married around the same time, and they raised their families together.

Part of their staying together is attributable to the fact that they all remained in the Belleville area.

All are from old Belleville families: Mary Lou (Dannenberg) Lynch, Annamae (Hood) O'Connell, Maureen (Bell) McGee and Helen (Wierdo) Carolan, all reside in Belleville. Janet (O'Neil) Byrnes and Anna Mae (McCann) Doran are now in Bloomfield, and Rita (Carragher) McManus has moved the farthest, all the way to Bricktown.

The Club usually meets once a month. In the early years, the members would make an annual trip to New York City for a show and a dinner, financed out of the club treasury.

"We have had some great times together," Anna Mae Doran said, recently. "There is little we haven't shared — laughter as well as tears, sorrow and joy, and not least of all, respect."

Over the years, they have had much to talk about — marriage, children, grandchildren, the empty-nest syndrome. They won't tell you their ages, but collectively, they are almost 438 years old. And this year has marked a flock of 40th wedding anniversaries. There has been one divorce, and two members are widowed.

But, they are still The Girls, and that is the way they and their families affectionately know them.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Part Two

Strike two against Ochowski is that her plan has image problems. Spectrum users argue that they perform public services and that auctions prostitute the broad public interest to crass commercialism. There are two answers to this. First, the plan permits the FCC to allocate radio spectrum to noncommercial uses, just as it does now, without any auction. Included in this category, for example, would be additional space for police or fire communications. The second response is that most proposed spectrum uses involve primarily commercial services for which free awards create giant private windfalls.

Consider cellular telephones. The industry is now booming, with 5.3 million subscribers (up from 92,000 in 1984). But it couldn't boom until the FCC allocated 50 megahertz for two competing cellular services in 738 separate markets. The FCC spent much of the 1980s doing this. In each market, the local phone company automatically got one franchise. Naturally, a lot of big companies coveted the other. In the top 90 markets, the FCC conducted hearings to pick license holders or encouraged the competing applicants to agree on a joint application.

BIG BUCKS: Winners got a bonanza. The Washington Post Company, which owns Newsweek, is typical. It ended up with pieces of 10 systems and owned one (Miami) entirely. By 1988, it had sold all its stake and reaped an after-tax profit of $170 million, nearly tripling its investment of $65 million. For comparison, this profit exceeded the cumulative pretax profit of Newsweek for the last seven years.

Even bigger bucks often went to winners of licenses for 643 smaller areas, awarded by lottery. The FCC got 386,000 applications, often submitted by groups of private investors. A cottage industry of law firms and engineering consultants cranked out applications with design drawings and financial commitments from banks and equipment suppliers, which were required by the FCC. But many applicants had no intention of building on a phone system. Winners sold their licenses for huge gains: a license on Cape Cod went for $30 million.

This, of course, is nuts. But the lottery represents an improvement over awarding all these small licenses in long costly hearings. That would have delayed construction of new cellular systems.

The solution is to have government conduct the auction that license holders now conduct themselves. The advantage is not just added revenues. The potential new uses of the radio spectrum are huge: worldwide satellite-e-to-ground telephone services; data transmission to laptop computers; radio devices to track trucks across the country. All these services may attract lots of companies. No one (including the FCC) can easily know which ones are superior. The best test is to make applicants pay for what they get, encouraging technologies that use the airwaves productively.

It's common sense — but not yet good politics. A short while back a House subcommittee voted to transfer the 200 megahertz without an auction. Strike three: Congress loves to give something for nothing.

(Attribution of all of the foregoing in its entirety, is given to Newsweek in a May 13, 1991 issue captioned "The Quiet Giveaway" authored by Robert J. Samuelson in conjunction with associate Virginia Wilson).

School 3 volunteers visit Whitey Ford's

The school crossing guards, door holders, office workers and other volunteers enjoyed roller skating, basketball, baseball and video games, for jobs well done.

Pinelands studied

Seventh grade classes at Belleville Middle School heard about the wonders of New Jersey Pinelands from Professor William Dunacomb of Union County College, recently.

The area, he said, is credited for its ghost towns, cranberry bogs, blueberry patches and forests of coniferous trees, in an area covering one million acres.

It also has geographical place names such as Ong's Hat, Apple Pie and Whitesbog.

Mrs. Martha Schoene, Middle School science teacher, arranged for a grant which funded the lecture.

Andre Watts, Symphony thrills the Arts Center

by Paul Sann

The near-capacity audience forgot the sultry heat that embraced the Garden State Arts Center recently when the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra under the direction of youthful Hugh Wolff, and today's superstar piano virtuoso Andre Watts, treated them to Tchaikovsky in all his glory.

From the opening number, Symphony Number 4, to the concluding number, the ever popular 1812 Overture, the musicians had the audience enthralled.

Despite the heat, Conductor Wolff directed the orchestra with his usual gusto, transferring his energy to the musicians. One word describes the orchestra — "precision." It whizzed through the complicated maze of notes as one player.

Following the intermission, Watts made his entrance to the roar of approval of his thousands of admirers. Soon he was deep into Piano Concerto No. 1 in B-flat minor Opus 23. Gone was any thought of the heat made bearable only by a hint of breeze, as Watts displayed his mastery of the piano. For an hour he gave ample evidence of why he is considered one of the giants of the concert piano.

The New Jersey Symphony will present a total of four concerts this season. On Aug. 12, Marvin Hamlisch will appear with the Symphony.

On Aug. 21, Michael Feinstein, popular pianist and singer, will bring his bountiful talents to the stage. And the renowned singer Shirley Bassey, so well known as the singer of the "Goldfinger" theme for the James Bond movie, will appear on Sept. 4.

Most of the nights in between will be devoted to the young people who enjoy rock music, with a Doo Wop Extraganza and an appearance by the Judds in July as examples of the range the Arts Center is offering.

Juveniles nabbed for stealing car parts

A 15 year old Nutley juvenile and three others were arrested at about 1:45 a.m. July 20 at the Nutley-Belleville border in an action initiated by Ptm. Eric Anderson of the Nutley Police Department, police reports said.

"The juveniles parked their car on Burton Avenue in Nutley then walked into Belleville where they began breaking into a car.

Ptm. Anderson, on his way home from the 4 to 12 shift at the police department, was approached by a neighbor who said he saw the kids near the car.

When the juveniles saw the two adults, they started to walk away, then began running.

The Nutley youth threw the face plate of a car stereo set to the ground as he fled, the reports said.

Ptm. Anderson caught one of the juveniles and called the Belleville police.

A tool box was found in the vehicle driven by the juveniles, police said. It was missing screwdrivers.

ShopRite provides School 7 computer

School 7 was awarded computer equipment by ShopRite Supermarkets recently as a result of its participation in the stores' Apples for The Students program.

During a 20-week period, the children, their families and friends saved register tapes totalling $328,715.

This earned the school two Apple IIe Monochrome Systems as well as an additional 5.25-inch disk drive.

The program was coordinated by the Organization for Parents and Educators.

GRADUATION DAY — Both parents and children were actively engaged in the toddler graduation in the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center recently, when the children donned their graduation hats to receive their diplomas for 10 weeks of attendance.

OUR OPINION

Scores don't tell all

When one Belleville High graduate wins a $15,000 scholarship to Boston University and another wins a $10,000 scholarship to Drew University, and they are just two among scores who have won major awards, we cannot dismiss our schools as second rate.

The publication of unofficial results of a statewide test in which Belleville students scored less than the students of neighboring towns has given critics of the school system ammunition, but it is faulty ammunition.

The fact remains that Belleville is more of a melting pot community than Nutley or Bloomfield, and you cannot take youngsters who are just getting acquainted with a new society and expect them to outscore youngsters who are raised in English.

Traditionally, rural people have always scored lower in written exams than urban people. It is not a matter of intelligence, but a matter of culture. A farm boy will fare better in the wilderness than a city boy. A city boy will do better in an urban street environment than a country boy. Neither is the superior of the other.

Belleville provides a good educational program to its young people, and it is working to make it ever better. It needs all the public support it can get for that school system.

Belleville youngsters are a cross section of the new society of the 90s. In the cross-culturalization that is going on in the schools, they are probably getting a better, more genuine education, than the youngsters in the more homogenous towns.

Belleville is an open door town, and it is still the entry way to the American mainstream for people seeking opportunity and a better life. Scores are numerical estimates. They are not true measures of value.

Here, we can act

The right of a town to tear down a burned out building is taken for granted in Belleville, but it is really a prime example of the power of self government. In New York City there are literally hundreds of abandoned, burned out buildings whose main function is to breed crime, and nothing gets done about them.

The hapless residents of the neighborhoods don't want these invitations to disaster, but they are powerless to do anything.

They have to wait for City Hall to act, and even if City Hall does want to act, there are usually conflicting constituencies that interfere.

There may also be a simple lack of money to do the job.

But in a municipality such as Belleville, the public's will is not ignored easily, and the dangerous building is bulldozed within a few days of the fire.

This is only a small example of the value of home rule.

With all the will in the world, the government of a large city cannot be as responsive to the public's will as can the government of a small town.

That is why it is so important to cherish and use the citizen's rights that we have. That is how we nourish our freedom.

That is why, when the time comes to open a public hearing to citizens, even if the people who come forth are the same ones who turn up at every meeting, they are still exercising a precious right. It is too bad that only a few see fit to do so, but at least the regulars who turn up are showing respect for their rights as citizens, and not ignoring those rights as most of us do.

A fine Belleville book

A book that every home in Belleville should have has just come off the press. With a beautiful full-color cover showing an artist's view of Belleville in 1831, the attractive little volume gives an overview of the town's history, going back to Colonial times.

It was prepared by the Belleville 150th Anniversary Committee, and being a couple of years late in arriving does not lessen its value.

The author is Robert B. Burnett, publications director of the New Jersey Historical Society, with the help of researchers Lillian Westcott, Isabel Wittlinger and Marie Vander Zwan, who worked with Barbara Spillane to gather material from the Belleville Historical Society and the Belleville Public Library and Information Center.

David Bryant, chairman of the 150th Anniversary Committee as well as town librarian, notes that a much fuller history of Belleville should be written, but in the meantime, this well-illustrated book is a convenient introduction to Belleville, and a reminder of how rich this town is in history.

We note that the Belleville Council has before it a resolution endorsing the idea of having Belleville recognized as the birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution.

This book, and the Council's resolution, could go a long way to reviving the the spirit that made Belleville great in the first place. Find a copy, and buy it.

Children thank firemen

To The Editor,

For more than a decade, The Therapeutic School and Preschool of Community Mental Health Services for Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley has enjoyed a marvelous relationship with the Belleville Fire Department on Franklin Avenue.

The firemen of Shift 4 along with Chief Beresford and Deputy Chief Triano have once again provided a marvelous cookout for the children and staff.

In addition to a barbeque with all the trimmings, they provided a learning experience for the children showing them the fascinating fire equipment.

The firemen responded in a caring fashion to each child. It is wonderful to have community members share with the children. Thank you from the children and staff for your continued support.

Don't underestimate us

To the editor:

After having recently read of Belleville's less than stellar achievement on the HSPT test, I feel compelled to write this letter. The test results do not accurately reflect on the caliber of teachers or students in the Belleville school system. My son attended kindergarten through the sixth grade at School Number 10. I feel confident that the education he received there will provide him with the foundation necessary to meet any educational challenge he may encounter. Mr. Petri and his dedicated staff gave each child the kind of quality education usually reserved only for those who could afford to send their children to exclusive private schools. I would like to take this opportunity to give special thanks to one outstanding educator, Mrs. Anna Jannicelli. My son was fortunate to have Mrs. Jannicelli for third, fourth and fifth grade, and while this is an unusual situation, it proved to be a positive one. Mrs. Jannicelli inspired her students by positive re-enforcement and by allowing them to be individuals free to express their own talents and interests. She has high goals and expectations, and few students want to disappoint her. With so much of our children's time entrusted to teachers, it was wonderful to know that Anna Jannicelli shared the same values and concerns as I did. Leaving my son in her capable hands made me feel like I had a co-parent. I can find no higher praise.

Cleaning fines protested

To The Editor,

I read that our Mayor and Council decided to increase the prices for offenses for street cleaning days. The fines were $6 and increased to $11.

I think this is an insult to the people of Belleville, a real slap in the face.

I would like to make two suggestions:

1) Hoping with the new revenues created a street cleaner will be purchased.

2) My second suggestion is that when the street cleaners don't come that violations should be suspended.

Because as it stands if these tickets are issued, the taxpayers should write violations for services not provided. Council, wake up.

License the kitties

To The Editor,

I live in the back yard of the Branch Brook apartments. In May, the Essex County Humane Society picked up two dead baby raccoons. The parents are still around. There is also a skunk in the area which cannot go unnoticed. There is also a minimum of 30 cats that do not belong to anyone.

These cats are mangy and often hurt. It is public knowledge that cats can carry rabies. It is important that we protect our children. There is an eight-year-old girl who lives across the street from me who has two cats of her own but is afraid to walk through the apartments because the cats are "scary." They hiss and they look mean.

If cats are not licensed and no one is responsible for them, then they are wild animals and the town is responsible to the people to keep them under control and free from disease.

Some helpers thanked

To the editor: On behalf of our organization I would like to thank the following merchants/companies who generously donated to our Graduation Celebration '91 Breakfast.

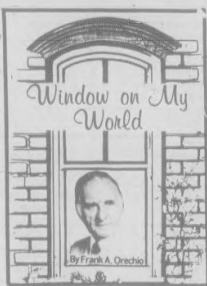

They are: Brookdale Shoprite, Plaza Pastry Shop, Wakefern Foods, S.A.D.D. of Belleville High School, Bageltime, Meyer's Bakery and Cafe, Wallace and Tiernan, Inc., Sunshine Biscuits.

Our student cruise on the Spirit of New Jersey was a huge success. The students enjoyed themselves immensely. Without your donation(s) for a Breakfast we could not have had such a complete and successful event.

Again, community involvement is the right step towards a substance free community.

• CHRISTINE TODD WHITMAN'S Committee for an Affordable New Jersey is soliciting funds to help elect Republicans to the Assembly and State Senate this year. Her group is trying to raise $200,000. If you're interested, the address is 38 North Gaston Avenue, Somerville, New Jersey, 08876.

• NOT too long ago, the Boca Raton News reported good and bad news about heart attacks. The odds of dying of a heart attack during sex — especially with your wife, are very slim. This is a report from Men's Health magazine. A study of 5,550 cases in which men died suddenly found that only 34 expired during sex. Only 18 of those had died of a heart attack, and only 5 of those were having sex with their wives.

And although more men experience heart attacks than women, women's attacks are usually more severe and twice as likely to be fatal. In addition, women don't do as well after bypass surgery. As an outgrowth, women no matter what their age, should make extra special efforts to reduce the major heart disease risk factors — smoking, obesity, high cholesterol, hypertension, stress and inactivity.

• ASSEMBLYMAN ROBERT FRANKS, the Chairman of the Republican State Committee is convening a convention of grass roots Republicans in September. Under new ruling, the political organizations won the right to lengthen the terms of county organization chairmen and county committee members to two years, and the right for party organizations to endorse candidates in primary elections. Chairman Franks expects over 2,000 Republicans to attend the GOP Convention planned for September.

• PATERSON Mayor Bill Pasarell, Jr. is dealing with the woes of the average big city, plus the legacy of late Paterson Mayor and State Senator Frank Graves. The first thing Pasarell did was to operate the Mayor's Office out of City Hall instead of the Police Department — that ought to send out a message that Pasarell looks upon the job as Mayor somewhat beyond the narrow concerns of the Police Department — as important as they are. Pasarell's style of governing is a lot more democratic than the late Frank Graves.

• THE Newark District of the IRS has announced a schedule of seminars in conjunction with the New Jersey Division of Taxation, on Form 1099 Information Requirements. The seminar is scheduled for September 12, 9:30 a.m. at Lyndhurst.

Another seminar is sponsored by the IRS to explain "How the Service Center Works" in Holtsville, New York. That seminar is scheduled for September 13, 9:30 a.m. at Lyndhurst. Reservations for either or both can be made by calling (908) 417-4075.

• GOVERNOR JIM FLORIO rightfully vetoed a bill that would practically repeal the ban on assault weapons. This, despite the pressure from the National Rifle Association, a powerful gun lobby. Members of the National Rifle Association are now targeting legislators seeking re-election. New Jersey gun control law is necessary legislation. It should not be tampered with. The people should stand up for legislators who had the courage to defy the National Rifle Association's political clout and voted to do the right thing. Senator Raymond Zane, who sponsored the bill, labels Governor Florio's expected veto, "a substantial mistake."

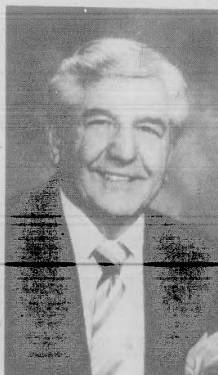

I think Senator Zane should be listening to Governor Florio who labels Zane's proposal, "a catastrophe." The Governor now states, "We will now find out if the legislature represents the people or the special interests?" — Amen.

• REPUBLICAN County Chairman John Renna's Essex County GOP is sponsoring a buffet cruise aboard the Spirit of New Jersey Monday, August 5th. The ship, docked at Weehawken, will accept passengers at 6 p.m., depart at 7 p.m., and return at 10 p.m. The buffet cruise includes music and dancing. Reservations are limited to 150 on a first-come-first-served basis. The buffet-open bar tab is $125. It will be worth every dollar of it.

• THERE is no way that anybody can blame Bloomfield Mayor Jim Gasparini or any other town official for the tragic deaths and one near death resulting from a failure of the cooling system in the Felicity Tower complex.

Here are the facts. The air conditioning unit was disabled on July 3rd. Since the building is under the jurisdiction of the United States Housing Mortgage Finance Agency, approval for the award of a contract to repair the air conditioning system was necessary from this federal agency — this doublecheck as a precaution against unscrupulous public officials awarding sweetheart contracts to favorite vendors. Approval to repair the unit was delayed because of the Housing Mortgage Finance Agency's authority to proceed. The Housing Mortgage Finance Agency awarded the $39,000 contract to replace the unit on Monday, July 22nd.

Could the agency have acted sooner — if it knew that two aged tenants of Felicity Towers were going to die, of course, they could. But who's to know? Tragedies of this kind always happen — usually totally unexpected.

Letters to the Editor

Opposed to renting

To the Editor:

As the P.B.A. President of the Essex County Police Department, I am presently fighting Essex County Executive Thomas J. D'Alesio over the downsizing of my department by 70 percent. I am not stopping the battle, but today I am agreeing with Mr. D'Alesio.

Superior Court Assignment Judge Burrell Ives Humphreys recently signed an order mandating that Mr. D'Alesio rent space in the Prudential Building in Newark at a cost of between $18 and $22 million for two years, while the old Courts Building is renovated. This money must come from the County budget, which will mean many more layoffs and many more County services you will not receive. You pay your tax bill, but all you will get in return is a rent receipt. Why? Mr. D'Alesio has offered to fix County-owned buildings in Belleville for the judges. This money would come out of capital improvement funds, and would result in no layoffs or services cut.

I believe that it is unfair, improper, and wrong to destroy employees and their families, and to cut needed services, all because one judge has been given the sole authority to decide where to re-locate the Superior Court for two years. The committee members that voted for this move knew the ramifications, but voted for it anyway. Perhaps we should look at who will receive the rent — what a lucky landlord!

While everyone is looking to maximize our tax dollars, here we are giving away money for nothing more than empty rooms that we will then have to set up into court rooms. Wake up, taxpayers! Make some phone calls and let them know that you are tired of wasting tax dollars.

A Libertarian view

To the editor:

I was listening to a radio call-in show when an earnest young woman called to express her concern for the homeless. It seems she felt guilty that she had a nice home in a New Jersey suburb while so many other people had nothing. She noted that as long as she owned her home, others could not, leading her to conclude that she and presumably anyone who has a home or apartment, was at fault for displacing other people and causing them to become homeless. I'd like to address this widely believed myth.

In a purely socialist society, such reasoning would be correct. There, some central planner decides how many homes there will be and if the plan gets met and if there are enough to go around then no one will be without.

Under the capitalist system, on the other hand, there is no such zero-sum game for any resource. Each person decides what it is they want and what they are willing to produce to get it. In other words, the pie isn't fixed but expands every time market participants want more and produce what they want. The catch (and the reason this system works so well) is that those who don't produce don't get. Clearly then, if dwellings go to the people who have produced equivalent value, such people are not the reason that non-producers are without dwellings.

Is that it then? Are the homeless to blame for their own homelessness? Not, exactly... it isn't quite that simple. If the market were allowed to work, everyone, save the least able, would have some kind of roof over their head. The problem is that governments keep trying to protect us from the numerous imagined dangers of an unfettered marketplace. They have so interfered with the development, rental and sale of housing that they have effectively priced an entire segment of society out of the market.

How has this happened? Briefly, escalating real estate taxes, inflexible zoning and building regulations, onerous rent controls, and ill-conceived public housing have all conspired to undermine the market.

So what's the bottom line? Simply this: people who have housing are not to blame for people who don't. Governments at all levels are unwittingly responsible for preventing the market from doing its thing: seeing that everyone is housed according to their means. If we really want to help the homeless, we can either build more public transportation facilities, or get our government out of the real estate market.

GOOD FOR THE HEART

A study of men who take cholesterol-lowering drugs shows not only that the drugs reduced formation of new fatty deposits, but they reduced arterial deposits of plaque that already were present. All men involved in the study were already afflicted with coronary heart disease. As reported in the "New England Journal of Medicine," each of the 120 men studied was assigned to one of three treatment groups: those who took lovastatin and colestipol; those who took niacin and colestipol; and those who received conventional therapy. The men received conventional therapy group exhibited a worsening of their condition. The men in the other aggressive-treatment groups, however, experienced a contrast half the amount of new arterial deposits and three times as much shrinkage of existing plaque deposits.

When treatment includes a prescription drug, for prompt service, bring it to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Part Two in a Series

Last week, we began a look back at the 1979 Belleville football team. Big things were expected from that team, based on its fine 6-3 campaign in '78 and a large contingent of players coming back for the Fall of '79.

Things have certainly changed in 12 years. Jimmy Carter was our nation's president. The Cosmos were a big draw in Giants Stadium and the NASL was a very successful soccer league. The Giants were tenants in the second division of the NFL East. Dallas and Philadelphia were the teams to beat in '79. The Pittsburgh Steelers were on their way to winning a second straight Super Bowl and fourth crown in six years.

Bruce Harper and Greg Buttle were key players on the New York Jets. There was a quarterback controversy at Shea Stadium as the fans wanted Matt Robinson at the helm, but the mule headed coaching staff chose the inept Richard Todd.

The Iranian Hostage situation made world news in November of '79 and, many people felt, sealed Carter's fate in the '80 election. Songs like "My Sharona" were big in '79. Donna Summer sang "Bad Girls," and Kenny Rogers' song "You Decorated My Life" was big on the charts. Sister Sledge's song "We Are Family" became a big hit in '79 and was the theme song of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who won the World Series.

In Belleville, the names on the gridiron were Lordi and Vitiello, Aullis, D'Agostino, Mendola, Nicolsa and LaBruzza. The Bucs were a veteran team and won its season opener at home against Livingston, 35-8.

In week two, the team traveled to Montclair, where success has been scarce.

"We've never done well there," head coach John Senesky said. "Montclair always had the tendency to beat us on a big play. That was the situation in '79, too."

The game was hard fought and in the third quarter, it was tied at seven. Frank Swain scored the Belleville TD and both defenses did well. In the third quarter, the Mounties went to their famous halfback option and the play worked perfectly.

Aubrey Lewis of Montclair beat a sophomore safety named Frank Pazzani on the option and Montclair held on for the 14-7 win. Senesky remembered the play well.

"Frankie was a very aggressive player in the secondary," Senesky said. "The pass went deep and Frankie was playing tight. The pass was deep and Lewis broke free and caught the ball. The coverage was good."

The sting of an early season defeat was evident the following week when Belleville traveled to Nutley for the annual battle with the Raiders. Back in '79, the game with Nutley was traditionally the third game of the season. Belleville had broken a long dry spell against Nutley in '78 by winning a 31-0 game. This time, the Raiders were more than ready.

The game was hard fought and at halftime, it was scoreless. Late in the third quarter, Ed Aullis went back to pass and found Len Mendola breaking free on the sideline. Aullis hit Mendola with a perfect pass and Lenny did the rest, running for the score. The pass was good for 41 yards and after Gabe DeFabrizio kicked the PAT, the Bucs led 7-0.

The Belleville defense did the job the rest of the way and held off a late Nutley rally. This was the game where then Belleville A.D. Jim Silvestri became enraged at the officials on a questionable call late in the game and shouted "you're a homie." (Silvestri loved the Belleville-Nutley rivalry. His face turned absolutely white as he yelled at that official.)

Anyway, after the game, Senesky commented on how good it was to beat Nutley. "But...". His words trailed off as he felt his team could have played better.

"We did a good job on defense that day," Senesky said this week. "On the TD pass, Eddie did a real nice job. He was hit just as he threw the ball. Mendola faked a downfield block and was wide open for the sideline pass."

"I also remember that Carl Lordi and Richie Vitiello threw key blocks on the offensive line on that scoring play."

Belleville was 2-1 and was scheduled to come home to face powerful Passaic. The Indians were 3-0 and had a quarterback named Mark Stevens, who I will tell you to this day is the best thrower I have ever seen on the high school level. He could throw the ball 70 yards on a line, and, when not throwing, could run the 40 in about 4.6 seconds. Stevens played college ball at Purdue, then transferred to Utah where he set a number of passing records in the WAC conference.

Stevens had led Passaic to a 38-13 win over the Bucs in '78. His passes were so crisp and had so much velocity, that once in a while his receivers couldn't handle the ball.

Such was the case in the '79 game. In the second quarter, with the score tied at seven, Stevens threw a bomb to David Lucanian. It didn't look good for Belleville, as Lucanian had a step on the Buc defender. The pass was absolutely perfect. Lucanian reached for the ball in full stride and dropped it. If he catches the ball, it's an easy seven. But that dropped pass gave the Bucs some momentum.

"We knew that Passaic had excellent speed and that Stevens was a fine quarterback," Senesky said. "We tried something different in that game, using our halfbacks to block for our fullback, who got the majority of the work. We felt that in order to beat them, we had to grind it out. We couldn't attempt to sweep the ends or beat them on a big play."

Robert LaBruzza was the fullback who did a super job on that Friday evening at Municipal Stadium. He rushed for well over 100 yards. When LaBruzza wasn't running, it freed up room for speedsters Mike Nicolsa and Mendola, who provided some good runs around the ends.

The biggest play of the game came late in the third quarter. The game was tied at 14 and Passaic was threatening to pull ahead. The Indians had a third and goal at the Buc eight. Stevens rolled out and threw a high pass into the corner of the end zone. Somehow, somehow, Ralph "The Bear" DePasquale, who stood (maybe) 5'9" tall intercepted Stevens' rainbow pass, jumping over a Passaic defender who was in excess of 6' tall. The pass was so high that it was on the sidelines lost track of the pass.

I'll never forget Ralph Burgess, then the Buc defensive coordinator jumping on DePasquale as he made his way to the sideline following the interception.

Belleville went on to a 26-14 victory, improving the team record to 3-1. The Bucs were a determined group that evening, showing a

Cerreto captures Ga. crown

By Mike Lamberti

Over the past 25 years or so, the Belleville wrestling program has produced some very talented grapplers. From 1980-91, three Belleville wrestlers have won state titles and you would need a calculator to add up all the team victories, conference championships, district crowns and regional titles.

Jim Silvestri, Gene D'Allesandro and now Joe Nisovicchia have guided the program to this tremendous success ratio on the varsity level. Dennis Villano was a standout freshman coach for 15 years. The four men have seen some very talented athletes pass through the program.

One of those very talented wrestlers was Dominic Cerreto. From 1982-85, he was one of Belleville's top lightweight wrestlers. He compiled a mark of 83-21 during that span. He broke Chris Musmanno's record for most victories in a career.

Jr. Legion advances, defeats Burlington

By Mike Lamberti

The "second season" has commenced for the Belleville Junior Legion baseball program and Pat Turi's team is off to a good start. The Bucs stopped Burlington 8-3 last week in the first round of the playoffs at Breslin Field in Lyndhurst.

Belleville was scheduled to play Roselle, the defending legion state champ, last Monday, but there was a question whether that game would be played due to the rain. The playoffs are a single elimination tourney, so one loss means good bye to the '91 season. The championship game of the state tourney is set for this evening, at Breslin Field. Once again, that's tentative, depending on the weather and the predictions aren't good for clear weather this week.

Against Burlington, Belleville continued the steady play it displayed during the regular season when the Bucs posted 12 victories in 15 tries. The win was especially impressive because Burlington was the top team in its conference this season.

"The kids did a good job," said Turi. "We got the key hits and the pitching was solid. It was a good effort, especially against a very competitive club like Burlington."

Belleville took control early, scoring twice in the top of the first inning. Jerry Turi started the rally with a single. Ken Johansen singled and a passed ball moved Johansen and Turi to second and third respectively. Mike Mundy walked to load er. Ironically, Dominic's record would later be eclipsed by his younger brother, Joseph, who won 100 matches in a high school career from 1985-88. Joe's mark fell by one match to Armondo Nardone, who finished his career with a 101-12 record.

After graduation from Belleville, Cerreto moved on to Rutgers University, where he had an outstanding collegiate career, both in wrestling and in the classroom. On the mat, he won 114 matches in the 126 pound class. He is second on the all time list for wins by a wrestler at Rutgers. He also won a scholar athlete award for all around excellence in college.

Cerreto's outstanding performance as a student earned him a place in chiropractic school and today, he is working long and hard at his career goal.

Although the glory of his wrestling days was two years removed, the bases and a wild pitch allowed Turi to score the first run. Mike Morgan then singled to score Johansen with the second run.

Belleville made it 3-0 in the top of the second. Joe DePeri walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a Turi single.

Burlington narrowed the lead to 3-2 in the bottom of the second, scoring twice off Mundy. In the third, Belleville got the two runs back. Kevin Johansen singled and scored on a Robert Dena double. Dena later scored when John Engdahl reached base on a throwing error.

The Bucs increased its lead to 8-2 in the fourth inning. Jerry Napolitano walked and Turi reached on a throwing error by the catcher. Ken Johansen walked to load the bases and Kevin Johansen lined a single to score Napolitano and Turi.

Burlington scored its third and final run in the last of the fourth.

Mundy pitched a complete game for the Bucs. In seven innings, he allowed seven hits and three runs. He struck out six and walked five.

NOTES: Belleville and Nutley ended the regular season in a first place tie. Nutley dealt Belleville two of its three losses. Turi and Kevin Johansen led the Belleville attack with three hits each against Burlington. DePeri had two of Belleville's 13 hits in the Burlington victory. Burlington was the state junior legion runner-up last summer.

Dominic still felt the desire to compete.

"He had been away from it for a while, but he was working out and decided to compete," said Dominic's older brother, Carmen. "He has moved up from the 126 pound class to the 146 pound division. He's worked hard. He felt he still had some good wrestling in him."

Dominic's determination was quite evident at the Georgia State

Dominic Cerreto recently won the 146 pound class at the Georgia State Games in wrestling. A 1985 graduate of Belleville High, Cerreto was a star wrestler for the Bucs, compiling 83 career wins.

Dominic Cerreto, competing here in a 1985 Buc wrestling match, has continued his outstanding wrestling career, both at Rutgers and now in Georgia State Games.

Flashback! '57 Bellboys stop Campers

By Mike Lamberti

This weeks Flashback takes us to the Fall of 1957. The Belleville football team has defeated Irvington in a Big 10 matchup. It was a good win for the Bellboys, considering Irvington had won a one sided game in '56.

The '57 Bellboys had an early season flu epidemic, but the team was healthy for the Irvington game and played very well.

Locally, the town was busy with politics, as an election was forthcoming. Nationally, the late 50's was a time of prosperity as jobs were aplenty and the nation was at peace. (That would, of course, change in the early 60's with the advent of Vietnam).

Anyway, this article appeared in the November 1, 1957 issue of the Belleville Times. Oh, and if you were interested, the brand new 1958 Dodge Swept Wing was on the showroom floor. You could see it at Boss Motors, Inc. on Washington Avenue. Also, the all new '58 Rambler was available for inspection at Blue and White Sales, also on Washington Ave. in Belleville.

The article was written by Dave Thaler.

Approximately a year ago Dave Beinler, one of the better backs on a so-so Irvington team, enjoyed the best day of his football career. The fleet halfback, who has since graduated, scored five touchdowns against Belleville as his mates trounced the Bellboys 46-7. That was the poorest showing of the year by the Blue and Gold, one that they are not apt to forget.

But the memory of that shelling is now endurable. For Gene Barra, who played in that game last year, pulled the same stunt last Saturday at Municipal Stadium when he ran for five touchdowns in leading Belleville to a 38-13 rout of Irvington. The big fullback was tremendous. Of the 375 yards that Belleville rolled up on the ground, he accounted for 276, averaging 15.3 yards per carry in 18 attempts.

Just as brilliant as Barra's performance was that of the defensive line. During the first half, which saw Belleville jump to a 25-0 lead, Irvington showed a net loss of three yards on the ground. Its air attack was little better, as the Campdown receivers were unable to snare any one of the nine passes thrown their way.

In the second half Irvington was able to score only after the Bellboys had stretched their lead to 31-0 and sent the second string in. Then the Campdowners capitalized on a Belleville fumble in one instance and a lapse in the pass defense in the other, and reached the end zone twice.

Belleville never left a doubt as to the outcome of the game. The local boys scored the first time they took possession of the ball. They started slowly, running the ends and grinding into the yardage.

They rolled up a first down, gained three yards and then set up their first score.

On second down Lou Long, Belleville quarterback, faded back and heaved a pass to Ed Seep. The play took the Blue and Gold from the Irvington 47 to the eight yard line. Three plays later, Barra "batted" through the center of the line to score from one yard out.

In the second period Long's punt put Irvington deep in its own territory. The defense kept them there, and the Bellboys wound up with the ball on the Campdowners' 27 yard line. Barra wasted no time. On the first play he took a pitch-out and went all the way.

Irvington took the kick-off and penetrated Belleville's territory for the first time. The visitors' attack stalled on the 38, however, and they punted. The punt was good and put Belleville on its own eight yard line. This didn't bother Barra, who, again on the first play went 92 yards to score his third TD of the afternoon.

The next time Belleville got the ball it waited two plays before it opened a hole for, you guessed it, Barra, who went off tackle for 63 yards and the score. That made the score 25-0, at which point it remained until the third period.

Barra's next touchdown was from 40 yards out. He went off tackle again as the line opened a beautiful hole for him. The big fullback's monopoly on the scoring was broken when Frank D'Angelo scored in the final period.

EDITORS NOTES: Belleville did not play very well the following week, tying Garfield at six. By the way, the win over Irvington improved Belleville's record to 2-1 on the '57 season. Some other key players on the '57 team included Jim Cardinale, John Vitiello, Mike Morano, Pat McCabe, Doug Augensbaugh, Joe Resciniti and Bill Bartell. The coach was the legendary Ed Berlinski.

Barra had a tremendous season in '57 and was among the leaders in the Essex County scoring race.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Football registration

There will be registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's 1991 Junior Buc's tackle football program at the Recreation House, 407 Jorammon Street, now through Aug. 9. Boys who will be 8 years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 14 before Sept. 1 are eligible. Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a minimum of 60 pounds and a maximum of 135 pounds, and no one above 8th grade can play. Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific age/weight requirements as set by the Suburban Twin County Football League.

To register, players must obtain an application from their school or the recreation department office. All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Recreation House by Aug. 9, with two passport size photos of the player and a copy of his birth certificate. All returning players from last year's team must re-apply. Tryouts will begin around Aug. 5. Players who choose to participate in tackle football cannot also play soccer or touch football in the same season.

Night registration for fall sports

The Belleville Recreation Department office at 407 Jorammon Street will be open on Thursday nights from 6 to 7:30 p.m. for Soccer/Football registration. The Recreation Dept. staff will register people who can't get to the office during regular hours on Thursdays, beginning July 11 through Aug. 8. Birth certificates are required for all applicants at registration and all returnees must re-apply. For further information, call 450-3422. The registration deadline for tackle football and soccer is Aug. 9 while the touch football deadline is Aug. 30 - no exceptions!

Preschool registration

The Belleville Department of Recreation & Cultural Affairs is presently looking into expanding its pre-school play program for 4 year old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

If feasible, an afternoon session will be added from 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. five days a week with class limited to 23 students. The cost of the 32 week session is $100. Children already enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program. The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule.

The afternoon session will be added only if 20 or more people register. School will begin on Sept. 16 and will run through May 1992. Children born between October 1986 - September 1987 who will enter kindergarten in September 1992 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come - first served basis only.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible, Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Soccer coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching its seven-to-fourteen year old soccer leagues. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games.

RECREATION CONTESTANTS — Some of the Recreation Playground participants that were in the contest were Jessica Santinelli, Michelle Jablonski, Hazel Vista, Chris Vista, Kyle Dunleavy, Robert Sanzano, Vanessa Zazzarino, Lisa Riccardi, Jennifer Icolari, Raquel Borgo, Lisa Jablonski, Randi Lazzi and Michelle Mills.

Playground activities

The Belleville Recreation Department Summer Playground Program is in full swing with various activities taking place at the six sites. The beautiful weather lately has really been helpful in bringing out the children.

At the Rec House, there has been a talent show and a dress-your-own stuffed animal contest. The winners received trophies and the runners received certificates. Other games of choice are kickball, dodgeball and nok-hockey. The directors are Donna Del Guercio, Alice Chiusano and Nancy Hang. The Friendly House enjoyed high attendance for the first two weeks. Games of choice seemed to be ping-pong, whiffle ball and pool. Speaking of the pool, the swimming pool at the Friendly House is now open and the turnout has been fantastic. Jim Higgins, the lifeguard, had to divide the children into age groups to accommodate the huge demand.

The Little League Playground has been extremely busy. They have been to see the movie "The Rock-eter", gone bowling and have taken in a show at the Paper Mill Playhouse. Diane Kelleher, the playground supervisor, has many other trips planned for her group.

At No. 8 and No. 9, the children have been busy with various tournaments such as ping-pong, nok hockey, Kalah and arts and crafts activities. No. 8 playground had a pizza party and both playgrounds are planning other parties in the future.

Soccer & touch football applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1991 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in recreation soccer. Belleville resident children who will be 7 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 14 on Dec. 31 are eligible. Nobody above 8th grade can play, and all returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8-10 can play touch football. Belleville boys who will be 8 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 10 on Dec. 31 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

For both soccer and touch football, all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Jorammon Street, with birth certificates. The registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 9, and the deadline for touch football is Aug. 30. Children are advised not to register for more than one full sport since football, soccer and touch football game and practice schedules conflict.

Cerreto wins at Georgia

Games, held on July 20 in Atlanta. Cerreto won the 146 pound class with a tremendous all around performance. He won his first round match by a 15-4 count. Believe it or not, that was to be his closest match of the competition.

Cerreto won round two by forfeit, then pinned his opponent in the semi final round. In the finals, Cerreto won a 15-0 technical fall to wrap up the championship.

Although Cerreto is currently living in Georgia, he still has a special place in his heart for Belleville. A good example of that came last November. Cerreto had been chosen for induction into the Belleville Hall of Fame and made the trip from Atlanta even though he was in the middle of exams at school.

His family showed up in record numbers for the induction ceremony. All the Cerreto brothers will tell you that their family has been tremendously supportive of their endeavors, both athletically and professionally. Their mother has been active in the Wrestling Parents Association for many years. It's safe to say that during every wrestling match, from Carmen, to Dominic and finally Joe that a Cerreto family member was in the stands, cheering their man on.

And what does Carmen think of his little brother excelling at the Georgia State Games?

"He's worked hard," Carmen said. "I'm not surprised. He's still my little brother, but he's not so little anymore."

Congratulations to Cerreto on a tremendous accomplishment at Georgia.

Buc Shots

great deal of emotion both before the game and at halftime. Senesky felt the team needed a boost of enthusiasm after the two lackluster games with Montclair and Nutley.

The victory over Passaic also greatly intensified the Belleville-Passaic football rivalry. From 1979-84, the Bucs and Indians played some unbelievable games. Both schools had tremendous football programs during that six year span and the crowd support for those games was quite large.

Next week, we'll continue our look at the '79 season, remembering the Irvington, Essex Catholic and Seton Hall games.

Weichert number one broker in the Northeast

Weichert, Realtors reported on June 21 that it has been named the number one independent real estate broker in the Northeast, according to REAL Trends, a national trade publication.

Weichert, based in Morris Plains, conducted 30,200 real estate transactions in 1990 for a total volume of $5.6 billion.

"Weichert's strong performance in 1990 is yet another indication of the company's superior dominance in the Northeast, despite challenging market conditions," said Steve Murray, co-editor of REAL Trends. "The hallmark of a leading company is consistency, and Weichert has certainly maintained a consistent presence as one of the country's pre-eminent real estate brokers."

James M. Weichert, founder and president of the firm, said, "The success we achieved in 1990 serves to underscore our company's commitment to providing buyers and sellers with only the best trained sales associates in the business. Our 1990 results are a tribute to our 4,400 associates."

Weichert, Realtors, with offices in Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware, provides a full range of real estate services, including mortgage, insurance, relocation, rentals, new homes and land, commercial, auction, and moving services.

Tips To Protect Trees and Shrubs

You can protect your trees and shrubs from drought, even when hot and dry weather is in the forecast. Here's a fertile idea from the experts at the National Bark and Soil Products Association:

After planting, mulch your plants with a high quality bark mulch two to three inches deep. This affects water in many ways. A bark mulch prevents the top of the soil from packing and "scaling off," and allows more water to soak into the ground.

Remember, bark mulch also reduces evaporation, thereby improving water retention. How does this help your trees and shrubs? It prevents growth of weeds and grass and reserves water for use by the tree or shrub. It also insulates the soil from the sun, resulting in lower soil temperatures. This aids root growth for better use of available water. Most water movement in a soil is vertical, so roots have to grow to new soil areas in order to tap additional water. When applying mulch, avoid excessive buildup at the trunk of trees and shrubs. Burying trunks in any material can harm plants. Limit mulch at the base of trees and shrubs to a 2" to 3" depth at all times.

For a free brochure on using bark mulch selection and applications, send a self-addressed business-sized envelope with first-class postage to: NBSPA, 13542 Union Village Circle, Clifton, VA 22024.

James M. Weichert, president of Weichert, Realtors, proudly displays his company's number one ranking in the Northeast according to a national report.

Did You Know??

The dangers of lead-based paint in older homes have caused some homeowners to spend thousands to remove it. It may be equally effective, say some technical advisors, to dust and wash painted woodwork on a regular basis.

Environmentally conscious gardeners save eggshells and crush them to mix with dirt in flowerpots or the garden, returning nutrients to the soil.

Shades of the southwest! Pair rustic chairs and checked-flannel cushions with a floorcloth of make-believe cowhide. Paint it with acrylic paint on canvas.

Metal outdoor furniture holds up better to weather if it's protected with a coat of quality automobile wax. Repair any rust promptly.

Housing sales are improving around the country. Reports indicate that developers of luxury homes are offering fewer incentives to lure potential buyers.

If houses are selling again, now's the time to put your property on the market. List with the know-how people at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley. Call 235-9000.
