Aside From That

By Howard Klausner

Gerry Maccioli, who has been playing the role of a detective successfully in the long-running "Lights, Camera, Murder" comedy drama at the Stern's Willowbrook Dinner Theater has been playing detective in his own behalf for the past month. He has been rounding up witnesses and affidavits to prove he didn't take part in the assault on seven election workers in Newark last month. At least two Newark police officers have stated he was in their presence a mile from the scene of the reported assaults. Maccioli faces seven charges of assault with intent to kill. A body builder as well as an actor,h e had been working as body guard for Freeholder Arthur Clay when Clay was running for Sheriff against Armando Fontoura. Maccioli said he had expected some legal support from Clay im defending himself against the charges, but that the only thing forthcoming was the promise that "everything would be taken care of." It hasn't. Maccioli says he can't afford a lawyer, particularly the expesnive kind who knows criminal law. He is hoping that affidavits from the police and others with whom he was involved on that Election Day will clear him of the charges. • • • His on-stage career has been somewhat more fortunate. He had a good role in a Washington, D.C. stage production and is signed for a feature role in a movie to be made on the East Coast. The Mystery Cafe Company for whom he appears at Willowbrook has been signed to a year's contract, and plans to put on a different production every three months. Tom Duva of Belleville - he of the Barrymore profile - is also a featured actor in the company, doing a hilarious spoof on every egomaniacal leading man in the profession. For his part, Gerry hopes he'll be out of his legal problems and deep into his career in the new year. • • • Tom Spillane retired last week from almost 33 years with the telephone company. When he started in the mail room, it was New Jersey Bell. When he retired as an engineer, it was Atlantic Bell. "I received a very nice retirement settlement," Spallone said. He took advantage of a buyout offer to take his pension in a lump sum. "Now my problem is to manage the money." We immediately offered some wonderful suggestions having to do with a couple of sure things at the Meadowlands but he said he was thinking of attending a seminar offered by the company on career changing. He intends to run for re-as New Jersey Bell. When he retired as an engineer, it was Atlantic Bell. "I received a very nice retirement settlement," Spallone said. There was no demand at all on the supply last winter, and very little for the past few years, but Mother Nature can change the game plans at any time. Police Chief George Lister is trying out a new kind of tire chain for the new police cars, whose tires are too large for the present chains in stock. "We haven't needed tire chains for a while, but you have to expect a severe winter sometime," Lister said. Fire Chief Walter Beresford and Department of Public Works Director Stanley Stires have had their men out testing every water hydrant in town, after a few were found to stay on even when they were supposed to be turned off. The state-of-the-art Fire Department Ambulance acquired this year brings the number of ambulances available for any emergency to three, which gives us much better odds for life saving, and the latest fire apparatus will provide a ladder that can reach 125 feet in height. Why 125 feet? Because that is the height of the apartment house on Rutgers Street and the Clara Maass Medical Center main building. And did you know that the color of the fire hydrant top tells you what the available volume of water is? Ask Councilman Frank Caputo. He knows all these things. • • • It's the happiest of Christmases for Belleville High School Shop Teacher Joe Cattaff who survived 20 hours on the operating table to receive a donor liver on Nov. 16. He says he hasn't felt this great in years, and he'll be back in class this Spring. "Everyone should sign up to be an organ donor," he says. It's a gift of life.

Santa's gift for the school system: state restores most of budget cut

The Board of Education cannot take official note of it until its Jan. 13 meeting, but the New Jersey Department of Education has restored all but $73,000 of the budget cut of $537,564 ordered by the Township Council last summer, sources report.

The budget reduction was enacted after the town's voters rejected the school budget by a 2-to-1 major-

The Board of Education filed an appeal against the budget cut, calling it damaging to the education process in Belleville.

The Essex County Superintendent of Education tried to get an agreement between the Council and the Board, without success, and then referred the matter to Trenton. State offficials agreed with the township's educators, reportedly, and ordered most of the cut rescind-

One effect of the restoration will be an increase of about 10 tax points in next year's budget

Another effect is the saving of many extra-curricular activities, from the prize winning Marching Band to varsity and intra-mural

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello called a meeting of School 4 teachers at 8:30 a.m., Friday, to inform them of the tragedy and to announce that Dr. Pauline Rush, school psychologist would be on hand through the day to counsel teachers and students. Dr. Rush was joined by Social Service worker Cynthia Vignola during the day, and together, they met with the parents who were asked to come to the school that night for a meeting.

A substitute teacher took Mrs. Fass' class for the day.

It was left to the parents to break the news to their children however they saw best.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, the former Mary Anne Lolli joined the Belleville school system in 1977 as a basics skills teacher in School 3. She later came to School 4 as an elementary grade teacher.

Report editorial captioned The Irony of Mikhail Gorbachev written by Mortimer B. Zuckerman, editor-inchief characterizes him as a statesman without a state. It describes him a statesman without a state who brought about the defection of Ukraine, long the symbiotic partner of Russia, from any confederation... proclaiming it a cruel fate for Gorbachev to face rejection by the people he liberated, explaining only his courage in ending the repressions of the old Soviet system made it possible for the people to show their true feelings.

He failed to grasp the extent of the rot and decay in a bureaucratic totalitarian society whose meager gains could have been achieved without mass misery and millions of deaths... the editorial explains, pointing that not even a political colossus could have saved this grotesque system once the people were free of fear.

What Gorbachev had begun by diluting the power at the top, Yeltsin completed by inflating the power at the bottom. The recent failed coup was a final act of collective suicide by the KGB, the party and the Army.

Perhaps Gorbachev could have preserved his power base had the economy not gone into free fall. Economically, the transformation of Soviet communism required an ideological heretic. Gorbachev was merely a sinner. He could not make the communist trains run on time. Worse, he did not understand why socialism failed nor how capitalism worked. It was Yeltsin's bolder message of democracy, market economics and political power to the republics that came crashing through the windows of the Kreml-

The West always believed in Gorbachev more than his own people did. We saw in him a man of almost mythical proportions array-ed against the old communist dragons. Western heads of state, including George Bush, have been mesmerized by his personality. And no wonder. In a recent interview with U.S. News, Gorbachev was forceful, persuasive and intelligent, demonstrating his capacity to con-nect on a personal level — seemingly to "see through to the back of your skull." Postcoup, he is a more convincing democrat, freed from the need to appease the hard-liners.

limited rule for him - perhaps as economic and political coordinator among the newly independent republics? Don't count on it. The elites may appreciate the benefits of interrepublic cooperation, but the people will not have it. They have lost confidence in Gorbachev. Even more, they hate and distrust the center. They remember too well the corruption and bloody history of the Communist Party: The republics, after all, are undergoing decolonization from a once ruthless, once totalitarian center that forced an association based not on shared beliefs, mutual interests or respect but on terror. Reminders of the past come almost every week, challenging the remaining moral and political legitimacy of the center. Billions of rubles in secret Communist Party bank accounts are discovered. Vast gold stocks mysteriously vanish. Billions of German marks targeted for aid evaporate. The old "insiders" are discovered to have bought their dachas for one tenth their value. Is it any surprise that the people fear that any "center," however circumscribed, might still become a focus for the old corruption and

Gorbachev is a giant who drag-ged the Soviet Union into the modern world and transformed international relations from confrontation to cooperation. But a different perspective emerges if we try to see him as the Soviet people do by putting the situation in American terms. How would you assess an American leader who presided over a collapse of produc-tion, equal to a 20 percent decline in gross national product in 1991 alone, with 1,000 percent a year hyperinflation? Who produced such discontent that national political institutions collapsed, the Constitution was dissolved and Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi,

Washington, Texas, New Mexico, Nevada, California, Oregon, Alas-ka and Hawaii all abandoned the federal system? Still, nothing can diminish the magnitude of what he began. As Machiavelli once put it: "There is nothing more difficult ... than taking the lead in the introduction of a new order of things." Gorbachev has earned the admiration of our times, and will surely merit the applause of history.

Bruno out as grantsman

The firm of John Bruno and Associates has ended a 15-year relationship with Belleville as grantsman.

With Mayor Marina Perna casting the deciding vote, the Township Council has decided to have its own administrators do the work of seeking county, state and federal grants.

Bruno had asked for a $40,000 fee for the coming year. He received $26,000 for the past year.

Mayor Perna said that Township Manager Bert Kendall should be responsible for obtaining grants, at no extra charge to the township.

In the past year, the township received some $600,000 in grants, about half of which came under Community Block funds. While Bruno claimed credit for all grant money received by the township critics such as Councilman Dr.

Frank Noonan disputed the claim.

Dr. Noonan has argued that the town manager should be responsible for obtaining grants. Councilman Mario Drozdz has been supportive of Bruno, saying that even if the Bruno firm brought in only $300,000, it was still worth it.

The Council received a letter from the firm of Barrett and Mottola, Nutley, asking for consideration as grantsman, but declined to respond.

OUR OPINION

Smaller is better

When the Belleville Township Council reacted to the voters' annual rejection of the school budget, it mandated a number of cuts, including the elimination of nine teacher posts.

There was no specific recommendation as to where the postions would be found but it became obvious as to the purpose of the cut. It would have to be the elimination of School 9.

School authorities refused to take the hint and found other places in which to reduce services, particularly in extra-curricular activities.

But the underlying reason School 9 is either shortchanged intown budgets or is the direct object of complete eradication is - on the surface - understandable. It has the smallest of the school enrollments - about 127.

Therefore, the argument goes, wipe out this neighborhood school and have the children travel to further points.

The fact is that the smaller classroom sizes of School 9, plus the aggressive educational efforts of Principal Pat Forte and his enthusiastic staff, provide the youngsters of this blue-collar district with a better start in education than they might otherwise receive.

The haphazard placement of grade schools over the past century may not be financially cost effective, because in terms of the dollar, we probably would be better off with a few consolidated schools.

But in terms of educational effectiveness, the schools - each with its own environment and philosophy - provide an overall education far better than would be obtained in a consolidated school. It's the difference between a factory environment and a laboratory.

A factory stamps out products. A laboratory produces individual results.

If we want to produce motivated individuals, we will stick to the smaller laboratory rather than the bigger factory.

The bottom line fault

The "bottom line" mentality is one of the reasons we have fallen behind other countries in our productivity and our achievement.

The bottom line, for corporate executives and investors, alike, has been immediate profit. Putting money into research and development did not help the bottom line, at least for the current year.

So rather than anger the stockholders, executives pump up the bottom line as much as possible, knowing that future profits vill be endangered as our competitiveness lags. But that will be the problem of some future executive.

Unfortunately, the future has caught up with us.

Even though America still leads in discovery and invention, other nations lead in adapting those discoveries. They undertake the research and development projects that make our inventions - from television and computers to automobiles and refrigerators - better, cheaper and more competitive for their producers to make.

Japan and Germany have no qualms about having government underwrite research. The United States, at least under the present and past administrations, has held off, leaving it to our private industries to do the job.

But our private industries have failed so spectacularly to keep up with - and surpass - the competition that we have lost almost all our heavy manufacturing power. Now, even our dominance in aircraft manufacture is being challenged.

The bottom line philosophy extends to our homeowners, who understandably want as little extra tax burden as possible.

But when we endanger our children's education, we are no longer being thrifty. We are being extravagantly wasteful.

One reason that towns such as Glen Ridge and Ridgewood rarely defeat school budgets is that their homeowners realize from their own success in life - how important good basic education is.

. By the same token, we are going to have to rid ourselves of the bottom line mentality if we ever hope to bring America back to leadership in world industry. When we realize that Japanese auto workers now make more money than American auto workers, it is about time to re-examine our priorities and see if the bottom line philosophy is so good, after all.

He lived all of his seventy two years at the same house on Cleveland Street.

He gave the town twenty four years of that life as "commissioner of revenue and finance. He also gave four years as "mayor."

He almost gave his life for our country in World War II flying fifty bomber missions over enemy territory. Our country awarded him the Purple Heart, the Air Medal and the Distingished Flying Cross.

Do you think it is too much to ask the good people of Belleville to show their appreciation of a job well done.

How about renaming his home street from Cleveland Street to Lt. Joseph F. McGreevy Street?

Thanks very much from all the family.

James McGreevy

Health care needed

To the editor:

I am writing regarding the lack of accessible health care in the United States. The United States is the only industrialized nation with the exception of South Africa that does not provide a national health program for it's citizens. Some third world nations provide better health care to their citizens than the U.S., which is the richest nation in the world. In this country lack of health care is not reserved just for the poor, there are whole groups of people who simply can't afford medical insurance, nor medical care. One quarter of our citizens, or about 64 million people are either uninsured or under-insured. Elderly people pay 58% of their medical bills out of their pockets. At the other spectrum of life the U.S. ranks 22nd in the world in infant mortality. That means 21 other nations better enable their newborns to live through their first year of life. These are just a few reasons why our health care delivery system needs to be radically changed.

Presently there are 2 bills before Congress regarding the reformation of our health care system. The Mitchell bill which is before the Senate proposes to mandate that employers provide health insurance for their employees while establishing an "Americare" public plan which will replace the nonlong term care portion of Medicaid. Medicare and other federal programs would be retained. The public would still be required to pay 20%-50% of the premium costs. Only people living below the poverty level would be exempt from premium costs.

Another bill, the Russo bill, before the House of Representatives proposes to replace employer based/private insurance programs, Medicare, Medicaid and other federal programs with a single payer system. All citizens would be covered. This plan will allow choice of physicians and eliminate premiums, deductibles, or co-payments. This system would cut costs and improve the quality of medical care by promoting preventative health care, implemeting guidelines for medical practices, and limiting administrative costs. This system would be financed by taxing employers, increasing corporate taxes, and state government payments currently used for Medicaid and Medicare.

America is a nation in medical crisis. Actions need to be taken now before the situation gets worse. Every citizen is affected by the health care system. It is time to let our elected representatives know that we want a comprehensive health insurance system without exorbitant costs. New Jersey has begun this process on election day by overwhelmingly voting for a national health care policy. With the upcoming Presidential elections approaching, it is time to bring this issue to the forefront of national political debate.

Drivers' thanks

To the editor

We would like to take this opportunity to commend Joseph Kraemer, the Belleville High School Band, Color Guard, and band parents for making our job of driving them to competitions very easy and indeed pleasurable. To the seniors, you will surely be missed and we wish you all success in all your endeavors.

To all of you a very Merry Christmas, and a happy and healthy New Year. You are a credit to your school and your community.

Stocks are up

Dear Parents and Teachers

We would like to give a lot of thanks for all your support that you have given the Stock Market Club.

You have helped us when there were times we needed you.

We would like to give a special thank you to Ms. Zizza, Mrs. Mateyka, Mrs. Berendt and Mrs. Saulino for being there and helping us throughout our performances.

But, most of all we would like to give an extra special thank you to Mrs. Villano and Mrs. Bradley. Thanks for all your help. If it wasn't for you we wouldn't have had all this experience with the Stock Market.

Thanks so much.

• THIS is a good will, good feeling column. I wish every one of our readers a merry Christmas. The birth of Christ brought with it a gift-giving tradition. So — giving is a natural thing at Christmas time — and so should be — forgiveness.

In fact, one of my favorite prayers — and I assume it's yours, too — includes the following: "Forgive those who trespass against you." So, in this forgiving period, return to biblical admonition — forgive those who trespass against you. I will.

gressman Jim Courter. Gormley is one of the most effective state senators. If Gormley makes another run in 1993, he starts off with the solid south seven counties. But — he will need more than that. In the year and a half remaining, Gormley must develop a base in west and north Jersey. The chairmanship of the Senate Judiciary Committee can help him achieve this objective.

 MAYBE, you missed it — maybe, you didn't — but Harold Stassen who was elected governor of Minnesota at age 30 - and that was 54 years ago, has announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination. When Stassen ran for president in 1952, Republican National Committeeman Bernard Shanley was Stassen's national campaign manager, and Shanley asked me to do him a favor and accept the chairmanship of the New Jersey Stassen campaign. In accepting the job, both Stanley and I agreed that if the Stassen delegates received 5 percent of the vote, it was a victory. Well, my best recollection is that Stassen delegates received about 5.5 percent of the vote

COME the middle of January, Republicans will be taking over the New Jersey State Senate. One of the key players will be Atlantic County Senator Bill Gormley, slated to be Chairman of the powerful Senate Judiciary Committee. Bill made a run for the roses in the 1989 Republican Gubernatorial Primary which was won by former Conchritic charities.

Did he win? Well — the Stassen campaign became a vehicle for Bernard Shanley. After the Primary, there came a time when the Eisenhower brain trust decided he needed a prominent Catholic to accompany him on his campaign trail. Shanley and the Shanley family's association with Catholic activities and charities have brought to the Shanley family national recognition. And so, it was fitting that Shanley, the national campaign manager for Harold Stassen would end up with the Eisenhower campaign. After Eisenhower won, Shanley was appointed to the influential post of Secretary to the President.

• IT is unfortunate that the editors of our newspapers did not see fit to sponsor a contest for the best residential Christmas lighting decorations.

There was a time when a panel of judges was appointed by The Nutley Sun from the citizens of the community, and prizes were awarded based upon the findings of the judges. There was a prize for decorations of the entire house, window decorations, door decorations and lawn decorations. What brought this to' mind was the beautiful view from my bedroom window of two homes located on the banks of the Third River in Nichol's Park. Those views inspired me to get in my car and take a ride around Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield. If you haven't done so - pile your family into a car and give yourself a treat. The Christmas spirit jumps right at you.

Through pictures in this issue, our three editors have done the best to capture the beauty of residential decorations.

BHS teacher receives advanced degree

By Domenica Grippi Congratulations to Linda Albanese, a 1964 Montclair State graduate, for recently completing her post-graduate work in Spanish Literature. In December, Albanese was awarded a Masters of Arts from Montclair State College.

Albanese, a member of the Bel-leville school system for 25 years, joined the high school staff six years ago. In addition to teaching all levels of Spanish language courses, Albanese teaches a Spanish culture course designed for advanced language students. An avid traveler, Albanese has visited Spain, Mexico, Guatemala, Venezuela, Peru, Puerto Rico, Paraguay, Argentina and Brazil and brings her experiences and expertise of Spanish culture to BHS students to further enrich their understanding of the language and its variety of cultures. Albanese attributes her academic and professional success to her love of teaching and adds, "I've always wanted to teach Spanish." Albanese joins a long list of BHS faculty who hold advanced degrees.

Save the earth

The members of the BHS Environmental Club, under the direction of Karen Pasterchick, are working hard to serve their community. In addition, to collecting clothing and food donations for battered women and their children living in shelters, the club has installed bird feeders in the courtyards of the BHS campus. The bird feeders will provide sustenance for hungry birds during the winter months when food is scarce.

Club members are planning future projects to raise community awareness and concern for the environment. In fact, for anyone having trouble thinking of a 1992 New Year's resolution the Environmental Club offers a few eye-opening suggestions:

I'll recycle everything - paper, cans, glass, foil..

· I'll use cloth napkins and dish towels (not disposable).

Whenever I leave a room, I'll turn off lights, TV, air conditioners and appliances (saves electricity and cash too!). No more styrofoam cups, I'm bringing a ceramic cup to work.

· I'll tote my tote bag everywhere, never know when I'm going to pick up some groceries, cosmetics, costume jewelry...

· I'll install water-saving shower heads and faucet aerators in bathrooms, kitchen.

• Why use just one side of a piece of paper? I'll turn the "clean" side into scrap paper, use it at work or at

• I'll save sea animals by cutting up the plastic rings on my six-packs of soda before I throw them away.

 I'll beg, plead, nag friends, relatives to do what they can to make sure the planet's a little healthier next holiday season!

Octagon Club visits Cerebral Palsy Center

By Gina Del Guercio On Nov. 27, the Octagon Club, under the direction of Daniel Grasso, visited the Cerebral Palsy Center in Clara Maass Hospital. The Octagon Club, a children focused organization, presented the children with an original program, directed by club president, Maria Lisboa. Club members performed a puppet show, singing, dancing, piano and violin playing and conducted a Christmas sing-a-long for residents and staff. Dressed as clowns, club members concluded the program by giving each child a balloon and cupcake. Club treasurer Amy Lo Coco comments, "It was a wonderful day for both the children and club members. Seeing the faces of the children light up and their eyes sparkle was a great feeling. Knowing that we were able to make them laugh and smile made all of us feel terrific!"

NEWS FOR MIGRAINE SUFFERERS

Understandably, persons who suffer migraine headaches are always interested in news of any therapy that may relieve their pain. One such investigational drug, sumatriptan, was used in a nationwide tria involving 1,104 migraine sufferers. According to a report in the "Journal of the American Medical Association," sumatriptan proved to be "an effective treatment for patients with acute migraine." It completely relieved pain in 49 percent of those patients who received it, versus 9 percent of those who received a placebo. Another 20 percent reported only mild pain with sumatriplan use. Although the drug has yet to receive approval, those interested in its eventual release might want to follow its progress.

New program for the elderly offered at Clara Maass

Area residents facing difficulties in managing the needs of an elderly family member, along with daily careers and family responsibilities, now have access to Geriatric Day Care at Clara Maass Continuing Care Center. The new program is specially designed for medically dependent adults who require less than 24-hour hospital or nursing home care.

This day care program may be the best alternative for dual-career families that are unable to provide the proper amount of daytime support and supervision for their dependent loved ones," says Pat. Myers, RNC, assistant administrator. "Our Care Center is located on the campus of Clara Maass Medical Center, ensuring proper medi-cal attention and 24-hour access to highly qualified medical professionals, facilities and services.'

The day care interdisciplinary staff consists of a full-time nurse, program director, recreation therapist, dietician, social worker and nutritionist who are responsible for the development and maintenance of each person's individually designed program.

Transportation is provided to and from the Care Center where participants-choose from a variety of activities including exercise classes for both ambulatory and wheelchair-bound individuals, religious services, games and holiday parties. A snack and lunch are also provided and full recliners allow for afternoon naps.

According to a recent Advisory Standards Report issued by the State of New Jersey Department of Health, the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center has earned the distinction of exceeding the health department's required standards.

The Care Center is 100 percent compliant with mandatory standards, which all facilities must meet, and also advisory standards, which are optional and voluntary,' says Meyers. "We continually strive to surpass the minimum requirements to ensure that our residents receive the finest care.'

For more information on the Clara Maass Geriatric Medical Day Care Program, call 450-2940.

The Clara Maass Continuing Care Center is a fully accredited 120-bed nursing facility offering both long and short term care. The Care Center's certified healthcare professionals offer a wide spectrum of programs including an adultcare center and an expanded recreation program including music ther-

Social Security can help locate lost loved ones

The critically ill man lay dying. His only request was to be reunited with his long-lost son. How could his son be located? One way was to contact the Social Security Administration (SSA). Although the agency cannot disclose any information to the searchers, if the son was working or receiving Social Security benefits, SSA will forward a letter to the son's last employer or address. If the son was working at the last job listed in SSA records or had left a forwarding address, the letter might be deliverable. The rest would be up to the son.

Each year, about 25,000 people ask Social Security to help locate a "missing person." The reasons for their requests vary widely: a serious illness or death in the family; the availability of certain money, such as an inheritance; or a desire to locate lost children or parents.

When SSA began in the 1930s, these requests began to filter in. By 1945, the agency recognized that the volume of letters and the significance of Social Security records as a vital and only link in locating an individual, required a written policy and the first instructions were formulated and issued: letters would be forwarded only for humanitarian or monetary concerns that could affect the missing indiv-

The basic policy and procedures outlined in 1945 remain in effect today. No information is given to the requester. The individual's right to confidentiality is the first and foremost consideration. A letter that meets SSA's criteria is sent to the Social Security number holder's last known address or to the last employer who reported earnings for the missing person. If the missing person is a Social Security beneficiary, SSA will mail the letter directly. In either case, it is up to the missing person to respond. Social Security takes no further responsibility in the process.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Caffero - nee Anne Sorventino

Anne Sorrentino, Stephen Cafiero wed

Wedding vows were exchanged in St. Catherine's Church, Hillside, by Anne F. Sorrentino, daughter of Joan Sorrentino of Edison and Gerald Sorrentino of Bricktown, and Stephen C. Cafiero, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cafiero of Cedar Grove, formerly of Nutley.

Rev. Donald Cooper performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Newark Airport Marriott:

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a satin and lace gown accented with crystals, pearls and sequins and fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and train. A headpiece of pearl and crystal beadwork, designed by the bride, held her veil and she carried white roses, mini carnations, stephanotis, freesia and teal babies breath.

Barbara Sorrentino of Franklin Park was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Stephanie Cafiero Pizzulo, Dianne Cafiero Scioscia, Denise Giovanniello, Grace Balog, Susan Yannello and Kim Gaynor.

They were attired in two piece teal tea length suits, fashioned with v-necklines and peplums. They carried peach roses, feal carnations and babies breath.

Stephen C. Cafiero of Bloomfield, cousin of the groom, was best man. Ushering were John Cafiero, Joseph Cafiero, Gerald Sor-rentino, Michael Sorrentino, Jeffrey Sorrentino, Patrick Scioscia and Brian Smith.

Mrs. Sorrentino chose a fuschia tea-length gown fashioned with an organza bodice and handkerchief hemline. Her wristlet was of pink roses. The groom's mother, in a royal blue tea-length gown with a lace overlayed bodice and organza ruffled skirt, had a wristlet of peach

Mrs. Cafiero, a graduate of John P. Stevens High School and Rutgers University, is a PC coordinator with Duro-Test Lighting Corp., Fairfield.

Mr. Cafiero, an alumnus of Seton Hall Preparatory School and Rutgers University, is a project engineer with Coronation Sheet Metal Company, Union.

The couple honeymooned in Hawaii following the Sept. 21 nuptials and have made their home in

In cases that involve monetary consideration, SSA charges $3 to cover the cost of searching its records. Humanitarian cases are handled free of charge.

Over the years, various news articles have directed readers to Social Security if they want to locate long lost friends or former sweethearts. Such requests are not approved.

If you have an urgent and compelling need to locate someone, the procedure to follow is: Prepare individual and place it in an unseal ed envelope bearing the name and Social Security number (or, if you don't know the Social Security number, include the missing person's and parents' names.) Prepare a letter to SSA that explains the circumstances that require you to locate the missing person. Place both letters and the unsealed, unstamped envelope in a second envelope and address it to: Social Security Administration, Office of Central Records Operations, 300 North Greene St., Baltimore, MD,

Belleville Times SPORTS

We begin this holiday week with college news. Two Bellevilleites, Mike Rubas and Andrew Murray enjoyed good seasons for their respective teams this fall.

Rubas, a sophomore defensive back for Muhlenberg College, earned Centennial Conference Player of the Week honors for his 17 tackles in a game against Swarthmore. He was third on the team in tackles with 93 including 53 first hit tackles, 39 unassisted and one for a loss. Rubas also had two interceptions.

A graduate of Seton Hall Prep, Rubas earned his second varsity letter this past fall.

Murray completed his first season as a member of the Caldwell College mens' soccer team. The Cougars finished its innaugural campaign with a 5-7-2 mark. Murray was a late addition to the club, but he played well in the midfield for Caldwell. He helped the team to a third place finish in the Dominican Tournament and ssisted the Cougars in posting victories over Nyack Cöllege, Bard College, Centenary College and Columbia Union.

One of Caldwell's best games was a 1-1 tie with a very good Upsala College squad.

NFL PLAYOFFS

There should be some good games on tap this weekend, with upstarts Dallas, New Orleans, Atlanta and the Jets seeing action. Since we're going to press on Monday and the Niners haven't played the Chicago Bears yet, I'll predict the Niners to win that game, thus moving Chicago into a wildcard format and playing Dallas this Sunday.

GAME ONE, LOS ANGELES RAIDERS AT KANSAS CITY: The Chiefs have beaten the Raiders twice this season and in a rivalry like this, beating the Raiders a third time will be difficult, even if the game is played in Kansas City.

This is the first playoff game ever at Arrowhead Stadium and the first playoff game in Kansas City since the 1971 classic between the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins. This game might not play up to that magnitude, but a Chiefs-Raiders game is usually exciting and hard hitting. Look for Todd Marinovich to play a good game and the Raiders to give Steve DeBerg a lot of defensive problems. Los Angeles 28-17.

GAME TWO, ATLANTA AT NEW ORLEANS: This could be the best game of the weekend, with two divisional rivals squaring off for the third time. The Saints won in Atlanta earlier this year and Atlanta came back to win a thriller in New Orleans in early December. Look for plenty of offense, even though New Orleans plays solid defense. It could come down to a field goal, and the Saints have one of the best kickers in the game in Morten Anderson. New Orleans, 30-27.

GAME THREE, DALLAS AT CHICAGO: The Bears will be in a surly mood after week 17, when Buffalo lost to Detroit and last Monday's game with San Francisco. Chicago usually plays good defense in the playoffs and the Cowboys don't have many players with the necessary playoff experience to win here.

The Bears will also have an advantage playing at Soldier Field, and if Dallas can't get the passing game to open up, it could be a long day for Emmitt Smith.

Chicago 24-10.

GAME FOUR, JETS AT HOUSTON: Don't laugh, but the Jets have a legitimate shot of winning this game. Houston has a tendancy of playing down to their opponents, especially in the

In '87, they struggled by Seattle in a first round wild card game at the Dome, then lost at Denver. In '88, the Oilers got by Cleveland, then lost at Buffalo. In 1989, Houston was beaten in the first round by Pittsburgh in the Dome. Last year, the Bengals routed the Warren Moon(less) Oilers in Cincinnati

The Jets are brimming with confidence and have nothing to lose here. Look for them to come out with a looseness that could catch an uptight Oiler squad off guard.

With these scenerios, the Jets would play at Buffalo the following weekend while the L.A. Raiders would take on Denver. In the NFC, Chicago would play at Washington while New Orleans would play at Detroit.

LAST WEEKS OUIZ

The last time the Raiders and Chiefs met in the playoffs was in January, 1970. There, the Chiefs upset the Raiders 17-7 in the last AFL title game and went on to win Super Bowl IV against

That was also the last time the Chiefs have won a playoff game. John Madden was a rookie coach for the Raiders in 1969. Hank Stram was the head coach for the Chiefs.

The Chiefs and Raiders met in a divisional playoff game in 1968, with Oakland winning 41-6 at Oakland. That year, both teams finished 12-2 in regular season play, so the AFL determined that the two would play a playoff game to determine who would play the New York Jets for the AFL title. The Raiders, as mentioned, won the game and went to play the Jets for the title. Strangely enough, the game was played at Shea Stadium, even though the Raiders had a better record than the Jets in '68. The Jets won the game, 27-23 and, of course, captured Super Bowl III against Baltimore, 16-7.

FOR THIS WEEK

New Orleans and Atlanta do not have avery rich tradition in the -NFL playoffs. How many playoff games have the two teams won in their history? Who coached the respective teams when they won a playoff game? How far into the playoffs have the two teams

Straface OT shot leads Bucs

It turned out to be a test of character, and the Belleville boys' basketball team passed it with flying colors. Don Roll's team won a heartstopper over Ridgewood 64-62 last Friday afternoon in the season opener for both teams at Belleville High.

The Bucs were host to Don Bosco last Monday. The team will begin play in the Tri County Holiday tournament beginning December 26 at Queen of Peace High School. The Bucs will face the host team at 8 p.m.

As far as the Ridgewood game was concerned, Roll was thrilled with his teams performance.

"It was a big win, a confidence builder for our team," the coach said. "It should build momentum for us as the year goes on, hopefully in close games. Beating Ridgewood was also nice because they have such a fundamentally sound club."

The Bucs came out strong and took a 15-9 lead after the first quarter.

"We shot the ball real well in the early going," Roll said. "Defensively, we played man to man and it worked well in the first half.

Ridgewood narrowed lead to five points, 35-30 at intermission, but it was the third quarter where the Bucs lost control of the game, temporarily.

"Their guard (Mark Pedone) was outstanding," Roll said. "He couldn't miss. They applied an effective trap in the third quarter and suddenly, we were down by five points.

Actually, the Bucs trailed by three after three quarters, 44-41. Early in the fourth, Ridgewood increased its lead to seven, but the '91-92 Bucs showed its metal and

Key baskets by Kevin Johansen, Ken Johansen, Dennis DeWork and Troy Talmadge gave the Bucs a 59-57 lead late in the fourth quarter, but Pedone hit a shot with seconds remaining to force an over-Ridgewood held a one point lead, 62-61 in overtime when Buc guard Sal Straface drove the lane and converted a layup. He was fouled in the act and converted a free throw to give the Bucs a 64-62

Pedone had two chances to tie the game in the waning seconds of OT, but his shots fell short and the Bucs had won a big game.

"Our kids kept battling," Roll said. "We fell behind by seven in the fourth quarter, but this team

Troy sprained his ankle pretty badly in the fourth quarter of the game, but he managed to stay in the game and was effective. Dennis (DeWork) had a fine game and Kenny Johansen provided some key baskets. He's starting to come into his own after playing varsity ball as a sophomore last year." The coach also credited Kevin Johansen for hitting a big baseline jumper late in regulation time.

DeWork led the Belleville scoring attack with 21 points. Talmadge finished with 17, Straface scored 13, Ken Johansen had eight, Bryant Jiminez scored three and Kevin Johansen tallied two points. Pedone led Ridgewood with 32

As for Talmadge's injury, Roll was hopeful that the senior forward could play against Don Bosco last Monday.

"He turned it pretty good, but he feels he could play on Monday.

"This was a very physical game and I expect a similar type of game with Don Bosco. They play a tough game on the front line and we could use all our big guys for that game."

Orlando, Rykowski honored

By Mike Lamberti

With increasing numbers and good performances, the future of the Belleville cross country program looks promising.

Ten runners earned varsity letters this fall while two others gained IV letters

Of the ten varsity letter winners, only two will be lost to graduation this June.

"The team showed potential," head coach John Tosato said. "We have some athletes in which to Senior Rafael Ortiz led the Bucs in scoring with 30 points. Junior Christine Rykowski scored 29, Rachel Anderson, a freshman, had 26, Brian Orlando, a junior scored 22, junior Jennifer Citarella scored 18, sophomore Sung-Bok Lee tallied 17, Roger Hanos, a sophomore had 16, junior Kim O'Mara scored 13, sophomore Dave Luongo scored 11 and senior Cynthia Adams finished with ten points.

Orlando and Rykowski both earned NNJIL and Essex County honors, gaining Honorable Mention status from both venues.

Orlando and Citarella both earned medals at the Passaic Coaches Invitational and Rykowski was the only Belleville runner to win a dual race, when she placed first in the Barringer race. Citarella and Anderson both ran all 12 varsity races for Belleville.

Sophomore Wayne Zelna and junior Kelly O'Mara both earned JV letters this fall. Also gaining a varsity letter was the team manager, Anthony LaRocca.

The girls team finished 2-8 overall, defeating Barringer and West Essex. The team took seventh place in the NNJIL and placed 13th in the

The boys were winless in 11 dual races, but the team did defeat Teaneck in the NNJIL championship race. The boys finished 25th in the county race.

Paramus Catholic won the NNJIL title in the boys division while Immaculate Heart was the winner in the NNJIL girls division.

Indoor track team opens year with race at Queen of Peace

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville indoor track team opened its season last Saturday by competing in the Queen of Peace Invitational.

John Tosato's team turned in some good performances at Queen of Peace. Last Monday, the Bucs ran at the Fairleigh Dickinson University Invitational. This Friday, some of the Belleville athletes will take part at an invitational at Seton Hall University. On December 31, the Bucs will compete in the Minuteman Relays at Elizabeth.

Although it's indoor track season, the Queen of Peace race was held outdoors.

There was some ice on the track in the morning and it was pretty windy," Tosato said. "But our kids came through and ran well. We've been practicing indoors recently because of the cold weather. Mike Popovich (the assistant coach) has been doing a good job with the runners and the kids are coming around. We also had a very good turnout of athletes this winter.

43 runners and throwers are competing for the Bucs this winter. Against Queen of Peace, both the boys and girls teams finished seventh in their respective fields.

John Alvarado won a medal for his performance in the shot put. The junior had a personal best throw of 43'3 1/2" and placed third

The mile relay team of Anthony Caruso, Darren Lewis, Mark Veneziano and Steve Vogel did a tremendous job, placing fourth overall with a time of 4:09.9.

"There were some talented teams in that field," Tosato said of the mile relay. "Our kids did a good The 880 relay team of Lewis, Veneziano, Vogel and Matt

McGough finished sixth with a good time of 1:46,2,

The girls 880 relay team also did well with a time of 2:09.

They came within one second of breaking the school record," Tosato said.

The 880 relay team is made up of Vyen Pham, Deana Panico, Rachel Anderson and Jennifer Citarella.

Caruso finished fifth in the sophomore 880, with a time of 2:20.5. Citarella was third in the 55 meters (7.8) and Anderson finished sixth in the freshman 400 meters (1:19.9). Rounding out a good day was Christine Rykowski, who ran the varsity 1600 meters in 6:53.2.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

It's here! Belleville Recreation Wrestling is back, big time. The boys traveled to the first annual Passaic Valley Hornet's Tournament and came home with 21

Although early in the season, the wrestlers made an impressive showing.

Taking 1st place were Frank Zarro, Joey Cassera, Luke Cardinale, Dominic Raimundo, Jim Costa, Anthony Malanga, Mike Wallis, Dave Ilaria and Tim Hands.

Second place medalists were Mike Biase, David Paladino, John Fitzgibbons, James Smith, Chris Ranucci and Wayne DeSmet.

Third place finishers were Anthony Conte, Brian Cassera, Greg Ilaria, Mark Haverick, Karl Myers and Vinnie Cozzarelli.

The next tournament will be Dec. 29 at Middlesex. The Rec varsity championship team opens its regular season at home against Millburn on Jan. 4. Everyone is invited to come to the matches and support this fine team whose record over the last four years is 35-1, with three league champion-Coached by Ralph Cardinale and Lou Riccardi, the team is expected to do well again this year. The younger wrestlers are coached by Jerry Patrizio and Lee Hands (a former Belleville wrestling star).

Youngsters interested to sign up for recreation wrestling, can do so by contacting the Rec. House. Future articles will detail the dual matches and tournaments throughout the season. Look for

Coluccis, Berg gain spot

The Olympic Development Program of the NJSYSA announced the selection of its Northeast Area Select Soccer Team. The selection included three Belleville players, Joe Colucci, Nick Colucci and Jim Berg. Joe was named to the under 15 1/2 team, Nick made the under 13 1/2 squad and Jim gained a spot on the under 14 1/2 team.

The ODP program is divided into five areas; northeast, northwest, central, south and shore. Each of these teams will particpate in a series of instructionl sessions at the Bubble on the Rutgers University campus. These sessions will also include controlled scrimmages under the guidance of state coach Manny Schellscheidt, the ODP staff and Rutgers University head coach Bob Reasso.

The staff of the state ODP will be using these sessions/scrimmages as part of the evaluation process to choose the final roster of the state ODP teams. These teams will then participate in tournaments in New Jersey and out of state during the summer months.

Joe Colucci, a freshman at Belleville High, completed his first year of high school soccer under coach Gino DePinto. Colucci played freshman, JV and varsity soccer six on a Belleville Soccer Association (BSA) Division six traveling team. During the past 8 1/2 years, Colucci has played various positions, including goalie, defender and his present positions of midfielder and forward.

He began playing soccer at age

In 1990, he was named to the Jersey Hills Youth Soccer League under 13 1/2 team. Recently, he gained a spot on the JHYSL under 15 1/2 select team and he has been a member of the ODP Northeast area select team for the past two recently completed the fall season playing for the Devils of the BSA. He scored nine goals and assisted on 13 more in leading the Division 4A team to an undefeated championship season.

Nick began playing soccer at age five, on a BSA Division 6 traveling team. During the past 71/2 years, he has played forward and midfield. In 1990, Colucci was named to the Jersey Hills Youth Soccer League select team. In '91 and '92, Nick has been selected to the JHYSL under 13 1/2 select team.

Jim Berg, a freshman at Belleville High, competed for the Buc soccer team this fall. He played on the freshman and JV teams.

Jim began his soccer career at age seven, playing for the BSA. He plays forwward and midfield. Jim has been a member of the JHYSL under 14 1/2 select team. His most recent honor came on first tryout

All three Bellevilleites are looking for a spot on the ODP state
