Politicizing of health benefits program seen

Township employees protest 'self-insurance'; Drozdz, Manager Cuccio, press for approval

By Howard Klausner

Officers of the Belleville Municipal Employees Association said this week they would file a complaint with the National Labor Relations Board against Belleville Township if the Township Council votes to drop Blue Cross-Blue Shield for a "self-insurance" health benefits program to be administered by the Rasmussen Administrators company.

Charges that the health benefits program would be politicized by a switch to self-insurance were made by employees, because the Township Manager and the Township Council would be arbiters of who would receive benefits, and how much.

Pat Tully, President of the BMEA Teamster Local 32, told other officials of the local that he would contact Township Manager Stephen Cuccio and discuss the proposal. Officials of the Local were emphatic in stating their position that self-insurance was not as good as the Blue Cross-Blue Shield, and would be a violation of the employee work contract.

Cuccio assured the Township Council at its Monday meeting that the self-insurance plan would be "guaranteed" not to cost more than $2.5 million a year, as compared to the present $3.2 million paid to Blue Shield-Blue Cross.

Cuccio also said that he had discussed the proposed health benefits plan with two of the employee unions, but not the Firemen's Mutual Benefit Association or the Fire Officers Association. He said that he had been assured by union officials that his personal certification that the proposed plan would be "equal to or better than" the present system would be acceptable to the employees.

This was disputed by officials of the BMEA and by Detective Peter Fraone, President of the Policemen's Benevolent Association local.

Fraone said that Cuccio had mentioned the plan during a discussion of another matter, and that the manager was told that the work contract of the police required that any benefits be equal to or better than existing ones.

"A simple letter from Mr. Cuccio certifying this would not be sufficient. We would want to examine the proposal in detail," Fraone said.

Cuccio had sought to convince the Council that employees favored the self-insurance plan.

Last year, the BMEA filed an NLRB complaint against the Township when then Manager Bertrand Kendall suggested a shift from Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Fraone said, "We have made many concessions in salary to achieve the health benefits plan we now have. Back in 1976, we agreed to a 2 percent cut in our pay raise to get a semblance of a health plan, and we have accepted more reductions over the years.

"Today, we have one of the best plans for the police in the state. We would have to know a great deal more about the proposed changes before we could agree to them."

An employee of the Finance Department said, "The Blue Cross card is accepted universally. How would another card be accepted, say in Florida, where many of our retirees live?"

The question of how the retirees would fare under a change in plans was raised by several employees.

A police officer said he feared that the administrators of the self-insurance plan could do as was done in California, when a policeman with a catastrophic illness was taken off benefits. "The town's decision was upheld by two Appeals Courts, and the United States Supreme Court refused to hear the case," the officer said.

Councilman Tom Spillane, who has urged that the Township go into the State Health Benefits Plan, raised questions about Cuccio's endorsement of Rasmussen as administrator.

"I have heard of complaints about Rasmussen from employees in other towns," Spillane said.

"You will always have a complainer," Cuccio said.

He repeated his assertions that Rasmussen was a good company.

"Why can't we hear from other companies?" Spillane asked.

"I received proposals from a few other companies, but I never heard of them. Rasmussen is a solid company."

Cuccio cited Paterson as a city that hired a lesser known company to administer its self-insurance program, with unhappy results.

Councilman Jim Messina said, "Yes. I think the administrator declared bankruptcy and there were all kinds of problems."

Cuccio assured the Council this would not happen with Rasmussen as administrator.

Councilman Bill Cook raised the question of catastrophic illnesses.

Council President Dr. Frank Noonan remarked, "Then we cut them off."

Cuccio added that in the case of catastrophic illnesses, another insurance firm would reinsure the town and meet the expenses, up to $1 million.

"The Gerber Insurance Company would do this," Cuccio said. He said that Lloyds of London had been considered as reinsurer, but Gerber's fees were less.

Deputy Mayor Mario Drozdz said he would introduce a resolution at the next public session of the Council on Jan. 12 to have the self-insurance plan adopted with Rasmussen as administrator.

It appeared likely he had the support of Mayor Marina Perna, Dr. Noonan and Councilman Charles Cerami, with four votes needed for passage.

The Council heard assurances from Nicholas Sylvestro of Rasmussen that the self-insurance proposal was better than the plan now in use. Few township employees appeared ready to agree with him.

Council orders inquiry into sub-par sidewalk; Accident uncovers possibility of contract violation

The hurricane-force winds that felled trees and damaged houses in Belleville, a week earlier, may also have uncovered shortcomings in concrete sidewalk construction.

Sidewalks less than three inches thick have been found, where the contract called for a minimum four-inch thickness, according to members of the Township Council.

Councilman Jim Messina, a contractor familiar with concrete work, questioned Richard Albers, consulting engineer, about the failure of the sidewalk at 47 Malone St.

A tractor tread of a heavy crane, used to pull a fallen tree which had caved in the roof of the frame single family residence, had "crumbled the new sidewalk like a wafer, while older concrete didn't even move," according to Messina.

A section of sidewalk which had been poured last summer was crackked along its entire width, in the sight of several officials who were present at the tree removal.

Councilmen Messina, Charles Cerami, Bill Cook and Mario Drozdz witnessed the damage to the sidewalk, as did Township Manager Stephen Cuccio.

Messina said it was obvious that the new sidewalk was not four-inches thick, as required by the contract specifications.

Albers, employed by T and M Contractors of Middletown, said he was at a loss to understand how the sidewalks at the Malone Street location could have passed inspection.

"Having a full time inspection of the project would have cost an additional $200,000," Albers told the Council. "The best you can do is strategic inspections. Our inspection was spread out, covering four projects at the same time, all over town."

Albers said the entire repaving project, covering several streets in Belleville, cost about $700,000. Some $80,000 for billed work has not been paid, pending Council approval of the bills.

"When I am paid to do a job, I do it according to specifications," Messina said. "When I pay for something, I expect to get what I pay for."

Cuccio asked what the Council wished to do about the situation. Drozdz asked for an immediate inspection of other sidewalks installed by the contractor, Lucas Construction.

"Do we spend $10,000, or what?" Cuccio asked.

Drozdz replied that the inspection should cost about $1,500. "And we want an answer in two weeks," Drozdz said.

Name Fire Mascot, and win a $100 Bond!

By Howard Klausner

Deputy Fire Chief Joseph LaBruzza has announced a drawing for the name of the Mascot.

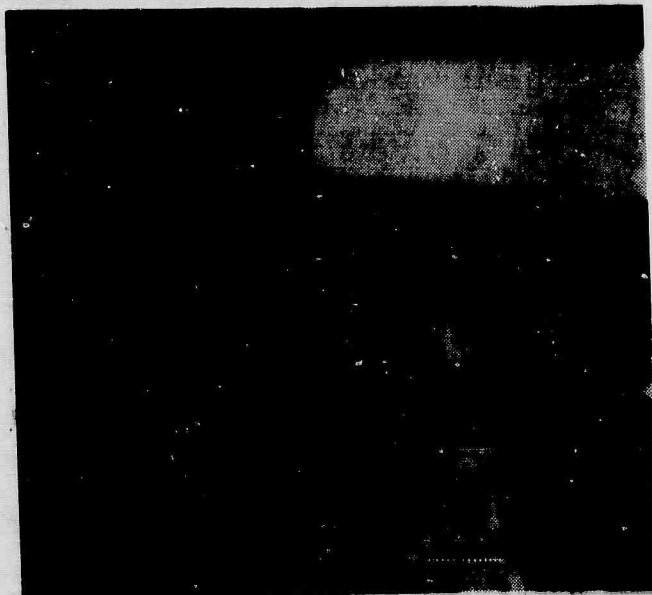

Anyone up the age of eight who is a Belleville resident may send a Post Card to the Firehouse or to the Belleville Times, with the suggested name of the Dalmatian, and a home address and telephone number of the sender.

A drawing will be held in February and the name drawn from the entries will be the one bestowed on the Dalmatian. The sender of the post card will receive a $100 Savings Bond from the Fire Department Safety Program.

In time, the Dalmatian may make visits to schools and hospitals, bringing the message of safety with her, along with her affectionate, warm regards.

The gift of Mark Palmier, a Belleville resident, the Dalmatian is a highly intelligent canine who is both friendly and protective.

The immediate favorite of the men at the Franklin Avenue Firehouse, she is calm in the midst of the din of fire alarm bells.

NEWEST FIREFIGHTER - A four-month-old Dalmatian puppy has joined the Belleville Fire Department as Official Mascot. She is shown with Firefighter Tom LoMin. She has captured the hearts of the firefighters, and now she needs a name. Deputy Fire Chief Joseph LaBruzza says the award will be a $100 Savings Bond. See story for details. Firefighter hopefuls to get help

Applicants for the Fire Department who have passed their written examinations will be provided an opportunity to prepare for their physical test this Sunday, when a workout will be provided for them at the Firehouse on Franklin Avenue.

From 10 a.m. to noon, a series of physical exercises will simulate the tests the applicants will receive.

Wearing a weighted vest, to simulate the equipment worn by firefighters, applicants will run up inclines, crawl through tunnels, ascend and descend ladders, haul dummies and make mock hydrant connections, all while being clocked with a stopwatch.

On Sunday, the applicants will have an opportunity to become acquainted with the test awaiting them, Chief Walter Beresford said.

Town to hire a grantsman

The Belleville Township Council, which refused to rehire John Bruno Associates as grantsman last year, is considering rehiring him this year.

Deputy Mayor Mario Drozdz said he wanted immediate action to rehire Bruno, at a range of $25,000 to $27,000 a year.

He noted that Bruno had been instrumental in bringing in a grant of more than $300,000 for the revitalization of Silver Lake, in Drozdz' district. "If I pay a man $25,000 and he brings in even $100,000, I'm still ahead of the game."

Drozdz showed surprise when Township Manager Stephen Cuccio said he would consider other grantsmen as well as Bruno.

"I know of a very good one in Bergen County, and another good one in Clark Township," Cuccio said. "I will consider their proposals along with Bruno's and make my recommendation."

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch will vote to reject the $1.4 million refund check from Blue Cross-Blue Shield. "This town has got to learn to look after itself, not depend on outside funding," Harry told the recent meeting of the Kool Kumbler Boys, his base of support. "I go along with Doc Noonan, who wanted Belleville to return the $3 million Revitalization Grant to Trenton. He said there were too many strings attached, like having to tell Trenton what our budget was." When the Township Council discovered that Trenton gets a copy of the township budget in any case, it decided to keep the money. The KKB, always on the lookout for ways to increase the tax rate as a way of strengthening the moral fiber of the community, applauded Zilch wildly. The club then adjourned in order to misdirect a fire truck which was en route to a blaze. "It's about time people learned to put out their own fires," Zilch said. ● ● ● ● The recent acquisition of a Dalmatian puppy by the Belleville Fire Department does not sit well with our leading Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten. Furiously, he told Township Attorney Bob Giordano, "A Dalmatian is not even named on the Civil Service List. This is illegal!" Giordano asked if Baldassaro's indignation wasn't based a little bit on sheer prejudice against pooches. "Nonsense! Just because I see no need for some stupid, cat-chasing, paw-puttering canine to be on township property, that doesn't mean I'm a bigot. If they wanted something in spots, why didn't the firemen hire a cheetah? He could certainly climb a ladder better than any biscuit biter." Giordano assured Baldassaro that the pup was a friendly soul who actually got along fine with cats. "You and he will become fast friends, believe me," Giordano said. "Spoken like a lawyer," Baldassaro replied. "As long as I'm faster than the Dalmatian, I'll be friendly." ● ● ● ● Anyone who frequented T.G.I.F. in Hackensack a few years ago will recall the effervescent young lady who greeted the customers and made sure everyone was happy at the businessmen's restaurant. Then, she was Denise McLaughlan of Harrington Park. She became Mrs. Edward Fleming three months ago. Since Edward hailed from Metuchen, it seemed only logical to find a midway point to start married life, which is why the Flemings are now residents of Belleville. He commutes to his job as computer programmer with Newman Wholesalers in Ridgefield Park. She commutes every day to the Statehouse in Trenton. ● ● ● ● As Secretary to the Governor's Counsel, F. Robert DeCotiis, Denise gets an inside look at the workings of government. She keeps track of the Counsel's schedule, deals with his visitors and makes sure everyone is happy, or as reasonably happy as one can be in Trenton. The job actually began a couple of years ago when DeCotiis hired her to be first, a receptionist, and then a secretary for the law firm of Plato, DeCotiis which happened to be next door to the restaurant. When DeCotiis received his call from Governor Jim Florio to be what amounts to be the governor's lawyer, Denise went to Trenton, too. Since a lawyer's secretary is virtually his nursemaid as well as defender against the world, it is obvious that DeCotiis could not wander too far without her. "I love this life!" Denise said. "There is never a dull moment." Nor are there regular hours. If Denise is home by nine in the evening, that's a short day. ● ● ● ● When she and Ed are home, they head for the Nautilus, the exercise device they have installed in their apartment. "We both like physical exercise. I do step aerobics. We both run," she said. A brown-eyed blonde, the five-foot four Mrs. Fleming stays trim and slim, ready to fight the good fight for the firm of DeCotiis and Florio. After that, she says, they'll play it by ear. The immediate goal of the young couple is to save up for a house, however long it takes to save that million dollars.

Bob DeCotiis, incidentally, has an unusual honor. A park is named for him in the town of Little Ferry. A native of Hasbrouck Heights, he never lived a day in the town where a park was named for him. Not many lawyers are loved that much by their clients. As a municipal counsel, DeCotiis represented Little Ferry and a number of other municipalities, winning reappointment in Little Ferry by Republican and Democratic administrations for a quarter century. Some say it is because he managed to keep the Little Ferry politicians from doing things that could put them in jail, a not uncommon occurrence before he became the counsel. ● ● ● ● The first night he sat in on a Little Ferry Council meeting, the Mayor knocked him down. It was not intentional. The Mayor was swinging at someone else, who ducked and let the counsel take the punch. "Is this how council meetings usually are?" DeCotiis asked, getting to his feet. "No," the Mayor replied, dusting Bob off. "This is one of the quieter sessions." ● ● ● ● His younger brother, Alfred, is a respected trial lawyer and Counsel to the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission.

Storm aid available

County Executive Thomas J. D'Alesio announced that information is now available to Essex County residents who suffered property damage in last December's winter storm. Essex was among the New Jersey counties declared a disaster area by Governor Florio and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

The Essex County Office of Emergency Management is directing residents seeking general information about the type of assistance available to call a special phone number (1-800-336-0327). Residents who are ready to file a claim for storm or flood damages should contact another toll free number (1-800-462-9029).

Both numbers will be in operation daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. A special phone number for the hearing impaired (VTTD 1-800-462-7585) will also be manned by federal disaster management staff.

D'Alesio stated that financial assistance is available for temporary housing costs, uninsured personal property loss and damage to homes. The specific kinds of programs being offered for Essex residents include:

1. Temporary Housing Grants — for repairs to your home so you can live in it, or rental assistance if repairs cannot be quickly completed.
2. Individual and Family Grants — Provides up to $11,900 to help cover uninsured losses.
3. Small Business Administration Disaster Loans — Provides up to $100,000 to repair damaged homes; up to $20,000 to repair or replace personal belongings, including furniture and automobiles; up to $500,000 for business, landlords and non-profit organizations to repair or replace damaged real estate, inventory, equipment and other business assets.
4. Disaster Unemployment — If you are out of work because of the storm and are not covered by regular Unemployment Insurance.
5. I.R.S. Tax Assistance — To assist with filing or amending tax returns on uninsured losses and to get copies of past returns.

OUR OPINION

Our schools are a bargain

A reader objects to our recent statement: "Belleville gets more education for its tax dollar than any other town in Essex County."

We repeat our statement, because there is a prevalent myth that the Belleville schools are pouring tax dollars into needless administrative and teaching salaries, producing insufficient education.

For one thing, Belleville spent $7,026 per student in the 1991-92 school year.

The average expenditure per pupil in the region was $8,172, and in the state, $7,804.

Salaries paid our teachers are no higher than the median average paid to teachers in Essex County - which means that half the school districts pay more.

Last year, more than 100 grants and scholarships were awarded publicly to Belleville High School seniors, in addition to an unknown - but large - number of scholarships awarded directly to students by colleges and other institutions.

More than 71 percent of the Belleville High seniors went on to higher education - half of them to four-year colleges and universities, 21 percent to two-year colleges and nearly 15 percent to career and trade education.

Others went directly into employment, using skills learned in the many career programs provided by the schools. Others went into military service.

Belleville has one of the most successful athletics programs in the state, with the championship teams attesting to this. Its marching band ranks among the very best in the state.

But most of all, it has worked to open the minds of its students to a broad range of culture and information beyond that found in the textbooks. Model classes have been featured at seminars and conventions, in fields ranging from stock market clubs to foreign travel to inter-cultural exchanges.

All this has been accomplished in the face of the constant need to maintain the aging school buildings and replace the outdated textbooks, introduce computer technology and meet the needs of foreign born students.

Today the schools have five full-time English-as-Second-Language teachers, and need to add another.

And all this has been accomplished in the face of opposition from those who strive to defeat every school budget, and who vociferously attack the four percent salary increase due the teachers.

The schools constitute one area in which the taxpayer of Belleville is not being shortchanged.

The schools are working heroically to make sure that Belleville's young people will be competitive in the job market, as well as productive citizens.

We should then like to amend our statement, to "Belleville gets more education for its tax dollar than any other town in New Jersey."

Insurance should be safe

The unexpected windfall of $1.4 million from Blue Cross-Blue Shield raises a lot of questions, including why it was unexpected.

The payment is, so far as Township officials seem to know, for over-charges.

Now, every few years, Blue Cross-Blue Shield has made restitution to the township for overpayments, usually in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. A repayment in the amount of $1.4 million is a definite first.

But it indicates how little our officials really know about the workings of the health organizations to which they pay more than $3 million a year.

Had the health carrier overlooked the overpayments, Belleville probably would not have been the wiser, and $1.4 million is no small amount for a town whose total budget is about $22 million.

There is also the question of how Belleville plans to meet its insurance needs.

The idea of self-insurance is, in our opinion, a high risk policy.

There may be some way to predict the average needs for health benefits for employees, but unusual occurrences can make hash of actuarial tables.

The State Health Benefit Program, supplemented by private insurance to meet the needs of the Fire and Police Departments, is both less expensive than the plans now in use, and much safer.

A crack that may widen and widen

DAMAGED GOODS - Township officials say that the broken sidewalk on Malone Street, shown here, indicates that contractors failed to live up to specifications. Instead of a four-inch thickness, the sidewalk was discovered to have a two-and-a-half-inch thickness. Now an investigation is being made into recent construction jobs all over town.

• 1993 is going to be — and should be — a better year for all of us. I have high hopes for an economic turnaround in the country under the leadership of our new President Bill Clinton. Clinton must — and he will — jumpstart the economy. There are too many people hurting — too many have lost their jobs — and too many people who are losing their jobs, and most if not all of these people, voted in November for a change and now look to Bill Clinton for that change. I am one of them. While I did not visit the City of Hope, I perpetually live in an environment of hope surrounded with optimism. Our theme for 1993 will be — WE CAN DO BETTER — and that is a commitment that I make for myself as an individual — in my activity with my various government roles — in my business enterprises with my employees, customers and vendors — and most of all, being more thoughtful about the needs of others, especially so with my family and friends. Yes — we can do better — in thought and in deed. And may the best of the New Year be yours!

• ONE of the major issues that worries the American public is the lack of a national health plan. Everybody in America should have a right to medical attention and hospital care. American workers should have the automatic right to medical and hospital services.

• FOR those of us born before 1945, we must be considered survivors:

We were born before television, before penicillin, before polio shots, frozen foods, Xerox, plastic, contact lenses, Frisbees and the pill.

We were before radar, credit cards, split atoms, laser beams and ballpoint pens, before pantyhose, dishwashers, clothes dryers, electric blankets, air conditioners, drip-dry clothes — and before man walked on the moon.

We got married first and then lived together. How quaint can you be?

In our time, closets were for clothes, not for "coming out of." Bunnies were small rabbits and rabbits were not Volkswagens. Designer Jeans were scheming girls named Jean or Jeanne, and having a meaningful relationship meant getting along well with our cousins.

We thought fast food was what you ate during Lent, and Outer Space was the back of the Riviera Theatre.

We were before house-husbands, gay rights, computer dating, dual careers and commuter marriages. We were before day-care centers, group therapy and nursing homes. We never heard of FM radio, tape decks, electric typewriters, artificial hearts, word processors, yogurt and guys wearing earrings. For us time-sharing meant togetherness — not computers or condominiums; a 'chip' meant a piece of wood, hardware meant hardware, and software wasn't even a word!

In 1940 "made in Japan" meant junk and the term "making out" referred to how you did on your exam. Pizzas, "MacDonalds" and instant coffee were unheard of.

We hit the scene when there were 5 and 10 cent stores where you bought things for five and ten cents. Sanders or Wilsons sold ice cream cones for a nickel or a dime. "For one nickel" you could ride a street car, make a phone call, buy a Pepsi or enough stamps to mail one letter and two postcards. You could buy a new Chevy Coupe for $600, but who could afford one: a pity too, because gas was 11 cents a gallon!

In our day, cigarette smoking was fashionable, "grass" was mowed, "coke" was a cold drink and "pot" was something you cooked in. Rock Music was a grandma's lullaby and AIDS were helpers in the Principal's office.

We were certainly not before the difference between the sexes was discovered, but we were surely before the sex change: we made do with what we had. And we were the last generation that was so dumb to think you needed a husband to have a baby.

No wonder we are so confused and there is a generation gap today!

BUT WE SURVIVED!!!!!! What better reason to celebrate?

According to Library Director, David Bryant, "This simple phrase, We Celebrate Books, characterizes the very heart of our mission. Helping readers to find what they need, providing opportunities for self-education to Belleville residents, enticing children to become readers through our popular storyhours, reaching beyond our library to borrow books from libraries across the state...and nation, that is how we will celebrate books on each of the 290 days we will be open in 1993."

Italian language classes

The Belleville Public Library is pleased to announce a continuation of its popular Italian language classes with instructor, Filomena Del Olmo. Tri-County Camera Club exhibit

The Belleville Free Public Library is holding a photographic exhibit by Tri-County Camera Club from Jan. 2 to 30. A reception will be held on Jan. 7 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Tri-County's membership, which ranges from professional and advanced amateur to amateur photographer, presents a diversity of ideas and styles in color as well as black and white photography by 13 of its members. Many of Tri-County Camera Club photographers have had their works exhibited throughout New Jersey and the world.

Gus Cantelmo, one of the exhibitors in this current collection of photographs at the library, still has a portfolio touring what was once the U.S.S.R. of seascape prints done in black and white photography.

The exhibit co-chairmen, Marti Kozielski and Andre J. Cantelmo Sr., did a fine job of organizing and hanging the 31 prints for this exhibit with the assistance of various club members.

Dorothy E. Spillane, club president, extends a cordial invitation to all to attend the reception on Jan. 7 or to view the exhibit during regular library hours.

Tri-County Camera Club meets at the Nutley Historical Museum and is open to all having an interest in photography. For further information about the club or prints on exhibit, phone: 667-3740 or 761-5591.

Senior housing to get airing

The Belleville Township Council has set Jan. 18 for a special public meeting on Senior Citizen housing.

The Council is supposed to approve a $400,000 bond issue to pay for the purchase of five acres on the site of the former Geriatric Hospital on Franklin Avenue. Essex County has offered the property as a site for Senior Citizen housing.

Besides the money, there is the problem of a sponsor.

An independent agency is sought, and there has been consideration of the Episcopal Diocese as a willing agency.

At the same time, the possibility of the township financing its housing as sponsor is being discussed as well. Sponsorship by the township would give greater control over the project to the local citizens.

The goal is to provide 70 to 100 units.

An objection to township sponsorship is the possibility that needed Housing and Urban Development grants would be withheld.

The success of the project depends on winning a HUD grant.

Last year, HUD denied a Belleville application because the site was not owned by the township.

Blue Cross refund stuns Belleville's government

"I almost fell over on my back," Belleville Township Manager Stephen Cuccio told the Belleville Township Council, Monday.

His reaction was to the presentation of a check for $147 million to Belleville by a representative of Blue Shield-Blue Cross two weeks earlier.

The unexpected check, Cuccio said he was told, was for refunds due the township for unused medical expenses.

The presentation was not preceded by any warning, Cuccio indicated.

Belleville pays Blue Cross-Blue Shield premiums totalling $3.36 million a year, for medical benefits for employees and retirees.

Cuccio used the refund as an argument to switch to self-insurance, administered by Rasmussen Administrators.

"What Blue Cross did was within the law, but that was money we could have used to lower taxes," Cuccio said.

Cuccio's announcement came after the Council had passed resolutions putting more than $700,000 into various department accounts.

"Had this money not arrived, we would be passing emergency appropriations to find the $700,000," Cuccio said.

As it happened, the Council was able to find $508,000 in the Group Insurance Account to put into other accounts.

The money was applied to these accounts:

Police, equipment - $40,000.
Streets and sewers - $107,000.
Police operating expenses - $102,500.
Buildings and grounds, operating expenses - $182,500.
Buildings and grounds, equipment - $16,000.
Life insurance - $10,204.
Dental plan - $19,773.
Workman's Compensation - $20,000.
Automobile insurance - $20,000.
The remainder was allotted in smaller amounts to other accounts.

Council due to lift cap

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio urged the Township Council to raise the budget cap from the state mandated 1.5 percent to the legal limit of 5 percent.

"Unless we do so, we won't be able to meet even our current expenses," Cuccio said.

The State Legislature requires a vote by the governing body of a municipality to increase its annual budget by more than 1.5 percent, presumably as a deterrent to increased expenses.

"The Legislature doesn't live by this rule, but it expects us to," Cuccio said. "I don't know of a municipality in New Jersey that isn't raising its cap."

The Council took the suggestion under advisement.

The Council also took under advisement Cuccio's request that a temporary budget of 25 percent of the present budget be adopted as a stopgap measure for 1993.

Mayor Marina Perna raised the objection that the Council might find that overexpenditures would occur, based on what she said was the Council's experience with the 1992 budget.

Cuccio said it was necessary to have a budget in place in order to pay current bills.

COLD FACTS
Despite its name, the likelihood of catching a "cold" is not related to the weather or season. Instead, a cold is the inflammation of the upper respiratory tract caused by a viral infection. The viruses that cause colds (of which there are some 200 different kinds) are spread largely through hand-to-hand contact or contact with inanimate objects. Once cold-sufferers touch their noses, the viruses spread by touching other people or touching objects (such as telephones) that others come in contact with. Previously healthy people then get colds by bringing their contaminated hands up to their own noses, eyes, or mouths. While it seems that more people get colds in cold weather, this is only true because bad weather brings people indoors and in closer contact with others.
More and more people are coming to us because of our personalized service. For all your prescription needs see us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue, 759-1968, 759-1956. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Timex watches, transistor radios, cameras and film are stocked. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

HINT: Antihistamines help stop nasal secretions and thereby indirectly help stop the spread of colds.

Bucs place third in tourney

Perna, Cardinale capture gold

By Joe Piegano

Belleville's young and inexperienced wrestling team placed a surprising third in this past Wednesday's Bloomfield Holiday tournament.

West Essex High School, which is probably the strongest NJSLA team in the county, won the event, totalling 145 points. Well balanced Bloomfield was second with 138 points while the Bucs amassed 122 team points. Passaic Valley was fourth with 118, Cranford (last years champion) was fifth with 96.5 points, Caldwell was sixth at 68, Nutley finished seventh with 66 points and Montclair closed out the scoring with a 36 point tally.

The Knights of West Essex boasted the most individual champions with five while Bloomfield had four, Belleville, two and Caldwell and Cranford one each.

John Perna, at 103 pounds and Isaiah Cardinale, at 119, were the Buc champions and both won their respective titles in dominating fashion.

Perna was especially overpowering as he pinned all three opponents in the first period. The only other wrestler in the tourney to pin all three opponents was Bloomfield's 275 pounder, Vic Cintron.

Perna opened his first varsity tournament by pinning Nutley's

Joe Critelli in only :29. In the semi finals, Perna used :56 to pin Scher Harris of Cranford. The finals were more of the same as Perna put Mike Grant of Passaic Valley away at 1:04 of the opening period.

Perna is now 5-0 on the season.

Cardinale, Belleville's second gold medal winner, normally wrestles at 112 pounds but opted to compete in the 119 pound bracket. Equally as impressive as Perna, Cardinale breezed through a field of clearly overmatched contestants.

Cardinale used :53 to pin Marjoe Ajuliane of Cranford in the quarterfinals. In the semis, he stopped Brian Rusignuolo of Caldwell, running up an 18-1 score in four minutes and recording a technical fall.

Anthony Marinello of Nutley was the next victim in the finals, lasting just :36 before being pinned. The :36 fall was the fastest pin in a finals match in the tournament.

Cardinale is now 5-0 for the season and with 32 career wins, is only seven victories away from becoming a member of the all time BHS win roster.

There were two big upsets in the tourney, one involving the Bucs Joshua Cardinale. A returning district and regional champ as well as a two time Bloomfield Holiday tournament winner, Cardinale was upset by Bloomfield's Anthony Frezza in the 112 pound final.

Frezza had lost three times previously to Cardinale and four times previously to Isaiah Cardinale. But at last weeks tourney, Frezza took command early and cruised to a 15-7 major decision gold medal. For his efforts, Frezza was the overwhelming choice for the tournaments Outstanding Wrestler Award.

Belleville's senior co-captain Carlo Ritacco lost a 7-6 decision to Brian Wilson of West Essex in the 145 pound final and earned a silver medal. Ritacco was the victim of yet another of those last second stalling penalties becoming more popular with officials.

With :16 left in the bout and both wrestlers deadlocked at six, Ritacco was penalized for stalling. Instead of the match being won by a wrestler, it was decided by an official.

And, there weren't enough police in the gym to prevent the heist that was pulled off against 125 pounder Mark Bianchini. In his 7-5 loss to Darren Torsone of West Essex in the semis, there were at least five calls made by the official which were highly controversial.

Bianchini battled hard despite the odds and settled for the bronze medal.

Other place winners for BHS were Enrico DellaMerced (5th place, 130 pounds), Joe McNish (2nd place, 140 pounds), Bob Gauthier (4th place, 152 pounds), Aris Cruz (5th place, 160 pounds) and Mike Capezio (5th place, 189 pounds).

THIS AND THAT: Wrestler of the week is a tie between John Perna and Isaiah Cardinale. Both won impressively at Bloomfield and both are 5-0, the only two undefeated Buc grapplers.

BHS wrestles Bergen Catholic this afternoon in what will clearly be the best team they will face this season. The complete list of winners at Bloomfield.

103-John Perna, Belleville. 112-Anthony Frezza, Bloomfield. 119-Isaiah Cardinale, Belleville. 125-Darren Torsone, West Essex. 130-Rich Galioto, Bloomfield. 135-Eric Nowicki, Cranford. 140-Joe Misiewicz, Bloomfield. 145-Brian Wilson, West Essex. 152-P.J. DeVito, West Essex. 160-Tom Ruane, West Essex. 171-Jed Johnston-West Essex. 189-Tod Decker-Pendergast, Caldwell. HWT-Vic Cintron, Bloomfield.

Many thanks to Ralph Cardinale and Jerry Patrizio for working so hard to put together this years wrestling program. See ya next week.

Bucs fall in tourney championship

By Mike Lambert

After surviving a furious fourth quarter rally against Clifton and winning 52-50, the Belleville boys' basketball team was blasted by Hudson Catholic, 68-52 in the championship game of the Tri County Holiday tournament.

Don Roll's team began the NNJL season in earnest last Tuesday against Don Bosco, entering that game with a 1-3 mark. Tomorrow the team is host to Nutley at 4 p.m. Next Tuesday, it's off to Paramus Catholic for a 7:30 p.m. game. A befuddled Roll had little explanation about the loss to Hudson Catholic, other than extending credit to the Hudson Catholic school for its determination.

"We didn't play with the necessary intensity," Roll said. "We played a good game against Clifton and held on for a victory. Then we get to the finals and we don't play with nearly the intensity."

"Give Hudson Catholic credit. They have basically the same team that we faced in last years final, but their a little more experienced and they battle for every loose ball. They never gave up."

Ramirez gains MVP honors in Tri County

By Mike Lambert

Tourney MVP Liz Ramirez tallied 12 points and the Belleville girls' basketball team defeated Kearny 39-30 in the consolation game of the Tri County Holiday tournament at Clifton High School.

Belleville was stopped by Plainfield 55-35 in the opening round. Cheryl Marion's group was 2-2 heading into this weeks action.

The girls battled Immaculate Heart last Tuesday. This evening, it's off to Nutley for a 7:30 p.m. contest. Next Monday, the team travels to Columbia for a 5:30 p.m. tip off and next Tuesday, Paramus Catholic ventures to Buccaneer Garden for a 4 p.m. game.

Against Plainfield, Belleville played a poor first half and never got into the flow of the contest.

"Lack of execution, too many turnovers," said Marion about the Plainfield game. "We turned the ball over 20 times in the first half alone. Our kids were a little intimidated out there. We were also slowed by the virus."

Senior forward Colleen Mannion and sophomore swing Andrea Curran were hampered by the flu. Although both girls did play, their offensive production was limited.

Plainfield led 11-3 after one quarter and 27-7 at the half. Unlike the Buffalo Bills, the Lady Bucs were unable to overcome the deficit in the second half. It was 41-18 after three before Belleville outscored Plainfield 17-14 in the final quarter to narrow the final deficit to 20 points.

Ramirez led the Belleville attack with 12 points. Yanina Calvi continued her fine play, scoring 10. Mary Campbell had seven, Curran finished with three and Mannion scored two.

Belleville was able to salvage the tournament by defeating Kearny in the consolation game. A dominating first quarter proved to be the difference and Belleville never looked back.

It was 11-1 after one frame and 18-13 at the half as Kearny did whittle the lead down somewhat.

"We lost a little concentration in the second quarter," Marion said.

"We played a real good first quarter and the kids seemed to let down. We were able to get things together at the half."

Belleville outscored the Kards 11-4 in the third to reestablish the tempo. It was 29-17 heading into the final eight minutes and Kearny was not able to get closer than nine points the rest of the way.

"Liz played a tremendous game," Marion said. "She had 17 rebounds in the game and kept things going offensively."

Ramirez was named to the all tournament team and earned MVP honors for her overall performance in the two games.

Ramirez led the Lady Bucs with 12 points. Campbell and Mannion had 11 each, Calvi scored three and Curran finished with two points.

"If we can establish some offensive consistency with Campbell, Mannion and Curran, we should be okay," the coach said. "Campbell is the key. She is a strong player and we need her scoring on the boards and at the foul line."

"Calvi is playing very well. She's running the offense and looking for the open player on the break. I'm not so much worried about her scoring as I am about her running the offense. We have the players who can score effectively. Nina's best role is at the point and she's doing the job right now."

As for Curran, Marion is happy with the leadership she has shown.

"For a sophomore, Andrea has taken the role of being a team leader," Marion said. "Along with our seniors, she fits in very well and is anxious to play an important role on the team."

The Bucs had defeated Hudson Catholic by a very comfortable margin in the '91 finals. This time around, Hudson Catholic established the tempo with a solid first half.

Belleville trailed 12-7 after one quarter and 29-19 at the half. It was 41-26 after three quarters and the two teams played almost even in the final stanza, with Hudson Catholic outscoring the Bucs 27-26 and winning 68-52.

"26 points in the first three quarters won't win you many games," Roll said. "We have to establish more consistency in our game."

Dennis DeWork paced Belleville with 13 points. Ken Johansen and Kevin Johansen scored 11 each, Mike Mundy finished with eight, Frank Means and Mike Christy scored four each and Anthony Parzanese closed out the scoring with one point.

Hudson Catholic was paced by Mike Corco and Dan Fernandez, who scored 27 and 14 points respectively.

The Clifton game was a big victory for the Bucs. Belleville took control of the game with solid second and third quarters, then held on as Clifton used the three point basket to near perfection in the final frame.

Belleville trailed 10-9 after one, but outscored the Mustangs 16-11 in the second and 14-6 in the third to build a 39-27 lead heading into the final quarter.

As it turned out, Belleville needed the cushion to withstand a Mustang rally. Clifton outscored the Bucs 23-13 in the final eight but fell two points short.

The key to the game was the play of senior guard Ken Johansen. At the outset of the season, Roll had started Johansen at the point guard spot. After two games, it was decided to move him to the two guard, in order to get more offensive production and defense.

The move worked to perfection as Johansen finished with 14 points and played a stalwart defensive game against Clifton's Gerald Robinson in the third quarter.

Robinson, who scored 19 of Clifton's first 21 points, was shut out in the third quarter by Johansen.

"We switched the defense to a box and one in order to contain Robinson," Roll explained. "He was shooting unconsciously in the first half. He's one of the best pure shooters I've seen in a while."

DeWork led the Belleville attack once again, this time with 15 points. Johansen and Mike Christy scored 14 each, Mundy had five, Kevin Johansen closed with three and Parzanese, playing his first game at the point guard spot, had one point.

"Kenny gave us a good offensive game," Roll said. "Christy also played well. We need that type of offensive production from our seniors on a consistent basis. They have the ability to do that just about every time out."

Jr. Buc wrestlers are impressive at P. Valley

On December 13, the Jr. Buc recreation wrestlers competed in the P.V. Hornets tournament and came away with an astonishing 28 medals.

First place finishers included Anthony Conte, Chris Zarro, Dave Ilario, Brian McIntosh, Josiah Vasquez, Lawrence Martin, Mike Fusco, Mike Palo, John Fitzgibbon, Robert Coppola and Kevin Caputo.

Second place finishers were Mike Driscoll, Mike Blase, Frank Zarro, Mike Fitzgibbon, Tim Hands, Mike Smith and Joe Spina.

The bronze medal winners were Lou Scanzillo, Greg Ilario and Mike Wallis. Fourth place finishers included Ken Sweetman, Jim Palo, Vianle Cocozzo, Jimmy Messina, Anthony Malanga and Raymond Pizzano.

Pepe Caffone has yet to wrestle, but has picked up two first place medals in the vacant "super" heavyweight division.

It was a long day, but varsity coaches Lou Riccardi and Mike Conte had to be satisfied with the results. Al Henry and Jim Lombard, the bantam and midget coaches, were also pleased as nine of their men placed in the tournament.

NOTES: The Middlesex Tournament, held during the recent holiday season, was the first major tourney of the '92-93 season. This year, only three Belleville Jr. Buc varsity wrestlers entered. Two came home with trophies. Mike Palo won four straight matches to capture gold. Anthony Conte was 3-1 with two pins and secured a third place finish.

A reminder, the Junior Bucs open their home schedule on Thursday evening, January 14, 1993. Come out and see these future high school stars battle West Orange.

It's time to get back to the Karen Fuccello intraspective, which was started a few weeks ago after the coach announced her resignation as girls' basketball coach. Because of the holiday season, the piece was not concluded, so we'll continue this week by looking back at the "glory" years of Lady Buc basketball.

Before I do that, however, a word about last weeks column. Shortly after it appeared in the paper, I received a phone call from an hysterical reader. Said reader wanted to know why I didn't tell her about the coma I fell into on October 17.

The reader, my mother, was quite upset about my not telling her about my supposed failing health. I had to explain that last weeks column was a series of mock predictions about the upcoming, now, new year. Some of the predictions, such as Carl Corino's 300th win as softball coach were quite serious and hopefully will be very accurate.

Others, like admitting the "L" word about Ronna Corrine Joyce, or Carmela Senesky being a charter member of the Mike Lambert fan club were strictly fictitious. And, while saying that "L" word does cause some men great apprehension, I doubt seriously it would inflict coma status.

Anyway, let's get back to Belleville sports, and a look back at the Fuccello era from 1980-1984.

The anticipation of watching Jennifer Apicella play basketball was building well before she took the court for her first game on the varsity level on December 12, 1980. Then a sophomore forward on the Lady Buc team, Rosie Leonidis first introduced me to the Apicella aura.

"Wait until you see this Apicella kid play basketball," Leonidis said to me following a Lady Buc game in February of 1980. "She's good. Real good."

"Where is she now," I asked, oblivious to the fact that Jennifer Apicella wasn't even in high school yet. "She's in the eighth grade, tearing up the Suburban League," Rosie replied. "She can shoot from anywhere on the floor. Wait 'till you see her, she's unbelievable."

Nine months later, I saw her. A day after her varsity debut against Verona, the Lady Bucs were practicing at the high school. I had missed the game at Verona, opting instead to watch the boys' basketball game at Belleville against Weehawken.

If you knew Joe Papisidero then you didn't want to miss a game he coached because it would probably be a wild game. Anyway, I went to the gym that Saturday morning to get the stats from the Verona game.

Looking over the book, I saw this Apicella kid scored 28 points.

In her varsity debut.

On the road.

And, get this, she was nervous and didn't shoot well. I knew the name Apicella only because of Jenny's older sister, Eileen, who was a cheerleader at BHS and had graduated the spring before Jenny's freshman season. Now, I finally got the chance to meet this phenom. Having considered myself a pretty good basketball player, I felt it time to teach this kid a lesson about the art of outside shooting.

I challenged her to a game of OUT, and proceeded to get my "blankety blank" kicked by her. She didn't say a word the entire time. All I remember was Barbara Gundry looking at me with that look which said "I can't help you, you're on your own."

Fortunately, the game of OUT was the start of a friendship which lasted throughout Jenny's high school career and I'm glad to say, continues today.

Apicella's 28 point effort at Verona was just the start of a phenomenal four year career. The memories are endless and anyone who followed the team during that time will tell you the games were unbelievable, even the losses.

In 1980-81, the girls finished 15-7, paced by seniors Dawn Ritacco and Carolann Salerno along with Gundry, Leonidis, Apicella and another freshman with outstanding potential named Dina DeAquino.

It was during that '80-81 campaign that Apicella was first introduced to what would be her albatross throughout high school, the sprained ankle.

In the Essex County Holiday tournament at Livingston, Apicella stepped on another players foot in the second quarter and sustained the first of what would be numerous sprained ankles. She played the rest of the game and helped the team to a one point win over Bloomfield, but the foot swelled extensively during the night and she was unable to play in the championship game against Livingston the following night.

It was quite a sight entering the Livingston gym for the title game. There was Apicella on crutches, Leonidis, who had undergone surgery on her knee and would never play hoops again, on crutches, and me, having just

What Do They Do?

First Ladies' Roles

On Jan. 20, Hillary Clinton will become our new first lady.

We Americans have always been interested in the first ladies.

We will all be watching to see how Hillary Clinton fills the role.

As has been true of all first ladies, what she does and what we think about her will be important to her husband's success.

There is no job description. Each first lady decides the best way for her to handle this difficult, full-time and non-paying job.

Martha Washington

From Martha Washington on, the roles of the first ladies have been changing.

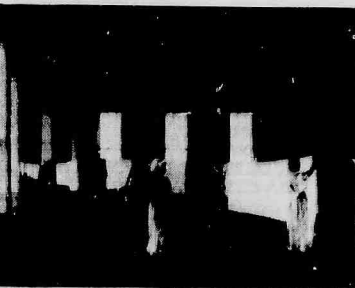

She helped her husband in many ways, but she once described herself as "an old-fashioned Virginia housekeeper."

Abigail Adams

Abigail Adams was well-informed and often gave her husband her views on government matters. Her enemies often called her "Mrs. President."

Like all first ladies, she had to be careful not to appear to have too much influence over her husband.

Abigail Adams was also the first first lady to live in the White House. Since she had no fenced-in yard, she hung her clothes to dry in a big, unfinished room.

Dolley Madison

Dolley Madison was famous as a White House hostess. She used social events to win support for her husband. She also served as a hostess for Thomas Jefferson.

The roles that first ladies play depend on many things, such as:

Their husbands' needs

President Franklin Roosevelt was crippled with polio. Eleanor Roosevelt often traveled on his behalf.

The customs of the time

First ladies used to be expected to pay social calls on the wives of important politicians and diplomats. Many spent their days traveling from house to house making short visits. How charming the first lady was could decide how popular the president might be.

Their personalities

Mary Lincoln, who really was well-educated, spent a lot of money on fine clothes and parties. She felt she had to impress Washington society because she was from the "frontier" state of Kentucky.

After reading stories about Hillary Clinton, make a list of her personal traits.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Leader of Equal Rights

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was a great leader in the late 1950s and 1960s.

The third Monday in January is a national holiday.

Dr. King was a leader in the struggle for equal rights for black citizens.

He believed in using peaceful means to change laws that were not fair to blacks.

In 1964 he received the Nobel Peace Prize for his non-violent leadership.

While he was popular with many people, white and black, some did not like him or his views. He was shot and killed in Memphis, Tenn., on April 4, 1968. He was 39 years old.

Martin Luther King was born on Jan. 15, 1929, in this house in Atlanta. Today, his birthplace is a National Historic Site.

The First Ladies' Roles

Each first lady decides how she will handle her role.

Wife and hostess

Some first ladies have had to balance the role of wife and mother with their many other duties.

Not all first ladies were the wives of a president. Chester Arthur's wife died a year before he was elected to office. His sister, Mary Arthur McElroy, served in that role.

Mamie Eisenhower in the White House pantry making out a shopping list. She was a good hostess.

First ladies often are the hostess at big dinners held to honor visiting leaders.

This issue is based on the exhibit "First Ladies: Political Role and Public Image," a permanent exhibit at the National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

Adviser in political matters

Rosalynn Carter scheduled working luncheons with her husband. President Jimmy Carter often consulted her. Mrs. Carter also attended Cabinet meetings.

Many first ladies have worked very closely with their husbands. They have helped to push the goals they had in mind for governing the country. Some preferred not to get involved.

Worker for a cause

No first lady supported as many causes as did Eleanor Roosevelt. She served soup in a New York soup kitchen for the hungry.

Barbara Bush was very interested in encouraging kids to read.

Today, first ladies work very hard on causes or national problems that interest them.

Look through your newspaper for news of Hillary Clinton. Clip photos and identify the role.

Worker to help preserve our history and art

Jackie Kennedy was very interested in restoring the White House.

Many first ladies are interested in preserving our country's music, theater, art and dance.

Campaigner

First lady Barbara Bush campaigned hard in the 1992 elections.

First ladies of today must be good speakers who are well-informed. They are an important part of the president's team.

Meeting with the press

The Girl Scouts was of special interest to first lady Lou Hoover. She used radio to encourage girls to join.

First ladies must learn how to use radio, TV and newspapers to get their messages to the people. They also use the press to get across the kind of image they wish to give to the American people.

Next week, read all about the Inauguration and the roles presidents play.

undergone ankle surgery, on crutches. It took ten minutes just to get the three of us off the bus.

Anyway, Apicella was able to come back and play in January, but the bad ankle would hamper her for most of that month. She would not get into top flight until the final game of the season, a game against Morristown in the state tournament.

Playing with a heavy heart, her uncle had passed away a few days prior to the game, Jenny scored 35 points and kept Belleville in the game until late in regulation when Morristown pulled away and prevailed.

Three years later, Apicella would get her revenge against Morristown, but that's for a later article.

I've said it before, Apicella's performance against Morristown in March of 1981 was her best: all around game of her career. But the end of the '80-'81 season was just the beginning of the "glory" years.

There is more to come next week, along with a conversation with Fucello remembering those years when Lady Buc basketball dominated the headlines.

BELLEVILLE HALL OF FAME

After an 18 month hiatus, the Belleville Hall of Fame dinner returns next month. The inductees have been selected and we'll begin profiling them in next weeks issue.

The Hall of Fame committee does an outstanding job with the dinner and this year should be no exception.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

Most fans will think the last time the Dolphins and Chargers met in the playoffs was that unbelievable playoff game in January of '82 which went into OT before the Chargers won on a field goal.

That's not correct. The Chargers and Dolphins met in the playoffs in January of 1983 at the Orange Bowl. That was the strike season and the playoff format was somewhat altered. Miami won in the first round over New England while San Diego defeated Pittsburgh.

The Dolphins and Chargers met in the next round and Miami prevailed 34-13. The Dolphins then beat the Jets for the AFC championship and played Washington for the Super Bowl. The Redskins won that game on John Riggins' run in the fourth quarter, 27-17.

FOR THIS WEEK

Let's talk Dolphins and Chargers once again, this time that epic battle in January of '82. San Diego jumped out to a big lead before Miami came back, similar to Buffalo's comeback of last weekend.

How far was San Diego ahead before Miami came back? Did Miami ever take the lead in the game? Who kicked the winning field goal for San Diego? What feat did Kellen Winslow accomplish in the game which he didn't do during the entire regular season? Where did San Diego play the week after defeating Miami?

Working Miracles Every Day

Nearly 900,000 disaster victims — plus emergency workers and others — received assistance from The Salvation Army last year.

How To Tell What's In Your Drinking Water

The United States has one of the safest drinking water supplies in the world, thanks to the Safe Drinking Water Act passed by the federal government in 1974. However, even though guidelines have been established to protect our drinking water supply, there still are a number of ways our water supply can become contaminated.

Most water supplies are safe, but if you suspect you have a problem, some simple research can put your mind at ease, according to Guide to Quality Drinking Water, a free 20-page educational booklet offered by Everpure, Inc., Westmont, Ill., a subsidiary of Culligan International.

When researching what's in your water, follow these steps:

1. Obtain Recent Water Tests

If you live in a community served by a public water supply—a water works utility controlled by the state—contact your water supplier, the local health department and the state water quality agency to request results of recent water tests. These results will show you the concentrations of various substances found in your water.

If you get your drinking water from a private well or a very small system serving less than 25 persons, you may find it difficult to locate public information, since the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) does not mandate the testing of these water supplies. Your local health department may have information on contamination levels, and should be able to do some simple testing.

2. Compare Test Results with Maximum Contaminant Levels.

Once you have test results, compare the contaminant levels found in the water with the Maximum Contaminant Levels (MCLs) set by the EPA to determine if any of the contaminant levels exceed the EPA limits. A current MCL list can be obtained by calling your local EPA office listed in the telephone directory.

3. Research the Distribution System.

Testing for contaminants usually is done at the treatment plant. However, drinking water can become contaminated after it leaves the plant and makes its journey to your home. Find out the answers to these questions:

Are lead pipes used in the distribution system? Lead distribution pipes are common in some municipal water systems, or are used for service connections to homes. Water can corrode lead pipes, causing dissolved and particulate lead to leach into drinking water, creating a health hazard.

Are lead, copper or iron pipes used in your home plumbing system? Lead pipes and copper pipes joined with lead-based solder are often found in older homes, and can be a source of

Options For Safe, Luxurious Bathing

The Galleria 5 is perfect for remodeling installations, fitting in traditional five-foot bathtub recess areas. The Galleria 5 gives homeowners the opportunity to enjoy a deep, relaxing whirlpool, even in a smaller bathroom.

The Sensorium Corner whirlpool is unique for two reasons: it is the deepest of American Standard's whirlpools at 22", and it has an integrated seat or ledge that is ideal for soothing foot baths. The Sensorium Corner also has a powerful, yet quiet, one-horsepower motor, eight fully-adjustable jets, and deck-mounted control switch.

Engineered for safety, style, and customer satisfaction, three luxury acrylic whirlpools from American Standard fill distinctive needs in residential bathrooms.

For luxury suites, the Sensorium Corner whirlpool and new Sensorium are variations on American Standard's Sensorium bathing experience.

The Sensorium Corner (62" x 62" x 22") is unique for two reasons: it is the deepest of American Standard's whirlpools at 22", and it has an integrated seat or ledge that is ideal for soothing foot baths. The Sensorium Corner also has a powerful, yet quiet, one-horsepower motor, eight fully-adjustable jets, and deck-mounted on/off switch. Three brass air volume controls allow the user to determine the water turbulence, from gentle to vigorous massage action.

The updated Sensorium, in the distinctive shell shape, is offered with rapid-full Amarilis faucets and desirable hand-shower. Amarilis faucets are solid brass construction with ceramic disc valving for a lifetime of drip-free performance. Both the Sensorium Corner and new Sensorium are available in best-selling colors of White, Bone, Silver, and Black.

The existing Sensorium, with its unique color-matched, scalloped faucets is offered in Bone.

All three Sensorium whirlpools offer the installation advantage of factory-installed faucets, grab bars and trim.

For smaller bathrooms, or remodeling existing bathrooms, the Galleria 5 (60" x 32 1/2" x 18") is perfect, fitting in traditional five-foot bathtub recess areas. The Galleria 5 offers homeowners a deep, relaxing whirlpool, with a three-quarter horsepower pump, is adjustable jets, deck-mounted control switch, and integral lumbar support.

Safety is a primary consideration for the Sensorium Collection and Galleria 5:

- Integral, textured tub bottoms, create a slip-resistant surface that can not wear off.
- Grab bars are required.
- The entire factory-installed whirlpool system features UL approval, not just for the individual components.
