Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

The life of a security officer in a large store is often one of confrontation, and Sandy Hahn, married and the mother of a daughter, has had her share of wrestling suspected shoplifters to the ground. On the morning of Sept. 12, she was facing a new struggle, bringing an unconscious man back to life on the floor of the K-Mart on Main Street. He lay on his back, a huge, barrel chested man of 67, showing no pulse or breath. With the aid of a co-worker who provided mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, the five-foot-nine Mrs. Hahn pumped the man's chest for seven long minutes until his eyes opened again, and he began to breathe. Minutes later, the Fire Department ambulance had him on his way to Clara Maass Medical Center, where, at last report, the resident of Elizabeth remains on the critical list, but alive. ●●●●● Mrs. Hahn credits her knowledge of resuscitation to advice from Belleville police officers, viewings of televised cardio-pulmonary resuscitation demonstrations, and avid watching of the television series, Rescue 911. "It showed me a lot of things to look for, and things to do when a person revived. I always watch that show." She also did a lot of praying while working on the victim, who apparently had sustained a heart attack. "I've never felt so good about anything as saving that life," Mrs. Hahn said. Then, back to duty as security chief. ●●●●●

Michael Dowd is Junior Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 364, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by the Belleville Elks, B.P.O.E. Lodge 123 and earlier this month he pedaled 100 miles on his bicycle over the mountains around Port Jervis to raise $453 for the Multiple Sclerosis Fund. Last year, he biked the same distance to raise $300 for the fund. Michael, 20, is visually impaired and has severe hearing problems. He fell twice from the bike during his two days on the road, each time pulling himself back on the seat, and going on. He does odd jobs for the Reformed Presbyterian Church, helps his neighbors and recently helped bring an injured child to a hospital, comforting him and his mother as he did so. According to Scoutmaster Larry Dempsey, "If I were to be blessed with a second son, I'd want it to be Michael." Michael, a graduate of Belleville High School is looking for a job opportunity that might give his talents their due. Scoutmaster Dempsey can be contacted at (201) 759-7797. ●●●●● Dempsey makes his living as a driving instructor for New Jersey Transit. His Scout Troop is for youngsters with physical or mental challenges, and he is always interested in new recruits. The Troop visits the Boy Scout camp at Crossett Lake in the Adirondacks each summer, and last year the boys climbed nearby Buck Mountain. "This was a first," Dempsey said. "Since then, the other boys have started climbing the mountain, too."

It was a matter of cupcakes that got Dempsey into Scouting. Some 20 years ago, as a driver working out of the Big Tree garage, he was assigned to taking disabled children to classrooms. He got the idea of supplying them with cupcakes, baked by his wife, Teddy, and the rest of the drivers and workers at the garage joined in. At Christmas, they supplied the youngsters with toy wagons and other gifts. The Elks then asked Dempsey if he would take over the Scout Troop, and he did. Daughter Tracey helps out, and Assistant Scoutmasters Leo Daudlin and Joe Hoffman provide major support. Wife Teddy, incidentally, is a Special Education teacher at School 4, Son Steve has his doctorate in education and is working for his degree in Recreational Administration at the University of Georgia. ●●●●● Possibly because she is married to a veteran bus driver, Teddy Dempsey had an aversion to flying, and things weren't helped when she made her first air trip to Nashville, Tennessee, recently. When the plane landed, the loudspeaker voice announced, "This was the first solo trip for our pilot, Miss Blank. And it was also the first trip for our co-pilot, Miss Zilch." That was Miss enough for Teddy, who is now firmly earthbound. ●●●●● What is red, white and blue, and green on top? It is a Belleville fire hydrant, as painted under the direction of former Public Works Superintendent Barney O'Connor. Four hydrants on Washington Avenue were so painted by his orders, and the Fire Department reportedly is unhappy with the idea, arguing that the idea of painting the hydrants is to give them visibility, and that bright yellow would have been more appropriate. O'Connor says the hydrants are eminently visible, and that's the way they'll stay. The painter is an 18-year-old high school student doing 60 hours of community service for some infraction of the rules. "He does a good job," O'Connor said. He administers the community service program in town. "I originally planned to have him work on cleaning up the old Reformed Church cemetery, but Dr. Frank Noonan has been doing such a good job there I decided to use the young man to paint the hydrants." So, in a way, it is all the fault of Doc Noonan that the Fire Department is annoyed at Barney.

Three-inch gap perils completion of Belleville Public Safety Building

A three-inch deviation in the steel beams of the Belleville Public Safety Building has made the projected December completion date unattainable, according to town officials and contractors.

The three-inch gap was discovered at least five months ago, and efforts to correct the problem have slowed down construction of the job, whose cost is now estimated at over $6.5 million.

Architect Elliot Goldstein of Millburn was optimistic that the problem had been solved, but General Contractor David O'Malley of Municipal Associates, Inc. of Clifton, was less positive.

"If the contractor worked for me," O'Malley said, "I'd be having a big problem."

O'Malley said that attempts had been made to put the blame for the delay on his firm. "We had no control of the matter," he said.

Goldstein said that the error had occurred in the fabrication of the steel beams, but the fault could not be attributed to any single contractor. "It was a combination of factors," Goldstein said.

The error came to light when work began on the western wall of the building, facing the Municipal Building. Steel beams could not be put in place because of the three-inch deviation, and this prevented the brickwork from being done.

O'Malley said that the overall responsibility for coordinating the work was that of V.C.I. of Westwood, whose on site manager is Peter Tillou. Mr. Tillou did not respond to telephone inquiries from The Belleville Times.

Town officials indicated that the basic problem lay in having four separate contractors hired for the job, instead of a single prime contractor.

Steel work, electrical work, plumbing and masonry are separate contracts.

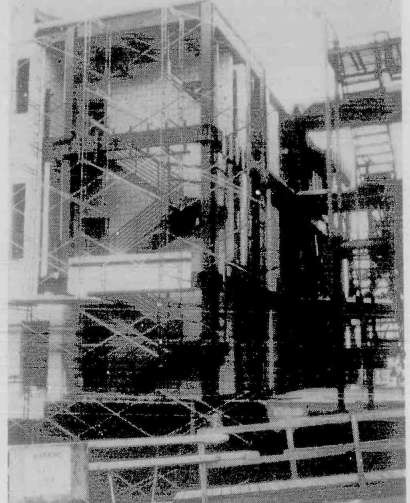

The agreements were reached in April, 1990, a few months before the change of government went into effect.

None of the officials responsible for signing the contracts are in the present administration.

The only point on which contractors and town officials agreed is that the job will not be completed by December.

No one could predict the additional cost of construction caused by the error, and by the resulting delays. Correcting the deviation, O'Malley said, should cost less than $100,000. What the added cost of delays would mean, he could not estimate.

In the meantime, O'Malley said he is awaiting orders from the township to complete the project, while interior work is done in the incomplete building.

CLOSING THE GAP - The architect of the Public Safety Building said he expected work to resume on the project, with the correction of a three-inch deviation in the steel beams, discovered last Spring. The December deadline for completion of the project, now at $6.5 million, is not likely to be met.

Valley National takes over Nutley Savings

By Alfred Cook

Sources within the Savings and Loan industry said Monday that the Nutley Savings and Loan Bank has been absorbed by the Valley National Bank.

In practical terms that means the Passaic Bank purchases the deposits of the Nutley S&L, though it is also said, the Valley Bank will open a branch office in the Franklin Avenue headquarters of the local firm.

"I have no knowledge of any such thing," said Michael K. Shaughnessy, vice president of the Nutley S&L, who would not deny the takeover.

"I can't confirm anything," said

Chris Cooney, an official with the Department of Banking.

Industry sources said on September 17 four banks bid on the Nutley Thrift's assets; Valley National with a branch office at River Road and Park Avenue, the First Fidelity Bank, the World Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, Calif. and

D'Agostino refutes "ambition" charge

School Trustee Dr. Anthony D'Agostino issued a sworn affidavit on July 29, stating flatly that he had no interest in becoming Belleville Superintendent of Schools.

The statement was not made public at the time when it was given to the Board of Education. Dr. D'Agostino made it public on Tuesday.

The statement, in full, states: "I, Anthony Carmen D'Agostino, 19 Dorothea Terrace, Belleville, New Jersey, hereby certify under oath that I am not interested nor intend to make application for the position: Superintendent of Schools, Belleville School District."

It is notarized by Ronald DePiro, Notary Public, of Nutley.

Dr. D'Agostino, who is a 34-year veteran of the Newark public school system and is Principal of a Newark high school, said he expects to retire from the school system in another year, and has no desire to remain in the field.

He reportedly issued the statement originally because Trustee Gabe Nazzola said it was his opinion that Dr. D'Agostino wished to succeed Michael Nardiglio as Superintendent of Schools.

A week ago, an out-of-town newspaper printed this allegation. "I am quite angry at this allegation," Dr. D'Agostino said. "Particularly since I have issued a sworn statement denying any such ambition or intention."

Dr. D'Agostino has indicated he plans to run for re-election to the Board of Education.

"The writer never talked to me before printing the story," Dr. D'Agostino said.

PROTECTING THE CHILDREN - Some 175 children received fingerprint and photo identifications at the Belleville Recreation Building on Saturday, under the sponsorship of Councilman Mario Drodz and the Essex County Sheriff's office. an unidentified institution.
Two financial reporting firms earlier called attention to the precarious revenue situation of the S&L headed by Mayor John V. Kelly, who is also an Assemblyman for Essex County.
In May of this year, Paul Bauer, president of the Florida-based Bauer Reports reporting firm, said in May the OTS is in charge of things at the Nutley firm and in July Verbanc, headquartered in Wakefield, MA, indicated via its color classification system indicated the institution equity was less than 3 percent of its assets or its net loss is such that it would be insolvent in less than a year if the current rate of loss continues.

The Nutley Sun first exposed the problems of the Bank in early 1988 and did a series of follow up articles generally after quarter reports could be obtained.
Kelly was seldom available when called to confirm information obtained by the Sun.

Then in October of 1989, just prior to the Assembly election, Kelly took out a full page ad in the Newark Star Ledger condemning Publisher Frank Orechio for the stories, but never suggesting the Orechio papers were wrong as the facts presented.

As of the final quarter of 1991, the Nutley firm listed $7,571,000 in past due and problem loans, but more recently it has been said that figure jumped to around $10,000,000.

Also at the end of the final quarter, the bank showed a negative $3,340,000 annualized net income on reported assets totalling $198,263,000, an "amount" that represents purely customer capital since the bank itself had no equity left.

Also, indicative of the bank's low status was a negative 4.89 percent Tangible Capital Ratio against a required 1.5 percent and risk-based capital ratio of negative 8.73 as opposed to the required 7.2 percent.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

The average verbal scores on the 1991 Scholastic Aptitude Test sank to an all-time low and math scores declined for the first time in 11 years. These sad commentaries into spasms of finger pointing at declining standards in American education. But, even though 84 percent of all U.S. four-year colleges use the SAT for admissions purposes (and 18 students took the test last year), some top educators argue that SAT scores are not a very good measure of school quality. The test is designed to assess students' reasoning skills, and, unlike achievement tests, it is not directly linked to what is taught in school. "It's a misconception reinforced by the media that the SAT is a report card on the schools," says Ernest Boyer, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Boyer insists non-academic factors such as poverty strongly influence scores.

The nation's emergency health-care facilities, expected to serve 90 million people this year, are facing scathing reviews. A new study has found a 3 1/2-hour average waiting time for emergency beds in 239 hospitals across the country. And two studies in the Journal of the American Medical Association show long waiting periods for emergency care. At Los Angeles's Harbor-UCLA Medical Center, for example, 186 patients — nearly half of whom needed prompt attention — left without receiving treatment, mostly due to an average waiting time of 6.4 hours. Part of the problem is the flood of uninsured patients using emergency rooms for primary medical care. There are no easy solutions, but researchers say improved health insurance and more trained nurses would help.

The news that U.S. and British researchers have genetically engineered sheep and goats to secrete drugs in their milk could give the biotech industry a streamlined means for producing many pharmaceuticals. The livestock are called transgenics because their cells contain foreign genes, which direct the production of proteins with medicinal purposes. Goats developed at Tufts University and Genzyme Corp. in Cambridge, Mass., for example, bear the gene for TPA, or tissue plasminogen activator, a drug used to dissolve blood clots in heart-attack patients. Creating the livestock wasn't easy: Genes were inserted with a needle into fertilized eggs, which were then returned to the female uterus. Only a small fraction of offspring grew up bearing the foreign genes. Why bother? Dozens of drugs are now made in vats filled with genetically engineered bacteria, which are much easier to manipulate genetically than mammals. But milk can contain 100 to 1,000 times the drug concentration of a lab culture. Before livestock start churning out drugs commercially, however, somebody must invent ways to extract the drugs from milk — a trifling problem compared with the decade's work on developing transgenic animals.

Lawmakers were debating monetary aid to the Soviet Union even during Congress's August recess — and that worries countries in Eastern Europe, Asia and Africa. Last year's budget agreement put a ceiling on international aid. Budget reallocations could not cover the $3 billion in aid to the Soviets that is already suggested as the U.S. share. Unless it came from the defense budget, the source House Democrats propose, there would be less money for other countries. Poland, Nicaragua and Panama did get some help from the defense budget last year. But the huge federal budget deficit all but guarantees that new calls for help — like the United Nations' plea for debt relief and a $9 billion increase in development aid to Africa — will fall on increasingly deaf American ears.

Car dealers have sold more used cars than new autos for the first time since records were first kept in 1950. Many used cars are from rental fleets, which bought 2 million new cars this year — up from 1.5 million last year.

Aides to President George Bush say that he has newfound respect for Yeltsin's "bravery" but is disturbed by what he sees as the Russian's "undemocratic" instincts and rash behavior, especially when compared with the subtle tact and political skills of Gorbachev, whose friendship the U.S. president still values.

Mini-Health Fair

Thomas J. Longo, Health Officer and Director of the Department of Health and Human Services, announces that the Belleville Health Department will conduct its annual Mini-Health Fair on Oct. 9 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The Fair will be held at the Health and Human Services Building, 383 Washington Ave.

The programs available will include free flu shots, diabetic screening, blood pressure screening, podiatry screening (foot care), oral cancer screening.

For the benefit of Silver Lake and Soho residents, a special flu clinic will be held at the All Purpose Room at School No. 4, Magnolia St. on Oct. 9 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Longo strongly recommends seniors citizens, particularly those over 65 years, to take advantage of the flu vaccine because excess mortality in influenza outbreaks occur in this age group. Flu vaccine is also recommended for adults who have such chronic conditions as: 1) heart disease, 2) chronic broncho-pulmonary diseases, such as chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis disease, and 4) diabetes mellitus and other chronic metabolic disorders.

Vaccine will not be administered to pregnant women, those with a fever or acute illness, persons under thirty (30), those who received another vaccine within the past 14 days or anyone with an allergy to eggs, chicken or chicken feathers. Residents are advised to consult a physician regarding the vaccine.

Vaccination may also be considered for persons who provide essential community services and may be at increased risk of exposure.

The Mini-Fair is open to Belleville residents only.

OUR OPINION

Stamp of approval

When Bud Abbott and Lou Costello were working their way through the clubs and theaters of North Jersey and points west, it is doubtful they thought in terms of becoming national monuments. But sure enough, the images of Abbott and Costello are now enshrined on United States postage stamps.

Their pictures were created by a famed caricaturist, Harry Herschfield, so they do not have the stone-like rigidity of the portraits of our Presidents and discoverers, but it is a fine likeness for each of these old one-nighters and movie stars.

Lou Costello came out of Paterson and he started his career as a prize fighter. It was a brief career, but it brought him to the attention of Abe Greene, who was both the managing editor of the old Paterson News and New Jersey's boxing commissioner.

Greene steered Costello to show business. It was not an easy life in the 1930s and we do not know how many meals Lou Costello missed during those days. When he finally teamed up with Bud Abbott, considered to be one of the greatest straight men in the business, the perfect foil for Costello's lunacies, he found his path to star billing.

Throughout his life, Lou Costello was strictly New Jersey. He stuck with his old friends, and on occasion he was stuck with them. He was a soft touch for anyone who needed a favor, or some money. The millions that he made in Hollywood, when his films were the top box office grossers in history, went quickly, and Internal Revenue finally came knocking at the front door of Lou's Hollywood estate, taking the door and practically everything else with it.

This followed years of USO tours and benefits given without stint.

His health was the next blow, and Costello's career came to an untimely end.

Bud Abbott lived a few years longer than his partner, crippled both physically and financially.

Television made their faces and their antics fresh and funny to new generations Americans, and they probably would have made more money from television reruns than from their original films, if they had owned the television rights to their efforts.

There is still something wonderful and endearing about Abbott and Costello. Lou was the eternal child, trying desperately to cope with a confusing, and often threatening, world. It is something to which we can all relate.

It is odd, now, that the United States government would take to its heart two men whom it pursued into the bankruptcy courts. But it's nice to know that Lou and Bud have made it to postage immortality — unexpected, but well deserved.

A loudmouth's rights

Anyone who has to sit through long sessions of the Township Council or the Board of Education may be tempted from time to time to wish that long winded exchanges between officials and citizens could be shortened — to about 10 seconds.

But the price of democracy is, on occasion, boring and repetitive speeches. And sometimes the price is vituperative speech — even name calling and shouting.

There is such a thing as filibustering — speaking for no better purpose than to delay and stop governmental action. And most governing bodies can and do prevent filibustering.

There is also the right of the governing body to maintain order at a meeting so that the democratic process may function unhindered.

It is quite possible that a private citizen may disrupt a public meeting without justification, and experience at municipal meetings shows that this does happen, and when it happens the governing body is obliged to defend the public interest by calling in law enforcement, if nothing else works.

Glen Ridge Municipal Court Judge Joseph T. Connolly apparently decided this was the case when he found former Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni was guilty of disorderly conduct when he refused to yield the podium at the demand of Mayor Marina Perna, and that he also resisted arrest by Belleville Police Lieutenant Christopher Kondreck.

Judge Connolly fined Frantantoni $350 on each count and added $90 for court costs, for a total fine of $790.

Judge Connolly obviously felt that disruption of a public meeting required serious penalties. A driver convicted of drunken driving and a man convicted of indecent exposure were each fined $250 in the same court.

Mr. Frantantoni has his friends as well as his detractors, but it must be noted that during his three years as Commissioner of Parks, no wrongdoing was ever linked to him, and he devoted himself to the job with some distinction.

This is not to say that Belleville is not better served by the administration now in office than by previous administrations.

If Mr. Frantantoni, as a private citizen, allowed himself to be carried away by his emotions, it is not the same as if he had violated procedures as a public official. It is regrettable that his actions, infuriating as they may have been, should result in a criminal conviction, because the Belleville Times does not see Vincent Frantantoni as a criminal.

It would have been better if he simply had been removed from the podium, in order to let the meeting continue, and the matter left at that, because abuse of free speech may be misguided, and wrongheaded, but it is not criminal.

YOUR OPINION

Nazziola supported

To the editor:

The results of the most recent school board election has been haunting the board of education in more ways than one. For instance...if you had an occasion this summer to attend any one of the board of ed's meetings, you would certainly detect an air of disension, among some of the board members, against one board member, namely Gabe Nazziola, who has been the target of ridicule, harassment and insults for the past five consecutive meetings. Why? That's a good question, and I'll try to answer it.

This all began when Gabe decided to call for an investigation of the last board of education election. Gabe became suspicious because of the results of the amount of absentee ballot votes, which totaled approximately 105. The amount is not questionable, but what Gabe seemed to be concerned about was that Mrs. Pischeria practically received about 100% of those votes, which led to warranted looking into. Receiving about 100% of the absentee ballot votes has never been done in the history of the BOE elections in the town of Belleville. So, Gabe started to compare signatures on the absentee ballots and wasn't completely satisfied that it was kosher, after he spent many, many hours and days on this. As a friend of Gabe, naturally he conferred with me on this matter and even though I agreed that it was rather unusual that Mrs. Pischeria received almost 100% of the absentee votes, despite that I said I forgot about it. If anyone should have been concerned, it should have been Ralph Mazzuca, who lost by 39 votes or so. But Gabe, being the kind of man he is wasn't satisfied to let this just go by. That's the kind of person he is. I became involved when Gabe asked me to go out to get signatures of the Belleville voters, at least 10 signatures, who agreed with him. At that point I was still hoping he would abandon the idea. As I went out to get the 10 signatures, people were very anxious to sign the petition, agreeing with Gabe, they also believed he was right in calling for this investigation. When I was getting these signatures from 10 people, who signed very enthusiastically, there were other people who showed interest in signing the petition, but I only had one form for 10 names. When I realized this enthusiasm among the other people, I immediately contacted Gabe for more applications and could have easily got 100 names, but he talked me out of it, reminding me that the law requires just 10 signatures.

Well, for a while I got busy in my business and more or less forgot about the matter and I placed it on the back burner. Then, one night I went to the BOE meeting and I couldn't believe my eyes and ears as to what they were doing to Gabe Nazziola, trying to pressure him and harassing him to drop that investigation. At the next meeting it continued on (I didn't attend that meeting because I didn't want to witness an encore of what took place the previous meeting). While they were pressuring him, they tried to intimidate him by threatening to have his daughter's vouchers investigated. Gabe did not flinch. During the meeting the board members did not say a word about this uncalled for harassment. And that very same night

Frank Montagna invited Gabe outside. It looked so bad that they had to phone the police. And none of the board members batted an eye. After the private meeting adjourned that night, Gabe approached his car in the parking lot and found that it was vandalized, the whole body of the car was scratched in the amount of approximately $2,000 damage.

Our newly elected BOE president, Patricia Pisano, never once called for order, which is her job, to see that meetings are properly conducted. My feelings have changed about that investigation. Why are these men, who profess to be innocent of any wrong doing of the absentee ballots, so afraid? If they have nothing to fear, they should welcome an investigation. I blame the president of the BOE, Patricia Pisano, because these very same harassers were kicked out of the Town Hall meeting by our mayor, Perna, who had the gumption to stand up to these people and run the meeting the way it should be run, which is her duty and I congratulate her.

In closing, I want to say to Gabe, I'm out every day with the public and they are with you 100 percent on this. They don't like to read about our board members sitting there, allowing this harassment to take place and saying absolutely nothing. As a footnote, my father always taught me since childhood, "If you have nothing to hide, you have no need to be fearful of an investigation." Keep it up Gabe — there are people who are anxious to support you on this investigation and there will be letters to the editor coming in from the non-political-voters of Belleville.

GOP invitation

To the editor:

As chairman of the Belleville Republican County Committee, I'd like to take this opportunity to invite the people of Belleville to our 1991 campaign kickoff.

Our kickoff will be held on Friday evening, Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the Chandelier Restaurant, Franklin Ave., Belleville. All Belleville residents are welcome, and refreshments will be served.

As we head toward election day, we will try to give you the opportunity to meet our Republican candidates. All qualified, educated, and capable people, they differ from their Democrat opponents in their steadfast opposition to the Florio taxes. Friday evening, you will have the chance to listen to their views and ask any questions you may have.

On behalf of State Senate candidate John Scott, Assemblyman John Kelly and his running mate Paul DiGaetano, Freeholder candidate Phil Nufrio, and the next Sheriff of Essex County, Art Clay, we look forward to seeing you on the 27th.

Richard P. Yanuzzi
Chairman

Belleville Republican County Committee

• A SAD thing is happening in Nutley, New Jersey, this week. Nutley's version of the Rock of Gibraltar will come tumbling down. The Office of Thrift Supervision, a federal agency that takes over failed and failing savings and loan associations last week accepted four bids for the Nutley Savings & Loan which is operating with a ten million dollar negative net worth.

The best offer was submitted by the Valley National Bank, one of the strongest financial institutions in America. Valley National is buying the deposits of the Nutley Savings & Loan. It is expected that Monday morning the Nutley Savings & Loan office will open as a branch of the Valley National Bank.

But, nobody will have to turn a bingie benefit for Nutley Savings & Loan president, John Kelly. With an approximate income of $200,000 a year (for a part time job), it could be assumed he squirreled away a big piece of the loot. Moreover, the talk in financial circles indicates that Kelly has already arranged for his retirement at $100,000 a year.

What makes the end of Nutley Savings & Loan doubly sad is the fact that the institution was a thriving thrift when it limited its business to savings and loans. In 1982, the laws were changed to permit Savings and Loan associations to operate businesses and invest in businesses. Considering that savings and loan officers are not businessmen in the commercial sense, it isn't surprising that many of them flopped, including the Nutley Savings & Loan. Bad management? A failing and failed savings and loan officer can always blame "the economy." But then the question arises, why are there many successful savings and loans during the same time frame?

I extend a hearty welcome to Valley National Bank. The institution is no stranger to Nutley. It has maintained a branch at River Road and Park Avenue for many years. Only recently, Valley acquired an additional 13 branches. So it's up, up and away for Valley National; and sadly, Nutley Savings &

Loan is at the bottom of a six foot pit.

• The scheduled September dinner meeting of the League of Women Voters of the Nutley area will take place on Thursday, September 26 at the Nutley Museum, 65 Church Street, at the unbeatable price of $10 per head. Greetings are exchanged at 6:00 p.m. Dinner will be served at 6:30, and speakers will be served up during the hour of 7:00. It isn't too late to make reservations by calling Ms. Anne Lynn Eisenfelder at 667-2013. On the menu for the evening is the well-known philanthropist, Nutley's Bernard Rabinowitz, whose subject is on the minds of every American — HEALTH CARE. If Ann Lynn's phone is busy, interested persons may call Peggy Farabaugh at 667-3784.

• I WAS invited, but a delay in Atlantic City prevented me from attending an intimate birthday party for the popular, former Lincoln School principal, Agnes Kelly. From all accounts, the party went well, but it is upsetting to me that circumstances prevented my attendance. I harbor great affection and respect for Agnes Kelly.

• TOMORROW night, Friday, September 27, the Committee for the reelection of Senator Joe Bubba whose new 34th Legislative District includes Bloomfield, is sponsoring a cocktail party at $15 a head at the North Jersey Country Club in Wayne. Bubba is a conservative Republican. The senate race in that district includes a Democrat candidate, and Wayne Mayor, Newt Miller, a Republican running as an Independent. So — Bubba has his hands full. He's going to need dollars to get his message across. The Bubba campaign phone number is 256-4020 for Republicans interested in supporting the reelection bid of Senator Bubba.

• ESSEX County Democrat Chairman Ray Durkin may not be very visible — these days, but he is very active corraling his troops in preparation for a victory in November. This past Tuesday, he assembled party leaders and delivered his customary inspiring talk, getting the adrenalin flowing in the bodies of all those within hearing distance. It was also an opportunity for Durkin to introduce the Democrat slate to the leaders to whom much is owed. Elected Democrat County officials owe their everything to the resourcefulness of Durkin's leadership. Politics is an art — and Durkin has mastered the art well. Beginning with his humble surroundings as a Newark fireman, he's come a long way, baby — and he deserves all the success he has experienced. Through his 12 year leadership, Durkin has manifested one very special quality — loyalty. He has an obsessive loyalty to his troops. That is quite a refreshing discovery in politics. And with Ray Durkin, if you look for gratitude — you don't have to buy a dog.

• AMELIA MEOLA, Second Vice President of the Woman's Club of Nutley recently addressed a letter to Her Highness, Queen Elizabeth II of England. With the letter was a poem memorializing the Queen's visit to America. The correspondence was acknowledged for the Queen in a letter dated August 21st by the Queen's Lady-in-Waiting. The letter to Amelia Meola reads,

Balmoral Castle
21st August, 1991

Dear Mrs. Meola

I am commanded by The Queen to thank you for your letter and for sending a copy of your poem, and I am to tell you that Her Majesty was touched by the sentiments you express.

The Queen was interested to hear of the Woman's Club of Nutley and to learn that it will be celebrating its eightieth anniversary in March next year. Her Majesty appreciated your kind thought in writing and hopes that the Club members will enjoy the celebrations.

Yours Sincerely,

Lady-in-Waiting

Florio acknowledges Cilque

Joan Chavis, whose professional name is Cilque Brown, has received a letter from Governor Jim Florio, praising her video tape production, "I Am Somebody" which deals with the black experience for young people. The tape is intended for distribution in the schools.

Miss Chavis, a substitute teacher, received this statement from Governor Florio on Aug. 15.

"The history of African Americans is distinguished with invention, creativity, leadership and inspiring courage. This story is not only part of our past but also part of our present and future. We can and should use the lessons of history to help us overcome the bigotry and racism that still exists.

"I was greatly encouraged by your video tape program, and I applaud your commitment to cultural understanding. As Dr. Martin Luther King once said, 'we must learn to live together as brother and sister, or perish as fools.'

"Thank you again for sharing the special project with me. Best of luck in all your future endeavors."

Letters to the Editor

On the trial

To the editor:

It has always been my belief, in the United States of America, in a Court of Law, a person is convicted only when found guilty "beyond a reasonable doubt." After attending the trial of former Belleville Township Commissioner Vincent Frantantoni, this belief requires some "reassessing". The Judge, reading from the N.J. State statutes, identified the complaint as "attending a public meeting for the purpose and intent to disrupt (the meeting).

The complaint, that Mr. Frantantoni attended the April 9, 1991 meeting with the intent to disrupt this meeting, was signed by Belleville's Mayor, Mrs. Marina "your time is up" Perna. At the conclusion of the almost 4 hour "trial" the presiding Judge, following the format of Judge Wagner of T.V. fame, retired to his chambers. Returning after a brief period he reviewed "the evidence." He then commented: "after listening to the tape of the meeting, that the public in attendance was (also) guilty (of the disruption)". Holding his head with both hands, pressing his temples, expressed the wish "he hoped he was making the right decision," then found Mr. Frantantoni "guilty as charged" (without a reasonable doubt?), imposing fines totalling $700-plus costs.

Does Mrs. Marina Perna (a lawyer yet) really believe herself when she proclaimed "The judge was very accurate in rendering his decision, justice has been done"? Punishment is meted out to deter repetition (of the crime). But while Mrs. Perna may be relishing her "victory" (for the present) over Mr. Frantantoni, as well as the other past and potentially future citizens, similarly placed in jeopardy for daring to "speak out and be heard," the spirit of freedom still lives. But this spirit of freedom is severely threatened by what can only be characterized as dictatorial conduct on behalf of the Mayor of Belleville at the Council meeting, and, to keep it in the same vein, backed up by the "gestapo" as well.

HEED THE WARNING

Many of the 30 million Americans who take antihistamines for their allergies are familiar with the warning on the labels not to drive after taking the medications. Not only do antihistamines block the production of the substance (histamine) that causes allergy symptoms, but they also pass into the brain's circuitry where they may slow down the central nervous system. In fact, this drowsiness side effect is so great that some use over-the-counter antihistamines as sleep aids. These facts seem to be lost on 61 percent of those who, according to a recent Gallup poll, take antihistamines and disregard the warning about driving. For some of these people, their risk of having a car accident is as high as when they drink and drive.

If you have any questions about a particular antihistamine, or any other drug, give us a call at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Cameras and film, gifts, Timex watches and transistor radios are stocked. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

HINT: If antihistamines make you drowsy, look for an over-the-counter non-sedating antihistamine.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Davey — nee Mary Anne Justice

Mary Ann Justice, Edwin J. Davey wed

Mary Ann Justice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Justice of Belleville, and Edwin J. Davey, son of Mrs. Carolyn Davey of Nutley and the late Charles Davey, were married recently in Holy Family Church, Nutley.

Rev. Gerard J. Sudol of Ridgefield Park celebrated the nuptial Mass. A reception followed at Montclair Woman's Club.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown handmade by her mother. The bodice of white velvet had a sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and wristlets, all trimmed with satin applique lace which also accented the satin skirt and train. A headband of velvet with pearls and silk rosebuds held her fingertip illusion veil and she carried a bridal bible with white roses.

Jeanne D'Andrea of Belleville was matron of honor. Junior bridesmaids were Bridget and Kristen Stefanelli of Bricktown, twin nieces of the bride. Flower girls were Carolyn D'Andrea of Belleville and Amanda Marie Davey of Nutley.

The attendants were in white velvet and emerald green taffeta gowns and carried matching velvet muffs accented with silk roses and pearls. The flower girls were in white taffeta ruffled gowns with emerald green bows and lace. All dresses were handcrafted by the bride's mother.

Felice D'Angelo of Nutley was best man. Ushering were Brian Justice of Nutley, nephew of the bride, and Michael and Kyle Leotakas of Howell, nephews of the groom. Junior attendants included Michael and Matthew Justice of Nutley, twin nephews of the bride and Daniel Frei of Bricktown. Ringbearer was Eric Stefanelli of Bricktown, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Justice designed her suit-gown of seafaro green moire taffeta with satin trim. The groom's mother chose a teal green gown accented with sequins and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Louise Schroeder, wore a mauve cocktail length gown. All had wristlets of white roses.

Mrs. Davey, a graduate of Belleville High School and William Paterson College, is a special education teacher.

Mr. Davey, an alumnus of Nutley High School, is a sales counselor with Silo, Inc.

The couple honeymooned at Disney World, Orlando, Fla., following the March 17 nuptials. They have made their home in Toms River.

Belleville Times SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

We begin this week with a preview of the Belleville volleyball team. Coached by veteran Hall of Famer Grace Worley, the Lady Bucs are up against a very difficult challenge this fall.

"Our division (the NJUIL Pacific) has some real powerhouses," Worley said. "There's a lot of talent in the league. Bloomfield, Paramus Catholic, Paramus and Hackensack. They're all real strong. We're going to have to be at the top of our game each time we're out there."

There are some positives, however. First off, there was a tremendous turnout for the team this fall.

"We had 45 girls come out for the team," Worley said. "It's been whittled down to 36, but that's still a lot of players. Among those 36, we have 14 freshman, and if those girls don't play varsity of JV, I've got to get them in a freshman match."

"You don't want to discourage the kids by not playing them, so whenever it's possible we'll play a freshman match after a varsity match."

The team started its season last Friday by losing a tough three set match to Bloomfield, 1-15, 15-13, 9-15. Although the final outcome was a defeat, Worley was encouraged by the her teams hustle and determination.

"Our kids started off slowly, but we came back to play good defense and the girls at the net made some real nice plays. Most of all, I was very pleased with the effort."

Last Monday, the team lost in straight sets to Clifton and afterward, Worley wasn't as pleased as she was with the Bloomfield match.

"We didn't do anything right in the match," she said. "The kids know they have to work for everything they get. They also know that they can be successful on this level if they play to their potential."

During the volleyball season, there isn't much time to dwell on defeats. The team plays a very ambitious schedule, with 27 matches slated for this fall. This week, and into next Wednesday, the girls have a match every school day. This afternoon, they're at Kennedy.

Tomorrow, they return home to play Passaic. Next Monday, it's back on the road to Hackensack. Next Tuesday, Passaic Valley comes to Belleville and next Wednesday, Nutley is in town. All matches start at 4 p.m. The girls home matches are played at Belleville High School.

The captain of the team is junior Colleen Mannion. A fine all around athlete, Mannion also excels for the girls' basketball and softball teams. Other starters for the varsity include Jessica Gonzalez, Michele Pzonka, Melanie VanDam, Andrea Curran, Natalie Bonaccorsi, Chris Cimbaro, Mary Campbell, Deyl Yanez, Diana Vian and Tessa DelaMerced.

Mannion, Gonzalez and Pzonka are the key players at the net. Curran and Bonaccorsi do the setting. Cimbaro, a transfer student, has become a very good passer.

It should be a very interesting season for Worley and her team in the rugged NJUIL.

"The team will get better as the year goes on," she said. "There's a lot of potential here and the future also looks good."

GYMNASTICS TEAM OPENS SEASON

Armed with a new coach, the Belleville gymnastics team opened its season last Friday, losing to a good Montclair team, 84-7-67-15. Despite the defeat, coach Tracey Kelly found a lot of positives in the match.

"Looking at last year's early scores and this year's first match, our team is performing at a higher level," she said. "We haven't had a lot of practice time. We began practice in late August, but that was mostly conditioning. The team will continue to improve as the year goes on, and that's the most important aspect."

Kelly, who insists that you spell her first name with an E ("don't spell it Tracy," she said quite vehemently) got some good performances in the Montclair match.

Sophomore Marianne Ferrera took a second place in the vaulting exercise, scoring a 7.15. Ferrera also did well in the floor exercise, with a score of 6.95.

In the balance beam, senior Denise Wujciak has returned from back surgery that cut short her 1990 season. A very talented athlete, Wujciak will need some matches to get into her normal routine, but it's good to see her back in competition.

Also competing in the balance beam are Cristina Ferrera, Nancy Matthews and Davina Corio.

Cristina Ferrera, a senior, has looked very good in the balance beam and Matthews is a returnee to the event after doing well for the Lady Bucs in 1990.

On the uneven parallel bars, Marianne Ferrera, Conte, Jennifer Kastner and Dawn Simonetti should be the regular participants.

In the floor exercise, Wujciak came through with a score of 6.3 in the Montclair match. Look for Cristina Ferrera, Conte and freshman Lisa DeSimone to see action in the floor exercise.

The girls battled Clifton last Tuesday afternoon. This afternoon, the team is home to Passaic Valley, starting at 4:30 p.m. Next Tuesday, it's off to Ridgewood, also at 4:30 p.m.

As for Kelly, this is her second year with the Belleville gymnastics program and it's her first as the head coach. She succeeds Gina Lemongello, who is attending law school.

Ironically, Kelly competed against Lemongello back in high school when Kelly attended Kearny High and Lemongello wore the Blue and Gold for Belleville when Carol Gluffrida was the coach. Kelly was graduated from Kearny in 1984. She moved on to Montclair State College, where she competed in gymnastics before earning a degree in '88.

Kelly is a kindergarten teacher and stays quite active in the sport of gymnastics year round, working at Gymnastic World. Before coming to Belleville last fall, she was the head gymnastics coach at Whippany Park High School.

Kelly also announced that Bop Gale has joined the team as an assistant coach.

Her enthusiasm for coaching is quite evident and Tracey Kelly should be a welcome addition to the Buccaneer sports program. Now, just remember that her first name is spelled T-R-A-C-E-Y. (How do you spell relief?)

THIS WEEK'S NFL PICKS

Since the Bears got lucky and beat the Jets last Monday night, I finished 9-5 for the week. Even though I picked Chicago, the Jets really should have won that game.

Anyway, for this week, Giants 21 Dallas 14. Jets to rebound and beat Miami 24-23. Buffalo to beat Chicago in a battle of the underdogs, 27-21. Detroit 20 Tampa Bay 16. Atlanta to upset New Orleans, 27-24. L.A. Raiders 28 San Francisco 23. L.A. Rams 20 Green Bay 7. Indianapolis 20 Seattle 19. Kansas City 24 San Diego 10. New England 20 Phoenix 17. Minnesota 23 Denver 17 and Monday night, a great game, the AFC Washington with Philadelphia beating Washington 33-30. The AFC Central teams are off this week. For the season, the record here is 30-12.

LAST WEEK'S QUIZ

The last time the Colts won a playoff game was in 1971, when they beat the Cleveland Browns, 20-3 in Cleveland. The Colts were in Baltimore then and Don McCafferty was the coach. Baltimore lost to Miami in the AFC title game in '71 and the Colts have not won a playoff game since. The last time the Colts won a divisional crown was in 1987, when the Indianapolis Colts won the AFC East, then lost in the playoffs to Cleveland, 21-9.

Fired up Bucs open tomorrow

By Mike Lamberti

With the pre season now in the books, the Belleville football team is getting ready for its regular season opener tomorrow night at Hackensack. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Head coach John Senesky goes into his 15th season with a career record of 71-53-2. Last years team posted a 6-3 record, winning three straight and four of its final five games. The winning season in 1990 ended a three year Buccaneer football losing streak.

The Bucs closed out their pre season with a convincing victory at Livingston last Friday evening.

"We've had some tough scrimmages at Livingston the past few seasons," Senesky said. "I'm sure Livingston has gone into their season opener in the past with some confidence based on their final scrimmage with us. This time, our kids have some of that confidence heading into the opening game."

"But we made a lot of mistakes that were picked up on film. They're more physical mistakes that can be corrected, but we still have a ways to go. Execution is the key. Some of the things we have to correct are blocking angles, foot work on blocks and drop backs on passing formations."

The coach also has a great deal of respect for Hackensack, a formidable NJUIL Pacific Division foe.

"They will be a real good test for us," Senesky said. "Hackensack is a well coached team, with size, speed and power. It's going to be a very tough test for our team."

Senesky is very pleased with his offensive backfield, an area that drew concern before the start of the pre season.

"We have a fine group of potential starters, then we can turn to some very good runners off the bench. We have two solid backfield units here."

Possible starters in the opener feature John Alvarado at quarterback, Ricky Constantino at fullback and Carmine Tuosto and Michael Kimball at the halfback positions.

Other players expected to see time in the Buc offensive backfield include Anthony Caruso, Eugene Carrera, Richard Quine, Mike Mundy, Mike Morgan and Jason Apple.

On the offensive line, Scott Mayers, Brian Salmon, Bill Zigmund, Sanford Cosenzo and Robert Dena are vying for tackle positions. The guards include J.V. Faliveno, Mike Citarella, Phil Avello, Rich Romano and Joe DeRiggi.

The centers are John Engdahl and Carmen Pizzano. The tightend position is well stocked with Hector Daniluk, John Kuebler, John Durr and Michael Cristy.

Rounding out the offense, the split ends are Bill Prosperi, John McAlloon and Junior Sansano.

On the defensive line, Constantino should be the nose guard while the tackles are Mayers, Zigmund and Salmon.

The linebacking corps are paced by Mike Citarella, Faliveno, Carrera, Joe Citarella, DeRiggi, Apple and Cliff Mann. In the secondary, Alvarado, McAlloon, Kimball and Abdel Ilewat should be the starters while Quine, Caruso, Prosperi, Sansano, Brian Harvey and Morgan should also see time in the secondary.

In last Friday's scrimmage, the Bucs were paced offensively by Constantino, who scored four rushing touchdowns. Overall, the offensive line opened plenty of holes for the Buc running backs and the defense was outstanding, keeping Livingston off the scoreboard.

"It was a good scrimmage, but it was just that, a scrimmage," Senesky said. "We have a real tough schedule coming up and Hackensack will be a good test to see how far we've come along."

NOTES: Hackensack beat Belleville in last years season opener by a 34-0 count at Doc Ellis Field. Bucs last beat Hackensack in 1983 by a 27-0 count. Since then, Hackensack won in 1988, 26-0, 1989, 14-6 and last year. This will be the first time that the Bucs have played at Hackensack.

Hackensack was 6-3 last year with a senior oriented club.

The Belleville football parents will hold a dinner for the players, coaches and cheerleaders tonight at Belleville High School. The Chandelier Restaurant will be providing the food.

Buc quarterback John Alvarado fakes a handoff to Carmen Tuosto during last Friday night's scrimmage at Livingston. Bucs defeated Lancers and are now getting ready for tomorrow night's opening game at Hackensack.

Jr. Buc 'A' and 'B' teams win at Totowa

Tyrone Fitts scored two second half touchdowns to pace the Belleville Junior Buc "A" team to a 20-7 win over Totowa last Sunday afternoon.

The "B" team was also a winner, beating Totowa 20-6. In that contest, Bobby Carsella scored twice and the defense was once again solid in holding Totowa scoreless until late in the game.

This week, the Junior Bucs will be at Bloomington. Games start at 12 noon, with the "C" team seeing action. The "B" team plays at 1:30 p.m. and the "C" team finishes a busy day with a 3 p.m. kickoff.

"A" TEAM FINISHES STRONG

Bill Abrams team started off slowly, but played excellent football in the second half to boost its season record to 2-0. The Bucs scored first, when Ben Schwengle scored on a 40 yard sweep in the first quarter. Frank Costanza then passed to Tyree Huffin for the point after conversion.

Totowa tied the game in the second quarter, thanks to 35 yards in Belleville penalties.

"We were sloppy in the second half," Abrams said. "There were too many penalties. We lost some of the intensity."

The game was tied at seven at halftime, but in the third quarter, the Bucs came out strong. Fitts ran 48 yards off left tackle to put Belleville ahead, 13-7.

In the fourth quarter, Fitts put the game out of reach when he ran three yards up the middle to cap a 52 yard drive. Amir Moses then caught a pass from Costanza for the extra point.

On defense, Ram Parekh and Damon Placente had interceptions. Schwengle and Placente recovered Totowa fumbles. The defensive line was paced by Brian McIntosh (two sacks, seven tackles) and Rob Caputo (seven tackles).

The Belleville defense allowed Totowa just 18 yards in total offense.

On the offensive side, Fitts gained 90 yards on the ground in ten carries. Strong running was also turned in by Caputo, Placente and Schwengle.

OFFENSIVE LINE LEADS "B" TEAM

The B squad received another superb performance from the defense and the offensive line propelled a dominant Buc running game.

"The offensive line was tremendous," head coach Joe DeRiggi said. "They did a solid job."

The line, made up center Joe Paladino, guards Anthony Vitanzo and Ricci Bello and tackles Albert

Fusco and Anthony Albanese, helped the Bucs to two rushing TD's.

In the first quarter, quarterback Rich DeFalco passed 30 yards to Justin Mohren for the first Belleville touchdown. Anthony Cook ran for two yards for the point after conversion.

In the second quarter, Carsella ran 25 yards for TD number two. Dan Rafferty ran two yards for the conversion and Belleville led 14-0 at halftime.

In the fourth quarter, the Bucs added an insurance score when Carsella once again ran 25 yards for a touchdown. This time the conversion failed, but the Bucs were in control.

Carsella led the Buc running attack with 120 yards on 14 carries. Mike Abidelli rushed seven times for 65 yards. DeFalco completed five of eight passes for 70 yards. He also threw one touchdown pass.

On defense, Abidelli, playing at an outside linebacker position, had nine tackles and an interception. Defensive end Anthony Conte had two quarterback sacks.

Strong play was also turned in by cornerbacks Marcus Talmadge and Greg Sheridan.

Soccer team improves to 3-0

By Mike Lamberti

A stingy defense and opportunistic offense propelled the Belleville soccer team to two victories last week, improving the Bucs season record to 3-0.

Gino DePinto's team will be busy this week. The club played powerful Hackensack last Tuesday. This afternoon, the Bucs are home to Paramus in a 4 p.m. start at Clearmont Field. Tomorrow, the team is at Good Counsel (4 p.m. start) and next Monday, Teaneck comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. Next Wednesday, Belleville visits Paramus Catholic. That game also commences at 4 p.m.

Last week, the Bucs blanked both Paterson Eastside 1-0 and St. Joe's of Montvale, 2-0.

"The kids played very well in both games," DePinto said. "We've had good defensive teams in past years, but we haven't been able to put the ball into the net. This year, the kids are playing strong defense and are also scoring the key goals."

Against Paterson Eastside, Belleville scored its only goal late in the second half when Paul Mora took a pass from Greg Groeling and drilled the ball past the Eastside goalie. "We had a lot of chances in that game," DePinto said. "The kids played well, we just couldn't find the net until late in the game."

Rocco Constantino played the first half in goal for the Bucs. Emanuel Arujo worked the nets in the second half and preserved the shutout.

Against St. Joe's, the first half was scoreless, but the Bucs tallied twice in a one minute time span early in the second half. Matt Kastner scored first, off an assist by Giuseppe Mennella on a corner kick.

A minute later, Mora scored his second goal in two games off an assist from Groeling and Steve Vogel.

Arujo played the entire game in goal for the Bucs and recorded the shutout. The Bucs held St. Joe's to just four shots on goal. Belleville had 15 shots at the St. Joe's net.

DePinto credited Franco Vitello, Kastner, Alex Moreno, Alex Alexandre and Vogel with excellent defensive games.

The Bucs also found out that

Frank Crocco, who was injured in the opening win against Teaneck, should be back in action this week. Crocco suffered a broken nose in the opener two weeks ago and it was feared he might need surgery and could miss the season. However, the nose did not require surgery and Crocco should be back, perhaps as early as today's game.

The J.V. team defeated St. Joe's, 2-0 last Friday. Marcelo Olorando and Frank Tauri scored goals for Belleville. Michael Percio played a solid game in the nets for Belleville.

The freshman team also played its first game last week, beating Nutley 4-1. Goals were scored by Tauri, Ruben Guevara, Steve Collett and Dai Nguyen. Jose Colucci had two assists in the game while Jim Berg and Ivan Martin had one assist each. The Buc goalie was Michael Guzman.

"The freshman team did a real good job," DePinto said. "It was their first game of the season and Nutley has a strong freshman squad. It was a good sign for the future."

The Home Front

By Nina Kaeser

Want to fix up an old bathroom? Cost-cutting trick is to leave plumbing connections where they are, even if you replace old fixtures. Moving them to new locations means major plumbing costs.

Paint goes on better and lasts longer if the surface is carefully prepared. Unpainted wood needs only a primer or undercoating. If underpainting contains lead, the surface should be stripped professionally by a contractor who specializes in this work.

Quality wood is often used to build shipping pallets or "skids." Now there's a builder in New York who's decided this wood is too good to throw away. He's recycling the maple, oak and pine pallets into furniture that can be sold for less than $100.

A reverse mortgage is used to tap the equity in a house. The lender is paid back when the house is sold by the homeowner or his or her estate. Costs can be high, though, and it may be a better bet to sell the house for a nest egg and trade down to a smaller place.

When selling is a better bet, list with the real estate professionals at Century 21 Stanford Agency, 86 Union Avenue, Nutley, Call 235-9000.
