Nazziola enforces one-hour time limit on public portion of Board meetings

By Howard Klausner

Board of Education President Gabe Nazziola carried out a long-standing promise to control the public portion of Board meetings. Monday, he halted the speeches by the public after one hour.

His action brought shouts of anger from some members of the audience, applause from others.

Nazziola previously had warned that he would not tolerate the vituperation that some speakers used in addressing the Board.

He also stated that his study of the Sunshine Law governing open meetings indicated that there was no requirement to have speeches by members of the public. "It is a courtesy extended by the Board, not a right," he stated, when accepting the post of President.

Board Attorney Frank Pomaco said it was legal for the Board to put the limit on speeches "to expedite the meetings."

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello later issued a statement:

"In an attempt to exercise better control of public Board meetings, the Belleville Board of Education unanimously approved the following plan:

"The public will be permitted 30 minutes of discussion on items appearing on the public agenda before any Board action is taken.

"After the resolutions have been acted upon, the public will be given the opportunity to speak for 30 minutes on any issue germane to the School District.

"Hopefully, when this plan is enacted, meetings of the Belleville Board of Education will take on a more positive atmosphere."

Board of Education Trustee Joseph Del Guercio said that he approved the limit on the public portion, but suggested that Board members could also help shorten meetings by asking questions of officials at the Central Office, rather than at the Board session.

"Frequently it is these questions by Board members that lengthens these meetings to the point where the public is not heard until 9:30 or 10:30," he said.

Among those who did speak were Vincent Frantantoni, Joseph Celio, Frank Montagna and Fred Ippolito, who speak at virtually every meeting.

Nazziola said that speakers will still be allowed eight minutes in which to make their remarks.

Some members of Concerned Citizens of Belleville spoke of taking legal action to overturn the Board ruling.

More parking spaces available downtown; no one seems to know where the cars are

Washington Avenue merchants who have been hammering away for more off-street parking for the past two years awoke Monday morning to find that spaces were indeed more available.

The immediate explanation was that Municipal employees were now parking their cars on the newly paved lots on Valley Street, thus freeing up spaces that had been used in the Municipal lot on Washington Avenue.

However, inquiries at Town Hall indicate that no orders had come through to have the employees move their cars, and most said they had not done so.

Last year, Township Manager Bertrand Kendall ordered Township workers to move their cars away from the lot on Washington Avenue, but the order was forgotten soon after Kendall left office last fall.

It is estimated that 30 cars owned by municipal workers, or by police, are in the Municipal lot at any given time.

Work is in progress to extend the lot to Valley Street.

Altogether, some 60 spaces could be available to shoppers when the paving is completed.

The Belleville Times made its own survey and learned that a growing number of Township workers are parking in the Washington Street lots.

But even Township Manager Stephen Cuccio keeps his own reserved space in the Municipal lot on Washington Avenue.

Merchants said that the availability of a few more parking spaces had little effect on business.

"Off the street traffic no longer means pedestrians," a business owner said. "It means drivers who can spot something in a store window and then pull over to take a closer look."

WHERE'S THE PARKING? - Contractors are at work clearing the area behind the Public Safety Building for public parking. The moving of parking for municipal workers to Valley Street is expected to free up parking for shoppers on Washington Avenue. (Photo by Howard Klausner)

Curse in a crock pot

Witchery on Overlook Ave. arouses the ire of SPCA

By Howard Klausner

To Detective Art Connolly, it has become an old story. To the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, it is an outrage.

It is Sentaria, an Afro-Cuban religious practice that combines Christian imagery with pagan customs. It also includes animal sacrifice.

Last week, A witch doctor of the Sentaria cult reportedly laid a curse on a young woman involved in a love triangle.

She found a crock pot filled with parts of chickens and goats, and spattered with animal blood, at the door of her Overlook Avenue apartment.

She knew who had called the curse on her - the other woman. And she was in a state of panic.

By the time Connolly arrived, perhaps 20 other people were there, gazing at the crock pot containing the curse.

No one had any idea who had put it there, so Connolly decided that if he could not locate the suspect, he would have the suspect locate him.

He took the crock pot back to Police Headquarters, and the next day, a 30-year-old Hudson County man arrived to claim the pot.

He received a summons instead for being a disorderly person.

The SPCA, informed of the incident, urged a punishment sterner than a possible fine.

It has asked police to charge the witch doctor with severe cruelty to animals, which could result in stiff fines and even a jail sentence.

In the meantime, the witch's brew remains at Police Headquarters.

Connolly has become a local authority on Sentaria and other cults, which have proliferated here in recent years.

Sentaria is one of a number of cults coming here from the Caribbean, whose believers can be more frightened of a witch's spell than by any threat of violence.

Kiwanis funder set for tonight

The Kiwanis Club of Belleville will hold a "Chinese Auction" at 7 p.m. today (Thursday) in the Branch Brook Manor.

Besides a drawing, and prizes, refreshments will include salad, pasta, meat balls, coffee and soda.

Funds will support the charitable work of Kiwanis.

Optimists honor Detective Panier for heroism saving four hostages

By Howard Klausner

It occurred in the summer of 1991, and it resulted in the Police Department's highest award, the A Commendation, being given to Detective Sergeant Edgar Panier, but it never received the public awareness that it deserved.

So, last week, the Belleville Optimist Club awarded its Respect Your Police award to Panier.

Seventeen years earlier, the club also honored Panier for heroism.

"It's all kind of deja vu," Panier said, at the dinner held in his honor at Three Guys from Italy Restaurant.

The incident for which he was being honored last week occurred in July 1991 at the Belleville Motor Lodge.

About 1:30 a.m., a man armed with a pistol reportedly was holding four people hostage in a hotel room. He was threatening to kill all of them.

Panier and fellow police responded. He stationed police officers around the motel, and then entered. He went to the room and began his conversation with the gunman. Ultimately, the man released three of the hostages.

He left the door of the room open, and as the morning went on, the fourth hostage, the man's estranged girl friend, became a bargaining chip.

The man wanted his estranged wife to come to the motel.

Panier located the man's mother in Florida, and had her telephone the man. While the gunman was on the phone, Panier quickly entered the room and pulled out the girlfriend.

Then it was a long negotiation between the enraged gunman, who several times pointed his weapon point blank at Panier, and the veteran officer. Panier traded off cigarettes for a bullet, a look at the man's wedding pictures - provided by his wife, for another bullet.

The negotiations and the trades went on, until the man finally surrendered his pistol to Panier.

Seventeen years ago, Panier and his partner, now Detective Ron Edwards, confronted a man who had just shot a victim six times.

The man aimed his reloaded weapon at Panier, who seized the barrel of the pistol and jammed his thumb between the hammer and the firing pin just as the man pulled the trigger.

For that action, he and Edwards also received the Optimists' Respect for Police Award.

Panier, who had played football against Joe Namath while on an athletic Scholarship to Memphis University, and has been a policeman for 20 years, told the applauding audience, "I did it because it's my job."

Cops nab suspect at burglary scene

Police halted an apparent burglary in progress in an apartment at 16 Bellevue Court, Monday morning, nabbing a suspect who is a neighbor of the building.

Marco Merenda, 41, of Bellevue Court faces charges of burglary and theft.

Police said he had just wrapped up a television set and had pocketed some jewelry when they surprised him, shortly after 9:30 a.m.

The building superintendent alerted police after spotting someone entering the apartment through a window.

Sergeant Scott Sim responded to the call, with Police Officers John Towey and Joseph Larceri. Sim and Larceri climbed through the open window to make the arrest.

Detective Kevin Smith is investigating.

Aside From That

It is a sign of the times, but the old decorative lanterns that graced the entrance to the Belleville Reformed Church are still missing, and so is the brass plaque bearing the names of 62 Revolutionary War soldiers whose remains still rest in the old Churchyard. The plaque, however, is being held for safekeeping. According to Elizabeth Schwenk, President of the Woman's Guild of the Church, her husband, Joseph removed the plaque to protect it, and then went to work to clean and restore it. "It looks bright and wonderful, now," Mrs. Schwenk said. ●●●● The current question is where to place the restored plaque, whose lettering was carefully refurbished by Mr. Schwenk. He is involved in high tech ceramics, for a profession, and the couple moved to Belleville 22 years ago. The presence of the Reformed Church here was an inducement. It was a Crossing Guard they met who told them where to find the Church, when they were looking for it. "That was Elizabeth Kimble, the mother of Police Chief Raymond Kimble. We happened to ask for directions, and it turned out she was a member of the Church. And she told us all about the Church. We always have been grateful to her for that." ●●●● The Reformed Church in Belleville is now 296 years old. There may be more Revolutionary War soldiers laid to rest there than in any other cemetery in the country. Its roots go deep into American history, and the congregation is always willing to welcome both visitors and possible new members. The oldest functioning church in New Jersey carries on, and as Mrs. Schwenk says, "I feel very fortunate to be there." ●●●● Retired Police Chief George Lister said he's sorry he moved from Belleville. He is a victim of a switch in the demographics of New Jersey. His good wife is a long time employee of Blue Cross which moved out to the Florham Park some 20 years ago when the rush was on to vacate Newark. Accordingly, Chief Lister decided that he might as well find a house in Florham Park, if he was going to be commuting there all the time with his wife. So he did just that. Now, Blue Cross has joined the move back to Newark, so the Chief is commuting daily in the opposite direction. "I think I would be better off in Belleville," he said. As it is, he is a weekly attendant at Belleville Rotary and a frequent visitor to his legion of friends here. ●●●● Postal Service Carrier Joe Gomes, familiar to the downtown Washington Avenue merchants as the Friendly Postman is temporarily out of action. He reportedly fractured a leg in a fall down a flight of stairs. He is a travelling tourist office for the many truckers and other visitors seeking to locate an address, and asking him for the directions, and he has always been courteous and informative to all, as well as being reverent, clean, obedient and thrifty. The beautiful young lady assigned to take care of the route in his absence is making a big hit, too, and we urge Joe to heal quickly before the smitten customers prevent his return by force.

Captain Imre Dluhos reports a victory in his naval battle with forces hostile to his preservation of the old Coaster, The Mary Hume, now bedded in a mud flat at Golden Beach, Oregon. He says a Federal judge has asserted Cap'n Imre's right of ownership, and has ordered local authorities to raise the ship themselves, and turn it over to the Captain. This is the latest in a lengthy and somewhat confusing legal history involving the ship, which is an historic craft which plied the Pacific Coast since the 1870s, and felt the bite of Arctic ice and Alaskan willawaw wind. The Captain is still mourning the recent passing of his beloved wife, Anne, even as he carries on his fight to save The Mary Hume. ●●●● The case is of such interest that a reporter from the Coos Bay (Oregon) World telephoned us recently for background information about Cap'n Dluhos, and we were happy to report that he is a respected citizen in these parts. ●●●● Friends of Joseph S. Cernero will be happy to know that he has recovered from recent surgery and is recuperating at his home in Whiting, New Jersey. He wrote:

"Some time ago, I read about Mike Rosamillia's death and what he accomplished. I met Mike in my Freshman year (1935) when we both went out for football. Made made First Team Freshman. Pat Natale, God Bless His Soul, took me up to Big Tree to play football and baseball. There I met Mike again. ●●●● They formed a club called 'Knight-Templars.' We met at Mike's house. The members voted Mike President.

"We all cleaned up the lot behind the skating rink. I think there's a bowling alley there now. Mike went to Ralph Vara, who worked for the town and got us most of our equipment. We played outside teams and won most of the games. ●●●● Mike was my son, Joe's Crew Coach. The team went to Detroit and they came in second because they had a bad start. Ralph Casale, Jr., Bartell and Plosa rowed with that team. I don't remember the rest of the crew. ●●●● I can't remember all the players on our Templar Team, but here goes; Mike Rosamillia - First Base and Outfield, Sal Vangloni - Shortstop, Pat Natale - Third Base, Pucci - Shortstop, Jim Corino - Outfield, Angelo Corino - Outfield, Mike Scilava - First Base and Outfield, Mayor Laterza - Outfield, Young Babe' Christian - Utility, Dom Fratella - Pitcher, Sal Aiello - Pitcher, Jim or Jiggs Guarino - Catcher, Yours Truly - Catcher. Forgive me if I left somebody out. I am going on 73. ●●●● I was born in Belleville on William Street.

"On March 14, 1992, I had my middle toe on my right foot amputated. Two days later I had a by-pass above and below my knee. On Sept. 9, '92, I had another toe amputated. March 1993, I had a cataract removed and an implant. I walk with a cane and I can drive, now. Thanks for listening, Belleville - The Beautiful Village. (Signed) Eight Toe Joe Cernero. 34 Milford Ave., Whiting, N.J. 08759-2063."

Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch said his organization, the Kool Kukumber Boys had just been turned down by another parade. "The Boys like to march, but they have a tendency to fall down a lot. This caused a little problem in the Temperance Day parade, which is the last one we got invited to. But our slogan is - You Got The Cause, We Got The Paws." ●●●● Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, has his doubts about the ability of Police Officer Greg MacDonald to enforce the Dog License law. "Only last week, I saw him leaning down to pet a stupid mutt! And then I saw him lift a puppy out of traffic!" Baldassaro said. "The man is unfit for office!"

Veterans Council sets observance

Commemoration of the Four Chaplains who gave their lives aboard the Troopship Dorchester in 1943 will be the theme of Memorial Day in Belleville.

The Belleville Veterans Council invites the public to attend Memorial Day Services beginning 9 a.m., Monday, May 31 at the Rutgers Street Bridge.

The Rev. Gary Ward of St. Stephens Church in Kearny will conduct the service at the bridge. One of the Chaplains, Father John Washington, served at St. Stephens before entering service in World War II.

The Chaplains, two Protestant ministers, a Jewish rabbi and a Catholic priest, gave their life jackets to service men and women aboard the ship, torpedoed west of Greenland by a German submarine.

At 9:30 a.m., a service will be held at the Police and Fire Memorial at the Municipal Building.

At 10 a.m., services will be held at the Union Avenue Memorial.

For further information, call Barbara Tuck at (201) 759-4729.

Josh Rivera stars on stage

Josh Rivera, grandson of Dorothy Reedy of Belleville, has haas had the lead role in the musical, "Fiddler on The Roof", performed at Good Counsel High School.

Sergeant hurt making arrest

Belleville Police Sergeant Vincent Cappetta sustained a cut on his right hand that required several stitches to heal while nabbing a suspected motorcycle thief, early Friday morning.

Police Lieutenant Joseph Rotonda said that Cap'ta was injured while arresting Maiek Green, 48, of Newark after a chase that had taken police through backyards and down Washington Avenue and Washington Street.

Shortly after 12 a.m., police were told of a suspicious person in the vicinity of Belleville Avenue and Bridge Street.

Police Officers Joe Corbo and

Anthony Wieners came upon a man who they said was walking with a motorcycle on Prospect Place. When he saw the police, the suspect dropped the motorcycle and fled. The police pursued him on foot through the rear yards of homes on Prospect Place and on into Washington Street.

Sergeant Cappetta joined in the chase, and grabbed the suspect. Police did not report how Cappetta's hand was injured.

Green was held in $5,000 bond on the charge of attempted theft.

The owner of the motorcycle was in a tavern and had parked the vehicle nearby.

In memory of our beloved son, Enrico Tamburri on the second anniversary of his death, May 14, 1993.
Do not stand at my grave and weep;
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow;
I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain;
I am the gentle Autumn's rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush.
Of quiet birds in circled flight.
I am the soft star that shines at night.

West Orange promotes Del Guercio

The West Orange Board of Education has appointed Joseph Del Guercio of Belleville as Assistant Superintendent in charge of Personnel and Administrative Services.

Del Guercio has been Principal of Roosevelt Middle School for four years and has 25 years of experience as teacher, assistant principal and principal.

He was cited for his "commitment to children, his organizational skills and his educational leader-ship".

The appointment is effective as of July 1.

Del Guercio is serving his sixth year as a Trustee of the Belleville Board of Education. He was recently inducted into Phi Delta Kappa, a professional fraternity whose objective is educational excellence.

Del Guercio is a member of Belleville Kiwanis and has resided in Belleville for 24 years.

First State announces increased earnings

First State Financial Services, Inc., parent holding company for First DeWitt Savings, reported net income of $731,000 or $.23 per share, for the quarter ended March 31, 1993, compared to net income of $125,000 or $.04 per share for the comparable 1992 period. The earnings for the six month period ending March 31, 1993, were $1.4 million, or $.45 per share, as compared to earnings of $210,000, or $.07 per share, in the 1992 period.

Michael J. Quigley, III, chairman and chief executive officer of First State, stated that he felt the earnings for the current fiscal year represented tangible evidence of the corporation's ability to withstand and rebound from the recent economic downturn. He was pleased to see that these results have been accompanied by strong stock price performance. Quigley also mentioned that First DeWitt Savings converted to a federally chartered institution (from a state chart-er) over the quarter. This transfer will enable the bank to reduce its regulatory fees and expand their consumer product offerings.

First DeWitt Savings continues to exceed all federal capital requirements on both a current and fully phased-in basis and also surpass all proposed increased to those requirements.

PEOPLE OF BELLEVILLE

I have no intention of retiring from medical practice.

I intend to take in a partner so that my office will be open longer hours. With a second physician in attendance there should be less waiting for an appointment and quicker availability of appointments.

Dr. Angelo Calabrese and I both agree that patients are best treated in the office and their own homes.

We intend to be available 6 days a week and we will be available by telephone on Sunday.

I would like to re-locate in a larger and more handicapped accessible facility here in Belleville. However, I will have to sell my current property first before moving to a larger facility.

OUR OPINION

Needed time out

The new Board of Education has tackled an old problem - the monopolization of the time for citizens' statements by a small group of organized speakers.

The history of the public meetings has been the same for several years.

Members of the general public fail to turn up because of the abuse they receive from the clique.

The average homeowner doesn't like to go to a gathering where his or her views will bring a response of screams and shouts.

The operation of the clique has been to cow both the public and the board, and too frequently in the past the board has acceded to the loudmouths, in disregard of the rights of the students, the teachers and the parents.

Putting a one-hour time limit on the public is one of the few defenses the public has against this attempt to subvert the management of the schools.

But more important would be the presence of more genuine representatives of the public at all governmental sessions.

By not being there, the citizen yields the floor to people with their own agendas.

It drives good people out of politics, and leaves us with the rest.

Courage, for granted

We have to thank the Optimist Club for bringing to light an incredible feat of police work which, for reasons we do not understand, was not given much publicity at the time it occurred.

A report on Page 1 of the Belleville Times recounts the incident at the Belleville Motor Lodge, when police rescued four hostages from a gunman and finally talked the man into surrender.

It was a drawn out affair in which tragedy could have occurred at any time.

A perfunctory account was released at the time. The heroism and cool thinking of the police were not detailed.

However, the police did know what had happened, and accordingly an A Commendation was given to Detective Sergeant Edgar Panier - the highest valor award the Police Department can bestow, and the only one it has ever bestowed.

The Optimists decided to give their own recognition to Sergeant Panier, and so the incident received some of the publicity it deserved.

Certainly, the public should be allowed to know not only the things that go wrong in police work, but the things that go right, and the public should know of the character and professionalism of a man such as Edgar Panier, whose comment on the Optimist award was simply, "I was doing my job."

The Show should go on

We regret the decision of the New Jersey Legislative Correspondents association to end the 60-year tradition of its annual dinner with its evening of skits and songs satirizing the events of the year.

It was one of the few opportunities of the Statehouse reporters to show their irreverence for the makers and shakers of the State.

It may not always have been of Broadway quality, but every show usually had some trenchant things to say about the state of the State. If one could look at the scripts dating back to the 1930s, one would get a pretty good idea of the history of our times.

The stated reason for the ending of the annual event was the pious objection by a daily publisher that selling tickets to publicists and lobbyists would raise questions about the independence of the newspeople.

The only questions raised, in our opinion, would be by the internes treating the injuries of a lobbyist who did try to inject his or her viewpoint into a Legislative Correspondents' roast.

It is more likely that the particular publisher looked askance at the independence shown by the hired help, and acted accordingly. Being honest reporters, the correspondents certainly couldn't hire a showplace on their own.

The annual show gave a sense of community to the press, and it was a healthy thing to have. And the politician who subjected himself to the event may not have come out a happier person, but certainly a more respected one.

YOUR OPINION

Knights thank community

To the editor:

The Belleville Knights of Columbus Council No. 835 organized a fund raising drive for the 19th consecutive year for the benefit of Retarded Handicapped Children and Citizens drive which was held on April 22, 23, 24 and 25.

This drive was held for the benefit of such organizations as the Mal Condon Canteen, Belleville Boy Scouts, a special unit for boys who are mentally handicapped and other special groups who are working in the field of retardation.

The Knights, their ladies and other volunteers helped to raise money toward the benefit of mentally handicapped citizens. The money raised will be donated for mentally retarded children and citizens with development possibilities.

Organizers for this drive, Grand Knight Tom Doeffinger, PGK Joe Wolf and PGK Frank Corbo wish to thank the Belleville Times for the publicity and many individuals, especially brother Knights and other volunteers who assisted in this successful drive. Special thanks to the business people, supermarkets, banks, churches and people who sent donations by mail for their generosity in this meaningful drive.

On June 21, the Belleville Knights will hold an Awards Night when moneys collected in this drive will be allocated and other awards will be presented. The winners in events sponsored by the Belleville Knights in such events as the Spelling Bee, Free Throw Contst, Essay Contest and other special awards.

Thank you citizens for your donations in this great success in this endeavor. The donations will help improve the life of these special people. Thank you.

A voice from Livingston

To the editor:

After reading your column "Aside From That" in the April 29, 1993 edition of the Belleville Times, I was very distressed. I am the Livingston Councilman you mentioned in the lead story of your column. I have, over the years referenced Belleville on many occasions. I have ties to the Belleville community that go back twenty-five (25) years.

In 1966, as a senior in college, I did my student teaching experience at the newly constructed Belleville High School. In 1968, my first apartment was in the Township of Belleville. Today, I still have family who live in your beautiful community.

The remark you referred to in your column was never intended to be offensive to the citizens of Belleville. I have the highest regard for your Township and for its residents. When this statement, over three years ago, occurred I could have said I was spending my summer in Lyndhurst, however, because of my love for Belleville it was the first town that came to mind.

I sincerely hope that this letter clarifies any misconceptions that you or any member of the Belleville community may have.

Joseph L. Fiordaliso
Councilman

Township of Livingston

Ed. Note: Fiordaliso, we don't think you're one bit distressed. Even now, sitting in the cool highlands of Livingston, you are probably crafting calumnies on hapless Belleville. Fiordaliso, this can only be settled mano a mano, preferably over a cold beer at Three Guys from Italy. Prepare to pay! HBK

Barbara Cicalese thanks you

To the editor:

I would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to all those who supported and helped in my election to the Belleville Board of Education.

This is your victory, because of your hard work and votes of encouragement, which enabled me to succeed.

I will do my best to support your children's interest and the citizens of Belleville.

Thank you again for allowing me to extend my commitment of service to the children and citizens of Belleville.

Barbara Cicalese

Bob Molinaro writes

To the editor:

I wish to thank all those wonderful people who supported my candidacy for a seat on the Belleville Board of Education. Although I did not win in this election, I am very proud that we ran a clean and positive campaign. Many thanks go to those who graciously allowed one of my signs on their lawn, to those who challenged for me at the polls, to those who wrote letters and made phone calls in my behalf, and to those 1,075 citizens of Belleville who honored me with their vote. The fact that they had trust in me and faith in my abilities is truly humbling.

Good luck to those who have been elected to the Board. Their job is not easy and they deserve our support.

A feature of The Nutley Sun,
the Belleville Times and Bloomfield Life

By Frank Orechio

• WELL — we finally did it. After a long search for the right location and the right type of investment, we purchased an office building at 106 Broad St., Bloomfield, where the Bloomfield Life publication employees will be headquartered. The relocation from 365 Broad to 106 should be effective June 1st. The investment was made so that we can better serve the interests of the community and our readers.

• THIS Saturday, 11 a.m., the Essex County Democrat organization candidates for the 27th District will open campaign headquarters at the Essex Green Shopping Plaza. Refreshments will be served.

• I ENJOY receiving critiques from our former editor, Bill Gruver, who is on assignment in Arizona.

• IT comes as a shock to learn that former Congressman Bob Roe was arrested for reckless driving while under the influence.

• BOB GERBER, President of Hackensack Water Company retired after thirty-one years with the company. Gerber was one of the key players who conceived and developed the Wanaque South water project that insulates North Jersey communities from future drought conditions, especially Nutley and Bloomfield.

• TO read President Clinton's mind and find out where he plans to take our beloved country, I purchased two books that are part of his current reading agenda — Paul Kennedy's "Preparing for the Twenty-first Century" and Kevin Phillips' "Boiling Point", harping on "The Decline of Middle Class Prosperity". Maybe, I should find out what "Billary" reads?

• WHEN the Nutley Savings and Loan went belly-up, I had on deposit $3,971.67. Over time, Valley National Bank took over certain assets of the Nutley Savings Bank including the balance of my account. The account was relatively inactive. Recently, I received a letter from the Resolution Trust Corporation telling me that it has my money and I have a month in which to file a Proof of Claim — and if I didn't do so within thirty days, the Resolution Trust Corporation would keep my balance. How's that for efficiency in government! The Valley National Bank is one of the safest and strongest institutions in the country. I had no concern over the safety of my money. So now, I have filed a Proof of Claim with the Resolution Trust Corporation, and maybe, at some time in the future, this government agency will be kind enough to return my money to me.

• NEW JERSEY SPORTS AUTHORITY President Robert E. Mulcahy III is the winner of the coveted Billy Haughton Memorial Award. His righthand man, Harold G. Handel won the Sports Eye Man of the Year Award.

Also winning an award is Artsplace, the 1993 Horse of the Year.

• FLORIDA State Police plan to issue summons next week to all motorists and front seat passengers who do not "buckle up."

• GAY rights activists are planning a $3 Million campaign to defeat efforts by the American Family Association to outlaw gay rights legislation in Florida. This month, the Florida chapter of the AFA will start trying to obtain the 439,000 signatures needed to put the group's proposed anti-gay amendment on the ballot in November. Florida has joined at least 12 other states where similar measures are being considered.

• PRODUCTION of Cadillac's Allante model will end in July despite the fact that sales have doubled during the first three months of 1993.

• INTERNATIONAL headlines and television commentators are advising their readers and audience to scratch Miami from their list of vacation heavens.

Tourists are being murdered — but that is not all — gangs of young thugs are killing members of their own community almost every week. German vacationers have been attacked. Just this week, a Venezuelan couple was robbed at a gas station. Two men tried to grab the driver's purse but she resisted and the two men punched her in the face and made off with her purse containing $200. There are safe places in Florida. Miami is not one of them.

• SEVERAL years ago, Florida's Dade County voters adopted a county ordinance declaring English as the legal language of the country. The Hispanic community of Miami (40% of the city voters) are demanding repeal and seeking to make Hispanic on a par with English! And all the while, I thought I lived in America. My immigrant parents who came to our shores with millions of other migrants accepted the host's country language as their own. Europeans and Asians coming to our shores have no legal right to change the official language of our native country. If you come to our country, learn our language — or don't come — you are not wanted!

• NOT too long ago, a South Korean industrialist who was a presidential candidate and lost — was charged with "campaign funding violations, premature campaigning and for making untrue public statements."

Were that law to apply to Nutley, Essex County, New Jersey and the United States, making it a crime for politicians — candidates and public officials — "for making untrue public statements", the likelihood is that all public officials would be behind bars as well as challenging candidates. In South Korea, if a person is found guilty of making untrue public statements, he could be stripped of his seat in the legislature and would never be permitted to run again.

• SINCE 1990, Bob Ringelheim has been serving as Belleville's Director of Planning — and according to professional observers he is performing in great style despite the frequent eruptions emanating from the elected Town Council.

Letters to the Editor

Pat replies to Ralph

To the editor:

After thought and reflection, I have decided to respond to the letter "To the editor" written by Mr. Ralph B. Mazzuca, in the edition of this newspaper, dated May 6, 1993. Normally I would not respond to such trash. I enjoy spending my time on positive items, by the way, six years worth of positive actions that is a benefit to the children and taxpayers of this community.

Unfortunately, you (Mr. Mazzuca) espoused certain dictatorial provocations that forces me to "take you on", via the newspaper media. In my opinion, the unscrupulous remarks and inaccurate statements in your scurrilous attack on me were most assuredly unwarrantable. The negativity about Belleville has grown three-fold because persons who advocate chauvinistic principles and practices. Yes, in my opinion, you have enhanced the immeasurable amount of negativity on the Township of Belleville. Being contradictory in the very first paragraph immediately caused the many truly informed readers of this newspaper to become suspect and aroused.

Let me now get to the facts. The original Chairperson of the budget committee, was not I. I suggest you check your notes, or confide in others on the board. Mr. Vincent Marrone was the original chairperson, but was forced to relinquish the position because of unforeseen family matters. I temporarily filled in and attempted to pull the committee together. When it became apparent that Mr. Marrone could not fulfill his obligation to the committee, I asked him to resign. However, time constraints forced me to ask your help in the chairmanship of this committee. After all you agreed and tried to advance the process forward. I do admit a blunder was committed by me. I, as the President should have selected another person on the committee to take on the chairmanship. At the public hearings, you displayed copious knowledge and ability on budgetary matters. Which I believe is all superficial.

Let us now return to the attack on me, and, "planning strategy for the ensuing election." For your information and the record, I was on the threshold of contracting pneumonia with a severe bronchial infection that almost resulted in hospitalization. This adversely effected the initial stages of campaigning.

The "grandstanding" before the public identified me as a "professional." This appeared to cause some uncontrolled emotions and yelling by you into the microphone. Obviously, your inability to answer the questions asked by me, caused the defensive posture and contributed to the "no vote" casted by myself on the budget. I suggest you devote more energy in "Fat Reduction" of the budget and less emotions during public meetings. It appears more prudent to advocate 0% increase over last year's budget rather than 3.2% increase. By the way, Mr. Mazzuca how many hundreds of thousands of dollars is 3.2%?

The letter goes on to state that six volunteers from the public were invited to attend budget meetings on March 8th and 11th. Mr. Mazzuca, were they truly "understanding and satisfied"? May I suggest you ask them this question. It would be wiser to ask them to assume.

It appears highly debatable that you take your responsibilities and oath seriously. In the letter you allude to others and myself as not taking responsibilities and oath seriously. I put my heart and soul into my work on the Board of Education, 100% attendance, much time and dedication, I made those hard decisions that may have been unpopular to some, but, I feel they were for the best interest for the community as a whole. I have had no self gain and there for no other purpose other than to serve the community. On the other hand Mr. Mazzuca I don't have any family members on the board. Mr. Mazzuca have you ever visited the schools and homes of principals to write letters of recommendations for your wife? Were you disgruntled last year when the majority of the Board voted me the President? It's been alleged that you and a past board member could not get the votes for you to become President. Now, you and that person are not on speaking terms because he could not produce. True or false?

In the next to last sentence of the letter "the few cynical and devious residents of our town". I suggest you attempt to get a back bone and try to be courageous and forthright and identify them at the next public meeting of the Board of Education.

I'm sure the more informed residents are watching just how this board is going to continue the complete arrogance against the peoples voice to lower the budget. It is unfortunate that the new President and Board members won't even discuss the budget with our town fathers. Well shame on you. Do what you were elected to do. Participation of your positions are mandatory for this district to strive forth, for the benefit of our children's education.

Even though you would like me to be silent, I am a parent of three children and concerned for their education. I am still a taxpayer and plan to be active in our community. So, Mr. Mazzuca let's stop this letter writing nonsense, and do some work for a change. The residents in Belleville are not stupid as you and some other members want to think. Your attack on me now is because I voted No on the budget, and the recent article about a board member's wife.

Finally, I should like to apologize to the good citizens of Belleville for letters written by persons who seek to destroy. Perhaps more energy and time could be devoted to stress "Positive" not "Negative." This will ultimately result in the continued uplift of pride, credibility, and dedicated persons on the board of education of the Township of Belleville.

The good Doctor Noonan

To The Editor,

I would like to write about a good man I know, Dr. Frank Noonan.

He has taken care of me and my family for many years, without the exorbitant fees.

I find him to be a gentle, caring and kind man, a humanitarian who cares about people.

Check child's hearing

To the editor:

May, National Better Hearing and Speech Month, reminds us how important it is to understand that very young children who do not react to noise or normal sounds may have a hearing loss.

Parents who notice that their child is having difficulty hearing or speaking should have their child's hearing tested by a qualified physician or audiologist. It is important to diagnose all degrees of hearing loss as early as possible to permit immediate medical and educational intervention. When hearing is impaired, a child has a serious obstacle to learning speech, which in turn can affect the child's total development. The first five years of a child's life are critical years for speech and language development.

For over 25 years, the Summit Speech School has been helping New Jersey's hearing impaired babies and preschoolers learn to listen and speak. We have worked with children as young as six weeks of age with various degrees of hearing impairment.

Readers may be interested in obtaining a free "checklist" which describes how a child with normal hearing behaves at various stages of early childhood development. In addition, we offer free "tips" to help hearing impaired adults communicate with hearing people and for individuals with normal hearing to communicate with people who are hearing impaired.

To obtain a copy of the "checklist" or the "tips", call the school at (908) 277-3353 voice or TTY, or write the Summit Speech School at 34 Upper Overlook Road, Summit, New Jersey 07901.

Historian seeks information

To the editor:

I am presently researching Hessians who arrived in New Jersey between 1850-1880. I am planning to write a book about the lives of these immigrants in our state, their economic and social mobility, and their political involvement. Did they fulfill their dreams is the focus of the book. To help me in this search I am asking descendants of these immigrants for photocopies of letters, diaries, newspaper clippings, official documents, and other materials. Any contribution will be greatly appreciated.

This Week At... Clara Maass Medical Center

• A Community Benefit Standards Hospital •

This column marks the start of a new special attraction in the Belleville Times. Each week news about happenings at and employees of Clara Maass Medical Center, your community hospital will be featured. Clara Maass Medical Center has been a cornerstone of the community for 125 years, and looks forward to sharing its news with its Belleville neighbors.

• The week of May 9-15, 1993 is National Hospital Week. The theme for the nation-wide celebration is "Partners For A Healthy America." Clara Maass Medical Center would like to recognize and thank all of its family members, each of whom is extremely instrumental in Clara Maass' success and delivery of quality healthcare services to the community.

• Clara Maass employees Carole DeMartino, Michelle Russomanno, Felicidad Villanueva, Ann Palmieri, Rosa Cuozzo and Laverne Hageman are part of a very special project at the Medical Center. The six employees volunteer their time to feed geriatric patients at mealtime, as part of the "Silver Spoons" volunteer project. The employees are identified as participants in this rewarding project by wearing a small silver spoon pin on their hospital I.D. badge.

• Barbara Benjamin and Ria Papageorgiou of Clara Maass' Community Benefits Division presented a talk entitled "Implementing Workplace Education in Clara Maass Medical Center," at the New Jersey 1993 Lifelong Learning Conference and Directors' Institute. In 1990, CMMC established a workplace education program, named "Learn More/Be More." Learn More/Be More includes a wide range of classes such as math, business communications, reading, sign language and Spanish. Over 400 employees and volunteers have enrolled and the program has received remarkable outcomes and national attention. Clara Maass has assisted other healthcare organizations across the country execute successful workplace education programs.

• The Kid's Place child care center at Clara Maass recently held a special Arbor Day celebration. The students planted a tree to help mark the occasion. In addition to planting for Arbor Day, the children are also helping to save the environment.

• "Commitment to Caring" is the theme for National Nursing Home Week, May 9-15, 1993. The goal of Nursing Home Week is to educate the community about the many services provided in the long-term continuum. Area residents are cordially invited to attend "Senior Services for the Older Adult," a community awareness workshop to be held on Thursday, May 13, 1993 at 6:30 p.m. in the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center. The workshop will discuss geriatric services at the Continuing Care Center including Senior Medical Day Care. Geriatric healthcare professionals, nursing home residents and family members will be on hand to answer questions. Dinner will be provided. Admission is free, but registration is required, call 450-2900 to register. Other activities planned at Clara Maass for Nursing Home Week include senior olympics, craft/bake sale and an open house.

Police educate pupils on emergency calling

Chief of Police Raymond Kimble has announced that the Belleville Juvenile Aid Bureau will be instructing kindergarten through third grade students on the use of the 9-1-1 emergency system.

Chief Kimble has cited several instances where youths have contacted the police through the 9-1-1 system in their towns saving the lives of family members and friends. A coloring book showing the children how and when to use the system was purchased by the Belleville Alliance for Substance Education and will be distributed to all the children in the program. Chief Kimble further stated that the 9-1-1 system which has recently been installed and upgraded in the new Public Safety Building, has the capability of giving the police the location of persons calling on the 9-1-1 system even if they hang up the phone before giving the police their location or problem. If the 9-1-1 is unable to be answered at Belleville Police Communications Center due to the lines being busy, the call will be automatically transferred to a neighboring town and then relayed back to Belleville by that town. The program will be taught by Lt. Joseph Rotonda, Detectives Peter Fraone and Raymond Kimble Jr. The program has the strong support of Michael Nardiello, Superintendent of Schools and Michael Lally, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

Leonard Bruzzichesi serving on submarine

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Leonard L. Bruzzichesi, son of Leo M. and Carol E. Killeen of Belleville, is currently deployed aboard the submarine USS Key West, homeported in Norfolk, Va. and recently participated in the NATO maritime exercise "Unified Spirit-93" in the Western Atlantic Ocean.

Unified Spirit is applicable to NATO's new strategic concept, which places greater emphasis on the importance of crisis management and conflict prevention. The exercise was designed to improve the readiness and effectiveness of the Allied Command Atlantic's multinational maritime immediate reaction forces and also demonstrates NATO's solidarity, resolve and ability to establish and maintain essential lines of communication.

Unified Spirit-93 afforded NATO's maritime forces a chance to operate in realistic at-sea environments in order to hone their skills in a wide range of maritime responsibilities. The training, which included merchant shipping protection and anti-submarine, anti-surface and anti-air warfare, progressed from the Gulf of Mexico to Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Ships from Canada, Germany, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, United Kingdom and the United States participated in the exercise, as well as aircraft from Canada, The Netherlands, United Kingdom and United States.

The 1979 graduate of Belleville High School joined the Navy in September, 1979.

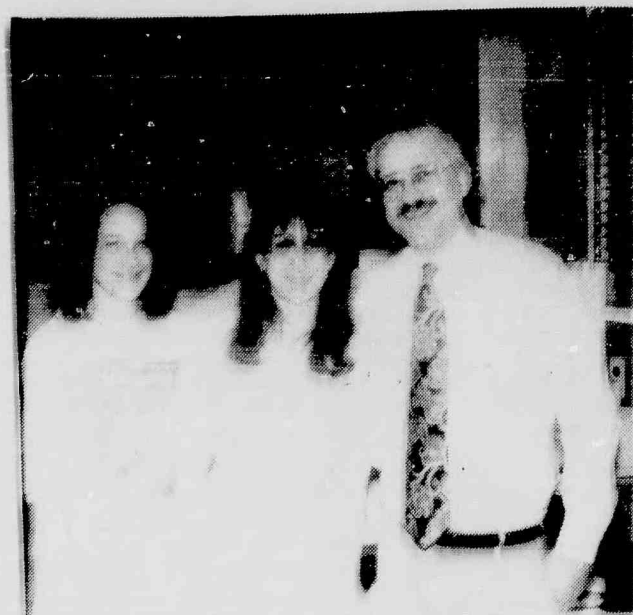

Bloomfield College names local residents

Bloomfield College has announced local residents who have been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester: High Honors recipients from Belleville are: Helen Walker and Sardia Rivera. Honors awards went to: Fatima James, Katherine Reyes, Gina Hyams, Jungwon Lee, Traci Nanni, Christine Hagin, Jay Dimmey, Wanda Rivera.

Students who earn a 3.6 grade point average or better receive High Honors designations. Students earning a 3.2 GPA are included on the Dean's List.

Bloomfield College is a four-year liberal arts institution committed to providing quality educational opportunities for its students.

FOLLOWING DAD - On Daughters' Day, Belleville Treasurer Art Minsky was visited at work by his daughters, Andrea, left, and Beth. Their smiles may indicate their realization that they can go back to school, while Dad cannot.

SCIENTIST - Mrs. Linda Vega, a chemical researcher for Schering-Plough and mother of a School 3 pupil, demonstrated science experiments for Kindergarten pupils, at the request of Teacher Mary Ann Bush, in celebration of National Science Week. The youngsters loved it.

Friends' Fun Auction

The Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will hold their Annual Fun Auction on June 2, from 12:00-2:00 p.m., according to President Marge Lordi and Auction Chair Isabel Wittlinger. The public and members of the Friends of the Library are invited to attend.

New or almost new items should be brought to the library for the auction from May 21 to May 27. Gift certificates are encouraged from local merchants and will be announced at the auction. Monies raised by the Friends in the past have been used for the support of public programs and for library furnishings or equipment.

Membership in the Friends of the Library is encouraged. The cost is $3 for individual membership, $5 for family membership, $1 for student membership, $25 for patron or business members, $25 for clubs and organizations, and $50 for life membership.

Teen book discussion

Because of the popularity of this activity, a May Young Teen Book Discussion will be held at the Shafter Branch Library, 30 Magnolia Street on May 21, from 3:15-3:45 p.m. Participants will discuss a book recently read and offer recommendations to others present. Have you read a book lately that you would like to discuss? Call the Shafter Branch Library at 450-3438 and register for the Teen Book Discussion, led by Frederick Lewis.

Arm power: Do you have it?

The Annual Arm Wrestling Contest will be held at the Shafter Branch Library, 30 Magnolia Street, May 24 at 3:15 p.m. Contestants must register by grade and weight by 5 p.m. May 20. For further details, contact Frederick Lewis, Shafter Branch Library, at 450-3438. All are welcome to participate and to take out books also.

CD ROM technology added

The Belleville Public Library and Information Center has installed a freestanding computer, containing new CD-ROM programs. These programs include "The Grolier Multimedia Encyclopedia," which in addition to text, has pictures, sound and motion pictures of famous people, events and other information. The library has also acquired DISCovering authors, a CD-ROM program which has biographies and criticisms of famous authors and their works, as well as "The Reader's Guide Abstracts."

For additional help and information in the use of the new technology, ask the reference librarian on the second floor, who will be happy to assist you. A printer was added to assist you, of which five copies are free.

Employment search service

Currently available at the library is a microfiche service for job seekers, entitled "Help Wanted U.S.A.," which arrives each Saturday and contains reprints of Sunday's classified employment advertising for 64 cities in 36 states. The employment advertising in the 64 newspapers includes over 100,000 jobs each week with a wide range of occupations covered. The microfiche is available in the Reference Department on the second floor of the library. Ask your librarian for help in finding "Help Wanted U.S.A."

Humanities book discussion

Dr. Loren Schmidtberger, Professor of English, St. Peter's College and the author of numerous articles, will provide the lecture and book discussion at the Belleville Public Library on "The Rise of Silas Lapham," made possible by a matching grant from The New Jersey Committee for the Humanities. Call the library at 450-3434 to register for the discussion and the series.

May library exhibits

During the month of May, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center has two interesting and colorful exhibits.

In the large exhibit case is the Korean Artifacts collection of Barbara Spillane, a resident of Belleville who teaches at the Belleville Middle School and is also secretary of the library board of trustees.

In the small exhibit case are the crafts that were featured in the 1992 summer crafts program at the library, which were prepared and placed on exhibit by staff member Zita McGarry of Belleville, who coordinated the crafts programs with Mrs. Cohen the past few years.

If you would like to exhibit at the library, contact Joan Taub at 450-3434.

IS YOUR CHECKING ACCOUNT REALLY FREE?

CHECK THE FINE PRINT!

There are a lot of financial institutions touting free checking. But are they really free? Before you make any decisions, remember to read the fine print.

EXORBITANT BALANCES, LIMITED USE.

Dealers wanted for fair

Christ Church, 393 Washington Ave., is looking for dealers for its spring fair, set 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. June 5 on the front lawn of the church.

To rent space, contact the church at 751-0616 for information and contracts.

The fair will feature a craft fair/flea market, a baked goods table and a strawberry festival featuring strawberry shortcake, strawberry ice cream and other strawberry goodies.

The afternoon will include entertainment, the church's renowned snack bar and an auction of a large variety of second-hand treasures.

Amputation, circulation woes connected to smoking

It's no secret that cigarette smoking causes cancer and heart and lung diseases. But many people aren't aware that smoking also causes blood vessels to constrict, resulting in poor circulation in the feet and legs.

This condition, called occlusive artery disease, is responsible for more foot and leg amputations than any other condition, except injuries. Smoking is the No. 1 cause of occlusive artery disease in the feet and legs, a complication that may lead to limb amputation.

People with diabetes are particularly susceptible to circulatory complications and they must not smoke. All smokers with circulatory disease of the feet and legs risk amputation and dramatic reduction in years of life, but the long-term view is especially grim for smokers who have diabetes.

The U.S. Surgeon General's report, "Smoking and Health," described this additional smoking risk several years ago but since then not enough publicity has focused on the catastrophic effects smoking can have on feet and legs. Losing a limb can be devastating physically, psychologically and financially, yet warnings about smoking's potential role in limb loss is not required on cigarette packages.

If you tried to stop smoking and failed, don't be discouraged. You can still succeed. The American Cancer Society reports that 85 percent of all smokers want to quit. Most have tried at least once and millions have quit for good. So can you.

Here are some encouraging facts:

- One year after you stop smoking, your heart attack risk declines. After 10 years, your risk is about as low as for someone who never smoked.

- Your risk of lung cancer decreases when you stop smoking. After 10 years without smoking, your risk is about the same as for someone who never smoked.

- Your life expectancy approaches the overall mortality rate for non-smokers if you stay off cigarettes for 10 to 15 years.

Breaking the smoking habit isn't easy, but you can get lots of help. Contact your physician for advice and information on products that can cut your craving for a cigarette. Talk to friends or relatives who quit smoking for guidance or join a support group for future non-smokers. The American Heart and Lung Associations and the American Cancer Society can direct you to groups and provide more tips for kicking the cigarette habit.

Elaine Nash is married to Lt. Col. James DeAngelo Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mikowski of Port Richey, Fla., formerly of Belleville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Elaine Nash, to James DeAngelo Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James DeAngelo Sr. of Oklahoma City, Okla., March 29.

The bride is a graduate of Belleville High School. She is employed at the USAF Air Mobility School, Scott AFB, Illinois.

The groom received his undergraduate degree from Oklahoma

State University and his masters from Webster University. He is a lieutenant colonel in the United States Air Force and is a C-130 navigator stationed at Little Rock AFB, Arkansas.

Upon Lt. Col. DeAngelo's return from temporary duty in Mombasa, Africa, the couple will reside in Cabot, Arkansas, with the bride's three children, Jayme, Laura and Kenneth.

Mary Mackinney engaged to Karl Hauschild

Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKinney of Martinsville announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth Mackinney, of Concord, N.H. to Karl Kevin Hauschild, son of Mrs. Mary Giuliano of Lake Oriel, Pa. and Mr. Carl Hauschild of So. Plainfield.

The troth was made known Feb. 5. The wedding is planned for Summer, 1994.

Miss Mackinney, a graduate of Highland Park High School, Highland Park, and Katharine Gibbs School, Piscataway, is an administrative assistant at Herrington Catalog Co., Londonderry, N.H.

Mr. Hauschild, a graduate of Belleville High School and Essex County College, is a biomedical technician at Concord Hospital in Concord, N.H.

Your baby's straight teeth may forecast orthodontics

When a smiling toddler flashes a mouthful of straight, closely-spaced baby teeth, it usually means that six or eight years later he or she will need orthodontics, which could include braces.

A toddler needs gaps between her baby teeth to allow space for the arrival of permanent teeth later. If her baby teeth fit snugly, her jaws probably won't accommodate the larger permanent teeth and they may overlap, twist or become crooked.

A child with so-called "buck" teeth has a different problem. Buck teeth may be the result of a jawbone growth defect. The top jawbone may grow too much or the bottom too little, resulting in top teeth that protrude.

Front teeth can also be pushed forward by a habit, such as thumb sucking, tongue thrusting or sucking on the lower lip. Top teeth may bend outward and bottom teeth inward, especially if the habit persists beyond age seven or eight.

Fortunately, a multitude of removable and fixed orthodontic appliances are available that straighten teeth and correct jawbone abnormalities.

Jaw expanders can stretch underdeveloped jawbones and correct skeletal problems if treatment begins while the jawbone is growing — generally before the teens. Jaw growth is not usually complete until all permanent teeth, except the "wisdom" teeth are in place.

Fixed appliances — braces — correct crooked teeth and retainers help stabilize teeth that are drifting or leaning toward spaces where teeth are missing.

In most instances, the best time to begin straightening crooked teeth is about one year to 18 months before the dentist expects a child's "12-year molars" to come in — usually between age 10 and 12. Preliminary treatment can begin as young as age six, if a child's teeth are causing speech problems or another functional disorder.

If a habit, such as thumb sucking, is causing teeth to protrude, try to eradicate the habit before treatment begins and certainly before treatment is completed.

If no skeletal problem exists, and the orthodontist needs only to pull back protruding teeth, treatment usually starts about the same time as for crooked teeth.

Correcting a child's bite requires commitment on her part. No hard candy, bubble gum, caramels or other sticky treats that will cling to braces and teeth; scrupulous hygiene, including brushing after eating — and that means anything; and orthodontist visits every three to five weeks.

Orthodontics may mean financial sacrifice for the parents. Braces and other corrections can cost between $3,000 and $5,000. Check your health insurance — many plans provide at least partial coverage. Also, some orthodontists offer extended payment plans. Treatment also may be available at dental school orthodontic clinics, which usually charge less than private practitioners.

The result is well worth the investment. If a child's teeth fit together as nature intended, she will be less prone to cavities, joint pain and gum problems. And she will enjoy a healthy, attractive smile for the rest of her life.

Don't let pet allergies simmer; cook up a homebased cure

Does your dog have an itchy skin problem that isn't seasonal and doesn't respond to the use of corticosteroids? Is it accompanied by chronic ear infections and / or diarrhea? The cure might be in your kitchen.

Dogs can be hypersensitive to a wide variety of items commonly used in dog food. Among these are wheat, corn, soy, meats, poultry, fish, eggs and food additives. If your veterinarian thinks this is your dog's problem, he or she might recommend a dietary trial to rule out the possibility of food allergy.

To diagnose food allergy, feed the patient a hypo-allergenic diet for two months. The diet must be geared to the individual case. Lamb and rice in a 50/50 mixture is used often, but if the dog routinely eats a lamb-based diet, you need a different selection. Rabbit, venison or fish mixed with rice or potatoes have been used during a trial period.

It is essential that you follow the diet closely. This means that nothing goes into the dog's mouth but water and the home-cooked diet, no treats, no chewable medications, no chewable vitamin supplements.

Commercial diets are available. They are tempting because they don't require home cooking. The problem is that they, too, contain food additives; these might well be the substances to which your dog is allergic. If you are determined to rule out food allergy, your best bet is the home-cooked diet. It involves more effort, but is well worth it if the result is a healthy, itch-free dog.

Once the itching has stopped and the lesions have healed, feed the dog's original food for one week to check for the return of symptoms. This challenge is necessary to confirm the diagnosis of a food allergy.

If the challenge confirms the diagnosis, resume the trial. Feed one possible offending substance at a time and look for a recurrence of symptoms. Major offenders are beef, dairy products, wheat and soy.

Once you have identified an offending agent, select a commercial diet that doesn't contain it.

It's a tedious process, but could be the recipe for success.

Belleville-Nutley final this Saturday

ECT crown on line at Pulaski

By Mike Lambert

Call it a classic matchup.

This Saturday evening at Pulaski Park, Belleville and Nutley will battle for the Essex County softball championship. Game time is 7 p.m. and there should be a large crowd in store for this game.

The Lady Bucs clinched their place in the finals by downing Newark Academy last Sunday afternoon, 4-1. The victory made up for a less than compelling week of action on the diamond for Belleville. The girls were defeated by Immaculate Heart 4-1 and Ridgewood 5-1.

The loss to Ridgewood was not as significant, because the game was out of conference. The defeat to powerful Immaculate Heart does hinder Belleville's chances of repeating as NNJIL Pacific Division champs. The girls have three losses in league play.

Belleville was 14-6 entering a game with Hackensack last Monday. The team faced Paramus yesterday and will play at Teaneck tomorrow afternoon. Game time there is 4 p.m. On Saturday, the big game with Nutley will be held at Pulaski Park for county supremacy.

Next Monday, it's off to Paramus Catholic and next Wednesday, the Lady Bucs take on Nutley in NNJIL action at Clearmon Field. Both of those games kick off at 4 p.m.

The game with Newark Academy was originally scheduled for last Saturday, but the Newark Academy team had a conflict with its annual prom and the game was pushed back a day.

Belleville, which was not hitting the ball well over the past four games, did a much better job at the plate in the county semis.

"We didn't score a lot of runs, but we hit the ball a little harder," head coach Carl Corino said. "It's nice to get back to the finals, but we have a big challenge ahead of us there. Nutley is a tremendous team. They

Big news on the Belleville wrestling scene. Joshua Cardinale has signed a national letter of intent to attend George Mason University next fall.

Cardinale, who excelled for the Buc wrestling team, will be a welcome addition to the Virginia school next fall.

While at Belleville, he compiled a 91-13 career record and qualified for the state tournament in three different years. He placed second in the 119 pound class in the state tourney last winter.

George Mason finished the '92-93 season with an 11-3 record, 6-0 in its conference. The team was second in its post season tourney and advanced three wrestlers to the NCAA championships.

Congratulations to Cardinale and best wishes in his collegiate career.

NBA PLAYOFFS

Last week, the sporting news was more on a negative tone following the attempt on Monica Seles' life.

This week, the news is much more positive. First off, the New Jersey Nets and Los Angeles Lakers played tremendous basketball despite the odds and took their respective playoff series to five games.

The Lakers-Phoenix Suns game last Sunday was one of the best NBA games I've seen in years. And I'm sure anyone who saw the game would agree. If you're a fan of Phoenix, there is some reason for concern because your team shouldn't have been extended this far in a first round series.

However, the Lakers are a proud franchise who wouldn't lie down after suffering through a dismal regular season. Give them credit for playing above their heads in this series. Had it not been for a Dan Majerle jumper with :10 left in regulation time and a blown call by the officials on a Charles Barkley put back, L.A. would be playing San Antonio in the next round of the playoffs.

Be that as it may, Phoenix might play much better now that the wake up call has been administered. Look for Phoenix to take care of San Antonio. The Houston-Seattle series should be a dandy and will probably go seven games. I like Houston to win that one and I think Houston will defeat Phoenix in the Western finals.

Over in the east, the Knicks and Bulls appear on a collision course for the Eastern finals, but don't count out Cleveland. After playing less than spectacular hoops against the Nets, Cleveland should be up for the next round. I'm going with the upset. Cleveland will beat Chicago and advance to the eastern finals, where the Knicks should be waiting.

I think the Knicks will have too much up front and should stop Cleveland, thus setting up a Knicks-Houston Rockets final.

SHUT UP, SPARKY

Did you see where Tigers manager Sparky Anderson was put off by Yankee manager Buck Showalter's decision to hit and run with the Yanks leading 6-0 last Friday night in Detroit?

The hit and run attempt came in the seventh inning. Anyone who has followed the Tigers knows that a six run lead, especially in Detroit, is far from safe.

Anderson's rhetoric about Showalter trying to embarrass the opposition is ridiculous, to say the least.

Turns out the Yankees could have used that seventh run because Detroit rallied and won the game in extra innings. It seems Sparky feels that a six run lead is the cutoff point where a team should not be running up the score.

That point might have some validity if the score was 6-0 in the top of the ninth and there were two outs and a runner on first. It doesn't hold water when the game is in the seventh inning and the Tigers have the ability to hit a few homers and get back in the game. (Detroit is averaging about eight runs a game so far this year).

The name of the game is to score runs. How Showalter goes about doing that is his business, as long as it is within the rules of the game, not Anderson's unwritten rules.

Next time the Yankees play Detroit, let's hope the Yankees lead 20-0 in the ninth and Showalter has one of his players attempt a steal of second base to get in scoring position.

As for Anderson, one of the winningest managers in the history of baseball, his comments were totally out of line and his antics in the dugout were unjustified.

BELLEVILLE-NUTLEY WILL DECIDE ECT CHAMPION

It doesn't get any better than this when it comes to high school sports. Back yard rivals playing for county supremacy.

That will be the case this Saturday when the Lady Bucs and Nutley Raiderettes get together at Pulaski Park in Bloomfield for the Essex County softball championship.

This Belleville's tenth appearance in the county finals, Nutley's first. Belleville is 3-6 in the title game. The girls last appearance in the finals was a positive one. The team captured the '89 championship by stopping Livingston 1-0.

These two teams have established a tough rivalry over the past year. Last season, Belleville defeated Nutley three times, twice in NNJIL play and once in the quarterfinals of the county tournament.

In the fourth meeting of the year between the two, Belleville led 3-2 in the top of the seventh inning. The winner would claim the Group III, Section II championship.

Nutley rallied for two runs and held on for a 4-3 victory. That win propelled Nutley to the Group III championship. Belleville settled for the NNJIL Pacific Division title and a 25-5 overall

Puleo, Ken Johansen, Landon lead way

Bucs advance in GNT, defeat Verona

By Mike Lambert

Mike Puleo drove in two runs and Ken Johansen blasted a mammoth homerun, leading the Belleville Bucs to a 5-3 win over Verona in the first round of the Greater Newark Tournament last Saturday in Belleville.

The victory moves Nick Grande's team into the quarterfinals this Saturday against Nutley. The time and site of that game was undetermined as of last Monday.

Belleville lost an NNJIL contest to St. Joe's 7-6 last week and took an 8-7 record into a game with Hackensack last Monday.

The Bucs played Paramus yesterday and will play in a first round, Group IV, Section II game today. The sight and opponent was not known as of last Monday morning. Tomorrow, Teaneck comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. Next Monday, Paramus Catholic visits Belleville and next Wednesday, the team travels to Nutley. Both games start at 4 p.m.

"We had to work hard to beat Verona," Grande said after the game. "Do you see any more gray hairs on my head? We don't do anything easy, but the kids responded and we're moving on in the tournament."

Although the GNT game was played in Belleville, Verona was the home team because the Bucs were the higher seed. Belleville scored once in the first when Jim Landon doubled and scored on a Puleo single.

Verona tied it in the second but the Bucs went ahead by a run in the top of the third. Kevin Johansen hit a triple and scored on Puleo's second hit of the day.

Verona tied it in the last of the third and the game remained a two all deadlock until the sixth, when the Bucs scored twice.

Dan Brunello hit a pinch hit sacrifice fly to score Ken Johansen and Anthony Caruso singled to score Jim Napolitano.

In the seventh, Ken Johansen hit a tape measure homerun that cleared the fence and hit the farm league field adjacent to the tennis courts.

"It had to have gone over 450 feet," Grande said. "It was a shot. I mean there was no question about that ball going out in any ballpark."

Johansen's homer put Belleville ahead 5-2, but Verona came back in the last of the seventh to score once and load the bases with one out.

Mike Mundy was the starting pitcher and he did a tremendous job until tiring in the seventh. With one out, Grande brought in Kevin Johansen and the senior worked out of trouble, getting the final two outs sandwiched between a bases loaded walk that cut the lead to 5-3.

The final two outs came on a fly out to left field and a fielders choice.

Mundy was the winning pitcher. He pitched 6 1/3 innings, allowing three earned runs and six hits. He struck out 12 and walked four. It was the second time this year that Mundy had reached double figures in strikeouts.

Kevin Johansen was credited with the save, hurling the final 2/3 innings and not allowing a hit.

Offensively, Landon, Puleo, Ken Johansen and Caruso had two hits each.

Against St. Joe's, Belleville fell behind 6-0 against a state ranked team, but rallied on the road to tie it in the fourth inning.

St. Joe's led 2-0 after one and 6-0 after two before the Bucs began the comeback.

Napolitano walked, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Joe DePeri walked and stole second. Landon grounded out, scoring Napolitano. Kevin Johansen singled to score DePeri. Kevin then stole second and went to third on a wild pitch.

Mundy walked and stole second. Ken Johansen singled to score Kevin and Bob Dena hit a fielders choice, scoring Mundy.

In the fourth, the Bucs tied the game when Puleo doubled, Napolitano singled and DePeri walked to load the bases. Kevin Johansen then doubled home two runs.

The Bucs had the bases loaded and one out, but couldn't get the go-ahead run. The next hitter struck out and a fly out ended the threat.

St. Joe's went ahead in the fourth and the game remained 7-6 until the top of the seventh. With two outs, Puleo hit a triple, but with the tying run at third, the next hitter lined out and the game was over.

Ken Johansen pitched the entire game. He gave up just four earned runs while allowing seven hits. He struck out three and walked five.

St. Joe's scored two unearned runs in the first and one unearned run in the second.

Kevin Johansen and Puleo led Belleville with two hits each. Kevin had three RBIs.

"We have Nutley in the next round of the GNT," Grande said. "I'm sure we'll see their ace (Larry Mohs) and then we play them again the following week. Right now, we just need to be disciplined at the plate. We have to take pitches and not be too anxious. If we do that, we could be effective."

Crew team gears for Stotes

By Mike Lambert

The Belleville crew team advanced five boats to the finals of the Mid Hudson Regatta last Saturday in Poughkeepsie, New York.

Dennis Villano's team is now getting ready for the most prestigious race of the season this weekend in Philadelphia. The Bucs will compete in the Stotesbury Regatta and most fans who are familiar with crew will tell you it is THE RACE of the season.

"It's always the biggest race because of the level of competition," Villano said. "Not only are the best teams from the United States there, the Canadian teams also compete. Hopefully, we'll be ready. It's what the kids have been working for all year long."

At the Mid Hudson, five boats made it to the finals and one, the women's junior four, was victorious.

The boat features Caren Villano, Mindy Schmidt, VeraLynn Godlesky, Vivian DellaVecchia and Michele Scanzillo.

The mens junior four and mens senior four both took second place in the finals. The women's senior four finished fourth and the women's senior four, "B" team placed sixth.

The "B" team was an interesting story.

"That boat is normally a lightweight shell," Villano said. "But there were no lightweight races, so those kids entered the senior four race because we have a senior in that shell."

"They took third in their qualifying heat and then placed sixth in the finals, which is pretty good considering they were up against much bigger competition."

The pairs team of Frank Koch and Mike Capezio won a dual race with Poughkeepsie High School last week. That tandem will compete this weekend in the pairs race at the Stotesbury Regatta.

Villano was also happy with the eighth grade shells that raced at the Mid Hudson last weekend.

The mens novice four, made up of strictly eighth grade rowers, consists of Scott Horst, Fred Chaffart, Mike Matos, Edwin Garcia and coxswain Judy Illera. The alternate coxswain in that shell is Michele Montalto.

The women's novice four, also eighth graders, is made up of Stephanie Brunello, Jeannie Rodriguez, Lauren Henry, Karen Auerbach and coxswain Nicole Russomanno.

"Eric King has done a good job in getting those kids ready for competition," Villano said of the eighth grade rowers. "The kids will only get better as the years progress, especially competing at this level."

This weekend, the Bucs will enter a women's senior four, a women's junior four, a mens junior four, a lightweight four, a novice lightweight, a pairs and a mens straight four.

The straight four is a new concept for Belleville. There are four rowers in a shell but no coxswain.

"I would like to thank coach Tom Stephanick of Marietta College, who lent us the shell so we could race a straight four," Villano said.

The coach also extended congratulations to the Kearny crew team on winning the Mid Hudson Regatta last weekend.

Coaches John Zimmerman and Gretchen Cuccio have done a great job with that team," Villano said. "We share a boat house with Kearny and it's good to see a local team do so well."

So, it's off to the Stotesbury Regatta and, for rowers, the ultimate race which culminates months of hard work.

However, the Stotes does not signify an end to the season. The national championships are held on the weekend of May 22, this year in Virginia.

Giachetti 3B beats NA

have talent at every position. This will be a big game for us."

Belleville fell behind 1-0 in the first inning, but came back to tie in the top of the second against Newark Academy.

Nicole Gibbons and Kristin Galioto walked. Liz Ramirez singled to load the bases and Gina Conte singled to score Gibbons. Belleville had the bases loaded with one out, but a double play negated a big inning.

The score remained tied at one until the fifth, when Belleville pushed across the go-ahead tally.

Jennifer Citarella walked and scored on a line drive triple by Lynn Giachetti.

In the sixth, the Lady Bucs added insurance. Gibbons singled but was erased at second on a fielders choice by Galioto. Galioto went to second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Ramirez, who went to second on the throw to the plate.

Pinch hitter Christine Sansano singled Ramirez to third and Danielle Brodo singled to score the fourth run.

This was more than enough for winning pitcher Kim Piscatowski. The junior improved her record to 11-5 with a complete game effort. She struck out one, walked two and allowed just four hits. She also did not allow a hit after the third inning.

Piscatowski got into trouble in the sixth when she walked the first two batters. But the Belleville defense provided a big lift in the form of centerfielder Colleen Mannion. With one out and runners on first and second, a Newark Academy hitter lined a sharp single. Mannion fielded the ball on a hop and made a strong throw to third baseman Andrea Curran. Since the play did not require a tag, the throw beat the N.A. runner to third and Curran tagged the base a split second ahead of the runner, who did not slide.

Piscatowski also had some key pitches in the sixth inning which got her out of trouble.

"It seems like I have to walk two batters a game, no matter what," the pitcher said afterward. "Fortuately, we avoided giving them a big inning. Colleen's throw was key. They would have had the bases loaded and one out if she doesn't make that play."

Earlier in the week, the girls lost to Immaculate Heart 4-1 and Ridgewood, 5-1.

"We're not hitting the ball," Corino said. "Kimmy has pitched well and Keri (Wendling) did a good job in the Ridgewood game, but we have to start hitting the ball."

Against I.H., Piscatowski allowed just six hits while fanning two and walking two. Belleville's only run came in the sixth. Citarella singled and scored on a Piscatowski triple.

Piscatowski and Citarella had two hits each.

Against Ridgewood, the results were pretty much the same. Belleville scored once in the fourth when Mannion walked, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on a hit by Galioto.

Wendling (3-1) pitched well but took the loss. She gave up nine hits while not walking or striking out a batter. It was Belleville's second loss this season to Ridgewood.

While the NNJIL title is still within reach, and the state tourney is set to start this week, the focus now is on Saturday's county championship game.

It should be a tremendous game.

NOTES: Belleville is in the county championship game for the tenth time. All ten appearances have been with Corino as head coach.

The girls first played for the title in 1980, then appeared in the title game for eight straight years from 1982-89. Belleville won crowns in 1982, '83 and '89. The girls lost in the title round in '80 and '84 to Cedar Grove, '85 to Livingston and '86-88 to Caldwell.

Belleville's last appearance in the county championship game was 1989, when the team beat Livingston 1-0 in an extra inning thriller. The girls lost in the county semis in 1990 and last year.

This will be Nutley's first appearance, ever, in the county championship game. Nutley is the top seed in this year's tourney.

Kristin Galioto slides into second base ahead of throw during fourth inning of County Tournament game. Lady Bucs won, 4-1.

Jennifer Citarella rounds second base and arrives safely at third during fifth inning of last Sunday's game. Citarella is leading hitter on this year's team.

Colleen Mannion makes over-the-head catch in center field to end Newark Academy rally.

Buc Shots

mark. Both teams could safely say that 1992 was a successful year.

Nutley is off to a great start this year and has already posted a 6-0 win over Belleville in an NNJIL matchup last week.

This time, the county crown is on the line and Belleville should be primed for a big effort.

Jennifer Citarella and Lynn Giachetti have paced the Belleville offense all year long. Head coach Carl Corino is hoping his team has snapped out of the offensive slump it was in for the past two weeks.

Barring any last second changes, Liz Ramirez should start at first, Citarella will play second, Giachetti is the shortstop and Andrea Curran will handle third base.

The catcher is freshman Danielle Brodo, who has done a super job this year.

In the outfield, Kristin Galioto plays left, Colleen Mannion is in center and Christine Sansano or Nicole Gibbons will be in right. The pitcher will be Kim Piscatowski and Gina Conte will most likely be the designated hitter.

Game time Saturday is 7 p.m. You are advised to get to Pulaski Park as early as possible, because this game will draw a very big crowd.

TID BITS

How about those Philadelphia Phillies? As a Cardinal fan, I still can't believe the Phils swept St. Louis last weekend at the Vet. Especially disenchanted was the 6-5 loss last Sunday. The Cards had a 5-2 lead in the last of the eighth and Lee Smith on the mound to try and save it. So what happens? The Phils get a grand slam homer and prevail.

It just goes to show that when a team is hot, it gets a lot of breaks as well.

My Pittsburgh Penguins are being tested by the Islanders, but don't despair, we'll find a way to get the three-peat in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

I have some bad news to report. The John Engel Memorial Day Picnic has been cancelled for 1993. Hopefully, we can convince John to reinstate it for 1994 and beyond.

The Sunday before Memorial Day won't seem the same this year.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

The Boston Celtics won two NBA titles in the '70's. Boston beat Milwaukee in the '74 finals, 4 games to 3. In 1976, the Celtics beat Phoenix in six games.

Tom Heinsohn was the Celtics coach in both seasons. In 1974, John Havlicek, Dave Cowens and Paul Silas were starters for Boston. Those same men were key players on the '76 team, along with Dennis Scott, who was obtained from Phoenix for Paul Westphal.

Larry Costello coached the '74 Bucks and John McLeod was the head coach of the '76 Suns.

FOR THIS WEEK

After winning the NBA title in 1974, the Boston Celtics appeared headed to a second straight crown in '75. However, the Celts were upset in the Eastern finals that year. Who defeated the Celtics in those Eastern finals? Who was the coach of the winning team? How many games did that series go? How did that team fare in the NBA finals of 1975?

Ernestine Randolph

Ernestine Catherine Randolph of Belleville died on March 26.

Surviving are her husband, Royal Randolph; her daughter, Gayle Randolph; her son, Mark Randolph; her brother, Ernest Olphin; her sisters, Grace Gay and Evelyn Browne; her grandchildren, Jazmyn, Ariane, Michael and Ashlei; her sister-in-law, Norma Davis; her son-in-law James Baker, and many other relatives and friends.

A Funeral Mass was offered on April 2 at St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church in Belleville, following the funeral service from the Suburban Home of Cotton Funeral Service in Orange. Cremation was at Rosedale Crematory.

Mrs. Jean Schneider, 81

Mrs. Jean (Giuliano) Schneider of Lyndhurst died on Sunday, May 9, at Mountside Hospital in Montclair.

Born in Newark, Mrs. Schneider resided there until moving to Lyndhurst in 1964.

She was a home maker.

Mrs. Schneider was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Lyndhurst.

Her husband, Arthur Julius Schneider, predeceased her.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Marlene Jinks of Lyndhurst; her sons, Arthur A. Schneider of Montclair and Richard H. Schneider of Elmwood Park; her brother, Carmine Giuliano of Newark; her sisters, Mrs. Angie Tuosto and Mrs. Margaret Amendola, both of Belleville; 12 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

A funeral service was held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 12, in the Georgian Chapel of the Irvine-Cozzarelli Memorial Home in Belleville, with the Reverend Eric Rieker, Pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment is at East Ridgeland Cemetery in Clifton.

SHE QUALIFIES — Wendi Markowitz of Belleville, left, receives graduation certificate from Lorraine Sciara, president of The Hospice, Inc.

Belleville residents to receive educational achievement awards

Louis Mattina, Rosa Ramos and Ralph Mazzuca, Belleville residents, will be honored on May 21 at the Benedetto Croce Educational Society's annual awards dinner. The three will receive awards for their contributions and outstanding achievements in the field of education.

Rosa Ramos, born in Cuba, was graduated from Montclair State College and earned her master's degree in secondary and bilingual education at Seton Hall University. Ramos has been employed by the Newark School District since 1975, presently serving as an Assistant Director in the office of Special Projects. She resides in Belleville with her husband Juan and daughter Consuelo Maria.

Ralph Mazzuca, born and raised in Newark, was graduated from Barringer High School, received his bachelor's degree from Newark State Teachers College and attained his master's in supervision and administration from Seton Hall University. Mazzuca, a 35 year employee of the Newark School District is presently a supervisor in the Division of Employment and Technology. Mazzuca has resided in Belleville over 20 years with his wife, Joyce and daughters, Danielle and Janine. He is also a member of the Belleville Board of Education.

Louis Mattina was born and raised in Newark and is a Barringer graduate. He has been employed by the Newark School District for 26 years and is presently a Computer Education and Technology teacher. He is a graduate of Monmouth College and received his master's in administration and supervision from Kean College.

Mattina has resided in Belleville with his wife, Gale for 15 years and is a past president of the Benedetto Croce Educational Society. Mattina will receive this year's Presidential Award.

Each year the Benedetto Croce Educational Society sponsors an essay contest, awards scholarships to area students and presents awards to individuals who have contributed to the field of education.

The dinner will be held at the Town & Campus in West Orange on May 21 at 7 p.m. For ticket information contact Lou Conte at (201) 733-8602.

Berkeley lists Honor students

The Garret Mountain campus of Berkeley College of Business, West Paterson, has announced its Dean's List of students who have maintained a 3.5 average.

On the Dean's List are Pio Alberto and Anna Maria Loiacono of Belleville.

Cerami acts in comedy

Bernadette Cerami of Belleville appeared recently in A. R. Gurney, Jr.'s stage comedy "What I Did Last Summer", presented as part of Montclair State's Experimental Theatre Series.

The play tells of the problems of a 14-year-old boy, in a nostalgic vein.

The Hospice, Inc. graduates Belleville volunteer

A Belleville resident has completed a special eight-week training course to qualify as a volunteer working directly with terminally ill patients being cared for at home under the auspices of The Hospice, Inc. of Glen Ridge.

The new volunteer is Wendi Markowitz which brings the number of Belleville volunteers to 5, according to Lorraine Sciara, president and CEO of Hospice which has served the people of Essex and West Hudson counties for more than eleven years.

"As Hospice grows the need for volunteers grows and the people of Essex County continue to respond with generosity. Our volunteers do everything from just sitting and visiting with patients to helping them with personal care, with transportation and a variety of other tasks," states Honi Weiss, Senior Director of Volunteers and Community Outreach.

New evening classes for volunteers will begin on April 19 at The Hospice, Inc. offices located at 3 High St. in Glen Ridge. To learn more about Hospice care or about volunteer training call (201) 429-0300.

Clara Maass Medical Center honors volunteers

Clara Maass Medical Center joined hospitals across the nation recently to celebrate National Volunteer Week April 18 to 24. Among the festivities held was a reception honoring the volunteers and services organizations who have donated their time and service.

"All volunteers are a part of the hospital team and important in carrying out the mission of the hospital," said Marlene French, manager of Volunteer Services at Clara Maass Medical Center.

Volunteers who joined the 1520 Club for 15,000 hours of service or 20 years of volunteer service were, June Petro of Belleville, and Willard Bell of Nutley. In recognition for his commitment to volunteerism at the Medical Center, Mr. Bell was also chosen as one of the top 10 Retired Senior Volunteer Program members in Essex County for 1993. In addition, Mrs. Petro, along with her husband John, represented Clara Maass Volunteer Services at a reception for volunteers at PSE&G sponsored by the Volunteer Center of Greater Essex County.

At Clara Maass Medical Center 350 volunteers from the surrounding area donated 66,000 hours of service to the Medical Center in 1992.

Volunteers work in all areas of the Medical Center. Anyone wishing more information about volunteer service may call the Volunteer Department at (201) 450-2116.

Donna Gencarelli, 33

Donna Gencarelli, 33, of Belleville died on Sunday, May 9, at home.

Born in Newark, Miss Gencarelli was a life-long resident of Belleville.

She was Secretary with Kahner's Publishing Company in Roseland for two years.

Surviving are her parents, Susie and Pasquale Gencarelli; her sister, Mrs. Lisa Caravito; her grandmother, Mrs. Cristina Gencarelli; her brothers, Nick and Frank Gencar-elli; her nieces, Nicole Gencarelli and Amanda Caravito, and her nephew, Christopher Caravito.

ADVISE AND DISPENSE

Pharmacists are already renowned for providing their customers with helpful advice about prescription and over-the-counter medications. Now, a federal rule that took effect on January 1, 1993, legislates this free service. Accordingly, all pharmacists are required to offer counseling to Medicaid patients at the time that they pick up their prescriptions. The advice includes much more information than is either left out of drug labels or overlooked. For example, the pharmacist might warn of side effects, unwanted interactions with other drugs, or inquire about patient allergies that may elicit adverse reactions.

Taking the new ruling a step further, 37 states are calling upon pharmacists to advise all their customers in this manner, with the remaining 13 likely to soon follow suit.

We're always happy to provide drug counseling to our clients. For all your needs feel free to call on our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Free prescription delivery is available. Baby needs, cameras, film, cosmetics and toiletries are carried. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HINT: Some patients may find it helpful to leave a brief medical history, including a medication list, with their pharmacist.

A Special Year and a Special Pet

Cats Are In!

STOP AND THINK!
WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT
CATS AND DOGS?
THEN READ ON!

A special cat year

Several groups that protect animals have named 1993 as the Year of the Cat. Today, cats outnumber dogs as our favorite pets.

cats: 62 million

dogs: 53 million

Some people adopt cats because they think that cats don't need much care. But cats do have their own special needs.

The Year of the Cat is sponsored by the American Humane Association, the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the Humane Society of the United States, and the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

This photo was taken of Socks as he walked around the grounds of the Governor's Mansion in Little Rock. In Washington he is taken out on a leash!

A special cat

Cats are getting a lot of attention this year because a cat now lives in the White House.

Once upon a time, three years ago, there were two little kittens, a brother and a sister.

Like many poor animals today, they were abandoned.

They were let go in a neighborhood in Little Rock, Ark.

A music teacher took them in to try to find them a home.

Chelsea Clinton, whose father was governor of Arkansas at the time, was one of her students.

Chelsea's mother, Hillary, took Chelsea to one of the lessons.

They saw the kittens and decided to adopt the brother cat.

Chelsea named her cat Socks. Can you look at his picture and tell why?

The piano teacher also found a home for his sister, who is now called Midnight. Midnight still lives in Little Rock.

Socks lives in the White House in Washington, D.C.

TO DO:

Pretend that you are Socks. Write a letter to your sister telling her about life in the White House.
