Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

Good news for those with faith in modern surgery! Lou Cicenia of Charles Jewelers is back on the job after undergoing nasal surgery that required penetration to within one millimeter of the brain. He was in Summit Hospital for five hours, and home the same day. "The surgeon was Dr. Freifeld. Boy, is he good!" Lou said. And retired Police Chief Joe Smith came out of the hospital last week after undergoing his second heart by-pass operation. Any operation you walk away from is a successful operation. ●●●● And speaking of good doctors, Dr. Jack Grundfest provided the local Rotarians with a fine repast last week to prepare them for the jaunt to Camp Merryheart in beautiful Warren County. Rotary provides some of the upkeep for the camp, which benefits youngsters who have physical challenges. There they met a former resident of Belleville, now residing in Glen Ridge. That is Bert Folsky and he recalled the days when Franklin Avenue was a dirt road that ended at a hot dog stand where School 10 now stands, and since the school was built in 1929, that is going back some ways. Also recalled were the days when Farmer Maglia's cows used to wander down Newark Avenue, also unpaved, and visit the young housewives in what was then the veterans' housing Quonset huts in Silver Lake. This brought the police into play, who had to chase the bovines back home. ●●●● The town plans to lay water lines and other pipes under the Amtrak crossings, as part of a street improvement program. There are so few trains on the line, perhaps two or three freights each week, that no great interruption of service is expected. This is a far cry from the days when commuter trains plied the line, then the Erie-Lackawanna and gate tenders stood at each crossing. It was also the time when Hugh James O'Toole, who was a motorcycle patrolman, dashed after a passenger train in order to ticket it for speeding. O'Toole sped down Washington Avenue parallel to the tracks until he caught up with the train and passed it. Then he flagged it down, standing in its path on the track. Fortunately, the engineer slowed to a halt, and then O'Toole got into an argument with the conductor about the ticket. Historians say that O'Toole never did issue the ticket, possibly because he couldn't find the train's license plate, but he did manage to halt traffic on the line and disrupt enough schedules to make the Erie think twice about speeding again. When last heard from, O'Toole was in North Carolina where he took to wearing boots, checkered shirts and driving in a pickup truck, like a native.

And on the subject of police, retired Deputy Chief Jim Mundi was up from Florida recently to attend a christening. Mundi is another successful survivor of a heart attack, which hit him a few years ago. And Peggy Reed, secretary to Chief George Lister, was off for a week's vacation in England. That's today's world - one week vacations overseas when it used to take a week just to get up a gangplank. ●●●● Members of the Belleville Historical Society met recently in the very appropriate location of the old Dutch Reformed Church, the oldest functioning church in New Jersey and a wonderful place to hear the words of history as told by as gifted a historian and raconteur as Bob MacFayden. As he spoke of the men and women who made our history, many of them sleeping in eternal rest not 50 feet distant in the historic churchyard - including at least one, Colonel Philip Van Cortlandt reputed to have been buried in his Revolutionary War blue coat and with his sword - their presence came alive again. MacFayden likes to speak in the present tense - "Now, Washington is moving in a hurry down the road. Someone says to him, 'This is Second River.' He replies, 'That's nice. Let's keep moving.'" And MacFayden, a man with the build of a weight lifter, which he is, speaks easily of the Hornblowers, the Kingslands and the Stevenses as if they were casual friends. The effect is only heightened when you realize he is speaking to direct descendants of the Hornblowers and the Kingslands, Joe Hatch and Ada Kingsland, as well as historians Ed O'Neill and Isabel Wittlinger. That night, the topics included the hearings held before the New Jersey Legislature 170 years ago on whether Robert Fulton or Nicholas Roosevelt of Belleville had come up with the idea of the vertical paddle wheel for steamships, combined with the double-boiler steam engine, and apparently, Roosevelt proved it, making him the true inventor of the modern steamship. Roosevelt was great-uncle of both Franklin D. and Theodore Roosevelt. The past was not so distant, and the actors of the time not so far removed, as MacFayden weaved his spell.

Council moving to recognition of Belleville as cradle of America's industrial revolution

The Town Council has before it a resolution tonight endorsing the campaign of The Belleville Times to have Belleville recognized as the Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution.

Sensors Carmen Orehio and Gabe Ambrosio have announced they will introduce a resolution in the New Jersey Senate to petition the President and Congress to take official cognizance of the fact that the first steam engine on the North American continent went into operation here in 1753, and that subsequently the first steam engine to be produced in the United States was designed and manufactured here.

Other events also occurred in Belleville that put it in the forefront of American industrialization.

The proposed resolution is as follows:

Whereas, the official newspaper of record of the Township of Belleville, the Belleville Times, has urged national recognition of the fact that Belleville is the birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution;

And because numerous private citizens and civic organizations, among them the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, have endorsed this proposal;

And because Belleville is owed recognition as the place where in 1753, engineer and inventor Josiah Hornblower erected the first steam engine on the North American continent;

And because some 40 years later the first steam engine built in the United States of America was designed and built in Belleville;

And because the first effort at a steamboat was launched, using a ship constructed in Belleville and an engine built in Belleville;

And because in the ensuing years, Belleville remained a focal point of America's industrial development, linked with such names as Samuel F.B. Morse, who sent the first telegraph message to Washington, D.C. from Belleville, over copper wires made in Belleville; George Eastman, who developed modern photography; Thomas A. Edison, who developed the modern storage battery here, and many other great figures in America's industrial history.

And because Belleville should be a repository of information and education to the world, to herald this achievement of free men and women;

And because we urge our fellow citizens to join with the Belleville Times in seeking official recognition of Belleville as the Birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution by the County of Essex, by the Governor and Legislature of New Jersey and by the President and Congress of the United States;

We, the elected Council of the Township of Belleville, do endorse the proposal, and agree to have a representative on the committee to bring the proposal to fruition.

Betty is identified

She only knew that her name was Betty, and police found her wandering on Bellevue Avenue near Franklin Avenue at 1 a.m., a week ago, Wednesday. She was neatly dressed, and she was not disheveled, but she couldn't tell any more than her first name.

The search for her identity was led by Police Lieutenant Anthony Wieners, with the help of the computerized National Center for Information on Crime, the NCIC.

Wieners fed information into the computer - a gray haired, healthy woman in her late 60s, five feet seven inches tall.

A flood of information of missing women meeting the description came in from across the nation.

SOON TO BE HISTORY? - This house at the corner of Passaic and Chestnut Streets has become a neighborhood eyesore, with cars under repair in its yard, and a general unpainted condition. The structure apparently is pre-Civil War. Its owners want to demolish it to construct two two-family units, and the Zoning Board has turned down their request. However, the town has no plans for its preservation, either. A meeting between the owners and town officials is scheduled on Sept. 21 to find a solution.

Little Leaguers are champions

TOPS IN THE LITTLE LEAGUE - Sponsored by the Elks, this Little League team won both the American League championship and the World Series championship. Jack Sullivan is their coach.

Avondale-Big Tree Picnic tickets still available

Tickets are still available for this Sunday's third annual Avondale-Big Tree Friendship League picnic. Starting at 1 p.m. and lasting until 5 p.m., the picnic will be held on the grounds of the Nutley Parks and Recreation Building, 44 Park Ave., Nutley.

Soda, hamburgers, hot dogs, sausages and peppers, watermelon, door prizes and games - including softball, bocci ball and horseshoes - will be featured throughout the day.

Tickets are $12 for adults, $5 for children, age 5 to 7, and children under 5 are admitted free. Tickets are available by contacting Ralph Turano at 667-4025, Frank Capalbo at 667-3827 or John Ferraro at 759-5563.

Organizers of the picnic are asking those who plan to attend to bring their own chairs. Tables will be provided.

According to Ralph Turano, picnic chairman, the Avondale-Big Tree Friendship League picnic is a yearly opportunity for old friends to gather and reminisce about the past as they "catch up" on the present.

"It's a time for those of us who grew up in the Avondale-Big Tree section of Nutley to come together and renew old friendships and rekindle fond memories of yesterday," Turano said, adding, "We are all part of the same neighborhood and we want to keep those friendships alive."

Checks or money orders for the tickets can be mailed to the Avondale-Big Tree Friendship League, c/o The Nutley Sun, 800 Bloomfield Ave., Nutley, N.J. 07110, or dropped off at The Nutley Sun Office, the Washington Avenue Barber Shop, 188 Washington Ave., or at the Italian Fiorante Club, 34 Carner Ave., Belleville.

"Betty"

Wieners concentrated on one, a woman who had been missing since the previous Monday from her Manhattan home.

With the aid of the New York City Missing Persons Bureau, a tentative identification was made.

Clarence Purvis, a retired head of the Truancy Division of the New York Board of Education, was notified that a woman resembling his missing wife had been found in New Jersey.

He identified her at Clara Maass Medical Center, where her first question to him was, "Where have you been?"

Betty is Betty Purvis, 67, a resident of the upper income Chelsea neighborhood, and a retired special reading teacher with the New York school system. The couple also has a home in Massachusetts.

The mystery remains as to how she travelled from West 24th Street in Manhattan to Belleville, particularly when no money was found on her. Whether or not the mystery is solved, she is back with her family, and the mystery of Betty is solved.

A breather for library

Because of the library's reference room renovation project and for environmental reasons, such as the toxicity resulting from the spray painting, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will be closed Aug. 26 to Sept. 3, according to Library Director David Bryant and the Library Board of Trustees.

The Shafter Branch Library at 30 Magnolia St. will be open daily from Aug. 26 to Aug. 30, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., to serve the community during this period.

The following programs will be cancelled and rescheduled at a future date at the Main Library:

- Photography of Collectibles, Monday Aug. 26, 7:30 p.m.
- The Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday film series at 1 p.m.
- The Crocheting Class, Tuesday, Aug. 27, 1 p.m.
- The Children's Room Final Party, Tuesday, Aug. 28.

For further information contact the Library at (201) 450-3434.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

President George Bush conceivably may be considered the most peripatetic of our Presidents preferring diplomacy to what he calls "domestic stuff." Many Americans, however, would prefer that he spend more time to save their schools, hospitals, banks, jobs and pensions.

More than a few Washington think tank leaders denounce the "irrelevance of our recent foreign policy, and even its victories, to the concerns of most Americans." Many feel the U.S. should junk the idea of "exercising something rudely called leadership" and "insulate" itself from the disasters of the Third World. Others would also have the U.S. abandon "overseas missions that, however appealing, bear only marginally on protecting and enriching the nation." The list of activities believers also qualify includes "promoting peace, stability, democracy and development around the world" and "protecting human rights."

The American labor movement is in a protectionist mood. So are many members of Congress. Local officials, bedeviled by deficits and cutbacks, fulminate at the idea of U.S. aid to the former evil empire. At a recent meeting of the National League of Cities, Sidney Bartelme, the mayor of New Orleans, said, "The Federal Government needs to shift its priorities from continuing to assist and aid everybody outside America (while) ignoring the problems inside America."

Messengers with internationalist credentials as good as the President's are calling on the U.S. to "start selectively disengaging" from overseas commitments, "a psychological turn inward" and a Marshall Plan "to put our house in order." A few weeks later James Reston of the New York Times argued that "the main threat to our nation's security (comes) from within" and urged Bush to build a "new American order." Meanwhile, Peter Peterson, chairman of both the Council on Foreign Relations and the Institute for International Economics, is advocating "the primacy of the domestic agenda."

Some versions of this theme seems to figure in the Democrats' presidential campaign next year. It's a safe bet their candidate won't echo John F. Kennedy's exhortation to "pay any price, bear any burden." Instead, Thomas Jefferson's warning against entangling alliances is back in fashion. Reston endorses John Quincy Adams' injunction to go "back abroad in search of monsters to destroy," while Hyland offers his own version: "The enemy is not at the gate, but it may already be inside."

Harvard's Joseph Nye warns, "Our low savings rate and high deficit have diminished our hard power, by consuming too much and investing too little, we're risking our capacity to stay on the cutting edge of the third technological revolution, the one in formation. In the '80s we went from being the biggest creditor nation to being the biggest debtor, and that has cost us a further degree of political influence. So has falling into second place behind Japan as a dispenser of foreign aid."

As Robert Hormats, a veteran economist and policy maker, puts it, "The crisis in our educational system undercuts our productivity, which weakens our competitiveness, which lowers our political standing, which reduces our ability to influence world events...even if our cities fall apart, if we no longer can offer our citizens upward mobility because our economy is stagnant, and if we shut our borders to immigrants. In short, a healthy economy is a precondition for a successful foreign policy."

The best example of what happens when a country fails to maintain its economic basis was on display at the Group of Seven summit a few weeks ago. Only a few years ago, the West saw the U.S.S.R. as the menacing apotheosis of hard power. Yet Mikhail Gorbachev came to London as a supplicant because his country's armor-plated exterior for so long hid a rotten core. All of which clearly establishes the reality that a delicate balancing act is required for stability and strength in the preservation of sound national government.

Irish Society names Cook as Man-of-Year

At the August meeting of the Belleville Irish American Society, Deputy Mayor William P. Cook was selected Irish Person of The Year for 1991.

Cook will be honored at the group's annual dance to be held on Saturday, Oct. 26 at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Bridge Street. Cook is a charter member and Secretary of the society. He has been active in the Belleville Soccer Association, having coached youngsters in the sport for many years.

He is a Professional Engineer with Hoffman-LaRoche in Nutley, a member of the Belleville Knights of Columbus; a member of the Parish Council of Mount Carmel Church, and a member of the Township Council.

He is married to the former Gail Cullen, and the couple has four sons: Richard, William, Brian and Timothy.

Tickets to the dance, which will have entertainment by Mike Byrne, may be obtained by contacting George Lynch at (759) 9656 or Bernard O'Connor at (201) 759-9507.

Historian says we're destroying our past

Robert MacFayden, official Historian for the township, and president of the Belleville Historic Society, says that barely a half-dozen historic residences remain in town, and even they are facing destruction.

"We could have been a Williamsburgh," MacFayden said, referring to the Virginia community where 18th Century architecture has been preserved, making it a national shrine.

"At the turn of the century, there were at least 200 houses in Belleville that pre-dated the Civil War, many of them going back before the Revolution. Since the 1950s, at least 70 of what remained have been destroyed, and we now have about as many such houses as you can count on one hand."

"Whenever anyone protested the destruction of an historic site, the Town Fathers would reply 'This is New Jersey, not Virginia. So we put up condos in their place.'"

MacFayden said that one of Belleville's claims to a place in history is that it was where an American-designed steam engine - built in Belleville - propelled an American-built ship up the Passaic River in 1797. Robert Fulton used a European-built engine to power the Clermont, which sailed the Hudson River several years later.

"The first all-American steamboat came from here," MacFayden said.

Mason vows them at Arts Center

By George Kroll

Writing a review of Jackie Mason's recent performance at the Garden State Arts Center is like reviewing the recent Gulf War. It depends largely on whose side you are on.

In all candor, Mason had a big edge with a predominantly ethnic audience. His appeal was his Jewishness. The question is, did his appeal have a backlash with those non-Jews who were in the audience? According to our poll of those with whom we talked, they loved Mason.

As he explained, "I'm not such a big hit with some Jews. They think I'm too Jewish. They're ashamed of me," he said.

If that were true it was not evident at the Arts Center where 7,000 fans roared their approval. Mason was "on" for nearly two hours during which time he kept the audience rolling in the aisles.

His show hasn't changed from the show that took Broadway by storm two years ago. His trademark is to pick someone out in the front row to be his scapegoat. "I'm talking to you, Mister." Or, "Look at that bleep, the Nazi bastard." Such taunts only served to keep the audience in his grasp, including the unfortunate fan in the first row who loved being taunted.

"The first people to accept me were the Italian," Mason is quoted as saying. Not being accepted by his own people caused him great anguish. "They told me to drop my accent, and I would be a hit. I would have hit them in the mouth if they weren't so tall. I couldn't reach them."

Mason referred to his run-in with famed columnist and TV personality Ed Sullivan who almost ran Mason out of show business after an incident on his show in 1964. Sullivan held up two fingers to tell Mason that he had two minutes left. "He was being very obvious with the finger movements and he was destroying my act," said Mason. "I decided to make a joke out of Sullivan's gestures. I didn't know the gestures would be misinterpreted," he lamented.

They were not vulgar gestures, but they led to the cancellation of Mason's $45,000 contract and a career decline that lasted until his one man show catapulted him to the top of the heap again.

For future shows at the Garden State Arts Center, exit 116 off the Garden State Parkway, Holmdel, ticket prices are $27.50 for reserved seats and $16 for lawn seating. Call (908) 442-8600 for more information.

WINNER - Maria Lupo of Belleville, whose mixed media work "Resemblance/Image/Memory?" was awarded Best in Show at NJ Center for Visual Arts Annual Members' Show and Sale. Lupo has received many awards including a Fellowship Award from the NJ State Council on the Arts and most recently an award from the National Museum of Women in the Arts in Washington, D.C.

Trustcompany reports increase in six months

Siggi B. Wilzig, chairman and president of The Trustcompany Bancorporation (O.T.C.), parent company of The Trust Company of New Jersey, announced that the bank's net income for the first half of 1991 increased 9 percent over the last year. Net income increased from $11.6 million for the first six months of 1990 to $12.6 million for the first half of 1991.

This was achieved after both an increase of $4 million to the provision for loan losses and a change in pension plan accounting methods resulting in income adjustments of $6 million in the second quarter and $3 million in the first quarter which are net of related income taxes. Because of the soft New Jersey economy and declining real estate values the bank increased its loan loss reserve from $18 million at

June 30, 1990 to $27 million at June 30, 1991.

"Unlike most New Jersey banks, The Trust Company's capital ratios are excellent," Wilzig said.

Deposits at June 30 increased from $1.7 billion a year ago to $1.9 billion and total assets for June 30 increased from $1.9 billion to $2.1 billion.

The Board of Directors announced an increase in the annual dividend from $5.6 per share to $6.00 per share. This quarter's increased dividend is payable Sept. 2, 1991 to shareholders of record August 9, 1991. During the past four years, the dividend has been raised six times, increasing the dividend by 300%.

Wilzig continued, "The bank's earning performance is in contrast to the New Jersey banking industry. In fact, Standard & Poor's recently recognized Trustcompany's performance by raising the bank's stock rating. This is extraordinary since during the same period, Standard & Poor's lowered its stock rating of all other major New Jersey banks."

OUR OPINION

Time is not measured by the years that you live
But by the deeds that you do and the joy that you give —
And each day as it comes brings a chance to each one
To love to the fullest leaving nothing undone
That would brighten the life or lighten the load
Of some weary traveler
lost on Life's Road —
So what does it matter
how long we may live
if as long as we live
we unselfishly give

Take heart from history

Great things are ahead for Belleville.

As the movement grows to recognize this town as the Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution, it should help put into perspective the kind of community we are.

Belleville was on the right side in the Revolutionary War. Some 67 residents, representing almost as many families, joined the Continental Army to risk their lives and property and launch themselves into an uncertain future.

There were many who did not choose to fight Great Britain. There were many who, for good and logical reasons, preferred the known order to the unknown. Many were simply loyal to the King, and feared change.

It took men and women of strong mind and strong character to take on the world's mightiest empire.

Among them was Josiah Hornblower, English-born, who came to Belleville in a business venture, and stayed to place his loyalty with his new country.

He fled his home when British and Tories put a price on his head. In many ways, his contributions to America rivaled those of Benjamin Franklin, and in a practical sense, he was Franklin's equal.

His introduction of the steam engine was vital to America's survival in the decades that followed the Revolution.

All that stemmed from his development of the steam engine here led to one of the greatest events in history, the industrialization of America, making it the world's mightiest power, and the mightiest defender of freedom in history.

During the Civil War, when the New Jersey Legislature was so pro-Southern as to be called Copperhead, the people of Belleville volunteered by the scores to join the Union Army, and more than a score of them died in America's most terrible conflict.

Here, the beginnings of organized labor were born. Here is where waves of immigrants found their way into the American mainstream, and in turn gave of their blood and toil to their new country.

From the outset, this was a place of invention and achievement, accomplished by free men and women.

The inevitable movement of heavy industry to other parts of the nation, and the economic disasters that came with the Depression, and perhaps a loss of the sense of continuity with the past, lessened the sense of optimism that had propelled Belleville through its earlier years.

There were times when we lost sight of those men and women who had created a free and powerful nation — "The last great hope of mankind," Abraham Lincoln said, and we forgot why they had chosen their destiny as they did.

Now the time has come for us to appreciate the great role that our town played in America's history, and to rededicate ourselves to the dreams that great men and women dreamed for our future. The dream has not died.

We simply have to try to be worthy of it.

YOUR OPINION

Crony government is result of "bullet voting"

To The Editor:

A backward look at a backward election.

Recently, Belleville experienced yet another of its "backward" elections. (Thankfully, I was not running in it!) "Backward" because what happened gave evidence that one of the cherished freedoms of Americans, the right to vote, had indeed gone "backwards" into the dark ages of political cronyism in Belleville.

The overall prevailing attitude was "apathy".

When there are over 15,800 eligible voters, and only 2,259 bother to come out to vote, that's "apathy". The degree of political cronyism was evidenced in the number of voters who "bullet voted".

For those who are not familiar with this political tactic, it's when a voter deliberately does not cast all the votes he or she has a right to cast. While "bullet voting" might rarely be justified if the voter honestly believed the other candidate or candidates were totally unworthy to merit his or her vote, in Belleville it is mainly used to work against all other candidates.

The 2,259 voters should have cast 4,518 votes (2x2,259) if all voters cast all the votes to which they were entitled. Only 3,613 total votes were cast for candidates; therefore, 925 voters "bullet voted". Only 1,863 out of 2,259 bothered to vote on the budget.

This is what happens when the non-politically active silent majority stays home, and allows the political cronies to take control.

Here are some facts that show the extent of their activity:

The Little League Field House polling place had the highest concentration of "bullet voting" with 49 percent. Almost one out of every two voters "bullet voted" there.

School 4 followed close behind with 48 percent "bullet voters".

School 8 had the lowest percentage, with 29 percent "bullet voting".

The entire town's polling places had an average of 39 percent bullet voters; or more than one out of every three voters.

Perhaps the most damaging evidence of political crony control was demonstrated in the Absentee Ballot results. In contrast to the 39 percent average of "bullet voters" who voted at the polling places, over 86 percent of the Absentee Ballot voters were "bullet voters".

And further, while 56 percent of those who voted at the polling places voted against the budget, over 88 percent of the Absentee Ballots were against the budget.

Equally clear was the fact that 86 percent who voted for only one candidate and the 88 percent who voted against the budget were one and the same!

What happens when political cronyism takes control is that less than competent people get elected. These less than competent people are controlled by the political cronies and they deal in political job patronage which results in less than qualified people getting on the public payroll. And, that is what has been largely responsible over the years for preventing Belleville from becoming a more successful and vibrant community.

Belleville lost a fine, dedicated, qualified and capable public servant in Board Member Ralph Mazurka. Please, Ralph, don't be dismayed, give it another try next year.

The only way that Belleville can take a "forward" look with a positive hope for more voter participation by its non-controlled silent majority is to bring to a halt the questionable, and possibly illegal practices, which in the past have brought about these "backward" results, by having them investigated.

Finally, that is now being done!

May I offer a word or two of suggestion to the honest and trusting voter who just can't possibly vote at a polling place on election day and must use an Absentee Ballot to exercise his or her voting privilege.

1. Get the application for Absentee Ballot from the election authorities. Fill it out yourself and mail it yourself. Do not give the application to anyone else to fill out or deliver.

2. When you receive the Absentee Ballot through the U.S. mail, complete it yourself, sign the certification yourself and mail it yourself. Before you sign the certification, read it. You are certifying by affidavit that you have completed and sealed your ballot. Do not give your ballot to anyone else to mail.

Only if you are physically incapable of following the above suggestions, you should seek assistance of a family member in your immediate household and have him or her sign the authorization of assistance on the certification form.

Not following these two suggestions could subject your ballot to foul play. And, you may unwittingly be committing or abetting a violation of voting procedure or election law.

Please exercise your right to vote, exercise it fully in every election that affects your life, and most especially the lives of your children. Don't let anyone direct, control or "handle" your vote! Always vote your conscience and do it alone, and then both you and I can look "forward" to a more prosperous and successful Belleville together.

EDITOR'S NOTE - "Belleville High School News" is a new section of our newspaper, which will run in each edition, space permitting. It features a weekly roundup of student activities and events, reported by the students themselves. All Belleville High reporters are members of the school's Journalism class.

• AUGUST 23rd, at the Wayne Manor, a tribute to the Operation Desert Storm Veterans of Passaic County will be held.

Keynote speakers scheduled are Rep. Robert A. Roe, Assemblyman William Pasarell, Passaic County Prosecutor Ronald Fava and Sheriff Edwin Englehardt. Clint Pagano is also expected to be present.

It's a dinner-dance with live music affair.

• U.S. ATTORNEY MICHAEL CHERTOFF recently announced the indictment of Jersey City Mayor Jerry McCann for alleged fraud and tax evasion. McCann claims he has become a target of a political vendetta.

Nobody could accuse U.S. Attorney

ment results from an effort on the part of the Republican Party to offset the negative publicity resulting from President Bush's son's activities with the savings and loan institution. That's plain baloney. One thing the reader must bear in mind — an indictment is not a finding of guilt. It's for a jury to determine whether the defendant is innocent or guilty. When the slightest question of illegality comes, it is the job of U.S. Attorney Michael Chertoff to present the facts to a jury for consideration. If the jury indicts, the next step is for a trial jury to listen to the testimony of the defense, followed by a decision guaranteed by our Constitution.

• FOR 160 lucky people, Monday night, August 5th, was a night to remember. Essex County Republican Chairman John Renna reserved the top deck of the Spirit of New Jersey for an evening dinner cruise up the Hudson. Tickets went for $125 each — and they were worth every dollar. The Spirit of New Jersey gave those aboard a delicious cruise, exciting entertainment, a delicious buffet dinner, and Renna says that he arranged for a clear, balmy night to maximize the joy of a boat ride. When the Spirit of New Jersey returned to the Weehawken dock at 10:00 PM, John Renna was assured of a very successful evening, and 160 fun-loving people prepared to make reservations for next year's boat ride. Grace Renna joined her husband in hosting the party, and one will have to look long and far to find a couple with so much grace and style.

• I AM happy to publicly proclaim that the Belleville Town Council is a class act with a capital "C". Members of the Council conduct themselves in a manner that clearly reflects a concentrated effort to project the best image for the town which members of the Council represent. It is a welcomed change from the past when bitter acrimony was the order of the day at every Town Commission meeting. There may be seven other members of the community that could do as well a job as the present seven. It will be difficult to find seven that could do a better job. Sincere, dedicated and competent, the Belleville Town Council has demonstrated in 14 months that it is entitled to the trust and confidence of the community.

GOVERNOR JIM FLORIO recently appointed East Orange's outstanding Mayor Cardell Cooper to membership on the New Jersey Sports Authority that operates the Meadowlands Sports Complex. Cardell Cooper brings to the job the wisdom of a successful elected public official and the dedication of a caring person. Cooper's selection to service on the Authority is the recommendation of

Mayor Cardell Cooper

Essex County Democrat Chairman Ray Durkin.

• BILL GRUVER, the well known radio/television host and editor/columnist, contributes thoughts entitled, "Getting the Commuters Back on Board".

There is good news for those who use the New Jersey Transit buses or trains. The fares will not go up this year. That's due to expected Federal funding and an overall lean budgeting. The real reason is the need to get more people to leave their cars at home and use public transit.

New Jersey's roads are the most heavily traveled in America. For any who drive, that should come as no surprise. We face more traffic hazards and more accidents with crowded roads. But it has been very difficult to get people to get out of their cars. The best incentive is to make the riding more comfortable and priced within reach of most incomes. The trains are fast, comfortable and on time. They run in all kinds of weather. The buses are within reach of most offices, stores and residential areas.

This is a state that needs to get its working people from home to their work sites. New Jersey Transit is one of the best commuter systems in America. The Governor and Legislature have made it possible for keeping fares at the present level. You might be surprised at how relaxing it can be to use the NJT train or bus. You will save wear and tear on your car and ease your stress.

For years the ridership on NJ Transit has been on the decline. But federal funding would be lost for the maintenance and improvement of the system without enough riders. In the coming months, NJ Transit will be urging more riders. Try it and you may like it. The bus or the train could be a discovery and perhaps a habit.

Ace Alagna, nationally known as a photographer-journalist, and publisher of the Italian Tribune News, received an unusual honor from UNICO National on Aug. 3 in Phoenix, Arizona.

The service organization for Americans of Italian heritage presented its Rizzuto Award to Alagna for his contributions to both the Italian-American community and the general public, regardless of race or creed.

Alagna is not a member of UNICO, but he has been honored in the past by UNICO chapters in Newark, Union and Maplewood as "Man of the Year."

A member of the National Press Association and the White House Press Corps, Alagna achieved his nickname because of his ability to take an outstanding news photo with just one shot.

He covered the administrations of Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson and Richard M. Nixon. In 1968, he acquired the Italian Tribune News, a weekly published in Newark since 1931.

He has appeared in a number of major motion pictures, among them "The Godfather," "Ghostbusters," "The Color of Money," "Death Trap" and "Moscow on The Hudson" and is a member of the Screen Actors Guild.

A film producer, a frequent guest on talk shows, the subject of a film biography by WWOR-TV and a man of many other interests, he was named Grand Marshal for the opening of Walt Disney's Epcot Center in Orlando, Florida.

For 21 years, he has directed the Newark Columbus Day Parade, and in 1988 he hosted the Columbus Day celebration in West Orange, where he presented a bronze Columbus Award to President Ronald Reagan.

One of his many major philanthropic achievements was the raising of hundreds of thousands of dollars for medical assistance to the people of Poland. Another was the campaign that helped raised millions of dollars for the earthquake victims of Northern Italy in 1976. He is the first American of Italian heritage to receive the State of Israel Award for his contributions to brotherhood.

The Republic of Italy has named him Cavaliere della Repubblica d'Italia, a knighthood, and then Grand Ufficiale. The Roman Catholic Church has bestowed on him its highest honor for a lay person, the title of Knight of Malta.

A veteran of World War II, he has been honored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and he has received the John F. Kennedy Library for Minorities Award.

The son of Mario and Marianne Alagna, both of whom came to this country in 1900, he has been married to the former Josephine Zuccarello of Brooklyn for 46 years. They have four daughters and seven grandchildren.

Regal Carpets nears its 35th anniversary

Nearly 35 years of successful carpet, linoleum and tile laying has made Regal Carpets of Bloomfield and Belleville one of the most successful and reliable floor covering firms in the tri-state area.

Whether the job has been the carpeting of the prestigious Georgian Inn in Montclair, or the supplying of linoleum for a modest kitchen, the family of founder Frank DiFiglia Sr. maintains the same high standards of quality and workmanship, and the same low price.

While linoleum and tile are important parts of the firm's business, its first love is still carpeting.

"We still work hard to keep our costs low, to give the quality you deserve, at substantial savings. Very little work is done by outside subcontractors," Frank DiFiglia Jr. said, recently.

Working with him are brothers Jim and Tony DiFiglia, keeping it a family operation.

A recent letter from a satisfied client, the Georgian Inn, states: "We are so pleased with the carpet which you recently installed. Thank you for a fine professional job done, including service and installation.

"We are also pleased with the quality of the product, itself, and the price is certainly right. We hope to be doing a lot of business with you in the future."

Regal Carpets has a warehouse in Central Jersey, and sales outlets in Bloomfield and Belleville. It offers a shop-at-home service as well, at (201) 748-0727.

Local chefs advance in ShopRite contest

Local kids showed their culinary creativity with recipes that spanned the globe from Mexico to Thailand in the 1991 Kids In The Kitchen "Melting Pot" recipe contest. Seven local chefs have been selected as local winners and will represent the ShopRite of Nutley in the regional recipe judging round in August.

The young chefs entered recipes that either highlighted their own ethnic backgrounds, or a favorite international cuisine. They competed in two age groups, 7-10 and 11-14. In the younger group, Randy Lertdaspang of Nutley prepared fried rice with crab meat, Sarah Nelson of Nutley entered taco pizza, Colleen Wescott of Belleville submitted her American walking salad, and Casie Shimansky of Nutley made a strawberry soufflé.

In the 11-14 age category, the winners were Catherine Dokachev of Nutley with her American chop suey, Tommy Paolella of Belleville with his Aunt Helen's ricotta dream puffs, and Avanih Pandita of Belleville who created vegetarian spicy balls.

C.F.E. Securities provides advice on summer security

Summer is here, signaling the start of outdoor activities, vacations and long hours spent away from home. Good news for the burglar—had news for the unprotected homeowner.

Statistics prove that more break-ins occur during summer months than during all the other nine months combined. How can you safeguard your family and home from this gloomy reality?

"By being sensible and taking extra precautions during summer months," C.F.E. Security Vice President Billy Bretzger said.

"If, for instance, you're going to be in the backyard for most of the afternoon, entertaining friends, swimming or gardening, lock your front door, and secure any windows which cannot be seen from where you will be," he said.

For those home and business owners desiring a technical solution, C.F.E. Securities markets and installs the brand new, state-of-the-art AT&T Home Security System.

Developed to meet the high standards of its customers, this system is one of the most comprehensive and dependable home security systems on the market today.

"We liked the features the system could offer to its customers," Bretzger said.

"And there is an added benefit of reduced insurance premiums and added value to your home, once the system has been installed."

For a free C.F.E. Security System survey, contact Bretzger at (201) 759-2412. For a limited time, a special discount is available to all Belleville residents.

Business firms in northern New Jersey may contact Michael Bretzger at (201) 492-5470, for a complimentary security demonstration for their employees at their facility.

Cops solve light theft

A Belleville 17-year-old has been arrested, charged with the theft of a police car light bar - the arrangement of red and white flashing lights atop the vehicle - from a car that was in a shop for repairs.

On July 30, the light was stolen from a police car in the yard of the F & T Repair Garage. Police found it in the possession of Anthony Gaglioti, 24, of Little Street.

Gaglioti, an auxiliary fireman in Newark, said a youth had handed the light bar to him in a school yard. He faces a charge of possession of stolen property.

The juvenile was released to his parents, to await a hearing.

Sources in the police department said the arrest of the juvenile may add some information about the theft and burning of a police car a month ago. A suspect in that case, John Sostre, 18, of Newark has been in County Jail for the past month, unable to raise bail, and unwilling to give information.

Town Hall provides Recycling schedule

The new schedule for curbside collection of recyclable materials is available at the Municipal Building. Copies of the schedule, which gives a street-by-street announcement of pick-up times and dates, have been sent out to every residence, but in case you haven't received one, they are available by calling 450-3300.

Curbside collection began Monday.

Besides curbside pickup, there is a Recycling Depot at 48 William St. Acceptable materials are cardboard, newspaper, glass, aluminum, plastic soda bottles and tin food and beverage containers.

To get rid of major items, such as refrigerators or water heaters, call the Department of Public Works at 450-3417 to make an appointment. Curbside pickups are made on Friday.

Non-metal bulk items, such as furniture, are collected on the first garbage day of the week, during the second full week of each month. Wood must be no longer than four feet and should be tied in bundles no heavier than 40 pounds.

Construction debris is the responsibility of the owner. Used motor oil may be dropped off at most state inspection gas stations. Fees are sometimes charged.

Used tires without rims may be brought to the Public Works Yard at 560 Cortland St.

Swallowing Directions

If told to "take one tablet three times daily," most people would take the medication with breakfast, lunch and dinner, while others interpret the directions to mean that a tablet should be taken morning, noon and night. In fact, a University of Wyoming survey of nearly 300 people revealed that only 25 people interpreted the directions correctly. That is, they took the medication every eight hours. Those who took a tablet at breakfast, then again at noon, were only allowing about five hours to elapse between doses. This misinformed approach can potentially lead to the risk of overmedication. To avoid this risk, patients should take the pharmacist or physician to go over the dosage schedule more explicitly.

Questions, on when to take your medications and whether or not they should be on an empty stomach, are gladly answered by our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1964. Stocks include cameras and film, time watches and transistor radios. Walkers, wheel chairs, crutches as well as other convenient aids are available for sale or rent. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sunday, 9am-5pm.

NOTE: Patients should also ask what liquid is preferred to help them swallow tablets or pills.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Before we continue our series on the '79 Buc football team, a note about the Belleville Tee Ball League, which completed a successful season a few weeks ago.

The Tee Ball League was established to answer the overwhelming response calling for a pre-instructional league for both boys and girls in an effort to prepare the youngsters of Belleville for the respective baseball/softball leagues which are sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Cultural Affairs.

249 boys and girls represented 12 teams in the league. Games were played at School Number 9, the Belleville Little League Field and the So-Ho Hospital area.

On June 30, an awards ceremony was held at Municipal Stadium. All the players received trophies, compliments of Positive Electric, Michaels Roscommon House of Belleville and several other local businesses.

The director of the Tee Ball League is Bruce Morgan. The coaching staff consisted of Lou Trabucca, Gary McDonald, Carmen Goglia, Jay Messina, George Wescott, Joe Meglio, Doug and Judy Thatcher, Mike Geringelli, Bob Sarge, Dennis Sheridan, Ken Spera, Dennis Duffy, Matt Lopreato, Jodi Crescenzi, Gary Carnevale, Frank Vitale, Ben Galante, Vianle Marra, Ray and Joah Pennetti and John and Janice McManus.

The Executive Committee of Maryann Lopreato, Rosalie McDonald and Kathy Drouzdz also did a great job in coordinating the league.

Morgan expressed thanks to the Township of Belleville, the Essex County Department of Parks and Recreation and the many parents who assisted the coaches. Morgan also wanted to thank the Belleville Little League for its assistance.

"There were so many people responsible for the success of the this years program that I am sure that I have forgotten someone," Morgan said. "Please extend my apology and reassurance that while I might have forgotten a name, the support rendered by all was greatly appreciated."

'79 BUCS, THIRD IN A SERIES

The Bucs were 3-1, having won an emotional game with Passaic, who at the time was ranked second in the state. The expected letdown occurred the following week when winless Irvington came into Municipal Stadium.

"The kids were a little drained," head coach John Senesky said. "They did what they had to do to win. It was a good victory."

Irvington played a tough ball game, but the Buc defense was the difference. The only score of the evening came in the first quarter, when Aulisi passed to Lenny Mendola for a six yard score. Irvington threatened on a few occasions, but the Buc defense, led by Russ Pagano, Danny Amadeo, Joe Garofolo, Ricky Raciopoli, Michael Raimone, Ralph DePasquale, Joe DeLorenzo, Phil Cerza and Frank Fazzini held its ground.

The following week, Belleville stayed home for a game against Essex Catholic. It was once again a game the Bucs were supposed to win. Senesky decided to start John Norton at quarterback and the offense went to work quickly. Dante D'Notaris scored twice in the first half and Belleville quickly ran up a 19-0 halftime lead.

Aulisi saw some playing time in the second half and the success continued. Mendola scored three times in the second half and Rob LaBruzza and Angelo Centanni scored once each to seal a 53-0 victory.

Belleville was 5-1 and all eyes were now set for the following Saturday, when Seton Hall Prep would come to town. The Pirates three year winning streak was snapped by Bergen Catholic on the same day Belleville had defeated Essex Catholic. However, the enthusiasm was at a fever pitch for the Pirate game.

I remember talking with some of the players late in the Essex Catholic game. They were happy with the victory, but somewhat disappointed that Seton Hall had lost earlier in the day. The Buc players had wanted the opportunity to snap Seton Hall's winning streak.

The Seton Hall game was postponed due to rain on Saturday and rescheduled for Sunday afternoon at Belleville. It was a bright, sunny day and the Bucs and Pirates played a memorable contest. (See this weeks Flashback for a complete rundown of the game).

This was the game where Fazzini made his entrance into the big time of Belleville athletics. He committed a key fumble late in the third quarter that led to a Seton Hall score. However, Fazzini came back with a key 70 yard punt in the fourth quarter, then gained a crucial first down in the game winning scoring drive.

The Bucs won, 14-13, and now the question was whether the team would have the necessary momentum needed the following week, against Clark. That game would also be played at Belleville, the fifth straight game at Municipal Stadium. A victory would assure the Bucs a berth in the Group IV, Section II playoffs. A loss would eliminate them from post season competition.

It would indeed be a challenge. Clark always gave the Bucs a difficult time, and even though they were 1-61 coming into the game, the contest proved to be quite difficult. As for Seton Hall, many of the players on the '79 Buc team had been on the field in '77 when the Pirates whalloped Belleville 63-0. After the 14-13 win, Senesky called it "the victory of the decade."

Next week, we'll look back at the game with Clark, and we'll also wrap up the '79 season.

THIS WEEKS QUIZ

In 1981, the New York Giants made a late season run and earned a berth in the NFL playoffs. Who did the Giants play in the first round in '81? How did they do? Who was the Giants key running back that season? Who coached the Giants? How far did the Giants advance in the '81 playoffs?

SAM GIUFFRIDA RUN

I was informed late last week that the second annual Sam Giuffrida Run will be held on Sunday, October 13, 1991. The race will start at Belleville High School and will probably be five miles.

We'll have more information on the race in next weeks issue.

Hawthorne wins 6-4

Junior Legion falls in semis

By Mike Lamberti

A fine season came to an end last week for the Belleville Junior Legion baseball team. The Bucs were upended in the state semi finals by Hawthorne, 6-4. Earlier, Belleville had clinched a berth in the semis by whipping the defending state champions, Roselle, 12-3.

Next week, we'll wrap up the '91 season, a summer in which the Bucs finished in a first place tie in their division and won 16 games.

Head coach Pat Turi was very pleased with the teams effort the entire season. He saw his team roll by a very good Roselle team in the state quarterfinal round.

"The kids played very well," Turi said. "We hit the ball very well and got the key hits when we needed them. Our pitching, which has been pretty steady all season long, also did the job again."

Belleville jumped out early, scoring once in the first and three more in the second. In the first, Jerry Turi walked and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Ken Johansen. Robert Dena walked and Mike Mundy lined a single to score Turi.

In the second, Ken Johansen and Kevin Johansen had RBI singles and John Napolitano scored on a wild pitch to give Belleville a 4-0 lead.

Belleville put the game out of reach with four runs in the third. John Engdahl, Napolitano, Turi and Kevin Johansen had RBI's in the inning. Roselle scored twice in the fourth to cut the lead to 8-2. In the fifth, Belleville scored once when Turi walked, went to second a single by Ken Johansen and scored on a hit by Kevin Johansen.

The final three Belleville runs came in the sixth. Mike Morgan walked and went to third on a double by Engdahl. Napolitano walked to load the bases and Turi singled to bring home Morgan. Kevin Johansen then hit a double, scoring Engdahl and Napolitano.

Belleville had 16 hits in the game. Kevin Johansen led the way with four hits in four at bats. Ken Johansen, Morgan, Engdahl and Napolitano had two hits each.

Kevin Johansen was the winning pitcher. He threw a complete game, allowing nine hits. He struck out five and walked two.

In the semi final round, the Bucs faced Hawthorne. Belleville out hit its opponent 8-5, but errors in the field hurt the Bucs.

"We out hit them and we had our chances," Pat Turi said, "but the errors were key. We weren't able to overcome them."

Turi credited his team with a gutsy come back, rallying from a 5-0 deficit in the sixth inning to 5-4

4. However, Hawthorne scored an insurance run in the bottom of the sixth and held on for a 6-4 win.

Mundy pitched on for a four innings, allowing five hits. He struck out five and walked three. Ken Johansen hurled the final two innings and didn't allow a hit.

Belleville scored all its runs in the top of the sixth. Ken Johansen singled and went to second on a passed ball. Robert Dena singled to score Johansen. Mundy singled, putting runners on first and second. Joe DePeri lined a long single, scoring Dena and Mundy. DePeri went to second on the throw to the plate and scored on an Engdahl single.

Dena had two hits to lead the Belleville attack.

"We gave it a good run," Turi said. "The kids never gave up and played hard."

Aulisi to Mendola pass seals victory

Flashback! '79 Bucs stun Seton Hall

By Mike Lamberti

This weeks Flashback is in conjunction with the Buc Shots series on the '79 Buc football team. This week, we go back to November of '79 and the Belleville-Seton Hall game at Municipal Stadium. This game had been built up for weeks prior to the kickoff. Seton Hall had a two year winning streak and had been a nemesis to Belleville for many years. The last Belleville victory over Seton Hall, prior to the '79 contest, was back in '74. Since then, Seton Hall had dominated the series, winning by scores of 20-6, 26-6, 63-0 and 28-6.

Seton Hall was a dominant team once again in '79, but the week before the Belleville game, the Pony Pirates had its winning streak snapped by Bergen Catholic, 7-0. Thus, a little of the luster was off the game, but the intensity was there nonetheless. Many of the seniors on the '79 Belleville team played in the '77 contest when Seton Hall rolled by the Bells, 63-0. They remembered that game and wanted the opportunity to turn the tables.

This article appeared in the November 8, 1979 issue of the Belleville Times/News.

They did it! It took five long years, but the Belleville Buccaneer football team defeated the Seton Hall Pony Pirates this past Sunday at Municipal Stadium. The final score was 14-13, the Bucs sixth victory in seven tries.

Belleville now has a golden opportunity to enter the playoffs which would start November 17. But in order to achieve that goal, the Bucs must beat Clark this Saturday at home. According to Belleville head coach John Senesky, "we have to beat Clark if we want to get into the playoffs. It won't be easy, but we can definitely do it."

As for Saturday's game, Senesky was naturally elated.

"It was a great win for Belleville football, without a doubt the biggest of the decade. I can compare this game to our win over Nutley in 1962. We had a good team that year, but Nutley was also good and had a number of all county players. We came out ready to play and won 33-12.

"The guys were just super on Sunday," Senesky continued. "Kenory Constantino did a great job snapping the ball. Eddie Aulisi did a fine job passing and the defense was awesome."

The game was a fabulous matchup. The Bucs lost the toss for the first time this season, but Seton Hall was unable to move the ball on its first set of downs. John Merklinger, the Pirates' devastating runner, scooted for 121 yards on 23 carries, but he was held to just 28 yards rushing in the second half. On the Pirates' first possession, he did everything. He ran the ball three times and then punted to the Bucs. Neither team moved much of a drive in the first quarter, although Seton Hall was coming up with the better field position.

The first quarter ended scoreless, but it didn't take long for Seton Hall to score as the second quarter began. From the Buc 40, Merklinger gained 11 yards on two carries to the 29. On a crucial fourth down play, Merklinger gained 12 yards from the Buc 27 to the 15. From there, the stocky back did all the running, scoring from three yards out to give Seton Hall the lead. Merklinger's point after attempt failed, and that later proved to be a costly miss. For the time being, though, Seton Hall led 6-0.

I didn't take long for Belleville to strike back. Frank Fazzini returned the kickoff to the 50 yard line. After some short runs, quarterback Ed Aulisi hit Paul Scheuplein with a 12 yard pass to the Pirate 31. Two plays later, Aulisi connected with Jerry DiGiori for a 31 yard touchdown pass. DiGiori made some fine moves upon catching the ball and ran in. Ralph DePasquale hit the point after attempt and the Bucs led 7-6.

Seton Hall started from its own 34 on the ensuing series and drove steadily downfield behind the running of Merklinger (who else?). He gained 43 yards in the drive, but the Buc defense stiffened up and stopped Seton Hall after the Pirates had a first and goal on the Belleville four. On fourth down, Merklinger tried to muscle through the middle and was stopped at the one. The first half ended with Belleville ahead.

Belleville took the second half kickoff and drove from its own 24 to the Seton Hall 20. A costly holding penalty moved the ball back to the 35 and the Bucs gave it up on downs. The Bucs committed a costly turnover three minutes later when Frank Fazzini fumbled Merklinger's punt and the Pirates recovered on the Buc 18. It took Merklinger just two plays to score. Seton Hall led 13-7 after his kick.

As the last period started, it appeared the Pirates were going to hold on. But Fazzini, anxious to make up for his misdeed, had different ideas. The sophomore boomed a 75 yard punt that pinned the Pirates at their own 16. After failing to move the ball, Merklinger got off a horrendous punt that traveled a measly 17 yards. The Bucs took over on the Hall 27 and thanks to Fazzini's ten yard run three plays later, Belleville was on the Hall seven.

On third down from the six, Aulisi threw a gutsy pass that Lenny Mendola pulled in for a touchdown, a touchdown that sent the crowd into a state of delirium and the Pirates into shock. DePasquale booted the ever critical point after and Belleville led 14-13.

There was still 2:05 left in the game and the Pirates could not be counted out. But not even Seton Hall can score without the ball. Gabe DeFabrizio kicked off and grounded the ball some 20 yards. A couple of Pirates scrambled for the hot potato, but it was picked up by Fazzini who ran into the end zone for what looked to be a touchdown. The officials ruled that Fazzini had recovered the fumble, but could not run with the ball. Belleville had the ball and soon after, the ball game.

And what a game it was. It was just two years ago on the same field that Belleville had been humiliated by Seton Hall 63-0. Many of those BHS players were a part of that 1977 Belleville team and still remember that game. Well fellas, you don't have to remember that game anymore, or the fiasco at Seton Hall last year. For, in 1979, the Belleville Buccaneers played a game that will always be remembered instead.

Dodgers capture crown

On June 17 the Peanut League Dodgers completed their season with a perfect 15-0 record.

Their championship season was accomplished by an offensive barrage that outscored their opponents 473-266 runs. The offense along with some outstanding defensive plays combined to make this a magic season for the Dodgers.

Much of the credit for this exceptional season belongs to head coach Mike Seeback along with coaches Mike De Rigg, Mike Patti and George Killian.

The very talented Dodger team

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching its seven-to-fourteen year old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games.

Playground activities
The Belleville Recreation Department Summer Playground Program is in full swing with various activities taking place at the six sites. The beautiful weather lately has really been helpful in bringing

At the Rec House, there has been a talent show and a dress-your-own stuffed animal contest. The winners received trophies and the runnersup received certificates. Other games of choice are kickball, dodgeball and nok-hockey. The directors are Donna Del Guercio, Alice Chiusano and Nancy Haug. The Friendly House enjoyed high attendance for the first two weeks. Games of choice seemed to be ping-pong, whiffle ball and pool. Speaking of the pool, the swimming pool at the Friendly House is now open and the turnout has been fantastic. Jim Higgins, the lifeguard, had to divide the children into age groups to accommodate the huge demand.

The Little League Playground has been extremely busy. They have been to see the movie "The Rock-eter", gone bowling and have taken in a show at the Paper Mill Playhouse. Diane Kelleher, the playground supervisor, has many other trips planned for her group. At No. 8 and No. 9, the children have been busy with various tournaments such as ping-pong, nok hockey, Kalah and arts and crafts activities. No. 8 playground had a pizza party and both playgrounds are planning other parties in the future.

Soccer & touch football applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1991 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in recreation soccer, Belleville resident children who will be 7 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 14 on Dec. 31 are eligible. The right recipe for kitchen light © In today's busy households, the kitchen is often the hub of family activity, fast replacing the living room as a favorite gathering place.

As a result, modern kitchens are being designed as multi-purpose rooms where the cook can spend leisure time with family or friends and accomplish a variety of tasks. Breakfast bars, seating nooks and dining areas are virtually standard features today, reflecting the kitchen's increasing importance as a family and entertainment center.

Finding the right recipe for kitchen lighting is thus much more of a challenge today than it was years ago. Lighting must be comfortable and attractive as well as functional, meaning that a blend of general, task and accent lighting is required.

Since the kitchen is still primarily a work area, experts from the American Lighting Association recommend that your first ingredient be adequate task lighting for cooking, baking and scouring pots and pans.

While a large ceiling fixture, such as a surface fluorescent, will afford plenty of well-diffused general lighting, it may leave you working in your own shadow at the sink, range and countertops.

To remedy this, consider adding supplemental task lighting above the work areas. This can be accomplished by:

- installing recessed downlights in the ceiling or in soffits over work areas;
- mounting a track lighting system on the ceiling over work areas or
- putting linear fluorescent fixtures or miniature track lights under the cabinets.

Recessed and track lighting can also be used to provide general lighting for the room and accent lighting for cabinetry and other special features.

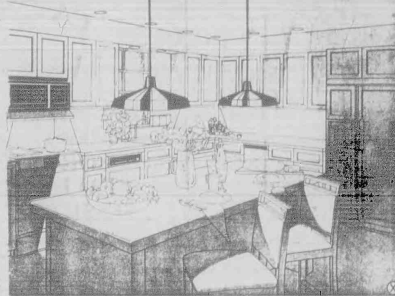

If you have an island counter that is not adequately illuminated by an existing ceiling fixture, you can solve this lighting problem by suspending two pendant fixtures over the length of this space.

A separate dining area, such as a nook or dinette, is often used for homework, hobbies or family business. Here your lighting recipe calls for a fixture that will give you the flexibility to alter the lighting on different occasions. A decorative pendant, operating on a dimmer switch, will provide you with adequate task lighting, while enabling you to lower the light for dining or entertaining.

Since cabinets account for two-thirds of the cost of a kitchen, you may want to show off this investment by placing low-voltage mini-lights under, over or inside cabinets, in soffits, or in other concealed locations.

These inconspicuous strips of five-watt incandescent bulbs will highlight your fine cabinetry, while adding a warm, comfortable atmosphere to your kitchen.

For more ideas on lighting your kitchen, talk to a certified lighting consultant at the American Lighting Association showroom nearest your home. To find out where the showrooms are located, call toll-free 1-800-BRIGHT IDEAS.

THE RIGHT LIGHT - This illustration demonstrates how properly designed kitchen lighting can be attractive as well as functional. Recessed downlights provide excellent task lighting over the counters and sink, while decorative pendants brighten a center island used as a dining area. For more ideas on lighting kitchens, you can call the American Lighting Association toll-free at 1-800-BRIGHT IDEAS. They will steer you to the ALA showroom nearest you.

Did You Know??

Easy and elegant window treatment calls for rich looking fabric topped with grosgrain ribbon and tabs of the same ribbon hung over a classic-style brass rod.

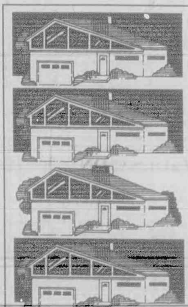

Insulation on attic floors should be placed with the vapor barrier — the paper or foil facing — lying against the ceiling of the living areas, so moisture from the house won't attack the insulation.

To find space where there isn't any, utilize the shallow area between two adjoining walls — ideal for powder room storage. Cut into wall, use stock or custom doors and edge with stock millwork.

Clean up painted brick with a semipaste chemical paint remover that will wash off with water. Thickly coat the wall, a couple of square feet at a time, leave remover on for 15 to 20 minutes, then scrub off.

Good ideas are good anywhere. One family in New York has adapted a library ladder for use in their bedroom closet; it makes storage space usable all the way to the ceiling.

Another good idea: listing your home-for-sale with the real estate pros at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley. Call 235-9000.
