Township to get $85,812 total

U.S. sends Belleville $66,933 check to meet Nor'easter damage of Dec. 11

By Howard Klausner

For the first time in its history, Belleville received a Federal Emergency Management Administration check, in the amount of $66,933, delivered to Fire Chief Walter Beresford in his role of Coordinator of Emergency Management for Belleville.

The check was the first installment of a total payment of $85,812, to repay the Township for damage done by the severe winter storm.

Scores of houses were damaged by the high winds, and scores of trees were felled. Highways were left awash.

During the storm, two Belleville Emergency Medical Service firefighters, Joseph Giuliano and Frank Hildenbrand, came to the aid of a motorist on Route 21 whose leg was so severely injured that it was later amputated.

The actions of the firefighters and a civilian, Frank Rizzo of Lyndhurst, and two Clara Maass Mobile Intensive Care Unit workers, Nancy Bombaro and Joallen Ascione, were credited with saving the man's life.

Deputy Fire Chief Charles Aughenbaugh has asked repeatedly that the rescue workers receive official recognition for their achievement.

It was a day in which scores of persons were hauled from damaged cars and taken to hospitals. "Nutley was taking people five at a time," Aughenbaugh said.

Department of Public Works employees put in many hours of overtime to clear the streets, and it took weeks to remove the final fallen tree.

It fell to the Office of Emergency Management to put together the damage estimates which were forwarded to federal officials.

Beresford stated:

"Certain criteria were required and met by the Belleville Office of Emergency Management and due to a joint effort between FEMA and the Belleville O.E.M., the Township of Belleville was eligible to receive federal funding because it works with the federal government.

A State of Emergency Management was declared by the Belleville Office of Emergency Management and through the local efforts of the Emergency Management team, we had our Emergency Operations plan in place, as well as a local response team comprised of professionals to handle the disaster through a coordinated effort of all departments in the Township."

The federal government meets 75 percent of the cost of the storm repair bill, and New Jersey is expected to pay the rest, bringing the total to $85,812.

The money, in a sense, is a windfall because it can be applied to the budget for the coming year, and is an unanticipated revenue.

More than 5,000 enjoy Fourth of July fireworks

STAR BURST - The rockets exploded in air at the fireworks display, carrying on a tradition that goes back to 1776.

They overflowed the Municipal Stadium grandstand and they sat on grassy knolls or on front lawns, the more than 5,000 people who witnessed the Fourth of July fireworks, Sunday.

Congressman Herb Klein made his appearance at the event, shaking hands with people in the stands, accompanied by Mayor Marina Perna.

Klein has been a more frequent visitor to Belleville than any of his known predecessors.

The fireworks display was provided by the Legion Co. of Wappingers Falls, New York. The show was preceded by the conjuring act of Joe Fischer, a popular magician entertainer, who makes many appearances in the area, including visits to schools and hospitals.

The heat of the day gave way to cooler breezes by nightfall, and the audience sat in a comfortable temperature during the show.

The spectacular display of pyrotechnics brought the audience to its feet, cheering, in the final climactic barrage of exploding stars, fountains of color and the concussions of air bursts.

Proposed slash in Library funding denounced as threat to its survival

By Lisbeth Scordo

A proposed cut in the town budget would lower taxes but take money out of the library budget which, according to James J. Cozzarelli, Jr., President of the Library Board of Trustees, is not sufficient enough even without the cut.

The proposed budget would cut the library's budget by 17%. This would be approximately $61,000.

Mr. Cozzarelli said, "We have a national treasure in Belleville. Its being treated as a budget line item. This is not a cut that affects one person; it affects an institution. During campaigns, most politicians said they would stabilize taxes. Now they're deconstructing the library among other things."

If the proposed budget is passed, it would leave the library with a temporary director and no assistant director. The library may have to close on certain days during the week along with the branch library, and Belleville residents may have to pay a fee to join the library.

According to Cozzarelli, the maintenance of the library is already suffering. The roof is leaking and destroying the murals on the ceiling, which were just painted during the 1992 renovations of the library.

"We're not talking about a local issue, said Cozzarelli, "It has national and international interest. This library has put Belleville on the map."

The library has received commendations from Governor Florio and President Reagan for its importance to the community as one of the few remaining historic Carnegie libraries. Prince Charles also requested information on the library because of its positive influence on the community. Bus tours are run from other areas of New Jersey so that residents from other towns can see the library.

According to Mr. Cozzarelli, the library board submitted a proposed alternative budget for the library which the town council did not review.

"There's a lot at stake here, including the future of our children. This library is everyone's university," said Cozzarelli. "I can no longer do it alone. I need the help of my extended family-the community."

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

The world of Lincoln University evolves around Ninja, and as anyone who has seen the Bruce Lee films or the Teen-Age Ninja Mutant Turtles knows, Ninja is a code of ethics that arose in the Orient and which has its expression today in various martial arts - karate being the Japanese version, and the one most popular among the 10 million Americans who practice the art. To people like Belleville's Moise Parker, it is a way of life, and a formidable tool in rescuing people of all ages from the wrong paths of life. It is also handy in safety on the streets. ● ● ● ● Lincoln University is located in Irvington and it functions under the direction of the remarkable Master, Eugene D. Floyd, a trim man of some 158 pounds who holds four World Championships in Karate, and needs a building to house the scores of trophies he has won. Also known as Ninja University, Lincoln U. is Master Floyd's brainchild, and it is aimed at rescuing the young people of the Inner City from the streets. It offers academic courses as well as a rigorous physical training that produces 9-year-olds who can break cement blocks with a chop of their bare hands, teenagers who can put armed gangs to flight, and adults who enjoy having a sound mind in a sound body. And most of all, it inculcates a sense of self respect among people who have been denied any acknowledgement of their own worth. ● ● ● ● Parker, who has a number of state awards for his prowess in Karate, makes his living as an office furniture mover, and most of his free time is devoted to the youngsters in the barrios of North Newark. To Parker, a "good" Master is one who uses his skills for good purposes, and rarely if ever has to inflict physical pain on any one, although karate can be as painful a contact sport as has ever been devised. ● ● ● ● Although weapons of sorts are sometimes used - from metal tipped fans that explode like gunshots to primitive scythes and chained sticks - karate is the art of self defense for the unarmed. It came out of cultures that knew oppression and defenselessness, and it provides its practitioners with self confidence and self respect, but not foolhardiness. "You advertise the fact that you have karate hands," Master Floyd said, "and you're likely to be shot."

The amazing ability to concentrate mind and body into performing incredible feats is not that much different from the training given any athlete, but it is coupled with the teaching of moral values which a purist might see as limited - there is little reference to love or righteousness in the karate lexicon - but there is a great deal of emphasis on respect for human dignity. ● ● ● ● For youngsters, it has an added meaning, Master Floyd said. "These children know the proper behaviour required in emergency situations. They would not panic if faced with a life threatening situation, like being trapped in a burning building. They are trained to take measures appropriate to insure not only their safety but the safety of others as well."

He operates a sister university for women, and again, the benefits are both practical and emotional. The confidence to face virtually any situation is coupled with a good physical conditioning. Teaching students that they can "accomplish things once thought impossible" means more than the ability to deliver a karate kick. It means an ability to make goals in life and achieve them, and that is a worthy goal for any university.

We asked Belleville Historian Ed O'Neill for some information about the Kidney Monument in the Belleville Reformed Church cemetery. It is where the members of American Legion Post 105 lined up to salute the memory of the 65 Revolutionary War soldiers who rest in the historic graveyard. He responded with this note:

"Captain James Kidney, Captain Henry Joralemon, Halmark Joralemon and Jacob Garland on a dark and wintry night caught the British relaxing at a school house dance in Bergen Heights. They selected the highest ranking officer and a Loyalist refugee and bundled them off to a waiting sleigh and brought them back to Second River (later Belleville). For several generations, the Joralemons proudly exhibited the silver-belted sword of the captured officer. Richard Kidney's home near Smallwood Avenue had holes in its front door made by British bullets."

Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, met his wealthy friend, Pluto Cat, recently and asked about the future of the country. "Getting Socks into the White House is the best thing that has happened. We are moving from a Dog-gone economy to a Cat-alogue of wonderful programs that will Cat-apult us into sheer Cat-nip. I assure you, this Administration is the Cat's Meow!" ● ● ● ● The Kool Kukumber Boys, according to their Leader, Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch, are broadening their Summer Recreation plans to include a certain amount of culture. "They heard of Pavarotti in The Park," Zilch said. "Now they want to have something like 'Mario in The Fog' or Doc Noonan reading 'My Belleville Address'."

There must be some Finnish stock among us. After all, they were among the earliest settlers of New Jersey and their descendants were famed among the lumbermen of the American forests. According to Keith Wind, who isn't Finnish, himself, but was pleasantly exposed to Finland while in the State Department, they are a wonderful people, and he is encouraging more Americans to learn about Finns by the simple expedient of meeting them. He is involved with the Finnish American Cultural Exchange, Inc. which seeks American host families for Finnish exchange students. The youngsters are among the cream of the crop of their nation, and they have their own insurance and pocket money while here. For more information, you can call Keith at his New York Office, (212) 724-5827. "We also seek placement for Estonians," he says.

Chemical spill fumes fell three residents in mishap at local manufacturing plant

By Howard Klausner

Township authorities reported that three persons complained of illness after a chemical spill occurred at the Van Dyk plant on William Street, June 18.

The accident occurred when a roof top storage tank for waste chemicals overflowed.

Deputy Fire Chief Charles Aughenbaugh estimated that 150 to 200 gallons of the volatile liquid - a mixture of several chemicals - flowed into a pipe that led to a storm sewer at William and Main Streets.

From there, it flowed into the Passaic River.

A 63-year-old woman reported that she was in her garden when she smelled a strange odor and then saw a mist. Her eyes, nose and throat had burning sensations and she had a bitter taste in her mouth.

A 52-year-old woman said she was in her house when she saw people running about in the street. She went outside to inquire and then she, too, experienced a burning sensation of her nose, eyes and throat.

A third woman also reported similar symptoms.

Chief Aughenbaugh summoned an engine company, an Emergency Medical Services ambulance and the Essex County Hazardous Materials Squad to the scene. A total of 19 firefighters were on hand to flush away the chemicals.

The United States Coast Guard and the New Jersey Maritime Police were also notified of the spillage.

An analysis of the chemical indicated that 50.6 percent was toluene; 21.1 percent was Di-ethyl hexanol; 8.8 percent was ethanol;

4.0 percent was ethyl acetate; 1.9 percent was methanol; 1.8 percent was methyl acetate; 1.7 percent was water; 1.5 percent was ethyl hexyl acetate; 1.1 percent was butyl alcohol, and 7.5 percent was non-volatile residue.

Toluene is a volatile chemical, as are the others listed as ingredients of the spillage.

Fire Captain Carmen Vicari is in charge of the investigation into the incident. No charges were filed against the firm, and the cause of the accident is listed as accidental.

DARE graduates 240 sixth graders

Two hundred and forty sixth grade students received their DARE certificates and hats June 23 at ceremonies held at the High School.

The students participated in a 17 week program given by the Belleville Police Department. Guest speakers included Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello, Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd, Barbara Cicalese, Trustee Belleville Board of Education and Chairman of the B.A.S.E. Committee, Debbie Meola, Substance Awareness Coordinator for the Belleville Board of Education, and State Senator John Scott of the 36th District. Senator Scott also presented students with a certificate of achievement from the State Senate. Instructors for the course were Lt. Joseph Rotonda, Detective Peter Fraone and Detective Craig Mack.

Next year's activities will include a ski trip, a visit to Port Newark where students will visit the U.S. Customs Service, and be taken aboard a shipping vessel, and dances to be held at the middle school.

All sixth grade students in the Township will participate in the DARE program starting September.

OUR OPINION

Not good enough

Belleville businesspeople who see the lack of downtown shopper parking as strangling their businesses were understandably upset when the Township Council rejected a proposed $1 million bond issue, ostensibly aimed to provide a parking deck on the present Municipal lot on Washington Avenue, next to Town Hall.

Among the many problems with proposal is that it was done without input by the local business community, and the businesspeople were not given any strong signal that would have had them come to the Council Chamber to support the bond.

Another problem is that it would have provided some 50 to 60 spaces.

The present lot has about that many spaces now, so the expenditure of a million dollars would have produced no more than a dozen new parking spaces.

The worst thing about the proposal is that it did not go far enough.

Multi-level parking for 150 to 300 spaces is the minimum goal that should be sought.

To have a serious effort to revive the downtown shopping district, and bring in the jobs and the ratables that would result, Belleville should do what every other community has done - create a Parking Authority and fund it from meter revenues.

Meter revenues would make it salable to banks and other lending institutions, and would enable the bonds to be paid without recourse to taxation.

There are constant rumors that the Motorcycle Mall will move to larger quarters. If this happens, a potential shopping mall would be available, and this would require off-street parking.

It would also require a pedestrian cross-over.

And it would certainly mean that shopper parking would be a necessary part of any downtown rebirth.

A little late, Charlie

The explosion of temper voiced by Councilman Charles Cerami as he accused Township Manager Stephen Cuccio of having "pulled the wool over our eyes" at a budget hearing is somewhat late in coming.

It was Mr. Cerami, after all, whose vote overturned the Administration that the public thought it was supporting, last year.

It was he who made possible the firing of the Township Attorney, the Township Manager and the Township Engineer - all by one-vote majorities.

It was Charlie Cerami who enabled a handful of people to halt Belleville's march to responsible government.

Perhaps Mr. Cerami believed he was helping good government by his disruptive vote.

Up to now, he has shown little of the perception or backbone that would enable him to halt the march to chaos that marks the present Administration, nor are we sure he is interested in trying to undo the damage he has done.

If somebody pulled the wool over Charlie Cerami's eyes, that is regrettable, but the one who supplied the wool was Charlie, himself.

A lapse of taste

In its efforts to be on the cutting edge, Saturday Night Live has been remarkably successful, and occasionally disastrously wrong. There have been skits that have failed terribly.

One of the worst of these was the business involving Madonna and an actress supposedly portraying the President's teen-age daughter, Chelsea Clinton.

It was bad enough for the skit to intimate a liaison between the President and Madonna, but when it went into a relationship between Chelsea and Madonna, it reached a new low.

The writer of the skit has written a letter of apology to the President, and the producer of the show has announced it will not be re-broadcast.

The danger of this kind of performance is that it encourages the enemies of free speech, who do enough censorship of the airwaves as it is.

Using free speech cleverly is fine. Abusing it can be a mess.

YOUR OPINION

Closed swimming pool

To the editor:

As you are aware, the Friendly House pool remains closed. The lifeguard was dismissed and again the children in Belleville are disappointed. It is my understanding the long time employee who diligently cared for the pool has been reassigned. And no one is qualified to care for the pool.

Belleville children enjoy and look forward to recreation activities. Children should not be disappointed. The Rec pool offered an excellent diversionary activity for the township children, thereby keeping them out of trouble. Can you please explain why the children of Belleville must suffer?

I ask you to put the children first and find a way to open the Friendly House pool.

Dan writes

To the editor:

And so it goes M.E.D. - a major miscalculation that teachers are my target - that kids not my afterthought - that teachers not deserving credit due - a fallacy - it's funny money the root of all evil. I feel that many of you good people are brain washed which distorts your sense of values and your leaders using trickery to leach dollars from the lowly taxpayers and tenants - like your last contract - 7 percent increase for the first year - 6 percent-3 percent split second year average of 7.63 percent - the third year likewise compounded AND 1 1/2 percent of the preceding year, 3 percent as a starting salary - a low blow and they snicker as they skip to the bank. How can we have faith and you dealing from the bottom of the deck.

Also your miscalculation of the business world workers lacks foresight - if be salaries may be equal but they lack job guarantees and the golden egg benefits. At age "50" they're out - over qualified but many teachers are overqualified with a higher pay input and no age 50 and out. Come down to earth M.E.D. These people in the market place work twice as hard - worrying about bread on the table - taxes - payments and the stress so great to subsist is a two job schedule. Try it for size if you can. Isn't it wonderful that we the lowly shoulder your load, our load and like I said before - the world.

Your letter lacks forethought - why industry is going by-by. Perpetual union demands have priced us out of the world marketplace and so they go and jobs to boot - so goes the economy and they now cry. Greed is evil like sin and they brought upon themselves a monster and we all suffer. Now the business world is one hell of a place to work in and you have the best of the deal.

I don't want to insult your intelligence nor your person but fighting against each other, as you say, is not cricket but I'm at a loss to see a silver lining with unemployment at 9 percent or better - bankruptcies galore - foreclosures the highest in the nation and Florio says things are getting better - this wracks my imagination to the quick as we go deeper into the mud.

It's apparent that you are union oriented - that you deserve the best and don't care from whence it comes, but you've forgotten our young 'uns. What's in the market place for these kids of our future who will wander about aimlessly, mortgaged to the hilt and no where to go. This is your world and their world, not mine - your kids and grandkids and mine also - help remove this yoke from their shoulder so they walk tall and not fall by the wayside to drugs, despair and no return.

M.E.D., your heart is in the right place but your path of travel is the old road. What's fair to you is not fair to me but betwixt and between the twain can meet - your increases decreased, your benefits are a plenty but none more - then money will embellish our economy and we can breathe again. We're on one side of the tracks and you're on the other - we're fighting for survival and you all a lush lifestyle. Let's compromise on the coming negotiations or there will be no peace. Respect is tantamount and fairness is the game.

Palagano praises peers

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my family, friends and my loyal campaign workers for sacrificing their precious time to help with my successful bid for the Democratic 5th District Freeholder nomination. All of your hard work is greatly appreciated and will not be forgotten.

To all 5th District Democrats residing in Belleville, Bloomfield, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells, Glen Ridge, Montclair, North Caldwell and Nutley, I appreciate your taking time out to exercise your right to vote on June 8th.

This victory merely affords me the opportunity to represent the Democratic Party in the General Election. I want all of you to know that the race in November will not be an easy one to win. I realize that much hard work lies ahead and I will not stop campaigning until 8:00 p.m. on November 2, 1993.

I want all residents of the 5th Freeholder District to know, whether you are Republican, Democrat or Independent, if I am fortunate enough to be elected in November, I will work as hard to represent your best interest on the Freeholder Board as I have worked while campaigning. During my 10 years as a Councilwoman in the Township of Bloomfield, I have been very accessible to my constituents and I plan on being just as accessible to the residents of the 5th District.

Again, I thank all of you for your support in the Primary and I am looking forward to your continued support during the General Election. If anyone would like to contact me, I can be reached at (201) 893-0235 or you can write to me at 542 East Passaic Avenue, Bloomfield, NJ 07003.

Keep dogs at home

To the editor:

Now that summer weather has arrived, I want to remind readers of how hot the inside of a car gets on a hot day even with the windows partially open. The Humane Society of the United States warns: When it's hot — leave your pet at home! In New Jersey, it is against the law to leave dogs in hot cars and readers should notify local police or the SPCA immediately.

On a warm day the temperature in your car can reach 160 degrees in a matter of minutes. With only hot air to breathe, a pet can quickly suffer brain damage or die from heatstroke. Open windows, shaded parking areas or air conditioned cars with the motor off won't save your pet's life.

Be sure you know these signs of heat stress: heavy panting, glazed eyes, rapid pulse rate, dizziness, vomiting, or a deep red or purple tongue. If your pet does become overheated, get him into the shade and take these emergency steps:

- Apply ice packs or cold towels to the head, neck and chest.
- Don't give an unlimited amount of cold water. Let him lick ice cubes or even ice cream.
- Get the dog to a veterinarian immediately. It could save your pet's life.

Flyers are available free of charge from our office which can be placed on car windows, in store windows, or on bulletin boards to warn people of the hazards of leaving pets in hot cars. Please send a legal size, self-addressed stamped envelope (29 cents) with your request for flyers to: "Hot Car," the Humane Society of the United States, 270 Route 206, Flanders, NJ 07836.

Interaction Committee sets goal of improved township cooperation

By Lizbeth Scordo

The recent Community Interaction Committee Meeting held at Belleville High School was run by Mrs. Barbara Cicalese, chairperson of the committee.

Mrs. Cicalese stated that the goal of the committee is: "To foster and enhance a better community working relationship through open communication with various Belleville Township agencies and citizens; to act upon recommendations of this committee to create and ensure a positive working attitude within the Township of Belleville."

Mrs. Cicalese recommended that Belleville should have a Christmas week. She wants to coordinate the schools and a tree lighting ceremony in town. Other various activities would be involved in Christmas Week.

Bob Reiser, representative of the Renaissance Committee, stated that Bill HR 35 will be introduced into Congress soon, proclaiming Belleville as the birthplace of the American Industrial Revolution. The Renaissance Committee wants more of the history of Belleville as well as guest speakers from the Historic Society included in the curriculum of Belleville's schools.

Several students attended the meeting expressed concerns that there are not enough places and activities in Belleville for teenagers to spend their free time. It was suggested that the town organize activities one night a week for the young people of Belleville. Councilman Mario Drozd asked that a survey be taken to see what the students want.

Lou Paraboschi, President of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the Chamber would like to ask a select number of businesses in the Township to become Partners in Education. This would involve internships or jobs for students.

Mrs. Barbara Spillane said that Belleville had a Heritage Day years ago involving ethnic foods, dance and dress in which the community became very much involved. Mrs. Spillane is looking into putting a Heritage Day together for the Fall or next year.

Belleville Library's summer plans include entertainment, education

By Lizbeth Scordo

This summer, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will be offering more programs than ever before for everyone in reading and the arts.

Acting Library Director Adrea Cohen said, "The library is really serving as the cultural center of the community by offering outstanding programs for all ages."

In the James J. Cozzarelli, Jr. Children's Room there are different programs and activities almost every day for children. "Celebrate Books" is a celebration of reading, theatre and the arts aimed at educating people in all of these subjects.

On different days throughout the summer youngsters have the chance to listen to stories, join art classes in the art studio, watch puppet shows, participate in theatre workshops or watch movies related to books they have read.

The library is also offering a variety of programs for teen-agers and adults.

"We're trying to reach out to all areas of the population," Mrs. Cohen said.

There will be summer crafts for teen-agers, adults, and seniors throughout the summer. These crafts include everything from puppet making to bracelet making.

Other programs at the library include a teen-age book discussion which will meet four times over the summer so that teen-agers can discuss their favorite book with Principal Librarian Frederick Lewis. There is also a film showing with a discussion following on Thursdays.

A CD-ROM workshop will be run by Cindy LaRue for all those interested in learning about the library's newest computer which gives the reader access to all areas of information.

A program running this summer only is "An Alternative to Television". Every Monday night there will be a different guest entertainer at the library. The library hopes to eventually get some funding from local businesses for these special nights as it has in the past.

Mrs. Cohen said, "This year we're celebrating books at the library. But our focus is not just on books, but on arts and theatre as well."

Health Officer warns on meat

Now that barbecue season is here Belleville Health Officer Thomas Longo would like to remind the public of the importance of adequately cooking ground beef.

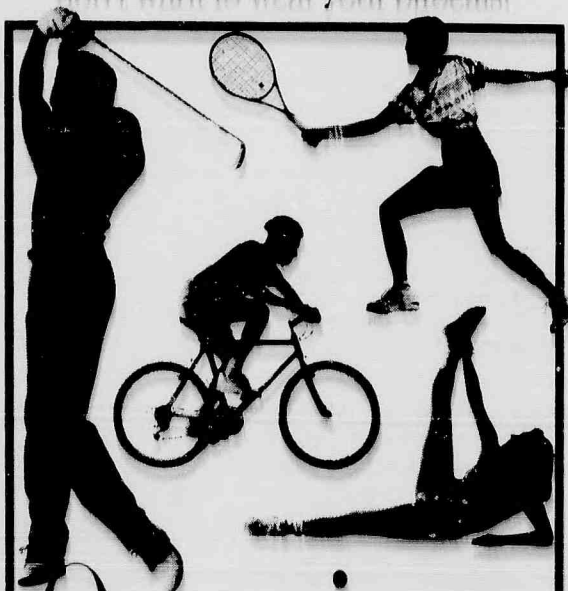

Inadequately cooked ground beef can result in serious illness. Contaminated ground beef is believed to be responsible for many of the outbreaks of illness caused by the bacteria E.Coli. In mild cases diarrhea can result. In more serious cases children from 1-10 years of age can develop Hemolytic Uremic Syndrome. H.U.S. is a dramatic illness that most commonly develops 2-4 days after a bout of gastroenteritis that is accompanied by bloody diarrhea. The bacterium release a toxin that injures specific cells and then triggers a violent reaction throughout the body, but primarily the kidney. Most cases occur in the warmer months between April and October.

There is no established cure for H.U.S. Nearly 5-10% of the children die during the acute phase of the disease. A small majority of the children experience a complete recovery. However 10-30% of the children who survive have permanent kidney damage. There have been reported cases of H.U.S. in the area.

Inactivation of E.Coli 0157:H7 is possible with sufficient cooking temperature. People preparing hamburgers at home should cook them thoroughly: juices should run clear and there should be no pink meat. The internal product temperature of 155 degrees F. is recommended for adequate cooking.

Severe disease in children is always tragic when it occurs. H.U.S. is not well known except to families who suffer its ravages.

Kogan leads '93 tennis team

By Mike Lambert

The buses can finally be shut off. The redundant traffic jams to and from Bergen County schools are now a thing of the past. And the disappointment of having to play 20 matches on the road is now a memory.

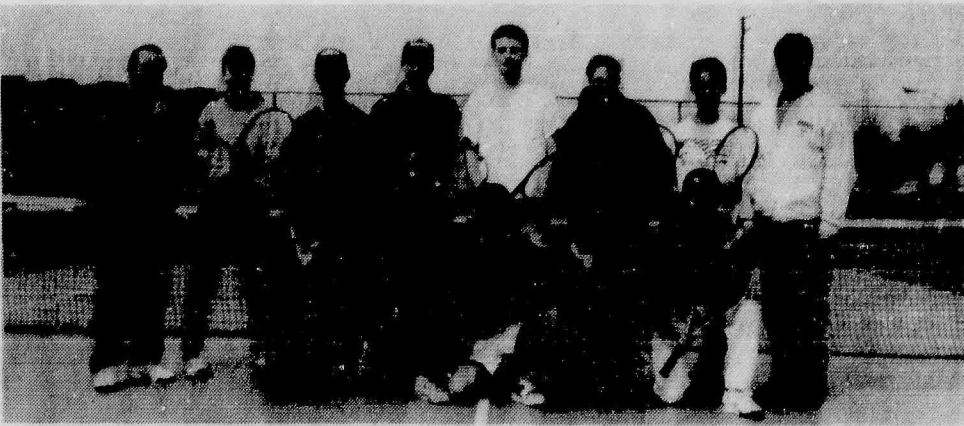

The Belleville High School tennis team finished the '93 campaign with a 6-14 record under coach Tony Salese. The team was quite competitive, losing five matches by the closest of scores in a tennis match, 3-2. There were some individual highlights and Salese is optimistic about the future of his players. He is not so optimistic, however, about the future of the tennis facilities at Belleville.

First, a word about those facilities. Enough has been said over the past three months about how the team had to endure what seemed like an endless road trip because of a lack of proper playing facilities in Belleville.

As you will see with the pictures that appear in this week's issue, the tennis courts need attention. Hopefully, they will receive some kind of thought between now and this fall, when the girls' tennis team will begin their season.

Salese has been at the helm of boys' tennis for six years now. During that span, he has not coached the team, at home in a varsity match. Salese has been the girls' tennis coach for four years, and needless to say, home matches for the Lady Bucs have been nil.

While a great deal of attention has been paid to the courts this spring by this newspaper, the problem is, obviously, not new. And sadly enough, not long ago, the courts at BHS were in pretty good shape. Just eight years ago, there were two sets of courts at the school, one opposite the football field and parallel to the varsity baseball diamond and the other in the parking lot adjacent to the high school.

Not too long ago, the tennis team could host varsity and JV matches at Belleville. Today, the courts opposite the baseball and football fields is nothing more than assorted cracks and a field hockey practice site. There is no evidence that tennis courts ever existed there, with the exception of the lines on the court.

The courts in the parking lot are equipped for tennis. In other words, they have nets. Now, if you can just avoid the many cracks that are wide enough to have a tennis ball fit comfortably, you can have a pretty good match.

You will also notice that the cracks are now growing grass, so it's safe to say we have the most attractive deplorable courts in this area.

The only question posed by this writer is, how did the courts ever become so neglected and couldn't a little preventative maintenance avoided the eyesores we now have at the high school?

Anyway, getting back to the varsity tennis team, Semyon Kogan had a tremendous year at first singles.

"Semyon was the first player during my coaching tenure to advance in the state tournament," Salese said. "He was within a point of further advancing, as well."

Kogan finished with a record of 10-6 at the very difficult first singles position. He earned second team, NNJIL honors. An excellent student, Kogan will attend NJIT in the fall and hopes to continue his tennis career there.

At second singles, junior Tomas Wozniak showed excellent potential and is a first singles candidate for 1994.

"He has the ability," Salese said of Wozniak. "He played some tough inter league competition. If he continues working during the off season, he can be a first singles player."

Senior Predrag Prvulovic competed at third singles, as did another senior, Jossar Gomez.

"Both guys did well," Salese said. "They were a pleasure to have on the team."

Prvulovic will continue his education at culinary school next fall while Gomez will be attending

William Paterson College.

Players who competed in doubles that have a chance to move to singles next year include Oscar Benavides, Tuan Bui, Dal Nguyen, Wesley Tahair, Tien Nguyen, Ben Dookchitra and Chaitan Narsule.

Among some of Belleville's better performances was a 3-2 setback to undefeated and league champ Teaneck, along with a 3-2 loss to second place and another powerhouse, Paramus.

The team posted wins over Paterson Eastside, Paterson Kennedy, Barringer, Newark Eastside and Paramus Catholic, twice.

Earlier in the season, Belleville had George Kirby at second singles. Kirby, a very talented player who had tennis credentials, transferred to another school early in the season.

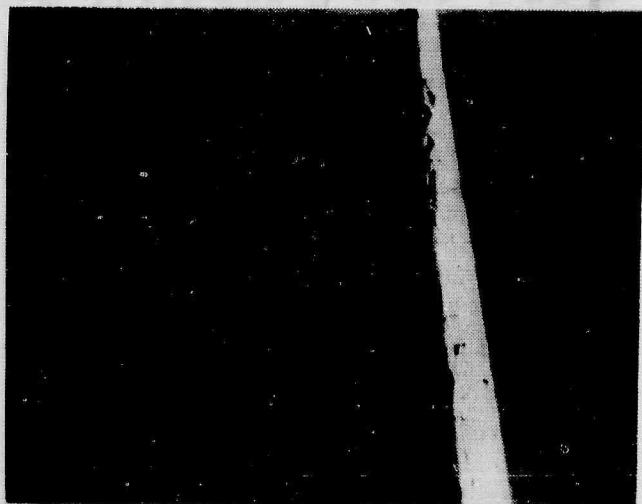

"No doubt, if we had George for the entire season we would have had a winning season," Salese said. "But what can you do? If he moves away, that's the way things go."

And so, the season is over. But the question of whether this program will ever get decent playing conditions in its own home township, will continue for some time.

Tennis anyone? Just watch your step

The picture on the bottom right is from what used to be the tennis courts across from the football field. Today, it's just cracks and weeds. The other three shots are from the tennis courts near the Belleville High parking lot. As you can see, there is plenty of work needed on them.

DeBiase, Nardachone, Quine lead Bruins past W.O.

By Mike Lambert

After dropping two games to league powers Verona and South Orange, the Belleville Bruins rebounded in ECBL action, stopping West Orange 17-7.

Bill Ingraham's team faces a busy week of action as it looks to improve on an 11-11 mark. The Bruins place at the Nugents Black Sox tonight and are host to Cranford tomorrow evening, starting at 5 p.m. from Belleville High. This Sunday, it's back to Nugents for a doubleheader, beginning at 2 p.m. Next Wednesday, the Bruins battle league leading Verona, at Montclair State College.

The story of the victory against West Orange was the outstanding hitting by Mike DeBiase, Rich Quine and Jason Nardachone.

DeBiase, a 1988 Belleville High School grad, was 5 for 5 with a walk and four ribbies. Nardachone, graduated from BHS in 1991, collected four hits, with two doubles and two ribbies. Quine, who graduated from Belleville High in 1992, had four hits and drove in two runs.

Mike King collected two hits and drilled a homer in the first inning. Glen Agens pitched six strong innings and Paul Mirabella worked the final frame to wrap up the victory.

Belleville's .500 season thus far is good for third place in the ECBL. The Bruins trail Verona and South Orange in the standings. The top six teams in the league qualify for post season play.

NOTES: Belleville never looked back against West Orange, leading 10-0 after one inning. In the 3-1 loss to Verona, Belleville was the victim of timely hitting by a former Buccaneer star, Jeff Spillsbury. Belleville pitcher Fran Gallagher fanned ten batters in six innings against Verona. Mirabella had two strikeouts in one inning of work. The Bruins lost 8-5 to South Orange. In that game, DeBiase had a three run double.

37 years!

I can't even imagine being married 37 days and there is a couple that is very close to me that, today, is celebrating 37 years of marriage.

37 years, 34 and a half of those years serving as parents to what hopefully hasn't been the biggest pain in the neck this side of St. Louis.

My parents, Marilyn and Elias are celebrating their anniversary today and my only hope for them, in addition to good health, is that the next 37 years be everything they ever wanted.

As I get older, I realize the massive responsibility attached to parenthood. When I grew up and went to high school in the mid to late 70's, there were the usual distractions attached to being a teenager. Compared to the avalanche of things that the youth of today faces, I guess I had it relatively easy.

I credit my happiness and success in life today to a very happy childhood. And that was because of the enormous sacrifice put forth by my parents in order to make my life a little more memorable.

My parents have been, and continue to be, successful people in the work place. My mother has a PHD and is an administrator of a large medical facility in East Orange. My dad has owned his own business for nearly 20 years (actually it will be 20 years on July 16 of this year). They stressed education and responsibility and I can only hope that one day, when I am in their shoes, that I can do one half the job they did with me.

I guess my mother will always be the person who made my lunch when I was growing up and delivered cup cakes to my kindergarten class. (She also burned me in the sink when I was five years old, but I'm over that now. Just kidding).

My mother is compulsive to the point of perfection. She strives for things that seem unattainable and 99 times out of 100, success is the bottom line.

My father has excelled in a very difficult business world thanks to a level of conservatism that many are not disciplined enough to reach.

I owe them the success I have today, because they put me on the right path.

And so, on this, their 37th wedding anniversary, my heartfelt congratulations and admiration to two very special people.

BRUINS SPLIT TWO GAMES

The Belleville Bruins are now 12-12 in the ECBL following a split of two games last week. The Bruins have a busy week of action this week and you can check on their schedule in the story that appears on page 11.

The Bruins edged West Orange 7-6 on a seventh inning rally. Bill Ingraham and Sal Tremel had key hits in the seventh to forge a 6 all tie and Jim LaRose walked with the bases loaded to force in the winning run.

Paul Mirabella was the winning pitcher, hurling 4 2/3 innings of outstanding relief.

Against Hillside, the team lost 7-3. Belleville took a 1-0 lead in the first when Jason Nardachone and Mike DeBiase singled and Joe Dalanza doubled to score Nardachone.

Hillside tied it in the second and scored five in the third to break the game open.

Belleville scored once in the fourth on a solo homer by LaRose. In the sixth inning, Nardachone walked with the bases loaded to drive in the third and final Belleville run.

The Bruins were tied for third place entering this week's action.

TID BITS

The Yankees were swept in a three game series at Oakland last weekend. To manager Buck Showalter, that's about the equivalent of the 1989 earthquake in San Francisco prior to game three that caused millions of dollars of damage.

Buck, please, before you go gray before your time, would you just enjoy being a major league manager? This intense, I have to spend 22 hours a day in the office bit, is becoming a little dry.

This guy is so by the book and so uptight it can drive you crazy. Take a look at the successful managers of the recent past. Sparky Anderson, Whitey Herring, Cito Gaston, Tony LaRussa, Tom Kelly and Tom Lasorda for instance, don't spend their entire existence watching film of the previous night's game and trying to figure out why a hit and run didn't execute properly.

There's nothing wrong with taking the job seriously, but it's baseball and if you don't win, there's 60 million people in the world who won't even know the final score.

Speaking of baseball, did you hear pooooorr Dave Magadan crying the blues about being uprooted, this time to Seattle? Please Dave, shut up! You're making about one million dollars a year for hitting and catching a baseball. This guy is talking like he's a laborer that's just been transferred to Baghdad and may never see his family again.

True, Seattle is a distance from Florida, but it's not on the other side of the world. I'm sure you're not exactly being treated like a second class citizen. If the check clears, be happy. There's about 30 million people who would change places with you in a moment.

While we're on that subject, a casual word to Danny Manning, another person who has totally lost touch with reality. Mr. Manning is making about $3 million dollars, a year, to play basketball. That's $3 million, whether he plays or not.

And now, Danny says he won't sign a long term deal because he doesn't like the direction his team, the Los Angeles Clippers, are headed. He's not happy with the Clippers perception around the NBA. If you were a franchise player, Danny, you would be the man to bring this team to the next level, a la Magic, or Larry, or Michael.

While I'm sure you could easily make $3 million a year outside of basketball, Danny, it would be really nice if you would think before you open your mouth. Does anyone really care that you don't like your team's direction?

I guess it's all relative. Some people worry about making enough money to feed their families and this guy worries about what his team looks like in the NBA.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

This is actually the answer to the quiz of June 24. The Lakers beat the Detroit Pistons to win the '88 NBA championship. The series went seven games, with L.A. winning the last two games at the Forum. Pat Riley coached L.A. and Chuck Daly was Detroit's head man. Detroit won the NBA title in 1989, beating L.A. in four straight games.

Barrett awarded for excellence

Thomas J. Barrett, President of the Nutley-based public relations firm of Barrett and Mottola, has been named the recipient of the 1993 National Association of Counties (NACo) Award of Excellence in the national category of News/Feature Writing, Speeches, and Radio/TV News Writing for counties with populations of more than 500,000 citizens.

Barrett is slated to receive the award at the annual meeting of NACo officials on July 17 in Chicago, Ill. at a special ceremony in the city's Museum of Broadcast Communications.

He was cited for the Award of Excellence for a speech he wrote for Freeholder Board President

Thomas J. Barrett

Sara B. Bost on Martin Luther King Jr. entitled "The Dream Deferred."

Barrett won the Best of Class Award in the feature writing category in 1991 and was awarded the Award of Excellence in 1992 as well for speech writing.

The annual NACo Awards attracted more than 500 entries this year from more than 50 counties nationwide. This year's award entries were judged by a panel of journalists and public relations professionals from the State of Virginia.

Barrett is a graduate of Villanova University and he holds a Masters Degree from Montclair State College. He is a resident of Short Hills.

A FIRST STRIKE AGAINST ALLERGIES

Allergy sufferers are accustomed to taking antihistamines at the first signs of symptoms, but experts now believe that is not soon enough. It is now recommended that the latest is not soon enough. It is now recommended that the latest generation of non-drowsy antihistamines be taken a week or two before sniffles, sneezes, and wheezes normally appear. These medications should then be used right through to the end of allergy season. According to the American Academy of Allergy and Immunology, launching a pre-emptive strike against allergy symptoms with the new non-drowsy antihistamines helps turn off the allergy process. Waiting until symptoms appear before medicating with these prescription drugs is likely to necessitate more medication to effectively control the problem.

Information on antihistamines, as well as other medications, can be found by coming to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We have a camera & film department and stock transistor radios and Timex watches. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. Happy medications, sun blocks insect repellents and a first aid kit.

NOTE: The above-mentioned medication strategy is intended for those who suffer from seasonal allergies, not chronic allergy sufferers.

Oh, Say Can You See?

The Regions of the USA

The United States is often divided into four regions. Regions are areas of the Earth that are alike in their history, climate, traditions or ways people make a living. While our regions are alike in some ways, they are also quite different in others. For each region, here are just a few industries and farm products and one sight you might see when passing through.

The Northeast

■ covers 5 percent of the U.S. ■ population: 51 million

The land

- Much of the land is rough and rocky.
- The Appalachian Mountains run through much of the region.
- There are many lakes, rivers and valleys.
- Sandy beaches and rocky shores border the Atlantic Ocean.

Some industries:

For many years this region was our main factory area.

fishing shipping banking electronics

Farming includes:

The Book of Presidents (5 1/2-by-8 1/2-inch, 96 pages) features a photo of each president, as well as information such as dates of birth and death, dates served as president, political party, signature, glossary of political terms, a visit to the White House and important achievements.

Do A White Kitchen—Creatively

Create a white kitchen that's anything but bland! This kitchen design from Whirlpool Corporation uses traditional white cabinets, but accents them with black glass on appliances and black toe panels. Background elements of the kitchen include extensive use of wood and patterned wallpaper and fabrics.

The trend toward white kitchens really turns you on, but the white-on-white look is just too bland for your tastes. Can a kitchen be white, without the appearance of boring sameness?

"Actually, doing all or a major portion of a kitchen in white allows more personal creativity in designing a space that's definitely neither bland nor boring," say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation.

They suggest combining white-finished cabinets with contrasting black glass appliances, using touches of brass for cabinet hardware and surrounding the white areas with natural wood tones. The unique kitchen pictured here incorporates white cabinets with grooved panels and a combination of solid and windowed doors. Varied-height base cabinets are topped by white counters with contrasting wood edging. A ceiling skylight and hardwood floors emphasize the basic white and black of the kitchen centers.

According to Whirlpool home economists, this broken "U" kitchen is just as efficient as it is beautiful. On the right, a deluxe baking center features a combination full-size microwave oven and 30-inch self-cleaning electric oven. The elevated end of the adjacent center island offers a convenient spot for handling and serving food from the ovens.

Adjoining the baking center, the food storage area features a deluxe 25-cu. ft. side-by-side refrigerator-freezer. The grooved wood panels installed in its doors match those of surrounding cabinets, giving the appliance a built-in appearance.

Around the corner, the cooking center features a black glass cooktop that incorporates four high speed elements and an easy-clean surface. To take care of steam and cooking odors, a Whirlpool exhaust hood is installed above the cooktop.

Whirlpool appliances installed in the sink clean-up center include a food waste disposer, a trash compactor and dishwasher. This center, in the left end of the broken "U," is conveniently located to both the island and the eating area, offering handy disposal of food wastes and convenient dishwasher loading of soiled dishes.

The eating area, with its glass-topped wicker table, uses patterned accessories that coordinate with the small-print wallpaper design used in both the kitchen and sunny dining alcove. Wicker accessories on counters and green plants atop upper cabinets tie the design elements together, creating a feeling of harmony between high technology and nature.
