Kids on Wall Street investors learn business can be sweet

Playing the Stock Market may be considered a dangerous game for adults, but the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Graders at School Three have shown they can make a profit - at least on paper - and then launch a real business of their own.

The Stock Market Club of School Three have won Second Place in Division I of the Stock Market Game sponsored by the New Jersey Council on Economic Education, the Trenton State College Center for Economic Education and the Securities Industry Association.

The Belleville Board of Education took formal notice of this achievement Monday night, bringing the youngsters to the public session and donning the Kids on Wall Street sweatshirts proudly worn by the Club members.

Under the guidance of teachers Mrs. Mary Bradley and Mrs. Isobel Villano, the School Three club - with 25 members - has been playing the Stock Market for four years.

The initial investment is with $100,000 of play money.

In the 10-week period of the contest, the youngsters realized a profit of $14,776.

The youngsters, assisted by Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Villano, then went on to try a business venture of their own, involving real money.

Selling shares of stock to their school mates at five cents a share, they then produced 1,500 chocolate lollipops which sold for five cents each.

The result was a return to each shareholder of seven cents - for a two-cent profit - and the presentation of $115 to the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

The Stock Market Club was up against 175 profit-hungry competitor clubs in its achievement of Second Place.

The award presentation was held at Merrill Lynch Corporate Campus in Plainsboro.

Attending the ceremony with Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Villano were pupils Diana Cifelli, Gerard Fisicaro, Ronald Pope, Colleen Spano and Ashley Wolcott. It was their team that had picked the winning stocks, Avon and The Gap. A slight loss was sustained by investment with Disney, but the overall gain outweighed that setback.

The teachers had the support of School Three Principal Raffaella Saulino, who this past summer joined them in attending a one-week program at the New York Stock Exchange, "Teach The Teacher".

The pupils also made a one-day visit to Wall Street, accompanied by Principal Saulino and teachers Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Villano, visiting the Stock Exchange, the Herzog Museum of American Financial History and the trading floor of Sherwood Securities Corp.

The achievement of the Club was all the more remarkable because it competed with schools using computer technology, while the School Three pupils worked everything out with paper and pencil.

Daily newspapers, including the Wall Street Journal Classroom edition, were the sources of information.

Superintendent of Schools Michael F. Lally expressed his appreciation of the efforts by the teachers and the school principal, as well as the support of the parents.

Members of the Board of Education, including President Gabe Nazzola, Vice President Ralph Mazzuca and Trustees Barbara Cicalese, Angie Paserchia and Joseph DelGuercio added their praise to those of the Administration.

For the Stock Market Club, it is now on to the Spring competition.

Klein chooses Belleville as launch pad for program

By Howard Klausner

Representative Herbert Klein formally launched his bill for The National Economic Revitalization Act in a Belleville business firm's office, Monday.

He said he sought a typical business that would benefit from his proposal, and Franklin Floors, 50 Little St., was suggested as a likely place by Eileen Brown, Executive Secretary of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, because it employs more than 20 and less than 200 workers.

Klein was hosted by the Chamber and Mayor Marina Perna as he outlined his bill.

The purpose, he said, was to encourage banks to make loans to small businesses, which he said provided most of the job increases in America, while major firms were having cutbacks.

The Treasury would provide $100 million in loan guarantees, and underwrite $200 million more as a direct loan participant with the bank.

"The program is designed to pay for itself," Klein said.

He said that he used New Jersey's Economic Development Authority as the model for his proposal.

"My bill will fuel the engine for economic growth and create much needed new jobs," he said.

The presentation was significant to Belleville, which has been struggling to rebuild its industrial and commercial base in recent years.

It was possibly the first time in history that a Congressional bill was formally introduced in Belleville before being presented to the Congress.

John J. Traynor, President of Dolan and Traynor Building Products of Wayne, said, "You are an inspiration to us."

Manager rejects finding on Chief's suspension

By Howard Klausner

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio has formally notified Superior Court Judge Bruno Leopizzi (Ret.) that he has rejected the judge's finding that the suspension of Fire Chief Walter Beresford without pay last Sept. 1 was illegal.

Judge Bruno has been acting as Hearing Officer in proceedings arising out of the suspension. He presided Monday at a second hearing to decide if the suspension had been justified. The hearing was continued to a later date, after about three hours of testimony.

In his finding, Judge Leopizzi stated that the Acting Township Manager, Raymond Kimble, had acted on the basis of recommendations made by the State Commission of Education, which he termed to be "hearsay statements untested by cross examination."

Judge Leopizzi also questioned the motives of the Township Council in endorsing the suspension, saying the Council was covering its own embarrassment at accusations made by the SCI.

Cuccio reportedly told Judge Leopizzi that the jurist had ignored aspects of the SCI report in making his finding.

No days left of snow days, Spring Vacation will be cut

The number of snow days allotted to the schools were used up during January's period of wild weather, and it appears that this week's weather means a cut in the Spring vacation, Superintendent of Schools Michael F. Lally has announced.

State law requires 180 days of school, and the current calendar calls for June 27 as the final day for the elementary schools.

Four days are allotted for snow days, and the prospect of extending the school year beyond June 27 did not appeal to anyone, particularly with the lack of air conditioning in the classrooms.

Lally met earlier with school administrators and worked out an understanding that snow days would be subtracted from the April vacation of one week.

In the cases where parents or teachers had made commitments for trips before Feb. 5, those commitments would be recognized, Lally said.

On Tuesday, snow arrived earlier than had been predicted by the Weather Bureau and schools were kept open for the full day, with parents being allowed to take children out of school at any time, if they came for them.

"Otherwise," Lally said, "we did not intend to send children home to closed houses if their parents were not at home."

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

In Quebec, the people whose first language is English are called Anglophones, while those born to the French language are known as Francophones. To the native Quebecois, speaking French rather than English is a declaration of a natural birthright. When the Canadian national anthem was "The Maple Leaf Forever", proclaiming, "Thistle, shamrock, rose entwined - the Maple Leaf Forever!" the people of Quebec opted for "O, Canada" which then became the national anthem as a sop to the Francophones. The Anglophones bestowed the motto on Quebec of "La Belle Province". As soon as they could, the Quebecois made it "Je me souviens" - "I remember". And what they remembered, of course, was the time when the French King ruled this part of the New World. . . .

• All of which brings us to the tale of Dan Ippolito and the course in Conversational Spanish. It seems that Dan, a frequent figure at public meetings, is one of those Anglophones who is willing to go more than half way to converse with those whose primary language is Spanish. (We call them Spanish-speakers.) In these days when there is so much resentment expressed by the delivery of bi-lingual sample election ballots, it says much for Dan and his fellow students who enrolled in the Conversational Spanish Course offered by the Belleville Adult School under the assumption that it would lead to the easy colloquy with fellow workers, employees, customers and cab drivers. Actually, an easier way to learn is to take up soccer, but Dan was unaware of this. . . . The class started with 15 adult students, and the instructor immediately began informing them of the rules of Spanish grammar, and this continued for another seven or eight of the allotted 10 two-hour sessions. No conversation. By the end of the course, Dan looked around and found he was one of three surviving students. And he still was not a fluent conversationalist in the language of Cervantes or Emiliano Zapata, or the guy at the newspaper stand, for that matter. Some might take this philosophically, but this is not the way of Dan Ippolito. He went to Monday's public meeting of the Belleville Board of Education and called the Adult School a "Fraud!" which should be re-examined. Some listeners thought he also had urged the abolition of the school, which would have been a depressing development for Rocco Cafone, who directs the school and has made it a profitable venture for Belleville's taxpayers. Later, Dan denied saying he would go that far. He said he had a similar experience with a course in Senior Self Protection, which was a form of judo for retirees. Unfortunately, it still required some physical dexterity which has a tendency to ebb with the years. Dan was one of three who lasted out the course. . . . The result of all this is not a condemnation of the Adult School, nor the drastic overhaul that the indignant Mr. Ippolito might seek. Considering that there are people like Mr. Ippolito who are honestly seeking skills to fit them into the New Society, or whatever it is, the school may have to take into account the limitations and the needs of our latter-day scholars. You are only as old as you feel, as some idiot once said, and an open, inquiring mind is young forever.

Danielle Green is a bright and charming 10-year-old who belongs to the Stock Market Club of School Three, under the guidance of Teachers Mrs. Mary Bradley and Mrs. Isobel Villano. The Club ranks second of 175 similar clubs in the State in its ability to make profitable investments - all one paper, sad to say. "It's fun!" Danielle said. The Club invested heavily in three stocks, Disney, Avon and The Gap. . . . Disney turned out to be a Mickey Mouse stock, losing 25 cents. "That was because of EuroDisney," Danielle said darkly, speaking of the so-far disastrous theme park outside of Paris. But they didn't go wrong with Avon or The Gap - "We buy there all the time!" Amy Buist, 10, concurred. "We buy a lot of clothes!" Miss Buist said. Fellow investor Colleen Spano, 10, added her endorsement. Out of the mouths of babes, folks! Wall Streeters, take note!

Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro DiVincenzo Mitten, said that Township Attorney Bob Giordano differed with Township Manager Stephen Cuccio recently on whether or not a deal had been offered to suspended Fire Chief Walter Beresford to accept demotion to Deputy Chief and stop legal proceedings against the Township. "Cuccio denied he had said it, and Bob said - 'You did, Steve'" Baldassaro is wondering who the next Township Attorney may be. . . . Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says he believes the current Figure Ice Skating scandal is being overplayed. "Anyone who has ever witnessed a poker game or a pool match involving the Kool Kukumber Boys knows how much skill is involved in tearing up the deck or breaking a competitor's cue stick. And have you ever run for office?" . . . Zilch said the Boys are happy to hear that a retired Superior Court Judge called in to hear a disciplinary case was given his comeuppance by local officials. "So many of them have suffered at the hands of Superior Court Judges, you know."

Winter

By Dorothea Behan

When winter is upon us
And trees are gray and bare
Do you let gloom o'ertake you
And give up in despair?

Or take heart and find some beauty
In a bleak and frozen world
With special treats of winter
As its wonders are unfurled

Now look unto the evergreens
Spruce, hemlock and pine
With subtle hues of forest green
Majestic in design

Ice crystals sparkle on windowpanes
Tree limbs are etched with snow
Beauty begun in heaven
Makes delightful patterns below

So life is what you make it
Keep hope in your heart alive
Now winter has you in its grip
But spring will soon arrive

At the Feb. 1 meeting of the Belleville Senior Citizen Club, Inc., two representatives from Clara Maass, Cindy Towle and Katy Abbot, gave a very informative lecture on high blood pressure and strokes. Seniors were warned to watch their eating habits and to control their intake of fats and sugars. Some form of exercise was advised but always under the supervision of your doctor. The approximately 200 seniors were very appreciative to receive the important information and asked many questions which were answered by Katy and Cindy.

A letter was received from the Ronald McDonald House asking the seniors to collect UPC seals from Scott paper products. The Scott Paper Company will pay 10 cents for every UPC turned in.

The McDonald houses provide a much needed home for families of critically ill children who are receiving treatments at hospitals away from home. This allows them to have a homelike environment while away from home. This helps the children to get support from their families. There are over 125 houses in the U.S. These houses are owned by local not-for-profit organizations who depend on donations for support. The Ronald McDonald House for New Jersey is at 311 South Sixth St., Camden, NJ 08103. So save your UPCs and help this worthwhile project.

Pete Zippo is now home and Fred Riccio is now at the Grotto Rehab Center in West Orange.

Tid Bit: If you can't say anything good, don't say anything at all.

Congratulations to my granddaughter, Erica Johnson, who was named to the dean's list at Caldwell College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Johnson of Bloomfield.

DECA students win recognition

Superintendent of Schools Michael J. Lally has announced that nine students participating in the Distributive Education Clubs of America program have received awards at the Northern Regional Competitions of DECA.

They are Sabrina Accurso, Jamie Boyce, Dannie Cohen, Linda Florida, Miguel Percio, Joe Sabatino, Gary Thomas, Pat Valse and David Watson.

Their school supervisors are Ms. Constance Gonnella and Ralph LaConte.

As a result of this recognition, the students are eligible to attend the 1994 DECA State Leadership Conference on Feb. 27, Feb. 28 and March 1 at the Hyatt Hotel in Cherry Hill.

ACS volunteers sought

The Essex Unit of the American Cancer Society has volunteer opportunities available in the following areas:

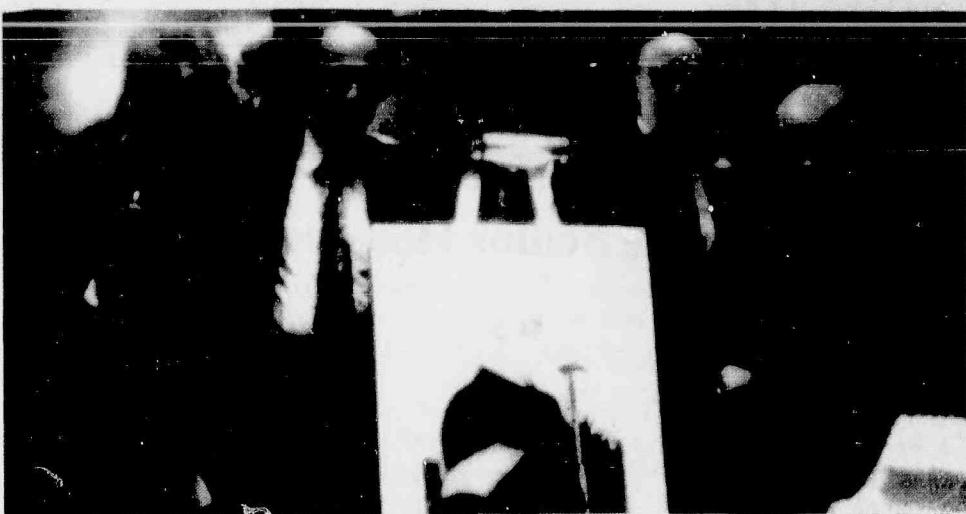

- Communications volunteers create awareness of all unit services and events through press releases, promotion campaigns, media contact, a quarterly newsletter, and an Annual Report.

- Office volunteers are needed for data entry, answering phones, coordinating mailings, and assisting with short term projects. A volunteer coordinator is also needed to coordinate schedules and projects among the office volunteers.

- Public/professional education volunteers are trained to present programs on topics including smoking cessation, breast self-examination, nutrition, and early detection and the prevention of cancer.

- Service and rehabilitation volunteers offer services to cancer patients and their families through a number of programs. Road to Recovery drivers provide transportation to patients undergoing treatment for cancer. CanSumount volunteers are recovering patients who have been trained to provide one-on-one support to newly diagnosed patients.

These many opportunities can be tailored to meet volunteer's different schedules and interests. For more information, call Lori Berkowitz, program director, at 736-7770.

OUR OPINION

How to provide Senior Housing - or else!

The continuing promises of Senior Housing in Belleville is kept alive by the continuing promises of our public officials to do something about it.

Recently, a Religious of the Dominican Order presented her credentials to the Township Council and made a cogent argument handling the management of the proposed housing unit by her Order.

One of the benefits of having the Dominican Order managing the operation is that it would remove the project from political interference.

There are few in Belleville who believe that the selection of potential residents would be free of favoritism if left in the hands of our elected and appointed officials.

The Dominicans have a good track record in handling all aspects of senior citizen housing, from selection to management.

The Order is not the only religious based organization that has shown competence in this field, but it is one of the few reputable organizations that has shown any interest in the idea.

The main worry of Belleville residents is that the bulk of the tenants would come from outside Belleville.

The effort to allay this fear lies in the ability to provide private funding for the project. A number of proposals involving private financing have been put forward.

So far, the Council has not been able to make up its collective mind on any of the proposals.

In fact, the Council appears to be having difficulty making up its mind on any aspect of Senior Housing.

If it waits long enough, of course, the problem may solve itself. We hope it will be otherwise.

Belleville: A good place to start

The decision of Representative Heróert Klein to come to Belleville to announce the introduction of his proposed National Revitalization Act was a compliment to Belleville.

It provided one of those rare media events when the news from Belleville was constructive, rather than sensational, and it reflected Mr. Klein's good will toward Belleville.

The President of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, Lou Paraboschi, expressed the sentiments of most of the community when he told the Congressman, "You have been more in evidence in Belleville than any Congressman in many years."

It was also significant that even the President of the New Jersey Chamber of Commerce was present for the event, held on the premises of the Franklin Floor Co. on Little Street.

Mr. Klein wanted to start his campaign for the enactment of the Bill in a business firm which typified the companies that would ben-fit from his Bill, when enacted.

Eileen Brown, Executive Secretary of the Belleville Chamber, selected Franklin Floors as a firm employing more than 20 people and less than 200, which was the parameter set by Mr. Klein.

The Bill would provide partial government guarantees of business loans by banks. Hopefully, this would break the logjam of credit which has been paralyzing business in New Jersey for the past half decade.

Mr. Klein might have selected any other municipality in the Eighth District which he represents, but he apparently, and thankfully, considered Belleville as typical an industrial-commercial town as could be found.

And after all, he is proposing that Belleville gain its rightful recognition as Birthplace of The American Industrial Revolution.

This is where it all began.
This is where it should again be fostered and encouraged.

The Caucus in the Land of Dilemma

About the only people that Minister Farrakhan likes less than the Pope are the Jews, and he has put the Black Congressional Caucus into a quandary.

The Caucus had been so hopeful that Minister Farrakhan had moderated his views that it was sitting down with him in Washington, virtually legitimizing him in return for his support.

The argument ran that no group was doing more to rescue young Black people from jail and drugs than the Black Muslim movement.

The Caucus had hoped that Minister Farrakhan would renounce and denounce the spokesman who vilified whites in general and Jews and Catholics in particular in what passed for a speech at Kean College, a speech punctuated by applause, no less.

Instead, Minister Farrakhan said he disapproved of the way the thoughts were uttered, but he reaffirmed his support of the thoughts.

When Jesse Jackson voiced his low opinion of this statement, he received threats against his person, and he has since declined to take a public stand.

The Black Muslim movement is in many ways in the same position the National Socialist Party was in Germany in the 1920s, drawing support through demagoguery and silencing opposition through murder.

The only difference is that Minister Farrakhan has no place to go, while Adolf Hitler had the Chancellory ahead of him.

The members of the Black Caucus fear the growing support among their constituents of Minister Farrakhan.

Today, they can still distance themselves from him, and perhaps face retaliation at the polls.

Tomorrow, they will be afraid for their own safety if they dare oppose him.

Ultimately, we think and hope that the racist sentiments of Minister Farrakhan will be disavowed by that section of the public he seeks to control.

The racist sentiments of white demagogues have long been disavowed by the majority of Americans. They are not in a mood to tolerate the racist sentiments of Minister Farrakhan.

YOUR OPINION

'Biased reporting' on Klein's visit

To The Editor,

Some weeks back, I, like many other Belleville residents, received post cards to attend Congressman Herb Klein's Town Meeting at School Seven, on Jan. 24, 1994.

I attended the meeting and expressed my distrust and non-support for the President's health care plan.

I was not alone. Many of the people in attendance expressed the same feelings.

My question to you, Mr. Editor, is why wasn't this published in your review of the Town Meeting?

In fact, Health Care wasn't even mentioned and it was the focus of the meeting. Or would have it been reported if Congressman Klein would have gotten a positive response to this issue.

I guess we know where the Belleville Times stands on health care.

In closing, I'd be very surprised if you publish this letter.

Victor A. DeFilippo

ED. NOTE: Mr. Klein discussed unemployment, developing high tech industry, gun control, birth control, illegal immigration, and the economy, among other things. We were remiss in not mentioning the health care topic. Most of the comments from the floor expressed concern about health care, rather than opposition to the President's plan. HK.

Kennedy raps vote

To The Editor,

In the past couple of weeks, two actions by our Council struck me as strange. (Third Ward Councilman Thomas) Spillane introduced a resolution to take away health benefits from certain part-time employees (excluding our illustrious Council).

He then voted "no" on his own resolution. This is hypocrisy at best.

The Council is pushing a "principal director of public works" job at $70,000 a year. The Council contends this is mandated by the State.

This is not true.

Are the rumors true that a Councilman who supported Tom Spillane is in line for this job? The taxpayers will be watching.

It is through each and every one of you that we were able to help make their holiday a little brighter.

The following organizations and business professionals made donations:

Christian Apostolic Church, Salvation Army, Auriemma Electric, Dr. Leonard Russo, Kiwanis Club, Belleville High School, School Number Three, Clara Maass Volunteer Services, Senior Citizen Clubs, Olympic Bowling Wednesday Noon Ladies Team, Hardman Industries, K-Mart, Democratic Club, Anonymous Citizens, Woman's Club of Belleville, School Number Ten and Clara Maass Continuing Care Center.

• RECENTLY, the Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce held its annual Anniversary Awards Dinner, presenting an award to American Savings and Loan Association which is celebrating its 75th birthday, and Councilman John Stefanelli's Jolar Construction Corporation which is marking its 30th. Chamber President Bob Davies presented the awards and was the principal speaker. Davies predicted that the economy will turn around and the business community can expect 1994 to be a good year. Davies credited Bloomfield's October Festival to be a major force for creating excitement with the retail community. He said, "We brought more people to Bloomfield Center in two days than Bloomfield Center has ever seen in two days. Sadly, many merchants in the Center did not get involved and missed the boat." The event was exciting, and any merchant that didn't participate really did miss the boat.

Mayor Jim Norton spoke about the "exciting and controversial plans" for the Center and other shopping areas as evidence that his administration is "committed to bringing Bloomfield back to being the hub of Essex County." The Chamber's Executive Vice President Virginia Schmidt received the organization's Spotlight award — an annual recognition of a member supporting the interests of the Chamber in promoting Bloomfield for efforts "beyond the call of duty."

Attorney Monique Dorman, Esq., Mike Sukey, Certified Public Accountant, John Fallon, architect and the George Lang Orchestra were the recipients of recognition awards for promoting harmony and growth in the community and the Chamber. Congressman Herb Klein praised the Chamber's work and lauded Mayor Norton for his commitment to improve the quality of life in Bloomfield. Returning the compliment, Norton said, "Klein is in Bloomfield again and again and again participating in community activities."

Jim Norton

• NUTLEY resident, Rita Donovan, has a point in her letter to the editor when she underscores the complaints of the "many banners and signs appearing in Nutley around St. Patrick's Day glorifying beer, etc." Rita goes on to say that something new has been added — a billboard at Centre Street and Franklin Avenue depicting a voluptuous woman espousing the fun time to be had by all at a certain go-go bar in Belleville. "Enough is enough," Rita says. She phoned the bar in question to express her outrage and was told that the billboard received many compliments and the only one registering a complaint was Rita Donovan. Her letter closes with an excellent recommendation, "It is simply outrageous that in a family town such as Nutley that this sign is put up. The bar is in Belleville. Let the owner advertise in Belleville and KEEP NUTLEY CLEAN." Amen.

• GOVERNOR CHRISTIE WHITMAN has asked former Republican State Chairman Frank Holman to become a member of her Cabinet. It's quite a flattering offer. I think Holman would be happier on the outside helping the Administration rather than be a player on the inside. But — when the Governor calls, Holman serves. It's a sure thing that Whitman is selecting a talented and gifted friend. Many were the days and nights during the Primary Election when Holman gave up his home and family life in order to insure a Whitman victory.

• VARIOUS political leaders in Belleville are leading three different efforts concerning its type of government. There are some councilmen who are satisfied with the present council member form of government. There are a couple of councilmen who are reportedly in favor of a change to the commission form of government and there is a group of citizens who is pushing for a strong mayor-council form of government. Taking all this into account, perhaps, the best solution is the election of a charter study commission which would hold public hearings and eventually recommend the form of government the community believes would best serve the interests of Belleville taxpayers. Active in these deliberations are two former commissioners, Joseph Fornarotto and Vinnie Frantantoni, both favoring the commission form of government. Mayor Perna favors a strong mayor-council form of government.

Students' achievements hailed as State test scores are reported

By Howard Klausner

Belleville students scored high in the Grade 11 High School Proficiency Tests, school officials reported, Monday.

"I am proud of the efforts of the Middle School faculty,"
Superintendent of Schools Michael
F. Lally told the Board of Education.

The raw scores indicated that in Mathematics, 87.9 percent of the students passed; in Reading, 89.3
percent passed, and in Writing,
98.7 percent passed.

Lally noted that those taking the tests included 31 students who had transferred into the system without attending the Middle School, where intense efforts to increase student achievement have been made.

Tracking the scores of those 11th Graders who had attended Belleville Middle School, the results were:

Reading, 91.4 percent;
Mathematics, 97.5 percent and Writing, 100 percent.

"Pupils who attended the Middle School are significantly better," Lally said.

Lally also cited individual students for personal achievement.
One of them, Albert Alves was mentioned as having been named tenor for the North Jersey Choral Society, in competition with 250 others. Scholarship winners were also mentioned as exemplifying scholastic achievement.

The Board heard complaints from citizens about raises being given to teachers and administrative workers under the proposed salary contract.

"Are you insane?" one questioner asked of Superintendent Lally.

Lally suggested the questioner
"change his vocabulary" in phrasing the question.

Another member of the audience said, "Being asked if you're crazy isn't an insult."

Irish will honor Grand Marshal Tom Cusick, Members of Year Mrs. Sczyrek and O'Connell

The Nutley Irish American Association has announced that Thomas J. Cusick has been chosen as the grand marshal for this year's annual St. Patrick's Day Parade in Nutley, scheduled for 1 p.m. March 12.

"We are extremely pleased and honored to have one of our own representing us this year," said Patricia Flaherty, President of the NIAA. "This year's parade is our 16th year, and after surviving last year's blizzard, we have no reason to believe that this year's parade will be the best ever." Also being honored are the Deputy Grand Marshal Cheryl Sczyrek, Parade Queen Cathy Cavanaugh and Member of the Year, Jack O'Connell.

Grand Marshal

Cusick was born and raised in the Ironbound section of Newark, the son of the late Thomas and Lorraine Cusick. He traces his roots through his paternal grandparents, who hailed from County Leitrim.

Deputy Grand Marshal,
Cheryl Sczyrek

A former police officer in the City of Newark, Cusick has been a resident of Nutley since 1969. He began his teaching career in East Orange where he was President of the East Orange Education Association. He has been employed as a teacher in Nutley for the past 16 years, currently teaching special education in Nutley High School.

A graduate of Newark State College, Cusick holds a master's degree in special education from Seton Hall University, and is currently doing further post-graduate work.

He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Education Association of Nutley, and Vice-President of the Essex County Education Association. He is also a member of the Executive Committee of the New Jersey Education Association. Cusick also serves as Second Vice President of the Essex County

Parade Grand Marshal,
Thomas J. Cusick

Teachers Credit Union.

Among Cusick's civic association memberships are American Legion Post 70, the John V. Kelly Civic Association and the Knights of Columbus, where he is past grand knight of Belleville Council No. 835, past president of Essex County Federation of Councils and a former district deputy of the NJ State Council Knights of Columbus.

Cusick has been a member of the Nutley Irish American Association since its inception. A very active member, he has been a director of the Five Mile Classic and has chaired the Grand Marshal Dinner for many years. Cusick is the chairman for the Mass and investiture held on parade day, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Association. He was previously honored as Member of the Year in 1987.

Well known in the Irish community, Cusick has been a member of the Irish Festival Committee and has been a representative to the Newark Parade Committee. He is a member of the Giblin Association and the John Cryan Association, and was recently among the invited guests at the Governor's brunch honoring Irish Americans who have made important contributions to society.

Cusick currently resides in Nutley with his wife of 33 years, Arlene, and has two children, Eileen and Terrence.

A dinner dance in Cusick's honor will be held on Feb. 12, at St. Mary's School Gym. There will be a buffet style dinner, beer, wine and soda, and, of course, music and dancing. For ticket information contact Terrence at 667-2907.

Deputy Grand Marshal

Cheryl Sczyrek has been named Deputy Grand Marshal of the St. Patrick Day Parade. She has been a member of the Nutley Irish American Association for 10 years and served as the Queen in 1988. She has also served as Secretary, Trustee and presently Vice President of the Association. She has also been co-chairman of the Souvenir Ad Journal for five years and worked on many parade fundraisers.

Mrs. Sczyrek, a Belleville High School graduate, has a 3-year-old daughter, Shannon. She is a widow of slain Newark narcotics detective, John Sczyrek, Jr., who was shot last June in a Newark courthouse. This year's parade is dedicated to his memory.

Member of the Year

The Nutley Irish American Association's "Member of the Year," John P. O'Connell, has resided in Belleville for 18 years and has been employed as a Head Timekeeper with International Terminal Operating Co., Jersey City, for 28 years. He attended Rochester Institute of Technology and is a served four years in the United Air Force.

O'Connell is a member of the Belleville Crew Parents and Alumni Association, Varsity Club and the President of the Blue and Gold Halftimers, Inc. He and his wife, the former Mary Karen Pierce, have two sons; John, a freshman at the New Jersey Institute of Technology and Joseph, a senior at Belleville High School.

Parade Queen

The parade Queen is Cathryn Cavanagh, a Nutley Native and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cavanagh. She is a graduate of Kean College, Union, and presently attends Bergen Community College, Paramus. She is also employed at the West Essex Rehabilitation Center in Montclair.

New science references

Because of a grant from the New Jersey State Library, the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Avenue, has added new science books and references to its collection. One that might interest you is "Tropical Rainforest," by Arnold Newman, which is a world survey of our most valuable and endangered habitat with a blueprint for its survival, located in Reference 574.5. Still another new reference addition is "The Extraterrestrial Encyclopedia," which presents every important concept, term, theory, and technology concerned with the exploration of outer space and the search for other life in the universe, located in Reference 574.5999. Ask your librarian for help in finding these references.

Love poems

The program, taped by Libraries in Focus, at the Library, was funded by a matching grant from the Martin Luther King Jr. Commemorative Commission. The program was produced by Adrea Cohen, Acting Library Director, and directed by Marilyn McCabe, WBHS. Jim Thomas, Director of the Verona Public Library, Production Director of Libraries in Focus, taped the program.

BOOK MARKS

Adrea Cohen, Acting Director of the Belleville Public Library, and Pat Forte, Principal of School No. 9 and also Affirmative Action leader for the school district, cooperated in a special program entitled, "A Celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Black History Month." Cohen provided a chronology of events in Dr. King's life and poetry about him as a follow up to her lecture for each student.

American History Month

Films and lectures have been scheduled during February, which is American History Month and Presidents' Month, at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Avenue.

On Feb. 16 at 1 p.m., the films "Inside the White House" and "Abraham Lincoln" will be shown. "Inside the White House," narrated by Diane Sawyer, teaches us how the White House was constructed, shows us the Lincoln bedroom where the Emancipation Proclamation was signed, and shows us some of the precious treasures and artifacts contained in the historical hallways. Hosted and narrated by James McPherson, the film "Lincoln" reveals the complex man who became our 16th President and takes the viewer to the many major landmarks of his life.

On Feb. 17, beginning at 7 p.m., the Friends of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will present two lecturers in the Annual Lecture on Belleville History for American History Month. At 7 p.m., Edward O'Neil will discuss 62 revolutionary soldiers from Belleville and at 7:30 p.m., Robert McFadyen, Belleville historian, will discuss generals of the Revolutionary War from Belleville. Call the library at 450-3434 to register for the lectures.

Black History Month

In a program entitled, "A Celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Black History Month," Adrea Cohen, Acting Director of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, spoke at School No. 9 to the students and teachers. The program was arranged by Principal Pat Forte, who is also in charge of Affirmative Action for the Belleville Public Schools. Cohen concentrated on Dr. King's biography, his social, economic, and political accomplishments, his great oral tradition, and on the importance of his "I Have A Dream" speech. The students asked questions following a videocassette on the "I Have A Dream" speech and also discussed other famous black people. Cohen reiterated Coretta Scott King's desire that Dr. King's birthday be considered an American holiday. They also discussed American History Month, Black History Month, Presidents' Month and their meanings.

The program was also sponsored by the library and the Martin Luther King Jr. Commemorative Commission.

Read to Your Child Day

February 14 is not only Valentine's Day, but also "Read to Your Child Day." This is a good time to set aside a part of the day to share a poem, a short story, a book, a newspaper article, or a magazine article with your child. If you need any help in selecting reading material, consult your librarians at the Main and Shafter Branch libraries.

The Winter Olympics

The symbol

The XVII Winter Olympics will be held in Lillehammer, Norway, from Feb. 12 to Feb. 27.

Lillehammer '94

Each Olympics has its own symbol. Norway's stands for the northern lights against a winter sky. The northern lights are a display of light seen in the night sky in some of the far northern regions of the world. The display is also called the aurora borealis (ah-ROAR-uh bo-ree-AL-us).

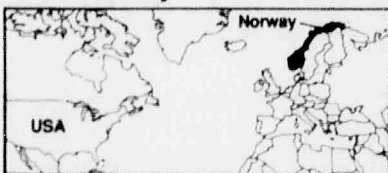

The mascots

Kristin and Hakon are the mascots for this year's Games. They are based on royal children from Norway's history.

Look through your paper for news of the Olympics.

The country

Norway is in the northwestern part of Europe. Countries from Europe have been the host for 12 of the 16 Winter Olympics.

This is the second time the Winter Olympics have been held in Norway. Lillehammer is about 100 miles north of Oslo, Norway's capital. The Olympic sites are within an hour's bus drive from the city.

A new Olympic schedule

More than 1,800 athletes from 60 countries will take part in this year's Winter Olympics. Of that number, 154 will be from the United States.

The Winter and Summer Olympics used to be held every four years. Starting with these Winter Games, the Winter and Summer Games will alternate every two years.

The Summer Olympic Games will be held in 1996 in Atlanta.

The next Winter Olympics will be held in Nagano, Japan, in 1998.

The city

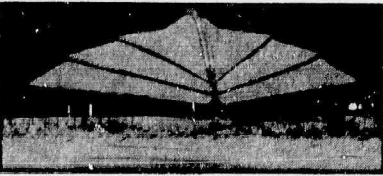

A street scene in Lillehammer.

Lillehammer is the only city in the world with a skier on its coat of arms.

It is one of the smallest host cities in the history of the Olympics. Many new buildings and roads have been built to hold the crowds. The organizers have gone out of their way to protect the environment.

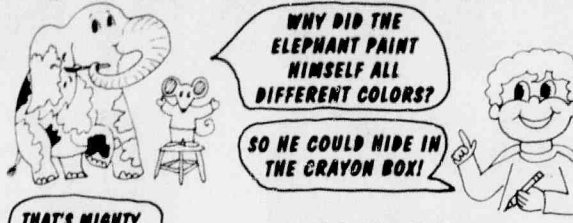

The speed-skating events will be in the Hamar Ice Hall, which looks like the upturned bottom of a Viking ship. The remains of Viking ships have been discovered at this site.

Bonnie Blair of the United States will compete in the ice hall. She won two Olympic gold medals in speed skating in 1992. Watch your paper to see how she does this year.

Olympic Winter Sports

At each Olympics, the host country comes up with "pictograms" for each sporting event. Norway's pictograms are based on a very old rock carving. It is thought to be the first picture of someone on skis.

Sledders Bobsledding

Two- or four-man teams zip down mile-long icy runs at speeds from 80 to 100 miles an hour. The crew members push off at the start.

Luge

Racers, called sliders, lie on their backs on a special sled. They travel as fast as 80 miles per hour.

Skaters Figure skating

Skaters skate to music, doing compulsory and freestyle routines. They are judged by a panel of nine judges. The highest score is 6.0. Figure skating includes singles, pairs and ice dancing. Ice dancing involves fancier footwork.

Ice hockey

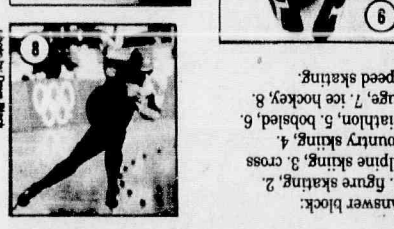

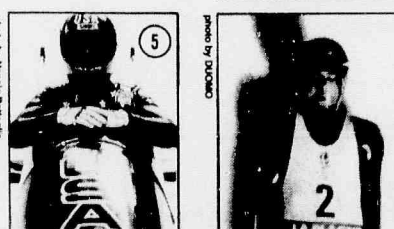

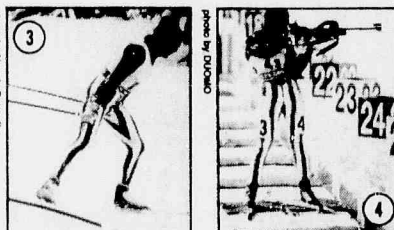

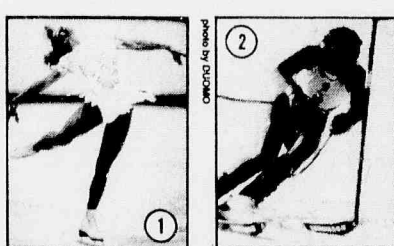

In this fast-paced game between two teams of six players each, the object is to hit a puck into the other team's goal.

Speed skating

Skaters compete on an oval rink. In long-track races, athletes race two at a time against the clock.

In short-track races, athletes race against each other in packs of four to six.

Using the pictograms as a guide, can you identify these sports?

Women compete in every sport except:
• ice hockey • luge doubles
• ski jumping • Nordic combined
• bobsledding

Skiers Alpine skiing

There are two main types of competition. In the downhill, skiers race so fast (60 miles an hour) they must wear helmets. In the slalom, athletes zigzag down a course marked by "gates," or poles set in the snow.

Biathlon

This sport combines cross country skiing and rifle shooting. Skiers ski along a course, stop and fire a rifle at a still target. They shoot standing up at one stop and lying down at the next.

Cross country

Cross country skis are longer and thinner than downhill skis. Athletes go over fields, through woods and along trails. Most of the race is level, but there are downhill slopes.

Freestyle

Skiers make high-speed turns on a course with many "moguls," or snow bumps.

Ski jumping

Skiers ski down and off a ramp. They are judged on how far they go and their gliding style.

Nordic combined

This event includes ski jumping and cross country racing.

Mr. and Mrs. Cifelli honeymoon in Aruba

Christine Quick, daughter of Carmel Quick of Belleville, became the bride Oct. 29, 1993 of Gerard Cifelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cifelli of Nutley.

The Rev. William Sheridan performed the ceremony in Holy Family Church, Nutley. A reception followed at The Bethwood, Totowa.

Escorted by her mother, the bride wore a form-fitting white satin gown fashioned with a portrait neckline and accented with pearls and sequins. A double-tiered crystal and pearl tiara held her veil and she carried white silk roses accented with mauve silk roses and pearls.

Isaiah, Johnny, McNish win titles

Bucs take second in counties

By Joe Piegario

Seven Buccaneer wrestlers earned place medals this past weekend as Belleville placed second to Caldwell in the Essex County Tournament held at Community College in Newark.

Johnny Perna (112), Isaiah Cardinale (125) and Joe McNish (145) all brought home gold medals. Second place finishes were earned by Luke Cardinale (119) and John Spina (130) while Mark Bianchini finished third at 140, and Aris Cruz fifth at 160. Jorge Hernandez, wrestling in the 135-pound bracket, placed sixth in the 22-team event.

Earlier in the week, BHS steam-rolled Teaneck, 67-6, to improve to 11-1 on the season, 5-0 in the Pacific Division of the NNJIL.

For Perna, now a junior, it was his second consecutive county title. This year, he barely broke a sweat as he pinned all four opponents, none reaching the third period.

The opposition, from Essex Catholic, Bloomfield, Caldwell and Cedar Grove, was clearly over-matched. Even Lucas Guarino, Cedar Grove's best wrestler and carrying a 17-1 record into the finals against Johnny, could offer no resistance. Now at 18-0 with 12 pins, Perna has stepped up his performance in the past two weeks in preparation for the upcoming Sectional and District Championships.

Belleville's second gold medalist was 125-pounder Isaiah Cardinale. The team leader with a 19-0 record and 15 pins, Isaiah also won the county championship for the second straight year.

Cardinale was the only champion in the counties to face a state tournament qualifier, yet he dominated Millburn's Dave Lombardy, 7-0. Irvington, Seton Hall and Newark East Side all sent challengers to meet Isaiah, all were pinned in the first period.

Lombardy has been wrestling up at 130 pounds much of the year, but came down to 125 to face Isaiah. The Millburn ace is known statewide as a takedown specialist, but was completely shut down by Cardinale's defense. Instead, Isaiah became the specialist, scoring three takedowns and an escape to end Lombardy's undefeated season.

The Bucs' third champ was co-captain Joe McNish. Wrestling at 145-pounds, Joe had a fairly easy time getting into the finals. A 13-3 decision over Caldwell's Esposito was followed by falls over Barringer and Montclair's Pierre Falaise.

Essex Catholic's Theophyll DuFresne, 17-0, was McNish's final round opponent and took all but the final 10 seconds of the match to the BHS senior. Leading 4-0 and in total control, DuFresne became yet another victim of McNish's last minute heroics when he gave up a takedown and backpoints in the last six seconds. The 6-4 victory left everyone stunned, except Joe, who has been doing this type of thing for three years now.

With the victory, McNish improved his season's stats to 18-1 with six pins.

Silver medalist Luke Cardinale

was fairly dominant before reaching the finals. A 15-0 technical fall over Phil Mairorano of Bloomfield, a fall over Eric Goodwin of Montclair and a 7-0 decision versus Anthony Marinello of Nutley set up a final against Caldwell's Ryan Maffei.

Maffei and Cardinale had met a number of times in summer tournaments, with Luke winning on each occasion. But this time Maffei took the 119-pound title with a 6-3 decision.

John Spina, wrestling in the 130-pound division, also won a silver medal for his efforts. An opening round pin over Adam Mueller of Montclair was followed by a 10-3 decision over Millburn's Jay Weinbach. That set up a return bout with Caldwell's Tom Caprio in the semis. Caprio had pinned Spina in the finals of the Bloomfield Tournament after a nip and tuck three periods of wrestling.

This time, Spina did not make the serious mistakes he made in their first meeting and earned his

Davies leads Bucs past P. Catholic

By Mike Lamberti

"If we could put together four strong quarters, I can name you at least five games we should have won this year. We've had a few games where one quarter has ruined the work of three good ones."

Those words, from Buc basketball coach Don Roll, basically summarize last week's action. The Bucs defeated Paramus Catholic for the second time this year, 63-54, then lost to Teaneck 80-62 in a game decided by a dominant Highwaymen third quarter.

Belleville, 5-11, battled St. Joe's last Tuesday. This afternoon, Paramus comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. Next Tuesday, it's off to Clifton for a 7:30 p.m. tip off.

"The kids are playing much better of late," Roll said. "I have to give them credit, because when they don't play well, I'll be the first to say that, too. It's just that we've had games this year, like the one against Newark Eastside in the ECT, and last week, against Teaneck, when we played a solid three quarters, but were victimized by a bad quarter that took us out of the game."

Against Teaneck, one of the stronger teams in the NNJIL, the Bucs played as good a first half as Roll could expect.

"Kevin Davies was outstanding, we played good defense as a team and everyone responded with intensity and determination," Roll said. "It was the type of game that, as these kids continue to grow, should be more the norm than an exception."

The Bucs trailed 16-15 after one, but rallied back to gain a 33-30 lead at the half.

The third quarter would be an entirely different story. Teaneck came out with a full court trapping defense and the Bucs never adjusted.

"We committed 24 turnovers in the third quarter, alone," Roll said. "We looked like a young team in that quarter. Too many mistakes and the inability to adjust to their press. That was basically the story."

Teaneck outscored Belleville 28-8 in the quarter and took a commanding 58-41 lead heading into the final eight minutes of play.

The fourth quarter was essentially even, with Teaneck outscoring the Bucs by one and winning, 80-62.

Davies, who has been playing very well over the past three weeks, led the Bucs with 16 points. Frank Means, who has also been playing solid basketball of late, scored 15. Jason Albert had 13, Mike Molina had nine, Michael Loney scored seven and Dan Montalvo closed out the scoring with two points.

"The third quarter against Teaneck was like the first quarter against Newark Eastside, when they outscored us 29-12," Roll said. "Hopefully, our kids will learn from this type of game. We're playing better, but we have to put four solid quarters together, especially against the level of competition we see on a regular basis."

The Bucs did play four good quarters at Paramus Catholic and came away with a nine point win in NNJIL action.

"We always have a tough game at Paramus Catholic," Roll said. "We were able to control the tempo of the game and we needed a total team effort to win."

"They ran matchup against us, and we were able to convert our fast break points much more effectively."

P.C., which lost to Belleville by one at the buzzer three weeks ago, led 11-10 after one quarter this time around, but the Bucs rallied to take a 22-20 lead by halftime.

Belleville extended the margin to 46-40 after three and came away with a nine point win, 63-54.

Molina led the Bucs with 19 points. Tyree Sumter scored 13, Albert finished with 12 and Means had ten. Davies scored five and

Lady Bucs fall to Teaneck, P. Catholic

By Mike Lamberti

These are the times that test men's souls.

Or, in this case, women's too.

The Lady Buc basketball team is in the midst of a five game losing streak, and head coach Cheryl Marion has just about run out of ideas and motivational speeches.

Belleville lost two games last week, falling to Paramus Catholic 57-39 then losing to Teaneck, 45-39 in overtime.

Marion's team took a 7-10 record into last Tuesday's game with Barringer. This afternoon, the girls travel to Paramus for a 4 p.m. tip off. Next Thursday, the team travels to Passaic for a 4 p.m. game. The contest with Newark Eastside, scheduled for next Tuesday, has been postponed.

"Things just aren't working," a frustrated Marion said. "We're not getting consistent scoring, we're missing too many layups and our turnovers are up."

"All together, that adds to up losing, and I know we're considered a young team, but 17 games into a season, you can't use that excuse any more. We played better earlier in the season than we are now."

Against Paramus Catholic, Belleville did play a little better than in the earlier matchup with P.C., but the end result was defeat, this time by 18 points.

"When we played them at Paramus, we were down 41-7 by halftime," Marion recalled.

"I thought we showed signs of playing better this time around, but Paramus Catholic is too good a team to be missing layups against."

Paramus Catholic jumped out to a 20-6 first quarter lead and held a 27-13 advantage at the half.

P.C. put the game away in the third quarter, outscoring Belleville 24-10 and taking a commanding 51-23 lead into the last eight minutes.

Ramirez led Belleville with 17 points. Maria Acuna had eight, Chrissie Scassera finished with six, Kim Mahoney had four and Andrea Curran and Deanna Addis finished with two each.

While Marion wasn't too upset with the loss to P.C., she was close to the ballistic level after playing at Teaneck last Thursday.

"To say I was disappointed with that game would be an understatement," Marion said. "Nothing against Teaneck, but that's a game we're supposed to win. But we never got into the flow of the game and when it came to overtime, we were in a bind."

The Teaneck game was a close encounter for all of regulation time, with neither team leading by more than five points. The Lady Bucs led 12-11 after one and 20-17 at the half.

Teaneck controlled the second half, limiting Belleville to just 13 points in the final 16 minutes and tying the game at 33 after regulation time.

The extra frame was all Teaneck, as the home team outscored Belleville 12-6 and won, 45-39.

Ramirez did her part, leading all scorers with 19 points. Curran scored six, Acuna and Addis had five each and Scassera finished with four.

Belleville was scheduled to play Barringer last Tuesday, a game the Lady Bucs were favored to win.

"Right now, every game is a struggle for us," the coach said. "On paper, the last few games of the season should be games we can win. But we're in no position to take anyone lightly. It's not going to be easy."

Marion is pleased with the effort of two players.

"Maria Acuna has played very well at the point," the coach said. "At that position, we don't expect a lot of scoring, but she's running the show offensively and helping out with points."

"Chrissie Scassera has also played well. She's been very consistent at the center position."

NOTES: The Essex County girls' basketball tournament is progressing pretty much on schedule. The quarterfinals will be played this weekend, and the semis are scheduled for February 19. The championship game, for the boys and girls, will be contested on February 26, at Essex County College.

Livingston is the top seed this year. The Lancers advanced to the finals last season before losing to Clifford Scott.

The semi final round will be played at Bloomfield. Speaking of Bloomfield, the Lady Bengals have to be considered one of the favorites to at least make it to the Final Four.

The choice here, however, to at least advance to the finals, is Nutley.

The Maroon Raiders are not a very big team, but they play tremendous defense and guard Sarah Clarke shoots the three point shot as well as anyone in the league.

Andrea Curran looks quite attentive on defensive side of the ball.

Part Seven in a Series

It was now February of 1975, and the Belleville boys' basketball team was winding down an outstanding season.

Danny Grasso's team was 10-7, having downed St. Joe's of West New York, on a Friday evening at Belleville High.

The following Sunday, the Star Ledger came out with the issue that the Bellboys were waiting on for the past few weeks. The prestigious Essex County Tournament was announcing its seeds for the upcoming tournament and, for the first time in 15 years, Belleville was selected to play in the tourney.

20 seasons ago, the ECT only took the top 16 teams in Essex County. Qualifying for the tourney usually required a winning record along with a competitive schedule.

In 1974-75, Belleville had both prerequisites. The team was over .500 and, playing the Big 10 schedule, certainly made a case for a difficult schedule.

After a 15 year hiatus, Belleville was now back in the ECT. And guess who the Bellboys would take on in their first trip back to the Big Dance?

None other than top seeded, undefeated and the states number one ranked team, East Orange. The same East Orange team that had beaten Belleville twice in Big 10 play during the season. The same East Orange team with two all state players and unbelievable depth on the bench.

But none of that mattered. Belleville was too excited about the prospects of playing in the ECT to worry about the fact that East Orange would be its first round opponent. The game would be scheduled for Thursday evening, February 20. It would be played at Bloomfield High School.

In the interim, the Bellboys would have to complete its regular season schedule and step one in that endeavor happened on February 11, when Belleville played host to Columbia. It was a game that Belleville was expected to win, because the Cougars were a struggling team in '74-75. Earlier in the season, Belleville won an emotionally charged game at Columbia.

This time, the game was much easier. As was the case against Nutley, Belleville struggled the first time it played a winless team on the road. This time, the game was home and the results were much more decisive. Belleville broke the 0 game open early, taking a 20 point lead at halftime and coasting to an 87-59 victory.

Abdel Anderson was once again the main man, leading Belleville with 34 points. Joe Dunn and Doug Jackson also played well in starting roles and the victory improved Belleville's mark to 11-7.

The next to last game of the regular season was set for, ironically, Valentine's Day, 1975. The game would be at Orange, and once again, it was a contest that Belleville figured to win.

Earlier in the season, the team had beaten the Tornadoes 78-63 in a game where Anderson eclipsed the 1,000 career point mark.

Orange had one of the nicer gyms in the Big 10. It was a modern facility with good lighting and excellent rims.

For the first time all season, Belleville entered the game a tad bit overconfident. The team had won five of its last six games, including wins in its last two contests. Orange was having a rare off season.

The Tornadoes were struggling and for the first time in years, did not qualify for the ECT. Nonetheless, this was a dangerous team, especially at home. Orange would come out of the lockerroom before the start of each game and form a circle around an orange and black basketball. They would then warm up to the sounds of the B.T. Express and that groups big song in '75 entitled Express.

Every gym that Belleville went to 20 seasons ago would have that song blaring on the PA system. Since I was in charge of music and announcements at Belleville home games that season, I even played it at every one of our games, at Abdel's request, of course. Grasso liked that song, but also liked the song by TSOP entitled "The Sounds of Philadelphia."

Abdel said it was okay to play TSOP, as long as the BT Express got its share of speaker time.

Anyway, getting back to Orange, the Tornadoes were up for this game, and I mean big time. The tone was set early, when Jackson went to the foul line for two shots in the first quarter.

His first shot missed everything. I mean, it missed the rim by a good five feet. Jackson did hit the second shot, but you kind of felt it was going to be one of those days.

By the third quarter, Orange had opened up a 30 point lead, 66-36. Belleville staged a wild rally in the final eight minutes, and ended up losing the game by a rather respectable score of 72-66.

The bus ride home was not exactly one of Valentine's Day lore. Love and compassion weren't high on the list. Grasso was livid. He was so mad he wouldn't talk all the way home.

The next day at practice, Grasso was still fit to be tied. He watched his team practice for about an hour, then called time out.

"Everyone, go home," Grasso said. "I can't watch this anymore."

The players were a little stunned, but if you knew Grasso, this wasn't the best time to try and be diplomatic. Grasso felt there was no way his team should have lost at Orange and he wanted that point driven home quickly.

The players filed into the lockerroom to get dressed. Abdel Anderson had other ideas and requested a meeting with Grasso in his office. The two spoke for about 20 minutes, and when the conversation was over, Grasso was a different person. There was no shouting in the meeting, that wasn't Abdel's style, and Grasso had too much respect for Ab to yell about a particular game.

Grasso was much more calm after talking with Abdel, and the game with Orange was quickly forgotten. The Bellboys were preparing for its regular season finale, against St. Benedict's. Two days later, the team would play East Orange in the first round of the ECT.

Montalvo and Loney scored two each.

"We're 5-11 and have four games left against teams we can beat," Roll said. "We lost to Clifton earlier this year by two points and I think we should be more than competitive against St. Joe's, Paramus and Clifton. If we can finish with eight or nine wins, it would certainly be a big step for the kids who will be back next season."

NOTES: In the Essex County tournament for boys' basketball, Irvington is the top seed as the Campers look to win a third straight championship. The last team to do that in ECT play was East Orange, who won four straight from 1974-77.

The mens and womens county final will be played at Essex County College on Saturday afternoon, February 26. It's the first time that both finals will be played on the same court and the same day. It should make for some interesting and exciting basketball.

on a first come, first served basis only.

Children must be able to speak and understand English in order to participate. Children enrolled in the morning program can not also be in the afternoon program or vice versa. A $25. deposit is required to hold your spot in the program.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible - Monday through Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Everyone who registers by the February 25 deadline will be placed on a team.

All leagues are for Belleville residents only.

High school freshmen or JV team players, or Suburban League team players (7th and 8th grade) are not eligible for the Rec Leagues. All applications must be returned to the Rec House with photo copies of their birth certificates by Friday, February 25, 1994. Players trying out for the previously mentioned teams should complete Rec applications before the deadline in case they get cut.

In all cases, the applications must be completed in full and signed by a parent, and all returning players must re-apply. Applications accepted after February 25 will be considered late and will be treated accordingly. Late applications cannot be guaranteed entry into the league. The Rec House (407 Joralemon Street) hours for registration are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The office will also be open on Thursday nights, 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. for registration. All children attending required practices will play in every game. Our leagues stress sportsmanship, basic skills, and fun.

Umpire's Tests: The Belleville A.S.A. Umpires' Association will be conducting the A.S.A. Softball Umpire's Test on Wednesday, April 6, 1994 at 7 p.m. at the Rec House - 407 Joralemon Street. Any adult, male or female, interested in taking the test should call the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 to obtain an application for the test. There is a $30 non-refundable exam fee that must accompany your application.

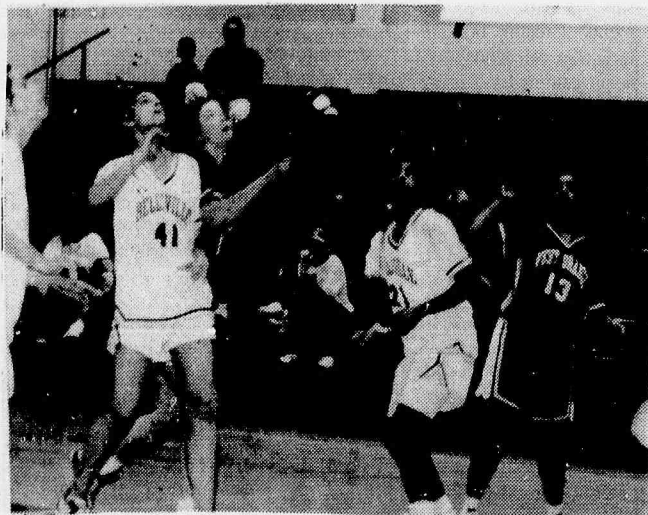

Persons who register for the test can attend the A.S.A. Softball Rules clinics, to be given on March 16, Wednesday, March 23; and Wednesday, March 30 - 7 p.m. at the Belleville Recreation Department. These clinics are designed to prepare all potential umpires for the test on April 6. The clinics will be conducted by Frank Dario and Tom Ucci, two of Belleville's most experienced umpires.

The registration deadline will be March 18. The course and test are open to all persons, 18 years of age and older. A 70 percent passing grade will be required. Successful applicants will then be qualified to umpire A.S.A. softball after paying their membership dues, and will be responsible for securing their own work assignments.

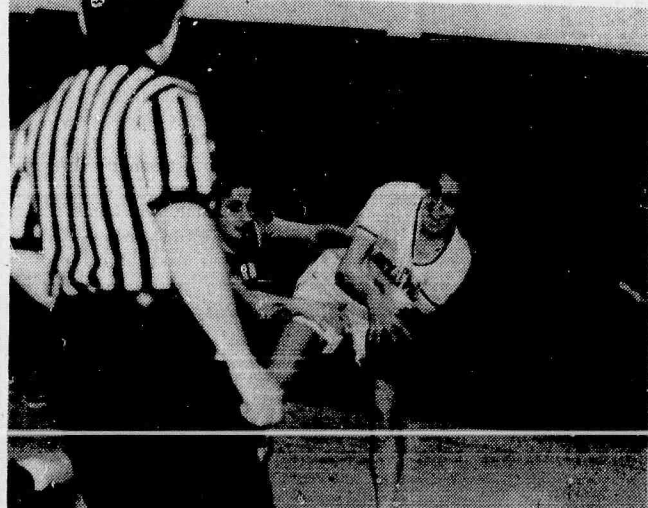

Boys ages 8-9 can play Peanut League Baseball; 10-12 year old boys can play Junior League Baseball; and 13-15 year old boys are eligible for Senior League Baseball. Children ages 9-12 who wish to play Little League Baseball must try out. Boys and girls ages 6-7 can sign up for Tee-Ball. Girls ages 8-14 can apply for all levels of Recreation Softball, including the Suburban Team. Specific league structure/age breakdown for girls' softball will be determined after the registration deadline. In order to qualify for any league, the child must reach the minimum age before August 1, 1994 and he/she can not exceed the maximum age by July 31, 1994.

Players applying for Junior/Senior League Baseball must also try out in order to be placed on a team.

Next week, a look back at the St. Benedict's game and the buildup for the East Orange game.

One thing is for sure, L.R. is certainly interesting. The squirrel advises me that L.R. is shrewd. She's shrewd enough to be in this week's Valentine's Day wishes. The squirrel's new campaign for her is now underway. It's entitled, "OPERATION W.I.T."

I'll let you decide what W.I.T. stands for. More on this saga in next week's issue. Blurb, blurb, blurb.

This weeks quiz

Let's go with the National Hockey League this week. When was the last time the New York Rangers were in the Stanley Cup Finals? Who did the Rangers beat in the semis that year? Who was the Rangers' goaltender? Who coached the Rangers that year?

Wrestlers excel in county tourney revenge with a 7-6 decision. Unfortunately, John was decided 8-0 in the finals by Scott Jones of Columbia. Still, Spina's 15-3 record with seven pins is super and accurately describes the success he has enjoyed so far this season.

Finishing third in the vent for the BHS matmen was senior Mark Bianchini. The 140-pounder opened with pins against Newark East Side and Caldwell, then lost a 16-1 technical fall to Nutley's Anthony Bellucci in the semifinals. Mark recovered to post a 7-4 decision versus John Karp of Millburn in the quarterfinals to secure his bronze medal. Bianchini is now 14-3 with five pins.

The final place winner for the Bucs was 160-pound senior Aris Cruz. A 14-4 win over Irvington brought Aris up against top-seeded John Qualter of Millburn in the quarterfinal bracket. Cruz was pinned by the eventual champion, but rebounded with wins over Glen Ridge and Essex Catholic to finish sixth and improve his record to 14-4 with 10 pins.

Buc Notes: This was a confusing tournament for the fans in many respects. First, the price of admission for all three rounds was a whopping $13, exorbitant by any standards. Many of the matches were genuinely exciting, but no one knew who was wrestling. The committee running the event was so secretive about information one wondered if we were at a summit conference or a wrestling tournament. There were no programs for sale, no wall charts, no announcements of results after each match. Even the computer printouts were never completed, missing all "pig-tail" matches and the last two full rounds. As a member of the press it was exceptionally frustrating to be starved of absolutely necessary information.

The complete list of County

Champions:

- 103 Bill Buckley - Caldwell
- 112 John Perna - Belleville
- 119 Ryan Maffei - Caldwell
- 125 Isaiah Cardinale - Belleville
- 130 Scott Jones - Columbia
- 135 Dan Pena - Bloomfield
- 140 J. Miskiewicz - Bloomfield
- 152 Pete Foster - Bloomfield
- 160 John Quatter - Millburn
- 171 Vic Mesce - Bloomfield
- 189 Keith Izza - Cedar Grove
- 275 A. Casciano - Caldwell

Wrestler of the Week is a three-way tie: John Perna, Isaiah Cardinale and Joe McNish. Each boy was selected for a different reason: Perna for pinning four opponents; Cardinale for shutting out state qualifier Dave Lombardy; McNish for coming from four points down with six seconds left in the bout to win his match.

Cardinale's four wins gives him 77 lifetime, pushing him past Mike Iuliano into seventh place on the all-time win list. Next in line is #6 Dom Cerreto with 83 wins. Isaiah's three pins gives him 46 lifetime, sixth on the all-time list. Number five is Dom Cerreto with 47 pins.

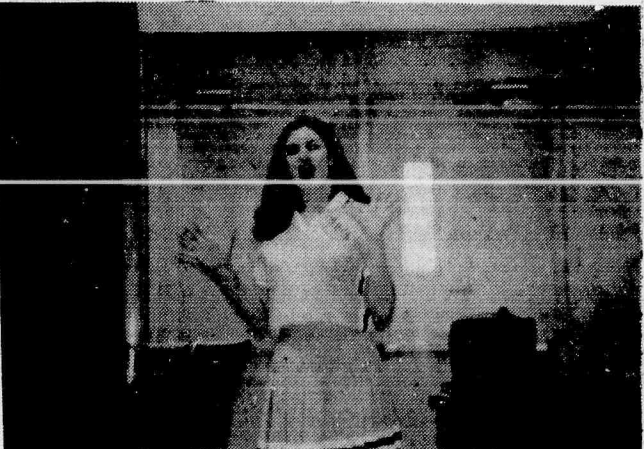

See ya next week!

Junior Buc wrestlers rolling along

By Lou Conte

The Belleville Junior Bucs Wrestling Team continued its quest for its sixth consecutive Essex County Championship by steam-rolling Maplewood and Bloomfield.

First in Maplewood, Jim Smith won by a pin in 30 seconds in the 67-pound class; Mike Palo (77) pin at :55; Mike Fusco (82) by technical fall, 16-0; Greg Ilaria (87) by a pin at :50; Anthony Conte (92) pin at :58; Marc Casella (97) 11-0 decision; Frank Zarro (107) by a pin at :08; Lawrence Martin, (114), by a 5-4 decision; Mike Biase (121) pin at 2:00; Jim Costa (128) 10-0 decision; Dave Ilaria (72), Frank Rodriguez (137) and Frank Zarro astonished the crowd with a pin in only eight seconds. Congratulations!

At home against Bloomfield, the score was 59-21 with eight pins. The match was more competitive than reflected in the final score. Still, the Jr. Bucs wrestled well and won the key bouts. Winning their matches were: Anthony Malanga, pin at :53; Jim Smith, 14-8; Dave Ilaria, pin at :35; Mike Palo, 2-0 in OT; Mike Fusco, 14-4; Greg Ilaria, pin at 2:08; Anthony Conte, pin at 1:25; Marc Casella, pin at 3:52; Frank Zarro, 10-0; Mike Biase, pin at :48; Lawrence Martin, 4-3; Joe Spina, Super heavyweight, pin at 1:17; Nick Reda, heavyweight, injured his ankle during the match. Heal fast, Nick, we need you down the stretch.

Match of the Day goes to Lawrence Martin for his exciting 4-3 victory.

Coaches Lou Riccardi and Mike Conte finish up the season with matches against Livingston, Glen Ridge, and the big match of the year against Caldwell. The Caldwell match may be for the championship, however it is a home match and the team does not have a home.

The mat at the middle school is just about finished. The mat has deteriorated to the point that both the Bloomfield coach and the referee registered complaints. The referee stated that he will not allow another match to take place on this mat. Since the team is not allowed to wrestle at the high school, they will search for a place to lay their mat. Will let you know what happens. See you soon, Council and Board members!

Tournament Notes: The complete bantam results are in from the Bloomfield Team Tournament. The following medalists contributed to Belleville's first place finish: Gold winners were Robert Coppola, Lawrence Fusco, and Joey Parisi. Second place honors went to Chris Coppola, Nick Paris, Steven Tyler and Mike Gingerelli. Taking third place honors were Tom Henry, Mike D'Elia, Anthony Sheridan, and Chris Dantick. Fourth place winners were Brian Whitman and Angelo DeLeo. At the prestigious Roselle Park Tournament, five bantams placed. First place champions were Lawrence Fusco, and Danny D'Elia. Taking third place were Joey Parisi and fourth place went to Joey Lehmen and David Sheridan. Congratulations to Lawrence Fusco for picking up a gold medal at each tournament. Congratulations to coaches Al Henry and Jim Lombard. Support the P.O.W. 50/50 raffle.

Jersey Coast Boat Show

Indoors and outdoors there will be a parade of boats at the 41st Annual New Jersey Coast Boat Show, scheduled for February at the Monmouth Park Race Track in Oceanport, New Jersey.

The third oldest boat show in America, the Jersey Coast Boat Show's annual "sailing" kicks off the boating season in the East. The show will run for two weekends, on Saturday, Sunday, and the Monday holiday, February 19, 20, and 21, and then again on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, February 25, 26, and 27, 1994.

This year's theme is family boating, featuring activities that will give pleasure to each member of the family. One of the biggest traditions of the show, the model ship collection features an armada of miniatures hand-crafted by some of the most talented craters in the field. The Intrepid Museum of New York will offer a $100 prize to the crafter of the best battleship miniature in the New Jersey battleship class.

Show hours are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. except for Sundays and the holiday Monday when the hours are 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Science teachers develop first Roche science module

Johnette Lyn Bennett and Kurt Hanisch, secondary school biology teachers and participants in the Hoffmann-LaRoche/Rutgers Program for Education in the Biological Sciences, have developed the program's first science module, called "Heart of the Matter," which focuses on cardiac immunology.

The Roche/Rutgers science program, launched in the summer of 1992 with funding from Roche and the Drug, Chemical and Allied Trades (DCAT) Association, is designed to improve secondary science education through the establishment of a cooperative effort between Roche, Rutgers University and area high schools. During the two-year program, two high school science teachers who are alumni of the Roche Summer Biology Teachers Program, work together with Roche scientists and Rutgers University faculty to develop innovative teaching modules.

Bennett, a science teacher at North Warren Regional High School, Blairstown, and 1994 New Jersey Teacher of the Year, and Kurt Hanisch, a science teacher at Butler High School, Butler, are the first participants in the program. In developing "Heart of the Matter," the teachers sought to explain why the human body destroys cardiac tissue after heart attacks and transplants.

"We started working on the module in the summer of 1992," explained Bennett. "Kurt and I chose cardiac immunology for our module because we felt it was important to focus on a topic that had a direct correlation to our students' curriculum, which includes reading material on heart transplants and donor matching. In addition, our mentors at Roche who facilitated the development of the module were experts in the fields of cardiology and immunology."

Once the module was completed, the teachers tested it in their science classes to ensure that all the parameters they had set for the module were correct.

The "Heart of the Matter" teaching module is appropriate for an honors of accelerated level biology high school curriculum and includes a videotape, supporting materials, and experiments that teachers can replicate in the classroom. New Jersey science teachers will be offered the opportunity to attend Dissemination Seminars at the Rutgers University Waksman Institute to learn how to use, implement and assess the "Heart of the Matter" module.

Another major component of the Roche/Rutgers science program is the opportunity for participants to develop the media and presentation skills necessary to become advocates for science and science education. "The entire experience has been a win-win situation," said Hanisch. "The program has provided us with the knowledge and skills to become more effective science advocates. In turn, we have provided industry with some insight into the challenges that teachers face in terms of curriculum development and limited funds to purchase state-of-the-art science equipment."

The Roche/Rutgers Program for Education in the Biological Sciences is part of a broader Roche commitment to quality science and math education in grades K-12.

Security National Bank reports 1993 totals

John J. Fedigan, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Security National Bank & Trust Company of New Jersey, Newark, New Jersey, reported net income for the year ended December 31, 1993 of $242,814, or 92 cents per share, compared with a net income of $166,343, or 63 cents per share, for the year 1992.

Fedigan attributed the bank's increased earnings to an improved Net Interest Margin, increased Non-interest Income, and reduced Operating Expenses.

Total assets at December 31, 1993 amounted to $83,653 million compared with $74,167 million at year-end 1992. Deposits at December 31, 1993 were $74,949 million compared with $64,790 million at year-end 1992.

Fedigan indicated that the bank's capital-to-assets ratios continue to be among the strongest in the state and well above regulatory guidelines.

JUST ASK

Pharmacists have garnered three consecutive first-place finishes on measures of trustworthiness among health professionals in nationwide Gallup polls. Surprisingly, however, only a small number of consumers take advantage of the pharmacist's knowledge when making purchases of medicine. According to a survey by the National Consumers League, nearly 90 percent of Americans view pharmacists as fountains of medical knowledge, but nearly half declined to discuss their most recent purchases of prescription medications with them. The fact is that pharmacists can answer most questions pertaining to medications, ranging from how and when to take them, to storage and refill information. All the customer needs to do is ask.

Whenever you have a question concerning a medication, including interaction with food and an over-the-counter drug, just ask us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave., 759-1968, 759-1956. We have been helping families in Belleville for many years. Greeting cards, cameras, Russell Stover candies, and gifts are available for Valentine's Day. Open: 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. Have a happy Valentine's Day.

HINT: Keep all prescription medications on file with the pharmacist so that the prescription profile for potential drug or food interactions can be easily reviewed.

Forum on multiculturalism
today

In celebration of Bloomfield College's 125th anniversary, the independent, four-year, coeducational institution has planned a series of educational forums and special events throughout the year. These programs will address a wide range of topics including cultural diversity in education and in the workplace, business ethics, multicultural marketing, science and technology and more. All of the programs are free and open to the public.

The first forum, "Toward Functioning Effectively in a Multiracial, Multicultural Society: What Are We Learning?" will be held today, Feb. 10, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the Bloomfield College campus.

Bloomfield College faculty, staff and students will conduct workshops and roundtable discussions that explore issues relating to racial, ethnic and cultural diversity.

Lawrence Hall, a journalist with The Star-Ledger, will present the keynote address. A multicultural bazaar and music will complement the day's programming.

Bloomfield College has earned national recognition for its work in the area of multicultural education and for its commitment to serve students of diverse backgrounds, particularly those who have traditionally been excluded from higher education. The college's distinctive mission — to prepare students to function at the peak of their potential in a multiracial, multicultural society — has been integrated into every facet of college life.

Registration for today's forum will be accepted at the door.

Arthritis
Update:
Warning! It Could Be Arthritis

What you don't know about arthritis can hurt you, cautions the Arthritis Foundation. Pay attention to the following three common warning signs:

- Pain
- Swelling
- Stiffness or loss of movement.

If you experience any of these symptoms in or around joints for more than two weeks, the Arthritis Foundation recommends that you contact your doctor. Although there are no cures yet for most forms of arthritis, you can prevent or delay much of the pain and disability by early diagnosis and treatment.

Because there are more than 100 arthritis-related diseases, getting a correct diagnosis is an essential first step in developing an effective treatment plan. Treatments vary depending on the type of arthritis you have. The information you share with your doctor, along with a physical exam and laboratory tests, will help the doctor and other members of your health-care team determine what is wrong. Together, you can design a treatment program that may include medications, exercise, joint protection and rest.

The Arthritis Foundation estimates that six million Americans are self-diagnosed. This group includes people who think they have arthritis but have not yet seen a doctor.

Knowledge is one of the most important defenses against arthritis. For a free "Basic Facts" brochure, contact your local Arthritis Foundation chapter or call the Arthritis Foundation Information Line, 1-800-283-7800.

The Arthritis Foundation supports research to find ways to cure and prevent arthritis and seeks to improve the quality of life for those affected by arthritis.

Getting Ready For The Storms

Winter storms are on the way, and with them, perhaps, some stormy moods over those high winter heating bills. You can't stop a cold front, but unner financial skies can be forecast or the home front when you save energy with storm windows.

"Insulating windows" is really a better name for storm windows, because insulating is what they do. A good storm window fits over the entire frame of your existing structural window and adds a second pane of glass between the inside and outside, with an insulating dead air space in the middle. Heat conduction is reduced by as much as half, especially if the main window is an old singleglazed unit. Air leakage around the perimeter of the old window is also reduced.

There are other benefits, too. Storm windows will reduce the amount of outside noise that gets inside. They will also help protect your existing windows from the ravages of wind and water, thereby reducing painting and maintenance costs.

Custom fit to match the exact measurements of your existing windows, aluminum-framed storm windows offer the additional advantage of durability. The precision-machined metal won't warp or rot, and the finish won't fade, flake or chip as in the case of other materials.

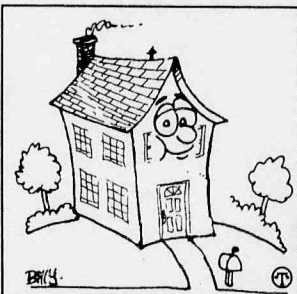

If your old primary windows are in relatively good shape, adding durable aluminum storm windows is an economical investment that will pay for itself through lower energy bills in a surprisingly short time.

For more information, write to the Aluminum Extruders Council, 1000 No. Rand Road, 214, Wauconda, IL 60084.

ENERGY SAVING IDEAS

Good Cents Tips

(NAPS)—Here are some electrifying tips that will help you save both money and the environment. They come from the experts at the Good Cents Home Program®, the country's largest energy-efficiency program, licensed by nearly 300 utilities nationwide.

Double pane windows and insulated doors greatly reduce heat transfer and air infiltration.

- Set the thermostat at 78° or more in summer, 68° or less in winter.
- Clean or replace heating and air conditioning filters monthly.
- Take five-minute showers—they use less hot water than do tub baths.
- Use your dishwasher rather than wash by hand, but wait till it's full.
- Fill empty spaces in your freezer with ice.
- Use the microwave as frequently as possible.
- Cover cooking pots and fit pot size to burner size.

If you are in the market for a new home, consider an energy-efficient Good Cents® Home. A Good Cents® Home adds comfort, convenience and value. Because a Good Cents® Home is more energy-efficient, you'll save money on your monthly utility bill.

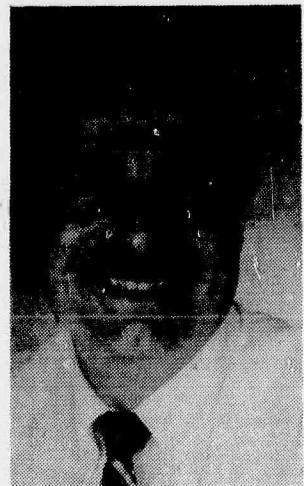

Contact your local electric utility company for more information about Good Cents® or send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to "The Good Cents Guide To Energy Fit Homes," 64 Perimeter Center East, Atlanta, Georgia, 30346-6401.
