Township battles way out of 14-inch snowfall, made worse by ice

Ice, sleet slowed efforts to clear streets in storm; State-of-emergency declared by Chief Beresford

By Howard Klausner

The Blizzard of '93 turned out to be less damaging to Belleville property than the Nor'easter that struck in December and carried off at least 20 great trees, but in terms of financial loss and general aggravation, the 14-inch combination of snow, sleet and strong winds was probably more costly.

There are no estimates of the overtime due to Department of Public Works employees, police and firefighters, but an estimate of $40,000 has been heard at Town Hall.

But tens of thousands of dollars were spent by residents to have cars hauled, emergency repairs made and driveways cleared. Then came the cost of having the schools closed for a day, and the traffic tie ups that resulted in more losses.

Businesses also suffered, as snow blocked sidewalks on Washington Avenue, Main Street and Franklin Avenue.

The snowfall began in earnest at 4 a.m. Saturday, and continued through the day.

Warnings of hurricane winds kept most people indoors, and strong winds began forming drifts.

The DPW, under Superintendent Jack Gilbert, put 12 two-man crews out into the streets, working to clear the main township roads as the snow fell, but the 12 sanders and plow trucks could not meet the growing weight of snow, which surpassed in a few hours the normal snowfall for a month.

By 7 p.m., Governor James Florio declared a state of emergency in North Jersey and in the coastal areas. Essex County Executive Thomas D'Alessio followed suit, and at 7:30 p.m., facing reports of clogged streets, Fire Chief Walter Beresford assumed his post of Director of Emergency Management and took direction of the snow-removal effort.

Working around the clock, the DPW worked to keep main streets clear, but by early Sunday, the arrival of a sleet storm virtually paralyzed these efforts.

A coating of ice two to three inches thick covered mounds of snow that had been piled by the plows for later removal.

Along Washington Avenue, hilly streets were closed to traffic.

State Department of Transportation crews cleared Route 21 north of the Main Street effort, but sheets of ice covered the rest of the highway, south to Newark. Police closed it to traffic.

Police maintained patrols through the dangerous storm, maneuvering along the ice-slick streets, warning residents to stay indoors.

Firefighters dug out every fire hydrant, more than 700 of them, using pickaxes to break the ice.

By late Sunday morning, the storm had abated, and people began to dig their way out.

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello had kept Belleville High School ready for the possible use of people who might have had to evacuate their homes, but this did not prove necessary.

Nardiello stayed up through Sunday night to check weather reports before ordering schools closed that Monday, at 5:30 a.m.

When schools reopened on Tuesday, the opening was delayed one hour.

Chief Beresford lifted the state of emergency shortly before midnight on Sunday.

"The DPW did a magnificent job, as did the police and the firefighters," Beresford said. "There was not a single fatality as a result of the storm."

Ambulances were able to respond to all calls, sometimes preceded by snow plows and police cars.

But some streets did not see a plow on Sunday because of the icy conditions.

Private contractors were out in force, but most were headed to emergency calls out of town. Snow plows appeared on all sorts of vehicles, but few, if any, were under township control.

This raised the question of why private contractors had not been mobilized to meet the emergency.

LOCKED OUT - Fred Riccio appears glum as he tries to figure a way to get to his own garage on Franklin Avenue. Snow piled up in front of his driveway from a neighboring apartment house stymied his own clearing efforts.

SNOW PACK - This is the scene that greeted most homeowners on Sunday, after they emerged to survey the storm results. Snow was cleared from most streets, but piled high along the curbs.

Senior housing proposal

A representative of Riefolo Construction Co. of Belleville told a work session of the Belleville Township Council, Monday, that bank financing was available for proposed senior citizen housing.

The Council was told that a South Amboy bank was financing a similar project being done by Riefolo in another municipality.

According to Councilman Jim Messina, the bank would finance half the cost of the project with a mortgage and then loan the other half directly to the township.

Messina said a feasibility study showed that 100 units could be built on the tract sold to Belleville by Essex County for $450,000.

The arrangement would give control of the tenant assignments to the Township, Messina said.

With a Housing and Urban Development Grant, the township would not have authority over tenant selection.

Burglary suspect arrested

An East Orange man suspected of at least 16 burglaries in Belleville is in custody in Union County, Detective Captain William Escott reported.

Maurice Norvell, 30, is being held in Union County on burglary charges.

He had been sought here for push-in entries made in apartment houses.

Detective James DelGrasso conducted a six-week investigation that led to Norvell's identification, Escott said. The problem was to apprehend the suspect.

Irish Society meets tonight

The Belleville Irish-American Society will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Entertainment will be provided by the Secaucus High School Dance Band.

Refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

BELMONT CLEANUP - Police Officer Greg McDonald held off traffic while the Department of Public Works cleared the snow and ice pack from Belmont Avenue, Tuesday. It took heavy equipment to do the job.

FACING UP TO IT - Michael Melchione of Little Street prepares to dig in to the pile of snow left by the snow plows. It was a back-aching Sunday for him, and thousands of others in Belleville.

STREET SCENE - This street in the Valley had its share of cars waiting to be dug out, and its mounds of snow where the cars had been dug out. The clear surface shows this is a street where the plows were active. (Photo by Howard Klausner)

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

Tommy Ritacco, the holdover singer from the Big Band Era, is one of that dwindling crew who enjoys singing in intelligible English, and likes songs with sentiment and melody. We have alerted the police to him, so it is safe to read on. He currently is reviving interest in one of the country's greatest pop singers, a man who outshone Blag Crosby in his day, and probably would have overshadowed even Frank Sinatra. We speak of Russ Columbo. ● ● ● ● A native of Camden, he lived just 26 years until a tragic gunshot accident in 1934 took his life. By that time, he had sung in three major Hollywood movies, and had sung and composed at least a dozen hit songs. Some are still standards, including Prisoner of Love, Sweet and Lovely and You Call It Madness. All this productivity and stardom occurred within a four-year time span. He was also an accomplished violinist, and, unfortunately, an avid gun collector. ● ● ● ● Mr. Ritacco may not have gained the same renown as Russ Columbo, but he has his fans. Recently, Wire Records issued an album entitled "Tommy Ritacco: A Tribute to Russ Columbo". The numbers include Stardust and Good Night Sweetheart, which reflect the kind of songs made popular by the crooners of the day, and which are still evocative. Anyone who wants to relish real melody and thoughtful sentiment should sample the album. Wire Records can be reached at P.O. Box 1434, Bloomfield 07003. ● ● ● ● It was a pleasant surprise to Belleville to have a visit from Luciada Florio, the First Lady of New Jersey, recently. Mrs. Florio, who could easily be advertised as one of the state's Natural Beauties, came to the Middle School Art Class of Miss Marcia Miele. Miss Miele had the idea of asking the pupils to create posters advertising the coming World Cup Soccer Tourney which will include Glants Stadium in its itinerary. Governor Florio has been promoting the World Cup games as a boost for New Jersey and Mrs. Florio responded to word from Miss Miele that the Belleville youngsters were creating World Cup art. She made a personal visit here. ● ● ● ● Mrs. Florio says all the right things and shows the proper attentiveness to detail that make her a Class Act. She listened to the entreaties of the Belleville Times that the Township and the School District receive state money, and lots of it, to maintain quality education, without once elbowing us out of the way, which indicates a higher degree of tolerance than shown by most notables we encounter.

Joe Maceda, the Vice President and Idea Man of H Power, Incorporated, would like a little more show of support from New Jersey officials in his quest for federal contracts. H Power is currently completing three hydrogen powered buses to be used in California and is looking for a $30 million contract being offered by the federal government to develop three or more additional hydrogen powered buses. "Every state in the Union helps its people except New Jersey," Maceda said. "I don't even get an answer to my telephone calls." In one case, a New Jersey official failed to keep a luncheon appointment in Washington, D.C. after Maceda had gone to the Capitol for the meeting. ● ● ● ● This indifference extends to the Township, Maceda said. "Look at the condition of the road coming in here from Montgomery Street. It's not a road, it's a tank trap." Maceda says he has to make a decision this summer as to whether to put a 20,000 square foot addition in Belleville, or somewhere else in the country. Other towns offer tax incentives and bank loans to lure H Power to their territory. Maceda prefers New Jersey, but Colorado is looking more attractive all the time. ● ● ● ● Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten was tucked away in the Board of Education office where the Budget Committee was meeting. "I was waiting for comments by the three budget critics they asked to join the budget committee - Joseph Fornarotto, Frank Montagna and Richard Yanuzzi - otherwise known as the Blue Ribbon Panel. So far, not a peep. Where are all the budget cutting suggestions that were supposed to leave me in cream and catnip for years? What can a cat believe in, any more?" ● ● ● ● Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says his political organization, the Kool Kukumber Boys is planning a musical tribute to the Township Administration. "It's in honor of Dr. Frank Noonan's decision to sell his property in town. He may be the first person ever to move away from some place he never was. We'll start with "I Haven't Been Here in The Longest Time" followed by a song from Steve (Ask Me No Questions and I'll Tell You No Lies) Cuccio followed by "It Had to Be You", sung by Marina Perna, Mario Drozd and Charlie Cerami backed up by the Chorus of the State Commission of Investigation. We'll make a million!"

Middle School students attend library lectures

Seventy-five Belleville Middle School students recently attended two informative lectures at the Belleville Public Library.

The first lecture was entitled, "The Underground Railroad in New Jersey." This was presented by Giles Wright, the Director of Afro-American Studies for the NJ Historical Commission. The students were intrigued by Wright's accounts of slaves using the underground railroad network and excerpts on infamous slaves. One such slave, Lear Green, had herself shipped in a box to William Still, a NJ conductor for the underground railroad.

This lecture was part of the students' exposure to events in Black History.

The second lecture, "The Treason Conspiracy" was presented by Frank DeLisi as part of the celebration of Presidents' Month. This lecture highlighted the career of Benedict Arnold who eventually became a traitor after an illustrious military career.

The programs were arranged by Adrea Colter, Assistant Library Director. Accompanying the students to the programs were Middle School teachers, Eileen Albrecht, Sarah Yauch and Barbara Spillane.

Official sees no more than 20 residents being housed at former Geriatric Center

Rosemary Senatore-Ciccone, Director of Development for Essex County Housing and Community Development, said that no more than 20 discharged patients will use the facilities of the former Essex County Geriatrics Center as a halfway house for their return to society.

She denied a report being circulated in Belleville that "one-third of the patients of Marlboro Hospital" will be sent to the Belleville facility.

"It can't hold more than 15 to 20 people," Mrs. Senatore-Ciccone said.

If patients are sent to North Jersey from Marlboro, she said it would be more probable that they would be housed in the Cedar Grove facilities now operated by Essex County.

She emphasized that the persons to be housed in the Belleville were discharged from hospitals and found fit to return to normal life.

Federal and state funds amounting to more than $2.2 million have been granted to rehabilitate the building for the housing of the patients.

"This has been under discussion for two years. Public hearings have been held. Belleville took no notice of it," Mrs. Senatore-Ciccone said.

She noted that efforts to have a group home for children afflicted with cerebral palsy had also met with opposition.

"A member of the Planning Board told a representative of the home, 'We don't want your type of people here!'"

She said that the home for the children had been approved, and would be opened.

C.M.H.S. Annual Award Dinner will honor the community

On March 19, Community Mental Health Services is holding its annual dinner which each year recognizes an individual from the community for service and involvement with mental health concerns. This year C.M.H.S. has chosen to thank the residents of Belleville for their support over the 35 years of the Agency's existence. The Mayor and Council of the Township will accept the Agency's thanks for all the residents.

In April 1958 C.M.H.S. first opened its doors in borrowed space at Clara Maass Medical Center. The Agency was then known as The North Essex Child Guidance Clinic. Its mission at that time was chiefly directed towards children and their families. Involvement with the Belleville school system was close and supportive, a relationship that has continued to the present day and remains most helpful.

Following the community mental health laws promulgated under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson in the 1960s, enormous changes occurred. The focus of mental health treatment for adults steadily moved to the community. State and County hospitals began their "shrinkage" and ever greater numbers of people were discharged to their home community. C.M.H.S.

responded to the challenge by expanding its services and in 1972 changed its name to reflect its new mission. The Agency now offers the community five distinct programs directed at the alleviation of social, mental, and emotional problems that affect people of all ages. As it celebrates its 35th year of service to the community C.M.H.S.

also celebrates the people of Belleville for their support and constancy. We hope to see many of them on March 19 at the Chandelier Restaurant. For tickets or any questions, call 450-3100. Ask for Marie.

Prudential to sponsor cherry blossom run

Thomas J. D'Alessio, Essex County Executive, has announced that applications are now available for the 1993 Cherry Blossom 10K (6.2 miles) Run sponsored by PruCare HMO from The Prudential. This annual run through historic Branch Brook Park will take place on April 25, beginning at 10 a.m.

The registration fee for the run is $7.50 for County residents and $10 for out-of-county participants. The registration deadline is April 14.

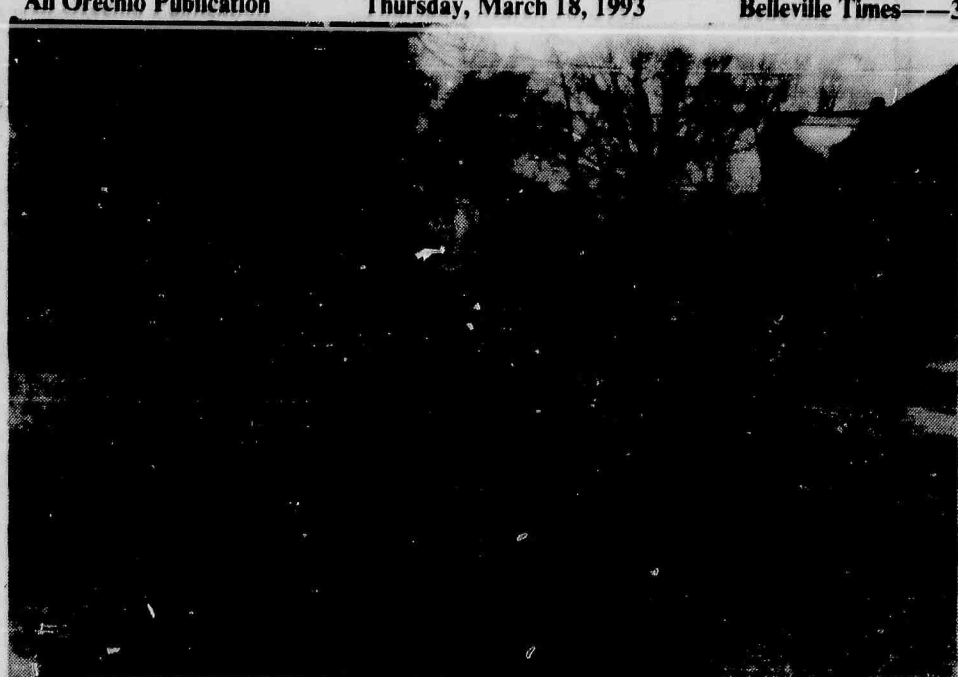

Race day registration will be available from 8 to 9:15 a.m., but the fee will be $12 regardless of residency. As in previous years, tee-shirts will be given to the first 1,000 pre-registrants.

In addition to the 10K run, the Older Adult Fitness Walk will also take place that day beginning at 9:30 a.m. This walk is open to adults 55 and over. Registration for this event will take place on race day from 8 to 9:15 a.m. There is no registration fee or pre-registration for the Older Adult Fitness Walk.

The age groups for the 10K run are 14 and under, 15 to 19, 20 to 29, 30 to 39, 40 to 49, 50 to 59, and 60 and over. Prizes will be awarded to the top three male and female runners, overall, and to the top three finishers in each of the age brackets, male and female.

For information on the run or to have an application mailed, call the Essex County Parks Department at (201) 857-8530.

BORDER LINE — For some reason, Franklin Avenue in Belleville is still covered by a softening ice pack, while the section in Nutley was virtually cleared of snow. You could almost tell where one town began and the other ended. Franklin Avenue is an Essex County road.

OUR OPINION

Battling the storm

The blizzard and the ice storm that beset Belleville and the rest of the Atlantic seaboard rank among the worst storms of the century. Yet some communities handled the problem better than others.

A comparison of the street conditions between Belleville and neighboring Nutley is not to Belleville's advantage.

Virtually every street with a slope to it was closed to traffic.

Snowplows did not reach many streets at all.

The State of New Jersey apparently gave up altogether on Route 21, while Route 3 in Clifton was almost miraculously clear of snow.

What happened to Belleville's streets may have been unavoidable, considering the severity of the storm.

But we ask two questions.

Could private contractors and private snow plow owners have been mobilized more effectively?

And where was the Township Manager during that crucial Saturday, along with his four-wheel drive Jeep?

Infants need not die

It is a commentary on our times that on March 25, Representative Donald M. Payne will host a public forum in Newark on the topic of infant mortality.

Congressman Payne states: "Currently, the infant mortality rate in this community not only ranks first in New Jersey but is also one of the highest in the world."

On May 20, the New Jersey Agricultural Society will host a tour of farms in Atlantic County, to demonstrate the scientific farming so successfully underway in the Garden State.

New Jersey happens to be a world leader in producing foodstuffs, and it is here that the Green Revolution began which revolutionized farming throughout the Third World, making India, for example, into a food exporter where it previously had been a place of famine.

The incredible fact is that within a few miles of each other are urban areas where infant mortality rivals that of the Third World and areas of food production unrivalled in the world.

The basic cause of infant mortality is malnutrition coupled with neglect.

We do not lack the means to keep children alive. We simply have not figured out how to overcome ignorance and poverty to get the needed care to the children.

Mr. Payne suggests that teen-age pregnancies are a major factor in infant mortality. Lack of family planning is another.

Infant mortality in the midst of scarcity is understandable. The death of infants in the midst of plenty is inexcusable.

Help for the economy

Talking to local businesspeople and homeowners, two suggestions arise in response to the National Administration's request for suggestions on how to reduce the budget.

They are not really spending reduction ideas, as much as they are enhancement ideas for the economy.

The immediate need of most local businesspeople is more liberal credit from the banks. The banks are virtually paralyzed in their loan policies because of government warnings against bad loans, and because of the tight economy.

So one suggestion is that for immediate relief, the government guarantee at least $50 billion in small business loans, instead of putting it into far off construction projects.

It would take the burden off the banks, who want to stimulate local business but are handcuffed.

The other suggestion deals with the cost of energy, which is one of the main expenses of our society.

In view of the fact that Kuwait and Saudi Arabia owe their national survival to American military intervention against Iraq, couldn't these oil producers sell oil to America at a reduced price?

Even a one-cent drop in the price of gasoline at the pump saves the American a billion dollars that could be put to better uses. And it would be better than a punitive sales tax increase that will only hinder the economy.

YOUR OPINION

Mayor disputed

To the editor:

Our Mayor Marina Perna appeared on local cable and was quite proud of her efforts to obtain land for senior housing.

I believe she said while other politico have tried over the years to obtain this land none were successful, and it was she that "Brought home the Bacon"... NOT so fast young lady! There was and is FREE land available for senior housing. Many years ago the Andrew Jergens Company donated land to be used for some worthwhile community project. What can be more beneficial to our community.

When senior housing was first proposed your chairman of the Citizens Housing Committee, Mr. J. Fornaroto was a very vocal opponent of senior housing on the Jergens tract believing that the trains running beside this land would disturb the seniors. Holy Cow! Just wait and see what happens when the fire trucks start to roll out of headquarters, loud noises, the trucks sirens blasting, horns bellowing, it should be quite disturbing to any resident of senior housing.

You might also like to consider the likes of Mr. Larry Hogue who terrorized residents on West 96th Street in New York, what a time they had before they were able to have him committed, and he was only called "Mildly Mentally Disturbed."

Do we really need to subject our charming and captivating seniors to the possibility of such behavior at their lobby door. Let's look again to the functions of the New Cancer Research and Treatment Center. Will they have electrical radiation emanating from this facility to the detriment of honorable senior citizens.

It's time we looked again at the Jergen site.

Plenty of FREE land, soon no trains (N.J. Transit will shortly abandon the tracks). Just a perfect place for senior housing. A running brook, beautiful cherry blossoms to view, Little League baseball to enjoy, their grandchildren frolicking, a club house to enjoy friendly comradeship, a church close by, a first rate restaurant to dine, a walking and bike trail, and other amenities to assure our most honorable seniors a relaxing retirement.

Again OUR land. But equally important NO NO NO cost to the taxpayers of Belleville.

Bernard E. O'Connor

Coach is praised

To the editor:

I have been a resident of Belleville about 60 years, also was very proud to say I was from Belleville. I also enjoy reading the paper with my breakfast. However today I have my breakfast before I read the paper to enjoy it. Because you never know what will be in the paper about our once proud town.

However we do have a bright side. Our high school has a supervisor, department of health, physical education and athletics, Karen A. Fucello, who is doing a hell of a job. The whole state knew Belleville when she coached basketball. A few more Karens and we could once again shout I live in Belleville.

Ray Spencer

For John Notari

To the editor:

As a concerned school parent who currently has two children in school 10, I want the best education for my children. I want school board members who are truly interested in our children and education. In this year's board of education election I strongly support and endorse John Notari.

John is truly interested in the education of our children. He wants a curriculum that will strongly emphasize preparing our children for the competitive world which lies ahead. He wants our children to be proficient in reading, writing and math.

John does not believe in closing any of the neighborhood schools. As a parent this puts my mind at ease knowing that all of our schools will remain open.

Besides giving our children the best education, John Notari is aware of the serious tax problem in Belleville and wants to be conservative with our school money, giving our children the best in education at a cost affordable to the taxpayers. He wants young families to be able to settle in Belleville and not stay away because of the taxes.

John is not a politician, he is a man who is for the citizens and wants to work with us, the school parents.

I feel that in order for our children to get the best education, we need a change. I ask all concerned school parents like myself to vote for John Notari, Line 1A, April 20th for the Belleville Board of Education. We are in desperate need for a change. I believe that John Notari will bring us positive changes.

Donna Andreottola
Concerned School Parent

They're for Patti

To the editor:

I would like to say that I know Patti Pisano. If you knew her, then it would be obvious to you that Patti wants to bring out our children's interest to the forefront. Patti feels "Parents must be included in the vital decisions that affect their children's lives." She feels "All parents, community members and school personnel can and should work together for the good of our children." Patti knows our schools are a vital part in our community. And believes we can have a good school system without crippling the taxpayer.

Patti has three children who attend the Belleville schools. Patti is also a homeowner and feels the pinch like we do when our taxes are raised.

We may be a little partial because Patti has been our neighbor for many years. We know the dedication, strength and experience that goes toward working to help the students.

We hope you will support our friend and neighbor this coming board of education election on April 20, 5A on the ballot. Pat Pisano is our candidate. Think of her when you vote.

Fees collected by the Code Enforcement Department covered the total expenses of operating that department. In effect, it was a self-supporting entity and is headed by one of Nutley's most outstanding public servants, Code Official Pat Intindola. Mr. Intindola anticipates 1993 to be in line with the 1992 results. Commercial construction in our community means a plus for residential taxpayers. The more commercial assessments, the more taxes Town Hall receives from businesses. Not to be overlooked is that all commercial buildings produce more jobs. In this terrible economy, every little bit helps.

Pat Intindola

• JACKIE REGA, the Belleville political sage, says that conditions are developing for a possible change of government movement. "I talked with a lot of people, and there is great dissatisfaction with the general behavior of certain members of the Belleville Town Council. If it continues, I predict the voters will rise up to change the government again — certainly, some incumbent council members are in jeopardy of losing their jobs next year." Jackie Rega is actively advocating the election of John Notari, a native son of Belleville and a candidate for a seat on the Belleville Board of Education. Notari is an employee of the Clifton Board of Education.

• IT looks like Councilwoman Louise

Palagano will be the Democrat Freeholder candidate from the 5th Freeholder District. She will oppose incumbent freeholder Arthur Clay.

Louise Palagano

• DR. FRANK NOONAN, member of the Belleville Town Council does not take his $6,000 annual salary — a very meaningful gesture in these troubled economic times.

• A REPORT in Sunday's Star Ledger indicating that United States Senator Bill Bradley is reported to publicly support East Orange Mayor Cardell Cooper for re-election is incorrect. Bradley let it be known that he will in no way be involved in any action against the Essex County Democrat organization of Tom D'Alessio.

Essex County State Senator Richard Codey of West Orange has publicly stated, "I am not backing off Cardell."

Aides of Essex County Chairman Tom D'Alessio indicate Codey's position means that he has abandoned the leadership of the Democrat Party in Essex County. Such being the case, intimates of D'Alessio suggest the County Chairman has no alternative but to accept the challenge to his leadership. A major contender for the senate seat held by Codey is Orange Mayor and Assemblyman-an Robert Brown. He is also Chairman of the Orange Democrat Party. Can Codey and Cooper organize a meaningful rebellion against the forces of D'Alessio? Hardly. D'Alessio's leadership has never been stronger.

Tom D'Alessio

• THREE Republican mayors from Bergen County and Belleville's Councilman Frank Noonan have jumped on former State Senator Gabriel Ambrosio for an alleged conflict of interest when as a member of the Senate, he was appointed as legal counsel by the members of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission. Ambrosio has been counsel or associate counsel with the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission for the past fourteen years. Noonan and his three associates are asking the State Commission of Investigation to look into "violation of law" occurring during the time that Ambrosio was a member of the Senate and attorney of the PVSC. The question is mute. It was resolved when the issue was raised in 1987 — a time when the legislature's Joint Committee on Ethical Standards declared in a unanimous decision in 1987 that working for two state branches of state government simultaneously was not necessarily a conflict of interest. In October 1987, the New Jersey Republican State Committee made legal efforts to dislodge Ambrosio from either position and it didn't happen. The four who are complaining today about Ambrosio are supporters of incumbent Republican Senator John Scott who may be likely opposed by Ambrosio. There is a suspicion that the questions raised concerning Ambrosio's 1987 status have political motives. The challenge against Ambrosio is ridiculous, and even an unsophisticated political observer could see the motives of the objectors.

They're changing the shape of New Jersey

Throughout New Jersey, Weight/Trimmers may provide the push you need to get started in your quest for weight control. With locations throughout the area, their message is a simple and direct one: Learn to eat smarter and healthier and not feel deprived, and you will lose weight and keep it off.

Ronald Regen, president of Weight/trimmers, says his company re-educates people about food, while encouraging them to approach a weight loss program from a realistic point of view. It includes eating normal food, not "diet food" and making an all-important commitment. "Everyone wants to lose," Regen says, "but until you make a commitment you won't do it."

At Weight/trimmers, clients attend weekly discussion meetings that cover high interest topics including stress and how it relates to eating, the connection between the couch and food, and how to read labels in the supermarket. "We deal with behavior," says Regen. "We act as support for the person who wants to drop pounds and keep it off."

Weight/trimmers conducts weekly classes at a variety of sites throughout New Jersey, does on-site corporate programs, and receives many physician referrals for patients and weight problems. Weight/trimmers works. The Rockaway, N.J. based corporation has been recognized for its success and professionalism and has been assisting individuals of all age groups with their battle to achieve good health. With 42 sites in north-west New Jersey, Weight/trimmers makes its appearance in Passaic County this week. With new centers opening in Fairlawn, Belleville, Kearny and Westwood, residents in Passaic County are certainly in for a loss.

Scott seeks second term; pledges to cut taxes

Senator John P. Scott (R-Bergen, Essex, Passaic) announced March 3 that he will run for a second term as Senator from the politically marginal 36th Senate District.

Scott pledged to continue working for less government spending, safer communities, neighborhood schools and additional rollbacks of the $2.8 Billion Florio Tax Increase passed in 1990.

The Senator made his remarks at a rally held in Lyndhurst for his supporters.

"When I announced my campaign for state senate two years ago, said I was running to defend your wallets from the likes of Jim Florio and the Senator I defeated, Gabe Ambrosio," said Senator Scott. "From the day I was sworn in, that's just what I've done."

The Senator explained that he "never wavered from that commitment because I never forgot the people who put me in office and their fundamental rights. The right not to be overtaxed. The right to live in stable neighborhoods and enjoy safe streets. And the right to send our children to neighborhood schools."

Among his accomplishments, Scott said, were cutting the proposed Florio budget by more than $1 Billion and passing the biggest tax cut in state history -- the $600 million sales tax cut. Other accomplishments, he said, include eliminating loopholes in New Jersey's death penalty law, supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would ban forced school mergers and mandatory busing of schoolchildren, opposing extended welfare benefits for able-bodied people with no children who are on the dole for six months, and stopping Mayor Dinkins' proposed commuter tax increase on New Jersey residents.

The Senator also noted changes he supported to the Florio Auto Insurance law that stopped scheduled increases in rates for senior citizens and suburban drivers to subsidize the rates of young men in the cities who have high rates of accidents and auto theft.

Locally, Senator Scott pointed out that his legislation that stopped Florio Administration plans to close St. Mary's Hospital in Passaic and Clara Maass Pediatric Hospital in Belleville was passed into law over Governor Florio's veto. He noted that he is working with Assemblymen Kelly and DiGaetano to obtain a number of needed highway modernization and infrastructure projects for the area.

Scott also repeated his call for passing a budget lower than last year's, along with a package of tax cuts that would put $800 million back into the economy. The package includes a return of the property tax deduction from state income taxes and repeal of the 1990 Florio Telecommunications Sales Tax and the Florio Petroleum Tax Increase.

The Senator said that the return of the property tax deduction would "give the people the middle class tax cut that candidate Clinton spoke about and President Clinton forgot." He noted that repeal of the telecommunications tax would bring back back lost telecommunications jobs and that the Petroleum Tax repeal was needed to offset "the disastrous effect that the Clinton Energy Tax will have on middle-class families."

"A cut of just $100 million from last year's budget will allow us to bring New Jersey the three tax cuts I have described and add to our state surplus as well."

"I never said that we can roll back the entire $2.8 Billion Tax Increase overnight," said Scott. "The former Senator and the Governor spent all the money before we even received it and it will take years to get out of this hole. But I did say that I will not rest until every penny of this taxpayer ripoff is repealed and our state's economy is made strong once more."

Senator Scott represents the tri-county 36th Legislative District, which includes the towns of North Arlington, Lyndhurst, Rutherford, East Rutherford, Carlstadt and Wallington in Bergen County, Nutley and Belleville in Essex County, and the City of Passaic. The Senator is Vice Chairman of the Senate Transportation and Public Utilities Committee and a member of the Commerce Committee. He chairs the Commerce subcommittee on Banking and Labor and also serves on the Law and Public Safety Committee.

DiGaetano to host 'Legislative Affairs'

Assemblyman Paul DiGaetano (R-36th District) will be hosting a series of 30 minute television talk shows designed to inform his constituents on current issues of the state.

On the first "Legislative Affairs" DiGaetano discussed with Dr. Donald Loria, Chairman and Professor of the Department of Preventative Medicine and Community Health at the N.J. Medical School, the "Health Wellness Promotion Act." This legislation requires benefits be provided for expenses incurred in a health promotion program for adults through wellness, health examination and counseling.

"The constituents of the 36th District and the state in general are concerned about health issues in our country today. I hope our show helps to better inform them on this topic," said DiGaetano.

"Legislative Affairs" will air on Orechio Broadcasting Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m.

Assemblyman Paul DiGaetano represents the towns of Carlstadt, Wallington, East Rutherford, Rutherford, Lyndhurst, North Arlington, Passaic, Nutley and Belleville.

Pre-law student participates in mock trial

John Marmaras of Belleville is captain of a team of pre-law students representing the St. Thomas More Pre-Law Society and Seton Hall University in its first competition in the collegiate mock trial competition which is sponsored by the New Jersey State Bar Foundation.

The Society is a student-run organization for all students interested in the study of law. The organization is named for Sir Thomas More who refused to swear allegiance to King Henry VIII as the head of the church of England and was executed and later canonized by the Roman Catholic Church.

The first round of the competition was held on Feb. 16 and 18 at the Law Center in New Brunswick and the Seton Hall team successfully qualified for the single elimination finalist round which was held on Feb. 23.

The University's team was pitted against Princeton University's team and was beaten by less than two points. The Princeton team went on to defeat a team from Trenton State in the finals to win the competition. This is the third year that the bar foundation has run the collegiate level trials, although it has been a sponsor of high school competitions for some time. There were 16 colleges and universities represented in the competition.

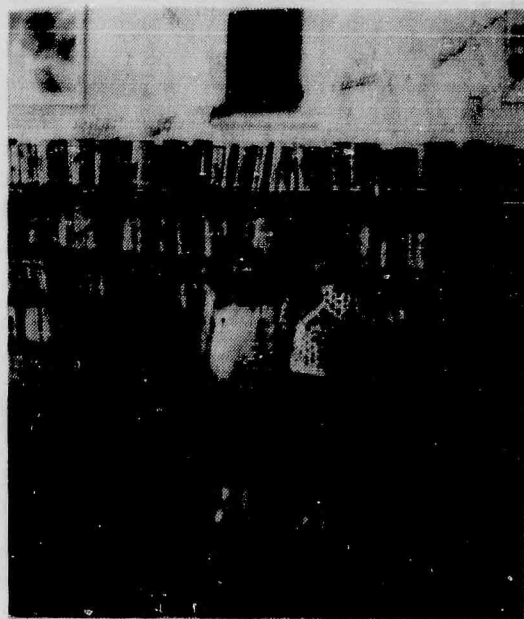

Jon-Paul Louis State Finalist

Jon-Paul Louis, an eighth grader at Belleville Middle School, has been notified that he is a State Finalist for the National Geography Bee. This level of competition for approximately 100 N.J. students will take place at Rutgers University on April 2.

In order to reach this level, Jon-Paul Louis, won the Geography Bee held at Belleville Middle School in January. He then took a written test which is scored by the National Geographic Society.

One winner from each state will advance to the National Competition, which will be held May 25 and 26 at the National Geographic Society Headquarters in Washington, D.C. The winner of the competition will receive a $10,000 scholarship.

Accompanying Jon-Paul to the State finals will be his parents Seraphin and Michelle Louis and Barbara Scillano, BMC Social Studies teacher.

Clara Maass Medical Center sponsors literacy program

It is estimated that approximately 25 million American adults are functional illiterates who are unable to read, write, calculate or solve problems at a level that enables them to cope with even the most simple of tasks.

The U.S. Department of Education reports that 2.2 million people (44,000) per week are added to the adult illiterate population of the United States every year.

"Education is no longer considered a luxury," said Ria Papageorgiou, Training and Development Specialist at Clara Maass Medical Center. "In order to survive in the job market today, you must stay abreast of current information and skills."

In response to the educational needs of its employees, Clara Maass Medical Center established Learn More, Be More, a literacy program. Offered in conjunction with Union County College, Learn More, Be More enables employees and volunteers to continue their education and skill development at the Medical Center.

To attest to its success Clara Maass was one of two hospitals in the state to receive a grant from the New Jersey Department of Education, Division of Adult Education.

The grant, awarded to organizations who have proposals which are in accordance with pre-stated criteria regarding workplace literacy programs, totalled $59,000 for the 1992-93 academic year.

"We are extremely proud of our literacy program and have made this program a permanent part of the Clara Maass family. The Medical Center has evidenced the benefits of this program over the past 2 1/2 years and is confident that it will have continued success," said Robert S. Curtis, president and CEO.

Due to the program's success, CMMC has received both state and national recognition. In 1992, the Medical Center was invited to present the program to the Middle Atlantic Health Congress in Atlantic City and the National Alliance for Business' annual convention in Miami, Florida. In addition, the National Alliance for Business also chose Clara Maass along with two other hospitals to participate in a national study on workplace literacy. The Medical Center also chaired the New Jersey Hospital Association, Council on Planning, Committee on Human Resources task force designed to address the issues surrounding literacy among hospital employees.

"It is the goal of this task force and Clara Maass' Learn More/Be More program to increase learning skills, competencies and abilities of the workplace within a rapidly changing health care industry," said Papageorgiou.

Finish 11-11, third in league

Bucs exceeded expectations

By Mike Lambert

All things considered, the 1992-93 boys' basketball season was quite successful, thank you.

Don Roll's team posted an 11-11 record for the just concluded season. The season ended in the first round of the state tourney, when the Bucs were downed by the Bengals of Bloomfield.

"We achieved just about all of our goals," Roll said. "We wanted to reach the second round of the county tournament, qualify for the states and win the Christmas tournament. The only thing we didn't do was win the holiday tournament. (The Bucs lost to Hudson Catholic in the title game.)"

"I was happy with the performance this year," Roll continued. "Last year, we finished 14-10. We lost two key performers (Troy Talmadge and Sal Strufface). The kids responded this year and put together a good campaign, especially when you consider we started the year 1-4."

The Bucs did struggle early. The turning point of the season, ironically, came in a game Roll does not want to remember. It was a home game against Don Bosco in early January. In the fourth quarter, Roll was ejected for disputing a call and had to sit out two games, which is a league rule.

The players responded to Roll's emotion and played with much more intensity down the line.

"We haven't been a good team down the stretch in previous seasons," Roll said. "This year, we won 10 of our last 17 games and we hung tough against some real good teams. The only game we were blown out in was the Irvington game (in the second round of the ECT). Irvington has a tremendous team. That's one of the best teams I've seen in a long time."

By the way, Irvington is still playing, having won the county championship for the second straight year and taking home the Group IV, Section II title. They were set to play Shawnee for the Group IV championship earlier this week and a berth in the Tournament of Champions.

This year, senior Dennis DeWork battles for loose ball. The senior was the leading scorer on this year's team. He finished his career with over 1,000 points.

Lady Bucs finish season with optimism

By Mike Lambert

In her first season as varsity coach, Cheryl Marion led the Lady Buc basketball team to an 8-13 record. More important than the record was the steady improvement the girls displayed despite a difficult schedule and declining numbers on the roster.

"I was happy because the girls improved their game, especially on the offensive side," Marion, a former BHS player, said. "We lost a senior point guard early in the season and then our freshman point guard was injured and she missed the last few games of the year. We had to make a lot of adjustments, but the kids did pretty well."

Senior Colleen Mannion closed out a good basketball career by averaging 10.2 points per game this season. She averaged over five rebounds per contest and was named second team, NNJIL.

"Colleen was hurt for a good part of the season," Marion said. "But she never quit. She always played the game hard and she provided a good deal of leadership to the younger players."

Liz Ramirez, a junior, led the Lady Bucs in scoring with an 11.4 ppg average. She was also the top rebounder, with 6.2 rebounds per contest.

Ramirez' effort was good enough for first team, NNJIL honors.

"Liz has the ability to be one of the best players in the league,"

Marion said. "She came through this season when we needed her the most."

Sophomore Andrea Curran also earned post season accolades. Curran started the year as the two guard and occasional small forward. By the end of the year, she was the point guard, which meant a decline in her offensive skills because Marion needed Curran to direct the offense.

Curran still finished with an 8.0 ppg average and pulled down about four rebounds a contest.

"She was a big surprise for us," Marion said of A.C. "She provided a tremendous level of leadership, which is sometimes unusual for a sophomore. She did a very good job of keeping the team together."

Curran was named Honorable Mention, NNJIL.

Mary Campbell and Kristin Caputo round out the senior class.

"Both girls played well and were very helpful in developing the younger players," Marion said. "Campbell had some good games in the pivot and Caputo shot the ball well."

Junior Adrienne Walsh was a reliable sixth player and occasional varsity starter. She should be one of the key players on next year's team.

Marie Acuna, a freshman, took over the point guard duties in January and fared rather well until an injury cut short her season.

"Acuna has the ability to play the Assistant coach Karen Portuese lends her support during time-out of Lady Buc game. Head coach Cheryl Marion gave credit to "Port," a Hall of Famer, for her acute knowledge of the game.

Senior Colleen Mannion is alert during game with Irvington last month. Mannion was second on the team in scoring this year.

Little league tryouts this week and next

Belleville Little League tryouts continue this week, with indoor tryouts scheduled for Wednesday, March 17 at Belleville High School, beginning at 6:15 p.m. Those tryouts are for 10 and 12 year old players.

Next Monday, March 22, indoor tryouts continue at the Belleville High School gym for 9 and 11 year olds, starting at 6:15 p.m. Next Wednesday, March 24, tryouts will take place again for 10 and 12 year olds at the BHS gym, also at 6:15 p.m.

If there are any further questions, please contact Ken Spera at 759-9248.

K of C Free rowing Champions — The Regional Championship competition was held at Mariet High School. The winners are: front row, left to right, Keith Jousset from Hasbrouck Heights; Joseph Pussilano from Hasbrouck Heights; Lauren Betterbid from Oradell; and Brian Harrison from Roselle; standing, left to right, Jeff Miller from Springfield; April Rock from Wallington; Amir Moses from Belleville; and Sarah Savino from Maplewood. Missing from photo are Jennifer Rinaldi from Rutherford, and Audrey Frawley from Ridgefield Park.

If you're a basketball fan, then there is no better time of the year than now. On the high school level, the Tournament of Champions will be held this weekend at the Meadowlands Arena.

The TOC first began in 1989, with St. Anthony of Jersey City winning the crown over Elizabeth in the boys section. That St. Anthony team featured Bobby Hurley, Terry Dehere and Jerry Walker. Elizabeth was paced by Luther Wright, then a junior.

In 1990, Elizabeth returned the favor, beating St. Anthony in the title game with Wright leading the way. St. Anthony came back in 1991 to win the championship. In that final, Danny Hurley paced the Friar effort.

Last year, the TOC finally got some new teams when Shawnee captured the crown.

This weekend, the fifth TOC will be contested and Shawnee and St. Anthony are the favorites to play for the title. That game could draw in excess of 10,000 fans.

On the collegiate level, everyone knows about "March Madness". It's that phenomenon every March and early April that culminates with the NCAA mens, and womens, championship.

I'm sure most of the fans have looked at the brackets in the local papers and are pretty much set for who will play in the Final Four on April 3 and 5.

Here are my picks, beginning with the East regional.

Everyone that I've listened to says North Carolina is a sure bet. I'm not 100 percent convinced the Tar Heels are the team to advance, although I'm sure they will get to the Meadowlands for the Sweet 16.

My choices in the East are North Carolina and Cincinnati to meet for the East regional crown, with Cincinnati pulling the upset and advancing to the Final Four for the second straight year.

Along the way, I like North Carolina to beat East Carolina, Purdue and St. John's while Cincy should defeat Coppin State, New Mexico State and Virginia before upsetting the Heals.

In the Midwest, Indiana is the top seed, but, once again, I think the Hoosiers will not make it to New Orleans. I think Indiana will beat Wright State and New Orleans, but in the round of 16, look for Indiana to be upset by Louisville. Louisville will then go to the regional final against Duke and the Blue Devils will prevail to once again play in the Final Four.

I like Duke to beat Southern Illinois, California, Kansas and then Louisville to get to the Final Four for the sixth straight year.

In the Southeast, the number one seed is Kentucky, but I'll go with the two seed, Seton Hall, to advance to the championship game. Kentucky should defeat Rider, Utah and Iowa before playing Seton Hall. I like Seton Hall to stop Tennessee St., Western Kentucky, Kansas State and then Kentucky to advance to the Final Four for the first time since 1989.

In the West, Michigan is the top seed and I like the Wolverines to make it to New Orleans, beating Coastal Carolina, UCLA, Georgia Tech and Arizona.

That would set up a national semi between Michigan and Seton Hall in one game and Duke and Cincinnati in the other contest.

Sentimentally, I like Seton Hall, but I'll go with Michigan to beat the Pirates and play Duke for the NCAA championship.

So, for the 1993 NCAA championship, I'll go with a rematch of the '92 title game, but this time I think Michigan will win it all.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL

You'll never know from looking outside, but baseball season is underway at Belleville High School.

At this time of the year, I like to talk about some high school baseball games from years past.

My favorite game still remains the 1975 contest between Belleville and Irvington, even though the Bellboys eventually lost that game.

Setting the scene, the Bellboys were coached by now Hall of Famer George Zanfina. Going into the game, the team was 0-1, having lost on opening day Players trying out for the previously mentioned teams should complete Rec applications before the deadline in case they get cut.

In all cases, the applications must be completed in full and signed by a parent, and all returning players must re-apply. Applications accepted after the March 19 deadline will be considered late and will be treated accordingly. Late applications cannot be guaranteed entry into the league. The Rec House (407 Joralemon Street) hours for registration are Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m. The office will also be open one night each week (dates/times to be announced) for registration. All children attending required practices will play in every game. Our leagues stress sportsmanship, basic skills and fun.

Recreation Track

The Belleville Recreation Department will be offering a recreation track program for boys and girls in grades 6, 7 and 8. The program will tentatively be conducted Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the Stadium from 4 to 6 p.m. Scheduled to begin on April 2, the program will be designed to introduce aspiring runners to the fundamentals of track and field. Participation, rather than competition will be stressed. Training will consist of instructions and fun activities, instead of intense physical workouts. This year's program instructor will be Donna Lee Daudelin, a former runner for the Belleville High School Track team.

Children in grades 6, 7 and 8 who reside in Belleville are eligible. Those children who will be playing baseball or softball should not take part in this program, however, since practices and schedules will conflict. To register, come to the Recreation Department office at 407 Joralemon Street between 8:30 - 4:00, Monday - Friday, with your birth certificate.

Doo Wop comes of age

Fans of doo wop and acappella music can finally enjoy their favorite music and singing groups on the New Jersey Spotlight TV show, hosted by Tommy Petillo. The weekly show begins its run this week and every week thereafter on OBC TV at 10 p.m. on each Thursday and is repeated on Suburban Cable, Channel 36 on Saturdays at 7 p.m.

Tony Petillo, long time lead singer of the popular New Jersey acappella group Parkway, hosts the current series, introduces some of the top doo wop groups performing today and presents the Acappella Calendar telling the viewers who is appearing and where in the metropolitan area.

Joining Petillo as anchor / co-host is veteran New Jersey talent scout and music promoter Walt Gollender, who tosses in his famous show biz anecdotes and lends color to the proceedings. Together, Petillo and Gollender bring some 55 years of collective music expertise and experience to the cameras. This show is, indeed, a first on cable!

During the coming weeks, the Jersey Spotlight Show will feature performances by the groups "Parkway" (with Tommy on lead), the "Elevations" and "Magic Moments." Fans and followers of this generic music genre are invited to tune in, dig the scene and write in with their comments and suggestions to Tommy Petillo of Jersey Spotlight, 47 Jefferson St., Nutley.

Groups invited to be considered for future appearances are also invited to send a demo recording and press pack to Petillo at Revolutionary Entertainment, Box 519, Irvington, NJ 07111.

at Irvington, then winning nine straight.

The Campers were undefeated, and ranked number one in the state. The game was played on a Friday afternoon in May at Belleville High School. It promised to be a tremendous Big 10 contest, and certainly it lived up to the billing.

"It was an unbelievable game," Zanfini told me the following week in school. "I'll never forget it. Both teams played their hearts out. I don't think we ever recovered from that game, however. We just couldn't reach that intensity again that year."

Belleville scored first and Irvington tied the game at one in the fifth inning. It remained 1-1 for nine more innings, until Irvington scored three times in the top of the 14th and won, 4-1.

Along the way, Belleville's Greg Petite pitched the first 11 innings and was nearly untouchable.

For Irvington, Greg Wacker pitched the first five innings and then Ron Krill, the Campers heralded pitcher, threw the next nine and kept the Bellboys off the board.

Belleville came close to scoring the winning run on a few occasions, but Krill worked out of trouble.

The Bellboys in '75 were led by Victor Pasquarele, Joe Panalone, Chipper Blafore, Louie Grasso, Vinnie D'Notaris, Steve Gerard, Ricky Loma, Greg Dunleavy Petite and John Guarino.

Belleville struggled after that Irvington game and finished 14-10. Irvington was never the same, either, and ended up losing the county and state tournaments. They did win the Big 10 crown.

The experience of 1975 did help the '76 team, which posted a 24-4 record and held the number one ranking for four weeks during the season.

We'll talk about that season in another issue.

BELLEVILLE CREW ROW-A-THON

The Belleville crew team will hold its annual row-a-thon tomorrow, March 19, at 3 p.m. at the high school gym. The event will go non stop until Saturday at noon.

The purpose of this event is to help raise money toward equipment. Last years row-a-thon was able to raise enough money for a four man shell, which will be christened on April 3 of this year.

The members of the crew team will row on ergometers, or ergs, which are rowing machines. Each machine has a rolling seat or slide, like the seat in a crew shell.

The team rowed over 500 miles last year and their goal this year is to break that mark.

The public may visit the gym on Friday from 3 p.m. until 8 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon.

SPRING SPORTS

We'll begin full coverage of the spring sports in next weeks issue. We'll also have complete schedules for all the varsity spring sports starting next week.

OVER-THE-COUNTER ADVICE

Patients who suffer from osteoporosis may want to consider taking less expensive over-the-counter (OTC) pain relievers instead of prescription forms of the same medications. According to a study reported in the New England Journal of Medicine, OTC formulations of acetaminophen and ibuprofen are just as effective at reducing the pain and inflammation of osteoarthritis as is high-dose (prescription) ibuprofen. This is the conclusion drawn from a study of 184 adults with osteoarthritis. While one group took OTC acetaminophen or ibuprofen, the other group of osteoarthritis sufferers took the stronger prescription form of ibuprofen. After a month, 40 percent of the patients in each group experienced a reduction in pain and better mobility. The OTC forms of the medication used carry a decreased risk for stomach bleeding as well.

When you have a question concerning an over-the-counter or prescription medication stop by and talk to our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Blue Cross and Medicare approved. "Your Doctor Knows Us—Your Doctor Trusts Us." Timex watches, toiletries and cosmetics are stocked. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HINT: Those with osteoarthritis in weight-bearing joints should turn to more than medication for treatment.

Social Security Questions & Answers

Q: How often should I check my Social Security earnings record? Is there much of a chance that an error may occur?

A: You should check your Social Security earnings record at least once every three years. Errors in your earnings record are more likely to occur if you change jobs frequently or have more than one employer. To check your Social Security earnings record, contact your local Social Security office or call our toll-free number: 1-800-772-1213 and ask for the "Request For Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement (Form 7004)." The form asks a few identifying questions (name, address, date of birth, etc.) About a month later, you'll receive a statement that shows your earnings as reported to Social Security by your employer(s). Check our records against your own files. If you find an error, contact Social Security right away with proof of your actual earnings (such as a W-2 form).

Q: My mother, a widow, died in late January. Social Security tells me that I must return her January benefit check even though she was alive through most of the month. Why is this?

A: Social Security benefits are not pro-rated. To be entitled to a Social Security benefit check for a given month, the person must be alive the entire month. No benefit is payable for the month of death. On the other hand, when people start receiving Social Security, they get a benefit for the first month they're eligible, even if they don't meet all the eligibility factors until late in the month.

Q: Several days ago, I received a notice from Social Security that told me I had been overpaid several hundred dollars. I disagree. I don't think I was overpaid. What steps do I take to appeal?

A: If you don't understand the reason given in the overpayment notice, contact your local Social Security office or their toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, and ask them to explain the reason(s) more clearly. If you understand why you were overpaid but can't afford to pay back, you may request a waiver. The waiver will be approved if:

- * the overpayment is not your fault and
- * you could not meet your necessary living expenses if the overpayment was recovered or recovery would be unfair for some other reason.

Q: My son, blinded by an accident, is receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits. He wants to learn braille in the hope of finding fulltime employment. Will his benefits stop immediately if he takes a job when he completes his braille studies?

A: No. The SSI program provides incentives to help blind or disabled people who want to work. These incentives enable them to return to work or to increase their level of work activity without immediate loss of disability benefits. Your son should contact his local Social Security office.

Q: I am a Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipient. I won a contest where the prize was football tickets worth $100. Do SSI regulations require me to report this?

A: Yes. SSI recipients must report receipt of prizes — both cash and merchandise. Your tickets will be counted as unearned in-kind income at their current market value since they can be sold to meet basic needs for food, clothing or shelter.

Q: If I require medical services outside the United States, and its territories, will Medicare pay the bills?

A: No. But there are three exceptions. Medicare will pay for your care in qualified Canadian or Mexican hospitals if:

- * You are in the United States when an emergency occurs, and a Canadian or Mexican hospital is closer to, or substantially more accessible from, the site of the emergency than the nearest U.S. hospital that can provide the emergency services you need.
- * You live in the United States and a Canadian or Mexican hospital is closer to, or more accessible than can provide the care you need, regardless of whether an emergency exists.

* You are in Canada traveling by the most direct route between Alaska and another state when an emergency occurs.

Q: My doctor wants to schedule me for surgery next month, but I've read where conditions like mine sometimes don't require surgery. Will Medicare pay if I make an appointment with another physician to discuss my illness?

A: Medicare medical insurance will help pay for a second opinion just as it pays for other doctors' services. Ask your doctor to refer you to another doctor in the area of specialization for which you desire the second opinion. You can also call Medicare's Second Opinion Referral Center at 1-800-638-6833.

Klein saves millions of taxpayer's money

Congressman Herb Klein (D-NJ), in his second month in office, has already saved an estimated $70 million of taxpayer money. As a result of Klein's suggestions, the Deposits Amendments Act of 1993 (HR 890) was revised to return federally insured money to the Treasury. The legislation passed in the House by a vote of 409 to 1.

"This will help to reduce the federal deficit," said Klein. "And give people who have their money in the failed Savings and Loans more time to retrieve it."

Klein was the only member of the Subcommittee on Financial Institutions to question the Deposits Amendments Act of 1993, introduced by Congressman Barney Frank (D-MA). "I asked where does the unclaimed money go," said Klein. "A simple question, that received a surprising answer — not back to the federal treasury."

"Herb Klein should be congratulated for spotting this budget problem even before the Congressional Budget Office noticed it, and for contributing to its resolution in a way which will help keep down the budget deficit," said Frank.

The legislation would extend the amount of time allotted for which an unclaimed deposit in a failed Savings and Loan can be claimed and would give the states the authority to find the depositors. Originally, the deadline for finding depositors whose money is federally insured by the Resolution Trust Corporation (RTC) or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) was 18 months. The Deposits Amendments Act of 1993 would grant states ten years.

According to Frank, there is approximately $71 million of unclaimed deposits currently insured by the RTC or the FDIC for which the 18-month time period has run out. Without the arguments made by Klein, the $71 million unclaimed federally insured deposits would have been given to the states. Additionally, Klein saved the federal government all the money that would have gone to the states for claims whose 18 months have not run out and for future Savings and Loans that will fail.

Administration of the bill is expected to cost $1 million. Klein's suggestions have the potential to save $70 million, now, and many more millions, later.

"The ultimate goal of the bill was wonderful," said Klein. "It protects individuals from losing their deposit insurance if they have their money in a failed S&L. By designating people, on a local level, to track down individuals who have not claimed their deposits from these failed thrifts and by giving them more time to do this, it gives the grandmother who has forgot about her deposit in the neighborhood S&L the chance to get her money back. However, the bill failed to clearly explain what happened to the money if grandma was never found."

"As a legislator, it is my responsibility to know exactly where taxpayer money goes. $70 million may not be very much money to the RTC or the FDIC, but it means a lot to hard working families in New Jersey," said Klein. "Any chance I have to save the taxpayers money, I plan to take."

"I will continue my common sense approach to cutting waste, no matter how small the dollar amount may be in comparison to our mammoth budget deficit, because every little bit counts."

point effectively," Marion said. "She didn't get as much playing time as I would have liked because of the injury, but hopefully she'll be playing during the off season and should be ready for next year."

Overall, Marion enjoyed her first year as coach.

"I think we surprised a few people," the coach said. "We won eight games and could have won another four. We were competitive in just about every game, and like I said, we improved steadily during the season."

For next year, the coach hopes her players continue learning, and playing the game.

"Camps are available, also the girls have the opportunity to play AAU ball. Most of the girls do play other varsity sports. Most of them will be playing softball, some of them are on track. In the fall, a lot of the girls play volleyball. So I'm glad they are staying active in other sports."

NOTES: Girls were 5-7 in the NNJIL Pacific Division this season. One of the teams in the division, Paramus Catholic, was playing earlier this week for the Parochial A championship and a berth in the Tournament of Champions.

DeWork, Christy, Ken Johansen named all league for '92-'93

DeWork led the way. He averaged 21.9 points a game and is the latest member of the elite 1,000 point scoring club. DeWork was voted first team, NNJIL and, according to Roll, was the main "go-to" guy for offense this winter.

"Dennis played very well," Roll said. "His best game was the Livingston game late in the season. He only missed three or four shots the entire game."

Senior Ken Johansen answered the call all season long.

"Kenny started the year at point guard, moved to the two guard, then was asked to go back to the point," Roll said. "He did everything we asked and really matured into a tremendous player. If he was born a few weeks later, he could be back next season."

"Kenny gave up a lot of scoring opportunities to run the team. I'll tell you, he is a solid player."

Johansen was named to the second team, NNJIL.

Mike Christy overcame a football injury and played very well in the pivot in this, his senior year. Christy earned honorable mention status in the league.

"Christy hit some key baskets for us," Roll said. "His biggest shot came in the Glen Ridge game (first round of the ECT). He hit the winning basket in the last seconds and it was a tough shot."

The final senior on the roster,

Kevin Johansen was one of the top three point shooters on the team.

"Kevin gave us some good rebounds and could shoot from the outside," Roll said. "He is an outstanding team player."

Junior Mike Mundy led the Bucs in three point shooting with 31 trays. Mundy went down with a severe ankle sprain late in the season, but he came back and played well in the last three games.

"Mike is a good floor leader," Roll said. "He knows the game and keeps things under control."

Frank Means, a junior forward, had a very good second half of the season.

"Means has excellent speed and a world of potential," Roll said. "He improved a great deal from December through March. If he keeps working during the off season, there's no telling how good he can be next year."

The same sentiments can be used for junior SungBok Lee. He played varsity for most of the season and has the potential to be an effective varsity player next season.

Sophomore Mike Molina, a transfer from Barringer, could be the point guard on next years team. Roll is impressed with Molina's ability to run the floor.

"Mike has the ability, he just has to learn the game a little more and play during the summer as much as possible."

Jason Albert showed a great deal of promise in the waning stages of the season. A sophomore, Albert saw extended varsity action in late January and February and impressed his head coach with his intensity and drive to the basket.

Another soph, Kevin Davies, saw mostly JV action this winter but worked hard in practice and could be a key participant on next years team.

Roll is also hoping that underclassmen such as Jerry Turt and Roger Hanos continue to develop their skills during the off season.

"We'll have a good nucleus next year, with Mundy, Means, Molina, Lee and Albert, along with some of the JV players," Roll said. "They key now is to play as much as possible, go to basketball camp and play summer basketball."

"In the league we're in, it's imperative to play the game all year long."

Buc head coach Don Roll ponders the situation during game this past season. Roll guided the Bucs to a 11-11 record berth in state tournament.

"I would also like to thank Ted Sochaski and John Crocco. They were the JV and freshman coach (respectively) and did a tremendous job."

NOTES: Bucs finished in third place in the NNJIL, with a 7-7 record. This was the first time since the early 1960's that a Belleville boys' basketball team had back to back .500 or better seasons. This was Roll's seventh season as varsity head coach. He has held the job longer than four of his predecessors.

Don Grasso, Roll's head coach at BHS, was the coach from 1973 through '79. Joe Papasidero held the job from '80 through '84. Rocco Colucci was coach for two seasons, '85 and '86. Roll then took over for the start of the '86-87 season and has been the main man since. He has led the Bucs to winning seasons in '87-88, '91-92 and the .500 season this year.

Mike Christy in action during game this season. "The Chief" did a good job in the pivot.

Assistant coach Ted Sochaski gives direction during JV game last month. Sochaski, the all time leading scorer in BHS boys' basketball history, completed his first year as varsity coach.

Senior point guard Ken Johansen directs the offense. Head coach Don Roll was very happy with Johansen's play this season.

THIS SHOULD MAKE MOVING A LITTLE EASIER.

Affordable Indoor Air Quality In Houses Built Tight For Energy Efficiency

Heat Recovery Ventilators improve indoor air quality by bringing in fresh outdoor air while efficiently maintaining the temperature inside the home. This model from Carrier, the Comfort Ventilator™, requires no special tools for cleaning and is easy to service.

Today's homes are being built tighter for maximum energy efficiency: thicker walls, more insulation, air-lock vestibules, and doors and windows that keep heated or cooled air from escaping and outside air from infiltrating. The result can be the residential equivalent of the "sick building" syndrome of air-tight modern office buildings.

"Most heating and cooling systems merely recirculate the air in a home. If your home has been sealed up against the loss of heating and cooling, the air inside can quickly become stale, even unhealthy," according to Joe Summa of Carrier Corporation.

Summa explains that bacteria, mold, viruses, dust, formaldehyde and other gases given off by building materials can build up in a house where air cannot escape.

"Your heating system may be recycling colds and other respiratory ailments as it recirculates the air in your home—air which may be filled not just with allergens and illness-causing bacteria, but also with toxins given off by cigarettes, cleansers, sprays, solvents, paints and glues. An electronic air cleaner will take care of most of the airborne particles, but it doesn't remove common gases such as those found in kitchen odors or cigarette smoke," he explains.

"This is why we've installed a heat recovery ventilator in our Eco-Smart™ Home," says Paul Gardner of The Archer Group, a Rochester, New York, builder and developer of energy-efficient, ecologically sound houses. "The house is super-insulated for minimal heat loss or air infiltration, so we needed a way to provide proper ventilation for health and comfort."

The newly introduced product is Carrier's Comfort Ventilator™, which draws fresh outdoor air in through a vent on the side of the house. It also pulls stale air out of the interior and expels this air through another vent.

Summa notes that this exchange of air increases comfort without sacrificing efficiency. "Before it exhausts the stale air from a house, the Carrier Comfort Ventilator recovers virtually all of the air's warmth in winter—up to 84 percent—then uses that heat to warm the fresh, cold outdoor air it draws in."

"When the Comfort Ventilator is used in an arid climate or when the air conditioner is running, it removes the heat from the hot outdoor air it draws in, cooling it down to a comfortable temperature for indoor living. It does this without ever mixing the two air streams, so the incoming air always stays fresh."

In fact, Summa says that fresh air entering the house is even cleaner than the air outdoors, thanks to an incoming air filter on the fresh air stream that removes some airborne contaminants like pollen and dust.

This improves air quality and potentially reduces allergic reactions.

He compares using the Comfort Ventilator to being able to open a window in every room even on the coldest days, without experiencing the drafts or the high energy costs.

In addition, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) recommends heat recovery ventilators as one effective means of reducing radon levels in the home.

The Comfort Ventilator is the newest component of Carrier's inVi-ronment™ system of indoor climate control. Consisting of a furnace or heat pump, air conditioner, electronic air cleaner, humidifier, zone control thermostats and dampers and heat recovery ventilator, it provides a comfortable, healthy and energy-efficient indoor environment.

For more information on Carrier inVironment systems, call your Carrier dealer listed under "Heating" or "Air Conditioning" in your local yellow page directory or call 1-800-CARRIER.

Tips On Home Insulation

By installing the right amount of insulation in your house, you'll be more comfortable; you'll also be getting the most value from your heating and cooling dollar, according to the Edison Electric Institute and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, two national electric utility trade associations.

On average, 60% of your home's monthly energy bill goes for heating and cooling. The right amount of insulation—in the right places—can cut these costs in half. Your electric utility can offer free advice on how much insulation your house needs.

Where in your house should you insulate? The attic and basement (over and under crawl space) are two essential areas for insulation. If you are building a new house, or adding siding, the exterior walls should be considered also.

Heating and air-conditioning ducts, if located in the attic or an unheated crawl space, can also be insulated for energy savings. And don't forget an insulating blanket for the water heater. After home heating and cooling, water heating is your largest energy expense. Many of the new water heaters already are insulated; check with your dealer to see if you should add additional insulation.

Advice for Girls

Rep. Pat Schroeder in her office at the U.S. Capitol. Notice the cut-out picture of Hillary Rodham Clinton in the background. Like Ms. Clinton, Rep. Schroeder is very interested in children's issues. Both women are Democrats.

Congresswoman Schroeder

To celebrate National Women's History Month, The Mini Page talked with Rep. Pat Schroeder of Colorado.

Congresswoman Schroeder has served for 20 years, longer than any woman in Congress. In a recent Gallup poll, she was rated one of the most respected women in the U.S. She is married to a lawyer and has two grown children.

We asked her what advice she would give young girls. This is what she said:

About school

"Going to school and not getting everything out of it is like going to the grocery store and buying two sacks of groceries and leaving with only one and thinking you are really smart. The only person that you short-change is yourself."

Try your wings

"If you have a choice between people giving you wings or people giving you things, make sure to get the wings."

"Wings are opportunities to try and find out what you can do. You can use wings to explore and discover your talents, interests and abilities. With wings you can fly."

"You can lose things. Things can break. Things can get out of date."

About politics

"The only way you can get your wings in politics is to start practicing."

"Get involved in student government. Find out what kind of power you do have."

"You have to say:

- 'I am qualified and I want to represent you.'
- 'These are the things I really think should be done.'

"Then go for it!"

"You can do that or you can sit around and complain that people never listen to you."

"No one can read your mind. That is the first lesson of politics."

"Politics is tailor-made for women because we are good talkers and good listeners."

"Women have turned out to be great leaders all around the world."

Make a list of who represents you in Congress. Who is your no are your

Write/Write/Write

Christen Davis of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, is president of her sixth-grade class. She is already trying her wings at politics.

About history

"Sometimes we need to change our view of history."

"Everybody thinks of Martha Washington sitting home doing needlepoint and waiting for George."

"Many people don't know the true story."

"Martha Washington played an important role in managing Mount Vernon."

"For several winters, while George served with the Continental Army, she left Mount Vernon to join him at his headquarters."

"Artists didn't paint the picture of her shivering with him at Valley Forge."

"We need to get a true picture."

DOES YOUR STATE HAVE A WOMAN SENATOR OR REPRESENTATIVE?

Invest in yourself, advises Congresswoman Eva Clayton

Ms. Clayton is a businesswoman. She has been active in government and business for 25 years. She is married to a lawyer and has four grown children.

The Mini Page also talked with one of the new members of Congress, Rep. Eva Clayton of North Carolina.

Congresswoman Clayton advises young girls . . .

"Believe in yourself and invest in yourself, whatever you decide to become."

"Invest in yourself by finding out different ways of expressing yourself, whether it be dance or music or some other interest."

"Invest in yourself by gaining knowledge about different races and places. Find out about nature. Expand your outreach."

"Invest in yourself by having wholesome fun. This means exercising, developing some outside interest, whether it be basketball or playing the piano, singing or becoming a member of a debating team or social club. Enjoy what you do."

Look through your local newspaper for news about women in politics.

Next week read all about the trash-truck mystery! What does it carry? Where does it go?
