Board firm on cut in busing

Rumors flood Township of student 'influx'; Nardiello reassures on residency controls

By Howard Klausner

Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello had to issue a statement this week assuring parents that only Belleville residents would be attending Belleville public schools.

He stated: "The Belleville Board of Education operates an educational program solely for the children of its bonafide residents. Any rumors to the contrary are just that - rumors."

Nardiello declined to discuss the source of the rumors, which the Belleville Times learned is that Newark's Barringer High School is to be closed, and its students moved into the Belleville school system.

The person or persons spreading the rumors appeared to base it on reports of an impending takeover of the Newark public school system by the New Jersey Department of Education.

Even if the takeover occurs, there is little likelihood of a major school being closed. "All it means is a change in leadership," an educator said.

Furthermore, it would take an act of the State Legislature to allow students to be taken across municipal boundaries.

Deaf-Blind golf tourney

The New Jersey Association of the Deaf-Blind, Inc., will hold its Inaugural Golf Classic on Monday, Sept. 27, at the Rock Spring Country Club in West Orange, with $20,000 in prizes for the entrants.

The Association serves 11 area customers in its Family Support Program, three in its Group Home Program and 10 in its Client Support Services Program.

The private, non-profit social service organization serves deaf-blind residents and their families throughout the state.

Information on the tourney may be obtained by calling (908) 249-4433.

Nardiello said the unfounded rumors were so widespread that he felt it necessary to issue the disclaimer.

In the meantime, Belleville's school population at the start of the new school year is 3,846. On June 30, the enrollment was 3,736.

It is the third year that there has been an increase in the school population, after a steady drop for more than a decade.

Most of the students will be arriving at class without benefit of busing.

Budget reductions caused by the $865,000 cut ordered by the Township Council after the defeat of the proposed school budget last April have ended courtesy busing for many.

During the previous school year, busing was provided to elementary school children living more than one mile from their school; Middle School students living more than 1.5 miles away, and High School students living more than 1.7 miles from school.

This year, elementary school pupils living more than 1.5 miles from school; Middle School pupils living more than 1.7 miles and High School students living more than 1.9 miles from school are provided busing.

Special Education students are given busing regardless of their home location.

The mileage limits are somewhat more liberal than state-mandated regulations. Under state law, busing must be provided to elementary school pupils living more than two miles from school, and Middle School pupils living more than 2.5 miles.

The Essex County Superintendent of Schools has twice suggested that all courtesy busing be eliminated, as a budget saving.

The busing cuts do not sit well with all parents. A group of residents from the Valley attempted to enter a private meeting of the Board of Education at Belleville High School on Monday night, to state their case for busing.

"We are working parents," one resident said. "We can't take our children to school."

Other parents voiced concern over the safety of their children walking to school. "There are maniacs out there," a woman said. "How safe can our children be?"

Some parents have resorted to having physicians send letters to the Board of Education, citing physical disabilities of children.

The response of the Board is that responsibility for transportation rests with the parents, unless the child can be classified as a Special Education student.

Former Board of Education President Patricia Pisano spoke to the parents after they had left the school building. "There is fat in the budget. They didn't have to cut busing," she told the parents.

Board of Education members disputed this. "We can't fire teachers to provide busing. It will become a vicious cycle with less teachers trying to educate more children," the Board member said.

'It will be done' Klein promises

Lou Cicenia, Chairman of the Belleville Renaissance Committee, said that Congressman Herb Klein has assured him that the Congress will give recognition to Belleville as Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution.

"It will be done," Cicenia quotes Klein as saying.

They met Sunday at the dedication of the Nutley park memorializing former Assemblyman Carl Orechio.

Klein told Cicenia that two documents provided him by Cicenia made passage certain for the Bill calling for recognition.

One was a copy of the 1796 patent granted to Nicholas Roosevelt for the first modern steam engine, manufactured in Belleville.

The other was an account by Benjamin Latrobe written in the 19th Century which confirmed Belleville as the center for the making of steam engines in America, and describing Roosevelt as the real inventor of the modern steamboat.

Governor Jim Florio has proclaimed Belleville as Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution, based on the fact that Patriot-Engineer Josiah Hornblower brought the first steam engine here from England in 1753.

Recall petition filed

Montagna wants Spillane ousted from Council and County posts

Frank Montagna has been waging a two-pronged war on Third Ward Councilman Tom Spillane, seeking to have him recalled from the Township Council and removed from his job as County Welfare Worker.

On Tuesday, Montagna and Kevin Kennedy filed a petition with 1,168 reported signatures on it, seeking a recall election in the Third Ward.

Last year, Spillane won a court battle to have Kennedy's election to the Council invalidated on the grounds that more than 40 absentee ballots were filed improperly.

Kennedy says he will campaign for election to the Council arguing that Spillane is a "do-nothing" Councilman.

Spillane, serving his second term on the Council, has responded that he saved the taxpayers a 13-point increase in taxes by changing the health benefits plan.

"The way the plan is being run now, we are saving half a million dollars a year in payments," Spillane said.

The plan operates on a pay-as-you-go system, managed by Blue Cross, with a maximum cost of $2.5 million a year to the Township. Spillane estimated that the cost will be under $2 million for the current year.

Montagna has also asked the Essex County Personnel Department to remove Spillane from the post of Family Service Worker, a $24,500 a year post which Spillane took earlier this summer.

Montagna claimed that a Civil Service list certified on April 27 was ignored in hiring Spillane.

Spillane responded that the Civil Service list had been exhausted by the County, which then advertised for provisional employees.

Spillane said he saw an advertisement for the job in May.

Spillane said that he will take a new Civil Service test in October. He must pass the test to retain his job. Spillane is a retired executive of New Jersey Bell, where he was in the engineering division. He holds a college degree, which is a requisite for the Family Service Worker position and had military service.

Food service needs a home

SHARE, the Self Help And Resource Exchange Program that provides low cost food in return for some cash and social service work, is seeking a new location.

Dorothy Spera, who heads SHARE in Belleville, says that the current location of the distribution center at St. Peter's Church may be moved to a more convenient location.

The SHARE operation provides 40 to 50 food packages a month to persons who pay up to $12 in cash or food stamps for food of top quality valued at $30 to $35, Mrs. Spera said. In addition, the buyer must overfirm at least two hours of independent service in their community.

In Belleville, this usually means helping elderly persons do their shopping, or assisting the SHARE program.

"We need a more convenient place to work," Mrs. Spera said.

There are no income requirements to be a food purchaser from SHARE.

"I don't care how rich or poor you are, as long as you are willing to put in two hours community time," Mrs. Spera said.

She can be contacted at (201) 759-3598.

SHARE, which is non-profit, was founded in San Diego in 1983. It has 300 locations in New Jersey, serving all 21 counties.

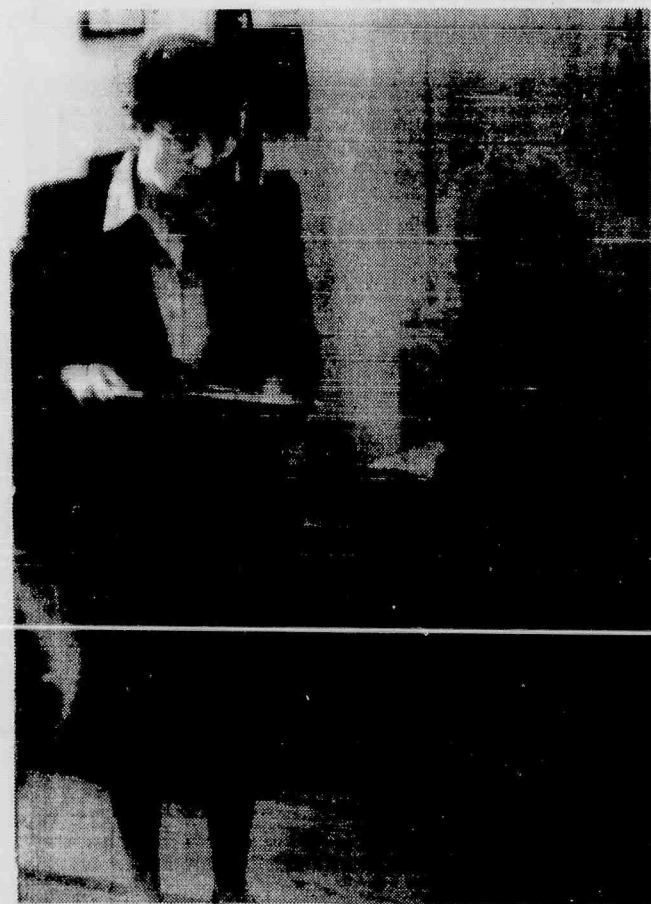

Elks picnic on Saturday

Belleville Lodge 1123 of the Benevolent and Paternal Order of Elks has scheduled its annual Family Picnic at noon Saturday in Cedar Grove Park.

Refreshments will include beer and soda, to wash down corn on the cob, watermelon, hamburgers and hot dogs, and there will be plenty of entertainment and games.

Children under 7 years of age are admitted free. The charge is $5 for youngsters 7 to 15, and older folk pay $12 at the gate, or $10 if paid in advance.

For tickets, contact any Elk.

GOLDEN MOMENT - Mrs. Dwight (Virginia) Steiner, right, who served as President of the Woman's Club of Belleville from 1957 to 1959, is honored for her more than 50 years of service to the club, which she joined in 1937. President Barbara Spillane said, "Her dedication and noble service are an inspiration to us all." (Photo by Howard Klausner)

REGIMENTAL PARK - After he cleaned up the overgrown parcel of land at Rutgers Street Bridge, Ed O'Neill, far right, helped dedicate the newly created park to the memory of the 2nd Essex Regiment, which stood guard here against the British during the American Revolution. The remains of more than 62 members of the Regiment rest in the old Reformed Church Graveyard nearby. From left are Harry Farrington, Past Commander, American Legion Post 105 of Belleville; Isabel Wittlinger of the Belleville Historical Society; Robert Klotz of Post 105; Bill Newmeyer, Commander of Post 105; Superintendent of Schools Michael Nardiello; former Principal Joseph Groesch, and O'Neill. Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

"They should have bombed the railheads," Bill Leahy said. "The Germans didn't have the trucks to carry people there. And that would have stopped it. They should have bombed the railheads." He was talking about Buchenwald, the concentration camp his scout unit for the Sixth Armored Division had reached in early April, 1945. "I had never heard of concentration camps. You could smell the stench a mile away, and you could see the flames. We thought it was the Germans burning a supply dump. And then we came on it. It was Dante's Inferno. The inmates were burning the barracks. They were wandering around aimlessly. They were starved so their muscles were even gone. And there were the piles of corpses - half of them still alive. I asked, 'What is this place?'"

● ● ● ● They radioed back to headquarters and were told "It's a concentration camp. Just get in and get the hell out of there. And keep your mouths shut about it." This stunned the men in the half-tracks whose job it was to roam the countryside ahead of the main tank force, sometimes to draw fire, and usually to see what lay ahead. "We couldn't accept that," Leahy said. "We loaded up a half-track with rations, the kind we usually used to barter with the farmers for eggs and butter. And we drove back to Buchenwald. I asked what that building was, and they said, 'The crematorium'. I didn't know what the hell they were talking about. We gave out the rations, and it was the worst possible thing we could do. There were biscuits and round cans of cheese, and they were loaded with vitamins. It was too much for these people to take, and it probably killed them. We didn't know. And the only mention of it in the Day Reports was a single line, 'Buchenwald liberated.' And I remember it like it happened just six months ago. I just couldn't believe what I saw."

● ● ● The conversation took place in a 33rd floor apartment at United Nations Plaza in Manhattan. The occasion was a reunion of the Midwood High School Class of 1943 where a friend had taken us. It was the Brooklyn school of our old neighborhood, a meeting ground of the predominantly Irish-German, Italian, Jewish and Old Stock Dutch-English areas, predominantly one-family homes on tree lined streets, and clusters of apartment houses. Ed Leahy came from the edge of the district, living with his widowed mother on the third floor of a frame house in what was called Flatlands. "From my back window, I could see just swamplands all the way to Canarsie Bay, nothing in between but a garbage incinerator." He attended Midwood with his buddy, Jim Dugan and it was a time of stickball in the streets, athletics and carousing at a Canarsie boatyard which housed a round bar. "We'd be singing and playing all night at that bar," he said. His grades did not benefit, and while he started with the Class of 1943, he was not graduated until 1944, just in time for Ed Leahy to be taken by the Army. He was the kind of youngster who fitted in well with a scout unit. He had turned down an opportunity to go to school in the Army - "I didn't think it was right to be going to classes" and his assignment to the Sixth Armored came as the Third Army was pushing across the Rhine into Germany. He was later to serve in Korea and combat memories remained vivid for more than half a century, but the visit to Hell at Buchenwald constantly recurs for him. "They should have bombed the railheads. The Germans had no gasoline for trucks. That would have stopped it."

His lifelong friend, Dugan, was with him. "Thank God for the G.I. Bill," Leahy said. "I was able to become a lawyer, and Dugan, there, well he got in on the ground floor of computers. He holds a patent regulating watch movements to the second, and the Swiss government pays him for every watch they make there. He's living in San Francisco and he's got millions." Dugan, a cheerful, white haired man with a young face, smiled and went on with his conversation with some of his lady classmates. ● ● ● ● Geraldine Santangelo, who had become a lawyer, spoke of her one major disappointment. "They offered me a judgeship six months after my mother died, and I turned them down. I told them why hadn't they given it to me when my mother could have seen me in the judicial robes?"

● ● ● ● Mary Kitchel had become an electronics engineer, raised a family and was living in Virginia. "I've had a good life," she said. Hostess Arline Rothlein Simon could see her art studio in Long Island City from her apartment. She had become an internationally known artist who could afford a country home, a high rise apartment and an outstanding art collection of her own. But she was thinking of leaving New York. "I just want to consolidate," she said. Larry Silverstein had served in the South Pacific and the Philippines as a Navy Signalman. He recalled the fire ball that had risen from a burning tanker, and which had descended on a nearby ship, taking the lives of more than 600 men. The G. I. Bill had put him through college, and today he prospered as a mortgage banker, awaiting his first grandchild. Conversation turned to Marty Zorn, one of three classmates who had gone to the United States Military Academy. He had died six months ago, victim of a massive heart attack. Another West Pointer, Stanley Shankman had died in Korea. Nobody could recall the name of the other West Pointer, but somebody mentioned the name of Burton Rabb. The Midwood Classes of 1943 and 1944 had graduated perhaps 300 young men during the war. It was a new school, whose doors opened a few months before Pearl Harbor. Twelve of the young men never returned.

Miss Jaime Madrigano is a student at Queen of Peace High School where her grade and her class ranking have been so high that she has been selected for the University Scholars Program at Rutgers, the State University. She also has been made eligible for the Presidential Scholarship. Being a University Scholar means that Miss Madrigano can enter Rutgers without any further qualifying tests. Winning the scholarship would pay for her entire tuition. Miss Madrigano is considering Rutgers, Seton Hall University and Drew University as her berths for higher education, provided she can obtain some financial assistance. ● ● ● ● Her mother, Florence, works as a beautician in Nutley. Her late father, Frank, moved the family from Nutley to Belleville some 12 years ago. At Queen of Peace, which has a fine reputation for academic standards, Miss Madrigano is active on the Student Council and does a lot of community volunteer work, while attaining membership in the National Honor Society. Her goal is to become a lawyer. "At school, we studied a lot of Supreme Court decisions and it made me interested in the law," Jaime said. "I like math, too, so I'd like to study tax law." And that's how tax lawyers are born.

Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, says Board of Education President Gabe Nazzola has been hiding out with him in the Town Hall basement, ever since someone wrote a letter to a publication demanding that Republican Senator John Scott resign. The letter was written by Scott's opponent in the November election, former Senator Gabe Ambrosio but for some reason, they put Gabe Nazzola's name as the author. "I'm a good Republican," Nazzola says. "You've gotta believe me!"

● ● ● ● Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says his organization, the Kool Kumbur Boys, is pressing its campaign for the adoption of Official Joisey as the state's legal language. "They've been getting some slack from the English teachers who claim there is no such thing as Official Joisey," Zilch said. "We're responding with a Hoodah campaign. As in Hoodahyathink you are, downgrading our language? Or, we're Joisey, Hoodaheck are you?" Zilch said the Boys are also planning a fundraiser. "They want to buy a Seeing Eye Dog for the Ethical Standards Board."

Silver Lake Association sets cleanup Sept. 25

The Silver Lake Civic Association will conduct its first Silver Lake Beautification Day at 10 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 25.

The rain date is Oct. 2.

With the aid of its 200 members and the Department of Public Works, the S.L.C.A. will help residents remove refuse and unsightly weeds. Dominick Pusillo Disposal will provide the containers for refuse removal.

The Association is sending a newsletter to each Silver Lake home detailing the cleanup and the restrictions on certain types of refuse.

The Association urges all residents to take part in the civic improvement effort and have the opportunity of meeting their neighbors as well.

A Block Party will follow the cleanup. Open to all Silver Lake residents, the party will begin at 6 p.m. on Heckel Street between Jeraldo and Lawrence Streets.

Jaycees seek contest entrants

The search is on for the 1994 Essex County High School senior woman most representative of her classmates in communities throughout Essex County.

The young woman chosen as Essex County's Junior Miss will compete with other county winners at Cherry Hill, in January 1994 for the New Jersey Junior Miss Title.

The Nutley Jaycees will be sponsoring their 32nd Annual Junior Miss Scholarship Program on Nov. 28 at Nutley Senior High School.

More than $4.5 million in scholarships, savings bonds and merchandise will be received by candidates in the Local, State and National Programs.

Judging is based on scholastic achievement, panel evaluation, fitness, presence and composure, and creative and performing arts. Applications may be obtained by writing or calling the candidate chairman, Michael Paolino, 161 Ohlson Avenue, Nutley, N.J. 07110, (201) 667-7315.

County cops re-hire 22

Ralph Marotti of Belleville is one of 22 Essex County police who have been rehired by the County.

Marotti was among 81 officers laid off in 1991 due to budgetary problems.

County Executive Thomas D'Alesio formally re-inducted the police in a ceremony Friday in Wateasing Park, Bloomfield.

He said that the new group brought the total of Park Police to 58.

In addition, the County has installed new emergency telephones in South Mountain Reservation, Weequahic Park, Brookdale Park and Wateasing Park.

Police sub-stations which had been closed were re-opened in Wateasing Park, Brookdale Park, West Side Park, Ivy Hill Park and South Mountain Reservation.

"Our administration is committed to maintaining a safe and secure park system throughout Essex County," D'Alesio stated.

The use of young people as Park Rangers during the peak summer seasons has also added to security in the parks, D'Alesio stated.

Mini-Health Fair scheduled

The annual Mini-Health Fair for Belleville residents will take place on Oct. 13 at the Department of Health and Human Services, 383 Washington Avenue. Hours will be 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Services available are: flu shots (recommended for seniors over 65 and for anyone who has a chronic disease), screening for diabetes, blood pressure, oral cancer, and podiatry. Oral cancer screening may be received only from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

All services are free and are offered only to residents of Belleville.

A clinic will also be held in the Silver Lake section, at Public School No. 4, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. However, only free flu shots are offered at this location.

The director of Health and Human Services, Thomas Longo, states that the flu vaccine will not be administered to the following groups: pregnant women, anyone with a fever or with an acute illness, people under 30 years of age, all those who have received another type of vaccine within the past 14 days, and anyone who has an allergy to eggs, chicken, or to chicken feathers. These rules have been laid down for the protection of all who fall into these groups.

Vaccination may be considered for persons who provide essential community services and are thought to be at risk of exposure.

Longo advises anyone with doubts about receiving the vaccine to consult their physician.

Questions about the Fair will be answered if residents call (201) 450-3393.

OUR OPINION

A wake-up call

— Words of wisdom for Writers everywhere —
 “The moving finger writes and having writ,
 Moves on, nor all your piety nor wit,
 Shall lure it back to cancel half a line,
 Nor all your tears wash out a word of it.”
 — from “The Rubaiyat” by Omar Khayyam

A recent column authored by Bloomfield Life Editor, Alfred Cook, concerning Pope Paul II aroused the ire of area Catholic church officials at the highest level as well as members of the faith. Clearly, Mr. Cook misread Pope John Paul's message.

The article was an unfair, unjustified attack upon the Catholic Church and its leadership. And to those among us who have taken offense to the tone and message of the article, an apology is offered.

Upon reflection, it is clear that as a local weekly newspaper existing for the sole purpose of reporting the news, and providing space for columnists to add their personal note to the goings on about town, we have lost our way.

The reaction of the clergy and members of the faith is certainly a wake-up call. We must return to the fundamentals for which we claim we exist — provide the public with local news and report events of interest and about our readers and the communities we serve. Inevitably, the public expects the buck to stop with the publisher — and that's the way it is.

Forthwith, it will be the established policy of this publication that all editorials and personal columns authored by staff members must have a local base and be focused upon area people, places, events and things. — FAO —

College credits, anyone?

One of the better kept secrets in Belleville is that you can take college credit courses without leaving the Township.

Essex County College provides courses leading to degrees, and the courses are given at Belleville High School by college teachers.

This year, the College offered three courses, including one in the lucrative field of technical writing, and there were not enough registrants for two of them, including the Technical Writing course.

The convenience of having a college course offered locally is an important one, particularly for those who do not care to venture into downtown Newark at night.

These are courses not connected with the Belleville Adult School, which are worthwhile in themselves. But Adult School courses do not bring college credits, and the Essex County College classes do offer credits.

We hope the College does not lose interest in Belleville, and that more, rather than fewer, college courses will be made available here.

A time for miracles

Many people have forgotten that in 1967, after the Six Day War, the State of Israel offered to return the occupied territories of the West Bank in return for a peace agreement with the Arabs.

The offer was rejected scornfully. The response was, “No peace, no recognition, no negotiations.”

Much of the Arab intransigence could be traced to the Soviet Union, which virtually guaranteed backing to the Arabs in any war on Israel.

If peace is indeed coming to the Middle East, the disappearance of the Soviet Union is one of the reasons.

What occurred on the White House Lawn on Monday could have occurred 26 years earlier, but we suppose it is a miracle that it has occurred at all.

YOUR OPINION

Ambrosio vs. Scott

To the editor:

Inevitably during campaign season, newspapers statewide editorialize on the need for candidates to focus on the serious problems we all face and their proposed solutions. I couldn't agree more.

Unfortunately this year, I am confronted with an opponent who, in order to avoid all serious discussion of his record or the important issues facing our district, intends to run a “Campaign of Sneeze,” by barraging the press corp with negative attacks on my personal integrity and reputation.

If the press feeds into John Scott's sneazy tactics, none of these important issues will get addressed. Sadly then, the real losers will be the voters who clearly deserve better than that from all of us. It is my hope that before this gets further out of hand, that we pledge to focus on and address the problems facing the people of our district. It would be a credit to both of us if resources and ideas are offered to promote problem solving instead of name calling.

Our district was especially hard hit by this lingering recession. Jobs and revived economic growth should be our number one priority. Property tax relief, health care reform, education and crime are the other major issues I intend to raise during the course of this campaign. Your newspaper should be examining mine and Mr. Scott's records along with our solutions to all of them. I am extremely proud of my record and therefore have no interest in generating sneeze in hopes that the press will waste its valuable time ignoring it.

I also call upon my opponent to stop the Florio-bashing (I'm your opponent Mr. Scott, not Jim Florio), and ask that he join with me in making a commitment to the voters of the 36th Legislative District to elevate this campaign right from the start. If he is as proud of his record as I am of mine, then he too will want to make his case to the people he was elected to serve.

Rest assured however, whether Mr. Scott continues to run from his record or not, I will continue to make the case to the voters that he has not represented their interests and I have. Unlike my opponent, I will accomplish this by simply asking the voters to compare our legislative accomplishments, and base all my arguments on our recorded actions and publicly documented statements.

My faith remains strong in the community where I have lived and worked my entire life. Many people know of my commitment and that I share many of the same problems they struggle with today. I am confident that if the people of our district simply compare our legislative records and accomplishments, that they will see for themselves that I delivered and John Scott has failed.

If however Mr. Scott does not make this pledge and continues with his sneeze campaign, then I will have no alternative but to fight back. The simple truth is that I learned the hard way that you must respond to that kind of garbage or pay the price for it. This is one candidate that will not let 1991 happen again — not this year, not this time.

As one of the leading newspapers covering our district, you have the opportunity to extract from Mr. Scott another pledge: stop the dangerous race baiting campaign he is waging. All of his campaign literature continuously pits the people of the suburbs against those living in the City of Passaic. Although Senator Scott took an oath to represent all of his constituents, he refuses to accept the fact that our district is not just made up of suburbs but Passaic City as well.

Our district with its diversity of cities and suburbs brings competing interests which I always found challenging and exciting. I believe that the real test is to bring these diverse groups and viewpoints together — it's called leadership. It is apparent in both in his actions and words that Mr. Scott does not.

For example, his campaign literature actually invents a fictitious plan for “forced school busing from the suburbs to the big cities,” and then Scott portrays himself as someone who “is fighting against it.” He further goes on to take credit for “stopping suburban drivers from subsidizing rates of young men in cities.” Believe it or not, these aren't even the more inflammatory and disgraceful examples of Mr. Scott's writings! I refuse to cite those because would only feed into Mr. Scott's ongoing hate campaign.

I'll make a deal with you, Mr. Scott. Let's agree that we are both opposed to forced busing of any kind — and remove this phoney issue from our public debate. Then, join with me in discussing the real issues confronting us during this important campaign.

I look forward to a positive and informative campaign this fall. The voters deserve nothing less.

He thanks neighbors

To the editor:

My name is Don Zalesky and I live at 143 Newark Avenue. For the last 6 months my yard has been full of debris from renovations to my house.

During that time my neighbors never complained about the eyesore that was next to their yards. They could have reported the mess, but chose not to. I know from hearing stories that friends have told me, that good neighbors are hard to find. That is why I would like to apologize to my neighbors for the mess in my yard and thank them all for being so patient.

Donald C. Zalesky

‘911’ thanked

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the “911” Emergency Unit and Belleville Police when I had a bad fall in my home. They were here in minutes and got me to Clara Maass.

I spent time in Clara Maass, then at Welkind Rehabilitation Center and finally at Dover General Hospital.

I am home now but shall always be grateful for their service I received from the “911” service unit.

Once again, thank you very much.

• SOME people take pleasure in bashing the Catholic Church — near and far. Archbishop Theodore E. McCarrick of Newark recently joined other Catholic leaders in criticizing the nomination of Dr. Joycelyn Elders saying, “Her public comments attacking the Catholic Church are clear examples of Catholic-bashing.” McCarrick said it truly pained him to speak against the appointment of an Afro-American, but he said Elders' comments, if made about any other religious group, race, or ethnic minority, “would have surely — and correctly — prevented her nomination by the president. How is it that attacks on Catholics are a cause for promotion and not shame?”

Among derogatory comments made about the Catholic Church, Elders criticized abortion opponents by saying, “Look who's fighting the ‘pro-choice’ movement — a celibate male-dominated church.”

• ESSEX COUNTY Democrat Chairman Tom Giblin is one of the luckiest guys around these days. His executive committee of the Essex County Democrat organization awarded the gentleman a $63,000 annual salary. During County Executive Tom D'Alessio's one year term of office as chairman, no compensation was paid to D'Alessio.

Giblin's primary occupation is president of Operating Engineers Local 68. When Tom Giblin resigned as Surrogate because of his election as Essex County Democrat Chairman, a screening committee was convened by Giblin to select a successor.

The primary job of the committee was to select a candidate to run for Essex County Surrogate at the November election. Giblin had decided the nominee to be Maria Viscaranda DeSoto, wife of Superior Court Judge Hector DeSoto.

The surrogate is recognized as a member of the Judiciary and is customarily addressed as Judge. So, when the phone rings at the DeSoto house and the callers want to talk to the Judge, they are going to have trouble answering the phone. One would think that Giblin, having the choice of making a major appointment, would want to spread it around and broaden the base of the Democrat Party during these extremely difficult times. He was ill advised to not only keep the Surrogate's appointment in the same family, but to offend a major Democrat player, Democrat North Ward Chairman, Fran Aduato in whose ward DeSoto resides.

In politics, no political heavyweight with appointment power makes an appointment from a community or from a ward without, at the very least, contacting the town chairman or ward chairman. Giblin not only ignored Fran Aduato of the North Ward, but when he appointed a person to represent the Democrat Party of Nutley, he ignored the town Democrat Chairman.

This would not appear to be the conventional way of building up a political party. Fran Aduato was not only ignored, but when she rose to raise questions concerning the nomination of someone from her ward, Giblin told her to leave the room. Of course, timid Fran is no pushover when it comes to standing up for one's rights. No one stands stronger or taller than Fran Aduato.

• SENATOR BILL BRADLEY will explain his new package of bills designed to stimulate urban neighborhoods and businesses this Saturday, September 18th, 9 am to 12 Noon at Essex County College. Hopefully, Bradley will come back some day and visit Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield and tell us what package of bills he will introduce to stimulate suburban neighborhoods and businesses.

• LAST Sunday, ceremonies were held at Father Glotzbach Park in Nutley officially designating the recreation area as the “Carl A. Orechio Memorial Fields and Recreation Area”. Nutley Parks and Public Property Commissioner Frank A. Cocchiola made the recommendation to the Nutley Board of Commissioners that a memorial be established to recognize the work which the late Carl A. Orechio performed over eight years as the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation. Carl's relatives and many of his family friends and town workers were among the audience. In his remarks, Mayor Carmen Orechio gave credit to his brother, Carl, for inspiring him to take an active interest in government. Carmen has served 18 years in the New Jersey Senate and is in his 27th year as a member of the Nutley Town Commission. Through Carmen, the Orechio family expressed its appreciation to Commissioner Cocchiola for conceiving the idea of creating the memorial in memory of Carl.

Letters to the Editor

New Provident checking account offers no balance, waived fees

Tennis, anyone?

To the editor:

As a tennis player in Belleville, I am very disheartened by the awful condition of the tennis courts. Since there are only three courts in the whole town, it would not appear to be such an awesome responsibility to keep them in playing condition.

This problem has been in existence for years, getting worse as time goes on. Even if the average town player is not to be considered important enough to warrant a nice and safe surface on which to play, picture the children and teens who may find it difficult to stir up an interest in the game due to the horrendous conditions. And how about the high school team players, who, I am sure must be embarrassed because Belleville cannot host any home matches because of the disrepair.

Isn't it time the town took some action, so our community doesn't become a total laughing stock to the surrounding towns?

I have measured just one of the cracks that runs across the court — it is two inches in width. Several weeks ago I know there were some photos of these cracks in the Belleville Times. So far, this expose has not made a dent in the situation. Along with this letter to the editor, I am enclosing a photo of the garbage cans which sit outside the fence by the courts — overflowing and overloaded — adding insult to injury. Is garbage ever picked up here?

I love this town and have lived here almost 28 years. I'm hoping this letter will provide a little incentive for making Belleville a little better place in which to live.

Lois Tirrell

Plea for sanity

To the editor:

On Monday, Aug. 30, 1993, I attended the Belleville Board of Education public meeting. The main focus was the allocation of the school budget and the effect of budget cuts on extra-curricular student activities.

I witnessed finger pointing by some board members; finger pointing by some Town Council members; and finger pointing by some citizens.

The main issue of course, is the well being of the students. An enormous amount of energy is spent placing blame. Let's recognize the fact that Belleville is struggling through tough financial times. It's time to expend our energy in a constructive manner. Instead of looking for ways to pass the blame, let's devote some effort to help resolve the issue of providing the proper environment for the students in our community.

We need to follow the example set by the Belleville Music Parents Association. Through the fundraising efforts of the BMDA, significant monetary support has enabled activities like Band Camp and Band Clinic to continue as usual. In addition to monetary support, emotional support by the group promotes a healthy atmosphere.

Belleville needs parents, teachers and friends of students participating in extra curricular activities to rise to the occasion in this time of need and volunteer some time so threatened programs can survive.

Nice going, BMDA.

Provident, New Jersey's oldest mutual savings bank, is introducing "Grand Deal" Checking — a checking account that enables customers to earn interest on checking and save money by having service fees waived. Customers receive these advantages when a $1,000 average daily balance is maintained during the month. The low $1,000 minimum balance is offered by very few banks in the state. Several area banks require a balance as high as $5,000 in order to earn interest on a checking account balance.

Maintaining the minimum balance enables the Provident customer to avoid monthly service and per check fees. In addition, the customer is entitled to an initial supply of 50 free checks as well as a rate discount on Provident Home Equity and Auto loans.

Grand-Deal accounts may also enjoy a 24-hour cash card option which allows an unlimited number of transactions for only $1 a month at Cirrus, MAC, Honor and Plus automated tellers — an attractive benefit when compared to usual charges by other institutions for each and every "foreign" ATM transaction.

The Grand-Deal Account was designed to meet the most wanted checking services according to an in-depth customer survey. High on the list of services requested was overdraft protection for which Grand-Deal charges only $2 per transfer service while avoiding a prevailing $25 returned check charge.

Another Grand-Deal Checking option makes it possible to link a checking and savings account. By maintaining $1,000 in a statement savings account, the customer need no longer worry about a minimum balance in this checking account, thus maximizing interest earnings in savings.

As an inducement for customers to experience the significant value offered by Grand-Deal Checking, Provident will give a free slim line telephone gift with the opening of each new account. Customers may acquire a second free telephone gift if another account is opened resulting from their recommendation to a friend.

Senior citizens who open a Grand-Deal Checking account will receive a special consideration in the form of free basic check printing when they maintain a $1,000 average daily balance in a statement savings account.

Paul M. Pantozzi, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "In these tough economic times, we at Provident are committed to providing real value in banking services. Our Grand-Deal Checking account is a great deal which demonstrates just one way we are meeting that goal."

The Provident, headquartered in Jersey City, has 35 offices throughout the state. It is a member of FDIC and an Equal Housing and Opportunity Lender.

Hoffmann-LaRoche chairman to be honored by Congregation

The Congregation Agudath Israel of West Essex is hosting Kavod: An Evening of Honors on Oct. 10. This dinner dance is a fundraiser for the Youth Education and Activities Program provided by the Congregation Agudath Israel. These educational programs are designed to promote religious values and heritage as well as to forge involvement in the community and to build character among youth. Programs are available for children of all ages from infancy through college and range from formal education to informal social, recreational and cultural programs.

The theme of Kavod: An Evening of Honors highlights two generations of international achievements by members of the Congregational family. Rabbi Alan Silverstein and Congregant Irwin Lerner will be the two honorees.

Lerner, chairman of Hoffmann-LaRoche in Nutley, will be honored for his outstanding contributions to the Congregation. A resident of North Caldwell, Lerner has been an active member of Congregation Agudath Israel for more than 30 years. He was instrumental in developing the synagogue's long-range planning program and has been actively involved in many synagogue programs for two decades. "Irwin Lerner is an outstanding role model for our youth," said Rabbi Silverstein. "He is a man who combines professional excellence with exemplary character and community involvement."

Rabbi Silverstein has served as the Congregation's Rabbi since 1979 and has become an international Rabbinic leader holding many positions including secretary, treasurer and vice president of the International Rabbinic Assembly. He is in line to become the next international president in 1994.

DEPRESSION

My roommate was depressed. More than the blues. I mean seriously depressed.

She always looked sad. Cried a lot. She couldn't sleep, eat, or do any of her work.

Treat it! Defeat it!

Most of the time she wouldn't talk to me. I just couldn't reach her.

I figured she needed to get professional help, before her pain got worse. So I checked it out.

I was amazed. Once her depression was diagnosed, treatment was effective and began to work within a few weeks.

Wedekin-Gencarelli engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wedekin of Nutley announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine F., to Elio Gencarelli, son of Anna Gencarelli of Newark.

The troth was made known June 12. The wedding is planned for next October.

Miss Wedekin, an alumna of Belleville High School, is a secretary at Power Electric.

Mr. Gencarelli, an graduate of Bloomfield Tech, is an electrician at Power Electric.

Elio Gencarelli — Catherine Wedekin

Mr. and Mrs. John Valvano — nee Mary Sheppard

Mary Sheppard bride of John Valvano

Mary Nichole Sheppard, daughter of John Sheppard, M.D., of Burlington, Vermont, and Johanna Shal of Huntington, Vermont, became the bride July 24 of John Gerard Valvano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valvano of Nutley.

The Rev. Thomas Ball performed the ceremony in Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Burlington. A reception followed at Bolton Valley Resort.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white silk gown accented with pearls, sequins and Alencon lace and fashioned with a fitted bodice, tiered back, three-quarter sleeves and cathedral train.

A pearl-edged Juliet cap held her veil and she carried a diamond-shaped bouquet of white Casablanca lilies, Kyria and Bridal Spray roses, Queen Anne's Lace and variegated ivy.

Susy Bogdan of Pacific Grove, California, was maid of honor and Suzanne Henrick of Wilton, Connecticut, was bridesmaid.

They were in lilac and rose floral print gowns with sweetheart necklines, shirred stand-away sleeves, fitted bodices and tea length skirts.

They carried Oceana and Kyria open roses with delphinium and lavender.

David Knox of Columbia, S.C., served as best man. Peter Valvano of Nutley, brother of the groom, ushered.

The bride's mother chose a tea rose two-piece suit while the groom's mother was in a teal blue two-piece silk dress. Corsages were of Japhet orchids and variegated ivy.

Mrs. Valvano, an alumna of the University of Vermont with degrees in biology and zoology, is a medical student at the University of Vermont at Burlington. She served as an officer in the United States Air Force from 1989 to 1992.

Mr. Valvano, a graduate of Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, earned a masters in international relations at North Western Oklahoma State University. He served as an officer and pilot in the United States Air Force and is employed as a pilot for USAIR/COMMUTAIR, Plattsburgh, N.Y.

The couple honeymooned at Lake Champlain and have made their home in Burlington.

Clara Maass Auxiliary has cookbooks for sale

Clara Maass Health System and the Clara Maass Auxiliary, will present "Cooking Through the Years," a commemorative cookbook, at a reception 2 to 3 p.m. Sept. 30 in the Belleville Founders Room at the medical center.

The cookbook, offered as part of the medical center's 125th anniversary, contains over 350 recipes which reflect the many traditions that have contributed to the medical center.

Under the direction of Marie Vander Zwan, president of the Clara Maass Auxiliary, and Ailene Earl, the cookbook committee solicited recipes from all segments of the Clara Maass community, including auxiliary members, trustees, employees, volunteers and medical staff members and their families.

Recipes were also contributed from the entertainment and political worlds. Contributors include Olympia Dukakis, Dionne Warwick, James Kiberd (Trevor Dillion on "All My Children"), Lucinda Florio and Bill and Ernestine Bradley. Recipes were also submitted by Nanina's-in-the-Park, Il Tulipano, Antonio's and Casa Turano Restaurants and by relatives of Clara Louise Maass, the medical center's namesake, including recipes brought over from Germany by Clara's parents.

Recipes were reviewed by food service professionals of Seiler's Corporation, which provides dietary services for the medical center. Priced at $10 each, "Cooking Through the Years" may be purchased at the medical center's gift shop or by calling the auxiliary at 450-2150.

In addition to the reception, foods from the cookbook will be available for purchase in the medical center's cafeteria at lunch and dinner on Sept. 30, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Season opener next Friday at Don Bosco

Size, experience key Bucs

By Mike Lambert
With the regular season opener just one week from tomorrow, the Belleville football team is putting the final touches on the pre season. John Senesky's team will be at Livingston on Saturday morning for the final exhibition game. The scrimmage should begin at 10 a.m. Next Friday evening, the regular season starts with a game at Don Bosco. Kickoff time is 7 p.m.

Senesky has seen his team take part in two scrimmages thus far, battling Scotch Plains and then taking part in a tri-scrimmage last Saturday against Columbia and West Orange.

"The kids played pretty well," the coach said. "We're still experimenting with a lot of younger players because we don't have a lot of seniors on the team and we don't have a lot of returning lettermen."

"We're trying not only to decide on starting positions, but to develop some depth at some of the key spots."

The 1993 Bucs certainly have size on the offensive and defensive lines.

"We're bigger than we've been in a long time," Senesky said. "But we also need to have the players work on movement and footwork. That's key right now. The linemen are young and strong and certainly, there is plenty of potential."

The guards include Frank Marrero (6'2", 265 pounds), Cliff Mann (5'10", 200), Ed Molina (5'11", 210), Sam Marino and Dave Chululandana.

The tackles are massive, with Ray Kuebler (6', 260), Alex Loney (6', 300), Robert Dena (6'2", 275) and Brian Pasterchick (6', 255).

It is by far the largest offensive and defensive lines that Belleville has had in at least 12 years, if not longer.

"Most of the offensive linemen will probably see action on the defensive side of the ball," Senesky said. "That's where the depth factor becomes most important. We'd like to keep the amount of players playing both ways down somewhat, although that will be difficult with the experience factor being lower than normal this year."

In the offensive backfield, Mike Mundy returns for his third year at quarterback. Mundy, who stands 6' tall, has a good arm and is very savvy on the field. His experience in the pocket this season will be a big factor toward Belleville's success.

Backing up Mundy at quarterback will probably be junior Ron Parekh.

"Ron throws the ball well, he just needs the experience of playing consistently," Senesky said.

The running backs are quick. Sal Berardi, a junior, joins Anthony Caruso at wingback. Both men are very fast off the ball and are good open field runners.

Senesky is also optimistic with the performances of John Spina and Jason DiCosta in the pre season.

"Right now, we're working with all the running backs in learning to read blocks and find the seam," Senesky said. "We've got some fast runners, it's important for them to run as efficiently as possible."

The fullbacks include Ed Miranda, Spencer Schwed, Tyrone Pitts and Robert Caputo. In Belleville's offensive scheme, the fullback is required to not only run the ball effectively, but also block on just about every offensive down when they're not asked to carry the ball.

Experience also rests with the receiving corps, where Joe DePeri and Jason Christy return, along with talented players Anthony Frantantoni and Mike Loney.

Also looking good at wide receiver in the pre season are Tom Escott and Angelo Gabriel.

Senior Joe Citarella, a key linebacker on the defensive side of the ball, has been battling injuries in the pre season, but the coach is optimistic that Citarella will be ready for Don Bosco.

"We expect Joe to have medical clearance this week," Senesky said. "He should be able to play in the opener."

While Senesky doesn't have a scouting report on Don Bosco yet, the chances are good that the Bergen County team will be well prepared.

Belleville and Don Bosco began its football rivalry at Don Bosco in 1984, with the Bucs winning 14-0 on opening day. The following year, Don Bosco returned the favor, winning on opening day at Municipal Stadium, 8-2.

The two teams did not play again until 1988, when Belleville recorded a 7-0 win at Doc Ellis Field. In '89, Don Bosco prevailed, 18-12 in the now infamous "dirty hands" game, also played at Doc Ellis.

Belleville has won the past three meetings. In 1990, the Bucs pulled a major upset, beating Don Bosco in week eight, 13-6 at frigid Doc Ellis Field. In that game, the Bucs were 3-4 coming in while Don Bosco was 6-1 and needed a win to clinch a playoff berth.

Belleville prevailed in a thriller and ten days later, beat Nutley to clinch a winning season. Don Bosco still qualified for the state playoffs and went on to win a championship.

In 1991, the Bucs played at Don Bosco and won 26-14. Last year, the two teams met on opening day again, with the Bucs winning 12-0.

Overall, Belleville holds a 5-2 lead in the series, and as you can see from the scores, all of the games have been very close.

NOTES: Bucs home opener is set for October 1, when powerful Hackensack comes to Doc Ellis Field for a 7 p.m. game. Hackensack is highly rated in the pre season polls. The Comets won the Group IV, Section I championship last season.

If you're planning to go to Don Bosco for the season opener on September 24, you are best advised to allow at least one hour for travel time. Don Bosco High School is located in Ramsey, off Route 17 North, just minutes from the New York State line. Friday evening rush hour traffic is generally heavy on Route 17.

Belleville's first six games are all Friday night contests.

High School Sports: Real Action

By Steve Patchett

With the Major League Baseball playoffs bearing down on us and the National Football League recently kicking off its season, it may seem easy to overlook high school athletics.

Sure, high school sports may not be as glamorous or attract the TV coverage that professional sports receive, but they've also got certain qualities the pros can't touch.

Take rivalries, for example.

Can anything really top the annual Nutley-Belleville or Bloomfield-Montclair Thanksgiving day games? Probably not. The highly-charged atmosphere at these high school games is unlike any other experience in sports. Players seem to have an added spark when they represent their school and the town that they grew up in.

Of course there are famous rivalries in professional sports, but the meaning and intensity varies from year to year just as the players vary. The Chicago Bears-Detroit Lions game may have been a great rivalry at one time, but today the only similarities are the uniforms. Professional players don't have as much connection to the past because they aren't citizens from neighboring towns battling for pride. They are (highly) paid mercenaries in shoulder pads whose allegiance to a city only runs about as deep as their pockets.

And how much loyalty does a professional team have to its city? From what I've seen, not much. I have to admit that I used to be a Hartford Whalers hockey fan (probably the only one). However, after the Whalers threatened to move to

Soccer team opens tomorrow

By Mike Lambert

After two outstanding seasons, the Belleville soccer team enters the 1993 campaign with guarded optimism.

Gino DePinto's team opens the season tomorrow afternoon with a game against a good Montclair Kimberly team on the road. Next Tuesday, St. Joe's comes to Clearmont Field for 4 p.m. kickoff. That game begins the NNJIL Pacific Division schedule.

DePinto has seen his team play excellent soccer the past two years. The '91 and '92 Bucs finished with identical 14-4-2 records and in both instances, placed second in the Pacific Division.

"We look okay so far this year," DePinto said. "We had a real good turnout, with 19 kids on the varsity. I'm pretty optimistic about the height we have on the team. We also have some experienced players coming back in key positions."

One of those experienced players is senior forward Greg Groel-

ing. In 1992, Groeling led the team in scoring and was among the county and conference scoring leaders as well.

Giuseppe Mennella will return in the midfield, although an injury could delay the start of his season.

"He should be okay by next week," DePinto said of Mennella, a four year starter.

In goal, Mike Percio is back for his senior campaign. Percio was outstanding in the nets last year and his varsity and experience in the Garden State games last summer should help him a great deal in the Pacific Division wars.

The backfield has good potential with Steve Collett and Diego Paredes returning to the lineup. Also expected to play in the backfield are Chris Imperatrice and Anthony Vitello.

Joe Colucci will play midfield and Marcelo Giorlando should be the starting sweeper.

JV players from last year who could make an impact on the varsity include Frank Tafur and Frank Toledo.

DePinto expects Don Bosco to once again be the team to beat in the Pacific Division this fall.

"They've won the league championship the past three years," the coach said. "And they should be real strong again this season. Hackensack will also be tough. Over the past few years, we've battled both of those teams pretty well."

The soccer program at Belleville has developed into one of the most successful programs in the school. Thanks to a good feeder program on the lower level (the Belleville Soccer Association being one of the main contributors), along with a growing interest in the sport nation wide, the future of soccer at Belleville is looking very good.

"We should have a good JV team," DePinto said. "I don't know if we'll be able to field a freshman team, however. That's something we'll have to look at pretty soon."

Auriemma among Giuffrida sponsors

By Mike Lambert

The fourth annual Sam Giuffrida Run will be held on Sunday morning, October 24, at Belleville High School.

There will be a one mile "fun run" beginning at 9:30 a.m., followed by a five mile run through Belleville which begins, and ends at Belleville High. That race will commence at 10 a.m.

The race is in memory of the late Sam Giuffrida, a very popular teacher and coach who passed away suddenly on May 22, 1989.

During the past three years, the Sam Giuffrida Race Committee has awarded $7500.00 in scholarships to Belleville High seniors, to help further their educations.

Corporate sponsorship has arrived for the race, with Charles Auriemma of Auriemma Electric leading the way.

"We're very grateful to Mr. Auriemma for all his help," race coordinator Lorraine Leming said. "He has agreed to fund the printing of the tee shirts, which is a key part of the race."

Also providing sponsorship for the race is Dr. Len Russo, a chiropractor who has been involved with the race for the past three years and Philmore Associates, who also has been involved with the race since its inception in 1990.

Russo, a 1983 graduate of Belleville High School, was an outstanding athlete during his days in the Buccaneer Blue and Gold.

Other corporate sponsors are Carl's Appliance and Mike Davis & Co.

Those who are familiar with Sam Giuffrida will know Mike Davis' significance in this race. Davis rowed crew for Giuffrida from 1974-76. The 1976 senior eight shell was inducted into the Belleville Hall of Fame in 1985 and Davis was the spokesman for the team on the night of induction. Davis was also very close with Giuffrida long after graduating from Belleville High in '76.

Applications for the race are also available. They can be picked up at Fleet Feet in Montclair, The Sneak-er Factory in Millburn, Joel's Sporting Goods in Stiretown, Tom Fleming's Running Room in Bloomfield, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce and at the Belleville Library.

While sponsors are making their impact, any donations are most appreciated. A donation of $275.00 or more will entitle you to have your company's name on the racing tee shirt, which is distributed to all runners on the day of the race. All donations are also included in press releases issued by the race committee.

If you're not able to make a cash donation, the committee would also welcome any gift items that can be used as prizes which are awarded to the runners after the completion of the run.

Questions on the race should be directed to Lorraine Leming at 751-6251 or Tonia Moore at 744-0408.

The course used for the run is TAC certified, with water locations at the beginning of the race, the two mile mark and the finish line. The race is timed by computer. Prizes are issued to the top three male and female finishers in the one mile and five mile race.

In addition, prizes are awarded to men and women for finishing in the top three in the various age groups, beginning at 10 and under and going all the way to 70 and over.

Registration up to and including October 19, 1993 is $10.00 and all runners are guaranteed tee shirts. After October 19, the registration fee is $12.00 and tee shirts are available as long as supplies last. Separate registration is required for each event.

We'll have more information on the race in upcoming issues.

TREAT ULCERS WITH ANTIBIOTICS

There is big news for the ten percent or so of all Americans who experience ulcers. A recent study conducted by a team of gastroenterologists in Vienna confirms the suspicion that bacteria cause most cases of peptic ulcers. Whether gastric (stomach) or duodenal (small intestine), peptic ulcers erode the lining of the gastrointestinal tract to cause pain and sometimes bleeding. Until 1982, it had been thought that spicy foods and excess stomach acid triggered by stress were the causes. In response, drugs that inhibit stomach acid secretion have been used to treat ulcers. The new study shows, however, that antibiotics treat ulcers more effectively (92 vs. 75%). More impressively, ulcer patients who took antibiotics were significantly less likely to suffer a recurrence.

When you have a prescription, to take antibiotics, bring it to us at ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We have a complete prescription department, handle the sale and rental of convalescent aids and stock many other items. Hours: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. Oct. 1-31 is National Aids Awareness Month.

HINT: Drugs that inhibit stomach acid secretions can heal ulcers, but they must be used indefinitely to prevent ulcers from returning.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

mainly Bob LaBruzza, who rushed for over 100 yards and Ralph DePasquale, who made a stirring interception of a Stevens pass in the end zone to end an Indian rally.

Game 6, Belleville 14, Morris Knolls 7. At Giants Stadium, November 1980: It was Belleville's first ever playoff win, and it couldn't have come in a better forum. The Bucs were led by Paul Scheuplein who rushed for over 100 yards and a defense paced by Anthony D'Agostino and Luigi Chimento. As the victorious Bucs left the field, the P.A. system blared out the teams theme song, "Another One Bites the Dust."

Game 5, Belleville 34, Seton Hall Prep 8. At Seton Hall, November 1980: Just three years ago, Seton Hall had beaten the Bellboys 63-0. Now, the Bucs had the upper hand, dominating a good Pirate team and winning 34-8. Phil Cerza was a monster on defense and Frank Fazzini, en route to a 1,000 yard rushing year, scored three touchdowns. Ken Constantino also scored for the Bucs, who improved to 6-1 with the win.

Game 4, Belleville 14, Seton Hall Prep 13. At Seton Hall, November 1979: In a memorable comeback, the Bucs beat Seton Hall on a late TD pass from Aulisi to Len Mendola. The Bucs trailed 13-7 with less than a minute left in the game when Mendola caught the tying TD pass. DePasquale hit the all important PAT and the Bucs had a monumental win against a dominant Seton Hall team.

Game 3, Belleville 13, Passaic 9. At Passaic, October 1980: The Bucs won on a late TD pass from John Melillo to Scheuplein. Passaic, which lost just one game all season, was led by freshman running back Craig Heyward. This game marked the start of Fazzini's career as a fullback, and he responded with 106 yards rushing.

Game 2, Belleville 7, Nutley 7. At Belleville, November 1992: It was just ten months ago. Mighty Nutley, who would eventually win the Group III, Section II title against the Bucs, who were struggling for confidence and respectability. It was a classic game, with both teams having scoring opportunities late in regulation time. It ended appropriately. The two teams will meet again this November to renew the rivalry once again. (John Kuebler scored the Bucs only TD on an interception return in the third quarter).

Game 1, Belleville 3, Passaic 2. At Belleville, October 1982: If you were there, you know what I mean. It was, indeed, an unbelievable game. Heyward against Dave Grant. Robbie Cancelliere kicks the field goal for Belleville in the second quarter and the defense is outstanding. Cancelliere, also the Bucs punter, steps out of the end zone late in the fourth quarter to avoid a possible blocked punt. Passaic was ranked number one in the state and sixth in the nation. The game was played before perhaps the biggest crowd, ever, at Municipal Stadium.

If you were there, you know what a memorable game it was.

Real Action

Minnesota because the North Stars moved to Dallas it all became too much for me. I couldn't take this revolving door syndrome. I wanted the team to be there for me if I was going to be there for the team.

That's what I like about high school sports. Unlike the pros, high schools don't just pick up and move when their teams fall on hard times. Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley will always be next to each other and you know the intensity will be there year after year.

It's also nice to have a real connection with the players. You may get excited over a Phil Simms touchdown pass, but nothing tops the exhilaration of cheering for a neighbor, classmate, or relative. And if you've got a son or daughter in high school athletics, forget it. Few experiences are as wonderfully nerve-racking as watching your child compete in sports. You can count on an incredible high when the game is going well, and plenty of antacid when it's not. As columnist Earl Wilson once wrote, "For the parents of a Little Leaguer, a baseball game is simply a nervous breakdown divided into innings."

Some may argue that professional sports are more interesting because the level of play is better. Certainly, you'd be hard-pressed to find a high school athlete who could match the world-class performance of a Jerry Rice or a Lawrence Taylor. But what high school players may lack in skill, they more than make up for in unpredictability. After covering high school sports in San Francisco, I'm convinced that any team really can beat any other team on any given day. I've seen fumbles, blunders, and mental lapses enable last place teams to upset the league leaders, and turn routine blowouts into exciting contests. When was the last time a team like the Tampa Bay Buccaneers upset the 49ers? Often, professional sports appear as refined and sterile as the artificial surfaces they play on. High school games may be more erratic, but it keeps things interesting and makes the game seem more human.

Lastly, high school sports have an advantage because they aren't based on making money. Most kids are there to make friends, have fun, and learn about the game. The professional athlete is essentially working at a career, trying to put food on the table. Player salaries may be based on supply and demand, and they have every right to ask for the going rate, but it's upsetting to see their love of the game take a back seat. At last check, Dallas Cowboy all-pro running back Emmitt Smith was still holding out for more money rather than playing the game he once claimed to love. Just recently, Smith admitted that it wouldn't bother him if he never suited up again.

That kills me. I personally know several young players who would play pro football for next to nothing. It's a goal and a dream of theirs, and the money is clearly secondary. Who knows, maybe that was Smith's attitude at one time.

But money has a tendency to take the perspective out of sports. We must remember that all sports are, in their purest forms, games. They're not businesses, they're not a means to sell advertising, and nobody knows more about games than kids.

So, go ahead. Keep watching the Jets and the Giants slug it out on Sundays. Just remember that the real football is being played on Friday nights and Saturday afternoons.

Button Up Your Home To Save Fuel Costs

Insulating is important to control heat loss through walls, floors and ceilings.

Most of us live in houses which were built at a time when nobody worried about the cost and supply of oil, gas or electricity. Today, we are learning from our soaring heating bills that our homes are ill-protected against heat loss. However, by adding more insulation where there is none or too little and by installing weatherstripping and storm windows, we can cut heat loss, use less fuel and save money.

Insulating is really very simple. All you need is the proper insulation and a good stapler like Arrow's T-50 Staple Gun, FT-50/ETN-50 Electro-Matic Staple Guns, ETC-50 Cordless Electric Staple Gun or HT-50A Hammer Tracker. Load your gun with staples that have 3/8" legs. These have ample penetration in the softwood studs and excellent holding power. Insulation with vapor barriers usually has flanges at the edges for easy stapling.

Press the insulation in between the studs and staple the flange on one side to the front of the adjacent stud; repeat with the flange on the other side. The entire cavity between studs should be filled with insulation from top to bottom without any gaps or breaks. The staples should be driven every six inches. Note: If you use insulation with an aluminum foil vapor barrier, the flanges on both sides must be stapled to the sides of the studs. If you have the vapor barrier facing the warmer adjacent areas, the barrier and its flanges will be out of reach on the inside of the cavity. Support this insulation with chicken wire stapled to the studs.

If you use insulation without a vapor barrier, place it between the studs in the usual way, then cover the entire wall with sheets of clear polyethylene plastic as a vapor barrier. If possible, fold the sheet so you are stapling through a double thickness. Staples should be inserted every 8 inches along the front end of each stud.

For additional tool information, write to Arrow Fastener Company, Inc., 271 Mayhill Street, Saddle Brook, NJ 07662.
