Local hospital settles contract dispute

Union and administration reach agreement, avoid strike

By Joe Brennan

It took hours and hours of deliberation, but the Clara Maass Hospital worker's union and administration reached a consensus on a benefits package and salary increases early Monday morning.

A threatened strike was thwarted by the settlement, which is a five-year collective bargaining agreement that will run through 2000. Over 400 workers from Clara Maass were ready to picket the parking lots this past Sunday evening.

Victor E. Garcia Sr., president of the hospital union District 1199 J., said he was pleased the agreement was made, but the negotiations were teacherous.

"The hospital recognized the shortfall and the union with the employers did work to divert a strike. This was the most difficult negotiation in 35 years of the hospital. That relationship could have fallen apart," said Garcia.

Garcia said one of the main contentions between the union and administration centered around salary increases. The employers wanted to have a pay freeze for the first two years of the contract, and 2 percent raises over three 18-month intervals over the last three years of the contract.

"That was unacceptable," said Garcia.

Garcia added that the union was able to obtain a 2 percent increase for the second year of the agreement, a 3 percent increase for 1998, and two 2 percent increases over the remainder of the contract.

"The key issue was to get an increase in the period when they (the administration) wanted a freeze," said Garcia.

Harold Hoffman, attorney and chief spokesman for Clara Maass, said the other argument was getting a sufficient percentage increase in the hospital contribution to the health benefits package.

Hoffman said the union wanted the hospital to increase its 18.5 percent contribution of gross payroll

Council eyes budget

Looks to make more cuts

By Joe Brennan

With the public hearing for the budget slated for its July 9 meeting, the Town Council is still looking to reduce the town's spending plan.

City officials adopted a temporary budget at its last meeting, which so far shows a $48 tax increase for the average home assessed at $40,000.

Victor Canning, mayor-elect, said he would like to make about $6,000 in cuts but it will be difficult not to sacrifice service to the community.

"From all the cutting we've done, we're now faced with the fact that it's almost impossible to cut without affecting services," Canning said. "The question is are you still going to be able to provide services to make your town safe and prosperous."

Canning added that if you break up the average tax increase it comes to a little more than $3 a month, but said that some senior citizens can't afford that increase.

Councilwoman Angie Paserchia said she would also like to make reductions in the temporary spending plan even before the July 9 meeting.

"I would like to see a zero increase. We're going to be discussing more on it," Paserchia said. The council unveiled the preliminary budget on May 31, after receiving a 30-day extension in late April.

The 12-point tax increase is a reduction from an earlier figure of 43 tax points, or more than $200 for the average home.

One of the biggest contentions concerning the budget was the increase in city personnel. Ten new hires were requested by the Fire Department, three by the Police Department, two by the Health Department and one by the Department of Public Works (DPW), city officials said.

However, the Police Department may be able to hire six new officers over three years, with more than half the salaries paid by a state grant, officials said.

Arthur Minsky, chief financial officer (CFO) for Belleville, said there are no calls for any personnel layoffs.

Minsky said the municipal budget stands at $31.4 million. Belleville received $7.5 million in state aid, about $161,000 less than last year's figure.

Belleville gains new officials

New mayor, elected council installed

By Joe Brennan

With a packed council chamber that had people filtering into the hallway, a new mayor, deputy mayor and ward councilmen were sworn into duty on Monday.

Victor Canning, elected as councilman at-large in 1994, was appointed by council as the new mayor and councilman at-large Jerry Digori was appointed as deputy mayor.

Also, Arnaldo Carrera was sworn in as Second Ward Councilman after defeating Joseph Scaperrotta in the last election. Bill Escott was sworn in as Third Ward Councilman after defeating Kevin Kennedy; and Mario Drozd took over as Fourth Ward councilman after defeating William Cook.

James Messina, former mayor and now First Ward councilman, ran unopposed for his seat.

Canning used an anecdote to explain what planted the seed for his quest as a public official. He told the story of going to then Mayor Mike Marotti to complain about the playground conditions at School 9.

Before arriving at town hall, his friends nominated him to speak with the mayor because of his verbal expertise.

After meeting with Marotti and complaining about the playground, Canning said Marotti did something about the playground two weeks later.

"At that point I knew where I was going in my life. That I always wanted to be a politician. A politician isn't a bad thing. It's what you do that makes it bad," said Canning.

Canning said the council will continue to work on its past accomplishments such as the recreation improvements, the Macy's building, the certificate of occupancy in regards to illegal student enrollments in the schools, and keeping a steady tax base.

"But this is just the beginning. I know we're going to do a lot more. I give you my word that I will do the best I can to make you proud," he said.

Messina gave thanks to his family and town employees during the meeting.

"I would like to thank my family for the support they have always given me. Also, I would like to thank the employees that I've worked with so carefully. To them I have a great debt of gratitude," said Messina.

Carrera, vice-president of a major New York bank, used his acceptance speech to expound two themes he would like to see nurtured by the council.

"I'm looking forward to working for the people of Belleville. I trust that we are ready to become 'agents of change' and architects of value.' Agents of change, because without change there is

Ethics board debated

State finds town's panel inadequate

By Joe Brennan

After receiving indication of a deficient ethics board by the state six months ago, the Town Council is still debating whether or not they want to continue to have the board exist.

At its last meeting, the council tabled the ordinance that would have adopted an ethics board, pending further discussion.

Of those councilmembers interviewed, there are differing opinions on the need for the autonomous organization.

Mayor Victor Canning said he has no problems with a watch dog group overseeing the council, but worries about legal costs that could arise if state investigation follows.

"I don't have a problem with check and balance. My problem comes from legal aspects. Say if someone wants to investigate someone. What if we are taken to task. Are we now liable to pay for this autonomous body," said Canning.

"We could wind up and have legal fees going into the thousands," Canning added.

Although Canning is worried about the financial burden that might be placed on the council if lawsuits are pursued, he would accept an ethics board.

"I'll vote for it. I have no problem with it. I think it's something that's healthy," he added.

Councilwoman Angie Paserchia said she's worried an autonomous body would become flagrant with its authority.

"If you give them too much power they get carried away. I do not believe we need an ethics board. None of us have gotten out of line to a point where we needed outside intervention," said Paserchia.

The council created the Ethical Standards Board in February 1993, appointed by individual councilmembers. On Dec. 8, 1995, the Department of Community Affairs sent a letter to Belleville explaining reasons why they considered Belleville's board to be "procedurally deficient," said Christopher Wolf, spokesperson for the department.

Wolf said Belleville's board had five members when six are needed. All members must live in the respective town and one had their municipal residency requirement

Belleville family lives with uncertainty

By Joe Brennan

For five years, Mike Porcello watched his rent escalate and his hopes for a secure life for his family dwindle into a frightening reality.

This is when he knew it was time to move out.

Living in a small two-bedroom apartment on Greylock Parkway with his wife, Florence, and his disabled son, Dominick, Porcello has found a new dwelling, but the battle isn't over yet.

Porcello needs $500 to pay a realtor's fee and incurred moving expenses before he can feel secure in his new apartment. He's planning to move on July 15.

With a myriad of medical expenses to take care of Dominick, 24, who has cerebral palsy and mental retardation, Porcello has had a tough time acquiring the $700 first month's rent for the new apartment, a security deposit, and additional moving expenses.

Even though he received $700 from the Belleville Welfare Department, he still needs the $500 for the realty fees. He has already paid the realtor $100 and the company has reduced the fee an additional $100.

"I have no money in the bank and I have to take care of my son," said Porcello.

The monetary problems Porcello faces, according to him, come partly from the rent raises he has had to endure for the past five years. In this amount of time, his rent has increased almost 40 percent.

"In 1991, the rent was $575. It's now $800. I have to pay $800 for this junky place. He's (the landlord) crying poverty and he bought a brand new car and truck. He's getting richer and I'm getting poorer.

Life in Silver Lake

By Marie Strumolo Burke

Now that the Silver Lake Civic Association has celebrated its 3rd Birthday, it's time to reflect on some of the accomplishments made in preserving the image of Silver Lake and the Township of Belleville.

The most important part of an association is its officers and members. We are lucky on both accounts.

First, we have members who really care and we have officers and trustees who I can't say enough about. No, it's not all "peaches and cream" by any means. We don't always agree with each other, but we talk it out and the net effect is, we love Silver Lake.

Let me name of our troops. First, we have our dedicated V.P., Dennis Forlenzo; Secretary, MaryAnn Alamo; Treasurer, Rita Charles; Sgts. At Arms, Michael Forte and Anthony Renna; Judy Bowers, Grace Constantino, Angela Cuozzo Zarro, Joyce Risoli, Billy Bizzarro, Sebastian Papa, Pat Barbone, Joseph Marra and Lydia Salzano, who make up our trustees. Neighborhood Inspectors are Grace and Stanley Dondarski and Katherine Bonavia.

Our association has given numerous donations to worthwhile causes which I will name. The Belleville Marching Band, Junior Bucs, Belleville Botanical Garden, a vest for a Belleville police officer, School #4 tricycle tray, $500 to the Home and School for a printer for the computers, the SLCA Scholarship to a Silver Lake resident graduating BHS for the past 3 years, an essay contest for School #4 children, and on and on. And all this for only $5 per membership.

A few of our members even helped out at the School #4 Mother's Day Plant Sale. Since a lot of mothers have to work, we lent our hands to the association.

A tree grows in Silver Lake - A tree has been planted in memory of Joseph Zarro. The Zarro Family has been good neighbors to the SLCA and now we are showing our appreciation to Lena and family. Visit the tree in St. Anthony's School lot on Franklin St. The Committee envisions white lattice benches, maybe even a birth bath. Oh, what a beautiful sight this will be.

Committee members Grace

Marie Strumolo Burke

Constantino, Billy Bizzarro and Anthony (Babbers) Renna are working diligently and will schedule a tree ceremony when all plans are completed. The SLCA sends our big "thank you" to J&C Landscaping. The JC stands for Jimmy Chimento, a Belleville resident. Jimmy gave us an offer we couldn't refuse...a good price on the tree and free labor. That's right, I said free. What a guy.

Again, thank you, thank you. The next time you're bored and have nothing to do...visit the tree, because it needs nurturing. Talk to it, sing to it. And if it looks a little thirsty, water it, for the best.

Oops, I forgot to tell you the best part. The association has always talked about having a Christmas tree lighting in Silver Lake. Well, our wish has come true. And, so a tree grows in Brooklyn...I mean Silver Lake.

Our Beautification Committee of Phyllis Scanzillo, Carmella Tarantino and Joseph Marra will visit the business community to see who is interested in allowing us to place a flower planter at their site. A working fun day is planned in the fall. Keep tuned.

Last but not least is our Neighborhood Complaint Committee. There is Chief Grace Dondarski and Katherine Bonavia. This is a tiring job but it doesn't get them down. They keep forging ahead. Again, imagine Silver Lake without them. Just imagine.

Call Grace at 751-7039 and Katherine at 751-3545 with your concerns. You ring and we bring your inspectors to your door.

Remember, we love Silver Lake.

no growth and no progress. Without change there is only stagnation of thought and action.

Architects of value because we must bring value to city government. We must make sure we get value out of every dollar we spend," said Carrera.

Escott, a retired police captain, said he would work diligently with the present council.

"I can only promise that I'll be working in unity with my colleagues up here on the council. I will remember the oath we took today. That's the most important thing we can remember is what we swore to today," said Escott.

Drozd, former councilman, said he wants more opportunities to listen to all interested members of the community.

"There seems to be a renewed pride in Belleville, but much work needs to be done. I intend to hold regular board meetings, not only for fourth ward residents, but all interested parties, in order to focus on the quality of life issues that affect us all," said Drozd.

In interviews before the council meeting, some officials shared their plans and visions for the future of Belleville.

Carrera said Belleville needs to change its 'image.' It also needs to attract businesses and families to town, as well as better inform the citizens about the budgetary procedure.

"We have to project a much better image to Belleville. I think Belleville suffers from a very poor image. When people think of Belleville they say, oh, it's that town next to Newark," he said.

Carrera added, "Are schools are pretty decent and we have a good location. We have to attract good businesses and families to town and project a good image of ourselves. We need to do a better job of informing citizens what goes on with the budget process."

Drozd said he would like to refocus on senior housing, which he feels has fallen to the wayside. He would also like to concentrate on illegal residences and also develop Belleville's industrial tracts.

"I have to look at the town as a whole. One of the reasons (for low rates) has been the town has never been marketed properly. We haven't been sold to the public. I'm going to depend on public input at the local meetings," he said.

Escott has said in a previous article by the Belleville Times that he supports the renovations of Town Hall, an Urban Enterprise Zone (U.E.Z.), and new rateables to the Washington Avenue business district.

Some former councilmembers expressed their feelings at their last council meeting.

Cook said he was honored to serve Belleville's Fourth Ward.

"People placed their trust in me to make decisions that concerned the quality of their lives, and I took that trust very seriously," he said.

Scaperrotta said he was also privileged to serve as the Second Ward councilman and gave his best wishes to Carrera.

"It's been an honor and privilege to serve the second ward of Belleville and the people of Belleville," he said.

Debate continues on ethics waived. The state required a five-year term and Belleville's members only have two-year terms. Lastly, Belleville required an attorney, which is not required by the state statute.

"For those reasons, the Belleville Township Ethical Standards Board is not recognized as an official body," said Wolf.

However, after checking the addresses of the board's members, all reside in the Township of Belleville.

Wolf said the ethical board isn't a state mandate, but declined to comment on whether or not he thought such a board is needed.

"We haven't received a response yet," he said.

Designer completes kitchen school

Brad Ullmann of Merit Corporation in Belleville has just completed the training school for kitchen specialists held at the Wood-More Training Center in Kressner, Pa.

The week-long course was conducted by training director Don O'Connor.

The course is one of the more comprehensive in the industry, covering every aspect of kitchen design from the initial basic idea to the creation of a complete kitchen. Design layout, technical information, industry terminology, and consumer information are all part of the course, which also includes extensive homework assignments and a detailed final exam.

Ullmann is qualified to design a custom kitchen, prepare detailed cost estimates, and supervise the installation of custom built-in cabinetry.

Belleville Senior News

By Joseph Restaino

Faith is like a pair of glasses
I bring here and there with me.
The thrilling thing about them
Is the wondrous things I see.
When life grows dark and dismal
And my sight is near decline,
I don my magic glasses.
The perspective soon grows fine.
If I slip on this treasure,
I can toil with greater ease.
Troubles and afflictions
At length begin to please.
The world becomes all rosy
And as cheery as can be.
I surely feel most grateful
For the faith God gave to me.
Perhaps you once had glasses,
But by faith no longer live.
Friend, ask God for His pardon,
He is kind and will forgive.
O cherish this dear treasure
Till you meet God above.
Then present faith as an offering
With the gifts of hope and love.

Get well wishes to Ralph Galle who is now recuperating at home. Marie Iannicelli is not feeling well. John Basel also is home with an ear infection. Tom Mignone is back in Clara Maass Medical Center.

Welcome back to Sal Calabro and Lil Meyers. Also to Willie Fioravanti and Pat Mauriello who have both been out for quite some time. Nice to see you guys.

Happy birthday to my good friend Maria Cataldo. How many, Maria? Also to Sal Calabro, Tony Bellina, Dan Ippolito, Al Walker, Fred Haberman, John Herting and John Barr, who walks all over Belleville. Joe DeFabbio tells me he is 82 years young. If you say so.

How do you like this guy DeFabbio? He and his wife Josephine are celebrating their 55th wedding anniversary on the 4th of July. They can truly say they started their life with a bang!

We also have the following celebrating their anniversaries — the Sal Calabros, John and Mildred McGee, John and Fran Fracive, George and Grace Casenza, John and Helen Basel, the Fred Habermans, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Miller, Hugo and Helen Antolini, Ed and Dot Barbig, the Fomaratos and the Joe Corteses.

To our long time friends Pete and Lily Grecca of Forest Street, a happy, happy 55th anniversary. God bless you both

And a happy birthday to my son-in-law, Al Johnson of Bloomfield. Last week, I was privileged to attend a piano concert by grandson Danny. This was an individual concert at his home. I was amazed at the skill this 12-year-old displayed. His intensity and determination and versatility brought a standing round of applause from the room full of spectators. Bravo, Danny.

Tips on storms and electric service: If your electricity goes out during a storm, check your fuses or circuit breakers. When checking them, be sure there is no water present. If there is, call PSE&G for advice.

If you see any fallen power lines, stay away from them and call the police or PSE&G.

Turn off major appliances.

Have a battery-operated radio and flashlight handy at all times. Keep your refrigerator and freezer closed. Food will stay cold for hours and frozen food will keep for a few days.

If you smell gas at any time, first check the pilot light on your stove. If it is out, relight it and if the odor continues, open the doors and windows and call PSE&G.

If the odor is strong, get out of the building and call from a neighboring phone. Do not use your phone to call and do not use any switches as they can create a spark. Your best bet is to play it safe and call PSE&G.

With the warm weather season here, persons 60 and over are at risk. To prevent heat stress, wear light colored and loose fitting clothing. Drink plenty of non-alcoholic beverages. Be aware of heat stress symptoms such as muscle cramps, dizziness and feeling faint. Get out of the sun and sit or lie down. Drink cool (not iced) liquids. Get out of the sun.

Tid Bit: A successful marriage requires falling in love many times, always with the same person.

Have you helped make Belleville Beautiful today? Why not?

Marilyn Montalvo, left, was cut down in prime of her life and her many loved ones remembered her with flowers, candles and prayers at site of her shooting, right.

Alleged Newark shooter caught in Belleville

By Kelly Tahaney

Suspected gunman, William Muniz, 18, of Newark was caught in a Belleville motel on Washington Avenue by Newark Police in early morning hours of June 25.

Muniz is charged for allegedly killing Marilyn Montalvo, 22, of 178 Verona Ave., in Newark.

"She was my only daughter and I still feel a lot of pain," her mother, Olivia Montalvo said on Tuesday.

Montalvo, was in her second year at Union County College and she was studying to be a lawyer while working at the Eye Care Contact Store in Jersey City.

She was standing outside of a Latin Club on Verona Avenue (across the street from her home) when shots went off and one bullet struck her in the heart, police said.

Matias Salas was also involved in the incident and was shot in the leg while pulling Marilyn in front of him, Montalvo said.

"The man (Salas) grabbed her in front of him when he saw the gun," Montalvo said.

The shooting occurred at about 2:50 a.m. and the first call for an ambulance was made at 2:52 a.m., University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey Hospital Emergency Medical Services reported.

Two ambulances arrived at 3 a.m. and 3:01 a.m., respectively, according to hospital sources.

Montalvo suffered internal bleeding for 44 minutes until she reached the hospital, medical reports said.

"We caught him (Muniz) at about 1:30 a.m. at the motel on Washington Avenue," Newark Police Homicide Detective Curtis Blue said.

Blue was assisted by Patrick DeFrancisci of the Essex County Prosecutor's Office and Belleville police detectives.

"He was alone, without a weapon and on the roof," Det. Blue continued. "Witnesses identified him and now he faces the Grand Jury," he concluded.

"No electric chairs and no lethal injections," her step-father Hiram Arcocho said concerning Muniz's faith. "We want life," he said.

Montalvo left behind a four-year-old daughter, Amaris Ashley Roman and a two-year-old son, Robert.

Muniz is set to face the Grand Jury sometime in the coming weeks, the Essex County Prosecutor's Office said.

Porcello said.

Porcello added that the rent increases weren't the only problems he had with the landlord. Court battles between the two surfaced from mid-March, when the landlord tried to evict him.

The landlord refused to comment on the allegations when given the opportunity.

Porcello said he has contacted many social service departments, local and state politicians, and family members, but only the town welfare department and Fair Housing Department in Hackensack provided any substantial assistance.

Sister Delores, of the Catholic Community Service in Newark, said the organization tried to help Porcello, but are restricted because of legal and monetary reasons.

"We are an information and referral service. We rely on the general help of the people out there. I couldn't get involved with any dispute with the landlord. We tried to help him as an agency, but we aren't subsidized by the state. We have no funds to give," said Sister Delores.

Porcello said he needs to stay home with his son and has had to deal with the costs of operations on his knee and arms, a result of moving Dominick around in his wheelchair. Dominick is taken to United Cerebral Palsy in East Orange by a transportation service, but Porcello claims it's hard to be persistent with trying to acquire help.

"I have to keep running around and running around," he said.

For the pending move, Porcello is hoping he can obtain the $500 for the realty fee.

"I don't know what we will do," he said, referring to the consequences if he doesn't raise $500. "If anyone would like to make a donation, you can mail it to: Mike Porcello P.O. Box 193 Belleville, NJ. 07109-0193

OUR OPINION

Tax cuts don't always mean the best for social organizations

Clara Maass Hospital in Belleville recently became involved in grueling budget negotiations with its worker's union. A settlement was reached early Monday morning after hours of deliberation between the hospital administration and the union president.

A strike was prevented because of the consensus, a five-year collective bargaining agreement that gave employees raises and made adjustments in their health benefits package. Workers from the union were most likely ready with their picket signs as of Sunday night, but administrators and union officials worked diligently throughout the night to avoid a strike that would have affected the service the hospital provides its patients.

The arguments on both sides seem justified; the administration is trying to watch its budget in tough economic times. They are following a wave of change that has surfaced recently to switch from a straight indemnity health plan for workers to a managed care plan.

The workers, on the other hand, were trying to secure their proper wage increases and avoid having their insurance deductibles raised to a frightful level. They were also looking out for their best interest.

But in speaking with Victor Garcia, hospital union president, he brought up an interesting point. He went right for the genesis of this problem, which stems from state budget cuts.

Gov. Whitman promised and has delivered on her income tax cuts. But at whose expense? It's fine to have a little extra money in your pocket at the end of the week, but her administration has placed unnecessary burdens upon some very important social programs throughout the state.

Whenever any department or organization cuts to save money in one area, the services of other departments will suffer. And at the state level it is no different.

With the emptying of the charity care funds hospitals have had to endure, making budget cuts has become a necessity. Even though the Whitman administration wasn't directly at fault with this, her budget cuts certainly didn't help.

Is it fair to blame the state budget cuts entirely for the problems Clara Maass faced with its own budget? It isn't, but the point should be made of the domino effect these type of cuts have.

We would like to praise the hospital union and administration for coming to an agreement. If the union went on strike, the service of hundreds of patients would have surely suffered.

For the Whitman Administration, trying to reduce taxes is a noble effort, but they should have thought more about the consequences certain organizations will have to endure.

Was a 30 percent income tax cut that necessary? Just ask anyone who has seen their property tax bill lately.

Belleville Welfare Department, Porcello is still $500 short with paying his realtor's fee.

The landlord at his current residence received an opportunity to give his side of the story, but refused. If he says the stories by Belleville Times about Mr. Porcello have been one-sided, then why didn't he want to share his side?

We would like to commend Mr. Porcello, who uses nothing more than his compassion for his son and wife, for writing state legislators and social agencies to try and receive assistance.

If anyone would like to donate money for Mr. Porcello, please send your contribution to:

Cooling off from politics

To the editor:

I would like to respond to Mrs. Barbosa, in regards to her letter to the Belleville Times, which appeared on June 20.

Mrs. Barbosa, for the last 12 years or so, every year, I donate to the elementary school children of Belleville, with the help of Gabe and Camille Nazzola, approximately 3,000 cups of Jackie's Delicious Lemon Ice, and it ran very efficiently, without any confusion of any kind, because no politicians were involved.

Mr. Palante had approached me, to donate some lemon ice to the "DARE" organization. At the time, I was very busy making lemon ice and I told him I'd contact him, but when I heard that Mr. Palante and Mr. Chieffo were involved, I cooled off... because that means politics!

Although we've been doing this service for years, with no confusion, when politicians get involved, somehow, the lemon ice doesn't reach its true destination - the children of Belleville.

Fortunately, if we miss a few children, with such a large amount, it's possible, the Belleville Music Parents Association, in conjunction with Jackie, hand out gift certificates to the children, which is redeemable at Jackie's for one free lemon ice.

If you want further proof, I would suggest to you to contact St. Peter's School.

To Mr. Chieffo and Mr. Palante, not that I have any vision of running for office in Belleville, but my real reward comes from the children's glowing faces, when they come to redeem their certificate and the P.T.A. parents, when they come back to return the empty cans of lemon ice and the scoops, they have a warm glow of appreciation on their faces. That is worth more to me than money or votes.

Volunteer gives thanks

To the editor:

My heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Shirlee Sherman, past president of the Rotary and the entire Rotary organization for honoring me as the volunteer of the year at the Installation of Officers night on June 26 at the Chandelier in Belleville. I can truly say I was shocked, as no one even indicated that this was going to happen. I was also honored by Grace Purdue, president of Kiwanis, Barbara Cicalese, president of Base, Angela Paserchia, Republican Chairwoman with a Proclamation from Senator Scott, Eileen Brown, secretary of the Belleville chamber, and Sam Papa and Marie Strumolo Burke from the Silver Lake Civic Association.

As most of you know, I am a person who loved to help and give of myself. It is of great pleasure for me to know that the time I spent at the events for the service organizations of Belleville goes to raise money to help those in need. What is the meaning of life if I am to be able to give of yourself to help others have a better life? Most important, I have come to meet many special people at all of these functions. People do not realize the time and effort that a committee puts in in trying to get a function off the ground. Months of meetings, planning and working all culminate on the particular night but all the ground work is done before.

I am a trustee for the Silver Lake Association and we are always planning and working to have events to enable us to give out scholarships - bonds - and do for our area as much as we can. I am chairman of the St. Anthony's Feast held in June and we have a team of people that work endlessly to put together an event that brings alive our area. No one person can take all the credit - it takes a group of dedicated people to make things work. I am fortunate to know such people and they help to make my job easier.

I thank everyone for this honor but I also thank them for giving me the opportunity to do it.

School #8 receives thanks

To the editor:

As the school year comes to an end, I would like to thank some special people. The staff at School #8 deserves a heart-felt thanks for another terrific year. Mr. Pico, thank you again for having the best staff in town and demanding the best out of them. Mr. Iradi, thank you for inspiring Michelle to the best of her potential and for making the year fun while she learned. Mrs. Casson, thank you for reaching Freddy and bringing him out. The magic in your classroom has stimulated him to new desires. Mrs. Fociesato, what can I say, you are the best there is. Thank you for everything.

This staff comes together in every way. Understanding, care, kindness, and a desire to see children learn. With a leader like Mr. Pico, we wouldn't expect anything else.

Thank you all for another wonderful and fulfilling year!

Some people don't know the meaning of the word sympathy

Imagine taking care of a son with cerebral palsy and mental retardation while on a fixed income.

Imagine seeing your rent escalate by 40 percent in only five years while your landlord buys a brand new car and truck.

Imagine dealing with a multitude of medical costs along with everyday living expenses.

Michael Porcello doesn't have to imagine these things, he's been living most of them for the past five years.

Porcello has lived in a small two-bedroom apartment with his disabled son, Dominick, and his wife, Florence, for the past five years. After seeing his rent rise from $575 to $800, he has had enough.

But he needs a little help with his move to his new apartment. About $500 in help.

Belleville Times'

• FORMER Nutley resident and friend, Fran Quimby, writes from Whiting, New Jersey, renewing her subscription to "the only newspaper since I was 12 years old and now just turned 77." Along with her renewal was a photograph of three Nutley leaders who personally or through family made great contributions to the quality of life in Nutley. Pictured below, all deceased, from left to right, are Doris Huntley whose dad, Arno Huntley, was one of the first real estate brokers from New York City selling beautiful homes in Nutley in the early 1900's. Doris entrusted her dad's pictures with John Kelly of the Nutley Savings and Loan who in turn gave them to the museum. All pictures were of very early Nutley including one of Mayor-for-life Harry Chenoweth's father building a new road by the Franklin Avenue railroad station next to St. Paul's Place. In the middle is Elsie Ciccone, Nutley High School's secretary to many principals "and a friend to every person who ever entered or graduated from Nutley High School, Elsie being one of the earliest Nutley High School graduates!

She never forgot a name!" Florence Rutan was one of the original secretaries at Town Hall later becoming the first Town Clerk. I didn't know Doris Huntley, but I graduated from Nutley in 1934 and Elsie Ciccone was the office boss and Florence Rutan was an assistant to Town Clerk Sy Blum who she succeeded when Blum retired. A big thank you and a bigger kiss to Fran Quimby for loving Nutley as much as she does and for renewing her subscription to keep in touch with the greatest town in the United States.

• IF you look for gratitude in politics, buy a dog. In life's experiences, I find that one door opens and another closes.

• REPUBLICAN U. S. Senate candidate Dick Zimmer is already feeling the heat from letters to the editor. Zimmer is accused of being a "Gingrich conservative who puts ideological concerns before the interests of New Jersey." According to his critics, Zimmer has voted with Gingrich on his "contract with America" 94 percent of the time and enjoys the active support of the religious right's Christian Coalition. Critics also charge Zimmer with voting to support the continued ocean dumping and to eliminate clean drinking water standards.

• RETIREMENT From A Child's View:
After a spring break, a teacher asked her young pupils how they spent their holidays. One small child wrote the following:
"We always used to spend holidays with Grandma and Grandpa. They used to live here in a big brick home, but Grandpa got retarded and they moved to Florida. Now they live in a place with a lot of other retarded people."
"They all live in little tin boxes. They ride on big three wheeled tricycles and they all have name tags because they don't know who they are, and they have to put flowers on the antennas of their cars to help them find their cars."
"They go to a big building called a wrecked hall, but they must have got it fixed because it's all right now. They play games and do exercises there, but they don't do them very good. There is a swimming pool there, but they stand in it with their hats on. I guess they don't know how to swim."
"As you go into their park, there is a dollhouse with a little man sitting in it. He watches all day so they can't get out without him seeing them. When they can sneak out, they go to the beach and pick up shells."
"My grandma used to bake cookies and stuff, but I guess she forgot how. Nobody cooks, they just eat out. They eat the same thing every night - early birds. Some of the people don't know how to cook at all, so my grandma and grandpa bring food into the wrecked hall and they call it 'pot luck'."
"My grandma says grandpa worked all his life and earned his retardment. I wish they would move back up here, but I guess the little man in the dollhouse won't let them out."

HOROSCOPES

July 7-13

ARIES - March 21/April 20
It's impressive to make quick decisions — but only if they're the right ones. There's nothing wrong with thinking things through. Last minute invitations tend to be the more interesting ones this week. A love relationship will need some nurturing — especially if you're with Scorpio.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21
Something you've wondered about for a long time will finally become clear. You'll realize that life works in mysterious ways. A friend's change of heart may disrupt weekend plans. Instead of sulking, get out and do something you've always wanted to do! Don't be afraid to take a risk.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21
Staying on top of investments and expenses will be a priority this week. Is there a bill you're forgetting about? On Thursday or Friday, something will happen to restore your faith in human nature. You'll be inspired to do good, too. A Cancer enters the picture.

CANCER - June 22/July 22
Shocking news on Tuesday will make you glad for what you have. You'll realize how precious life really is. You'll find that haste makes waste later in the week. Before rushing out of the house, make sure you have everything you need. A Libra helps you in some way.

LEO - July 23/August 23
You'll find out a surprising fact about a friend. Before you react, take a look at all sides of the story. You may be more understanding when you know all the facts. Stand your ground in an argument with a loved one. It may mean confrontation, but in the long run you'll gain respect.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22
Someone with whom you've been angry will make a peace offering. But before all is forgiven, consider his/her motivations. Are they selfish or sincere? Show confidence when meeting new people — especially with prospective employers. Wednesday will be a lucky day.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23
Put your iron fist in a velvet glove and you'll be much more effective in getting things done. Others are sure to take note of your diplomatic skills. A change in your routine will lead to user's/creases gains. Call on inner strength when faced with a conflict this weekend. Keep on your toes when dealing with Scorpio.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Early in the week you may find yourself doing something you said you'd never do. You'll surprise yourself. At work, it's important to double-check all facts or something could go unnoticed. Overstepping your bounds in a love relationship will only cause problems.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
You may find that you're better off facing confrontation now instead of prolonging the inevitable. No matter how unpleasant, you'll be better off in the long run. A new friend will offer good advice on Thursday. Take a listen. (She could provide insight into an ongoing problem.)

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
Unless you know all the facts, don't talk freely about something you're not an expert on. Blurring out half-truths based on theory won't help you gain credibility no matter how convincing you sound. A love relationship will need some tender loving care. Work on your sensitivity.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Feeling down in the dumps lately? A change of scene is probably all you need to bring back your usual enthusiasm. Even if it's just for a couple of days, new environs will do you a world of good. Long-awaited news will finally come with a surprising outcome. A Leo is involved.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20
Although you may feel capable of conquering the world solo, sometimes you do have to seek the help of others. Don't be afraid to ask for assistance. You have more to gain than lose. In matters of romance, there could be some unpleasant interactions later in the week.

NEWS OF HEALTH

New Help For Asthma

(NAPS)—When asthma strikes, it can feel like you are breathing through a tiny straw, as though a crushing weight is bearing down on your chest or like you're drowning on dry land. The 12 million people who suffer from this disease describe an asthma attack in many ways, but it all adds up to the fear and panic of not being able to breathe.

"It can be scary," said Christine Howard, an asthma sufferer from Raleigh, N.C. "Sometimes, I feel like I'm suffocating. You never know when an asthma attack might happen."

To help asthma sufferers get through the day—and night—without troublesome symptoms, a new medication might be just what the doctor orders. SEREVENT[®] (salmeterol xinafoate) Inhalation Aerosol, the first long-acting inhaled bronchodilator effective in preventing asthma symptoms for 12 hours, is now available by prescription.

Two puffs of SEREVENT taken morning and evening approximately 12 hours apart can provide convenient protection from asthma symptoms around the clock. Since currently available inhaled bronchodilators usually require dosing every four to six hours, people with asthma often have no protection during the night. Nocturnal asthma is a problem for many asthmatics—one study showed that even patients with mild to moderate asthma report awakening due to asthma symptoms an average one out of every three nights.

"SEREVENT will prevent the peaks and valleys of breathing difficulty, so asthma sufferers won't have to live from symptom to symptom anymore," said Gilbert E. D'Alonzo, D.O., of the Pulmonary Disease Section of Temple University School of Medicine. "In addition, the greater convenience of twice-daily dosing may lead more people to use their medication as prescribed." In studies of SEREVENT, patients experienced headaches, tremor and cough as the most common drug-related side effects.

SEREVENT is indicated for long-term twice daily use in the maintenance treatment of asthma and prevention of bronchospasm (constriction of the airways associated with asthma) in people 12 years and older with reversible obstructive airway disease. SEREVENT is intended for patients who require regular treatment with inhaled short-acting bronchodilators including patients with symptoms of nocturnal asthma. It is important to remember that SEREVENT should not be used to relieve acute asthma symptoms. In Italy, every Friday is fish day!

Fish is a great change of pace from the normal meal drudgery. There are many great advantages to fish.

Fish is low in fat and can be a part of a heart healthy diet. Some fish are higher in fat than others but this fat often contains essential or important fats that we must consume.

Fish can be used in stews, casseroles, or even salads.

One of the great things about fish is the wide variety of fish available. Every major supermarket in this area carries clams, crabs, salmon, shark, sword fish, lobster, shrimp, cod and the list can go on continuously.

The variety allows you to eat a different fish each time you cook a meal.

Fish can be prepared by poaching them in wine and stock, grilling, broiling, and steaming in a pouch made of parchment paper. Due to the mild flavor of most fish, vegetables can be cooked along with the fish.

Also, using a pan and some non-fat cooking spray, fish can be fried with very little fat.

However, when cooking fish it is important not to over cook the fish. If a fish filet, steak or whole fish is falling to pieces in the pan, then the fish has been over cooked.

When fish just begins to flake and appears opaque, it is finished.

If you don't like bones in your fish, it is best to buy filets instead of steaks or whole fish.

There are a few things you need to know about buying fish in order to purchase fresh fish:

- There should be no fishy odor. The odor should be fresh.
- Fish filets and steaks should be firm, have a proper color and should have no irregularities.
- Whole fish should have clear purple eyes, pink gills, and firmly attached scales.

The next time you are looking for a heart healthy and tasty change from chicken or pork, try fish. You will never be bored!

Pain and Headache Treatment Center of North Central Neurology

By Sylvain Junger, M.D.

First area physician certified in neurology and pain medicine

Dr. Sylvain Junger, director of the Pain and Headache Treatment Center of North Central Neurology, with offices in Belleville and Denville, has become the first area physician to achieve Board Certification in both neurology and the new field of pain medicine.

Dr. Junger is among the first Essex County physicians to recognize and treat a disabling condition called fibromyalgia. Fibromyalgia is characterized by generalized aching, tender spots in the muscles and fatigue. This condition often results from relatively minor head or neck trauma and following chronic infection such as Lyme disease.

The most common pain condition treated by Dr. Junger is headache, which accounts for nearly 60% of his practice. He attributes his success with headaches to his treatment of the underlying cause. He never uses pain killers in the office.

He is the first community-based neurologist in northern New Jersey to perform a new procedure using botulinum toxin called Botox to treat a group of rare neurologic disorders called focal dystonias.

Dr. Junger moved his practice to the area in 1989 and has been featured on television and in various print media. He has served as a medical consultant in a multispecialty pain center. Dr. Junger has been published in the neurology literature on a variety of topics.

A mini symposium on chronic pain is scheduled in Nutley on Wednesday, July 31 at 7 pm. Dr. Junger will speak on the treatment of fibromyalgia which will include a live demonstration.

FOOD SAFETY FOCUS

Community Picnics

Facts From The United States Department Of Agriculture

(NAPS)—Heeding these hints can help keep foodborne illness from becoming an unwanted guest at your next community picnic.

Planning. The picnic location should have facilities for washing hands and utensils to prevent the spread of bacteria. If no facilities are available, bring disposable towels, soap and water. Discourage any foods containing raw eggs, such as cream pies or home-made ice cream.

Preparation. If you'll be preparing large amounts of food, such as lasagna, barbecue or roasts in advance, divide into small, low containers, and refrigerate for rapid cooling. Improper cooling is one of the most common causes of foodborne illness.

Coolers. Pack food for the picnic in sturdy, insulated coolers with plenty of ice or frozen gel packs. There are limits to how long hot or cold food can be transported safely.

Don't eat food that's been above 40° for more than two hours after it's cooked.

Cooking at the Picnic. Meat and poultry must be cooked thoroughly to destroy the bacteria. Grill raw poultry until the juice runs clear and there's no pink close to the bone.

Leftovers should be discarded. To learn more, or if you have any questions, call the USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline at 1-800-535-4555.

Women's Guild fashion show benefits the General Hospital

The Women's Guild at the General Hospital Center at Passaic will donate its proceeds from a recent fashion show to the hospital.

The money will be used for redecorating patient rooms, said Anne Marie Collins, president of the guild.

The 26th annual fashion show, called, "A Touch of Elegance," was held at the cameo in Garfield recently. Close to 400 people attended.

The show featured fabulous women's clothing from Talbots, a store located in the Garden State Plaza, Paramus.

The guild raised about $7,311, said Lois Sabrese Frubbeis, chairperson of the show.

"Everybody seemed to enjoy the event," Frubbeis added.

Since the event began in 1970, profits have gone to benefit patients and health care. In the past, the guild has donated money to the General's child care center and to instruments for laparoscopic surgery.

BUG SHOTS

By Mike Lambert!

Can baseball finally get off the ground?

It's been America's past time for over 100 years, but the damage to the reputation of the game of professional baseball over the past two years has been deafening.

The strike that hit in August of 1994 and wiped out the remainder of that season, along with the post season, has not yet totally dissipated in the minds and hearts of those fans, who despite what most of the players think, do pay the outrageous salaries the players make today.

The major league baseball fans are beginning to return to the ball park. It's not coming quickly, but attendance continues to slowly climb in most major league parks.

Places like Colorado, Cleveland and Baltimore will draw big crowds on a game to game basis because of beautiful ball parks in nice areas of town. Cleveland is sold out for the entire season, and that was accomplished last winter.

But if you look at Yankee Stadium, Shea Stadium, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Comiskey Park in Chicago, San Francisco, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Detroit and Oakland, attendance is way down. And it's not so much because of the older ball parks the teams in those towns occupy. (Comiskey Park is just five years old).

It's more a lack of interest in watching professional players, who make extraordinary sums of money, not put out a truly quality product.

It's also pretty expensive. Have you gone to Yankee Stadium recently? The average ticket there is about $14. That doesn't count the cost of the G.W. Bridge, parking (if you can find it) and, God forbid, if you want something to eat.

Get two hot dogs, a drink, maybe a box of cracker jack and you've spent about $15.00. Take your kids to the game and the day will easily cost $100.00.

Let's not forget the wonderful ambience the stadiums in New York provide. I was at Shea Stadium recently for a Saturday afternoon game between the Mets and Padres.

It was Memorial Day weekend, and I figured I'd go to the game with a friend, get a few seats in the upper deck, preferably in the sunny side of the stadium and take in the game.

The "cheap" ticket still cost over $10.00. The traditional hot dog and beer, along with a pretzel, ran about $15.00. There was of course the G.W. Bridge, the Tri Boro Bridge and the parking at Shea ($6.00, but I have to admit that parking there isn't too bad).

Once you get inside, you find out where your money goes to. It just isn't for the guys playing on the field, it's for the dobermans in the stands, lovingly known as the Shea Stadium Security.

These guys, obviously frustrated New York City Police rejects, patrol the stands with their little billy clubs, looking for the first offender who dares sit in the upper deck and is beyond the row they should be in.

Bear in mind, there were about 30,000 empty seats, but if someone decided they wanted to sit by themselves, in a row, you'd get three "officers" with their handy-dandy whistles in tow, letting you know that you weren't supposed to be there.

They make the day at the ball park that much more enjoyable. Keep in mind, these were fans who were there just to watch a ball game.

It really makes you want to go back and see more, doesn't it?

In other towns, (and I've been in just about every N.L. ball park), there are sections where, for about $4., you can sit just about where you want and take in the game. I was in Philly last weekend and I'll tell you, it's almost cheaper to drive down there for a game. Tickets are much less expensive and the atmosphere is much nicer.

Perhaps some major league teams should look into the "fan friendly" format that does work in certain major league cities.

On the field, there should be some good pennant races in the second half of the season. Atlanta and Montreal will be a tough race in the N.L. East, my Cardinals have a shot in the N.L. Central and it's any body's guess as to who will win in the N.L. West.

The Yankees are the class of the A.L. East, look for a great race in the Central between Cleveland and Chicago while the West should be between Texas and Seattle.

My prediction in the National League is Atlanta, St. Louis and Los Angeles as divisional winners with Montreal taking the wild card. In the American League, the Yankees, Cleveland and Texas are my picks to win divisional titles while the Chicago White Sox will take the wild card.

When the playoff smoke clears, I like Atlanta and the Yankees for the World Series. It should make for a great match up.

Before an enthusiastic crowd of 1,000 at Municipal Stadium/Doc Ellis Field, future Belleville High School track stars exhibited their talents at the grammar school track meet, held on June 10.

Boys and girls from grades 4 through 6 turned in some impressive performances at the race.

"We were very pleased with the crowd turnout," said Belleville High School varsity track coach John Tosato. "I'd really like to thank Karen Fucello. She did a tremendous job in putting this event together. (Superintendent of Schools) Michael Lally was also very instrumental in helping us."

Tosato, who began coaching high school track at B.H.S. 15 years ago, was involved in running the grammar school track meet for many years.

However, it has been absent from the local sports scene since 1990, prior to this years successful return.

Tosato gave credit to the Belleville elementary school gym teachers, Arlene Mueller, Sherri Jamison and Sabrina Martin for coordinating the event and getting the kids ready for the big night.

Also in attendance and providing assistance in the evening were high school track coaches Mike Popovich, Bill Bakka and Carolyn DelGuerico.

Members of the Buccaneer track team served as officials and organizers for the event.

Boys who will be seven years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 15 before Dec. 31 are eligible. Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a maximum of 145 pounds, and not older than the eighth grade.

To register, players must obtain an application from their school or the Recreation Department office.

All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Recreation House by Aug. 2, with two passport size photos of the player and a copy of his birth certificate. All returning players from last year's team must re-apply.

Practices will begin around July 29. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since Football, Soccer and Touch Football games and practice schedules conflict.

For the convenience of persons unable to register during regular day time office hours, registration will also take place at the Recreation office on Wednesday nights, 6 to 8 p.m., from June 12 to Aug. 7.

Call 450-3422 for other information.

July 4th festivities at stadium

As many flock to the shore to escape the heat and chaos of the city life at holiday time, many other Bellevillites will stay home to experience the traditional ceremonies of the Independence Day celebration here in town.

To begin the festivities on Thursday, July 4, the Recreation Department will hold its annual field day for youngsters, ages 4-12 at the Municipal stadium starting promptly at 10 a.m.

The events, which will be open to all young Belleville residents, will be divided into three categories. There is a Junior division for ages 4-6, an intermediate division for age 7-9, and a senior division for ages 10-12.

Events will include the 25, 50 and 100 yard dashes, an agility race, a three-legged race, sack races, a girl's tug-of-war and a boy's tug-of-war.

All activities will be conducted by the member of the Belleville Recreation playground staff under the supervision of Recreation Director Dennis Buckley. Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third-place finishers, and all will share in slices of watermelon.

On Thursday night, July 4, a spectacular fireworks display will be presented at the stadium starting at sundown (approximately 9:15 p.m.) The rain date for these events will be Friday, July 5.

On July 4th, there will also be a Pre-Fireworks show beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Municipal Stadium. This year's entertainment will include continuous music by a disc jockey, as well as the following performances: Clown Show from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m., Juggler from 7:15 to 8 p.m., and Magician from 8 until 8:45 p.m. A "face-painter" may also be on hand for a nominal fee, as well as refreshments/concessionaires.

Belleville Rec announces Summer Playgrounds

The Belleville Recreation Department's summer playground program is now underway and will continue through Aug. 2.

Under the Supervision of the Department of Recreation and Cultural Affairs, the five playground sites are located at School No. 9, the Municipal Stadium, the Recreation House, Clearman Field and the Friendly House. The special education playground is set up at the Belleville Little League Field.

The playgrounds will be open daily to all Belleville residents in Grades Kindergarten through 9 from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Playgrounds are closed noon to 1 p.m. for lunch and when it rains.

While there are no restrictions as to which area a person must attend, generally youngsters attend the closest playground to their home.

An adult director will be on hand at each playground to organize athletics, games, tournaments, parties and other activities and an arts and crafts supervisor will travel from site to site to do special projects with the children one day each week.

Tentatively, tennis lessons, "Open Swim" and special tournaments are planned throughout the summer. These programs are all pending the hiring of qualified instructors/supervisors and pending the availability of adequate facilities.

Applications for all summer program participants must be completed and signed by a parent. Registration forms will be available at the Rec House office and at all playgrounds. No pre-registration will be required; however, parents must accompany their children to the playground on the first day so that application forms may be signed before participation.

There will also be a special event for all children ages 4-12 on July 4 at 10 a.m. at the Municipal Stadium.

For further information, call 450-3422. Special Education playground information may be obtained by calling 450-3494.

NEW MEDICATIONS FOR DIABETES

People with noninsulin-dependent diabetes may be interested in two new oral medications that may delay their need for insulin. The first of these is approved for use, metformin, works by helping the body make better use of the insulin that it already produces. The second, acarbose, works by slowing the breakdown of carbohydrates into simple sugars (glucose). As a result, the absorption of glucose in the small intestine is delayed, thereby helping to reduce the rapid rise in blood sugar levels that occurs after eating. The actions of these new medications contrast with previous oral medications that control blood sugar by stimulating the pancreas to produce more insulin. The availability of the new medications provides more options for controlling blood sugar in the event that diet and exercise cannot do it alone.

We will be happy to provide information and answer questions you may have on any new medications. A pharmacist is available daily from 9am-10pm, Saturdays from 9am-5pm at ROSS-MORE PHARMACY, 238 Washington Avenue (759-1556, 759-1968). In addition to prescription and non-prescription medications, we carry Times, generic and brand name medicines.

R/N/T: Metformin or acarbose may be prescribed alone or for use in combination with other medications, including insulin.

Bill makes sex offender pay for DNA testing

Senator John P. Scott (R-36th) announced that the Senate recently passed legislation that would make convicted sex offenders responsible for the costs of DNA testing that was part of the 1994 ten-bill legislative package known as "Megan's Law."

Senator Scott is the co-prime sponsor of S-226 with his colleague, Senator Nicholas Sacco (D-32nd). The bill, if necessary, would authorize a lien against the property and income of the offender for the total cost of the testing.

"The DNA profiling bill the Legislature passed a part of Megan's Law in 1994, will enable law enforcement authorities to more thoroughly investigate and convict persons who commit sex crimes against our children," said Scott. "However, the protective measures we take do cost money. The burden of Paying these cost should be placed squarely on the shoulders of those who are responsible convicted pedophiles."

On October 31, 1994, Governor Whitman signed the DNA Database and Databank Act, requiring persons convicted of serious sex offenses to provide samples of blood for DNA profiling and for use in subsequent investigations.

"The taxpayers of New Jersey pay enough to keep criminals behind bars," added Senator Scott. "This bill would provide a means of offsetting the cost of the 1994 law by hitting criminals in their wallets."

Senate Bill 226 now heads to the Assembly for consideration.

Sheriff sends message to teens

Essex County Sheriff Armando Fontoura cautioned parents and youth counselors that with the onset of school recess for summer vacation many teenagers consume alcoholic beverages at unsupervised and unchaperoned parties and social functions, often leading to their arrest for driving while intoxicated and sometimes causing traffic fatalities.

"For many juveniles, the final school bell at the end of the term signal for the start of summer vacation and more like a starters pistol in the race to find liquor and to participate in underage drinking parties," Fontoura warned.

Parents must heighten vigilance during the next few months when many of our children and themselves without appropriate recreational diversions. All too often, kids get into trouble with the law because they thought chugging a six-pack of beer was good harmless fun. However, activities which include the drinking of alcohol can be extremely dangerous for the participant and for innocent bystanders."

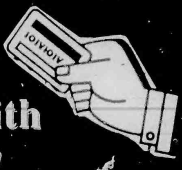

More than a decade after every state raised the legal drinking age to 21 and poured billions of dollars into anti-drinking programs, underage drinking continues to be a part of growing up. Today, the average child has his first sip of wine or beer from dad's glass at age 12. "Alcohol is America's number one drug problem among our youth," the sheriff said. "Studies reveal at almost 90% of high school students have tried alcohol. Each year more than one hundred thousand teens are injured in drunk driving accidents and alcohol is the primary factor in deaths among young people."

Fontoura said that parents should be aware of the signs of juvenile alcohol abuse. They include:

- A sudden decline in school achievement;
- The dropping of formerly important extracurricular activities;
- Marked personality or hygienic changes;
- Increased secretiveness or hostility;
- The disappearance of family money or possessions.

Reducing hurricane damage

Was the devastation wreaked by Andrew — the costliest hurricane in U.S. insurance history — higher than it should have been? According to a recent report, the property damage caused by severe hurricanes could be significantly reduced through stricter enforcement of building codes.

The study, "Coastal Building Department Survey," was prepared by the Southern Building Code Congress International (SBCCI) for the National Committee on Property Insurance (NCPI). The report noted that "the lack of code compliance and enforcement — not the particular standards written into the codes — has been a principal cause of wind damage to buildings and other structures."

For the study, SBCCI analyzed a sample of coastal towns, cities and counties to assess the level and effects of code compliance and enforcement.

The study found that some building inspectors, plan reviewers and builders "have had little or no training in wind resistant construction." It attributed the lack of training to two circumstances: the technology is only about two years old; and local governments have faced significant budget constraints in recent years.

Less than one-third of plan reviewers and building inspectors in the study passed a test covering wind resistant construction, conventional construction and blueprint reading.

To address this deficiency, the report recommended more educational opportunities, such as courses on coastal construction and blueprint reading for coastal builders, building inspectors and plan reviewers.

The report also suggested that coastal jurisdictions review and approve residential plans prior to issuing a building permit.

In addition, the study advocated the development of a coastal construction compliance rating system to help evaluate the level of building code compliance in coastal jurisdictions. NCPI is a nonprofit advisory organization serving the property/casualty industry on technical and public policy issues that affect the nation's residential and distressed property insurance markets.
