Republicans take Belleville in record turnout

George Bush may have lost the White House, but he will always find a home in Belleville. Bucking the state and national trend, a record 87 percent turnout of registered voters gave their majority vote to President Bush.

Belleville also endorsed Senator Joseph Bubba for Congress, and voted Yes on every Constitutional question.

"They were pushing the lame, the halt and the blind into the polling booths," Belleville Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood. "All the parties were doing it. We never had such a turnout in my memory."

Teh vote for President was 6,257 for Bush, 4,852 for Governor Bill Clinton and 1,840 votes for Ross Perot.

The vote for Congress in the Eighth District, in Belleville, was 5,277 for Bubba and 4,465 for Herbert Klein.

The totals do not include absentee ballots, yet to be counted.

Mrs. Hood stated that more would have voted except for inexplicable errors in registration procedures which may have cost scores of voters their franchise.

"Registration sheets were simply not delivered, or were missing. The lineup for the hearing before a County Judge for permission to vote was two hours long. Many people just gave up and went home."

Voting ran strong through the morning hours, despite a heavy rain, and continued through the afternoon and into the evening, until the 8 o'clock closing of the polls.

Veterans Day Parade steps off this Sunday with more than a thousand marchers in line

Heavy armor and motorized units of the 50th Armored Division will be featured in this year's Belleville Veterans Day Parade, Sunday, as special tribute is paid to the veterans of World War II.

More than a thousand marchers are expected to take part in a tradition that probably dates back to the Civil War, and may well go back to the American Revolution, as this town which has given of itself to every war in American history pays tribute to those who served in the Armed Forces.

Grand Marshal John Freda, a Navy veteran of World War II, is Grand Marshal.

Robert Browning is Parade Chairman. Both Freda and Browning are members of American Legion Post 299.

Parade units will line up on Greylock Parkway at 1 p.m. The parade will begin at 2 p.m., moving down Greylock to Bell Avenue and then turning onto Washington Avenue, past the reviewing stand at the Municipal Building.

The first marching division will consist of the Belleville Police Department, the Belleville Fire Department and the Belleville High School Band.

Dignitaries scheduled to march with the first division include United States Senator Frank Lautenberg, State Senator John Scott, Assemblywoman John Kelly, Assemblywoman Marion Greco, Mayor Marina Perna, Deputy Mayor Mario D'Amico, Councilman William Cook, Councilman Tom Spillane, Councilman Jim Messina, former Mayor Mike Marotti, Township Attorney Robert Giordano, Patrolman's Benevolent Association President Peter Prone, Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association President Jack Willie, Fire Chief Walter Beresford and Detective Anthony Wiemers.

The second division will be led by Marshal Freda and Chairman Browning. It will include the Jersey Coast Sound Senior Drum and

Grand Marshal John Freda

Bugle Corps of Jackson; the Color Guard of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2619 of Roseland-Caldwell; District 4, VFW; Belleville Post 275, VFW; Cedar Grove Post 6255, VFW; Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps High School Drill Team of Lakewood; and Company B, 113th Infantry Battalion, 50th Armored Division.

The third division will include the Melrose Black Hawks Senior Drum and Bugle Corps; American Legion Auxiliary Unit 70 of Nutley; Essex County American Legion Auxiliary; American Legion Post 140 of Millburn; American Legion Post 209 of Union County; the 40-and-8 Essex County Chef de Gare; American Legion Post 499 of Rahway; the National Commissioner of The American Legion; American Legion Post 219 of Plainfield, and the Newark Police Mounted Squad.

In the fourth division will be Bushwackers Senior Drum and Bugle Corps; Italian-American Veterans Post 7 of Belleville; the Korean War Veterans Association; a representative of the Republic of Korea; the State President of the Korean Veterans of America; the Green Beret Color Guard of Belleville; vehicles of the 50th Armored Division, East Orange Armory, and the Float of the Picatinny Arsenal of Dover.

The fifth division will include the Chiefs Drum and Bugle Corps; the Belleville Irish American Society; Belleville Knights of Columbus 835; Mount Carmel Knights of Columbus; St. Mary Knights of Columbus 2346; the Belleville Cub Scouts; the Belleville Recreation Department Twirlers and Cheerleaders; the New York Transit Police Band; the Admiral Farragut Academy Drill Team of Sea Girt, and the Weequahic High School Drum and Bugle Corps under the direction of Otis Brown, which will play a review of colors ending the parade.

High lead content found in town's drinking water

By Howard Klausner

Belleville Health Officer Tom Luongo has told the Belleville Times that the Health Department urges families living in the Valley and Silver Lake areas to run their drinking water in the morning for five minutes, to get rid of dangerous lead deposits that accumulate overnight in their water pipes.

"The lead level is high enough to be dangerous to children one to five years old," Luongo said.

"It is caused by the lead pipes installed many years ago to carry water in the older neighborhoods. Today's pipes are copper lined and present no danger.

Homes in newer neighborhoods have the copper lined pipe.

Luongo said that the older lead pipe system is being replaced at the rate of five percent a year. "It's impossible to replace it all at once," Luongo said.

Luongo's remarks came after a work session of the Township Council where he and a representative of the Suburban Regional Health Commission discussed the efforts to reduce water and air pollution in Belleville.

Luongo said there was "one major source" of air pollution in Belleville, but he declined to identify that source.

He reported 67 investigations of air pollution reports in Belleville in the past year.

The Commission represents 14 communities in Essex and Hudson Counties, and is funded by contributions from each town. Belleville pays $8,000 a year for the commission's services, which augment those of the Department of Environmental Protection and Energy.

Luongo noted that continued reductions in funding of the DEPE were reducing its function to "administrative," leaving field work to the towns and the Commission.

"There has been some improvement in the quality of air in Belleville over the past 10 years, but air pollution can come from many sources outside the town. It's a regional problem," Luongo said.

Former manager responds in print

Doc Noonan pursues Bert Kendall even into the Millburn newspaper

Council President Dr. Frank Noonan has attacked the Council Manager form of government in a letter printed in The Item of Millburn and Short Hills. The letter brought a response from former Belleville Manager Bertrand Kendall, who was criticized - but not named - in the Noonan letter.

Millburn is considering the adoption of the Council-Manager form of government.

"We have had a disaster in Belleville," Dr. Noonan wrote.

He described the appointees of the Township Manager as "dull people who could not get the same job anywhere else."

He wrote of the former manager, "He treated our town treasury like it was his own little 'kitty.'"

Charging that the former manager had brought Belleville to financial ruin, Dr. Noonan summed up the results as: "Our stadium is ruined, many of our most beautiful trees have been cut down and in streets the potholes are so wide and deep that you can pick up stones and dirt when you go over them. In order to get rid of the manager, it cost us $40,000."

Kendall's letter of response stated, "The two years he described as a 'disaster' were described as years of great progress by the Belleville Times. If Doc Noonan was right, why did all three incumbents running as supporters of the Council Manager plan all get re-elected in May 1992?"

Kendall described Dr. Noonan as a "Jekyll and Hyde character (who) resides in Clifton (he calls it his summer home) but makes Belleville pay for the education of his three children.... The last thing Millburn voters need is advice from a career politician in Belleville (or should it be Clifton?)."

First Daughter visits on the eve of Election

By Howard Klausner

Dorothy Bush Koch, the attractive daughter of President George Bush, visited Belleville in the hectic closing days of the campaign, accompanying Senator Joseph Bubba as he campaigned for election to Congress.

Using a bus in which the public relations staff and the Secret Service provided a full load of passengers, Mrs. Koch (pronounced Cook) met with reporters and visited the Municipal Building.

It took a while for local Republicans to assemble. Notice of the visit went out only the previous night. But by the time the entourage was ready to go, a reasonable-sized crowd had gathered.

Mrs. Koch is the mother of two and a resident of Maryland. Her husband is an official with the Wine Institute. No, she had never been near Belleville in her life.

She spoke shyly at first, and then more easily as both Bubba and Belleville Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood introduced her to the working staff of Town Hall.

She told the crowd that now gathered at the Town Hall steps to send Joe Bubba to Washington to help her father enact the program he planned for the next four years.

Then the visitors went off to await the verdict of the voters.

Aside From That

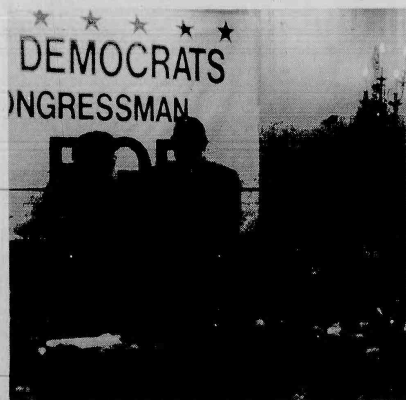

By: Howard Klausner

Sister Margherita Marchione doesn't know it, but she is the Foster Mother of the movement to have Belleville recognized as Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution. We met S.D. Sister Margherita in 1976, at a time when we were editing a couple of newspapers in West Milford and when we were also producing a talk show on WOR-TV, Channel 9, called The Jersey Side. The Sister was brought to our attention by none other than John Bruno, the sometime grantsman for Belleville who at that time had a public relations firm. • • • • • The Sister was, and still is, a member of the Religious Teachers Filippini, domiciled at Villa Walsh in Morristown. A scholar and an author, Sister Margherita was promoting a cause. She was seeking recognition of the place in history of Philip Mazzei, a native of Italy who came to America before the Revolution and became a friend of many of the future leaders of the nation, including Thomas Jefferson. Mazzei, we believe, is credited with originating the phrase, "All men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights..." which became a cornerstone of Jefferson's Declaration of Independence. Mazzei took part in the Revolution and supported the idea of democracy both in America and in Europe. As time went by, his name almost became lost to history, until Sister Margherita discovered him and devoted herself to reviving his reputation.

Meeting Sister Margherita was an adventure in itself. A breathless, enthusiastic woman who moved like a bundle of nervous energy, a woman who loved to laugh as well as exhort, she came to our office with a fascinating display of knowledge about Mazzei, his life and times, and about the scholarly world in general. It seems she was also a teacher at Fairleigh Dickinson University and a student of politics and social phenomena. She was also a bit forgetful, because she had left the engine running in her, and then locked herself out of it, while she met with me. A West Milford police sergeant came leisurely to the rescue, giving us the impression that rescuing teaching Sisters from their locked cars was an old story with him. Sister Margherita then came on the show as a guest, and had a wonderful time. So did the viewers. And we understand that her appearance led to some funding which helped further her promotion of Mazzei. The United States Congress passed a Resolution recognizing his stature as an American Patriot instrumental in the founding of the Republic, and both Italy and the United States issued stamps in Mazzei's honor. Today, Sister Margherita has an office in the Philip Mazzei Research Center at the Villa Walsh, there is a Philip Mazzei-Thomas Jefferson International Award presented in Florence and research is being done here and abroad on Mazzei and the Revolution. It was what Sister Margherita had accomplished for Philip Mazzei that spurred our own efforts to win federal recognition for Josiah Honblower and the arrival of the Steam Age in America, with Belleville as its birthplace. We have reached the point of a Resolution going before the United States Congress. We hope Belleville will have the same success as Sister Margherita, who, of course, may have obtained some help from a Higher Authority.

Golden Comments

Everyone except the very rich is hurting. We're in the longest recession since the Great Depression squeezed by stagnant or declining incomes and assets. Most Americans feel the country is seriously off on the wrong track, and 6 in 10 think the economy is getting worse. Most feel worse off than they did four years ago and believe that immediate prospects aren't good.

Think about it: When a nation cuts back on new factories and new machines, as America has, and when investments as a percentage of GDP drops to the lowest level since World War II, in part because of the Reagan-Bush deficits, industry has fewer higher-paying jobs to offer. Now comes the stunner: Fewer Americans hold jobs in the private sector today than they did when George Bush took office in 1989, promising to create 30 million jobs in eight years.

In the 1980s, younger laid-off blue-collar workers could look forward to being re-employed. In the bad '90s, 70 percent of the jobs lost in manufacturing have been white collar and many are gone for good. When these white-collar workers do get jobs, they often are at lower pay — one reason why the jobless figures understate the current crisis. This double whammy of declining income and lower status is scaring many people.

We now see our children graduating from college facing an economy that is not generating jobs. Businesses are running scared. They are firing, not hiring. The next stage might be a further downward spiral of consumer demand, which would mean more job losses, exactly what happened in the 1930s. The great American job machine has broken down. Who can best fix it?

Not George Bush. What are fiscal conservatives to say of a president when the deficit soars from $150 billion to $350 billion and government regulations increase by 26 percent on his watch? Then there are the flip-flops: "No new taxes. Yes, new taxes. I didn't mean it. It wasn't my fault. There is a recession. We're coming out of the recession." Mr. Bush's new 1 percent solution is a throwback to discredited trickle-down economics — $2,000 in tax breaks to the $200,000-a-year earner and only $400 to the $40,000-a-year earner. Meanwhile, throwing billions of taxpayers' dollars out the window of his limousine wherever he stops on the campaign is not a recovery bang but a bribery whimper. This will not do.

Ross Perot, the Scarlet Pimpernel of the campaign, would get the economy moving. The only trouble is that in the short term the movement would be backward. His long-term austerity program of tax increases and spending cuts would wipe out the deficit in five years. This is the right approach, but doing it in the depths of a slump would mean a budget balance of a ruinously low level. The misery index would soar.

Bill Clinton's program would attack the recession and reverse some of the inequities bred by Reagan-Bush tax benefits for the rich. He would put $80 billion over the next four years into an infrastructure that a crumbling America needs. More and more economists are recognizing this approach as a way to fight the unemployment problem, for such investment would have a powerful multiplier effect as it rippled through the economy. But the Clinton approach does not deal with a deficit that has gobbled up 75 percent of all net savings in the 1980s, a deficit that is widening in the face of runaway national health-care and debt-interest costs.

The most interesting approach comes from a group headed by Sens. Sam Nunn and Pete Domenici. In effect, they propose to restructure the tax code by taxing consumption and creating tax incentives for savings and investment. This represents the kind of dramatic break from the past that the country needs, for it recognizes not only the need to control the deficit but the need to reorder our fiscal and tax priorities... Clinton-Gore may be whistling a better tune than Bush-Quayle, but they are still whistling in the dark. It's time to end these lousy tunes and get real before the budget crisis collapses our economy... That is why this election is so critical.

Kiwanis adds first woman member; Grace Purdue, civic leader, joins

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville recently installed civic leader Mrs. Grace Purdue as the first woman member of the club.

She was introduced to the club by Past President John Iannuzzi.

Mrs. Purdue is a former member of the Belleville Board of Education and has long been active in civic and social affairs.

This is a milestone in the history of the Belleville club which was chartered in 1955.

Treasurer Nino Bucciarelli expressed the hope that Mrs. Purdue will be a "trail blazer for the local residents or employees of local businesses who would like to become active in community service."

Mrs. Purdue said she would like to be assigned to committees, and as a club member, she participated in the Kiwanis-sponsored Belleville High School Homecoming and half-time ceremonies on Oct. 16. Homecoming is an annual Kiwanis-sponsored community event.

Third Ward Civic Awareness Association hosts meeting

On Oct. 21, more than 175 Third Ward residents attended the Civic and Awareness Association meeting which was held at the Knights of Columbus on Bridge Street.

Chief Ray Kimble, Deputy Chief Mike Pettillo, Richard Reid of Newark Crime Prevention, Council President Frank Noonan and Third Ward Councilman Tom Spillane attended the meeting.

The meeting was chaired by School Board President and Third Ward resident Patricia Pisano.

The meeting, which lasted two hours, allowed third ward residents the opportunity to ask questions. The turnout by third ward residents indicated their willingness to get involved and make a difference in their community.

Deputy Chief Pettillo said, "This was one of the biggest crowds he had seen at a meeting in 20 years."

As all of the third ward residents did not have an opportunity to ask questions and participate, the committee will schedule a second meeting in the near future.

Members of the committee include: Michael and JoAnn Nahirny, Richard and Patricia Pisano, Bernard O'Connor and Kevin Kennedy.

Members of the committee can be reached at 759-1202.

The Association is looking for a monthly meeting place, free of charge, that could accommodate 100 persons. Anyone with information on a possible meeting place should contact the Association at 759-1202.

County initiates leaf removal program

Essex County Executive Thomas J. D'Alessio recently announced the County's annual leaf removal program is underway for the 1992 leaf-fall season.

"To tackle the problem of leaf removal," said D'Alessio, "we will continue to divide the county into four sections and schedule our pickups according to the timing of the leaf-fall in each area."

"For example, the higher, cooler areas in the northwestern part of the county generally experience the earliest leaf-fall. Therefore, we will begin our pickups there," D'Alessio stated.

There will be at least two pickups in each quadrant of the county. The first collection will remove leaves that are not compacted and will be accomplished by vacuum equipment. The second collection, which is traditionally the heaviest, will require the use of trucks and front-end loaders.

D'Alessio emphasized that the county's leaf collection program is intended for street leaves only. Residents should not pile leaves from their property on county roads for collection, since such action would be in violation of a county resolution No. 34001 (42276).

"A team effort between county forces and residents will make this year's leaf removal a success," according to Vincent W. Phillips, Assistant County Supervisor of Roads, Division of Roads and Bridges. "Attention to the schedule will assist all concerned, by maximizing the collection effort and minimizing the time leaves are piled along our roadways. Remember — street leaves only and keep other debris out of the leaf piles.

This slows pick-up and can damage our vacuum equipment. Pile your leaves so as not to obstruct existing street drainage or motorist/pedestrian visibility. Be safe and be careful as you work by the side of any traveled roadway."

Any questions about the county's leaf collection program should be directed to the Highway Maintenance Section at 239-3366.

Quadrant Three: Includes all roads north of Park Avenue and east of Orange Road and Grove Street in the municipalities of Belleville, Bloomfield, East Orange, Glen Ridge, Montclair, Newark and Nutley.

The first pickup will be Nov. 9-13. The second collection is scheduled for Dec. 21-25.

OUR OPINION

The long shadow of F.D.R.

Four years ago, Belleville voters had a choice between Republican Pete Dawkins and Democrat Frank Lautenberg for United States Senator. On the same tickets were Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis, Democrat, versus Vice President George Bush, Republican, for President.

In 1988, Belleville voters rejected Democrat Dukakis and supported Republican Bush, supported Democrat Lautenberg and rejected Republican Dawkins, splitting their votes pretty much the way the rest of New Jersey did.

It takes no great fund of wisdom to realize why Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt swept Republican Herbert Hoover out of the White House in 1932. There was something called the Depression, for which Hoover became the scapegoat, if for no better reason than that he was President when the economy collapsed in 1929, and was not able to rectify the situation.

It cannot be said with any certainty that F.D.R. ended the Depression, but he did mitigate the worst effects of it, getting people off breadlines and into welfare offices, and using the opportunity for some social engineering which is still benefiting the nation.

If you wonder why the Stock Market Crash of 1987 wasn't followed immediately by a Bank Panic and the shutdown of industry, as happened in 1929 and 1930, it was because of the safeguards installed by the New Deal in the Stock Market to prevent over-speculation.

If you wonder why the $100 billion dollar wipeout of the savings and loan industry did not wipe out the Republic immediately, it was because of the insuring of deposits which was enacted under the New Deal.

Only an aging minority of voters in today's Belleville remember Franklin D. Roosevelt, but there is enough of vestigial memory to remind most of us that the social fabric of the nation was preserved by the legislative and administrative acts of the Roosevelt Administration.

So most Belleville voters consider themselves Democrats.

At the same time, there is still a conservative sensibility among people who have become property owners, home owners and taxpayers. The government they regarded as a protector has now become the government that spends their money for the less privileged, and arguably, the less deserving.

Ronald Reagan was able to come on the scene spouting the Roosevelt vocabulary about the Common Man, and at the same time denouncing the Welfare Cheat, and those who had forgotten, or never known, the time when federal checks were the difference between hunger and survival, bought the Reagan line.

And in 1980, blue collar workers who had good jobs on assembly lines or elsewhere in heavy industry, equated the Civil Rights legislation of the 1960s with street crime and threats to their neighborhoods and their jobs.

And 12 years of Reagan and Bush were to increase that debt to $4 trillion.

Americans were sold a bill of goods, enjoying a prosperity built on borrowed money rather than on productivity, and in time the assembly line jobs drifted away, and the Republicans were left to offer Family Values as a salve to the public.

The Democrats won the national election with a flawed candidate. On every personal level, save one, George Bush was clearly the better man. He had risked his life for his country. He had been a devoted family man. He had earned a reasonable honest living from the oil industry.

But he was a man who had no recognizable set of values. From denouncing Reagan's "voo-doo" economics, he went on to embrace them in order to become Vice President. He appointed nonentities to the courts and called them the best jurists available. He was an opportunist whose luck had finally run out.

Faced with the very real results of 12 years of deficit spending, he had no real answer, except that the System would right itself. This was tragically close to the position that had been taken by Hoover, 60 years earlier.

The public turned to Clinton, not because he is any less of an opportunist than Bush, but because he represents a change of policy, a decision to attack the economic problems rather than to ignore them.

The real reason for the Clinton victory is something that requires no great wisdom to understand. It is something called the Recession.

We hope it will not become as disastrous to President Clinton as it did to President Bush.

YOUR OPINION

A successful year

To the editor:

Thanks to your sponsorship and support, I had another successful year in sports, winning a total of 10 gold, eight silver and four bronze medals in various competitions.

I won five gold, seven silver and four bronze medals against sighted competition. In blind competitions, I won five gold, one silver and one bronze medal on the national and international levels.

At the National Championships in Muncie, Ind., I won national titles in the javelin and discus events.

In Barcelona, Spain, thanks to your support, I was fortunate enough to have won a gold medal in a pre-Paralympic World Blind Javelin Competition. In the Paralympics, which involved 94 countries and over 4,000 physically disabled athletes from around the world, I won a silver medal in the javelin, a bronze in the discus and took fifth place in the shot put.

Following these accomplishments, I learned that during my international career, I am the only blind thrower ever to have won medals in all three throwing events in both the World Championships and Paralympic Games.

I was proud to be a member of the U.S. Disabled Sports Team, which won more medals than any other country in the Paralympic Games. The U.S. Blind Track and Field Team, consisting of 27 athletes, won a total of 16 medals, seven gold, six bronze, setting four world and 12 national records.

Again, thank you for helping me show others through sports that obstacles in life are simply challenges to be overcome.

Richard Ruffalo

Nahirny's thank you

To the editor:

Thank you to Third Ward Councilman Thomas Spillane, Councilman-at-Large Frank Noonan, Belleville Police Chief Ray Kimble, Belleville Deputy Police Chief Michael Petrillo and the more than 125 residents of the Belleville's Third Ward who cared enough to come out to the Third Ward meeting on Oct. 21, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The two hours we spent listening and talking with all of you helped us realize there are a lot of people around us who are as fed up as we are with what's happening in our area of town. It also brought us to an even greater realization that we must take back our ward from those who come here to do nothing more than make life miserable for those of us who have no choice but to live out our everyday lives here. There is strength in numbers, and if we work together, we can make a difference!

We hope all of you who attended signed up to participate in the neighborhood watch program, as we did, and will really become actively involved in ward improvement programs. There is no excuse for not doing your share. We all work; we all have children. We all have other commitments. But we are community!

We hope the civic and political leaders who attended also listened carefully to what the Third Ward residents told you about the problems we are experiencing here. We are willing to help you — but you must help us. You are our leaders; it's not the other way around. We helped put you in the positions you are in because we want you to represent us responsibly.

Take your cues for plans of action from what transpired on the evening of Oct. 21. That should be your political agenda! Keep in touch with us — your constituency. Consider us to be your clients. Schedule meetings like this every other month or each quarter to keep us informed and hear what's on our mind.

The standing-room-only meeting was a great start! But any good relationship involves ongoing talking and listening. Good communication is a two-way street! Now that the ward is up and running, let's be sure to keep the avenues between our elected and paid town and ward leaders clean and open!

Mr. and Mrs. Michael & Jo Ann Nahirny

Thanks from Christ Church

To the editor:

We at Christ Church would like to thank everyone who helped to make our Fall Fair a big success this year. We could not have done it without the vendors and patrons who came out to support us.

Bridges, old and new

To the editor:

We parents always get a thrill when the birth of one of our offspring is announced in the press, as occurred three weeks ago for the Bridges. Ryan Joseph Bridges was born at Clara Maass Medical Center on Sept. 9, information which made its way into the Times a few weeks later.

I had not seen the item in the Stork Club when it appeared, but rather was informed by friends. Ultimately about 25 friends brought it to my attention, more out of curiosity than congratulations. Their salutations ran something like: "They made a mistake, right?"

Indeed, the Times did make a mistake. It printed that Ryan Joseph was our first child, a fact which caused no small controversy among my acquaintances. As someone who has worked on newspapers for a long time, I have no problem understanding how such things occur and I don't think you should consider this letter a complaint. But, for the record, Ryan Joseph is my fifth child, the second by my present wife. That will explain my friends' incredulity but it should also focus on the importance a local newspaper has in the lives of those who read it.

• SHERIFF ARMANDO FONTOURA is opposed to proposals for the legalization of cocaine, heroin and marijuana. In the statement made last week, Sheriff Fontoura observed, "Recently proposals have surfaced that call for the legalization of cocaine, heroin and marijuana which have also chastised current drug enforcement efforts. Everyone can agree that the so called 'war on drugs' has been more than an uphill battle. But, I strongly dispute that the answer lies in decriminalization and submit that legalization of drugs would produce dangerous consequences."

Sheriff Fontoura has more than 25 years of experience in law enforcement. He knows better than most of us the best answer for fighting the illegal trade in cocaine, heroin and marijuana.

• IN my 26 years with the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission, many things have happened, and in the process, I have met many persons who contributed to some of the more important happenings. Among the most important developments at the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission was the partnership formed with the Hackensack Water Company which enabled the residents, commerce and industry of northern Jersey to obtain 80 million gallons daily of some of the purest water in America.

One of the persons who most contributed to the success of the marriage was former Hackensack Water Company president Walter Lucking. Before coming East in 1973 to take over the presidency and the chief executive post at Hackensack Water Company, Mr. Lucking was president of Arizona Public Service Co. based in Phoenix.

After a brief hospitalization, Mr. Lucking died at age 78.

During the negotiations between North Jersey District Water Supply Commission and Hackensack Water Commission, as the then chairman of North Jersey, it became necessary for me to meet with Mr. Lucking who was president of Hackensack Water Company. A finer person in business or private life I have never met. The word, "gentleman" could have been coined for Mr. Lucking. A man of impeccable integrity, what you saw was what you got. He molded his engineering background with common sense, and that combination produced an extremely competent businessman. In his passing, I feel a personal loss.

• ATlast Sunday's annual Nutley County Committee/Democrat Club Breakfast, principal speakers, Congressman Robert Roe and former Congressman Joe Minish, called upon Mayor Carmen Orechio to seek the New Jersey Senate seat that he had held for 18 years.

When legislative redistricting put former State Senator Gabe Ambrosio in the same district with Senator Carmen Orechio, to avoid a Democrat Primary fight for the seat, one of the two incumbent senators had to make a decision to step aside for the other. Two years ago, Senator Orechio stepped aside for Ambrosio who lost to Republican Senate candidate John Scott.

One Halloween night in 1983,
I had a cat as black as could be.
He sat on a fence waiting for kids,
Watching and purring as he did.
They frantically came down the street,
House-to-house to trick-or-treat.
Their costumes were ghostly, pale, spirits with puzzling faces,
That roamed about mysteriously to many places.
I heard frightening howls, moans and groans too!
As they crept up to the house to do what they do!
My cat was searching all around,
There was no candy to be found!

Aiding wind's victims

To the editor:

The Belleville Music Parents Association would like to take this opportunity to thank those people who donated to our Hurricane Andrew Relief Drive, for their generosity and their concern. The drive was a success and we were able to send a good deal of needed materials to Florida. Our thanks, also, to Treasure Island Stores for their cooperation in sending a truck to pick up the boxes of supplies.

We would also like to take this opportunity to thank the many parents and friends who signed up as members during our recent membership drive. At last count, we have over 220 people who are interested in supporting the Belleville music program. We look forward to doing great things for our kids with this kind of support. Anyone interested in joining can do so by sending $3 for a single membership or $5 for a family membership to Belleville Music Parents Assoc., c/o Belleville High School.

We do it for the kids and their music!

Kiwanis thanks you

To the editor:

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville wishes to express their appreciation to all of the organizations from the township and school who assisted us in making the "Homecoming" a success. Thanks! Without you it would not have been possible.

To the King, Mike Citterelli, the Queen, Isabel Santos and the Court, Tara Slattery, Sue Ann Battista, Sal Baskie and Ricky Constantino — congratulations! It was our pleasure to sponsor this event and to provide the U.S. Savings Bonds which were presented to each of you. May they remind you not only of the excitement of the evening, but, of the many happy days spent at Belleville High School.

To the members of Kiwanis, thank you for your support and cooperation. I was happy to see so many of you in attendance at the parade and at the football game.

I look forward to working with all of you again next year.

Legalized pot?

To the editor:

Recently proposals have surfaced that call for the legalization of cocaine, heroin and marijuana. The proposals have also chastised current drug enforcement efforts.

Everyone can agree that the so-called "war on drugs" has been more an uphill battle. But I strongly dispute that the answer lies in decriminalization and submit that legalization of drugs would produce dangerous consequences.

Studies have shown that decriminalizing drug use only increases the number of substance abusers and has failed wherever it has been implemented. Other countries have tried this bankrupt approach and have since abandoned it. In fact, when England moved in this direction, heroin use shot up 30 fold. Also, in the early 80s, relaxed drug laws in Spain led to increased usage of cocaine and heroin. Health costs, crime and violence, loss of employee productivity, and human suffering all rise under a permissive drug use program.

This is clearly a movement that poses a social, health and safety threat to society. Why would we want to create more addicts and crack babies?

As a police officer for over 25 years, I feel enforcement is definitely a deterrent. New Jersey has some of the toughest anti-drug laws in the land. Our Sheriff's Department's Bureau of Narcotics alone, makes over 1,500 arrests each year. Despite increasing arrests and seizures, we know it's not enough. But while recognizing the system and the way we fight the drug problem needs to be changed, I offer a far less radical and sensible approach.

Along with tough enforcement, we must concentrate our energies upon reducing the demand for drugs and provide treatment to those who are drug abusers. Many experts agree that far too little of the resources dedicated to fighting the drug problem are focused upon prevention and rehabilitation. In fact, over the last 12 years, less than one third of the federal drug budget was spent in these areas. Furthermore, fewer than one third of the nation's heavy drug users have treatment services available to them.

We know that heavy drug users are responsible for most of the country's drug-related crime, contribute heavily to rising health costs, and that 20 percent of the nation's drug users consume 80 percent of the cocaine and heroin brought into the country.

Alarmingly, it has just been reported that nationwide the number of people entering hospital emergency rooms due to cocaine and heroin related problems is up over 12 percent this year compared to last year. Also, a recent national survey shows that drug use by school children has increased after several years of decline. This is occurring despite the doubling of federal spending to combat illegal drugs in the last four years.

It's clear we need to change our strategy. But the solution is to do more about stopping people from doing drugs through education, prevention and awareness along with the expansion of treatment services, not promoting the unrestricted use of drugs and creating more abusers.

Opting for Clara Maass

To the editor:

Recently, New Jersey Blue Cross/Blue Shield unveiled a "preferred" hospital network. This "preferred provider organization" (PPO) plan, although designed to give consumers a financial break, limits the availability of healthcare for New Jersey residents. Out of 86 New Jersey acute care hospitals, Blue Cross/Blue Shield only recognized 44 New Jersey healthcare facilities in their new plan. As a result of such limited participation, the access to healthcare must be questioned.

Clara Maass Medical Center, a full service, licensed and JCAHO accredited, 475-bed acute care facility was overlooked by the Blue Cross/Blue Shield plan. Our Medical Center is a cost efficient facility that provides quality healthcare for the community. In fact, Clara Maass has been recognized as one of 49 hospitals nationwide that provides outstanding community healthcare by New York University and the Kellogg Foundation.

Despite the announcement of the new Blue Cross/Blue Shield plan, consumers should realize that they are not forced to utilize the Blue Cross/Blue Shield "preferred" list of hospitals. Clara Maass Medical Center will continue to accept all Blue Cross/Blue Shield insurance plans, including the new PPO plan. Those with existing Blue Cross/Blue Shield plans will experience no change in the level of quality healthcare received at Clara Maass. Individuals opting for the new plan, can look to Clara Maass as their "preferred" source for healthcare as well, without financial penalty.

We at Clara Maass, would like to reassure the community that the new PPO network will have little effect on their ability to retain or choose Clara Maass Medical Center as their primary choice for healthcare.

Rabbinical College to honor Gruhin

Attorney Stephen W. Gruhin, the managing partner in the Belleville law firm of Gruhin and Gruhin, will be honored by the Rabbinical College of America at its 36th Annual National Founder's dinner, Nov. 15, at the Sheraton Meadows Hotel, East Rutherford.

According to Edward L. Cromman, Miles P. Berger and Bruce D. Berger, general chairmen of this event, "Mr. Gruhin exemplifies the values we strive to perpetuate. He is a devoted supporter of the Rabbinical College and its Outreach Programs. His unstinting participation in the life of the Jewish community, as well as the community at large, serves as an inspiration to all."

This year's theme is "Paying Tribute to a Young Generation of Jewish Leadership." The honoree is a member of a second generation of dedicated professionals who is continuing the tradition of his father, Attorney Robert C. Gruhin, a long time and respected member of the college's Board of Trustees alongside his son who is one of its youngest members.

Stephen Gruhin graduated from Columbia University both Phi Beta Kappa and Magna Cum Laude and graduated from The New York University School of Law.

He is a member of the New Jersey Regional Advisory Board of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and served on the Board of Directors of Hillel Academy. While maintaining several synagogue affiliations elsewhere, the family belongs to Congregation B'nai Shalom - The Jewish Center of West Orange.

Stephen and his wife Jenny reside in West Orange. They are the proud parents of two daughters, Whitney and Melissa.

The Rabbinical College of America is an institution of higher learning accredited by the State of New Jersey and the Association of Advanced Rabbinic and Talmudic Schools. It is an affiliate of the worldwide Lubavitch movement and supervises its statewide activities from its Morristown campus. Three hundred students attend the college, coming from 26 states and 14 foreign countries.

Middle School debates campaign

Seventh grade students at Belleville Middle School participated in a mock Presidential debate on Oct. 27.

The program was part of their studying for reading and social studies on the campaign. Students researched the issues for all of the candidates and then selected representatives to serve as the candidates.

Jason Sack was President Bush; John Molnar was Governor Clinton; and Joseph Ruffalo was Ross Perot. The Moderator was Lauren Rosenfeld and the timekeeper Gary Janco.

The debate was well received by the student body. The students entered the auditorium which was decorated with campaign posters.

This was followed by two minute presentations by the candidates and then questions and answers.

Teachers who coordinated the debate were Mrs. Albrecht, Mrs. Spillane, Ms. Maiorca and Mr. Risoli.

IN BELIEVING.

There are few things stronger than a child's imagination. Children believe in all things magical and wishing on a shooting star can sometimes make great things happen.

This year, you can be that star in a special child's life.

First DeWitt Savings and The Make-A-Wish Foundation have joined forces once again this holiday season to work towards fulfilling the wishes of children afflicted with life threatening illnesses.

When you open a Holiday Club at First DeWitt Savings, we'll donate $2 to the Make-A-Wish Foundation and you'll play an important role in making a child's wish come true.

The work of the Make-A-Wish Foundation is made possible through concern and support of people like you. So this year instead of receiving a gift for opening a Holiday Club, you can give a gift—the gift of making a child's wish come true.

Students make discovery of reading

The Belleville Middle School Library is commemorating the 500th anniversary of Christopher Columbus' voyage to the Americas with a Read-A-Thon contest.

The scene of Columbus' landing has been recreated in a prominent location of the Middle School Library.

The cool water, the lush greenery, and the singing birds have been captured on a scenery display painted by Mrs. Eileen Albrecht's 7th Grade reading students.

In front of the display is a real rowboat decorated as the one used by Columbus' landing party.

Students are invited to sit in the boat and read silently for 20 minutes at a time. Money prizes will be awarded to the two students who accumulate the most reading time in the library.

"The Belleville Middle School Library is making this significant event a time of reading, research, learning, exploring and celebration," Mrs. Albrecht said.

A MESSAGE TO THE COMMUNITY FROM THE CLARA MAASS FAMILY OF HEALTHCARE SERVICES

Recently, New Jersey Blue Cross/Blue Shield unveiled a "preferred" hospital network. This "preferred provider organization" (PPO) plan, although designed to give consumers a financial break, limits the availability of healthcare for New Jersey residents. Out of 86 New Jersey acute care hospitals, Blue Cross/Blue Shield only recognized 44 New Jersey healthcare facilities in their new plan. As a result of such limited participation, the access to healthcare must be questioned.

Clara Maass Medical Center, a full service, licensed and JCAHO accredited, 475-bed acute care facility was overlooked by the Blue Cross/Blue Shield plan. Our Medical Center is a cost efficient facility that provides quality healthcare for the community. In fact, Clara Maass has been recognized as one out of 49 hospitals nationwide that provides outstanding community healthcare by New York University and the Kellogg Foundation.

DESPITE THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE BLUE CROSS/BLUE SHIELD PLAN, CLARA MAASS MEDICAL CENTER:

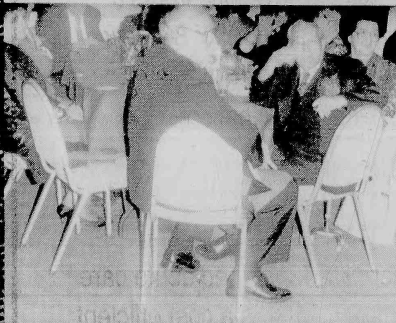

- Continues to participate in the current Blue Cross/Blue Shield programs
- Will continue to provide quality service to all Blue Cross/Blue Shield customers
- Reassures the community that we will accept all Blue Cross/Blue Shield insurance plans, including the new PPO plan
- Invites all to look to Clara Maass as their "preferred" source for healthcare
- Assures that the PPO plan will have a minimal or no effect on you, the consumer of healthcare
- Ensures that participants in this new Blue Cross/Blue Shield plan will not be financially penalized for choosing Clara Maass as their hospital

Scores twice in 24-8 win

Constantino leads Buc charge

By Mike Lambert

Ricky Constantino bullied his way through the Paramus defense and Mike Mundy converted his third field goal in as many weeks, leading the Belleville Bucs to a 24-8 victory over Paramus in NNJIL play.

The victory, coming one week after THE ZEBRAS REVENGE AT RANDOLPH, improves the Bucs record to 2-4 on the '92 season. Next week, John Senesky's troops will venture to Teaneck for a 2 p.m. kickoff. Please note the late starting time because of SAT's next Saturday. The game at Teaneck is also the final road game of the season.

There was some question as to the Bucs state of mind heading into last Saturday's game at Paramus. The Bucs were coming off that 21-19 disaster at Randolph, a game Belleville had every right to call theirs. The game at Randolph was also the Bucs fourth straight contest against an undefeated team and their fourth straight against a team ranked in the Top 20.

After playing their hearts out against the number five ranked team in the state and losing because of incompetent and comical officiating, the Bucs had to regroup against a team they were now favored to defeat.

"This was the type of game you're glad to win and get on the bus," Senesky said. "Every time we play Paramus, the outcome is up in the air. It was a good win for our team."

True, the Bucs and Paramus have played some tough games over the years. The most memorable in this short series came in 1990 when the Bucs rallied from an 18-7 fourth quarter deficit to win 19-18 at Paramus. Last year, the Bucs won 16-6, but had to rally from 6-3 down to win in the fourth quarter.

"Offensively, we were able to get some big plays from Constantino, (Sal) Berardi and (Anthony) Caruso. Mundy has also been improving every week. He is able to find the open man and is getting better at reading defenses."

Mundy's leg is also a point of interest. The junior quarterback has developed into a fine place kicker. His field goal in the second quarter of last week's game, good from 30 yards away, was his third in the past weeks. He booted one in the Bergen Catholic game and had one at Randolph.

"Mundy's been working hard at his kicking game," Senesky said. "It certainly adds another dimension to the offense."

Constantino had perhaps the best all around game of his high school career. He rushed for over 100 yards and scored two touchdowns. He also had a highlight film type of run late in regulation time that put the clincher on the victory. It took at least five Paramus defenders to bring Constantino down on that run.

Belleville took control of the game early. Following a poor Paramus punt deep in its own territory, the Bucs converted when Constantino

We start this week with some back news. Peter Norton of Belleville ran in the Sam Giuffrida Run back on October 4 at Belleville High. His time in the five mile race was 33:12, good for 15th place overall and fifth in the 20-29 age group. Norton was also the first Belleville resident to cross the line in the five mile race.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM QUALIFIES FOR STATES

The Belleville volleyball team has qualified for the state tournament for the first time in three years. Grace Worley's team finished with a 14-9 record for the regular season. The team finished the campaign with victories over University and Teaneck, both of which were in straight sets.

The girls played well in losses to Paramus and Paramus Catholic. Against Paramus Catholic, one of the stronger teams in Northern New Jersey, Belleville went ahead 10-2 in the first set.

"We were up 8-0 and 10-2," Worley said. "It was a real good effort by our kids, especially considering the last time we played them we were practically swept."

Paramus Catholic regrouped and won the set, 15-10. P.C. then won the second set to complete the season sweep.

Versus Paramus, the scenario was pretty much the same. Belleville lost to the Bergen County school by scores of 15-2, 15-3 earlier this fall.

"This team is peaking later in the season," Worley said of the Lady Bucs. "This is a good sign for the state tournament. The kids are hitting well and playing good defense."

Paramus won the match, 15-11, 15-11, but the performance was certainly encouraging for the Lady Bucs.

Seniors Christine Sansano, Carolyn Sagbay and Nancy Blauvelt saw extended action in the last few regular season matches. Sansano, replacing the injured Maria Acuna has done a good job on the back line.

Sophomore Andrea "A.C." Curran has done an excellent job at the setter position. This is Curran's first year on the varsity and she has blended in well with the team.

Senior Colleen Mannion earned first team NNJIL honors for her outstanding season. Mannion, one of the best all around female athletes in BHHS history, has been outstanding on the volleyball court all season long.

Once Mannion completes her volleyball campaign, look for her on the basketball court during the winter months. Once basketball is concluded, it's off to the softball diamond.

Melanie vanDam was named to the second team, NNJIL and Sansano was named Honorable Mention.

As for the state tournament, it won't begin until next Thursday.

"We don't know who we're playing yet," Worley said. "We're happy to have the chance to compete in the states."

Congratulations to Mannion, vanDam and Sansano on being named to the post season NNJIL team. Also, congratulations to the entire Lady Buc team on its fine season thus far.

TENNIS TEAM ADVANCES IN STATES

The girls' tennis team finished the season with a 7-13 record. Tony Salese's club advanced to the state tourney, where the team won in the first round over Linden, 4-1.

Winners in the Linden match included Tanya Palle at first singles, Justine Nguyen at second singles and Angela Cheng at third singles.

The first doubles team of Uyan Pham and Carmelita Arceo closed out the victory.

Belleville was eliminated from the state tourney in the second round, falling to top seeded Livingston, 5-0.

As the regular season drew to a close, Belleville posted a 3-2 victory over Paramus. Nguyen, the first doubles team of Pham and Arceo and the second doubles team of Anna Bautista and Khanh Dam were victorious.

The second doubles match went right down to the wire, with Bautista and Dam winning 3-6, 6-4, 7-6 (7-5 in the tiebreaker).

The team lost two tough matches, falling to North Bergen and Hackensack by 3-2 decisions.

In the North Bergen match, Nguyen and the first doubles team of Pham and Arceo were victorious. Against Hackensack, Nguyen won again as did the Anthony Caruso takes a handoff from Mike Mundy and looks for running room. Richard Romano (79) leads the way. Romano recently changed his number and has said he will wear a different number in each game for the rest of the season.

Soccer team earns 3rd seed in states

By Mike Lambert

It was an outstanding effort, but in the end the Belleville soccer team fell just short in a bid to win the NNJIL championship. Gino DePinto's Bucs fell short to Don Bosco 4-3 in an entertaining game at Clearmont Field.

The Bucs will now gear for the state tournament, which begins this morning at Clearmont Field. Belleville took a 13-3-1 record into a first round Group IV, Section II matchup with Newark Eastside. Kickoff is set for 11 a.m.

Should Belleville win, it would take on the winner of the Westfield-Montclair game early next week in the second round. The Bucs are seeded third in the state tourney this year, with Columbia first and Westfield second. Should Belleville lose to Eastside, then the '92 season would be concluded.

"We played a good game against Don Bosco," DePinto said. "We have a young defense and we made a few mistakes, but I can't complain. It's been a real good season and we played a good game."

The Bucs took a 2-1 lead into halftime. Don Bosco scored first, but it was an "own" goal. The ball bounced off a Belleville defender and found the net.

Down 1-0, Belleville tied it on a goal by Redy Perez, who was assisted by Greg Groeling. Minutes later, Groeling found the net, giving Belleville a 2-1 advantage at intermission. Giuseppe Manella assisted on the go-ahead goal.

Don Bosco, which won the league title for the third straight season, tied the game early in the second half, then scored two more goals for a 4-2 advantage with 15 minutes left.

"We pressed hard in the last 15 minutes," DePinto said. "We went on the offensive and had our chances, we just missed."

Groeling scored his second goal of the game, cutting D.B.'s lead to 4-3. Groeling's second goal was unassisted.

The game was actually called by the officials with five minutes left in regulation time due to darkness.

Earlier in the week, Belleville set up the championship game with Don Bosco by beating Nutley 4-2.

The Bucs never trailed. Manella scored to make it 1-0. The Raiders tied it at one and the game remained that way at halftime.

In the second half, Alex Alexander found the net, giving the Bucs the lead for good, 2-1. Not to be denied, Groeling continued his phenomenal season, scoring two goals to seal the win.

Manella and Joe Colucci had one assist each.

The JV team had a good week, blanking Nutley 4-0 and Don Bosco, 1-0. The win over Don Bosco was particularly noteworthy because Don Bosco was undefeated coming into the contest.

Frank Toledo scored the lone goal against Don Bosco. Goalie James Berg was outstanding in preserving the shutout.

Against Nutley, Oscar Benavides had two goals and Frank Tafur and Anthony Rasczyk scored one goal each.

On the freshman level, the Bucs tied Nutley at one and lost to Don Bosco, 2-0. Salvo Aguilar scored for Belleville against the Raiders.

Gymnasts earn first victory of '92 season

By Mike Lambert

The Belleville gymnastics team concluded the 1992 campaign with one victory, but first year head coach Donna Richiardi was very pleased with the steady improvement the team exhibited.

We'll have a wrap up on the season in an upcoming issue.

"I was very happy with the way our scores increased during the season," Richiardi said. "We have a lot of young gymnasts. There are only two seniors on the team, so the future looks pretty good."

Belleville's victory came against Pascack Valley. The Lady Bucs prevailed by a score of 65.8-61.85.

In that match, Gina Conte led the way for Belleville. Conte competed in the all around competition, meaning she took part in all four exercises.

In the floor exercise, she finished with a score of 8.0. In the vaulting, the final tally was 7.5 and in the uneven parallel bars, Conte's tally was a 5.5.

In the balance beam, she finished with a score of 6.4. Conte took a second place in all four events.

Junior Kim Piscatowski did a good job in the vaulting exercise, scoring a 6.8.

Others who did well in the match include freshman Maria Bonomo (vaulting), junior Davina Corio (vault and beam), senior Isabel Santos (floor exercise), senior Colleen Hutchinson (beam) and Junior Christa DiBenedetto (bars and beam).

Belleville's high score of the season came against Dwight Englewood High School. In that match, the team compiled 74 points. The Lady Bucs dropped that match by a close four points.

Belleville Karate Dojo was invited to perform at Family Fest '92 at the Meadowlands Convention Center in Secaucus on Oct. 24 and 25. These six students were selected to give demonstrations of team kata, bunkai, and the applications of kata. The form of karate demonstrated was Chito-Ryu. Shown are: Sensei John Gambino, Jason Sack, Alicia Gambino, Jennifer Wasacz, Steven Bravo, Alex Minichini and Peter Vericchio.

Golf outing very successful

The Clara Maass Foundation held its annual golf and tennis invitational recently. The event raised funds for the Clara Maass Medical Center. Over 140 individuals participated in the event, which was held at the Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, New Jersey.

Representatives from a variety of companies supported Clara Maass by participating in the tournament, including Shering-Plough, Seiler's Corporation, Peoples Bank, Marriott Facilities Development and New Jersey Bell.

After the day of golf and tennis, the participants were invited to a cocktail reception and formal dinner, also held at Baltusrol. During the dinner, prizes and awards were distributed to the winners of the tournaments and various contests.

"This years Invitational was extremely successful," said Lewis Gardner, Executive Director of the Clara Maass Foundation. "We accommodated the maximum capacity of golfers and everyone involved had a terrific day."

The 1992 Clara Maass Invitational raised over $105,000.00. The funds will be applied toward the purchase of a three dimensional treatment planning computer for the Clara Maass Medical Center Radiation Oncology Department.

For more information on donating to the Clara Maass Foundation, call the Foundation at (201) 450-2277.

Ricky Constantino is met by a Paramus defender, but he'll net a few more yards before finally going down. As you can see in this photo, it took almost five Paramus defenders to bring him down during a determined run in the fourth quarter.

Bucs face Teaneck on Saturday at 2 p.m.

tino scored from four yards out. The kick was wide but Belleville led 6-0.

In the second quarter, junior safety Joe DePeri picked up his first interception, leading to a 12 yard TD run by Berardi. The Bucs went for two points and were successful as Mundy's Harcus with a three yard pass.

Later in the quarter, Bill Zigmond recovered a fumble and five plays later, Mundy kicked a field goal from 30 yards out, giving the Bucs a 17-0 lead at halftime.

The third quarter was scoreless. In the fourth, Belleville put the game away when Constantino took a handoff and ran practically untouched into the end zone. Mundy added the conversion and the Bucs were ahead 24-0.

Paramus' only score came late in regulation time. The home team recovered a fumble deep in Belleville territory and converted on a two yard TD run by Dave Manco.

Defensively, the Bucs were paced by Mike Citarella and the tremendous play of the defensive secondary, namely DePeri (two interceptions), Brian Harvey and John Alvarado, who once again was all over the field.

A note about Alvarado, The senior is a marvelous defensive player who is one of the hardest hitters in the league. Also, his excellent punting has been a key asset to the Bucs special teams.

As for the next opponent, Teaneck, Senesky expects another tough game.

"Teaneck typically has tremendous size and some good athletes who can break a game open. Once again, it's never an easy assignment playing them."

NOTES: No injuries to report. Jason Christy is questionable for Teaneck because of a sprained ankle. Joe Citarella is hopeful. He cracked a bone in his ankle against Hackensack.

Sam Marino, who has missed the season because of a broken wrist, probably won't play this fall.

Bucs lost to Teaneck 14-12 last season at Doc Ellis Field. Teaneck leads series between the two teams 3-2. Bucs won in 1983, 33-0 and in 1990, 9-6. In the '90 game, Constantino, then a sophomore running back, set up the winning score with a beautiful sideline run. Mike Kimball kicked a field goal in that game, too.

Teaneck won in '88, (15-12), '89, (34-0) and last year. In the '88 game, Bucs led 12-9 late in regulation time before Highwaymen rallied to win. That game was played in a driving rainstorm at Teaneck.

In a big NNJIL Pacific Division game, Hackensack rolled by Paramus Catholic 34-14. Nutley also continued its roll, stopping Bloomfield 42-20 in an intradivisional game.

Oh yes, Randolph won its sixth game in as many tries (don't laugh). The Rams beat East Orange last Saturday, 41-6. After the game, Ram QB John Bauer III noted, "today, everyone played the way they should. We played high intensity ball."

The Bucs and Randolph are supposed to play each other next season at Doc Ellis Field. Let's hope the Rams keep the intensity high for that game.

Belleville fans had better get used to this scene. Buc kicker/quarterback Mike Mundy is about to kick a field goal during second quarter of last Saturday's game. Mundy has booted three field goals over the past three games. Holding for Mundy is Brian Harvey (1).

Buc football coach John Senesky gives instructions to quarterback Mike Mundy during third quarter of last Saturday's game at Paramus.

Sal Berardi heads downfield for a nine yard gain. Berardi has been having a fine season for the '92 Bucs.

Buc cheerleaders were in the Halloween spirit at Paramus last Saturday. Girls once again did a fine job in encouraging fans at game.

Chapter III,

Impact of Conflict

Parent Frustration:

In some cases, the immigrant parent is also eager to learn about American customs so the child becomes his instrument for assimilation. This is more often true when the family does not live in an ethnic community and the parent's daily contacts expose him to this new culture which he would like to learn.

More often, the parent finds it difficult to comprehend the changes in his child and can do little to breach the gap which is growing between them. "The ability to read and write... gives the child a powerful instrument for adaptation which his parents lack, and his growth toward American ways raises in him some of that contempt for his origin which has so often brought sadness to his parent."

The immigrant father is ill-equipped and therefore frustrated in his attempt to remedy the condition of his child growing apart from him. He suspects that America or Americans are responsible and expresses his chagrin with a mild expletive, "marraggia America," which means something like "damn America." It's ironic to him that this is the same America which, he is quick to brag about, was discovered by one Italian and named for another.

If the parent has established financial security, some of his early savings will go into a musical instrument for his son because he feels it's imperative that his son learn music. Once again he is doomed to disappointment when he learns that his son would rather obtain his musical education from the juke box.

The Daughter:

The daughter experiences many of the things that a male child does and more. Since her time out of the home is limited, she is less exposed to the outside culture and finds conformation to the family culture easier. However, the impact of her difficulty is likely to come later.

When she assumes a position of employment outside the home, more hours are spent away from her family and their influences. The factory or office in which she works has an established set of norms which can no longer be overlooked. At first she declines invitations to the homes of other girls because that would require a return visit which might not be satisfactory. She may be ashamed of her home, or feel that her friends may think less kindly of her because of her immigrant parents.

Philip Davis tells a particularly sad story about an immigrant's daughter who became engaged to an American boy. Feeling the difference between her parents and him, she resorted to various devices for delaying his presentation to them. When she could hold off no longer, she commenced to make elaborate preparation for the meeting. Her parents were prompted on the night and wrong thing to do or say. She left work earlier than usual to enable her to give the house a final going over. The shame for her father influenced her in such a way that one hour before her boyfriend's expected arrival, she ended her own life. While her father had little familiarity with the American language, he was considered a scholar in his native town. The lover was a clerk in a local establishment. This is admittedly an extreme example of reaction to the conflict but it demonstrates the seriousness of the problem.

Chapter IV

CHOICE OF ACTION

General Reactions:

The second-generation American in a social situation gets us closer to the heart of the problem. In any group, he finds various reactions to his manner of behavior. These reactions may be listed generally as acceptance, rejection, or indifference. When a person accepts the norms of an American group and displays an American attitude, the group is more likely to show acceptance of the individual. A foreign attitude in a social situation may bring an outright rejection or indifference. By repetition of these three reactions, the second-generation American is forced into making a choice. If he decides that he would like to continue with the group, he is more likely to perform the action which will gain him acceptance and avoid those actions which lead to indifference and rejection.

The person who tries to conform to more than one culture becomes more conscious of this situation. When he is with the Italian culture group he finds that the actions which brought acceptance in the non-Italian group would bring him rejection or indifference now.

Continued action of this type can lead to bitter criticism of him, just as it has for others who have forsaken the cultural heritage for rewards in the American group. "The second-generation Americans are often torn living like their parents or grand parents, in sections where the residents are predominantly of their own ethnic group and where many aspects of life are very reminiscent of old-world customs. Complete severance from the ethnic group is, therefore, often impossible, resulting in a conflict. In this situation where the different demands of the two cultures cannot be reconciled, the person is forced to make a choice. Forces from within the ethnic group make it usually impossible of extremely difficult for such individuals to sever completely their allegiance to their ancestral group or to break entirely with their parental culture."

One of the most quoted authors on choices of action is Irving L. Child. He divides the reaction of the second-generation Americans into three groups: rebels, in-group, and apathetic.

Psychic Fair

Belleville Craftsman Club No. 409, an organization affiliated with the Belleville Masonic Lodge, and Spellbound will be sponsoring a "Psychic Fair" in an effort to raise funds for the much needed repairs of the Belleville Masonic Temple. Bill Martin, an officer of the Masonic Lodge, said the seventy-plus year old building needs some major repairs such as plumbing and electrical work as well as simple, cosmetic repairs. He hopes the continual effort of the Lodge members will preserve this landmark.

Last April, they ran a similar Fair which was quite unique. Vinny Gaglione, proprietor of Spellbound, stated that many of the people who attended the Fair commented positively to the event and requested another one. "It was so successful, that we decided to extend it from one day to two days," he said.

Many craftsmen and vendors will also be present selling items ranging from Native American to Egyptian to Metaphysical. Many of the area's known psychics will be giving readings. Some of these psychics include Ms. Verna Downs (a Bloomfield Palmist), Monica Sorce (a West Paterson Tea Leaf Reader), Paul Rovelli (a tarot card reader and instructor at many of the Adult Schools), and many others.

The Fair will be held Nov. 7 and 8, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 126 Joralemon Street.

Witches in Belleville

Halloween has always conjured up images of bats, ghosts, witches and devils, black cauldrons, scary jack 'o' lanterns and the like. The general consensus of people is that there are no such things as witches.

Now the surprise! Witchcraft is alive and well in New Jersey. The hub of that activity is right here in Belleville. Spellbound Metaphysical Shop, located at 480 Washington Avenue, is a small retail store that specializes in providing for the needs of the Witchcraft community in New Jersey. What is even more surprising is that it is like nothing one might expect. The decor is light and airy—sweet aromas emanate from the herbs, oils and incenses, and crystal and silver jewelry and Native American goods adorn the showcases. Soft Celtic, Native American or New Age music is played.

Proprietor Vinny Gaglione describes the "Wicca" as an ancient religion which worships God and Goddess through nature. Gaglione is a former U.S. Army Infantry captain who is staunchly anti-drug and quite conservative. "The stereotype of a Witch is simply not true. Men as well as women practice the Old Religion. They are from all walks of life; military officers, medical doctors, housewives, magicians and artists to construction workers, young, old and middle-age."

Spellbound also attracts many other customers besides Wiccans. "Many of our clientele are Kabbalist (a form of Judeo-Christian Magick) and Ceremonial Magicians. Many Christians come here too for Saint Candles." He claimed that many of his customers are looking for answers and help. "It is not our purpose to convert anyone to the Craft. Far from it. All religions are a viable option. It is up to the individual to find the path for him or her to follow to become reunited with God/Goddess."

NLRB clears hospital execs

Administrative Law Judge Raymond P. Green has dismissed charges of unfair labor practices made against Clara Mass Medical Center administrators Patricia Meyers, Irene Schneider and Mary Anne Pettis.

The allegations were made by former employees that the administrators had questioned them about union activities and had threatened reprisals if the union activity continued.

Judge Green ruled that the charges had not been substantiated.

The charges were filed in December 1991 and hearings were held in May and July of 1992.

OVER-THE-COUNTER HELP
Self-medication with over-the-counter products may save consumers time and money, but it may also leave them in a quandary about dosage amounts. According to University of Wyoming researchers, labels may either be too confusing or too difficult for some people to read. As an example, researchers cite the cough-syrup label which includes age 12 in both the children's and adults dosage recommendations. There is also the case of the liquid aspirin which lists its dosage amounts according to both age and weight. What if a child's age and weight are appropriate to two different dosage amounts? Lastly, some people simply find labels small print too difficult to read. In all cases, the pharmacist stands ready to answer questions about dosage amounts, missed doses, appropriate medications, etc. Our pharmacist will be glad to answer your questions, as well as offer suggestions on how to take any prescribed medications. Complete prescription service if you come to ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1256, 759-1964. You will also find a wide selection of convenient aids for sale or rent including walkers, wheel chairs, crutches and canes. Hours: Daily 9am-6pm.

HINT: If given the choice, base dosage amounts on weight rather than age.

second doubles team of Bautista and Dam.

"The team did a real good job, especially against the competition we faced in the NNJIL (Pacific Division)," Salese said. "It was good to get a chance to compete in the states. I'm very happy with the overall performance of everyone on the team."

We'll have a wrap up of the '92 Lady Buc tennis season in an upcoming issue.

NFL PICKS

Just remember, two weeks ago this column predicted the Indianapolis Colts would deal the Miami Dolphins its first loss of the '92 season. Once in a while I manage to hit a few.

Anyway, for this week...

GREEN BAY AT GIANTS: Dangerous game for Giants. They're home, but Packers will be pesty. Giants 21-17.

JETS AT DENVER: If it were at Giants Stadium, you could say the Jets had a real good chance. But it's in Mile High Stadium and somehow, Elway will find a way to win it. Denver 23-17.

CLEVELAND AT HOUSTON: A tough defensive game. Oilers seem to shoot themselves in the foot. They should win, but Browns will stay in the game. Houston 17-13.

DALLAS AT DETROIT: The Cowboys will be looking to avenge two embarrassing defeats at the hands of the Lions in 1991. This is no where near the same Lion team that made the NFC title game a year ago. Could be a blowout. Dallas 30-7.

L.A. RAIDERS AT PHILLY: The Eagles are playing terrible offensive football, but they're at home and Raiders aren't one of the better teams in the league. McMahon will try and jump start Eagles. Philly 20-14.

MIAMI AT INDIANAPOLIS: Dolphins will look to snap a two game losing streak at the Hoosier Dome, where the Colts generally play well. Indy needs this one to stay in playoff contention. Colts 24-23.

MINNESOTA AT TAMPA BAY: Vikings are on a roll and Bucs will only get in the way here. Bucs played well in loss at New Orleans, Vikings dominated Bears at Soldier Field last Monday. Minnesota 20-7.

PHOENIX AT L.A. RAMS: Rams are very good home team. Phoenix played one of its better games last week in beating Niners. Can you believe Phoenix' two wins this year have come against Washington and San Francisco? Los Angeles, 21-14.

PITTSBURGH AT BUFFALO: Big game for both teams. Bills are very strong at home and the home field advantage will probably be the difference, but not by much. Buffalo 28-27.

SAN DIEGO AT KANSAS CITY: Another big game. Chargers are on a roll and Chiefs are so inconsistent. I like the upset here. San Diego 23-14.

WASHINGTON AT SEATTLE: Redskins will look to regroup after losing to Giants. Seattle? They could be in a for a long afternoon. Washington 30-3.

CINCINNATI AT CHICAGO (SUNDAY NIGHT): Bears will look to regroup against a Bengals team that is inconsistent to say the least. Chicago should have enough to win here. Bears 21-10.

SAN FRANCISCO AT ATLANTA (MONDAY NIGHT): Falcons should be sky high for this game at the Georgia Dome. Revenge is in order since Niners won the last encounter a few weeks ago, 56-17. Should be closer this time, but San Fran will probably find a way to win. San Francisco 30-24.

RANDOLPH UPDATE

In case you're interested, the Randolph Rams improved its season record to 6-0 (5-1 if you discount the zebra parade) by defeating East Orange (0-6), 41-6. We'll keep a weekly update on this powerhouse the rest of the season.

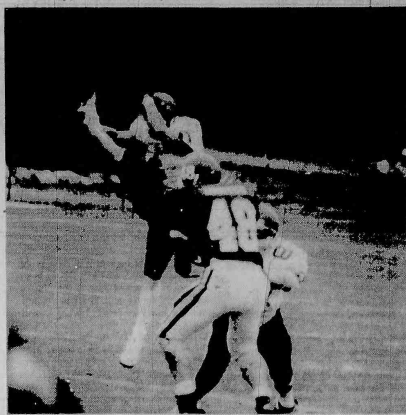

By the way, the game was played at East Orange, so the officials weren't recruited for this game.

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

When was the first time the New Orleans Saints made the playoffs? Who did they play in the first round. How did they do? Have the Saints ever won a playoff game?

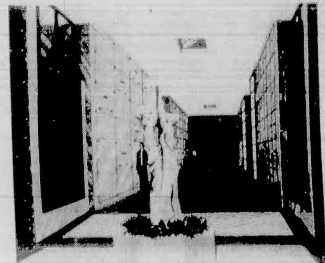

Members of the Belleville High School colorguard perform during halftime ceremonies. The band, colorguard and twirlers have been tremendous all season long.

Showing good form, Buc punter John Alvarado launches one during last weekend's game. Alvarado has been his usual consistent self all season long.

A Kid's Writing Guide

Many young writers are using computers.

What did you see, hear or do today that might be interesting to write about?

Writers usually do their best writing when they base their stories on something that really happened in their lives.

Some kids are improving their writing skills by keeping journals.

Others also have special folders they call "portfolios." Inside they keep samples of their work so they can keep up with how well they are doing.

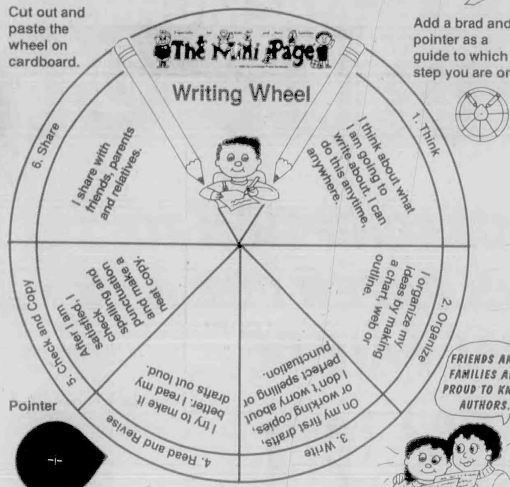

The writing process

Many kids are learning to write using special steps as a guide.

We have given you the steps, and also put them inside a wheel.

Cut them out. Keep the list near your computer and the wheel in your journal.

Cut out and paste the wheel on cardboard.

Add a brad and pointer as a guide to which step you are on.

7. At the end of the book, write a page about the author (you). Paste on a photo or draw a picture of yourself.

6. Dedicate your book to someone you like. This goes on the second page.

8. Punch holes in the pages. Tie them with yarn or fasten them with brads or rings.

WRITING TRY'N FIND

Words about writing are hidden in the block below. Some words are hidden backward and diagonally. See if you can find: ORGANIZE, THINK, DRAFT, REWRITE, OUTLINE, COMMA, PORTFOLIO, PUNCTUATION, SPELLING, PERIOD, WORD, WEB, SENTENCE, JOURNAL, DIARY, LETTER, APOSTROPHE.

Meet Writer Ann M. Martin

Ann Martin is one of the most successful children's writers in the country.

A best-selling children's book might sell 100,000 copies. One of Ann Martin's books might sell as many as 1 million copies!

She does have some help now with the 30 books she writes each year. But she still does three-fourths of the writing.

At the suggestion of an editor, Ann started writing books about baby sitters. In all, she has written a total of 110 of these books in six years!

The books are about a group of 7th- and 8th-grade baby sitters and their families.

The Mini Page talked with her to get some writing tips:

"Keep a journal. Write in it every day. It's good writing practice. You can also go back and see what to write about."

"Read a lot. Read all different kinds of things."

Ann Martin . . .

• is age 37. She says that she is very much like one of her characters, shy Mary Ann.

• went to Smith College.

• used to be a children's book editor.

• has two cats.

• lives in New York, but has just bought a home in the country.

• has set up a foundation to help needy children.

• likes to do needlework and sew clothes for her friends' children.

How Ann Martin writes

1. She starts with an idea. Her books are based on reality. She gets her ideas from her memories (she used to do a lot of baby-sitting), from stories she reads in newspapers, from the kids with whom she talks, and from reading some of the 14,000 letters she gets each year.

2. She does a very sketchy outline. She writes in long-hand using a fountain pen. This way somehow keeps her elbow from getting sore from so much writing.

3. She makes a much more detailed outline. An assistant puts it into the computer.

4. Ann writes the books. (Sometimes she gets help at this stage, but she has done all of the planning.)

5. The book goes to the editor.

6. Ann makes the final revisions.

7. The book is published.

The series includes The Baby-Sitters Club books for readers from 8 to 12.

Ann has also written a number of hardcover novels for young readers.

Baby-Sitters Little Sisters books are for readers 7 to 10.

Organizing thoughts saves time

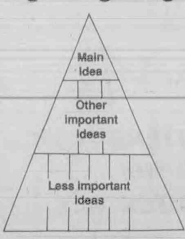

Organizing your thoughts first will make your writing easier.

There are many ways, but you will have to find the one that works best for you.

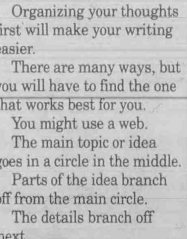

You might use a web. The main topic or idea goes in a circle in the middle.

Parts of the idea branch off from the main circle.

The details branch off next.

You might use a thought pyramid.

This is an example of a web about a trip to a theme park. Have you ever been to a theme park? Make your own web and then write your story.

Most stories that tell a tale are written in this form.

Who, When, Where, What, Why and How

Rather than build up suspense, newspaper stories put important facts first. Pick out a news story. Make an outline of how it is organized.

Next week read all about the Caldecott and Newbery winners.

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle

THE HALF DIME

When is five cents not a nickel? When it's a half dime. If you're confused, just imagine how our forefathers felt when there were both half dimes and nickels in circulation. Undoubtedly the U.S. mint was confused too. During the 75 years of minting half dimes from 1794 until 1873, the pattern of the coin was changed eight times. Half dimes were made of 90% silver and are smaller than today's dime size. Half dimes lost their popularity in 1866 when the shield nickel was introduced to the public. The earlier and most expensive half dimes were called "bust" half dimes and pictured Miss Liberty from the head to the bust. The later half dimes are called the Liberty Seated type, and picture a seated Liberty on front of the coin. Half dimes were made at the Philadelphia, New Orleans, and San Francisco mints. Today half dimes can be found in a variety of dates, conditions and prices. If you would like further information on half dimes or any other coins please stop in and see us.
