Rasmusen Memo at issue

State Commission of Investigation agent denies giving Manager any legal opinion

By Howard Klausner

If Township Manager Stephen Cuccio and an agent of the State Commission of Investigation discussed the Rasmusen Memo, each has come up with different versions of the meeting.

Manager Cuccio stated to the Belleville Times that on July 29, he asked Agent Grant Cuzuppe - whom he knew only as "Grant" - if there had been anything wrong about his presenting an unsigned memorandum to the Township Council in which the Rasmusen Agency was touted as best liability insurer for the Township.

Councilman Bill Cook said that the action was "unethical" because the Council was not told the memo had been written by a Rasmusen employee.

Cook said this was tantamount to "bid rigging".

Cook and Councilman Thomas Spillane also asked Township Attorney Robert Giordano to bring the matter to the attention of the Essex County Prosecutor, which Giordano did the following day.

According to Cuccio, the SCI agent, who has been visiting Belleville since Jan. 15 on an inquiry into Township affairs, advised him that the matter was of no interest to the SCI.

Cuccio quoted Cuzuppe as stating to him: "It had nothing to do with bid rigging. Insurance is not a biddable item. You were only trying to save the Township money."

The Belleville Times contacted the SCI headquarters in Trenton, and asked for confirmation of the conversation by Agent Cuzuppe.

SCI Executive Assistant Thomas Cannon said he had talked with Cuzuppe, and that Cuzuppe had denied that any such conversation had taken place.

"No SCI agent would give legal advice, in any case," Cannon said.

Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd said it was his understanding that "the SCI had cleared Cuccio of any wrongdoing".

So far, there is no allegation by any official body that any wrongdoing did occur. As it turned out, Cuccio suggested that the Gallagher Insurance Agency be retained as the liability insurer for Belleville.

Drozd cast the sole vote against this. Mayor Marina Perna abstained.

Drozd has issued this statement to the Belleville Times:

"Gallagher Insurance's proposal is not subject to a sealed bid. A presentation of their proposal was made at a public work session where all dollar figures were made public.

"Does the Council realize that if the Township has several large claims, it could cost hundreds of thousands of dollars because of the high SIR (Self Insurance Requirement)?"

"I do not understand why the Council did not accept Rasmusen's proposal for $383,204 with a SIR of $25,000, versus Gallagher's of $100,000 for a cost of $394,458.

"The action puts the Township at a higher risk, which I cannot accept, and does not protect the interest of the taxpayers.

"Upon adoption of the Resolution awarding the contract to Gallagher, I still have not seen the E.N.T. and Recreational Policy, not to mention that there is a limit on the Lloyd's coverage. Also, Lloyd's presently has financial problems according to a recent news article.

"I think Bill Cook has not released all of the figures and fact to the papers. In my opinion, this is not the best proposal (Gallagher's) for the Township of Belleville and its taxpayers.

Library strikes out, Mental Health scores as Council works on final budget changes

The Township Council work session on Monday rebuffed a Public Library request for the restoration of $29,000 to its budget, but increased the outlay for Mental Health Services from $25,000 to $60,000.

The only hope the Library may have that some money might yet be restored lies with Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd, who seemed inclined to deny the money, but talked about the possibility of State Aid making up the shortfall.

The fear expressed by a supporter of the Library request, Councilman Tom Spillane, was that once the library functioned for several months without a Director, the Council would decide to have it run without a Director for 1994.

Carol LaMin of the Library said that she and Acting Director Adrea Cohen were facing an overload of work, and now they would be unable to find a full-time Director to alleviate the burden.

Alice Ricci, Executive Director of the Community Mental Health Services made an almost tearful plea for restoration of the cut that reduced the Township support of the Services from $69,000 to $25,000.

"We can understand a 10 percent cut, but not a cut of such proportions. It endangers our entire program," she said.

Ms. Ricci noted that almost 500 Belleville residents have received help so far this year, at costs of $8 an hour, whereas they would have to find private counseling at many times that figure if Services could not provide it.

Councilman Dr. Frank Noonan said it was he who had suggested the cut, because he felt that the Board of Education should shoulder more of the cost.

Dr. Noonan remained the sole holdout when the Council voted to bring the appropriation up to $60,000, still $9,000 under the current outlay.

Cops nab three suspects in house-front hold-up

Belleville and Newark police arrested three young men Tuesday on charges of holding up a Belleville woman in front of her home in broad daylight.

Detective Captain William Escott said the crime occurred at 6:30 a.m., July 19, in front of a home on Naples Avenue.

The victim was standing in front of the house, waiting for a lift to work when two cars came by, a man emerged from one holding a handgun, and her handbag was seized.

Police discovered both cars had been stolen. One was found abandoned in East Orange shortly after the Belleville holdup.

An investigation was made by Detectives Craig Mack, Vincent Celfo, James DelGrosso and Ronald Edwards, culminating in the arrests.

The suspects, ranging in age from 19 to 21, are Thomas Bittle, Luis Quinones and Tyrone Denings, all of Newark.

Police said all the suspects have previous arrest records.

Escott said a fourth suspect was being sought.

Nicholas Roosevelt had first patent for practical steamboat, not Fulton

By Howard Klausner

If his partners had listened to him, the Polacca would have been the first practical sidewheel steamship in America, and the world. But Nicholas Roosevelt went unheeded, and his idea for a vertical paddlewheel would be taken by Robert Fulton to produce the Clermont, years later.

As it was, a patent for the sidewheel steamboat was given by President James Madison in 1814.

A patent given to Fulton several years earlier was shown to be fraudulent, signed by a different person than Fulton.

At least, that is what the New Jersey Legislature determined, in a dispute that made history in the early 19th Century.

The Polacca, using an engine built in Belleville, sailed the Passaic River on Oct. 21, 1798.

Roosevelt had wanted to use vertical paddlewheels for the Polacca, but he was overruled by his financial backer, Robert Livingston of New York.

Later, Livingston backed Fulton - and according to letters written by Latrobe - Livingston also provided Fulton with Roosevelt's plan for the vertical paddlewheel.

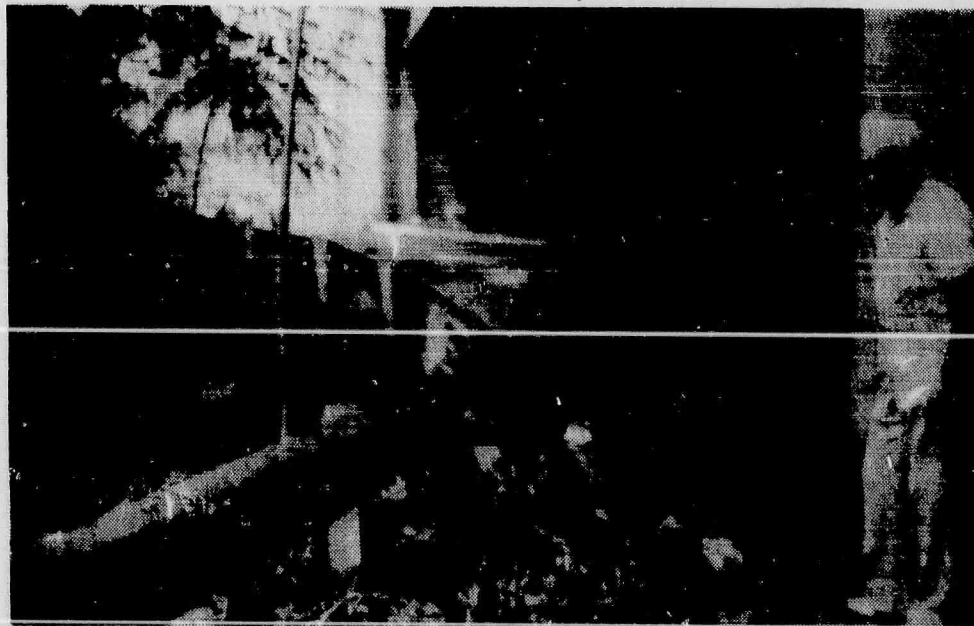

Using an English engine, Fulton launched the Clermont in 1807, and it proved to be a success, making it all the way to Albany.

Later, Livingston, Fulton and Roosevelt joined to produce another steamboat, the Orleans, which traveled from Pittsburgh to New Orleans in 1811, the year of the comet and the earthquake that rocked the American Midwest.

Lou Ciconia, chairman of the Belleville Renaissance Committee, researched the information as part of the effort to have Belleville recognized by the United States Congress as the Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution.

"Some of the greatest figures in American history, and that includes Benjamin Franklin, George Washington and Alexander Hamilton, were here, and almost equal to them were Josiah Hornblower, Livingston, Philip Schuyler, Roosevelt and John Stevens, who later developed the railroad industry. They all were here in Belleville at one time or another, and it was in Belleville that Roosevelt developed the vertical paddlewheel idea. Even Fulton visited Belleville."

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

A very happy 25th birthday to Tina, who has fought a lifelong battle against epilepsy, and who underwent pioneer surgery last year to ease her condition. Tina, whose photograph has appeared in the Belleville Times for her exploits in the Special Olympics, had been in a deteriorating state of health. She was experiencing 60 seizures a month, of worsening magnitude. One seizure was so severe, her mother reports, that she found herself with her "Grammy" and "Grampy" before she returned to the land of the living. ● ● ● ● ●

What appears to have brought her back to at least a condition that the human body can endure were two surgical removals of "hot spots" from her brain. These procedures were tried for the first time by surgeons at New York Hospital last November. Each operation, which required the removal of small portions of the brain, cost $255,000, and Tina's mother is paying $60,000 of that cost - but she says the price was nothing for the results achieved. ● ● ● ● ● "The number of incidents has dropped from 60 to six a month. There were a couple of hot spots that were in parts of the brain that they couldn't reach. But it saved Tina's life." Tina goes daily to her job at the West Essex Center for Epilepsy and is proud of her achievements there. "When we go shopping, sometimes I take my money out of my purse to give to Mummy to buy things," she said. Her recovery and improvement have continued at a rapid pace, daily nurse's care unnecessary. Tina meets with her friends, some of them from the school for children with learning disabilities which she has attended, and her mother reports that her abilities and her self-confidence are increasing all the time. "I want more people to know that this surgery can improve conditions they thought were impossible," her mother said. ● ● ● ● ● Frank Zatorski said he was really feeling down a few years ago. His career as a truck and car rental manager had ended with the closing of the firm. And his doctors told him that he had two blocked arteries to his heart, and the other arteries weren't in such good shape, either. That was in 1984. A Navy Gunner's Mate aboard the U.S.S. Worcester during the Korean War, he turned to the Veterans Administration for help. Medicine rather than surgery was used to unblock his arteries, and something else happened to unblock his outlook on life. "I got involved with the Golden Age Olympics that the VA sponsored. It got me interested in things again." He had always been a competitor, and now he found himself involved with athletics which he had never known - horse shoe throwing and shuffleboard among them. "I would have tried tennis, but I have a sort of stiff leg. So I went out to Michigan, where they had the National Tourney, and I really enjoyed it. I met a bunch of wonderful guys, and we were treated like kings, all the way from the airport to the hotel. And it was like a regular Olympics, with a parade through town and bands and all the rest. But after the fun, it was serious competition." ● ● ● ● ● When it was over, he had won an oversize Silver Medal for horseshoes. "I'd never played horseshoes in my life, until I started with the Olympics. I asked the fellow who came in first how often he practiced. He said three hours a day." He found a friend in the Gold Medal winner, and with everyone else he met. Then, this year, in Johnson City, Tennessee, he won his second Silver Medal, this time for Shuffleboard. "My son met me at the airport and asked what did I bring back for him. So I showed him the medal. I think even he was impressed."

Frank is married to the former Marian Blozen who also grew up in Newark and knew him since childhood. Son Frank Jr. lives in Nutley and daughter Jacqueline Gardner lives in Belleville. Grandson "D.J." - David Joseph, is two-and-a-half, and active enough for the whole family. ● ● ● ● ● Frank became interested in helping the V.A. patients who were not in as good condition as he. He has organized an annual Palm Sunday Easter Party at the hospital in East Orange and this year he raised $1,000 to fund it. He is also involved with the Belleville Lodge, Benevolent and Paternal Order of Elks and this past Saturday, he was handing out equipment at the Elks' Annual Golf Tourney held at Hendricks Field. "Golf? I never played golf. I've always been a Working Man," Frank Zatorski said.

From Amsterdam, The Netherlands, from which much of Belleville's history flows, comes word that Arjan Hijstek of the import firm of Brunschwig Chemla, is in the market for American chemical products. He telephoned the Belleville office recently, seeking information about any local firms that could supply chemicals for export, and we named a couple of local outfits. If anyone is looking for an overseas market, the address of the firm is P.O. Box 74213, Amsterdam, The Netherlands 1070BE. The telephone number is 31 20 611 3133, and Good Luck!

George Johnson, a Printer of the Old School, dropped by recently. Mr. Johnson started in the business in 1929, and he goes back to the time when handset type was still being used by some weeklies he helped print. He weathered the Depression - "We worked for peanuts" - and he was most of his career with International Ticket in Newark. The city was one of the great centers of printing in the United States, and while a good deal of the industry is still there, there is less of it. And the days of hot lead and cold steel are pretty well gone, too. By the 1970s, the printing industry had turned to photo-offset, and pages are pasted up, rather than laid out in sticks of type. The heavy rotary presses with their lead forms wrapped around the cylinders of the presses have been replaced by lightweight aluminum sheets. These days, when a newspaper changes hands, it's the engravers who are dismissed - usually with a healthy buyout, but not always. ● ● ● ● ● Mr. Johnson very nearly did not get started at all. At the age of three, careless use of matches burned his left side to the point where he was one of the worst cases in history to survive. He lay six months on his back, strapped between banks of burning electric lights, which were supposed to aid the healing process. He still cannot raise his left arm high, but he managed to learn his trade, and he was a good Union man, becoming Shop Steward at his firm. "We never had a strike, but we were close to a few." There was marriage, a son - now in Florida and retirement in 1984. By that time, there wasn't much to retire from. An age of American industry had ended, but the craftsmanship that went into creating America's second largest industry was provided by people like George Johnson.

Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, our Copy Cat, reports that the telephone mail system at Town Hall has some officials talking to themselves. It reached a peak when Mario called the Township Manager and could get no answer because everyone was busy away from their desks. "They still got no respect for the Deputy!" Mario said, and the Respect Repairman for the telephone company came back for yet another try. ● ● ● ● ● Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch said his organization, the Kool Kukumber Boys, will try to raise money for the Belleville Public Library. "In view of the refusal of the Council to restore a dime of the budget cut, the KKB will hold a read-a-thon, with Council majority members getting a donation of a dollar a page to read a book, any book. Our goal is three bucks!"

Thief uses fire threat

Shopper's Express, a convenience food store on Washington Avenue, lost $60 to $70 to a thief, late Sunday night, when the holdup man poured a pail of gasoline over the clerk and threatened to light the fluid with a cigarette lighter.

The victim, a 43-year-old Belleville man, said the intruder walked into the store around 11:17 p.m. carrying a pail filled with gasoline.

The thief produced a cigarette lighter ordered the clerk to empty the cash register, and then fled on foot with the cash.

The suspect was described as a Hispanic man, 35 to 40 years old, about five feet five inches tall.

END OF THE RIDE - The driver of the 1992 Ford pickup which crashed into a utility pole in front of St. Peter's School on William Street, early Monday morning, was charged with driving while intoxicated. Peter Clemente, 38, of Lyndhurst, told police his gas pedal stuck. First State continues solid earnings

First State Financial Services, Inc., parent holding company for First DeWitt Savings Bank, reported net income of $560,000, or $1.18 per share, for the quarter ended June 30, 1993.

This result brings the earnings for the nine month period ended June 30, 1993 to a total of $2.0 million, or $6.3 per share. The earnings in the comparable 1992 periods were $437,000 or $1.14 per share, for the quarter and $647,000, or $2.0 per share, for the nine month period.

Michael J. Quigley III, chairman and chief executive officer of First State, stated the earnings were coupled with a significant decrease in problem assets. Total non-performing assets have decreased $9.0 million over the fiscal year. A decrease of $4.3 million was achieved over the past three months alone.

The decreased non-performing assets augmented First State's continued strong performance in the area of net interest income. Although problem asset expenses have persisted, the increased level of earning assets will benefit future periods.

Quigley also stated that First DeWitt continues to exceed all regulatory capital requirements on both a current and fully phased-in basis.

First State reported assets of $432.3 million at June 30, 1993. Deposits and loan totals at that date were $393.3 million and $342.8 million, respectively.

Belleville Police Lieutenant Joseph Rotonda announced the appointments this week.

Landon is a Senior at Belleville High School. He is President of the National Honor Society at the school, catcher on the Varsity Baseball Team and a member of the PEP Club. He has an interest in becoming an attorney.

Miss DeLeva is a graduate of Belleville High School and Freshman at Seton Hall University, where she intends to study political science.

She is also a Red Cross Instructor for HIV and AIDS.

Marcia Miele named Teacher of the Year

The faculty of Belleville Middle School has selected Marcia Miele as Teacher of the Year. Ms. Miele is presently an art teacher at the middle school.

A graduate of Marietta College, Ms. Miele has been with the Belleville School District for 20 years. In 1990, she received a masters degree in printmaking from Montclair State College.

Ms. Miele is responsible for having the middle school bulletin boards, windows and hallways decorated with the students' work.

A class project this year was a pastel border of seafife for the cafeteria walls.

Previously, she taught kindergarten at Belleville Schools Four, Seven and Eight. In her spare time, she enjoys walking, tennis and exercising.

Ms. Miele, as well as Belleville's other teacher of the year, were honored at a luncheon in Trenton hosted by Governor Florio on May 6 in recognition of this prestigious award.

Gina Krupka in Honor Society

Gina Krupka, a junior at Montclair State College, was invited to become a member of the national honor society of Phi Kappa Phi in recognition of her scholarly achievements. Membership is by invitation only and is extended to undergraduate students who have reached the final period of their junior year and are in the upper five

OUR OPINION

Finding the facts

We were happy to hear from Executive Assistant Tom Cannon of the State Commission of Investigation that no free legal advice is offered by any of its agents in general, and by Investigator Grant Cuzuppe in particular.

Mr. Cuzuppe has actually won the respect of many citizens of Belleville who might otherwise look upon him as an intrusive visitor.

The Belleville Times casts no reflection on him, or his associates, as we express our regret that an SCI investigation was ever called in the first place.

We suspect that Belleville's reputation in other parts of the state is based upon the constant reference in the daily newspapers of accused wrongdoers, and the constant failure to show Belleville in any other light.

Our neighboring dailies to this day cannot bring themselves to accept Belleville as the place where the American Industrial Revolution actually began.

We do not know what sort of report Mr. Cuzuppe and his associates will bring back to Trenton.

But we hope their visit here has shown them that Belleville people by and large are honest people, good citizens and an example of the American Dream in action.

More Library, not less

The decision of the Township Council to deny restoration of cut in funding for the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will have one immediate effect. The Library will not have a full time Director for the rest of the year.

And there is every likelihood that the Council majority will tell the Library that if it got along without a Director for most of 1993, it can get along without one in 1994.

But a good Library needs good direction.

Some people seem to regard a library as some stacks of books with a few people running around to hand them to you.

Instead, they should realize that the pennies saved each taxpayer would not make up for the enrichment lost to the public.

The availability of ideas and information made possible by the Library, and the guidance and inspiration offered by the professional Librarians, is matched only by the school system in importance to our quality of life, and unlike the schools, they are available to all age groups.

Closing the Library for longer hours is not a good answer, when we need more of the Library, not less.

Our visitor, Christie

When Republican candidate for Governor, Christie Whitman, came to town last week, she showed herself to be an attractive personality.

Her message was of the sound-bite type, in the Ross Perot style.

"Bring government back to the people."

"You are the real people, the people who pay the taxes."

"Governor Florio has ruined the state."

When you visit a Nutley restaurant, a meeting of Belleville Senior Citizens and the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, all within a two-hour period, you can't be expected to go too deeply into detail.

But the question for any foe of Governor Florio is simply this. How differently would you have handled the problems - particularly the deficit problem - that he faced when he took office?

Miss Whitman takes the position that Governor Florio raised taxes and drove away business.

She implies a rollback of taxes, which is what the Republican Legislature promised when it reduced the sales tax by one penny. But making up the shortfall in the state's finances as a result of that cut is having its impact on local property taxes.

Christie may have the answers, but we hope she slows down occasionally to let us have a fuller idea of them.

YOUR OPINION

Down on Library

To the editor:

As a "concerned" citizen, attending just about every public Town Council meeting, at times I find it most difficult to believe what I am hearing... Such a time was at the public budget hearing of Tuesday evening on July 27th. Ms. Margery Lord, President of the Friends of the Library, accompanied by several members created the impression that she is the spokesperson not only for her organization, but in fact for every citizen of Belleville. Seated next to her was the acting Director of the Library, Ms. Adrea Cohen, lending importance to what the spokesperson came there to say...

Reading from a 3-page dissertation, touching on the importance of the public library and its legendary history, she concluded with an appeal to the Council to restore a $29,247 cut in the library budget. Since she indicated that without the additional money, for all intents and purposes the library would cease to function at its present level. Since it is a fact that Belleville needs a functioning library, this kind of rhetoric turns the "appeal" into a mandate, enforced with coercion!!!

Adding more ammunition to force the Council to grant this "mandate" and add the $29,247 to the taxburden of the financially strapped Belleville citizens, came with an address by the acting Director of the Library, Ms. Adrea Cohen. Ms. Cohen stated that in 1988 the library enjoyed a much larger staff than today. Since we have not heard any complaints the library currently is not functioning properly, we can safely conclude the facility was grossly over-staffed at that time. It has also been reported that during that same time frame, salary increases of some 13% a year were "enjoyed"! When news of this leaked out, in addition to many other alleged irregularities in connection with the operation of the library (there is the matter of how a $300,000 legacy was spent) many of the taxpayers expressed their indignation, because they assumed the benefactor intended her legacy to further improve the function of the library, instead of "angels on the ceiling" or furniture so ornate it's use is discouraged.

As I stated at the public budget hearing, when all of the above was aired, perhaps we should question the competence of the director, claiming the library will "cease to function at its present level" without the additional tax burden of $29,247. The Town Council is mindful of the annual tax increases of around $500 in recent years, and the taxpayers are mindful some of the increases were related to the excesses of the library.

Cultural index

To the editor:

I want to call your attention to an important publication recently released by The Heritage Foundation, the Index of Leading Cultural Indicators. Written by William Bennett, the Index is a comprehensive statistical portrait of behavioral trends over the last 30 years.

It shows, for example, that while population has increased 41 percent since 1960, violent crime has increased 560 percent; illegitimate births have increased more than 400 percent; divorce rates have quadrupled; the percentage of children living in single-parent homes has tripled, and the teenage suicide rate has increased more than 200 percent.

As a member of The Heritage Foundation, I am eager to see the facts in this document given wide publicity. Only if we admit we are in a crisis of values can we begin to reverse our cultural decline.

You may already have received a copy of the Index. If so, I urge you to keep it on hand and use it as a resource. If you haven't yet seen it, you can obtain a copy by calling The Heritage Foundation's Publications Office at 202-546-4400.

• UNITED States Senator Frank Lautenberg and Congressman Herb Klein are reportedly opposing President Bill Clinton's proposed budget. They are both right. There are too many new taxes and tax increases. The times call for tax cuts not tax increases. In urging passage of his budget with all these new taxes, Clinton thinks that voters will have a short memory come 1996. I have news for Mr. Clinton. The voting public has a long memory and they won't forget Clinton's 1993 tax increases.

couples in qualifying for apartments and in inheriting leases in residential buildings. They also receive the same visiting rights in city jails and hospitals. The following benefit, I don't quite understand — "Those who work for the city may also take leave to take care of newborns." In my mind, it would be a miracle if gays or lesbians were biological mothers or fathers.

Frank Lautenberg

• YOU have to wonder what this country is coming to. New York City now permits gays to register as domestic partners, thus giving homosexual couples rights enjoyed by married people. The regulation also acknowledges the coupling of unmarried heterosexual partners. The law requires that these partners are obliged to sign up at the New York City Clerk's Office. It bestows upon gay and lesbian communities discounts available to the traditionally married couples. One woman armed with a domestic partner certificate confronted a funeral parlor that had refused to accept her as a close relative. After producing the certificate, she was allowed to make funeral arrangements for her ill partner. Under the new rules, registered homosexual and unmarried heterosexual couples are guaranteed the same standing as married

Christie Whitman

• REPUBLICAN gubernatorial candidate, Christine Whitman, saw her campaign stuck in the mud for the last couple of weeks. A goof here and a goof there raised doubts about the quality of her campaign management. While Whitman was vacationing out west, Governor Jim Florio was cultivating the soil here at home.

Jim Florio

• I DON'T know whether it shocks you, but it sure as hell shocks me — the knowledge that condoms are to be made available to fifth graders — no, not in Nutley, Belleville or Bloomfield. Up to this point, condom fever has not gripped any New Jersey school system to the extent that ten-year-old kids are afforded the use of condoms, even though parental consent is necessary.

• NEW JERSEY'S most influential physicians' group has made a 360 degree turn and it now advocates a program to give clean hypodermic needles to drug users. Providing new needles for drug users is like providing ten-year-old kids with condoms. They're both bad.

• NATIONAL Republican leaders are trying to persuade former Governor Tom Kean to challenge Democrat Senator Frank Lautenberg. Tom Kean's response to questions from the press was that he would make up his mind by the end of August. Among the people urging Kean to run is former President Richard Nixon and U. S. Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole.

Tom Kean

• THE reports reaching us about Freeholder Arthur Clay's recovery from a mugging experience are rather pessimistic. It looks like Arthur will need a long recovery period and it may well take him out of this year's freeholder election. If that ends up being the case, and the powers that be reject Bob Fetterly and Bob Rusignuolo, how about Heather Clay. She is about as smart a businesswoman as any businessman or woman in the district.

Four hundred young people received this year's awards. They all received a Certificate of Achievement and 15 received a special recognition medal.

The Times held a reception in January launching the awards program, sent materials to more than 1,500 New Jersey educators and community service organizations to help identify award candidates and ran an ad in The Times announcing the award and specifications.

Bruins (24-14) clinch playoff berth

Agens, Tremel no hit Milburn

By Mike Lamberti

As the playoffs approach, the Belleville Bruins are playing by far their best baseball of the 1993 season.

Bill Ingraham's team won two more games last week, stopping Hillside 5-4 in extra innings and defeating Millburn 2-1 as Glen Agens and Sal Tremel combined to hurl a no-hitter for the Bruins. The two wins improved Belleville's record to 24-14.

The regular season concluded earlier this week when Belleville played the remainder of a game with the Nugeats Black Sox in a game that was protested and came out in Belleville's favor.

The Bruins have a shot at third place, but in order for the team to accomplish that, they needed to beat Verona and Nugeats earlier this week and had to hope that third place Cranford dropped its season finale to first place Verona.

The top six teams will qualify for the ECBL playoffs, which commence this weekend. The worst case scenario for the Bruins is a fourth place finish and a first round battle with the Crescent Eagles. All playoff rounds are best two out of three.

The two victories last week were especially impressive because the Bruins didn't hit the ball particularly well and had to rally from deficits to prevail.

Entering the final two games of the regular season, Belleville has won 12 of its last 14 games, improving from a 12-12 mark to the current record of ten games over .500.

Against Hillside, the Bruins took an early 1-0 lead by scoring an unearned run in the third inning. Mike King reached safely on an error and came around to score on a throwing error.

Hillside scored four times in the fourth inning off starting, and eventual, winning pitcher, Frank Gallagher. The Union County team collected five hits in the frame and took a commanding 4-1 lead into the fifth inning.

In the Belleville fifth, the Bruins chipped away. Rich Quine and King singled and Jason Nardachone singled to score Quine. On Nardachone's single, King was out attempting to take third base. Nardachone, who went to second on his hit and eventual play on King, scored on a Mike Salvanto single.

Belleville tied the game in the sixth when Pat Grady walked and eventually scored when Quine hit into a fielders choice.

In the eighth, the Bruins scored the winning run. Once again, Grady walked and moved two bases on a simple ground out. He scored on a sac fly by Anthony Mielnicki.

Gallagher hurled the first seven innings and was credited with the win. Paul Mirabella, the former major league pitcher who is quickly becoming the "Dennis Eckersley" of the ECBL, came in to pitch the eighth inning and recorded the save.

In the win over Millburn, Agens and Tremel combined for a no-hitter and the Bruins held on for a key 2-1 win.

Belleville trailed 1-0 heading into the sixth. There, Tremel walked and Salvanto singled. Jim LaRose singled to load the bases and Grady walked to force in the tying run.

The bases were still loaded with no outs. Joe Delanza hit a shot back to the pitcher, who threw home for one out. The catcher then threw to first to complete a double play. While all this was going on, LaRose, who was on second base, kept running. While the double play was being executed, LaRose surprised the Millburn defense and scored ahead of the throw for the go-ahead run.

Agens hurled the first five innings, then gave way to Tremel, who pitched the final two innings and earned the win.

NOTES: The Bruins had just nine hits combined in the two victories last week. However, the team used good pitching and timely hitting to prevail.

Heading into the playoffs, Verona will be the top seed. They were 30-6-1 entering this week. South Orange has clinched second place (27-10-1) and Cranford and Belleville are battling for third. Cranford was 24-12-3, which is good for 51 points. Belleville's 24-14 mark accounts for 48 points, but the Bruins had the one game in hand and could move ahead of Cranford with two wins and a Cranford loss.

The Crescent Eagles have clinched fifth place, with a 22-16-1 mark while West Orange appears to have the final spot, at 13-23-2.

If the playoffs started this week, Belleville would play Crescent while Cranford faces West Orange. Verona and South Orange are guaranteed first round byes. The winner of the Cranford-West Orange series would then play South Orange while the Bruins-Crescent victor would face powerful Verona.

The playoffs will begin this weekend and the Bruins would play a first round road game and then two games at Belleville regardless of whether they finish third or fourth in the league.

During the 14 game stretch in which the Bruins won 12, the bats have been hot. Mike DeBiase has hit .470, Ingraham is at an incredible .636, Grady, the teams top power hitter, is batting .429, Salvanto is hitting .455, Mielnicki is at .386, Nardachone is hitting .389 and King is swinging to a .356 clip.

As a team, the Bruins are hitting .348 over the past 14 games.

Sal Vitale

The anticipation had been building for about 24 hours. It was Wednesday morning, July 28. I was in San Diego, California and it was surprisingly overcast. But it didn't really matter. In a matter of hours, I would get into my rent-a-car, and take about a one hour and 45 minute drive up the beautiful coast of Southern California.

My destination? Anaheim, California. More directly, Anaheim Stadium, aka "The Big A", the home of the California Angels. I would leave my hotel in San Diego at about 2:30 p.m., because I had an appointment at Anaheim Stadium at about 4:30 p.m. I figure, even with traffic, I would get there at about 4:15.

As I drove up Interstate 5, I began to think about the questions I would ask at this appointment, which was actually an interview. I didn't know how receptive the person I was going to interview was going to be. Prior to July 28, I had called his secretary and she said that he would be "happy to meet with me".

But this was an interview with one of baseball's most successful managers over the past two decades, and I didn't want to walk into this guys office and sound like a Cardinal fan who somehow had gotten past the security at Anaheim Stadium.

I didn't know whether this person would talk a lot, or if I would have to keep the conversation going. I didn't know whether he would give me five minutes, or 35 minutes.

All I did know was that at 4:30 p.m., Pacific Standard Time, I was going to finally meet my main man in baseball, a guy that I went through the 1980's with and endured good and bad times as a Cardinal fan.

I got to the Big A, as expected, at 4:15 p.m. and ventured over to Gate A, where the receptionist instructed me to take the elevator to the second floor.

As I departed the elevator, the big doors leading to the California Angels Executive Offices beckoned. There was no turning back now. I walked in, and informed the receptionist who I was.

A minute or two later, the secretary appeared from a large door and introduced herself.

"Mike?", she said. "Hi, I'm Joann Story. Nice meeting you."

"Same here," I said.

"It's going to be a few minutes. Do you mind waiting?", was her next question.

"No problem," I said. Actually, I was relieved because it gave me a few minutes to get some questions together.

While I did that, a few players from the Angels walked by and the Angels manager, Buck Rodgers, came in to check on messages. It was 4:40 now, and the game with the Oakland A's was set to start at 7 p.m.

The receptionist looked over at me and said, "Joann just called, it's going to be a few more minutes. Do you mind waiting?"

"No problem," was once again my answer.

At 4:50 p.m., Joann Story entered the lobby.

"Mike," she said.

"Yes," as I expected her to tell me that it would be a few more minutes.

"Whitey will see you now."

This was it! In a matter of seconds, I would be sitting in Whitey Herzog's office and talking baseball with a guy that has devoted his entire professional life to the game.

A guy that directed my Cardinals to three N.L. East crowns in the 80's, three National League championships and one World Series crown while losing in game seven two other times.

A guy that led the Kansas City Royals to three straight A.L. West titles in the 1970's, only to come up short against the New York Yankees in the American League championship series three straight times.

A guy that in 1990, walked away from the Cardinals because he felt the players just weren't giving it their best and management wasn't going to back him up.

A guy that today is the main guy in the California Angels organization, the Senior VP for player personnel.

This was the chance to meet, and talk baseball with, "The White Rat."

It would be an interview that I will never forget, and next week, I'll share it with you.

I'm sure any baseball nut like me has a baseball fantasy. For years, mine was to be a member of the Cardinals bullpen-by-committee. I wanted to warm up in the Cardinals bullpen, probably at Shea Stadium, with Ricky Horton, (Ricky is a left hander, I'm a right hander).

I then wanted Whitey to come out of the dugout, signal to the bullpen with his left hand on his right wrist, meaning bring in the right hander. When I got to the mound, Whitey would "hand me the ball" and tell me to get one batter out.

That's it, to have Whitey ask me to get one batter out in a key situation. And, of course, I get Gary Carter to fly out to left field to end a Mets rally and keep the Cardinals ahead by one run.

Now, back to reality, I'm in Whitey's office, waiting for the Rat to come in. He walks by the office, looks in and says, "How you doin'? I'll be right with you. I'm not holding you up, am I?"

I felt like saying, "are you kidding me?", but instead I used the now familiar, "no problem".

A few seconds later, the Rat entered, accompanied by his key scout for minor league baseball. He introduces me to the scout, pats me on the shoulder and says, "it's good to finally meet you. Where do you want to start?"

Right then, I knew it would be a day to remember.

"T.V."

No, I'm not referring to television. "T.V." is the initials of someone who has gradually become very special in my life.

Even though I was out in Denver, Colorado and San Diego last week, there was never an evening that I didn't call "T.V." Better still, there was never a day that didn't go by that "T.V." didn't run through my mind.

She has become very special to me. No predictions, but stay tuned.

And remember two songs. "More" and "When I fall in Love" (the remake).

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

Belleville's first football game as the Buccaneers was in 1978. The Bucs beat Livingston 28-14. John Senesky, of course, was the Bucs coach. Al Jacobson was the head man at Livingston. The Bucs finished 6-3 that year. Ed Aulls was the Belleville quarterback and Mike Nicolsa scored the first Buccaneer touchdown.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

Recreation soccer and touch football applications

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1993 sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls ages 7-14 may participate in recreation soccer. Belleville resident children who will be 7 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 14 on Dec. 31, 1993 are eligible. Nobody above 8th grade can play, and all returning players must re-apply. Boys ages 8-10 can play touch football if they so choose. Belleville boys who will be 8 by Dec. 31 and who will be no older than 10 on Dec. 31, 1993 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply. For both soccer and touch football, all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street, with birth certificates. The registration deadline for soccer is Aug. 6 and the deadline for touch football will be Aug. 27. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since football, soccer and touch football games and practice schedules conflict. Those interested in coaching may call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 before 4 p.m.

Night registration

The Belleville Recreation Department office will be open on Wednesday nights, July 28 and Aug. 4, 6 to 7:30 p.m. for Football and Soccer Registration. The deadline for registration is Aug. 6.

Soccer coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching its seven-to-fourteen year old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games. Games are played on Saturdays and Sundays, beginning mid-September. All volunteer coaches will be required to attend a certification clinic by the NYSCA before the season begins.

Football conditioning camp

The Belleville Recreation Department will be sponsoring a Football Conditioning Program for boys who will be playing during the 1993 season. Held at the Municipal Stadium in conjunction with the Belleville High School Football program, these workouts will help prepare all prospective football players, age 8 and older, for the upcoming season. Conditioning clinics will be held weeknights at 6 p.m., beginning Aug. 2 at the Municipal Stadium. Weather permitting, conditioning sessions will be run Monday-Friday evenings from Aug. 2 through Aug. 13.

Boys ages 8-13 must register for the Junior Bucs football program at the Rec House before participating. Additional information can be obtained by calling football coordinators Joe DeRiggi and Vin Strumolo at the Recreation Department (450-3422).

Jr. Bucs football registration — 1993

There will be registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's 1993 "Jr. Bucs" Tackle Football Program at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon St., now through Aug. 6. Boys who will be eight years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 14 before Sept. are eligible. Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a minimum of 60 pounds and a maximum of 135 pounds, and no one above 8th grade can play. Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific AGE / WEIGHT requirements as set by the Suburban Twin County Football application from their school or the Recreation Department office. All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Recreation House by Aug. 6 with two passport-size photos of the player and a copy of his birth certificate. All returning players from last year's team must re-apply. Practices will begin around Aug. 16. Players who choose to participate in tackle football cannot also play soccer or touch football in the same season.

FULL DISCLOSURE

Dentists have been educating the public to the fact that plaque plays a major role in the development of gum disease and tooth decay. This sticky coating of bacteria must be removed from the teeth on a daily basis with flossing and brushing to avert oral disease. Because plaque is largely odorless and colorless, however, many have difficulty in spotting it in order that they may remove it. To help them in this effort, dyes known as disclosing agents are available which identify areas of plaque. These colored mouth rinses are intended to be swished around in the mouth, then spit out. A look at the teeth in the mirror will then show areas where the disclosing agent adheres to plaque. Once the colored areas are identified, they can be brushed and flossed to effectively remove the plaque.

You'll have no difficulty finding medications or information when you come to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We have been handling the needs of people in this area for many years. Our stocks include Russell Stover candies, greeting cards, baby needs and gift items. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HINT: Disclosing agents are particularly helpful for small children who are just learning to brush.

Inspect Your Roof Shingles Before Leaks Cause Damage

Nothing causes more aggravation and expense than a leaking roof. Treasured possessions can be ruined, furniture and carpeting soaked, and family routine upset for days.

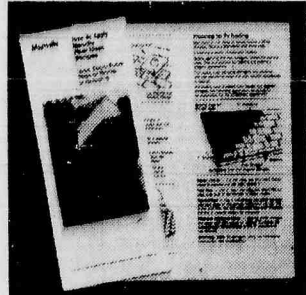

Homeowners can help prevent leaks before they begin with regular spring and fall inspections of their shingle roofs.

Some common danger signals to look for include damaged shingles, roof bare spots, loosened nails, deteriorated flashings, and granules washing off the roof.

If some of these problems exist, the homeowner may want to consider re-roofing. Not only will damage from leaks be avoided, but also a new roof will add to the beauty and value of the home.

To help make the job go smoothly, the makers of Manville fiber glass shingles have published an illustrated, pocket-size guide that provides quick, easy-to-follow steps for re-roofing, as well as putting a roof on a new home.

The guide lists the tools and materials that will be needed, and how to prepare the roof before the shingles are applied. With simple sketches, it explains how to install the new shingles, types of fastening methods, and how to handle flashing, valleys and even dormers.

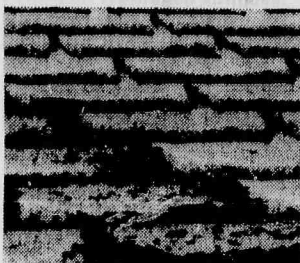

Handy, pocket-size guide provides quick, easy-to-follow steps for roofing or re-roofing.

You can obtain a free copy of "How to Apply Manville Fiber Glass Shingles," No. RF-270B, from your building supply dealer, or by writing to Manville Roofing Systems, a Division of Schuller International, Inc., (Inquiry Dept.), 1601 Park Ave. West, Denver, CO 80216.

Problem: Damaged shingles.

Problem: Roof bare spots.

Problem: Loosened nails.

TIPS ON - HOW TO WRITE A CLASSIFIED AD THAT SELLS

REFRIGERATOR/FREEZER. General Electric, 19 cu. ft., three years old, gold, automatic ice maker, automatic defrost, like-new condition. $400 or best offer! Moving, must sell immediately. Call Saturday between 8AM and 9PM. 000-0000

1. Use a KEYWORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what it is you have to sell.
2. Make your description CLEAR and FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color, size, and tell what condition the item is. Also state the special features.
3. State the PRICE. Successful Classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
4. If there's a genuine sense of URGENCY, say so. The words, "We're Moving" or "Must Sell Fast" suggests that readers respond immediately.
5. Include your PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 6 PM" or "Before 11 AM".

If you need assistance ask one of our friendly AD-VISORS to help you word your ad.
