SCENE OF RESCUE - Police and firefighters joined to haul 9-year-old Richard Gray from Second River, Monday afternoon. The youngster slipped down the icy surface of the snow into the unguarded waterway next to the Senior Citizen Center on Mill Street. Deputy Fire Chief Andrew Depczek helped tie a rope around a tree to let a policeman down into the water to rescue the boy, who was taken to Clara Maass Medical Center and treated for bruises and cold. Involved in the rescue were Police Sergeant Nicholas Krentz and Police Officers Joseph Trabucco, Greg Giannetti, Brendan Dullaghan, Gerard Corbo and Dan Ward. A life preserver from a Patrol Car was used to reach the boy. See Editorial (Photo by Howard Klausner)

Congressman Klein schedules Town Meeting

Representative Herb Klein (D-8th Dist.) has sent letters to his constituents announcing that he will hold a public meeting on Monday, Jan. 24, at School 7, from 7 to 8 p.m. Belleville Mayor Marina Perna will be the Moderator.

This will be a return visit for the Congressman, who previously held a Town Meeting in Belleville last summer, on July 7.

At that time, he answered questions dealing with his votes on the President's budget and other early legislation of the Clinton Administration.

In his announcement, Representative Klein stated:

"Please attend the town meeting that will be held in your neighborhood. I hope you will take this opportunity to share your views with me.

"In Congress, I am fighting for high-skill high-paying jobs, affordable and accessible health care and a strong economy that will carry Northern New Jersey into the 21st Century.

"I want to hear from you about what you think we can do to accomplish our mutual goals. In particular, I would like to hear your views of President Clinton's proposed health care plan.

"Please come and speak your mind. I look forward to seeing many old and new friends."

The money is long spent

Board asks Township for $463,735 in refund for 1991-92 school budget

By Howard Klausner

Frank Pomaco, attorney for the Belleville Board of Education, has asked formally for a refund of $463,735 awarded the School District by the State Board of Education.

The ruling will have no effect on the Township budget, because the money was raised through taxation in 1992 and then placed in escrow.

It will not have an effect on the current school budget, either, but could ease the school's budgetary problems in the 1994-95 budget.

However, if the State had upheld the Township Council, the money would have gone into municipal expenditures.

As it now stands, the refund will be used by the Board of Education to repay its surplus account. It will have an effect on the 1994-95 budget, possibly reducing the tax burden by 10 points.

Any reduction in the school budget will be deeply appreciated by the Board, which faces certain tax increases in the coming year.

Some Board members have expressed fears that the next school budget will be defeated, thus creating more chaos in school planning.

The State Commissioner of Education has ordered the restoration of more than $670,000 of an $800,000 cut ordered by the Township Council in the 1993-94 budget.

In effect, the Board can now borrow again from its own surplus to meet expenses while the refund awaits final action by the State Board of Education.

The decision issued by the State Board of Education states, in part:

"The Township argues that its reduction of 12 teaching positions should be sustained because that reduction was based on 'appropriate educational considerations provided to it by the Board'.

"We not only reject this view, but again remind the Township that it had the responsibility for giving careful consideration to the educational implications of any of the reductions it ultimately decided to make. "In this instance, the record shows that the District needed additional teaching positions to maintain its desired class size.

"The Township nowhere deals with the substance of this need or the educational implications of failing to meet it.

"Further, while the Township is correct that nine teaching positions could have been eliminated by closing a school, the record indicates that the District's enrollment is increasing, rather than decreasing.

"Moreover, the decision to close a school is one that the Board, not the governing body, must make."

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

We are happy to report the safe arrival home of Lou Cienia, Chairman of the Belleville Renaissance Committee, after a harrowing trip back from Key West and Isla Morada. His trip to Florida had been pleasant enough, as Lou took a vacation after selling his business, Charles Jewelers, now William Rich and Son. He was homeward bound, traveling through Virginia on Route 95, and it was about 4 a.m. as Lou's daughter, Lisa Cataldo was remarking as to how safe she had felt travelling and strolling through Florida, despite the publicity to the contrary, when suddenly she screamed, "Dad!" Lou swerved the car to the left, just as a huge cinderblock crashed into the road, inches from his right front tire, sending fragments bouncing under the car. The missile had been hurled from an overpass and Lou had seen the man - a rugged looking type with a fierce grin on his face - hoisting the block over the side of the bridge and dropping it, intending it to hit the Cienia car. "He was wearing a gray monkey jacket, the kind with a hood in the back," Lou said. "And he was a big, light skinned man." ●●●●● In the car were Lisa's baby, Christine, Mrs. Cienia and son-in-law Bob Cataldo. "If I hadn't swerved, the boulder would have gone through the windshield right into Bob's lap," Lou said. He used his car telephone to call local police on the 911 number. The near-tragedy occurred near Hopewell, Virginia, and in the stress of the moment, Lou followed a wrong road sign that took him off the highway into an urban slum area. "It was the worst slum I have ever seen in my life, far worse than anything you'd find in Newark, and until I got back to the highway, it was more frightening than what happened on the highway."

●●●●● George Tarturillo dropped in to tell us about Senior Citizen activities in town. George headed the Mail Carriers Union local in his days with the Post Office - Postal Service, and since his retirement seven years ago he has remained an activist. He belongs to the Old Guard and the Tuesday and Thursday Senior Citizen Clubs and he is Vice President of the Essex County Senior Citizens Council. "I have plenty to do," he said. He is helping to campaign for the use of prescription generic drugs and the dropping of prescription payments from the present $5 to $2. Going generic saves a lot of money, George said. "Valium costs $9 for 60 pills, but you can get the generic equivalent for $40." He also campaigns against efforts to reduce Medicare and Medicaid funding. "When Congressman Herb Klein voted on the right side recently, against aid cuts, I advised the Senior Citizens to write him thank-you notes. It could pay off when he remembers the people who wrote the notes. We used to do that in the union, writing our Representatives and Senators." It is all part of the politicking necessary to protect the rights of Senior Citizens, and it is a never-ending fight. "I can't believe it," George said, "but our Senator Bill Bradley has introduced a bill to reduce benefits. We have to get to work on that." With wife Hilda, he expects to keep Belleville Senior Citizens alert to the proposal, and active against it. George came to Belleville when he was three years old, and his father built some 80 houses in town. "He made sure he had good wood," George recalled, "and he built well."

We do not know often Congressman Klein will manage to make the meetings, but he has asked the Belleville Historical Society for a list of upcoming events and meeting dates, according to Society President Ed O'Neill. Klein also asked for some of the "accomplishments" of the organization, and Ed was delighted to comply. ●●●●● "We have done quite a number of things, such as placing Historical Markers on the First School, the First Fire House, the First Four Churches, the Hendricks Copper Mill and the Rutgers Bridge. We have placed 100 signs for the Historical Tour of Belleville," Ed wrote.

"Our most important project now is the cleaning up of the Reformed Church cemetery and the area north and south of the Rutgers Bridge (between Main Street and the Passaic River). It will be one of our contributions when Belleville is declared the town that started the (American) Industrial Revolution, which we are anxiously waiting for Congress to approve." Discussing the importance of the land cleared around both sides of the Rutgers Street Bridge, Ed wrote, "During the Revolution, the 2nd Jersey Regiment of the Essex Militia was stationed there. It was their command post and the Church steeple was used as a look-out. The British were stationed across the river in Lyndhurst and North Arlington. These men kept the British from coming into Belleville, or Second River, as it was named before 1797. George Washington crossed the river and came down the west side through Belleville. He knew that the 2nd Regiment would make it safe for him to do so. He stopped at the Church and then proceeded down into Newark and down to Trenton where he defeated the Hessians. There isn't another town in the United States that has so many Revolutionary soldiers buried in it." ●●●●● Ed told of the sheer physical effort it has taken to clean up overgrown historic sites in town. He closed with this statement: "There will be a lot of important people visiting Belleville when it is declared the town that started the Industrial Revolution, and we want it to look nice."

Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, thinks the Police and Firefighters should have been given the right to early retirement if they want it. "For a cat, retirement is not a big issue. But the hurry-up-and-wait routine these guys and gals have is not conducive to longevity, and they don't have nine lives." ●●●●● Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says someone stole the Irish Flag that Ed O'Neill put up by the Rutgers Street Bridge. "They left a note that they were taking it to a meeting of the Friendly Sons of the Shillelagh and needed it to identify the Designated Driver." ●●●●●

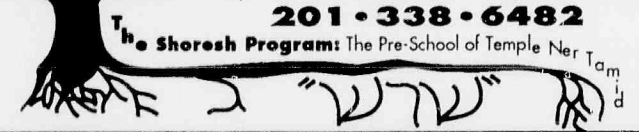

Zilch's supporters, the Kool Kukumber Boys, are afraid the Whitman Administration may ignore them when it comes to patronage. Zilch said, "She owes them. Every candidate they have supported in the past has lost, and this time they went all out for Florio."

YOU HAVE THE POWER -- Michael J. Quigley, III, chairman of the board of First DeWitt Savings Bank, presents Norma Godin of the Make-A-Wish Foundation of New Jersey, a check for $6,300. Funds were raised during First DeWitt Savings Bank's recent "You Have the Power" holiday club campaign.

Belleville Senior News

By Joseph Restaino

In my last column, I gave the history of the Belleville Senior Citizen Club Inc. There are approximately 500 members belonging to this club. About 250 to 300 attend the weekly meeting. They are known as the Tuesday Club.

In 1978, a group of members was dissatisfied with the organization so they started their own group and held their meetings on Friday and became incorporated as the Belleville Senior Citizen Social Club, Inc.

Harry Reynolds was elected as the first president. He was followed by the late Margaret Basso, Betty Barr and James Triano, the present president.

The activities are almost the same as the Tuesday group and the two organizations cooperate with each other. The two groups have many committees that plan the different activities. Parties are planned for all the major holidays, such as Christmas, New Year's Eve, St. Patrick's Day, Valentine's Day and if there is no holiday, we plan a party anyway. The seniors love to party!

Tid Bits: Many seniors do volunteer work at Clara Maass Medical Center.

Fred Behan has helped in the Medical Department for 15 years. His wife, Dorothea, has been in the Information Department for 20 years, Janet Daly, Information, 23 years, Rose Simeone, 10 years in the Information Department. So if you have time on your hands, volunteer and you will get a warm feeling and satisfaction from doing something for someone else.

4-H leaders are sought

Essex County 4-H leadership training will be offered on Saturday, Jan. 21 from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon at the Center for Environmental Studies, 621 Eagle Rock Ave., Roseland.

New and potential leaders will learn how to start a 4-H Club, how to teach basic life skills, how to understand the developmental stages of youth and how to obtain 4-H resources related to members' and leaders' interests.

School-age child care providers may credit this training toward their certification.

For more information about being part of the Essex County 4-H program, contact Mary Lou Mayfield, 4-H program associate, at 678-7807, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

The Essex County 4-H Youth Development Program is part of Rutgers Cooperative Extension. It is sponsored by Essex County Executive Thomas J. D'Alessio, the Board of Chosen Freeholders, Rutgers State University, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Information and educational programs are offered to all people without regard to sex, race, color, national origin, handicap, disability, or age, on a grade-appropriate basis.

New publication highlights county growth

Essex County Executive Thomas J. D'Alessio said that an effort by the Essex County Economic Development Corporation is well underway to woo business support for "The Essex Edge," a publication designed to promote industrial, commercial and residential development in Essex County.

In a joint promotional letter mailed to area businesses, D'Alessio and EDC Chairman John Frohling touted the soon-to-be-published 1994-95 edition of "The Essex Edge" which they described as a "proven success as a promotional tool to market Essex County." The four-color business directory and economic guide is being published by Zinn Graves & Field of Florham Park.

D'Alessio noted that the publication has been revamped to increase its usefulness for businesses and residents alike.

"It will guide companies which are currently doing business in Essex, as well as those exploring the possibilities of relocating here," said the county executive. "It will also provide concise, easy-to-read information about all the county's 22 municipalities, and the county itself," he added.

Businesses, educational institutions, and community organizations interested in learning more about advertising opportunities with the publication can call Arlene Carollo of Zinn Graves & Field at 377-3300.

Belleville Elks adopt Veterans for the holidays: The Belleville Elks Lodge 1123 opened their hearts for the Christmas holiday and adopted two veterans as part of their family. Mr. Frank Zatorski, Sr. who is very active with the Veterans Hospital in East Orange, hosted the two men at our annual Christmas breakfast. Mr. Grover Holmes and Mr. Wesley Porshe had a fine time at the lodge and later joined in the annual Elk Memorial Service.

Events such as going to football games, picnics, Monte Carlo nites, making and distributing Easter Baskets, Christmas baskets and parties are conducted by the Elks all year round.

ON WATCH FOR AMERICA.

On ships, planes and submarines, in locations around the world, the men and women of the United States Navy are on watch. They're putting their training to work in jobs that make a difference, while developing skills they'll need for a successful future. Just as important, they're doing it for their country. They're Navy people, working hard for America. And that makes us proud.

Navy. Full Speed Ahead.

Be a hero! Be a 4-H leader!

"Many of today's school-age youth are desperately seeking adults and older youth to be positive role models," says Mary Lou Mayfield, Essex County 4-H program associate. "A person doesn't have to be a certified school teacher in order to help young people learn. 4-H leader training gives volunteers and program staff the opportunity to strengthen their understanding of the needs of children. 4-H resources make it possible for anyone who truly cares for children to learn how to share a hobby or teach a new skill. Club meetings can be held in the leaders' home, school, community center, place of worship, or school age child care program."

OUR OPINION

The Wind's Not Always At Your Back

The wind's not always at our back; the sky's not always blue.
Sometimes we crave the things we lack and don't know what to do.
Sometimes life's an uphill ride with mountains we must climb.
At times the river's deep and wide and crossing takes some time.
No one said that life is easy — there are no guarantees,
So trust the Lord continually on calm or stormy seas.
The challenges we face today prepare us for tomorrow,
For faith takes our fears away and peace replaces sorrow.

Clay Harrison

A disaster waiting to happen

It is a constant surprize to the Belleville Times that a serious accident has not occurred involving Senior Citizens and the Second River.

The near tragedy that occurred Monday when a 9-year-old fell into the river - and was safely removed by police and firefighters - is a sample of what could happen.

There is absolutely no barrier between the river, as it borders the Senior Citizens Center, and either Mill Street or parking lot of the Center.

It is possible for a pedestrian to stumble into the river.

It is sadly probable that sooner or later a vehicle will plunge into it.

It was the child's good fortune that the water level is only one or two feet high at this time of year. We have had floods in which the river has covered Mill Street.

The embankment is 10 feet high, with a sheer drop to the water.

Yet there is no fence of any kind to block access to the river bank from either side.

In the past, the Belleville Times has asked for action to safeguard the lives of the Senior Citizens who visit the area on an almost daily basis.

Yes, it will cost money.

But it will also save lives.

Why education needs protection

The recent decision of the State Board of Education to uphold the restoration of funds taken from the 1991-92 school budget has made a number of people ask why - if a school budget is voted down - any cuts ordered by the Township have to be restored.

The reason, of course, lies in the obligation of the community to provide for the decent education of our future citizens.

The New Jersey Supreme Court put it this way:

"The governing body may, of course, seek to effect savings which will not impair the educational process.

"But its determinations must be independent ones properly related to educational considerations.

"It must . . . fix a sum sufficient to provide a system of local schools which may fairly be considered thorough and efficient."

The requirement to provide this education is what protects the public school system from those who would deprive our children of their fair chance to succeed in life.

A democracy needs an educated citizenry to survive.

Budgetary considerations cannot be used as an excuse to destroy the school system.

Have a good trip, Bill

We offer, with sincerest good wishes, our hopes for a successful European trip by President Bill Clinton.

The number of incredibly dangerous situations that now face us, makes the success of his efforts more vital than ever.

Can he help the present Russian regime avoid the fate that befell the last reasonably democratic government in Russia. In 1917, Kerensky fell, and Lenin replaced him. It virtually lost Russia to the 20th Century.

The possibility of wiping out the threat of nuclear missiles aimed at the United States is still there, but so is the possibility that new forces will gain control of those missiles.

The one thing going in our favor is that Eastern Europe and Russia are so broke that they need America just to provide food money.

But we have to move a lot faster to prevent a genuine madman from getting his finger on the nuclear button.

So, Bill, we wish you well, for all our sakes.

Essay winners announced

To The Editor,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Belleville Holiday Celebration '93 Committee for all of their hard work and dedication in making this year's Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony a success.

More than 500 Belleville residents attended the ceremony, and over 250 children had the opportunity to take a picture with Santa Claus, making this our most successful year ever.

Special thanks to the Belleville Public Works Department and Township Manager Stephen Cuccio for all of their assistance. Special thanks are also in order for the many Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Grade students who participated in this year's essay contest. This year's winners were: Fourth Grade, Daniel G. D'Elia; Fifth Grade, Dara Churchill, and Sixth Grade, Penny Lam.

Best wishes to all for a happy and healthy New Year.

Angie Paserchia

Chairman, Belleville Holiday Celebration '93 Committee.

Flat school tax?

To The Editor,

If the State Supreme Court ruled that it is illegal to fund schools through property taxes, then why are we all still paying for it?

I propose that Belleville charge each resident $200 a year as a school tax. That's $200 for every resident family member which will be more than enough to fund the schools.

The school portion of our property tax should be dropped, saving homeowners a small fortune.

This will also help solve the problem of out-of-towners using our schools.

I ask every homeowner in Belleville to contact our town's politicians and I insist that homeowners not be forced to pay for schools through property taxes which, as I have said before, is illegal.

'Deep in Debt in '94'

To The Editor,

Remembering one of the songs that made Ernie Ford popular was "You work and work, break your back, lifting 16 tons and getting deeper in debt", this is what is happening to Belleville. The more we are paying, the more this form of government is putting us in debt.

Our water has doubled, we are being sued by Newark for not paying our water bill - where is the money that the homeowners have been paying? It is so humiliating to see in the newspaper that Belleville has not paid its water bill to Newark when we all pay our bills. Our Mayor and Manager-Council are to blame. They are not doing their job. It seems they do not care. You cannot blame them - after all they are not hurting because they are all pretty well set financially.

Another problem we have is the Board of Education. They make cuts for programs and busing but they are always giving raises to the teachers. This is why we should go to appointed Board of Education because on the board we have teachers and parents who have family members working in the school system and we have to get working in the school system. We have to get politics out of the schools plus all the nepotism.

What we need is to get a big new broom and sweep out all the ones that are putting Belleville deeper in debt. Let's get Commission form of government back into Belleville because at this rate, our taxes in 1994 will go up 100 points. Could you afford this? Think about it and go for the change because just talking about it will not solve the problems. It is action that speaks louder than words.

Money per student

To The Editor,

Just what does it take to get a letter issued in our town paper? I wrote while back seeking answers from our Board of Education in regard to the amount of monies spent on average for our high school students. The State of New Jersey listed Belleville as spending $7,382 per student.

If we spent that much on every single student, kindergarten through 12th Grade - which supposedly we do not - then the entire budget for our approximately 3,400 students would only be $25 million, not $30 million. How about some investigative reporting, or possibly the Board would like to respond with an explanation.

When the budget was proposed, we were told that "everything" was included - that more monies were spent per high school student than on Middle School students and so on down the line. Well, what is not included in the $7,382 figure that is costing over $5 million per year? Or are we just supposed to sit back and pay without any answers as the arrogant way things are usually dealt with in this town?

Of All Things

• RELIABLE sources in both Democrat and Republican parties have indicated Essex County G.O.P. Chairman John Renna has struck a deal with Newark North Ward Democrat Steve Aduabato and Essex Democrat Senator Richard Codey. The scheme of things — Aduabato wants Jim Cavanaugh off the Freeholder Board to create an opening to have Freeholder Joseph Parlavocchio run as an at-large candidate freeing up the North Ward area Freeholder's spot for Aduabato's Puerto Rican candidate.

Political insiders say that Steve Aduabato is trying to put together a ticket of Senator Dick Codey for County Executive and East Orange Mayor Cardell Cooper to succeed Codey as Senator upon his election as County Executive in November. The scenario that Aduabato is reportedly planning includes a partnership with Republican County Chairman John Renna who just recently was awarded a big piece of patronage — a freeholder's attorney's appointment to his finance chairman, Anthony Pope, Esq.

Aduabato engineered the selection of Sara Bost to succeed herself as chairman of the Freeholder Board. He put together Freeholders Sara Bost, Joe DeVincenzo of Nutley and Pat Sebald, with Renna delivering the lone Republican Freeholder, Jim Treffinger. At the last re-organization of the Freeholder Board, it was agreed the chairmanship would rotate with Freeholder Jim Cavanaugh next in line. A political promise from Steve Aduabato is as good as Iraq's Saddam Hussain.

• THERE is a report out that

John Renna may be the Director of Consumer Affairs in the Whitman Administration.

• APPARENTLY, all Democrat factions favor the reelection of incumbent Sheriff Armando Fontoura to the Sheriff's post with 25 years experience, holding a high post in the Newark Police Department. No one in recent years came to the Essex County Sheriff's post with more police credentials than Fontoura.

• COUNTY Registrar Larrie Stokes' job is on Steve Aduabato's agenda.

• THE leadership of Essex County Democrat Chairman Tom Giblin, a more honest politician you will never find, is being suddenly challenged by North Newark's Steve Aduabato who is the chief organizer of a dissident group which will try to oust Giblin at the next County Chairmanship election. For that objective, Aduabato is trying to quarterback a mischievous effort to insure the downfall of Giblin's leadership. Does Aduabato's plot have a chance to succeed? Not if the suburban Democrat leaders realize what's at stake — a Democrat party run by Steve Aduabato who greeted me at our first meeting some years ago with the statement that he, Steve, would lie, deceive and do anything necessary to gain his objective. Loyalty is not one of his strengths. But no one can deny he is a clever political leader. Representing only 4 percent of the Democrat vote in the City of Newark, he is probably getting 65 percent of the County Democrat patronage. Pretty good for a guy who does not enjoy the trust and confidence of key Democrats I have spoken with over the years.

• BELLEVILLE was the scene last week of a victorious Whitman luncheon reception under the auspices of the combined leadership of Belleville Republican leader, Richard Yanuzzi, Nutley's Bob Rusignuolo, a Bloomfield combination of Marion and John Crecco and Whitman's Essex County Primary Campaign Manager, Bloomfield attorney, Ralph Salerno, who has already rejected discussion of a cabinet post in Whitman's Administration.

Ralph Salerno

• BLOOMFIELD Mayor Jim Norton delivered a pretty upbeat New Year's Day speech at a meeting which saw two newly elected council members Henry Tuorto and John Stefanelli. Also winning election was incumbent ward councilman Gary Locabaci. Norton delivered an optimistic statement highlighting the gift to the community of the Sennering property and the plant of Westinghouse Corporation to make a gift of its property to the township after demolition of various buildings and the ultimate clearance from the DEPE.

• PROJECT GRADUATION of Nutley High School's Class of 1994 is already moving ahead under the able leadership of Peggy Windheim. Letters soliciting financial support from community businesses and leaders have already been received. In order for the project to be successful, financial support is essential.

BOOK MARKS

Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission awards library grant

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission, through its Executive Director Pearl Beatty, has announced that the Commission has awarded the Belleville Public Library a grant of $1,000. The objectives of the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission Grant, according to Acting Library Director Adrea Cohen, will be to make students and adults of Belleville and its environs who attend the program cognizant of the many contributions that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. has made to black people and the citizens of the United States, by means of a scholarly lecture in his honor by Giles Wright on Wednesday, Jan. 19 at 1 p.m. and through two theatrical productions, the first at the Shafter Branch Library on Monday, Jan. 19 at 1:30 p.m. and the second on Wednesday, Feb. 23 at 1 p.m. at the main library.

The grant program, entitled "A Celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Black History" will also include the showing of "Amazing Grace" on Wednesday, Jan. 12 at 1 p.m., the showing of the film "King: Montgomery to Memphis," on Wednesday, Jan. 26 at 1 p.m., the showing of the film "The Real Malcolm X" on Wednesday, Feb. 9 at 1 p.m. and a black history film festival, honoring Sidney Poitier on Feb. 3, 10, 17 and 24 at 1 p.m.

The library will use part of the grant funds to purchase reference and circulating biographies on famous blacks, both men and women, who have made important contributions to the civil rights movement, black history and the country.

The library will also provide displays, honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and Black History Month.

According to Julian Bond, a large portion of our population today remains untouched by affirmative action, the civil rights laws of the 60's or the great debates about goals and quotas. "The library will serve as a forum, to help others understand the civil rights problems of the past and the contribution Dr. King and others have made to this century," states Adrea Cohen, grants coordinator, who developed the grant proposal.

Governor-elect Christie Whitman pays historic visit to Belleville

She keeps campaign promise to revisit earliest supporters

By Howard Klausner and Juliann Walsh

For the first time on record, a Governor-elect visited Belleville last week, fulfilling a campaign promise and bringing hope of Statehouse interest in Belleville's welfare.

Invited here by Richard Yanuzzi, chairman of the Belleville Republican Party Organization, and Senator John Scott, Governor-elect Christie Todd Whitman enhanced Yanuzzi's political position in his rivalry with the regular Republican County Committee headed by Toni Marrone.

It was a political coup for both Yanuzzi and Senator Scott, signalling their closeness to the power that will reside shortly in the Statehouse.

Publisher Frank Orechio was invited to the event, and Orechio Newspapers were the only news organization present at the gathering, held at the Bella Casa Restaurant. Television cameras of OBC-Television recorded the event.

Some 100 invited guests included Republicans from Nutley, Bloomfield and Lyndhurst, as well as officials of the municipalities.

Board of Education Trustee Angie Paserchia, an announced candidate for the Township Council, was co-host of the event with Yanuzzi and Scott. Yanuzzi was Master of Ceremonies at the luncheon.

In her brief remarks, Mrs. Whitman promised to bring about "a New Jersey of which we can all be proud."

She toured the entire room, shaking hands with almost everyone in sight, and traded remarks with the guests in the manner of a seasoned campaigner.

At least for that moment, Belleville had its place in the political sun.

Hoffmann-LaRoche participates in project to reduce emissions in Northeast

Hoffmann-La Roche and 21 other organizations from industry, government and the environmental community, today announced that air pollutants in the Northeast were reduced by more than 3,400 tons, as a result of a 1993 summer-long program to explore the potential of emission reduction credits for improving air quality.

The effort, called the Emission Reduction Credit Demonstration Project and spearheaded by the Northeast States for Coordinated Air Use Management, consisted of 15 strategies designed to produce emission reduction credits — reductions in actual air pollution emissions beyond what is required by state and Federal law. The summer project demonstrated that it is possible to quantify emission reductions and that these reductions could form the basis of an emission trading program, which could help the Northeast states achieve or exceed requirements under the 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments.

"Through its participation in the project, Roche demonstrated the value leak detection and repair programs could have in reducing emissions, and also illustrated how companies could help improve the environment by initiating similar programs," said Jack Kace, director, Roche Corporate Environmental Affairs.

As part of the project, Roche repaired a total of 651 components at its headquarters in Nutley and reduced emissions of fugitive volatile organic compounds by 44.5 tons. Roche also examined the benefits and costs of establishing a voluntary leak detection and repair program and described the steps necessary to implement the program at an industrial facility.

The emission reduction program at Roche actually began in 1989, when the company pledged to reduce by 90 percent emissions of hazardous substances listed under Title III, Section 313, of the 1986 Federal Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act — a goal achieved in 1992. Over the last five years, Roche has identified and corrected more than 1,000 fugitive emission sources.

In addition to the Emission Reduction Credit Demonstration Project, Roche is involved in two other voluntary environmental programs. In an EPA initiative called the Industrial Toxics Project, or the 3350 program, Roche has volunteered to reduce the use, release and off-site transfer of 17 priority chemicals by 33 percent by 1992 and by 50 percent by the end of 1995. Of these chemicals, Roche uses only five in its pharmaceutical and chemical processes and is well on the way to meeting the EPA's targets. Roche is also a member of the EPA's Greenlights Program, an effort to reduce utility plant emissions by implementing energy-efficient programs at the local level.

Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., the United States affiliate of Roche Holding Ltd. of Basel, Switzerland, is a leading health care company with major businesses in prescription pharmaceuticals, diagnostics and vitamins. The company operates more than 600 facilities around the country, including clinical testing laboratories, pharmaceutical and vitamin manufacturing facilities and research and development operations.

'Essex Digest'

Free home winterizing services for Essex County residents, an inside look at the Drug Abuse Resistance Education classroom curriculum and fireplace and chimney safety tips are the topics on the January edition of "Essex Digest."

Energy conservation officer for the Essex County Division of Community Action and Irvington Councilman Patrick McNally details free home winterization and weatherization services offered by the division's "Seal-Up and Save" program. McNally describes how eligible Essex County residents can qualify for up to $250 worth of home energy savings materials and up to $750 worth of free attic insulation.

"Essex Digest" host Rich Leonard examines Essex County classroom drug abuse resistance education curriculum with representatives of the DARE program. Featured on this segment are Detective Glenn Cohrs of the West Orange Police Department; Joseph DelGuercio, principal of Roosevelt Middle School in West Orange, and Frank DeMasi, DARE community relations spokesman, better known to school children as Peanuts the Clown. The panel focuses on such issues as the consequences of drug use and misuse, resisting peer pressure, and media influences on drug use.

In the program's final segment, Captain Bill Doerfler of the Millburn Fire Department and the Essex County Fire Prevention Association outlines the dos and don'ts of fireplace and chimney safety for the winter season. Doerfler suggests ways to eliminate creosote from chimneys, which is the major cause of fireplace fires.

"Essex Digest" is a public affairs presentation of the Office of the Essex County Executive. The program airs every Sunday at 3:30 p.m. on Suburban Cablevision, every Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. on Cablevision of Newark, and every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. and every Sunday at 10:30 a.m. on Orechio Broadcast-

BUC SHOTS

Part Three in a Series

The Belleville boys' basketball team, circa 1974-75 was now entering the month of January. Dan Grasso's team had split its first six games in December and the three wins the Bellboys had achieved was already one half of the total victories attained in '73-74.

But January of '75 would be the key test. The Big 10 schedule would start in earnest. Every game in January would be against a conference opponent, and the team would soon learn that there could never be a let down.

The first game was at Nutley. The Raiders were a struggling team 20 seasons ago and were winless heading into the game with the Bellboys. But as Buccaneer football coach John Senesky so eloquently puts it, "when you play Nutley, forget about the records. It's a whole new game."

Even though it wasn't a football game, it was Belleville-Nutley and that amounts to an intense matchup.

Nutley had a 6'7" center named Barry Finley. This was the first game where Belleville's future All American center Abdel Anderson would be severely tested and Finley battled Ab point for point, rebound for rebound.

Belleville was heavily favored, but Nutley would not back down. The game went down to the final shot, and when it was done, a relieved group of Bellboys headed back to BHS with a hard fought, 50-48 victory.

Finley and Anderson scored 22 points each. Finley actually blocked one of Abdel's shots and kept Ab a little off balance.

A few years after that game, I was working a summer job and ironically, Finley was also on that job.

"Abdel and I really went after it that day," Finley told me during the Summer of '77. "He'd whip my butt and then I'd get a few shots off of him. It was fun playing against Abdel."

Sadly, Finley was killed in a car accident in 1979. He was a nice guy and a tough competitor.

Belleville then went home to play Orange High School. Orange had been a dominant school in basketball for most of the 1970's. They had tremendous speed and could dominate the boards.

The game would have special meaning for Anderson, because he was within 22 points of the 1,000 point plateau. This was an unbelievable accomplishment, because up to January 7, 1975, no player in Belleville basketball history had reached that mark.

Furthermore, Anderson had accomplished this feat in just 2 1/2 years of varsity basketball. Back then, freshmen were not allowed to play on the varsity, so Abdel's points had come in his sophomore and junior year. Also remember that in the mid 1970's, there was not a three point shot.

"If the three point rule were in effect when Abdel played, he would have averaged 40 points a game," said current boys' assistant basketball coach Rich Baker, who was a sophomore on the '74-75 club. "His jump shot was well outside the three point line on many occasions. He had such a smooth delivery."

Anyway, Anderson played a great game that Tuesday afternoon against Orange. He shattered the mark in the fourth quarter, but the officials weren't aware of the record and didn't stop the game to give Abdel the ball. Nonetheless, the Bellboys were on their way to a huge victory.

Anderson scored 28 points and Doug Jackson responded with 20. Joe Dunn, who was coming into his own at the power forward position, contributed 14 points and played well on the boards.

In the backcourt, Bob Tosi, a junior, was also developing into a talented two guard. Tosi scored 10 against Orange and was a very tough player on the boards, even though he was listed as a guard.

I mention Tosi in this sequence because two days after the Orange game and a day before playing Montclair, Tosi severely sprained his ankle during an alumni practice game.

"If Tosi hadn't gotten hurt, we definitely would have beaten Montclair, probably twice," Grasso recalled. "Tosi was playing great basketball at the time."

Getting back to the Orange game, Abdel was mobbed by his teammates at the end of the contest, a game Belleville won impressively 78-63. Just about all the players were thrown into the showers and even Grasso laughed a little bit.

Belleville was 5-3 and would entertain Montclair on a Friday evening, January 10, 1975. Everything was going the Bellboys way. The team was winning, a big crowd was expected for Montclair and Abdel would be presented with the game ball prior to the opening tip off.

A bit of a monkey wrench was thrown into Belleville's plans when Tosi hurt his ankle, but the expectations were pretty high. A near sellout crowd watched as then Belleville Athletic Director Herman "Jitty" Wishe presented Ab with the ball before the opening tip off. The crowd gave Abdel a long standing ovation and a few members of the Montclair team congratulated Abdel as he headed back to the bench.

As for the game, the Bellboys jumped out to an early lead and were ahead for most of the contest. But Montclair would prove to be a nemesis all season long as far as the Blue and Gold were concerned. The Mounties pulled out the game in the closing seconds, 66-63.

Suddenly, the momentum had switched. A victory would have meant a 6-3 record and a lot of confidence heading into East Orange the following Tuesday. Now, the team was 5-4 and game number two was on tap with the mighty Panthers from East Orange.

As I said in last week's article, East Orange was a powerful team. The Panthers would eventually win a second straight Essex County tournament championship and advance to the state finals. Heading into this game with Belleville, East Orange was undefeated and ranked first in the state.

Winning at East Orange was never easy, and Grasso knew this as the team got ready in the lockerroom at East Orange High.

"No one in the state expects you guys to win this game," Grasso told his team. "So you've got nothing to lose. Just play your game and be loose."

Earlier in the season, the Panthers had won 80-58, breaking open a close game in the second half. That was played at

Bucs humbled by Bergen Catholic

By Joe Piegare

The Buccaneer wrestling team suffered its first setback of the season last week as they fell to the Crusaders of Bergen Catholic, 43-18.

This was simply a matter of one talented team being bested by a more talented team. Bergen Catholic simply had too many weapons for the outmanned squad from Belleville.

Our Bucs won only four of the 13 bouts, losing the last six in a row. Yet, with a few breaks, this could have been a real barnburner. Consider these facts: BHS had three starters missing from the lineup. 103-pounder Keith Hands was just recovering from the flu and wasn't down to weight. His opponent would have been Anthony Fusco, a freshman. Belleville forfeited the bout, six points for B.C.

171-pounder Mark Sharon was home, sick in bed. Belleville forfeited the bout, six more points for B.C. And heavyweight Brian Pasterchick showed up ill at the match and could not wrestle. He was replaced by Frank Jablonski, who was pinned by freshman Ed Galan at 2:12 of the second period. Another six points for B.C.

Add to that overtime losses by 135-pounder Jorge Hernandez (a 5-3 decision to freshman Jason Landi) and 145-pounder Joe McNish (a 7-5 loss to sophomore John Piela) and you see what might have been.

Belleville's four winners looked crisp and aggressive in ringing up their respective victories.

John Perna, Belleville's state caliber 112-pounder, won the first bout for the Bucs over another state caliber competitor, Abner Suarez.

The Crusader lightweight normally wrestles at 103 pounds, but decided to take a step up to the big time and test his mettle. It was a big mistake. Perna easily took him down, then put him away for the evening using a guillotine pinning combination. Suarez had been undefeated and had just won the Bergen County Tournament last week, the largest county invitational in the state.

Johnny improved his own stats to 6-0 with four pins.

Our 119-pound sophomore, Luke Cardinale, had his hands full with Brian Baglieri, but was in control throughout to forge a 5-2 victory. Cardinale scored the only two takedowns in the bout and never let Baglieri off the defensive.

Now sporting a 5-2 record with two pins, Luke is slowly growing into the form expected of him in the pre-season.

Luke's older brother Isaiah remained undefeated as he bullied Jay Marchetti by a 9-0 score before ending the match with a body press at 3:20 of the second period. Isaiah, like Perna, is now overlooked more than he is noticed because of his extreme level of excellence. He really is in a no-win situation. If he pins, well, he was supposed to do that. If he is physically punishing, well, that's unnecessary because the poor kid on the bottom is not in his class. If he wrestles a tough opponent and wins, yet does not pin, well, then he's having an off day. Great rewards for a young man who is 7-0 with six pins, don't you think?

140-pound senior Mark Bianchini was BHS' final winner, a 6-2 decision over Rob Saba. The match was significant for two reasons: 1. It brought Mark's record to 5-1; 2. It was the first time all year Bianchini had used his takedown expertise. Up until that time, he, along with Jorge Hernandez, had been the biggest offenders in the Buc lineup in respect to working poorly on their feet.

As this writer has stated on more than a number of occasions, the only thing separating Mark Bianchini and a visit to the states is some aggressive work on his feet.

The remaining bouts in the lineup were all losses for the Bucs. John Spina was pinned by state favorite Jason Hernandez at 4:28 in the 130-pound division. Fresh Chris Zarro was decisioned, 13-1, by Bergen County champ Joe Pichetto at 152-pounds. Region and County champ Jim Finn scored a surprisingly close 8-6 decision over Aris Cruz, and 189-pound junior Tom D'Elia was pinned by County runner-up Joe Piela.

BUC NOTES: Despite winning the match easily, Bergen Catholic's squad was grossly out of shape for a state caliber team. The 119, 135, 140, 145, and 160-pound divisions appeared as if they had been wrestling only a couple of days instead of a third of the way through the schedule.

Isaiah Cardinale continues to rise on the all-time lists. Now with 65 career wins, he is tied for spot no.14 with Vinnie DeSimone. One more win ties him with Vin

Lady Bucs stop Cougars, fall to Nutley

By Mike Lambert

It was another of those games that, at the end of a season, will be filed under the category of "we should have won, but..."

The Belleville girls' basketball team now has two of those games safely secured in its data base after a 58-42 setback to a strong Nutley team last week at Belleville High School.

The girls did rebound last Monday and defeated Columbia in a non conference game, 47-43 at Columbia.

Cheryl Marion's squad battled Teaneck last Tuesday. Today, it's off to Clifton for a 7:30 p.m. tip off. Next Tuesday, Paramus comes to town for a 4 p.m. contest.

"Well, you saw the game," Marion said after the loss to Nutley. "We could have won it. We should have won it. Nutley didn't play as well as they could, and we didn't take advantage. They have a very good team. They're very aggressive and scrappy. But we didn't match the aggression and that was the turning point of the game."

Belleville did take the early lead, 13-12 after one quarter. Nutley rallied and held a 22-19 edge at the half. The third quarter proved to be the difference as Raiderettes Lauren Olmsted and Sarah Clarke put on an outside shooting show and helped Nutley pull away. It was 43-31 after three and Belleville could not cut the double digit deficit in the final frame, losing by 16 points.

Liz Ramirez led Belleville with 16 points. She played well on the boards, but was unable to convert layups consistently off rebounds which is usually a big part of her offensive game.

Deana Addis finished with ten points, Andrea Curran scored six and Maria Acuna and Chrissie Scassera had five each.

Nutley's balanced attack was led by Olmsted, Clarke and Jen Berry. Olmsted finished with 20 points while Clarke and Berry had 15 each.

The victory over Columbia was a good win, especially since it came on the road. Belleville took a 17-8 first quarter lead and never looked back.

"We didn't respond the way we should have in the third quarter," Marion said. "Columbia outscored us in the fourth quarter by six points and made the game a lot closer than it should have been."

"We weren't driving the lanes the way we should have. It was wide open all game long, but we didn't drive as well as we should have."

Ramirez led the way again, this time with 21 points. Curran had 13, Acuna scored six, Addis had five and Scassera finished with two.

The Lady Bucs two freshmen, Addis and Scassera, are both nursing injuries. Addis has a sore finger which is affecting her jump shot and rebounding skills while Addis went down in the Columbia game with a sprained ankle.

"Hopefully, they'll be able to play against Teaneck, if not Clifton," Marion said.

Belleville was favored over a young Teaneck squad last Tuesday and will be the favorites in tonight's game with Clifton. The Lady Bucs defeated Clifton in the Tri County holiday tournament two weeks ago.

The next two teams on the schedule, Paramus and Hackensack, are also winnable games, which means, at best case scenario, the Lady Bucs could be 8-3 when it ventures to Immaculate Heart for a key NNJL showdown.

"We know we can compete with most of the teams in the league," Marion said. "But we have to be intense all the time. The losses to Nutley and Immaculate Heart this year were because we didn't stay focused the entire game and missed out on opportunities. Hopefully, our team will learn from those mistakes."

Albert keys comeback, 65-57

By Steve Patchett

The Nutley boys' basketball team could hold the Belleville Bucs at bay for only so long.

With Belleville's Jason Albert crashing the boards in the second half, and Mike Molina hitting from the outside, the Bucs turned an eight point halftime deficit into a 65-57 win on the road last Thursday.

"It was big because we lost our last four games. We had to win," said Albert. "We never lost to Nutley in about five years. We couldn't stop that streak now."

Albert was instrumental to the Bucs' comeback, collecting 12 of his team-high 23 points in the fourth quarter. He also grabbed an incredible 14 rebounds, just three rebounds shy of Nutley's team total for the day.

Albert had seven rebounds in the third quarter alone, but Nutley (1-5) managed to hang on to the lead behind baskets from Joe DelMaestro and Bobby Bok. Nutley's lead climbed to nine points in the third quarter, but Albert and Frank Means hit back-to-back buckets for Belleville, and before long, Nutley saw their lead dwindle to 44-40 after three quarters.

The fourth quarter was nip and tuck, with Belleville (2-4) forcing two straight turnovers to knot the game at 44-44. Nutley's Rob Beck nailed a 3-pointer to give the Raiders some breathing room, but Belleville refused to quit, and at the two minute mark Nutley collapsed.

With the game tied at 54-54, Belleville's Molina connected from 3-point land. The shot proved to be a backbreaker for the Raiders.

The Bucs were six of nine from the free throw line down the stretch, and it was good enough to seal Nutley's fate. Even when Belleville missed a free throw, Albert was often there to grab the rebound and lay it in for an easy two.

Nutley's Joe Caravetta hit a 3-pointer with about a minute to go, but the Raiders couldn't muster any other offense, and Belleville had pulled off the come-from-behind victory.

The Bucs kept the score close in the first half, but only managed to capture a one-point lead briefly in the second quarter. Mike Molina, who had 17 points on the day, forced a few steals to help the Bucs jump on top, 20-19.

BUC NOTES: Four Belleville players scored in double digits during the Nutley game. Jason Albert led the team in scoring with 23 points, followed by Mike Molina with 17 points, Tyree Sumter with 11 points, and Frank Means with 10. Michael Loney also added four points.

Belleville out-rebounded Nutley, 27-17, on the day. Jason Albert led the team with 14 boards, followed by Tyree Sumter with six.

Belleville was 62 percent from the charity stripe, connecting on 13 of 21 free throws. Nutley hit 73 percent of their shots from the line, sinking eight of 11 foul shots.

The boys' basketball team will now take on St. Joe's today at home at 4 p.m. They then travel to Paramus on Tuesday, January 18, for another 4 p.m. tip.

Guard Mike Molina drives to the hoop in second half action against the Nutley Raiders.

RECREATION ROUNDUP

The Belleville Dept. of Recreation and Cultural Affairs is accepting registration for the pre-school play program for 4-year-old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. or 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., five days a week with class limited to a maximum of 23 students in each session. The cost of the 32 week session is $125. The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every 8 or 9 days according to a published schedule. School will begin on Monday, September 19, 1994 and will run through May 1995.

Children born between October 1989 and September 1990 who will enter kindergarten in September 1995 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come, first served basis only.

Children must be able to speak and understand English in order to participate. Children enrolled in the morning program can not also be in the afternoon program or vice versa. A $25. deposit is required to hold your spot in the program.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible - Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Recreation Softball Clinic: The Belleville Recreation Department will again be sponsoring a Girls' Softball Clinic for resident Belleville girls who are students in grades 7-12. This program will be held on Fridays at the Middle School Girls' Gym from 6 to 8 p.m. on the following dates: January 7, 14, 21, 28; February 4, 18; and March 4. The intent of this clinic is to prepare girls who plan to try out for the Suburban Girls' and/or the high school girls' softball teams.

Each session will be supervised and an aspect of the game will be demonstrated and practiced. The focus will be on throwing, catching, running and pitching (No hitting). This clinic will provide all interested girls with an opportunity to better learn the game of softball. Participants must provide their own gloves and must wear sneakers. No advance registration is required.

Over the river and through the woods

By Steve Patchett

"Happy New Year!" "How was your New Year's Eve?"

You've probably heard that a lot lately.

And if you're like most people, you probably have special traditions to close out the holiday season and ring in the coming year.

Some people go to parties. Some people like to sit at home with relatives and catch up on old times.

Not my family. We prefer to venture down to the Watchung Reservation on New Year's Day and get lost in the woods.

Oh, we don't intend to get lost, but it invariably happens every year. It's become a tradition.

My father will propose the idea as a "family hike" or a "walk."

Sounds innocent enough. So, like trusting sheep, we pile into the station wagon and drive over to Somerset County.

Posted above the entrance to the woods is a sign that simply reads "Nature Trail." It might as well read "Abandon all hope all ye who enter here."

Chances are, you're not going to run into Bambi or Thumper on this particular nature trail. In fact, you should consider yourself lucky if you see any other living creature at all.

What you will find is an incoherent tangle of trees, and of course, plenty of snow and ice this time of year.

Two years ago, I nearly lost my mind trying to find my way through this innocent little "nature trail." We were walking in circles, it was getting dark, I couldn't see anything but trees for miles, and the Rose Bowl was coming on in a half hour.

As a Michigan alumnus, this was torture. I mean, getting lost and freezing in the woods is bad enough, but missing the Rose Bowl is a fate worse than death.

Our group began to walk faster, and just as the sun went down we found our way back to the parking lot.

As we arrived home, Michigan was teasing up the ball for the opening kickoff. I had food in front of me, my family beside me, and a fire in the fireplace going...I thought I was in heaven.

Unfortunately, Steve Emtman and Mario Bailey dominated the game for the Washington Huskies, and they blew Michigan away, 34-14.

My family and I watched the game in uneasy silence and hardly a word was exchanged until halftime.

That's when my girlfriend told me that she had money riding on the Huskies.

I should have stayed in the woods.

Sports injury treatment

If you're a "weekend warrior" when it comes to sports, chances are your body is not in the condition it should be to face the rigors of athletics.

If this is true, then your chances of becoming injured while playing sports increases every time you step out onto a field, court or ski slope.

The Kessler Sports Institute, a service of the Kessler Institute for Rehabilitation in West Orange, offers a special walk-in Monday Night Sports Clinic from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. for injured "weekend warriors" and anyone who suffers a sports injury. Appointments are encouraged, but not necessary.

Joseph H. Feinberg, M.D., a specialist in physical medicine and rehabilitation, will examine and provide treatment for your injury. The Monday Night Sports Clinic treats all types of sports and musculoskeletal injuries, including neck and low back.

For more information or an appointment, call the Kessler Sports Institute at (201) 736-9090.

Buc shots

Belleville, this time the game was on Panther territory and the early stages of the game didn't look too promising.

East Orange led by as many as 16 points in the first half and held a 14 points lead heading into the final quarter. Midway through the last quarter, as Belleville began to stage a rally, Anderson fouled out. Enter senior forward/center Alan Amiano. A hard working player who kept the team up with his crazy personality, Amiano stepped in and played very well against the Panthers, tallying ten points in just five minutes of action.

Belleville came very close in this contest, but the undefeated Panthers remained perfect with an 89-82 triumph.

The Bellboys went home with a 5-5 record, but the team had gotten more out of the East Orange loss in terms of confidence than they did in the Montclair game, a contest the Bellboys felt they should have won.

Next up, a game at Columbia on Friday evening, January 17, 1995. There were many memories attached to this game, and we'll recall those in next week's issue.

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ

When was the last time Florida State lost a bowl game? Who did the Seminoles play that year? Which bowl was it? How did FSU finish in the final rankings that season?

Outdoor and sports show to be held

If you're an outdoor or sports enthusiast, then the 1994 Greater Philadelphia Sport, Travel & Outdoor Show is the event for you.

The show runs from January 19-23 at the Fort Washington Expo Center in Fort Washington, Pennsylvania and includes a host of exhibits and demonstrations including:

Shark Mania: The terror inspired by sharks doubtless relates to the fear most of us have of being eaten alive. Human fear and fascination relating to sharks has resulted in a great deal of legend and lore - much of it true and probably more of it that isn't.

If you'd like to know the true story of these creatures, make plans to stop by the Shark Mania exhibit and talk with Captain Greg Dubrule. Captain Dubrule is a charter boat captain, who, in 1983, landed a 2 1/2 ton great white shark off the coast of Connecticut. This is an exciting exhibit for young and old alike!

Photography Exhibit: A collection of award-winning photographs from the Outdoor Writers' Association of America (OWAA) Photo Exhibit will be on display at the show. This exhibit features black and white as well as color photographs that showcase the glorious world of nature.

The exhibit displays photos in five categories: scenic, flora, people, action and fauna. Nikon Sport Optics of Garden City, New York, funds the contest as well as the traveling exhibit.

World Record Fish Exhibit: Did you ever lay eyes on a 14-pound brookie or a 25-pound walleye? How about a 55-pound northern pike, or a 70-pound muskie? Maybe you've only seen a 22-pound largemouth bass in your dreams!

Of course, these are only replica mounts; the originals are, to no one's surprise, probably with the bug-eyed fishermen who caught the actual fish. What you'll see at the show, however, are complete, full-size, totally natural mounts.

Largest Striper Ever Captured: Imagine the thrill in landing a 92-pound striped bass! This beauty, whose live weight was estimated to be in excess of 100 pounds, was captured in the Patuxent River in Maryland. The female fish was thought to be more than 30 years old.

Outdoor Fashion Sports Show: Gone are the days when sportsmen simply pulled on their oldest, most worn clothing to wear hunting, fishing, hiking, or camping. Comfortable, well-designed clothing can make each outdoor adventure more enjoyable, and frequently prevent serious problems such as hypothermia and frostbite.

Expo '94's fashion shows are scheduled for 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. on January 22, and will feature a variety of outdoor sports clothing, including the very latest lines from Orvis and Patagonia.

Patagonia, long concerned with the environmental impact of its production processes, will be featuring their new PCR Synchilla line of clothing. This revolutionary fabric contains a PCR polyester fiber and virgin polyester. The recycled fiber comes from plastic soda-pop bottles.

The show will also feature a fly fishing school and kids' fishing clinic, the Hawg Trough mobile fish tank. Show hours are Wednesday, Thursday and Friday (January 19, 20, and 21), 2 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, January 22, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday, January 23, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Admission prices are $7.00 for adults and $3.00 for children under 12. Children under five are admitted free of charge.

The Fort Washington Expo Center is easy to reach; just take Exit 26 (Fort Washington) off the Pennsylvania Turnpike and follow signs to the Expo Center. Parking is plentiful and free of charge.

Sound Bites

"If we didn't huddle, Jim would have no social life." — Phil Simms, on Jim Burt.

"I'm so fast I could hit you before God gets the news." — Muhammad Ali.

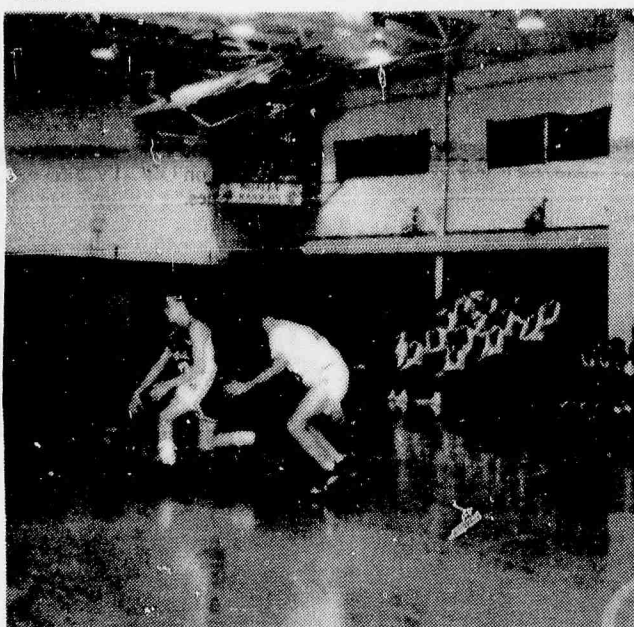

"He's like the planet Jupiter. We know he's out there, but we're not sure what he's doing." — Pierre Page on Quebec Nordiques defenseman Bryan Fogarty.

"You are a foul ball in the line drive of life." — Lucy, to Charlie Brown.

"Sportswriting is just like driving a taxi. It ain't the work you enjoy, it's the people you run into." — Blackie Sherrod.

"I don't even let my 10-year old daughter beat me at tic-tac-toe." — Bob Gibson, Hall of Fame pitcher.

"I can't understand how she can ski down a mountain at 50 or 60 miles per hour, then come home and fall down the stairs." — Heather Percy, mother of Olympic downhill skier Karen Percy.

Belleville's Mike Molina brings the ball downcourt against Nutmley's Vincent Abbatiello last Thursday. The Buc won the game, 65-57.

Wrestler of the Week is a tie between (guess who?) John Perna and Isaiah Cardinale. How much better can you get than a combined record of 13-0 with 10 pins?

Today, bucs go against Clifton at 7 p.m. Saturday we travel to Wayne Hills for a quad meet also involving Ridgefield Park and Paramus.

Happy birthday to BHS strength and conditioning coach Ralph Cardinale. Now a 43-year old, Ralph could pass for a bodybuilder in his 20's. Cento anni, mi amici! See ya next week!

Mary Kinlock, 93 Service this Sunday

Mary Buchanan Irvine Kinlock, 93, died on December 21, 1993.

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, the youngest of nine children, she came to America as a young girl with her oldest sister.

She studied music and sang professionally for several years.

After her marriage to William Kinlock, the couple lived in Jersey City for almost 25 years. Widowed, Mrs. Kinlock then moved to Belleville.

In December 1986, she moved to Francis Asbury Manor, a Methodist Home in Ocean Grove. There, she was active among the residents, volunteering time with those who were sick and unable to care for themselves. She spread joy wherever she went and was loved by all who met her.

Mrs. Kinlock was an active member of the Wesley Methodist Church in Belleville. She was also active in the Belleville Women's Club and did volunteer work at Clara Maass Medical Center for many years.

Her only known survivor is her grand niece, Bette White of Greenwich, New York.

Interment was at Bayview Cemetery in Jersey City on December 27, 1993.

A Memorial Service is scheduled on Sunday, January 16 at 11 a.m. in the Wesley Methodist Church, 225 Washington Avenue, Belleville.

She was employed as Chef for 20 years with Work-O-Lite in Belleville until her retirement 20 years ago.

Garden State Ballet School opens in Rutherford

Registration is now in progress for new students who wish to enroll for spring session classes at the School of the Garden State Ballet in Rutherford. The school is located at 28 Glen Rock just off Park Avenue. Spring session classes will begin in January for new students ranging from pre-schoolers through teenagers and adults.

Classes are offered for beginner, intermediate and advanced students in all age groups. Spring registration for new students will continue through March 31.

Introductory Dance is offered for youngsters ages 4 and 5 years. Classes in ballet are offered for children starting at 6 years. Adult beginners may register for classes in ballet. The school also offers beginner-intermediate and intermediate classes in ballet and pointe for adults who have had previous training. Teenagers are offered classes in ballet, pointe and musical theatre according to the student's experience.

Spring workshops are also open to intermediate and advanced students who are given the opportunity to rehearse and perform classical and contemporary ballets especially created by members of the faculty and guest choreographers.

Interested students wishing schedules and other information may call the ballet office at 939-3398.

Middle school teachers studied on vacation

Several teachers at Belleville Middle School took advantage of workshops to improve their professional expertise.

Marcia Miele, the art teacher, attended the National Gallery of Arts Teacher Institute in Washington, D.C. Fifty teachers from all over the United States studied the modern art period 1900-1940 through lectures, gallery tours and hands-on workshops.

"This was such a rewarding experience as well as a sharing of philosophies with teachers from all over the country," stated Miele.

A middle school calculator workshop was completed by John O'Brien, a mathematics teacher. This course was given at Montclair State College and will include follow-up sessions. The course was part of the Transit-NJ plan to introduce technology in the teaching of mathematics. O'Brien will be incorporating the course material in preparing students for the Early Warning test.

Robert Silvera, also a mathematics teacher, attended a two-week workshop at Stevens Institute of Technology, entitled IESSE, Center for Improved Engineering and Science Education. This was the first year of a three-year program that was developed to seek remedies for poor performance of students with school mathematics. The workshop consisted of utilizing different kinds of computers, previewing software and discussions on strategies for implementation of mathematics skills. Completion of the three-year program will lead to a teacher mentorship program.

Another mathematics workshop was attended by Genevieve Troccoli, a special education teacher. This two-day workshop on multi-sensory math was offered by the Orton-Dyslexia Society. The program offered insight into the need for more student involvement with various manipulatives such as cuisinaire rods, fraction tiles and pattern blocks. Skill at using these tools will help to foster a realistic understanding of mathematical concepts.

These workshops as well as courses attended by other middle school teachers seek to improve the skills necessary for teaching in today's classrooms. The teachers are to be commended for their interest and concern in preparing youngsters for tomorrow's world.

Host families sought for students

American Host families are being sought for high school students from Western and Eastern Europe, Asia, South America and Australia for the 1994-95 school year in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

These exceptional students, ages 15 through 18, will arrive in the United States in August, attend a local high school and return to their home countries in June of 1994. The students, all fluent in English, have been carefully screened by the local representatives in their home countries, and have their own medical insurance and spending money.

AISE's main focus is teaching young people about the importance of the acceptance of other cultures. Cultural exchange is necessary to the continued betterment of civilization as we know it. Without acceptance of the validity of differing cultures, we as Americans are in great danger of becoming culturally ignorant.

NOTHING TO LOSE SLEEP OVER

A prescription sleep aid recently approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) should provide welcome relief to those who find it difficult to get a good night's rest. The most important thing about zolpidem tartrate (its generic name) is not so much that it usually works within a half hour, but that it does so with so few side effects. This owes to the fact that the new medication is not a benzodiazepine, which is a class of drugs that can interfere with normal sleep patterns or cause daytime drowsiness. In fact, less than five percent of the people who take zolpidem tartrate for three weeks or less experience daytime drowsiness, dizziness, or diarrhea. As with any prescription sleep medication, it should not be used to counteract chronic sleep loss.

You'll find prompt prescription service when you come to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue, 759-1968, 759-1956. In addition we carry convalescent aids for sale or rent. Timex watches, transistor radios, greeting cards, cosmetics and toiletries are also handled. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

HINT: Zolpidem tartrate has been used as a sleep aid in Europe since 1988.

Palagano sworn in as freeholder

By Steve Galvacky
Bloomfield Councilwoman Louise Palagano was sworn in last week as a new member of the Essex County Board of Freeholders at its reorganization meeting, pledging to meet regularly with residents of each of the eight communities in her Fifth Freeholder District.

Palagano, whose district includes parts of Belleville, also proposed that the freeholder board create a standing liaison committee that would require each of the five district freeholders to meet with local government officials at least once every quarter and report the results of those meetings to the board.

"As a 10-year councilwoman in the township of Bloomfield, I know how frustrating it could be communicating with the county on any particular subject or project," she said in her swearing-in speech.

"There is a quote I once read that describes a sense of community as the being no longer side by side, but with one another." Essex County can no longer be side by side with the municipalities, but the county and each municipality must work together as one," she said.

Palagano, a Democrat who defeated four-term incumbent Arthur Clay for the seat in November, added that she was "proud to be the first woman who ever ran for the Fifth Freeholder District seat."

The addition of Palagano and new Third District Freeholder Arthur Wright of East Orange left the board's Democrats with an 8-1 majority. James Treffinger of Verona, who represents the Fourth Freeholder District, is the lone Republican.

Freeholder at Large Sara Bost of Irvington was re-elected as the board's president without opposition, although Freeholder at Large James Cavanaugh had complained previously that he had been promised the leadership role last year when the board agreed to rotate the position. Cavanaugh served as board vice president in 1993.

Elected board vice president for 1994, also without opposition, was Freeholder at Large Joseph DiVincenzo of Nutley. DiVincenzo, in his speech, thanked his two political mentors, Nutley Mayor Carmen Orechio and Newark North Ward Democratic leader Steve Aduvato.

Also sworn in at the meeting was the new county surrogate, Maria Vizcarrondo-DeSoto of Newark, the first Latino to gain an Essex County elective office.

She described her election victory as "not an individual achievement but a collective victory for my community."

Treffinger, as what he called "the only representative of the opposition," requested an opportunity to speak. He then compared the western Essex County towns he represents to the British colonies at the time of the American Revolution.

"The county government treats those towns as if they were its colonies," Treffinger said. "Needless spending rises year after year, the empire of patronage grows, the bureaucracy swells, crime explodes and our taxpayers pay and pay and pay."

Treffinger said that his towns "have always been ignored" by the county government, except when it comes time to fund its $500 million budget. "I personally see this county government as an outdated, outmoded, out-of-touch extra layer of bloated bureaucracy that has outlived any justification for its original creation in the 17th century. But it exists and cannot be abolished except by the state Legislature, and that's unlikely to happen soon, if ever," he said.

Shopping For A Home?

What To Expect From The Home Inspector

Despite the recession, many people today are in an excellent position to buy a home—particularly families with down payments and no current home to sell. For them, lower house prices and near-record lows in mortgage interest rates have opened a window of opportunity not available in the past 10 years.

In addition to these advantages, today's home buyers are also dealing with a new element in the transaction: the professional home inspection. In many parts of the country, this pre-purchase evaluation of a home's condition has become routine, providing buyers with the vital information they need to make a sound purchasing decision.

Since the profession is still relatively young, however, it is critical for buyers to learn something about it so that they will understand what may—and what may not—be expected from their chosen home inspector.

Professional Standards

While there are no State or Federal guidelines, home inspectors throughout the country are generally expected to follow the Standards of Practice established by the American Society of Home Inspectors (ASHI), widely recognized as the leading authority in the field. This is a document which specifies all the components of a home that are to be included in an inspection, from the roof to the foundation. The ASHI Standards are considered by government and professional real estate groups to be the benchmark of performance for home inspectors. A free copy is available from ASHI by writing to 1735 North Lynn Street, Suite 950, Arlington, VA 22209, or by calling 1 800 743 ASHI.

agent's commission. Any indication of such conflict of interest activities should send up the red flag to tell consumers to look for another inspector.

servation, and to provide an indication of the need for major repairs.

What Not To Expect

Home inspectors do not do any destructive testing, nor can they see through walls, and so consumers should not expect their reports to include the condition of every nail, wire or pipe in the home. In addition, inspectors are primarily concerned with pointing out large expenses and/or safety related concerns, rather than small or cosmetic items, which are considered readily apparent to buyers themselves.

Finally, home buyers should not expect the inspector's report to serve as a guarantee that the home's components won't ever fail or need repair at some point in the future. No house is perfect, and they all need regular maintenance and repair.

What Qualifications To Look For

In recent years, literally dozens of groups and organizations have been formed to capitalize on the marketing opportunities of this rapidly-growing profession. This can make the selection of a qualified professional extremely difficult.

Many new organizations, for example, request only an application fee. Some claim to offer certification, but don't require exams or proven credentials. Still others boast an engineering license as assurance of competence, though this does not indicate training as a home inspector.

To date, the American Society of Home Inspectors (ASHI) is the only national non-profit professional organization in the U.S. and Canada which rigorously tests home inspectors on their technical knowledge and diagnostic expertise in relation to residential construction. ASHI Membership requires experience prior to admission as well as continuing education annually after admission in order to keep current with new technology and building practices. The names of members may be obtained by contacting ASHI at 1 800 743 ASHI.

If the selection of a home inspector is made carefully and ahead of time, home buyers will have one less detail to worry about during the chaos and excitement of finding a new home.

ASHI recommends that home buyers call several inspectors in their area and interview them in advance to ascertain their qualifications. Here are some important questions to ask:

1. Does the inspector belong to ASHI or a regional inspection organization?
2. How long has the inspector been in business as a home inspection firm?
3. Is the inspector specifically experienced in residential inspection?
4. Does the company offer to do any repairs or improvements based on its inspection? This might cause a conflict of interest.
5. How long will the inspection take? (The average is 2 to 3 hours.)
6. What will it include? (Get the specifics.)
7. How much will it cost? (The national average is $250.)
8. Does the inspector supply a written report?
9. Does the inspector encourage the client to attend the inspection? This is a valuable educational opportunity, and he should welcome the client along.
10. Does the inspector participate in continuing education programs to keep his expertise up to date?
11. Obtain a list of past client references and contact them.

Ethics

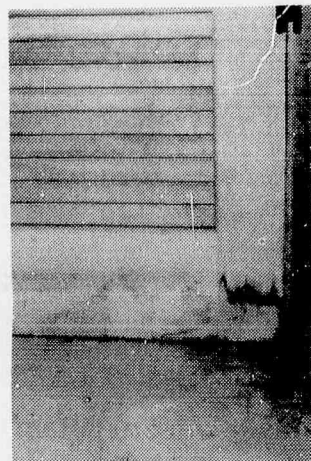

To be sure that a home inspector is ethical and professional, consumers should ascertain before the inspection that he or she will NOT offer to do any repairs on the inspected property, and that the firm has no financial interest in the transaction, or in the real estate

Service

Home inspectors are generalists, much like medical General Practitioners. They know how the home's many systems and components work, both independently and together, and they understand how and why they fail. Consumers should expect the written report to describe the actual condition of the home at the time of the inspection based upon visual ob-

Two distinct factors are responsible for the poor condition of this roof: worn out shingles and a poorly ventilated attic. Since the granules that cover asphalt shingles are gone in several places, an inspector knows that a new roof will be needed in only a couple of years. The "bird mouth" effect (lifted-up shingles) is caused by excessive heat build-up in the attic. An ASHI inspector will note the need for improved ventilation in his report.

Water rarely recedes from an area without leaving some sign that it has been there in the form of a water stain. In this case, the discoloration at the bottom of a basement door reveals that at least a relatively low level of water was present at some time in the past. A home inspector will analyze this and other clues to determine whether or not this indicates a chronic condition.

Temporary Storm Windows Easy With Staple Gun

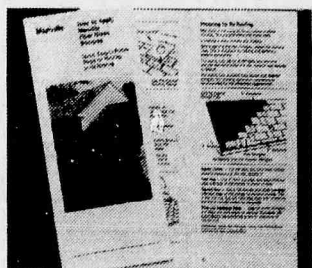

For additional protection, you can make excellent temporary storm windows by covering them with clear plastic. Use 6-mil polyethylene and staple it around the outside of the window with an Arrow Model T55 Staple Gun Tacker. Double the plastic at the edges and drive the staple against the outer edge of the trim where the staples won't be noticed.

These easy-to-do-measures will make your home far more energy-efficient. You'll save significant amounts not only on your winter heating bills, but on summer air conditioning bills too. Your investment in materials will soon be paid back again and again.

For additional tool information, write to Arrow Fastener Company, Inc., 271 Mayhill Street, Saddle Brook, NJ 07662.

Re-Roofing D-I-Y Guide Can Help Job Go Smoothly

You can obtain a free copy of "How to Apply Manville Fiber Glass Shingles," No. RF-270B, from your building supply dealer, or by writing to Manville Roofing Systems, a Division of Schuller International, Inc., (Inquiry Dept.), 1601 Park Ave. West, Denver, CO 80216.

Every homeowner knows that a new roof will add to the beauty and value of their home. Now there's a guide that can help make the re-roofing job go smoothly.

The makers of Manville fiber glass shingles have published an illustrated, pocket-size guide that provides quick, easy-to-follow steps for re-roofing, as well as putting a roof on a new home.

The guide lists the tools and materials that will be needed, and explains how to prepare the roof before the shingles are applied. With simple sketches, it shows how to install the new shingles, types of fastening methods, and how to handle flashing, valleys and even dormers.
