John Sczyrek, Jr. 1963-1993

He died in defense of his Nation, a soldier in the most dangerous war in America's history, the war on drugs.

There is a terrible irony in that John Sczyrek, Jr. was slain in the very heart of the system of justice that preserves this nation, the doorway to a courtroom in the Essex County Courthouse in Newark.

The cold blooded planning that went into the crime, the smuggling of a weapon into the building by a County employee and the brutal execution of the slaying itself make the crime even more outrageous.

The prime suspect actually made his way from the 11th floor of the Courthouse to the street, and was finally caught two blocks from the scene. He very nearly escaped altogether.

The surprise and the shock of the murder probably contributed to the near escape.

An event such as this, an assassination, leads to all kinds of surmises and suggestions. Some are so shocked that they would suspend the very legal system that Mr. Sczyrek was trying to defend.

Some call for closing the barn door after the steed is stolen, arguing for firmer application of the death penalty.

The fact is that the drug empire has become a country of its own, making war as it will, moving its headquarters to wherever it is safest, and absorbing the underworlds of virtually every ethnic group.

It requires a mobilization of will and resources to fight this evil empire, just as any war does.

Punishment alone is not the answer, although it certainly is part of the justified response.

A closer search of our own societies, our own cultures and our own governments may bring us to the same discovery that was made during and after Prohibition. Drugs - like illegal booze - are a source of illicit wealth which draws everybody into the art. This did not even exclude the United States Coast Guard, or the Department of Justice.

The honesty and honor of our government, which should have been our bulwark against crime, were compromised in the days of bootlegging and smuggling. Unfortunately, history has a habit of repeating itself.

If we look to the reason for a brave man's death, perhaps we should search ourselves.

For GOP Freeholder candidate, the vote was Imperiale, 845; Calabrese, 701; Kane, 697; Gehring, 540, and Long, 534.

Democrats supported Mayor Marina Perna in her bid for Amembly, giving her 808 votes to 297 for the unknown Chester Dombrowski from Bergen County. In Democratic Committee races, Councilman Tom Spillane unseated Frank Borgo as District Leader in District 5, Second Ward, 45 to 38, and Seymour Gross beat back an attempt by Joseph Fornar-

Police officers, mounted police and K-9 units stood stiff at atten-tion. The Police and Fire Emerald Society of Essex County Pipe Band began the service as family and friends entered the church followed by the casket. "Let There Be Peace On Earth" through loudspeakers set up inside and outside the church and reminded mourners of the violent actions that brought them there.

Sczyrek was shot at close range last Thursday, while waiting to testify outside a courtroom, by the defendant's brother, Al-Damanay Kamau, 25. Kamau is being held in lieu of $2 million bail.

Police are also holding Tinesha James, 22, the alleged girlfriend of the defendant, on $1 million bail for smuggling the weapon through the employee entrance of the building worked in the Courthouse as a clerk in the probation office.

Msgr. Louis Fimiani, who married Sczyrek and his wife Cheryl five years earlier, began the eulogy by describing the ironic nature of human hands; hands capable of crime and hands capable of loving.

What potential evil the human hand is capable of," contrasted Fimiani's description of Sczyrek's loving hands in the presence of two-year-old daughter Shannon.

Sozyrek's former partner, Sgt.

Mark Whitley, spoke of their friendship from their days in the police academy until the present.

He provided officers, who did not know Sczyrek and yet came to honor him, with an idea of his strong character.

"Today we buried a great man, a great cop, and a hero," said Whitley, struggling through tears to speak clearly.

Sczyrek, a Helleville resident, was raised in a police family in utley.

"He always wanted to be a cop. grew up around cops, his father was an Essex County police officer and he always talked of him as a hero," explained Whitley.

"At times he was unapproachab-

Our readers have informed us of three additional fallen servicemen whose names should be added to the Belleville War Memorial. All served in World War II. • • • Michael Cicenia was victim of a vehicle accident in The Phillipines in the closing days of the war. The Navy man had served eight years, and had re-enlisted. In service he achieved a promising career as a boxer, his nephew, Louis Cicenia, recalls. • • • Army Sergeant Harry Ward Jr., 20, died in service with the Army Engineers in Mindoro, The Philippines on Dec. 21, 1944. His brother-in-law, Ralph Cueman, of Belmar, brought us the information. • • • Army Sergeant James Thomas White, 23, enlisted on Dec. 8, 1941 and was serving with the 67th Coast Artillery in Italy when wounded by a shell burst on Aug. 14, 1943. He died on Aug. 16, and his remains lie in a military cemetery in Florence. The Priest-Chaplain who ministered to him in his last moments later came to Belleville to comfort the family. His sister, Katherine Moser, served in the Woman's Army Corps as Private, First Class, and is a member of American Legion Post 105. ● ● ● As we insisted, Belleville Times readers have the answers to everything. When we inquired about the reasons for Baseball Great Moe Berg's being in Belleville when he died in May 1972 - considering that he was not known to reside here - Lewis Gardner, Executive Director of the Clara Mass Foundation, responded. He informed us that Mr. Berg's brother, Dr. Samuel Berg, was a prominent Newark physician who was a long-time member of the staff of Clara Mass Medical Center. Dr. Berg had a splendid reputation at the hospital, Gardner said. It seems likely that his brother was under his care. Moe Berg, others have told us, was definitely an Intelligence Agent for the United States Government even before World War II. He was a graduate of Princeton University, a man reputed to speak eight to a dozen languages, a Major League catcher and a man who had a liking for the color black. At least, that's the only color clothing he wore, according to his biographers. The most recent book about him was published within the past year.

We hasten to add two more names to the Belleville High School Class of June 1993 Honor Roll. Inadvertently omitted from last week's published list of Scholarship and Award Winners were Daren Pearson and Fatima Figiceree, recipients of the School Nine Scholarship. Our apologies to School Nine Principal Pat Forte. Then, again, why apologize to somebody we can outrun? ● ● ● Carrier Joe Gomes is back on the downtown mail delivery route, recovered from the leg injury which had sidelined him for a month. His return means that once again visiting truckers and traveling salesmen will have someone to direct them to Montgomery Street. They all want to go to Montgomery Street. Joe recalls one visitor to town who buttonholed him with the question, "Where is Jamaica, New York?" Joe says he didn't have the two hours in which to tell him the directions. • • • Two former shipmates who had joined the United States Navy out of Belleville and served together aboard one of the "baby flattops", the aircraft carrier USS Card CVE 11 hunting the German U-Boat wolf packs during World War II, are seeking former shipmates for another grand reunion. Joe Macchia, now of hurricane-prone Melrose. Florida and Michael DelRusso, of balmy Silver Lake, Belleville say the reunion is scheduled for Sept. 17 through Sept 20 in Norfolk, Virginia, a popular place for Navy reunions. Their outfit is credited with sinking more German submarines than any other unit in Naval history. DelRusso married the former Theresa Veneziano of Bloomfield amd the couple has three daughters: Amelia Mattoon and Michelle McIntosh, both of Belleville, and Barbara Ann Scarillo of Verona. as added bonus, there are three grandchildren. Macchia and his wife, Beverly, moved South, where they can be reached at Rt. 3, Box 3315, Melrose, Fla. 32666. DelRusso's local address is 517 Delavan Ave., Newark, N.J. 07107 or at (201) 483-7757 after 5 p.m. Many happy reunions! ● ● ● Provident Savings was founded in Jersey City in 1839. Lions Club International was founded in Chicago in 1917. Mary Doherty Perry was founded in Bayonne considerably later. We have not inquired as to when Provident named its first lady Bank Manager, but we do know that in May, 1986, the Lions inducted their first lady member. It was none other than Bank Manager Perry, and it was Dennis Martone of the Belleville Lions who sought her membership. It was a history-making event, particularly as the Belleville Lions did not wait for any approval by the International for their action - which is typical of the Belleville Lions. • • • It was 36 years ago that Mary and her husband, Albie, moved to Belleville from Jersey City. Mr. Perry was a member of Operating Engineers, Local 14 and Belleville was convenient to his various job assignments. When Mr. Perry passed away in 1976. Mary, with two young sons to raise, decided to give up her clerical job at Essex Catholic High School and go into a higher paying career. Provident was just opening its Belleville branch about that time and she wrote a forceful letter of application, snagging the job of cashier. In five years, she was Office Manager, and then Branch Manager and Assistant Vice President. • • • She became interested in the Lions Club because of its sight-saving program. Son Robert had sustained an eye injury, from which he recovered, and she became aware of the Lions' efforts in vision protection. The club spends hundreds of millions of dollars annually thrughout the world to fight the causes of blindness. Now, at the end of June, after years of overseeing the growth of the bank branch - "It's the soundest bank in New Jersey" - and participating in many civic affairs,

Mrs. Perry is retiring from her banking post, but not from the Lions, and not from the Belleville Foundation, which provides a multitude of no interest student loans. She will have more time for her family - Robert is at home, working for Luongo Transmission and Albie is a Civil Engineer, living in Hamilton Square, and catching up with her sister Margaret in Vermont and her brother Harry in Florida. There's a first time for everything.

Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, says that Township Manager Steve Cuccio and Assessor Tommy Salzano have acquired a watch in order to time their daily lunch hour together. "I took a look at the watch," Baldassaro said, "and at 3 o'clock, it's sunset." • • • Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says his political supporters, the Kool Kukumber Boys, are disappointed that the campaign slogan they stole didn't do better for their Primary slate. "The Ayatollah will set things right' did great in Teheran."

Property owners in New Jersey should be aware that after receiving their preliminary tax bill in July the deadline for filing real estate as ment appeals passed April 1, 1993.

"Obviously, this early deadline poses major problems for property owners," warned Charles Romalis, President of Property Tax Analysts of Wayne. "They will now have to wait nine months until April 1, 1994 to take action to reduce the 1994 assessments. They can no longer appeal their 1993 taxes.

Even more important, they will have no idea what the tax impact of their assessment will be in 1994 until July of 1994 when they receive their tax bills. It is very confusing and unfair."

Traditionally, property owners take action to challenge their assessments when they realize what their new property taxes will be. In previous years the estimated taxes appeared on the same form as the assessment notice and you could file an appeal by August 15.

"Many people don't understand what the assessment means until it is translated into the amount they must pay in taxes," Romalis noted.

It is possible for an individual property owner to lower a tax bill by appealing the real estate assess-

Property Tax Consultants nationwide estimate that over 60% of all real estate assessments are too high, resulting in unfair and excessive tax bills. A study of property taxes across the nation indicates that 90% to 95% of assessments are reduced on appeal, if the property owner prepares an organized effective appeal.

When interviewed on CNBC and NBC's Money Talk, Romalis stated that "98% of all property owners nationwide never appeal their real estate taxes. Unfortunately, they will never know if they are paying more than their fair share."

Although the deadline for appeal is April 1, 1994 and property owners will be receiving their tax bills in July 1993 they can begin to prepare an appeal.

"If they suspect their assessment is incorrect or unfair, seek out expert help," said Romalis.

The danger of reading

The incident in the Township Clerk's office, when Township Manager Stephen Cuccio summoned a police officer in the wake of a visit by the Belleville Times, only proves something about which the the Times has been warning its readers for many years - If you read the Newark Star-Ledger, you can go to

We find that too many of our readers seem blissfully and dangerously unaware of this peril.

We can only suggest that they open up a copy of the offending daily in the presence of Mr. Cuccio, and discover the consequ-

All of which leads to the next question.

Just what kind of information has our Township Manager been feeding the State Commission of Investigation?

If he can concoct a plot to steal Township documents and thwart the investigation of the SCI into Township affairs, simply from someone reading a newspaper in the Township Clerk's office, what other wild flights of imagination has Mr. Cuccio passed off as legitimate information?

We recall the time he charged the Fire Chief with making "terroristic threats", then backed down and charged him with "overspending" and then charged him with "attempting to overspend" in suspending the Chief without pay.

We recall Mr. Cuccio's assuring the Township Council that he had the support of the township employees in having the Rasmussen Agency administer the employees' health and retirement benefits.

We think that Mr. Cuccio and the truth have a long distance to go to meet each other.

But we do agree with his premise that reading the Star-Ledger is a jailable offense, and urge all our readers to take heed.

Blaming the other guy

There is an eagerness to avoid blame in the firing of 10 full time and two part time employees of the Department of Public Works.

The Council Majority says it only voted to cut the department's budget by 10 percent, and no layoffs were mentioned.

This puts the blame solely on Townhip Manager Stephen

Cuccio has protested that he warned the Council there would be layoffs if the cut were ordered. The actual vote was 4-to-1, with Councilman Tom Spillane opposed, and Councilmen Jim Messina and Bill Cook absent. Logic would point out that with certain fixed costs in the budget, as for insurance, so that a 10 percent reduction is actually a 20 percent reduction, oor more.

But to the addled majority, eager to make Mayor Marina Perna look good in her campaign for the Assembly, the idea was to get a reduction at any cost.

With the rudderless leadership now in place, the signals frequently get crossed, as in the reported firing of Planning Director Robert Ringelheim.

This has brought protests from even the Council Majority's guiding light and gray eminence, Sam Papa.

Papa, Chairman of the Planning Board, has been unstinting in his praise of Ringelheim's work.

But Council President Dr. Frank Noonan, smarting at the zoning violations charges made against him by Ringelheim, is pushing for Ringelheim's ouster. Deputy Mayor Mario Drozdz has the idea it should be done by making the post of director part-time, rather than full time.

Other members of the Council are not sure that it is legal to make the position part-time, or that the Township Manager has the right to make the decision on his own.

And the ever-confusing, and probably confused, Township Manager has been doubletalking on his decision to fire Ringelheim.

Now, he says, the idea was to keep Ringelheim - but pay him less.

It all goes back to the power grab that ousted the experts and returned the politicians to power.

A prominent attorney put it this way: "For a few brief moments, they had emerged from the Stone Age."

Operation Safe Tow

Last year in New Jersey 154 people were killed in drunken driving-related traffic accidents. That's good news when you consider this number has dropped 50 percent during the past ten years. But just one life lost to drunk driving is one too many.

As Memorial Day approaches — bringing with it the start of the summer picnic and barbecue season — the board of trustees and employees of the AAA New Jersey Automobile Club urge your readers to practice safe driving habits. That means designating a driver, calling a cab or using public transportation, or staying the night if you've had too much to drink.

To assist in decreasing alcohol-related traffic injuries and fatalities this summer, AAA is re-activating Operation Safe Tow. (The program was implemented last December to provide intoxicated drivers and their automobiles with a safe ride home during the holidays). If a driver who is located in Essex, Morris or Union County becomes intoxicated between May 28 and 31, July 3 and 5, and September 4 and 6, a friend or family member can call AAA and ask for Operation Safe Tow. A tow truck will be dispatched to take the driver and his vehicle home, up to 15 miles away, free of charge. You don't have to be a AAA member to take advantage of the program. In addition to the creation of the 15-member authority, proposed legislation also calls for the creation of a 121-member local government committee made up of representatives from each of the 113 communities and 8 counties in the flood basin. Additionally, Bubba's bill would create an 11-member sub-committee to act as a liaison between the two bodies. Bubba's legislation makes provision for the hiring of an executive director, financial advisors or experts and such other

The Bubba proposal is a waste of taxpayers' money and serves only to confuse the basic problem. There are existing state and regional bodies that can perform the tasks specified in the Bubba legislation. To propose the creation of additional bodies with all kinds of paid jobs would be tax money spent that could otherwise be used for far more beneficial purposes like reducing our state taxes.

for the Washington Post, in an impassioned discourse about a business he loves which he believes has lost its bearings, compresses his thoughts in a book he authored, "Media Circus: The Trouble with America's Newspapers". The 374page book is available at Times Books for $25. The sense of Mi. Kurtz's writings is captured in one sentence, "The smell of death permeates the newspaper business these days." It is a depressing chronicle of newspapers folding one after the other as they fail to deliver the type of news that would encourage readers to continue reading newspapers. A former reporter for the Bergen Record, he makes refer-ence to the Record as "a writer's paper where young reporters could hone their skills only to see the paper brought low by over-expansion and over-simplification. • A MEMBER of a pioneer Nutley family died recently, an old friend of mine and the family. He was Michael Stabile. To know him was to love him. Not only did he help friends, but strangers as well. He often said that the human race was made of people like you and me. "If we can't help eachother, what good are we as human beings?" And that's the way Mike lived his life. In the old Big Tree-Avondale neighborhood, each of us had a nickname. Mine was "Tanglefoot" and Mike's was "Bags". I really don't recall why Mike was given his nickname, but mine doesn't need any explanation.

School 3 students record their poetry

Love is a universal feeling, shared in so many ways and directed towards many significant people in our lives. It is to be treasured, appreciated and most of all enjoyed. This was the message that Ms. Debra McDonagh's class at School 3 conveyed through writing individual poems. Themes of friendship, caring about others and sharing were all included in a four line verse. A collaborate single poem was then created from the samples of all the students. This class project originated in Mrs. Carol Mateyka's music class as part of School 3's Fine Arts Magnet Program. The Fine Arts Magnet Program under the direction of Mrs. Raffaella Saulino, principal, encourages integration of the arts within the curriculum. The students achieved the goal by transferring the written word to music. The poem became the lyrics for a beautiful melody composed by Mrs. Mateyka. With her capable assistance, the children transcribed the song to manuscript. The final product was a three stanza musical piece with a recurring chorus.

Robert Di Stasi, Prospect Productions, agreed to come into the school to record the students. Di Stasi, proprietor of a professional recording studio servicing musical groups from New York and New Jersey brought highly technical equipment to capture the voices on cassette tape. Pride could be seen on the faces of the children and adults as the session unfolded.

Thanks to the talent and caring of Ms. Mc Donagh, Mrs. Mateyka and Di Stasi, the students have a permanent record of their "labor of love."

Oils, watercolors exhibit

On exhibit during the month of June are the oils and watercolors of Wayne artist Nina Lalin. "My work is the culmination of all that I am," she states. "It is playful, mysterious, colorful, bold and experimental. One cannot separate the artist from the creation. My inspiration comes from my need to express myself and the spark that sets me off may come from seeing natural forms in nature, remembrances from my travels, pictures I have seen, books read, or workshops taken."

Lalin has been in group juried shows at the Nabisco Headquarters, N.A.W.A. 103rd National Show in New York City, the Salmagundi Club, New York City, the Society of Experimental Arts National Show, the Springfield Museum, 73rd National Show, La Femme William Carlos Center for Arts and Mediumrare, at the Old Church Cultural Center, the Ringwood Manor, the Paterson Museum, the Greenwich Village Art Show, New York City, where she was awarded a blue ribbon, and the Concord Hotel.

She has had solo shows at the Woman Art Gallery and Lynn Kottler Art Galleries in New York City, Nabisco Gallery in Fairlawn, the Wayne and Belleville Public libraries, and the Montclair Woman's Club.

Her exhibit can be viewed at the Belleville Public Library during library hours.

Opera film series

The Belleville Public Library and Information Center is sponsoring an opera film series every Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. On June 15, "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be shown. The spring series will end on June 22, with a showing of "Pagliaci".

The series will continue in the fall with a showing of "Rigoletto" on Sept. 21 at 12:30 p.m. and "Aida" on Sept. 28. The series was suggested by Frank Senatore, a library patron.

Calendar of Events

Art Exhibit: The art exhibit of Nina Lalin of Wayne, featuring her oils and watercolors, are currently on exhibit at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Avenue, during library hours, until June 30.

Exhibits: The pressed flower pictures of Linda Villa of Nutley are currently on exhibit at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Avenue, during library

Home health aides graduate from WECHS training course

Twenty students representing nine Essex County communities graduated from an intensive fourweek training program for home health aides offered by West Essex Community Health Services (WECHS), a nonprofit community, hospice and home health care agency serving the Essex area.

All 20 candidates passed the Medicare Competency Evaluation, which included a written and practical exam, and will receive their Home Health Aide Certification from the New Jersey State Board of Nursing, making them eligible for full or part-time place-ment with WECHS. During some 84 classroom hours at the home care agency's Verona office and 15 hours of hands-on training at a health care center, these home health aides learned to help the chronically ill and disabled with day-to-day personal care and home management.

A new training class will begin in the fall. For more information about Home Health Aide service or training, contact Barbara Piwinski at 857-7300.

Affiliated with United Way, WECHS serves the Essex area with short and long-term home care, Medicare-certified hospice care and community preventive services, such as seminars, screenings and well-baby programs. In addition to traditional home care, WECHS provides in-home hightech IV and chemotherapy, a multidisciplinary supportive care program for chronically ill patients and an oncology clinical nurse specialist qualified in pain management.

BELLEVILLE RESIDENT Ewa Wojciechowski receives her graduation certificate for completing an intensive home health care training course and earning state certification as a Home Health Aide from George Batten, executive director of West Essex Community Health Services (WECHS), a nonprofit community, hospice and home health care agency.

Clara Maass Medical Center starting new programs for parents

In recognition of the many changes, adjustments and responsibilities a new mom and family members encounter with the birth of a baby, the Maternal Child/Health Department at Clara Maass Medical Center has created a number of programs and services that enhance the special experience of childbirth, in addition to providing new and growing families with the knowledge and skills necessary to prepare for a positive childbirth experience.

New classes and programs are currently beginning for interested couples. They include prenatal and postpartum exercise, preparation for childbirth, breastfeeding, Welcome Baby, Spotlight on Grandparents and infant CPR and safety. Coach beepers are also available for rental.

Future plans include a 24-hour newborn channel for parents. "It's not always possible for a new mom to view a particular program at a specific time. What the newborn channel will do is allow her more flexibility when watching an educational program," said Donna Makris, parent education coordinator at the medical center.

The 7-day-a-week newborn programming will maximize the inforreceive during their short hospital

The Newborn Channel will provide continuous educational programs on such subjects as infant care, nutrition, and postpartum care, and is intended to supplement the maternity nurse's instruction.

Innovative design, technology enhances diamonds' brilliance

For centuries, diamonds have symbolized the mystique of romance and the invincibility of true love. The ancient Greeks thought diamonds were the tears of the gods, and likened the inner fire of diamonds to love's passion.

The first diamond engagement ring was presented to Mary of Burgundy in 1477, by her fiancé, Archduke Maximilian of Austria. In recent years, according to the Diamond Information Center, seventy persent of all bridge. Center, seventy percent of all brides-to-be have been recipients of a diato-be have been recipients of a diamond engagement ring.

The recent introduction of Royal Cut diamonds provides an exciting option for the '90s: gems that look up to 50 percent bigger and sparkle more brightly than any other diamonds of the same carat weight.

"Some customers want to be the first."

"Some customers want to be the first to flash what appears to be a seven to flash what appears to be a seven carat diamond ring, and to tell admirers that it is, in fact, a 5 carat Duchess diamond ring. Others won't tell; they'll keep it their own quiet secret, and let family and friends think that it is a bigger diamond," says Glenn Markman, a vice president of Suberi Brothers, the New York diamond jewelry manufac-turing company that discovered and now distributes the Royal Cuts.

Innovative design and cutting technology is employed to produce diamonds that are shaped with more width on top, giving them the appearance of being up to fifty percent larger. And, unlike traditionally-cut diamonds, which have only 58 facets, the Royal Family's Empress CutTM, Duchess CutTM, Baroness CutTM, and Grace CutTM diamonds, have between 62 and 64.

"These special cuts offer a great value and style. And they are flexible enough to be used as center stones and surrounded by traditional baguettes, or combined together to create sophisticated versions of the classics,

Suberi Brothers also provides a Certificate of Guarantee for every piece of jewelry that incorporates Royal Cut diamonds, ensuring the quality and outbastics. quality and authenticity of each gem

A BEAUTIFUL SECRET - This A BEAUTIFUL SECRET — This stunning solitaire engagement ring, which appears to be at least five carats, actually features a 3.61-carat Baroness Cut™ diamond from Suberi Brothers' Royal Cut™ family of fancy cut diamonds.

POINTERS

offer the following tips regarding the tricky task of reception seating:

• When selecting a reception site, couples should ask how many tables are available, where they are positioned, and how many guests can fit at each.

• Buffet-style receptions do not require formal seat assignments, but if the reception features a served meal, a seating chart and place cards help things run smoothly

Guests' names should be written on both sides of place cards so those across the table can see and remember

* The bridal party is often seated with the best man at the bride's right, maid of honor at groom's left, then the rest of the party at their sides, alternating men and women.

 Parents, clergy members and other close relatives usually comprise a family table. A modern-day etiquette note. Divorced parents should be seated separately and the seated separately and the seated separately are seated separately. arately, each hosting their own table

Before we get started, a word of thanks to those people who read last weeks column about my friend Rich Cavaliero and expressed some kind words.

Even though you didn't know Rich, your thoughts were appreciated.

BELLEVILLE BASEBALL COMMISSION

The Belleville Baseball Recreation Junior and Senior league concluded the regular season this week. Double elimination tournaments will begin this week to determine the league champs in both leagues.

For the first time this year, the recreation leagues will be represented in post season tourneys. The senior league will be sending an all star team to the Northern New Jersey Senior League and will also be represented in the Essex County Baseball League.

Representatives from the Junior League will enter the Rick Cerone Tournament in Newark. The Junior League will also look to place two 9 and 10 year old teams into all star competition or hold an in-town double elimination tournament.

Post season play for the Recreation League was made possible this year through the newly formed Belleville Baseball Commission. The commission consists of representation from the junior and senior leagues and the Belleville Little League.

Local merchants sponsored the teams this year. The sponsors fees allowed the commission to hire accredited umpires, purchase all star uniforms and pay the required entrance fees to the post season tournaments.

Members of the Baseball Commission credit the improvement that took place in the leagues this year to the local merchants and organizations that sponsored the teams.

The standings in the respective leagues are as follows.
JUNIOR LEAGUE EAST: Centanni's (5-3), Vic & Cathy (5-3), Crystal Tel (5-3), Bradley Tire (4-4), Chandelier (4-4),

JUNIOR LEAGUE WEST: Charles Jewelers (7-0-1), Belleville Sport (6-2), Auriemma Electric (4-2-2), Michaels Rosmon (3-3-2), Atlantic Uniform (3-5), Giordano Law

SENIOR LEAGUE: Stadium Sportscard (7-1), Mautones Lunchenette (6-2), Varsity Club (6-2), B.A.S.E. (4-4), Belleville Ind. Hardware (4-4), Russo Chiropractic (4-4), Algieres Pisseris (2-6), Philmore Associates (2-6), Perna Law Office (1-

LIFT-A-THON

The opening high school football game is still over three months away, but prepartions for the 1993 season are underway. A big step toward the season is the annual lift-a-thon, which will commence this Saturday morning at the Belleville High School weight room. The event will start around 9:30 a.m. and will be run by head coach John Senesky and his coaching staff.

Prosepctive players will be looking for pledges in prepartion for the lift-a-thon. At the event, each player will bench press for

Each sponsor will pledge a minimum of a penny per pound for the amount of weight the player can bench press for three

For example, if a sponsor pledges .02 for every pound lifted for three reps, and the player bench presses 150 pounds for those reps, then the payment due would be 150 pounds x .02 per pound, or $3.00 all together.

No sponsor will be required to pay in excess of $5.00, even if the pledge exceeds that amount.

No money will be collected until the pounds lifted has been verified by a member of the Belleville football coaching staff. Sponsors are welcome to attend the event. If the sponsor cannot attend, then the player will pick up payment in the days following the event.

The proceeds of the event will go toward the Belleville football scholarship program and toward various football related items for the players.

All sponors will receive a 1993 bumper sticker. On that sticker, the 1993 schedule will appear.

The Bucs will face the same teams they did in 1992. The first six contests are night games and they will all begin at 7 p.m.

The season opener is at Don Bosco in September 24. The Bucs have won the past three games against the Ironmen and four the last five. Last year, Belleville won 12-0 in the season opener at Doc Ellis Field.

In week two, powerful Hackensack comes to town on October 1. Hackensack has won the previous five games against Belleville, including last years 27-0 victory. Hackensack went on to win the Group IV, Section I title last fall.
On October 8, Paramus Catholic will visit Doc Ellis Field.

P.C. has won the past two meetings against Belleville. The Bucs last victory in this series came in 1990, a 21-6 triumph at Paramua.

On October 15, it's off to Bergen Catholic for the first time since 1965. Last year, these two teams met at Doc Ellis and B.C. broke open a close game in the fourth quarter and won 34-3.

The two teams also met in 1984 and '85, with Bergen Catholic winning both by scores of 21-0 and 3-0 respectively.

Belleville is home the following three weeks against Randolph, Paramus and Teaneck. The Randolph game is on October 22 at 7 p.m. This is the first time that Randolph has played at Doc Ellis Field. Last year, the Rams won a tough game 21-9.

On October 29, the Bucs host Paramus at 7 p.m. Belleville has fared well against Paramus of late, winning the past three games and five of the last six.

On November 6, Teaneck comes to town. This will be the first day game of the season and will commence at 2 p.m. The home team has not had much success in this series of late. The Bucs won last years game at Teaneck, but have not beaten Teaneck in Belleville since 1983. Teaneck has won at Belleville

Mundy, Morgan named to NNJIL

There's no telling how the final two weeks of the 1993 baseball season at Belleville High will carry over into next spring, but the pro-gnosis is certainly encouraging. Nick Grande finished his sixth year as head coach by leading the '93 Bucs to a 13-12 mark. The Bucs won three straight and four of its last five games to finish over .500 after the team struggled mightily at the outset of May.

The kids wanted to finish the year on a strong note," Grande said. "After that Nutley game (a 16-0 defeat in the GNT quarterfinals). we had two ways to go. We could have given up, or we could get it together and make something out of the rest of the year.'

Belleville won its final three NNJIL Pacific Division games, stopping Don Bosco twice and beating Nutley 13-3 in the season finale, at Nutley.

There was a good mix of seniors and underclassmen who helped make the 1993 season successful.

We'll start with the senior class. KEN JOHANSEN: A second team, NNJIL selection for his play in the outfield, Ken Johansen finished the year with a .368 batting average. He had two homers, one a monsterous shot in the GNT win against Verona, and drove in a team high 22 runs.

He had four doubles, two triples, seven stolen bases and drew five walks. He had an on base percentage of .464 and a slugging mark of .553.

With runners in scoring position, Johansen hit .373 with 19 hits.

Johansen was also an outstanding pitcher, compiling a record of 3-3 and a stubborn ERA of 2.06. Ken had two saves. He pitched 44 innings, striking out 38 batters and giving up just 32 hits.

Johansen pitched a no-hitter in the first round state victory over Montclair

KEVIN JOHANSEN: Selected to the second team, NNJIL for his play at shortstop, Kevin had a solid

He hit .356 and drove in 17 runs. Johansen had five doubles and three triples. He had an on base percentage of .467 and a slugging ratio of .507. Johansen also stole ten bases.

With men in scoring position, Kevin was very effective, hitting .386 with 19 hits.

On the mound, Johansen was a very effective player. He had a 4-3 record, 3.44 ERA and recorded

In 42 2/3 innings, he gave up 45 hits and allowed 21 earned runs Johansen struck out 28 and walked

Johansen was one of Grande's

most reliable stoppers in the starting role. He also fared well as a relief pitcher, recording key saves in the win over Verona in the GNT and against Don Bosco at Belleville

His save against Don Bosco was especially effective as he struck out the final two batters with the goahead runs on base

MIKE MORGAN: The senior was named Honorable Mention, NNJIL for 1993. A rightfielder, Morgan batted .356 with a homer

He walked 15 times and had two doubles. Morgan's on base percentage was .587 and his slugging percentage was .441.

With men in scoring position, Morgan hit 406, with 13 hits.

"Mike has the ability to hit the ball a long way," Grande said. "He came around strong in the second half of the year.'

JIM NAPOLITANO: A second baseman, this senior played outstanding defense. At the plate, "Jimmy Nap" had one triple, three ribbies and an on base percentage Overall, Napolitano hit .226 and provided stability on the right side of the diamond. He was also a class individual and was one of the leaders on the 1993 Bucs.

MIKE PULEO: The senior first baseman was one of the most hit .318 with three doubles, one triple and ten ribbies.

Puleo drew 14 walks, had an on base percentage of .300 and a slugging mark of .379. With men in scoring position, Puleo hit .333. He also stole four bases.

JIM LANDON: We move to the junior class, and Landon was a standout performer this spring. A catcher and leadoff hitter (certainly not an easy combination), Landon hit .380 wiht three doubles, one triple, one homer and nine ribbies.

He stole ten bases, had two sacrifices and was hit by a pitch four times. Landon had a .484 on base percentage and led the team with 12 stolen bases. With runners in scoring position, Landon hit .325, with Defensively, Landon was excellent. He was especially outstanding against Don Bosco at Belleville, tagging out three runners at home plate to negate scoring opportunit-

It's safe to say that Landon will be one of the key players on the 1994 team.

ANTHONY CARUSO: A junior, the centerfielder has excellent speed and should take control of the outfield next season.

At the plate, Caruso hit .208,

Davis, Pace, DiMeo, Brunello excel

Another good year for JV baseball

For the third straight season, the Belleville JV baseball team put together an impressive record undr the direction of coach Chuck Martin.

The Bucs were 15-4. That's pretty good, and even more notable when you consider the team won 12 of its last 13 games.

"We were off to a 3-3 start and we were blasted in a game against Bloomfield," Martin recalled. "I wasn't very happy with the way they played and I let them know that. We made some changes in the lineup and the kids responded. It turned out to be a very good season

Couple that with last years 16-6 mark and 1991's 16-5 record and the future of the baseball program at Belleville is looking pretty good.

One of the changes Martin referred to after the Bloomfield loss was to move Sal Berardi to the leadoff role and insert him as the everyday Berardi, who has outstanding speed, responded with a .380 batting average. He also did a tremend ous job defensively.

Dan Brunello was one of the key pitchers before being called up to the varsity in May. Brunello was 3-0 and the lefthander was very effective in keeping batters off balance at the plate.

Sophomore Kevin Davis poses-osesses a world of potential, accord-ing to Martin. Davis was 3-1, his only set back a 3-2 defeat against Ridgewood. "He's a big, strong kid," Martin said. "Kevin has a lot of raw talent. He also pitched against some of the stronger teams in our league. He beat Paramus Catholic, Paramus and Don Bosco.'

Davis also played in the outfield. "He has a rocket for an arm," the coach said. "He can bring it from the outfield to home plate."

Centerfielder Matt McGough

hit .360. The junior was also a good pitcher.

"Matty has great range in the outfield," Martin said. "He has a lot of ability. As a pitcher, he had good off speed stuff."

Mark Bruzzio was also an effective pitcher who threw good off speed pitches and complimented those with a tricky fast ball. In the outfield, Bruzzio excelled in right.

"Mark saved us at least three or.

four times with diving catches,' Martin said.

Chris Imperatrice started the year on JV, but he moved on to varsity early in the season. It was a good move for varsity coach Nick Grande, because Imperatrice put together a 2-0 record for the big club, with a stingy 2.82 ERA.

Sophomore Jason Dunn is "an all or nothing" guy, according to Martin when it comes to Dunn's

"Jason is a very talented kid," the coach said. "I've seen him dominate games, and then there are games where he struggles. He needs to develop consistency, and when he does, he'll be a very dangerous player."

Outfielder Ivan Martin, a fine all around athlete, hit .320 this

"Ivan is a good contact hitter, he year," coach Martin (no relation) said. "He didn't walk a lot, and that's something he'll need to improve on, but he hit .320 for us and was a fine defensive player."

Third baseman Joe Cotugno started the year hitting fifth in the lineup. When Martin made changes, he moved Cotugno to the three spot and the result was impressive. Cotugno led the team in RBI's.

'He's a line drive hitter," Martin said. "And he did well with runners in scoring position."

At shortstop, Anthony DiMeo was outstanding. He hit .440 and impressed his coach with his abilit-

"We call him Les," Martin said of DiMeo. "He's a big, strong kid. He can run and has a lot of power. You haven't even seen his potential yet. Junior Anthony Pace was the cleanup hitter in the lineup. He batted .467 and hit five homers.

"And these five homers were legit," Marrin said. "I mean they were hit. No question about those blasts."

A second base, Michael Corino epitimized the team player.

"Michael knows the game," Martin said. "He handles the bat well and can hit the other well effectively. He is also a good defensive player and handles the pivot well at second base."

Anthony Fetch also played second base. He provided good defense and was a consistent contact hitter.

"A hard nosed player," Martin said of Fetch.

An arm injury limited Mike Sevchelli this year. When healthy, he played in the outfield and was the backup catcher.

vided good power and execellent Two freshman, Carl Piscatowski

and Danny Montalvo also saw JV time and did well. Piscatowski is a second baseman while Montalvo played either second or third base.

Key victories for the Bucs this year came against Paramus (two wins by one run each), Nutley (once) and twice against a strong Don Bosco club. "We only lost one game in the league, and that was to Nutley," Martin said. "If there was a league championship for the JV, we would have won it."

While the players did well, Mart-in warns that they must continue working.

"You can't pick the bat up in March. Hopefully, the kids will be playing legion ball this summer and fall baseball. They have to keep working on their skills. Take a look at the NNIIL Pacific Division, and for that matter, the NNJIL. There are a lot of talented teams out there.

"Those players didn't get to their level without a lot of off season work. It's up to our kids to continue improving."

JOE DE PERI: "J.D." came around very well near the end of the year, playing shortstop and third base. The junior hit .259, with one double, one ribbie and a .538 on base percentage. He hit .333 with men in scoring position and stole seven bases.

DePeri made a phenominal catch of a foul ball at Don Bosco which kept the home team from staging a late rally.

J.D. was also used as a relief pitcher. In 3 2/3 innings, he gave up six hits, no earned runs and struck out one while walking four.

MICHAEL MUNDY: This guy has the ability to be one of the best players in the county next season. A junior, Mundy hit .339 with one triple, one homer, 14 RBI's and four stolen bases, Mundy drew 15 walks and had one sacrifice. His on base percentage was an eye popping .600 and he hit .467 with men in scoring position. Mundy also stole seven bases.

In the season finale at Nutley, Mundy drove in five runs to lead the Belleville attack. He had two monster hits in that game.

On the hill, he compiled a 4-3 mark with a team low 1.66 ERA. Mundy hurled 46 1/3 innings, pitching to a team high 193 batters. He gave up just 40 hits and fanned 56 batters. Mundy walked a miniscule 22 batters, which was best among the starting staff.

The NNJIL named Mundy to its second team for his pitching pro-

ROBERT DENA: A player with statending potential, Dena hit was of the longest balls for Belleville this spring. He started strong and finished with three doubles, one triple, 8 RBI's and one sacrifice. Dena hit a moon shot triple at Bloomfield which propelled Bellev-ille to a come from behind win.

Late in the season, Grande began using Dena as a relief pitcher, and the 6'2, 255 pounder responded with tremendous success. Dena was 0-0 and did not allow an earned run. He pitched 3 2/3 innings, striking out seven and walking just one. Dena gave up three hits.

JERRY TURI: A junior, Turi hit
.238 with two ribbies and an on base percentage of .440. He stole two

In the field, Turi did a good job at shortstop and should be one of the leading candidates for the starting shortstop job next season. SAM MARINO: The junior hit

.250, with an on base percentage of .500. With runners in scoring position, Marino hit .333. He should be a key player on next years team.

DAN BRUNELLO: Grande moved Brunello up to the varsity in May and the sophomore responded. He hit .286, with one triple and five ribbies. Brunello had one sacrifice and drew one walk. His on base percentage was .444.

Brunello's biggest hit on the varsity level was a bases loaded triple in the victory at Nutley.

On the hill, he was 0-3, faring better as a relief pitcher. In 11 1/3 innings, Brunello gave up 15 hits and struck out ten while walking six.

CHRIS IMPERATRICE: This sophomore did a tremendous job on the mound. He was 2-0, with an ERA of 2.82. In 17 1/3 innings of work, Imperatrice gave up 22 hits and seven earned runs. File struck out eight and walked ten.

The Buc pitching staff threw 169 innings, allowed 163 hits and 64 earned runs. The staff recorded 148 strikeouts and put together a very impressive ERA of 2.65.

"We were in a real tough league this year," Grande noted. "St. Joe's and Paramus Catholic met for the Parochial A crown (St.Joe's won), Nutley won the county championship, Hackensack made it to the Group IV, Section I finals and, in my opinion, was the best overall team in our league. Paramus was also a tough team.

The Bucs were 5-9 in the Pacific Division of the NNJIL and 8-3 outside the division. Two key wins outside the Pacific came against NNJIL Atlantic Division powers Bergen Catholic and division champ, Paterson Eastside.

While the varsity season is concluded, baseball in Belleville will be prominent this summer. There will be junior and senior legion baseball and the Belleville Bruins are already playing in ECBL action.

"It was a good year," Grande said. "They were a good bunch of kids. It was enjoyable working with this team."

Clara Maass volunteer program cited as outstanding

For the second consecutive year, Clara Maass Medical Center has been honored by the New Jersey Hospital Association (NJHA) for an outstanding volunteer program. Ten hospital volunteer programs across the state were recognized by NJHA at its annual Applause Award ceremony held at the New Jersey Center for Health Affairs in Princeton.

Clara Maass' volunteer program "One New Jersey," a cooperative effort between the Medical Center and Queen of Peace High School in North Arlington, was one of the ten programs cited. The program links senior high school volunteers with eighth graders from inner city

Medical Society inducts officers

The new President of the Essex County Medical Society, Dr. Daniel D. Manzi of Millburn, at his installation ceremony on May 19, called on his colleagues to work toward insisting that physicians be an "integral part of the current planning for changes during the current Health Care Crises.'

'My administration will support freedom of choice for both physicians and patients in the delivery of health care. The medical profession must be empowered to enforce ethical and clinical standards that continue to place patient's interests first."

"One of the many strengths of our health care system is the highly individualized bond that a patient has with her physician. The patient must maintain the right to decide, choose his or her physician without outside administrative interference." Dr. Manzi, a gastroenterologist who practices in the Belleville-Nutley communities, was born in Newark and is a lifelong resident of Essex County.

Other newly elected officers who took office on May 19 included Dr. Anita Falla of Newark, President-Elect; Dr. George J. Hill of New-ark, First Vice President; and Dr. Alan J. Lippman of Newark, Second Vice President.

Also elected were Dr. George L. Benz of Newark, Secretary; Dr. Francis J. Wyckoff of Montclair, reasurer; and Dr. William A. Anderson of East Orange, Report-elected Councilors include: Dr. Kamalakar Ayyagari of Maplewood; Dr. Joseph F. Carabetta of Orange; Dr. Anthony Del Gaizo of Belleville; Dr. Eugene J. Lind of West Orange; Dr. John F. Mendes of Glen Ridge; and Dr. Robert G. O'Driscoll of West Orange.

schools. Through a mentoring approach, the high school students work with the eighth graders on various volunteer projects around Clara Maass. As a result of the time spent together on volunteer projects, the schools and Medical Center have established a volunteer component that provides support for patients and hospital staff and fosters cultural awareness and exchange, leadership develop-ment, and intellectual, ethical and civic awareness.

Anna Thomas, director of the Governor's office on Volunteerism praised the Clara Maass Medical Center volunteer group for their outstanding efforts.

"Volunteerism and community service is a vital part of New Jersey's services."

The Applause Awards were established in 1992 to recognize the challenging opportunities in volunteering in today's hospitals and to honor accomplishments of hospital volunteer programs. The awards are sponsored each year by the New Jersey Hospital Association, Council on Auxiliaries.

For information on volunteering opportunities at Clara Maass Medical Center, call 450-2150.

MEDICATIONS AND PHOTOSENSITIVITY

While nearly everyone knows to limit exposure to the sun's harmful rays and wear sunscreen, those who take certain medications should be especially careful. These medications may combine with sunlight to decrease the sun exposure necessary to produce skin rashes and sunburn. Increased photosensitivity may also remote skin rashes and sunburn. Increased photosensitivity may also promote such severe reactions as cataracts and reduced immunity. Among the medications that may increase the risk for sun-induced problems are: coal tar derivatives (such as those found in dandruff shampoos), oral contraceptives containing estrogens, nonsterio-dal anti-inflammatory drugs feach as dal anti-inflammatory drugs (such as ibuprofen), thiazide diuretics (" water pills"), psoralens, tetracyclines, and phenothiazines (major tranquilizers) and anti-nausea drugs. in 1989 and '91. The Bucs won at Teaneck in 1990 and last year. The last two games of the year are on the road. On November 13, it's off to St. Joe's of Montvale for a 1 p.m. kickoff. The Bucs last victory in this series occured in 1983. Since then, St. Joe's has won three straight games, from 1990-92. Last years game, at Don Bosco, was a thriller that went down to the wire before St. Joe's

The season finale, of course, is at Nutley on Thanksgiving Day. Kickoff time is 11 a.m. Last years game was a tremendous contest that ended in a seven all tie. Belleville last won in this series in 1990, at Doc Ellis. The Bucs last won in Nutley back in 1983, 12-6.

Nutley last won in 1991, 27-6. The Raiders captured the Group III, Section II championship last season.

We'll have the results of the lift-a-thon in an upcoming issue.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

Chris Everett Lloyd was the last woman, other than Martina Navratilova or Steffi Graf to win the Wimbledon womens' singles crown in recent years. She won in 1981. That year, John McEnroe won his first mens title, stopping Bjorn Borg in the finals.
