Biggest Veteran's Day Parade yet is scheduled to march this Sunday

Some 1,600 marchers in 45 units are expected to step off at 2 p.m. Sunday on Greylock Parkway in Belleville's Veteran's Day Parade. Parade Chairperson Barbara Tuck has announced.

Sponsored by the Veteran's Council of Belleville, with Grand Marshal Robert Browning of American Legion Post 299 at the head, the marchers will move down Greylock Parkway to Washington Avenue to the Municipal Building at Belleville Avenue.

Belleville Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood will ride in an antique car provided by Donna Motors, as Irish Woman of The Year, representing the Belleville Irish-American Society.

The Belleville High School Marching Band will head the units, and state, county and local officials are expected to review the parade from the stand in front of Town Hall.

Included among the marching units will be:

The Colonial Musketeers, a five and drum corps from Hackettstown; the Jersey Coast Sound from Freehold; the Bushwackers Drum and Bugle Corps of Harrison; the New York Transit Police Pipers Band; the Melrose Black Hawks, American Legion State Champions, of South Amboy; the Saddle Brook Fire Department Band; the Bound Brook Drum and Bugle Corp, and the Weequahic High School Band.

Marching units include the United States Army Reserve Color Guard of Lodi; the Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps of Lakewood High School; the McGuire Air Force Base Honor Guard; the Fifth Airborne Special Forces Vietnam Veterans of America, making its first appearance in New Jersey; the 50th Armored Division of the New Jersey National Guard, and the Italian-American Police Society of New Jersey.

Also, Boy Scout Troops 350 and 351 of Belleville; Cub Scout Pack 350 of Belleville; the Newark Police Athletic League Color Guard and Drill Team; the Belleville Recreation Department; the Essex County Sheriff's Department, and Knights of Columbus Chapters 835 of Belleville and 2436 of Nutley.

Also represented will be the Belleville units of the American Legion, Catholic War Veterans, Amvets, Italian American War Veterans, Pearl Harbor Survivors, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Tin Can Sailors.

"It will be the biggest and the best," Mrs. Tuck said, noting that Belleville has observed the event with a parade since World War I, when Veteran's Day was known as Armistice Day, commemorating the end of World War I, Nov. 11, 1918.

Fire Department suspicious of fire that destroyed home

Deputy Fire Chief Charles Aughenbaugh said the fire that destroyed a frame house being renovated at 202 Union Ave. on Oct. 28 was of "suspicious nature".

Sources in the Department noted that the fire apparently started on the back porch of the building, possibly set by an arsonist.

The house is owned by Angelino and Maria Crocco, who bought the property recently, and have sought a variance to operate a confectionary store in a building on the premises which operated for many years as Water's Dairy.

The building is across the street from the recreation field of School 8, and there has been neighborhood objections to having a food store there.

The Crocco family operate a popular restaurant on Kingsland Avenue in Nutley. They bought it after winning a multi-million dollar prize in a New York Lottery, several years ago.

The frame house was undergoing extensive renovations, and was without electricity or other utilities when the fire occurred.

Councilman Thomas Spillane, who lives around the corner on Lloyd Place, alerted the Fire Department at 4:18 a.m., when he was awakened by the noise of glass windows shattering because of the heat.

The fire was made more dangerous by the presence of dried leaves fallen from the many trees in the neighborhood.

The fire was so intense that the roof caved in and the walls fell outward, hitting the house at 206 Union Avenue, and setting fire to an upstairs bedroom.

The entire Belleville Fire Department shift of some nine men went to the fire, and Aughenbaugh called for help from Newark and Nutley.

Embers were flying over the neighborhood, when the 70-foot ladder of the Quint fire engine carried a hose line that fought the fire from overhead. The flames were quickly retamed, saving the neighboring homes.

By 7 a.m., the fire was officially declared ended.

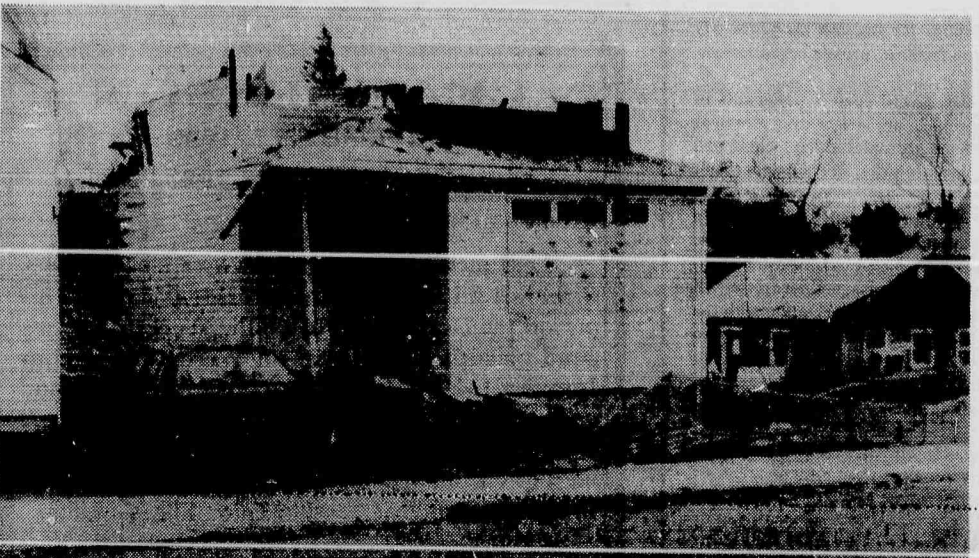

One of the problems facing the Belleville Fire Department was that the full complement of available firefighters would have been insufficient if a rescue attempt had been required. In that case, the men manning the hoses would have had to enter the blazing building and leave the flames to spread.

Budgetary restrictions have reduced the number of firefighters on a shift from 20 to a maximum of 12. A Belleville fire truck carries three firefighters. A Newark truck carries four.

Democrats who had been expecting victory - or at least a very strong showing - in Tuesday's election were disappointed, while many Republicans were almost incredulous at the results.

In a turnout of about half the registered voters, Christine Todd Whitman took three of the four Wards - losing in the Third - to best Governor Jim Florio, 4,771 to 4,625.

Florio won in the Third, 1,034 to 996. In the First, it was 1,123 to 1,091 for Whitman. In the Second, it was 1,450 to 1,349. In the Fourth, it was 1,202 to 1,151.

The victory of Senator John Scott over former Senator Gabe Ambrosio was more one-sided. Scott took Belleville, 4,639 to 3,062, winning every Ward.

In the contest for two seats in the General Assembly, incumbent Republicans won by an even greater margin.

The vote was: John Kelly, 5,264;

Gas leak traced to station

An aftermath of a fire in a gasoline pump in a Belleville Avenue Getty station was the leakage of several hundred gallons of gasoline into the township's sewer system, Deputy Fire Chief Charles Aughenbaugh reported.

The fire occurred in the station when a motorist yanked a hose out of a pump as he drove off, unaware that the hose was still in his gas tank.

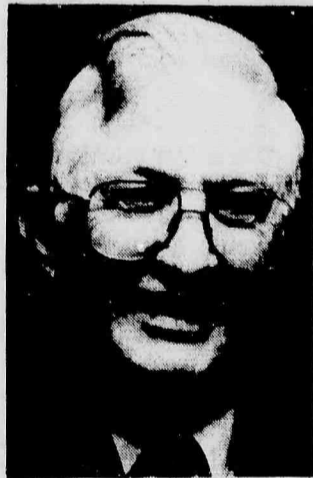

A spark occurred which detonated the pump, but a safety valve prevented the flames from reaching a 36,000-gallon storage tank under the pump.

However, a gas line to the pump cracked, releasing the fuel.

The gasoline spread rapidly, Aughenbaugh said, and could have done serious damage to scores of homes if it had been ignited.

Fumes in the basement of a home at 38 Mt. Prospect Ave. alerted the Fire Department to the danger.

The pipe was repaired, and fire fighters pumped 75,000 gallons of water into the sanitary sewer lines to clear out the remaining gasoline.

John Kelly

John Scott

Paul DiGaetano, 4,595; Mayor Marina Perna, 2,803, and Ozzie Maldonado of Passaic, 2,536.

In the race for Surrogate, Republican Jane Burgio outdistanced Maria Vizcarrondo, 4,087 to 2,774.

Incumbent Democratic Freeholders-at-Large trailed their Republican challengers, at least in Belleville. The vote was Joseph DiVincenzo, Jr., 3,564; Sara B. Bost, 2,729; Patricia Sebold, 2,792; James A. Cavanaugh, 3,078; Frank W. Long, 3,735; Bill Calabrese, 4,212; Timothy J. Kane, 3,919; Yolanda Reigada Gehring, 3,711 and Independent Robert R. Lowrie, none.

A Democrat fared better in Freeholder District 1. Incumbent Freeholder Joseph Parlavecchio received 1,452 votes to 1,330 for Efrain Alameda, Jr.

In Freeholder District 5, Republican incumbent Arthur L. Clay bested Louise M. Palagano, 2,481 to 2,047.

Results were incomplete on the vote on Question 1, but the few hundred who did vote on the issue supported permitting recall elections for elected officials, by a three to one margin.

When the dust settled, the biggest loss in Belleville was sustained by Mayor Perna, who lost her bid for higher office. Her next election challenge comes in May when she comes up for re-election to the Township Council.

Belleville woman arrested for theft of $90,000 loan

A Belleville woman was arrested by Nutley police Oct. 22 for accepting a loan in excess of $90,000 from a 73-year-old Nutley resident and then making no attempt to return the money.

Patricia Ann Wright, 32, was charged with theft by deception after she requested a loan from a neighbor whom she told she had to pay outstanding medical bills.

The 73-year-old victim presented police with photocopies of cancelled checks and deposit slips Oct. 12 when she filed a complaint against Wright. Police said Wright, who used to live in the same Nutley apartment building as the victim, was given a chance to repay some of the loan but nothing worked out. Wright has never returned any of the borrowed money, police said.

The arrest was made after consulting with the Essex County Prosecutors office, police said.

Wright was released on a $50,000 bail bond and her case is being referred to a grand jury.

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

As we approach the observance of Veteran's Day, we are reminded that the tragic losses the Nation has sustained in its wars are still felt. A request has come from an organization, Friends of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, asking for information on William Anderson Branch, who is reported Killed in Action on June 6, 1970. "We have received a request regarding a Vietnam casualty whose home of record is in Belleville," the letter states. "Often veterans want to contact the families of their buddies in order to pay their respects to the family or just to let them know they still remember their friend." ●●●●● Anyone with information may contact this newspaper, or write to Corky Condon, In Touch Director, 2030 Clarendon Blvd., Suite 412, Arlington, Va. 22201; (703) 525-1107.

Pete Mackiewicz, the scribe of Belleville American Legion Post 105, writes: "I served with my buddy, Desmond Doss, 307th Infantry, 77th Division, better known as the Statue of Liberty Division, in the Pacific during World War II. He is the only living Conscientious Objector to win the Congressional Medal of Honor, presented by President Harry Truman. He recently wrote, stating, 'Patriotism is lacking in this country. When I was young, we had a strong love for God and Country.'" ●●●●● "Many Americans forget that for the American soldier in time of war it was Duty - Honor - Country - always with their blood, sweat and tears. Thank God that Veterans keep up the tradition of holding Memorial Services, Veteran's Day parades and other ceremonies." ●●●●●

Isaac Dostis was born on Norfolk Street in Manhattan's Lower East Side. Kostas Nicolaou was born in a small village in the Epirus region of Greece and when they met, after several years of searching by Dostis, it was in Jerusalem, where Dostis had gone to see that justice was done. The State of Israel dedicated a plaque in honor of Nicolaou, citing him as a Righteous Gentile who was instrumental in saving the lives of more than 800 Greek Jews, during World War II. Some of them were members of Dostis' family, Jews who had lived in Epirus before the war. In fact, they were members of a Jewish sect, the Romanites, who had lived in Greece for some 2,000 years. ●●●●● Dostis, now 51, is a teacher of dramatics, an actor and a writer, and he performs shows in libraries, schools and other institutions, which are basically educational in nature. An uncle and an aunt who had escaped Greece and found their way to Israel told Dostis about the Greek physician who had protected them. It seems that Dr. Nicolaou and Dostis' uncle were boyhood friends. The doctor was practicing in Athens when the uncle contacted him and asked for refuge. Dr. Nicolaou placed Dostis' grandfather in a nursing home, under an alias, and arranged that an aunt would given nursing status so she could look after her father. Five other members of the family were smuggled to a ship that sailed to Turkey. In the same nursing home where Dostis' grandfather survived the war were some 800 other Jews, also being protected by the doctors and nurses, at considerable risk to their own lives. Dr. Nicolaou, himself, had to escape the Germans by climbing over a hospital wall and fleeing into the streets of Athens. ●●●●● It took some time to find Dr. Nicolaou, but Dostis finally succeeded, and with the aid of an American philanthropist financed the doctor's visit to Israel, where formal gratitude was shown the aging and heroic son of Hellas. ●●●●● Craig Anderson, son of Belleville's outstanding jazz musician, Howard (Duke) Anderson, sends word from Palmer, Alaska that he is still alive and well, despite the Alaskan winters. Craig is an activist in behalf of Native Americans and Alaska is one of the few places where Indians and Eskimos are in any large numbers, and with any political clout. He says the television series "Northern Exposure" is a pleasant fraud, telling little about the real Alaska. His adventures with an aggressive moose should make entertaining reading at a future time.

Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, is busy packing up his catnip and scratch pads for a trip to far off Bloomfield where he will keep Editor Klausner company in his new assignment as Editor of Bloomfield Life. The Kool Kumbur Boys are debating whether to join him, or to look for Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch, who was just seen heading out to the corner for a copy of the New York Daily Mirror. No one had the heart to tell him.

Firm asks workers to vote

Wallace and Tiernan says its proposal provides guarantee company will stay

The union representing employees of Wallace & Tiernan has filed a complaint against management of unfair practices with the National Labor Relations Board, while management seeks a new effort at approval of company plans to change work rules.

Officials of Wallace & Tiernan are asking the firm's 550 workers to vote on the company's proposal or face the loss of the firm. George Rufenacht, Director of Manufacturing and Materials, called a voice vote held last week which rejected the proposals "A sham".

"The union members were not told that there were no more negotiations to be held, or that the proposal was the last, best and final offer," Rufenacht said.

Rufenacht said that employees seeking another vote have been "intimidated" by union officials.

Rufenacht said that the alternative to acceptance of work rule changes is for the company to pull out of Belleville and go to another state.

"Every other firm has modernized its operations," Rufenacht said. "Except us. We are the last ones."

Nick Sicurello, Shop Steward of Local 370, International Union of Electricians, said that a vote held on Monday, Oct. 25, indicated that the employees could not accept the work changes sought by management "without considerable discussion and input by the workers."

Management and the union differ on whether or not such discussion had been provided.

Rufenacht said that Sicurello did not seek authorization from the union to negotiate the issues.

"Now, the home office is running out of patience," Rufenacht said.

Sicurello said the company was trying to intimidate the employees with the threat of a pullout of the plant. Management responded that it was laying out the facts.

Founded in 1914, the firm pioneered in chlorinating devices used in water systems throughout the world. It does business in excess of $50 million a year, and is operating profitably - "but just barely", according to Rufenacht.

A slowing economy and rising competition put the company in jeopardy in recent years. Last year, it was bought by North West Water, a British firm.

The parent company has announced plans to invest $16 million in the Belleville plant to modernize it, provided that production methods were made more competitive.

Rufenacht said the changes would not affect seniority rights, a claim that Sicurello disputes.

The current hourly wage is $13.56. Management has offered to raise this to $15.26 with the promise of additional annual increase of 3 percent, if the changes are accepted. Also, a lump sum payment of $1,000 would be given to each hourly employee in May, Rufenacht said.

"There will be no reduction in pay. And it is the only way that Wallace & Tiernan will stay in Belleville," Rufenacht said.

Sal Ingrassia, President of the Local, stated in a letter to the union membership, "Their five-year give-back proposal - seven months before the contract expires - without a five-year guarantee to keep the plant open, has been rejected by the Local's collective bargaining agents and the membership. Only a return to good faith bargaining can lead to future progress for the company and job security for our members."

Rufenacht said there were no give-backs in the company proposal, and asked that the members have the opportunity to vote on it.

Businessman claims he's pressured out

Tom Girolamon, owner of Academy Auto Repair, says he is moving his business to Kearny after being "harassed" by Township officials.

The harassment, he says, consists of a denial of a license to sell used cars, and constant fines and threats of fines for various alleged violations of the building code.

He said his troubles began on Aug. 10, 1992, when he witnessed a fight between an off-duty State Trooper, Sergeant Varis Babris, and several Belleville men in a Washington Avenue tavern.

One of those arrested and charged with assaulting the State Trooper was Angelo Domenick, 27, son of Building Inspector Robert Domenick. Girolamon told police what he had seen of the incident.

"All of a sudden, Domenick began hitting me with violations," Girolamon said.

It was discovered that the used car lot was unlicensed, and attempts by Girolamon to obtain the license have been denied, even though the Zoning Board of Appeals has approved the variance.

He has been fined $500 for putting up a light to illuminate a business sign in the front of the building, and he has been accused of littering and illegal uses of the property.

"It isn't worth the effort to stay here any more," he said. "I get no satisfaction from the Township, and no protection for harassment."

Township officials denied any knowledge of the charges.

OUR OPINION

Lest I Forget

I must walk again the wooden path;
I must stroll the country lane
Where sunsets fall like summer plums and stardust falls like rain.

I must see again the firefly on the honeysuckle vine,
And watch an eagle spread its wings above the tallest pine.

I must see once more a hummingbird where hollyhocks grow wild, and run carefree through golden leaves
like I did as a child.

I must do these things lest I forget
How precious life can be ...
I must walk again the wooded path where my Savior walks with me!
— Clay Harrison

A non-issue rises

To assume that the Belleville Board of Education was motivated by bigotry in its decision to suspend busing for some 150 school children is to fall victim to the machinations of a few disgruntled politicians who have never won an election by fair means.

They have sold a bill of goods to the Pastor and members of a Belleville church to the effect that the reduction in busing was meant as a slap at the families who live in the Valley.

Whatever the shortcomings of our elected officials, race baiting is not one of them.

The Belleville Times understands that the rationale for allowing youngsters to cross Washington Avenue and the railroad tracks on their way to school is that the municipality, not the schools, are obliged to provide safe streets.

This may be correct in the legal sense, but it is in error in the real world.

If buses are not available, then car pooling must be organized. There is no lack of vehicles in Belleville, nor of available drivers. If help does not come from the Board of Education, or the Township Council, then it must come from the parents, themselves.

But neither is there any reason to raise a spectre that does not exist. Perhaps it is our nearness to Halloween that brings up the idea of prejudice as a factor in the busing decision.

The people who inject this into our political life deserve the rebuff they are bound to receive at the polls.

Reunions and recollections

The recent reunions of the Belleville High School Classes of 1933 and 1943 bring to mind the events that continue to shape our lives, today.

In 1933, the economic calamity of the Great Depression overshadowed the rising threat of war.

In 1943, America was deep in that war, and the course of history was to be set for the rest of the Century.

Out of the Depression came social legislation that cared for the elderly, strengthened labor unions and protected savings.

Out of World War II came the G.I. Bill, the United Nations and the Cold War, which apparently has ended in victory for democracy.

Those graduates of 1933 and 1943 played their roles in history. Not all survived that war. But those who came home, and those who remained at home, all built the Democracy that is still the last, best hope of humanity.

We are grateful to each and every one of them.

Support Memorial

To the Editor

The New Jersey Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Foundation is seeking support from New Jersey's municipalities and counties to raise the $2.8 million needed to complete the memorial and Vietnam Era Educational Center in Holmdel.

So far, 72 of the state's 567 municipalities have donated $32,350 toward construction of the memorial that will honor New Jersey's servicemen and servicewomen who served in the war in Southeast Asia. Of the 21 counties, eight have given $62,200.

As time passes, the foundation is finding it more difficult to raise the money needed to complete the memorial.

The time is now for all towns throughout the state to support this tribute to the 80,000 men and women who served in Southeast Asia. Almost every town had residents who served in the war. More than 1,500 people were killed or remain missing in action.

I think this represents an opportunity to thank all Vietnam veterans and to extend our long overdue appreciation for the sacrifices made by our state's sons and daughters and their families and friends. The Vietnam Veterans Memorial is for everyone.

The foundation's goal is to have the memorial completed in time for Veteran's Day 1994. However, work which was halted in January cannot resume until the money to complete the $5.6 million project is raised.

To date, most of the money has come from veterans and civic groups, private individuals, fraternal organizations and businesses. The memorial has received no appropriations from the state of federal governments.

This is an important memorial and it should not be ignored. People should ask their town councils, committees or commissions and county freeholders to examine the part they can play in this effort. If every county and municipality participates, the memorial could be finished in time for Veteran's Day 1994. It would be a very sad commentary on our towns and counties and ourselves as residents if we failed to support this very important memorial.

Arts for New Jersey

To the editor:

I was appalled to see on the front page of The Star Ledger on Oct. 24 an extensive article about a new $50 million Arts Center. Appropriately, this was stationed next to a piece about the shambles in the Newark Public Schools. How can we expect to leave our children so far behind in education and expect them to support a new center for New York Arts?

The Met Opera and the New York Philharmonic are being asked to perform at the New Jersey showcase. As a New Jersey musician, I resent thoroughly the massive monies that are being drained from New Jersey for out-of-state jobs.

The Garden State Arts Center is a joke amongst New Jersey musicians for the amount of work given to those from this state. New Jersey groups come in from Las Vegas or any other state with their own bands. The percentage left over for New Jersey musicians is too small to be worth mentioning.

Now the state has decided to set up another "arts center." They say at the very end of the article that, of course, there will be some weeks left over for New Jersey players. They suggest the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra, which, by the way, has a hefty proportion of New York players.

We have seen how that works. The Garden State Arts Center didn't even pretend to invite the Met or the New York Philharmonic into its schedule, but somehow, each year, less and less New Jersey players are asked to play.

There is a preponderance of orchestras in the state that obtain their talent from outside the state. The New Jersey Council of the Arts might better serve the citizens of New Jersey by using its funds for those orchestras that can demonstrate that they use competent New Jersey citizens.

Regardless, I never thought to see such a snobbish anti-New Jersey view supported by a New Jersey newspaper and at the New Jersey taxpayers' expense. They compare Waterloo to a New Tanglewood. Think-The Boston Symphony Orchestra of Boston plays in a summer home in Massachusetts.

Let New York taxpayers foot the bill for a New York Tanglewood, and build a Waterloo for New Jersey talent! Shame on you, Jim Florio, for supporting such a proposal!

By Frank Orechio

● PASSAIC COUNTY Assemblyman Frank Catania announced the introduction of legislation to tax watershed property in excess of the current rates. Any additional financial burden upon the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission simply means a higher cost of water to the municipalities of Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield. This should put our legislative representatives on notice to use their influence to defeat the property.

● THE proposed Passaic Valley Flood Tunnel is coming up again. The United States Senate and House conferees agreed to include $17 Million in the 1994 Energy and Water Spending Bill. That action should put the anti-tunnel people on notice.

● IF you're looking for a nice place to go on Saturday, November 6th for pasta dinner, the public is invited to dine and dance with the Nutley Volunteer Emergency & Rescue Squad's at their Oldies Night. It will be held at the Nutley Parks and Recreation Building, 44 Park Avenue. Donation is $10, and information can be obtained by calling 667-7487.

● I AM occasionally getting an update from our former newspaper and television employee, Bill Gruver who is enjoying his membership on the staff of the Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Telecommunication at Tempe, Arizona at the Arizona State University. The latest program he participated in was entitled, "Is media ethics an oxymoron?"

● THE North Jersey Pica Club quarterly meeting and awards dinner is scheduled for Saturday, November 6th, 7 pm, at the Glen Rock Inn, Rock Road, Glen Rock. The meeting will showcase the professionalism and excellence of North Jersey journalists. The new officers for the coming year are: Ellen Walsh, President; Carey Londner, Vice President; Keli Dougherty, Secretary, William D. Clare, Treasurer.

● YOU will not read about it in publicized newspaper reports, but the sight of more security guards at the highway mall parking lot is an indication that shopping the highway malls may not be the safest place to be.

● IT seems almost a weekly occurrence that a New York City cab driver is slain. The 31st such murder took place this week. The cab driver was found slumped at the wheel of his yellow cab with two bullet wounds in the back of his head in a deserted park in Washington Heights. This occurrence happened 11 hours after another driver was shot once in the head. These actions are taking place despite the fact a special investigative unit was created in April to combat violence against taxi drivers. Since this unit was established, 14 killings have taken place. Last year 46 drivers were murdered. Is New York a safe place? Maybe, it is, but you can't prove it by the murdered cab drivers.

● THE non-profit Belleville Junior Bucs Parents & Friends Association is looking for donations. Any one interested in supporting the activity of youngsters may send their donations to Mrs. Barbara A. James, President, Belleville Jr. Bucs, 98 Greylock Ave., Belleville, N.J.

● VALLEY NATIONAL BANK will begin trading in the New York Stock Exchange in early December. The organization has 59 branches in five New Jersey counties, has been publicly traded since its founding in 1927; and for the past 12 years has been traded Over The Counter. The New York Stock Exchange ticker symbol will be VLY. Valley National is one of the fastest growing bank systems in New Jersey. Its third quarter profit jumped thirty percent from last year's to $13.5 Million. Its assets amount to $3.5 Billion.

● A GROUP incorporated as United State English, Inc. has organized looking for support to make English the official American language. The letter from the group begins with "Do you know Armando Ruiz? How about John Philip Evans? Or Rosie Garcia? Candido Mercado? James Padilla? Manuel Pen, Jr.? Peter Rios? Evangelina Rivas? Macario Saldate IV? Federico Sanchez? Victor Soltero? Let me give you some clues:

1. They all live in Arizona. 2. They're all on the government payroll. 3. And, together they've filed a lawsuit that could change your way of life forever."

This group asserts that the English language laws passed by a majority of voters in Arizona, California, Colorado and elsewhere are unfair — and unconstitutional. They claim English language laws discriminate against them." And now the people mentioned above have filed a law suit in Arizona to abolish the state constitutional amendment that has government workers, politicians, and bureaucrats conduct government business in English. I agree with those who believe everything must be done to preserve our common language. I repeat what I have stated before — if immigrants don't like our language, they ought to go back where they came from. If you agree that English should be preserved as our common language, the United States English, Inc. group would appreciate at least a $25 contribution to help finance the effort to fight ballot questions of this nature. The address for United States English, Inc. is 818 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20006. Among the members of the Advisory Board are former Ambassador Walter Annenberg, Senator Joseph Corcoran, Senator Barry Goldwater, Charlton Heston, Charles Luckman, Senator Eugene J. McCarthy, Arnold Schwarzenegger and W. Clement Stone.

● GERARD RESTAINO, formerly a representative of New Jersey Education Association, has recently opened an office for the practice of Labor/Construction Arbitration Alternate Dispute Resolution in Metuchen, New Jersey. If you need the services of a competent expert in the business, it is 908-603-0423.

● BORIS YELTSIN has achieved his objective — Russian dictator. He has abolished free press, radio and television. All public media is a one party operation controlled by Yeltsin's stooge. I simply don't like ingrates. And Yeltsin is among the greatest. The man who made Yeltsin and brought freedom to Russia was Gorbachev. Gorbachev made Yeltsin one of his major lieutenants and what eventually occurred was a scheming Yeltsin taking advantage of the power bestowed upon him by Gorbachev, developed his own personal power base by distributing patronage at the right places and to the right people, thus secretly building up a machine which took control from Gorbachev. But that wasn't bad enough. Just as soon as Yeltsin took over the reins of government, he dispossessed Gorbachev from his state owned residence, took his government car away and whatever servants were employed around the house. This is a shameful chapter in Russian history. When historians write the final chapter on Yeltsin, it would probably be entitled, "Russia's Greatest Ingrate".

November photography exhibit features Tom Babich

The photography of Tom Babich of Fairlawn is currently on exhibit during November in the Trustees Gallery of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center during Library winter hours.

Mr. Babich first became interested in photography in 1961, beginning as so many photographers with a simple plastic box camera, working his way up to a Polaroid Land Camera in 1965 and a 35mm camera around 1970.

In the 70s, he worked with medium and large formats. Today, he works almost exclusively with large cameras.

In 1972, he joined the Camera Club of Fair Lawn, where he learned about the use of the darkroom and black and white printing. This training was augmented over the years by workshops with George Tice of the New School in New York City, Maine photographic workshops with John Sexton, many lectures and seminars and his own constant efforts to refine and improve his craft.

The photographer has had a solo exhibition at the Pondhole Gallery in 1989 in Pompton Lakes and has been in group shows at Nathan's Gallery, Paterson, in 1986, and the Ringwood Manor Arts Association in 1990. With the Camera Club of Fair Lawn, he has exhibited several years at the Fairlawn Public Library and at the Ringwood Manor West Wing Gallery in 1978 and 1979.

With the Camera Arts Group, he has exhibited at the Pondhole Gallery in Pompton Lakes in 1990, the Paterson Museum in 1991, the Nabisco Galleries in 1992 in East Hanover, and the Barron Arts Center in 1992 in Woodbridge.

PUBLIC NOTICE TOWNSHIP OF BELLEVILLE

WATER UTILITY VIOLATION OF MICROBIOLOGICAL STANDARDS

The Water Utility of The Township of Belleville has been informed by The New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection and Energy that it is in violation of the Total Coliform Rule by exceeding the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) for Total Coliform Bacteria by having three positive samples out of forty-nine during September, 1993.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total Coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with the water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Diseases symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease causing organisms in the drinking water, but may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. USEPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for Total Coliforms to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

Subsequent testing by The Belleville Water Utility has shown the water to be free of Coliform Bacteria. Customers need not take any precautions when using the water. Customers with questions should contact: Engineering Department at 1-201-450-3414 during the hours of 9:00am to 4:00pm.

Author featured for Book Week

"What do authors do?" will be discussed by Roberta Plutzik, author and current Director of the General Publishing and Paperback Publishing Divisions of the Association of American Publishers, on Monday, November 15 at 3:30 p.m. in the Trustees' Room of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center. Children, teens, and adults are welcome to attend.

Among the books Plutzik has written are "Being Your Best-Tina Yothers' Guide for Girls," a self-care book for pre-teen girls written for the actress who played "Jennifer" on TV's "Family Ties"; "Lionel Richie," an authorized biography of the pop star, and "Superstar Brothers and Sisters," a look at the Jacksons, Travoltas, and other performance families. For adults, she has written "The Private Life of Parents," a guidebook for couples with children that was serialized in "Glamour," featured in "USA Today" and "Redbook," and called one of the best books of its kind by "Working Woman" and "Ms." magazines. She also wrote "Bargain Chic," a fashion shopping manual for budget conscious consumers.

Before joining the AAP last year, where she works with America's leading publishers of hard- and soft-cover trade books including children's, on a variety of business and social responsibility issues, Plutzik was Lifestyle Editor of "The Bergen Record," responsible for all feature and entertainment sections, including books. Among her achievements at "The Record" was the launch of the new Sunday book page and a weekly business-book column. Her twice-yearly special sections of new children's books, along with the weekly review column under her byline, "Children's Choice," were syndicated to 350 newspapers by the Entertainment News Wire. ## How Do You Face The Holidays After The Loss Of A Loved One?

If you've ever suffered the loss of a loved one, you probably know about "holiday dread" — that heavy feeling that begins before Thanksgiving and lasts until the New Year.

Now there's help for grieving family members from Volk Leber. On Sunday, November 14, we'll present nationally-acclaimed AfterLoss speaker, Diane Mathias, with a special community program called "Turning Holiday Dread Into Comfort Instead". Speaking with candor and compassion, Diane draws from her own personal experience with loss to offer practical ways for facing the holiday season. A question and answer session will be part of the program.

The Kiernan holiday presentation is free and open to everyone. It will be held from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m., Nov. 14 in Marian Hall at Holy Name Hospital, Teaneck, NJ. If you'd like more information, please call 759-3503.

And learn how you, too, can face the holidays with less pain and more peace.

Drive Clean

Of all your daily activities, driving a car is probably the single most polluting thing you do. Motor vehicle emissions in many urban areas are the greatest contributor to ground-level ozone, a major component of smog. Ground-level ozone causes respiratory problems and can lead to permanent lung damage. It is the most serious air pollution problem in the region.

Motor vehicles also emit a number of air toxics, which can cause serious health problems, including cancer. Car emissions also contribute to acid rain and global warming.

You can help clear the air by changing your driving habits. ■ Carpool, vanpool, use public transportation. This not only reduces pollution, but cuts down on fuel expenses, wear and tear on your car and the stress of driving in rush-hour traffic. ■ Combine errands into one trip. A substantial amount of pollution is released during the "cold-start" phase, the first few minutes it takes to warm up your car.

■ Avoid drive-up windows, stop-and-go traffic and excessive idling. Idling your engine for longer than a minute is worse for air quality than starting up the car again.

■ Moderate, steady speeds are better for air quality because they save fuel.

■ When possible, bicycle or walk instead of driving. The savings in terms of air quality add up. One person using mass transit for a year instead of driving to work prevents an average of 9.1 pounds of hydrocarbons, 62.5 pounds of carbon monoxide and 4.9 pounds of nitrogen oxides from being discharged into the air. By ridesharing every day, you can also save up to $3,000 a year on gas, insurance, parking fees and wear and tear on your car.

Christmas cards celebrate 150th anniversary

Happy 150th birthday to the Christmas card!

The joy of sending and receiving Christmas cards has weathered a century and a half of vast social change since the first Christmas card was created in London in 1843, according to John Foroutan, owner of Chandeliers Gifts & Cards Inc., a Hallmark Gold Crown Store at 1358 Clifton Ave., Clifton.

That first Christmas card was created when London businessman Henry Cole didn't have enough time to write personal Christmas greetings, which was the custom in that day. Cole asked artist John Calcott Horsley to design something to send his friends and business acquaintances to wish them a Merry Christmas.

Cole's Christmas cards created much excitement, and within 10 years, Christmas cards were the rage in England. They were first printed in the United States in 1875, and most of today's major greeting card publishers were meeting the public demand for cards of better quality and design by 1920. Hallmark, one of the first greeting card companies, was founded in 1910 and produced its first Christmas cards in 1915.

From the Great Depression, World War II, the Cold War, the peace movement of the 1960s and the fitness craze of the 1980s, Christmas cards have reflected our moods and major events of those times.

As Americans exchange more than 2.7 billion Christmas cards this year, many of those cards continue to reflect what people are interested in and what events are affecting their lives, says Foroutan. Trends of the 1990s are reflected in today's cards.

The 1993 customer:
• Is looking for value
• Wants to show caring with personalized holiday messages of friendship, family and love

• Admires the technology of the computer age

• Loves nature and has a concern for the environment

Popular and innovative Hallmark cards for 1993 reflect these consumer trends. For example, musical Christmas cards (with a computer sound chip) play a tune when opened. "Christmas Naturals" are printed on recycled paper and have no box to throw away. They feature designs capturing the beauty of nature. Regional boxed card designs reflect specific landscapes, tastes and interests. As a special value offering, "Christmas Naturals" and other $7.75 Hallmark boxed Christmas cards contain five additional cards free.

Customers can create their own cards with the "Personalize it!" collection for Christmas by using an in-store computer, or with the new Christmas "Mix & Match" cards by selecting a cover, title card, sentiment and designed envelope for a one-of-a-kind greeting.

Foroutan says card-senders also are making their holiday messages special this year with Christmas Card Complements, fun accessories such as rubber stamps, ink pads, scented tissue tuck-ins, seals, pens and "cardfetti."

Although Christmas cards have changed to mirror the times over the last 150 years, according to Foroutan, Cole's original message of "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You" remains the most popular holiday sentiment today.

Bucs move to 3 - 1 in league, host Teaneck Saturday

Caruso runs past Crusaders

By Mike Lambert

Anthony Caruso rushed for 136 yards and scored four touchdowns, leading the Belleville Buc football team to a resounding 42-27 victory over Paramus in NNJIL action last Friday night.

The victory improved Belleville's season record to 3-3. More importantly, the win kept the Bucs in the thick of the NNJIL Pacific Division race. Belleville will enter this Saturday afternoon's game with Teaneck with a 3-1 league record, which is good for a second place tie with Hackensack. In addition, the win keeps alive the hopes of a winning 1993 season for Belleville.

Game time for Saturday's game is 2 p.m. from Doc Ellis Field. It's also Belleville's first day game of the '93 season. (Please take note of the special 2 p.m. starting time. The SAT testing will be held on Saturday morning, thus the unusual starting time.)

A few weeks ago, Belleville scored 40 points in a win over Paramus Catholic. Back then, it was the first time in 12 years that a Buccaneer football team had reached the 40 point plateau in a game. Last Friday night's explosion was the most points by a Belleville team at home since the '81 club scored 44 in a win over Marist and it was the most for a Belleville team, in any game, since the '81 club won at Carteret 54-0 in the eighth week of the season.

This is also the first season since that now fabled '81 campaign that a Belleville football team has scored 40 or more points in two separate games. Also, the 69 combined points last Friday was the most in a Belleville football game since 1976, when the then Bellboys and Kearny Kards combined for 78 points in a 47-31 Belleville win.

Continuing with records, the four touchdowns scored by Caruso, a senior fullback, is the most by a Belleville player, in one game, in at least 12 years. Frank Fazzini had a few standout games in the '81 campaign.

The victory was especially impressive because the Bucs struggled for most of the first half.

"We made some defensive adjustments at halftime," head coach John Senesky said. "Paramus has the ability to score points quickly, and we knew that. They have talent at the skill positions, and their speed and misdirection caused us some problems in the first half."

The Bucs had leads of 7-0 and 14-7, but Paramus came back to take a 21-14 lead late in the first half. The Bucs tied it before the half, but it seemed apparent the two teams would stage a wild contest that could combine for 90 points or more.

The Bucs scored the first two touchdowns of the second half, but it was an interception by linebacker Cliff Mann in the fourth quarter that turned the tide totally in Belleville's favor.

Paramus trailed 35-21 but was driving with 6:35 left in the game. A touchdown by the Crusaders would have cut the lead to seven points and certainly move the momentum to the visitors side of the field. The Crusaders got as close as the Belleville 25 before Mann's interception.

Minutes later, quarterback Mike Mundy threw a pass to halfback Sal Berardi. A fine open field runner, Berardi outran the Paramus secondary, cutting downfield and scoring untouched. Belleville's other touchdown came in the first half by running back Dino Durante.

"Cliff's interception was big," Senesky said. "It gave us the ball back and we were able to put the game away."

"Caruso was outstanding," the coach continued. "He is not your typical big fullback, but he hits the hole so quickly and moves well in the open field. It was very important for us to win this game. Now, the kids can shoot for a winning season and the league race is still within our means."

"We have a lot to shoot for," Mundy said after the game. "When our offense starts to move, we can do a lot of things. Now it's time to get ready for Teaneck."

The Highwaymen have never been an easy opponent for Belleville.

"Once again, they have tremendous size and good speed," Senesky said. "It's a typical Teaneck team. They're very physical and there's some excellent talent there."

Teaneck is 3-3, having lost to Don Bosco last weekend. Belleville is 3-3 in the series with the Highwaymen. The Bucs won last years meeting 35-18 at Teaneck. Belleville's other victories came in 1990, 9-6 at Teaneck and in 1983, 33-0 at Belleville. Teaneck's victories were in 1988 (15-12 at Teaneck, 1989 (34-6 at Belleville) and 1991 (14-12 at Belleville).

Belleville has fared better in this series on the road. Their only victory at home against Teaneck was ten years ago.

"It's a big game for us," Senesky said. "Most of the games seem to go down to the wire and that's probably going to be the case this year."

NOTES: Joe Citarella has a crack in his shoulder and he might miss the Teaneck game. Citarella was inactive for last Friday night's game. The senior linebacker was hopeful of returning to the lineup before the end of the season.

"I think I can play," Citarella said. "It feels better today (last Friday). I'm hoping I can play against Teaneck."

Mundy hurt his ankle on a punt when a Paramus player crashed into him, but Mundy should be okay for Saturday's game. Robert Dena was outstanding on the offensive and defensive line.

Mundy hit Joe DePeri with a long pass that set up the Bucs second touchdown. Once again, DePeri was excellent on both sides of the ball, making some big hits in the defensive secondary.

Travel to East Orange today

Buc soccer team faces critical part of season

By Mike Lambert

For the third straight season, the Belleville varsity soccer team has hit the double digit victory column. Last week, the Bucs downed Teaneck 2-1 and Paramus Catholic 7-0 in NNJIL play.

Gino DePinto's club took an 11-3-3 mark (7-2-3 in the league) into last Tuesday's game with Montclair in the Essex County semi finals. The game was originally scheduled for last Sunday, but it was cancelled due to the steady rain. If Belleville won that game, they would advance to the county finals this Sunday to play the Bloomfield-Columbia winner.

This afternoon, the Bucs will be at East Orange in the quarterfinal round of the Group IV, Section II tournament. Should Belleville win that game, they would take on most likely top seeded Columbia in the sectional semi finals early next week.

Against Teaneck, the Bucs scored on a late penalty kick to break a one all tie.

"It was a so-so game," DePinto said. "But we won and it was a league victory, so we'll take it. We've played better, but the kids did what it took to win."

Jim Berg got Belleville on the board first. Teaneck tied it in the second half, but Giuseppe Menella converted a penalty shot for Belleville to give the Bucs the lead for good.

Mike Percio did a good job in goal to preserve the victory.

Against Paramus Catholic, the Bucs never looked back. Belleville scored five goals in the first half, with Greg Groeling and Diego Paredes scoring two each. Berg scored the fifth goal before DePinto went to his younger players for varsity experience in the second half.

Freshman Nick Colucci, who has done exceptionally well on the JV level, made his varsity debut and tallied the final two Belleville goals. Colucci, who set a new Belleville record with 23 goals on the JV level this fall, is going to be an impact player for the Blue and Gold.

Speaking of the JV, the Bucs are in the ECT finals this weekend. Belleville will play powerful St. Benedict's this Saturday at Newark Academy. Kickoff time is 10 a.m. The JV Bucs earned the right to play in the finals with a solid 3-1 victory over West Orange.

Colucci continued his fine season by scoring the hat trick in the semi final victory.

The JV team also won league games last week over Teaneck 4-1 and Paramus Catholic, 8-1. George Tortorello's team is 11-1 entering this weeks action.

Palumbo, Acuna, Pszonka excel

Volleyball team ends year on up beat

By Steve Patchett

The Belleville girls' volleyball team finished their season in style, winning two out of their last three games.

Last Tuesday, the Bucs blanked Clifford Scott on the road, 2-0, and on Wednesday they did it again, sweeping Teaneck, 15-10, 15-10 at home.

Belleville's win against Teaneck was special not only because it was their last home game of the season, but also because it gave the Bucs a chance for revenge.

"They beat us the last time we played, 15-6, 15-6 at Teaneck. It was like we had the snooze alarm on that day," said coach Worley, whose team seemed wide awake on Wednesday.

Belleville (10-13) jumped out to an impressive 9-0 lead in the first game behind the strong serving of Jennifer Palumbo and Marie Acuna, as well as aggressive play at the net by Andrea Curran.

At that point, the Teaneck Highwaymen (or women, as the case may be) staged a rally, and pulled to within 9-8. Belleville was having trouble returning Teaneck's serve, and a few careless net violations didn't help either.

Fortunately, Acuna had a good set to Michele Pszonka, whose kill shot gave Belleville the serve back. The Bucs took advantage, tallying four straight points to pull away for good. Pszonka fired an ace to give the Bucs the first game.

In the second game, the Bucs had to rally to beat Teaneck. A good serve put Teaneck up, 3-0, before co-captain Jessica Gonzalez led the Bucs back to a 4-3 lead. Monica Gomez chipped in with some good digs, and Maria Perez also added support as the Bucs closed out the match, 15-10.

"We had a very consistent game today," said coach Worley. "Michele Pszonka gave us a great game at the net. She placed the ball well with little shots...dumps and dinks. She put the ball where the (Teaneck) kids weren't."

Coach Worley emphasized that the win was a team effort, and nearly every player had a good performance.

"Marie Acuna always has a great game at the net. She's totally dependable. Jen (Palumbo) had some nice hits today," said coach Worley. "Monica (Gomez) has been a great surprise this year. She's been serving very consistently, especially in the last 10 games."

The junior varsity also closed out their home season with a win, as they swept Teaneck, 15-12, 15-13.

In the first game, Belleville got things rolling behind Natalie Bonacorsa, Lisa Jablonski and Jackie Cerami, who all had good service games. Jessica Nicosia was deadly at the net, adding a pair of kill shots.

The second JV game was a serving showcase, as Mary Lapas, Neha Shah, Archie Desai, and Nicole Coppola all had aces. Michelle Scanzillo closed the match with a point at the net.

Not finished yet, Belleville played their freshman squad against Teaneck's JV for two games. The Bucs dropped the games, 15-6, 15-1, but had some impressive moments.

Deanna Addis had a good day at the net, Chris Scassera had a couple of kill shots, and Fran Sanzone contributed a big serve.

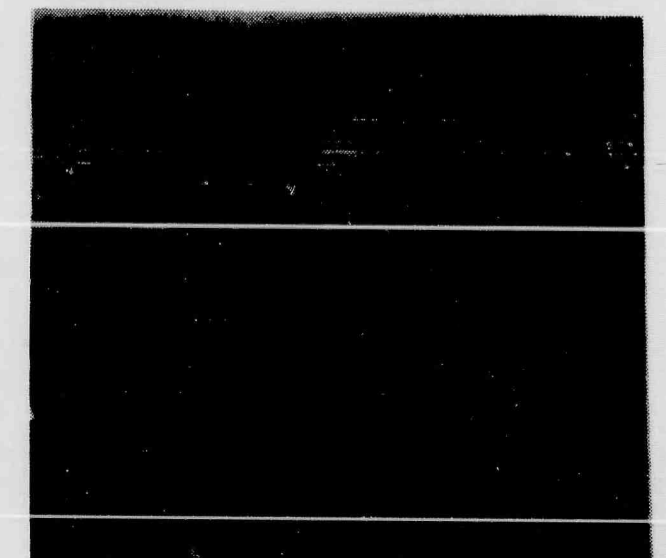

In the second game, Sue Walsh was strong in the back line, and Kim Mahoney demonstrated great reflexes as she played a ball off the net.

Coach Worley's only wish now is that her freshmen squad can one day play against other freshmen programs, so they will be able to get more playing time.

On the whole, though, Belleville volleyball enjoyed a very successful year.

"Overall, I'm very pleased with the way the season went. You've got to keep winning and losing in perspective. I've got a lot of kids who worked real hard," said coach Worley. "I'll be sorry when it's over because it's fun being with them."

Marie Acuna fires a serve while Jennifer Palumbo looks on during the volleyball team's victory over Teaneck

The Belleville cross country team has been racked by injuries this fall. Nonetheless, head coach John Tosato has seen his team come through with some good individual performances.

The Bucs competed in the NNJIL championships on October 19 at Branch Brook Park. There, Chris Parada did an excellent job, finishing 37th overall in a tough field. He ran the 3.1 mile course in 19:52.

Brad Koch also excelled, finishing the course in 20:20. However, Koch injured his leg in the race and he will be lost for the remainder of the cross country season.

"We're hoping he'll be ready for the indoor season," Tosato said.

John Carliaga finished the course in 21:55 and Mike Matos was the next Buc across in 22:21.

For the girls, Rachel Anderson was 19th overall in a very good time of 24:36. Reina Silva finished 22nd in a time of 25:23.

On October 25, the Bucs battled West Essex and University in a tri meet at Belleville's home course in Nutley.

Parada was the top Belleville runner once again, finishing in 20:08. Dave Luongo (21:19) and Matos (22:07, a personal best) were the next Bucs to finish the course.

Anderson led the girls with a time of 23:29, Nicole Marinelli finished in 29:33 and Silva completed the race in a time of 29:35.

Last Saturday, Anderson and Silva traveled to Warnacko Park in Elizabeth for the state sectional championships. Anderson completed the race in 23:25 and Silva did a fine job, running the course in 25:19.

"It's been a tough season," Tosato said. "We haven't been able to field a healthy team. Losing Koch isn't easy, but hopefully he'll be ready for the indoor season. Right now, the kids are hoping to improve on individual performances."

Belleville will complete the season tomorrow afternoon at the county championships. The race commences at 3 p.m. from Branch Brook Park.

MORE ON GIUFFRIDA RACE

A few items that were omitted from last weeks article about the Sam Giuffrida run, held on October 24 at Belleville High School.

First off, Rita Batista, mother of the famous SueAnne Batista, had a theory on why the weather is always beautiful for the Giuffrida race.

"All those years of rain at the boathouse, this is Sam's way of repaying everyone for competing in his race," Batista said. "This makes up for all the rainy crew races."

Rita Batista's daughter, SueAnne, is a 1993 graduate of Belleville High School. SueAnne has been very active in the race since its inception back in 1990. She ran the one mile race this year and was a recipient of the Sam Giuffrida Scholarship last spring.

Don't forget, the race, in addition to being dedicated to Sam, is also used to fund the Sam Giuffrida Scholarship. Last year, three scholarships were awarded to outstanding Belleville High School seniors.

Batista was also the 1992-93 BHS cheerleading captain.

Speaking of cheerleaders, I forgot to mention in last weeks issue that one of this years captains ran in the race last week. Kelly Talbot, a senior at BHS this fall, did a good job in the one mile race. There's a picture of Kelly finishing the run in this weeks issue.

And, as mentioned last week, some of Talbot's teammates on the cheerleader's assisted as marshalls at the conclusion of the run.

TID BITS

When Joe Montana doesn't play, the Kansas City Chiefs aren't going to win. It's a simple as that. Joe got hurt last week in the Miami game and the Chiefs lost by 20. In the two games that Montana did not play in, Kansas City has lost by a combined score of 60-10. When Joe starts and plays a significant amount of time, the Chiefs are 4-0.

I was at the Eagles-Cowboys game last Sunday at Philly. Once again, if the Eagles were anywhere near healthy, they would be dominating the NFC East. No question about it.

As predicted in this column last week, the Jets beat the Giants. However, it's still hard to believe that the Jets are any better than a .500 team.

From the ridiculous to the sublime. Marge Schott is back at the control of the Cincinnati Reds organization. This idiot is nothing but a disgrace to the game of baseball. Now, after eight months of isolation because of her insensitive and outrageous racist comments, she's back.

But Pete Rose is banned from baseball for life and probably will never enter the Hall of Fame.

Try explaining that some time.

LAST WEEKS QUIZ

In 1977, Billy Martin managed the Yankees to the World Series. In '78, Martin started the season, but Bob Lemon was the manager when the World Series started. Prior to the 77-78 Yanks, the Cincinnati Reds of 1975-76 won back to back World Series. The Yankees of 77-78 beat the Kansas City Royals in the ALCS both times. My friend, Whitely Herzog managed both Kansas City teams.

FOR THIS WEEK

When was the last time Notre Dame, Ohio State and Nebraska each won national championships in football? Who coached those teams? Name at least one player from each team.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Believe it or not, the winter sports season will begin in just three weeks. In the meantime, the fall sports are winding down. This Saturday is the final home football team of the '93 season. The Bucs will take on Teaneck, starting at 2 p.m.

Soccer is also on a roll. Gino DePinto's team played Montclair last Tuesday in the county semi finals. DePinto had a great quote, when talking about Belleville's first ever trip to the county soccer semis.

Finally, this quote from one of our co-workers here at Orechio Communications. The quote comes from Carol, who saw a picture of Dave Salata, our production manager and expert deer hunter. The picture was of Dave holding a deer he had recently caught.

Carol, upon seeing the picture, asked, "is the deer alive?"

Special Olympics hosts basketball competition

Essex County Executive Thomas J. D'Alessio has announced that the Essex County Special Olympics will host the Basketball Individual Skills Competition on Wednesday, November 17, at Seton Hall University's Walsh Gymnasium, beginning at 10 a.m.

The Essex County Department of Parks, Recreation and Cultural Affairs will be the coordinator for this event.

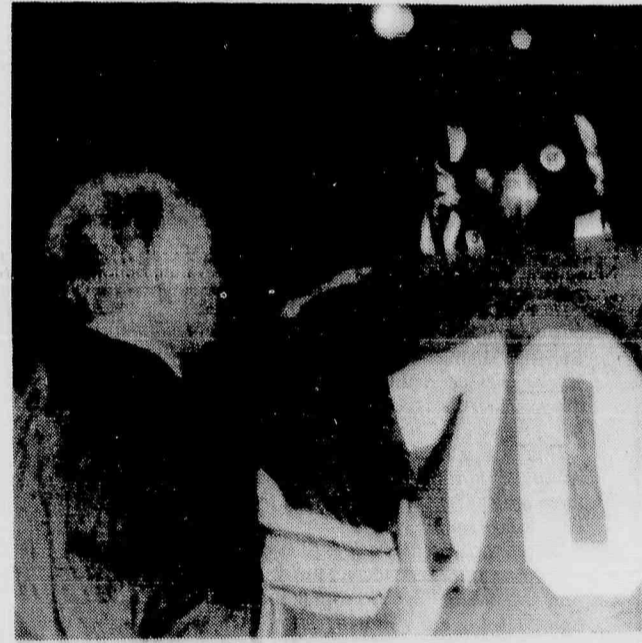

Competitive skills have been modified from previous years. Athletes will compete in passing, dribbling and rebounding. Each of these areas will measure the athlete in his ability to perform against the clock. Winners will be determined by their respective scores. Each contestant will have two opportunities to demonstrate a skill, with the best of the two scores being used.

Seton Hall students from the Education and Athletic Departments have volunteered their services for this competition. They will be on hand to assist in running the various tests, helping the participants and providing encouragement and support to the athletes. The event is open and the public is encouraged to come out and cheer the athletes on.

For more information on Area 9 Special Olympics and the events they sponsor, contact Colleen Kunz at (201) 228-2210.

Buc defensive coordinator Joe D'Ambola gives instruction to tackle Bob Dena.

YOU HAVE THE POWER

Children wish for simple things...magical castles, fanciful characters, lively parades. For a child with a life threatening illness, their wish may go no further than their crayon.

This year, you have the power to make a special child's dream come true. When you open a Holiday Club from October 25 through December 25, we'll donate $2 to the Make-A-Wish Foundation of New Jersey.

You may open a Holiday Club for $5, $10, $20, or $40. It's completely up to you. What's more, you can now have your club payment automatically deducted from any First Dewitt Savings Bank checking account.

The work of the Make-A-Wish Foundation is made possible through the concern and support of people like you. So this year instead of receiving a gift for opening a Holiday Club, you can give a gift—the gift of making a child's wish come true.

BUMPY ROADS

As far as treating acne is concerned, there are a number of over-the-counter treatments available. These nonprescription acne products differ according to their active ingredients. Those containing salicylic acid are formulated to rid pores of dead skin cells and sebum which encourage bacterial growth that can lead to blackheads. Treatments containing benzoyl peroxide, on the other hand, are intended to kill bacteria directly. While both active ingredients peel (exfoliate) the skin, benzoyl peroxide is better suited for working on pustules of inflammatory acne. Salicylic acid is preferable for treating blackheads, the non-inflamed type of acne. In either case, the over-the-counter medications work better in preventive roles than in efforts to stifle outbreaks.

When your treatment includes a prescription, bring it to us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1956, 759-1968. We handle the sale and rental of convalescent aids including walkers, wheelchairs, crutches and canes. Gifts greeting cards, Russell Stover candies, and baby needs are carried. Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm. Remember the veterans on their day, Nov. 11th.

HINT: Over-the-counter acne medications containing salicylic acid can be drying to the skin.

Dear Senior Support,

By: Nancy I. Kuss

"A helping community voice for senior citizens and their families..."

Nancy I. Kuss has been a Registered Nurse for over 25 years. For most of her professional life she has worked with senior citizens, either directly caring for this segment of the population, directing nursing staff in the care of the elderly, or teaching student nurses health care delivery skills.

Ms. Kuss is an associate member of the American Health Care Association and the New Jersey Association of Health Care Facilities. Her professional career has permitted her to interface with the elderly and their families in all settings. She functions as an advocate for the elderly and the long term care community. Ms. Kuss has the experience and expertise to assist the elderly in meeting the challenges of their senior years.

Dear Senior Support,

My doctor has placed me on a medication for high blood pressure. He told me to be careful in the sun because my medication and exposure to the sun can cause unpleasant side effects. Can all blood pressure medications cause side effects when taken by people who are exposed to the sun?

Mrs. Florence K.
Boca Raton, FL

Dear Mrs. K.,

As many as 100 medication can cause unpleasant side effects if taken by people who are exposed to the sun. These side effects, known as photosensitivity reactions, can cause a severe burn or appear as a skin rash. Some of the medications commonly associated with photosensitivity are listed below. Talk to your doctor or pharmacist if you feel you have experienced a reaction, they are excellent sources of information.

Antiarrhythmics: Amiodarone, disopyramide, Quinidine Sulfate/Gluconate.

Antihistamines: Promethazine.

Antipsychotics: Amitriptyline, Chlorpromazine, Doxepin, Imipramine, Thioridazine.

Antibiotics: Nalidixic Acid, Sulfamethoxazole-Trimethoprim, Tetracycline.

Anti-inflammatories: Demeclocycline, Ketoprofen, Naproxen, Piroxicam, Sulindac.

A sunscreen should be used by everyone, whether or not you are taking medications. A sunscreen protection factor (SPF) of 15 is generally recommended. An SPF of 15 means that if correctly applied, 15 hours of sun exposure will be similar to one hour of sun exposure without sunscreen protection.

Sunscreen must be applied before you go outdoors because it can take at least 15 minutes for the sunscreen to work. Reapply after swimming or going into the water.

Dear Senior Support,

My father has a problem hearing. He is constantly asking us to repeat ourselves, accuses us of mumbling when we speak to him and he plays the television so loud that normal conversation is virtually impossible. Any suggestions of how to handle it?

Frustrated with Dad

Dear Frustrated,

Often it's up to relatives and friends to recognize and tell a loved one about their hearing problem. Throughout one's life their sense of hearing binds them to the people they love and helps them to understand and care for each other. An undetected gradual hearing loss will undermine these feelings of belonging and closeness. Many people who are not aware that they have a hearing problem begin to feel excluded or lonely in many social situations. Frequently, they have no idea why. Some become so frustrated, they begin to avoid social situations altogether and can become depressed and more socially isolated.

Most hearing losses happen gradually. The most common type of gradual hearing loss, often referred to as nerve deafness, is caused by the slow deterioration of nerve cells in the inner ear. Movement of these nerve cells generates electrical impulses that transmit sound messages up the auditory nerve to the brain. Loss of sensitivity in these cells can be caused by exposure to loud noises illness, or the aging process.

Encourage your dad to see a physician for a thorough hearing examination. Better hearing can help him rediscover a world of experiences and sounds that make life worth living.

In Getting Along . . .

Manners Matter

If you were asked to set the table, would you know what to do?

Manners are rules for polite behavior.

It's a good idea to learn these rules so you won't have to wonder what to do.

If you know what is expected of you, then you will feel more sure of yourself.

But there is more to good manners than rules.

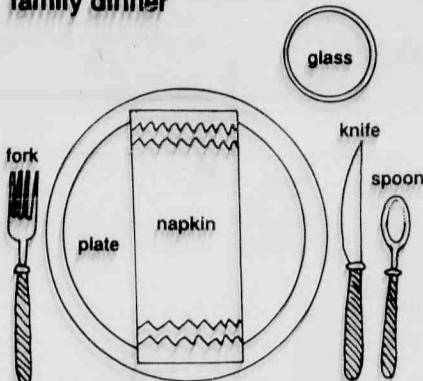

The key to getting along is treating others as you would like to be treated.

So you'll want to mix the rules of good manners with thoughtful feelings.

Good manners take a lot of practice. But they are worth it. Manners really matter!

Look through your newspaper for signs that Thanksgiving will be here soon.

How to set the table for a family dinner

You might have more utensils or plates if it is a fancier table setting.

What would you do?

Q: You are at the table. You begin to sniffle. You want to blow your nose.

- Use your napkin.
- Use your handkerchief.

c. If you don't have a handkerchief, ask to be excused and go get one.

Answer: Both b and c are correct. Never use your napkin to blow your nose.

Q: Your plate has been served. When do you start eating?

- When the hostess tells you to.

b. After you ask your hostess, "May I please begin?" and she says yes.

c. After everyone else is served and the hostess picks up her fork.

Answer: All of the above are correct.

Actors at Plimoth Plantation in Plymouth, Mass., re-create a family dinner of the 1620s. How does this scene look different from dinner at your house?

Manners mattered to the Pilgrims. Pilgrim parents paid a great deal of attention to their kids' manners.

They were judged by how well-behaved their children were.

Children were not to speak unless spoken to.

Manners change over the years. Pilgrim children . . .

• served their parents. Father was always served first.

• ate standing up or sitting nearby, but not at the table.

• ate with their hats on. Their parents did, too.

• used a knife and maybe a spoon, but no forks.

It was OK to eat with your fingers. (They had large napkins and tablecloths to wipe their hands on.)

Thanksgiving Fact-a-Roonies

It takes about 16 weeks to grow a turkey hen, or female, and about 19 weeks to grow a tom, or male.

Farmer Brown is making his plans. He wants his turkeys to be ready for market the week before Thanksgiving. When should he plan for the eggs to hatch?

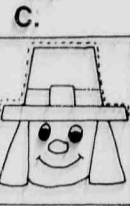

The largest turkey ever weighed 75 pounds.

What is the difference between your weight and that of the turkey?

Thanksgiving dinner place cards

- Take a 9-by-12-inch piece of paper, fold in half and glue together. Let dry.

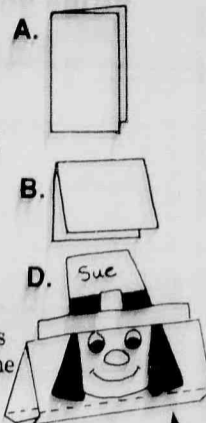

- Fold paper in half the short way again.

- Open folded paper and draw Pilgrim head in the center, leaving an inch on all sides. Cut along dotted line at the top half.

- Lift Pilgrim's hat, keeping the back folded. Fold paper along dotted lines at the bottom to make the base of the place card. Staple together.

- Use colored paper or crayons to decorate card. Add name.

Staple together here.

PETER PENGUIN'S PUZZLE & LE-DO

On the left side are polite sayings. On the right are occasions when these sayings might be used. Can you draw a line to match them up?

- Thank you.
- Excuse me.
- Please.
- You're welcome.
- How do you do?
- May I help you?
- That was a good meal.
- May I be excused?

- Mom is clearing the table.
- Someone thanks you for a gift.
- You ask for more food.
- You are introduced to someone.
- Someone says you look nice.
- The meal is over.
- You wish to leave the table.
- You bump into someone.

Answers: 1-A, 2-F, 3-C, 4-B, 5-D, 6-G, 7-I, 8-H.

What to do:

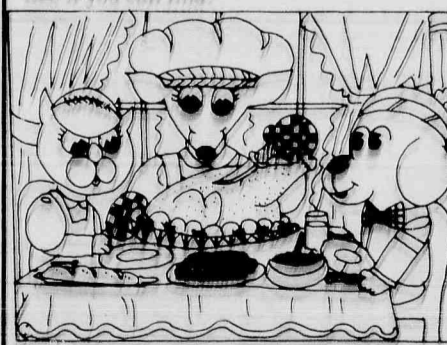

- Place all ingredients in a large, microwave-safe bowl. Mix well.

Table Manners Report Card

For:

(write your name here)

Thanksgiving is a good time to brush up on your table manners so you'll be a welcomed guest.

Table manners matter at home with your family, at school with your friends, and eating out or in.

Read each of these tips. Then grade yourself by drawing in the face that describes you.

Never

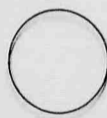

Sometimes

Always

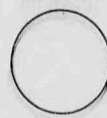

- I wash my hands just before going to the table.

THIS KEEPS AWAY GERMS!

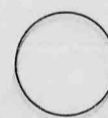

- I do not rush to the table and try to be a "me first." If I am a boy, I seat older women before I sit down.

HAVE A SEAT, MOM.

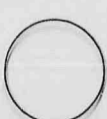

- I chew every bite slowly and don't gobble my food.

MORE THAN MY SHARE IS NOT FAIR!

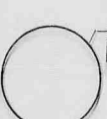

- I sit up tall and don't tilt back in my chair.

I KEEP MY ELBOWS OFF THE TABLE.

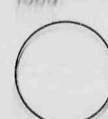

- I like your manners.

THANK YOU.

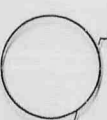

- I try to eat a little bit of everything. Something new might become my favorite food.

I WILL TRY IT.

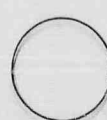

- I ask for and pass food politely without reaching across the table.

PASS THE POTATOES, PLEASE.

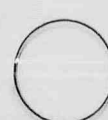

- I never overload my fork or spoon.

I TAKE ONLY WHAT I CAN EAT IN ONE BITE.

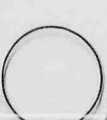

- I offer to help set and clear the table and wash the dishes.

LET ME HELP!

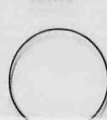

- I compliment the cook.

THIS IS DELICIOUS.

- I ask to be excused and place utensils neatly on my plate when I leave the table.

MAY I BE EXCUSED?

Look over your report card and think . . . would you like to eat with you? You want as many smiles as possible — on your report card and at the table!

Happy Thanksgiving dinner!

Installation Tips For Appliances

Have you ever bought an appliance, rushed home to install it—and discovered you needed to supply an essential piece to complete the hook-up?

"That's certainly a disappointing experience," comment home economists from Whirlpool Corporation, "but in most instances, the missing component is not a standard part used for most installations. While a manufacturer can supply parts that meet most national installation requirements, those that vary from one locale or home to another usually aren't included," they add.

Based on calls from appliance purchasers to the Whirlpool Consumer Assistance Center, here are some tips for installation parts that manufacturers typically rely on the user to supply.

In general, the consumer must supply all plumbing, wiring and gas lines to the installation position for a major home appliance. Installation instructions outline the utilities that are required for correct hook-up.

Electric ranges and dryers. Because homes have multiple designs for outlets for 220/240-volt appliances, manufacturers do not supply the power cord (commonly called a "pigtail") for freestanding electric ranges and dryers. If the new appliance replaces one now in place, you may want to use the power cord from the old model. If it's frayed or had many years of use, purchase a new one with a plug design that matches the outlet.

Built-in appliances. Most built-in cooking appliances and dishwashers do not have power cords with plugs. These need to be connected directly to the house wiring, according to the appliance's installation instructions and local wiring codes. Dishwashers are connected to the house plumbing for both hot water and drain. Although most dishwashers provide inlet and drain hoses, it's a good idea to check with the dealer or read the store's copy of installation instructions to see if you need to supply any hoses for a do-it-yourself installation.

A countertop microwave oven requires an optional kit to build it into a cabinet, suspend it beneath a cabinet or hang it on a wall. For proper operation of the oven and a secure installation, follow manufacturer's kit instructions.

Room air conditioners. Most window and through-the-wall air conditioners have power cords and plugs in place. In addition, units designed for window installations typically have an accordion-like attachment that allows you to close any window space not filled by the air conditioner. Most units have no braces or supports for the appliance.

Some room air conditioner models are designed for through-the-wall installations. Manufacturers anticipate that the wall opening will be sized to fit the unit, so it has no accordion-type spacers. However, many manufacturers do offer optional kits with space closures for existing cut-outs larger than the air conditioner.

Because manufacturers know that installations for room air conditioners vary widely, and in many instances, the new unit replaces an old one, most of these appliances do not include any braces or supports. However, installation instructions provide detailed information on methods the consumer can use to support the air conditioner, when needed.

"In most instances, the basic components needed to install a major home appliance are packed with the product. It's a good idea, however, to ask the dealer or call the manufacturer's toll-free number to discuss non-standard parts that may be needed for you to install a product you're thinking of buying," remind Whirlpool home economists.

Fire Safety Tips For Home

Each year, fires destroy thousands of homes across the United States. Often, these fires are caused by careless accidents. Other times, however, fires are ignited because simple, common sense precautions weren't undertaken.

With this in mind, here are some tips you should keep in mind all year 'round—and especially when fire prevention topics are fresh in everyone's minds. To ensure you have taken adequate safety precautions in your house consider these tips:

- Keep the number of flammable materials in your home to a minimum. Take a walk through your house. Since you're often up in your attic in the fall anyway readying your home for winter, check the type of insulation installed there. Some attic insulations like cellulose, made of ground-up newspapers, are naturally flammable and must be treated with fire resistant chemicals. The permanency of the treatment, however, has come into question in independent testing and cellulose is being attributed to an increasing number of attic fires.

- Consider removing cellulose and replacing it with noncombustible, inorganic, noncorrosive fiber glass insulation like Insul-Safe III® Fiber Glass Blown-In Insulation. Fiberglass insulation is made from sand that is first melted and then spun into insulation fibers. It will be noncombustible for the life of your home and is extremely thermally efficient.
- To find out what kind of insulation is in your attic, contact a local insulation contractor.
- Store paints, thinners and other flammable materials outside the home wherever possible and always away from heat and fire sources.
- Install plenty of smoke detectors and have at least one in the hallway leading to the bedrooms. Check batteries annually.
- Keep fire extinguishers handy; put one in the kitchen and at least one on each floor.
- Develop a family escape plan. Hold frequent "fire drills."
- Have your heating system checked yearly.
- If you have a fireplace, always use a screen. Have it cleaned annually.

For a free brochure on insulation and fire safety in your home, write to the Certain Teed Home Institute, P.O. Box 860, Valley Forge, PA 19482, or call toll-free 1 800 782 8777.

Also from SCS, the Elephant Brooch $85.00, Swarovski's second limited edition of collectible jewelry.
