Zone could cut sales tax from 6 to 3%...

Scott bill designed to draw in business

By Richard Dickon

State Sen. John P. Scott, (R-Dist. 36) unveiled legislation designating Belleville as an Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ), which, among other incentives, allows merchants to charge 3 percent sales tax instead of the statewide six percent.

In his second piece of major legislation for Belleville in two weeks, Scott introduced the bill, intended to boost the local economy, May 3 at Council chambers in Town Hall.

The Senator had just proposed a bill to provide $500,000 for a police substation in the Silver Lake District, an area hurt by spill-over crime from Newark.

The legislation looks to keep existing businesses viable, and attract new businesses to Belleville's commerce centers. The plan is similar to a proposal made by Councilman Bill Cook to investigate applying for status as an Urban Enterprise Zone.

Cook has made a preliminary contiguous map of the zone, which can be no more than about one third of the entire property of Belleville. His map includes the Washington Avenue and Franklin Street business centers, as well as to Jerusalem Street and parts of Union and Belleville Avenues.

"Today I ask for your help in getting this bill passed into law," Scott said. "Please join me in this effort by signing these petitions and passing them on to your neighbors. Together we can succeed in providing a fair economic environment for Belleville."

"The three-percent sales brings a lot of business into UEZ-designated towns, drawing customers away from the surrounding areas that are forced to charge the required 6 percent," Scott said.

"The merchants of Belleville have been experiencing economic loss since Newark, which is the neighboring town, was designated a UEZ," Scott explained. "We cannot blame the consumers who choose to shop in Newark instead of Belleville, because they want to save money, but we cannot continue to allow Belleville to suffer."

Some of the other zone incentives, as outlined by Scott, include sales tax exemptions for materials and for tangible personal property.

Also, the UEZ provides a priority for financial assistance from the New Jersey Local Development Financing Fund and Job Training Program, subsidized unemployment costs and corporation tax credits.

Scott said towns were designated for UEZ based on their distress index when the program first began. Now, recent UEZ additions such as Guttenberg and West New York were granted UEZ status because they are adjacent to Union City, a UEZ, and the distress index no longer exists.

"This example proves that there is a good chance that my bill will be signed into law, and Belleville will finally receive the help it deserves," Scott said.

"We need to get this bill through before Belleville becomes a town

Cite equipment wear, utility costs, thefts...

Board shuts adult school

By Richard Dickon

Wear-and-tear to computers and school equipment, utility costs and reports of thefts were named as reasons for the School Board's 6-0 vote to discontinue Adult Education classes at Belleville High School.

Board Trustee Frank Montagna, who has called for the ending of nighttime adult education for 20 years, urged the board to eliminate the classes, citing several thousand in lost revenue most years, along with the costs of heating and lighting the school, theft of property and wear-and-tear on computers.

"After seeing Driver's Ed and Summer School, where our kids go to make up failed classes, both cut, I cannot conscience keeping Adult School," Montagna said.

Superintendent of Schools Michael A. Lally reported that approximately 50 percent of the persons attending the school were Belleville residents and the classes were there "to enrich the lives" of all who attend. He also mentioned the financial losses and wear-and-tear concerns.

School Board President Ralph Mazzuca said Adult School "doesn't warrant the use of our equipment," adding that the $6,000 to $7,000 loss of revenue does not include wear-and-tear.

Board Trustee Robert Molinaro said, "I love all education, and initially I thought of keeping this. But after speaking to (High School) Principal Joe Petrillo, he seemed to agree about the loss of equipment."

The board unanimously agreed with Board Vice President John Notari's assertion that, "We should pour the money saved back into the schools."

Limiting magnet students for long-term...

Trailer tapped to ease School #10 crowding

By Richard Dickon

The School Board has agreed to lease a trailer for two years to alleviate overcrowding at School #10, after trustees expressed concern about separating siblings at the school, the feasibility of building a kindergarten classroom and possibly purchasing a trailer outright.

The trailer would be leased for approximately $70,000 over two years, at which time the overflowing enrollments are to be eased, according to Superintendent of Schools Michael A. Lally.

Lally said the trailer, to be used for a fourth grade class so another classroom can be utilized as a library, would not be needed after two years of restricting the enrollment of magnet students.

As a magnet school, School #10 accepts children whose parents request their attendance at School #10 over the school in their district, because School #10 is perceived to provide a better education.

The trailer, which Lally described as "state-of-the-art," would be funded through "several unanticipated staff retirements."

Board Trustees, including Robert Molinaro and Board Vice President John Notari, said they were concerned that families with one child at School #10 would be forced to transport other children to separate schools if the children are denied entry to School #10.

Lally responded that, "School #10 children will be accepted first. If there is room, certainly we will entertain bringing in other students.

We have to free up space for classrooms."

Board Trustee Thomas Fuscaldo said a better long-term solution would be to build a kindergarten, with a bathroom, through bonding or leasing.

"We can use this opportunity to improve this school," Fuscaldo said, also questioning whether the moving of students out of School #10 would have "a domino effect" throughout the district.

Lally said the trailer and limiting magnet students were a "rather acceptable" solution.

Lally said the expectation, based on enrollment figures, is that one class will be freed up each year, so the trailer will not be needed after two years.

"If enrollment does not permit it (allowing magnet students), somebody has to say no," Lally said in response to the repeated pleas to allow siblings to attend School #10.

The current group of kindergarten students includes 15 magnet students out of two full classes, Lally said, and the plan is to restrict magnet students, particularly in kindergarten, over the next two years.

"The trailer addresses a short-term, immediate need, and we will take a hard line over the long term," Lally said. "Time will tell if this is right."

Lally said he might know as soon as June, when enrollment for the fall is set, if the projections are

2nd, 3rd, 4th Ward Council candidates interviewed on the issues

Two-men races will be decided this Tuesday, May 16, in Council Wards Two, Three and four, with Mayor Jim Messina is running unopposed in the First Ward. Incumbents Joseph Scaperrotta in the Second Ward, and Bill Cook in the Fourth Ward face challenges from Arnaldo Carrera and Mario Drozd, respectively, while Kevin Kennedy and William Escott will battle for the retiring Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane's Third Ward seat. This week, each candidate is interviewed on pertinent issues. For The Belleville Times' Ward endorsements, see page 4.

Arnaldo Carrera Second Ward

Carrera, a Belleville resident since 1981 and Vice President of a major New York Bank, said he decided to make a renewed effort to be involved in town after refinancing his house.

He has three children in School #7 and one in the Middle School, so he said, "I'm here for the long haul. I'd like to contribute something to the town."

Carrera has denounced recent campaign flyers that make reference to his opponents mother and grandmother. The full text of his letter appears on page 5.

A political newcomer, Carrera said he has "preliminary evaluations" of the issues pertinent to the township, but "it would be presumptuous to say I have all the answers."

In discussing his preliminary evaluations, Carrera said, "Anybody talking about chopping

Joseph Scaperrotta Second Ward

Councilman Joseph Scaperrotta seeks re-election to the post he won in November 1994.

Scaperrotta criticized his opponent for having his house up for sale nine months ago, although Carrera has since refinanced the home.

"As far as who is qualified to serve, I believe I have the right combination of public and private sector experience. I don't need a road map to find the town, and I wasn't looking to move out of town," Scaperrotta said.

Scaperrotta said he particularly upset with campaign literature that makes negative references to his mother and grandmother, although he does allow that the flyers are mostly the work of his political enemies. (Carrera has released a letter condemning those flyers. See the full letter, page 5.)

Although Scaperrotta received a

Kevin G. Kennedy Third Ward

Kevin G. Kennedy is a lifelong resident, a product of the school system and still resides in a home his grandfather built in the early 1900's.

Of his opponent, Kennedy called William Escott "a nice guy," but added, "I don't think he's qualified. He doesn't have any grip on the problems in the Third Ward."

Kennedy said he is seeking the Third Ward Council seat because the Ward "needs a strong voice, and I can make a positive difference for the Third Ward. Citizens need solutions to their concerns."

He added that he is looking "to make up for six years of neglect."

Some of the goals and ideas he said he will address begin with businesses moving out of the township. As an example, Kennedy cites Wallace and Tiernan.

"We're not getting the industrial business back," he said, adding that Bill Escott has resided in Belleville 27 years, and is a retired Police Captain and Commander of the Detective Division of the Police Department.

He is a former president of Belleville PBA Local #28 for six years and Chairman of the Essex County PBA Conference.

In answering his opponents claim that he is not qualified to be Councilman, Escott listed his accomplishments, including his leadership roles with the detective bureau and the PBA, and said, "My qualifications speak for themselves. My leadership abilities will carry over into political life."

He said working in town for 25 years, and recently being employed as a part-time domestic investigator to weed out students illegally attending district schools, give a unique perspective on the problems in the Ward and throughout the

William P. Cook Fourth Ward

William P. Cook, a lifelong resident, has four children with his wife, Gail, all of whom attended the Belleville school system.

A licensed professional engineer, Cook has been employed for 22 years by Hoffman LaRoche, Nutley, where he is currently Senior Manager of Operations, responsible for plant utilities.

He has served on the Planning and Zoning boards before joining the Council in 1980.

One of his future goals, to establish Belleville as an Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ) "to improve existing businesses and attract new commercial and professional ratable properties," became closer to reality this week (See related story, above.)

Cook appealed to local state legislators first on the UEZ, since the legislation must be passed before the designation takes place. In

Mario A. Drozd Fourth Ward

Mario Drozd, 45, and his wife, Kathleen, have two children who have attended the Belleville school system.

A New Jersey licensed real estate salesperson, Drozd is also employed by Consolidated Freightways of Port Newark and is a member of Teamsters Local 408 and 478 for 26 years.

A former Council member At Large, Drozd said he was lured back into running, after losing his re-election bid, "to get the town back on its feet."

Drozd said the lack of progress on senior citizen housing "is aggravating. I think it is being held up by someone on the Council's own personal agenda."

He said during his time on Council the deal was made to purchase the former Geriatric Hospital property, and awaited a non-profit sponsor to begin building.

10 to 15 percent off of taxes, that is nonsense."

He said large parts of the municipal budget, school budget, and county budget are fixed, especially where salaries are involved.

"We have to look then at the variable expenses, and look at streamlining and delaying expenses," he said.

Carrera said he sees residents suffering from a lack of education about how the process works. As an example, Carrera said with street paving, a resident may see the street where the mayor lives get paved before their's and conclude the mayor got preferential treatment, when actually a specific list of streets was simply being followed.

He said resident dissatisfaction with programs like road resurfacing might come from "a lack of inspections" of the completed work.

Taxpayers are similar to clients, he said. "They expect certain services, and certain answers to questions, not five minutes to speak and that being cut off. We need to take away the mystique of how government works."

Carrera talked about "management of expectations," where residents understand that every delivery of service comes at a cost, and the Council must set priorities.

Ultimately, Carrera said, if residents are convinced of the extra value, there will be no objections to spending the money.

In banking and finance, Carrera said there are only two ways to save money. "Either you increase revenue, or you reduce spending," he said.

In the category of reducing spending, Carrera said a public relations campaign, handled by a professional organization, can attract both business and residential interests.

"If people knew the advantage of Belleville, I believe they would come here," Carrera said, listing the proximity to Route 21 and surrounding highways as a major plus. "Maybe people won't have to look at selling their homes below appraised value if we can enhance our image," he said.

His qualifications for Council include being "a seasoned executive, having worked for two of the world's largest banks," Carrera said.

"I am experienced with cost-cutting and streamlining operations," he said. "Also, I am an effective negotiator and team builder." The latter qualities would make him an asset in negotiating employee salary contracts and working on Council committees.

In the township, Carrera is a member of the O.P.E. at School #7 and is an Athletic Council appointee.

His business experience includes being director of the International Trade Data Users Group, Inc. and the Forum Director of the New Jersey Export Development Council. Also, he is a member of both the American Management Association and the IBM Executive Forum.

He has been employed formerly as a teacher at the Berlitz School of Languages.

Carrera has been married for 15 years.

His campaign slogan is "Honesty and Integrity for Belleville."

copy of the letter, he said he would like to see Carrera name those responsible for the flyers and denounce them publicly.

During his first term, Scaperrotta said he has successfully championed the need to improve township streets and playgrounds. Many streets are now being paved, and new, state-of-the-art playground equipment will be ready this summer, he said.

Scaperrotta said he has also worked to repair the tennis courts at Municipal Stadium and many other projects of concern to Second Ward voters.

"I will continue to work on infrastructure and road repairs, if elected," he said.

Stabilizing taxes has also been a large part of Scaperrotta's work, he said, and he has offered budget proposals which held taxes in line for two consecutive years.

"I will continue, if re-elected, to work at bringing about meaningful tax relief, and I hope the Township Council will finally recognize the need to stabilize taxes before our citizens are taxed out of town," he said.

"It is not enough to say we're going to stabilize taxes, since they are not now affordable for so many of our residents," he said. "We need to make serious, courageous decisions about down-sizing government."

For the next four years, Scaperrotta mentioned several ongoing projects, including renovating 383 Washington Ave. for use as a community center for everyone, from senior citizens to Belleville's youth.

On the issue of Town Hall renovations, Scaperrotta said, "We need to make the necessary repairs so that employees can work more efficiently and so the building is safe for visitors."

As examples, Scaperrotta said the Finance and Clerk's offices are dangerous for employees and visitors.

Another long-debated issue, senior citizen housing proposed for more than five acres of the former Geriatric hospital on Franklin and Belleville Avenues, has some major stumbling block's for Scaperrotta to support the plan, he said.

"I'm not about to buy county land for $400,000," he said of the agreement the previous Council made with the county.

"I'm very leery of using federal funds," Scaperrotta said of the proposed senior housing plans, "I don't want to build 100 or 200 units and have it only be 20 percent Belleville seniors."

If the problems can be remedied, Scaperrotta said, "If senior housing is possible, I would certainly like to see it."

Scaperrotta, 30, a lifelong resident, graduated with from Rutgers University with a double major in government and economics in 1988.

He has owned and operated his own public relations company in Belleville for three years. A former Belleville recycling coordinator, Scaperrotta served five years as City Legislative Aide to Assemblywoman Marion Crecco.

He said his combination of public and private sector experience makes him a more effective Councilman.

Kennedy

he has the foresight and the answers to get replaced revenue.

"Promoting the Ward in a positive way," Kennedy said, "We should use the fact that we have a church celebrating its 300th birthday, and we are the Birthplace of the Industrial Revolution. We have a cemetery with Civil War soldiers buried there. These positive things are good for businesses looking to come here."

He would like to form a committee of interested townspeople to work on revitalizing Washington Avenue. Administrative guidelines would be set down town employees do incidents like the Town Clerk accumulating excess vacation time would be avoided, Kennedy said.

Town Hall renovations would be completed, so employees would stop working in substandard conditions and visitors would be safe from falling ceilings and other hazards, Kennedy said.

On the subject of the stalled senior citizen housing, Kennedy said the Council is tied into paying $400,000 to the county for the former Geriatric hospital property. Back in 1997, he said he was part of the movement to put 180 senior housing units at the current site of the senior citizens center on Franklin Avenue and Mill Street, but the Zoning Board of Adjustment denied the plan.

Overall, Kennedy said he would look to "streamline" government, with $65,000 being the largest salary paid, the number of new police cars would be cut in half and positions deemed unnecessary would be eliminated.

"To stabilize property taxes, you have to decide that what you take in is what you spend," Kennedy said.

He also plans to strictly enforce housing codes to get rid of illegal dwellings and ensure that property values do not go downward.

Kennedy also said steps would be taken for graffiti to be put to a stop and he would take positive steps to halt the epidemic of stolen cars.

He said he is "committed to never voting for a tax increase," and he would reinvest his $3,500 stipend back into the Third Ward. He said he will institute a neighborhood block watch if elected.

Escott

"Being retired, I have the time to devote to the problems of the Ward and the entire town," he said.

The current conditions at Town Hall he called "a shambles, really a disgrace. People shouldn't be asked to work under those conditions. Everything we do, recreation facilities, paving roads, costs money. We shouldn't spend taxpayers money on things we don't need, but we should not leave conditions like that."

"We could cut all spending, but then what happens to quality of life? We have to have service for our tax dollars," he said. "Anywhere you live in Essex County, taxes are high. County government is expensive," he continued. "It is unrealistic for people to expect tax rates to go down. We have to ensure the best value for tax dollars, and ensure quality in services."

Escott lists several goals and objectives as Third Ward Council. He supports renovation of Town Hall, and is looking to attract new businesses and rentals; to the Washington Avenue business center. He support the Urban Enterprise Zone now being proposed.

Also, he favors hiring a public relations firm to help attract businesses.

He also plans to "address illegal housing issues," using his unique perspective as a domicile investigator. Specifically, if moving permits are issued, and the information shared with the School Board, than officials will know instantly, rather than several months later, when a family moves out of town.

He wants to ensure construction of senior citizen housing, although he disagrees with paying $400,000 to the county for property. "Senior citizens are residents of the county, too, and the county owes us, particularly the way they neglect the parks," he said.

He said he does not want to "throw good money after bad" at Municipal Stadium, preferring to look at "the big picture" where costs are concerned. As a former coach in the Recreation "Peanut League" in football, Escott said he wants to improve the excellent existing recreation facilities and programs.

The former U.S. Navy veteran of Vietnam and decorated police officer believes those experiences give him "decision making ability, to look at the pros and cons and make an informed, intelligent decision -- not just to say, let's table this for more information."

Belleville Police Blotter:

- Detectives Guiliano and Capece executed a search warrant on a Lloyd Place home April 30.
- The detectives confiscated a pound of marijuana, $6,300, bagging believed to be used for packaging drugs and a car, police said.
- The resident was 25-year-old Anthony Auriemma. He is being held in the Belleville Municipal Jail on $50,000 bail, police said.
- Larry DiNocera, 29, of Nutley was arrested for possession of a controlled dangerous substance April 29.
- DiNocera was stopped on Holmes and Union by Detectives Guiliano and Capece.
- The detectives found heroin in his possession, police said.
- John Hassan, 23, of Belleville was arrested for possession of CDS April 30.
- Detectives Guiliano and Capece arrested Hassan on Rutgers and Main Streets.
- Hassan was found to be in possession of heroin, police said.
- Jewel Dill, 38, of Belleville was arrested for possession of CDS April 30.
- Officers Marotti and Wallace stopped Dill on motor vehicle violations and also found heroin in her vehicle, police said.
- She was arrested for possession, police said.
- Sonja Kaschlaw, 26, of Lakewood was arrested for possession of CDS May 3.
- Detectives Guiliano and Capece stopped Kaschlaw in her vehicle on Mill Street, police said.
- She was found to be in possession of heroin, police said.

Ode to Mothers for Mother's Day

There have been others fool enough to imbibe
And some of her virtues try to describe
But all in vain
For she of herself gives like one who is not sane
Matter if not be it mom, evening or night,
She is ready to serve
Tho it be for her life for which she should fight
Ages to her are of no concern
Be they away for them she yearn
When babes we were in her arms
And for miles around her were nothing but farms
Her knowledge to raise us from books she did not gather Tho you'd think she had read of some great scientists matter
Always tolerant, patient and sweet
Tho there were many of us whose problems were hers to meet
And for many blessings she gave thanks to God
When with her gentle head she gave a slight nod
By this time I'm sure you know whom I mean
Of the greatest of mothers you'd crown her the Queen

Sorry to hear that Ann Boylan is ill. I hear that the former fire chief George Sbarra is out of the hospital and recuperating at home. Jean Torremoe is still at Mountside Hospital.

Welcome back to John Basel and his wife Helen. Also Eleanor Bellina.

Happy birthday to the following: Mary Meldione, Romeo Checeto, John McGee, Thomas Pallente, Joseph Restraino, Vincent Simeone, Edmond Barbier and Emil Krisocki.

I also hear it's sal Sarrechio's birthday. Happy Anniversary to Mr and Mrs. Gerry Gerard, Mr and Mrs. Vincent Simeone, Mr and Mrs Al Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hage.

The Belleville Senior Citizen Club Inc. held their installation of officers for 1996.

Assemblyman John Kelly swore the officers in at the last meeting. The officers for 1996 are as follows: President Anthony Migro, v.p. Regmo Nucci, 2nd v.p. Jean Torremoe, Recording Secretary Dorothy Barbig, Corresponding Secretary Dorotheo Behan, Past President, Jerry Sansone, trustees-Mary Melchione, Ann La Vecchia and Yvette Santora, Pat Rotonda was appointed Parliamentarian.

Congratulations to Frank and Margaret Ceres who renewed their wedding vows after 50 years of wedded bliss at the Sacred Heart Cathedral on April 28th.

Congratulations to my editor, Richard Dickon who was married to Julie Lynn Wiltshire on april 20 by Mayor Carmen Orechio of Nutley. Loads of luck to the happy twosome.

A lot of people are complaining about the junk mail they receive. I don't. I use whenever I can salvage for memos, shopping lists and what I can use and recycle. However, what I can complain about is all the requests for donations I get by phone and by mail. I have received so many address labels that I won't have to buy them for the rest of my life.

My name is so well known that I even received a request from Rosalynne Jimmy Carter. How about them apples?

On April 14th I attended the 3rd annual Kevin Kennedy Association strives to make Belleville a better place to live in. They provide scholarships to Belleville students, food baskets to the needy and help in whatever way they can.

This year they awarded scholarships in memory of Patricia Duboyce and Ralph Wendler. These two were very active in charitable organizations and in town activities. Both are deceased.

Also honored at this prestigious affair was our hard working municipal clerk Mary Lou Hood. She was presented with award by Freeholder Louise Palagano for being chosen as the Humanitarian of the Year.

Also presenting awards to Mary Lou were Councilman Carrino and Martinez of Newark. Incidentally, Kevin is running for councilman in the 3rd ward.

OUR OPINION

We endorse Scaperrotta, Cook and Kennedy in Ward elections

Joseph Scaperrotta, Kevin Kennedy and Bill Cook are the best combination to lead Belleville to the 21st Century, offering specific blueprints not only for their Wards, but for all of Belleville.

Scaperrotta has kept his promises to stabilize and reduce taxes while improving roads, curbs and infrastructure in the Second Ward. He was instrumental in pushing the Council to fix the high school tennis courts after years of broken promises. He has been a part of purchasing state-of-the-art playground equipment that will be in place this summer.

He is the only Council member to offer budget proposals which held taxes in line for two consecutive years, as part of the budget committee. Scaperrotta has demonstrated a sensitivity to overburdened taxpayers, realizing that taxes are not now affordable and promising to make serious, courageous decisions about down-sizing government.

He, Kennedy and Cook all share the desire to move swiftly and effectively on renovating 383 Washington Ave. for use as a community center, and paying for necessary Town Hall renovations. Scaperrotta has proven himself as a leader who keeps his campaign promises, and Belleville needs his expertise in local government to move forward.

Arnaldo Carrera has impressed with his business and finance expertise, and will become even a more viable candidate as he becomes more familiar with Belleville.

Kevin G. Kennedy offers specific plans and goals for the Third Ward. He will provide the foresight and the answers to get replaced revenue for vanishing industrial companies like Wallace & Tiernan, by promoting the Ward in a positive way. He looks to capitalize on the Ward's history, with a church celebrating its 300th birthday, and the designation as the Birthplace of the Industrial Revolution. Getting the message out about the positive aspects in the Ward is a key to drawing business, coupled with his plan to form a committee of interested townspeople to work on revitalizing Washington Avenue. He also addresses administrative guidelines for town employees, to avoid incidents like the Town Clerk accumulating excess vacation time.

William Escott's combination of police experience and work as a domicile investigator are laudable qualifications.

William P. "Bill" Cook's professional experience, as a licensed professional engineer and Senior Manager of Operations at Hoffman LaRoche, along with his experience serving on the Planning and Zoning boards before joining the Council in 1980, explain why he has been at the forefront in establishing Belleville as an Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ). The UEZ's main benefit is reduction of the state sales tax from 6 to 3 percent, along with businesses saving taxes when purchasing equipment. The town can get a rebate when someone is hired, and incentives included for businesses to hire additional employees.

Perhaps the biggest problem in Belleville in 1996 is attracting ratable properties and this will make Belleville attractive for commercial, professional and industrial businesses. This most recent accomplishment cements Cook's status as the leader on the Council when it comes to issues of money. He has chaired the budget committee for going on three years, and is one of the main reasons, along with Scaperrotta, why taxes have stabilized. He helped propose specifications for senior housing, Town Hall renovations and the community center proposed for 383 Washington Avenue, although the first two were shot down by other Council members.

His plan to purchase the Newark reservoir property for use as a passive recreational area, utilizing federal funding, is precisely the type of project to help rebuild Belleville's public image. Similar proposals, such as hiring a public relations firm to help sell the town, have so far fallen on deaf ears, but still establish Cook as the chief innovator on the Council.

He gets our endorsement over Mario Drozd, whose work in fund raising and general interest in improving Belleville are noted. Cook is simply the most important member of the Council in terms of leadership.

Scaperrotta, Kennedy and Cook offer Belleville its best opportunity to continue the progress made in recent years. They deserve your votes.

'Honestly Belleville'

By Richard Dickon

Mothers, grandmothers not safe from vicious, cowardly campaign flyers

The old saying "you're judged by the company you keep," comes into play as the Ward elections draw near. A political rag posing as a campaign flyer is being circulated in the Second Ward that, among other things, refers to Second Ward Councilman Joseph Scaperrotta's mother as "elderly and sick." In a letter sent exclusively to the Belleville Times, Marie A. Scaperrotta answers the vicious, sick allegations that his son has not helped his mother with tax problems.

"When Joe's father died 11 years ago, he was only 62," Mrs. Scaperrotta tells us, "A serious, job-related injury almost cost him his life 14 years earlier, and left him almost totally disabled. When he passed away, I was left with only modest savings, and a meager pension. It has become very difficult for me to keep current with property taxes, and on occasion, I will lapse behind. With Joe's help, I am able barely to afford to live in Belleville. My son understands first-hand how devastating tax increases are, and this is why he has fought so hard to lower taxes."

The same flyer blasts Scaperrotta's late great grandmother, which Mrs. Scaperrotta correctly calls "a new low."

I will not speculate on who is responsible for this horrible attack on people completely uninvolved in this campaign. The bottom line, unfortunately, is that the person responsible for this trash was working for Arnaldo Carrera. I was very impressed with Carrera's education and professional background, but he is guilty of not knowing the people he chose to allow to work on his campaign. If he had checked more closely, he would know the history of certain factions in town, and would have been able to avoid this disgusting political mistake. He didn't, and voters need to take into account, at least, his lack of thoroughness.

Carrera's response to the flyer is printed on page 5, and I for one think he should have gone further, named the names of those responsible and publicly denounced them. He did not...

Carrera is one of three fine candidates, and two newcomers who, while not endorsed, ran excellent, mostly positive campaigns (with the one brutal exception in Carrera's case duly noted).

Bill Escott is a Navy Vietnam veteran whose leadership skills were honed as Captain of the Belleville Police Detective Bureau. He has continued to win commendations even in retirement, the latest being his work in apprehending a suspect in a brutal assault on a female FBI worker. He deserves particular credit for not perpetuating the feud between Kevin Kennedy and outgoing Deputy Mayor Thomas Spillane, who still refers to Kennedy with a swear word appearing before Kennedy's name, the residue of a bitter and ugly recall campaign against Spillane by Kennedy.

Mario Drozd organized a hugely successful fund raising campaign to buy bullet proof vests for each police officer, and has done exemplary work as Kiwanis Club President. His concern for Belleville is genuine, and I hope he seeks office again as an At Large Councilman.

Finally, I once again implore voters to make your decision based on qualifications, and not on impossible-to-prove allegations spewed by political opportunists. Base your choice on measurable abilities, not rumor, innuendo and lies. It is the only way to send the message that decisions are not being made from attempted negative campaigns, and may begin to stem the ugliness...

The name of this column has changed, necessitated by on-going events involving local politicians. It is the intent of this column to continue highlighting those who do good things in Belleville, but with elections around the corner, it has become necessary to separate fact from fiction virtually every week. Next week, happily, positive tidbits about good people will once again be back in this column. Look for the return of "Positively Belleville" in one week.

Of All Things

By Frank Orechio
A feature of the Nutley Sun,
Bloomfield Life and Belleville Times

• IN the current Nutley "Commission campaign, Orechio has indicated his interest in being assigned to the Public Safety Department being vacated by retiring Commissioner John Kelly.

Cocchiola has managed a good department, and no commission candidate we know is prepared to deny Cocchiola a reassignment to the Parks Department should he be victorious at the polls Tuesday. It is disingenuous for a couple of his supporters to claim that Cocchiola needs to help elect two other candidates to be assured that he return to the Parks Department. All three other incumbents, Mayor Orechio, Commissioner Walter Smith and Peter Scarpelli, if elected, are prepared to return Cocchiola to the Parks Department if that be his wish.

• FORMER Nutleyite, Bob Rose, was back in town to visit with his sons, their wives and daughter. It will take some time before his doctors will be able to make a final diagnosis. Meanwhile, visits to the hospital for chemotherapy treatments will go on for some time. Our hopes and prayers are with Bob Rose at this time in his young life.

• IF I said it once, I probably repeated it a hundred times—in politics, if you look for gratitude, one had better buy a dog.

Mark Twain was far more eloquent than I ever attempted to be or could be. In his day, he said, "If you pick up a strange dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between a dog and a man."

• THE Nutley Academic Booster Club is holding its annual awards ceremony on May 16th at 7:30 at Radcliffe School and will award the Academic Booster Club Scholarship, the James Fadule Scholarship as well as prizes to the Science Fair winners.

The Honor Society dinner will be held on Tuesday, May 21st, at the Nutley Elks Lodge immediately following the high school ceremony beginning at 7:00 pm which lasts approximately one hour. Family and friends of the inductees and the club's general membership are urged to attend and show support for the academic achievements of our young people. Cost is $20 per person and payment may be mailed to Mary Ann Adamczyk, 33 Mapes Ave., Nutley by May 14th. For additional information, you may call 667-0287.

• MONDAY night was a challenging occasion for the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commissioners. A public hearing was held on a proposed $63 Million contract for construction of a sludge processing plant in Newark's Ironbound section. A wait to wall crowd of protesters addressed the Commission as late as midnight in an effort to block the project. The sludge removal contract was awarded to the Wheelabrator Clean Water Of New Jersey Company which has the responsibility of locating a site for the plant. Ironbound residents complained that they already suffered from the location of the Essex County Incinerator, and they don't want any more "gifts" like it. Sitting as a member of the Commission, a couple of the most effective speakers made so much sense that I automatically lifted my arms prepared to applaud the speakers for their presentations.

I remember when we had the open dumps in the greater Avondale Big Tree neighborhood. I remember when I went before the Nutley Town Commission that day and raised hell for accommodating the dumps but not providing us with a park. The neighborhood citizens were behind my effort and as a result, two parks were created in 1948. The Ironbound residents are faced with pretty much the same problem. While the sludge will not remain in Ironbound, it will be processed there. That means its very presence will probably lead to a subconscious feeling of a garbage smell by the neighbors. Trucks would daily transport the sludge to the processing plant which is a former garbage depot on Avenue A. The neighborhood residents have an argument. They convinced me that every other alternative within the law should be explored more thoroughly. The Wheelabrator Company which has the contract to process the sludge has a legal bind on the Commission. Nevertheless, I feel the Commissioners are going to take a long second look at the present plans and do its best to accommodate the fear and problems of the Ironbound residents.

• IT is difficult to accept the fact that one of our heroes has fallen. I refer to the great former linebacker for the New York Giants football team, Lawrence Taylor. He was recently arrested for attempting to buy $100 worth of crack from an undercover agent Friday in South Carolina. According to LT, he is in trouble with his wife, the IRS and now the Department of Justice. When will this man ever learn? My heart goes out to LT. I pray he mends his ways and seeks the help of God.

YOUR OPINION

Carrera denounces negative campaign tactics on his behalf

To the editor,

The following is an open letter to Belleville:

Approximately 10 weeks ago, when I decided to run for Second Ward Councilman, I remarked that honesty and integrity were two pillars of my life. Those were not empty words. I truly believe in what I said and I try to practice these virtues to the best of my ability.

My campaign has been run in a calm, gentlemanly manner with the greatest respect for my opponent. My campaign has been almost entirely self-financed and I'm grateful to the many friends and neighbors who have distributed my campaign literature door-to-door solely on foot.

Unfortunately, now with less than two weeks to go until election day, both my opponent and some of my supporters alike have resorted to negative campaigning. I want to state for the record that I do not approve, condone, nor appreciate such tactics. The citizens of Belleville deserve better conduct from their candidates for public office.

I hereby appeal to my opponent's and my supporters' sense of civility and urge you to stop these self-defeating tactics. There is no glory on a victory won with dishonesty and dissimulation. Let the rest of this campaign be run on a high ground and let the voters of Belleville decide on the basis of credentials, credibility, and character. I rest my case.

Aldamo Carrera
Candidate for Second
Ward Council

To the editor:

Election Day for the Belleville Township Council is rapidly approaching. This election will determine the new direction of our township.

I find it of the utmost importance to inform Belleville's voters of the ward candidates that I am endorsing.

Walk-A-Thon for Friends of Jamie

To the editor:

The Belleville Fire Department in conjunction with the friends of Jamie are sponsoring a Walk-A-Thon to benefit a local resident, 13-year-old Jamie Conway of Belleville, who was recently diagnosed with Reflex Sympathic Dystrophy Syndrome (R.S.D.S.). It is a multi-system disorder that is attacking her nervous system through the nerves, blood vessels, skin and bone structure.

The symptoms began in her legs, and if left untreated, the R.S.D.S. can rapidly spread to other parts of her body. Proper diagnosis and effective treatments are the best chance that this problem could be reversed. Because Jamie was diagnosed by doctors in May of 1995, time is of the essence to let her receive the needed treatment to eradicate the problems plaguing her everyday life.

That is why we as family friends and concerned citizens are reaching out to help Jamie find the cure. Medical bills are mounting, and due to the nature of the disorder, several unique treatments are required by specialist, in the hope of finding a cure. Not only is this draining the limited funds and insurance available, it's robbing Jamie of the normal life that a teenager should be enjoying.

We would like to invite everyone to come out on Sunday, June 2, and help us in our goal to raise funds in the name of "Friends of Jamie" by participating in a walk-a-thon. Come with your friends, family or by yourself for a rewarding day and a refreshing walk through the beautiful towns of Belleville and Nutley. The event kicks off at 9 a.m. in Branch Brook Park and will loop around into

In the second ward we have a newcomer who brings with him a breath of fresh air to an often stagnant council. Moreover, his educational background which includes a B.A. in economics/physics from Rutgers University and an M.A. management engineering from N.J.I.T. His professional experience as vice-president of a major New York bank makes Arnaldo Carrera an excellent choice for a second ward councilman.

In the third ward we have William Escott, who has spent most of his adult life as a Belleville police officer working his way up to a captain before retiring as a head of the detective bureau. William Escott devoted his career to serving the interest of our community from a security point of view. Now he is looking to continue his efforts as elected official. Bill's professional experience will enable him to tackle Belleville's problems.

In the fourth ward the voters now have the opportunity to elect a candidate who knows how to work hard for the taxpayers and more importantly to follow through on his promises. Mario Drozd is "The Right Choice." He knows the problems facing the fourth ward due to his commitment to Belleville, which is clearly evident by the extensive amount of community activities he has taken.

On May 14, you the voters of Belleville will determine the direction you want our township to develop and grow. It's your choice to pick the candidates who will bring positive progression to our township...Arnaldo Carrera-2nd ward; William Escott-3rd ward; Mario Drozd-4th ward.

correct.

Notari asked if a survey had been taken to determine how many siblings might be looking to attend the school next year, and Lally said he knew of three.

Board Trustee Frank Montagna asked Lally if the problem was caused by School #10 being a magnet school, or by siblings also attending, or both.

Lally answered, "If parents enroll one child, they automatically insist on a second child. We have been confronted by this, and it has been addressed. We have to say no." The possibility of purchasing a trailer, for possible use elsewhere in the future, was suggested by Board Trustee Lou Pallante.

School Board Business Administrator Edward Appleton said such a move could leave the district "with a white elephant. If we purchase it, we have to pay to move it, and we may have no need for it beyond this."

Appleton said any questions about purchasing a trailer would be referred to the architect hired for the project.

The Buildings and Grounds Committee is to meet to approve an architect as soon as possible, since the two-month trailer job will need to be completed by September.

of empty store fronts," Scott added. "It is unfair and wrong to continue to punish Belleville's merchants. I believe the UEZ is the answer to their problems."

Cook had first brought the UEZ status plan to the Council, requesting that Township Planner Greg Comito provide the Council with an executive summary on the merits of applying for the enterprise zone status.

Cook itemized several issues, including the pros and cons of the designation, criteria for acceptance, legislative issues, time lines and other issues.

Designation as an Urban Enterprise Zone may provide our commercial businesses with some much needed assistance," Cook said.

"We constantly talk about revitalization and we may have the opportunity to apply some additional strength in that direction," Cook said.

The township has started to see some new growth in the Fourth Ward on Washington Avenue, and Cook said he would like to not only help keep these businesses viable, but make it more attractive for new businesses to flourish.

Cook then contacted Scott, since urban enterprise zones in New Jersey require state legislative action.

Life in Silver Lake By Marie Strumolo Burke

Little Miss Blossom 'all in the family'

LITTLE MISS BLOSSOM Silver Lake did it again. My niece, and Silverlaker, Andrea Delecrezia of Heckel Street was selected LITTLE MISS BLOSSOM 96 at the Blossomfest held on Franklin Street. Last Year, Andrea's best chum, Shea Markese of Frederick Street also won. There's nothing like keeping it in Silver Lake, is there? These 'beauties' both attend our school #4.

Listen how I found out. I got a call about 8 a.m. one morning and I hear this little voice say excitedly, "Aunt Marie, I won Little Miss Blossom." Being early in the morning and maybe losing my hearing a slight bit, I stupidly asked, Who's this and finally realized that it was Andrea.

The celebrity parents, Vinnie & Angel, told me that a car would pick her up on Blossomfest and whisk her away to Franklin St., where she would lead the festivities. Being early in the morning and maybe losing my hearing a slight bit, I stupidly asked, Who's this and finally realized that it was Andrea.

the cutest white lace anklets. She had her hair in a braid with a crown of flowers. When they handed her the long stem pink bouquet, chills went up my spine. She looked like a Little Miss America!

But the highlight was when the car arrived. It was decorated with pink ribbons. The color was yellow. Oh, the make of the car. Well, it was a 1937 or was it a 1927, oh well but I'm sure of one thing, it was definitely a Jaguar Convertible. Could you imagine how thrilling it was for this child.

Let me tell you about a cute remark Andrea made while her mother was 'priming her up.' Everyone was around her making a big fuss on how nice she looked and she turned around blurted out, "You know, I'm not used to all of this, because I'm just really a baseball player." Could have fooled me. Andrea on how sweet you looked. And don't worry Andrea, cause tomorrow, you can play all the baseball that you want. Grandmother and grandfather, Nora & Frank Pappadario were beaming with pride when they saw their grandchild. Now you can read the winning essay that Little Miss Blossom wrote:

What I want to be when I grow up

I would like to be a Pediatrician when I grow up. I want to help children of all ages. Being a doctor would give me the opportunity to research cures for childhood diseases. I'll feel proud knowing I could help youngsters who live in my community get well.

When I become a Pediatrician, I would make it a point to visit patients in the hospital and cheer them up. A Pediatrician is a rewarding occupation because I'll learn how children grow and see the smiles come back on their faces when they are feeling better.

Don't fret Brianna, I didn't forget you. Fat chance. Oh, for those who don't know, she's Andrea's little sister. Hey Brianna, there was another contest in Silver Lake and guess what? You won first prize. You are the reigning Little Miss Cutie II. Congratulations. REMEMBER, WE LOVE SILVER LAKE, ANDREA & BRIANNA, TOO.

Cook

addition to Sen. John Scott's bill, Cook said he is talking with Assemblymen Paul DiGaetano and John Kelt about companion legislation in the state Assembly.

Beside the main benefit, reduction of the state sales tax from 6 to 3 percent, Cook said businesses can save when purchasing equipment, he town can get a rebate when someone is hired, and incentives for included for businesses to hire.

"his will make Belleville attractive for commercial, professional and industrial businesses," he said.

Other goals for the next four years include completing the renovation of 383 Washington Ave. as a Community Center.

"The continuing delays in building senior citizen housing, he said, illustrates the need for someone on council, possibly himself, to champion the issue, although that would still not prevent opposing viewpoints from continuing to stall the project.

On the stalled Town Hall renovations, Cook said some members of the Council need to stop arguing over whether or not to fix the interior or exterior of the building.

"They both need renovation," Cook said, "We have to stop trying to get everything for nothing. Improvements cost money."

He has promoted the purchase of the Newark reservoir property for use as a passive recreational area, utilizing federal funding. The project has received preliminary approval, he said, with the next step being appraisal of the property.

Overall, Cook said he wants to "pursue the mission of an improved quality of life for all our residents."

As Councilman, Cook has participated and advocated all infrastructure and equipment upgrades. "With streets, I have tried to remain objective, and do the really bad ones first, before the ones that are just bad," he said.

In purchasing equipment, Cook said the equipment needed by the Department of Public Works has seen "savings evidenced. They took their savings last year."

To combat crime, Cook has

An Orechio Publication

been a participant and honorary township chairman for "National Night Out Against Crime." He plans an aggressive push on a Fourth Ward block watch to curb crime.

He was responsible for dealing with state officials to get Route 21 resurfaced.

Cook has chaired the Council budget committee which he said "has stabilized municipal taxes."

He has participated in upgrading Washington Avenue with new facades and additional parking, as well as advocating and championing curbside recycling.

Cook's development of bid analysis procedures for Township insurance have resulted in lower liability costs. He has developed performance review plan outlines for township administrators to promote better planning and responsibility.

Drozdz

On the renovation of Town Hall, Drozdz said, "It will take $2 million to do it the right way, and bring everything up to code. What they are looking at now is a band-aid."

He was referring to the use of less than $1 million to renovate either the interior or exterior or both.

"We had low-interest loans, and they've been lost," he said.

On the renovation of Municipal Stadium, Drozdz opposed the $4 million Green Acres application, saying, "I think we should take the London plan and get on with it."

He was referring to plans drawn by a local architect the previous Council wanted to use as the basis for renovations.

Also, the Council refused tons of fill Drozdz said he offered to help level the football field at the stadium.

Concerned with the shrinking tax base, Drozdz wants "a more positive image for Belleville, so industrial developers will find us an attractive investment option."

Rather than looking at drastic cuts in services, Drozdz sees increased ratables as the solution. "I don't see any other hope but picking up the tabs for lost companies," he said.

To better involve citizens, Drozdz said, "We need to form a committee of blue ribbon members of our community and grant them the authority to institute change."

Drozdz said he would have open house Ward meetings on a regular basis to exchange information and "give greater access to my neighbors."

His civic involvement includes raising $32,000 in 18 months to purchase and donate 65 bullet proof vests for police officers as a member of the Kiwanis Club. Also with the Kiwanis, he helped create the Child I.D. Program, a 10-year-old concept in protecting children.

In 1991, Drozdz helped establish fund raising efforts to purchase new scoreboards at Municipal Stadium. He is a past chairperson of the Belleville/Nutley Columbus Day Parade Committee and a Middle School Home and School Association member.

During his time on Council, Drozdz said 35 streets were paved, two major flooding problems were resolved, and he voted against tax increases in 1991 and 1993 while voting for zero increases in 1992 and 1994.

"Only when we work together can we spread a positive image, and the key to success is hard work," Drozdz said.

School #10 displays annual art appreciation exhibition

FAMOUS ARTISTRY INTERPRETED - This spring School #10 had its annual art appreciation exhibit. The students drew their interpretations of famous artists' pictures. The show was a huge success, thanks to the children's enormous efforts and commitment. The students did a fabulous job, with parents and visitors commenting on just how beautiful the works were. During the show, the children enjoyed cheese, crackers and juice. The show was such a success, all involved are looking forward to next year's show. Special thanks are sent out to the show's co-chairpersons, Sharon Dieck and Jerilyn Price, who helped make the show extra special for everyone. (Pictures supplied by Joanne Panzariello)

Student wins essay contest

The New Jersey Devils hockey team and the American Cancer Society, Essex County Unit, have announced winners of their jointly sponsored essay contest for Essex County sixth- and seventh-graders. Tim O'Connell, a sixth-grader at St. Joseph's School in West Orange, and Christine Hinchey, a seventh-grader at Belleville Middle School, have been selected as the grand prize contest winners for their essays titled "Why Smoking Isn't Cook."

"We had more than 300 entries for this contest," stated Venessa Zipef, program director for the Essex County Unit.

"There were so many creative entries. I could tell that the children put a lot of thought into their essays. Choosing the final winners was a very difficult task," she said.

As a result of their winning entries, Tim and Christine will appear in a commercial with New Jersey Devil left wing Mike Paluso, to be filmed in May.

The public service announcement will air in November throughout the tri-state area as part of the 20th anniversary of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout, a national media campaign that educates the public about the health risks of smoking.

High school seeks donations for ABC Quilts project

Students in the Belleville High School Contemporary Living I classes are getting excited as they prepare for their community service project, ABC Quilts for at-risk infants and toddlers. This international project aims to provide every at-risk baby with its own quilt.

Quilts are donated to local hospitals for distribution. The students need donated supplies for this project. For example, ABC Quilts requires 100% cotton or 50% cotton, 50% polyester fabrics only. These should be suited to baby quilts. Calico, juvenile prints, contrasting solids, plaids, thread and muslin are all needed.

If you can help with a donation of any of these supplies, it will be well used. Contact Miss Judith Knight C.F.C.S., Related Arts Department, Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Avenue, Belleville, NJ 07109. Phone: (201) 450-3464.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ABOUT PHOSPHAGEN™

Q: What is Phosphagen?
 A: Phosphagen is the original university tested creatine monophosphate supplement. This nutrient has been shown to have many positive effects for both "weekend" athletes and intensely training athletes. For example, several university studies have demonstrated the proper use of Phosphagen can increase lean body mass, strength, and aerobic endurance.

Phosphagen directly increases muscle mass with an energy precursor component called creatine. This greater creatine supply may extend the boundaries of muscle energy production, giving more strength for such activities as weightlifting, sprinting, cycling, etc.

Q: How long does it take to see results with Phosphagen?
 A: Many athletes who use Phosphagen notice dramatic results within 7 days, such as increased strength, body weight, or fat-free mass, and endurance.

THE ALL-NATURAL WAY TO INCREASE YOUR STAMINA, PERFORMANCE AND PLEASURE

Vitex: The Woman's Herb

A common ingredient in many women's herbal formulas is chastetree berry (Vitex agnus-castus), also known as vitex. Organically called "chaste tree" during medieval times, it was said to suppress libido and was often suggested to this end. Monks, under a vow of celibacy, were probably responsible for another common name for the herb: "monks' pepper."

For those women who experience such as PMS, irregular periods, or conditions of hormonal imbalance, Vitex has been used to regulate a young girl's menstrual cycle, alleviate PMS symptoms, increase the quality and quantity of breast milk and relieve menopausal symptoms. Vitex also seems to have an effect on the pituitary gland, normalizing the excretion of hormones.

Exhibition Features Roy Sanders

Currently on exhibition in the Trustees Gallery of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Avenue, during the month of May is an art exhibition of the art of Roy Sanders of Maplewood.

"I have a lifelong ambition to study art all throughout the world," Roy has recently commended. "My emphasis now is on painting oils on burlap. Oils continues to be my favorite medium."

Although born in Los Angeles, California, Roy Sanders was raised in Evanston, Illinois, moved to Brooklyn, New York, where he married Anucha Browne and is now raising two children who have been his inspiration.

After he graduated from Xavier University of New Orleans in 1979 and pursued a career in social work with H.R.A. in New York City. At this time, he also began painting at different studio locations in Brooklyn, Harlem, and the Bronx. When he moved to New Jersey, he continued to be active in the fine arts, working out of his studio in Maplewood, New Jersey. For the past three years, Roy has been been with the Family Development Program of Essex County.

Roy Sanders has received the Tennessee State University Painting Award, the Mercer Award for Best Painting, the Xavier University Award for Best Portrait, as well as being the recipient of the Skowhegan Painting and Sculpture Fellowship.

Roy Sanders has had solo exhibitions at the Renaissance Gallery in South Orange, Merck Pharmaceutical Highway, An Evening in Central Park, Art Expo, 1995, in New York, the New Orleans Superdome Expo in 1997 and 1980, the University of New Orleans, 1978, Tennessee State, 1977, and Fisk University, 1975. The exhibition can be seen through the month of May at the Library.

Ball field for handicapped named for terrorism victim

A baseball field for Essex County's disabled children will be named after the victims of the 1988 terrorist bombing of Pan Am Flight 103.

Hearing of efforts to build a new field to accommodate participants in the planned Challenger Division of the Bloomfield Southern Little League, Wendy Sefcik contacted Marge Franco of Belleville, vice president of the Challenger Division, and Michael Martino of Bloomfield, president of the league, and a bond was formed.

Sefcik, whose first husband, J.R. Giebler, died in the bombing of the jetliner over Lockerbie, Scotland, eight years ago, said she would pledge $20,000 in her late husband's name. The pledge comes from money donated by family and friends who wanted to keep his memory alive.

Sefcik said her late husband loved children and was an avid athlete, so she decided that funding the field, which will be named J.R. Giebler Field, would be a wonderful way to keep her husband's memory alive.

The project involves conversion of deteriorated tennis courts at a municipal park, Elton Field on Floyd Avenue in Bloomfield, into a grassy field suitable for baseball.

In the Challenger Division, children ages 5-18 with any physical, mental or neurological challenge would compete under modified Little League rules.

Eligible to compete are challenged children living in Essex County, Kearny and Harrison.

Franco noted that in addition to Sefcik's pledge, supporters of the field conversion project have been Bloomfield; the Lions Clubs of Belleville, Bloomfield and Nutley; the O.P.E. of Belleville's School No. 7; various Bloomfield businesses, and two team sponsors, A Touch of Beauty and Footprints Orthotic Services.

Additional donations are still needed, Franco said, and interested persons may call her at 759-5612 evenings or 481-5050 days.

Belleville Elks install new officers

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks Lodge #1123 of Belleville, NJ held their annual installation of officers dinner on Sunday, April 14, 1996.

The newly installed officers for the year 1996-1997 are: Exalted Ruler-Dr. Leonard Russo; Esquire-Philip Timpanaro; Lecturing Knight - Nick Timpanaro; Lecturing Knight - Christopher Wentworth; Loyal Knight - Andrew Hutchinson; Inner Guard - Dominic Meglio; Secretary - Ed Bergamini; Treasurer - Ray Bergamini; Tiler - Michael DeChristopher Chaplin - Darrell Root.

The Trustees are: Richard Gagnon, James Flynn, Ray Sobanok, Bryan Alickovic and Joseph Meglio Sr.

The Belleville Elks Lodge was chartered in 1908 and has been active in many community activities ever since - throughout the years they have sponsored a Belleville Little League Team, been involved in youth activities such as their annual hoop shoot, soccer tournaments and drug awareness education.

They have also sponsored newspapers in education program in the Junior High School.

The Elks support our veterans in the V.A. hospitals in East Orange and Lyons.

They also provide two annual scholarships to graduating high school seniors.

They are very active in supporting handicapped children, the Belleville Elks sponsor a Handicapped Boy Scout Troop at their lodge, as well as providing camping experience for handicapped children at the New Jersey State Elks, Camp Moore, located in Haskell, NJ.

The Belleville Elks are looking to increase their membership by enlisting new members and re-enlisting former members who have fallen by the wayside for one reason or another.

Prosperi named Prudential employee of the month

Jodi Prosperi has been named "Associate of the Month" in Prudential HealthCare's Eastern Disability Claim Division in Parsippany.

Prosperi, a disability claim manager, was cited for successfully handling a new client case, while completing another ongoing project.

A 1990 graduate of Belleville High School, Prosperi received her B.A. in Business Management from Rutgers University, Newark, in 1994. She joined Prudential the following year.

Prosperi resides in Belleville. Each month, Prudential HealthCare honors nine employees from among its over 25,000-member work force nationwide for providing outstanding service.

'96 NALC food drive day set for May 11th

The National Letter Association of Letter Carriers (NALC), in conjunction with the United States Postal Service, the AFL-CIO, and the United Way of Essex and West Hudson, will be collecting non-perishable food items on Saturday, May 11, for distribution to local food pantries and soup kitchens.

Residents may leave donations near their mailbox the day of the collection or drop it off at the local post office the week of May 5. To help the NALC help your neighbors, residents may use the 525 Main St. and 413 Washington Ave. locations of the Belleville Post Office.

Not getting your child all her shots is like leaving her out here alone.

THE PHARMACIST'S ROLE

Consider, for a moment, what an important member the pharmacist is of your health care team. While doctors take one semester's worth of drug-related courses in medical school to learn about prescribing types and dosages of medications, pharmacists spend a minimum of three years learning about the subject of drugs. And, their education is ongoing. In light of this fact, patients would do well to turn to pharmacist for information about their prescriptions. According to a recent survey by the Coalition for Consumer Access to Pharmaceutical Care, although 88% of Americans see pharmacists as their primary or secondary source of information on drugs, fully 49% had not talked to a pharmacist about their last prescription. Given the fact that up to 50% of the prescriptions dispensed each year are taken incorrectly, it seems that pharmacists are an undervalued resource.

Made as your source of information on prescription medications. We are always willing to answer any health related questions at ROSSMORE PHAR. MACI, 338 Washington Avenue (755-1926, 759-1965) and we are Medicines and Blue Cross approved. Last minute gifts for Mother's Day are no problem when you come to us. There is still a fine choice of Tupperware, trivet, toaster, radios, cameras, Russell Sever candles, and greeting cards. Hours: Daily 9am-10pm, Sunday 9am-5pm. We hope your Mother's Day is a happy one.

HINT: Gallup polls consistently put pharmacists at the top of the list of professionals that Americans respect most for their honesty and integrity.

A view from Capitol Hill

By Bill Martini
Congressman, Eighth District
A feature of The Nutley Sun, Belleville Times,
Bloomfield Life and Glen Ridge Voice

Many American men and women work long hours, often at more than one job, yet they just scrape by. All too often, it is more profitable for those making minimum wage to receive welfare than to work.

People want to support their families without government help, but we have to make work worthwhile.

I believe one way to do that is to raise the minimum wage.

It just comes down to basic fairness. There has not been an increase in the national minimum wage in seven years. In comparison to other wages, the minimum wage is at a 40-year low.

I don't think that is fair. I believe people deserve a fair return on a hard day's labor.

That is why I joined 19 other Republicans to introduce a bill to increase the minimum wage. Our bill would raise the minimum wage from $4.25 per hour to $5.25 per hour over a 15-month period.

The minimum wage issue has been a very hot topic in Washington over the last several weeks. Democrats in Congress have been pushing a proposal to raise the minimum wage to $5.15. If they were so serious about raising the minimum wage, they could have done it in 1993 or 1994, when they controlled the entire government.

We need to help people earn more and keep more of what they earn. Raising the minimum wage is just one aspect of the kind of economic growth and opportunity package this country desperately needs.

I believe a minimum wage increase, tax relief, reforming our broken welfare system and cracking down on illegal immigration all go hand-in-hand.

I see each measure as a leg on a chair, working together, to support the chair. Similarly, it will take several reform measures, working together, to provide economic growth and opportunity.

Minimum-wage earners are not alone — working families are also struggling. Often, both parents work and it is still difficult to make ends meet.

I and many of my colleagues in Congress recognized this and last year we worked to pass middle-class tax relief. Our plan would have given working families a $500-per-child tax credit.

Unfortunately, President Clinton vetoed the plan. That is $500 per child which families could put towards braces, eyeglasses or a college education fund.

Another key ingredient to helping people earn more and keep more of what they earn is welfare reform. But if we are serious about moving people from welfare to work, we must make work worthwhile. We accomplish that by increasing wages and reducing the tax burden workers face.

Increasing the incentive to work is one step to fixing our broken welfare system, but we must also have serious programmatic changes. Last year Congress passed a bill aimed at breaking the cycle of dependency inherent in our current system. Our plan would combat illegitimacy, eliminate abuse, crack down on deadbeat parents and give states more flexibility in administering public assistance programs.

Once again, it is unfortunate to report that President Clinton vetoed this plan.

The last leg on our chair is immigration reform.

New Jersey is among the top five states in the country impacted by illegal immigration. We must crack down on illegal aliens in New Jersey and across the country if we are going to keep low-skilled and entry-level jobs for Americans who want to work.

Each measure is aimed at helping people earn more and keep more of what they earn, but it even goes further than that. These measures are also about fairness — fairness for the minimum-wage earner who deserves a raise, fairness for the middle-income families who deserve a break, fairness for welfare recipients who deserve a hand up and not a handout, fairness for hard-working Americans who are tired of seeing their tax dollars wasted, and fairness for Americans who deserve the opportunity to work without having to compete for a job with an illegal alien.

The Congress has stood up for fairness. I am proud to have helped introduce a minimum-wage-increase bill and I am also proud to have cast my vote for the successful tax relief, welfare reform, and immigration reform bills.

We need a responsible and fair government for a change, and this Congress is on the right course.

Gonzalez is a counselor and tutorial coordinator for NJIT's SSSP program.

Jose Manuel Gonzalez named student achiever

Jose Manuel Gonzalez, of Belleville has been selected as the 1996 recipient of the Student Development Award presented by the Hispanic Association for Higher Education of New Jersey, Inc. (HAHE).

The award is presented to a professional who has made significant contributions to the mission of the association (HAHE), demonstrated through past work.

Gonzalez received the award for his work as a counselor and tutorial coordinator of Student Support Services (SSSP) at New Jersey Institute of Technology. SSSP provides a wide range of academic support services to financially disadvantaged first generation college students and disabled college students.

"It's an honor to be recognized by a group of professionals who are working to develop future leaders," Gonzalez said. "For the past nine years, I've dedicated myself to giving to the students. I'm relatively young among my group of professionals and it's nice for them to feel that I have contributed."

Gonzalez, who has a commitment to working with disadvantaged and underrepresented populations, particularly Hispanic, is involved in many activities beyond his job responsibilities. He was the guiding influence in helping NJIT students plan the HAHE 10th Annual Student Leadership Symposium, which turned out to be a tremendous success with 350 students representing 29 colleges from four states in attendance. He also coordinated the Statewide Hispanic Women's Conference in April 1995, in conjunction with La Casa de Don Pedro and the Puerto Rican Congress of New Jersey.

In addition, Gonzalez has spearheaded the SSSP Toy Drive for two years, providing toys for Focus Hispanic Center for Community Development. He also participated in the 7th Annual Hispanic Student Conference at Cumberland County College and presented workshops at the EOF Senior Year Experience Seminar at Montclair State University and at the EOF Professional Association Conference.

NJIT received the HAHE Institution Recognition Award for contributions to the education of Hispanics.

Passarella is Prudential sales associate of the month

Longtime Belleville resident Tony Passarella is sales associate of the month for March in the Prudential New Jersey Realty Degan Boyle Division's Caldwell office, according to manager Annette DeCicco Jovay.

A two-year veteran within the company, Passarella is a member of the West Essex Board of Realtors and the Garden State Multiple Listing Service. He covers the entire Essex County real estate scene, although he brings special expertise to the Belleville-Bloomfield-Nutley market.

An entrepreneurial spirit all his life, Passarella has an extensive network of personal contacts that he is always expanding as his business grows.

"The keys to my success are that I love talking to new people all the time and I pay attention to details," he said. "And I get wonderful back-up from my colleagues at the office, which is a tremendous help in marketing my listings."

Passarella feels that the Prudential New Jersey Realty gives him many advantages in marketing his clients' homes.

"First, we have a very high caliber of sales associates in our company," he pointed out. "And the training is the best. We can also offer our clients the advertising clout of the Prudential name, which inspires confidence in a lot of people. We offer the best of both worlds: the corporate strength of a company like Prudential and the individual attention that an independently owned company thrives on."

The Prudential New Jersey Realty has 18 offices in 6 counties, with four offices in Essex County.

Bill Paxton awaits the oncoming Twister.

'Twister' opens Friday at the Wellmont

"Twister," a thrilling new action-adventure about daring scientists who chase tornadoes in the pursuit of life-saving information, will open on Friday May 9th at the Wellmont Theater.

Shot on location in the heartland's Tornado Alley, "Twister" is a breathtaking action-adventure that follows two rival groups of scientists as they chase the largest storm to hit Oklahoma in more than half a century. Each team wants to be the first to launch their own equipment pack inside a tornado. To do so, they must risk their lives by putting themselves directly in the path of marauding cyclones. Racing across the stormy plains, they must always stay just ahead of a series of larger and larger tornadoes, anticipating their every capricious move as the twisters tear across the countryside and obliterate everything in their way.

"Twister" stars Helen Hunt (television's "Mad About You") and Bill Paxton ("Apollo 13") as an estranged couple thrown back together for one last extraordinary chase. Jami Gertz ("The Lost Boys") and Cary Elwes ("The Princess Bride") also star in the film. "Twister" brings together some of the entertainment industry's most acclaimed and successful talents.

Jan De Bont, who made his triumphal directorial debut with the smash action hit "Speed," now brings moviegoers face-to-face with the most breathtaking and catastrophic terrors of nature in "Twister."

Helen Hunt has won Best Actress for her starring role in the hit comedy series "Mad About You," also starring Paul Reiser.

Bill Paxton recently completed "The Evening Star," the sequel to the Oscar-winning "Terms of Endearment," opposite Shirley MacLaine. Prior to that, Paxton wrapped production on the independent feature "Traveler," on which he also serves as producer. Paxton starred in the Academy Award-nominated "Apollo 13" and in another recent box office triumph, "True Lies."

His other feature-film credits include "One False Move," "Aliens," "The Terminator," "Trespass," "Streets of Fire," "The Lords of Discipline," "Near Dark" and "Weird Science."

HOROSCOPES

May 12-18

ARIES — March 21/April 20

A work associate may try to take credit for your work. Don't let it happen! Take an offensive — rather than a defensive — role when it comes to your professional reputation. Later in the week, you may be faced with an important financial decision. Be sure to carefully weigh the pros and cons.

TAURUS — April 21/May 21

Keep your cool, Taurus. The last thing you want to do is look like a raging bull in front of the herd. If playing the role of teacher this week, be sure to be thorough in your approach. On Tuesday evening, a phone call will cheer you up and help you forget about an otherwise rotten day.

GEMINI — May 22/June 21

If you're a parent, you may have to find a new form of discipline if you want to get your point across. Don't be afraid to try an unusual approach. Towards the end of the week, you'll find yourself with some precious extra time. You'll finally have the chance to indulge in your favorite hobbies.

CANCER — June 22/July 22

Before you crawl into your protective shell once again, take a look at what's positive. There's a lot more to be happy for than you may think. A loved one will need your time and support later in the week. Your help will certainly be appreciated. An ugly rumor should be ignored at all costs.

LEO — July 23/August 23

Been tossing and turning a bit more than usual, Leo? If so, you may want to take a close look at your current situation. Maybe something is bothering you more than you think. Travel is likely this week. But be sure not to leave packing until the end. A subtle reminder of the past comes Saturday.

VIRGO — Aug 24/Sept 22

News travels fast, so if you want to keep a secret, don't tell anyone! Go the extra mile if working on an important project. Pay attention to details the way a true Virgo would. Unconventional approaches may be the most successful if you're in a creative field. Don't be afraid to try something new.

LIBRA — Sept 23/Oct 23

A work-related crisis will give you the opportunity to show off your leadership skills. While others are falling apart, you will take charge and solve the problem at hand. You'll be sure to impress higher-ups — and even yourself, too. Be sure to make time for yourself this weekend. Don't be afraid to have some fun!

SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22

If your general enthusiasm has dwindled, it may be time to do something exciting. Reclaim those higher-ups and meet a new challenge. You won't regret it. A Leo of the opposite sex will play a major role towards the end of the week. A power struggle may keep you on your toes.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov 23/Dec 21

Subtle hints may not seem so subtle to a family member who knows you all too well. If you want to get your point across, you might fare better if you just go ahead and say it. A delay in travel could ruin your weekend plans. Instead of getting upset, try to make the best of the situation.

CAPRICORN — Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't be afraid to drop your defensive outer shell, Capricorn. A view of your more sensitive side will make you seem more appealing — and human — to a new love interest. A tough lesson from the past will serve as a guide today. A smarter approach will get you farther.

AQUARIUS — Jan 21/Feb 18

Making promises you can't deliver will only make your credibility suffer. Be realistic before promising the world. It really is okay to say "no." Take your own advice when it comes to financial matters. You know that saving — rather than splurging — is the way to go.

PISCES — Feb 19/March 20

Don't put all your eggs in one basket, Pisces. Jumping on an opportunity that seems too good to be true could make you one sorry fish. Be wise when making financial decisions. An unexpected course of events will brighten the weekend. Good times are in store. Enjoy!

WE'RE OPEN IN BLOOMFIELD — Raymond Cetrulo, co-owner of i Fratelli's Ristorante at 1099 Broad Street, Bloomfield, checks out the dining room of the new establishment, billed as a "romantic, intimate setting."

i Fratelli Ristorante opens in Bloomfield

In 1989, two brothers Raymond and Jerry Cetrulo ventured to open an Italian restaurant in Secaucus.

In a short time, i Fratelli Ristorante became one of the more popular eating spots in New Jersey.

Seven years later the brothers decided to bring their intriguing regional Italian cuisine to the Bloomfield section of Bloomfield, in a romantic intimate setting.

i Fratelli Ristorante features, natural veal, fresh seafood, imported Italian delicacies, fresh pasta(made on premises), homemade deserts, and gelatos and sorbets.

Come taste great regional Italian cuisine at 1099 Broad Street in Bloomfield. Reservations are recommended. Call 338-4888.

Home is where great food is!

What's for dinner? Ask today's busy professionals and you'll hear answers such as: "I pick up a pizza or some fast food on the way home," "I usually stop at the deli section of the grocery store," and "I'll pop a frozen dinner into the microwave."

Neil Philipson has a different answer! He is the owner and head chef of Meals By Neil personal chef service.

"As a personal chef, I plan menus, shop for groceries and prepare delicious dinners for busy people in their homes," Neil said.

A typical client is a professional individual or couple who is concerned with healthy eating habits, and wants to have mouth-watering, preservative-free dinners, but doesn't have the time to plan, shop and prepare them.

Luxury or necessity? If your first thought is that this service would be an unaffordable luxury, you might think again. Just what is your time worth?

Time has possibly become the most precious commodity we have. Good health may be second. What is the point of being successful if you aren't healthy enough to enjoy the results of your success?

Some clients arrange for a personal chef every other week, while others find a monthly service fits their needs. Meals By Neil will customize the service and menus to fit the clients situation.

To plan, shop for and prepare nine to ten delicious entrees for two persons, the service charge is $350, which includes the cost of the groceries. Neil is offering his personal service to first-time clients for only $299.

Following a comprehensive interview to determine food preferences and any dietary requirements, the client receives their personalized menu.

They can make suggestions or changes before setting a date for the service. A typical day for Neil shows him creating a shopping list from a customized menu, making the rounds of his favorite fresh food markets, arriving at the client's home and preparing nine to ten dinner entrees, and some side dishes, complete with labels and heating instructions.

The client arrives home to find the sweet smells of home cooking, a refrigerator and freezer filled with a delectable variety of meals prepared to their order, and a menu, announcing the specials for Neil's next visit.

For more information, call Neil at 893-1263.

Sheriff supports ban on 'Saturday night specials'

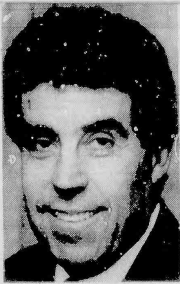

In a cable television interview, Essex County Sheriff Armando B. Fontura on April 26 endorsed proposed federal legislation which would restrict the domestic manufacture, sale and possession of the type of inexpensive handguns -- so-called "Saturday night specials" -- which he said are used in an inordinate number of violent crimes.

Appearing on "CNN Headline News," Fontura said he fully supported pending legislation, introduced recently by U.S. Sen. Bill Bradley, D-N.J., to reduce the number of "small-caliber, poorly manufactured, readily available and easily concealable street weapons which are used by gang members and other criminals in the commission of violent crime against the public."

Fontura stated that the handguns, many of which are rapid-fire, semi-automatic weapons and can be purchased on the "black market" for as little as $35, "lack any intrinsic sporting value and are primarily used in murders, carjackings, assaults, rapes and robberies."

The sheriff reported that federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms studies from 1991 through 1993 reveal that 21,744, or 62 percent of the guns seized at crime scenes, proved to fall into the "Saturday night special" category.

Fontura added that six handgun manufacturers in Southern California dominate production of the weapons targeted by Bradley's legislation.

"Once these inexpensive handguns reach the street," Fontura said, "they become the weapon of choice for young criminals. Police, sports shooters and gun collectors have no use for these weapons. They are only good for killing and maiming people."

The Gun Control Act of 1968 already outlaws the importation of "Saturday night specials" which, due to inferior quality, do not meet ATF safety standards. Bradley's proposed legislation would close the loophole that permits domestic manufacturers to continue the production and sale of similarly unsafe weapons, Fontura said.

Local teens compete in national music event

Teenagers Christian DelMotte, Tom Engel, Ema Londono, and Joe Pepe, all from Belleville, will be members of the Raiders Drum & Bugle Corps when they travel the East Coast this summer.

The musical group will be competing with other units from as far away as England, Canada, and Japan in the DCI Summer Music Games, on the road to Walt Disney World. The World Championships will be held in Orlando, Fla., this coming August.

Director George Lavelle Jr., announced the 1996 corps line-up and repertoire.

Del Motte is returning as a four year veteran and will be featured on rifle and flag. Engel, marching for his second year will be performing in the brass section on mellophone. Also in the auxiliary will be three year veteran, Londono on sax and flag. Lead soprano bugle, Pepe will be returning for his fourth year with the corps.

All four are graduates of the Belleville High School music program under the direction of Mark Fabio.

The Raiders 1996 production is titled "The Sidewalks of New York". The repertoire will consist of "East Side - West Side Fanfare", "Take the A Train", "Harlem Nocturne", "Central Park", "Autumn in New York/Manhattan Serenade" with a closer of "EastSide-WestSide".

The brass arranger is Matt Krempanky. Dennis DeLuca has written the percussion arrangements as well as serving as Program Coordinator. Drill Design is by Tom Mielilo.

The 1996 tour will include performances along the entire Eastern seaboard. The Raiders are expected to compete at the North American Open in Nashville, Tennessee; the Jersey Showdown at Rutgers University; and the Drum Corps International World Championships at Walt Disney World in Florida.

The Raiders will also be hosting three drum and bugle competitions in Bayonne, this summer.

The first will be a ten corps celebration with junior and senior corps. The sixth annual Bugles by the Bay will be held at 6 p.m. on June 22 at Veterans Stadium in Bayonne.

Tickets are $8 for adults and $5 for senior citizens and children to 12 years old-if purchased in advance. At the door tickets will be $10 and $8, respectively. Children 5 and under are free.

Mail orders to: The Raiders, 49 Juliette Street, Bayonne, New Jersey 07002 or call 339-2398 for further information.

The Raiders will also be hosting shows in July and August.

Martini praised on waste fight

At a press conference on April 25, the Council for Citizens Against Government Waste (CCAGW) praised Congressman Bill Martini, R-N.J., for "putting the taxpayers first."

The Washington-based group, which released its 1995 Congressional Ratings, named Martini a "Taxpayer's Hero" for achieving a 82.22 percent waste-cutting rating during the 104th Congress.

Martini's district includes Belleville, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge and Nutley.

"With a rating of 82.22 percent, Martini attains the highest echelon of congressional waste fighters. He is a rarity in Washington, D.C.," said CCAGW President Tom Schatz, "an elected official who put his vote where his rhetoric was."

Ratings were based on 45 key "waste" votes in the House and 38 votes in the Senate. Votes were rated which could have significantly reduced or eliminated government waste or decreased costs to taxpayers.

CCAGW said the ratings follow a simple rule: the higher the rating, the better the senator or the representative did in fighting waste.

Members of Congress receiving a rating of 80 percent or better "are in the waste-fighting elite," Schatz said, "deserve special recognition for their tireless efforts to ensure that every dollar Washington takes away from hardworking, overtaxed Americans is not lost in a black hole."

In the House, Republican freshman represented 17 percent of the members, but 45 percent of the CCAGW's Taxpayer's Heroes. While accounting for just 11 percent of the entire Senate, Republican freshman accounted for 25 percent of the Taxpayer's Heroes in that chamber.

"Votes taken by Republican members of the freshman class, such as Martini, were absolutely decisive in terms of reducing government waste," said Schatz.

"Their arrival on Capitol Hill may finally usher in a new era of fiscal responsibility. Taxpayers have a right to know exactly who is part of the waste problem in Washington, D.C., and who is part of the solution. The members you see here today are part of the solution," Schatz said.

CCAGW is a nonpartisan, non-profit lobbying organization, established in 1984 following the release of the Grace Commission report, issued to help enact waste-cutting legislation in the federal government.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Veltre - nee Jennifer Wolf

Jennifer Wolf wed to Ralph Veltre

Jennifer Wolf, daughter of Otto J. Wolf of Belleville and the late Rosemarie Wolf, was married recently to Ralph Veltre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Veltre of West Paterson.

The Rev. James Reilly performed the ceremony in St. Mary's Church, Nutley. A reception followed at the Fiesta, Wood-Ridge.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a satin sheath gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and cathedral train and adorned with imported beaded lace. A matching headpiece held her veil and she carried cymbidium orchids, white and baby pink roses, purple delphiniums and babies breath.

Christine Rossi of Belleville was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Catherine Cassidy, Roseann Kneringer, Kelly McManamey, Annette Rodriguez and Beverly Toke.

They were attired in two-piece purple velvet gowns and carried white mountain lilies, white roses, purple delphinium and limonium.

Richard Veltre of West Paterson served as best man. Ushering were Andrew Calicchio, Charles Kneringer, Steven Kucan, Richard Randion and Joseph Wolf.

The groom's mother was in a black beaded gown trimmed in gold. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Veltre, an alumna of Belleville High School and Rutgers College of Pharmacy, New Brunswick, is a registered pharmacist with Automated Pharmaceutical Services, Whippany.

Mr. Veltre, a graduate of Passaic County Technical and Vocational High School and a Marine Corps veteran, is a firefighter with the City of Paterson.

The couple honeymooned in Hawaii following the December 2 nuptials. They have made their home in West Caldwell.

Third in a series celebrating 20th anniversary of '76 Belleville baseball team

'76 Bellboys gain #1 state ranking

They had won six straight games, many of which were one sided. The offense was on a major roll and the pitching was more than adequate.

George Zanfini's 1976 Belleville High School baseball team was beginning to take off. The team would play a critical double header on a Saturday at West Essex.

"We used to play a double header against West Essex every year in the last weekend in April," the coach said. "They had a good team. They had (Scott) Bradley (who later played major league baseball) and a good program. We went up there and hit the ball really well, especially in the first game."

The Bellboys won the first game, 14-6 with Ricky Loma pitching a complete game. Once again, John Guarino was outstanding at the plate. He hit another home run, collected four hits on the day and drove in five runs.

"It's safe to say John was hitting the ball very well back then," Zanfini said. "Teams couldn't get him out for a while."

Michael Cancelliere, Nick Cancelliere, Frank Mozeika and Anthony "Chipper" Biafore had two hits each to lead the Belleville attack.

"16 kids got into that game," Zanfini said. "I tried to play as many as possible."

Belleville won the second game of the twin bill by the more conventional score of 7-3.

Bobby Giordano was the winning pitcher, with some relief help from Greg Petite. For once, the Belleville bats were somewhat quiet, collecting just six hits.

"We knew that West Essex would not be an easy team," Zanfini said. "It told me something about our team to go into there and get two victories."

Now at 8-1, the Bellboys got back into their Big 10 schedule with an easy 8-1 win over Montclair. There, Petite was the winning pitcher and Michael Cancelliere collected two hits to lead the Bellboy offense.

The winning streak hit ten games with a 10-0 shutout of Orange. John Clarizio pitched a no-hitter for Belleville and the offense responded with 15 hits.

Greg Dunleavy was 3 for 3, Anthony Speer, Scott Osche, Michael Cancelliere and Nick Cancelliere collected two hits each.

"Clarizio's game was a big lift for us because it was his first real effort on the varsity level," Zanfini said. "It gave our pitching staff even more depth."

The Bellboys were 10-1 and, obviously, playing quite well. With the gaudy record came the usual recognition of the part of the newspapers whose job it was to rank the teams in the weekly newspapers.

In Belleville, The Star Ledger carried (and still does) a great deal of clout when it came to where they would rank a team, whether it be in football, baseball, basketball, whatever.

The team had gained in the rankings each week, but Zanfini had no idea that on the morning of May 4, 1976, the team would be ranked number one in the state by the Ledger.

"The Daily News had ranked us number six," Zanfini said. "But I had no idea until I saw the paper that Tuesday that we were number one."

Did Zanfini think that the new found notoriety would be a problem for his team?

"I told them that every team shoots for the number one ranked club," the coach said. "The key was to stay number one. It's one thing to get there, it's another to stay there. Every game is big now."

Following the newspaper announcement, the Bellboys improved to 11-1 with an impressive 4-0 win over Columbia. Loma pitched what Zanfini would later call a "great game". Chipper Biafore and Giordano had two hits each to lead the offense.

On Saturday, May 8, the Bellboys would blank a tough Wayne Valley team, moving to 12-1 in the process.

"It was one of our toughest games of the year," Zanfini said later. "(Anthony) Gammaro threw a great game. We weren't hitting the ball well that week, but we got great pitching."

The week of May 10-15 would be a key one for the '76 team. Because of a few rain outs, the Bellboys would have to play six games in six days.

It would start on May 10, with a Greater Newark Tournament game against Vailsburg and continue the following day with a vital game against Irvington, the Bellboys long time nemesis. Would the game against Irvington be the contest in which the Bellboys would finally snap the hex against the Campers?

The rest of the week featured games against Seton Hall Prep, Nutley and Immaculate Conception.

Next week, a look back at that week, along with some remembrances of the huge crowds that were going to the Belleville games 20 years ago.

Team hoping for berth in state tourney

Bucs eliminated from G.N.T.

By Mike Lamberti

Following a spirited come back against Paramus in an NNJL Pacific Division game, the Buccaneer baseball team dropped games to Hackensack and Verona to fall below .500 for the '96 season.

Chuck Martin's team was 6-7 heading into this week's action. The team will be at Don Bosco tomorrow afternoon at 4 p.m. On Saturday, Caldwell comes to town for a make up game. The time of that contest was not known as of press time last Tuesday.

Next Monday, St. Joe's comes to town and next Wednesday, it's off to Hackensack. Both of those games begin at 4 p.m.

The Bucs were on the short end of an 8-1 score against Paramus when they staged one of their better rallies in years, scoring eight times in the last four innings to win, 9-8.

Dan Montalvo, Greg Sheridan and Sal Vitale each had two hits to lead the way.

Ed Pagan started on the mound for the Bucs, but he gave way in one third to junior Mark Lawrence.

Lawrence hurled four innings of shut out, no-hit ball, giving his team a chance to win.

"Lawrence pitched a solid game," Martin said. "No hits, no walks, he just did a super job."

The win improved Belleville's record to 6-5, but the next two losses would hurt the Bucs chances of gaining a berth in the upcoming state tournament.

Versus Hackensack, the Bucs fell behind 5-0 before staging a late rally with three runs in the sixth inning.

Anthony Lenzi pitched a good game for Belleville, but took the loss. Offensively, Carl Piscatowski, Sheridan and Montalvo had two hits each.

"We had nine hits in the game," Martin said, "but most of them came with two outs and no one on base. The only time we strung together a few hits was the sixth and we scored three times."

Last Saturday, the Bucs battled a good Verona team and held a 3-2 lead in the late stages of the first round of the Greater Newark Tournament.

Verona took a 2-0 lead off Pagan in the third inning, but the Bucs came back in the fourth with three runs, thanks to a bases clearing double by Tom Dyer.

"Pagan got into a few jams during the course of the game," Martin said, "but he seemed to pitch his best when he needed to get the out. We led 3-2 until the sixth inning and then, we got into trouble with walks and hits."

Verona tallied four times in the last of the sixth, then withstood a late Belleville rally in the seventh to win and advance to the quarter final round of the G.N.T.

NOTES: Bucs needed to be at .500 or better by the end of tomorrow's action in order to clinch a berth in the state tournament.

Hernandez, Parillo, Nejman propel track

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville girls track team turned in a stellar performance at the county relays held last weekend.

The Lady Bucs took tenth in a field of 19 at the relays, with the girls javelin team taking second place overall.

The boys and girls will compete in the NNJL championships this weekend. The event begins tomorrow at Nutley and will continue on Saturday in Clifton.

Next Monday, the Essex County Novice race will be held in Maplewood and next Tuesday, it's off to St. Joe's for a 4 p.m. meet.

"Everyone did a real good job at the relays," head coach John Tosato said. "Bill Bakka (the girls field coach) deserves a lot of credit. Mike (Popovich) was also very instrumental in the success of the girls team. He does a great job with the entire program."

The javelin team just missed out on the championship, falling by six inches. The team of Dilma Hernandez and Leah Valdez combined for a throw of 138'2", good for second place.

The shot put relay team of Hernandez and Tessa Wyche combined for a throw of 52'1" and the high jump relay of Kim Parillo and Jon Spano hit the nine foot mark.

In the girls distance medley, the team of Stephanie Curran, Tiffani Parker, Maria Insua and Lizzi Noonan finished in a time of 16:35. Finally, the 4 x 200 team of Parker, Spano, Parillo and Jessie Santiago clocked in a time of 2:02.3.

In the boys division, the 3 x 400 hurdle relay team of Nick Colucci, Jose Moreno and Angelo Chavez finished in a time of 3:19.7.

The 4 x 100 team of Tristin Kvetkus, Herb Bolante, Pete Santoro and Colucci turned in a time of 48.7.

Colucci, Santoro, Kvetkus and Mike Drinbak ran the sprint medley in 4:04.2.

In the field events, the boys shot put team consisted of Eric Compusano and Nick Muscara. The javelin relay team featured Rick Nejman and Dave Linfante while the discus relay saw Muscara and Nejman lead the way.

NOTES: Apologies to Nejman, who won the javelin event in the Hackensack meet. It was not mentioned. His throw was 126'2".

Mens light weight shell captures title

By Kelleen Myers

The Belleville varsity crew team traveled to Philadelphia once again this past Sunday and competed in the City Championships on the Schuylkill River. The City Championships are considered one of the most competitive races of the spring season.

The mens light weight four shell was victorious and captured the league title. The crew consisted of Mike Matos, C.J. Stevens, Scott Horst, Min Tsai, and Chris Adamo. The light weight four shell garnered a first place in their qualifying heat in order to advance into the finals.

In the finals, the Bucs faced some stiff competition, but managed to pull out the victory. The light weight four team was awarded medals and a plaque for their effort. It is the first time since 1988 that a men's shell has won the City Championships and it is only the third time in Belleville High School history.

The other mens' shell which was entered in the competition was the midweight shell, which rowed well and mustered a third place finish.

Although the girls did not have any first place finishes, the Lady Bucs still produced finishers among the leaders.

The junior four shell took a second in a heat behind Holy Spirit, and advanced into the finals for their performance. In the finals, the team was once again neck-and-neck with Holy Spirit, but fell behind near the end of the race and was forced to settle for second place.

Tennis team hopes to be at full strength

By Mike Lamberti

Injuries and a rash of rain outs have been a problem for the Buccaneer tennis team.

Tony Salese's squad was 1-4 heading into this week's action. The team will be home to Hackensack this afternoon and will host Don Bosco tomorrow afternoon. Both of those matches commence at 4 p.m. Next Monday, St. Joe's visits and next Tuesday, the team will be at St. Joe's in a make up match. Next Wednesday, the Bucs venture to Hackensack.

Due to some rain outs and a class trip, the Bucs had played just five matches heading into early May.

"We'll be making up for that now," Salese said. "Basically, we'll be playing matches five days a week. We haven't been fortunate in the injury department, either. Our top two singles players have been hampered by ankle injuries."

"They should be okay by this week."

Salese feels the team could be competitive against the NNJL Pacific Division schedule.

"Don Bosco and Paramus are outstanding teams," the coach said. "But other than that, I think with a healthy lineup our kids can do a good job."

The Bucs lost to Passaic 5-0, Don Bosco 4-0 and Paramus 5-0 in their most recent matches.

"We were hurt by injuries, especially in the Passaic match," the coach said. "It's hard to determine where the team stands. I'll know more after we play the next two weeks."

Wes Tahsir, the first singles player, is back after hurting his ankle. The same is true of second singles man Len Chinchankar.

Ben Dookchitra, the third singles starter, has been playing well of late. His role will be key in the Bucs hopes of winning the 3-2 matches.

"I'm just hoping the weather will hold up," Salese said, referring to the fact that rain is in the forecast for most of this week.

"We're back at full strength, and with a lot of home matches coming up, it's a good opportunity for our kids to be competitive."

Integrity House sponsors 11th annual 'Run for Freedom'

This Mother's Day, May 12, marks the 11th annual "Run for Freedom" event organized and promoted by Integrity House in Newark.

The Five-mile race begins and ends in front of Integrity House at Lincoln Park and takes runners through historic areas of downtown Newark. In addition, a one-mile health walk-run and a 100 yard Kid's Course will be available.

All participants will have an opportunity to win a trophy or medal and can relax and enjoy a delicious pancake breakfast with family members and fellow runners after the race.

It is very fitting that proceeds from the race benefit the programs of Integrity House. The idea for the "Run for Freedom" came from people recovering from drug and alcohol abuse and from counselors working with these recovering people who wanted to promote healthy, drug-free lifestyles. They believed that a race was a good way to demonstrate the benefits of healthy lifestyles.

"We hold the event on Mother's Day because we want this to be a 'family-oriented' event. We encourage the participation of all family members," said Robert Budsock, Director at Integrity House and Race Coordinator. In addition to refreshments, children of all ages will be entertained by clowns performing magic and painting faces as well as a D.J. on site.

David Kerr of Glen Ridge, President of Integrity, says, "Our 'Run for Freedom' is famous for the approximately 200 courteous volunteers along the course and at the finish line. We are proud of the fact that all volunteers are Integrity House members."

Mary Foster, a program member of Integrity and a mother of four says, "Running is a very important part of my life. I'm happy I'll be doing something with my children on Mother's Day that we can all enjoy!"

This event is open to all. All registered participants will receive a 100% cotton heavyweight T-shirt and children in the Kid's Course will also receive participation medals.

Check-in time begins at 7 a.m. For pre-registration information please contact Susan Lyons at 623-7246, or Robert Budsock at 974-7314.

Integrity House has been providing substance abuse treatment for individuals and families since 1968. Its programs range from residential substance abuse treatment programs, to prevention, to intervention and education programs for adolescents, to the Mother Goose program for addicted mothers with young children, and to many other community-oriented services.

Integrity maintains treatment centers in Newark and in Secaucus.

15th annual Mountainside Golf and Tennis Pro/Am set to swing into action

The 15th annual Mountainside Pro/Am Invitational Golf & Tennis Tournament is set to swing into action on Tuesday, May 14.

The tournament will once again pair amateur foursomes with a pro from the NJPGA. In addition, for the second year in a row, tennis enthusiasts are invited to participate in a Round Robin Tennis Tournament.

The annual event, which raises funds for the hospital's Foundation, is co-chaired this year by William H. Connolly, Jr., and Martin L. Sorger, M.D.

Senator Bill Bradley is an Honorary Member of the Committee, which also includes baseball hall-of-famer Yogi Berra, Corporate Chairman William H. Turner, Tennis Co-Chairmen Victor W. Grossier, M.D. and Donald C. Syracuse, M.D., Women's Co-Chairmen Jane Goodwillie and Teddy Hawkins, and Junior Co-Chairmen Michael J. O'Connor and Christopher G. Turner.

The fee for golfers to participate in the Pro/Am Invitational is $650 per person or $2,600 per foursome, and includes a registration and practice session, clinic, buffet brunch, and shotgun scramble. Juniors (age 40 and under) can participate for $300 per person or $1,200 per foursome.

For tennis players, the $300 fee includes registration, clinic and round robin matches. The Invitational will conclude with a cocktail hour and buffet dinner during which the day's awards will be presented. Those interested in attending only the cocktail hour and dinner can do so for $125 per person.

Individuals and corporations may also participate in the event as a Sponsor ($5,000), Booster ($3,000), Benefactor ($1,000) or Patron ($500).

For additional information about playing in the event, or becoming a Sponsor, Booster, Benefactor or Patron, please call the Mountainside Hospital Foundation at 429-6130.

Bloomfield College honors five 'Most Valuable Players'

Bloomfield College honored five Most Valuable Players, including Joanna Lawton of Bloomfield, at its year-end sports banquet this past week.

Lawton and three other honorees, including double-winner Olisa Small of Maplewood, are underclassmen, leaving the future bright for the Deacons' athletic program.

Lawton, a junior center forward, was named MVP of the women's basketball. In volleyball, a junior center forward, was named MVP of the women's soccer team, which won its first game since 1993 and compiled a 4-5 record.

Small earned MVP awards in two sports: volleyball and women's soccer team. In volleyball, Small, a junior middle hitter, had 241 kills and 306 digs for a team which went 24-11, the best record in school history. In basketball, the forward averaged 13.9 points and 12.4 rebounds per game. She blocked 54 shots, an average of 2.4 per game for a team which went 12-16.

Andy Dickson of Belfast, Ireland was named MVP of the highly successful men's soccer team. Dickson, a senior sweeper, led a defense which powered the Deacons to a 21-1 record and the finals of the NAIA Northeast Regional Tournament.

Steven Diaz of Haverstram, N.Y. was the men's basketball MVP. The freshman point guard averaged 9.3 points and 4.2 assists for the Deacons, who were 4-24. Diaz's season-high was 10 points versus Modgar Evoro. He was one of only two players to play in all 38 games for the Deacons.

Eric Burgess of Clifton was the MVP of the recently completed baseball season. Burgess, a junior catcher, batted .370 with six doubles and three home runs for the Deacons, 15-10 during the regular season. He also had a .952 fielding percentage and threw out 13 would-be base stealers.

Rec Department pre-school registration is in progress

The Belleville Department of Recreation and Cultural Affairs is accepting registration for the pre-school play program for four year old children. The program consists of games, stories, songs, art, outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for pre-school children.

A session is from 9 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. or 12:45 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., five days a week with class limited to a maximum of 23 students in each session. The cost of the 32 week session is $150. The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every eight or nine days according to a published schedule. School will begin on Monday, Sept. 16, 1996 and will run through May 1997.

Children born between October

1991 and September 1992 who will enter Kindergarten in September 1997 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are only a limited number of openings, and applications will be accepted on a first-come-first-serve basis only.

Children must be able to speak and understand English in order to participate. Children enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program, or vice versa.

A $25 deposit is required to hold your spot in the program.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422 as soon as possible, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Registration is currently in progress.

first in their qualifying heat and then crossed the finish line in second place in the finals, behind the Hun School.

The senior four shell competed in a tough heat and missed qualifying as they finished in fifth place. The crew rowed well as they stayed with the pack for most of the race.

The Buccaneer varsity crew team heads to Lower Merion, Penn., to compete in the last race of the regular season. Belleville will then conclude their season at the annual Statesbury Regatta and at the nationals, which will be held in Virginia this year.

Cobras seek defense of soccer title

Last year, the Belleville Cobras ended the season with a championship trophy in their grasp. Due to age limitations, only a handful of players from that squad have returned to defend the title.

Although it appeared to be a rebuilding year, some key acquisitions mixed with the veteran leadership, have produced a winning combination.

The Cobras are the under 19 entry from the Belleville Soccer Association and the squad competes in the Mid New Jersey Youth Soccer Association.

With a record of 5-0-1, the Cobras are in first place by 1 1/2 games and should be headed back to the playoffs for a second consecutive season.

Led by captains Marcelo Giorlando and Mike Percio, the offense has averaged close to five goals a game. Giorlando has contributed with eight goals and three assists from his center midfield position.

Percio, while splitting time between the offense and defense, has added seven goals and assisted three times.

Nick Colucci has been a tremendous scorer, tallying eight goals and dishing out five assists. A leg injury sidelined Colucci this weekend, and reports state that he will return by the playoffs.

Tow offensive surprises have emerged in the form of Dan Bartosiewicz and Ljubisa Prvolovic.

Bartosiewicz has scored one goal, but has passed off for a team leading six assists. Prvolovic has scored four goals this year while only seeing limited action.

While the offense has scored abundantly, the defense has been equally stingy to the opposition.

Goal keeper Natalie Guagliardi has only allowed six goals in as many games and has looked stellar at times.

In front of Guagliardi, a defensive front has been assembled that has made the goal tenders play a little easier at times.

Mike Guzman, Aaron Stanecki, Mike Corino and Joe Emmolo have been a constant four for most of the season and have only allowed an average of seven shots per game by the opposition.

According to coach Doug Thatcher, "As far as we are concerned, this is still a rebuilding season, and we can't allow ourselves to become complacent. When you are on top of the mountain, everyone is gunning for you and the slightest slip could lead to a major collapse. As long as the coaches and the players keep that in mind, we should be alright."

"No one ever said that repeating would be an easy task, but when this team is at full strength, I would pit them against almost anyone," stated coach Tim Cook. "We just hope that Nick's injury is not too serious and that the team can pick up the slack in his absence."

Junior Bucs cheerleading registration announced

The Belleville Recreation Department has announced that applications for the Junior Bucs Cheerleading squads will be available as of April 24, at the Recreation Department office on 407 Joramelon Street.

The Junior Bucs cheerleading squads will be assigned for "A," "B," and "C" travelling football teams.

Registration deadline for enrollment is May 17. Birth certificates will be required of all applicants. Girls who will be in grades three to eight during the 1996-97 school year are eligible. All returnees must re-apply.

The Recreation office will be open Tuesday nights from 6 to 7:30 p.m. for registration.

For information, please contact the Recreation Department at 450-3422.

'Hands on Health'

Straightening up your backyard

By Robert Ruffalo, PT, DC, CCSPT

Well, it's that time again. The days are longer, the weather is warmer, and your yard is in total disarray!!! After the winter we've had, it's a wonder that you have any plants or lawn growing. But it's inevitable...you have to begin your spring clean-up. Try to make this season one that will not result in back pain.

This is the time of year that you want to enjoy the outdoors. Family barbecues should be in the "back" yard without "back" aches. Be aware of your back when lifting, carrying, kneeling, standing, or pulling/pushing. Morning-after backaches can be prevented if you observe some basic safety tips using proper body mechanics.

Dr. Robert Ruffalo

1. Pulling and pushing — When pulling out weeds and roots or pushing the wheel barrel, be sure to support your back by putting stress on other parts of your body instead of your back. For example, when kneeling and pulling out weeds, use the muscles in your arms, legs and abdomen rather than the muscles in your back. Body mechanics work best when you maintain a healthy weight. If you are out-of-shape, don't tackle more than you can handle and take it slowly!

2. Lifting — When lifting heavy objects or a shovel full of dirt, be sure to use your leg muscles to support the weight, rather than putting the force on your back muscles. Muscles and ligaments in the lower back are often injured by sudden movement or twisting. Heavy objects should be carried close to the body rather than with extended arms. If the object is too big to handle on your own...4 hands are better than 2!

3. Raking — When bending to plant or pick up debris, be sure to bend with your knees. If you bend at your hips using the lower back, you will put a strain on the bones and muscles, thereby causing lower back pain. Grandpa Nick always said, "It's not how straight your garden rows are, it's the number of tomatoes produced that makes a successful garden."

Preventing back pain through education is the best advice I can give to you. Watching your garden grow is the kind of therapy I like to prescribe. Once your yard is cleaned for spring and summer activities, you'll feel great...and so will your back if you followed the tips above. There's always that option to call a landscaper. Maybe you should hand him this article!!!

As part of the "Hands on Health" campaign, FREE information is available on more back saving tips by calling 429-3001. Dr. Robert Ruffalo, director of A.T.E.A.M. Approach Chiropractic & Physical Therapy Center, located at 265 Broad Street in Bloomfield, offers a wide variety of treatment techniques for those of you who are injured or in pain. Please feel free to call for more information.

TAX AMNESTY

From now until June 1, 1996, every taxpayer in New Jersey and every taxpayer owing New Jersey taxes has the opportunity to file their tax returns and make payment in full without having to pay any penalties! Any interest! No kidding!

Amnesty is available to individuals and corporations. Amnesty covers state taxes, including corporation business tax, sales and use tax, gross income tax and all other taxes administered and collected by the New Jersey Division of Taxation.

Don't wait, there will be an additional 5% penalty for taxpayers not responding by June 1, 1996.

The state knows who you are! Most delinquent taxpayers have already received notices. I will be more than glad to help you prepare any returns required at my normal billing rates. Professional service and reasonable prices! Remember, we make house calls and are here all year! If your tax return was not prepared by Richard D. Dougherty, you probably paid too much.

Local students honored for hard work at Kumon

For the past two years, Xylia Ong Gagliano has owned and operated a Kumon Math and Reading Center. She has helped students from pre-school all the way up through college entry level students.

How is the Kumon Math and Reading Center's teaching different than school teaching? "We make sure the students master each section of study before we move on to the next level."

"We have first graders who are currently working on division."

"I believe in these students, and Kumon has helped my students believe in themselves," said Xylia.

Kumon honors students who have achieved six months or above grade level. The fourth quarter honor roll students are: Catherine Phillips, Preschool from Maria Montessori of Montclair; Sheri Ann Gran, first grader from St. Philip the Apostle; Desmond Mitchell, second grader from Aquinas Academy, Livingston; Sean Finn, second grader from Rand Family Magnet, Montclair; Jessica Doris, fifth grader from Watchung, Montclair; Tristan Mitchell, fifth grader from Aquinas Academy, Livingston; Eric Sieck, second grader from Nishuane, Montclair; Sacha Siegelman-Schwartz, second grader from Northeast School, Montclair; and Joseph Holder of South Orange.

These students have advanced beyond their peers through diligent daily effort using the Kumon method of study.

Kumon's low cost all year round afterschool math and reading programs can successfully help students excel at school, get better grades, improve study habits and build self-confidence.

"Kumon has shown success both with students seeking enrichment and those who require remediation," Xylia said.

The center is located at 7 Park St., Montclair, and for more information, call 746-0101 or 338-5352.

There's nothing magical about American Savings' Below Prime Rate home equity credit line. Except, of course, for the rate itself.

Your hometown bank, American Savings Bank, is still the first and only bank in New Jersey to offer Below Prime Rate home equity credit lines for the life of the loan.

There are no application fees, no closing costs, no teaser rates, no gimmicks.

Look at what other banks are offering. Some have home equity loans below the prime rate, but the rates are only good for a short period of time. Then they jump above prime. And, of course, they may also charge you application fees and closing costs to boot. Others may not charge these fees but their rates are above prime for the duration.

Call us today. You can apply by phone and we often provide an answer the same day! Find out what many of your neighbors already know about our home equity credit line. It's clearly the best in the business.

Now you can bank without a crystal ball.

Health care: whose responsibility?

By Dr. Paul F. Stefanelli

I could be sitting here telling you how successful my practice is or how many people have gotten well or the benefits of Chiropractic care regarding many conditions, but at this time, there is a greater importance that must be understood. That importance supercedes the difference between one practitioner or another, and that importance is titled "personal responsibility."

We are at a crossroads of decision-making regarding health care for many people and become entangled in the complication of technology over the years. Fortunately most of it is necessary, maybe some not at times. Some of us have come to rely on these health advances, foregoing the personal responsibility regarding our health to the very last minute.

I think it is necessary to each individual to understand the true meaning of health. Health, at least to me, is not merely the absence of disease or symptoms, but it's a state of feeling good. How many people can you talk to on a daily basis and ask them, how do you feel?, and get a response of, well, I'm feeling good today or I feel great today? I would say that would be a minority view. When you look at that health definition in that manner, it takes some work for one to achieve that type of state. The more important question that comes to mind is, are you, as a person, willing to take that extra step to feel really good today, rather than, I have no symptoms?

In my practice, I know there are patients concerned about the long-term effects of quality care on their health. There are patients who are not that much concerned. These are the patients who don't want to feel pain, and that's all. We all know the story of the person next door who smoked for many years and developed heart disease, and ended up having heart surgery, only to quit smoking for a short time and begin smoking again after surgery was performed. Did that person really take personal responsibility for their health at that point? No.

When we look at the opportunities that exist today, with advances in chiropractic care, nutritional support, homeopathy, positive mental attitude, how many people would really turn up a notch and go out there and practice personal responsibility in health? The bottom line is it is up to you as an individual.

With all the information that exists today, to begin to look at what you need to do to increase your state of health, the excuses don't exist any more. We have heard the stories about people who do all the wrong things health wise and still live long lives, and the people who do all the right things and live shortened lives. These are the minorities. Most of us lie in the spectrum of the middle, which means we are responsible for the way we feel through our actions, whether through prevention through Chiropractic, dietary measures, nutritional support, exercise. Let's not sound totally pessimistic, there is a greater awareness regarding good health such as people exercising more and taking some control over their diet, but the extra step must be taken. There's no more afforded luxury to those select few to go the extra step, but it is a dire necessity for everyone to go the extra step, especially if one wants to feel the greatness of health.

To talk about the advances of my own profession, Chiropractic, and tell you how important it is to stimulate the nervous system so all body systems can work as optimal as possible, or how important it is to keep the vertebrae and the spine from degenerating, so nerve impulses from the vertebrae which go to the brain are kept intact, is not the brunt of this article. It is time for you, as an individual, during changes in health care, in which you feel you're losing control in freedom of choice, to recognize the importance of not only including those sciences that reduce your current physical ailment, but also that increase your preventative measures for the future.

So now is the time to take that important step of personal responsibility for your health. That personal responsibility that will bring you that extra mile to feel healthy, which should include Chiropractic care, which is that great Science, philosophy and art that started in 1895.

Dr. Michael R. Gentile:

'Marcus Welby of the '90s'

Dr. Michael R. Gentile announces the relocation of his practice to 1149 Bloomfield Avenue, Clifton, just one and a half blocks from his former location at FamilyCare MediCenter, Inc.

Dr. Warren Churgin has been welcomed as an associate at the Clifton office.

Dr. Gentile is an internist and a member of the American Medical Association. He has a dedicated patient following who appreciate the fact that he is never too busy to take the time to answer questions patients have about their health. In fact, he has been fondly referred to by many as the "Marcus Welby of the '90s."

A courteous and experienced staff include, among others, a registered nurse in occupational health and a licensed dietitian. All work as part of a professional team, geared to making your visit as pleasant and comfortable as possible.

Dr. Gentile's office is cheery and spacious, equipped with the latest technology, including x-ray facilities.

A dedicated family physician and the father of two sons, Dr. Gentile understands the needs of his patients and their families. He also reaches out to the business community, helping local companies with a variety of pre-employment physicals and workers' compensation care.

Next time you are in need of medical care, call or stop in to make an appointment. Dr. Gentile offers his friendly, personalized care in a cost-effective manner.

Dr. Michael Gentile is your Dr. Welby of the '90s.

Park Manor resident donates historic home

Mrs. Betty Henderson, a resident of Park Manor Nursing Home since February, 1996, is the owner of Sydenham House, one of the oldest houses in the Newark area.

Mrs. Henderson and her husband, Dorland, purchased the house in 1955 and spent the next 30 years lovingly and painstakingly restoring it to its original state.

The Sydenham House, located on the Old Road to Bloomfield, is an example of the "salt box," an early American style of architecture. The walls are sandstone and are held together without the use of cement or plaster.

To ensure the survival of the home, Mrs. Henderson has given it to the Newark Museum. An endowment fund has been established.

Center for Women's Health Care offers comprehensive services

Health care dedicated to the essence of woman has arrived in Nutley. Patients seeking female physicians in a variety of specialties can now turn to the Center for Women's Health Care at 500 Franklin Avenue to receive comprehensive health care services in the areas of internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, cardiology, gastroenterology, hematology/oncology and pulmonology.

The center features an all-female staff of physicians who pride themselves on understanding the special needs of female patients. "Some women are naturally more comfortable with female physicians," said Sharlene M. Watts, M.D., the center's cardiologist. "They find it easier to connect on a more personal level and find comfort in the fact that they may share something in common."

The center's physicians realize the importance of this connection and use their past experiences as both physicians and women to treat patients and help them understand and actively participate in their treatment plans. And because of the diversity of specialties available within the practice, a patient requiring more specialized care can be treated by one of the center's physicians rather than being referred to another physician at a different location. This allows the patient and her physician to continue interacting within the same setting.

While centers specializing in women's health care are not new, the concept of one totally staffed by female physicians is a welcome find in the Essex County area. The Center for Women's Health Care participates in a variety of managed care programs and accepts most major insurances.

Dr. John V. Kelly, Jr.:

'Every cloud has a silver lining'

"You all know that old adage, 'Every cloud has a silver lining,'" said Dr. John V. Kelly, Jr. "But I never appreciated what it meant until recently.

"I am amazed and forever grateful to all those who came to our aid after an unfortunate 'dark cloud' passed over my practice earlier this year. My heartfelt thanks to all those community physicians, friends and family members who worked so hard to get our office in working order again.

"And I can't express enough gratitude to the finest staff any physician has ever been fortunate enough to have. Their dedicated efforts helped make this trying time for our valued patients much easier. We were only closed for two and a half days, a very short space of time, considering what we faced."

Dr. Kelly and staff combine the caring and dedication of a small town doctor's office of years gone by with the medical knowledge and technology of the 21st century.

"We're still here," concluded

Dr. John V. Kelly, Jr., the doctor. "Same location, same doctor and staff, same commitment to providing the finest medical care to those most important people - our patients.

"As you can see, every cloud does have a silver lining and good does triumph over evil."

Attention

Senior Citizens, Social Workers, Hospitals, Medicaid Offices

We have recently purchased what was formerly known as the Montclair Plaza, now known as the Montclair Manor, located at 403 Claremont Avenue, Montclair. The Montclair Manor is a 35-bed, residential health care facility.

As most of you know, we have owned Hazletcrest Manor Nursing Home and Parkview Nursing Home, located in Bloomfield, for the past 15 years. We feel that the purchase of Montclair Manor will enhance our commitment to provide a continuum of patient care to the community.

Please keep us in mind when you have a person requiring residential health care. The prices per month will vary depending on room selection. The cost will range from $800 per month to $2,000 per month.

Any prospective clients and all social workers can contact us immediately at 509-7363 to arrange for an interview.

Dental implants – state of the art

By Philip Echo, D.M.D.
William Ranucci, D.M.D.
Joseph Prestifilippo, D.M.D.

Following the loss of a single tooth or multiple teeth, the patient is presented with the problem of how to replace what is missing.

The introduction of dental implants has provided many options in the restoration of oral health. Many patients have asked us various questions about implants during their consultations for extractions. Examples of such questions are: "What is an implant?", "What does the procedure entail?", "Am I a candidate for an implant?", "What can I expect to gain from having implants?", "Does it hurt?", "Can I afford implants?" We at Oral and Maxillofacial Associates of Nutley and Montclair would like to take this opportunity to answer some of these questions for you.

The routine dental implant is a 10-18mm cylinder or screw that is placed into the upper or lower jaw bone by your surgeon. The implant will eventually function like the root of your missing tooth. After a period of healing, your dentist will fabricate a crown (cap) that is screwed into the top of the implant in order to replace the missing tooth or teeth. Due to the team approach required for rehabilitation with implants, a consultation with your dentist and surgeon will allow for an ideal treatment plan and answer all of your questions.

Your dentist or surgeon can determine whether or not you're a candidate for dental implants. Certain risk factors, such as smoking, or medical conditions, such as uncontrolled diabetes, may preclude your ability to undergo implant treatment. Another determining factor in your candidacy for dental implants is the quality and quantity of your bone. After loss of teeth and as part of the natural aging process, the jawbone can undergo resorption. This can decrease the bone height or width necessary to support the implant. If necessary, your oral surgeon can usually provide some type of bone grafting technique to restore your bone in such a way that it will be able to accept an implant.

Dental implants can be used in numerous situations. When used to replace a single missing tooth, or as an alternative to bridge work, implants have a definite advantage. Unlike conventional bridge work, where healthy teeth are prepped to support the bridge, healthy teeth can often remain intact with implant-supported restorations. Implants can also be used as an alternative to partial dentures. When used in this situation, one distinct advantage is that the appliance is permanent and does not have to be removed at night. Because a full denture rests on the gum tissue and offers no form of mechanical attachment, many people are faced with the problem of a mobile denture. Dental implants can offer a solution to this common problem. An implant-supported overdenture fits more securely than an overdenture and in most cases, eliminates the problem of mobility of the denture during speech and eating.

Implants are usually placed under local anesthesia in the dental office. The procedure involved is usually more comfortable than having a tooth extracted. The average post-operative course is usually also uneventful.

The advantages of implants vary by patient and the type of restoration. These advantages may include improved chewing ability, more secure fit of the restoration, better speech, greater comfort and improved self-esteem.

In order to provide you with a better understanding of dental implants, we are offering a free public lecture on dental implants on:

Tuesday, May 21 at 7 p.m.

This lecture will be located at Oral and Maxillofacial Associates of Nutley, 244 Chestnut Street. Refreshments will be served. Call 667-5844 at least one week in advance to reserve your spot.

Convenient Nutley location

It's relaxing, sensual, quiet at Sunflower Salon

"Massage is perhaps the oldest and the simplest of all medical treatments," says Tanya Poliakova, owner of Sunflower, a unisex tanning, body and skin care salon that also offers electrolysis. It is located at 242 Washington Avenue, Nutley.

Among other benefits, a proper massage increases circulation, relieves muscle spasms, promotes each individual's own self-healing ability and induces a state of total relaxation.

Athletes learned long ago that massage can pinpoint which areas of the body need ice or physical therapy and lessen soreness. It also helps participants wind down and relax after the game.

People suffering from muscle tension, low backache, fibromyalgia, sciatica, arthritis, carpal tunnel syndrome and tennis elbow can all benefit from proper massage therapy.

How does massage accomplish this? By relaxing tight muscles and increasing circulation and releasing endorphins, the body's natural painkillers.

Tanya Poliakova

"We're very experienced at Sunflower in massage techniques," Poliakova continues. "The soothing instrumental music provides an ideal background for massage meditation and pure listening pleasure. Try us once - you'll be back!"

Lisa Brian Hair Fashions: a leading contemporary salon

Twenty eight years ago, Lisa Brian Hair Fashions was founded on the creative energy of owner-operator Thomas Ferrara.

Today, Lisa Brian has established a reputation as the leading contemporary salon in the area, offering a full range of personal care services, including styling, hair cutting, coloring, highlighting, permanent waving, nail care, skin care, non-surgical face lifts, and make-up application.

Meeting the challenge of continuing to satisfy the diverse needs of his discriminating and rapidly expanding clientele, Ferrara has acquired the services of Jerry Zoppi, who now shares salon ownership. An expert stylist, Zoppi is acknowledged as a leading colorist and highlighter in the metropolitan area.

Complimented by a highly trained professional staff of creative technicians, the owners pride themselves in offering the personalized service that has become the hallmark of Lisa Brian. Each service is preceded by an in-depth consultation with the client, with an emphasis on communication and customer satisfaction.

An ongoing series of seminars, workshops and demonstrations continue to train the staff in an effort to protect and promote the salon's image — to offer the clients the latest in personal care services in a relaxed professional atmosphere as reasonable prices.

'Squeaky Clean' carpets

Are you tired of paying an arm and a leg to get your carpets cleaned right? The new company on the block is Squeaky Clean Carpet Cleaning. The owner, Art Velotti, was raised in Bloomfield and now resides in Glen Ridge. He is the vice-president of the Glen Ridge Athletic Association, which is a volunteer-based organization that provides sporting events for children from pre-k through the 8th grade. Art Velotti is known in his hometown as a volunteer with a heart of gold.

He started this carpet cleaning service to serve the needs of all the communities that are being ripped off by the large companies which give you a base price, then add to it with expensive services you may or may not need. Art is right up on the table with his prices. Unlike his competition, Art will first shampoo the carpets and rugs and then steam clean them. This process deep cleans the carpets better than just steam cleaning alone. The prices his competitors charge are for steam cleaning only.

Squeaky Clean Carpet Cleaning is also licensed by 3M to apply Scotchgard protection to carpets and upholstery. Art Velotti is a professional carpet cleaner who is honest, dependable and offers a satisfaction guarantee. If you are not completely satisfied, he will come out and redo the job free of charge. Art does all the work himself and is fully insured. All the work is done at your home or office. He offers a 10% discount to all senior citizens. Art is also an upholstery cleaning and stain removal specialist.

Art Velotti offers the special spring cleaning prices on this page along with his regular prices because he lives by the slogan of "no hidden costs." Squeaky Clean wishes to service everyone at a very reasonable price. So keep him in mind for spring cleaning, pre- and post-party clean-ups and post-construction clean-up. Feel free to call Art or his wife Donna for a free estimate or for an appointment at (201) 743-1122. Squeaky Clean is a service-oriented company with flexible hours to meet your needs.

High tech dentistry reaching new levels of excellence

As everyone is aware, medical advances have been growing in leaps and bounds, but few of us are aware of how much has changed in dentistry. As diagnostic procedures have improved, so has the ability to correct problems that at one time were only treatable with aggressive surgery. With improved instrumentation, procedures can be done better, faster, and with much less pain than ever before.

Dr. Joseph P. Trovato, D.M.D. of Kearny is a general dentist who has had extensive training in orthodontics, implantology, and the treatment of T.M.J. (jaw) problems. The combination of these disciplines has enabled him to treat the "whole" patient. "In order to effectively treat a person to a stable end result, we must be able to take into account the function of the joint, airway, musculature, and teeth, all at the same time. We must consider the face as a whole, because we now have the ability to non-surgically alter the profile and posture of the lips."

According to Dr. Trovato, information gathered from new diagnostic equipment such as CT scans, MRI, and radiographs, has led to a new way of thinking about how the teeth and jaws function. This new information allows the doctor to work with nature rather than against it. Superior results are achieved with little or no trauma.

In orthodontics, for example, by studying the function of the T.M. joint (jaw joint), the doctor can create a smile that is harmonious with the face, profile and the function of the joint and airway. The result is an esthetically pleasing face and smile as well as a healthy and stable joint.

Many people experience temporal-mandibular joint (TMJ) problems. These problems include frequent migraine and tension headaches, upper and lower back pains, ringing, buzzing, or pressure in the ears, dizziness, fainting and visual disturbances. One of the major problems with TMJ until now has been diagnostic. Because of the many varied symptoms, the sufferer will get referred from doctor to doctor, never finding the cause of the problem. Now with the advent of computer technology, there is a simple non-invasive diagnostic procedure that can either verify or rule out a joint problem with a 98% accuracy rating. The test is in office and takes about ten minutes. Treatment is non-surgical and highly successful in most cases.

Dental implants have become very popular in recent years. An implant is generally a small cylinder made of a biocompatible material placed into the jaw bone to act as an anchor for teeth or dentures. Most patients questioned have stated that the procedure is painless. Dr. Trovato cautions that they are not for everyone. "Although they are an excellent adjunct to other restorative procedures, every individual has their own unique considerations, and their needs should be carefully discussed with their dentist."

With the many changes taking place, the best source of information is your dentist. High tech equipment is an excellent tool in the right hands, but it is no substitute for the knowledge and skill of the doctor. Be certain your doctor is up to date on current techniques so that you may benefit from what is available.

Dr. Trovato is a Diplomat with the American Academy of Pain Management, A Fellow of the Academy of General Dentistry, A Fellow of the International Congress of Oral Implantology, and an Associate Fellow with the American Society of Osseointegration. He holds membership with the American Association of Functional Orthodontics, the International Association for Orthodontics, and the American Academy of Head, Neck and Facial Pain. He is published in the Functional Orthodontist.

Dr. Trovato practices at 445 Belgrave Drive, Kearny, NJ 07032, 997-0177.

IT'S A JUNGLE OUT THERE! THE PRIDE IS BACK!

Pride of lions, that is. Continuing in our series of spotlighting staff members of Law Office of Alphonse M. Rossi, this week we focus on associate counsel, Pat Little. Although of different backgrounds, both Pat and Al share a common goal of our pride: Promotion of the public good.

Pat is a product of the Township of Nutley. Raised in the town where his father was a retail pharmacist, he continues to live in Nutley as does most of his family, serving the community in a variety of ways.

After earning his bachelors degree at Rutgers, Pat travelled to Texas where he received several academic honors before St. Mary's University bestowed its law degree. Upon graduation Pat left the Lone Star State to practice law back home.

For most of his 19-year career, Pat worked for different insurance companies, opposing lawsuits against policyholders. He worked hand-in-hand with many adjusters, negotiated countless settlements, and tried many cases to a jury verdict. Now Pat offers his expertise on behalf of those making personal injury claims against those very same companies. "I know how to present a case in the best light to effectuate a prompt and fair resolution."

For two and a half years, Pat served as the attorney for the Nutley Board of Adjustment, a.k.a. the Zoning Board, and offers that skill and knowledge to the general public as well. "I remember a resident whose application to convert an attached garage into a living room was defeated. I had no doubt that the variance would have been granted if they had been represented by counsel. People should understand that retaining a law firm like ours increases their chances of success and saves them aggravation in the long run."

This type of dedication to the public is a hallmark of Pat's personal as well as professional life. In 1993 he received the Nutley Jaycees Distinguished Service Award. He is a past-president and current director of the Nutley Rotary Club, vice-president of the Nutley Historical Society, and past vice-president of the Nutley Little Theatre where he too got a taste of the stage.

Pat's message: "Come see us. If you have a problem, we are here to help you."
