

Digori, Canning, Paserchia win three at-large council seats

Gerald Digori Jr.

Victor Canning

Angie Paserchia

By Richard Dickon

Gerry Digori, Victor Canning, and Angie Paserchia were elected by about 30 percent of registered voters to the Township Council May 10, each similarly vowing to reduce municipal taxes, improve recreation and improve conditions for senior citizens.

Digori led with 2,591 votes, Canning received 2,420 and Paserchia 2,057. Former township commissioner Joseph Fornarotto was a close fourth at 2,006 votes, while incumbent Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd and former school board president Patricia Pisano trailed with 1,513 and 1,503 votes, respectively.

Digori, a lifelong resident, said on election night he was "excited. This is just the beginning. Now, with hard work and dedication we can bring Belleville back, by taking care of taxes and fixing the stadium."

As councilman, Digori said he would like to establish a cost-effective government that takes control of, and contains, taxes. He will pursue incentives for business so that companies will move back to town, and enhance senior services, especially in the area of health services, he said.

The full restoration of the Municipal Stadium is high on his list of priorities, he said, so that it can become the centerpiece of town life, where children, young adults and senior citizens can enjoy the facility.

Digori works for Local Union #32 Heat and Frost Insulators and Asbestos Workers.

He holds a degree in business administration, marketing and management from Ramapo College.

Canning, who refused to come to the telephone on election night, has a college degree specializes in local government and he has been a Planning Board and Zoning Board of Adjustment member.

He said he wants to formulate long and short-range goals to end

CVS mall plan changes still being worked out

By Richard Dickon

The developer trying to gain approval from the Planning Board for a strip mall across the street from the site of a recently-approved Taco Bell restaurant project answered objections made by Mayor Marina Perna about the look of the project and the placement of a large parking area in the front of the property.

The property is the site of the former Mead Ford automobile dealership on Washington Avenue and Little Street. The planning board approved the Taco Bell for the old Chevrolet dealership across the street in February.

The property is now in line for a CVS Pharmacy, a bank and other stores.

The developer, Ed Rosenbloom, said he has paid out "six-figure numbers" to have the architectural standard be pleasing to planners, including sleek finish and scalloped overhangs.

The site plan shows the existing former building on the right will be renovated and expanded, the existing building on the left will be renovated and a new building will be constructed in the middle, with all facing the street.

Perna said although Township Engineer Tom Herits suggested putting parking in front for technical reasons called for by the state Department of Transportation, the lot will "bring much chaos" to the site.

"I definitely favor this mall from an economic point of view," Perna said, "But from an aesthetic point of view, this is not appealing."

The mayor said she is worried about how the site will look one year after it's completion, citing problems with front parking lots at Walgreens and Grand Union becoming dirty and not being maintained.

"Nobody gives a darn what the town looks like a year down the line," Perna said, "It's like pulling teeth to get them to clean-up garbage, remove carts and carriages and maintain landscaping of the bushes."

Rosenbloom said "Current trends favor putting parking as close as possible to stores," adding that neighbors have complained about parking in the back of the mall, saying it would increase noise, traffic and possibly even crime.

Perna said she would solve that problem by placing islands in back of the mall along property lines to act as a buffer and protect neighbors from the traffic.

"The parking needs to be modified to some degree, maybe by putting one bay in front and the rest in back," Perna said, "We cannot have all the macadam and parking in the front."

Rosenbloom said he met with Herits to work out putting islands with landscaped shrubbery in the front parking lot.

Planning Board Chairman Sebastian 'Sam' Papa has said the board has assigned the Township Planner and Engineer to work with developer's engineer and architect to satisfy the mayor's objections.

The mayor has said she attends planning meetings to improve the look of the downtown, not to perpetuate the 'hodgepodge' that has happened in the past.

Town officials will also make recommendations regarding whether the building should be in the front or the back of the site as a result of discussions at the meeting.

Robert Gaccione, attorney for the Rose-Belleville Limited Partnership, Washington Avenue, said that the site plans were substantially revised because of concerns expressed by Department of Transportation to the applicant.

Safety committee seeks $10G to reduce claims

By Richard Dickon

Deputy Mayor Mario Drozd has requested $10,000 in "start-up" funding for the Township's Safety Committee, to pay for training and safety equipment that officials hope will reduce injuries to town employees and insurance claims.

The request is made to pay for equipment, such as portable eye-wash for employees who get dangerous substances in their eyes, as well as safety films and to go with visits from insurance and state representatives.

"We need to spend this money now, while there is a lot of involvement," Drozd said, "This will help reduce compensation paid to workers."

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio said "A lot of volunteer time has been spent on this committee. The insurance people have given some very good seminars. This might even reduce our insurance premiums."

Mayor Marina Perna said she agreed. "This is money well spent. It can almost act as prevention of claims or disasters with this program," she said.

The safety commission recently held a four-hour seminar with the State Department of Labor and the Department of Health and Safety, according to Cuccio.

"We're going to have more advanced seminars with the state DOT (Department of Transportation)," he said.

At the seminar, 23 commission members viewed an informative video, including Barbara Tuck, Vince Voltaggio, fire and police officials, Drozd and Cuccio.

something he will address, since he reads the reports and hears firsthand from his son, a high school freshman. Negotiating budget cuts with the Township Council and a possible appeal is another immediate issue, he added.

For the long-range, Molinaro said he would like to eventually install a centralized computer inventory so the board would know exactly what supplies and materials exist.

"We need to find ways to save money. Maybe regionalization is the way to go. I want to look at

"I have heard the same thing about illegal students from different people," Fuscaldo said, "It's a question of having to see everything through, even if students disappear after spring vacation. We have to be willing to go to the expense and handle the public relations problems that go with that."

"Although we have a truant officer, I am still being told kids are being seen getting off a bus from Newark in Silver Lake," Molinaro said, "We have to look into this, because we're getting a lot of information."

Molinaro said the increasing violence in the high school is

Board attorney cites legal precedent...

Board funds Nazzola against Montagna suit

By Richard Dickon

School Board President Gabe Nazzola said residents who disagree with his using public funds to defend himself against a civil suit brought by Frank Montagna should "place the blame with the man who took up the lawsuit."

Montagna is suing Nazzola because of remarks he said Nazzola made on a cable television program that were "false and libelous statements, willfully and maliciously caused by (the) defendant... and the plaintiff has been injured and his good name and character, and his personal reputation."

Montagna continues to call publicly for Nazzola to not be allowed to use public funds to answer his suit.

Montagna could not be reached for further comment.

"This is my not choice," Nazzola said, "I'm operating on the advice of school counsel."

"Personally, I don't feel that, since I'm giving my time freely as a public servant, I should have to spend my money," Nazzola said,

"If I was not school board president, I would not have been asked to appear to discuss busing and none of this would've happened."

Nazzola's answer contains 29 separate defenses that invoke legal doctrines, statutes and call for dismissal of Montagna's suit.

Frank Pomaco, school board attorney, said two state statutes and a previous legal case give Nazzola "legal authorization" to pay an attorney in Pomaco's firm $90 per hour to handle his answer to the suit.

"I advised the board of my position," Pomaco said, "He (Nazzola) was appearing on behalf of the board to discuss an agenda issue, busing. The incident arose in his role as school board president."

Pomaco cited a previous case, Matawan versus the Board of Education, where a board member had their business picketed because of their stance on a school issue.

The decision reads "The school board and residents of the school district have a vested interest that school board members undertake their responsibilities free of undue Former Geriatric land to be checked...

Senior housing survey done; inspection next

By Richard Dickon

Township officials are analyzing responses from senior citizens on housing needs while hiring an environmental agency to inspect property at the former Geriatric Hospital at Franklin and Belleville Avenues in anticipation of possible construction of senior citizens housing.

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio said about 250 senior citizens responded to a telephone survey, as well as in person at church gatherings, senior citizens meetings and "anywhere seniors congregated."

"We will now analyze the results," Cuccio said, to determine the amount of housing units that are to be constructed.

The council has renewed efforts to obtain five acres of former Geriatric hospital property following the county's approval of funding for a cancer research center to be completed by the Center for Molecular Medicine and Immunology (CMMI).

Contained in that agreement is the use of eight acres of property surrounding the former hospital, which is being purchased by CMMI for $5 million.

Council officials have said the agreement between the county and CMMI opens the door for the township acquiring the land for a nominal fee.

Mayor Marina Perna has said discussions with county Freeholders have focused on possibly leasing the property for a nominal fee.

The Township has retained the Environmental Services Agency to perform a preliminary site inspection. Cuccio said "They are ready to begin their work. They were waiting for the inclement weather to end."

Perna said "We're digging test borings for contamination, but the land had been vacant for a long time and we do not expect any hazardous waste to be found, but the inspection is necessary."

The first phase of inspection is to cost $1,800, Cuccio said.

The council plans to complete the survey, arrive at a number of housing units, and decide on a per-unit cost as soon as possible in order to qualify for funding.

Estimates of $70,000 to $75,000 per unit have been mentioned by Perna.

The survey was to be administered by Belleville resident Robert Shumeyko, Cuccio said, who was to be paid $1,000 by the township to conduct the survey.

Crackdown on non-residents attending school vowed by new trustees, president

By Richard Dickon

The School Board held its reorganization meeting on May 2, swearing in new board members Robert Molinaro and Thomas Fuscaldo and re-electing Gabe Nazzola as board president.

Nazzola said of this re-election, "I think this shows, if nothing else, that irrespective of political affiliations, the board knows what kind of time I put in, and my commitment to adjusting and economizing the running of the district, in terms of the business aspects."

"I have many things that are ongoing, and not completed yet, and their vote tells me my leadership must be o.k.," Nazzola added.

Molinaro said "I come to the board with an open mind, willing to listen to all points of view. I intend to do what's right for the school system and the town."

Nazzola, Molinaro and Fuscaldo all said an immediate issue to deal with is students illegally attending Belleville schools.

"The district will continue to vigorously investigate any possible non-resident students that may exist in our schools," Nazzola said, adding that the board will request monthly specific reports of activity from the district's Truant Officer.

DPW inspecting leakingroof; $50G aside to fix library

By Richard Dickon

The Township Council has authorized the Township Manager to possibly advertise for bids to repair parts of the Public Library roof which have been leaking and causing damage to the building's interior.

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio said "The repairs may not be needed for the whole roof, this may be just flashing, and leaking through certain spots."

Township officials, including, the Engineer, Building Inspector and Department of Public Works personnel have been dispatched to inspect parts of the three-part roof that are leaking, to determine what repairs are needed.

Mayor Marina Perna said the roof "has got to be done. We had some questions procedurally about how this was handled before and how we should do it now."

Perna said she wants the DPW to "oversee all that is going on in town, because this will save us money." She added that the DPW should be able to handle all duties, especially now that Charles Cerami has taken over as director.

Township Manager Stephen Cuccio said that the township engineer and building inspector have been assigned to look at the roof, but added that the company that installed one part of the roof about six to eight years ago has repaired that part.

"We got the Springfield Company (who put part of the roof on) to come out to repair the roof, but we have yet to hear," Cuccio said, "There is a warrantee."

Cuccio said this year's capital budget contains a $50,000 allotment to be used to fix or replace other parts of the roof, only if necessary.

"No money will be appropriated until we get the Engineer's report and specifications," Cuccio said, adding that the cost may be as little as $17,000.

Perna had said she wanted to get an official opinion in writing with recommendations about whether the roof can sustain the elements.

Cuccio said additional damage had been done to the already leaky roof, and that the insurance company would not continue to pay claims for the interior unless the roof is fixed.

Last year, Cuccio said, the council had planned to put aside about $75,000 to repair the roof, but the bond ordinance was never passed.

Township Hall exterior to get facelift - The Township Council is looking at bonding $700,000 to repair the crumbling Township Hall exterior. The council has said that the cost will likely be less than the bonded amount.

First I would like to apologize to the Belleville Senior Citizen Social Club for omitting the name of Eleanore Hreska from the list of trustees and for misspelling 1st Vice Pres. Fran Zoppa's name.

Get well wishes to Sam LaSala, Grace Vaccaro and Al Young and Irene Caruso.

Congratulations to Mary Vitalli on her 83rd birthday. Stay healthy and have many more years of happiness.

The trip chairlady of the Friday Club, Jo Molinaro requested that all money for the June 27 to July 1 trip be paid as soon as possible. The trip to the Fiesta on May 19 should be paid in full.

Condolences to the Pas family and the Chirico family.

On April 30 Dorothea Behan and her husband Fred attended the 60th reunion of her college class from Montclair State College. Dorothea taught at No. Seven School from 1934 to her retirement in 1978. She is presently the corresponding secretary of the Belleville Senior Citizen Club Inc. These two are a wonderful couple and I am privileged to call them my friends.

On April 23, the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, held their annual dinner dance for the Belleville High School Scholarship Fund at the Branch Brook Manor on Washington Avenue.

This affair, under President Vincent Frantantoni, his wife Phyllis, Vice President Joseph Celfo and members Florence Pentol and Joan Current also honored Blind All American Athlete Richard Ruffalo.

Richard graduated from Montclair State. At that time he was fully sighted becoming blind at about 30 years of age. At this time he was a teacher and track coach at Belleville High as well as a gifted amateur athlete. Through the United States Association of Blind Athletes he went on to establish many records as a blind athlete. He has won so many awards that it is impossible to record them. Some of the more prestigious awards are: Italian American Hall of Fame, Teacher of the Year by Princeton University, Disabled Athlete of the Year, and many, many more. He has also won world titles in four different events and a gold medal in the shot put at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. His athletic accomplishments were in the shot put, discus, javelin and powerlifting. Congratulations to a super athlete and exceptional teacher.

Richard has also reached new heights as a motivational speaker and in demand as such. Also present were his lovely wife Diane, his father and mother and his brother Joe and his wife. Richard was presented a congressional presentation by both Congressman Klein and Senator John Scott. The affair was a huge success and the committee and management are to be congratulated for a job well done.

Following are a list of promises mothers should make to their children.

"I promise to... Listen to my children; Communicate with my children; Teach my children right from wrong and be a good role model for them; Spend time with and pay attention to my children; Educate my children in mind, body and soul; Work to provide a stable family life for my children; Pray for and see God in my children and all children; Vote for my children to ensure them equal opportunity; Speak out for my children's needs and join in a movement to see that no child is left behind in our nation."

hazards to personal resources and to afford them some protection in attaining and performing their responsibilities," according to Pomaco.

In addition, statutes 18A12-20 and 18A16-6 authorize "indemnity of members of boards of education against costs of defense of civil and criminal actions" and "the board shall defray all costs of defending such actions."

Nazziola said Pomaco's firm is "magnanimously" agreeing to a fee of $90 per hour when the school board president could have hired a specialist for $250-$300 per hour.

"If taxpayers have a problem with funds being spent in an unwanted fashion, they should tell Frank Montagna they are sick of his shenanigans," Nazziola said, "If I wasn't sued frivolously by him, I would not be spending money."

"The cause and effect of this has to be understood," he said, "You can't get to second base, my countersuit, without going to first base, his suit."

Nazziola said he questions why Montagna chose, after six months, to leak word of his accusations of slander three weeks before Montagna was seeking election to the school board.

"If he was was genuinely offended, why wasn't the suit brought immediately. He is nothing but negative and pessimistic about everything," Nazziola said.

Nazziola's answer contains 29 separate defenses, citing "negligence and actions of others unknown to... (or) not under control of these defendants; negligence and actions of co-defendants; negligence and actions of the plaintiff."

High school, middle school students speak in Optimist oratorical contest

Students from Belleville High School and Middle School recently participated in the Optimist Club of Belleville's Annual Oratorical Contest, while the winners competed at the Zone Contest in late April.

A speech of no less than four minutes was presented on the topic "Optimism -- The Right Stuff." More than 50 people attended the contest and dinner at the Chandelier Restaurant.

Melissa Anderson, a ninth grader at the high school, won the girls' contest. Jason Del Monte, also a ninth grader, won the boys' contest.

These two went on to represent the Optimist Club on April 25 at the Zone Contest, held in Clifton. The winners of the Zone Contest will be representatives in the State Oratorical Contest this month, where they will compete for a $1,500 scholarship.

The remaining student participants were Ariel Peldunas (second place -- girls), Lauree Rosenfeld, (third place -- girls), Odalis Polanco, Dina Elhew, and Jennifer Price. Jon Paul Louis was the second place boys' winner and Michael Cesena came in third.

The students were accompanied to the contest by teacher coordinators Eileen Albrecht, Sharon Shapiro, Barbara Spillane and Carmen Giunta.

Optimist member and Township Attorney Robert Giordano once again served as chairman of the successful event.

costly crisis management and to stabilize our tax rate.

Also, he said he wants to develop a plan to upgrade and address proper assignment of town services to prevent decaying of the town infrastructure, such as maintenance of roads, sewers and water lines, trees and solid waste removal.

Actively lobbying for the acquisition of senior citizen housing is another goal, Canning said, adding that he wants to generate greater citizen involvement in the governmental process.

Formulating and implementing sound economic policies to provide creative opportunities to old and new businesses in town, especially Washington Avenue, and developing initiatives for improving our older established industrial districts are part of his plan, he said.

He said he wishes to improve town services, and will work to implement senior citizens housing.

Paserchia said on election night, "I'm happy I won. My main goal is to cut taxes, also to see about what we can do with recreation for the children and I want to be there for all the people."

Paserchia left the school board to run for council, saying taxes are increasing while services are decreasing. She said she will work to improve the town's image to attract new business.

She said she wants to increase ratables and refurbish a badly-neglected infrastructure to stop the downward spiral of taxation and deterioration from escalating.

By re-establishing the industrial base in the Valley section together with the downtown business community, Paserchia said she wants to create new ratables.

She said she wants to establish a council liaison to the business community to form a private/public partnership to stimulate the economy.

Paserchia is married, with two children, and is a member of the Alliance for Substance Abuse Education and the Senior Citizens Club.

She is a retired office manager and a legislative aide to State Sen. John Scott.

Pre-school program offered by town

The Belleville Department of Recreation and Cultural Affairs is accepting registration for the Pre-School Play Program for four-year-old children.

The program consists of games, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods, and occasional holiday parties, especially designed for pre-school children.

A session runs from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. or 12:45 to 2:45 p.m., five days a week. Classes are limited to a maximum of 25 children each session.

The cost of the 32 weeks is $125. Mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every eight or nine days, according to a published schedule.

School is to begin on Monday, September 19, and will run through May 1995.

Children born between October 1989 and September 1995 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents, since there are a limited number of openings. Applications will accepted on a first-come, first-served basis only.

Children must be able to speak and understand English in order to participate. Children enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program or vice versa. A $25 deposit is required to hold a spot in the program.

For further enrollment information, contact the recreation department as soon as possible, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., at 450-3422.

A total of 300 guests participated in the traditional Sicilian dinner of pasta con sardi, fruits, salads, homemade breads, cookies and the St. Joseph zeppoles.

This year's program was lead by three youngsters dressed as the Holy Family, followed by a long line of dignitaries. St. Joseph was portrayed by John Cataldo, Young Jesus was Christopher, and the young Virgin Mary was acted by Pammy.

The beautiful altar of foods and breads was blessed by Monsignor Franklin Casale.

The ACES Club also chose to install their new president, Joann Emmolo of Belleville, and their offices. Outgoing ACES president, John Mele, was presented with a $200 savings bond and the ACES' President's Plaque.

The Mille Grazie Awards were given to Monsignor Casale and Bill Martini, Esq., for their contributions and support of the ACES Club. Martini presented a $5,000 donation for a special scholarship that will be presented annually to a young Italian American, an individual that has served his/her community and helped to preserve their heritage.

Donations were presented by ACES to various charities, includ-

Using public funds to defend a private feud never justified

School Board President Gabe Nazzola's decision to use public school funds to answer Frank Montagna's civil slander suit with a countersuit can be empathized with, but cannot be justified.

Anyone who has seen Montagna's constant public, verbal attacks against Nazzola, including such tactics as the swinging of an effigy doll with Nazzola's name on it and a noose around its neck, can understand that the school board president wants to defend himself against Montagna.

Montagna's behavior is so consistently negative that the worthwhile questions he raises about such issues as teacher salary increases and out-of-town students attending Belleville schools is buried in an avalanche of cynical, pessimistic diatribes leveled at Nazzola.

Montagna should spend more time on bringing such issues to light, and stop attacking Nazzola personally.

School Board Attorney Frank Pomaco makes a valid point that public officials should have some protection from personal attacks.

Having allowed for all these qualifiers, however, the basic point remains that spending tax dollars on Nazzola's defense of a private feud with Montagna is wrong.

The perception by many residents is that the school board spends money frivolously, a perception that is rarely true. Nazzola's action, though, will add fuel to this argument that is not necessary.

If Nazzola is certain that Montagna's suit is without merit, as he has said, then he should put his wallet where his mouth is and spend his own money. If the suit is dismissed the way he claims it will be, then his legal fees will be paid by Montagna.

As things stand, Nazzola looks like he is hedging his bets on his own ability to defend Montagna's suit. It would be hard for even the staunchest defender of the school board to support that, and Belleville taxpayers should not be asked to support this with their hard-earned pay.

Economics vs. aesthetics revisited: CVS mall plan can be worked out

In the April 28 issue of the Times, the question of balancing economics and aesthetics in Belleville was addressed. The developer of the CVS Pharmacy and adjoining strip mall was criticized for attempting to install a front parking lot that might become a public eyesore, along with facing buildings inward, away from the street.

It has been disclosed since that time that the developer, Ed Rosenbloom, has shown a willingness to make changes and improvements in the six-figure financial range to try and please the Planning Board and Mayor Marina Perna.

All structures will, indeed, face Washington Avenue. As Rosenbloom pointed out, current trends favor placing parking as close as possible to stores, and neighbors have complained about placing parking in the rear of the site, fearing increased traffic, noise and possibly crime.

Perna is right to continue to push Rosenbloom to keep the designs as pleasing to the eye as possible. Her solution to residents' complaints about parking in the rear is to put landscaped shrubbery buffers in the rear, to keep the traffic from directly impacting residents, is a good one.

Rosenbloom was working with Township Engineer last week to include islands with landscaped shrubbery as part of the parking lot.

Eventually, as Perna said, a compromise, with some parking in front and some in the back, may come to pass. She is justified in comparing this site plan with the recently-approved Taco Bell restaurant. She said the Taco Bell developers worked hard to accommodate the planning board. So to should Rosenbloom.

The final plans may not fit the 'perfect world' scenario of aesthetics that all of us would like, but the bottom line is this: Belleville needs ratable retail properties, and this project would help rehabilitate that end of town.

So the planners, township officials and the developer should endeavor to quickly work out the details so the mall can join the Taco Bell restaurant across the street in bringing ratables and customers back to the downtown. Economics and aesthetics can stand side by side to improve Belleville.

Fuscaldo's independent voice needed in school board mix

Thomas Fuscaldo was elected to the school board despite virtually no endorsement from the teachers association, the school board or the board of education.

He has vowed to remain an independent voice for taxpayers on a school board that some have criticized for overspending and not listening to the problems of residents hurt by property tax increases.

During his campaign he spoke of holding the line on property tax increases until things generally improve economically in town.

The rest of the school board, including the other newcomer, Bob Molinaro, will continue to work hard to ensure a thorough and efficient education for Belleville's youth. Fuscaldo, though, brings a more direct link to many people in town who feel their needs for less taxation are not being addressed.

It will be interesting to see how the rest of the board deals with Fuscaldo's independent voice.

Fuscaldo's election should be taken by the rest of the board as a call for greater accountability for teacher salaries and spending in general. Voters have spoken, now it's time for the school board to listen.

OUR OPINION

Molinaro says thanks to town

To the editor:

I would like to extend to the people of Belleville my appreciation and thanks for bestowing upon me the honor of being elected to the Belleville Board of Education. Their faith and trust in me is truly humbling, and I will certainly try to do what is best for our school system and for Belleville.

I also want to thank all those who helped my campaign by addressing envelopes, making phone calls, allowed a sign on their property, challenged for me at the polls, or contributed in any way to my successful election effort. I certainly would not have won without their help and support.

Finally, I want to offer my congratulations to all the candidates who were in this contest. Campaigning is not easy, and they all are to be commended for their wanting to be involved in the future of Belleville's educational system.

Robert Molinaro

Iannini credits clean campaigns

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere congratulations to both Robert Molinaro and Thomas Fuscaldo for their well-deserved victories in becoming our newest members of the Belleville Board of Education. I am sure that both Mr. Molinaro and Mr. Fuscaldo will prove to be valuable town assets as they fulfill their duties and responsibilities associated with their positions on the Board of Education. I am also confident that both will do their very best to make sure that the children will get the education they need and the equipment and services they deserve.

On a side note, I would also like to express my compliments to both Mr. Grossman and Mr. Montagna for also running exemplary campaigns, and for caring about the future of the Belleville school system. You should both be very proud of your efforts, as you both belong to a very small group of people in town who truly care about the children in our schools.

To all the people who devoted their time and support to me throughout my campaign, I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Once again, congratulations to Bobby and Tommy. You should both be proud of your accomplishments. I wish you both the best of luck in your tenure as members of the Belleville Board of Education.

Anthony Iannini

Preserve history

To the editor:

I am writing to say how pleased I was to read the new column titled "Life in Silver Lake," which appeared in the April 7 edition of the Belleville Times. Ms. Burke's article was filled with many interesting facts and answered several questions that I had about the Silver Lake area.

As a member of several national and state preservation societies as well as being a board member of the Kingsland Manor Trust and Nutley Historical Society, I feel that articles on local history are of great importance. They can give everyone a sense of where their community came from and broaden peoples views on preservation issues.

The four-town area consisting of Newark, Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley is rich in history and full of wonderful buildings and landmarks. As a preservation contractor, I have worked on many fine older homes in the area, each one with its own special story.

I hope to see more articles on local history in all of your papers. Without pride in ones community there can be no community and without active public support for preservation organizations, a square-cut, vinyl-clad neighborhood will be the legacy left to our children.

Bye to 'Beavis and Butthead'

To the editor:

With all the horrible news headlines I have to wonder what is going on in this world? What is the matter with people? People laying down in the street and playing "Chicken," setting fires, throwing bowling balls off of bridges, this is normal? A lot of this is coming from a television show, "Beavis and Butthead."

Morals are something that never go out of style and we need to bring some of them back into our lives. Whatever happened to "Love one another as I have loved you?"

• RICHARD NIXON, one of my favorite presidents, recently died leaving a mixed legacy. He wasn't all good; and he wasn't all bad. In fact, his experience and emotional mix probably matches that of the average American politician at most levels.

If politicians have learned one thing from Nixon's experience, it is that when empowered people are confronted with wrongdoing, there should be an immediate public acknowledgment to acknowledge the act. History has shown that the press and people instinctively rush to judgment - right or wrong. Nixon was guilty of lying to protect his people. That is not the greatest sin that a politician could commit. I will remember the good things that Nixon did for our country; and following the edict of the Bible, I pardon him for the wrongs he may have done. I continue to believe that President Gerald Ford did the right thing for the country by granting Nixon a pardon.

Psalm 23 could very well be an ode to Richard Nixon:

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

President Richard Nixon

• ESSEX COUNTY Executive candidate Cardell Cooper served as Director of the Essex County Summer Program for Disadvantaged Youth and as a senior planner for the County's Office of Employment and Training. The recognition of his good work went beyond the boundaries of East Orange. In 1994, Cooper was presented the "Good Guy" award from the New Jersey Women's Political Caucus. Mayor Cooper was recognized by various groups and leaders involving international appointments. He was one of ten Americans in the American Swiss Association Young Leaders Conference nominated by United States Senator Bill Bradley who travelled to Ermatingen, Switzerland for a week-long international symposium. Later on in the year in October 1990, Cooper travelled to Poland as a member of a delegation of four United States Mayors representing the U. S. Conference of Mayors. Cooper provided assistance and guidance in the organizational aspects of municipal government to mayors elected in Poland's first free local elections in half a century. Three years later, Cooper was selected as one of six U. S. mayors nationwide to travel to Japan to advise government officials on the structure of municipal government. Later that year, Cooper led the State of New Jersey's first trade and investment mission to Ghana which resulted in over $50 Million in business exchange between Ghanaian and U. S. businesses. A year later, Cooper led the U. S. Conference of Mayors delegation to Israel for the Jerusalem Conference of Mayors. He is a member of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority, the administrative agency for the $435 Million Meadowlands Sports Complex. In January, Cooper was named Vice Chairman of the Authority. One of a family of 11 boys, Cooper earned a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from Montclair State College and a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Rutgers University, where he also attended law school.

Postal food drive seeks donations

The National Association of Letter Carriers, in conjunction with United States Postal Service and AFL-CIO, will be collecting non-perishable food items on Saturday, May 14th for distribution to needy families in the local area.

Individual Letter Carriers will go door to door collecting food items from residential mailboxes in Belleville.

Items which are particularly needed by food pantries are: peanut butter; fruit jellies; canned meats such as Spam; powdered milk; macaroni and cheese and canned spaghetti sauce.

Residents are asked to check items for expiration dates prior to donation, and to refrain from donating foods in glass containers.

Towering achievements - First and second grade students and parents from School #3 recently learned teamwork and engineering ingenuity when Teacher Isobel Villano and Principal Mary Bradley had them build towers with only paper, scissors and paper clips. The majority of student/parent teams reached heights of four to five feet with their towers, like first-grader Ryan Calancaquin and his Mom.

Martini Foundation underwriting Belleville Library Arts celebration

The Belleville Library's "Celebration of Literature, Language and the Arts '94" is being partially underwritten with a $7,500 grant from the Nicholas Martini Foundation, a Cedar Grove-based charitable organization.

The library is presenting 10 book discussions on Italian and Spanish literature. Additionally, scholar Dr. Elliot Engle will speak on "The Greatness of Gone With the Wind."

The library will also offer 20 classes in Italian Language.

William Martini, president of the Foundation that bears his family name, said the charity "is proud to underwrite an effort that will, in general, promote a greater appreciation and understanding of a variety of arts and cultures and will specifically help promote the contributions to the art world coming from the Italian culture and the Italian language, which have been integral parts of my family history."

Nicholas Martini, an attorney who started the charity organization in 1986, is one of the original founders of the Boy's Towns of Italy, which were created to help underprivileged Italian children after World War II.

The library's program will also include 16 opera film programs and classes on famous operatic composers. During the summer, the library will also run a creative arts program for children and teenagers.

Elks install officers, honor local citizen

Belleville Elks Lodge #1123 install new officers in April.

The new officers for 1994-95 are: Exalted Ruler: Richard Gagnon; Leading Knight: Frank Zatorski Jr.; Lecturing Knight: Anthony Meglio, Sr.; Loyal Knight: Rocco Balsamo; Esquire: Walter Poniken; Tyler: Joseph Fodero; Inner Guard: Leonard Russo, and Five Year Trustee: Raymond Sobanko.

Sobanko was also honored as Belleville Lodge #1123's Elk of the Year, for the second year in a row, for his outstanding and dedicated service to the lodge.

Officials said a highlight of the evening was the honoring of Patrick T. Dunleavy as Citizen of the Year. Dunleavy is a married father of two children employed by Public Service Gas & Electric as a lineman.

Last summer, during a heatwave, after working a full day, he was called back to work overtime because of the overload work caused by the heatwave.

While enroute between jobs, Dunleavy and a fellow co-worker came upon a house engulfed by fire. They saw a man in a third-floor window trapped in the house.

Without hesitating, they stopped and used a ladder from their truck to rescue the man. They then proceeded to awake the remaining people in the house.

The two left their ladder against the building for about one hour for the firefighters to use.

PSE&G spokeswoman Priscilla Brown said the company was delighted the men were able to assist in the rescue.

"We're very proud of both men. We are proud of their actions and we commend them for their bravery."

Both men said the were the lucky ones that night -- lucky enough to help save a human life.

Life In Silver Lake

Student poem praises Silver Lake; NJT rail plan opposed

Student of the Week
Dina Marie Mele

Let me share with you a poem written by one of our own, Dina Marie Mele, of Heckel Street:

Silver Lake, a great place to be,
It's the home for you and for me.
Neighbors all go hand in hand,
Silver Lake residents are part of the land.

From the beginning of time, the Lake was a great place,

And people knew every face.

As time went on, the Lake began to change in many ways.

The Lake is our home, we should love it with pride and joy,

The Lake is part of the Town and not a Toy.

The Civic Association, we take pride in what we do,

So the Lake will be safe for me and for you.

Crime, drugs, we have in our Town,

The Belleville Police will help us crack down.

We love the Lake and it's our home,

Where we can be who we are,

And love the land with all our pride and joy,

Because like I said before,
Silver Lake, It's not a toy.....

Dina is the daughter of John and Julia Mele, and the granddaughter of Molly Mele and the late 'Matty Brown' Mele, all Silverlakers. What a great poem from Dina.....

Like I said once before, we ARE doing something right in Silver Lake.....

Recently, the residents and members of the SLCA attended a meeting by NJ Transit for a light rail system proposed for the Potomkin property on Franklin Street in Silver Lake.

More than 70 residents attended the meeting at St. Anthony's School. A short presentation took place and the residents were advised that the meeting would break up into 'small group discussions.' I, as the President of the SLCA, requested that instead of adjourning into these small groups, a 'question and answer session' be held with all in attendance. It met with great disapproval from NJT.

Marie Strumolo Burke

They would not in any way adhere to our request, so we left the meeting. The residents felt that by having an open discussion, they could all learn by each other's questions. The feeling of all in attendance from the SLCA was that NJT was trying to 'divide and conquer.'

The SLCA will be circulating petitions to all Silver Lake residents opposing this rail link. Copies will be presented to the Belleville Council. The consensus of the members is that this rail link system would in no way beneficial to the residents of Silver Lake and the Township of Belleville. As the editorial in the Belleville Times stated last week, "If I were a Silver Lake homeowner, it would be nearly impossible for me to not have nightmares about a run-down, crime-infested, non-reversible negative in may backyard." Let me say no more.....Anyone interested in helping to obtain signatures, please contact me at 759-6849.

Let me mention two of my favorite ladies on Heckel Street, Antoinette De Panis and Jennie Contaldi. I can expect to hear from these 'civic-minded ladies' at least once a week and we try to alleviate their concerns. I wish more residents were like them. By the way, let me mention that they are the wives of Marty De Panis and Angelo Contaldi. Happy Birthday to you.....Frank Maenza of Jeraldo Street.

I hope everyone has been noticing Franklin Street lately. Frank Maenza, Toby, and Mike installed a decorative fence around the trees in front of Barbone's Sunoco Station where they work. Other residents are following suit and Franklin Street is 'looking good.' Thank you Guys. (By the way I got pretty jealous of the fence and may neighbor and tenant Joseph Marra of Heckel Street constructed and installed a fence around our trees.) Thanks Joe.

A lovely lady from Naples Avenue, Terri Spera, will hit the 'big 50' on June 5th. Happy Birthday to you..... Congratulations are in order for Tina Charles of Naples Avenue and her intended husband, Pat, who will 'tie the knot' at the end of the month. Have a happy marriage, kids!..... Happy speedy recovery to Tom Speduto of Lake Street. He is a competent Public Works employee. Get well, Tom.....

Remember, We love Silver Lake.....

Tip of the Week - Buccino's Italian Delicatessen, Franklin Street, Silver Lake. A fine array of Italian favorites and lots of congenial atmosphere -- If they don't have it no one does.....

class sizes. If no one attends certain classes, maybe they should be eliminated," Molinaro.

Fuscaldo said the school schedule should include a full-day of observance for Columbus Day, Fuscaldo said, "because of the ethnic background" of much of Belleville.

"A good number of parents have told me they want to do away with winter vacation in February," Fuscaldo said, "I think it's a good idea to get the students out earlier in June, since the best learning does not take place in late June."

Fuscaldo said his swearing in by Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood was symbolic of his pledge "to truly be an independent board member."

Nazziola outlined his goals for the coming year. First, he said the board must continue to in-depth analysis of how to reduce out of district special education transportation costs, by "providing these services with equipment we already have available."

The board should continue to work with the Office of Equal Education Opportunity for "relief from the desegregation order which cost the taxpayers hundreds of thousands of in-district transportation costs since implementation in 1981 and seek approval of students to the Neighborhood Schools Plan," according to Nazziola.

Nazziola said he wants to "respond to increased enrollment by re-opening the old School #1 as an elementary school," using in-house maintenance workers to do most of the work.

Funding would come from the continued use of the E.C.I.A. loan of $200,000 per year that has been used the last five years to replace school roofs, windows and buses, instead of "hitting taxpayers with $1 million of such costs in a single year," the school board president said.

A committee of the board and members of the administration, Nazziola said, "will meet and cooperate in every way with a committee of the council to resolve the issue of the budget rejection."

As the district prepares for an upcoming Middle States evaluation, Nazziola said "Making quality education available to children could make all the difference in their lives."

DRIVING HOME A POINT

Those who think to apply sunscreen only before they take part in prolonged outdoor activity may want to think again. Sunscreen application should be more of a full-time proposition. Consider the case of drivers who think that their car windows protect their skin from the damaging effects of the sun. This is only partly true. While glass does screen out most ultraviolet B (UVB) rays, it does nothing to stop deeper penetrating ultraviolet A (UVA) rays. Proof of this comes from statistics which show skin cancer to occur more frequently on the right side of the face in England and on the left side of the face in America. People on both sides of the Atlantic have good reason to apply sunscreen to exposed areas of the skin on a daily basis.

People in this area have many good reasons for coming to ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue, 759-1956, 759-1968. Our staff is friendly and helpful, our prescription service is prompt, and we provide free prescription delivery. We also handle the sale and rental of walkers, wheel chairs, crutches, canes, and other convalescent aids.

HINT: While UVB rays may be most prevalent between the hours of 10am and 2pm, UVA rays remain strong throughout all daylight hours.

Clara Maass offers low cost mammography

One in nine American women are at risk of developing breast cancer in their lifetime, according to the American Cancer Society (ACS) -- a frightening statistic.

The good news is that on Saturday, May 14, Clara Maass Health System is offering a reduced-rate mammography, for only $40, to women who meet eligibility requirements.

To see if you qualify, call Catherine Abbott, M.S.N., R.N.C., at 450-2213. Clara Maass is co-sponsoring the screening with ACS.

Regular check-ups and self-examination can save your life and mammography is the best method of locating cancer in the breast, long before it is palpated during breast self-examination, according to Michael Scoppetulo, M.D., cancer committee chairman.

Early detection is the best weapon against breast cancer. If you are a woman 40 years of age or older and have not had a recent breast examination performed, or if you have noticed a change in the appearance of your breasts, you should have a mammography, Dr. Scoppetulo said.

ACS says breast cancer is the second major cause of deaths in women, and although incidence rates are increasing, early detection and improved treatment have kept mortality rates stable for the past 50 years.

Registration is mandatory for the screening, by calling 450-2213.

West Hudson Hospital adds computedtomography system

West Hudson Hospital has purchased the most advanced computed tomography (CT) system available for its Radiology Department, Carmen B. Alecci, chief executive officer, announced.

The CT scanner delivers reduced radiation dosages to patients and provides consistent, high-quality images to aid in diagnosis. The scanner will allow West Hudson Hospital to more accurately and efficiently diagnose disease at an early stage, and may facilitate and speed up recovery time.

The new CT system, a Picker PQ-2000, combines the most advanced technology in electronics and computer science to produce x-ray images of a thin cross-sectional slice of the body. These images precisely identify the location of organs and their internal structure, including normal and abnormal fluid compartments and changes in tissue that may reflect disease.

A key benefit of the new CT system is spiral scanning capability. This new technology enables physicians to scan a larger area of patient anatomy in just a few minutes, and is primarily effective for vascular evaluation and trauma situations, where speed of coverage improves results.

The advanced technology allows the CT scanner to employ scanning protocols and reduce the demand on the X-ray tube and provide the highest dose efficiency of any CT system.

CT scanning allows radiologists and physicians to see inside the human body to more accurately diagnose a patient's condition in a safe, fast and painless procedure, eliminating the need for some exploratory surgery.

The unique design of the system makes scanning accessible to all patients in a non-claustrophobic setting.

To compliment the new scanner, the hospital has purchased an enhancing visualization station that provides optimal advanced capabilities for two-dimensional analysis and three-dimensional reconstruction of the scanned images in real time.

According to Alecci, the new equipment represents a major upgrade in CT capabilities, a service the hospital has made available in its Radiology Department since 1983.

Water commission lauds Assembly action

The North Jersey District Water Supply Commission said the New Jersey General Assembly has taken a giant step forward in protecting the water supplies which will be critical to New Jersey's economy during the next century.

Executive Director Michael E. Restaino, speaking at the commission's Wanaque Reservoir, said many of the initial news reports from the Assembly's special April 25 session "neglected to emphasize the importance not only of preserving the quality of water, but the legislation's guaranteeing that designated water sources be retained for New Jersey's future needs."

The bill would enable the NJDWSC to identify and legally protect potential water supply sources on new parklands in the Highlands and Skylands which would be managed by the Palisades Interstate Park Commission. The legislation for the first time enables the Palisades Commission to acquire parklands in New Jersey in much the same way the agency has developed open space recreational facilities on the New York side of the border.

"Without the foresight offered by Assembly Bill 623, parklands could have been acquired without any guarantee that the accompanying water supply potential be reserved for New Jersey. The importance of this provision may seem insignificant today, but unfortunately, the availability of new water supplies is so restricted in New Jersey and neighboring states that without the protection offered by A-623, our economy and way of life could be critically affected in the not too distant future."

Restaino said the NJDWSC had worked closely with the bill's sponsors, Assembly Speaker Garabed "Chuck" Haytaian, R-23, and Assemblywoman Maureen Ogden, R-22, chairperson of the Environment and Energy Committee, on the water supply protection issue.

The NJDWSC, which supplies water to Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley, said funding for the new parklands which would be managed by the Palisades Interstate Park Commission would come from state, regional, federal and private sources. Acquisition of the Sterling Forest preserve in nearby New York State is the initial priority, Restaino said.

Take a Bubbie Break

The Bubbie Break, North America's first non-denominational television talk show devoted to the issues and concerns of grandparents, made its New Jersey debut on Sunday, May 8, on OBC-TV.

"The Bubbie Break" is moving across the border after four very successful seasons on the air in Canada.

Each week Marion Schwarz, the host of the series, invites a wide variety of visitors into her living room to discuss contemporary issues of importance to grandparents. Guests range from health professionals talking about how AIDS or Alzheimer's affects the grandparent/grandchild relationship, to celebrities such as Alan Dershowitz, or the World Series-winning Toronto Blue Jays.

There is also a lighter side to the series. The world moose calling champion is a great-grandmother who visits the Bubbie and demonstrates her award winning moose calling ability. A gay grandfather lets "Bubbie Break" viewers into his world, while he discusses the ramifications of his lifestyle on his grandchildren. Drag-racing grannies talk about their need for speed and perhaps the highlight of the series, a nudist grandfather shares (not literally) his unique insights with Bubbie.

The Bubbie talks to many grandparents about their special and personal relationships with their grandchildren and she talks to grandchildren from 3 years of age and up about what makes their grandparents special.

Today's grandparents play a significant role in family life. They may act as surrogate parents, advisors, confidantes, and in some cases economic resources. However, the most important role of the grandparent is as the keeper of the family heritage; a wisdom so special and fragile it marks the identity of each one of us.

"The Bubbie Break" will air on OBC-TV every Sunday at 12:30 p.m. The shows will then be repeated on Thursday evenings at 10 p.m.

Reduced rate mammography available at Clara Maass

One in nine American women are at risk of developing breast cancer in their lifetime, according to the American Cancer Society (ACS) — a frightening statistic.

The good news is that there are new, high-tech, low-cost methods of detecting breast cancer in its earliest stages, the period when it is most easily treated.

This Saturday, Clara Maass Health System of Belleville is offering a reduced rate mammography, only $40, to women who meet eligibility requirements. Clara Maass Health System is co-sponsoring the screening with the American Cancer Society.

"Regular check-ups and self-examination can save your life," said Michael Scoppetuo, M.D., cancer committee chairman. "Right now, mammography is the best method of locating a cancer in the breast, long before it is palpated during breast self-examination," he said.

Early detection is the best weapon against breast cancer. "If you are a woman 40 years of age

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

“Like Talking to the Wall”

As this never ending story on the facilities at Municipal Stadium continues, I feel it necessary to clarify to a few things.

First off, Buc Shots has not been, nor ever will be, a forum for political views. This column has appeared weekly in this newspaper since February of 1979 and I have been a sports writer for it is paper since September of 1975, when I was still a student at Belleville High School.

I have the utmost respect for politicians, on any level, because on most occasions, it is a thankless job. Long hours, someone is always complaining about something, and just when it appears you have a handle on the job, it's time to run for re-election and the cycle starts all over again, with sometimes expensive campaigns, sometimes mud slinging affairs that leave a bad taste in voters and elected officials mouths long after the ballots have been cast.

The purpose of this feature is to explore why the facilities at Municipal Stadium continue to erode, why no one in a position of authority seems to care, or if they do care, why nothing has been done to rectify the situation, and what can be done to enhance the complex in the future.

Hopefully, this will be met with constructive ideas and, in the end, the ultimate goal of improving the area, so our young athletes (and isn't this what it's all about anyway?) can have a place to compete in that is not only acceptable, but will give pride and enjoyment to our community.

If, on the other hand, it is met with continued finger pointing and never ending debate on who is ultimately responsible, then our tax payers will see the bureaucracy at its finest, and the continued demise of what could be a fine facility, both for the students at Belleville High School, the recreation youth and the taxpayers of our township.

Four years ago, the Township of Belleville voted to change its form of government. The new set up offered our township a mayor and council. Shortly after this conversion, the council appointed a Recreation and Cultural Affairs Advisory Council (RCAAC). Seven members were appointed (each member of the government elected one council member).

The purpose of the RCAAC was to look into the facilities at Municipal Stadium, among other things, and to outline a plan to enhance the area. The idea was not to “band-aid” the area, it was rather to give serious consideration to the correct and proper way to make the facility an up-to-date place that will endure the test of time.

It was a tremendous idea, and the seven people assigned to the council took its work seriously. Many of the members, (perhaps all) have children in the Belleville school system, so the job certainly hits close to home. The members are also taxpaying citizens, and anyone in this township who has a pulse will tell you that taxes continue to rise and that it requires a hard days work to make ends meet in today's cost of living standard.

The RCAAC (I have given the council those initials for the sake of saving space, it is not their official designation) took their job quite seriously. They put together independent studies. One of the members, Jim Landon, devoted a great deal of his time to putting together a sophisticated survey of the Municipal Complex.

The RCAAC reported to the Mayor and Council on a consistent basis. They presented to the Council their ideas, in a well thought out four plan goal, appropriately called the “Landon Plan.”

One of the members of the RCAAC, Bruce Morgan, has had a very keen interest in the project. His son attended Belleville High School (he graduated last spring) and was a pretty good baseball player.

Morgan has been a member of the council since its inception 3 1/2 years ago. He, as has the other members of the RCAAC, have chosen to be professional in their approach to dealing with the “Mess at Municipal” (my words, not his). But after 3 1/2 years of foot dragging and procrastination which would make the politicians in Washington, D.C. proud, it's time to let others know what has been done to enhance the facilities.

“We've given the Council updated reports, we've submitted proposals. The Mayor and Council have been very understanding, but, the bottom line is nothing is being done.

“It's like talking to the wall.”

Morgan noted that in 1990 and '91, when the RCAAC first began its work, the Belleville High School tennis team was already playing its matches on the road, because there were not adequate facilities for the team to compete at Belleville High School.

“We knew the tennis team was already in trouble,” Morgan said. “And we also knew the track team was nearing the same problem.”

Guess what? The track team, as has been well documented here the past few weeks, has endured the road show for the fourth straight spring and sixth time in the past eight seasons.

The tennis situation is a blatant disgrace, and for a few simple reasons. Back in 1977, the first set of courts were built adjacent to Municipal Stadium. A few years later, the second set was designed in the parking lot of Belleville High School. Both courts were used both by the high school tennis team and the public and they were pretty popular places to play tennis.

In the span of a decade, the courts by the Stadium no longer exist. They are today an eyesore. The courts by the parking lot are still there, but they are in desperate need of repair. If you saw last weeks Belleville Times, then you saw the earthquake size cracks on the facade.

It's a simple matter of pure neglect. What would it have cost to just maintain the facilities over the years? Instead, they were completely ignored and today, it will probably cost a great deal more to repair, or, to totally rebuild the courts.

This feature will continue next week. At that time, you will be interested in finding out how our Township responded to the Council's “Landon Plan”, how the people in authority ignored the RCAAC's near pleading for the baseball field to be properly main-

Bucs stop Livingston in GNT

By Mike Lamberti

Two convincing victories were sandwiched by one frustrating defeat for the Belleville baseball team last week.

Chuck Martin's team beat arch rival Nutley 12-5 in league play last Wednesday. Last Saturday, Belleville ended a long dry spell against Livingston, beating the Lancers 8-4 in the first round of the Greater Newark Tournament.

In between those victories was a tough 4-3 loss to Don Bosco last Friday afternoon.

The Bucs took a 10-6 record into a league game with St. Joe's last Monday. Yesterday, the team faced Hackensack and tomorrow, Paramus comes to town for a 4 p.m. game. On Saturday, the Bucs travel to Verona for a quarterfinal contest against either Columbia or Seton Hall Prep. The time of that game is yet to be determined. Next Monday, it's off to Teaneck and next Wednesday, the Bucs go to Paramus Catholic. Those two games begin at 4 p.m.

Against Nutley, the Bucs came out inspired and scored eight runs in the first two innings.

“The kids were fired up for that game,” Martin said. “If you can't get up for that one, there's no game you can be ready for. Part of our problem is the inability to put teams away. This time, we were able to keep the pressure on and we won.”

Belleville scored four times in the top of the first, the key hit a two run single by senior centerfielder Anthony Caruso. Jerry Turi, Mike Mundy, Brian Dena and Dan Brunello scored runs for the Bucs in the first.

Nutley came right back with four runs off Brian Dena, the starting pitcher, but Dena settled down after the first and pitched very well.

The Bucs tallied four more in the second. Dena crushed a three run homer, scoring Mundy and Turi to highlight that inning.

The Raiders scored once in the third and Belleville came back with four runs in the fourth.

In that inning, Joe DePeri hit a grand slam homer, scoring Caruso, Brian Dena and Bob Dena.

For the game, Brian Dena had three hits and Turi and Caruso had two hits each. Belleville had 14 hits in the game.

Brian Dena hurled a complete game, striking out eight and walking four.

Against Don Bosco, the Bucs lost a one run game for the fourth time this season. Belleville's other two losses were each by two runs.

“I'm tired of hearing how close we are, how we should be 14-2 instead of 10-6,” Martin said. “You have to find ways to win those games, and we're not doing it. It's just another story of not staying mentally in the game. For some reason, we seem to think we've got the game in the bag. You'd think by now they would realize it isn't that easy.”

The Bucs led 1-0 after two innings, then increased their lead to 3-0 in the fifth. In the second, Brian Dena hit a solo homer.

“Brian's been carrying us,” Martin said. “He hit a rocket against Don Bosco. It had to have gone 350 feet.”

The Bucs two runs in the fifth inning were scored by Jim Landon and DePeri. Those runs scored on a Don Bosco error.

“We're up 3-0 and we start making mistakes,” Martin said. “They come back and tie the game in the fifth.”

“We have opportunities to score in the sixth and seventh, but we don't run the bases properly, we don't do the little things necessary to win. Everyone has to contribute, and everyone has to understand the importance of mentally being in the game at all times.”

Don Bosco won the game with a bases loaded single in the seventh inning.

Brunello hurled a tremendous game, despite taking the loss. The junior struck out six, allowed just one earned run and gave up just four hits.

“Danny's been doing a super job all year long,” Martin said. “He just hasn't had much help.”

Last Saturday, the Bucs advanced in the GNT with an 8-4 triumph over Livingston. It was Belleville's first win over the Lancers in a varsity baseball game in at least 20 years.

The Bucs took control early, scoring five runs in the first. Brunello led off with a single and went to third on a Turi single. Landon blasted a two run double and went to third on a Brian Dena single.

Mundy, the starting and eventual winning pitcher, singled to load the bases. Bob Dena hit into a fielders choice, Landon out at the plate. With the bases still loaded, Caruso hit a sacrifice fly to score Brian Dena and DePeri singled to bring in Mundy. Ivan Martin's ground rule double brought in Bob Dena with the fifth run. Brunello, who started the inning with a double, ended the frame by grounding out.

In the second, Brian Dena belted a long double that scored Turi with the sixth run.

Belleville made it 7-0 in the third when Caruso singled, went to second on a wild pitch, third on an error and scored when DePeri reached safely on an error.

Livingston tallied twice in the last of the third. Belleville made it 8-2 in the fifth. Once again, Caruso singled, stole second, went to third on a throwing error and scored when DePeri reached on a fielding error.

Mundy fanned nine batters in throwing a complete game. He gave up four runs and seven hits.

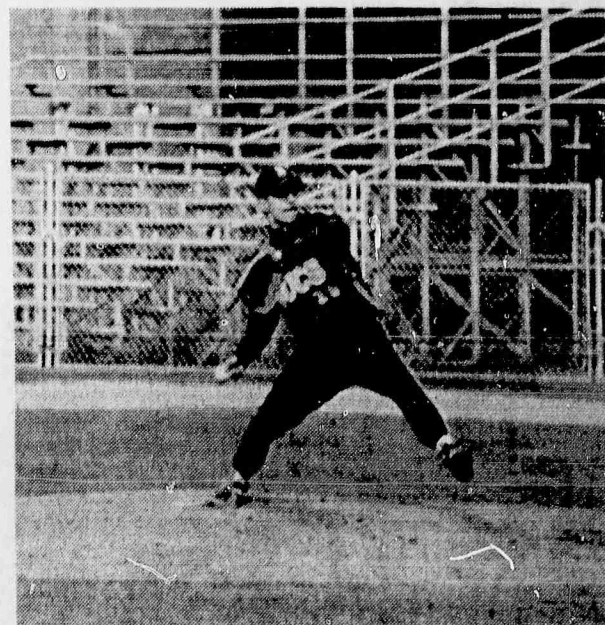

Belleville, which had 11 hits, was led by Brian Dena, Turi and Caruso, all of whom had two hits each.

Caruso also scored two runs in the contest.

NOTES: Bucs are 3-4 in NNJL Pacific Division play, 7-2 outside of the league heading into this weeks action.

The last time Belleville made it as far as the GNT semi finals was 1987, when George Zanfini's team lost to Glen Ridge in the semis. The Bucs need to win this Saturday at Verona to advance to the semis.

Womens' Jr. 4 starts “season” with City Championship crown

By Mike Lamberti

Led by the womens junior four shell, the Belleville crew team did an excellent job at the City Championships last Sunday in Philadelphia.

Dennis Villano's team will travel to Poughkeepsie, New York this Saturday for the annual Mid Hudson Regatta. This race begins around 9:30 a.m., thus the team has to leave the boathouse in North Arlington at 4 a.m.

Villano has said all along that the “real” season begins in May for his team.

“The month of April is the warmup for us,” the coach said. “May is our season. It's regatta season. We work all season for the regattas, and hopefully, we can reach our peak as May nears. Right now, I'm pleased with the effort of all the boats. I think they can be very effective this month.”

At last weekend's race, the womens junior four rallied past an old nemesis, Lower Merion, and won by eight seconds.

“We lost to Lower Merion by eight seconds in the semi final race,” Villano explained. “Coach (Dan) Passarella (the coach of the womens team) made some adjustments and we came back to win in the finals. It was a tremendous victory. When you can improve by a full :16, it says a great deal about the determination of our team. They took the lead at the outset of the race and never looked back.”

The junior four shell consists of Caren Villano, Mindy Schmidt, VeraLynn Godlesky, Vivian DellaVecchia and Michelle Scanzillo.

All tolled, six boats competed at the City championships, with five earning trips to the finals.

The womens lightweight four took second, the mens pair finished second, the mens senior four placed fifth and the mens novice eight took sixth.

“I have a lot of optimism for all the shells, but especially for the womens lightweight four and the mens senior four. I think those boats are ready to do some really good things,” Villano said.

Two weeks ago, the team competed in the state championships in Mercer County.

“Everyone rowed well there, even though we didn't have any first place finishes,” Villano said.

“Maureen Russo's (the novice coach) mens novice eight team did a real good job against a strong Holy Spirit team, knocking that boat out of the finals in the City Championships after that same team won at the states. That shell has made up :18 in two weeks.

“The Mid Hudson will be a good test for us. There will be some good teams there.”

As for his team, Villano is optimistic.

“We're right where I would like us to be. We're focussing on the Mid Hudson, with the Stotesbury and Nationals just down the road.”

A.C. (4 hits), Giachetti, Brodo lead Lady Bucs past P.C.

By Mike Lambert

Despite hitting the ball well last week, the Belleville softball team lost two of three games and fell to 9-8 on the '94 season.

Cheryl Marion's team battled Hackensack yesterday. Tomorrow, it's off to Paramus for a 4 p.m. game. Next Monday, Teaneck comes to Clearmon Field and next Wednesday, Paramus Catholic visits Belleville. Both of those games begin at 4 p.m.

The Lady Bucs started last week by downing Paramus Catholic 9-3. The team then lost a tough 7-6 decision to Nutley, the fifth straight loss to the Raiders dating back to May of 1992. Last Friday, the team lost to Immaculate Heart 8-2 although Marion was pleased with her teams performance in that game.

Against P.C., Belleville came back from an early 3-0 deficit to win on the road.

Trailing 3-0 in the third, the Lady Bucs rallied on singles by Andrea Curran and Lynn Giachetti. Kristin Galioto and Daniele Brodo reached on errors, Curran scoring on the Brodo miscue. Jeannie Mazzucca then singled home Giachetti with the second run.

Belleville tied the game in the fourth. Curran and Giachetti both walked and Jackie Cerami's single scored Curran with the third run.

In the fifth, Belleville broke the game open with fourth runs. The rally started with walks to Mazzucca and Jeannie Torres. Singles by Kim Mahoney and Curran scored two runs and a double by Giachetti drove home two more runs, giving Belleville a 7-3 lead.

The final two runs for the Lady Bucs came in the seventh, thanks to singles from Curran, Giachetti and Cerami.

Kim Piscatowski pitched a tremendous game in winning her ninth of the year. The junior won career game number 44 by striking out ten and allowing just four hits.

Offensively, Curran was outstanding. The junior third baseman had four hits and a walk. Giachetti continued her fine hitting with three hits. Cerami and Brodo had two hits each.

Versus Nutley, Belleville fell behind early, then staged a late rally which fell short.

Both teams scored two runs in the first. For Belleville, Mahoney singled and scored on a triple by Cerami. Galioto lined a single to bring home Cerami with the second run.

Nutley scored four times in the third and once in the fifth to assume a 7-2 lead. But Belleville came back with four in the last of the sixth.

Galioto and Brodo drew walks. Piscatowski singled to load the bases and Natalie Cruise walked to force home a run. Trailing 7-3, Belleville got a big hit from Curran, a triple that cleared the bases and cut the lead to 7-6.

Curran was left stranded at third and Belleville could not score in the seventh.

"We left so many people on base in that game," Marion said. "We had runners on first and second three different times and twice, we had runners on second and third and couldn't score.

"We hit the ball, but we couldn't capitalize."

Curran and Piscatowski led the Belleville attack with two hits each. Piscatowski pitched the entire game, striking out two and walking one.

Against Immaculate Heart, Marion was happy with her teams effort against a solid opponent.

"I thought it was one of the best games we've played. Immaculate Heart made some great plays. We hit the ball well and tried to make some things happen. That first inning really hurt us, though."

In the first, Immaculate Heart scored five runs and that pretty much kept Belleville on its heels throughout.

Belleville scored its two runs in the fifth inning.

For the game, Mahoney, Curran and Brodo had two hits each.

B.S.A. going strong, Cobras sweep weekend

The Belleville Soccer Association (BSA) went into this past weekend looking very competitive in all their respective age groups, and the two older teams did nothing to dampen that image.

The Division 1 Belleville Cobras went into the weekend with many question marks surrounding their season. A 1-2 record was mainly attributed to a sluggish offense that scored only four goals in the first three games. This past weekend, however, the Cobras displayed the type of offensive attack they have been waiting for all season. Playing games on both Saturday and Sunday, the local team scored four goals in each game and came away with two impressive wins.

Saturday, Belleville visited the Branchburg Eagles and exploded in the second half for their four tallies, besting Branchburg, 4-0.

Leading the charge in this game were captain Stan Saja and Frank Tafur, who scored two goals each. On the first goal, Saja demonstrated excellent ball control and blazing speed. Going from midfield, through four defenders, Saja powered a line drive shot to the lower side of the goal.

Saja's second goal came off of an excellent pass from Nikolay Castro. Castro crossed the ball from the left side of the field into the middle where Saja was waiting. After getting the ball under control, Saja again powered the ball into the back of the net, giving Belleville a 2-0 lead.

Next, it was time for Tafur to do some scoring. After beating a defender, Tafur was tripped in the penalty area, thus giving him a free kick from 12 yards away. Tafur placed the ball just to the right of the goalkeeper for his first goal.

Tafur's second goal came off an assist from midfielder Diego

Paredes.

On Sunday, Belleville hosted the Bloomfield Tigers. In the first half, Belleville jumped out to a quick two goal lead, the first time Belleville has scored in the first half this year.

Forwards Anthony Rasczyk and Christian Castro each had a goal and an assist in the first half, with each setting up the other for the goals. Also assisting in Castro's goal was his brother, Nikolay.

Bloomfield then cut the deficit to one, making the score 2-1 at halftime. In the second half, Bloomfield put a lot of pressure on the Cobras' defense. However, defenders Santiago Salme, Anthony Vitella, Frank Toledo, and Marcello Giorlando played strong, allowing only a few good scoring chances to reach goalkeeper captain Mike Percio.

Percio registered 11 saves on the day. Belleville then went on the offensive again. Rasczyk scored his second goal of the game, being set up by Frank Tafur. Salme tallied the final goal unassisted.

In other action for the BSA, the Division 2 Vipers raised their record to 4-1-1 this past weekend. On Saturday, the Vipers suffered their first defeat of the season, 3-1 at the hands of Berkeley Heights, with Remo Iannitelli scoring the only goal.

On Sunday, Belleville scored early and never looked back, beating South Brunswick, 5-1.

Scoring for the Vipers were captain Nick Thatcher, Iannitelli, Danny Bartosiewicz, Anoop Dadlaney, and team goal scoring leader Sal Aguiar. Goalkeeper Natale Guagliardi has played exceptionally well all season with the help of defenders Nick Andrettola, Ricky Racines, Chris Harrera, and Joe Emmolo.

tained and some other highlights that will tell you that the people in charge either don't care, or just don't get it.

You decide.

In the meantime, look at the pictures in last weeks issue of the tennis courts and perhaps you can understand why we build nice facilities then sit back and watch them deteriorate.

Last Weeks Quiz

In 1981, the Buc starting infield for the GNT championship game consisted of Eugene Cancelliere at first, Frank Fazzini at second, shortstop Ken Constantino and third baseman Joe "Bluto" Corbals. The catcher was Phil Cerza and the starting pitcher was Anthony Coco.

For This Week

Who was the last major league player to drive in 100 or more runs in a season and not hit at least ten homers? What year did it happen? What team did that player play for? How did that team do that season? (A hint: the player played for my favorite team).

Stallions fall, 2-1

On Sunday, May 8, the New Jersey Stallions soccer team played against the Allstate America team and lost, 2-1.

Allstate scored first, 20 minutes into the first half. The New Jersey Stallions knotted the score 10 minutes later on a free kick by Fred DeMatthaeis. Allstate scored again in the second half.

The Stallions came close to scoring on several occasions but were unable to do so. Three players on the starting line-up were missing from the Stallions team.

The New Jersey Stallions return home in Belleville Municipal Stadium this Saturday night, May 14, at 8 p.m. against the Polish American Eagles. The Eagles are currently in first place in the NESSL.

This game will be very interesting in the sense that the two teams play a different style of soccer. The New Jersey Stallions need to win to get into the playoffs.

Admission is $5, and kids are admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

tion 1.150-2, and no further action (or inaction) will be an abusive arbitrage device in accordance with Federal Treasury Regulation Section
1.148-10 to avoid the arbitrage yield restrictions or arbitrage rebate requirements under Sections 142 through 147 of the Internal Revenue Code
(the "Code"). The proceeds

Seniors festival planned

The 21st annual Essex County Senior Citizens Cultural Festival will be held at South Mountain Arena, Northfield Avenue, West Orange, on Thursday, May 19.

The festival represents a cooperative effort by the Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs, the Essex County Division on Aging, and more than 150 community agencies to provide a day-long schedule of activities for senior citizens.

Highlighting this year's theme of "Music, Music, Music," the New Jersey Pops Orchestra, under the direction of Mike Buglio of Livingston, will perform on the main stage. The outdoor stage will feature the Big Band sounds of Danny Hope, Dick Perry and Phil Brito.

Special workshops have been organized to give seniors a chance to meet and speak with professionals on various subjects. Workshops to be held in the Arena Press Room include "Taxes and the Law for Seniors" by Essex-Newark Legal Services; "Saving Energy and Saving Money" by Public Service Electric and Gas Energy Conservation Center; and "Credit Card Fraud" by Chemical Bank. A special "Senior Jobs Workshop" will be conducted by Jewish Vocational Services as part of its annual senior citizens jobs fair.

Additional workshops will be held outside the Arena including "Anyone Can Learn to Draw" with Len Kurland; "Basic Pottery and Clay" with members of the New Jersey Potters Guild; "Seniors and Jazz Music" with Lenore Raphael; and "Seniors and Folk Music" with Lou Hollander.

Dancing, singing, food concessions, a flea market, and arts and crafts displays are also planned to make this a memorable day for all attendees. For more information, contact the Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs at 857-8530.

Woman's Club attends conference

Three members of the Woman's Club of Belleville recently attended the Eighth District Spring Conference and Achievement Day.

The theme of the conference was "Today's Woman Facing Tomorrow's Challenges."

Representing the Woman's Club of Belleville were Marie Drake, NJSCFWC Headquarter's Chairperson, and members Helen Todish and Lillian Winfield.

The club was proud to receive several awards at the conference, including Creative Arts Awards won by Marie Drake. She won first-place ribbons for a decorated sweatshirt, a crocheted doily, and a quilted pillow.

Membership pins were presented to Loretta Fulda, Pam Barrett, and Jeannie Cassilli for bringing in two more new members.

The Pressbook, compiled and edited by Carol Bittel, received an Honorable Mention, as did the Community Improvement Report.

Members of the Woman's Club said they were pleased to attend the conference and to bring home so many awards.

Junior Miss

candidates sought

The Essex County Junior Miss Scholarship Program is now seeking candidates who will graduate with the high school class of 1995 to compete for scholarship awards.

The Nutley Jaycees will sponsor their 32nd annual scholarship program in November at Nutley High School.

Floor Care Innovations Making Cleaning Easier, Quieter

News USA

(NU) - Just when you were thinking this is about as good as it gets when it comes to floor care, vacuum cleaner manufacturers are pulling some innovative new features out of the bag.

Among them: special brushes for bare floor cleaning, a carpet cleaning machine with a motorized scrubber head and powerful new hand vacs.

Ryobi, which makes Singer brand vacuum cleaners, has also introduced a new 12 amp upright that's so quiet, night owls can use it without waking the baby — or annoying the neighbors in the apartment next door.

The machine, which just recently came on the market, has a quiet cleaning feature, says Ryobi Vice President Gary Gosztonyi, that lets you "reduce noise level by adjusting a dial."

Sweeping Through History

While modern vacuum-cleaner manufacturers worry about such things as reducing noise pollution, there were other concerns when the machines were first introduced at the turn of the century.

"Some were so big they required two handles like a wheel barrow," Gosztonyi says. "They were mainly used in commercial applications. They really weren't appropriate for household use — they were just too big and awkward."

It wasn't until later that canister vacuum cleaners for home use first appeared. But they, too, were clumsy things made of metal tubes with a hose at one end and an exhaust pipe at the other. They rested on chrome runners rather than riding on wheels.

The home cleaning machine has come a long way since then.

For instance, the Singer product line includes the first wet/dry deep cleaning system with a motorized power scrubber head and a new hand vac with a revolving brush.

Manufacturers are also developing new battery-powered vacuums, Gosztonyi says.

He also predicts the industry will develop a standardized formula to measure the cleaning efficiency of a vacuum cleaner, as well as its power.

Both Singer's hand vac and the upright with the Quiet Clean feature are available with a full range of attachments. For a free brochure, call 1-800-845-5020.

Ryobi, based in South Carolina, makes floor-care products, power tools, lawn and garden equipment, automotive die-cast products, and sporting goods.

Proper Lawn Care Reduces Harmful Emissions by 32 Percent

News USA

(NU) - Engine manufacturers are developing lawn mower engines that produce far less air pollution than older models.

Although emissions from off-road gas or diesel-powered engines contribute only 2.6 percent of the total emissions currently added to the air, controlling emissions is a serious task. Manufacturers are working to eliminate even fractions of emissions given off by their products. For example, Briggs & Stratton Corporation has developed a gasoline engine that can power a lawn mower for 38 years before it produces the amount of emissions emitted by a newer model car driven for 10,000 miles.

But protecting the earth's natural resources is everyone's responsibility. And according to engine maker Briggs & Stratton, there is a lot that lawn-mower users can do to further reduce air pollution. Here are some of their tips for reducing fuel and engine emissions:

• Avoid Gasoline Spills. The average spill causes as much pollution as operating a mower for one hour. Prevent spills by buying a "non-spill" gas container and filling the fuel tank only 3/4 full. Close the refueling container's vent for storage to reduce evaporated emissions. Don't leave the refueling container in the sun, and store it in a cool place. Also avoid tipping the mower during maintenance when the tank is full.

• Reduce Mowing Time. Sharpen the mower blade regularly, keep the underside of the deck clean and cut the grass in the most time-efficient manner to keep the running time to a minimum.

• Keep It Maintained. Use lead-free gasoline and up to 10 percent ethanol. Use 30-weight oil for summer temperatures and change the oil after 20-25 hours of use (recycling the oil). Clean or replace the air cleaner elements at least every three months. Maintain correct carburetor adjustment and tune up regularly.

In addition to reducing emissions, practice environmentally sound yard maintenance by mulching or composting grass clippings. Finally, plant more grass and trees. It's nature's way of reducing potential pollution by converting carbon dioxide into oxygen.

Briggs & Stratton is the world's largest producer of air-cooled gasoline engines for outdoor power equipment and locks for automobiles and trucks. It designs, manufactures, markets and services these products for power equipment manufacturers worldwide.

DECORATING

New Lighting System Is Right On Trac

(NU) - As spring begins to brighten up your yard, try to imagine the effect of brightening your kitchen, as well. Or any part of your house, for that matter.

The advent of miniature trac lighting has opened up some new possibilities for light lovers. The 3/4-inch-wide lights in Juno Lighting's new Trac 12 low-voltage system accept, for example, a variety of miniature fixtures for strip and trac display lighting.

This means you can put the trac in hitherto unheard-of places — out of sight in bookcases, glass-front cabinets, mouldings, kick-spaces, stair treads, handrails, under kitchen cabinets and on low-ceiling soffits. The tiny lights are three or five-watt fixtures, a mere 1 1/2-inches long and can be spaced along the trac as required to provide continuous illumination.

Miniature high-intensity halogen spotlights so small one can fit in the palm of your hand, can be snapped in the trac, too. And unlike regular-size trac installations that require a transformer for each low-voltage spotlight, the miniatures use one small transformer for an entire track.

... And Then There Was Light

So how do you use miniature trac lights? Starting with the kitchen, the experts at Juno have some suggestions:

• Get rid of your flickering fluorescent tubes and light a kitchen countertop work area with dimmable white lights mounted underneath the cabinet. Since you can snap in lamp-holders at any interval you wish, there will be no dark corners or uneven task light areas.

• Mounted near the front edge of a cabinet top, these bright little wonders can add cheerful indirect light and highlight baskets, dried flowers, collector plates and other decorations placed atop the cabinets.

• Mount miniature trac lighting on low ceilings or soffits. Then use miniature halogen spotlights to accent those copper pots, Grandma's "Home Sweet Home" needlepoint, or your favorite wall hanging.

• Illuminate a hallway gallery of photos with tiny spotlights on a trac. Endless possibilities are only limited by creativity.

For more ideas and information, write to the Marketing Communications Department at Juno Lighting, Inc., Box 5065, Des Plaines, IL 60017-5065. Or call 708-827-9880.
