Essex County officials critical of Rasmussen; D'Alessio blasts agency for backlogging claims

By Howard Klausner

While Belleville Township Administrator Stephen Cuccio has endorsed the reputation of the Rasmussen Agency as potential administrator of a proposed self-insurance program, at least two governments - Essex County and Parsippany-Troy Hills - have dropped Rasmussen as their administrator.

Parsippany-Troy Hills also found it was victimized by a corrupt insurance plan administrator.

In the case of Parsippany-Troy Hills, self insurance first led the municipality to the Omega Agency.

A federal investigation of Omega resulted in the indictment of three persons, including the mayor, on charges of defrauding the borough of thousands of dollars in fake claims. Two officials of Omega pleaded guilty to charges of racketeering.

The township then switched to Rasmussen. That company was then dropped on the complaint of being slow in making payments.

In the case of Essex County, the alleged slowness of Rasmussen in processing claims led to non-payment of 5,000 claims filed by the 5,500 employees of the county, according to D'Alessio and Essex County Administrator Donald DeBiase, who ordered the termination of the contract with Rasmussen last September.

Rasmussen became the administrator of the county health benefits plan in 1988.

De Biase stated:

"When County Executive Thomas J. D'Alessio took office in January 1991, there were numerous complaints from individual employees, union representatives and the Essex County Board of Chosen Freeholders concerning the County's self-funded plan and the services provided by Rasmussen.

"These complaints ranged from delayed payments to errors in claim processing.

"In order to correct these and other problems, County representatives met with the top management from Rasmussen who promised to improve their service.

"These corrective actions improved service for a short period of time. However, in December 1991, the Rasmussen Agency installed a new computer system which created more processing delays and errors and inaccessible claims representatives.

"Finally, in September 1992, there was a Rasmussen telephone recording which informed all callers that inquiries would not be answered until after Sept. 4 because the Rasmussen Agency was attempting to service a claim backlog.

"Rasmussen made this decision unilaterally without consulting Essex County.

"When we confronted Rasmussen with this issue, they demanded an increase in their administrative fee.

"Because of these recent events and the gradual deterioration of service, not to mention the inconvenience for employees, Essex County has terminated its contractual relationship with the Rasmussen Agency effective Sept. 7, 1992."

In a statement issued to County employees on Oct. 1, 1992, D'Alessio said:

"When I assumed the Office of County Executive, I quickly took notice of a fast, increasing volume of complaints - heartfelt complaints - from our workers about a hornet's nest of problems with the processing of health claims by the outside agency (Rasmussen) hired in July of 1988.

"The company, under new management, decided to try their new computer software on us - on you - their largest client.

"We made it clear we wouldn't stand for this, and we have severed our contractual relationship."

The County put out bids for a new administrator of the insurance plan, and received five bids. It selected the MacKinnon Company of Fairfield as the soundest company to hire.

Complaints about Rasmussen as health plan administrator have also been made by employees of Woodbridge.

In Belleville, an employee union officer said, "No matter how good the benefits they show us, the plan has no meaning if it doesn't have good administration."

A clash of the generations, or just high-jinks?

Eight students suspended for concert incident school draws line at tossing condoms to crowd

By Howard Klausner

When the eight members of Triple Alliance - four on instrument, four on vocal - got well into their rendition of Sex Is The Devil's Work at Friday's Belleville High School Concert, they provided an unexpected climax to the number - a shower of condoms tossed into the packed high school auditorium.

Janice Naziola, the teacher in charge of the well-attended event, then received a shower of her own, as protests rained in from the audience that included children, students and parents.

She passed on the protests to the school administration, and by 10 p.m. the performers were receiving telephone calls announcing three-day suspensions.

The next public appearance of Triple Alliance came at Monday night's session of the Board of Education, where heated verbal exchanges with adults in the audience nearly brought on fisticuffs.

Board President Patricia Pisano moved for a recess until things calmed down, and when the Board reconvened, Belleville police were located strategically at the exits of the high school auditorium.

According to one of the students who came to protest their suspension, it was all a matter of free speech.

"Don't try to sell that line to me," Trustee Gabe Nazziola, the only board member who had been present at the incident, replied. "It was sheer shock."

Two parents of the suspended students argued that the throwing of the condoms was intended to get the message across to the students about safe sex.

This did not sit well with the board members.

Board Vice President Ralph Mazzuca said, "People, I have shoes that are older than some of you. I say that to let you know that we are not a bunch of nerds here. We know what is going on. And we know there are better paths to sex education than the one you chose."

Nazziola said, "So-called safe sex is not as safe as you seem to think. Why not preach abstinence?"

One protester told the board, "Young people are going to have sex, and there is nothing any of can do about it."

The student representative who sits on the Board of Education said she had not been present at the incident, so she could not judge it. However, she was involved in a Peers to Peers program in which she discussed AIDS and teen-age pregnancy problems with younger students. "Their way of delivering the message of safe sex may not have been the right way," she said. "But it shows that a problem exists that should be addressed."

An exchange of words occurred when Frank Mantegna moved toward a student at the microphone and was intercepted by another teen-ager, who challenged Man-tegna to a fight. Others in the audience intervened, and at this point the meeting was recessed.

One student protested that he had been told by a high school administrator, "You have no civil rights when you enter this high school." Assistant Superintendent of Schools Michael Lally protested that this was not school policy, and the remark may have been taken out of context.

"No one is ever going to take away your civil rights," a school trustee said. "But you have to learn to respect the rights of others."

Japanese visit to organize a Cherry Blossom festival

A delegation of Japanese government and business officials met with the Belleville Chamber of Commerce at the Belleville Public Library to explore plans for the annual Cherry Blossom Festival in Branch Brook Park, scheduled for April 18.

Invited by Council President Dr. Frank Noonan, the visitors included Satoru Gohara, Japanese Consul for Cultural Affairs and Education; Mrs. Toyoyo Allen of Ramapo College, representing the Japanese citizens residing in New Jersey; representatives of the Japanese Culture Society of New Jersey, and representatives of the Prefecture of Fukui, sister state to New Jersey.

Besides Dr. Noonan, Belleville was represented by Lou Paraboschi, President of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce; Lou Cicenia, Chairman of the Belleville Renaissance Committee, and Eileen Brown, Secretary of the Chamber.

Newark Mayor Sharpe James was represented by Gerard Barros of the Mayor's Office.

Benjamin J. Schaffer, Special Events Coordinator for the Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs represented the county.

Schaffer said that plans had been made for the event by his office, and the Japanese visitors concurred in leaving the direction of the event to him.

Cicenia and Paraboschi expressed concern that Belleville would not get the publicity it sought as host community, particularly since a major Japanese television network has indicated it plans to televise the event for its home audience.

Mrs. Allen said that some 5,000 Japanese families now live in New Jersey, representing 160 corporations doing business in the state, and that 2,500 Japanese children were attending New Jersey schools.

The theme of the event, she said, was "Let's Learn and Enjoy Japanese Culture."

Dr. Noonan expressed the hope that it would bring Japanese interest and investment to Belleville.

Board votes $50 bounty on each 'illegal'

Anyone who turns in the name of a student in the Belleville School District who does not live in the township will receive $50 for that information, according to an ordinance passed by the Board of Education, Monday.

A voice raised against the bounty idea was that of Trustee Dr. Anthony D'Agostino, who said he did not like to see the Board of Education "get into the bounty business - or a police-type school system."

Trustee Vincent Marrone asked if the names of informants would be made public.

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello replied that they would be.

The Board indicated that the vote was in response to expressed fears that illegally registered students were evading the efforts to check their addresses.

Dr. D'Agostino asked if the proponents of bounties were not trying to "fatten their own pocketbooks with bounty money" as he cast the sole vote against the ordinance.

Aside From That

By: Howard Kleuser

"I have great faith in Belleville and I intend to be successful here." So spoke Gerry Pastore, owner and creator of Wicker and Gifts, the newest addition to the Washington Avenue line-up of stores. He is in the newly redecorated store facing the Municipal Building next to Charles Jewelers. Pastore retired some years ago from employment with Essex County and became interested in the wicker furniture and basket business. It is not an easy one. "I'm down on the docks in New York or Philly at five in the morning, meeting the ships." ● ● ● ● ● By being there at dockside, he gets the baskets from Poland or the buri furniture from the Philippines or the top-grade wicker ware from China before they can reach the warehouse or the furniture factory. "I get the best price and best quality." Wicker and rattan, and buri, are plants whose fiber is like wood, but more pliable. Buri makes for good, durable furniture and wicker - particularly Chinese wicker - makes for even stronger furniture. "A wicker chair will last a hundred years," Mr. Pastore said. The interesting thing about wicker is that, unlike wood, it enjoys a good wetting down. "You can leave it out in the rain and snow, and it's revived. Or you can spray water on it a few times a year." ● ● ● ● ● For some reason or other, the best wicker and rattan baskets are made in Poland. People who know baskets will pay top dollar for Polish ware. In summer, Mr. Pastore spray paints his furniture in his garage. Otherwise he leaves it to a factory to apply the fashion colors of the moment. The pliability of wicker has made it a favorite of furniture makers for centuries. It reached a peak of popularity in this country in the 1920s, and then fell out of style for a while, although it never disappeared from the market. Recent years have seen an upturn in demand. Mr. Pastore had a store in Rutherford but outgrew it. He found his way to Belleville, and hopefully is part of the retail business revival here. ● ● ● ● ● News that the Roosevelt Family has links with Belleville through Nicholas Roosevelt, engineer and entrepreneur, reminded Councilman Bill Cook that he is a distant cousin of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Cook, named Irishman of the Year by the Belleville Irish-American Society last year, has a Dutch side to his family, as well. Another man with blood ties to a famous American patriot is Alex Nuckle who traces his forebears back to Alexander Hamilton, the man who made the '0 bill famous. Alex is not sure whether his family goes back to Alex or to Alex's brother, and he has never really rested on his ancestral laurels. At 24, he has behind him a series of multi-million dollar construction jobs, including the roofing of the South Street Seaport and the Martin Luther King Federal Courthouse in Newark. He says he regrets having gone into the business world as a teen-ager, by passing college. But he consoles himself by going roller skating in New York traffic and waiting for the construction market to revive. ● ● ● ● ● Alexander Hamilton was also a young genius, in his day, becoming the protege of George Washington. After serving as the first Secretary of the Treasury in Washington's Administration, he went on to found the American banking system and setting up the monetary system that provided stability and wealth for American enterprise. He met his untimely end in a duel at Weehawken with Aaron Burr, a Newark boy who grew up to become Vice President with John Adams. The duel also ended Burr's political career. ● ● ● ● ● Hamilton married a Belleville girl, the daughter of wealthy and politically powerful General Philip Schuyler and he probably walked or went horseback on Belleville soil at some time in his life. The Schuyler Family owned the copper mines that had brought engineer Josiah Hornblower and his steam engine to America in 1753. And so goes our history, intertwined with practically everything.

Frank Vincent, the actor, was back in town recently, after an unfortunate sojourn of several months in federal custody on a drug conviction. His many friends stayed loyal, sending him letters of encouragement as he lived out his real life role as a prisoner. He had appeared in "Goodfellas" as the man murdered by Frank Pesci and the two have appeared together in several films. He appeared in good shape and he told friends he was confident he would be back in the film business, this time as a producer. He indicated he had a film project on which he is working, and friends wished him good luck in the enterprise. ● ● ● ● ● Our favorite Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten reports a harrowing experience in Atlantic City during the League of Municipalities Convention. "I'm looking around for a nice couch to rest myself, and this big guy beats me to it. And I see that it's Ray Lesniak, the Democratic State Chairman. So he's stretched out on the couch, and the next thing I see is Mayor Marina Perna come into the room. She asks him about being on the Democratic ticket for State Senate, and he tells her 'Don't worry, you're on the line!' I guess nobody figured it was worth telling Tom D'Alessio about it, even if the Essex County Chairman is usually the guy to make those decisions. But then, what does a cat know about politics?" ● ● ● ● ● Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says he is proud of the adults who threatened teen-agers at the Board of Education meeting Monday. "It may be true that taking on a 16-year-old may not be considered the height of courage, but considering the opposition, those kids could probably handle themselves. Anyway, it's in the tradition of the Kool Kumbur Boys, my political organization, whose motto is 'Bash 'em while they're young, and before they know a good lawyer.'"

At the convention, Belleville was honored for its 12th year of meeting the NJASC Executive Committee's strict criteria to be deemed an honor organization. The criteria for the honor school award is as follows: hold meetings at least twice monthly in a definite place; have a proper constitution; take part in the Annual Convention in January; attend the fall business meeting and the spring awards program; send at least one delegate to the Leadership Training Conference in August; pay NJASC membership dues; send prompt, written responses to all NJASC correspondence that requires an answer; send at least one article to the NJASC Review, and circulate it among members when received; send a copy of minutes along with honor school questionnaire; be involved in worthwhile projects to benefit school and community, support the state charity.

The S.G.O. members listened to a speech by Deirdre Stanford on the subject of communication. The rest of the day members attended workshops, while S.G.O. President, Virginia Rajines, voted on Positions for the State Executive Board. When asked about the trip, Virginia Rajines said, "It was a good opportunity for kids to be involved in government. The Convention was a great place to share ideas." Some of the workshops attended were "How to Become a Student Council Liaison to the Board," "Senior Day," "Organizing a Successful Freshman Orientation," "Spirit Week," "Almost Anything Goes," and finally "Balloons as a Fund Raiser."

Students will perform in concert

Four Belleville High School choral students will sing with 244 other selected students from the North Jersey area in a concert on Feb. 28 at Morris Knolls High School in Denville.

The four students who auditioned for and were selected to perform with the prestigious North Jersey Region I Chorus are senior Evelyn Gonzalez, junior Michael Idenden, and sophomores Michelle Ganguly and Albert Alves.

David Nixon, a junior, was selected to perform with the North Jersey Region Symphonic Band whose concert is scheduled for Jan. 31, at Roxbury High School in Succasunna.

Evelyn Gonzalez has been a very active music student since her freshman year. A dedicated choral member, she was also this year's drum majorette. She plays clarinet in the high school's orchestra, concert and marching bands, and is vocal soloist with the jazz ensemble.

Last year, Gonzalez had the distinct honor of being selected as an alternate to attend the Governor's School for the Arts program at Trenton State College. Upon graduating from Belleville High School, she will attend Bloomfield College where she plans to earn a bachelor's degree in nursing and continue her private study of voice with William Sempier of Verona.

A talented percussionist, Michael Idenden participates in the high school marching band, jazz band, concert band, orchestra, and mixed chorus. In addition to his involvement in the school's performing groups, Idenden finds the time to perform with the Bloomfield Civic Band and the Garden State Marching Band.

He recently attended the Inauguration Washington Week Seminar with many other high school students from around the country. Idenden, who studies percussion privately with Edward Fay, adjunct professor at William Paterson College, plans to major in jazz performance and music administration at William Paterson.

Sophomore Michelle Ganguly plays cello in the high school orchestra and chamber orchestra, and sings soprano in the mixed chorus. As an eighth grader, she performed with the North Jersey Junior High School Regional Orchestra. Although Ganguly would like to pursue a career in medicine, music will always be an important part of her life.

This is the second year that sophomore Albert Alves is participating in the Region I Chorus. In addition to singing tenor in the mixed chorus, Alves plays trumpet in the marching band, concert band, and jazz ensemble, and violin and piano in the orchestra and chamber orchestra. Like Evelyn Gonzalez, he studies voice privately with William Sempier of Verona. Alves' long term goal is to earn a doctorate and teach English and foreign languages.

He presently teaches English as a Second Language to adults at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Newark as a community service.

Since his freshman year, junior David Nixon has participated in the marching band, concert band, and jazz ensemble, as clarinetist and saxophonist. Nixon, who studies clarinet with Belleville alumna Julie Pedalino, is also very active musically in the community, being a member of the Bloomfield Civic Band and St. Peter's Church choir in Belleville. He plans to major in business and minor in music education in college.

After attending several rehearsals, these students will share their talents and experiences in the culminating concert with their respective regional performing organizations.

The four choral students thanked their director, Dr. Thomas Finetti, for his extra time and hard work in preparing them for their audition.

It was through his participation in the New Jersey School Music Association and the Music Educators National Conference that made their participation in the North Jersey choral audition possible.

Likewise, David Nixon is not only appreciative to Joseph Kraemer, high school band director, for his participation in the Region Band audition, but also to his private teacher for her coaching and support that helped him achieve his success.

LITERACY MONTH A SUCCESS — The closing ceremonies for the month were held at Essex County College at which both tutors and learners were recognized. ## OUR OPINION

Don't make it worse

A letter from an anguished tax payer, printed in the Your Opinion column on this page, reflects a very real grievance and a very mistaken response.

The letter writer apparently believes that layoffs and pay reductions will be the right answer to the tax increases that have burdened property owners every successive year.

But what those actions would do is accelerate a vicious cycle, the same vicious cycle that has eroded Belleville for the past 40 years.

By eliminating needed services, you chase away investment and destroy ratables, thereby making the remaining taxpayers pay even higher taxes.

How safe will our streets and homes be with less police, or less firefighters? How good will our quality of life be with less Department of Public Works employees, or with less Health services?

What chance will our children have to compete in the job market if the schools are shortchanged?

The answer to Belleville's tax problems lies elsewhere than in the township payroll.

One primary cause is the loss of ratables - the closing of factories and the disappearance of quality stores - which has put the tax burden on the homeowners.

Belleville has one of the best locations in the world for a business, particularly one that needs educated and motivated labor, and access to the world's greatest marketplace, the Northeast Corridor from Boston to Washington, D.C.

We just have not used the imagination or the energy to keep and attract those ratables.

We have allowed the busiest retail center in the area - Washington Avenue - to deteriorate, refusing to provide the needed parking that would siphon off some of those 14,000 cars a day that pass through the town, but have no place to park for shopping.

A former officeholder maintains that it is not necessary to acquire buildings on Washington Avenue for a parking lot.

He says there is no need for the parking. Or that parking could be found further from existing stores.

But let us look at two neighboring stores on Washington Avenue.

Yudin Art Supply and R and S Automotive both draw customers to the area because of the special nature of their businesses. Yudin has had the same ownership for many years. R and S has changed ownership three times in the past several years.

Yudin has parking behind the store. R and S customers have to find parking where they can. The result is that one business holds steady, and the other struggles, although one would think there is a bigger market for automotive supplies than for art supplies.

Other businesses on the street report doing 30 percent less business in 1992 than in 1988.

Coupled with this is the fact that taxes on Washington Avenue properties have increased by more than 30 percent since 1988.

The town's refusal to provide parking may seem like a way to save money, in the short run, but it has become terribly expensive to the taxpayers in the long run.

And something puzzles us about the tax increases on the merchants, as well as on the property owners.

The last sale of property on Washington Avenue took place in June 1990. And that was the only transfer that occurred during the entire year.

That would indicate to us that there is not a strong market for Washington Avenue property.

Yet the taxes go up. At the same time, million dollar valuation reductions have been given to major property holders, on the grounds that property values have decreased.

But this doesn't seem to apply to the small business or the small property.

It is obvious that Belleville and New Jersey must get back more of the tax dollars we send to Washington, and we were getting more money back under Revenue Sharing. But Belleville hasn't received any federal aid for five years.

There is a new Administration in Washington. Perhaps the Soak the Poor attitude of the past will be replaced by something more positive.

That, and some efforts on our own part to restore our tax base would end the impoverishment of our property owners.

YOUR OPINION

Plea for relief

To the editor:

I am an owner of a one family home in Belleville. When I purchased my home in this township my taxes were approximately $2,600.00 and going up, approximately five years later I am paying in taxes $5,200.00, a $415.00 increase this year, 1993. How about next year? How much more money? This has to stop!! in this high price township.

The only way to decrease expenses is to control the spending of our township, which some of our elected officials can not do! Let's start with budgetary cuts, layoffs (cut the fat) and demotions. A wage, salary and promotion freeze.

Our priority is to stabilize property taxes. In our township there are hundreds of houses for sale. Why? (taxes). Because we the taxpayers can't afford the exaggerated increases in taxes every year, did you the taxpayer ask yourself what do we get, nothing!

Those elected officials who voted for this increase in taxes should be voted out of office at election time.

United we stand, let us the taxpayers take back our township that is slipping away to these spend thrift politicians in their political economy.

Also the Board of Education gave 7.50% raises to some staff members. The Board of Education should reduce its education costs.

A town's ingratitude

To The Editor,

How does one define justice?

I have lived in Belleville at my present address for the past 29 years of my marriage. My husband, John, lived in this house for 73 years, and his father before him, and now my children.

This home has seen three generations.

If you commit a crime you go on national television and become a millionaire. Criminals are suing the prisons for being treated unjustly.

John suffered a stroke three years ago. We fell behind in our taxes with property we own.

I have tried every month to send our town whatever I can, I have never missed a month.

The town is refusing my payment, telling me it is not enough. We have paid taxes, as I said, for generations.

No one looks back at a family who contributed in building a town. Instead we give millions of dollars to people who have committed crimes.

My only crime is being a good person.

Mrs. Geraldine Auricemma

Mt. Prospect Avenue, Belleville

P.S. My husband John passed away on June 10, 1992.

O'Connor asks action

To the editor:

I served as Plumbing Inspector for the Township of Belleville and was one of the employees whose health benefits were eliminated. As part of the stipulation by the Township in Court, the Township agreed to allow any employees to return to the employ of the Township of Belleville to complete the required time. That opportunity has not been afforded me, although the request had been made on numerous occasions to the former Manager.

Aside from that aspect, I have taken a civil service exam for Plumbing Inspector and I am ranked First on the List. The Township hired someone who was not even on the civil service list. In pursuing this matter further with the Department of Personnel of the State of New Jersey, they inform me that the payroll of the Township of Belleville was disapproved on November 24, 1992 for the reason above stated.

I am, therefore, requesting the Township Manager to appoint me as Plumbing Inspector forthwith.

Thank you for your anticipated cooperation. I am available to discuss this with you at the earliest opportunity you may have.

Bernard D. O'Connor

A matter of justice

To The Editor,

On Monday, Jan. 11, I found a ticket on my car. Since it had snowed and the street sweeper hadn't shown up, why the ticket?

I went to the Public Works Department and asked about this matter. The man on duty said the street sweeper wasn't sent out that morning because of the weather. So, why did I get a ticket? He said I have to check elsewhere.

Therefore, I went to City Hall to see Mr. Cuccio, the Town Manager, who was at a meeting. I informed his secretary of the problem. She took my name, address and phone number and said he would call.

Two days later, not having heard from Mr. Cuccio, I returned to his office and his secretary informed me that nothing could be done. The sign must be obeyed.

The following Monday, Jan. 18, when the street sweeper came, there were several cars parked on the street. Not one of them received a ticket. Why? This action is not consistent.

● RECENTLY, Ken Dean, the General Manager of the Upper Montclair Country Club, decided to retire after 34 years of super service to the club's members. A very affable fellow, Ken Dean is extremely modest. Ken served in the Royal Navy from 1939 to 1945, seeing action in the North Atlantic with the Murmansk Convoys and South Atlantic, where he fought against the German Graf Spee. He concluded his service in the Southeast Asia Theater of war. His record also includes a stint with British Overseas Airways which he joined immediately following World War II. President Gordon Hahn has this comment to make in observing Ken's retirement, "I can say that Ken Dean has never failed to meet the highest standard of a general manager. During his first 25 years of service as club manager, Ken Dean never lost a day from service. In the last ten years, Dean's record indicates only four sick days." Making a comment of his record, Gordon Hahn stated, "His record is without equal, and he has become known as the 'dean of country club managers.'" Ken Dean has that old British charm, gracious and at all times a gentleman. At the same time, in managing the club, he was a great disciplinarian, commanding the respect and support of not only the club members, but also his staff.

● AT long last, the law to end a "double tax" imposed upon condominium dwellers statewide won final legislative approval and was signed into law by Governor Jim Florio. The law provides for a five-year phase-in period for reimbursement costs which will begin in 1993. Condo owners have long complained that they are paying for snow removal, streetcleaning and garbage collection, but then are obliged to pay property taxes which partly support those services for the rest of the community. There are a few condo buildings in Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley. The new law is fair and the five-year phase-in makes it easier for the towns to absorb this expense which should have been shared years ago.

● BLOOMFIELD Mayor Jim Norton appointed the following persons to serve as members of the Bloomfield Emergency Management Council: Joseph P. Barry, Jr., Jon Zawacki, Rick Proctor, Frank Pross, James Norton, Gary Wiseman, Irene Modrak, Richard Kinder and Steve Galvacky.

● THE Bloomfield Board of Education is examining a five-year technology initiative with an eye toward implementing such a program in business, technology, mathematics and computer science. This is a forward-looking Board of Education.

● SOME Perot people are talking about a Perot candidate for governor supported by Perot candidates across the board — for freeholder, assembly, N. J. Senate. It's tough to project how such an effort would play out at this date. Senator John Scott appears to be in line for Republican organization designation.

● RECENTLY, Monroe Lustbader — a chap for whom I have the highest respect, criticized the New Jersey Casino Control Commission for approving permanent around the clock gambling in Atlantic City. Lustbader said, "The Commission seemed to abandon its commitment to the public and its interest in integrity." I know Commission Chairman Steven P. Perskie. Enjoying an impeccable reputation, Perskie has the kind of public record that some day Mr. Lustbader may want to emulate. Perskie was a member of the N. J. Assembly, N. J. Senate, Chief of Staff to Governor Florio, distinguished himself as a member of the N. J. Superior Court, and throughout his entire years as a public servant, the greatest character strength Mr. Perskie displayed was integrity — not only personal, but also in the agencies, commissions and organizations of which he was a part. One need only ask anyone who had the privilege to serve in the Legislature with former Judge Perskie. If anyone in public life stands ten feet tall today, it's Steve Perskie.

● AN economic conference was told recently by Professor Norman J. Glickman, Director of the Center for Urban Policy Research of Rutgers University, that "The economy's going to grow rather slowly the rest of the decade, especially when we look back at the Eighties, the boom years." Glickman further observed that unless an unanticipated kick gets the state's economy moving, the growth rate of the gross state product isn't expected to approach 2 percent annually until the year 2000. North Jersey is expected to be especially hard-hit as manufacturing employment in the New York metropolitan area continues to decline and new businesses settle in central and southern sections.

In the short term, New Jersey and the nation may even see a third downturn — a "triple dip" — before the recovery from what Glickman calls a "growth recession" starts to show up in data at the end of this year. In a growth recession, he says the upturn in business activity isn't strong enough to prompt businesses to hire people. And that climate saps consumer confidence and stalls recovery. The jobless rate in New Jersey is now 9.2 percent.

● RECENTLY, New Jersey Senate Democrat Leader, John Lynch, said that "Democrats must be ready to change horses if it appears Florio can't win a second term." I have had the highest respect for Senator John Lynch. John Lynch, I and the whole world knows that Governor Jim Florio intends to seek reelection in November, even though there is no present indication from the Governor. The Lynch comments come in bad taste and perceived by many as being offensive.

For investigation

To the editor:

I enjoyed reading last week's editorial entitled, "Let's Really Investigate." I especially agreed with the end of the editorial which called for the SCI to widen its investigation to include the "strange and intimate relationship" with the Rasmussen Insurance Agency and Mayor Marina Perna.

At the last Council meeting, I specifically asked Mayor Perna why she would recuse herself from participating in any aspect of the awarding of the insurance contract to Rasmussen. The Mayor answered that in her line of work, she may have future business regarding insurance matters. I further asked the Mayor whether or not she had done work on any case in which Rasmussen Agency administered the insurance plan. She denied that she had ever done so. If the Mayor is correct, and she has never worked for Rasmussen Agency, then why would she abstain from such an important vote especially since it looks like the Council is deadlocked, and her vote would be the deciding one? Why has Mayor Perna discussed and voted on prior matters concerning insurance in general, and Rasmussen in particular? What is the reason Mayor Perna threatened to sue Councilman Bill Cook when he raised the subject of a possible conflict? So many questions, and so few answers, raise doubts and suspicions about the Mayor's credibility in this matter.

The only reservation I had about last week's editorial was the editor's omission of Councilman Mario Drozd's name in regard to this matter. It is common knowledge that Sam Papa, who the editorial called, "a grey eminence who appears to pull the strings on the Township Council, and whose connections are not at all clear," is very closely aligned with Councilman Drozd. In fact, Mr. Papa has repeatedly been heard to boast about having "gotten Mario elected." Councilman Mario Drozd is sponsoring the resolution to hire Rasmussen Agency. Mr. Papa is a very close friend of one of the Rasmussen Agency executives.

I do not disagree with the Township instituting a self-insurance plan. If it will save the taxpayers money, I am all for it. What I object to is the hiring of Rasmussen Agency who, in my opinion, and in the opinion of the Belleville Board of Education which failed to renew their contract due to a lower bid by another company, should not be allowed to administer our self-insurance plan.

Chamber sets luncheon

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce will hold an Information Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Feb. 8.

This luncheon will be held at Bella Casa Caterers, 2 Acme Street. The topic will be revitalization of Belleville retail districts and commercial districts generally, through the nationally recognized, Main Street Project.

The program for this event will be provided by Barbara Swanda, New Jersey State Coordinator for Main Street New Jersey.

Since 1977, Main Street has helped over 700 communities across the nation while Main Street New Jersey has helped cities and towns across New Jersey to address downtown deterioration and downtown commercial vacancies.

Swanda's program will describe the organization, promotion, design, and economic structuring of Main Street New Jersey revitalization projects. Though there will be great interest in Belleville's potential as a Main Street site, Swanda's presentation will also include a broad view of Main Street's successes around the state. Ample time for questions and answers will be provided.

The cost of this luncheon is $20 per person, payable to the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, at 155A Washington Avenue, Belleville, N.J. 07109. Call 201-759-4848 for more information about this Information Luncheon and for directions to Bella Casa Caterers.

County Executive presents budget

Essex County Executive Thomas J. D'Alessio presented the 1993 County Budget on Jan. 14 at 11 a.m. to a gathering of county and municipal officials at the Hall of Records, one day earlier than his statutory deadline.

The County Executive used the occasion for a State of the County Address prior to submitting the 1993 spending plan to the 9-member Freeholder Board for review and formal adoption. A schedule of public hearings is expected to be announced within two weeks.

The 1993 budget, totalling $464.8 million, represents a 1.9 percent increase over the finalized 1992 spending plan.

"I am submitting this year's budget one day early to underscore the importance of an expedited hearing process and to indicate our sensitivity to municipal officials throughout the county for their budget plans," D'Alessio said.

The county's Administrative Code calls for submission of the annual spending plan by January 15th of each year.

D'Alessio made a strong appeal to Governor Florio, the Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court and state lawmakers to recognize the plight of Essex County in having to fund the costs of the state court system.

"Thirty-four percent of the county tax levy is eaten up by the courts. That's not justice, that is just too much," D'Alessio said.

He called on state officials to honor the intent of the voter expression last November requiring the State to take over the costs of running the state court system.

"I say YES to justice in the courts, but I say NO to injustice to the taxpayers," he said.

"We're doing our share to cut costs and we just cannot afford the runaway spending of the courts," he noted.

In appealing for cooperation from the courts, noting 37 cents of every tax dollar supports the state court system, D'Alessio said: "If the courts are allowed to remain immune to budgetary restraint — allowed to spend at will — then how are we to meet our mandates?"

How are we to provide for the homeowner, the homeless and the hungry?"

The County Executive outlined the achievements of his administration in 1992 citing fiscally prudent and conservative management of county finances which produced an over-all surplus of nearly half a million dollars.

The surplus allowed for only a 2.9 percent increase in the 1993 tax levy, less than half of the $15 million from the year before. "In two short years we turned a $33 million deficit into a $500,000 surplus," he said.

D'Alessio highlighted the pioneering of tax-saving programs such as the establishment of the Essex County Utility Authority and Joint Insurance Fund, pooling of community resources as economy measures, streamlined services, efforts for economic development and infrastructure improvements.

D'Alessio also recommended the implementation of a Management Improvement Plan for the Division of Welfare, outlining plans for consolidation of facilities, improved computer capability, revamped staff training and comprehensive audits, among others.

Valley National Bancorp reports record 1992

Valley National Bancorp has reported record net income of $41.6 million, or $2.18 per share, for the year ended Dec. 31, 1992. The results represent a 38.1% increase from the $30.0 million, or $1.58 per share earned in 1991.

For the 1992 fourth quarter, Valley reported earnings of $10.1 million, or $0.53 per share, 23.0% above the $8.2 million or $0.43 per share, earned for the 1991 fourth quarter. Earnings per share figures have been adjusted to reflect a 3:2 common stock split effected in April of 1992.

The results for 1992 produced a return on average assets of 1.4% and a return on average equity of 19.9%, both of which are in the historical top one percent of the banking industry.

Gerald H. Lipkin, chairman and chief executive officer, stated that the primary factors driving Valley's results were the solid increases in net interest income from the bank's core operations. Strong growth took place in consumer loans and residential mortgages throughout the year.

Bruzzichesi aboard sub

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Leonard L. Bruzzichesi, son of Leo M. and Carol E. Killeen of Belleville, is currently aboard the submarine USS Key West, homeported in Norfolk, Va., which won the "Top Torp" award as the Atlantic Fleet's top performer in a submarine-on-submarine torpedo competition.

The "Top Torp" competition provides expanded training opportunities for competing submarines and helps the fleet develop and refine new tactics for submarine warfare.

Bruzzichesi and his crewmates participated in head-to-head competition against top submarine crews from each Atlantic Fleet squadron. Opposing submarines fired exercise (non-exploding) torpedoes during their at sea engagements.

The 1979 graduate of Belleville High School joined the Navy in September 1979.

Minaroi in Navy

Navy Seaman Salvatore Minaroi, son of Joseph A. and Aida Minaroi of Belleville, recently completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

He is a 1992 graduate of Belleville High School.

Host families needed for exchange students

ASSE International Support Exchange Programs (ASSE) is seeking local host families for boys and girls from Scandinavia, France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Germany, Holland, Great Britain, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Switzerland, Mexico, Japan, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, 15 to 18 years of age, coming to this area for the upcoming high school year. These personable and academically select exchange students speak English, are bright, curious and anxious to learn about this country through living as part of a family, attending high school and sharing their own culture and language with their newly adopted host family.

The students are sponsored by ASSE, a non-profit, public benefit organization, affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education. ASSE also cooperates with the Canadian Provincial Ministries of Education and is approved by the Australian and New Zealand Departments of Education. ASSE is the only organization with these credentials.

The exchange students arrive from their home country shortly before school begins and return at the end of the school year. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own personal spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in family activities and lifestyles.

The students are well screened and qualified by ASSE. Families may select the youngster of their choice from extensive student applications, family photos and biographical essays. Students and families are encouraged to begin corresponding prior to the student's arrival.

Those persons interested in obtaining more information about becoming a host family or an exchange student should contact ASSE's local representative: Edith Ring at 201-239-8148 or 1-800-677-6912 (ASSE).

Overweight?

How much would you like to gain?

You've tried dieting. You've lost weight. And gained it back. And lost it again.

Maybe you've lost more than weight. Maybe you've lost hope.

Lean Line's new program gets to the fat of the matter

The new Lean Line program came into being at the end of 1992 when the Department of Agriculture released scientific data that could not be ignored. At the top of the list and what seemed to be written in pulsating neon lights were these two revelations: 1. Fat is almost single handedly responsible for overweight. 2. Diets that advocate small amounts of food do not work because they fight the body's natural instinct to feel full and satisfied.

Guided by Hans Fisher, professor of nutrition, Department of Nutritional Sciences, Rutgers University, Lolly Wurtzel and Toni Marotta developed a program that addresses those issues and achieves the unachievable, a simple "already done for you" method of monitoring fat intake. Let's examine the facts that propelled the new Lifestyle of the 90s II program.

FACT: Diets that focus on low food consumption can not work except in short spurts. They are doomed because they fight our natural biological urge to feel full. When the body feels deprived, it may be tolerant for awhile, but soon the need to protect itself from starvation kicks in and sends us on an eating binge. Compare it to the biological urge to breathe. We can hold our breath for just so long before we begin breathing for air. What's worse, the more heroically persistent we are in returning to the deprivation diet, the slower the losses. Nature once again takes over to outlast the famine by conserving fuel and thereby burning fewer calories.

FACT: Fat is almost singularly responsible for overweight. The human body is genetically programmed to store fat in fat cells to prevent future starvation. The trouble is that cells in their wish to be hospitable, lay out the welcome mat to all comers (well beyond their needs) and we get fatter. By limiting fat intake, fat cells empty out and shrink you right down to a great body.

FACT: Research from Cornell University and the University of Hawaii has shown that we can eat just about anything we want and still lose weight as long as fat intake is low, under 20% of total caloric intake.

FACT: Some foods inhibit the rate at which fat can be drained from cells while others help to release it. All calories are not the same. One hundred calories in whole wheat bread help to release fat while 100 calories in butter retain it.

Weight loss results have been dramatic. People are reporting consistent losses, rare plateaus, lots of food, a new healthy lifestyle and freedom from the press of the dieters' mentality. Here are some typical comments: "I can't believe I lost all that weight by just eating correctly." "This is the first time I'm losing weight by not dieting." "It's so great to feel like everyone else, normal."

Christy 25 help Bucs stop Paramus

DeWork eclipses 1,000 mark

By Mike Lambert

History was made last week as Dennis DeWork became the seventh player in Belleville boys' basketball history to break the 1,000 point scoring plateau.

DeWork tallied 20 points to lead the Bucs to a 59-48 victory over St. Joe's of Montvale in a key NNJIL road game. Last Friday, Belleville continued the positive momentum, defeating Paramus 66-40 at Buccaneer Garden.

The two wins improved Belleville's record to 5-5 on the season. Don Roll's team is now in good shape to qualify for the state tourney. The cut off for the states is January 31 and the team must be .500, or better, by then.

Belleville, which has won four of its last five after a dismal start, battled powerful Hackensack last Tuesday. On Saturday morning, the Bucs face Don Bosco. Tip off time is 11:30 a.m. Next Tuesday, it's off to Nutley in a 4 p.m. game.

"The team is playing much better," Roll said following the Paramus win. "I'd like to think we're starting to reach a peak as the season progresses. This will be a big week, with the states and county tournament getting closer."

Ironically, Belleville's turnaround came after a bitter loss at home against Don Bosco, the game in which Roll was ejected for arguing with the official.

"We had a team meeting the day after that game, and we got a lot out in the open," the coach said. "It was good to see everyone come together. It's definitely had a positive impact of the past few weeks."

In the win over St. Joe's, Belleville never trailed after a strong first quarter and pulled away in the fourth quarter to seal the win.

It was 15-12 after one frame and 26-23 at halftime. The Bucs boosted the lead to 39-33 after three quarters and outscored St. Joe's 15-10 in the last frame to win by 11 points.

It was in the third quarter that DeWork eclipsed the 1,000 point mark. As mentioned, he is the Buc head coach Don Roll and Karen Fuccello stand with Dennis DeWork during pre-game ceremony last Friday night.

Marion not impressed with victory

By Mike Lambert

Her team had just won by 21 points in a key NNJIL game. Her team had limited the opposition to just 15 points over 32 minutes of action. Yet head coach Cheryl Marion wasn't making arrangements for the state playoffs, nor was she even slightly pleased with the performance.

Belleville defeated Paramus 36-15 last Friday afternoon to boost its team record to 4-6. This week, the girls battled Hackensack last Tuesday and will face Immaculate Heart, at Buccaneer Garden, this afternoon at 4 p.m. in a game that could decide whether the team will qualify for the state tourney. On Saturday, the girls travel to Irvington for the first round of the Essex County tournament. Tip off time there is 2 p.m. Next Tuesday, the Raiderettes of Nutley will be at Buccaneer Garden for a 4 p.m. start.

"Yes, we won," Marion said, a sign of near resignation in her voice. "But we didn't play well at all. I don't know what to say. We were totally lethargic in the second and third quarters of the game. It was 13-6 at halftime. That's usually a first quarter score. We pulled away in the fourth quarter, but the kids know they didn't play very well."

Belleville shutout Paramus in the first quarter, but scored just six points themselves in the frame. In the second quarter, the Lady Bucs outscored Paramus 7-6 and led 13-6 at the half. The third quarter was more of the same, with Paramus outscoring Belleville 6-4 and narrowing the deficit to 17-12 heading into the last quarter.

It was there that Belleville finally got its offense going, outscoring Paramus 19-3 and pulling away to a 21 point victory.

"We're still getting adjusted to a freshman point guard, but I would like to see more leadership from our experienced players," Marion said. "We can't play like that against some of the teams we have the next two weeks and expect to do well. We have to step it up, and do it now."

Belleville had defeated Hackensack earlier this season, so the team could be considered favorites to win last Tuesday. If they did win, that would improve the record to 5-6 and set up this afternoon's game with Immaculate Heart. A win would put the team at .500 and qualify them for the state tourney. Immaculate Heart defeated Belleville handily earlier in the season, but that game was on the road.

"I think we'll play better against them at our place," Marion said. "But we can't play like we did last Friday."

In the Paramus victory, Colleen Mannion led Belleville with 14 points. Liz Ramirez finished with nine, Mary Campbell had eight, Andrea Curran and Kristin Caputo scored two each and Marie Acuna had one.

NOTES: Belleville has not played Irvington since the 1989 state tourney. There, the Lady Campers defeated Belleville, ending the Lady Bucs season at 13-12. That was also the final game for 1,000 point scorers Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski.

Belleville and Irvington last met in the county tournament back in 1984, and it was certainly an epic battle. That game was played at Belleville High and it was the semi final round of the ECT. Belleville won, 56-54, when junior forward Cheryl Marion hit the winning basket with :10 left in regulation time. It was, by far, then head coach Karen Fuccello's biggest win.

Irvington won the county championship in 1986, defeating East Orange in the finals. In 1985, Irvington made it to the county finals but lost to Shabazz. Irvington won the Group IV state title in 1985 and '86.

Bucs win three straight — now 6-3

By Joe Piegare

For the first time this season the BHS wrestling squad held on to some consistency and the results were impressive. With victories over Hackensack (38-30), Don Bosco Prep (50-22) and Cliffside Park (41-27), Belleville upped its record to 6-3 and stayed in a first place tie with St. Joseph's of Montvale in the Pacific Division of the NNJIL. Both teams are 3-0 in the division and will meet just prior to the districts.

With half the season gone, it's time to evaluate the team individually and collectively.

At 103 pounds, soph John Perna has been a perfect leadoff hitter for the Bucs. With a 14-0 record and ten pins, John is the top 103 pounder in Essex County. His only real challenge will come later in the year when he ties up with Damien Logan of St. Joseph's.

The 112 pound division is manned by state hopeful Isaiah Cardinale. Now at 14-0 with a team leading 11 pins, Isaiah is probably at this point in the season the best pound for pound wrestler on the squad. Like Perna, he has not been challenged yet this year. Unfortunately for Isaiah, it appears his only tough matches will occur when he reaches Atlantic City in March.

Luke Cardinale has filled in at 112 on occasion and appears ready to make his mark as a varsity grappler. Though 0-3, Luke's matches have all been close and he has shown the necessary skills and attitude to remain a varsity performer.

The oldest of the three Cardinale brothers, Joshua has been the 119 pound resident this year. A 12-1 record with nine pins makes Josh probably the most feared Buc grappler by the opposition. Cardinale's only loss, a 15-7 decision to Bloomfield's Anthony Frezza in the Christmas tournament finals, has been a source of gossip for almost a month now. The senior co-captain will get a chance at payback later this season, either in the counties or in the dual meet against Bloomfield.

Belleville's most improved wrestler, Mark Bianchini, has run up a record of 12-2 with four pins, mostly as a 125 pounder. Mark's emergence as a quality lightweight has made the first four weight classes for BHS the guts of this year's team. A legitimate threat for a district 14 crown, Bianchini needs only to keep his confidence level on an even keel to become one of the true stars of this team.

The 130 pound class this season has been shared by a number of hopefuls. Occasionally, Bianchini moved up to cover this division, but most of the time Enrico Della Merced has carried the flag into battle. With a 3-6 record, Enrico is a bit light for this division but can't break in at any of the lower classes. Soph Anthony Frantantoni is a legitimate 130 pounder and is being given a chance to show off his wares, but appears to be a year away from being a true varsity wrestler.

Returning letterman Joe McNish holds down the 135 pound slot with a 7-5 record and one pin. After a brief attempt to wrestle at 140, Joe decided on the lighter division and has won his last four bouts as a 135 pounder.

McNish's exit from the 140 pound class opened the door for soph Jorge Hernandez, and he has responded far beyond our expectations. A 6-2 record with three pins has tightened up the middle of the lineup for Head Coach Joe Nisivocia. McNish is a gamer. Look for him to be one of the stars on next year's team.

Senior co-captain Carlo Ritacco works in the 145 pound division this year, fashioning a 10-4 record with six pins. After some uncharacteristically below par matches, Carlo has seemed to peak a bit, winning five of his last six bouts, all easily. The strength of our middleweights, Carlo needs to keep improving if he has hopes of winning his third district championship.

Gutsy senior Bob Gauthier is the 152 pounder, although you'll see him often times in the 160 pound slot. After a drastic beginning this year (3-6 in his first nine bouts), Bob has turned things around by winning four in a row and five of his last six matches. He could challenge for a district crown at 152 pounds, but appears overmatched at times when competing at 160.

Aris Cruz, a junior, was promoted from the JV squad early on in the year. Now a fixture at 160 pounds, Cruz owns a 5-7 record with two pins against the most difficult competition of any BHS wrestler. Cruz needs to put on some muscle in order to step up his level of performance, but compensates somewhat with a tenacious, never say die attitude.

The 171 pound division was at one time a strength for this year's squad. However, the loss of returning district champ Ricky Constantino has left the weight class in a state of flux. As soon as sophomore Peter Isip recovers from an injured elbow, the slot should be filled for the remainder of the season. Isip is 0-2 as a varsity replacement this year.

Mike Capezio, the 189 pound starter, also left the team, leaving the reins to soph Tom Haverick. Capezio was 2-5 when he withdrew. Haverick is 0-5.

And at heavyweight, there is little room for rejoicing. Frank Jablonski is 0-3, but only started wrestling eight weeks ago. Junior transfer Alex Loney is a massive physical specimen, but is not eligible until February 1 and needs to lose 20 pounds to reach the 275 pound limit.

As a team, this year's squad is hard to figure. There is some great individual talent, such as the Cardinale family and John Perna. There are wrestlers who have improved greatly from last season, notably Bianchini and Hernandez. There are returning lettermen who should lend stability, like McNish, Ritacco and Gauthier.

But there has been no one as yet to assume the role of emotional leader. No one yet to light a fire under this team and turn some of the laid back athletes into fanatics. The lack of personnel in the upper weights has placed a tremendous burden on the rest of the lineup to over achieve. With only five weeks left in the schedule, things better start happening soon!

THIS & THAT: Wrestler of the Week is awarded to Isaiah Cardinale for recording three pins, one in only 14 seconds against Anthony Gianfrancesco of Hackensack ... Josh Cardinale now has 73 career wins, placing him all alone in eighth place on the all time win list. Next milestone for Josh to pass is No. 7 Mike Iuliano with 76 career victories ... Head Coach Joe Nisivocia's quest for victory No. 100 is progressing slowly but surely. Nis started the year with 89, now has 95 and could reach the magic number on the last dual meet of the season ... The BHS wrestling team notched its 300th win after beating Paramus earlier this season by a 36-27 score. Belleville started wrestling on a varsity basis in the 1962-63 season ... See ya next week!

Before we continue with the Karen Fuccello story, let's take a look at this Sunday's Super Bowl, set for sunny Southern California.

The smart money appears to be on Dallas. The Cowboys play in the stronger conference, have been on a roll the past seven weeks and won at San Francisco, which many people didn't think would happen.

Dallas has an explosive offense and a defense ranked number one in the NFL for 1992. The team is young and tremendously focused, thanks to head coach Jimmy Johnson.

Against any other AFC team, I would Dallas would be the clear cut winner. Against the 1991 Buffalo Bills, I would say Dallas would win, hands down. But this is the 1992 version of the Bills, now 1993, and this team has a little destiny on its side.

First off, the Bills rallied from that huge deficit a few weeks ago against Houston at Rich Stadium. It's well documented, the Bills coming back from 35-3 down and winning in OT on a Steve Christie field goal.

The Bills then won road playoff games at Pittsburgh and Miami, the two supposedly top teams in the AFC. Unlike the previous two years, when Buffalo won all its playoff games at the friendly confines of Rich Stadium, this years Bills had to do it the hard way.

Buffalo also seems a little more relaxed, avoiding the Bickering Bills syndrome of last year and the overconfident Bills of two years ago that were big favorites to down the Giants.

This seems to be a good spot for Buffalo. The Bills won at Miami in warm weather, and since the temperature this Sunday in Pasadena will be about 75 degrees, it should not affect Buffalo at all.

Every year, you hope for a good game, an entertaining game. If you're a fan of football, your Super Bowl Sunday probably goes something like this.

Get up around 8 a.m., attend religious services (probably praying your team will win), have breakfast at a diner (probably discussing with the other patrons the keys to victory for the respective teams), get home around 11:30 a.m., turn on ESPN for the first of what should be hours of pre game and make sure the chips are fresh, the date on the dip container is current, the frozen snacks are in the 'frig and ready to be popped into the oven and the phone is disconnected about 3:30 p.m. so no pain in the neck, innocent by stander, who doesn't know about the Super Bowl, doesn't call around 4 p.m. and want to talk.

ESPN will probably have past Super Bowls on the tube most of the morning. Around noon, our time, you can bet the station will begin focussing on the game. CBS, NBC and ABC will focus on college and pro hoops for most of the early afternoon. Don't forget, kickoff for the game isn't until 6 p.m., Eastern time.

Around 3:30 p.m., NBC will begin the actual pre game show, probably interviewing players and finding out what they are thinking about. O.J. Simpson will be meeting players as they come off the bus, getting their initial impressions.

You know the rest, it's 2 1/2 hours of any angle that any reporter can get on a story that you can probably bet will be insignificant, to say the least.

But if you're a fan, you'll follow it all. The game will kickoff and hopefully, it will be close in the first half. There's a huge halftime ceremony planned with Michael Jackson, which guaranteed, will take more than 15 minutes.

Then, there's the second half, and you can only hope you're on the edge of your seat, like in 1989 and '91 when the Giants and 49ers won, respectively, in exciting fashion.

If there's any pattern, the odd numbered years seem to produce better games. In 1987, the Giants were trailing Denver 10-9 at the half, then rallied to win in the second half. In '89, the 49ers won in the last seconds, beating the Cincinnati Bengals and our own David Grant on a Joe Montana TD pass.

Two years ago, the Giants beat the Bills, 20-19 on the famous wide left kick by Scott Norwood at the gun. The '85 game was pretty one sided, but the '83 game was exciting between Miami and Washington and the '79 contest between Dallas and Pittsburgh was one of the best ever played.

The even numbered years, starting in '84 with the Raiders blasting Washington, have been Super Duds. The Bears rolled in '86, the Redskins killed Denver in '88, the Niners rolled past Denver in '90 and Washington dominated Buffalo last year.

How many of you have watched every Super Bowl since the game was invented back in 1967? Of course, the first Super Bowl wasn't called the Super Bowl until after it had been played. The game program called it the 1967 NFL-AFL championship game. Green Bay dominated Kansas City in that game, played before a sparse crowd at the L.A. Coliseum.

I was eight years old when that first Super Bowl was played. I remember watching the game but not really understanding the concept. By Super Bowl II, however, I was a veteran at the game. I watched the Green Bay Packers beat the Oakland Raiders 33-14 at the Orange Bowl and was psyched because I was a big Packer fan.

To this day, my favorite game was Super Bowl III, at the Orange Bowl. The New York Jets, with my hero Joe Namath, beat the big, bad Baltimore Colts 16-7. I kept thinking going into that game that the Colts were going to throttle the Jets, somewhere in the area of 42-10. By far, it was my favorite game and, of course, that victory turned the tide in the fortunes of the Super Bowl.

So, this Sunday, there will be new memories. As usual, I can't wait to see the game, and like I said, let's hope it's exciting.

My prediction: Buffalo 24, Dallas 20.

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

Let's go back to Super Bowl III. Who scored the Jets only touchdown in that game? Who kicked the three Jets field goals? Who scored Baltimore's only TD? Which Colt quarterback led the Colts to its only score?

Finally, we'll continue the Karen Fuccello episode next week. Also, we'll have more coverage on the upcoming Belleville Hall of Fame dinner, set for February 26 at the Chandelier in next weeks issue.

Preschool registration

The Belleville Department of Recreation & Cultural Affairs is accepting registration for the preschool play program for 4 year old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for preschool children.

A session is from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. or 12:45-2:45 p.m., five days a week with class limited to a maximum of 23 students in each session. The cost of the 32 week session is $125. The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule. School will begin on Sept. 20, 1993 and will run through May 1994.

Children born between Oct. 1988-Sept. 1989 who will enter kindergarten in Sept. 1994 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come-first served basis only.

Children must be able to speak and understand English in order to participate. Children enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program or vice versa.

Bucs improve record to 5-5

seventh player in Belleville boys' basketball history and tenth overall in Belleville history to break the mark. Jennifer Apicella, Simone Edwards and Laurie Dondarski scored 1,000 or more for the girls' program.

"That was a good win for the team," Roll said. "I was especially happy with the defense. We got the lead early and we played aggressively."

DeWork led Belleville with 20 points. Mike Christy, who had a tremendous week, and Ken Johansen, had 15 points each. Frank Means tallied five and Mike Mundy and Anthony Parzanese scored two each.

"Kenny Johansen has played very well the last few weeks," Roll said. "We moved him back to the point guard position and he has responded very well."

Last Friday, DeWork was presented the game ball prior to the game and the senior went out and played well, tallying 20 points.

But it was Christy who played by far the best game of his high school career, to date. The senior center scored 25 points and took over the game in the fourth quarter to ensure the buccaneer win.

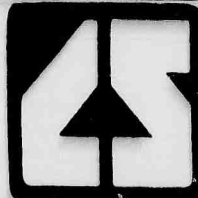

The Bucs led 17-10 after one quarter and 30-24 at halftime. Belleville pulled away in the third quarter, outscoring Paramus 15-7, then kept control of the game with a 21-9 fourth frame.

"DeWork kept us in front in the third quarter and Christy did a tremendous job in the fourth," Roll said. "And Kenny Johansen did a good job once again. Kevin Johansen also played well. He doesn't make mistakes out there and is a valuable player for us."

In addition to Christy and DeWork's points, Mundy scored ten, Ken Johansen had nine and Parzanese tallied two.

"Once again, I have to credit the defense," Roll said. "We held Paramus to 40 points. Christy did a good job on the boards."

The Bucs can only hope that their new found momentum will carry them to the state tournament and continued success on the NNJIL front.

MORNING COFFEE WITH NICOTINE GUM?

In an effort to kick the cigarette habit, many smokers turn to nicotine gum. Unlike cigarette smoke which introduces nicotine into the blood stream through the lungs, nicotine gum relies on mildly-alkaline saliva to deliver the chemical through the soft tissues of the mouth. However, a professor of oral health sciences at the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry warns that nicotine gum's ability to introduce nicotine into the system can be blocked by drinking coffee. This is due to the fact that coffee, which is acidic, alters saliva's pH (acid/base balance) to the point where the saliva cannot make the gum's nicotine available to the body. (Cola has the same blocking effect.) It is advised that only water be taken up to one-half hour before chewing nicotine gum.

When you have a prescription to be filled you can depend on us for prompt service at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue, 759-1956, 759-1968. "Your Doctor Knows Us - Your Doctor Trust Us". (b) The period of usefulness of said purpose within the limitations of said Local Bond Law, according to the reasonable life thereof computed from the date of the said bonds authorized by this bond ordinance, is 20 years.

(c) The supplemental debt statement required by said Law has been duly made and filed in the office of the Township Clerk and a complete executed duplicate thereof has been filed in the office of the Director of the Division of Local Government Services in the Department of Community Affairs of the State of New Jersey, and such statement shows that the gross debt of the Township as defined in said Law is increased by the authorization of the bonds and notes provided for in this bond ordinance by $95,000.00, and the said obligations authorized by this bond ordinance will be within all debt limitations prescribed by said Law.

Section 6. The full faith and credit of the Township are hereby pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on the said obligations authorized by this bond ordinance. Said obligations shall be direct, unlimited obligations of the Township, and the Township shall be obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all the taxable real property within the Township for the payment of said obligations and interest thereon without limitation of rate or amount.

Safety Tips For Rural Homeowners

If you're a rural homeowner who maintains a few acres beyond city limits, there are important safety tips that can make your use of electricity safer and more efficient. While electricity is one of the safest forms of energy, the absence of electrical codes and inspections in rural areas means that homeowners must take greater responsibility for recognizing unsafe wiring and other hazardous conditions. Here are a few guidelines that can save lives, property and money:

Use Ground-Fault Circuit Interrupters

(Gfci's) wherever electricity, water, and you come together. Gfci's are electrical protection devices that sense a ground-fault or short, and instantly disconnect the circuit. Unlike fuses and circuit breakers that depend on heavy overloads or shorts to function, Gfci's sense even small electrical faults and disconnect the circuit before anyone is injured. This is particularly important for outdoor and farmstead electric use in operating power tools, lawn trimmers, hedge clippers, power spray washers, and all electric use around swimming pools and hot tubs. Some Gfci's are designed to replace standard outlets; other portable units simply plug into existing outlets and can be moved from one location to another. For new homes and additions, the National Electrical Code requires the use of Gfci's in garages, bathrooms, and on outdoor receptacles. Around pools, use Gfci's on lighting fixtures, recirculating pumps and on all receptacles within 20 feet of the pool.

Ground-Fault Circuit Interrupters can be purchased at any major hardware and electric supply store.

Check Wiring In Barns and Outbuildings

If you have a detached shop, storage building, or even a barn for horses or other livestock, specific wiring materials and methods must be used, especially where dusty or moist conditions exist, or where heat lamps will be used. Typical hazards include improper grounding, residential-type fixtures that are not designed for use in barns, and undersized heat lamp circuits.

To learn more about proper wiring around rural homes and farmsteads, check with your electric power supplier or obtain a copy of the Agricultural Wiring Handbook. This 88-page illustrated handbook contains wiring plans for 14 types of farm structures, along with specifications for lighting and motor use. The handbook is updated every three years to conform to the latest National Electrical Code.

To obtain a copy, contact the National Food and Energy Council, 409 Vandiver West Bldg. 4, Suite 202, Columbia, MO 65202 or call 314-875-7155. The cost is $7.50 per copy, including postage and handling. It's important to know the latest requirements for proper wiring.
