

Kendall's resignation set for Sept. 9; no-fault departure to cost $40,000

By Howard Klausner

An agreement has been reached, but not formally approved, that would have Township Manager Bertrand Kendall resign immediately, receiving some $40,000 in payment. It would take effect at the next public meeting of the Council, Tuesday, Sept. 9.

The payment is required, apparently because the Council has no cause for dismissing Kendall. The four-member Council majority, led by Mayor Marina Perna, is insistent on dismissing Kendall, over the protests of the three-member minority on the Council.

Kendall reportedly has agreed to leave office within 24 hours of formalizing his resignation.

As of press time, there was no indication as to Kendall's successor, except that an interim manager would be appointed until the Council hires a permanent one.

On Saturday, Mayor Perna met with Democratic Chairman Chester Prosperi, Dr. Noonan and Jack Kelly, chief financial officer of the City of Orange. Mayor Perna reported edly was offered an opportunity to run for a seat in the State Legislature on the Democratic ticket, and Kelly was interviewed about the possibility of his becoming Township Manager.

Kelly, 34, is a resident of the Silver Lake district, living in the same house in which his mother was born. He is a graduate of Kean College and holds degrees in Municipal Finance.

He has been finance administrator in Orange for three years. He told the Belleville Times, "I would be flattered to be considered for the job of Manager."

Mayor Perna has not stated whether or not she would accept a candidacy for the Legislature.

The effect of replacing the manager would be to give the Council majority - consisting of Mayor Perna, Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd, Council President Dr. Frank Noonan and Councilman Charles Cerami - the power to find a Manager they would find acceptable.

Presumably, the next Manager would discharge the Township Engineer, Stanley Stires, the Town Planner, Robert Ringelheim, and other officials who have been named by Kendall.

Council majority members have argued that a Manager should come from Belleville, rather than from out-of-town.

Also mentioned as a possible Manager is Rosemary Senatore-Ciccone, now head of Essex County Community Development.

The Council majority has asked a resolution be prepared to make the posts of Engineer and Planner into part-time jobs, ostensibly for reasons of economy.

Minority Council members have argued that this is an attempt to ignore the Faulkner Act, which governs the Council-Manager form of government.

Allowing Kendall to resign would prevent a public hearing on the reasons for his departure.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce has announced plans for a public forum to discuss the actions of the Township Council.

'This town needs sense of unity'

Chamber plans public forum on actions of Town Council

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce has announced that it will sponsor a public forum on the actions of the Township Council, particularly the ouster of Township

Manager Bertrand Kendall.

Lou Paraboschi, President of the Chamber, said, "The Chamber feels that there has been a rift on the Council that is disturbing the move toward progress in this community. This town needs a sense of unity, and it is being lost."

They call for a public forum was seconded by the Washington Avenue Merchants Association and the Belleville Renaissance Committee.

Robert Reiser, President of the Washington Avenue Merchants

Association, originated the call for a public forum on the Council actions.

"So far, the public has been ignored on the issue of the Township Manager," Reiser said. "We think it would be good for all concerned if all the issues had a public airing. The public really doesn't have a clear idea of why the Council is acting in the way it is. Certainly, everyone should have a chance to give their reasons, and to answer questions."

Louis Cicenia, Chairman of the Belleville Renaissance Committee, said, "It is deplorable that the spirit of unity that Belleville was enjoying on Josiah Hornblower Day has been endangered by the controversy on the Township Council."

"We are getting too much about personalities, and not enough about the real issues, whatever they may be."

Reiser, owner of the Reiser Courier Service, said he believed it was time to hold a public forum, free of political restraints.

"We should be thinking of how to bring new businesses to Belleville, to reduce our taxes and increase our jobs," Reiser said, "and instead we are now involved in a squabble that damages the town's image."

Cicenia, owner of Charles Jewelers, also emphasized the damage done to the town by the dispute over the Township Manager.

"Here we are, trying to show how good the town is, and what a good place it is for business, and we are seen as reverting to the old days of political confusion. This is a disservice to the people of Belleville."

Paraboschi said that a date and a location would be announced for the forum, with the possibility it would be held in a large school auditorium, possibly at Belleville High School or at School Seven.

He said he hoped a disinterested organization, such as the League of Women Voters, would manage the forum.

Chief Kimble, Prosecutor, describe how police shot attacking car thief

James F. Mulvihill, Acting Essex County Prosecutor and Chief Raymond Kimble of the Belleville Police Department announced that a 17-year-old Newark youth, Romeo Marquez, was shot and wounded by members of the Belleville Police Department as he tried to run down three police officers with a stolen car.

In a joint release, Prosecutor Mulvihill and Chief Kimble stated that a Belleville resident phoned police at approximately 3:25 a.m. Sunday to report that his 1992 white Pontiac TransAm was being stolen from the vicinity of his home on Hill Street in Belleville.

A nearby Belleville patrol car was alerted, located the stolen car and began following it and a similar white 1992 TransAm. As the two TransAms, which were traveling together, proceeded east on Joralemon Street, two police cars stopped the first Pontiac near Joralemon at Union Avenue.

The police cars which stopped the first TransAm were occupied by Lt. John Mailot, Officer Dante Pasquale and Officer Patrick Goldrick. As the first white TransAm, driven by and registered to Jack Baptista, age 25, of Silver St., Hillside, and occupied by Helio DeOliveira, age 25, of Raymond Boulevard, Newark, approached the intersection, it was stopped by police who had exited their vehicles.

The second TransAm, which had been stolen from the Belleville resident and driven by the 17 year old Newark youth was occupied by a 16 year old passenger, also from Newark.

As the second TransAm approached the stopped vehicles, the driver of the stolen TransAm attempted to drive around the police cars and the stopped TransAm which were now blocking the intersection.

The driver of the stolen TransAm aimed the car at the three police officers who were standing at the southwest corner of the intersection.

As the driver of the second car attempted to run over the officers, all three officers fired a total of five shots at the driver of the stolen car.

The TransAm then rammed one of the parked police cars, backed up and rammed a pursuing Belleville police car occupied by two other officers as they were driving to the intersection of Joralemon and Union.

The TransAm came to rest after it rammed the first Belleville police car a second time. The driver of the stolen TransAm was arrested after a brief struggle with police.

The 17-year-old driver of the stolen TransAm was wounded in the chest, left wrist and head during the episode. He is in stable condition at University Hospital, Newark, where he was undergoing surgery for his injuries.

The 16-year-old passenger, along with the adult occupants of the other white TransAm are in the custody of the Belleville Police. Prosecutor Mulvihill and Chief Kimble announced that all four suspects will be charged with conspiracy to commit theft; burglary; theft of and receiving a stolen motor vehicle; robbery; and aggravated assault upon and attempted murder of five Belleville police officers.

Additionally, the 17 year old driver of the stolen TransAm will be charged with resisting arrest and eluding police.

Prosecutor Mulvihill said that his office will continue to investigate all the circumstances surrounding the shooting incident and all physical evidence including the motor vehicles involved will be turned over to the New Jersey State Police laboratory for examination.

In accordance with the Attorney General's guidelines on the use of deadly force Mulvihill indicated that this case will be presented to an Essex County Grand Jury for review. The Prosecutor emphasized that this is a routine practice in all cases involving serious bodily injury resulting from the discharge of firearms by police officers.

Chief Kimble announced that under the circumstances of this case his officers were entirely justified in employing the force necessary to insure their own protection and apprehend the suspects.

He noted that all persons charged with criminal violations are presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty.

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

The horrendous destruction in southern Florida caused by Hurricane Andrew is of immediate concern to many Belleville people, many of whom have properties there, or have friends and family there. One Belleville man whose livelihood has been affected is Vlnny Vitello, the auctioneer who travels the country selling off high value real estate and other items. He has been particularly busy as the economy has declined, with plenty of bankruptcy sales and repossessed goods to handle. When the hurricane struck, he was about to auction off 19 cars near Homestead and when he went to the spot a couple of days later to start the sale, there was nothing left to sell. Every one of the 19 cars had been swept away by the 150-mile-an-hour winds, and demolished by the forces of nature. ●●●● Vinnie's home is only a short distance away, but the force of the hurricane veered by just a compass degree, and left his home relatively unscathed. Others are receiving reports of people being four days without electricity, unable to pump water or use their bathrooms, and many have only the sky for a roof. ●●●●● We are reminded of a Bergen County automobile dealer, whose family had owned it under the same name since before World War I. The owner had an abiding passion, besides cars. It was the Florida Keys island, Isla Morada, which he considered the most beautiful and desirable piece of real estate in the whole world, urging friends and customers to build homes there, and he led everyone in investing there. Then came one of those occasional murderous Caribbean hurricanes, one that concentrated on Isla Morada, flattening the island and carrying everything movable out to sea. A few months later, the automobile dealership was sold, a delayed casualty of the hurricane. ●●●●● Technically, even Belleville is not immune from a major hurricane. The biggest one of the century to hit here arrived in 1938, killing hundreds of people on Long Island before hitting Manhattan and North Jersey, but the damage done here was minimal compared to what has happened in Florida. The American Red Cross and local churches are gathering emergency items for the people of the stricken area. ●●●●● A man-made demolition has displaced musician Jim Dasaro from his job. Jim provided music from his keyboard synthesizer at the posh Tullipano Restaurant in Cedar Grove. The restaurant is so successful that its owners have decided to tear it down and build a bigger version next to it. Fortunately for the people who follow Jim musically, the Branch Brook Manor, a top restaurant in its own right, has hired Jim to play on Friday and Saturday evenings, beginning the week after Labor Day.

We never did get the leather-jacketed and safety helmeted biker's name, but he had come to buy a part for his motorcycle from the Motorcycle Mall and he was reluctant to tell much about himself except that he was 78 years old, a retired Army man and a resident of Newark. He had taken up motorcycling some four years ago and it was now his only transportation - "It's the only car I can afford," he said. He said he was nursing a few grievances against government and bureaucracy, not the least of which was a $50 ticket for having an uninspected vehicle. "I couldn't find a part for my turn signal blinker," he said, "and they got me." When you have made it to 78, you can afford to be a little reckless, we suppose, but he appeared to display due caution amid the Washington Avenue traffic. And then he zoomed off. ●●●●● Belleville, incidentally, was one of the first towns in America to celebrate Labor Day. This goes back to the time of the Knights of Labor, the forerunner of the American Federation of Labor and this is one of the places where organized labor had its beginnings, shortly after the Civil War. The first Labor Day Parade was held in New York City in 1882, organized by Matthew Maguire a machinist from Paterson and Matthew McGuire a machinist from New York. They were both instrumental in having the day recognized by the United States Congress in 1896. The Knights were organized in Philadelphia in 1869. In the 1870s, workers in a Belleville laundry reportedly organized a unit of the Knights. This was the same laundry which imported Chinese workers and gave rise to Belleville's Chinese community, and the membership of the labor organization was interracial. When the laundry closed, the Chinese community moved to Newark and New York. But newspapers of a century ago reported and illustrated the celebration of the Chinese New Year in Belleville.

Golden Comments

By Jim Golden

It is called a "safe harbor" pension bill, but critics say legislation before the Senate could leave low-paid workers marooned in old age with only Social Security as their life preserver.

The provision, tucked into the Urban Enterprise Zone bill, would create a new kind of 401(k) savings plan that could help middle- and high-income employees save for retirement, but could be too expensive for lower-paid workers. The bill passed the House on July 2 and is expected to pass the Senate. The same provision was part of a tax bill Congress passed earlier this year, but President Bush vetoed it for reasons unrelated to the savings plan provisions.

Defined-contribution programs like 401(k)s are funded by both employee and company contributions and pass the investment risk to the workers, who decide how the money will be invested. These are replacing traditional defined-benefit pension plans because they are simpler for companies to administer and cost them less. The bill, if passed, could accelerate that trend, congressional aides and pension experts said. Workers who do not participate in the 401(k)s would be left with no pension plan at all.

At issue is something known as the discrimination test. Under current law, unless 70 percent of a company's lower-income workers sign up and contribute to the plan, higher-income workers either may not join at all or are limited in how much they can set aside.

The bill would allow employees to offer a 401(k) plan to all employees without having to sign up their lower-paid workers - even if the result is that nearly all the participants are more highly paid.

Proponents say their aim is to encourage savings among those workers who are most likely to use 401(k) plans. "The idea here is to try to get the middle-income people who make $35,000 to $60,000 to put something aside of their own money rather than consume every dollar they get paid," said a congressional aide. "The employer match is a powerful incentive." What about lower-paid workers? "Those folks are not going to participate in this program," said the aide. "They don't stay in their jobs long enough and when they leave they take the money," by cashing out of the retirement plan. "We are going to need to address that problem, but the current system is not doing it."

"We think it is a bad idea," said David Certner, an analyst for the American Association of Retired Persons. Certner said that the bill "decouples" lower-income workers from the program. "It is the same plan as the federal retirement plan and 60 percent of the low-income people in that don't contribute and some who do are probably second-income wage earners."

Karen Ferguson, executive director of the Pension Rights Center in Washington, said she expected the plan to be used by smaller companies to benefit their owners and highly compensated workers. "You have a small company with 10 people. The owner is president; his wife, vice president, and his brother-in-law, treasurer, and they have seven minimum-wage workers," she said. "He can offer the plan to everyone but if they can't take it, he and his family still can. Most minimum-wage workers can't afford this."

To qualify for the new plan, an employer would have to offer the 401(k) to all employees and agree to match the first 3 percent of employees' contributions, plus 50 percent of the next 2 percent. A worker making $20,000 puts 3%, or $600, into the plan and the employer puts in $600. If the employee puts in 5 percent, the employer would have to put in $800... that is more generous than most plans, it is common for employers to match half of an employees contributions, up to 6 percent of the worker's income.

If employees do not join the plan, or cannot afford to, the bill would let employers offer it to those who can. They could contribute the maximum $8,728 this year... This pension plan is called a threat to lower income employees.

OUR OPINION

The pendulum swings

The outpouring of the press and media into Belleville in the wake of an incident in which police were forced to shoot a suspected car thief shows how editorial opinion has finally caught up with the facts.

The last time the media was in town, the television reporters and the daily newspaper editors were here to convict the police of causing the death of a motorist in Elizabeth, during a high-speed chase of a car thief who had attempted to run down two police officers.

The Newark Star-Ledger ran a lengthy editorial and had an editorial page cartoon drawn to show the guilt of the Belleville police for recklessness.

Now, Channel 4 shows the front page of the Belleville Times with its headline: 'Cops nab 12 car theft suspects in one day'.

Now, they interview police officers for their views on how to cope with the epidemic of car thefts which now makes front-page stories in the Star-Ledger.

Now the emphasis is finally where it should be, on the car thieves who have used Newark's no-pursuit policy as a secure refuge from pursuing police from the towns that neighbor Newark.

Newark police have slain several car thieves who threatened their lives, and wounded others. In each case, city officials have defended the police actions.

But Belleville has been made the victim of snap judgment and immature comment. Television reporters said flatly that Belleville police had killed a woman driver, without any analysis of the tragic accident that occurred, and the dailies stated such things as a head-on collision had occurred in Newark, when there was no basis for this, to our knowledge.

It is good that public attention is finally focussed on the real problem - the complete lawlessness that has erupted, both among young people who seem to look on assaulting police as a sport, and among older car thieves who are stealing as a business.

Belleville police have become increasingly proficient at stopping these car thieves. They are doing so at the risk of their lives. They are diligent in defending their lives as the car thieves have learned to their dismay.

And now the time is overdue for the Essex County Prosecutor to clear the names of the two seriously injured Belleville police officers who nearly lost their own lives in pursuit of a man now indicted for homicide.

They were not the perpetrators of any crime. They were the victims.

They deserve immediate exoneration. Why don't they get it?

And incidentally, why do the television crews manage to turn up if there is a tragedy in Belleville, or better yet, a scandal, but ignore the visit of the Governor of New Jersey and the French diplomatic corps on an occasion such as Josiah Hornblower Day?

A forum is the right way

We strongly support the Belleville Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring a public forum on the direction taken by the Township Council.

The four-member majority does not like to be called a government within a government, but its actions bespeak a unanimity of purpose.

In vote after vote, the same decision is cast by Mayor Marina Perna, Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd, Council President Dr. Frank Noonan and Councilman Charles Cerarai.

In fact, in only one roll call did Mr. Cerami deviate from the majority, and apparently that was by mistake. He clapped his hand to his head when he realized how he had voted.

This doesn't mean that we expect the Chamber's forum to come to the same conclusions that we have about the Council majority.

It is quite possible that in an atmosphere outside of political controls or Council procedures, the members of the Council majority will make a case so compelling as to convince the public.

At the same time, the critics of their actions should have a chance to air their viewpoints.

And finally, we hope, there may be some meeting of the minds and a clarification of the issues.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Washington Avenue Merchants Association and the Belleville Renaissance Committee all share the concern that the impetus toward progress that seemed to be so prevalent as recently as Josiah Hornblower Day may be dissipated.

We do not want to go back to the days of discord and stagnation that preceded the change of government. The public has a right to be heard on so important a topic as its own future.

YOUR OPINION

A child's torment

To the editor:

My story begins approximately 2 1/2 years ago. My daughter received, for a Christmas gift, the Little Tykes Coupe. This car had been kept outside in an outcove section of where I live. About 1 month ago, we took the kids on vacation for 3 days. When we returned we found that my daughter's car had been taken. (For nearly 3 years this car had been kept there and nobody ever took it). In a way I guess, it was my fault for leaving it there. I will also go as far as to say that at the time maybe someone mistook it for garbage. However, I did not believe this for the car was not in front of the apartment for garbage pickup.

It was because of this reason that I did not report it to the police. I checked with my neighbors and my landlord and they said that they did not remember seeing it. My daughter was very hurt and cried and asked me why someone would, as my daughter said to me, "do this mean thing" and that God would punish them for taking her car. I tried to explain the reason why someone might have taken it was because they did not have one of their own; but how do you explain this to a 4 year old and that is a good practice.

For weeks every car that my daughter saw she thought was hers and wanted to take it home with her, but I told her that it wasn't right because that wasn't her car and that the little boy or girl that it belonged to would be hurt just like her.

Well, something good did come of this. My daughter saw the car as we were coming out of the apartment this morning to get into my car. It was in the same place that it was taken from. At first she was happy until she saw the condition of it. Again she cried and was very disappointed because of the condition of the car. The car was returned to the outcove sometime late Sunday night, Aug. 23rd after 10 p.m. From a car that was in fairly good condition, it was returned broken and partly ripped apart. It went from a coupe to a convertible. The yellow top of the car was "ripped" off; the key was "ripped" out of the dashboard; the red button for the horn was "ripped" out of the steering wheel. All the monograms were "ripped" off the car. In fact, I wondered if the car was really the same one that was stolen. Again she asked me WHY this happened. I could only tell her that person who took it felt bad and that they decided to return it to you. My 4 year old daughter told me that they decided to return it to you. My 4 year old daughter told me that tonight when we get home she will wash her car and clean it.

My daughter is very bright and she is learning, like most children to share and not to hate. After this incident, what do you think? I only wish that the person who took it would at least come forward to say that they are sorry for hurting my daughter's feelings and explain to her why they did this. I want to thank you for reading this and hope that you instill on your children that even if you can't have something doesn't mean that you take from someone else. My daughter told me that she would never share her toys again or trust anyone with her stuff.

I have been a resident of Belleville most of my life, but I am disappointed with society. We have misplaced our values and our priorities. Are we so wrapped up in our own problems that we forget or just do not see what or know what our kids needs are?

Sharon Connolly

Pellosie for Congress

To the editor:

Well I guess you have a reason for snubbing me. As a filed candidate for the 8th Congressional District, I do feel slighted that not race have you reached out to me for my position on any issue that has arisen to date. You have not even asked about that ridiculous tunnel which will totally change the water table in the area and spend (with our governments record) 10 times what is estimated. Will it bring jobs? Yes. Will it waste taxpayers money? Yes. However, what's another few million added to the 400 billion dollar deficit?

If I kept my business books the same way that the government keeps its books, I would be corresponding with you from a correctional facility.

You have not once mentioned the Independent Peoples Network, who are my supporters. These networks are comprised of Republicans, Democrats and Independents who do not want anymore of the "same old", and for that reason have decided to support me. Is this a Quixotic quest? Since this, as in all elections, will be money motivated (if I could only find a donor, indicted, convicted or otherwise who would give me $50,000 and never ask for a favor, I'd be much closer to Washington) and the proven high fund raisers of both parties are now the candidates!

You have not asked me how I feel about Campaign promises. A man can only be judged by his words and actions. If a promise is made, it should be honored. It should be grounds for impeachment if a politician does not keep a promise after election.

You have not asked me about my promises, and they are:

1. A maximum of 5 terms in office, and then out to let someone with fresh ideas continue the work.

The first bill I would introduce will be committee limitations. Naturally I know that you can never get Congress to vote itself out with term limitations, since most politicians have made a career of Government Service, (never say to me Public Service, not even at my retirement dinner 10 years from now. If you get paid, that's not Public Service, I don't even want to hear about the people who could make much more in the private sector, they are in government service for a reason, and power is much more important than money). However, we can limit Committee Membership time and stop the empire building power brokers who control Congressional Committees for their lifetime.

2. I will vote for the people, not for the record. Since I now have a good job and when I leave Congress I will still have a good job, I can afford to vote for the people, not for what the lobbyists tell me is best for them, or how my record will look later.

3. I will spend the majority of time in my district not in Washington, so I will know what the people want.

4. I promise never to propose "Politicians Legislation" which looks so good in the newspaper but really does no good for the majority of the people.

5. Since I will be beholden to no party I will truly be independent in voting.

• ACCORDING to a recent news item, Japan's solution to its stock market problems can be summed up by the maxim, "What you don't know can't hurt you."

In an effort to instill a measure of confidence in the stock market and keep investors from selling, Finance Minister Tsutomu Hata said last week that, among other things, financial institutions would be permitted to withhold negative financial news from the public. Though he has no power to enforce it, Mr. Hata also told financial institutions not to sell stocks on which they can still record a profit until after the fiscal year ends September 30. The strategy appears to be working. Though the stock market lost about 60 percent of its value in the last three years — more than the American market lost in the three years after the 1929 crash — it staged a comeback last week that was so strong it seemed as if the market was on steroids. The Nikkei climbed 12.8 after Mr. Hata's remarks and closed the week at 16,216.88.

• MINDLESS deregulation led directly to the greatest financial debacle ever recorded — the savings and loan collapse — which will cost taxpayers an estimated $500 Billion. With the unnecessary collapse of the Nutley Savings & Loan, it cost taxpayers an estimated $50 Million.

• COUNTY EXECUTIVE TOM D'ALESSIO was a big hit last Thursday with his annual old fashioned barbecue at his shore home in Manahawkin. The turnout was bigger than last year's. And the weather was perfect.

• A CLAIM that jockey valets have been threatened if they organize a union, at the Meadowlands Racetrack and Monmouth Park sounds like a bum rap.

Armando Fontoura

• ESSEX COUNTY SHERIFF ARMANDO FONTOURA has called upon George Bush and Bill Clinton to address the problem of illegal drug abuse in the United States.

In Fontoura's opinion, the issue of drug use in the United States should be a topic for a separate debate. Fontoura stressed the use of heroin and crack cocaine is up, and children as young as 12 and 13, some armed, are among those arrested routinely for dealing drugs in Essex County. Underscoring the urgency of the problem, Fontoura comments, "This is an epidemic that is only getting worse. We are losing generations of kids to this poison. Federal resources must be targeted to rehabilitation, treatment, education and enforcement as well."

• BECAUSE of an act of the Republican Legislature, prescription cost for senior citizens has increased 150 percent. The basic subsidy is supported by the Atlantic City casinos. Because of the kindness of the Republicans sitting in Trenton, the senior citizen prescription cost jumped from $2 to $5.

being one of the best school systems in the state of New Jersey. The disagreement over the question of staffing third grade classes at Spring Garden School does not diminish or tarnish the peerless reputation of School Superintendent Jim Fadule. With each passing year, I am more certain that Nutley taxpayers and parents were fortunate to have an educator of the quality and class of James Fadule as the professional leader of our educational system. Nothing has happened to change my opinion. The problem at Spring Garden School requires cool minds not hot pens. The situation requires accommodation not confrontation. Even the most perfect person may be mistaken or wrong once in a while. No one to my knowledge has ever questioned Dr. Fadule's motivation. It should be beyond question, and the current controversy requires reasonable people to find a reasonable solution to solve a stalemate. The sooner the better.

• A WORD about tradition — it preserves the past and enriches the present. Traditional values was the battery at the Republican Convention in Houston, Texas. One of the delegates attending that convention was Nutley's Jim Piro who happened to be one of the key players when Nutley's tradition was violated at the reorganization of the newly elected town commissioners.

• EVEN before the presidential election battle is resolved, already 36th Legislative District Republicans are concentrating on a Republican Primary ticket with Passaic City Assemblyman Paul DeGaetano selected to oppose incumbent Republican Senator John Scott of Lyndhurst. Scott's friends tell us that they are gearing up for a potential Primary fight despite their belief that Scott should seek re-election unopposed in the Primary. Scott is confident DeGaetano would be a pushover.

High School sets dress code and regulations

Student Dress Code

It is the purpose of this Dress Code to promulgate a positive self-image and pride in school among our students. Their health, safety and educational well-being are the primary objectives of this code which bears a reasonable relationship to the goal of fostering an environment conducive to discipline and to education.

Specifically, clothing which is ripped, holey and/or soiled is inappropriate school attire. Undergarments are required. Shirts must be buttoned. Shoes which grip the toe and heel must be worn at all times.

The following are considered inappropriate school attire:

1. Clothing that is too tight so as to inhibit movement and/or cause classroom distraction.
 2. Off-the-shoulder, strapless and spaghetti-strap tops, dresses or jumpsuits.
 3. Mid-riff (cut-off) shirts that expose the chest and/or abdominal area(s) of the body.
 4. Garments with pornographic messages. No hats or cosmetic headress (boys and girls).
 5. Skirts shorter than mid-thigh or longer than mid-calf lengths.
 6. Shorts that are extremely tight and too short. The only style of shorts permitted are those which are loose and to the knee in length.
- Students who commit dress code infractions will be referred to their appropriate vice principal for administrative action.

tee, comprised of parent, faculty, student and administrative representatives, will convene several times during the school year for the purpose of reviewing specific garments presented by students for approval as appropriate school attire. However, administrative decisions will prevail pending all Appeals Committee ruling.

A. Based upon a school year of 180 days, absence of more than 16 days in a full year course or more than 8 days in a half year course will not be permitted, and will possibly result in a loss of course credit and/or course removal. (Unexcused days)

B. The parent/guardian and student will be informed of the student's absence after the fourth absence in a half year course and the eighth absence in a full year course. No other formal attendance notification shall be sent to the parent. The parent/guardian, however, is further alerted of his child's attendance record by the way of report cards and progress reports.

C. Upon receiving attendance notification of his child's attendance record, the parent/guardian is urged to contact the respective guidance counselor so that all options and consequences may be explained. The parent/guardian is also urged to schedule a conference with the respective administrator.

D. On the eighth absence in a half year course and on the sixteenth absence in a full year course, a registered letter to the parent/guardian will be sent by an administrator. This letter shall inform the parent/guardian that his child, because of unacceptable attendance, shall be placed in a non-credit status and/or be removed from all classes. The parent/guardian shall also be informed of the appeal's procedure and is requested to meet with school officials at this time.

E. Extenuating circumstances resulting in prolonged absences may be brought before the appeals board, i.e. lengthy hospitalization or prolonged illness at home when under a doctor's care would be considered as extenuating circumstances. Medical excuses are required within five (5) school days of the 14th absence if medical excuses have not been previously submitted. Also, pertaining to a semester course, medical excuses are required within five (5) school days of the 7th absence if medical excuses have not been previously submitted. Failure to comply with this policy will result in the application of the attendance policy.

F. Credit will be withheld from a half year course upon the fourteenth (14) absence, regardless of any excuse. Credit will be withheld from a full-year course upon the twenty-eighth absence regardless of any excuse.

G. When a student exceeds the pre-determined number of school days absent, a certified letter is sent to the parent. An Appeals Board Hearing may be requested within five (5) days of receipt of certified letter.

H. When a student is placed on a non-credit status, he/she will continue to attend all scheduled classes. If the student demonstrates disruptive behavior in the judgment of the classroom teacher, he/she will be reassigned to study halls. At this time, the option of summer school will not be permitted.

I. Student participation in a co-curricular or extra-curricular activity on the day of his absence will not be permitted.

Special circumstances should be brought to the attention of the appropriate vice principal for any exception to this policy.

Join Operation Uplift . . .

Peoples Bank recently boosted the efforts of the Belleville Renaissance Committee by making a significant contribution toward Operation Uplift. This project was undertaken by local community leaders and business people to bring recognition to the contributions of Belleville toward the industrial revolution in the United States, as well as to help the community restore its deep-rooted heritage of innovation and greatness.

But Peoples Bank, which has served the Belleville community since 1921, didn't stop there! Peoples also pledged to donate $5.00 toward Operation Uplift for each new personal checking, savings, certificate of deposit and money market account opened at any of its three Belleville offices, with funds from another financial institution, between now and September 4, 1992.

A Bonus For New Depositors . . .

Pamela Callus to wed Stephen C. Mulhearn

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Callus of Wayne announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Christine, to Stephen Christopher Mulhearn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mulhearn of Belleville.

The wedding is planned for June 5, 1993. The couple are alumni of Montclair State College, Upper Montclair.

Pamela Callus — Stephen Mulhearn

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Campolattaro Jr. — nee Karen Kiss

Karen Ann Kiss married to Victor Campolattaro Jr.

Karen Ann Kiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Kiss of Bloomfield, and Victor Campolattaro Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Campolattaro of Newark, were married June 27 in Sacred Heart Church, Bloomfield. The Rev. Danik performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at The Manor, West Orange.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an off-the-shoulder mermaid gown. A crystal and beaded headpiece held her veil and she carried white roses, stephanotis and babies breath.

Linda Kiss of Bloomfield was her sister's maid of honor. Maryann Moffa of Fairfield was bridesmaid. Flower girls were Diana Moffa of Fairfield and Dana and Lia Campolattaro of Nutley.

They were in frosty mauve teal length dresses with silk flower combs in their hair and carried pink mini-carnations and pink asters. Joseph Moffa of Fairfield was best man. Bruno Kiss Jr. of Bloomfield ushered and Anthony Campolattaro of Lyndhurst was ringbearer.

Mrs. Kiss chose a gold lace suit edged in rhinestones. Her wristlet was of champagne roses. The groom's mother, in a black beaded dress, had a wristlet of red roses.

Mrs. Campolattaro, an alumna of Bloomfield High School, is a secretary with ABB Simcon, Bloomfield.

Mr. Campolattaro, a graduate of Barringer High School, Newark, and Lincoln Technical Institute, is an environmental test equipment specialist with ITT Avionics, Nutley.

The couple honeymooned in California, Hawaii and Las Vegas and have made their home in Belleville.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

For a good portion of this summer, I've been pretty critical of the baseball season. You know, games are too long, the quality of the game has declined, etc, etc.

Well, last Saturday, ABC-TV aired a game that had plenty of excitement, even if the score was one sided. There were a few tense moments, but overall, the enjoyment of watching baseball superceded the fact that the game was one sided.

What made the game interesting was the players gave it their all, there weren't high priced, unmotivated athletes who didn't seem to care. Instead, these were younger players, hungry to win and determined to play their best.

And believe me, when I say younger players, I mean young. The oldest player on either squad was 12. Yes, the Little League World Series was contested last Saturday when a team from Long Beach, California took on a group of players from the Philippines. And when it was over, the Philippines had won convincingly, 15-4.

But there were a few exciting moments. The U.S. trailed 8-0 in the last of the third, but rallied to load the bases with two outs. The next hitter blasted an opposite field grand slam homer, slicing the lead in half.

It gave the American fans reason for hope, but the Philippines came back in the next inning to score five runs and put the game out of reach.

It was just nice to see baseball played by those who truly love the game, mainly the kids. Perhaps the professional players might learn a few things from them.

Speaking of pros, Kirby Puckett of Minnesota has said he will test the free agent waters at the end of the season. Good for him, there's no reason why he shouldn't see what the market will offer.

But Kirby, be quiet with the "I have to see what's best for my family" routine. You're making over $3 million dollars this season to hit and catch a baseball. You will easily make more than that for the next three years or so, regardless of whether you're a Twin or play for another team.

Spare the public with this ridiculous line about getting the respect you deserve and all that other baloney. You're playing baseball, get back to reality.

N.F.L. PICKS

The NFL opens its regular season this Sunday. (Thank goodness!) Anyway, let's take a look at the various games.

49ERS AT GIANTS: Always a good matchup. The Giants should be better prepared than they were last week in the pre season finale at Pittsburgh, but the Niners have more firepower. San Francisco 24-10.

BENGALS AT SEAHAWKS: A battle of two teams going no where this season. The home field advantage should be the difference here. Seattle 23-14.

BROWNS AT COLTS: Another game where both teams aren't expected to do much in 1992. Both clubs do have young talent and good coaching should add to drastic improvement over '91. Indy 17-16.

CARDINALS AT BUCCANEERS: This had better be an improving year for the Bucs. Phoenix is a good early season club. Tampa Bay 31-24.

CHIEFS AT CHARGERS: A good upset prediction. San Diego will be home, with a new coach and probably a big crowd. Kaycee is a good Super Bowl pick this season, but San Diego gets the nod here. San Diego 27-24.

JETS AT FALCONS: Okay, the Jets were undefeated in the pre season. They won't be so lucky in a loud Georgia Dome. The Falcons will be sky high for this one. Atlanta 31-10.

LIONS AT BEARS: A good old time rivalry. Home field should be the advantage here. This could be one of the day's best games. Chicago 23-20.

RAIDERS AT BRONCOS: Always a classic. Many people are picking either Denver or L.A. to make the Super Bowl as AFC champ. This could be a good early season test for both teams. L.A. 30-28.

RAMS AT BILLS: Rams have to travel 3,000 miles just to be trounced. It's a homecoming for Chuck Knox as he returns to Buffalo coaching the Rams. This one could be over early. Buffalo 42-10.

SANTS AT EAGLES: I'll be in Philly to see this one. The Eagles need it, big time. Randall Cunningham makes his return after missing all of the '91 season with a knee injury. If Eagles can't get up for this game, they could be in for early season let down. Philly 27-17.

STEELERS AT OILERS: Houston should dominate this one, especially in the House of Pain. Pittsburgh will be competitive before the season is over, but Houston is the better team here. Houston 31-14.

VIKINGS AT PACKERS: Minnesota outscored its opposition 140-6 in the pre season. How much will that matter now that the regular season is upon us? Very little. I like Green Bay to win this one in a mild upset. Green Bay 20-17.

REDSKINS AT COWBOYS: (Monday Night Game). Big "D" will be louder than normal for this early season war. Look for Dallas to score early and then hold on for a win. Dallas 27-23.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The Jets and Giants have split six regular season games. The Jets won in 1974, 1981 and 1988. The Giants prevailed in 1970, 1984 and 1987. The '70 game was played at Shea Stadium and the '74 contest was held at the Yale Bowl. All other games have been played at Giants Stadium. Webb Elwanak coached the Jets in '70 and Charlie Winner was the coach in '74. Walt Michaels coached the Jets in '81 and Joe Walton led the team in '84, '87 and '88.

For the Giants, Alex Webster was coach in '70 and Bill Arnsparger led the team in '74. Ray Perkins was the coach in '81 and Bill Parcells led the way in '84, '87 and '88.

FOR THIS WEEK

Recently the Kickoff Classic held its tenth game at Giants Stadium. What were the matchups for the first nine games? Who won those games? Did any of those winners ever go on to win the national championship that season?

SPORTS

Leads way in Decathlon

Citarella clears 1,000 points

By Mike Lamberti

The 1992 football season is officially underway at Belleville High School. Last week, the team took part in the annual decathlon and 16th year head coach John Senesky was pleased with the results.

"The kids did a good job," the coach said. "There was a lot of enthusiasm and the off season conditioning camp was very beneficial. The players have been looking forward to the start of the season."

The Bucs will face a very rigorous schedule this fall. Among the teams on the schedule are Paramus Catholic, Bergen Catholic, St. Joe's of Montvale, Nutley, Hackensack and Randolph. The game with Randolph, one of the most powerful teams in the state over the past four years, will be played at Randolph in October. It is the first meeting, ever, between the two schools.

The Bucs open the regular season on Friday evening, September 25, at Doc Ellis Field when Don Bosco comes to town for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff. Belleville plays five of its nine games on the road this season, including five of the first seven games.

The decathlon is a series of ten events that tests the players strength, speed and agility. The ten events include the quarter mile run, half mile run, mile run, husker agility drill, solum jump, 20 yard shuttle run and four weight lifting events (clean, push press, squat and bench press).

As usual, the four weight lifting events determine a players power index. The power index measures a players strength against his weight. An index of 5.0 or better is considered outstanding, meaning a player has lifted five times his weight.

This year, senior linebacker Mike Citarella had the highest power index, finishing with an outstanding 6.25. Citarella's numbers featured a clean of 205 pounds, push press of 235, squat of 405 and a 280 pound bench press. Overall, Citarella lifted 1,125 pounds.

Phil Avello led all lifters this year with 1,140 pounds cleared. Avello had the highest squat (435 pounds) among all players.

Robert Dena a junior lineman, lifted a total of 1,095 pounds while John Alvarado, a senior running back and defensive back, lifted 1,060 pounds.

Alvarado had the best clean, at 225 pounds. Dena led all players in the push press (255 pounds) and Citarella led the way in the bench press at 280 pounds. Others who excelled in the bench press include Avello (275 pounds), Alvarado (255 pounds), John Kuebler (265 pounds) and Rich Romano (245 pounds).

While Citarella led the way with a 6.25 rating, 14 more players finished with scores of 5.0 or better. Alvarado was second overall with a rating of 5.57. Others who finished at 5.0 or better include Avello (5.18), Ricky Constantino (5.08), Romano (5.44), Anthony Caruso (5.48), Sam Marino (5.61), Sal Benardi (5.07), Joe Costanza (5.12), Jorge Hernandez (5.0), Dave LaBar (5.1), Ed Miranda (5.09), Spencer Schred (5.42), John Spina (5.19) and Artie Settembrino (5.03).

In the overall decathlon score, Citarella led all players with 1,080 total points. Citarella was the only 1,000 point scorer this year, but seven players achieved scores of 900 or better and eight Bucs scored 800 or better.

Among Citarella's accomplishments in the decathlon, in addition to his weight lifting accolades, were a 1:12 in the quarter mile and a .656 mile.

Belleville grad was twice player of the year

Spilsbury concludes marvelous career

By Mike Lamberti

To this writer, the memories of Jeff Spilsbury are of a gutsy quarterback of the Belleville Buccaneer football team from 1985 through '87.

There was Spilsbury, playing his first varsity game as a sophomore in the waning moments of the '85 Passaic game.

There was Spilsbury, guiding the '86 Bucs to a 6-3 record and more importantly, leading Belleville to six wins in its last seven games after starting out 0-2. It was Spilsbury's roll out passing in game three against Montclair which led the Bucs to a 21-20 upset win and turned that season around.

There was Spilsbury perfecting the "showoff" pass to Jim Dunphy. Another memory of Spilsbury is catching a T.D. pass at Paterson Kennedy off an option throw from Dunphy. There was Spilsbury leading the Bucs to a victory over Nutley in '86, snapping a two game Raider winning streak in the series.

In '87, Spilsbury led a frantic drive downfield in the waning minutes of a game at Ridgewood. In the final seconds, with Belleville trailing 12-7, Spilsbury threw what appeared to be the game winning touchdown to Jay Marchese, only to see the official rule Marchese trapped the ball in the end zone.

Subsequent films of that play clearly showed that Marchese had made the catch cleanly and Belleville should have prevailed 14-12.

What the films also showed was that Spilsbury faced a tremendous rush but still got the pass off to Marchese. Better officiating would have made that moment one of the best in Spilsbury's career.

Spilsbury, a 1988 graduate of Belleville High, was a tremendous athlete. While his football career was quickly profiled, it is his baseball career which draws attention today. After graduating from Belleville, Spilsbury received a baseball scholarship at Iona College. Four years later, he has completed a fine career on the collegiate level.

Spilsbury, who played varsity ball at Belleville from 1986-88 and played for three varsity coaches (Ralph LaConte '86), George Zanfil ('87) and Nick Grande, was a standout infielder for the Bucs. His fine all around play continued at Iona.

This past season, he led Iona to the ECAC championship game. In order for the Gaels to advance to the title game, the team had to play a rare triple header. After beating Hartford and the University of Vermont, Iona had a 20 minute break before taking on Delaware for the title.

The Gaels led 3-1, but Delaware rallied to win in the late innings and advanced to the NCAA Regionals.

For the season, Iona finished 23-19. Spilsbury was named the MAAC South 1992 Player of the Year for the second straight year.

Buc running back Ricky Constantino, seen here during 1990 game at Teaneck, will be one of key players on '92 team. Constantino will be a senior this fall.

John Alvarado (16) and Mike Citarella (56) take a break during game at Teaneck back in 1990. Both men excelled in recent power index during annual decathlon last week. Citarella led all players with 1080 points in the decathlon.

club include Settembrino, Marino, Anthony Frantantoni, Caruso, Constantino, Berardi and Spina. Those players scoring between 800 and 899 points include Romano, Brian Harvey, Jason Christy, Schwed, Mike Maundy, Hernandez and Costanza.

With the completion of the decathlon, practice is now underway.

"We handed out helmets and shoulder pads," Senesky said. "We're starting slowly, but this week we'll be having two a day practices."

The coach noted that interest in football is back in force at Belleville. "The numbers are up. We have

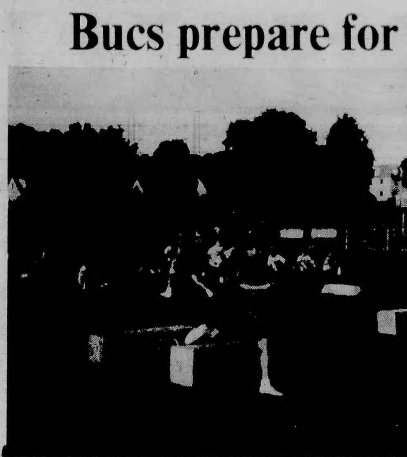

All applicants/players must furnish:

Spilsbury stars at Iona

After the season, Spilsbury played in the annual all star game at Yankee Stadium featuring the college all stars from New York against their counterparts from New Jersey. For the second year in a row, Spilsbury was named the starting second baseman for New York.

There was one disappointment in 1992. The Belleville native was passed up in the Major League draft this June, but Spilsbury regrouped and helped the Verona Twins advance to the finals of the Essex County baseball league.

For his collegiate career, Spilsbury hit 362 with 15 homers, 111 RBIs, 29 stolen bases, 37 doubles, seven triples and 149 runs scored. He had an on-base percentage of .487 and collected 201 hits. In 555 at bats, Spilsbury struck out just 43 times.

In 1991, he hit .422, which was good for 24th in the entire nation for Division I players. Also in '91, Spilsbury was a region first team all star, an All American nominee and the MAAC South Player of the Year.

Spilsbury certainly has plenty to be proud of. Most importantly, he represented his schools in a class manner. He left his mark in a most positive way at Belleville High and at Iona College.

Whether his future holds a career in sports, or in the private sector, you can be assured that Spilsbury will do the job to the best of his ability. He doesn't know any other way.

Klein vows to protect Social Security

Herb Klein, the Democratic candidate for Congress in New Jersey's Eighth Congressional District, marked the anniversary of the Social Security system recently by promising to protect the system from any future budget cuts. He also vowed to work for a national health care system that would protect senior citizens who cannot afford health insurance.

"We owe a debt to citizens who have worked all their lives to make America great," Klein said. "It is an outrage to see Americans who have given so much to this country haunted by the specters of poverty and inadequate health care."

Klein said that it was vital for Congress to become more sensitive to the plight of older Americans living on fixed incomes. "Under no circumstances will I allow the Federal budget to be balanced on the backs of older Americans," he added. "Because of the recent drop in interest rates, many senior citizens are finding it increasing difficult to survive on their modest savings. They need every dollar they can get just to survive."

This is especially true for senior citizens who cannot afford adequate health care, Klein noted. "Health costs are currently rising 12 percent per year, and there is no end in sight. Last year, more than 300,000 New Jersey residents did not go to a doctor when they were sick, primarily because they could not afford it. If we continue to do nothing, living standards for hundreds of thousands of senior citizens will continue to decline."

Klein said that he favors a "single-payer system" of universal health insurance under which a person's eligibility would not depend on whether he had a job. Under this system, the delivery of health care services would remain in private hands, but the financing of health care would be managed by the government. Doctors and hospitals would submit their bills to a single agency for reimbursement.

"The single-payer system would eliminate a tremendous amount of confusion in our nation's health care system," said Klein. "It would also allow us to set a national health care budget that would give us a handle on controlling spiraling health costs."

Klein criticized his opponent, State Senator Joe Bubba, for failing to endorse a national health care plan. "Bubba clearly does not want to deal with this issue," he said. "Last year, in fact, Bubba abstained from voting on a bill that would have provided for a non-binding referendum concerning the enactment of a national health care plan. I think it time he took a stand, one way or the other."

1993 graduates compete for federal science scholarships

New Jersey high school students, who excel in science, mathematics or engineering, who will graduate in 1993 and plan to begin college next year may apply for federal scholarships, the Department of Education announced today.

Twenty-eight scholarships are available in New Jersey under the National Science Scholars Program, created by Congress to recognize student achievement in the sciences, mathematics and engineering.

Students may receive scholarships of up to $5,000 each. To be eligible, students must:

- graduate from a public or non-public secondary school or obtain a General Education Development (GED) certificate during the 1992-93 school year;
- excel in science, mathematics or engineering;
- plan to attend a college or university in 1993-94;
- plan to continue their studies in science - other than the medical and allied health professions - mathematics or engineering; and

• be citizens or permanent residents of the United States.

Candidates for the National Science Scholarships must send their applications, postmarked by Sept. 23, 1992, to the New Jersey Department of Education. The department will review applications and nominate at least four students in each of the state's 14 congressional districts.

There will be a White House review of the nominees, and two scholarships winners will be selected in each congressional district after consultation with the U.S. Department of Education and the National Science Foundation.

Applications are available from local public and non-public high schools and from the N.J. Department of Education's Bureau of Curriculum and Technology, CN 500, Trenton, NJ 08625.

For more information about the program, call the bureau at (609) 984-1971.

Spillane sets victory party

The Friends of Tom Spillane Committee will sponsor a "Victory Cocktail Party" on Sept. 11 at the Chandelier Restaurant to help meet the legal expenses incurred by the Councilman when he went to court to validate his election from the Second Ward.

Louis Messano, Chairman of the event, has requested a donation of $50 payable to "Friends of Tom Spillane," care of Louis Messano, 219 Holmes St., Belleville, N.J. 07109.

"The purpose of this event is two-fold, to celebrate Tom's hard earned victory and to offset the post election legal expenses," Messano said.

Pharmacy Footnotes

KEEPING A HIGH PROFILE

The local pharmacist often represents a patient's best chance of avoiding potentially dangerous drug interactions. This problem may occur when a patient takes two or more drugs that are not compatible. Dangerous drug combinations may arise when two doctors prescribe different medications for different ailments for a single patient. In such cases, it is the patient's responsibility to inform each doctor about any medication(s) that the other(s) is prescribing. When this precautionary measure fails, the pharmacist can catch the problem by reviewing the patient's drug profile. This record of a patient's past prescriptions and health conditions can assist the pharmacist in spotting the potential for a negative drug interaction at the time a prescription is to be filled.

Keeping track of a patient's medication is just part of the full prescription service we handle at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved and provide free delivery. Stop by our gift department for a full selection of items. Commode, toilet and baby seats are also handled. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm. Enjoy the long holiday weekend. If you are traveling please be careful driving.

HINT: Pharmacists, more so than physicians, know how drugs affect the body and one another.

Think About These Tips A Kid's Reading Guide

When we read, we often say that the "wheels are turning."
We have put some reading tips inside a wheel.
These are things to think about when you are reading at home or at school.

Good readers don't use all of these skills or strategies. But they always use at least some of them.

Add a brad and a pointer as a guide to which thinking skill you are using.

A Kid's Guide for Parents A Reading Rap

Please read to me every day,
And listen to what I have to say.

I am also going to really need,
Lots of good stuff for me to read.

Good readers are usually found,
In homes with books and newspapers around.

I will also do just swell,
If you will read a lot as well!

If you set an example by reading too,
I'll learn it's the smart thing to do.

On reading I will really get hooked,
If we go to the library and get me booked!

Please take me out into the world to see
There's lots to do besides watch TV.

Cut out and paste the wheel onto cardboard.

The Mini Page Guide to Letter Sounds

Here's one strategy to help you learn to read.

Use these guides to help you sound out and decode words. You can use them as a chart to hang up in your room.

Place these bookmarks right next to what you are reading.

When you come to a word you don't know, match the letter with the letter in the guide.

Then look at the picture and say the word to get a clue to the special sound that letter or letters usually make.

New Jersey Republicans return home with a sense of fight

By Bill Gruver

The New Jersey delegation to the Republican National Convention in Houston had some of the best seats up front close to the podium. The delegation's leader, former Gov. Tom Kean, was eager to shout for President Bush and other speakers. Arriving in a mist of gloom and despair while the polls showed Bill Clinton ahead in all the polls and unemployment higher with each passing week, those delegates hoped for some up-lift.

They got their wish. In the four days, which the Democrats could have been shortened to three or two, Ronald Reagan, Pat Buchanan, Barbara Bush provided reasons why Republicans could win on experience, trust and family values. Republicans believe the quest for the family vote is critical this year. Democrats agree but see the American family in different ways.

President Bush made it clear that the GOP-held pro-life is the view of most people on the abortion issue. Bush says that moral tenets are critical. The Bush speech provided the ammunition GOP workers needed to go into battle this fall. The attacks made on Hillary Clinton were calculated to draw the contrast between Mrs. Clinton and Barbara Bush. The GOP was saying, "Don't forget when you vote for Clinton, you also get Hillary."

The New Jersey Speaker Chuck Haytman sounded the call for a "new Republican spirit in our state. We have the ears of the people and we represent their will." Many of the state's GOP leaders are banking on the low esteem now held by incumbent Gov. James Florio as a help to their campaign.

The delegation had the older and newer generations of Republicans. Senate President Don DiFrancesco, one of the new leaders. Veteran Congress members Marge Rokuma and Dean Gallo.

Broadway Bound Theatrical and Dance Center

The Broadway Bound Theatrical & Dance Center in Lyndhurst is another step closer to being the number one "performing arts" training facility in the tri-state area. Broadway Bound founders, directors and owners, Paul Kastl and Maureen Cavanaugh, have been involved in every aspect of theater. From being performers in countless musical hits on Broadway to theatrical producers, this husband and wife team really know musical-comedy production and how to teach it!

"That's what we're all about," says Maureen Cavanaugh. Paul and I have been through it all and experience is a great teacher. Without it, it's difficult to not impossible to properly prepare students for what is to store for them across the Hudson River.

"Regardless of whether a student wants to become a Broadway performer or just take dancing, singing or acting for the fun of it, a good solid technical foundation is critical! All of our students feel good about what they have accomplished by the end of the year," says Paul Kastl. They learn confidence.

Right now, Broadway Bound is getting ready for its Fall Registration and Open House on Sept. 2, 8 and 9, from 4 to 7 p.m.

In addition to registration for lessons in dance, vocal, musical-

U.S. Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady led the debate over the economy on the floor and in a number of interviews. Brady said that a tax cut would probably be offered and it was Brady wouldn't comment on rumors, spread throughout the convention, that he would be dumped for a Bush second term.

But Brady was an effective worker for Bush and evoked a sense of pride among New Jersey delegates. Talked to two delegates involved in major regional election campaigns who took the Bush message for their bids for office. Passaic County Freeholder Walter Porter says, "President Bush reflects our area's concern about the quality of life. He represents what our voters want and will be helpful to my campaign. He has given us the programs we need this year."

State Senator Joseph Bubba, GOP Congressional candidate in the 8th CD, a seat vacated by Bob Row, argued Democrat Herb Kline. "Bush is mainstream where I come from. He has the experience people demand of their elected officials. I have always been a consistent Bush supporter and will be so again this year. We are going to confound the experts and win what many thought was only a Democratic district because of George Bush."

Even the usual soft-spoken Tom Kean says, "My blood gets stirred in this kind of campaign year. This party includes people and that will win for us."

A very spirited GOP delegation left Houston knowing the odds were still not on their side. But New Jersey is very much an unpredictable state that could go either way.

The New Jersey Republicans are not now low in spirit and will join Bush in a planned series of Bush campaign tours of the state this fall. He has been invited, as has Dan Quayle.

It is uncertain who can carry a state so devastated by the recession.

The GOP is clearly the underdog, but as we Bush in 1988. Don make any bet just yet.

The convention shows the feelings of those who carry the campaign burden. Those are the people who go to conventions.

DID YOU KNOW?

Love the look of lace? It's not hard to create your own glamour boudoir with reasonably priced bed linens and assorted lace from the trimming store. Stitch trims to edges of pillow cases and sheets.

And more lace... machine-made paper lace enables you to transform plain shelves and closets.

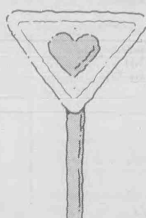

All outdoor circuits should be fitted with ground fault interrupters—people protectors that detect certain dangerous conditions and shut off electricity so fast that no one gets hurt.

Easy cleanup while you sleep: pour a half cup of vinegar into a sturdy plastic bag and fasten it securely around the shower head. In the morning, remove the bag and run the shower a while. Acidity of the vinegar will clear away mineral deposits that clog shower head holes.

It takes imagination to use forks and spoons as door handles and drawer pulls—and a decorative focus -- on kitchen cabinets.

It takes imagination to recognize the right house for your family. We'll help you find it at Century 21 Stamford Agency, 86 Union Ave., Nutley. Call 235-9000.
