FANTASTIC VOYAGE - Students and teachers from Belleville High School spent 16 days in a tropical paradise, learning and being enthralled by the wonders of nature contained in the rainforests and coral reefs of Belize.

Rainforest, coral reef sights dazzle students

By Richard Dickon

For 15 days this summer, a group of Belleville students and teachers experienced the excitement of two of nature's most wondrous creations: the endangered tropical rainforests and coral reefs.

The expedition took them to the small Central American country of Belize, formerly known as British Honduras. Their objective was to learn firsthand about the endangered rainforests and the coral reefs, according to their teachers.

The group, led by Belleville High School Science teacher Bruce Kemnitz, flew to Belize on July 19th. After a two-day bus ride over bumpy and flooded dirt roads, the team arrived at the Slatery Biological Station in the beautiful, primary rainforest of southern Belize.

The station is located on Blue Creek, a crystal-clear stream that roars out of a limestone cavern in the Mayan Mountains.

The expedition team spent the next five days exploring the surrounding forest and learning about rainforest ecology. On one day, the team hiked up to the huge cavern from which the river gushes, a place the Mayan Indians call "Ho-kay-pah" ("the place from which the water comes").

On another day, they donned headlamps and ventured into a cave system deep within the mountains, where ancient Mayan Indians once lived. After crawling through narrow, muddy passageways and climbing over deep crevasses, the group finally reached a great chamber in the cave. There, they turned off their flashlights and sat in complete and utter darkness, listening to the dripping water that created the stalactites around them.

There were also early morning bird walks to view beautiful keel-billed toucans feeding in the forest trees, and nature walks to learn about the use of medicinal plants by the local people.

The high point of the first week, in more ways than one, was the Skywalk. Here, the more adventurous students and teachers strapped on helmets and safety harnesses, and climbed more than 60 feet straight up to suspended walkway that crossed the river and led to platforms still higher in the rainforest canopy.

During the evening, students and teachers attended lectures on rainforest ecology and the history of the Mayan people, and took treks through the forest in search of nocturnal creatures. On the last night of their rain-

Bradley Tire Co. suing CVS strip mall developer over access to lot

By Richard Dickon

Bradley Tire Service is suing the developer of the CVS strip mall proposed for the former Mead Ford automobile dealership on Washington Avenue over access to the tire company from an adjacent lot that would be part of the new mall.

Emil W. Nardachone, attorney for Bradley Tire, said George H. Mead, the previous owner, and Belleville Rose "should be compelled to convey title to the property by adverse usage."

If an owner doesn't claim title to a property for 20 years, under state statute the property belongs to whoever has been using it, in this case Bradley Tire, Nardachone said.

Bradley's uninterrupted use, as well as the maintenance and cleaning, of the property at 521 Washington Avenue for 20 years means "Bradley owns it," Nardachone said.

A preliminary injunction will be sought in Superior Court on Friday, September 9 before Judge Marogolis, Nardachone said, adding that if cause can be shown he will seek a temporary restraining order.

Ed Rosenbloom, who is planning to build the mall under the name Rose-Belleville Limited Partnership, could not be reached for comment.

Bruce Schneider, attorney for Rosenbloom, and Glen Kazlow, attorney for Mead, were unavailable for comment.

The CVS mall plans were approved in late May, after the developer agreed to include parking islands landscaped with shrubbery called for by then-mayor Marina Perna, who said the mall would not be aesthetically pleasing without the changes.

The Planning Board granted variances for the number of parking spaces allowed, 62, as well as allowing the spaces to be slightly smaller than normally required.

Split Council votes 4-3 against change...

Per-bag collection rejected for trash

By Richard Dickon

The three-year, $1.9 million scavenger contract awarded August 30 fell one vote short of switching the Township to a per-bag garbage collection system, despite strong support from some council members.

The Dominick Pucillo Co of Hillside will not be charging residents per trash bag, despite support for the change from Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane and Councilmen Nick Cerami and Jerry Digori.

Councilman Victor Canning, who voted against the change, said he thought per-bag trash collection was "the wave of the future," and senior citizens would benefit from the plan, but was concerned that some residents would illegally dump their garbage to avoid paying fees.

Spillane said he understood council members' concerns about illegal dumping, but said the potential savings of between 63 and 73 tax points made it worth implementing.

"It would be difficult, but not impossible to implement this," he said, "It would be good for the township in the long run. In a matter of a few years, this will be the way garbage is collected in New Jersey."

Nick Cerami said proper policing of illegal dumping could solve the problem.

"It would have to be handled by the police," Cerami said, "I have a really tough time believing people will risk a $1,000 fine for illegal dumping to save a $1.50 on a garbage bag. I think if we catch a handful of people for illegally dumping, it will really stop it quickly. You can trace household garbage must easier than someone dumping fill."

Cerami questioned the reasoning of those who voted against the change.

"We shouldn't say 'no' to something because of the political repercussions. What most popular isn't always the best solution," Cerami said, "As the needs to people and society change, government has to change along with them."

Canning, Spillane and Cerami all said per-bag collections would greatly increase recycling because residents would not add to their garbage volume with any materials that could be recycled without cost to them.

Mayor Jim Messina has said he thought per-bag was an interesting concept, but said at least six

Montagna asks that public funds for Nazzola slander suit be cut

By Richard Dickon

Frank Montagna has filed a complaint with a state Administrative Law Judge alleging that School Board President Gabe Nazzola is using public funds for a private lawsuit Montagna brought against Nazzola.

The funds are being used to defend Nazzola in Montagna's slander suit. School Board Attorney Frank Pomaco has cited a legal precedent for paying legal fees to a school board member when the officials is acting in an official school capacity.

Town insurance goes for 1 year to same carrier

By Richard Dickon

The Township Council unanimously agreed to award a one-year contract with Gallagher Bassett to provide liability, workers compensation and other insurance coverages for the township while officials promised to take a hard look at self-insurance for the next contract.

The resolution passed after a council committee recommended retaining the existing insurance carrier for the Township at a special August 30 council meeting.

The contract calls for a one-year, $250,000 self-insurance retainer, which amounts a quarter-million dollar insurance deductible, after which the insurance policy takes over, according to Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane.

Spillane, part of the Council committee with Councilmen Bill Cook and Victor Canning, examined amended proposals on August 29.

"I really think we need to look at insurance way ahead of time this year, before the next contract is due, to see if we want to go with self-insurance," Spillane said.

As for this year's contract, Spillane said, "Really, insurance is a gamble, no matter what you do. But I feel strongly that this council made some very prudent decisions. I'm really satisfied that we gave this a lot of thought."

MONEY SAVED ON BUSING - School Board President Gabe Nazzola is proposing a plan to better utilize District buses and vans, used to transport special education students, that could save as much as $200,000 this year. (Photo By Richard Dickon)

Trims costs of special education runs...

Nazzola saves up to $200G on busing

By Richard Dickon

Board President Gabe Nazzola is proposing a plan to better utilize existing bus transportation of special education students that could save the District nearly $200,000.

A total of 168 students with special educational needs have been removed from schools, Nazzola said, but after reexamining the number he wants to add back 72 of the students through a plan that would make better use of the school's buses and vans, without added costs.

At the August 28 public Board of Education meeting, Nazzola announced that the revised costs for 99 students would be projected at $544,656.66, with $533,900 of that being for state-mandated programs.

"The revised costs may incur about $177,000 to $199,000 in savings as a possibility from better utilizing transportation," Nazzola said, "This is another way for us to move toward saving money without affecting the caliber of education in our schools."

Nazzola estimated he spent 13 to 14 hours of his own time to comb through a total composite computer printout of all the bus runs made for special education students and the cost amounts, finding ways to save time and money.

Nazzola thanked board Vice President Barbara Cicalese for obtaining the computer printout from the county for him.

He explained that, when a student is classified as needing special education, and it is decided that no in-District Individual Education Plan (IEP) can be done, a plan is made to bus the student outside the district.

Nazzola cited one example where a student was picked up at 6:45 a.m. in Belleville and did not arrive at a school in Newark until 8:30 a.m. and again in the afternoon because the bus made a long loop before dropping the student off at his destination.

"This is the first time in the history of Belleville schools that transportation has been looked at from a financial management and control perspective, rather than just piecemeal," Nazzola said.

Suspects arrested, linked to Nutley carjack shooting

By Juliann Walsh

Two carjacking and shooting cases in Essex County merged into one on Tuesday after the Essex County Prosecutor, Clifford J. Minor announced three arrests made over the weekend. The fourth suspect is dead.

James Lomack, the man fatally shot by Nutley and Belleville police two weeks ago, has been linked to the shooting death of an East Orange woman who was the victim of a carjacking in July.

Minor announced the Labor Day weekend arrests of two other accomplices in the woman's murder, at a press conference on Tuesday. Alonzo "Lonnie" Hill, 25, of Irvington and a 16-year-old

I Said a Prayer For You Today

I said a prayer for you today
And know God must have heard —
I felt the answer in my heart
Although He spoke no word!
I didn't ask for wealth or fame
(I knew you wouldn't mind) —
I asked Him to send treasures
Of a far more lasting kind!
I asked that He'd be near you
At the start of each new day
To grant you health and blessings
And friends to share your way!
I asked for happiness for you
In all things great and small —
But it was for His loving care
I prayed the most of all!

Welcome back to Tom and Carmel Palente who visited their son in San Francisco, Calif. While they were there they took tours of Chinatown and of the Italian section. Their guide was from Newark, N.J. and he made sure they visited the best spots especially the cookie and pastry shop. They also visited the San Francisco wharf for lunch and dancing. Also a visit to the museum and the aquarium were in order. From San Francisco they went to Las Vegas, where they were not so lucky but they enjoyed themselves and finally home sweet home.

Also welcome back to Al Lymanski.

Condolences to Vinny Matterazzo who lost his brother.

While attending the Nutley Sun 100th Anniversary picnic, I met Dale Cocchiola, who is recovering from a serious illness. I was glad to see her looking so good and had a long conversation with her.

My wife and I, that afternoon, also attended a birthday celebration in honor of my sister-in-law Christina Restaino of Lyndhurst. It was an old fashioned party with all the immediate family in attendance. The food was delicious due to the fact that it was all homemade as were the cookies and pastries. What a terrific party and I can say a good time was had by all. I had an interesting chat with Chris' son Paul who was an usher for Governor Christy Whitman when she was married. Hey John, I said hello to Marge!

Al Walker, a member of the Senior Club, is a member of the Twenty Five Year Club of Tiffany & Co. The members have been invited, on Sept. 29, to have breakfast at Tiffany's followed by a luncheon at the Peninsula Hotel.

Condolences to Joseph Fornorotto on the loss of his sister-in-law.

The A.M.A. American Medical Association has issued a warning to doctors to improve their penmanship. The indecipherable prescriptions are causing dangerous and costly illnesses. Also, they stated, some of the doctors don't know the prices of brand name drugs which are sometime 30 times cheaper than prescriptions. They state, write so people can read it or print or type it. Prescription errors were the leading problem.

An article in the Advocate states that students in Catholic schools outperform public school pupils. Catholic school dropouts average 370, 95% graduate and 83% go on to college.

Tid bit:

I did a favor yesterday, a kindly little deed.
And then I called to all the world to stop and look and heed.
They stopped and looked and flattered me
In words I could not trust,
And when the world had gone away
My good deed turned to dust.

Prostatic cancer cryosurgery performed now at Montclair Community Hospital

Prostate cancer is recognized as one of the most prevalent malignant diseases occurring in men. It is estimated that it will cause the deaths of approximately 34,000 men this year alone. The two major treatments for prostate cancer thus far, are radical prostatectomy, the surgical removal of the prostate gland through an abdominal incision, and radiation therapy. Both are associated with considerable morbidity and variable results.

At Montclair Community Hospital, Dr. Joseph DeTrotio has introduced an alternative treatment for patients with this disease. The procedure is called, Percutaneous Cryosurgical Ablation of the Prostate. The procedure consists of the insertion of three to five probes into the prostate gland through small incisions. Liquid nitrogen is then circulated through the probes and the prostate is frozen. The results indicate that a majority of the patients studied, had no residual disease upon post operative biopsy. Preliminary results indicate that this procedure is an effective treatment for prostatic cancer with minimal associated morbidity.

On Aug. 29, Dr. DeTrotio successfully completed his first procedure at Montclair Community Hospital. Dr. DeTrotio was trained in England, under the direction of Dr. Graham Watson, the founder of this procedure, and the Candela Laser Corporation. Montclair Community Hospital has been chosen to be one of three sights in the country for the training of physicians in this procedure. For more information regarding Percutaneous Cryosurgical Ablation of the Prostate, please contact Montclair Community Hospital at 744-7300.

Columbus Day parade seeks 'Bella Signorina'

The Belleville Columbus Day Parade Committee is seeking a "Bella Signorina" for their annual Columbus Day Ball and Parade. The young woman that is selected will represent Belleville at the Ball on October 1 and ride on the Parade float on Sunday, October 9.

To be eligible, the young lady must be between the age of 16-20 and have one parent of Italian Heritage. For additional information and application, contact Mario Drozd at 751-2277. Applications must be completed and returned by September 19, along with a recent photo and resume.

Speakers available

Essex County Sheriff Armando Fontoura is reminding residents that the Sheriff's Department's Public Education Unit is available to provide presentations and speakers to schools and community groups on topics of public concern.

Programs and presentations offered include: drug and alcohol abuse prevention and awareness, AIDS prevention and awareness, crime prevention techniques, field trips to the county courthouse and lectures for senior citizen groups, sexual assault prevention, child abuse prevention, bomb threat procedures, use of canines in law enforcement, duties and responsibilities of the Sheriff's Department, firearms safety, missing children and child fingerprinting.

All of the programs are conducted by highly trained Sheriff's Officers. The speakers and demonstrations are available during the day or evening to schools, senior citizen clubs, civic groups, or even smaller "coffee klatches" organized in neighborhood residences.

Anyone interested in scheduling a presentation on any of these topics may contact the Sheriff's Department's Public Education Unit at 621-4139.

Student of the Week

The Silver Lake Student of the Week is Veronica Valvano of Magnolia Street. Let me tell you a little about her or should I say a lot about her She attended School No. 4, James G. Shawger School in Silver Lake and went on to be the Valedictorian of her graduating class at Belleville High School in 1987. If that wasn't enough she was the Valedictorian of the Rutgers College of Pharmacy Class of 1992. 'The creme de la creme' was when she received her Doctor of Pharmacy Degree from President Francis Lawrence and Dean John Colaizzi at the Rutgers University Commencement on May 19, 1994. She was the keynote speaker for her class at the Rutgers College of Pharmacy Commencement as well as receiving the prestigious Excellence in Pharmacy Award from Mylan Pharmaceuticals, Inc. This award is given to the Pharm D student with the highest grade point average. She has accepted a two year post-doctoral fellowship with Sandoz Pharmaceuticals Corp. in E. Hanover.

Her proud parents are Antoinette and Mike of Magnolia St. (By the way her mother works part time as a registered pharmacist in the Lake. Her sister Marigrace Flynn (who also was valedictorian of her class in 1982) along with her husband Jim and nephew John couldn't be happier.

School No. 4 on Magnolia Street must be 'bursting at the seams' with pride. Not too many schools can boast that they have had three of their students go on to become Valedictorians of Belleville High School. If you forgot who they were, I will mention them again, Marigrace Valvano, Veronica Valvano and more recently, Sabrina Sena. What an honor for Silver Lake.

At this time, it gives me great pleasure to call this beautiful young lady of Silver Lake ... Dr. Veronica Valvano. Boy, we are doing something right in Silver Lake It must be the water....

While I'm on the subject of

Marie Strumolo Burke

School No. 4, I have just been told that all the classrooms have been painted and that a new girls bathroom has been installed. That's refreshing to hear. To carry it a little further, maybe some trees and shrubs can be planted to give the school a better look.

Happy 65th birthday to James Cataldo of Naples Avenue.

A 1st birthday bash was given by Lisa and Bobby Charles for their little angel Robert at the house of grandparents Rita and Lebro Charles of Naples Avenue. Happy birthday to you Robert.

Much appreciation to Castelli Bros. on Bloomfield Avenue for joining in our SCLA Clean Up Day.

Let me wish a good friend of mine, Anthony (Babbers) Renna of No. 11th Street, a happy 65th birthday. He is one of the best painters in the Town, maybe even the County, maybe even the State and you guessed it, the country. He is married to Rose (Melchionne) Renna.

Remember we love Silver Lake.

Council missed chance to move forward to per-bag trash pick-ups

The Council missed an important opportunity to move the Township into the future of garbage collection, voting 4-3 against per-bag pick-ups.

Despite strong support from Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane and Councilmen Nick Cerami and Jerry Digori, the town will pay $1.9 million over three years to collect trash, rather than having residents pay directly for each bag.

The three, along with Councilman Victor Canning, who voted against the change, said per-bag trash collection was the wave of the future, and that senior citizens and small households that produce less trash would benefit from the plan.

Canning, Councilman Bill Cook, Councilwoman Angie Paserchia and Mayor Jim Messina voted no, citing concern that some residents would illegally dump their garbage to avoid paying fees.

But Nick Cerami correctly pointed out that risking a $1,000 fine to save $1.50 for a bag of garbage does not make sense, and also that any such dumping could be discouraged as soon as a few residents are caught dumping illegally. Also, illegal dumping of household trash can be traced more readily than industrial waste.

Spillane showed an awareness for residents' concerns about taxes, saying he understood council members' concerns about illegal dumping, but the potential savings of between 63 and 73 tax points made it worth implementing.

Cerami courageously questioned the reasoning of those who voted against the change, saying council members should not vote against something because they fear it may have negative political repercussions. Since Cerami himself will be contesting the council seat he was appointed to early in 1994 this November, his candor in stating that what is most popular is not always the best solution is impressive.

Most council members have said they agree that per-bag collections would greatly increase recycling because residents would not add to their garbage volume with any materials that could be recycled without cost to them.

With so many positives in their grasp for tax relief, increased recycling and general cost savings, the four council members who voted against per-bag collection gave in to fears about illegal dumping that could have been addressed. When residents come complaining next year about tax increases in the municipal budget, those four will rightfully be second-guessed for their inaction in moving the township into the future of garbage collection.

Who says schools can't cut costs? Nazzola's hard work saves $200G

Board President Gabe Nazzola is proposing a plan to better utilize existing bus transportation of special education students that could save the District nearly $200,000. He had previously trimmed about $163,000 from school courtesy transportation costs about two years ago.

Nazzola's use of hours and hours of personal time to painstakingly examine busing records to find substantial savings shows his dedication to his elected office.

Negativity abounds in the audiences at school board meetings. Nazzola himself is criticized often by a handful of residents. Those same residents will likely ignore this hard work and the savings coming from it.

But Nazzola's work brings up a bigger question. What other costs could be substantially reduced by taking a long, close look at the details of contracts and schedules?

Perhaps the other school board members would like to volunteer to scrutinize an area of the budget to look for ways to cut costs. With board members calling for budget workshops with the public, maybe those same board members should instead take it upon themselves to go over parts of the next budget, item by item, to find savings.

Karen Fuccello of the athletic department was able to find a way to secure funds for a much needed full-time athletic trainer. It seems this creativity could be spread to other academic departments to look for ways to trim spending.

Calls are being made to add cost to the school budget for a domicile investigator, but those people who attend school meetings to constantly criticize could be quieted if they saw initiative from board members to find ways to reduce the budget.

Everyone on the school board should feel challenged by Nazzola's volunteering of time and effort to bring down costs. The baton is now passed to any board member dedicated enough to try what Nazzola has accomplished.

New law heralded requiring all students wear seat belts on buses

To the editor,

On September 8, a lifesaving law take effect. At that time, students must wear seat belts every time they ride on a school bus in New Jersey. That law was a long time in the making -- the bill was first introduced more than 20 years ago -- and its passage holds great promise for ensuring the safety of our children. This law is important because safety belts reduce the risk of death and serious injury by 50 to 75 percent.

As a parent, a grandparent, our state's highway safety director and chairman of the School Bus Safety Task Force, I urge parents to tell their children about the law and to encourage them to wear a seat belt on school buses that are equipped with them, because even the best laws are not effective if they are not obeyed. Our young people hold so much promise for the future and together we must make sure they are here to achieve their full potential.

The law providing for seat belts on school buses and requiring students to buckle up became effective in September of 1992. Part one of the law, which called for the installation of seat belts on all new school buses, went into effect immediately. Buses with October 1992 manufacture date were required to be equipped with seat belts. Retrofitting buses with belts is not required. Part two of the law, which requires students to wear those seat belts, was delayed by two years to enable new buses equipped with belts to be on the road.

Not only is that law important because of the protection seat belts provide in a crash, but also because wearing seat belts on their school buses helps reinforce the habit that started when the children left the hospital as infants protected by child safety seats. This good habit has been nourished with the use of child booster seats and, later, seat belts. Buckling up in the school bus helps sustain the lifesaving habit children learned in the family car.

A tireless fight brought about the passage of the school bus safety bill. Senator C. Louis Bassano deserves the thanks and the credit for the passage of that law, which he first sponsored when his son, who is now a college graduate engineer, was in kindergarten. The New Jersey Parent Teachers Association should share the spotlight with Sen. Bassano for the passage of that important bill; they provided years of support to the Senator.

Percentage cut hurts small agencies

To the editor:

Every single travel agent and travel agency owner should be extremely disturbed and concerned after hearing the Delta Airlines is taking the lead in trying to cut travel agency commissions by two percent.

It is very likely, based on official and unofficial comments from executives from other major airlines that all airlines will follow the lead that Delta is setting, and that an eight percent commission level may actually become the standard once again, as it was a few years ago. What other industry do you know can function, make normal day-to-day expenses, etc., with a decrease in pay?

I am respectfully suggesting to all travel agents that we show Delta our sign of protest and "sell away" from Delta for awhile. I am not affiliated with any professional organization, and am offering this as an individual travel agency owner.

My agency is small, as many others may be, but remember, collectively, we can make a difference. Perhaps Delta and the other major airlines will reconsider possibly making small agencies go belly up. After all, as we have been told many times, we are their partners in travel.

Forecast #1: By the year 2010, high-speed magnetic levitating trains will allow daily commutes of up to 500 miles.

Forecast #2: Europe will be the economic powerhouse of the world during the next century. An inability to integrate foreign managers and treat them as equals, as well as trade restrictions, imposed by other countries, will keep Japan from the top spot.

Forecast #3: The coming "Information Superhighway" will be the most significant development in human history since the printing press. It will completely revolutionize business, entertainment, communities, and politics - even in isolated areas of the Third World.

Forecast #4: Contact lenses and eyeglasses may become obsolete as early as 1997, when cornea shaping via an ultraviolet excimer laser will be able to correct poor eyesight.

Forecast #5: By 2050, almost half of the total U. S. population will be Spanish-speaking. Twenty-seven million Latinos now reside in the United States, making up about 10 percent of the total population.

Forecast #6: The mapping of the human genome may revolutionize sex and marriage, as couples will wish to know each other's genetic codes before going on a date.

• AN accident to a five-year-old child could happen anywhere. One that caught my eye was reported in a recent edition of the

New York Times datelined "Ann Arbor, Michigan: A five-year-old girl choked to death recently when the drawstring on her coat hood got caught as she came down a circular slide. The girl, Nancy Sibley, was playing at Pittsfield elementary School on Tuesday when her coat string 'somehow got entangled, and it hung her,' said Jon Stewart, an Ann Arbor fire department battalion chief. She had no pulse when medical rescuers arrived, and she died on Wednesday after a night on a respirator. The accident happened just minutes before the girl's father was to pick her up from an after-school program."

The above incident could happen on any playground in America. At the very least - publication of the incident should raise to a higher level the concern of playground supervisors for the safety of children using playground facilities.

• I LOST my reservation on a Continental flight from Newark to West Palm Beach for a week-end visit. I was at the Newark Airport hung up without a flight. Nutley Travel Service came thru with a reservation for a seat on the employee-owned Kiwi Airlines - practically all staff members were former Eastern Airlines employees - and I knew every one of them - Bob Urisko, Marion Rawando and Inge Machel. It was a great feeling to be home again with old friends.

While waiting for the plane to depart I struck up a conversation with a tall, beautiful Afro-American wearing a minister's uniform. Three minutes into the conversation and Barbara Delamar exclaimed, "You made my life!" It seems that the minister-nurse's path crossed mine some years ago and I must have befriended her to justify her reaction. She now is based in Leesburg, Florida. Her missionary work takes her throughout the world, most recently, the African continent - Barbara Delamar - a decent human being dedicating her life to do God's work on earth. God bless her.

P.S. The Kiwi flight was great. I highly recommend the line.

• FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION last week approved a simple blood test that many doctors have used in recent years to help detect prostate cancer in men 50 and older. The FDA officials further required that the test should be used to complement a digital rectal exam by the physician.

In a study of more than 6,300 men, a panel of medical researchers said PSA blood testing when combined with a rectal exam was much more effective at detecting cancer than a rectal exam or PSA test alone. But the panel had one qualifier - a final diagnosis always requires a biopsy. The newly approved test measures the level of a protein called "prostate-specific antigen" that circulates in the bloodstream. When these antigens are found at elevated levels, they are a sign of prostate cancer, benign prostatic hyperplasia or other prostatic problems."

Carjacking suspects apprehended

Newark youth were arrested Sept. 3 by a joint investigation task force of Nutley, Belleville, Bloomfield, Irvington and East Orange police and the prosecutor's office.

Also arrested was the second suspect wanted in the abduction and shooting of a Nutley woman in August.

Lomack is the third man connected with the carjacking and murder of Sandra McKnight on July 29. McKnight was forcibly taken from her driveway by three men after she returned from grocery shopping in Bloomfield shortly after 8 p.m., according to police.

The woman's body was found three hours later in the back seat of her 1987 Mercury Sable parked on Vailsburg Terrace, Irvington near the Garden State Parkway. She had been shot in the head.

The juvenile arrested in the McKnight case is being charged as the shooter who ended the life of a 45-year-old mother of two. Police are withholding the juveniles name due to his age.

The prosecutor's office is additionally charging that Lomack stole a white Saab automobile from an off-duty Linden police officer in Roselle Park about 45 minutes after the trio carjacked McKnight's Sable.

According to the prosecutor's press release, "the off-duty officer chased the Saab in another vehicle. During the chase it is alleged that Lomack fired numerous shots from a 9 MM assault pistol at the pursuing officer who returned fire."

Lomack was shot dead on Nutley streets Aug. 14 by police after he fled arrest, crashed a stolen Mazda, abducted and shot a Nutley resident, stole her car, rammed police blocks and then after crashing the hostages Ford Explorer, attempted to carjack a third vehicle. Police Chief Robert DeLitta said autopsy reports show Lomack was shot four times by police officers.

Also arrested this weekend was Karriem White, 19, of Newark. Nutley police had been searching for the second suspect who evaded arrest since the night of Lomack's death. White is being charged with eluding police, conspiracy to commit burglary, attempted burglary, burglary, attempted murder, aggravated assault, possession of burglar tools, possession of a firearm and possession of the firearm with the intent to use it unlawfully against another.

Nutley police recovered the 9mm Arms Model AP 9 Assault Pistol Lomack used to shoot his 36-year-old hostage in the leg. The gun used to kill McKnight has not been recovered yet, according to DeLitta.

forest stay, the team absorbed some local culture by attending a marimba dance in the home of the nearby Mayan villagers.

At the end of the first week, the expedition travelled northeast to the coastal town of Dangriga. There, they boarded a 40-foot sailboat and made the trip over to South Water Caye, a small island in there Caribbean where they would spend the next eight days.

South Water Caye was a paradise, covered with white sand a coconut palm trees. Morning activities included collecting and identifying marine organisms in the intertidal zone, a survey of the island's plant species, studies of sand formation, and a visit to nearby Man-of-War Caye, a protected island where frigate birds and brown-footed boobies make their home.

Afternoons were spent snorkeling and scuba diving on one the world's most pristine barrier reefs and among the mangrove trees that surround the islands and protect them from storms. Team member saw and learned to identify numerous species of brightly-colored corals, sponges, tunicates, and fish, including rays and sharks.

During evening lectures, the group learned more about reef formation, and reef, lagoon and mangrove ecosystems.

Expedition members included the following: Belleville students Bernadette Bini, Natalie Bonacorsa, Michael Corino, Michael DeVino, Michael Koehler, Amisha Patel, Lauren Salmon, Kristen Schmid, Neha Shah, and Caren Villano.

Belleville High School teachers Linda Albanese (Spanish), Mary Beth Ellis (English), Lani Gee (English as a Second Language), and Science teachers Bruce Kemnitz, Ralph Kobberger, and John Tosato. Other team members were registered nurse Katherine Holman, Robert Dien (certified scuba diver and emergency medical technician), retired teacher Kate Reiner, Nancy Matthews, a former Belleville student studying Biology at Muhlenberg College, and Alison Kemnitz and Gretchen Kobberger, daughters of Mr. Kemnitz and Mr. Kobberger.

Student and teacher expedition members alike are looking forward to sharing their experiences with the Belleville school system.

Applications accepted for Governor's Award until Sept. 15

Governor Christie Whitman recently called for nominations for the 1994 Governor's Awards, a program honoring outstanding New Jerseyans from a wide range of endeavors. First presented in 1987, the Governor's Awards are the highest honor the State of New Jersey can bestow on an individual. "These awards represent the best of our state and remind us that in the one family that is New Jersey, we have some of the most talented and dedicated people in the world," Governor Whitman said.

Secretary of State Donna Hooks, appointed by Governor Whitman to run the program, announced that public nominations for the awards' 13 categories are due Sept. 15. She also announced that actor John

Amos will host the awards ceremony this winter.

Nominees must have lived or worked in New Jersey at the time of their achievements. Sponsoring organizations for each award will consider all entries and in mid-October submit three names for consideration by the Governor's Awards Academy, which includes past award recipients and other prominent New Jerseyans. The firm

Deloitte & Touche will conduct the confidential balloting and notify the Governor of the awards.

Nominations can be submitted to The Governor's Awards, Box 1415, Trenton, New Jersey 08607-1415. For information, call 609-777-1200.

Aside From That

By: Howard Klausner

In the final days of the Battle of Saipan, an additional horror was added to this terrible struggle. While American troops watched helplessly, native women and children leaped to their deaths from high cliffs, convinced they would be raped and murdered by the American conquerors.

Their needless deaths were the result of the lies told them by their government and their teachers. Indeed, the whole involvement of Japan in its wars of expansion was the result of lies inculcated in the population.

It would be hoped that one of the results of the democratization of Japan, if there was such a thing, was an end to this policy of official falsehoods.

After all, didn't we have a reeducation program there under the direction of General Douglas MacArthur?

Apparently, it was not enough to bring truth to the Japanese in every sphere.

The Japanese government has announced it will spend $1 billion on various programs to study, and possibly remedy, problems arising from the war. However, Japan will not give financial compensation to any of the more than 200,000 women who were forced into Japanese military brothels between 1932 and 1945 - women recruited from the occupied nations Japan had invaded.

According to the wire services, it was only two years ago that Japan finally admitted that this atrocity had ever existed. Indeed, for more than 40 years, the official Japanese line was that there had been no forced prostitution.

Today, there are Japanese publications which state that World War II began with the atomic bomb attacks on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

There is an American of Japanese ancestry who gives lectures on the awfulness of those nuclear attacks, and also claims that Japan was planning to surrender before they occurred.

This kind of revisionist history is an equally outrageous falsehood. In 50 years, no Japanese official has ever come forward to say that he counselled surrender.

To have done so would have marked him as a traitor, regardless of how much Japanese may claim to be lovers of peace.

In a sense, we cannot blame the Japanese for being unwilling to face up to the kinds of facts that would mark them as barbarians.

In today's Spain, nobody talks about the regime of Francisco Franco. It is too embarrassing a subject - a proud people grovelling before a murderous stuffed shirt.

Rather, we have our own liars with which to deal - the people who claimed they had transformed the Japanese psyche.

These are the same people who have sold so much of America to Japan that they have us working to pay off the bonds bought by Japanese bankers.

It is small wonder that Japanese bankers paid President Ronald Reagan $3 million for a "lecture tour" after his presidency.

Rising Japanese supremacy provides us with plenty of problems, but closer to home is the problem raised by the apologists and agents - all home-grown Americans - who have done a better job of looting our resources than the entire Imperial Japanese Army did.

Japan may not come to terms with a past founded on lies, but Americans know this: "Know the truth, for the truth shall set you free"

SCHOLARSHIP GRANT AWARDED - Belleville Police officials present a $500 scholarship grant from the Essex County Police Benevolent Association Conference to Shannon McGinn, a first-year student at Trenton State College. She is joined, (left to right), by Belleville PBA Conference Delegate Tony Weiner; her father, Belleville Police Lt. Alan McGinn, and Rocco Malanga, Essex County PBA Conference Chairman. This was the first year the 3,500-member PBA Conference awarded 22 scholarships in honor of the late Fred DeMayo, a 20-year veteran of the Essex County Sheriff's Department who active in PBA affairs.

Nazziola saving $200G on busing complimented Nazziola for "devoting so many of his own hours" to finding the savings.

To achieve the possible savings, Nazziola said the District needed to purchase five 1990, 16-passenger school bus vans and one 1987, 10-passenger wheelchair van from the Essex County Educational Services Commission in Cedar Grove at a cost of $45,000.

Nazziola praised Board Business Administrator Edward Appleton for finding the vehicles, available because a district was being removed from the county. Appleton bid $45,000 for the vehicles, while the approved value of the vans was $75,000, a $30,000 savings.

The vans are needed, Nazziola said, because three of the 54 buses owned by the District can longer be used, since they have exceeded their limit for use in education.

"We're still refining the use for as many special education students as possible," Nazziola said, adding that payment of drivers was still to be negotiated.

Nazziola had previously trimmed about $163,000 from school courtesy transportation costs two years ago.

Montagna seeks to block funds to defend suit disagree with his using public funds to defend himself to blame Montagna for taking up the suit.

Montagna is suing Nazzola because of remarks he said Nazzola made on a cable television program that were "false and libelous statements, willfully and maliciously caused by (the) defendant... and the plaintiff has been injured and his good name and character, and his personal reputation."

Nazzola will say only that he is acting on advice of counsel not to "feed media sensationalism" about the suit, and that counsel has advised him to use public funds in his defense.

Nazzola's answer contains 29 separate defenses that invoke legal doctrines, statutes and call for dismissal of Montagna's suit.
Pomaco said two state statutes and a previous legal case give Nazzola "legal authorization" to pay an attorney in Pomaco's firm $90 per hour to handle his answer to the suit.
Since Nazzola was appearing on behalf of the board to discuss an agenda issue, busing, and the incident arose in his role as school board president, he is entitled to have legal fees paid with public funds, Pomaco said.
Pomaco cited a previous case,

Matawan versus the Board of Education, where a board member had their business picketed because of their stance on a school issue.
The decision reads "The school board and residents of the school district have a vested interest that school board members undertake their responsibilities free of undue hazards to personal resources and to afford them some protection in attaining and performing their responsibilities," according to Pomaco.
In addition, statutes 18A12-20 and 18A16-6 authorize "indemnity of members of boards of education against costs of defense of civil and criminal actions" and "the board shall defray all costs of defending such actions."
Nazzola said Pomaco's firm is "magnanimously" agreeing to a fee of $90 per hour when the school board president could have hired a specialist for $250-$300 per hour.

Per-bag garbage collection rejected

months would be needed to prepare residents.
The Council had unanimously approved amendments at the August 1 work session that would enable them to accept bids for possible per-bag garbage collection, in addition to standard three- and five-year scavenger contract bids.
Earlier in July, Department of Public Works, Health, and Engineering Officials, helped prepare bid specifications for a third base bid for per-bag garbage collection.
Under such a plan, residents would pay only for the trash that they put out each week. The regulation bag size would be 30 gallon bags at 23" x 10" x 39".
Charles Cerami, director of the Department of Public Works said the plan could help make up for the possible loss of $2.9 million in state Revitalization Aid, by taking garbage collection out of the budget and having residents pay for themselves.

Last year, the town spent $1,645,000 on scavenger costs and tipping fees, about $724,000 for trash pick-ups, for the approximately 13,000 tons of garbage that was collected in Belleville.
Officials have said that garbage collection has become a science, with different recyclable materials being separated out.
Township Attorney Robert Giordano has said per-bag collection increases the recycling incentive, by making it worthwhile to try and reduce the amount collected, and it would definitely benefit smaller households.
Councilman Bill Cook, who voted against per-bag pick-ups, has questioned how much the change would help an average resident, saying the average person pays the same, but not be able to write it off on his or her taxes.
Canning had said he was concerned that no municipalities similarly as large as Belleville, with about 34,000 residents, have tried per-bag collection, and he would like to see a plan from at town similar in size.
Officials suggested sending letters to all residents and setting up a specific area in town for a few weeks to sell the bags.
Officials have studied garbage contracts from several towns, including Newark, Kearny, Nutley and Bloomfield, to improve specifications.
Canning has requested that collection of medical waste be limited exclusively to the school and health department.
The question of whether or not recycling should be bid was also being discussed.
Giordano has said another town had reduced their tonnage by more than 30 percent and saved about the same amount by going to a per-tonnage payment system, which offers a great incentive to recycle.

English Oat Biscuit-Cookies

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup pitted prunes | 1 teaspoon grated orange peel |
| 2 tablespoons water | 1 tablespoon orange juice |
| 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, softened | 1 3/4 cups all-purpose flour |
| 1 cup packed light brown sugar | 3/4 cup rolled oats |
| 1 egg | 1 teaspoon cinnamon |
| | 1/2 teaspoon salt |

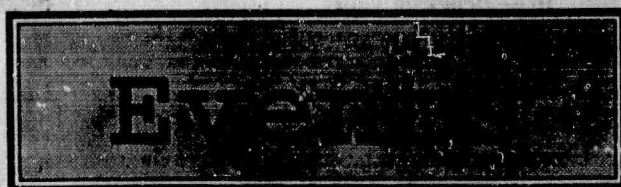

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In container of electric blender measure prunes and water. Pulse on and off until prunes are pureed. In large bowl beat prune puree, margarine and sugar until thoroughly blended. Beat in egg, orange peel and juice. Mix in flour, oats, cinnamon and salt just to blend thoroughly. Coat 2 baking sheets with vegetable cooking spray. On lightly floured surface roll dough out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into rounds with 2 1/2- to 3-inch cutter. Place 1 inch apart on baking sheets. Bake in center of oven about 10 minutes until bottoms are lightly browned. Remove to rack to cool completely. Store in airtight container. Serve with tea, coffee, milk or fruit juice.

Belleville

SPORTS

In Re: Belleville athletics

Nutley, Kearny facilities easily overshadow the "Litter Box"

In the overall scope of things, Belleville is not a very big place. On the national agenda, you'll probably never hear of this township. Peter Jennings, Dan Rather or Tom Brokaw won't be televising the nightly news at 6:30 p.m. from Town Hall.

Chances are, you won't be vacationing in California and see a profile of Belleville, New Jersey on the hotel television. If you tell most people where you're from, chances are they won't know where Belleville is unless you first say it's near Newark, or it's right off the Garden State Parkway.

But in the Township of Belleville, there are many important issues. First and foremost, the question of taxes is very important to the home owners of this township. Taxes have this nasty tendency to go up on a consistent basis, but if you can see where the monies are going, you might have a little more satisfaction.

We have a fine police department, a very talented and dedicated group of firefighters and an emergency squad which I'm sure will match any in the neighboring townships of Northern New Jersey.

This is not a column to criticize Belleville as a whole. I've lived here for 25 years and I would be pretty stupid to say what a lousy town this is and then continue to live here.

As you know, I've been critical of the facilities at Municipal Stadium for quite some time, most notably the last six months. My only concern with this issue is for the athletes of Belleville High School. I was once an athlete at Belleville High School and remember the enjoyment of competing at home. I also know you've heard this story before, so I won't get into it again.

My purpose in talking to you this week is to take a look at some alarming, almost uncomprehensible facts.

Just two miles away from Belleville is a town called Nutley. You've heard of it and chances are you've been there a thousand times, either to shop, drive through or visit family, friends, etc.

Nutley might be two miles away on the map, but it might as well be the distance to the moon when it comes to providing adequate facilities for its athletes to compete on.

A few weeks ago, the Nutley Sun held a picnic for the residents of Nutley, celebrating the Sun's 100th year of publication. The picnic was held at the "Oval", which is also home to various Nutley athletic teams, mainly the football and baseball squads.

It was almost mind boggling to see a perfectly green football field. I mean, the place was beautiful. The field didn't have a mark on it, the stands were in good shape and it doesn't take a NASA engineer to tell you that pride went into making the place look like a garden.

Belleville's football facility looks like a garden, too. Except the garden died a few years ago and what's left there is patches of grass surrounded by bumpy dirt mounds. The only reason a NASA engineer would be needed there would be to survey the JV fields adjacent to the stadium to see if it would be good for future astronauts to practice moon landings. The craters there would be perfect for prospective men in space to practice walking on.

They aren't so perfect for kids that are trying to play soccer, or baseball.

Nutley has a track. Yes, they have home track meets there. To make matters even more interesting, the track is an all weather version that is the envy of many other towns. When I ran track for Belleville, we couldn't wait to run at Nutley because we would generally have our best times there. But we didn't run at Nutley every year because we did have home track meets and Nutley would visit us on an every-other-year basis. (That of course is not the case now, because the Buc track team hasn't had a home meet in six years).

Belleville used to have a track. It wasn't the best track in the world, but it was maintained enough to host varsity track meets. Today, the track has been reduced to kitty litter. In fact, you can probably call the track at BHS the "Litter Box."

Being the owner of two cats, I can say no self respecting feline would be caught dead scratching the litter at that place.

Nutley has home tennis matches. What a concept! They aren't the worlds best courts, but they are well maintained and are considered good enough to host tennis matches.

Travel three miles in the other direction and you'll end up in a little town called Kearny. Last summer, Kearny gained national recognition because three of its native sons earned berths on the United States soccer team which played in the World Cup.

But, for the most part, Kearny is a small town with its share of day-to-day problems. But, they have taken the time to provide their athletes with good facilities.

They have a beautiful, all weather track. (They've had it for 17 years now). They also have tennis courts, which are located in Gunnell Oval, and don't even get me started about Gunnell Oval and the Green Acres funding which helped make that place a top notch facility just recently.

You all know of the joke at Belleville, where the township is waiting for the grass to completely cover the cracks on the tennis courts so we can, one day twenty years from now, have an all grass court comparable to Wimbledon.

Stand by folks, one day 25 years from now, you'll hear that Belleville will be home for a tennis match on their all grass court. And the council will be able to say "we told you so" and "see, wasn't it worth the wait for our kids to have the very best?"

On the stadium side, what used to be the tennis courts is now a beautiful hill. The hill is made of piled up dirt and a toilet bowl at the top. In a way, it's kind of symbolic.

I mention the tennis courts because last week, Belleville Times Editor Richard Dickon wrote a pretty positive article about the Council and Board of Education expressing concern about the courts and that something has to be done, and now.

Could make transition from HB

Berardi playing well at quarterback

By Mike Lamberti

The 1994-95 school year has just begun, but the Belleville football team has had little time to review their schedules.

The Bucs open the regular season on Friday evening, September 23, which is just two weeks from tomorrow.

In the meantime, John Senesky's team has been devoting a lot of time toward various game plans and assignments.

The Bucs had been putting in "two-a-day" practice sessions for the late stages of August through Labor Day. With the opening of school yesterday, practices are now at 3:30 p.m.

The team will play its first scrimmage this afternoon, at Scotch Plains, beginning at 4 p.m. The pre season continues on Saturday, at Columbia, then next Wednesday at Bloomfield. The final tune up is next Friday evening, at Livingston, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"We've gotten a lot of work in during the two-a-days," Senesky said. "It's been encouraging, because a lot of the kids are familiar with the assignments, so it's a matter of working a little on technique and teaching schemes on blocking."

Senesky noted that the scrimmages will tell a lot.

"It will be good to see how the kids perform under game situations. We won't be able to work on our kicking game in the scrimmages, and that's a concern for us."

The reason for concern is the loss of Mike Mundy, a senior in 1993 who handled not only the quarterbacking chores, but also place kicking and punting.

The quarterback position is also a question mark for the first time since 1991. Mundy, who started for 2 1/2 seasons, is now at Rutgers and Senesky has three candidates vying for the position.

The surprise candidate is senior Sal Berardi, who has been a starting halfback in the Belleville offense the past two seasons.

"Sal has looked good at quarterback," Senesky said. "He has good technique and mechanics at quarterback and his footwork is good. That's so vital at that position."

"He also provides a running threat and his arm is a lot stronger than any of else thought. He has a lot of natural ability."

Berardi also has a lot of varsity experience, albeit at another position in the offensive backfield. Nonetheless, he could be the key to offensive success in 1994.

Junior Ram Parekh, who took most of the snaps on the JV level last fall, has looked good in the pre season this year, as has sophomore Rich DeFalco.

"Ram has a full year of playing high school football," Senesky said. "He can throw well and is somewhat familiar with the offense. DeFalco has come along well so far, but he's still learning. He has a lot of potential."

While there is some depth at quarterback, depth is something Senesky is concerned with in 1994.

"We have some talented kids, but you know how tough the football season is. Right now, we're looking to develop kids at different positions."

"Brian Pasterchick hurt his knee last week, and we're hoping he'll be back soon. He's been working with our new trainer, and the results have been pretty good."

Pasterchick, a senior lineman, graded out well in pre season conditioning drills and is a vital player in the Belleville attack.

"We'll know more after this weeks scrimmages," Senesky said. "So far, we're right on schedule and we've been able to get a lot of things into our offensive and defensive schemes."

NOTES: The annual Photo Day is set for this Sunday, at Municipal Stadium. The event, which was cancelled last year, gives parents and fans a chance to photograph their favorite players and varsity fall teams. The cheerleaders will also take part in Photo Day.

Starting next week, the schedules for all fall varsity teams will appear in the newspaper. We'll also begin weekly coverage of all the fall varsity teams starting next week.

Team goes a perfect 5-0

10 year old All-Stars sweep tourney

The Belleville Recreation Girls' Softball League sent a very talented and dedicated group of 10 year-olds into a tournament in North Brunswick.

Hoping to at least make a reputable showing, the team finished the tourney with an unblemished 5-0 record, and took home the 1994 North Brunswick 10-and-under trophy. Also participating in this tournament were East Brunswick, Sayreville, and the host, North Brunswick.

On Saturday, the first day of tournament play, Belleville opposed each of the three teams. In the first game against East Brunswick, the Belleville girls appeared almost frozen at the bat. The E. Brunswick pitcher was throwing fast, something the Belleville girls are not used to facing in the slow-pitch Rec League.

Down 2-0 in the top of the fourth, Belleville capitalized on smart base running and their superb defense. Kristin Wilson led off with a walk, and scored on back to back singles by Rebecca Rotino and Andrea DeSantis. Alicia Sant'Angelo drove in Rotino, and Danielle Green drove in Sant'Angelo.

With the bases loaded, Meghan Branca walked in Dana Jusino for the fourth run of the inning. Ahead 4-2, Belleville pushed across another run in the fifth. Gianna Lopreato, Gina Gamaro, and Jolene Rocco each drew a walk to load the bases, and Rotino got her second RBI when she too drew a walk.

East Brunswick loaded the bases in the bottom of the fifth with two outs. Their next batter hit a long shot into right field, scoring two more runs, but Belleville broke up their rally when the ball was fielded by Gina Valente, who threw to Wilson, for the relay throw to Rotino at the plate to tag out the third runner attempting to score. This dramatic play spared Belleville and they never relinquished the lead. Belleville scored two more in the sixth, and came away with their first victory, 7-4.

In game two against Sayreville, Belleville gave up seven runs in a very sloppy second inning. Down 13-5 in the bottom of the fourth, Jusino got things started with a walk. Lauren DeMaio followed with a single, and Green smashed a double to score Jusino. Melanie Troise walked, and Gamaro's single drove in two more runs. Valente walked and Lopreato's fielder's choice scored another run.

Branca and Rocco had back to back singles, and Wilson's line drive back to the pitcher was misplayed and two more runs scored. Now down 13-12, Belleville came back to play outstanding defense, blanking Sayreville for the next three innings. Belleville scored three more in the fifth, taking the victory, 15-13.

The evening game against North Brunswick was no contest. Lopreato, DeSantis, and Danielle Green combined to shut out N. Brunswick, 12-0. Wilson, DeSantis, and Sant'Angelo each had two RBI in the game and the defense was highlighted by three consecutive grounders to Green at second and by three plays at the plate to preserve the shutout.

Going into the second day of play, Belleville was ecstatic with their first seed. They played North Brunswick in the semifinals, and again they sent them away victims of the 12-run mercy rule.

Wilson ripped a three-run homer, DeSantis had a two-run single, and Jusino ripped two doubles in the game. Defensively, Jusino had three consecutive stellar plays at shortstop, DeSantis caught a towering fly ball in left field, and Jusino used her cannon of an arm to throw a runner out at the plate. Branca took the throw at the plate to tag out the runner.

Moving into the championship game, coaches Matt Lopreato and Joe Rocco went with their ace, Kristin Wilson, on the mound. Belleville scored first in the bottom of the second.

Jolene Rocco walked, moved to second on a fielder's choice, and scored on a double to right field by Alicia Sant'Angelo. Belleville scored again in the fourth when Gianna Lopreato led off with a single to center field. Melanie Troise then ripped a single to the outfield, and the two speedsters combined to frazzle the defense of Sayreville.

Lopreato was stopped at third on the throw in from the outfield. Troise made a move toward second, and the third baseman was baffled. She ran toward second to make a play on Troise, and Lopreato took off for home. In the confusion, Troise landed securely on second and Sayreville didn't know what hit them.

Troise moved to third on a fielder's choice and Rebecca Rotino drilled a ball to the shortstop. Troise scored when the throw was on its way to first.

Sayreville scored one run in the fifth and attempted a rally in the sixth. Their leadoff batter hit a long fly to left field. While trying to stretch it into a triple, Troise relayed the ball to DeSantis, who came out for the cut-off. DeSantis threw the ball to Jolene Rocco at third for the tag-out. That took the wind out of Sayreville's sails for the last two outs. Meghan Branca fielded a grounder at second and threw to Alicia Sant'Angelo at first to end the game and claim the trophy.

The team was sponsored by J.R. (Continued on page 12)

Buc Shots

Pardon me if I'm not so positive anymore. The tennis team has already begun practice and the regular season is just two weeks away.

It would be wonderful if the kids can, sometime during this season, call the courts at BHS home for a varsity match again. I'll believe it when I see it.

Last week's article makes reference to a committee being formed. Usually, that means weeks, and probably months, of talking and, probably nothing being done except the proverbial "We'll get back to you after further discussions."

It reminds you of the old time television show called "Dragnet". You might have watched it on "Nick At Nite" this summer. Every Dragnet show ends with a monologue that says "the suspect was tried in Division Court. In a moment, the results of that trial."

In Belleville, you can paint a similar ending. "The Council has decided to form a committee to discuss Municipal Stadium. In a moment, the results of that committee."

After a few commercials, we get back to the show and pictures of a few Council members pop up on the screen and the narrator says, "The committee decided to form a sub-committee that will look for architects to devise plans to reconstruct Municipal Stadium. The sub-committee will then report back to the main committee in about a year, and hopefully by then, you'll all forget about this and we can continue business as usual."

The music from the show then plays in the background and on the screen is printed "Council forms a committee. The committee is now serving a sentence of six months to one year at hard labor." The show then ends.

And that's what all this appears to be, folks. It's a show. And, sadly enough, it's to the detriment of our athletes.

Taxpayers, you should be outraged. Why is it that we can't even hold a candle to neighboring, comparable towns, when it comes to providing class athletic facilities?

Dickon's word processor is on consistent repeat. Every week, he seems to say the same thing, mainly that the council differs over what to do with the stadium, but then, the famous line that nothing can be done to obtain Green Acres funding until that ridiculous law suit is settled. We've been hearing that for months now. But nothing gets done. (And forget Green Acres, anyway. It takes almost two years to get the monies once the application process is completed and, the funding process is totally different now, meaning Belleville wouldn't be eligible for the monies it could have received a few years ago.)

Council members walked the field in July with a dramatic picture of "we've got to do something." And then one member will say knock the entire place down, another will disagree and a third will give an opinion.

And then, everyone talks, some will argue and it's all put off until a further meeting.

When the toilet bowl was noticed a few weeks ago, there was a hearty debate on how it got there. Once the garbage is piled up, you can be assured that the people in charge will talk long and loud about how it got there instead of why the hill was ever put there in the first place.

If no one in a position of authority cares, then at least have the guts to say, "we could care less what happens to the tennis and track teams. As a matter of fact, why don't we just get rid of the programs, since we can't give our kids decent facilities."

At least that's honest. We've spent a fortune over the past seven years in gasoline, maintenance and insurance on our busses so that our tennis teams (fall and spring) and the track team can do the John Madden bus tour of Bergen County.

So, what do you think, people? Will it ever get better? Don't you feel a certain amount of anger when you visit a neighboring town and see a totally different attitude toward high school athletics?

It's either a case of total mismanagement or a case of "who cares?" (If the Council was asked to mediate the major league baseball strike, you could be assured that it wouldn't be settled until 1998. Could you imagine the Council and the Major League baseball people working together?)

Either way, it's a shame. And it's about time you, as a people, start letting those in charge know what a disgrace Municipal Stadium is.

Bills will finally win Super Bowl

While the major league baseball strike continues and the game slowly dwindles away on the professional level, sports fans, desperate for some serious on-field action, can finally get back in high gear.

Football is here, professionally and collegiately, as September kicks in.

The NFL campaign started last weekend, so the annual predictions are a week late, but, it's a long season and, hopefully, these predictions will have some validity come late December.

The Dallas Cowboys are looking for a "three-peat". The first team to win back-to-back Super Bowls since the '88-'89 San Francisco 49ers, Dallas has a marvelous offense, led by Troy Aikman and Emmitt Smith.

The question marks in Big D is on defense, where some key players took advantage of free agency. No doubt, Dallas will still be the team to beat in the NFC East, which, once again, will be the toughest division in football.

My Philadelphia Eagles will be a playoff team, depending, of course, on the health of quarterback Randall Cunningham. The Eagles lose key players every off season, but have managed to sign some good free agents.

The Arizona Cardinals seem to be the fashionable pick in the NFL this year, and they are a pick here to be a playoff team. But Buddy Ryan's act will get old, quickly.

Every year, Buddy shoots his mouth off, will be in the middle of controversy and, when it's all said and done, he will lose early in the playoffs.

Ryan's cheap punch on Houston offensive coordinator Kevin Gilbride in a late season game last year, seen by millions of viewers on ESPN, is typical for a loud mouth who can't back up what he says. If Ryan had challenged the guy one-on-one, he would have been decked into the following week.

Ryan is a good motivator, and his antics sell tickets, but if the Cards get into the playoffs this year, it will be mainly because Joe Bugel, the Cards coach through last season, was building a good team before being fired.

The Giants will be competitive, could finish around .500 and will be a team to watch in the future. Ditto for Washington.

Thus, in the NFC East:

Dallas	12-4
Philadelphia	9-7
Arizona	9-7
Giants	7-9
Washington	4-12

In the NFC Central, Green Bay seems to be the choice of many, but I like the Chicago Bears to surprise and win a tough race with Green Bay for the divisional crown.

The Packers could be without the services of All Pro wideout Sterling Sharpe because Sharpe wants his current contract re-done and could sit out the entire year.

Note to Sterling: Stay out for the next two years. Who cares? You were given a contract, a good contract, and now, you decide you don't like the deal and won't play unless the team re-works the deal. You're not a team player, you're just another example of a spoiled, totally out-of-touch individual who thinks he's working for a living. (Eg: major league baseball players).

Sharpe pulled this garbage on the eve of the teams opener. Let's hope the Packers suspend Sharpe for the rest of the season and that, under the terms of the contract, he cannot play until the year 2000. (Further note: Sharpe did play in the season opener after the Pack agreed to pay him a huge signing bonus).

As for the rest of the division, Tampa Bay will improve, slightly. Minnesota will disappoint and Detroit will stay status quo.

In the NFC Central:

Chicago	10-6
Green Bay	10-6
Detroit	8-8
Minnesota	7-9
Tampa Bay	7-9

In the NFC West, no one is going to beat San Francisco. It's the Niners, then everyone else.

Enough said.

San Francisco	13-3
New Orleans	8-8
Atlanta	7-9
Los Angeles	3-13

In the AFC, I'm sure you're tired of hearing this, but the Buffalo Bills will once again be the team to beat.

And, when it's said and done, Buffalo will be back in the Super Bowl.

Miami will be close and New England will be a wild card team. After the Dolphins fail to make the playoffs this year, we can all read in Sports Illustrated again how poor Dan Marino has never had the chance to get back to the big show.

We'll hear how poor Dan's time is running out. If you read the article on Marino in S.I. last June, then you read about a sore head, a whining baby who will not get back to the Super Bowl because he is not capable of making the players around him better.

Great players can do that (see Joe Montana). The players who are more concerned with stats and "me-me-me" finish 9-7 and come up with excuses for not finishing at the top of the heap (see Marino and John Elway).

As for the Jets, they're not a bad team, but if this were 1984 instead of 1994, they would dominate with some of the great players on the roster. Problem is, they're better on paper than on the field.

Buffalo	10-6
New England	9-7
Miami	9-7
Jets	8-8
Indianapolis	6-10

The Cleveland Browns are ready to take the AFC Central. They have a good defense, are well coached and a steady enough offense to win what should be a two team race. Look for Pittsburgh to be a wild card while Houston struggles and Cincy rebuilds, oh so slowly.

Cleveland	10-6
Pittsburgh	9-7
Houston	6-10
Cincinnati	2-14

In the AFC West, it will be a two team battle, with the look of the old AFL. The L.A. Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs will go down to the wire, with L.A. taking the division and K.C. earning the first wildcard slot.

The Denver Broncos will continue to be the kings of mediocrity. As long as Elway is their quarterback, they will never be a championship team. Never.

He's been in the league since 1983. During that time, he's led his team to the AFC championship three times, beating Cleveland in all three title games. (The guy is still living off the legend of one great drive in the '86 AFC title game).

He hasn't been close in a Super Bowl, and every time he fails, we hear how talented he is and what a great arm he has.

The Broncos have paid a lot of money over the years to Elway and the result has been glitzy stats and a seat in the stands for games that really count. Like Marino, Elway can't seem to get the players around him to excel.

Great players (Montana, Michael Jordan, Jim Kelly, Larry Bird) are capable of making their team better by merely their presence in the huddle or on the court. Elway is not a great player, he's perhaps a good one.

Speaking of great players, Montana could have a big year now that he's 100 percent healthy for the first time in four years. What Montana did in Kaycee last year is an example of a great player making his team better. Marino and Elway, combined, couldn't carry Elway's dirty laundry.

Seattle should get better, but they won't win many because of the overall talent in the West. San Diego will disappoint.

Thus, the AFC West could look something like this:

Los Angeles	11-5
Kansas City	11-5
Denver	7-9
Seattle	7-9
San Diego	5-11

In the playoffs, San Francisco and Dallas will earn byes in the NFC. Philadelphia plays Green Bay in one wild card game while Arizona takes on Chicago.

Arizona and Philly advance, with the Cards playing San Francisco and Philly taking on Dallas.

As much as I hate to admit it, Dallas will play San Francisco for a third straight time for the NFC title, but this time, the Niners prevail.

In the AFC, the Raiders and Buffalo gain byes. Kansas City plays New England in the wildcard round while Pittsburgh takes on Cleveland.

Cleveland and Kansas City survive, with the Raiders taking on the Chiefs and the Bills playing Cleveland in the next round.

Kansas City and Buffalo win, setting up a rematch in the AFC title game. Once again, the Bills prevail.

The Super Bowl, in Miami, will be Buffalo and San Francisco, and guess what?

The Buffalo Bills win the Super Bowl, 27-23.

(And this, despite Buffalo's 23-3 loss to the Jets on opening day last Sunday).

Tile Installation of Belleville. The proud owner has the two and a half foot trophy displayed in his window at 110 Malone Street. Belleville Sports also helped make the tournament possible with their donation of pants and hats.

Coaches Lopreato and Rocco attribute the girls' success to their tremendous talent, dedication, and most especially, to the strong support of their families and friends.

"This is something we've been attempting to do for a while," said coach Lopreato. "While the Recreation Department is for all the youngsters of Belleville, we attempted to take a true All-Star team and compare our talent with other programs. These talented girls deserve to have the opportunity to play at a more competitive level."

The girls practiced for weeks in the heat and gave up family day trips, but their dedication and determination brought home the two and a half foot trophy that stands proudly in the sponsor's window.

Columbus Hospital auxiliary donates $250,000 to building fund

The Women's Auxiliary of Columbus Hospital recently donated $250,000 to Columbus Hospital in Newark, as part of a $750,000 pledge to the hospital's new building fund campaign.

Through its continual fundraising efforts, the auxiliary has already contributed a total of $600,000 toward that pledge, making it a major contributor to the hospital's new wing, the Luciano Pavarotti Pavilion, as well as other areas under construction, expansion and renovation.

These women come from a multitude of backgrounds, but they have one thing in common: their commitment to giving something back to their community. They volunteer their time, knowledge and their support. "For me, it's really a personal commitment, because my father, Louis Stefanelli, constructed and eventually donated the first building which became Columbus Hospital," said Louise Stefanelli of Glen Ridge, president of the Women's Auxiliary. "My father's action instilled in me a similar concern for the health of our community and he continues to drive my endeavors. He would be so proud to see that Columbus Hospital is truly becoming a 21st Century community health center."

For more information on the Women's Auxiliary and how to become a member, contact Louise Stefanelli at 268-1409.

Volunteers needed

Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson and West Hudson is seeking volunteers to assist in our numerous and varied programs and activities.

The Cerebral Palsy Center, a provider of educational, medical, therapeutic, housing and recreational programs, services and activities for the disabled and their care-takers is seeking volunteers to provide supplemental services for our students of all ages up to 21 or for our young adults.

The Cerebral Palsy Center, located at 7 Sanford Ave., Belleville, has both direct classroom activities such as reading, tutoring, mentoring, etc.; and indirect client activities such as gift shop sales, bingo-workers, book or toy librarian, office assistant, music/dance-arts/crafts instructors, fund-raisers, gardeners, and/or as a friendly visitor at our residential housing programs (PM/weekend). We can use your individual skills to enhance our programs.

If you are interested in volunteering at our Center, call John Dragula at the center to arrange for a tour of the facilities and to discuss your availability.

'Room Service' begins season

Nutley Little Theatre opens its 60th season of live stage productions this weekend with "Room Service," the zany comedy that brought the Marx Brothers to Broadway.

Tomorrow's opening night is a benefit for the Nutley Auxiliary Police volunteers.

Written by John Murray and Allen Boretz, "Room Service" is being directed by Jay Montgomery of West Milford. Montgomery has a long list of directing credits in New Jersey community theater, including last year's "Light Up the Sky" in Nutley.

"Room Service" cast members include Mitch Frank, Eric Shanower, Sheldon Stone, Janis Wolfe, Marty Welzmueller, Francis Joseph, John Hall, Steven Somerville, Marie McMurrer, John Sullivan, Joe Leone and Joe Lacona. Joan Skal of Little Falls is the stage manager.

Montgomery has spent 1989-93 outside New Jersey working in theater design. Among his earlier credits as a director were the Nutley Little Theatre productions of "The Great Sebastian," "Never Know Third Degree" and "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

The Nutley Auxiliary Police, which donates thousands of hours in volunteer service to the community each year, will receive half the box office from tomorrow's benefit. All opening night performances this season will benefit nonprofit organizations of Nutley, including the Red Cross, Erie Place Historic District, Community Nursery School and the Nutley Historical Society.

"Room Service" will be performed at 8 p.m. on Sept. 9, 10, 16, 17, 22, 23 and 24, and at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 18. Tickets are $10 and can be reserved by calling 667-0374.

FOR RED-FACED PATIENTS

It is estimated that about one American adult in 20 is afflicted with a skin condition known as rosacea. Although it commonly occurs among adults of all ages and skin color, it is more prevalent among fair-skinned people between the ages of 30 and 50. Rosacea usually begins with a frequent flush on the nose and cheeks caused by a swelling of blood vessels under facial skin. In most cases, the blood vessels remain permanently flushed to create a burn-like redness that becomes a permanent facial fixture. If preventive measures suggested by the dermatologist are not effective, oral and topical antibiotics in the tetracycline family may be prescribed, as well as metronidazole (a topical antiprotozoal and anti-bacterial).

For all your prescription needs see us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Ave. (759-1956, 759-1968). For your convenience we also carry gifts, Timex watches, transistor radios, cosmetics, and toiletries. "Your Doctor Knows Us, Your Doctor Trusts Us." Open: Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm. Children's Eye Health and Safety, Sept. 1-30, is sponsored by The National Society to Prevent Blindness. The educational effort is focused on common vision problems among children and the importance of home safety practices to prevent blindness.

HINT: People with rosacea are also more likely to suffer from migraines.

Computer volunteers sought

The Essex Unit of the American Cancer Society is in need of computer volunteers.

The office is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Schedules are tailored according to the volunteer's availability. The office is located in West Orange.

Call Anne Marie Dasher, volunteer coordinator, at 736-7770 for more information.

School's back in session and in the excitement of the new school year, many school-age children, especially the young ones, may forget to look both ways when crossing the street or exiting the school bus. That leaves it up to you as a driver, to be extra careful around the schoolyards, neighborhood play areas, and departing school buses. So remember . . . when you see yellow, be sure to see red - as in red alert. Let's all slow down and give our children the chance they deserve.

This message is brought to you by these community-minded sponsors.

NEWS

OF SAFETY

Your Home: Secure While You Vacation?

If you've ever wondered how your home is doing while you are on vacation, here's news of a unique security system that lets you call in to find out.

You can now check your home's security system by phoning it.

The system, called TotalHome from Honeywell, is a home control system that can control security, temperature, lighting and appliances. TotalHome can be programmed for up to 15 different scenarios, such as "At Work" to "On Vacation." It can be operated remotely or in the home using a touch tone phone. With TotalHome you can check the status of the system at any time from any place with one simple phone call. When you plan to return from vacation, simply call ahead to notify the system—then drive up to a secure home with a well lit exterior and comfortable interior.

It also provides multiple user codes so while you're on vacation, a neighbor can get into your home to water plants or feed pets without disarming the entire security system.

For more information on Honeywell's TotalHome system, call toll-free 1-800-345-6770, ext. 2039.

INTS FOR OMEOWNERS

Beauty In Your Bath

Tired of your old bathroom faucets? An elegant new look for your bathroom may be at your fingertips. Now, decorative replacement handles have been created for do-it-yourselfers and can replace nearly every handle design made.

Replacing the faucet handles can add a touch of elegance to any bathroom.

Through a unique design permitting installation on nearly every valve stem made, Fluidmaster's Sure-Fit Decorative Faucet Replacement Handles for kitchen and bath can let you get new ones in nearly no time, even if your old ones are a discontinued model. They are designed with the home handyperson in mind. Through a unique design that eliminates the traditional tightening screw, these new handles will fit as firmly and securely as the originals and can be the perfect solution to stripped-out handle stems that refuse standard handle replacements.

The new replacement faucets are available in Clear Acrylic, Bronze Acrylic and Chrome finishes at local home centers and hardware stores. To learn more about it, write Fluidmaster, 1800 Via Burton, Anaheim, CA 92806.

Volunteers Wanted To Share Homes

Many students abroad are hoping to find American families with whom to live during the coming school year.

They've filled out the applications, sent along school and health records, a personal statement and photos of their families and friends. Now they're eagerly awaiting news.

The American Institute For Foreign Study Foundation's Academic Year program is now inviting American families to share their homes with these teenagers from Germany, Spain, Japan, Brazil and thirty other countries around the world.

Here are some "selfish reasons" for joining this group:

- Host families take a ten month trip without ever leaving home. They learn about the holidays, food and customs of a foreign land. They share its culture first hand.

- Host families come to know these students as their own "sons" or "daughters." They've chosen this student themselves, because his or her interests match theirs. Together they build a relationship that often lasts a lifetime.

- All students are carefully screened and come to America with their own spending money and have their own health insurance.

Host families need not have teenagers of their own, and single parents are welcome. Following an interview with the Foundation's local representative, family members are invited to choose the boy or girl who would best fit with their lifestyles and share their interests. Hosting can begin in August and January for year- or semester-long programs.

Foreign students are seeking American homes for an academic year or semester.

Families interested in becoming hosts are invited to call the Foundation's Academic Year in America office at: (800) 322-4678 or write to: American Institute For Foreign Study Foundation, Academic Year in America, 140 Greenwich Avenue, Greenwich, CT 06830.

As a convenience to the buyer, monthly payments are included in our ads. For purchase prices up to $250,000, monthly mortgage payments (principal + interest) quoted in our ads are for qualified buyers, based upon a 20% down payment and a conventional 30-year fixed rate loan at 6.125% with 3 points, APR 6.463%. As an example, a $100,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $745.00. For purchase prices from $250,000 to $500,000, the monthly payments are to qualified buyers based upon a 20% down payment and calculated at 6.250% with 3 points on a "3-year" 30-year fixed rate mortgage with an APR of 6.516%. An example of a $250,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $1,718.00. Figures herein are approximate and do not include property taxes, hazard insurance, or homeowners association dues for a condominium purchase. Interest rates quoted are as of May 19, 1994, and subject to change. Not responsible for typographical errors; while information is believed accurate, we request that the buyer be advised with a mortgage professional prior to purchase.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
(Never Known to Fail)
Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh, Star of the Sea, Help me and show me, herein you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in this necessity. (make request) There are none that can withstand your power. Oh, Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3X). Holy Mary I place this cause in your hands (3X). Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. You must publish it & it will be granted to you. L.C.
