Council rejects boycott

Officials steer away from dairy strike

By Joe Brennan

The emotions involved with the strike between Local 680, Union and Farmland Dairies in Wallington hit Belleville at the last town council meeting.

Fourth Ward Councilman Mario Drozd introduced a resolution to the council to boycott Farmland Dairy products. But the proposition failed because of a 3-3 vote.

About 150 workers in the union have been on strike since Dec. 10, 1995 because of a contractual dispute, said union representatives. Local 680 has been requesting that other unions and residents boycott the products.

"All the locals, when they have boycotts, ask other unions to boycott products," said Drozd, who is a member of Teamsters Local 478, Union.

"If you were in a period, and on strike, I've honored the picket line," he said, adding that there are 384 teamster union members in Belleville.

Mark Rushfield, attorney for Local 680, said the main contentions revolve around a freeze on wages and depletion of benefits.

Farmland Dairies offered workers a 50 cents an hour wage increase over 5 years, after initially offering a contract with an 18-month wage freeze for a three-year contract. The management also offered new employees $11 an hour with no benefits at first, then offered $8.50 an hour with limited benefits, Rushfield added.

Local resident takes part in Olympics

By Sarah Treffinger

Gerald Kraus of Belleville attends Life Chiropactic College in Marietta, Ga. There, he works toward a degree in his field ... and performs at the opening and closing ceremonies of the Olympics.

Kraus, a native of Belleville and graduate of Belleville High School and Rutgers University, is one of 60 puppet-handlers at the Games, which will be held in Atlanta, Ga., starting tomorrow.

"My school put up a lot of money for the athletes, so the Olympic committee offered auditions to students for the opening and closing ceremonies," Kraus explained. "I figured it was worth a shot, so I tried out."

As a puppet-handler, Kraus carries a fiberglass backpack and has hookups on his legs to support the puppet, which weighs in at 50 to 60 pounds and stands 15-feet tall.

Kraus's puppet, part of the jazz section of the opening ceremonies, wears a tuxedo and top hat and enters the field via a ramp that runs into a river flowing through the ground floor of the stadium.

The Macy's proposal: The Macy's abandoned building on Franklin Street in Belleville might become the home for three or four retail stores if the Belleville Planning Board approves a proposal by Newel's Realty Co. Inc. from Conn.

Planning board scrutinizes proposal...

Macy's plan awaits approval

By Joe Brennan

With possible traffic problems and customer competition high on their concern list, local business owners met with representatives of Newel's Realty Co. Inc. last week for an informal meeting about the company's plans for the Macy's building.

About 15 store owners from the Franklin Street area in Silver Lake met at the Subs-n-Stuff deli, opposite the 500,000 square-foot property that houses the abandoned Macy's site.

Newel's plans to construct three or four large retail stores that would include 140,000 square-feet of retail space. The warehouse is located near Belmont Avenue and Franklin Street in Belleville, and Franklin and Watessing Streets in Bloomfield.

David Mack, president of Newel's, and Michael Turner, public affairs director for MWW/Strategic Communications, answered questions ranging from what would be done to remedy traffic congestion to what retail stores are interested in coming to the site.

"The streetscape will be much improved to accommodate not only problems now, but the future. We've hired good traffic engineers. We're going to work with the synchronization of the traffic lights. We're going to be able to change the traffic that flows here," said Mack.

Turner added that Newel's would install new lights at Providing a facelift: Workers pour cement into the casings as work has begun for Belleville's "streetscape program." The construction will include replacing curbs, sidewalks and benches along the east and west sides of Washington Avenue.

Block grant gives streets new look

By Joe Brennan

Parts of Washington Avenue are being given a face lift, as Belleville begins to utilize monies received from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG).

The town council hired the engineering firm of Masur & Soskinsky in 1992 to devise plans for renovations to street curbs and sidewalks along the main thoroughfare in town, officials said.

Steven Cuccio, town manager, said the first phase of the "streetscape" plan will be renovations on the west side of Washington Avenue, from the town hall parking lot to the motorcycle mall which cuts across Belleville Avenue.

Cuccio added that the second phase would include improvements to the east side of Washington Avenue, from in front of town hall up to Rutgers Street.

"We are going to put paying blocks instead of sidewalks and entryways for the handicapped. We're trying to upgrade Washington Avenue to bring businesses back," said Cuccio.

Other renovations include replacing curbs, planting trees and constructing benches.

Cuccio said the town received a total of $401,000 from the block grant, but not all monies are dedicated for the sidewalk renovations.

During a town council meeting concerning the 1996 budget, residents complained that a building located at 383 Washington Avenue should be renovated before any other establishment.

Mayor Victor Canning said that any type of renovations are a good thing for the town.

"Whether that building or another building is done first, at least something is being done and it's something that's positive for Belleville," he said.

Taxes are reduced...

Council cuts budget

By Joe Brennan

The Town Council adopted its $31.5 million 1996 budget on Monday evening by reducing the tax levy by one point.

Steven Cuccio, town manager, said he added $319,000 to the surplus account in order to reduce taxes.

Cuccio said the funds came from a surplus of bid monies that have accumulated over the years.

Everytime the town funds a construction project, they have to set aside a certain amount. But if the final cost of the project is less than what they anticipated, the extra revenue is held in the bid account.

"This money had been sitting around for a long, long time. We used it to reduce taxes," Cuccio said.

This brought the tax levy down from 12 tax points, or $48 for an average home, to 11 tax points, or $42 for an average home.

"We had $2.4 million in the surplus account with the introduction of the budget. Now we have $2,510,000 in surplus for the adopted budget," Cuccio said.

The budget passed by a 5-2

Map shows location of Belleville-Bloomfield area under study as the location of an extension of NJ Transit's proposed Newark-Elizabeth Rail Link.

Belleville resident disputes railway idea

By Joe Brennan

For Belleville resident Bruce Hain, his stance against NJ Transit's proposal for a Newark-Elizabeth rail link has become a labor of love.

Hain, director of the grass roots organization Citizens for Sensible Transportation, filed a lawsuit in the U.S. District Court in Newark against the proposal.

"I'm trying to get an injunction against the Newark-Elizabeth Rail Link. The objections in Belleville are very strong," said Hain, adding that he has collected about 200 signatures since the spring of 1994.

NJ Transit has proposed placing a nine-mile light rail transit line that would serve Belleville, Bloomfield, Newark and Elizabeth.

The plans also include a vehicle base facility for maintenance purposes, located on the intersection of Franklin Street and Belmont Avenue in Belleville.

Hain said the rail would run at an acute angle to the existing subway line, thus making crossings at Franklin Avenue in Newark, Franklin Street and Belmont Avenue in Belleville and Grove Street in Bloomfield, very danger-

'Top Cops' remember last year's shooting

By Kelly Tahaney

The Belleville police shooting of the alleged killer of seven, Darnell Collins, 34, of Atlantic City on June 20, 1995, resulted in six officers receiving "Top Cops" awards.

The National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO) announced that Belleville police officers will be honored at the Third Annual Top Cops Awards Ceremony at the Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C., on Oct. 3.

Officers James Melillo, Victor Linfante, Vincent Masi, John Pinto, Joseph Richiuso, and Joseph Tramaglini are all being honored for their bravery and excellent police work.

"These 1996 Top Cops exemplify the very heart and soul of police work," NAPO Executive Director, Robert T. Scully said.

'He never stopped shooting.'

Officers Melillo and Linfante pulled Collins over and when they exited their patrol car he began shooting.

"We never thought that someone would shoot at us from the car," Officer Melillo said.

"It's a strange feeling (when someone's shooting at you) because when me and Jimmy pulled up behind the car, the last thing on our minds was someone shooting at us," Officer Linfante said.

The six Belleville officers picked up the pursuit into Nutley until Collins crashed on Kingsland the ceremonies," Kraus said. "Everything from cheerleaders to puppets to airborne rangers will be there. I got a chance to see the whole opening ceremony the other day and it was great."

Nearly 1,000 people are working on the ceremonies, which will include, among others, stars such as Gloria Estefan, B.B. King and Little Richard.

The opening ceremony runs for about four hours and, although the closing is not as time-consuming, they are both, according to Kraus, "unbelievable."

"In the closing, I follow Gloria Estefan," Kraus said. "I'm right behind her coming in on the conga line."

In addition to his close-encounter with Estefan, Kraus admits that many special guests have been or will be in the stadium to watch the rehearsals.

"I heard that Sharon Stone and Tom Selleck were here the other day," he said.

Being a participant is not about simply meeting stars and being a part of what has been called the biggest performance in Olympic history. It is, according to Kraus, a lot of work.

"I've had to learn choreography and work on blocking. Everyone has a place that they are supposed to be in at all times. The other day, we worked for 13 hours," Kraus said.

Kraus secured this volunteer job in January, upon returning to Georgia after Christmas break in New Jersey.

He has been practicing since March and now, in the final days before the big event, has rehearsals three or more times a week for 12 to 13 hours each day.

In fact, Kraus has been excused from classes at school just so he can go to practice.

"I'm not really happy about missing classes," Kraus said. "It's a lot of material that I have to make up on my own, but I'm doing this because it is a once in a lifetime opportunity."

Belleville Police Blotter:

Crime takes a breather this week.

By Kelly Tahaney

• William Wade, 23, was arrested for burglary July 11 on Franklin Avenue.

A resident came home and found an intruder robbing his house, police said.

The resident chased Wade out of his house and onto the street, police said.

An off-duty Bloomfield Police Officer assisted the resident in catching Wade with the stolen property, police said.

The stolen items recovered were a couple CD's, two watches and three gold rings, police said.

• A resident was robbed of his bicycle July 12 on Franklin Street.

The 14-year-old boy was approached by two teenagers who pushed him off his bike and fled towards Newark, police reported.

• A residence was burglarized July 12 on Cleveland Street.

A radio was the only item reported missing, police said.

• A residence on Belleville Avenue was burglarized July 12 on Belleville Avenue.

Items reported missing from the home were a color TV, a VCR, and an electric shaver, police said.

been replaced," said Rushfield. "That wage rate ($8.50 an hour) was last in effect 17 years ago."

Drozdz said the lower wages for new workers is something that could happen to anyone and he tried to make the council realize this.

"These are the same people that pay taxes; that means spouse and family. It could happen to them. At the rate we're going we're not going to have anybody to pay the taxes," said Drozdz.

But some councilmembers disagreed with instituting a product boycott.

"I don't think it's any of our business to get involved in labor negotiations or contractual problems," said Third Ward Councilman Bill Escott. "I'm for boycotting Farmland Dairy products on my own, but the council shouldn't interfere."

Angie Pascheria, councilwoman-at-large, said she has always supported unions but this was of a personal nature.

"I believe it's a personal thing. I don't think we should get involved with personal favors," she said.

Marc Goldman, president of Farmland Dairies, said his company has filed an anti-trust lawsuit against union 680 for negotiating with Tuscan Dairies, its main competitor.

Negotiations for a new contract began in December. Goldman said at this time Union 680 gave Tuscan a lower wage increase than Farmland. If Farmland agreed to this, they would eventually be driven out of business because they would have to raise product prices to make up for higher wages, resulting in fewer people buying the products.

"The workers are misled by union leadership on what's going on," said Goldman.

Goldman added that management first offered workers a $1.75 an-hour raise over a three-year contract.

"That was on top of people making $17 an hour. The union rejected that offer," said Goldman.

Goldman said the benefits package was an option offered to workers who would rather have the money allotted for vacation time or health care if a spouse already has family coverage.

"If someone isn't using it (benefits), then they can have it in pay instead. We gave every employee the opportunity to choose what they wanted. It was an option," said Goldberg.

Goldberg added that Rushfield has distorted a lot of facts concerning the disagreements between the workers and management.

"They lie all the time. He's (Rushfield) misstating that and he knows it," he said.

Goldman added the wages for new workers depends on the job duties and about 30 percent of workers have resigned from the union and come back to work for Farmland.

Businesses meet with realtors

Belmont Avenue, Franklin Street, and Watessing Avenue.

"We're putting over $1 million in improvements. Why would we design a shopping center if we no one can get to it?" said Turner.

Mack added that no companies have signed agreements with Newel's, but they've been speaking with Sears Hardware, Sears Home Life, Bob's clothing stores, Staples, and Comp USA.

Newel's has had to obtain a zone variance change from industrial to retail on the property from the Bloomfield and Belleville board of adjustment. Bloomfield has given their approval but Belleville is still studying the plans.

At a recent Belleville Planning Board meeting, Sam Papa, chairman of the board, got into a disagreement with Ralph Salerno, attorney for Newel's.

Papa said he wanted to obtain written accounts of the testimony from Newel's traffic engineer, Albert Rinaldi of T.H.P. Inc. of East Brunswick. But Salerno wouldn't agree to his request.

"There seems to be some distress on what the engineer is saying," said Papa. "His guy is making everything worse because he won't give us anything in writing. If I had a chart to look at, I could remember the figures he said. How am I going to remember numbers that he said over an hour ago?"

Salerno said there is not requirement in the town ordinance that states a written report is needed.

"We didn't hire some guy who just fell off a tree to do the traffic. We didn't work on this overnight. He's calling for written information at the eleventh hour," said Salerno.

Papa said the board is considering hiring an independent traffic engineer to present testimony. He said this could delay the decision by the board, which is holding a special meeting for the Macy's proposal on July 30.

Salerno said even with a Belleville approval, the plans are still up for review by Essex County government.

"That's their prerogative (hiring an independent traffic engineer)," said Salerno. "We still have to go for county site plan approval. We would have to submit traffic data to the county; they would review it, and make a decision."

Papa said the other problems he envisions with the project is that 118,000 square-feet will be in Bloomfield and 22,000 in Belleville.

"Bloomfield will get most of the benefit and Belleville will get the headaches," said Papa.

Other Belleville officials have expressed concern over how many rateables the town would receive.

"I can assure you, it will be at least one-and-a-half times what it is now," said Turner.

Other details of the plan include Newel's giving up two pieces of property totaling 70 feet in width. A 25-foot-wide section would allow Franklin Street to be widened in Belleville and Bloomfield. And a 45-foot-wide section would be spared to allow the widening of Watessing Street in Bloomfield, said Turner.

Salerno said there would also be an entrance and exit on Franklin Streets, Watessing Avenue, and Myron Place, along with a total of about 800 parking spaces.

While the planning board and representatives from Newel's are debating aspects of the proposal, business owners, residents, and town officials have also formulated opinions.

"We feel it would be an economic plus for the area. Our only concern is how the project is done. Local businesses can take advantage of the new customers," said Larry Walsh, chairman of the District Partnership of Silver Lake.

"Out hope has been any new business be retail. It attracts a different kind of customer," Walsh added.

For George Terranova, owner of Cafe Casanza on Franklin Street, competition is his most pressing concern.

"I don't want to see any store open up that serves the same stuff we do," said Terranova.

But Virginia Mondini, owner of V/ Ellen Hair Connections on Franklin Street, was less concerned and more inviting.

"I think it's great, instead of looking at the monster across the street. Just look at the graffiti. We need a change," said Mondini.

But some residents think the property should be given back to the community.

"I think it should be towards the kids of Silver Lake. It was a ballfield 50 years ago," said Russell Mazza, resident.

Councilwoman Angie Pascheria said the development of the property would be good for employment and rateables.

"I am in favor of it after the Planning Board gives their questions answered. I do believe it will help for jobs and we'll get rateables out of it," Pascheria said.

Two charged in bias attack

Two Belleville men were arrested and charged in what State Police called a bias-related attack on July 11 on the Garden State Parkway in Bloomfield.

Thomas Healy, 37, and David Nesemann, 29, were arrested and charged with assault and harassment in connection with the 6:30 p.m. incident on the parkway's Exit 148 ramp, according to a spokesman at the Bloomfield State Police Barracks. The State Police patrol the parkway.

According to the State Police, Healy and Nesemann, who are white, threw a soda can through the window of a vehicle driven by a 66-year-old East Orange man, who is black, striking him in the head, as their cars approached the exit's toll plaza.

When the victim pulled up to the toll booth, the two Belleville men shouted racial slurs at him and accused the motorist of cutting them off on the approach to the plaza, police said.

A toll collector who witnessed the incident alerted police, who declined to give the name of the victim.

Healy and Nesemann were taken to the State Police barracks and later released on their own recognition, police said.

If anyone has a news item of any kind that they would like printed, please write the details on paper and I will be happy to print it.

In my last column, when I wrote about the Mother's and Father's Day party of the Tuesday Senior Club, I forgot to report that Lucy Urso was picked as the mother of the year and Adolph Vecchione as the father of the year. A belated congratulations to the both of you!

I would like to report that Francis Aiello's grandson, Michael Munday of the Belleville High School baseball team was selected as the athlete of the year. He has been chosen to enter the Belleville Hall of Fame after graduating college.

On the Fourth of July, I must have had about a hundred guests on my lawn to watch the Fireworks display. My family, relatives and friends were not disappointed by the display of fireworks put on by the town. With the possible threat of rain, we erected a large canopy of plastic over our picnic tables and had a ball waiting out the possibility of a rain storm. The long wait for the fireworks was rewarded by a magnificent display of a fantastic assortment that left many of us breathless. Bravo to all who had a part in making this a memorable occasion for the capacity crowd of onlookers.

Congratulations to newly elected Mayor of Belleville, Victor Canning. I know this young and talented Mayor will be a strong factor in leading Belleville to bigger and better resolutions for the benefit of Belleville.

Congratulations to newly elected Second Ward Councilman Amaldo Carrera, Third Ward Councilman Bill Ascott and Fourth Ward Councilman Mario Drozd. Let's hope this diversified group of councilpersons in conjunction with Angie Paserchia, Jerry DiGori and former Mayor Jim Messina can cooperate to reduce taxes for the struggling seniors and make Belleville a better place to live in. I'll drink to that!

Don't forget the Jack Bender Young pianist classical concert to be held on Wednesday, July 17 at 7 p.m. at the Belleville Public Library. This is sponsored by the Nicholas Martini Foundation and the Woman's Club of Belleville. Not only that, but this man is the grandson of our Ida Hovsepian. So, let's get out and make a good showing.

A special thank you to Leah Swanhart who adds a special touch to the meeting of the Tuesday Senior Citizen Club Inc. by bringing in a beautiful basket bouquet every week. These flowers come from her personal garden and add a festive touch to the head table.

Congratulations to my nephew's son, Joseph Cerami, Jr. of Millington, on his graduation from high school. While attending his party, I was surprised to run into former Belleville, Mike Welsh, who is now living in Pa. He is married to Patty Lynch, the sister of our handsome proprietor of the Good Health Pharmacy on Joramelon St., next door to that well-known breakfast center and newspaper store run by Jim and Bob called Rosebud's. What a bunch of nice guys.

Spending plan cut by council who also voted against the budget, said she wanted to adopt the budget with no tax increase.

"I don't want to see a tax increase. We can avoid a tax increase. People are hitting it hard enough," she said.

At a public hearing for the budget last week, residents voiced their concerns over inherent details of the spending plan.

Resident Phyllis Frantantoni said town employees should contribute to rising health care premiums.

"Any increase in health insurance, the employee should pay the rest. It's getting ridiculous. Everybody out in private industry is contributing to their health insurance," said Frantantoni.

Resident Edith Defeo questioned why the council has shied away from having state government auditors scrutinize the budget.

"I would like to see the council pass the budget with amendments. We know nothing. All we see are figures and high ones. Why are you afraid to have the state come in an audit, because they might find some discrepancies," Defeo asked.

In regards to personnel, Canning said six new firefighters will be added to the department. Some will be used to operate the new ambulances the town acquired.

"We paid out over $300,000 in overtime. The question was do we keep spending for overtime and acting time or put a few more guys on," said Canning.

The police department will be adding eight more officers to the force. A federal grant will be used to pay for salaries and the town will pay $40,000 for all salaries in the first year, Canning said.

Fourth Ward Councilman Mario Drozd, who voted against the adoption of the budget, said he wanted to see funding be given to the Columbus Day committee for a parade. He also wanted $3,000 for the Belleville High School's Channel 34, which would give the council air time in return.

"Every body knew how I felt about these issues before I voted for the budget," Drozd said.

Other town officials said there were other items in the budget that were of greater importance. They said the Columbus Day Committee should acquire the proper funds instead of the council.

The Newark-Elizabeth Rail Link: Community friend or foe?

Everyone wants to get wherever they have to go quicker and with less hassle. And NJ Transit has facilitated this need for years with its railway passenger trains and commuting buses.

To further accommodate the ever increasing population of northern New Jersey, the transit company has devised plans to provide a nine-mile rail link, located on Franklin Street and Belmont Avenue in Belleville, to serve the communities of Belleville, Bloomfield, Newark and Elizabeth.

They also plan to construct a base facility for maintenance of the railway cars on the same 15 acre lot.

While NJ Transit has hired all types of engineers to do traffic and environmental impact studies, a lone resident of Belleville has also devised his own plans for a base facility site and a 12-page report on why NJ Transit's plans aren't exactly clear and precise.

Bruce Hain, who lives on Van Houten Place, formed an organization called Citizens for Sensible Transportation about two years ago, and has consistently pointed out what he feels are fallacies inherent in the NJ Transit plan.

Hain has also taken a courageous step in filing a lawsuit against NJ Transit in an attempt to foil its plans.

But an interesting aspect of the transit company's plans is how many other people in town are opposed to it because they fear major traffic problems on local intersections. Hain has collected about 200 signatures, the entire town council voted unanimously against the project, and civic organizations feel the organization is overstepping its boundaries.

Even with the council's rejection, NJ Transit can still go ahead with the project. They are holding a public hearing on Aug. 7 at the Essex County Vocational School.

The transit company has been shown Hain's own plans on building a base facility site on existing land in the Franklin Avenue Subway Terminus in Newark. But their response has been lukewarm at best.

The irony here is if NJ Transit wants to serve the communities, then why haven't they considered Hain's plan? Isn't one person part of the community as well?

Another question to ask would be where these traffic engineers live. We feel the residents who live, work and drive through a community every day would be more knowledgeable about possible traffic problems than an outside group.

We hope NJ Transit truly opens its ears to the concerns of all residents. Let the voice of the people be the "traffic experts." After all, the people of Belleville and the surrounding communities will be the ones to live with the "reality" of a project and its mammoth proportions.

As for Bruce Hain, NJ Transit should try to work with him and really listen to what he has to say. It certainly can't hurt, and if they really want to serve the community, then listening to "everyone" would be the first step.

Residents and realty company working together on Macy's plan

It seemed like a setting for a Sunday afternoon barbecue, but the conversation was one of business instead of ballgames.

Local business owners and residents met with representatives of Newel's Realty Co. Inc. recently to discuss their proposal for the abandoned Macy's complex on Franklin St.

Newel's is negotiating with different retail stores and would like to bring three or four large retail companies to the site.

The business owners had legitimate competition concerns, and were given clear and concise answers to all of their questions.

Usually, when corporations, whether retail or industrial, want to move into a new location the public is left out and their questions unanswered.

While Newel's can't make a lot of promises, something should be said about their effort and cooperation with the business owners and residents in the area.

And something should also be said about the Silver Lake business owners and residents. To say they don't care about their community would be completely erroneous.

Almost all of the business people took time out of their hectic schedules to hear what the president of Newel's, David Mack, had to say about the project.

If this type of communication was used by all corporations, it would only benefit every type of business. More laypeople would gain the trust of "big business," which, of course, would only be good for business.

We would hope these kind of relations continue between Newel's and the business people of Silver Lake.

A special Planning Board meeting is being held on July 30.

Special needs camp needs donations

support to the children attending this session. God bless you!

Joseph DeMichael
State commander
The Salvation Army

To the editor:

I want to share the continuing story of our Special Needs Reunion Camp with the people of New Jersey.

Because of their generosity, 335 young people have attended this special camping program at Camp Tecumseh, our camp for New Jersey families in Pittstown. We continue to receive a growing number of requests for participants as the camp continues to serve a greater diversity of children with special needs.

On behalf of the children, I am asking the public for their financial assistance.

Our Reunion Camp is for children in foster care or under state supervision because of family crisis and abuse. A primary goal of this program is to reunite brother and sisters who have become separated by the foster care system so they may have a week of family fun and sharing.

Many of these children are dealing with issues of loss and separation. Our camping program encourages family togetherness, character building and social development activities that include boating, hiking, swimming, sports, crafts and nature lore. Our camp staff and two on-site professional counselors are trained to recognize and address the needs of these children. With loving care and reassurance, we teach them their significance and value.

This year we will hold a "happy birthday barbecue" to reinforce the specialness of each camper. Pictures will be taken so campers can share the positive experience of their week away with schoolmates. We will also hold a field day.

Caseworkers well as the children attending this session refer to their camp experience all year and begin inquiring before spring "can I go back to Camp Tecumseh?" This year we have 135 children who want to participate.

Our goal is to locate camperships at a cost of $275 per child. This will cover seven days, six nights and three meals a day, and other related program costs.

Anyone interested in helping can send their check made out to: The Salvation Army, "Reunion Camp" P.O. Box 3170, Union, New Jersey 07083 or call 908-851-8237 for more information. Please remember no gift is too small when it can help to affirm lives and bring hope. The Reunion Camp session begins July 19.

I offer my thanks to everyone who has given their

Belleville Police and Fire receive thanks

To the editor:

My husband and I want to thank the Belleville Police and Fire Department personnel who responded to our call for help recently.

Our daughter required assistance and Lt. Capetta and Officers Scheumeister and Trabucco arrived "quicker than the speed of lightning." Nicole, at this point was conscious, but the police suggested she be evaluated on the spot before taking her to the hospital, which was our desire.

The EMS team was called and they checked Nicole out. They felt she was okay but suggested a follow-up by the doctor. So, we spent the next few hours at CMMC. Thankfully, all was well.

I am sorry we did not get the names of the EMS team, but we want to thank all of you for your help and concern.

Bill causes mixed feelings

To the editor:

I would like to respond to an article in The Star-Ledger, on June 18, "Bill Pulls New Jersey Into Gay Marriage Fuzz."

I am a Christian and I believe what the Bible says about same sex relationships. I am also a family member. I have a relative who is a lesbian, "gay" friends, and possible a new lesbian in-law. I love my relatives and friends, but I cannot honor their relationships.

I've had discussions with family and friends about the obstacles of gay relationships, their specific health hazards, and their incidences of suicides, depression and other near-fatal daily life issues. Their desire for a normal life, children through adoption, paid health benefits and more require me to either say yes to support them, or not that I do not agree. I feel I do not want to finance a lifestyle contrary to my beliefs.

He arranged for the Sports Authority to be host for the World Cup, oversaw arrangements for a visit to the Meadowlands by Pope John Paul II and saw to it that the Meadowlands was host for the NCAA Final Four for the last two years. But that wasn't enough for Francis. He had oversight of the completion of renovations of Rutgers Stadium. Under his leadership, construction was started on a new convention center in Atlantic City and was able to bring difficult negotiations to keep the National Hockey League in New Jersey. That is quite an achievement in any life time for any person - and Michael Francis did it with ease!

Citizen challenges NJ Transit

"It would tie up traffic. You can walk quicker than you can take the train. To get people to the airport it takes five minutes longer than bus. This is an estimate but it's a pretty fair estimate," said Hain.

Hain, who has a fervent interest in architecture, devised his own plan for a maintenance facility, located at the present Franklin Avenue Subway Terminus in Newark. He said NJ Transit hasn't paid much attention to the plans.

"They've been shown the plans but haven't shown any interest," said Hain.

Hain added that NJ Transit has begun purchasing ticket machines before receiving a final decision on the Newark-Elizabeth rail link.

Jerry Lutin, senior director of planning, research, and development for NJ Transit, said he wasn't knowledgeable of the lawsuit.

Lutin said the Belleville-Bloomfield facility is part of the environmental assessment NJ Transit has been devising since December of 1993.

The NJ Transit plan, according to Lutin, calls for 16 new rail cars with handicapped accessibility, a rail operations center to maintain vehicles, an enclosed storage building and a police substation. The cost for the project is $80 million on a 13 to 15 acre property.

"We are improving the Newark city subway and replacing vehicles with new ones. The ones we have are 50 years old. We had to find land available in an industrial area. This appeared to be the best site. We looked for about a year," said Lutin.

Lutin addressed the possible traffic problems Hain sees with the proposal.

"We had a team of traffic engineers examine every intersection. We did an analysis of capacities and level of service. Where necessary there will be new traffic lights," said Lutin.

Lutin said the long range plans of NJ Transit will benefit the public, in addition to the temporary and permanent job opportunities the facility would create.

"We want to move people out of their cars and onto mass transit. It will save lives and save a people time," said Lutin, adding that a 142 member police force will patrol the area.

However, Hain said there are some inherent problems with the type of railway cars NJ Transit wants to have with the new facility.

Hain said his proposal includes a standard link subway while NJ Transit's has double link railway cars where the driver is separated from the passengers by a significant distance.

"There is some danger in the car that size when the passengers get in the back of the car," said Hain.

Marie Burke, president of the Silver Lake Association, also sees danger in the school aged children that will be crossing those intersections.

"We have school children and businesses there. The traffic, the noise and the litter would be atrocious. If they'd go away we'd be thrilled," said Burke.

The town council voted unanimously against having the rail link and base station, but NJ Transit can still continue with their plans.

NJ Transit is holding a public hearing on its environmental study it completed on Aug. 7 at the Essex County Vocational School at 209 Franklin Ave. in Bloomfield from 3-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.

LOW DOSING

Before their physicians write prescriptions, patients are encouraged to ask if the medication can be administered in a low dose. A check of the latest medical literature should provide answers. For instance, researchers at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center were surprised to learn last year that low doses of lovastatin (a medication used for many postmenopausal women to treat high cholesterol) was very effective when used at half the normal 20mg-a-day doses. The fact is that hundreds of routinely prescribed medications are now the focus of low-dose approaches that can minimize side effects and the potential for a dangerous interaction with another medication that the patient may be using. If the doctor agrees that it is possible to start medication at a lower dose and it does not seem to be working, the dose can always be increased.

Providing answers concerning medication interaction is part of the complete service you will find at ROSMORPHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue (759-1988, 759-1950). We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved and provide free delivery. We also have a gift department and a women's shoe department. Hours: 9am-5pm daily, 9am-5pm Sundays.

HINT: Pill cutters are available at most pharmacies, but are not intended for time-release capsules or enteric-coated tablets.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis" and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple rashes, bruises and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis® relieves pain by first selectively attracting and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis® is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream, and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work.

County Executive 'Meets the Press'

Essex County Executive James Treffinger answers questions from members of the press during an on-air press conference that will be featured on the July edition of the "Essex Digest."

This half-hour program, hosted by Treffinger, will be broadcast throughout the month of July on Comcast Cablevision, Cablevision of Newark/South Orange and the Orechio Broadcasting Corporation.

The trio of reporters firing questions at the county executive include Donna DePera of "News 12 New Jersey," the new 24-hour cable news station; Peter Haskell, who covers New Jersey for CBS Radio News 88, and Diane Walsh, the veteran Star-Ledger reporter who covers Essex County government.

Treffinger fielded questions about the current fiscal situation in county government and about recently announced plans for a minor league baseball and soccer stadium complex, and the planned construction of a new county jail facility in Newark. Reporters also sought an update on the future of the Hilltop property and the availability of Green Acres funding to preserve it.

The program concludes with a discussion of the local political scene and the upcoming November general election when Essex voters, in addition to helping select a president and United States senator, will be deciding on a new Board of Chosen Freeholders.

NEW JERSEY TRANSIT CORPORATION NEWARK CITY SUBWAY EXTENSION AND VEHICLE BASE FACILITY ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE AND NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY

RE: Environmental Assessment and Section 4(f) Statement for the proposed Newark City Subway Extension and Vehicle Base Facility in Belleville Township, Bloomfield Township and the City of Newark, Essex County, New Jersey. Notice of Availability and Notice of Public Hearing under the Federal Transit Act of 1991 as amended

The New Jersey Transit Corporation (NJ TRANSIT) is considering construction and operation of a Newark City Subway Extension and Vehicle Base Facility using federal assistance from the Federal Transit Administration (FTA) under the Federal Transit Act of 1991, as amended. NJ TRANSIT has conducted an Environmental Assessment and Section 4(f) Statement on the proposed Newark City Subway Extension (NCS) and Vehicle Base Facility, which is located in parts of Belleville Township, Bloomfield Township and the City of Newark, Essex County, New Jersey, with federal assistance from the FTA.

DESCRIPTION: The proposed project calls for:

- construction of a 0.30 mile (0.48 km) two-track light rail connection from the NCS Franklin Avenue Station to CONRAIL's Bloomfield Industrial Track (previously called the Orange Branch);
- rehabilitation of 0.60 mile (0.96 km) of CONRAIL's existing freight-only, single track Bloomfield Industrial Track and conversion to a multiple track, 750 Volt D.C. overhead electrified and signalized freight and light rail transit (LRT) line from Franklin Avenue in Newark to the vicinity of Bloomfield Avenue in Bloomfield, NJ;
- construction of a new LRT grade crossing of Franklin Avenue in Newark; reconstruction of existing freight railroad grade crossings at Franklin Street in Belleville, Belmont Avenue in Belleville, and Grove Street in Bloomfield, NJ;
- construction of a light rail vehicle maintenance shop and operations center building, storage yard, traction power substation, maintenance-of-way facility, police substation, and employee parking on an approximately 13 to 15 acres (5 to 6 ha) tract of vacant industrial property in Belleville and Bloomfield;
- combining the existing Franklin Avenue and Heller Parkway NCS stations into a single new station;
- an optional intermodal LRT station with park-and-ride facilities and bus transfer facilities at Grove Street in Bloomfield; an optional walk-on station at Belmont Avenue and Franklin Street in Belleville; and
- acquisition of property required for the proposed action.

Construction of the optional Grove Street Park-and-Ride station would result in demolition of the Bloomfield Department of Public Works which is housed in the former Bakelite Corporation Factory Buildings. These buildings have been determined by the New Jersey State Historic Preservation Office to be eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT: The Environmental Assessment and Section 4(f) Statement document has been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act and Section 4(f) of the U.S. Department of Transportation Act of 1966 as a decision-making tool to assist NJ TRANSIT and the FTA in understanding the potential environmental impacts which could result from construction and operation of the proposed project and its potential options. Based on the conclusions of the document, comments from the public and the findings of the FTA, NJ TRANSIT will make a decision as to whether additional environmental studies are necessary, and on whether to proceed with the project as described in the document. Copies of the Environmental Assessment and Section 4(f) Statement for the proposed Newark City Subway Extension and Vehicle Base Facility, along with background Technical Reports, are now available for review and comment by any individual, citizen group or public agency following locations, days, and times:

Kim Luciano, R.N., M.S.N., C.S. of Cedar Grove, a pediatric nurse practitioner in Newark Beth Israel Medical Center's pediatric same day surgery unit, comforts a patient prior to undergoing a procedure.

Advanced practice nurses lead pediatric same day unit

Newark Beth Israel Medical Center's new, state-of-the-art pediatric same day surgery unit is one of the only facilities of its kind in New Jersey managed primarily by advanced practice nurses.

The unit is located within the Lester Z. Lieberman Center for Ambulatory Care, a new, six-story building covering approximately 100,000 square feet of the medical center's campus.

The advanced practice nurse (APN) is a registered nurse who has earned a master's degree in nursing and is certified in his or her specialty. The APN possesses the necessary experience and training to prepare pediatric patients for same day procedures. Advanced practice nursing takes on many roles and this leadership is another unique avenue for nurse practitioners.

The APN is qualified to compile patient histories and perform pre-operative preparation. On the day of a procedure, the APN has the responsibility to provide surgical clearance for a patient who will undergo a procedure. The pediatrician is available for consultation, if necessary. In addition to pre-operative preparation, APNs discharge patients and provide home care instruction.

The medical center's newly renovated pediatric same day surgery unit features 10 beds in an expanded facility that is located within the same day center, but is separate from the adult same day surgery area.

The new facility, which opened in January of this year, is equipped to care for patients who have had a wide range of procedures including tonsillectomy/adenoidectomy, hernia repair, circumcision, and gastrointestinal procedures, such as endoscopy and colonoscopy. Staffed by three full-time pediatric nurse practitioners, one full-time and one part-time registered nurse, and a nursing assistant, the unit is open Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday between 6 a.m. and 5 p.m. and Tuesday and Friday between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Designed to address the needs of children, teens, and young adults coming to the medical center for same day procedures, all patient needs are assessed and addressed during preadmission orientation. This orientation allows patients and their families to become familiar with the people, environment, and procedures.

Newark Beth Israel Medical Center is a 607-bed regional-care, teaching hospital affiliated with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. It is the only hospital in New Jersey where heart and lung transplants are performed.

Founded in 1901, Newark Beth Israel Medical Center is a member agency of the United Jewish Federation of MetroWest. For a referral to a physician affiliated with Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, call 1-800-THE-BETH, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Nutrition On-line

By Michael A. DeAngelis

A feature of The Nutley Sun, Belleville Times, Bloomfield Life and Glen Ridge Voice

The best part of summer is the opportunity to have a picnic. However, this time of the year is the best time for foodborne illness.

Foodborne illness is most often caused by bacteria that multiply to a number that causes the human body to "fight back." It is the symptoms of the body's response that makes food poisoning so distressful.

Most often foodborne illness or food poisoning as it is often called results in abdominal cramps, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea (which leads to dehydration) and fever.

Some of the bacteria that we are familiar with are E. coli (not all types or strains) in ground beef, Staphylococcus, from unwashed hands, Salmonella, from chicken, C. botulinum, from spoiled can goods, and C. perfringens, from gravies.

Most often, foodborne illnesses are a result of two major problems. First, food is prepared in an unclean fashion and second, food is maintained improperly. The key to preventing foodborne illness is knowledge. There are just a few safety precautions that can reduce your risk.

1. Always wash your hands and disinfect your utensils and cutting boards between uses and food items.

2. Keep cold foods below 40 degrees F and hot foods over 140 degrees F when holding or serving.

3. Defrost foods in the refrigerator or in the microwave (use immediately after microwaving).

4. Cool foods in shallow, small containers so that they cool faster.

5. Reheat foods to steaming (160 degrees F).

6. Place raw foods below cooked foods to prevent dripping of raw juices into cooked.

For more information, call the Center for Disease Control, Foodborne Illness Line at (404) 332-4597. Be safe and have a healthy summer.

All That Nerve

Pain and Headache Treatment Center of North Central Neurology

By Sylvain Junger, M.D.

First area physician certified in neurology and pain medicine

Dr. Sylvain Junger, director of the Pain and Headache Treatment Center of North Central Neurology, with offices in Belleville and Denville, has become the first area physician to achieve Board Certification in both neurology and the new field of pain medicine. By combining the skills and knowledge from two separate subspecialty areas of medicine, Dr. Junger has established a successful program, bringing relief to many chronic pain sufferers.

Dr. Junger is among the first Essex County physicians to recognize and treat a disabling condition called fibromyalgia. Fibromyalgia is characterized by generalized aching, tender spots in the muscles and fatigue. This condition often results from relatively minor head or neck trauma and following chronic infection such as Lyme disease. The mainstay of treatment consists of trigger point injections which is a form of acupuncture. Dr. Junger says, "This treatment works so well because it combines the best of Oriental medicine with conventional treatments, all in one shot."

The most common pain condition treated by Dr. Junger is headache, which accounts for nearly 60% of his practice. He attributes his success with headaches to his treatment of the underlying cause. He never uses pain killers in the office. "Patients with a bad headache get treated with drugs in the emergency room and leave sedated, whereas my treatments get at the source," says Dr. Junger. "The patient generally leaves my office headache-free, ready to resume usual activities."

He is the first community-based neurologist in northern New Jersey to perform a new procedure using botulinum toxin called Botox to treat a group of rare neurologic disorders called focal dystonias. Currently, only five neurologists in the state use the Botox which represents a major therapeutic advance for those individuals who suffer from uncontrolled muscle twitches that affect the facial, neck, limb or voice muscles.

Dr. Junger moved his practice to the area in 1989 and has been featured on television and in various print media. He has served as a medical consultant in a multispecialty pain center. Dr. Junger has been published in the neurology literature on a variety of topics.

A mini symposium on chronic pain is scheduled in Nutley on Wednesday, July 31 at 7 p.m. Dr. Junger will speak on the treatment of fibromyalgia which will include a live demonstration. Dr. John Haze, DDS, former director of the Facial Pain Center at Newark Beth Israel Hospital, will discuss alternative treatments for chronic headaches. Refreshments will be served. Anyone interested in attending the program may call 586-8555 for directions and further information.

Implant Dentistry and Evaluation of Your Jaw

by Oral and Maxillofacial Associates of Nutley

In our last segment, we discussed the use of dental implants to restore missing teeth. One of the main factors discussed for a successful implant was healthy supportive bone.

The ideal dental implant has healthy bone surrounding the entire implant for a minimum distance of two millimeters around the sides and the bottom of the implant. Also, the top of the implant (where the tooth is placed) should be at the crest level of the bone.

There are many areas in the mouth and in the underlying jaws where adequate bone space to accept a dental implant becomes a concern. For example, one of the most ideal areas in the mouth to place dental implants is the anterior region of the mandible or the chin region of the lower jaw. This particular area has dense bone, adequate depth, is usually wide enough, and has no significant anatomic structures nearby which may be of concern in placing implants.

The posterior mandible, from the eye tooth back contains a small cone tunnel through which a nerve and blood vessels travel. In the maxilla, or upper jaw, the bone is less dense and contains the nasal cavity in the anterior area, and the sinus cavities in the posterior.

At Oral and Maxillofacial Associates, our implant consultation usually begins with a panoramic x-ray which is taken to evaluate structures, such as sinuses, the nasal cavity and the position of the inferior alveolar nerve canal.

The bone overlying these structures (the alveolar bone) is the region of bone which normally holds our natural teeth, and is the bone necessary to support dental implants.

When teeth are lost, this alveolar bone begins to resorb. Also, major and minor defects in the bone can occur secondary to tooth extraction.

When there is a defect in the alveolar bone or there is insufficient bone to adequately place a dental implant, often a bone graft procedure is required.

Bone replacement surgery involves borrowing bone from an area of the mouth and placing that bone in the deficient area. In larger defects, bone can be harvested from the hip bone or the tibia bone in the lower leg.

Synthetic materials are also becoming more popular today as a viable alternative to using bone from another area of the body. These synthetic materials attract our own bone-producing cells into a deficient area and hold space while our body slowly resorbs the synthetic material and replaces the area with our own bone.

The obvious advantage of the synthetic graft is that it avoids the need for a simultaneous second surgery.

The more common materials available for synthetic grafting are purified bovine collagen and or Hydroxylapatite. These materials are well accepted by the body and have virtually no adverse effects.

After the defect has healed and normal anatomy is restored to the alveolar bone, a dental implant can be placed.

A free public implant seminar will be held on Tuesday, July 30, at 6 p.m. in the conference room at 244 Chestnut St., Nutley. This will give you the opportunity to address any questions you may have about this exciting new technology.

Our phone number is 667-5844. See you there.

Mountainside physician elected president of Academy of Family Physicians

Dr. Richard Cirello, M.D., a member of the Mountainside Hospital Department of Family Practice, has been elected president of the New Jersey Academy of Family Physicians.

Dr. Cirello assumed this one-year post during the academy's annual meeting, held June 28 in Atlantic City.

"It is my goal to raise awareness of the crucial role a family physician plays in keeping families healthy," said Dr. Cirello.

"Everyone needs a personal family doctor to care for them, to guide them in preventing illness and injury, and to educate them and promote healthy lifestyle choices," he said.

Family practitioners emphasize the importance of continuity of care, he added. "When care is fragmented, it is inefficient, costly, and patients suffer."

Dr. Cirello said a focus of his tenure will be to help the academy's 1,400 members work within health care's relatively new managed care environment.

"It is important for us to have a voice in Trenton," said Dr. Cirello. "If it our responsibility as the guardians of our patients' health care not to let this heavily regulated industry compromise proper patient care."

Since 1979, Dr. Cirello has been a member of the Medical Staff of Mountainside Hospital, an Atlantic Health System hospital. He graduated from Mountainside's three-year family practice residency program, serving as chief resident of the program in 1978-1979. He also served as chairman of the Department of Family Practice from 1983-1988, and president of the Medical Staff from 1993-1994.

Dr. Richard Cirello

Dr. Cirello's private practice is located in Verona. He also serves as school physician for Verona's elementary and high schools, team physician for the Verona High School football team, and school physician for the Fairfield school system.

Dr. Cirello graduated from Rutgers University with bachelor's degrees in biology and pharmacy, and he received his medical degree from the Universidad Autonoma de Guadalajara. He is an assistant clinical professor of family practice at UMDNJ-Robert Wood Johnson Medical School in Piscataway/New Brunswick and at UMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School in Newark, and he is an instructor at Mountainside Family Practice Associates.

Dr. Cirello has been certified by the American Board of Family Practice since 1979, adding a certification in geriatrics in 1988.

He and his wife, Carlyle, reside in Verona and have three children.

HOROSCOPES

July 21-27

ARIES - March 21/April 20

A heart-to-heart conversation may be what's needed if a strained relationship is to survive. Getting everything out in the open is the first step. Keep alert at work. Mistakes could creep in if you're not careful. Impulsive shopping could lead you to financial woes. Only buy what you need.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

A little while lie you once told could come back to haunt you. You may have to do some fancy talking in order to get out of it. You're probably better off "testing up" right away. A grueling task won't go away unless you do it. Get it over with so you can move on to more interesting endeavors.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

Someone you had a low opinion of will show you a different side and change your mind. Could it be that you were a bit shortsighted? Remember, everyone deserves a fair chance. An upcoming event gives you a lot to look forward to — especially if you're doing the planning.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

Don't let a "friend" take advantage of your good nature. Remember, not everyone is as nice as you are. If you're feeling disillusioned with your career, it may be time to start thinking of other options. Try to figure out what it is you really want to do. It may be time to make a change.

LEO - July 23/August 23

If you're having a hard time focusing on simple tasks, it may be a minor case of burnout. Instead of fighting it, give in. Take some time off and do something fun. You'll be back to your old self in no time. A second chance on something you thought was lost will give you a reason to smile.

VIRGO - August 24/Sept 22

Think twice before relying on someone who's let you down before — especially if it's happened more than once. You're only setting yourself up for disappointment. A tip-off on an investment should be taken with a grain of salt. Don't be too eager to part with your savings on a risk.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

You'll have the satisfaction of winning an argument with someone who's "always right." The accomplishment of a loved one will lead to some type of change in the near future. You may want to start thinking about making some changes. A major hurdle at work will give you a strong sense of accomplishment.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

A misunderstanding in the workplace needs to be cleared up before things get out of hand and tempers start raging. On the social scene, things will be busier than usual. In fact, you may have to cancel plans in order to keep your life on an even keel. Wednesday is a lucky day for single Scorpios.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Looking for some excitement, Sagittarius? If so, you should have several opportunities to do something during this week. News of a friend from your past will surprise you. You'll realize that time has a strange effect on people. In matters of love, you may find a change in your partner.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Overlooking an important fact could get you into a sticky situation at work this week — especially if you're in financial management. Be sure to check your work. Looking for love? This could be your lucky week. Be sure to dress your best on Friday. A Scatman plays a strong role.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

An argument with a loved one could turn into a blow-out fight if you're not careful. Watch what you say — especially if you're dealing with Libra. Any social contacts made this week are likely to become valuable in the future. A Scorpio will play a very strange role later in the week.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

Don't count all your chickens before they're hatched, Pisces. Keep your optimistic side on the back burner this week. A happy home environment will be a comforting escape from your everyday stresses. Young children play a significant role later in the week. Always bring something new.

'Uncommon Enemies' staged at TheatreFest

TheatreFest, the professional equity theatre-in-residence at Montclair State University, will present the world premiere of John J. Wooten's "Uncommon Enemies" today, July 18, through Sunday, Aug. 4, as part of its Next Stage series.

A plantation house is the setting for this Civil War psychological thriller that follows the shooting of Confederate Gen. Stonewall Jackson at Chancellorsville. Two injured Confederate soldiers vie for the affection of the girl forced to care for them in the battered remains left by an advancing Union regiment.

Truth is the last weapon in the battle among characters who rely on secrecy and discretion for survival.

The premiere production features Mark Jameson and James Joseph Shue as Daniel and Jefferson, the two injured soldiers, and Maria Ryan as Sarah, the girl forced to care for them. Also appearing are Stephen C. Bradbury as the Colonel, Pamela Shaddock as Tessie, and Barbara Aren Sims as Virginia.

This world premiere production, is directed by John Gully, director of "Trophies" off-Broadway and the TheatreFest productions of "The Trip to Bountiful" and "M. Butterfly."

Performances are held in Montclair State University's air-conditioned Studio Theatre. Parking is free.

While most summer stock theaters offer strictly commercial fare, the Next Stage offers programming that is more characteristic of off-Broadway. Montclair State theatre students have the opportunity to perform side-by-side with seasoned equity actors.

Performances are scheduled for Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Friday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Standard tickets are $20, $15 for seniors and $10 for students and children.

For further information and to order tickets, call 655-5112.

BUG SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Second in a summer series

Biancardi wins two straight after opening night loss

Ever since I began writing this series last week, looking back at Belleville Little League from 25 years ago, a lot of memories came back from what was going on in sports, and in the world, during that time.

In 1971, Richard Nixon was the President of the United States and the only thing anyone knew about Watergate was that it was a hotel in downtown Washington, D.C.

The American League had finally won an All Star Game, beating the N.L. 6-4 in a classic game. To this day, you see more highlights of that game than just about any other All Star game. Reggie Jackson hit a home run that ended up on the Tiger Stadium roof and other guys who eventually ended up in the Hall of Fame, also hit homers.

The Baltimore Colts were the defending Super Bowl champs and the Montreal Canadiens were the Stanley Cup champions. The Pittsburgh Pirates would win the World Series in October and the Milwaukee Bucks were kings of the N.B.A.

Here in Belleville, the football team was 5-4 under the direction of coach Rocco Cafone.

I was 12 years old, and as I mentioned last week, had just made a little league baseball team. Our opener was against Rotary and I remember being a little nervous before that game.

It was a night game and there was a pretty big crowd on hand. Like I said last week, there was nothing like the Michael Morotti Little League Field. (For that matter, I think a kid 9 to 12 today will say the same thing).

The place has always been well maintained and gives a professional ambience. I remember taking the field for the opener (I played right field) and being almost overwhelmed by the sights and sounds of the place.

The big scoreboard in centerfield, the food stand in the outfield, the dugouts, the announcers booth behind home plate and our uniforms gave the look of a first class operation.

Rotary was going to be the class of the division and we knew we had our hands full. Chris Cervasio started for them while Mickey Lemongelli, normally our starting catcher, got the nod on the hill from coach Jim Cienagahan.

Rotary eventually built up a 6-0 lead in the fourth inning. But we were able to come back and I started a slight rally by hitting a squibber which I beat out for a single.

Lemongelli was next at the plate, and he hit a shot that would to over the fence for a two run homer.

I remember being happier than Mickey as I rounded the bases after that home run. I was so happy that I forgot to tag second base. Fortunately I was able to go back and tag it before Mickey got there. I could only imagine what kind of trouble I would have been in had Mickey's homer been ruled a double because I missed the base.

Anyway, we lost that opener in April of '71, but I remember the fun we had playing, and being that the schedule was 14 games long, there was plenty of time to make up for the defeat.

Our next game was against Wallace & Tiernan, and I remember making my first catch in right field on a line drive.

I also got two hits in the game and we were able to win the game pretty impressively, 8-2.

Anthony Speer, our leadoff hitter and a good all around player, noted that the 1970 team didn't win a game all season long, so this was something special to be on the winning side.

We won our second straight game, stopping Riefolo's, 12-5. They were an exhibition team that season and our team was a little more experienced. I got a hit and Lemongelli, as usual, was our big hitter, collecting three.

We were 2-1, with games against the Colony Club and Varsity Club coming up. Both of those teams were solid ball clubs. Ricky Loma was scheduled to pitch for Colony Club against us and he was, without question, the hardest thrower in the league.

Next week, I'll continue this feature with a look back at the games against Colony Club, Varsity Club and the Elks.

Cline, Spilsbury, Galioto lead Bulldogs

By Mike Lamberti

Steady hitting from Carlos Cline, Jeff Spilsbury and Jamie Galioto have helped the Belleville Bulldogs in their pursuit of a playoff berth in the Essex County Baseball League.

Joe DeLanzo's team won two of three last week, beating Livingston 7-3 and Cranford 9-4. In between those wins, the team lost a 7-4 decision at home to Cranford.

Belleville took a 9-12-1 mark into a game with Cranford last Tuesday. This evening, the team will host Millburn, beginning at 6 p.m. from Belleville High School.

Tomorrow, South Orange visits, also at 6 p.m. On Sunday, the Bulldogs travel to Crescent in a 5 p.m. start. Next Monday, the team is back home to Livingston, next Tuesday, Millburn comes to town and next Wednesday, it's off to Millburn. The games next Monday through Wednesday commence at 6 p.m.

In the win over Livingston, the Bulldogs tallied three runs in the first and never looked back.

Pete Russo continued his excellent pitching. Russo (5-1) hurled six innings, allowing one hit and one run while striking out three and walking two.

Joe DeMaestro hit a solo home run, Cline was 2 for 3 with an RBI and Galioto was 1 for 2 with two ribbies.

In the loss to Cranford, the Bulldogs fell behind 5-0 in the fourth before rallying to within 6-4 in the fifth inning.

Spilsbury hit a three run homer in the fourth and Galioto was 1 for 4 with one RBI.

The Bulldogs returned the favor a few days later, beating Cranford 9-4. In this game, the team led by as much as 9-0 in the fourth inning before settling for a five run victory.

Cline and Galioto had three hits each, Cline hitting a homer, driving in four runs and scoring twice.

Galioto had three ribbies and scored two runs. Spilsbury was 2 for 3, scoring two runs.

Jim Landon had a hit and drove in a run while Anthony Sciarillo had a hit and drove in a run.

NOTES: The Bulldogs were in fourth place heading into this weeks action. The top four teams gain entrance into the playoffs. Millburn is chasing Belleville for that final playoff spot. The Marlins trailed the Bulldogs—by four points in the standings and Belleville has three games in hand.

The final week of the season will pretty much decide who gains that final playoff berth. Belleville and Millburn will play each other four times.

The two will also meet tonight. Belleville and Livingston had a doubleheader rained out last Saturday. Those games will have to be made up in the next two weeks.

Belleville Rec announces Summer Playgrounds

The Belleville Recreation Department's summer playground program is taking place through Aug. 2.

Under the Supervision of the Department of Recreation and Cultural Affairs, the five playground sites are located at School No. 9, the Municipal Stadium, the Recreation House, Clearman Field and the Friendly House. The special education playground is set up at the Belleville Little League Field.

The playgrounds will be open daily to all Belleville residents in Grades Kindergarten through 9 from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Playgrounds are closed noon to 1 p.m. for lunch and when it rains.

While there are no restrictions as to which area a person must attend, generally youngsters attend the closest playground to their home.

An adult director will be on hand at each playground to organize athletics, games, tournaments, parties and other activities and an arts and crafts supervisor will travel from site to site to do special projects with the children one day each week.

Tentatively, tennis lessons, "open swim" and special tournaments are planned throughout the summer. These programs are all pending the hiring of qualified instructors/supervisors and pending the availability of adequate facilities.

Applications for all summer program participants must be completed and signed by a parent. Registration forms will be available at the Rec House office and at all playgrounds. No pre-registration will be required; however, parents must accompany their children to the playground on the first day so that application forms may be signed before participation.

There will also be a special event for all children ages 4-12 on July 4 at 10 a.m. at the Municipal Stadium.

For further information, call 450-3422. Special Education playground information may be obtained by calling 450-3494.

Soccer coaches needed

The Belleville Recreation Department is seeking persons interested in coaching its 6-14 year old soccer league. The league is separated into several divisions according to specific age groups.

The children learn the basics of soccer and all those attending regular practices play in all games. Games are played on Saturdays and Sunday afternoons, beginning in mid-September. All volunteer coaches will be required to attend a certification clinic by the NYSCA before the season begins.

Those interested in coaching may call the Recreation Department at 450-3422 weekdays before 4:00 p.m. or contact League Director Carmen Goglia at 751-7560.

The Belleville Department of Recreation and Cultural Affairs is accepting registration for the preschool play program for 4-year-old children.

The program consists of games, stories, songs and art. Outside play when weather permits, short rest periods and occasional holiday parties especially designed for preschool children.

A session is from 9 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. or 12:45 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., five days a week, with class limited to a maximum of 23 students in each session. The cost of the 32 week session is $150.

The mothers of the children accepted must participate by serving one duty day about every eight or nine days according to a published schedule. School will begin on Monday, Sept. 16 and will run through May 1997.

Children born between Oct. 1991 and Sept. 1992 who will enter kindergarten in Sept. 1997 are eligible. Participants must be Belleville residents. Since there are just a limited number of openings, applications will be accepted on a first come, first served basis only.

Children must be able to speak and understand English in order to participate. Children enrolled in the morning program cannot also be in the afternoon program or vice versa. A $25 deposit is required to hold your spot in the program.

For further information and enrollment, contact the Belleville Recreation Department at 450-3422, as soon as possible, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Registration for football program held until August

There will be registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's 1996 "Junior Bucs" tackle football program at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon St., now through Aug. 2.

Boys who will be 7 years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 15 before Dec. 31 are eligible.

Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a maximum of 145 pounds, and no one above eighth grade can play.

Players will be broken down into three teams according to specific age/weight requirements as set by the All-County Youth Football League. This is the first year in this new league, and the team will tentatively play a nine-game season.

To register, players must obtain an application from their school or the Recreation Department office. All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Rec. House by Aug. 2, with two passport size photos of the player and a copy of his birth certificate.

All returning players from last year's team must re-apply. Practices will begin around July 29.

Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport, since football, soccer and touch football games and practice schedules conflict.

For the convenience of persons unable to register during regular daytime office hours, registration will also take place at the Recreation office on Wednesday, nights, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., from June 12 to Aug. 7. Call 450-3422 for more information.

Junior Bucs football registration announced

Registration for the Belleville Recreation Department's 1996 Junior Bucs tackle football program at the Recreation House, 407 Joralemon Street, now through Aug. 2.

Boys who will be seven years old before Sept. 1 and who will not be 15 before Dec. 31 are eligible. Those wishing to play tackle football must weigh a maximum of 145 pounds, and not older than the eighth grade.

Players are broken down into three teams according to specific age/weight requirements as set by the All-County Youth Football League. This is Belleville's first year in the new league, and will tentatively play a nine-game season.

To register, players must obtain an application from their school or the Recreation Department office. All completed applications with parent approval must be brought to the Recreation House by Aug. 2, with two passport size photos of the player and 5 copy of his birth certificate. All returning players from last year's team must re-apply.

Practices will begin around July 29. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since football, soccer and touch football games and practice schedules conflict.

For the convenience of persons unable to register during regular day time office hours, registration will also take place at the Recreation office on Wednesday nights, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., until Aug. 7.

Call 450-3422 for other information.
