Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

His father survived boxing matches with Battling Nelson and Abe Attell. He himself survived 12 rounds with Willie Pep, and still has the scars to prove it. And Rocky Leslie, born Liano, is still in fighting trim, able to handle a golf club, a cue stick or a tennis racket with equal effectiveness. One of that rare breed of natural athletes, he's still enjoying robust good health, and his father is a feisty 96. The son can still run, throw, pitch, catch, swim and spar - and he knows his way around in many other areas as well. Damon Runyon might have invented him, except that he is not a dese, dose and dem type, but a man with a ready phrase and a sense of humor. ●●●

● He says he doesn't use the name of Liano because - "I disgraced it. When I was 11, I was picked up for bookmaking." This was all because of Uncle Mattie, who always drove a new car and wore flashy clothes during the Depression, by the simple expedient of offering to pay you $500 for a $1 bet, if you guessed the final three numbers in the pari-mutual take. Uncle Mattie told young Rocky, "Betting is a sucker's game. Don't bet 'em, book 'em." So Rocky went among his little friends and took a penny bet for a $2.50 return, and soon had more money than he dreamed possible. He was making more money than his father was taking home on a WPA job - his glory days as a boxer behind him. When the police picked up Rocky in front of a schoolhouse, the son begged them not to let his father near him. But the police did, at the Station House, and Pop said, "So you've decided you don't want to grow up to be Governor or President? So, you've decided you want to be like that guy from Chicago, Mr. Capone?" And with that, he threw a punch at his son that exploded with such force that any dreams of emulating Mr. Capone were driven out of the son forever. Such is the power of logic. ●●●●

After the police wrestled the father away from the son, Rocky returned home for some further wall-to-wall admonitions, and to lead an honest life. At the age of 14, he was visiting the old Barnum & Bailey Circus in Irvington when he came to the aid of a lady who had been knocked down by a group of four young toughs. Rocky whipped the lot of them and was noticed by a fight manager, Jim Marsillo who managed Charlie Fusari and Joe Walcott and took him under verbal contract. While other teen-agers were battling the books, Rocky was launched into a boxing career that was interrupted by Navy service, and ended in 1952, after more than 60 fights climaxed by the encounter with Pep. ●●●● "I've sparred with Rocky Graziano and Sugar Ray Robinson, but Pep was the greatest fighter I ever met," Rocky said. After his boxing career, he got into various sports endeavors, including a golf course in which he was kayed by his partners, who dipped into the till until the well went dry. He made a comfortable living as a liquor salesman, retiring a few years ago. A friend asked him to help him in a limousine business, and this led to a meeting with a limousine client, Bill Apfelbaum, who apparently owns all the outdoor advertising rights in the whole world. He was promoted from chauffeur to general confidante after taking on four young hoods under the Bruckner Boulevard in The Bronx, after they closed in on Mr. Apfelbaum, a sort of Crocodile Dundee feat, except that Rocky just used his bare fists. "I've never seen anything like this in my life!" M.

Apfelbaum said. And so, at a weekly salary in the four figures, Rocky meets celebrities ranging from Bruce Springsteen, whom he drove up to New York from Rumson, to former President Richard M. Nixon and the then Vice President George Bush. His love of golf is such that he turned down the role of a hoodlum in a William Friedkin movie to attend the Eisenhower Tourney. Sometimes, he stands in for Apfelbaum, taking the visitors out on the town. "I've always enjoyed New York," he said. He has had his share of shattering personal tragedy, losing two of his four sons to premature fatal illnesses, but he is still there, an all-around athlete at 65, depending on his street smarts and his two good hands to make his way in the world. He plans to take a run out to California to see how his father, Al, is doing. After all, the father knew a little bit more about success than Uncle Mattie, after all. ●●●● Does anybody love a Tax Assessor? Well, they made Tommy Salzano chairman of the next Columbus Day Parade, so somebody must like him. Anyway, he celebrated his birthday recently and everybody toasted him with coffee and doughnuts. And Anna Mae O'Connell, mainstay of the Town Clerk's office was guest of honor at an informal birthday lunch hosted by Town Manager Bert Kendall. A free lunch, at last!

Committee forms to promote Belleville as Birthplace of Industrial Revolution

A citizens committee to seek recognition of Belleville as the place where America's industrial revolution began met at the Upper Montclair Country Club last Thursday.

Hosted by The Belleville Times, represented by Publisher Frank Orechio and Editor Howard Klausner, the meeting followed up the passage of a resolution by the Town Council supporting the effort of the town's official newspaper to establish Belleville's claim to the title as Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution.

The claim is based on the historic fact that Josiah Hornblower, a pioneer in the British development of the steam engine, erected the first such engine on the North American Continent in what was then Second River, and is now Belleville.

Forty years later, the first steam engine ever designed and built in the United States was made in a Belleville foundry, and used to power The Pollack, the first experimental steam boat in history. It sailed the Passaic River, and preceded Robert Fulton's Clermont, which used a British engine.

Present at the meeting was a direct descendant of Hornblower, Joseph Hatch, who noted that he had been seeking town recognition of his ancestor's role in history since 1964. He credited The Belleville Times with finally achieving his goal.

Hatch represented the Belleville Historical Society, with Ed O'Neill, Bernard O'Connor represented the Belleville Historical Preservation Society.

Mayor Marina Perna represented the Town Council; Patricia Pisano, President of the Board of Education, represented the board;

Town Clerk Mary Lou Hood, direct descendant of a Revolutionary Army surgeon, represented the town administration; Lou Cicenia, owner of Charles Jewelers, represented the business community; Librarian Fred Lewis represented the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, and Rita Troise, President of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, represented the Chamber.

The formation of the committee represented the commitment of the community to the idea of establishing Belleville's place in history.

Publisher Orechio noted that he was born in Belleville, and always maintained a strong interest in its welfare. Editor Klausner stated that the goal was to make Belleville a goal for scholars, tourists and developers.

The office of State Senator Gabriel Ambrosio is preparing a resolution to be introduced to the Legislature by Ambrosio and Senator Carmen Orechio, petitioning for recognition of Belleville by the United States Congress.

Ambrosio expects to have the resolution before the New Jersey Senate next month.

3 holdup men take $3,500 in home

The search for three men who took a Belleville woman in her home at gunpoint, Monday, has extended to Staten Island, police sources report.

The victim is a 25-year-old Corlandt Street resident whose husband operates a limousine service from the home.

Shortly after noon on Monday, she told police, three men forced their way into her house through a back door, just minutes after her husband had left.

Two of the men, both six-footers, wore stocking masks. The third, about five foot six inches tall, wore no mask. But he carried a handgun which he put to the woman's head, after smashing the portable telephone she had been holding when they entered, interrupting a call.

"We know you've got cash here," he reportedly said.

When she denied there was money in the house, they forced her to go to the office her husband maintains in the building, and again threatened her. Finding no cash in the office, they took the woman to an upstairs bedroom.

Here, they found money, some $3,500, in a dresser drawer, the victim said.

They left after warning her not to leave the bedroom.

She fled to a nearby house and called police.

Detective Peter Fraone is in charge of the investigation. He reported that police were working on several promising leads. Sources indicated that Staten Island police may have information on the case.

Christa is home safe, police seek kidnapper

The hunt is on for the man who tore a Belleville mother from her car in Jersey City and drove off, taking 6-month-old Christa Crosby with him.

The baby was found 15 hours later, still in her car seat in the rear of the vehicle, apparently unharmed. But the baby had been left without nourishment for that time, and was treated for dehydration.

The mother, Mrs. Thomas (Lisa) Crosby, 29, a teacher in the Bayonne City school system, was driving her mother's car home from a visit to her mother in Jersey City. At 4:45 p.m. Sunday, she was at Charlotte Circle, near Routes 1 and 9 at Tonnelle Avenue, when a man, described as a black male, five feet 10, reportedly pulled her from the car, opening the unlocked door, and then got behind the wheel.

Mrs. Crosby tried to hang on to the door, and was dragged some 25 feet down Route 7 west before falling to the pavement. A motorist, John Biegel of Staten Island, helped her up, and together they pursued the fleeing car, a black, two-door Buick, losing it in Kearny.

Family prayers were answered when the missing car was spotted by an alert driver, the Rev. Angel Estrada, who noticed it parked in a factory district of Harrison. The Rev. Mr. Estrada, who is co-pastor of the Second Bethesda Church in Jersey City, holds a factory job and was on his way to work when he saw the car, investigated and found the baby still in the back seat, crying.

Reward offered for info on fatality

Essex County Crimestoppers Program is offering a reward to assist in the search for a hit-and-run driver who struck and killed 5-year-old Joseph Pinto Jr. of Bloomfield July 28.

Sheriff Armando Fontoura, whose office sponsors and administers the program, said up to $10,000 is being offered to anyone with information that leads to the arrest of the driver.

An old model, light-colored station wagon struck the young boy as he crossed Grove Street at Waldo Avenue returning home from buying a popsicle at an ice cream truck.

Bloomfield Police Chief Jack

McNiff said his department is conducting an "intensive" investigation to locate the motorist, described as a black male in his 40s with short, salt-and-pepper hair.

McNiff said the station wagon had a luggage rack on the roof, brown woodgrain panels on the sides and a noisy muffler, according to eyewitness accounts.

The vehicle was last seen turning from Grove Street to Chester Avenue.

So far seven witnesses have been interviewed, Lt. Steven Flanagan said.

Fontoura explained callers are assigned code numbers and are not required to reveal their identities at any time, even if they become eligible for a reward.

Crimestoppers can be reached 24 hours a day, seven days a week by dialing 5-H-E-R-I-I-P-F.

Fontoura said he hoped the guarantee of anonymity and offer of reward money might induce persons with information to come forward.

"No matter how insignificant you feel what you have seen or know is, call us anyway," said Fontoura.

"It may just be the piece of the puzzle we've been waiting for."

Callers also can phone the Bloomfield Police Department at 680-4141.

Montagna offers info reward

Frank Montagna has offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of whoever vandalized his car two weeks ago.

Montagna said that his anger at the vandalism was directed against "persons around" School Trustee Gabe Nazzola, although he said that he did not accuse Nazzola of being involved.

Montagna had voiced his anger at a public meeting of the Board of Education. When the meeting was over, Nazzola found that his car had been vandalized, while parked near School 1 where the meeting was held.

Montagna stated at the meeting that he would be waiting for Nazzola outside. This prompted Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardello to call police to provide a presence at the building.

Montagna said that he did not wait for Nazzola's appearance because a friend who was worried about Montagna's heart condition insisted he go home.

Montagna said he did not know who had vandalized the Nazzola car.

Montagna said that Nazzola was trying to implicate him in allegations of absentee vote improprieties during the last school board election.

He disputed Nazzola's claim that the Essex County Prosecutor was investigating the charges.

Nazzola has not named publicly the four persons who he claims tampered with absentee ballots. However, he stands by his assertion that an investigation of his charges is being conducted by the prosecutor's staff.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

Advertising is the lifeblood of magazines and newspapers (magazines get 50 percent of their revenues from ads, newspapers 80 percent). Most connected with advertising are in a state of panic. A headline in Advertising Age reads "Ad biz may never be the same." Some publishers are not shy about calling the ad decline a depression, reports the industry newsletter min.

The reason why. In the first six months of 1991, ad revenues were down 14.4 percent at Newsweek, 18.5 percent at Business Week and 11 percent at TV Guide, reported the Publishers Information Bureau. Poor advertising caused Family Media Inc. to shut down its seven magazine, including Discover and Health.

Things aren't much better elsewhere in mediamail. Local and network-TV ad revenues are off about 7 percent in 1991. Newspaper advertising was down in 1990 and also slipped 7 percent in the first quarter of 1991. Media company profits are being blamed. The latest quarterly results are down 28 percent at Dow Jones & Co. compared with 1989, 87 percent at The New York Times Co. and 42 percent at The Washington Post Company (owner of Newsweek).

At The Washington Post, ombudsman Richard Harwood speculates that a little adversity won't do the news business any harm. He might be right. But what about a lot of adversity. Harwood is near retirement, and he might feel differently if he worked at Family Media or for Psychology Today, New England Monthly, The National or California. They've all folded. In 1990, at least 20 magazines went belly up; the unofficial total so far in 1991 is 16, according to the Magazine Publishers of America. Some magazines are so desperate they're willing to slant stories to please advertisers, reports The Wall Street Journal.

Many theories to explain the ad slump abound: (1) It's just the recession: when sales and profits drop, companies cut costs — and advertising gets hammered. Of course, this is true. But the recession was fairly mild by historic standards; the peak employment rate has been 7 percent. Meanwhile, the advertising falloff may exceed those of the 1974-75 and 1981-82 recessions, when unemployment hit 9 and 10.8 percent. How come? (2) Advertising has been hurt by other forms of marketing, such as consumer coupons, prizes and promotions. This is also true. In 1990, marketing promotion spending totaled $69 billion, reports Wilkofsky Gruen Associates, a consulting company. Since 1985, it's been growing at nearly twice the rate of total advertising ($129 billion in 1990). But this trend dates back at least a decade and can't easily explain the current ad slump. Likewise, direct mail — which has been rising rapidly — still represents only 19 percent of all ad spending. (3) Some big advertisers — tobacco and liquor companies — are pulling out. True, but a poor explanation for the same reason. Magazines may have suffered most. In 1979, tobacco and liquor companies were their two largest advertisers, with spending of $157 million. In 1990, they ranked eighth and ninth with almost the same spending (inflation was 80 percent over the period). (4) It's the bust after the boom. Pay dirt. The slump is so harsh precisely because the previous boom was so strong. Advertising flourished in the 1980s. In 1987, it reached 2.43 percent of gross national product, the highest (as a share of GNP) since World War II, reports Robert Coen of the ad agency McCann-Erickson, Inc. This was up 30 percent from the level of the 1970s (1.87 percent of GNP).

The advertising-media complex overextended, and now it's paying the price. The past decade's boom was driven by abnormally high consumer spending. As that has abated, so has advertising. The adversity has been compounded by cutbacks at debt-laden retail-store chains, which are the pillars of local advertising. "Newspapers and local TV stations were sitting ducks," says consultant Arthur Gruen. "They just got killed."

The mayhem promises to continue. Adjusted for inflation, ad spending is declining. Meanwhile, the number of advertising outlets — cable TV channels and specialized magazines — has increased resulting in price cutting. There is no evidence, however, that U.S. corporations are deserting advertising en masse... the end of advertising is not at hand.

Temporary closing of library

Because of the library's reference room renovation project and for environmental reasons, such as the toxicity resulting from the spray painting, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, Main Library, 221 Washington Ave., will be closed from Aug. 26 to Sept. 3, according to Library Director David Bryant and the Library Board of Trustees. The Shaffer Branch Library, 30 Magnolia Street, will be open daily from Aug. 26 to Aug. 30, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

To service the community during this time period.

The following programs will be cancelled and rescheduled at a future date at the Main Library: 1. Photography of Collectibles-Aug. 26-7:30 p.m.; 2. The Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday film series at 1 p.m.; 3. The Crocheting Class-Aug. 27, 1 p.m.; 4. The Children's Room Final Party-Aug. 28.

OUR OPINION

Let's put that energy to use

We hope that the warring factions of Belleville will unite for at least one common goal, and use the energies now spent on sniping at each other for better purpose.

That is one of the reasons for the establishment of a citizens committee to back the campaign of The Belleville Times to have Belleville recognized as the Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution.

Publisher Frank Orechio told the formative meeting of the committee that he had been born in Belleville in the Big Tree neighborhood, and had moved a short distance over the Nutley line when he was five.

He said that as he grew up, he noticed that Nutley seemed to prosper and move ahead, while Belleville, for some reason, did not seem to progress as well.

The reason, he said, seemed to be that the political climate of Belleville deteriorated, and men and women of good will were reluctant to seek public office in an atmosphere of vituperation and discord.

Belleville did manage to have good leadership on occasion, but it apparently was not enough to maintain the town's prosperity.

After fostering industry for many decades, Belleville fell behind, and the great contributions it had made to America's strength were taken by other communities, while Belleville was left behind.

Much of it was the natural movement of industry to other markets, as the nation developed.

But somewhere along the line, Belleville lost sight of its own greatness. Pettiness and bickering replaced statesmanship and creativity.

The fact is that all the disputants in the various feuds going on all love their town. They simply don't credit others with having the same love for Belleville that they have.

So one of the aims of The Belleville Times is to have everyone working together in mutual respect for a common goal, a goal that will be beneficial for every single person in town, and for the state and nation as well.

In working together, we may yet rediscover our greatest strength - the fact that we are one community - scrappy, argumentative, opinionated but all Belleville.

When Bob drops in for a visit

We don't realize how much of an investment Belleville has in the seashore until something like Hurricane Bob comes along, and it seems as if half of the town has a beachfront property, a boat or a load of fishing tackle to preserve.

The Atlantic Ocean actually washes the shores of Belleville, with its salt water surging up the Passaic River from Newark Bay at any high tide.

The Atlantic also tempers our climate, which may be hard to believe on a sultry summer day. And it contributes to our bountiful rainfall, most years.

And, of course, the Atlantic is what brought most of us here, aside from those who arrived early in the day over the Bering Straits, or who moved more recently across the Pacific, the Caribbean and the Rio Grande.

Rich in fish and recreation, the sea is a vital part of our lives. And now and then it sends us an occasional reminder that it is still a mighty force with which to reckon. Hurricanes are only a small aspect of the ocean's immense power.

Not that hurricanes don't have their effect. The present structure of the First Reformed Church replaces the old Dutch Reformed Church edifice that was flattened by a wind back in the 1840s.

And only two years ago, a cyclone overturned cars and knocked down mighty trees in our midst.

The ocean is the reason for the Garden State Parkway, built to carry us on weekends and holidays to the wonderful beaches that stretch from Sandy Hook to Cape May. If the Bay is ever cleaned up in full, those beaches will once again be major sources of pleasure from Sandy Hook to the Raritan River.

One of the pleasant aspects of life in New Jersey is the variety of mountain, forest and beach that lie within two hours drive from any point in the state.

A couple from Ohio was recently encountered at Bahr's Landing in Atlantic Highlands. It was the first time the husband and wife had seen the ocean, and they were lost in wonderment. "We have Lake Erie," the wife said, "but it's nothing like this."

We do take the ocean too much for granted. Perhaps the arrival of a hurricane is just a friendly reminder of what the ocean is, what we owe to it and why it is so important to preserve its good health. Our health is involved, too.

YOUR OPINION

For voluntary recycling

To the editor:

Hold onto your wallets, Belleville residents! Your "professional" high priced, town manager is planning another "professional idea" that may cost you tax dollars.

In 1987, Belleville residents were requested to voluntarily participate in our new recycling program. The response was excellent and over a period of two years the program was expanded with drop-off sites at 48 William Street, DPW yard at Cortlandt St., and the Sr. Citizen parking lot on Franklin Avenue.

Curbside collection of newspaper and cardboard was negotiated into our new garage contract in late 1989. Mandatory curbside collection of newspaper began in January 1990. However, because of the success of the voluntary dropoff sites, they were retained to accommodate the many residents who found it convenient to deposit their newspapers at their leisure.

The Sr. Citizen site was very successful and convenient for seniors who attended the recreation center. The residents who participated knew that they were also helping to control costs with their voluntary efforts.

During the week of August 5, 1991, the dumpster was removed from the Sr. Citizen parking lot and signs were erected stating the site was being closed due to mandatory recycling. On Sunday, August 11, 1991, I contacted two councilpersons who said they were not aware of the situation, but they would check it out.

Why are the residents of Belleville being denied an opportunity to save themselves tax dollars with their voluntary efforts? The Sr. Citizen site was maintained in a clean and orderly manner on a daily basis, by the Department of Parks and Public Property, UNTIL the "professional" town manager took over. Could it be that the "pro" intentionally allowed the site to be untidy so he could justify closing it? Could it be that he now hopes that more paper will be left at the curb and create some unsightly situations? Could it be that he will then have an excuse to "advise" the council that they need to expand the bureaucracy and add more employees and/or contractors to collect the increased amount of newspapers? Could it be that he just has someone who can provide this service?

If you are one of the thousands of taxpayers who have participated in the voluntary effort, you should be seeking answers to these questions.

Advice to council: return the dumpster to the Sr. Citizen site because there is no reason voluntary dropoff sites and a mandatory curbside collection program cannot co-exist. The citizens deserve the right to save themselves some tax dollars.

Our rich history

To the editor:

What is the significance of Belleville the birthplace of the industrial revolution mean to you?

The above question was asked of me at a recent meeting among committee members regarding this subject. At first I thought this issue is so large I cannot give a proper answer, however, after pondering the thought my response was as follows.

This does provide an historic tribute of national proportions to the town. This would create a strong incentive that Belleville is the place to be. It is the township to live and work and invest. This was the gateway to the North East Corridor. A place where economics and demographics meet. Belleville is situated between New York City and Philadelphia also adjacent to a world class Int'l airport, not withstanding the major super highways, the finest in the country. We have the facilities and location we should be attracting fortune 500 companies many of which are already located in New Jersey. The restoration of our rich history may be the catalyst by which we can restore Belleville as the place to be.

To conclude the above issue is currently under pursuit we do expect to refer this matter to the U.S. Congress for ratification. I for one would like to thank the Belleville Times for spearheading the movement.

Fire Department thanked

To The Editor:

A special thanks is extended to Captain Tom Grande, Michael Cancellieri and Domenico Scrimo of the Belleville Fire Department for their assistance in aiding a senior citizen.

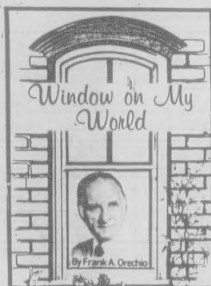

These three men displayed extreme kindness and helpfulness in a time of need.

It is indeed a credit to the town of Belleville to have such dedicated men in the Fire Department.

Letters Welcome

The Belleville Times welcomes letters, preferably 300 words or less, from readers. To be considered for publication, letters must be typed or legibly handwritten and must include the writer's address and daytime telephone number. Unsigned letters will not be published and names will not be withheld, unless publication would jeopardize the writer's personal or job security. We reserve the right to edit for length and clarity.

Occasionally, I stop in at the fabulous Rowe-Manse Emporium maintained by Carmen Maggio to buy hard-to-find items, and invariably, I bump in to one of the nicest guys anyone would care to know, Lou Foresta of Nutley. Quite a treat. He can be found at the lower level.

GEORGE BUSH is absolutely right when he tells Congress that "As a nation, we must protect the unborn." President Bush made the comment as he vetoed a bill that would have allowed the District of Columbia to spend its own money on abortions. In company with millions of others, I believe abortion is murder - under any circumstances.

THE New Jersey Teachers Association decided to send a message to Governor Jim Florio by endorsing 46 Republican legislative candidates and a token three Democrats in the November election. The spokeswoman for the group, Karen Joseph, said it's not surprising because her group was bipartisan and "bases its endorsements on issues."

ANOTHER BRILIYUNT MIND DIZZYROYED BY THE PUBLIK EDUKASHUN SISTUM.

Many taxpayers do not appreciate the ten-month work year teachers enjoy.

The ordinary taxpayer must work twelve months, minus the endless perks and 9 percent annual salary increases that some teachers enjoy.

A RESPONSIBLE recent poll of the new 36th District which includes Nutley and Belleville indicates that Democrat Senator Gabe Ambrosio of Bergen County will be a winner in November. The same poll indicates a close race among the four Assembly candidates. This indication augers well for the Democrat Assembly candidates.

ESSEX County Executive Tom D'Alessio hosts an annual party at his father's home at the Jersey Shore. The all-day affair usually attracts hundreds of bipartisan followers of the great one. Thursday, today, is the big day.

ASSEMBLY candidate Al Restaino of Nutley has a fundraiser scheduled for Wednesday, August 28th. The latest report indicates tickets are going well. Tickets are available at the door or by calling Linda at 667-1414.

CITY COLLEGE of New York Professor Leonard Jeffries, a black, made a statement recently which reflects some measure of bigotry. In a July 20 speech at a state sponsored Empire State Black Arts and Cultural Festival in Albany, New York, Jeffries said, "You can't trust the white boy" and he spoke of a "conspiracy, planned and plotted out of Hollywood by Jews and Italian-Americans." He also attacked "rich Jews" who he said financed the slave trade in the United States and Europe. The speech was broadcast on a state-owned cable television network. Clearly, the language spoken by Professor Jeffries is a base appeal to prejudice and anti-Semitism which has no place in America. I'm an American of Italian heritage, and I resent his slanderous comments.

ESSEX County Boy Scouts of America Senior District Executive Jack Dante informs me that the Nutley, Bloomfield, Belleville area Boy Scouts recent fund drive was very successful. For more years than I can remember, I have stated that the Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations, over the long term, are the nation's answer to our greatest threat to American youth - the use of drugs. Everyone should enlist in an effort to support both Scout organizations in every way possible.

NEWARK'S Anthony Imperiale, that famous keeper of the public conscience, in a four-page statement, criticizes Newark Police Director William Celester for using taxpayer money to convene a city safety personnel mini-convention at the "exclusive Tara Hotel" in Parsippany, New Jersey. The point Imperiale makes in his statement is that while Newark municipal officials demand austerity in government during these difficult economic times, it was a waste of taxpayer money for Newark's Police Director to host a dinner party for a substantial number of Police Department personnel.

Imperiale asks why - with so many facilities available in the City or Newark - the "high rolling Police Director saw fit to spend money like it was his money at Tara Hotel." Imperiale poses the question, "When do we get another federal investigation into the pervasive feeling of corruption?" As President of the North Ward Citizens United for Equal Rights Committee, Imperiale is calling for an outside investigation, labelling the new Police Director as a "carpet-bagger with no police status or police training."

Imperiale asks "why does a civilian who draws $65,000 a year, as an aide to the Police Director receive a new car and be given call letters of Unit 1A in the Police Department?" And so - Imperiale concludes, "We need an investigation - now."

APPARENTLY, Essex County Executive Tom D'Alessio is willing to lower qualifications by legislation to insure that he can appoint as County Administrator an individual who cannot meet the present qualifications of office. Lowering qualifications for the second highest job in the County is not good government. It is contrary to everything any businessman has ever been taught to believe.

Certainly, managing a unit that has a $500 million budget - and that's our Essex County government - is big business. To manage and operate such a facility efficiently requires adoption of business procedures. And one of the no-no's in business is never to downgrade qualifications in order to accommodate a potential appointee who is unable to meet certain standards of employment that took a long time and effort to evolve. D'Alessio's effort to qualify this employee requires new legislation which only the Essex County Board of Freeholders can adopt. Will the Board of Freeholders do the political thing - or the right thing? Only time will tell.

NUTLEY, Belleville, and Bloomfield taxpayers will be happy to know that the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission has saved them $1,100,000. This resulted from the installation by the agency of two "afterburners." Through the work of the Commission's able technical staff, work that normally takes 36 months was completed with 14 months. The reduced time that it took to put the unit in place resulted in mitigated credit of $580,000, and cancelled fines of another $520,000, totalling $1,100,000. This is probably the only notice you will ever receive that the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, which never blows its own horn, is constantly searching for ways and means of reducing the exorbitant expense of sludge disposal treated by the 30-partner and 8 customer sewage systems.

Donna Patchunka wed to Thomas Greco

Wedding vows were exchanged May 25 in Holy Family Church, Nutley, by Donna Patchunka and Thomas Greco. Rev. Pajalis performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Tara Sheraton Hotel, Parsippany.

The bride is the daughter of Donald Patchunka of Hackettstown and Joanne Patchunka of North Arlington, both formerly of Belleville. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greco of Nutley.

Escorted by her parents, the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a Queen Ann collar, illusion neckline and cathedral train. It was accented with lace and beads. A headpiece of silk flowers and pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried white and pink roses.

Susan Patchunka of Hackettstown, sister-in-law of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Gloria Smith of Cedar Grove and Diane Sajle of Bloomfield, sisters of the groom and Christy Greco of Nutley, niece of the groom. Jennifer Smith of Cedar Grove, another niece of the groom, was flower girl. They were attired in woodrose pink moire taffeta tea length two-piece dresses and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Dr. Steven Greco of Nutley was his brother's best man. Ushering were Michael Patchunka of Hackettstown, brother of the bride, and Ralph Greco Jr., brother of the groom and Ralph Greco, nephew of the groom, both of Nutley. Alex Greco of Nutley, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Ms. Patchunka chose a Wedgewood blue full length cocktail suit for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Greco, an alumna of Honolulu Community College, Honolulu, Hawaii, is a freelance designer with Louis Scott Associates, Rochelle Park.

Mr. Greco, a graduate of William Paterson College, Wayne, is self employed as Thomas Greco Publishing, Inc., Nutley.

The couple is living in Nutley after honeymooning in Florida.

VIDEO VISIONS

Experts Offer Back-to-School Camcorder Tips

News USA

(NU) - Whether your child is heading off to kindergarten or college, capturing the event with a camcorder will keep the memory alive through action and sound.

Have the camera handy, with the tape rolling, and by the end of the school year, you'll have a feature-length record of all the highlights — including that first lesson in shoe tying or the special night of the senior prom. You can even keep track of your children's ages right on the tape with an Age Insert function featured on some Sony Handycam® camcorders, which automatically updates the age (in years and months) of as many as three subjects.

Sony, the leading manufacturer of compact 8mm camcorders, offers these back-to-school taping tips:

— Be familiar with your camcorder and its features before the big event. Shoot some footage prior to the event. This way you know how the camcorder works so you won't miss any action. Today's camcorders offer convenient operation so even the novice can enjoy the fun of home video recording.

— When shooting, open with a wide-angle establishing shot and then progress to medium and close-up shots.

— Avoid excess camera movement and use the zoom lens sparingly so your audience isn't given a feeling of seasickness. Use slow, deliberate moves and plan your work before you begin shooting. For example, start with an establishing shot of the football stadium before zooming in on Junior's touchdown.

— Think about the sound you're capturing, as well as the picture, and include shots that explain the source of the noise, such as a crowd of cheering fans after their college wins the first game of the season. Some top-of-the-line units offer stereo recording, such as Sony's CCD-F501 and ultra-compact CCD-TR81 camcorders.

— Remember that the camcorder will pick up the sound of your voice, as well as the sound of the action of the shot, so you can narrate the scenes and make the end result more entertaining for your viewers.

— Keep in mind that you are telling a story, and aim for continuity. Review your last shot to see that it fits with the next. Camcorders with Sony's Edit Search™ feature can help you identify and correct previous footage, where someone may have inadvertently wandered into your recording. When you finally play back the tape, you'll have a professional looking video that preserves your most precious memories.

Ring Binder for the '90s Good for School, Safe for Fingers

(NU) - First there was the metal, three-ring binder, a two-and-a-half pounder developed about the turn of the century, with as much "snap" as a mousetrap.

Spiral notebooks lightened the student's load in the 1930s. But once a page was ripped out, it could not be replaced.

Report covers entered the school scene in the 1950s with their "tangs and eyelets" and "prongs" and "clamps." They looked nice, but the papers never quite laid flat when opened.

Finally, for back-to-school 1991, there's a student organizer that combines all the best features of its predecessors — without the disadvantages.

It's the Flexter, a lightweight but sturdy alternative to the traditional ring binder from an expert, Avery Dennison Corp.

"Our research showed that, for certain uses, consumers want the benefits of a ring binder — pages turn easily, lie flat and can be removed or added quickly — but they do not want the bulkiness, awkwardness or traditional appearance of metal ring binders," said Bob Amrich, Avery Dennison's new products manager. Made of water-resistant pressboard, the Flexter has a patented plastic ring mechanism that opens when the covers are bent back and snaps together — without hurting fingers — when the covers are closed.

With a half-inch capacity, the Flexter will hold about 120 sheets of paper, and the six colors — Electric Blue, Banana, Jet, Hot Pink, Ultraviolet and Lime Zinger — make it easy to color-code by subject matter.

Avery Dennison Corp. is a leading manufacturer of office products, adhesives and specialty chemicals with 19,000 employees in 250 plants and offices around the world.

Your Child Needs You When School Opens

School Principals Give Tips to Parents

By Samuel G. Sava

(NU) - It's that back-to-school time again, when every store in town has a special sale on clothes, lunch boxes, notebooks and other school-related items. For storekeepers, all this upbeat advertising usually pays off.

But what your child needs on the first day of school can't be bought in any store. Your child needs to be just as upbeat and just as excited about the opening day of school as any storekeeper. Even more so.

What does it take? Here are four simple suggestions from the principals of America's elementary and middle schools. If you follow them, the first day of school — and every day thereafter — will go more smoothly for you and your child:

Begin School Day Schedule

— Start now to ease out of your carefree summer schedule and into a school-year routine of regular meals (especially breakfast and lunch) and earlier bedtimes. Also, little by little, cut down the time your child can watch TV. (I know it's not easy. But please try.)

— Make sure you and your child know how to get to and from school. Walk on the same streets and pathways your child will use every day. Has anything changed from last year — new construction, for example, or a new fence? If your child takes a bus, visit the bus stop together. Talk about bus safety. Emphasize good behavior on the bus.

— Avoid the confusion of opening day. If your child is new to school, call the principal and ask for an informal tour for you and your child a few days or a week before school starts. Walk around the playground. Visit the cafeteria and library. Note the location of the bathrooms.

Read and Read

— Finally: Read. I hope you've been reading to your youngster throughout the summer. If not, do it now. It's never too late. Check a few books and magazines out of the library and read them aloud to your child. Ask your child to read to you, too: the comics in the newspaper, descriptions in mail-order catalogs, and anything else that's handy.

— Spend 15 to 30 minutes a day reading together. It could be your child's best preparation for a school year's worth of concentration and homework.

— And I'll add my own fifth suggestion: Don't change when school opens. If you show your child you truly care about school and education, your child will care, too.

(Dr. Samuel G. Sava is executive director of the National Association of Elementary School Principals.)

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUCK SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

These are not the best of times for the New York Mets and their fans. Even if you're a casual observer of the sports scene, you have to know the Mets are in a dreadful tailspin, having lost ten straight and 22 of the last 26 through last Sunday.

The Mets enter this week 13 1/2 games behind front running Pittsburgh. They have fallen into fourth place. (They trail the Cardinals by 6 1/2 games, too). The local radio stations and the newspapers have written off the '91 Mets and the debate now centers on whether manager Bud Harrelson will finish out the season.

As a Cardinal fan, watching the Mets' demise is pure delight. However, these aren't the Mets that opposing fans have grown to love to hate. These Mets barely resemble that obnoxious, arrogant group that drove Met haters crazy in the mid to late 80's. Things have gone so full circle that I'm rooting for the Mets to win games in an effort to help the Cardinals in the pennant race. That hasn't happened since 1983.

Give the Mets some credit, however. This organization has provided a level of excellence to its fans over the past seven seasons that very few teams in the majors can match. From 1984 to 1990, the worst record the team produced was 1989's 87-75 mark. If the Cleveland Indians put together an 87-75 season, chances are its manager would be voted the new mayor of Cleveland and a ticker tape parade would make its way through downtown Cleveland.

The worst finish the Mets have produced from 1984-1990 was second place. The Mets were second in '84, '85, '87, '89 and '90. They won the title in '86 and '88. Of course, the '86 club won the World Series, while the '88 team was upset in the NLCS by the Dodgers.

Fans of the team will tell you that the Mets should have won more than one World Series during that span. They will tell you the team can't win a close pennant race, as witnessed by the '85, '87 and '90 races. The fans will tell you that the Mets are "the best team, on paper". (That and a token will get you a ride on the LIRR).

On paper, the Mets had a good team. Despite some trades which looked good, "on paper", the Mets continued to excel. However, the chemistry of the club has eroded steadily since the '86 Series with the Red Sox.

The first mistake was letting Series MVP Ray Knight go the free agent route. Knight wouldn't have had great numbers in '87, but his presence in the clubhouse was quite noticeable.

The second, and perhaps worst, deal was the one that sent Kevin Mitchell to San Diego for Kevin McReynolds. Once again, on paper, the deal looked good. The Mets were getting a player who put up good numbers and plays a steady leftfield. However, his personality is one that is quite low keyed. In San Diego, he fits in well. In New York, McReynolds doesn't have the demeanor needed to give the team a lift.

The Len Dykstra trade to Philly which brought Juan Samuel to New York could be considered a fiasco. The trade which brought Frank Viola and sent, among others, Rick Aguilera to Minnesota, has proved to be costly. Aguilera is a major influence in the Twin clubhouse and is a standout relief pitcher. Viola has slumped in the second half of each season he has been a Met. His contract expires at the end of this season and it's doubtful he'll resign with the Mets in '92.

The most recent deal, the trade of Ron Darling to Montreal for Tim Lincecum has also proven questionable. Darling has since moved on to Oakland, where he has pitched well. The Mets felt that Sid Fernandez needed to be in the starting rotation and that Wally Whitehurst should be a starter in the rotation.

The result? Fernandez is 0-3 since coming off the D.L. and Whitehurst has yet to win a game since taking Darling's place in the rotation. When you think of the '86 Mets, you think of Wally Backman and Dykstra, Mitchell, Knight, Keith Hernandez, Gary Carter, Mookie Wilson, Dwight Gooden, Davey Johnson and Rafael Santana. You remember those ridiculous finger slips with first base coach Bill Robinson after a player got a hit. You remember Carter's high fives and constant grin that, if you're a Met's hater, you couldn't stand. You remember the "table setters", Dykstra and Backman. You remember that miracle rally in Game 6 of the '86 Series.

As much as I hate to admit it, those Mets were good. They backed up their antics with victories. Mets fans should appreciate those years. As a Cardinal fan, those games with the Mets from '84 through '89 were tremendous. The buildup would start a week before the series began. When the Cards won the division in '85 and '87, it wasn't so much the divisional title that meant something, it was the fact that the Cards beat the Mets.

Don't fret, Mets fans. The team should be back in the hunt in 1992. As for 1991, I'll believe the Mets are eliminated when they are mathematically out of it. Until then, something says that the Mets will snap out of the doldrums in '91 and be respectable.

NFL SEASON GETTING CLOSER

The Giants are expected to announce its starting quarterback this week. Barring a miracle, they should go with Phil Simas as the starter. This will probably draw the ire of the Giants fans, many of whom have had a love-hate relationship with the veteran QB. I was at the Giants-Buffalo game a few weeks ago and saw the tremendous ovation given Jeff Hostetler.

Part of that reception was a tribute to Hostetler leading the Giants to the Super Bowl crown. But the fans clearly enjoy Hostetler's style of play. I can see it now. Everytime Simas throws an incomplete pass, or is sacked, the fans will be screaming for Hostetler. It should be an interesting season in the Meadowlands.

I'll have my annual NFL predictions before the season opening weekend.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

John Engel wanted to know how the '84 New York Giants did in the NFL playoffs. The Giants beat the Los Angeles Rams in the first round of the playoffs in Anaheim. The team then lost to the eventual Super Bowl champions, the San Francisco 49ers, 21-10 at Candlestick Park in the next round.

FOR THIS WEEK

Since the NFL-AFL merger in 1970, the Giants have won two Super Bowl crowns. The Jets have been to the playoffs a few times, but have missed out on the big game. Since the merger, how many times have the Jets and Giants made the playoffs in the same year? There was a season when a Jets-Giants Super Bowl was a strong possibility. What year did that happen?

AND FINALLY...

This is my annual request. Every year, I receive some questions from fans about why there isn't more JV and freshman coverage. I am more than willing to print scores and results from those games, but I need your help. If anyone is interested in providing weekly, or bi-weekly coverage of Belleville JV and freshman events, please give me a call at the newspaper.

Second annual race set for October 20

Runners gearing for Sam Run

By Mike Lamberti

He taught at Belleville High School for over 20 years. Many students at that school will tell you that he left a definite mark on their adult lives. He was an outstanding crew coach, an inductee into the Belleville Hall of Fame. His family and his students were his life.

The man is Sam Giuffrida.

On May 21, 1989, his sudden passing stunned the township. However, the legacy that this man left behind is stronger than ever.

Last year, the first Sam Giuffrida 5 mile run was held at Belleville High School. Over 200 participants competed in the race, with the proceeds going to the scholarship fund at Belleville High.

Now, organizers are preparing for the second annual Sam Giuffrida Run. The race will be held on Sunday, October 20. It will begin, and end, at Belleville High School.

Lorraine Leming, one of the key organizers of the race, announced that the entry fee will be $10.00.

There will be a late fee of $12.00. All entrants will receive a tee shirt.

"We'll have the race applications coming out shortly," Leming said. "Jiffy Lube is the main sponsor of the race. They have done a great deal toward putting the race together and making it a success."

Leming also feels that there will be a larger turnout of runners than last year.

"Last year, we had excellent weather and the race was well received. This year, people know about the race and I'm expecting a much larger turnout."

The race begins in front of Belleville High School. It works its way down Greylock Parkway, and then proceeds through sections of Belleville. The race will then conclude back at the High School.

Like last year, there will be two races, a five mile run and a one mile "fun run".

"We're also hoping to have more festivities this year," Leming said. "Things are shaping up pretty well."

Football season begins with decathlon

By Mike Lamberti

Don't look now, but the 1991-92 school year is quickly approaching. With the arrival of school comes another sports season at Belleville High School. The football team will begin full practices today, with the annual decathlon.

The decathlon, which measures a players conditioning level, will commence this morning at 9 a.m. After the decathlon, head coach John Senesky and his staff will meet with the players in an orientation session. Next Monday, the players will begin practices in helmets and pads.

The Bucs season opening game is tentatively set for September 28, at Hackensack. However, that game could be moved to Friday evening, September 27 at Hackensack High.

As for the other variety sports at Belleville High, the cross country, soccer, gymnastics, volleyball and tennis teams will begin full scale practices in two weeks.

We'll have weekly coverage of all the variety teams this fall. As usual, if anyone is interested in providing some coverage of the JV teams, they should call Mike Lamberti at 759-3200.

The variety cheerleaders are getting ready for the '91-92 year, also. We'll have a feature on the captains of the squad in an upcoming issue. The cheerleaders have been practicing on their own throughout the summer.

Future Belleville High football stars have also begun their practice sessions. The Junior Bucs football teams have been practicing in the evening hours at Municipal Stadium.

There are three levels of Junior Bucs football, the "A", "B" and "C" teams. The "A" team is for players 12 and 13 years old, the B squad will be for players 10 and 11 and the C team will feature 8 and 9 year old players.

The junior players are in a very competitive Suburban League, which features teams from Bloomfield, Nutley, Clifton and the surrounding Essex and Union County areas. The regular season kicks off in late September and the Times will provide coverage of the teams.

Cancelliere field goal is the difference

Flashback! '82 Bucs stun Passaic, 3-2

By Mike Lamberti

This weeks Flashback takes us to the Fall of 1982. The Belleville football team is playing the Passaic Indians in an NJUIL matchup at Municipal Stadium. The buildup for this game was tremendous. The Bucs had won its season opener, stopping Passaic Valley, 27-0.

Passaic had also won its opener and the Indians were ranked number one in the state and in the top five, nationally. Passaic had two players on its roster that today are in the NFL. Belleville had one player on its team that is also playing in the NFL today.

A huge crowd arrived at Municipal Stadium on a beautiful Saturday afternoon to see the Indians talented running back, Craig "Ironhead" Heyward run through the Belleville defense, which was paced by David Grant.

Not many people gave Belleville a chance in this game.

You all know what happened.

This article appeared in the October 7, 1982 issue.

Displaying a simply awesome defense, and coming through with the key plays at the most opportune times, the Belleville Buccaneers pulled off a big 3-2 upset over the state's top ranked team, the Indians of Passaic, before a sellout crowd at Municipal Stadium.

While the victory was a sweet one, the Bucs have little time to enjoy it. The team is back at work preparing for the always tough Mustangs of Clifton this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Clifton Stadium.

"They were a very good football team," (head coach John) Senesky said of the Indians. "This was a war, in every sense of the word last Saturday. We made a lot of mistakes on offense and we had a few mental lapses on defense, but the heart of this team can never be measured. I said it last week, there is something in these kids that cannot be measured. I can't say enough about their effort."

Indeed, there was a lot of hard hitting on the part of both sides. The Bucs, although they lacked the Indians size and speed, hit hard and effectively, limiting the Indians marvelous runner, Craig Heyward to 94 yards rushing in 21 attempts. They also forced Heyward to fumble once and the Indians junior also accounted for two dropped passes.

"It they had caught a few of (quarterback Mike) Volpe's passes, it could have been different," Senesky said.

For Belleville, Mike Murphy, their junior fullback, led the way with 51 hard earned yards rushing. The Bucs offense did not do much more damage, thanks mainly to the Indians awesome defense, one which limited the Bucs to 87 yards in total offense. It was the defense, which accounted for Belleville's only score of the contest.

Late in the first quarter, Passaic was in punt formation on their 13 yard line. Dave Mozeika, who was simply incredible at linebacker, came through to block Heyward's punt. The ball rolled dead at the Passaic 21 yard line. Three plays could only manage three net yards and Robbie Cancelliere came in to attempt a 36 yard field goal.

Before he could get it off, the gun sounded, ending the first quarter. This was a break for the Bucs because they had the wind at their back for the field goal attempt. The plan worked well as Cancelliere split the uprights perfectly to give the Bucs a 3-0 lead.

The Indians came right back, and thanks to a 32 yard run by Tyrone Stowe, moved to the Buccaneer 21 yard line. However, Heyward fumbled on the next play and the Bucs were out of trouble when Dave Grant recovered.

Before halftime, the Indians had one more chance to score. From their 25, Passaic drove to the Buccaneer 17, aided in part by a Volpe pass to Bob Grier that accounted for 21 yards. From the 17, Heyward took a handoff from Volpe and scampered in for an apparent "touchdown."

"While the fans celebrated, the officials, who were quiet throughout the contest but made some effective calls, cited holding on Grier and Passaic was sent back to its 30 yard line. The Indians could get no closer than the Buc 17 and Belleville took over on downs.

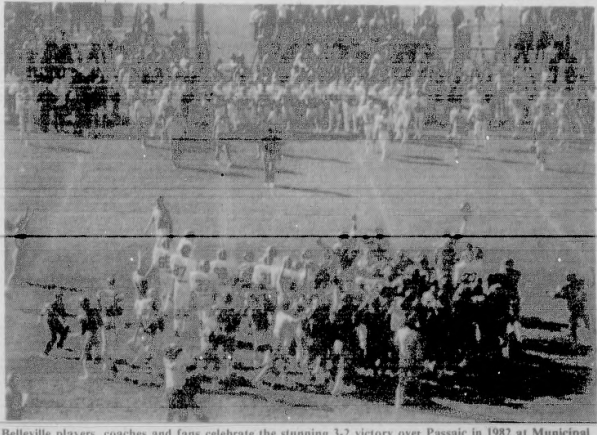

Passaic coach Tom Elvaser, who said before the game that "we'll run right at them and give them a taste of Iron (Heyward)," had his team kickoff for the second half, even though they were supposed to receive. On the Bucs first play from scrimmage, Cancelliere fumbled and Passaic recovered. The Indians drove to the Buccaneer 15 yard line, however Grier was cited for holding a second time, the ball was moved back to the 28 yard line and the Bucs had escaped another tight rope.

Perhaps the Indians final drive was their most effective. From their 21, Heyward scampered 24 yards to the Buc 46. After a five yard penalty sent them back to their 49, Heyward got five yards back to the 46. After two plays netted no yardage, Volpe attempted a desperation pass on fourth down. The ball was incomplete, however the Buccaneer bench had not started cheering yet. The reason for that was a little yellow flag sitting near midfield. The official called pass interference on Belleville, giving Passaic a first down on the Buc 32.

The Indians got it down to the ten for a first and goal, but the Buccaneer defense dug in. Having

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Soccer & touch football applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1991 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in recreation soccer. Belleville resident children who will be 7 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 14 on Dec. 31 are eligible. Nobody above 8th grade can play, and all returning players must re-apply.

Boys ages 8-10 can play touch football. Belleville boys will be 8 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 10 on Dec. 31 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

For both soccer and touch football, all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Jerome Street, with birth certificates. The registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 16, and the deadline for touch football is Aug. 30. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since football, soccer and touch football game and practice schedules conflict.

Preschool registration

The Belleville Department of Recreation & Cultural Affairs is presently looking into expanding its pre-school program for 4 year old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for preschool children.

If feasible, an afternoon session will be added from 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. five days a week with class limited to 23 students. The cost of the 32 week session is $100. Children already enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program. The mothers of the children accepted must

An Orchestro Publication participate by serving one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule.

The afternoon session will be added only if 20 or more people register. School will begin on Sept. 16 and will run through May 1992.

Children born between October 1986 - September 1987 who will enter kindergarten in September 1992 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come - first served basis only.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible - Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Soccer

coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching its seven-to-fourteen year old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games.

Games are played on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, beginning late September. All volunteer coaches will be required to attend a certification clinic by the NYSCA before the season begins.

Those interested in coaching may call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays before 4 p.m.

Football

officials needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is presently seeking adults to work as officials for its touch football program. The touch football league plays its games on Saturday mornings, 9 a.m. to noon, at the Little League Field beginning Sept. 21. Qualified applicants need only be familiar with football rules - no formal certification or training is required.

lost Ray Kimple on the drive because of a sprained ankle, and having lost linebacker Craig Mack earlier in the quarter because of an injury, the Bucs relied on two young players, Fred Scherer and Steve Kimple to fill the gap.

The two did an outstanding job, holding Heyward and Co. in check and assuring the victory. Passaic's only two points came when Cancelliere stepped out of the endzone intentionally with a punt, thus getting Belleville out of a hole and pretty much wrapping up the contest.

"Give a lot of credit to Anthony Sorrentino (the Bucs defensive coach)," said Senesky. "He made some good calls, his is not an easy job. Also, Joe D'Amola works with the extra team every day. On that field goal, everything had to be perfect. Robert Charles did the snapping, John Borrello held the holding and of course Cancelliere's kicking."

"Also, Mark Walsh's coverage on punts has been exceptional and Ron Charles' snapping on punts was excellent. We did the right things at the right time, but most of all, we had emotion. The kids wanted it very badly."

Thus the Bucs are now 2-0, having won a game that will go down in the books as one of the most exciting ever played at Municipal Stadium. The next two weeks will be no picnic with the likes of Clifton and Montclair on tap, but the players certainly gained a great deal of confidence in their ability.

The rest of the season should be very interesting.

EDITORS' NOTES: The '82 season turned out to be an outstanding year for Belleville football. The Bucs finished the regular season with an 8-4 record. They were the top seed in the Group IV, Section II playoffs and played host to Union at Municipal Stadium. Union won a 12-7 thriller and advanced to the sectional title game against Montclair.

By the way, Montclair gave Belleville its only regular season loss, beating the Bucs in week four, 22-21. The Bucs Dave Grant today plays on the defensive line for the Cincinnati Bengals. Craig Heyward is a running back with the New Orleans Saints and Tyrone Stowe is a linebacker with the Phoenix Cardinals.

The Belleville-Passaic rivalry was very intense in the late 70's and early 80's. From 1979-84, the Bucs and Indians played six great games, with Belleville winning four of them. The Bucs won in '79, '80, '82 and '84. Passaic won in '81, '78 and '83. In '83, 28-7, Passaic dominated the '85 contest and in '86, the two teams were back at it again, playing a marvelous ball game which Passaic won in the last seconds, 14-9. The Bucs won in '87 and Passaic prevailed in '88. The two teams have not met since that '88 contest.

Needless to say, there was certainly a lot of talent on the field nine years ago. For those fans who were at that game, they saw an epic contest. It gets better and better as the years progress.

- "antipyretic": lower fever; "antitussive": suppress coughing; especially dry cough; "bronchodilators" encourage easier breathing by relaxing muscles in the air passages; "buffered" medications have ingredients which have been added in order to better facilitate its absorption by the stomach; as well as minimize stomach irritation; "decongestants" shrink nasal blood vessels to relieve sinus pressure and make breathing easier; "demulcents" soothe the throat and protect it from irritation; "expectorants" loosen phlegm so that it can be expelled with a cough.

If you have any questions on medications, over-the-counter or prescription, talk to our pharmacist at ROSSMORSE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries and many other items are stocked. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

All the brochures are written in understandable language. The kit's centerpiece brochure is "The NYSE: The Capital Market," a 52-page booklet illustrated with color photographs. The kit also includes: "Understanding Stocks and Bonds," "Getting Help When You Invest,"

"Margin Trading Guide," "Understanding Financial Statements," and a glossary of security industry terms.

The Investors Information Kit is available to the public through the mail for $12.00, including shipping costs. Only "The NYSE: The Capital Market" can be purchased separately for $8.00. Bulk orders are also available at special rates.

For information about ordering the kit, write: New York Stock Exchange, Educational Services, Box C, 11 Wall Street, New York, NY 10005.

The Home Front

Did You Know???

It's easy to cover an ottoman in casual country style. Just toss a hemmed fabric rectangle over it, gather the corners neatly, and sew on ties or decorative bows.

Reserve natural-bristle paintbrushes for oil- or alkyd-base paints, which contain no water. If used with water-base paints or stains, these bristles absorb moisture and pigment; they become limp and difficult to clean.

Can you mix and match furniture of different styles and periods? Yes, if you keep to simple shapes. An antique pine table will look smart with modern architectural chairs with crisp, pared-down design.

Plant flowering kale about a month before the first fall frost is expected. The ornamental plants need cold weather to change to their wonderful colors and may last all winter if it stays above 20 degrees.

Planning to move? We'll help you find the special home you'd like to move into. Come talk to us at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley. Call 235-9900.

Propane Gas Safety Begins At Home

More than 60 million Americans depend on propane gas for everything from heating their homes and hot water to cooking their meals. As with every energy source, safety begins at home.

...because safety begins at home.

In its continuing effort to educate consumers and their families about this clean-burning fuel, the National Propane Gas Association (NPGA) is sponsoring the second annual NATIONAL PROPANE SAFETY WEEK, AUGUST 26-30, 1991. This industry-wide program is designed to increase awareness on propane gas and its versatile uses.

Through NPGA's 4,000 members, this week-long educational program will offer homeowners safety tips, maintenance and storage suggestions, plus facts about propane gas.

More than five years ago, NPGA created the Gas Appliance System Check or GAS Check®. This on-site safety inspection of a home propane gas system is the foundation of the industry's proven safety record. Trained technicians inspect everything from the backyard tank to the appliance controls inside your home. The technician will show homeowners how to operate appliances, the location of shut-off valves and familiarize them with the odor of propane. Homeowners should schedule a GAS Check® once a year and NPGA recommends purchasing propane gas from a GAS Check® dealer.

Join in NATIONAL PROPANE SAFETY WEEK activities. Contact your local propane gas dealer for more information... BECAUSE SAFETY BEGINS AT HOME.

PRAYER OF APPLICATION TO THE HOLY SPIRIT Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the Divine gift to forgive and to forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory.
Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. The person must say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. After 3 days the favor request will be granted even if it may seem difficult. This prayer must be spoken immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials should appear at the bottom.
