Prosecutor probing school meeting charge

By Richard Dickon

The state Attorney General's Office has formally asked the Essex County Prosecutor's Office to review a complaint that the Belleville School Board violated the open public meetings act by discussing the dismissal of two board trustees from a committee behind closed doors.

In a letter obtained by the Belleville Times dated Jan. 25, New Jersey Attorney General Deborah Poritz, through her Chief of Staff, also said she would "make the services of Assistant Attorney General Mark Fleming available (to the Prosecutor's Office) and that "Fleming has a specific expertise in the area of Open Public Meetings Act issues."

Board trustees Thomas Fuscaldo and Barbara Cicalese, who were voted off the three-member residency committee amid charges and counter charges of lying and unfair treatment in December, filed a complaint Dec. 6.

"Naturally, I am pleased to learn that the Attorney General will be investigating this matter," Fuscaldo said, "In my opinion, the board's actions are a direct violation of the Sunshine Law. The board had no right to discuss Mrs. Cicalese and I without notifying us, and they certainly had no right to hide, in private session, matters which should be discussed in public."

Fuscaldo said he hopes the matter will be adjudicated swiftly, adding "The Attorney General and the Prosecutor should review the minutes of the meetings. They will discover a clear and blatant violation."

Cicalese has maintained that she and Fuscaldo did not act improperly as board members by meeting with a Council committee to discuss illegal dwellings.

"It is our obligation and responsibility as elected officials to act in the best interests of the taxpayers and children of Belleville," Cicalese said, "Discussing public matters in private is just plain wrong. I believe I have an obligation to uphold the law, and this is why I went to the Attorney General. I wanted the board that I believed they acted improperly."

Board President Ralph Mazzuca has said the board majority would stick with the opinion of Pomaco, that the board discussed the matter in private session because of "pending litigation" by Fuscaldo and Cicalese, even though neither had threatened any such action.

Fuscaldo said he feared the alleged violation will lead to other violations.

Drug, alcohol tests screen town workers that drive

By Richard Dickon

HealthNet Medical Group of Oakland, N.J. has been chosen by the Township Council to conduct drug and alcohol tests for every town employee who operates a vehicle with a CDL license, as required by Federal regulation.

HealthNet, a managed care group, has been chosen to provide the policy, training and testing in compliance with the state Department of Transportation and Federal Highway Commission regulations.

After changing specific language in the contract with HealthNet, the Council approved the drug tests, which are designed to help prevent accidents and injuries from drug alcohol use by town employees while on the job.

The cost of the tests is $45 for drugs and $30 alcohol tests. An additional $750 is to be spent for special training and administration of the testing, along with driver-education and training packets.

The testing requirements are described as "lengthy and complex" by officials.

Before approving the plan, Councilman Bill Cook inquired to Township Attorney Robert Giordano about who pays for retesting and about the mutual indemnification clause contained in the agreement.

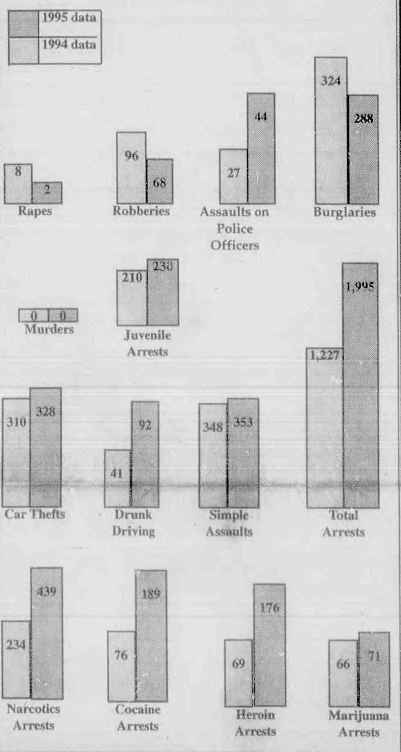

Giordano said, "If they (HealthNet) are in error, they don't charge us for a retest. In addition, the township cannot be held responsible for any claims that are shown to be negligent, fraudulent or in some other way in error."

Belleville Crime Stats:

All statistics were gathered from the Belleville Police Department.

Rapes, robberies and burglaries fall, but drug arrests double

By Kelly Tahaney

Crime was squeezed further out of town in 1995 due to an aggressive approach by the men in blue.

This approach (which strikes fear into the hearts of many would-be Belleville, Bloomfield and Newark criminals) helped clean up the increasingly meaner streets of Belleville.

The statistics for crime in 1995 were a mix of a lot of positive trends with one very negative trend that must be stopped before Belleville turns into Little Newark.

Domestic violence went up from 411 arrests in 1994 to 540 in 1995. Disturbingly, drunk driving arrests doubled from 41 in 1994 to 92 this year.

Three important crime categories decreased in '95. Rape reports went from eight in 1994 to two in 1995. Sixty-eight robberies were committed in 1995 compared to 96 in '94. And burglaries decreased from 324 in 1994 to 288.

The one glaring increase is the increasing drug abuse problem in Belleville. Week after week, Detectives Guiliano and Capece sweep the streets clean of drug pushers and users only to see a new batch the following day.

"Drug use is on the rise," Captain Rotonda explained. "We are using more aggressive approach on the streets," he said.

This increase in drug use and arrests is not from Belleville P.D.'s lack of cracking down on drug pushers and users.

One of the biggest drug seizures in the state was executed by a combination of Belleville Narcotics Detectives (Guiliano, Capece, Fraone and Smith), the NJ State Police, National Guard and the Marijuana Eradication Unit this past summer.

Sports tied to the NNJIL, at least for now

Athletic Director Karen Fuccella told school board officials that Belleville cannot ask to switch from the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League (NNJIL) to another league at the present time, since a proposed league realignment was cancelled by a split among the league's schools.

During discussion of the response by school officials to an incident where members of the high school girls basketball team were pelted with dangerous ice balls after a game with Passaic, Fuccella said "We can't get out of the league if there is no place to go. It's unacceptable."

"This is part of an on-going discussion," she continued. "We met about trying to realign Essex-Passaic, but we were so split it went to a tie and the motion failed."

She also talked about the NNJIL being "a prestigious league" that offers student/athletes a chance to compete against the best athletes in the area.

Council pushes spring playground upgrade

By Richard Dickon

Upgrading the old recreation equipment in at least some of 12 playground areas throughout Belleville is once again being proposed by the Township Council, with a spending plan introduced Jan. 23 to speed along the process, even though details still need to be completed on the plans.

Councilman Jerry Digori requested the amount of the bond ordinance introduced be increased, from $200,000 to $250,000 and the Council agreed the lesser sum would not cover every playground, including other costs like safety servicing, shipping and installation of new equipment.

Mayor Jim Messina said "With spring just around the corner, we need to do the Rec House and the Friendly House, that was shown to us in the (budget) audit. (Recreation Director) Dennis Buckley showed us."

Specific dollar amounts, along with a meeting with Buckley to provide guidance and what to buy, are to take place before the Council conducts a public hearing.

Councilman Joseph Scaperrotta agreed that the bond ordinance should be introduced right away. "The timetable is key, with spring coming and the deterioration of the playgrounds spelled in the audit report as being unsafe. We need the safety improvements and we should introduce it tonight," Scaperrotta said.

Councilman Bill Cook said "We have been told to either fix them or close them."

Councilwoman Angie Paserchia answered complaints from audience members about increasing the bond amount, saying "If we don't spend it all, we'll cancel it."

At Council work session last August, Department of Public Works Director Charles Cerami talked over plans to improve the 12 playgrounds with the Council to improve the playgrounds over a period of more than one year.

Most of the playground equipment is composed of swing sets and slides, described as "much worse for wear," and much being past 25 years old, Cerami said.

Doing all 12 playgrounds in one year would be difficult, because there is too much cost, Cerami said.

Cerami said gym activity sets designed for use by smaller children, can be purchased in sections over a period of time as long as five to 10 years to cushion the cost, which can run into tens of thousands of dollars for one complete activity set. The equipment is made of hard plastic in decorative colors, he said.

Digori has said the Council should let the Recreation Commission come up with plans, and cost numbers, and then come back with plans for each individual site, which can then be put in a budget.

Among the specific sites discussed were M-r-y Street, William Street, Cortlandt Street and School #9.

For School #9, the Council and Cerami had talked about "rearranging" the school's field to fit a 185-foot baseball field for use by intermediate players.

Municipal state aid is stable; school district state increases

In information that will be relayed to school and municipal officials later this week, the Belleville Times has learned that the Belleville School District will receive more state aid in 1995, while the township will get virtually the same amount of aid it got in 1995.

School Board members Thomas Fuscaldo and Barbara Cicalese announced the school aid increase.

"I'm pleased that the school district will receive a $37,000 increase," Cicalese said, "This is good news for our children and our taxpayers."

Last year, Belleville received $7,507,000 in school aid from the state, and is scheduled to receive

$7,544,000 this year," Fuscaldo said. "These numbers were just released from the New Jersey

Department of Education, pursuant to the Governor's budget message."

Council members Joseph Scaperrotta and Angie Paserchia announced that the township will once again receive about $7,465,000 in total state aid.

"Considering many neighboring towns, including Nutley, will lose money, this is encouraging news," Scaperrotta said.

"Belleville taxpayers will not suffer even though other Essex County towns lost money," added Paserchia.

HealthNet with indemnification if "We are found to have altered the test, accidentally or otherwise," Giordano added.

The Council also agreed to limit the contract to a specific one-year term and to solicit more than one proposal each year.

The Board of Education is using the same company to develop regulations with state and federal regulations calling for mandatory random drug and alcohol testing for all school bus drivers.

According to the mandate, the district must enact a policy regarding testing and train supervisors, who will then provide education to all bus drivers.

Edward Appleton, the school board business administrator, has said that HealthNet can provide insight on how to develop observation techniques, bring them to the administration and make referrals. Once trained, if a supervisor has reasonable suspicion, they can point to a driver and say, that driver will not drive today.

At that point, a driver would be asked to take a test, and if he or she refuses, they automatically fail, Appleton said.

Appleton recommended the Board of Education award a one-year contract to HealthNet. HealthNet would maintain back-up records, in addition the Board of Education's records.

HealthNet has a medical review officer on staff, according to Appleton, so if a driver fails, he or she must attend a treatment program and the officer must certify that the driver can return.

A remembrance of Charlie Rossi

Charlie Rossi was born and raised at 154 Belmont Avenue. Went all through Belleville schools and was the owner of the famous Rossi's Tavern on the corner of Belmont and Honiss St. in Silver Lake. Rossi's was Charlie's home away from home. He was a mild, soft spoken man with a great personality and sense of humor. To be an owner/bartender you have to be a 'good listener and hear stories over and over again as I can attest to being a tavern owner's wife. He dabbled a little or should I say a lot in politics. His many friends called him "C.R." Silver Lake was always his #1 subject and enjoyed being involved in its welfare. Some of the organizations that he belonged to were the St. Anthony's Field Club, Silver Lake Civic Assoc., Standard Bearer of the Rossi GrandDad Club in Belleville, Bloomfield Elks Lodge 788 and the American Legion. He and his wife Nellie would attend a lot of these functions. Charlie and Nellie were married for 61 years this past February.

In retirement years Charlie enjoyed spending his time playing golf, bocce ball, and going on bus rider to AC with J.F. and his crew.

One of his favorite things was going to the American Legion on Belmont Avenue to hang with the guys. But most of all he loved being with his family. You would always find Charlie every Sunday relaxing on Joe and Geneva's deck on Greylock Parkway socializing with his family. His family which included his wife Nellie, two daughters, Camille Marassa and Geneva Landolfi, a sister, Connie Rodino, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild, will surely miss him.

I would like to thank Geneva Landolfi for 'feeding' me some of the facts. I knew Charlie a long time and boy was he energetic. His address was Newark but his heart was in Belleville. He only lived a couple of doors down from Silver Lake on Lake Street. When there was an election in Silver Lake, you knew Charlie would be there. Being a District Leader in the Lake, I always wished that he was supporting the same candidate I was, because he knew everyone and would call them on the side to 'push' his favorite candidate. I always would get a little scared when I saw him coming since he was born and raised with most of them. I think that maybe we should all read Charlie's motto and try to live by it. Rest in peace, Charlie Rossi.

"Be kind and gentle to those who are old, for kindness is dearer and better than gold."

Talked to Joe Raimo from Raimo Insurance Company on Franklin Street recently. He surely fed me some nostalgia about the Rossi's. Joe's mother is Filomena Raimo who resides on Maple Avenue in Belleville and is recuperating from a hip replacement. Get well, Filomena. I understand that all the Rossi's were born on Lake Street in Silver Lake. And, boy were there a lot of them... eleven, to be exact. There is the ever-popular Ralph Rimpio Rossi, the former Town Registrar; Joe Rossi of Jeraldito Street who is a good friend and Silverlaker, and Tony Rossi. The Rossi's who have passed away were Jimmy Rossi who was a great Board of Education member and a good friend; and Mike, Jerry and John Rossi, and sister, Margaret Rossi Marrone. Last but not least there was Barney Rossi, father of Angelo, former councilman; and Barney, a dedicated Public Works employee; and still residents of Silver Lake. Let me get back to Barney Sr. You couldn't find a gentler, kinder, more considerate man than him. I must say that the Rossi Family has given love and knowledge to Silver Lake and the Town.

Regards and best wishes to all the Rossi's.

AND REMEMBER, WE LOVE SILVER LAKE.

Crime statistics released for 1995 in Belleville

over a $100,000 worth of marijuana from a mini-pot-farm on Little and Main Streets (in the bushes by Rt. 21).

The statistics showed an almost 100% increase in narcotics arrests from 234 in 1994 to 439 in 1995. The narcotics squad arrested 260 and patrolmen arrested 179 persons.

Heroin arrests went up from 69 in 1994 to 176 in 1995. Cocaine arrests went up from 76 to 109. Marijuana users stayed true to form with 71 arrests in 1995, compared to 66 last year.

Another disturbing trend was the near doubling of incidents involving assaults on police officers. There were 44 in 1995 which is up from 27 occurrences in 1994.

"Most crimes are committed by outside of Belleville residents," Captain Rotonda said when asked about the tourist criminals in Belleville. He said that approximately 60% of crime is down by out-of-towners.

"We've had more calls for service, more arrests but, the overall crime rate is down," Captain Joseph Rotonda concluded.

Prosecutor probes school meeting violation claim

tions, which will further erode the board's credibility. Fuscaldo has said of public perceptions that his actions might embarrass the board, "They've embarrassed themselves."

"I think it was ridiculous for Mr. Pomaco to advise the board that they can discuss Mrs. Cicalese and I in private without first notifying us," Fuscaldo said, adding that he thought Pomaco's opinion "is either politically motivated or incompetent."

Fuscaldo had said the board looks like it does not know "what is going on, and spends money like water," adding that the board "should get over differences amongst ourselves and our differences with the Council if we want to change that perception."

School Board trustee Lou Pallante, along with residents Judy Piscatowski and Diane Salzano, were appointed as replacements to the committee and two residents who quit in protest.

In December, the three were named by School Board trustee Frank Montagna to fill the spots taken from the two trustee who were forced off and the two citizens who quit in protest.

As a result of the two dismissals, two private citizen members of the residency committee resigned in protest and a third implored the Board not to remove the two trustees, all blaming Montagna for dividing the board and the committee.

Montagna has now become chairman of the residency committee. School Board President Ralph Mazzuca said he was giving Montagna "the authority to appoint" new members to the committee.

Of Montagna and Pallante, who joined the board last April, Fuscaldo has said the two do not know the Sunshine Act (Open Public Meetings Law), they have not been to school board orientation, and they do not know what can be done and what can't in setting policy.

He said the board "can't turn Belleville into a police state, and remove someone on a whim."

He has called some recent board recent actions, including the removal of legal advertising from the Belleville Times because board members said they did not like the content, as "McCarthyism," referring to Sen. Joseph McCarthy's hunt for supposed Communists in the 1950s.

Fuscaldo and Cicalese were forced off the committee for wanting to sit with three Council members and pool the resources of the Township Building Inspector, in charge of removing residents in illegal multi-family dwellings, and the domicile investigator, hired by the board to remove students illegally attending school while not residing in Belleville.

Mazzuca and Montagna have assailed Second Ward Councilman Joseph Scaperrotta for what they say is his attempt to take credit for the residency committee.

The Council committee also was to include Councilman Jerry Digori, who has led the Council's efforts to remove illegal multi-family dwellings, and Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane. Neither Council member is linked politically to Scaperrotta.

Mazzuca said Fuscaldo and Cicalese "did a good job, but mistakes were made and we had to take action," an apparent implication that meet-

Belleville Senior News

By Joseph Restaino

Sorry to hear Jean De Capua was in the hospital. She is now at home recuperating.

John Pisapia is in Clara Maass Hospital after a fall.

Sam La Sala is out of the hospital.

Helen Walker fell and hurt her arm and a vertebrae. She will be receiving therapy for some time.

Welcome back to Vera Farese, Josephine Molinaro and Dot Barbig. All were out ill for some time. Glad to see everyone back. I forgot Jeanne Burgan, so welcome back.

Condolences to Lou Rinaldi on the loss of his wife after a long illness.

To Joe Fornorotto on the loss of his brother-in-law.

I also heard that Grace Vaccaro is in the hospital.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Councilman Joe Scaperrotta and Police Chief Kimble for installing a hidden driveway sign at Division Ave. and Passaic Ave. Getting out of my driveway is a big problem because cars come speeding around the bend at a high rate of speed even though there is a sign that children cross there. I thought that a hidden driveway sign might help so I spoke to Joe about it and he spoke to Chief Kimble and presto the sign was installed. Thanks a lot.

A warning was issued on the new package scam being pulled on citizens and business owners. Capt. Joseph Rotonda stated that the victims get a phone call from someone stating that he is unable to sign for an expected package. He promises to reimburse them if they accept and pay for the package for him. A package is delivered and the victims pay the amount requested. They then discover that the so called businessman did not request the delivery and the packages contain nothing but newspaper. Don't take anything C.O.D. unless you have been given the money. If you receive such a call, phone Belleville police at 450-3333.

Also condolences to the family of Sophia T. Piacquadio of Bethlehem, Pa., who passed away on January 3rd. Although she is from Pennsylvania, she had many friends here in N.J. according to her daughter Pat Baird.

Inspector General June Gebbs Brown of the Dept. of Health and Human Service stated that patients of health care help the fight against waste, fraud and abuse.

If you believe a provider has committed any of these you can call 1-800-447-8477, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. EST.

The legislature has finally passed a law to overhaul binding arbitration. The new measure gives arbitrators more flexibility in settling police and firemen's contracts. Before the arbitrator was bound by a winner take all provision. The Supreme Court struck down 1996 law and ruled that they must consider a town's ability to pay. A new law was passed backing this new provision and Governor Whitman has promised to sign it. The prospect for reasonable police and firefighter's contract settlements is in sight.

Belleville Police Blotter:

A routine motor vehicle stop on Bridge Street produced the arrests of two men Jan. 22.

After a search of the car, police found several wax packets filled with a white powdery substance believed to be a controlled dangerous substance, police said.

Gregory Nasta, 21, of Union and Phillip Pietropinto, 48, of Irvington were arrested for possession of CDS.

Officers Marotti and Pinto arrested a male for possession of a controlled dangerous substance Jan. 25.

Officers noticed two males walking down by Mill and Union streets.

When the suspects noticed the officers one of them threw something on the ground, police said.

Officers recovered a folded bill filled with a white powdery substance believed to be a controlled dangerous substance.

Adberto Cardona also had white powder on his nose, police said.

Cardona, 33, Belleville was arrested for possession of CDS.

A Beech Street home was burglarized Jan. 26.

Some jewelry, a VCR and a television was taken.

In a related case an Overlook home was broken into Jan. 27 at 8:50 a.m.

Bankcards, keys to a motor vehicle and a black Buick was stolen.

At 9:20 a.m. Dunkin Donuts on Main Street was held up and robbed of $550.

A clerk in the shop took down the license plate and gave it to Belleville police officers.

The officers questioned the owners of the Overlook home that was burglarized earlier in the morning.

They said that it was their son who broke into their house and stole their car.

Police began patrolling the area and recognized the black Buick (used in the robbery and burglary) in the parking lot of Walgreen's on Main Street.

Working on the tip from the parents, officers searched the Belleville Motor Lodge (also on Main Street) and located the suspect in one of the rooms, police said.

Thomas Divengo, 38, of Belleville was arrested and charged on two counts of burglary and one count of armed robbery.

Police recovered the items stolen in the motel room and a lead pipe wrapped in a towel which was used in the robbery.

School #3 stock market club's success rewarded

By Richard Dickon

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade members of the School Three Stock Market Club have been playing the Stock Market Game for six years, and this year's stock picks once again did extremely well.

The club members and their advisors, Mary Bradley and Isobel Villano visit the New York Stock Exchange each year. The club showed off their latest trophy before the Board of Education at the Jan. 15 public school board meeting.

Frank DeVivo, a club member, announced the winning team members, who were Alicia Cook, Melissa Porecco, Krystina Silva and Hina Patel. Frank and Lorena Ruiz were advisors.

During his speech before the school board, DeVivo revealed this year's stock picks. First was Times Mirror. "In the first week of the game, we bought this company at $29 and three eighths. At the end it was $34 and one half," he said.

The second stock pick was the Gap clothing stores. In the first week of the game, students bought the Gap at $38 and one quarter and the end of the period Gap was $45 and one eighth. Third was Southwestern Energy Company, bought at $14 and was down to $13 and three eighths at the end. Finally AT&T was bought at $64 and three fourths and finished at $65 and seven eighths.

DeVivo then described the companies. "The Gap is a specialty store which also operates Banana Republic and Old Navy Clothing Company," DeVivo told the board. "We chose this stock because GAP improved its inventory management."

He described AT&T as the largest U.S. long distance telephone company, which also manufactures telecommunications equipment and computers, along with providing financial services. "We chose this company because of the increased use of cellular telephones and beepers," he explained.

Times Mirror is a major information company, DeVivo said, that publishes books, newspapers and magazines. "We chose this company because we wanted to continue our diversification of stocks," he said.

Southwestern Energy Company operates a natural gas transmission and distribution system serving more than 160,000 customers in Northern Arkansas and Southeastern Missouri. "To continue the diversification of our portfolio, we chose this stock which is in the energy field," DeVivo said.

DeVivo said the club's sources of information were the Star Ledger, Value Line, financial magazines and television. The companies that sponsored the club were Sherwood Securities and Heine Securities. Heine Securities provided issues of Value Line in addition to its sponsorship, while Sherwood Securities sponsored two teams.

The first week the club played the game it had up to a $100,000 or $200,000 margin to use. "We took advantage of buying on margin," DeVivo said. "We proceeded to buy four stocks in our portfolio. In the third week we increased the Gap by 1,349 shares. We are looking forward to playing the Spring Stock Market Game and watching our portfolio grow."

Previously, the Club has paid a visit to Sherwood Securities, where they were able to sit with traders and see how stocks are bought and sold.

The students invest a hypothetical $100,000 and follow their stocks for 10 weeks during a period.

Two years ago, the Stock Market Club came in second place in their division and celebrated at an awards ceremony held at Merrill Lynch in January.

OUR OPINION

Protests, delays point to a second look at high school hockey rink

With the School #8 Home and School Association's protests following delays that have all but guaranteed no street hockey rink on the playing field adjacent to School #8 this winter, we think it is time to take a second look at the high school as a possible rink site.

The stumbling blocks to such a change in thinking are the sincere efforts of hockey parents to begin building the rink at School #8, work which will be for naught if the change in venue takes place. Also, if plans go ahead to completely remodel Municipal Stadium, the rink may have to be taken down within a few years.

The School #8 Home and School Association's complaint, that the rink would take needed space from the already insufficient recreational area, deserves to be heard and remedied. Fears for the safety and well-being of children are legitimate reasons to reconsider the high school site, which would not now infringe upon any child's recreational space. Injuries and lawsuits, as suggested by concerned parent Phyllis Frantantoni, could result from the building of the rink at School #8.

Council members involved with the plans have continued to say that any perceived problems with the plans should have been addressed by the Board of Education before the site was approved, which sounds more like an attempt to assign blame than to work with the school board to remedy the concerns of School #8 parents. The Council has taken its share of complaints from parents of the burgeoning winter hockey league, who say the Council delayed the proposed rink. The Council has unproductively cited bureaucracy and horrendous winter weather as reasons the rink is not completed.

Gary McDonald, who manages Belleville athletes' participation in the area roller hockey league, joined parents in complaining that parents had paid between $300 to $500 for their children to participate, with 145 children signed up, and 50 to 60 more waiting to see if the rink is built. McDonald correctly points out that the rink will not be available to young hockey players this winter. The Council, the school board, and parents all owe it to each other now to find the best possible site for the rink, which may very well be the high school. Cooperation and an end to placing blame will allow all sides to mutually agree on the choice of a site.

All of that is now in the past, and the rink will not be available to young hockey players this winter. The Council, the school board, and parents all owe it to each other now to find the best possible site for the rink, which may very well be the high school. Cooperation and an end to placing blame will allow all sides to mutually agree on the choice of a site.

Safe, new playgrounds should be 'rite of spring' for local youths

Upgrading the old recreation equipment in at least some of 12 playground areas throughout Belleville before the spring thaw would offer youths a chance to play locally once again at many sites that are now classified as unsafe by local officials. The Township Council is to be commended for pushing through a spending plan to speed along the process, even though details still need to be completed on the plans.

This is a welcomed change from the seemingly endless delays that have plagued other equally worthwhile projects, most recently the doomed (for this season) roller hockey rink, which lies partly constructed at School #8 as parents and youths sit idly by with hundreds of dollars of hockey equipment. Other projects, including the senior citizen housing proposed for the former Geriatric hospital site, and repairs to interior and exterior of Town Hall, are also long overdue. With a new year beginning and four Ward Council seats to be contested in May, we hope this is the beginning of a late winter and spring of action by the governing body.

It is refreshing to hear the Council say that specific dollar amounts, along with a meeting with Recreation Director Dennis Buckley to provide guidance about what to buy, can take place later, but that the money had to be appropriated to ensure that upgrades are done by the time children will be looking to use the playgrounds again. As Councilman Bill Cook bluntly spelled out the situation out, the Council has been told to either fix the playgrounds or close them.

Completing the improvements at all 12 playgrounds may have to be done over a period of more than one year, since most of the playground equipment is composed of swing sets and slides, described as much worse for wear, much of past 25 years old. A solid start before spring, continuing throughout the summer, could bring the project to completion for all youths to enjoy, if not the rites of spring, perhaps the pleasures of the fall season at their local playgrounds.

Gym activity sets made of hard plastic in decorative colors and designed for use by smaller children can be purchased in sections over a period of time and we urge the Council to let the Recreation Commission come up with plans, and cost numbers, and then come back with plans for each individual site, which can then be put in a budget. Time is of the essence here, for the good of all Belleville's youth and as a sign that 1996 is to be a year of action for the Council.

As elections near, time to keep score of school board, Council incumbents actions

With school board and Ward Council elections coming in April and May, respectively, this week begins the first of many columns that will examine the recent actions of those currently in office, and the actions of those who are likely to challenge for those positions.

Starting with the Council (a much more pleasant task, given the relative civility to which that governing body treats each other), Mayor Jim Messina continues to hammer at his Council mates to move forward on two long-delayed projects, senior citizen housing and Town Hall renovations. In both cases, Messina has been a part of committees that have made reasonable recommendations, only to be shot down by other Council members. So now he is left to ask how a second set of committees is faring on these projects. The mayor deserves credit both for completing the tasks he set out on as a committee member and then delegating those same responsibilities to newer Council members in the interest of fairness. His opponents may try and accuse him of not acting on these projects, but the facts are that he has done everything short of acting unilaterally to bring these projects to completion. His skills at handling some of the more colorful (or is it simply nasty?) regular critics at public meetings should also be taken into account by Ward voters.

Councilman Bill Cook continues to pitch innovative ideas at the Council, which often has let those ideas sit until Cook takes action on his own. In the recent past, Cook has proposed hiring a public relations firm to better promote Belleville to prospective merchants and homebuyers; he led the Council's interest in purchasing the Reservoir building and property for use by the Historical Society, and he most recently asked that the town inquire about keeping existing businesses viable, and attracting new businesses to Belleville's commerce centers, by applying for status as an Urban Enterprise Zone. Also, Cook can be counted on to persevere the township's bill list before each meeting and has called the Manager on countless questionable expenditures, a valuable contribution to the Council's functions.

Councilman Joseph Scaperrotta continues to accomplish as much as anyone on Council despite the vicious diatribes thrown his way by various sources, particularly members of the School Board. His persistence helped bring the newly paved tennis courts to reality, along with the new public address sound system at Municipal Stadium. Residents of the Second Ward have seen his projects to pave roads and add curbing, and he has helped re-establish neighborhood crime watches as part of monthly ward meetings with his constituents.

Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane continues to say he will most likely not seek re-election, but has done some excellent work nonetheless. Most recently, he led the Council's passage of ordinances outlawing smoking in Town Hall and township vehicles, banning tobacco displays within reach of minors and requiring "lock-out" devices that require tavern owners to release cigarettes from vending machines after checking for proof of age.

Now for a less positive look at the School Board. Barbara Cicalese continues to come across as one of only two board members who truly has a mind of her own. Her persecution by a majority of the board over a perfectly legal meeting with her Council counterparts may result in sanctions against other board members for violating the Open Public Meetings Act. That experience, like many similarly harsh reactions to Cicalese's fresh ideas before it, will not likely keep Cicalese quiet, which seems to be the board's aim.

Board Vice President John Notari, the other incumbent, has spoken volumes with his silence on the underhanded and quite-possibly illegal censoring of Cicalese and Tom Fuscald, quietly casting a deciding vote on this issue. His call for a public speaking course, along with his earlier championing of the "Senior Prom" for senior citizens and inviting senior citizens to audit high school classes are, and were, excellent ideas, but his willingness to rubber stamp some very questionable actions by the board president should raise doubts among voters.

Look for more such "scorecards" on the incumbents, as well as those challenging them, as the election draws closer...

If you know of someone, or are yourself responsible for some of the many big or small, important good deeds done everyday and worthy of recognition in this town, let me know, because, as this column states, when it comes to good people, doing good things, that's "Positively Belleville."

• THE Republican presidential race offers many questions. They arise from the perception of Majority Senate Leader Bob Dole in answer to President Bill Clinton's State of the Nation speech. Many viewers across the nation perceived Dole as an old man - too old for the presidency. He proved a poor speech reader. Dole is at his best when he speaks off the cuff. Professional onlookers will not be surprised surprised if Dole loses the Iowa Caucus vote and the New Hampshire Primary. Where such a result will leave New Jersey State Governor Christie Whitman is anybody's guess. You will recall Whitman endorsed Dole's candidacy a month ago. More and more, it appears that President Bill Clinton may be re-elected almost by default. What a shame that Republicans can't find a modern-day Wendell Wilkie or a Republican FDR.

• FRIENDS of retiring Democrat Assembly Minority

Leader James Zangari paid tribute to him on Friday, January 26th to a packed house. He is completing 16 years as a member of the New Jersey Assembly. His first campaign slogan reflected his 16 years of legislative experience. It was "Performance not Promises". But more than that, he was a public servant with heart. A jovial and humorous individual, Jim has become a legend in his own time. God bless him with good health in his retirement.

• NUTLEY Board of Education member Sam Battaglia is planning to run for a seat in the Nutley Town Commission election. The rumor that Commissioner John Kelly has decided not to seek re-election but continue in his duties as an Assemblyman representing our district has led to the decision by Board of Education member Sam Battaglia to become a candidate for Commissioner. Reports reaching our sources indicate the Nutley Republican hierarchy was apprised of Kelly's decision to retire from the Nutley Town Commission, and early on tapped Sam Battaglia as his candidate. All other incumbents are expected to seek re-election.

• ONE of my favorite people over many years was Julia Cafone, the sister of my late sister-in-law, Elizabeth Viola Orechio. Julia lived a life full of optimism and cheerfulness. I saw her often during her 70 decades plus on earth and always her smile and warm personality would make one feel there was something special about this lady. She brightened the days of those who were fortunate enough to call her friend or relative.

• HOW wonderful it was to read recently that former Nutley Holy Family Church priest, Father Michael Saltarelli, was recently installed as the Bishop and religious leader of the Diocese of Wilmington, Delaware. He now heads the 157,566 Roman Catholics in Delaware and on Maryland's eastern shore. At his installation, Bishop Saltarelli stated, "In these challenging days, we believe that the Catholic community needs to be more than ever a source of clear moral vision and effective action." There are 56 parishes in Bishop Saltarelli's domain; Saltarelli spent 17 years as a pastor of Holy Family Church.

• PATERSON Mayor Bill Pascrell has decided to challenge Republican Congressman William Martini for the 8th District Congressional seat. The district includes Paterson, Passaic, Wayne and Clifton in Passaic County, and Montclair, Glen Ridge, West Orange, South Orange, Maplewood, Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield in Essex County.

YOUR OPINION

Nazziola critiques current school board

To the editor:

Though I am no longer serving this community as a member of its Board of Education, I am still paying taxes like everyone else, and, like everyone else, I have the right to share my opinions and observations. I have been reading both the local weekly newspaper reports on the Board of Education activities, more specifically the activities of the board's Residency Committee.

It is my opinion that the critical relevance of this committee's activities and Board President Ralph Mazzuca's action in response to it are captured in Mr. Mazzuca's statement of necessity "to maintain the integrity and credibility of the board."

First of all the Residency Committee did not exist three years ago, yet both board members of this committee and citizen members of this committee have made statements, reported in the press, praising its three year existence and "accomplishments." All lies!

Board members of this committee have made statements, reported in both weekly newspapers, that 40 or 42 (the reports vary from week to week) illegal students were removed during the school year which ended on June 30, 1995. Other statements were made, at public meetings, recorded, and reported in the press, alleging the existence of from 200 to 400 non-resident students in our school district. Political candidates went door to door repeatedly making their allegations. All lies!

The fact of the matter is that 33 non-resident students were removed from the Belleville school district during its last school year (September 1994 through June 30, 1995) and not 40, or 42, or 200, or 400! I should also point out that over the last several years Belleville school district has consistently removed from 25 to 35 non-resident students each year from our schools.

The only difference last year was, that at the insistence of the "big mouths" on the Residency Committee, the school board had to spend an extra $15,000 plus for a part time domicile investigator to achieve the same results. The "wonderful, productive results" of this committee are invented, not factual!

The real issue here is the integrity and credibility of the Board of Education as a public body. How can the "body" maintain its integrity and credibility as a whole when its "body parts" are lacking in individual integrity and credibility.

When the Board has amongst its members persons who have:

- been indicted by a grand jury for alleged criminal conduct, while being employed by a public body, which charges were later dropped for "insufficient evidence."

- been fined $500 by the New Jersey Department of Insurance for allegedly presenting false bills to an insurance company in collusion with an employee of a doctor's office for medical services that were never provided.

- being currently investigated for alleged violation of the New Jersey Department of Education, Title 18A, Ethics Law in voting for the hiring of a family member in the Belleville school district.

- been charged with several alleged acts of harassment of another citizen only to escape with a mere reprimand because there were five members of the Belleville general public willing to perjure themselves in that person's defense, two of whom believe it or not, currently serve in our Township Council.

- in their endeavor to conduct a very positive school event, did allegedly through their overzealousness misrepresent facts both verbally and through causing a false flyer to be distributed by others, in an attempt to use public pressure to dictate to the school administration regarding the happening of yet another positive school event.

- being currently investigated for alleged unethical conduct by the Department of Education having played a part in the unauthorized and fraudulent use of the letterhead and forced signature of a school official, the "doctoring" of the public voting record of board members on certain resolutions, and creating false "interpretive statements" purported to be those of the school official, and caused same to be circulated through the U.S. mails to seek political advantage for political candidate allies.

- been actively involved in the past by both verbal, written letters of testimonial, and public press endorsement support of the candidacy of an individual seeking a school board trustee position who was a convicted felon.

In my opinion, it's a wonder that the Board of Education can function at all, as more of its members obviously have come to the board with personal agendas, (mostly destructive and negative) having political goals of "job patronage" or some other single interest, and their primary purposes are far away from their responsibility of office, to deliver the best education they can to the students of our town.

But, respectfully, the Belleville voter has only themselves to blame when they get so ticked off at Belleville's taxes that they are willing to vote for any new name, believe any lie they are told, and cast negative votes for change, any change without any careful positive deliberation of what the facts are and who the candidates are.

Hopefully, the creation of the board's new Public Relations Committee will help in some way, but I doubt it. It's really a shame that at the same time that our students, our teachers, and our school district are being distinguished with national acclaim, that we must be embarrassed by the political antics of certain members of our Board of Education.

Scaperrotta applauds committee members

To the editor:

I would like to publicly applaud Clarise Andreola and Judy Fisicaro for their letters to the editor (Belleville Times, January 25, 1996) explaining the events surrounding the controversy with the School Board's Residency Committee.

It must be pointed out that both Mrs. Andreola and Mrs. Fisicaro indicated that School Board Trustee Frank Montagna refused to meet with the Council's Illegal Dwelling Committee because of his personal dislike of me. This comes as no surprise. Mr. Montagna has publicly stated his hostility towards me, and he constantly refuses to meet with the Council committee I chair.

Allow me to state "for the record" that I would welcome the opportunity to work with School Board Trustee Montagna, on any issue which affects the citizens and taxpayers of Belleville. I've sent Mr. Montagna two registered letters inviting him and his committee to sit down, and work with the Council committee. When I received no response, I went to a public meeting of the Board of Education, and asked Mr. Montagna why he would not meet with my committee. His response was that he saw no reason to meet with anyone other than the Township Manager and building inspector. As a township official, elected by the voters, I found this unacceptable. My Council colleagues and I are charged with the responsibility of setting policy for the Township. Any meeting with just the Manager and the building inspector would be a complete insult to the Council's ultimate authority.

Woman's Club has active December

Members of the Woman's Club of Belleville made Christmas tree ornaments to be used for the giving trees as part of an active December.

One tree was placed at the Bethany Lutheran Church in Belleville and the other tree was at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, according to Pauline Paraboschi, the club's Corresponding Secretary.

At the December meeting, another activity was "Operation Candy-Cookie." In spite of the very cold night, members baked cookies and filled decorated coffee cans with wrapped hard candy and cookies. Seventy cans were filled and donated to the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center and Safe House for Battered Women.

In closing, let me commend Board Trustee Lou Pallante, who indicated that he would be open to the idea of sitting down with the Council committee. In the near future, I will schedule a meeting, and give Mr. Pallante, and any other Board member, the opportunity to participate in meeting the goal of reducing our Township of illegal dwellings.

Joseph Scaperrotta
Councilman, 2nd Ward

New resident reacts 'positively' to column

To the editor:

After having read "Positively Belleville," I would like to commend you, Mr. Dickon, for your sense of decency and sensitivity toward the community of Belleville!

As a new resident of this town, I was most inspired with this article for a couple of reasons.

Firstly, I am a teacher and know first-hand the importance of education. Secondly, I do a lot of walking and have noticed that many residents and business seniors in this otherwise fine community, do not clear walkways in an ample fashion. I, like you, think of the negative repercussions, if anyone were to fall and hurt themselves seriously. Sad.

If I may, I'd like to take this opportunity also to say that I contacted you several weeks ago concerning another sad incident I encountered in a drugstore in my area. To refresh your memory: I was refused assistance with filling a prescription because I didn't have insurance but was willing to pay cash.

Thank you for the excellence with which you handled the situation by phone. Even the Belleville police did not handle the matter in that same fashion!

The owner of this store told me I should go to Pathmark where the rest of the people "like me" belong. I did go to Pathmark and am more than satisfied with the service there. This man negated the fact that I am an educator and a free-lance writer. I feel sorry for him. What he did was against the law and I had recourse, but I think he has enough problems with just being him!

Thank you for inviting me to write to your newspaper. I write poetry and would like to submit some of my poems in the future. I enjoy your newspaper immensely!

WAVE OF THE FUTURE IN HEALTH CARE

Introducing the Atlantic Health System.
A new name for people you already know.

One of the largest health care systems in New Jersey.

The Atlantic Health System arises from the consolidation of three of New Jersey's premier hospitals — Morristown Memorial, Overlook (Summit), and Mountainside (Montclair).

But, together, we're more than the sum of our parts. We're more than three hospitals, two nursing homes, and a rehabilitation center. More than 2,000 physicians, including 50 specialties and specialized services. More than 2,700 nurses and 7,000 other health professionals on our health care team.

Together, as the Atlantic, we're a comprehensive system with the experience and expertise to make quality health care more convenient and more affordable for you.

"So what does it really mean for me and my family?"

Good question.

First of all, this consolidation brings together some of the best medical minds in the region. Our doctors are continually discovering better ways to practice, diagnose, treat patients, and prevent disease. And our graduate medical programs help keep us on the leading edge of health care.

The Atlantic Health System enables our doctors to share their knowledge more easily — and bring the best ideas to you. These "best practices" can be used by doctors throughout the system. Which means the quality of care you and your family can expect will be better than ever.

It also means more convenient care. Our partnership with Chilton Memorial and Newton Memorial Hospitals extends our care into even more communities.

And it means lower costs, too.

Everybody is concerned with the cost of health care today. So are we.

By sharing facilities and technology, hospitals in the Atlantic Health System can make more effective use of all our resources. By reducing duplication, we can offer you even more programs and services — more prevention and wellness programs and more treatment options in clinical areas, such as cardiology and oncology.

More for less. What could be better?

Why the name "Atlantic"?

We have many good reasons.

Our medical and technological resources are deep. Our commitment to the community is vast — extending to over one million people. And our vision is far reaching.

As for our "wave" symbol, a wave has a clear direction and the power to move everyone ahead in a positive manner. Which describes the goal of the Atlantic Health System.

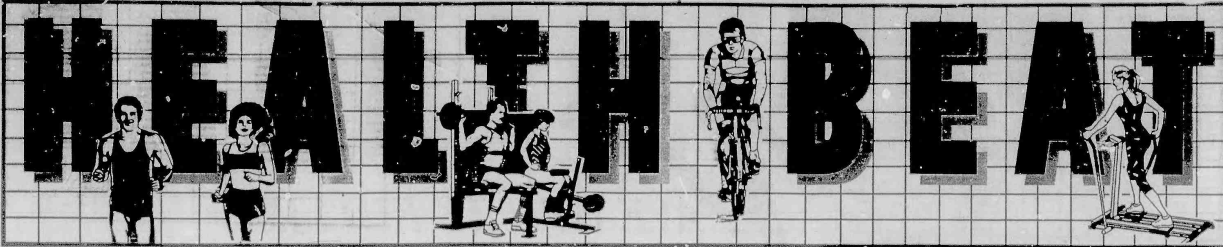

To learn more, call the Atlantic Health Line at 1-800-AHS-9580 (1-800-247-9580) and ask for our free brochure, The Wave of the Future in Health Care: What You Should Know.

C-SECTION RATES LOWER WITH NURSE MIDWIVES

Statistics at local birth center coincide with national findings on nurse-midwifery

A new survey by Public Citizen's Health Resource Group found that women who utilize nurse midwives are much less likely to have Cesarean births, reports Dianne Moore, CNM, PhD, MPH, Director of The Birth Center at The Beth, a licensed freestanding not-for-profit birth center staffed by certified nurse midwives (CNMs).

The report found that while almost 25 percent of babies born in the United States arrive by C-section, the rate was less than 12 percent for women whose birth were attended by certified nurse-midwives.

"This study runs parallel to statistics from our birth center," said Dr. Moore. "Our low 8.8% C-section rate is a direct outcome of our non-interventive highly supportive approach to the birthing process."

"Our midwives instill confidence in a woman in her own ability to give birth," continues Dr. Moore. "A friend and counselor throughout the pregnancy cycle, a mother's personal midwife is with her from the time of admission through labor, delivery and into the postpartum period. What a difference a supportive atmosphere makes!"

Results from the study also revealed that among women who have had C-sections before, almost 70 percent were successful in delivering another baby without surgery with coaching by midwives.

"Women need encouragement to have a vaginal birth after a C-section delivery (VBAC)," stated Dr. Moore. "Each CNM at the Birth Center is committed to offering one-on-one personal care, offering a warm, positive alternative to the sterile, pathologically oriented obstetrical units in medical facilities."

CNMs at The Birth Center are registered nurses who have advanced training in midwifery, are licensed by the NJ Board of Examiners and certified by the American College of Nurse Midwives (ACNM). The midwives' ACNM certification assures mothers-to-be that professional standards for safe practice have been met.

The Birth Center at The Beth, Inc. is a 501(c)(3), not-for-profit, licensed, freestanding birth center staffed by certified nurse midwives and founded on a non-interventive philosophy towards childbirth. For information on The Birth Center at The Beth or to register for open house every Tuesday night at 7:00 p.m., please call 1-800-94-BIRTH.

Partnership for Healthy Communities completes survey on health needs

The Partnership for Healthy Communities, an initiative spearheaded by a community committee comprised of 50 diverse stakeholders and leaders, has completed the first part of a research effort on local health-care needs. The partnership was formed with the goal of improving the health status of our communities, and was co-sponsored by Mountainside Hospital in Glen Ridge/Montclair and Overlook Hospital in Summit.

This past summer, area residents were surveyed to gain insight into the health-care needs they may have which are presently not being met. Statistics compiled from their responses included the following:

- Thirty-one percent of the children in our service area have asthma;
- There is significant anxiety or stress in the households of three in five residents;
- Fifty-eight percent of residents are trying to lose weight, an average of 20 pounds each;
- Violent or abusive behavior has been displayed in more than five percent of area households, nearly twice the state and national averages.

The intent of the Partnership for Healthy Communities is to define unmet, health-related needs of community residents, and the barriers they may face when seeking care. The project covers the 16 towns surrounding Mountainside Hospital and the 19 towns surrounding Overlook Hospital.

Building on statistical information currently available from local and state health departments, the Partnership for Healthy Communities had a two-pronged approach to learning more about the community's perceived health needs.

"We began with the survey mailed randomly to area residents, and then held focus groups based upon issues which surfaced from the surveys," said Roger Costa, Essex Community Committee co-chairman and executive director of the United Way of North Essex in Montclair.

"The surveys were completed by individuals in over 1,300 households, and we were successful in meeting our goal of reaching all segments of our diverse communities," he said.

The 12 focus groups, consisting of community residents and health-care providers, were convened to help the partnership gain a better understanding of the health issues of greatest concern to respondents. Among the areas examined in the focus groups were domestic violence, cancer, heart disease, stress, mental health and behavioral issues and adolescent substance abuse.

"Now that we have had community input, the next logical step is to look into our communities and assess what resources are already in place," explained Robert Reiss, chairman of the North Central Community Committee.

Reiss recently retired from his position as a senior vice president and managing director at the Chubb Group of Insurance Companies in Warren.

"A resource inventory of the services already being provided by area community agencies is currently being prepared, and the partnership is in the process of requesting information from these agencies. This will help the committee to avoid duplication of services, improve access to existing services and identify if there are any new services which could be developed," he said. "This resource inventory should also be a valuable tool to the community at large, including physicians, social workers and community centers. We are encouraging all community agencies to help us make this a comprehensive guide," Reiss said.

"In early 1996, a community action plan for improving the overall health status of area residents will be announced," concluded Ann-Marie Nazzaro, executive director of the YWCA in Montclair, and the other Essex Community Committee co-chairman. "The plan will utilize all available resources to address the health concerns identified by the Partnership for Healthy Communities' research efforts, and overcome perceived or real barriers to health care."

The process for assessing the community's health needs which was undertaken by the Partnership for Healthy Communities is endorsed by the New Jersey Hospital Association as the most comprehensive and effective means to improve the health status of the community.

Last May, Morristown Memorial, Overlook and Mountainside hospitals announced that the three institutions had agreed to consolidate, a process which is expected to conclude in early 1996. Morristown Memorial Hospital is one of the few other New Jersey hospitals to follow the comprehensive process utilized by the Partnership for Healthy Communities for community health need identification.

Newark Beth Israel hosts reception for new facilities

Calling for unity among community members and hospital staff, more than 350 people, including Newark Mayor Sharpe James and Newark Council President Donald Bradley, attended Newark Beth Israel Medical Center's pre-opening reception for its new ambulatory care facilities.

The guests had an opportunity to visit the renovated and expanded facilities, which include the new Lester Z. Lieberman Center for Emergency Services, the new Department of Laboratories facility, and the Outpatient Building.

"This is not just a hospital in an urban environment," said Newark Mayor Sharpe James. "This is a medical center second to none and this is the place to be."

Other dignitaries present during the reception and tours included Commissioner Gloria Cartwright of the Newark Housing Authority; former Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson; Freeholder Johnny Jones; Lois Lautenberg; Newark Councilwoman Mildred Crump; Earl Johnson, commissioner of the Newark division of Zoning; Max Kleinman, executive vice president, United Jewish Federation of MetroWest in Whippany; and Victor Garcia, president of the Local 1199, a union representing various hospital workers.

In addition, U.S. Sen. Frank R. Lautenberg, D-N.J., conveyed a message through Mada Lieberman, the senator's deputy director of constituent services.

The Center for Ambulatory Care was named after Lester Z. Lieberman of Harding Township, chairman of the medical center's Board of Trustees, to recognize his dedication and commitment to the medical center for more than 20 years.

The new six-level building, which covers more than 100,000 square feet, will house the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, the Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) Suite, offices for the Department of Surgery, the Same Day Surgery Suite, offices for the Department of Medicine, and offices for the Department of Pediatrics, including The Valerie Fund Children's Center.

The facility, which replaces the medical center's Professional Building at 403 Osborne Terrace and took nearly 15 months to complete, will also house the medical center's Admitting Department, main lobby and gift shop, and offices for The Transplant Center, which includes physicians who perform heart, lung, kidney, and bone marrow transplants.

The Lester M. Bornstein Center for Emergency Services, named after the president of the medical center, provides the center with more than 18,500 square feet of space, as well as significantly modernizing and expanding its existing facilities.

In addition to reducing overcrowding, the renovations have enhanced the privacy and dignity of patients using the facility and increased the center's ability to respond to the needs of the people and communities it serves. The new area will feature a screening area, a pediatric emergency room, psychiatric emergency services unit, a minor surgical examination room, and a cardiac/trauma resuscitation room.

New dental anesthesia blocks pain without chemicals, needles or numbness

Given the choice between the needle and numbness associated with novocaine or having dental procedures performed without anesthesia, most patients opt for the needle, seeing it as the lesser of two "evils." But now, thanks to a revolutionary new technology, Dr. Rispoli of Belleville offers his patients an alternative that blocks pain like novocaine, but without chemicals, needles or numbness.

This remarkable technology, recently added to Dr. Rispoli's practice, is called Cedeta (pronounced "sedate-a"), which stands for cell demodulated electronic targeted anesthesia. Developed in England and approved for use for all restorative procedures (such as fillings and crown and bridge preparations), Cedeta has already been used on tens of thousands of patients and has an impressive 90% success rate.

The principle behind Cedeta is simple. The inventor discovered that a specific low frequency electronic signal applied to a nerve ending will block a pain impulse. However, low frequencies do not pass easily through the body and cannot penetrate down to the nerve bundle where the sensation of pain originates. Cedeta overcomes this obstacle by producing two slightly different high frequency electronic signals, which are introduced through contact pads that are placed on the back of the patient's hands. High frequency signals—like radiowaves—pass easily and harmlessly through the body. In fact, even as you read this, high frequency radio waves are passing through your body.

A receptor, placed on the patient's gums, acts like an antenna and draws the electronic signals directly to the treated tooth or teeth. At the tip of the receptor, the two frequencies mix and cancel each other out, leaving a low frequency signal that is equal to the difference between them. The remaining signal is a very precise frequency, scientifically proven to block pain.

During the entire procedure, the patient operates and controls the device, increasing or decreasing the signal strength as needed to maintain a level of comfort and profound anesthesia. With instruction from Dr. Rispoli or his assistant, it may take a first-time Cedeta patient five to seven minutes to achieve an appropriate level of anesthesia before work inside the mouth can begin. On subsequent visits, achieving anesthesia takes on average about three minutes. In fact, Cedeta—which runs on four AA batteries—is so safe, effective and easy to operate it is routinely used to treat children as young as four years old.

At the cellular level, Cedeta works just like novocaine and other chemical anesthesia. However, unlike chemicals, Cedeta only affects the pain fibers—not the sensory fibers—so there's no numbness after the procedure. Patients can sense touch, pressure and mild temperature changes—but not pain. Without pain or numbness, Dr.

Rispoli's patients can accurately report conditions inside their mouths during procedures, which ultimately reduces the need for patients to return later for minor adjustments.

Naturally, patients inquire about what happens when the device is turned off. Will they then feel the pain? Most of the pain afterwards, which results from a restorative procedure, is a result of the gum healing from the injection and the soreness of the gum tissue through which the chemical anesthesia was forced. Since Cedeta eliminates the injection, patients have far less post operative pain. Additionally, Cedeta's low frequency signal stimulates the production of endorphins—the body's natural painkiller. The buildup of endorphins in the gum tissue keeps patients comfortable pain-free for up to two hours after they have been disconnected from the unit.

The American Dental Association estimates that nearly 35 million adults have "dental anxiety." No doubt the result of past experiences that were painful or unpleasant, these individuals are extremely fearful of going to the dentist, and often avoid needed dental care. For these people and the millions more who simply dislike the needles and numbness associated with chemical anesthesia, Cedeta offers an effective alternative—prompting Dr. Rispoli to encourage his patients to just say "no" to novocaine.

From left, Essex Community Committee Chairmen Ann-Marie Nazzaro, executive director of the YWCA in Montclair, and Roger Costa, executive director of the United Way of North Essex in Montclair, and the chairman of the North Central Community Committee, Robert Reiss, meet to discuss the Partnership for Healthy Communities.

When Your

(NAPS)—Ensuring your children's proper nutrition is always a concern. It can become an even higher priority, however, when they are recovering from illness.

Your initial response may be to turn to traditional home remedies such as chicken soup, milkshakes or gelatins. To help make sure your child gets needed nutrients, a liquid nutritional product may be a better choice. These products can provide more protein, vitamins, and minerals than typical home remedies.

In addition to providing sound nutrition during illness, liquid nutritional products can benefit children who are recovering from or preparing for surgery, have trouble eating regular food, have difficulty swallowing after a tonsillectomy, or have discomfort chewing because of orthodontic braces.

'Hands on Health'

Don't wait — rehabilitate!

By Robert Ruffalo, PT, DC, CCSP

Aunt Dottie slipped on the ice three weeks ago. Luckily, she didn't break anything, but she did injure her arm as a result of the fall. She went to her family doctor who prescribed physical therapy to help her regain movement and restore function. So Aunt Dottie left the doctor's office and reported her story to me. "What is physical therapy anyway? I know it's something you do...but how do you do it?"

Well, Aunt Dottie, here's how it goes...

Physical therapy is a term many people use but don't necessarily understand. Through evaluation and individualized treatment programs, physical therapists treat both existing problems and provide preventive health care for people with a variety of needs. Orthopaedists, neurologists, family doctors, podiatrists, and dentists are among the many different types of medical specialists who work in unison with physical therapists. When their patients are finished with medical treatment, they often need to work on the dysfunction, or pain and loss of movement ability. A prescription for physical therapy is given to the patient by their doctor for treatment which is usually several times a week for an extended period of time — or — three times per week for a month.

But the therapist does NOT start the patient right away with exercises. First, a history of the pain or injury is discussed to get an overview of the patient's problem. Then, a careful evaluation of the problem is performed, observing the range of motion, or movement, in the affected area. This gives the therapist more clues to the nature of the problem.

"But I don't want to keep going back and forth for all these visits! I have things to do and don't have the time. You know my schedule is very busy with bingo, sewing circle, supermarket trips..."

Sorry, Aunt Dottie. I know it seems like you're wasting time, but if you don't treat the problem at the beginning, your condition is likely to worsen and become more complicated. Then you will really be prevented from doing all your daily activities! You see, treatment is based on four principles — pain reduction, neurological rehabilitation, improved range of motion and increased strength. Through the use of hot/cold treatments, joint and soft tissue mobilization (to reduce pain, inflammation, muscle spasm and increase circulation), and exercise, a physical therapist will plan a treatment program geared to meet your individual therapy needs. Along with your physician, their goal is to obtain maximum recovery in a quick and effective manner. They treat injuries and pain from the source, not just the site.

Nevertheless, Aunt Dottie did use my physical therapy services and is currently sitting at her sewing circle making me guest towels for my bathroom in gratitude! She reported back to her family doctor and told him how happy she was that he suggested physical therapy.

Resource Center for alcohol, tobacco and other drugs opens in Montclair

A Resource Center crammed with everything Essex County residents want to know about alcohol, tobacco and other drugs (ATOD) is opening to the public on Wednesday, Jan. 31 at 60 South Fullerton Avenue, Montclair.

Managed by the National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence (NCADD), a ribbon cutting by Essex County Executive Jim Treffinger will launch the opening of this unique collection of literature, research items, curricula, posters, puppets and videos that relate to the many aspects of substance use and abuse.

Upon request, the Center will Research ATOD topics on-line, as well as furnish articles from periodicals and scholarly monographs from Center files. Also, NCADD's professionals will be available to offer training for Alternative Prevention strategies and whatever technical assistance is requested by municipal alliances, churches, community organization, students and all who share the Council's mission of Prevention Proliferation.

"The more people flesh out their concepts of what these drugs are—and we include tobacco—the fewer new users will surface. People need to become more drugs-literate, more angry at the alcohol and tobacco ads aimed at the youth market, more ready to prevent a drunk from climbing behind the wheel, more confident about their ability to confront a suffering addict and point him or her toward help," said Nancy Brach, Executive Director of NCADD.

The service is sponsored by the NJ Division of Addiction Services, the Essex County Division of Addiction Services and Hoffman-La Roche, Inc.

For more information call Nancy Brach at (201) 783-9313.

That Nerve

By Sylvain Junger, M.D.
North Center Neurology
Pain and Headache Center

New Belleville location for Pain and Headache Treatment Center

The Pain and Headache Treatment Center of North Central Neurology, headed by Sylvain Junger, M.D., has relocated to 36 Newark Ave., Belleville. By combining traditional and alternative medical approaches, Dr. Junger has established a successful program, bringing relief to many chronic pain sufferers.

Dr. Junger is among the first Essex County physicians to recognize and treat a painful and disabling condition called Fibromyalgia. Fibromyalgia is characterized by generalized aching, tender spots in the muscles and fatigue. This condition often results from relatively minor head or neck trauma and following chronic infection such as Lyme disease.

The mainstay of treatment consists of trigger point injections which is a form of acupuncture. Dr. Junger also uses an array of different treatment modalities which results in a significantly higher success rate than other pain specialists.

Headache and head pain are common conditions treated at the Pain Center. Dr. Junger attributes his success with headaches to his treatment of the underlying cause. He never uses pain killers in the office. "Patients with a bad headache get treated with drugs in the Emergency Room and leave sedated, whereas my treatments get at the source," says Dr. Junger. "The patient generally leaves my office headache-free, ready to resume usual activities."

He is also the first community-based neurologist in northern New Jersey to perform a new procedure using botulinum toxin called Botox to treat a group of rare neurologic disorders called focal dystonias. Currently, only five neurologists in the state use the Botox which represents a major therapeutic advance for these individuals who suffer from uncontrolled muscle twitches that affect the facial, neck, limb or voice muscles.

Dr. Junger moved his practice to the area in 1989 and has been featured on television and in various print media. He has served as a medical consultant in a multispecialty pain center. Dr. Junger has been published in neurology literature on a variety of topics.

After receiving his medical degree from the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, Dr. Junger completed an internship and neurology residency at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Michigan. He received subspecialty training in EMG and neuromuscular disease at Rush Presbyterian St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago, Illinois, and is board certified in his specialty.

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Note to B.H.S. Athletic Advisory Council: Get your facts straight

Last week, a letter appeared in the Letter to the Editor section of this newspaper (page 5), written by the Belleville High School Athletic Advisory Council, criticizing me for not attending their most recent dinner and also for not giving it proper coverage.

Let's get a few things straight, starting with the "tiny blurb" of coverage that I supposedly supplied.

There were four (4) different columns pertaining to the excellent work done by the Belleville High School Athletic Advisory Council (B.H.S.A.A.C.) prior to the 1995 dinner. One of those columns was a discussion with softball coach Carli Corino, looking back at the accomplishments of the softball players who were being inducted in 1995.

If you'd like, I will be happy to provide you the dates of those columns.

The columns were written because I had received a press release of sorts saying who the inductees were and when the dinner would be held.

For five weeks prior to the dinner, our paper also ran the press release, saying when the dinner would be held and how one could obtain tickets.

In the initial press release, written, I suppose, by the B.H.S.A.A.C., the final sentence in the release made reference that the necessary bio's on the inductees would be forthcoming.

Guess what? Those bio's must still be forthcoming because nothing was sent to me. I suppose that's my fault, too.

Now, I will say that I was supposed to provide Simone Edwards, one of the 1995 inductees, with some pictures that she had lent me. I did not get those pictures to her in time, and for that, I'm sorry. But if that's the reason why the B.H.S.A.A.C. decided it wasn't necessary to provide bio's pertaining to the dinner, it doesn't make much sense. All they had to say was "here are the bio's, please run what ever pictures you have."

The line at the end of the first paragraph which says, "we can only assume that none of this year's recipients had a personal affiliation with Mike or he would have found the time to cover the affair" just goes to show what happens when people "only assume".

Your insensitive, totally uncalled for, remark deserves a few comments.

I had every intention of going to your dinner that evening. The camera was set, the evening was planned. Two hours prior to the dinner, I had found out at work that a person whom I was once good friends with, had suddenly passed away. The viewing would be the evening of your dinner.

I opted to attend the viewing and pay whatever respects I felt necessary. Following the viewing, I was paged with a problem at my other job that required immediate attention. Since everything happened at once, I was unable to make the dinner that evening or get someone to cover on such short notice.

The following Monday (the dinner was held the previous Friday) I spoke with Joe Cerreto, one of the inductees for the class of 1995 and asked him if he could put me in touch with someone who had pictures from the event. Joe made a number of attempts to help get me those photos.

(Joe provided me with those photos on January 25, 1996 and they will be run in next weeks issue).

Was it possible if someone from the B.H.S.A.A.C. could have contacted me about the coverage the Monday after the event? Or is it better to write letters complaining six weeks after the fact?

My coverage of some fall sports, which received "little, if any coverage" deserves some attention. You mention specifically the gymnastics team, tennis team, volleyball and girls' soccer team.

Perhaps you should speak to the tennis and gymnastics coach and ask them if the coverage was "little, if any". We had coverage of the volleyball team when the coach returned my calls. The coverage of the girls soccer program was limited. But once again, I have asked on numerous occasions for any student in the school to provide some information on J.V. sports and we will run the articles.

This newspaper (specifically me) did not "snub" your event. I have been a big fan of your dinner since its inception. I have attended every function (except the 1995 dinner) and have always written about the class year in which you handle this event. I attempted to secure pictures from this years dinner and was planning to run them, but it took a while to get a response from anyone who had those photos.

In closing, I respect the fact that you have a complaint and I am more than willing to try and provide the necessary coverage to a very nice event.

However, when no one in the B.H.S.A.A.C. even attempts to try and speak with me on the issue, then writes that I, in essence, don't care about the event, it deserves some comment.

Please feel free to call me if you wish to discuss this further.

Hernandez tallies 20

Lady Bucs top Weequahic in ECT

By Mike Lamberti

Following two straight losses, the Lady Buc basketball team won a critical game in the first round of the Essex County tournament last Saturday against Weequahic, 53-51.

Cheryl Marion's injured team took a 7-6 record into a game with Immaculate Heart last Tuesday. This afternoon, Nutley visits in a 5:30 p.m. tip off. This Saturday, Bloomfield Tech will be at Belleville in a second round ECT contest. Tip off time is 2 p.m. Next Tuesday, Paramus Catholic visits at 4 p.m.

Injuries have been a big factor in the Lady Bucs recent slump. Belleville lost league games to Paramus 50-43 and Hackensack, 48-41. In both games, the Lady Bucs held the lead heading into the last quarter.

During the past week, the team lost the services of Kim Mahoney to a broken finger. Dilma Hernandez, the teams leading scorer, has been battling a badly sprained ankle. Deanna Addis and Chrissie Scassera have been playing through hamstring injuries. Starting point guard Mario Acuna has a jammed finger.

"It's been tough," Marion said. "But our kids responded with a good effort against Weequahic today (last Saturday). We were trailing for a good part of the game, but we came back. It also clinched a berth in the state tournament for us."

Belleville trailed 10-7 after one quarter and 28-24 at halftime of last Saturday's game.

The Lady Bucs came out strong in the third quarter, scoring the first ten points. Hernandez, who was limping noticeably but played 29 minutes, hit two free throws to cut the lead to 28-26. Addis, who has been playing very well of late, hit a layup off a missed Hernandez jumper.

Hernandez then made a steal and converted a layup. She was fouled in the act of shooting, but missed the free throw. Addis hit a jumper to give Belleville a 32-28 lead and Hernandez converted a layup off a fast break to give Belleville its biggest lead, 34-28.

Weequahic, which shot the ball very well from long distance, then scored the next seven points and led, 35-34 after three quarters.

The game was back and forth for most of the fourth quarter. Belleville took the lead for good on an Acuna driving layup, 40-39. Hernandez hit a jumper, then converted a second jump shot, being fouled in the process. She hit the free throw and Belleville led 45-39.

Following an Addis jumper that gave Belleville a 49-43 lead, Weequahic hit the next five points before a Hernandez free throw put the Lady Bucs up by two points, 50-

48. Scassera hit a free throw to extend the Lady Buc lead to 51-48 and seconds later, she hit a key jumper that put Belleville up by five points, 53-48.

Once again, Weequahic rallied, scoring three points off free throws. But the visitors could get no closer than two points and the clock ran out.

Hernandez led the Lady Bucs with 20 points. Addis had 19, Acuna tallied nine and Scassera finished with five points.

In losing to Paramus, the Lady Bucs were hindered by a poor fourth quarter. Belleville led 10-6 after one and 19-15 at halftime. It was 25-23 after three quarters, but Belleville was outscored 27-18 in the last eight minutes and lost by seven points.

Addis led Belleville with 13 points. Acuna and Hernandez scored eight each, Kollien Myers had six, Scassera scored four, Geannine Gialanella had three and Joelle DellaVolpe scored one.

The same fate pretty much awaited Belleville in its game against Hackensack. The Lady Bucs led 12-7 after one. It was tied at halftime (19-19), but Belleville appeared to take control in the third quarter, taking a 33-28 lead heading into the last eight minutes of the game.

There, Hackensack went on a roll, outscoring Belleville 20-8 and winning by seven points.

"We were without some of our key players," Marion said. "It's part of the game. But these were games we probably should have won. Foul trouble hurt us against Paramus and in the Hackensack game, three of our starters got hurt."

NOTES: Marion is hopeful that Mahoney could be back in the next two weeks. The other starters should be able to play this week.

The coach has been pleased with the play of Gialanella, a sophomore, who has done well in a guard position.

In the Essex County tournament, Columbia is the top seed. Columbia last won the county championship in 1979. They played for the county title in 1980, losing to East Orange in the finals.

Columbia also won the ECT title in 1978.

During the 1990's, Montclair Immaculate won the crown in '90, Shabazz was victorious in '91, Clifford Scott won three straight crowns from 1992-94 and Mt. St. Dominic won the championship last year, beating Bloomfield.

Shabazz holds the tourney record with four straight titles, from 1982-85. Nutley won back-to-back titles in 1976 and '77 and Bloomfield won back-to-back crowns in 1988 and '89.

The championship game will be held at Essex County College in late February.

Belleville hoops drop three straight

By Mike Lamberti

Poor starts led to three straight losses for the Belleville Buc basketball team. Don Roll's team dropped games to Paramus 45-43, Hackensack 62-45 and West Orange last Saturday, 58-49.

The Bucs were 4-9 heading into last Tuesday's game with Don Bosco. This afternoon, Nutley visits in a 4 p.m. match. Tomorrow, Hudson Prep will be in town for a 4 p.m. contest. Next Tuesday, it's off to Paramus Catholic for a 7:30 p.m. game.

In all three losses last week, the Bucs fell behind by double digits early, then had to battle back.

"We're not good enough to play that way," Roll said. "The competition is too good in this league. We were physically over matched against Hackensack. In the other two games, we had our chances, but we couldn't capitalize."

In the Hackensack game, the Bucs fell behind 15-0 in the first quarter and trailed 28-10 after one.

"They were just too strong for us," Roll said of Hackensack. "(Seth) Brown (Hackensack's 6'9" center) had 13 points in the first quarter alone. He outscored us in the first quarter.

"We knew we wouldn't match up well with them, so it was important to get off to a good start. When you fall behind 15-0 on the road, it makes things pretty difficult."

To Belleville's credit, they did play Hackensack pretty even from then on. For that matter, the Bucs outscored Hackensack by one point for the final three quarters.

Dan Montalvo led the Bucs with 11 points, Dave Fatone had eight, and Lou Pallante and Ed Pagan had six points each to pace the Belleville effort.

Brown led all scorers in the game with 22 points.

Against Paramus, a team the Bucs had beaten earlier this season, it was once again an up hill battle. Paramus jumped out to a 9-0 lead on Belleville's home court.

"No excuse for that," Roll said. "That was a game we were supposed to win. We worked hard to beat them, at their place (last month) and we get to play home and don't respond early."

Paramus led 14-9 after one quarter and 25-20 by halftime. It was 36-33 after three quarters, but the Bucs could get no closer than one point in the final eight minutes and ended up on the losing end of a 45-43 decision.

Montalvo played a good game, scoring 19 points to lead all scorers. No other Belleville player scored in double figures, however. Ernie Sicari had six points, Pallante, Tom Dyer and Fatone had four points each and Rob Sanzone and Dave Vargas scored three points each.

Last Saturday, the Bucs lost a 58-49 decision to West Orange in the preliminary round of the Essex County tournament.

The game, played at West Orange, was a good test for the Bucs.

"We had the same problem," Roll said. "We fell behind early. We trailed by points early and had to battle back."

"We cut the lead to two points in the fourth quarter, but we missed two layups in the closing minutes that could have gotten us closer."

"We didn't finish some of our plays. We aren't scoring in the paint consistently. We're trying to be a three point shooting team instead of working for our shots in the low post and driving to the basket."

The Bucs were outscored from the free throw line, 20-10.

"That's a sign that we're not being aggressive enough in the paint," Roll said.

West Orange led 18-11 after one quarter and 32-18 at halftime. The Bucs trailed 50-34 after three quarters, then made a furious rally in the last quarter that cut the West Orange lead to two points.

Belleville's defense limited West Orange to eight fourth quarter points, but the Bucs couldn't close the gap past the two point deficit and ended up losing by nine points.

Fatone and Montalvo scored ten points each to lead the Bucs. Pagan scored nine, Sicari had seven and Sanzone tallied six to lead the Belleville scoring.

NOTES: The Essex County tournament will continue with games this weekend. Irvington is looking for an unprecedented fifth straight championship.

Weequahic, which last won the tourney in 1980, is the top seed this year.

Prior to the Irvington dominance, Seton Hall Prep won the title in 1991 and Shabazz took the crown in 1988 and '90. Clifford Scott last won the championship in 1989. East Orange won back-to-back titles in 1986 and '87 and Montclair won three championships in four years from 1982-85. Clifford Scott interrupted that string by beating Montclair in the '84 final.

East Orange won the '81 final, beating Shabazz.

The championship game will be played at Essex County College. The semis and finals have been held at ECC since 1986.

Belleville wrestling falls to Nutley and Wayne Valley

By Dennis Wilson, Jr.

In a difficult week for the Belleville varsity wrestling team, the Bucs dropped a 42-31 decision to Nutley, and were nipped by Wayne Valley, 39-37 over the weekend.

Sophomore Anthony Conte immediately went to work against Nutley in the 103 pound weight division. Conte scored a takedown 11 seconds into the match and immediately locked on a cradle. At 1:31, the referee struck the mat and Conte recorded the fall.

Conte scored a quicker pin against Wayne Valley, as he decked George Dellatorre in a mere 22 seconds.

In the most heated match of the Belleville/Nutley rivalry, sophomore Lawrence Martin garnered revenge of Dante Cifelli, whom Martin had lost to earlier in the season at the Bloomfield Holiday Tournament with a 5-3 barnburner in the 112 pound weight class.

Martin scored the opening takedown, but Cifelli tied the match in the second period. Martin then increased his advantage to 5-3 in the third period with an escape that was followed shortly after with a takedown.

Martin bumped up to 119 pounds against Wayne Valley and tallied a pin at 1:13 in the first period.

Marc Cassella scored a pin over Justin Blackcock of Wayne Valley at 2:27.

Dan Aimada completed a string of four Buccaneer pins against Wayne Valley, as he pinned Barry Shenker at the 3:40 mark.

Freshman Frank Zarro battled Nutley's Marcello Capra to 5-4 nail biter at 135 pounds. Zarro opened the bout with a two-point takedown off a Capra shot, but Capra reversed and the first period ended in a 2-2 tie.

The second period ended in a 3-3 tie, and Zarro took a 4-3 lead on a penalty point. Zarro then took a 5-3 advantage on an escape and held Capra off for the remainder of the match for the victory.

Zarro recorded a 16-4 major decision over Jason Genovese of Wayne Valley in the 130 pound weight division.

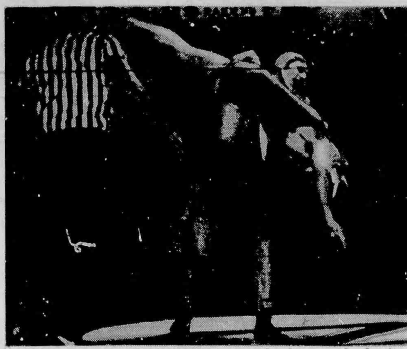

Senior captain Dave Paladino jumped out to an 11-1 first period lead over John DeDolce of Nutley. In the second period, Paladino escaped, took DeDolce down and then pinned the Raider with an arm bar at :59.

Paladino maintained his undefeated status with a 4-2 win over J.J. Cullen of Wayne Valley as well.

In the 160 pound weight class, Chris Zarro led Rick Hudnutt of Nutley 2-0 at the end of the first period. Zarro needed only 20 seconds in the second period to deck Hudnutt for the victory.

Zarro also recorded a second period pin against Wayne Valley, when he flattened Brian Senyk at 2:18.

At 215 pounds, Joe Spina showed Safwan Hassan of Nutley the lights at 1:02 of the first period, while heavy weight Joe Chestnut reversed Nutley's Pat Livech in the second period and then turned the Raider for the fall at 3:17.

Belleville junior varsity hoopsters rip Paramus, 55-38

By Rocco Constantino

The final 25 seconds of last week's Belleville and St. Joseph's junior varsity basketball game typifies the Bucs roller coaster season.

With less than 30 seconds remaining, the Bucs found themselves down four points as Dave Vargas stepped to the free throw line. After sinking both shots, Vargas stole the inbound pass and converted a basket to tie the game.

After a St. Joe's turnover and foul, Vargas found himself on the line again. Vargas netted the first shot, but missed the second. However, freshman Jeffrey Larkens grabbed the rebound with nine seconds left in the game.

The Bucs appeared to have the game won, but a questionable traveling violation put all celebration on hold. St. Joe's then proceeded to drive the length of the court and drew a foul with one second remaining on the scoreboard, which put the Green Knights on the foul line.

After missing the first shot, the Bucs prepared for the rebound, but after the second miss, Belleville was out-jumped, and St. Joe's tapped in the rebound for a 52-51 victory.

"It was amazing. The kid just tapped in the rebound like a volleyball. He didn't have enough time to grab it," said a disappointed coach Nick Cofaro the next day.

Despite the lapse at the end of the game, Belleville turned in another strong performance for the first year coach.

Vargas had his highest point total of the season with 21 points, which included five in the last 25 seconds of the game.

John Dias contributed ten first-half points, but the Bucs trailed 28-23 at the half. Dias ended the game with 12 points, while Raheem Jones netted five points in the loss.

The Bucs then bounced back and pummeled Paramus, 55-38, which increased Belleville's mark to 3-5.

The Bucs jumped out to an early lead behind Eddie Pagan's seven first quarter points. Belleville held the Spartans to just one first quarter field goal, as the Bucs built a 13-3 lead.

Belleville was able to keep into its bench and distribute playing time. Jones scored a game high 11 points, while Pagan finished with nine points.

Vira Chullandana scored five points in the third quarter, while Larkens and Dias each contributed with five points.

Strong performances were turned in by Ramiro Perez, Dave Auerbach and freshman Rich Otero.

NOTES: Belleville played the Paramus game without Vargas, who played four quarters on the varsity.

Cofaro has done great job juggling the young lineup. The starting squad consisted of two freshman and two sophomores against Paramus.

The Bucs are going to have to finish the second half of the season strong in order to equal last year's .500 record. Belleville has tough games against Hackensack, Don Bosco and Teaneck, as well as two versus Nutley.

Lady Deacons basketball is gaining momentum

The Bloomfield College women's basketball team is building momentum heading into postseason play thanks to contributions from almost every team member.

Coach Don Manfria has guided the Lady Deacons to a near-500 record while establishing a chemistry between a solid group of new players and a solid core of veteran players. All 11 players on the roster have played more than 100 minutes through 15 games and eight different players have been in the starting lineup.

Sophomore forward Olisia Small of Maplewood, the freshman of the year in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference last year, has given the Lady Deacons solid play and leadership. Small is averaging double figures in both points and rebounds, with 11.1 points per game and 12.5 rebounds per game. Both figures lead the team.

Small is followed closely by senior guard Lynette Hester-Bey of Brooklyn, who is averaging 9.6 points per game, and junior center Rosa Della Sala of Dumont, who is averaging 9.5 points per game and grabbing 10.0 rebounds per game.

Hester-Bey leads the team in steals with 42 and assists with 69. Della Sala tops the club with a 50.4 field goal percentage and 62 blocked shots.

Sophomore forward Kearny Kristine Greenwald of Kearny also is among the statistical leaders in several categories, with 38 steals and 61 assists.

Freshman guard Sabrina Vazquez of Syracuse N.Y. has contributed in the scoring department, averaging 8.7 points per game, shooting 49.2 percent from a two-point range.

Other major contributors have been junior guard Debbie Holm of Queens, N.Y., who leads the team with a 76.3 field goal percentage; senior forward Wendy Ziegenfuss of East Stroudsburg, Pa., averaging 8.5 points and 8.2 rebounds per game; freshman guard Kitty Lewandowski of Keyport, with 21 three-pointers; and freshman center Jennell Parson of Jersey City with 6.8 rebounds an outing.

Families share gift of storytelling in reading program

FAMILIES LEARN READING'S MAGIC TOGETHER - During the months of November and December, a Family Reading Program was held at School #5. Ms. Susan Fitzgerald, the school's Reading Specialist, facilitated the six-week program, in which parents and children in grades kindergarten through three attended. The program was designed to assist parents in motivating children to read, develop a love for books, and to become lifelong readers. Ms. Fitzgerald presented several methods parents could utilize to prepare children for reading, including effective reading techniques, and strategies to use in shared-reading sessions at home. Parents and children participated in various hands-on reading activities, such as creating a reading wheel, writing the stories to wordless picture books, and creating storybooks of their own. At the last session, families were presented with a certificate and a Golden Book for their achievements. Everyone who participated said they found the programs to be worthwhile and a good time. Pictured are: Ms. Fitzgerald receiving a certificate with her students (above, left); Ms. Fitzgerald and the students with their certificates (above, right); Mrs. Detres with her son, Matthew, a first grader, reading one of the storybooks (below, left); Mrs. Passarella with her daughter, Melissa, a second grader, and her other daughter, Gabrielle (below, center); and Mrs. Lopreiato and her son Timmy, a first grader, share a storybook (below, right).

The program was held one evening a week for six weeks during October and November. The Marinello, Morreale, Servidio, Hemsley, Cohen, Tosado, Muhleisen and Kam families were all commended for having attended every session. The Reading Wheel, Story Map and making predictions were introduced to show parents how to help increase their child's reading comprehension skills. Various hands-on reading activities were part of the program. The children especially enjoyed activities related to stories Mrs. Kimble read to them: "Max," "Old Henry," "Emma," Alexander and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day," and the "Rainbow Fish." POLYPHARMACY

The use of multiple medications is known as polypharmacy, and it is particularly common among older adults. Consider that the average older American uses five prescription medications at any given time and fills between 12 and 17 prescriptions a year. Beyond that, the elderly often use an average of 3 1/2 over-the-counter medications. The potential problem in all this rests with the increased risk of adverse drug reactions. A complicating factor is that of the physicians prescribing medications to the elderly may not be aware of what other doctors are prescribing. And, due to forgetfulness, the older patient may neglect to tell a physician about a medication that may adversely affect another. This is where the pharmacist can play a helpful role. When all prescriptions are filled in a single pharmacy and carefully catalogued, the pharmacist can oversee the situation and provide a note of caution.

Our pharmacist is available to talk to you and answer any questions you may have concerning your medications. You will find a complete prescription department at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 138 Washington Avenue (759-1968, 759-1956). This includes free delivery. For your Valentine we have a wide selection of greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries, Times watches, and Russell Silver candles. Stop by and see us from 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays.

HINT: Although they comprise only between 12% and 13% of the total population, older Americans use over 35% of all prescription drugs.

Grandmother raises autism awareness

By James Zoccoli

The second week in January has been slated as National Autism Awareness Week, and one Belleville grandmother is hoping that the public will take notice.

"I'd like to see more action and focus on a 'tism,'" said Grace Laratta, whose 8-year-old grandson is autistic.

Laratta said autism is often misunderstood. She said the ailment is a developmental disability which affects speech and sound.

Symptoms of autism can be a lack of eye contact, a lack of understanding and a general inability to communicate.

Autistic children, Laratta said, look very normal, even beautiful. But she said too often people react unfavorably when near an autistic child.

"If you have a disability most people just pass you by," Laratta said. "It's a sad thing."

Laratta said her grandson must attend a special school in Montclair. She hopes that one day there will be more facilities for autistic children.

For more information call 1-800-4-AUTISM.

Local United Way seeks nominees

United Way of Essex and West Hudson is seeking nominees for the organization's William M. Ashby Community Service Award.

Established in 1990, the award is named in honor of William Ashby, noted author, civil rights leader and founder of the Newark affiliate of the Urban League. It is presented each year at United Way's annual meeting and awards luncheon.

According to United Way President/CEO Dick Lewin, "In creating the Ashby Award, our United Way sought to honor Mr. Ashby's legacy of service, as well as to recognize those individuals whose contributions to our community reflect the ideals of the outstanding leader after whom the award is named."

"Each year, our organization looks to recognize individuals who have demonstrated outstanding leadership, commitment and dedication to people of Essex and West Hudson, and whose contributions have made dramatic differences in the overall quality of life in our community," Lewin said.

Last year, the award was presented to Leah Weiss, director of older adult resources services.

This year's recipient will be determined by an independent selection committee chaired by United Way volunteer Mary Ann Green, vice president, public affairs of MBL Life Assurance Corp.

In addition to the numerous community groups that are solicited for nominations, Lewin explained that nominations are open to the public "to help ensure a broad representation of nominees and to reflect the many diverse elements of our community."

Nomination forms and criteria for the Ashby Award can be obtained by contacting the United Way of Essex and West Hudson Marketing Department at 624-8300, extension 240. Deadline for nominations is Friday, Feb. 9. The award will be presented at the United Way of Essex and West Hudson annual meeting and awards luncheon on March 29.

United Way of Essex and West Hudson conducts an annual fund-raising campaign on behalf of more than 80 human service agencies located in 13 municipalities throughout Essex and West Hudson counties. In addition, the organization conducts a variety of year-round community service programs throughout the area.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

How To Reduce Lead In Drinking Water

(NAPS)—An estimated 40 million Americans drink water which contains excessive amounts of lead, creating potentially serious health hazards both for adults and children. At sufficient levels, lead can impair the reproductive and central nervous systems, increase blood pressure, cause damage to kidneys and hearing, and even delay physical and mental development in young children.

On the lead-in-drinking-water issue, Culligan offers these tips:

- Assess your risk. Although you may not have a lead problem, most lead contamination in home drinking water is caused by old plumbing. If your home was built before 1930, when lead pipes were commonly used for plumbing, or before 1986, when lead was often used to solder piping together, check it out.

- Test your water. Your local health department, water utility or a state certified testing laboratory can do this for you, or your local Culligan independently operated dealer can assist you in securing a test.

- Flush your tap water. Running the tap for about a minute each morning, until the water is cold, will help clear out any lead that accumulates overnight.

- Use cold water for drinking and cooking. Hot water is more likely to dissolve lead into the water than cold, so cold water is safer.

- Invest in a home water treatment system. Options include special lead filters and reverse osmosis drinking water systems that reduce lead levels through the various filtration methods. Be sure the system you choose is certified for lead reduction by NSF International, the leading independent testing organization in the industry.

- Use bottled water. Most bottled water goes through a complex cleansing process that removes a variety of contaminants, including lead. Choose a reputable brand name to be sure.

To request a free pamphlet on lead in drinking water or free booklets that answer questions ranging from how much water to drink during exercise to the difference between hard and soft water, call 1-800-CULLIGAN.
