Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

Who would have thought that one of the most eagerly obeyed orders in modern military history should have brought thousands of tulips to Belleville? The order was issued by the Admiral of the Dutch navy in April 1940 as he dashed out of Rotterdam Harbor with the Germans in hot pursuit. "Follow me!" was the command, and the entire Royal Netherlands Navy responded, tearing out of the home waters with 20 submarines, a small aircraft carrier and any number of cruisers, destroyers and smaller craft, to fight another day. Aboard one of the subs, the 0-21, was Cornelis Vander Zwan, a young naval engineer who had been overseeing the construction of a submarine when the Germans invaded. He was to spend five years of war in every part of the world, almost - in the East Indies where the Dutch had another 20 submarines, in the Mediterranean, the North Atlantic, Australia and most importantly of all, Philadelphia, where he met his future wife. In the Mediterranean, the 0-21 scored a major naval victory, sinking another submarine, the U-95. The U-boat captain was one of a dozen the Dutch rescued, including a German war correspondent who was picked out of the water with his useless camera still strapped around his neck, proving their journalists are no brighter than our journalists. Vander Zwan, a blond, husky six-footer actually enjoyed life in the confines of the 0-21, except for the times when the rations consisted solely of corn flakes. He never did return to his home town of Alphen an dem Rijn, which even the Dutch map makers refuse to spell, and came instead to Belleville where he proceeded to become one of the world's great insurance agents, providing happiness and security through the kind offices of Prudential, provided the insured made the payments on time. ●●●●● And what has this to do with the 2,000 tulips growing in various places in town? Well, it seemed appropriate to this genuine Hollander to go back to Belleville's roots and bring over the national flower to the former Dutch-English settlement that became Belleville. So when 150 years of incorporation of the town were celebrated in 1989, he ordered the tulip bulbs and then had them placed around the Municipal Building and other public places, bringing some Dutch beauty to our midst. ●●●●● Dutch influence has a stubborn pervasiveness here. Two hundred years after the British seized control of the colony, Dutch remained a spoken language at church and school, and to show how stubborn the Dutch can be, Vander Zwan retired 12 years ago as an insurance agent and still sells millions of dollars in policies. "I haven't stopped working a single day," he says. He is known in town for his unabashed liberal viewpoint, and he has his say in local politics. ●●●●● The Dutch had fed tens of thousands of hungry German children during and after World War I, and had given refuge to the Kaiser when he fled Germany. They never expected the brutal treatment they received, with the flattening of Rotterdam by the Luftwaffe after it was declared an open city, and the sending of hundreds of thousands of men and women into literal slavery, in mines, factories and farms, and in the case of several thousand women, military brothels. Thousands were slain in the Resistance, more than 150,000 Dutch citizens who were Jewish were murdered, and the overseas empire was lost. But the survivors just went stubbornly back to work, and built one of the most thriving economies in Europe, and today there is more Dutch money invested in America than Japanese. ●●●●● One of the oddities of history is that the only country in Europe that mobilized its army successfully against Hitler was Italy. In 1934, when Austrian Nazis assassinated the Austrian Chancellor, Englebert Dollfuss, none other than Benito Mussolini characterized Hitler as a murderer and sent his army to the Austrian border, threatening to invade if the Germans tried to take over. Berlin quickly capitulated. Had the French done the same thing in 1935 when Hitler invaded the Rhineland, there would have been no World War II, no occupation of Holland, and a higher pedestal in history for Mussolini. ●●●●● Barney O'Connor, our former Building Inspector and now a pillar of the Belleville Preservation Society, provided us with a document showing that on June 26, 1797, the "inhabitants and Freeholders living near the Bridge at The Village" voted to change the name of the town from Washington to Belleville. The signers included Josiah Hornblower, who thought up the name.

An Editorial

It's time for us to move ahead

The Town Council of Belleville has voted unanimously to endorse the efforts by The Belleville Times to have Belleville recognized as The Birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution.

When The Belleville Times handed out congratulatory candy and cigars at the announcement of the vote, two members of the Council asked, "Did somebody just give birth?"

The reply of The Belleville Times was, "Yes. You did." They gave birth to a new era in the history of Belleville. Gaining recognition as the place where the steam engine began to power America will be no meaningless achievement.

Our goal is nothing less than the creation of a Historic District which will be a magnet for tourists, scholars and developers.

We should like to see recreated graphic depictions of the events and achievements that occurred here. By coming back to our beginnings, we may have a better idea of how to gain our future.

We should like to see a deeper appreciation of this town's special place in history, and a greater pride in it.

And by focusing attention on the ideals of the great men and women who preceded us, we may rededicate ourselves to those ideals.

But, even without formal recognition of Belleville's place in American history, we can still take steps to rekindle the creative flames that made the most powerful democracy in the world.

Cat license ordinance passed by 4-to-3 vote

In one of the more historic votes taken by the Municipal Council, a bill to license cats was enacted into law, last Thursday, by a 4-to-3 vote.

A number of citizens who had their backs up in opposition to the plan made their protests known. Objections ranged from claims that the law would be unenforceable to charges that it was an unfair additional burden on the taxpayer.

Under the terms of the ordinance, any cat reaching the age of four months would have to be inoculated by a veterinarian against rabies and licensed, at a fee of $8 for an unspayed feline or $5 for a cat that was neutered.

The cat will also have to wear its new license, presumably on a collar, although the ordinance doesn't specify it.

The threat of rabies and complaints about stray cats were cited as the reasons for enacting a licensing law.

To find out how many cats are in residence, the Chief of Police is authorized to conduct a census with a listing of cat owners and the number, and type, of cats they own.

Mayor Marina Perna and Deputy Mayor Bill Cook stated the case for the ordinance, saying it was basically a health measure. Agreeing with them were Councilmen Mario Drozd and Tom Spillane.

Councilman Frank Noonan, an M.D., said he doubted the ordinance would do much to prevent the spread of rabies. Councilman Frank Caputo said the law would be an additional expense, and could not be enforced.

Councilman Jim Messina said it was unfair to older people who found companionship with their pet cats, and now would have to buy an annual license for them.

"What makes cats different from dogs?" Deputy Mayor Cook asked.

A TIME TO RELAX - Vito DelVecchio found a comfortable bench on which to read his newspaper during a warm stretch of weather this past week, in Belleville Park. It was a quiet afternoon, a day to enjoy the park.

We make these proposals:

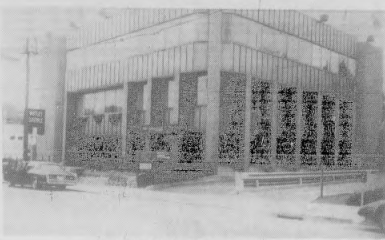

- Call upon leaders of industry, finance, commerce, labor and education to meet here, and discuss how America should recapture its leadership in world industry.
- Call for a seminar on how to achieve greater respect for American products, and launch a campaign to buy those products. In other words, Buy American.
- Call upon our leaders of finance and industry to meet on how to buy back America from foreign ownership, a situation brought on in good part by our own generosity to other nations.

- Call for a conference on how to protect the wage level of the American wage earner. High paying industries have been wiped out, and American industrial workers have been reduced in real income to the point that they now earn less than Japanese and German workers. Depressing the wage level of the American worker has not made us more competitive. Instead, it has damaged our economy.

So just as Philadelphia was the birthplace of the United States Constitution, Belleville is the birthplace of an equally mighty creation, a powerful and prosperous society. Recognizing this, getting back to our beginnings and evaluating ourselves are all part of the same goal.

You need a good vantage point from which to survey the landscape, and we think that Belleville is that vantage point.

Belleville is indeed the birthplace of the American industrial revolution. Let us now make it the place of America's industrial rebirth.

Embattled Nutley Savings and Loan

Nutley S&L pegged insolvent by Veribanc

By Alfred Cook

In a report prepared June 24, Veribanc, the Wakefield, MA financial reporting firm, joins Bauer Financial Reports (see Sun May 16) in calling attention to the precarious revenue situation at Nutley Savings Bank by listing the institution as color-coded "red" with a "no-star" designation.

The Franklin Avenue thrift has been so designated for the last two quarters of 1990. Bank President John V. Kelly was not available and vice-president Michael K. Shaughnessy said he had no comment on the status of the bank.

While Paul Bauer, based in Florida, then said, "The OTS is in charge of things, not the present outfit." Veribanc refers to the institution's situation as in, "special circumstances such as recent or impending merger or direct intervention by a Federal regulatory agency."

The Veribanc color classification system, which combines income and equity tests, is arranged like a traffic light (green, yellow and red) with red as the least favorable indicator and specifies that a red indicator means an "institution's equity is less than 3 percent of its assets or its net loss is such that it may become insolvent in less than one year if the current rate of loss continues."

Actually, according to the Office of Thrift Supervision figures for October through December, the Nutley S&L's Core Capital Ratio is a negative 4.89 percent or a 7.89 percent below the core requirement.

As of that 1990 final quarter report, the institution listed $7,571,000 in past due and problem loans with the portion of that amount in excess of the loan loss reserve that could reduce equity to a negative 5 percent of assets.

Veribanc's star rating system (unclassified to three stars) assigns three stars to the most profitable banks with gradations downward.

"This institution has reported a net loss," Veribanc said, i.e. a negative $3,340,000 annualized net income.

Taken together, it all means the Nutley Savings Bank is insolvent even though at the time Dec. 31, 1990 it had reported assets totalling $198,263,000.

Still, all deposits are guaranteed up to $100,000 per individual.

That total represents purely customer capital since the bank itself has no equity left; indeed, it has a negative $9,690,000 amount.

Other items reported by Veribanc include its negative 4.89 percent Tangible Capital Ratio against the required 1.5 percent and the risk-based capital ratio of negative 8.73 percent as opposed to the required 7.2 percent.

As of the reporting date, 331 S&Ls were in a similar position of being under one year to zero equity. The Nutley S&L had achieved that position.

Farewell to a good citizen

By Viola Spray

"For he's a jolly good fellow" resounded through the Senior Citizen's Club recently. George Chenoweth, a long time senior citizen, is moving from Belleville to Savoy, Illinois.

Regina Nucci, President of the club, conducted the meeting with its laughs, serious business and good fellowship, and presented George with a monetary gift. Councilman Dr. Frank Noonan honored George and thanked him for his services to the Belleville Senior Citizen members.

Another member, Al Lange, was missed at the piano. He composed the music and lyrics which the members sing at their weekly meetings. Mrs. Dorothy Behan, a retired Belleville teacher, conducted the singing.

Why was George being honored? Since retiring from the work force in 1972, George has spent his life working with the less fortunate elderly of the County and the State.

George has served as the Secretary of the Essex County Council of Senior Citizens, the Essex County Advisory Committee and as a delegate of the National Council of Senior Citizens. He has also served as the President and organizer of the Belleville Chapter of The Old Guard and President of the Nutley Chapter.

George is a former President of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club. George Chenoweth has certainly been an advocate for Senior Citizens.

As George left, he was serenaded with "Should Old Acquaintance Be Forgotten". George, we will miss you and know that you will share your wealth of knowledge with the club in the area where you will be living.

"Godspeed!"

A GATHERING FOR GEORGE - George Chenoweth, seated center, hears some of the good words spoken about him by friends at the Senior Citizen's Club, thanking him for his years of service to the seniors, and to the community.

Municipal Building to have face lift

DUE FOR A BRIGHTER LOOK - The Municipal Building, which last had some work done on its facade five years ago, is due for a cleaning job that would restore the brightness of its brickwork and the integrity of its stone and cement front. The cornerstone was laid nearly 80 years ago, in 1912, and some interior redesign has taken place over the years, but the grimy appearance of the structure has been overdue for improvement for many years. A firm specializing in restoration work has been contacted for an estimate, town officials said.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Are the secrets of bomb making being made easily available to maniacs? How Uncle Sam helps... most criminals get explosives stealing them from poorly guarded construction sites or deal with black marketers. However, some instead head to their local library. There 'dozens of books tend to show even chemistry dropouts how to make hand grenades to homemade napalm.

If government officials are disturbed by the publishing trend, they have not said so. And they would only appear hypocritical if they did, since the U.S. Army and CIA publish some of the bestselling bomb books available. Need to blow up a bridge or a major telephone system? Simply turn to the demolition projects section of a widely available U.S. Army field manual. Want to learn how to make picric acid, a powerful booster explosive, from 20 tablets of household aspirin? Look it up in the "Field Expedient Methods for Explosives Preparations" manual originally written for the CIA and now sold by a commercial publishing company for just $6.95.

"There's magnificent irony in all this," says a former Special Forces captain in Vietnam whose publishing company markets seven explosives manuals originally written for the government. "Our government provides security and, at the same time, the means by which that security can be breached."

Beyond that, dozens of other titles by nonmilitary authors include "Improvised Explosives: How to Make Your Own" and "Ragner's Guide to Home and Recreational Use of High Explosives." One classic in the genre, "The Poor Man's James Bond," even illustrates how to booby-trap a building near a church so that, "after a curious crowd has gathered, a second heavy charge (goes) off, seriously damaging or destroying the building and killing or wounding many onlookers."

An accompanying graphic chart depicts how to place explosive charges to effectively destroy a bridge... a great help for the world's maniacs.

Persistent allegations that banking and law-enforcement authorities in the United States and Great Britain failed to aggressively pursue, or even conceal, evidence of the Bank of Credit and Commerce International was laden with charges of off-the-book loans, influence peddling and money laundering, thus churning up daily revelations of a bad loan portfolio of at least $4 billion.

Beyond the money, the BCCI bust has turned up persistent charges that the scandal's fallout had been unsparing. In Washington, there are troubling intimations that the Central Intelligence Agency or Justice Department knew of BCCI's dubious deeds and failed to act. Robert Gates, nominated to head the CIA, has become the lightning rod for suggestions that the agency has long used BCCI, despite knowledge of its connections to drug dealers and terrorists, including the infamous Abu Nidal. Former U.S. Customs Commissioner William von Raab contends that Gates, as deputy CIA director, gave the Customs Service only limited information on BCCI during its investigation of the bank, without disclosing that the CIA was a BCCI customer. CIA sources angrily deny that Gates was covering up, and Justice Department lawyers say there is nothing sinister in the agency's use of the bank. But departing CIA Director William Webster has ordered an internal review, and the matter is now sure to be raised in Gate's Senate confirmation hearings in September.

The Justice Department also seems likely to be on the defensive in the weeks ahead. New York District Attorney Robert Morgenthau claims the department advised witnesses and federal prosecutors "in Tampa, Miami, Washington and most recently Atlanta not to talk to us." Morgenthau is building his own money-laundering case against BCCI.

Another critic, Washington attorney Jack Blum, says prosecutors ignored evidence of BCCI fraud he uncovered as counsel to a Senate subcommittee. Blum says he introduced two BCCI witnesses to prosecutors in Tampa, but "they went nowhere with it." Instead, he took the witnesses to Morgenthau.

Woman driver choked by thief

A woman driving north on Route 21, early Saturday morning, reportedly was choked by a robber who halted her car by bumping it with his vehicle, police said.

The woman, 52, of Garfield, said she pulled her car to the side of the road after the collision. Two men emerged from a small white car and approached her, she said.

One grabbed her by the throat, breaking a necklace. They then seized her pocketbook and fled in their car, she told police.

She described the alleged assailants as black men, five feet three inches tall.

Trustee's car vandalized; Nardiello calls in cops

Board of Education Trustee Gabe Nazzola emerged from Monday's meeting of the Board to find his 1988 Lincoln Towncar defaced, with the paint scratched and the chrome gouged.

Nazzola estimated that the damage came to well over $1,000.

Earlier in the evening, Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello telephoned a request for a police presence at the board meeting site, School 1, after a citizen, Frank Montagna, shouted threats at Nazzola.

Montagna also dropped a bag of sugar on the desk of Board President Pat Pisano.

He had charged that his car had been vandalized, with someone putting sugar in his gas line, and he said he held Nazzola and Jackie Rega responsible.

He also labelled Nazzola a liar, and added some more expletives to his denunciation.

Montagna addressed the board during the hearing of citizens. He said someone had left a letter at his home which was actually correspondence to the board from a state official. The letter dealt with conversations Nazzola had with the state official about actions taken by the board.

Montagna then launched into an attack on Nazzola, who has charged election improprieties in the last school board vote, involving absentee ballots.

When Montagna said he would be waiting for Nazzola outside, Nardiello left the meeting to telephone police.

When Nazzola left the meeting, there was no sign of Montagna, but his car was vandalized.

Police Chief George Lister was reportedly investigating the matter, and Nazzola's claim that police had not arrived in response to Nardiello's call.

Nazzola said that unknown persons have put ads in the newspaper advertising his home for sale, had his office and home address changed at the Post Office, and put his name on several magazine subscription lists.

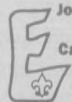

"It's part of a general campaign of harassment," Nazzola said.

Nazzola also criticized Board President Pisano saying she had not kept the meeting under control. Nazzola has been at odds with members of the board over policy matters.

Police nab terror suspect

Police have arrested a 35-year-old Newark man in connection with three robberies in which the victims were terrorized elderly women.

Steven Mann was reportedly arrested with a stolen pocketbook in his car, after an investigation by Detective James Del Grosso and Detective Pete Fraone led to his capture.

The pocketbook belonged to a 74-year-old woman who reportedly had been struck by the suspect's car as she was loading groceries in the trunk of her car at the Grand Union parking lot.

She was hauled into the trunk by the impact. Police said that Mann then got out of his car, said "Let me help you," and then seized the pocketbook and fled in his car.

His arrest clears up two similar robberies in Belleville over the past month, police said. They said that in one case, the victim was an 82-year-old woman whose pocketbook was yanked from her grasp as she sat in a car. The robberies occurred at the K-Mart and Pathmark lots.

The arrest led to further information, with Kearny police filing a robbery charge against Mann. In addition, credit cards in his possession, police said, had been stolen from a woman shopper in Orange.

A variety of charges filed against Mann in Monmouth County have led to his being held there in the Monmouth County Jail.

Plain tom(cat)foolery

We have to admire the courage of the Town Council in enacting an ordinance to regulate the unregulatable - the pussycat.

Psychologists who should know say that dogs consider their resident human to be the leader of the pack. Cats, they say, think you are their mother.

Cats rarely see much of their fathers, so they consider mothers to be the prime movers in their lives.

In both cases, the available human is the food provider, and to a cat, having a food provider is a better idea than going out and getting a job.

But even if the cat did get a job, it would have trouble reaching high enough to punch a time clock or get to the checkout counter of the supermarket.

Furthermore, cats snooze about 80 percent of the time, and in our workaday world, this would not be a great job reference. But dogs and cats do have their jobs, even if they do not get credit for it.

Anthropologists have found that the earliest of mankind's settlements occurred about the same time the dog was domesticated. Having the dog as watchman and hunter took a great deal of the workload off mankind's hairy shoulders, apparently, and let people sleep at night.

And the cat had just as important a role, in protecting the food supplies against rodents and other small, ravenous creatures. Both dogs and cats continue to be our first line against one of the world's great predators, the rat.

The cat was, of course, worshipped as a god by the Egyptians, who knew what would happen to their granaries if the cat ever quit the job. And the Bible is very specific about being kind to all animals, but particularly domestic ones.

Both the cat and the dog are wonderful companions. The dog is a real protector of life and property. The cat may be less able to tackle an intruder, but it certainly keeps the mice away.

It has been easy to license the dog. He is a loving and trusting companion who will submit to a collar and a license the same way he, or she, submits to a child's embrace, or the faltering touch of an elderly person.

A cat is easier to fondle. Nature provided the cat with a beauty that good health and kind treatment make endearing to all who behold it. Not just humans like cats. Gorillas fondle them, and horses nuzzle them.

But they do have minds of their own. Virtually every town that has passed a law licensing cats has had to let enforcement fall by the wayside. The cats have managed to outwit us every time. They have outlasted the Egyptian Pharaohs, and every empire since.

They will outlast this law as well, unfettered, unlicensed and unrepentant.

YOUR OPINION

Vander Zwan disrespects

To The Editor,
Mr. Frank A. Orechio, in the Aug. 8 edition of his column, "Window on My World", describes the Belleville Town Council as a class act with a capital "C", comparing the Council meeting with the prior Commissioners' meetings.

I have never seen Mr. Orechio at any of these meetings, and I have attended just about every one of them over the past five or six years.

If Mr. Orechio attended even only a few of the Council meetings, he would have known better than to call them a class act with a capital "C". Perhaps it is not fair to the other Council members, but since none of them object (at least not publicly) or intercede, when the mayor relentlessly pursues her distasteful, dictatorial conduct, they must share in the criticism.

One example: At the last meeting, Mr. Celfo was on his way back to his seat when Councilman Frank Caputo requested some follow-up clarification. As Mr. Celfo turned to answer Councilman Caputo, the mayor objected, pounding her gavel and shouting, "Mr. Celfo, your time is up! Sit down, Mr. Celfo! Your time is up! SIT DOWN, SIT DOWN!"

Yes, Mr. Celfo did sit down, fearing forcible removal by the police officer from the Chambers. Yes, Mr. Orechio, there is a difference between Commission meetings and present Council meetings, presided over by Mayor Marina Perna.

At Commissioners' meetings, citizens were allowed to speak freely, without running the risk of confrontation with the police.

Constructive suggestions were appreciated and graciously accepted. When a problem was aired, it was followed by prompt corrective action. Those were the good old days, when a citizen could call a commissioner and get the matter taken care of.

Mr. Orechio, you are THAT bitter acrimony? As I said, obviously you were never there.

Why don't you attend the next, or any future Council meeting.

I guarantee you will experience bitter acrimony and open hostility, denigrating, followed by the inevitable intimidation of Belleville's citizens, concerned about the future of the Town. Cornelis P. Vander Zwan

A Friendly House note

Dear Editor,

On behalf of the children from the Friendly House summer recreation program, we would like to give special recognition to Ms. Mary Rose DuBoise, Mr. Anthony D'Aquino and Mr. John Pico.

The children participated in a summer full of crafts, playground and sport activities, in addition to special events such as Earth Day, summer birthday party and various tournaments.

Most important, though, the neighborhood children had a safe, caring and fun place to gather because of the commitment of new friends, Marc and Mr. D., and everyone's special friend, John T.

Also, thank you to Cheryl for Friday crafts at Jim Higgins, our lifeguard.

Hope to see you all next summer!

Mrs. Madelyn Richiuso and Mrs. Cindy Swaler

WE WELCOME LETTERS of interest to our readers. They should be short and to the point, they must be signed for attribution and contain the address and telephone number for verification.

Blood drive a success

To the editor:

Most of us go along thinking that we will never find ourselves in an emergency situation until they will need blood. That's what most of us think until an emergency arises or a condition like a bleeding ulcer, accident, emergency operation, or something else occurs resulting to the loss of blood.

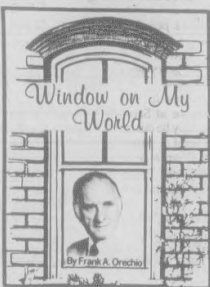

That's why with summer season upon us people go on vacation, swimming, boating, play games, etc. Donating blood is an act of kindness, charity literally a gift of life.

On June 29th the Belleville Knights conducted a successful blood drive. We are grateful the good citizens of Belleville and vicinity took time out to donate blood. Special thanks to the Belleville Times for publicity. To Dr. James Muglia, DDS of Nutley, who volunteered to give free examinations during the Health Fair.

The North Jersey Blood Bank Center awarded a pair of tickets to a New York Yankees ball game; Graciela Cavache, Karen B. Restaino, Joseph Lamin Jr. and Nolan Comito.

Blood Bank Chairman Tom Doeffinger and Grand Knight Richard Glogozia wish to thank many individuals who helped coordinate this drive and the blood donors who gave a special gift of life to someone in need.

• ESSEX COUNTY. Republican Chairman John Renna is delighted over the fact that for the first time in about 10 years Republicans have drawn the "A" line in Essex County. To hear John tell it—the Republican Party will take this sign as pointing to victory in November.

• MONDAY of this week, former Republican Governor Tom Kean praised incumbent Democrat Governor Jim Florio, observing that Florio started his term with tough economic times facing him. In Tom Kean's judgment Florio has performed about as well as any voter should expect from a governor faced with the financial disaster encountered by a national recession. Tom Kean happens to be right.

• JOHN RENNA's Republican cruise up the Hudson last week attracted former Bloomfield Mayor John Greco and his wife, Assemblywoman Marion. Essex County Freeholder Lushader and his brother Leslie were seen making the rounds—a couple of decent guys. Nutley's Jack Gorman floated among the 160 people present. Also attending were Bloomfield's Tony and Doris Gallo, Senator Lou Bassano of Union County. The bi-state Commissioner Connie Koch also was among the attendees. Missing were Freeholder Art Clay, who was visiting Iceland, and Republican Assemblyman John Kelly of Nutley, who was visiting China.

• THE Nutley-Belleville Avondale Big Tree Neighborhood Association picnic Sunday was a huge success. An estimated 200 old-timers and young folk gathered to press the flesh, share a drink and good food. I enjoyed meeting neighbors I hadn't seen for years. I understand the organizers are planning a sit-down dinner this winter. It's a great idea and I'll be among the first to reserve a table of ten.

Nutley's esteemed musician, Augie Cundari furnished the music for the Avondale Big Tree picnic. I guess I've known Augie for something like 40 years. I have seen him hundreds of times, never without a genuine smile on his face. In his own way, Augie is a Nutley Treasure.

Augie Cundari

• CONGRATULATIONS are in order to our Belleville editor Howard Klausner who developed a story in our Belleville Times unearthing the fact that Belleville is the birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution. The first steam engine on the North American Continent was invented by Belleville engineer John Hornblower in 1753. Some 40 years later, the first steam engine built in the United States of America was designed and built in Belleville. Samuel F.B. Morse sent the first telegraph message (Washington, D.C. from Belleville) over copper wire made in Belleville. George Eastman developed modern photography in Belleville. Thomas A. Edison developed the modern storage battery in Belleville. The Belleville Municipal Court, taking note of these historical facts, has adopted a resolution seeking official recognition of Belleville as the birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution. The resolution was acted to the Governor and Legislature of New Jersey and the President and Congress of the United States.

• THERE are about a dozen Superior Court Judges to be appointed for Essex County—both Republicans and Democrats. By this writing, there probably a about 100 lawyers interested in this most challenging of jobs—sort with very outstanding credentials—like a former federal court judge. The quality of the New Jersey judiciary should be enhanced by reasons of the appointments to be made before the end of this year. Obviously, the Democrats will want to move on these appointments in the not too distant future because here is a possibility the Republicans may have the chance to control the Senate by one vote. Hurting the GOP effort are two Senate contests—one in Atlantic County and one in Passaic County. In Atlantic County, Republican Assemblywoman Dorothy Cooper is running as an Independent, trying to knock off Republican State Senator Bill Gormley. In Passaic County, incumbent Republican Senator Joseph Bubba not only has an able Democrat opponent, but Wayne mayor Newt Miller, former Republican Assemblyman, is running as an Independent Senate candidate in the November election. Both of these elections are critical to a potential Republican majority in the New Jersey State Senate. Added to the opportunities available to Republicans is the fact that long-time State Democrat winners are retiring from the Senate, i.e. Ocean County Senator John Russo, Monmouth County Senator Richard Van Wagner, and Essex County Senator Carmen Orechio. New legislative district lines favor Republicans. There is a possibility that three Republican Senate candidates residing in Monmouth County may be elected.

• CBS interview Assemblyman Bobby Franks Monday at John Renna's Essex County Committee office in West Orange. Bobby Franks unmercifully attacked the record of Jim Florio. Franks has every right to criticize a Democrat Governor. The only problem I have with Republican attacks upon Florio is the fact that not one will tell us if all the taxes were repealed, what services will they cut in order to balance the budget?

It's easy to criticize but tough to govern. Republicans rap Florio and the Democrat Legislature for an increase in taxes well—tax increases are nothing new. They go back since the beginning of time—at least 1913. During the eight years of Tom Kean's outstanding administration, new taxes were levied and others were increased. Increased taxes more often than not are a result of trying to give New Jersey residents the quality of life to which they are entitled. On the other hand, paying taxes is not a patriotic duty.

Cohen, recently added to the new books section of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 344.73, provides an in-depth review of the specific technologies and treatments in question, shows you how to determine which treatments you want to receive, and indicates the rights and responsibilities of patients, families, health-care providers, and attorneys. It also includes living will forms for each of the forty-one states.

High School sets rules on absences, lateness

Stringent enforcement of state regulations requiring school attendance has been announced by Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone.

Listed as acceptable reasons for absence are:

- Illness, with a doctor's note as proof.
- Death in the immediate family, with note as proof.

- Religious holiday as listed by State of New Jersey.
- Emergency medical or dental appointments.
- Court appearances, documentation required.
- Participation in school-sponsored activities, such as meetings, counseling, conferences, class athletic conferences.

Based on a school year of 180 days, absence of more than 16 days in a full year course or more than eight days in a half-year course may result in a loss of course credit and/or removal.

Extenuating circumstances, such as a lengthy illness, may be brought before an appeals board.

Lateness, or tardies, are cumulative during the entire school year. Parent conferences, Saturday detentions and out-of-school suspensions will be used to eliminate chronic tardiness, Ciccone stated.

Not acceptable as excuses for absence or lateness are:

- Obtaining a driver's permit or driver's license.
- Taking a family vacation.
- Keeping a non-emergency medical or dental appointment.
- Conducting a college visit.

For non-attendance at Saturday detention, there may be out-of-school suspension until a parent conference is held; there may be reassignment of Saturday detention, or there may be referral to a counselor.

Classroom misbehavior, vulgar or inappropriate language or fighting will be penalized.

"Any student who becomes involved in a fight will be escorted out of school by the Belleville Police and will be suspended for up to 10 days," Principal Ciccone stated.

Violating of parking restrictions risks having the car ticketed and possibly towed off school grounds by the police. A Senior with a car must apply for a parking space.

Honor Society inducts Simone

Kappa Delta Pi, Delta Rho Chapter, the national honor society for education majors, has inducted Renee Simone, a Special Education major at Kean College in Union.

Miss Simone is a 1987 graduate of Belleville High School and a member of the National Honor Society. Membership in Kappa Delta Pi requires a cumulative grade point average of 3.55 and at least 75 semester hours of course work.

She has been named to the Dean's List for five consecutive semesters.

She is the daughter of Frank and Frances Simone.

Ask a Lawyer Series

Once again the Essex County Bar Foundation is sponsoring the "Ask a Lawyer Series" at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Avenue. The first lecture will commence on Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m. on the topic "Buying a Home or a Condominium." The second lecture will cover "Family Law" on Sept. 23, at 7:30 p.m. The third lecture will discuss "Wills, Trusts, and Estates" on Sept. 30, also at 7:30 p.m. The fourth and concluding lectures will highlight a contemporary problem—"Lifetime Planning for Aging" and "Living Wills," on Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Ask a Lawyer is presented as a public service through the law related education committee of the Essex County Bar Foundation, in conjunction with the Young Lawyers Section, to promote a better understanding of the law. "Ask a Lawyer" series features experts from the Essex County Bar Association. A question and answer period will follow each presentation. You may register for individual lectures, or the entire series. Call the library at 450-3434 to register.

Oils, watercolors exhibit

During the month of August, Nina Lalin of Wayne, will be the featured artist at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center. Nina has been featured in metropolitan shows at the Ringwood Manor, local art galleries, and Manhattan's Greenwich Village Art Show, where she was awarded a blue ribbon for watercolors. Recently, she was part of a group show at the Paterson Art Museum, sponsored by "Salute to Women in the Arts."

Nina's style is eclectic. She loves light patterns, bright colors, and rhythmic designs. She works in oils and watercolors, with her subject matter running the gamut from scenery, people, and flowers to abstract art. On exhibit are pictures representative of the scope of her interesting and dynamic styles.

High School sets rules for attire

Belleville High School Principal Joseph Ciccone has announced the dress code required of students this school year. Among the rules are:

- Prohibited is clothing which is ripped, with holes, or soiled. Shirts must be buttoned. Shoes which grip the heel and toe must be worn at all times.
- Also prohibited are:
  - Clothing so tight as to inhibit movement and/or cause classroom distraction.
  - Off-the-shoulder, strapless and spaghetti-strap tops, dresses or jumpuits.
  - Mid-thigh (cut-off) shirts that expose the chest and/or abdominal area of the body.
  - Garments with pornographic

- Skirts shorter than mid-thigh or longer than mid-calf.
- Shorts that are extremely tight and too short. The only style of shorts permitted is that which is loose and knee-length.
- Hats or cosmetic headwear, for both boys and girls. No headphones at any time.

A Dress Code Appeals Committee, consisting of a parent, faculty member, student and administration representative will meet several times during the school year to review specific garments presented by students for approval. Administrative decisions will prevail, regardless of committee findings.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nasti — nee Lisa Cicienia

Lisa Cicienia married to Robert D. Nasti

Lisa Cicienia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cicienia of Nutley, and Robert David Nasti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nasti of Bloomfield, exchanged wedding vows June 30 in Holy Family Church, Nutley.

Magr. Louis Fimiani performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Atrium West, West Orange.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an off-the-shoulder gown covered with sequins and appliques. She carried pink roses and gardenias.

Annette Shorter of Bloomfield was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Maria Cataldo of Florham Park, Barbara Drumm of Lyndhurst, Suzanne Blanda and Laura Jaquin of Nutley, Lisa Sanzari of West Caldwell, Gina Malanga of Clifton and Cathy Nasti of Bloomfield. Megan Miller of Sunnyvale, Calif., was flower girl.

They wore two piece suits of jade green faille and carried arm bouquets of pink roses. The flower girl was in a princess style dress featuring a jade green faille bodice and a white organza skirt. She carried a basket of flowers.

Sergio Sanzari of West Caldwell served as best man. Ushering were Frank Nasti, Peter Natest and Jimmy Cicienia of Bloomfield, Bob Drumm of Lyndhurst, Tom Cataldo of Florham Park, Paul Karpiński of Linden and Dennis DiGiuglielmo of North Arlington.

Mrs. Cicienia chose a bone cocktail length gown accented with sequins and pearls. Her wristlet was of pink roses. The groom's mother, in a mint green cocktail length gown trimmed with bugle beads and sequins, had an orchid wristlet.

Mrs. Nasti, an alumna of Nutley High School and Geological Institute of America, New York City, is the manager of Charles Jewelers, Belleville, a family owned firm.

Mr. Nasti, a graduate of Bloomfield High School, is a jeweler and the owner of Robert D Jewelers, Verona.

The couple is living in Verona after honeymooning at Disney World and on a cruise to the Bahamas.

Mr. and Mrs. Pravata honeymoon in Jamaica

Lisa Ann Lunney, daughter of Edward Joseph Lunney of Nutley, became the bride May 11 of George Pravata, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ignazio Pravata of Belleville.

Rev. Michael Kreder performed the ceremony in St. Thomas the Apostle Church, Bloomfield. A reception followed at the Chandelier, Belleville.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a short sleeved gown fashioned with a cathedral train and accented with opalescent appliques. She carried a cascade of white roses.

Tina Zoppi of Nutley was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Sue Jackovitz of Clifton, Karen Hoffman of Kinnelon, Cathie Codipoti of W. Paterson, Debbie Cerza of Keansburg, Michele Esposito, Donna Visco and Diana Franz, all of Belleville and Courtney Murray of Nutley. Carissa Franz was the flower girl.

They were attired in bright pink gowns and carried teardrop bouquets in shades of pink.

Steven Linfante of Belleville was the best man. Ushering were Chris Lunney of Nutley, Dave Silletti, Mark Palumbo, Peter Franz, Anthony Pravata and Anthony Pucciarello, all of Belleville and Frank Cerza of Keansburg.

The groom's mother chose a floor length blue gown with sequins and appliques.

Mrs. Pravata, a graduate of Nutley High School, is a secretary with The New York Daily News, South Kearny.

Mr. Pravata, an alumnus of Belleville High School, is an operating engineer with M.J. Paquet Inc., Palisades Park.

The couple honeymooned at Montego Bay, Jamaica, and have made their home in Nutley.

Think For The Future

Summer's almost over, and it's time to go back to school!

Compromise is key to solving conflicts between parents, kids

"I really want to join the _____ team and I promise to keep my grades up."

"Can't I have an after-school job this year?"

"Now that I'm in the _____ grade, I'm going to need a bigger allowance."

Has a feeling of déjà vu hit yet? Children in almost every household have gazed at their parents with the wide-eyed, innocent "pretty please" look, or shot them with an "I'm not a child anymore" expression while citing one of the above quotes in their own particular way. Each issue is indeed a challenging one and requires negotiation and compromise.

When a child asks permission to join a team or club, first, find out as much as possible about the activity. Then discuss your concerns with your child. Make sure both of you have a realistic understanding of how much time the activity will take up and how this will affect the child's other activities.

In general, after-school activities are a great way for children to make friends and build self-confidence. But it's important that they understand that they may have to sacrifice some of the time they formerly spent on phone calls and other fun activities.

Younger children in particular tend to forget that there are only so many hours in each day. It might be helpful for you and your child to make out a rough schedule showing what the child will be doing during each hour of every day of the week. This will help you both to set priorities.

Make it clear that schoolwork comes first, and that you still expect chores to be done. By discussing these issues, you can ensure that your child knows what he or she is getting into, and is really committed to the activity, rather than joining on a whim.

A job can be a very positive experience for a teenager. It can also be a big mistake. A teenager who is involved in after-school sports or clubs should be strongly discouraged from giving these up to take a minimum-wage job flipping burgers or pumping gas after school. On the other hand, working a few hours on the weekend probably won't involve much sacrifice and will allow the teen to make a little spending money.

A part-time job can help a teen to develop self-confidence and responsibility. But the same concerns that apply to involvement in after-school activities are relevant in this case. Make sure the teen is aware of the time commitment involved. Let him or her know that if you see evidence that schoolwork is being neglected, you will insist that working hours be curtailed.

Allowance increases are always being negotiated by parents and children. Before giving in to this demand, talk with your child about his or her spending habits. Does he or she spend the allowance immediately on junk, or make careful, considered purchases? A child who wants more money should be able to demonstrate that he or she will manage it sensibly.

In all these situations, parents should be willing to communicate, negotiate and compromise. If you have to say no to a request, make sure the child understands the reason for your refusal. By keeping the lines of communication open, you can help ensure a more enjoyable school year for you and your child.

DID YOU KNOW that parents can give children a more positive attitude toward learning by working on special educational projects together? Choose a fun project such as highlighting cities on a map with vibrant coloring pencils or like "Coloray" Coloring Pencils. These pencils, available in true, eye-catching colors, are safe for your child and the environment because they are non-toxic and contain no rain forest wood.

Daycare Center

TLC for Tots is a pre-school/daycare center licensed by the State of New Jersey.

Our goal is to provide a positive atmosphere which will promote social, physical, emotional and intellectual growth. Our curriculum helps children learn and discover through experiences focusing on learning, which is developmentally appropriate to each age group.

At TLC, we provide specialized areas for children to learn through play. These areas include: art, science and nature, blocks, music, dramatic arts, library and an indoor gym. These activities are designed to develop creativity, hand-eye coordination, large and small motor skills and independence, as well as sharing.

Our Philosophy

In a caring and positive atmosphere, we create a warm place for pre-schoolers to learn. As we bridge the gap from home to school, we guide children to a continued good self-image while building social skills in a school setting.

Based on the theory that children learn through play, classroom routines encourage active involvement, meaningful experimentation and reinforcement through repetition.

Schedules are designed which balance structure and free choice, as well as active and quiet times.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Fourth in a series

The '79 Belleville Bucs had just won the "game of the decade", beating Seton Hall 14-13 on a Sunday afternoon at Municipal Stadium. I remember that game with Seton Hall as the "Giants-Dallas Sunday. The '79 New York Giants weren't a very good team, but they were going through a good stretch and were playing host to the Dallas Cowboys at Giants Stadium. Rain had postponed the Belleville-Seton Hall game to a rare Sunday kickoff and many of the fans were watching the Buc game and had an ear to a radio, listening to the Giants game.

The P.A. announcer even gave updates of the Giants game. (By the way, Dallas won on a late field goal, 16-14.)

The game with Seton Hall was played in bright sunshine. It was a perfect November afternoon, with a chill in the air and a big crowd at Municipal Stadium. The following Saturday, Belleville played host to Clark High School. The weather was the complete opposite of the Seton Hall game. It rained pretty heavily for most of the morning. It looked as if the game would be cancelled. However, the powers-to-be who make the decisions on whether the game should be played, determined the field was playable.

Thus, Belleville and Clark kicked off despite a steady rain. It was also "Homecoming Day" at Municipal Stadium, with some festivities planned for halftime.

Clark came in with a 2-4-1 mark while Belleville was cruising with a 6-1 record. In '78, Belleville had traveled to Clark and came away with a tough 16-7 victory. In that game, Ralph DePasquale sealed the victory by intercepting a pass and returning it for a touchdown. Also in the '78 contest, Mike Nicolsa took a handoff at his own five yard line and ran 95 yards for the games first touchdown.

Now, in 1979, the Bucs were without the services of Nicolsa, who suffered a knee injury in the Passaic victory a few weeks back. Nicolsa had become the teams spiritual leader, giving the players a tremendous amount of encouragement on the sidelines. He also gave some good pre game talks in the lockerroom.

Clark gave the Bucs all it could handle in the '79 battle. The Union County school scored first in the game and led 7-0. The Bucs tied the game on a Bob Labruzzo one yard run in the mud. Late in the first half, Clark went ahead on a field goal, 10-7.

At halftime, homecoming "king" Ed Aulisi posed for pictures and as he walked back to the lockerroom, he said to me very confidently, "we're going to win, no problem."

Aulisi's prediction was right on target. The third quarter was scoreless, but early in the fourth, Len Mendola hauled in a 15 yard pass from Aulisi to give the Bucs a 13-10 lead. Clark came right back, however. It's quarterback, 6'4" Glenn Bodnar threw 73 yards to John Wilson, giving Clark the lead again, 17-13. Bodnar, who went on to a fine career at William and Mary, had passed 47 yards to Wilson for Clark's first TD in the first quarter.

The Buc offensive line had taken control of the contest. Led by Carl Lordi, Russ Pagano, Rich Vitello and Anthony D'Agostino, the line gave the Buc running game plenty of room. Belleville regained the lead for good late in the fourth quarter on a three yard run by Dante D'Notaris. The Bucs led, 19-17.

A few minutes later, Clark fumbled deep in its own territory. Belleville recovered the fumble and seconds later, Mendola ran in from the ten yard line for the insurance score. DePasquale kicked the PAT and the Bucs won, 26-17.

The victory clinched a spot in the Group IV, Section II playoffs for the Bucs. The opponent would be Union High School and the setting would be the awesome confines of Giants Stadium in the Meadowlands.

A large crowd made its way to Giants Stadium on that Saturday morning in November, over 10,000 fans attended the game and it was indeed a classic matchup.

Frank Fazzini and Phil Cerza, two sophomores who had earned starting roles with the '79 Bucs, played outstanding games. Mendola scored two TD's. Aulisi directed the offense very well. The defense was outstanding.

The Bucs led, 12-8 late in the fourth quarter. Union was driving for the go-ahead score. It's quarterback, Mark Casale, threw a sideline pass. It hit the hands of Belleville's overback Michael Rainone...and bounced away. I remember Rainone's disappointment at missing that pass. A few minutes earlier, Cerza had intercepted a pass that seemingly had clinched a Belleville victory.

I remember Mario Colombo, the Bucs fine split end, who was wide open on at least five pass patterns during the game. There were so many opportunities, but it wasn't meant to be.

Union rallied in the last two minutes and came away with a 15-12 heartstopping win. Belleville had come to the dance and almost came away with the glass slipper. But the Bucs would have to wait another year until they would play, and win, a game at the Meadowlands.

"All year, my guys had bigger hearts than their stomachs," Buc coach John Senesky said after the Union game. "They have an intense desire to win."

"Union has a super team, they played flawlessly throughout the game. We were hoping to force a turnover during their long drive, a fumble, interception, anything, but their execution was flawless."

Union coach Lou Rettino was quite impressed with the Bucs. "This is a great Belleville team that kept the pressure on us, forcing third down and long yardage situations."

Union would eventually win the Group IV, Section II crown, beating Livingston in the title game. Livingston had upset Westfield at Giants Stadium after the Belleville-Union contest.

The loss lowered Belleville's record to 7-2 and set the stage for the season finale, at Belleville, against Thanksgiving Day rival Kearny. The Bucs were big favorites, but the question was whether the Bucs would be emotionally spent after the Union game. The team only had three days to prepare for the Kearny matchup.

Belleville left little doubt that it had enough left for Kearny. The Bucs scored early and often, leading 20-0 at the half. In the second half, it was more of the same as the Bucs rolled to a 50-0 win, putting the final touches on an 8-2 campaign.

Mendola had a phenomenal day in his final high school game. The senior running back scored five touchdowns and was carried off the field by his Belleville teammates after the last score.

La Bruzza scored a touchdown in the first half and Jerry DiGori, who scored the first TD in the Seton Hall game, made a tremendous catch in the third quarter for a score. DiGori, who was called "J.D. Hill" by Nicolsa, was a fine split end on the '79 Bucs who made some

Team was 14-4, advanced to state semis

Turi pleased with Jr. Legion

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville junior legion baseball team put together a phenomenal season this summer, winning 14 of 18 games. Pat Turi's club went to the state semi-finals and tied for first place, with Nutley, in the division.

"It was a great year," Turi said. "Our kids played team baseball from the beginning. Everyone contributed to our success. In each game, it seemed that a different player was contributing to a victory."

The players turned in some very consistent performances this summer. There wasn't a dominant statistic in the group, but the team's overall numbers were solid.

Robert Dena led the way with a .474 batting average. He had two triples, a double and drove home 16 runs.

Jim Napolitano (that's right, his name is Jim, not John and not Jerry) also hit a robust .474. Jim had a homer, two triples, two doubles and scored 15 runs.

Hitting .400 this summer was Jerry Turi. The infielder also came through with a double and scored 19 runs.

Ken Johansen batted .372, with two triples, a double and 14 runs scored.

Ken's brother, Kevin Johansen had a very consistent campaign, batting .362 with four doubles, ten runs scored and 15 ribbies.

Anthony Pace did an excellent job this season, hitting .353. He led the Bucs with two homers. Pace also had a double and drove home nine runs.

Batting .340, Mike Mundy was a

Football team gearing for the decathlon

By Mike Lamberti

The calendar may say August, but football is on the minds of many Belleville High School athletes.

Although the season opener is weeks away, the Bucs are beginning a conditioning program during the evening hours at Belleville High. Next week, the power index ratings will be determined and the annual decathlon will be held at Doc Ellis Field. The decathlon, which measures a players overall conditioning level, is set for next Thursday at 9 a.m.

After the decathlon, head coach

Second annual Sam Giuffrida run is set for October 20

By Mike Lamberti

He taught at Belleville High School for over 20 years. Many students at the school will tell you that he left a definite mark on their adult lives. He was an outstanding coach, an inductee into the Belleville Hall of Fame. His family and his students were his life.

The man is Sam Giuffrida. On May 21, 1989, his sudden passing stunned the township.

However, the legacy that this man left behind is stronger than ever. Last year, the first Sam Giuffrida 5 mile run was held at Belleville High School. Over 200 participants competed in the race, with the proceeds going to the scholarship fund at Belleville High.

Now, organizers are preparing for the second annual Sam Giuffrida Run. The race will be held on Sunday, October 20. It will begin, and end, at Belleville High School.

Lorraine Leming, one of the key organizers of the race, announced that the entry fee will be $10.00. There will be a late fee of $12.00. All entrants will receive a tee shirt.

"We'll have the race applications coming out shortly," Leming said. "Jiffy Lube is the main sponsor of the race. They have done a great deal toward putting the race together and making it a success."

Leming also feels that there will be a larger turnout of runners than last year.

"Last year, we had excellent weather and the race was well received. This year, people know about the race and I'm expecting a much larger turnout."

The race begins at Belleville High School, works its way down Passaic Avenue to Greylock Parkway and then throughout sections of Belleville.

Like last year, the race will be five miles. There will also be a one mile "fun run", which usually precedes the five mile race.

"We're also hoping to have more festivities this year," Leming said. "Things are shaping up pretty well."

Leming also announced that sponsors are needed for the race. If people are interested, they can contact her, or Tonia Moore.

We'll have more information in upcoming issues.

Runners await starting gun at inaugural Sam Giuffrida run, held on October 21, 1990. The second annual race will take place on October 20, 1991 at Belleville High School.

Flashback! '82 Lady Bucs defeat Livingston, 8-0

By Mike Lamberti

This weeks Flashback takes us back to the Spring of 1982. The Belleville softball team won its first county championship, beating Livingston in the title game. It was a big win for Belleville, especially after the team had lost to Livingston the week before in the Group IV, Section II semis. The game was played at Pulaski Park in Bloomfield. This article appeared in the June 3, 1982 issue of the Belleville Times/News.

By Mark Foley

The softball team, behind the two hit pitching of Dina DeAquino, routed Livingston 8-0 to capture its first Essex County championship. The victory provided the crowning jewel to the greatest Bucs softball season ever, with the club at 23-2. It also averaged the loss in the state tourney to the Lancers earlier in the week.

Livingston threatened only once, in the bottom of the first inning. Behind a walk and their only hits, the bucs were loaded with two outs. DeAquino got Laurie Livak to ground out to end the jam. She went on to retire 18 of the next 19 batters, allowing a fifth inning walk to Ann Marie Cefalo.

Head coach Carl Corino was ecstatic about the young right hander's performance.

"(After the first inning) I didn't think she would come back the way she did. And that was against one of the best hitting teams in the state.

She shut them down completely."

However, Debbie Siegel was pitching no hit ball for almost four innings. Donna Brooks stepped up to lead off the fifth inning and took a 3-2 pitch over the leftfielders head for a homerun. This opened the floodgates. Mona Stampe followed with a walk. Lois DeLuccio and Donna Campana then delivered back to back singles to load the bases.

After Angela Chianotto struck out, Kim Indiero and Nancy Coffey both drew run scoring walks. Following a Tracy Buono pop up, Rosie Leonidis got the big hit of the game, a two run single to left. Two more runs came in on an error, so at the end of the inning the score was 7-0.

The Bucs scored one more run in the sixth as Indiero singled, went to second on a force out by Coffey, and came home on a two out single by Buono.

The coach was pleased with the effort of the entire team.

"When Donna Brooks hit that homerun, the entire team became more confident. That's what we needed, that spark. It put the momentum on our side and it definitely shook up Siegel. Rosie (Leonidis) came through with the big hit, the one that really broke their backs. If we came away from that inning with only three runs, it might have been a different game. 3-0 is much different than 7-0, and once we got the lead, we never let up."

"The defense, instead of getting lackadaisical, picked up. We got stronger. The key was Dina, she was able to throw strikes. It was a complete team effort, everyone did something. We played up to our full capability."

As the squad went out on the field for the last inning, it was greeted by the capacity crowd at Bloomfield's Pulaski Park with chants of "Belleville, Belleville." Once the final out was recorded, the team mobbed the pitchers mound in celebration. What made it even better was that Livingston had defeated Belleville in the state tournament the previous Tuesday.

In that match, the Buccanettes were coasting, 4-0 through four innings. However, Livingston struck in the fifth for four unearned runs and tallied two more in the sixth for a 6-4 lead. Belleville tied matters in the last of the seventh when Kim Indiero drilled a double over the leftfielders head, bringing home Stampe and DeAquino. The game thus went into extra innings.

In the Lancer eighth, a pair of singles and a walk loaded the bags. With two outs, Livak hit a ground ball to Coffey which she bobbled, allowing the Lancer runner to slide in safely at third base. The go ahead run scored and Corino was livid about the call.

"My beef wasn't about the call, that was a very close play," he said. "I was upset at the way the umpire made the call. He wasn't sure and asked the home plate ump for help. He said that he didn't have a good angle and he didn't see it. Both of them were unsure. But it's just part of the game. I don't blame it for the loss. We made a lot of mistakes and that cost us the game."

Nevertheless, Belleville had to come back and play the next day against Mt. St. Dominic. In this game, the girls came through with no problems, beating the visitors 11-0. Brooks and Leonidis both hit two run homers and Kathy Woods (8-0) pitched a six hit shutout to lead the way to victory.

"I knew we would come back," Corino said. "We're just too good of a team. That's been the story all season long. Two losses, two ties, and after them a team with less composure might have had a mental letdown, but not us. That's what made us a good team. We bounced back against Kearny and we came back against Livingston. Not only did we beat them, but we beat both of them convincingly."

EDITORS NOTES: The '82 Lady Bucs finished 24-2-2 in 1982. Corino has had some great teams over the past 12 seasons, but the '82 team might have been the best. DeAquino, Buono, Brooks, Leonidis and Coffey are all in the Belleville Hall of Fame. Let's hope that Campana also is inducted to the Belleville Hall soon. She was a marvelous defensive centerfielder.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Soccer &amp; touch football applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1991 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in recreation soccer. Belleville resident children who will be 7 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 14 on Dec. 31 are eligible. Nobody above 8th grade can play, and all returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8-10 can play touch football. Belleville boys who will be 8 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 10 on Dec. 31 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

For both soccer and touch football, all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Joramelon Street, with birth certificates. The registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 16, and the deadline for touch football is Aug. 30. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since football, soccer and touch football game and practice schedules conflict.

Football registration

There will be registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's 1991 Junior Bucs tackle football program at the Recreation House, 407 Joramelon Street, now through Aug. 16. Boys who will be 8 years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 14 before Sept. 1 are eligible. Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a minimum of 60 pounds and a maximum of 135 pounds, and no one above 8th grade can play. Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific age/weight requirements as set by the Subur-

an Twin County Football League.

To register, players must obtain an application from their school or the recreation department office. All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Recreation House by Aug. 16, with two passport size photos of the player and a copy of his birth certificate. All returning players from last year's team must re-apply. Tryouts were scheduled to begin around Aug. 12. Players who choose to participate in tackle football cannot also play soccer or touch football in the same season.

Preschool registration

The Belleville Department of Recreation & Cultural Affairs is presently looking into expanding its preschool program for 4 year old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for preschool children.

If feasible, an afternoon session will be added from 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. five days a week with class limited to 23 students. The cost of the 32 week session is $100. Children already enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program. The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule.

The afternoon session will be added only if 20 or more people register. School will begin on Sept. 16 and will run through May 1992. Children born between October 1986 - September 1987 who will enter kindergarten in September 1992 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come - first served basis only!

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible - Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Soccer coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching its seven-to-fourteen year old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games. Games are played on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, beginning late September. All volunteer coaches will be required to attend a certification clinic by the NYSCA before the season begins.

Those interested in coaching may call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays before 4 p.m.

Football officials needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently seeking adults to work as officials for its touch football program. The touch football league plays its games on Saturday mornings, 9 a.m. to noon, at the Little League Field beginning Sept. 21. Qualified applicants need only be familiar with football rules - no formal certification or training is required. If interested, please call the recreation office at 450-3422 for more information.

Legion team finishes 14-4

very valuable member of the '91 team. Mundy had a triple and drove home 12 runs. He was also the Bucs top pitcher. (More on the pitching staff shortly.)

Matt McGough had a solid campaign this summer, hitting .333.

The Bucs also received extra base hits from Brian Dena (triple), Mike Morgan (5 doubles), Joe DePeri (3 doubles), Sam Marino (double), John Engdahl (double and 8 ribbies), Anthony DiMeo (double), Keith Veltre (double) and Dan Constantino (double).

As mentioned, the pitching staff was led by Mundy. He posted a 6-3 record and a solid 2.15 ERA. Mundy usually drew the big game assignments and he was always ready for the challenge.

Kevin Johansen had a fine season on the mound. He was 4-0 and had an ERA of 3.50. Johansen also recorded two saves.

Ken Johansen was 2-1 with three saves.

The strong showing by the Bucs this summer is a good sign for the Belleville varsity baseball program, come next March. Many of the players should be seeing varsity time for Buc coach Nick Grande in the Spring of '92 and beyond.

NOTES: Turi expressed his thanks to his assistant coaches, Steve Tice, Chris Canarella and Mike Finan.

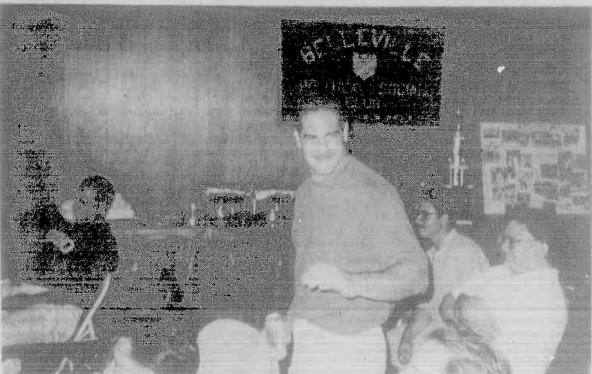

Park Ridge ended up winning the Junior Legion championship, beating Hawthorne in the championship game. Hawthorne had defeated Belleville in the semi finals while Park Ridge defeated Cinaminson.

Bucs hit .364 as a team this summer.

Scenes from '81 Buc reunion

The 1981 Belleville Buccaneer baseball team held a reunion on May 31, 1991 to remember the tenth anniversary of its Greater Newark Tournament championship. It was on May 31, 1981 that the Bucs beat Glen Ridge for the GNT crown. Here, the players gather for a photo during the reunion. How many players can you identify?

Former Belleville Buc hero Paul Scheuplein takes some good natured ribbing from his teammates during reunion of '81 Buc baseball team. The players watched the TV-3 airing of the championship game with Glen Ridge and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Sitting behind Scheuplein are Frank Fazzini (l) and Jerry Ross. That's Carl Carino, sitting to Scheuplein's right.

Buc Shots

monumental catches.

DePasquale had a good day kicking and backup quarterback John Norton threw a two point conversion pass to Bill Walsh.

Near the end of the game, Nicolsa, who had missed the last five games but was certainly not forgotten, got a chance to play in the defensive secondary. He was in for five plays, then was taken out to a large ovation.

Seconds later, the large contingent of fans gave the Bucs a long standing ovation for their tremendous season.

"That team was very close," Senesky said of the '79 Bucs. "They came up in the Belleville Bronco system and they really stuck together. It was a marvelous team."

Aulisi went on to Princeton University and is today a brain surgeon. Most of the seniors from that team went to college, and I'm sure they're all doing very well today.

The seniors from that '79 team include, Jerry DiGori, Ed Aulisi, Mike Nicolsa, Brian Berrigan, Bob LaBruzza, Dante DeNotaris, Michael Rainone, Rich Vitello, Frank Swain, Ralph DePasquale, Lenny Mendola, Gabe DeFabrizio, Jimmy Salters, Peter Scheuplein, Carl Lordi, Joe Garofalo, John Norton, Russ Pagano, Joe DeLorenzo, Mario Colombrito, John DeCesare and Danny Amadeo.

Thank's guys. It was fun reliving that tremendous season.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

In the first round of the '81 NFL playoffs, the Giants played the Philadelphia Eagles and won, 27-21. Rob Carpenter was the Giants workhorse running back in '81. Ray Perkins was the Giants coach. The Giants lost in the next round of the playoffs to San Francisco, 38-24.

FOR THIS WEEK

John Engel, the guy who founded the now famous John and Janet Engel Picnic wanted to know how the Giants did in the 1984 playoffs. Who did the Giants play in the first round? How far did that team progress?

August 26, the two-a-day practices will begin.

The Bucs first scrimmage is scheduled for Saturday, September 7, at East Orange beginning at 10 a.m. The following morning, the annual "Photo Day" will be held at Doc Ellis Field. There, all the fall sports teams will be photographed in their game uniforms.

The season opening football game is tentatively set for Saturday, September 28 at Hackensack. However, that game could be moved to the preceding Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Hackensack. Senesky wasn't sure whether the game would be changed, however.

The Bucs are coming off a fine 6-3 season in 1990. Many players from the '90 team are back in '91 and there has been a good turnout of athletes at the recent conditioning drills at the high school.

DOSAGE REVIEW AFTER 50
Once a person reaches the age of 50, his body may respond differently to drugs that he may have been taking for many years. Physiological changes can affect drug potency and accentuate side effects in ways that can range from the insignificant to the harmful. As a person grows older, the proportion of muscle and water in his body decreases while his portion of body fat increases. As a result of these changes, fat-soluble drugs may stay in the body longer, thus affecting their absorption rates. Lower concentration of water in the body can cause water-soluble drugs to remain in the body at higher concentrations for any given dosage level. At the same time, the two main body organs responsible for breaking down and removing drugs from the bloodstream, the kidneys and liver, are functioning less efficiently. For these reasons, an over-50 review of drug dosages may be warranted.
When your doctor needs to review your medications, our pharmacist can provide the information from the records we have available at ROSCHMIDT PHARMACY, 33 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1961. Many topics on health and medications will be featured in our column. Watch it! Various subjects in the upcoming week.
Open: Daily 9am - 10pm, Sundays, 9am - 5pm.
HINT: People over the age of 55 comprise 12 percent of the population, yet consume 30 percent of all prescription drugs and percent of OTC drugs.

Copper vs. Polybutylene Plumbing:
What You Should Know

Thinking about putting in new plumbing? Knowing the facts about copper vs. polybutylene plumbing could prevent your home improvement project from being a total wash-out.

Choosing the right plumbing material can save you a lot of worry and money, experts agree. Many people thought they could save money by choosing a plastic plumbing material called polybutylene instead of the slightly more expensive copper. The fact is, many people who picked polybutylene wound up having to pay for costly repairs when their plastic plumbing systems failed. The city of San Antonio, Texas, which installed some 380 miles of polybutylene piping, found it failing at the rate of 1,000 leaks a month!

Copper plumbing, on the other hand, has many advantages polybutylene can't match, says the Copper Development Association (CDA).

•Copper plumbing is built to last—it's virtually maintenance-free.

•Unlike plastic plumbing, copper won't burn or melt in service, or give off toxic gases if exposed to flame.

•Copper tubes and joints are strong. They can withstand pressure surges and rapid temperature changes without rupturing.

•Copper's an investment—its

Copper plumbing can increase your home's value and save you money on costly repairs.

high quality can actually enhance your home's resale value.

•Copper meets or exceeds all standard plumbing codes in all 50 states.

•The manufacture of copper today is friendly to the environment and the process is energy efficient. Copper tube is made largely of recycled material and does not contain foreign oil or petroleum products as plastic does. The U.S. is self-sufficient in copper, with more than 50 percent of many plumbing products derived from recycled materials.

Improving water quality

Whether they get their water from municipal systems, private wells, or lakes, millions of Americans are voting with their pocketbooks for improved water quality in their homes. Hundreds of millions of dollars are now spent each year on water filters. Many people are curing water quality problems that are all too obvious. The concentration of minerals or dirt is so high that the water from their faucets is cloudy or rust-colored. Their water may smell bad and taste even worse.

Some people choose to add devices that filter the water coming from only a single faucet. These point-of-discharge filters have to be changed regularly or removed for cleaning. They also do nothing to improve the quality of the water coming from all the other faucets that don't have filters on them.

The solution for this kind of problem is a pre-filter that cleans your water at the point of entry. One pre-filter, cleaning the water before sending it on to your faucets, improves the water quality in the entire house.

If sediment, sand or other debris is a problem in your water supply, here are some tips on what to look for in a pre-filter. It should have quick in-line cleaning without requiring any disassembly or changing of the cleaning cartridge. It should be able to operate with no shut-off during the backwash cycle that cleans the filter. It should also have a built-in secondary filter so you'll have an uninterrupted supply of filtered water during the backwashing.

Free information on water filters and pre-filters is available from Honeywell Braukmann. Simply mail your request to: Honeywell Inquiries Dept., MN12-4164, Honeywell Plaza, MN 55408.

ONE PRE-FILTER can improve the look, taste and smell of the water from every faucet in your home or vacation retreat.

Wallpaper border can transform a room, and it's easier to apply than regular wall coverings. A wide border at ceiling height will make walls seem lower; one at chair-rail height will raise the ceiling.

Television antenna wiring should be grounded to protect your TV set as well as your house from lightning damage. Special kits are sold at electronics or hardware stores consisting of an arrester which connects to the lead-in wire, bonding straps and ground wire.

Commercial paint remover is often the answer to restoring an old fireplace. Elements of some older homes may carry 20 layers of paint or more, often masking fine carving.

Cutter screens may keep leaves and debris from settling in gutters, but they also hold ice and snow. Melting snow dams up against the ice on the screen, forcing water under shingles or through the fascia.
