Decision on Macy's property postponed

By Natalie Waldron

A decision on the former R.H. Macy's warehouse was delayed last Thursday night in order to give Newel's Realty Co. more time to examine the town's independent traffic study plans.

The engineer from Newel's Realty Co., asked for more time to examine the traffic plans put together by the board's independent traffic contractor, Ray DePasquale of MaserSosinski & Associates PA of Matawan.

"We received the plans last Friday (Nov. 8) ...but we need more time because the report showed an excessive traffic count on Thursday," said Ralph Salerno, the attorney for Newel's Realty.

Newel's Realty Co., which owns the Macy's property, has plans to construct three or four large retail stores that would include 140,000 square-feet of space.

The two parties' engineers will meet before the next planning

Crackdown of illegal students continues

By Natalie Waldron

The Board of Education continues its crackdown on illegal students in the district.

Board member Frank Montagna said that two parents or guardians caught with illegal students in the district are currently in pre-trial intervention—which allows first time offenders to have their records expunged without going to trial—at the Board of Education's Monday evening meeting.

"In every single case where we found people to be going to school illegally, we are asking for financial reimbursement" for back tuition," said Board Member Thomas Fuscaldo.

"In years past we have attempted to not use the court system but generally asked them to pay back tuition, but this was unsuccessful. Now instead waiting to see if they will pay back tuition we are going straight to the court system and charging them with theft of services," he added.

Another parent/guardian did not show up for his or her court case regarding illegal students in the district. There is now a bench warrant for this parent's arrest, Montagna said.

Another illegal student case has been settled, Montagna said.

He also said that another case regarding illegal students is to be heard by the end of the month.

Library receives grant to help residents in their job search

By Natalie Waldron

Searching for a job is never easy but the Belleville Public Library and Information Center is helping residents to ease that burden.

Recently the library was awarded a $10,000 Library Services to Special Populations Grant from the New Jersey State Library.

"The library has always been where people have gone to seek job information and resume books, when they have been unemployed or are seeking to change jobs," said Adrea Cohen, director of the Belleville Public Library.

"Now with the internet being accessible in the library as well as the many career books available in the library we provide an excellent opportunity for job searching. The career grant, from the state library, offers another dimension in searching for jobs," she added.

The project will provide a free comprehensive service to the public providing a career and job center of books, audio and videos and CD-ROMs; a series of public programs of career development and job search skills; counseling in resume preparation and cover letter writing on a one-on-one basis; and a computer system dedicated to resume writing and printing.

The program will show residents how to search for a job in today's job market and provide one-on-one counseling to residents on how to update their resume or write a cover letter.

Cohen said the library intends on offering these workshops free of charge to the public on Saturdays starting in March of 1997.

"We hope we can reach at least 200 people with this project to attend our workshops for career development," said Ming Bao, assistant library director of the Belleville Public Library and Information Center.

Currently there is about 75 hours budgeted for the one-on-one counseling Bao said.

"Through counseling they might rediscover themselves and the potential they have," Bao said.

For users who don't have their own computer they can visit the library's computer area on the second floor.

Using the library's internet connection, residents can search for job opportunities or work on typing up their resume or cover letters.

Currently the library has its own

Safety of town hall's interior questioned

By Natalie Waldron

Safety conditions of town hall's interior were discussed at Monday's Township Council work session.

Councilman Bill Escott said that he had safety concerns about the building's present condition.

"People should not be working in that building...There are bare wires and god knows what in the ceiling," he said.

Councilman Mario Drozd said there were complaints about the ventilation system shooting out black soot.

"The former town manager used to complain that black soot from the vents would land on his clothes," Drozd said.

"Initially $2 million was bonded to do the inside and outside of the building in 1994. Unfortunately the next governing body scaled down this project," said Councilman Mario Drozd.

"Currently we have about $440,000 in a bond for the interior renovations of town hall," said Councilman Mario Drozd.

"If we do it the right way it will cost about one point two million to do the interior renovations," Drozd said.

Drozd said that the building "still probably has the original wiring and plumbing."

"We have two choices: do we knock down the current building or rebuild it properly? In order to maintain the historical value of the building the Council should renovate it the proper way," Drozd said.

"Something has to be done fast but I am concerned about the cost...Maybe we could utilize some of the town employees to do some of the work," said Councilwoman Angie Pascheria.

Township attorney Robert Giordano said that he was talking to construction workers working on

Council adopts tattoo ordinance

Discussion of Marotti Place, state audit, exterior town hall renovations

By Natalie Waldron

Council passed an ordinance regulating tattooing and body piercers within the township at its Nov. 12 meeting.

Before the ordinance there were no township regulations on tattoo parlors, said Council Attorney Robert Giordano, adding that they had to follow general health codes.

Most of the ordinances regulations relate to board of health regulations such as the cleanliness and of the facilities and the instruments along with the disposal of the instruments, and the procedures for tattooing and body piercing.

"Our ordinance also has a regulations on the number of licenses which will be used, and it is based on popula_on," said Giordano.

Giordano said the license requires no more than one license per every 7,500 people.

"We have less than 37,500 people, therefore the township should have four licenses," he said.

The township is currently investigating the exact number of tattoo parlors in the town.

"We don't want to see children under 18 getting tattoos and we would like to see the number of tattoo parlors limited," said Councilwoman Angie Pascheria.

The ordinance is to protect others from the potential danger for spreading communicable diseases through the tattoo process and body

Christ Church celebrates 250 years

By Natalie Waldron

The 250th anniversary of Christ Episcopal Church will be celebrated on Nov. 24 at 4 p.m. with a festive eucharist.

The church, located at 393 Washington Ave., began its ministry in Belleville in 1746 with services held in the grain storeroom of a grist mill on the Passaic River bank.

"We think this is a very big deal for our church because we are 250 years-old, making us 30 years older than the United States," said Bill Idenden, chairperson for the public relations committee of Christ Episcopal Church.

The first church was completed in 1836. Less than a year later, that building was consumed by fire. The bell that hangs in the bell tower of the Parish House was recast, from the bell that was destroyed in that fire. Into this bell also went the metal from the fire-melted brass and silver altar

Rafferty T.D. pass to Banda wins Super Bowl

The Belleville Junior Buc "C" team pulled off the improbable last Sunday, stunning powerful Garfield, 13-7 in overtime to capture the Super Bowl championship before a packed house in Kearny.

The win not only avenged a 20-6 regular season loss to Garfield, it also marked the first time in three years that Garfield had lost a game on the "C" level.

It was the most successful season in the history of "C" football at Belleville.

The Bucs took the opening kickoff and drove 60 yards, highlighted by a Joe Troise 40 yard touchdown run to take an early 7-0 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Jason Luzzi's inside kick was recovered by the Bucs. It allowed Belleville to keep control of the ball for most of the first quarter.

The scored remained 7-0 through the third quarter, as the defense from both clubs dominated. The Bucs powerful running game of Troise, Angelo Silletti and Mike Barnes was slowed by Garfield's eight man front.

Quarterback Bobby Rafferty, named as the Super Bowl MVP, employed an effective passing game to keep Garfield off balance.

SLCA to protest NJ Transit plan

The Silver Lake Civic Association of Belleville, along with the members of the Home and School Association of Belleville's Public School No. 4, have scheduled a rally on Tuesday, Nov. 26, to protest New Jersey Transit's light-rail maintenance facility proposed for the Bloomfield-Belleville border.

The rally, scheduled to start at 3:15 p.m., will take place in the front of Public School No. 4 on Magnolia Street, Belleville.

Participants will march to the corner of Belmont Avenue and Franklin Street, the proposed site for the light-rail station. All concerned citizens are invited.

NJ Transit's proposed project would involve the crossing of trolley cars over the intersection of Belmont Avenue and Franklin Street approximately every three minutes during the day. The association is concerned about possible heavy traffic build-up and about the safety of the children who would have to cross that intersection on a daily basis.

"People must understand that signing a petition does not make the problem go away," said Dennis Forlenzo, vice president of the SLCA. "This is not a one-man fight. We need as many residents as possible to get involved."

The SLCA will provide transportation for residents in the township or in the surrounding townships who would like to participate in the rally. With the help of the Home and School Association of School No. 4, the children will also be involved in the rally by making various posters echoing the feelings of opposition toward NJ Transit's plans for their community.

For more information about the rally, call Forlenzo at 759-4505.

son, Rafferty's deep passes set up the winning catch by Joe Banda in overtime.

The game winning reception came on a third and goal from the 20. Under heavy pressure, Rafferty threw a perfect spiral into the arms of Banda, setting off a delirious celebration.

The game included spectacular efforts from the defense, including the line play of Joe Droz, Silletti, Ed. Stack, Pete MacCarone, Pete Campisi, Matt Kistner, Anthony Giordano, Nick Riggi, and Tom Henry.

Game saving tackles were turned in by Steve Soriano and Steve Taylor and a stellar job at line-backer was efforted by Joe Pizzi and Joe Hernandez.

Tom Rafferty turned in a good effort at nose guard.

The offensive line was spectacular, led by Girard Garilli, Taylor, Hernandez, Frank Salera and Droz.

Even though he was kept out of the end zone for the first time this season, Barnes played a magnificent game.

The "C" team wishes to thank the cheerleading squad, who lent a great deal of support the entire season.

piecing. It sets strict requirements such as making it mandatory that anyone receiving one must be 18 years of age and making it mandatory that any recipient must fill out a form approved by the Belleville Board of Health.

The ordinance also has sanitary requirements setting bathroom requirements, seating requirements for where the procedure will be performed, work table specifications, wall, floor and lighting requirements, and sterilization procedures.

Tattoo artists and body piercers must have a Hepatitis B pre-exposure vaccination or proof of immunity. This certification will be annually renewed.

In other business Vinnie Frantantoni, a resident and a general contractor, told council that the contractor working on the exterior of town hall is not following proper procedure for restoring the exterior brick work of the building.

"It appears the mortar joints are not being cut out deep enough to accept the new mortar. It could present potential problems in several years... A pointing job done properly should last 25 to 30 years or more," he said.

Canning said the matter will be looked into by the town engineer. He added that councilman Jim Messina and Bill Escott also had concerns about the work being done.

Several residents voiced their concerns about the changing of Montgomery Place to Marotti Place.

The residents wanted to have the name changed back Montgomery Place.

"We feel that it is a big inconvenience for all of us on the street... I feel I was not properly notified. If you change the name of the street you should have let us have some input," said resident Silvia View.

"If you are going to honor a man put a plaque on the wall, but don't change the name of the street," said resident Henry Charzewski.

Frantantoni on behalf of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville also asked Township Council to seek out a "free non-binding government audit".

"The state of New Jersey has offered this service to all communities, but so far 28 communities have already been audited... Sometimes an outside pair of eyes can catch things that local administrators may overlook," he said.

In a comment after the meeting, Councilwoman Angie Pascerchia said that currently the town is on the list. "Now the council must take a formal vote on the matter," she said.

Canning explained that Interim Town Manager Raymond Kimble who is also Belleville's Chief of Police will not be involved in negotiating the police contracts.

Council also passed an ordinance increasing marriage license fees from $5 to $10.

town hall's exterior.

"They told me there was no need to repair town hall's roof which is part of the contract," he said.

"Why spend the money if we don't need it," Giordano said.

Giordano said that a construction worker showed both he and Escott the strength of the outside mortar.

"To show us the strength of the exterior mortar they put a chisel to the mortar and they could not put a dent in it," he said.

Joy Cometh in the Morning
 Nights can be long and so lonely,
 Filled with such anguish and pain,
 But joy cometh in the morning,
 Like sunshine after the rain.
 Sometimes your heart can be aching,
 Filled with such grief and sorrow,
 But joy cometh in the morning,
 Bringing hope for the tomorrow.
 For God hath not always promised
 Sunshine and blue skies above,
 But joy cometh in the morning,
 Bringing God's peace and His love.
 They say it always seems darkest
 In the hours before the dawn,
 But joy cometh in the morning,
 Giving us faith to go on.
 Thus we should trust Jesus always,
 Give Him each sorrow and pain,
 For joy cometh in the morning,
 Like sunshine after the rain.

Palagano retains seat as Fifth District freeholder

Democrat Louise Palagano retained her Fifth Freeholder

District seat on the Essex County Board of Freeholders on Nov. 7, when her opponent withdrew his request for a recount of votes cast in the general election two days earlier.

Buddy Fortunato, the Republican candidate, had sought the recount after the original tally had him trailing the incumbent 26,790-25,769.

The Fifth Freeholder District is comprised of Bloomfield, Nutley, Glen Ridge, Montclair, North Caldwell, Cedar Grove, Essex Fells and about half of Belleville.

Palagano's better than 2-to-1 vote margin in Montclair helped to put her over the top. In Belleville, however, Fortunato outpolled Palagano 2,693-2,411.

During the campaign, both sides exchanged charges of questionable tactics. Palagano, who also serves as Bloomfield's township clerk, blasted Fortunato for using in his ads a photo of a little girl licking an ice cream cone to illustrate Palagano's "double-dip" into the taxpayers' wallets by holding two public positions. Her campaign's fliers called the ads vulgar and said they exploited women.

Fortunato, a Glen Ridge resident, said he would file a defamation suit over Palagano's charges.

Democrats captured seven other freeholder seats on Election Day and thus retained their 8-1 control of the board.

Life in Silver Lake By Marie Strumolo Burke

Silver Lake Association member directs traffic

Hey, all of you out there...did you ever go to Belleville Municipal Court on a Wednesday morning? Well, if you have, you know where I'm coming from. But if you didn't, boy, are you in for it.

Why? Because it's utterly impossible to find a parking space. One car pulls out and four cars are waiting in the wings. I guess you're wondering why I'm telling you this story. Well, stop wondering because I'll explain.

A few members of the SLCA attended court on some business affecting Heckel Street residents. After the case was over, we proceeded to the parking lot to get our cars.

First mistake, I must add.

There was a traffic jam in the parking lot that you couldn't believe. There was an elderly lady sitting in her car, waiting to get my parking space. She would not budge even if God asked her to. Another lady was backing up her car and everyone else was trying to get out of the lot at the same time.

There was complete chaos (defined as mutter, confusion, disorder). We learned a new word, people.

Before you knew it, one of our SLCA members swings open his car door, jumps out of his car and immediately starts directing traffic. What a "hero" he was.

The name of this Good Samaritan is Carmine Mattia, or as his friends call him, Codey. It was a sight to behold, his arms waving in the air directing the traffic jam. And, I might add, doing a hell of a job. He solved the problem in a flash. I kidded to my passenger, Judy Bowers, "Even here we need a Silver Lake-er to help out."

So, Codey, you deserve a "pat on the back" for your good deed.

Marie Strumolo Burke

And since you did it with such ease, I think I'll ask Mayor Victor Canning to hire you as the new traffic officer in the municipal parking lot. Hey, you never know. Oops, I forgot to thank his "side kick" marco Splendorio, I'm sure Marco uttered some good advice to Codey on how to solve the dilemma.

And, by the way, our Heckel Street residents were very happy with the outcome of the court case. So all you doubting Thomases out there: your Silver Lake Civic Association is always on the job. No matter what problem you have...be in touch and I will make sure that the Association gets on the job. My number is 759-6849.

And if you're not a member, I suggest that you join. We're in it together, guys.

Birthdays, Birthdays, Dito Birthdays

I have a long list of Silver Lake-ers that need to be congratulated on their "big day." Vivian Schiavo of Heckel Street turned 77 years old on Nov. 18. Do you know that she has lived here all her life? The next birthday girl is Nancy Marra of Heckel Street, who turned 73 on Nov. 16. Nancy is a tenant in our house. See, Nancy, I didn't forget this time. And last but not least, our neighborhood inspector, Stanley Dondarski of Florence Avenue, who was 65 years old on Nov. 11. Let's all blow out the candles together and sing loud...Happy Birthday to all of you.

The countdown continues...it's almost here. The SLCA holiday party will be held on Friday, Nov. 29 at the Branch Brook Manor. Tickets are $25 each.

As Chubby Checker said, it's party time (I think it was him). Come do the stroll with us at the manor.

Also on hand will be our lovely scholarship winners, Tara Alamo, Nicole Gammara and Melissa Sena. Call our social director, Angel, at 759-2703.

Remember, we love Silver Lake.

Students receive honors

The following residents were named to the honor roll for the first marking period at Mount Saint Dominic Academy: freshman Cindy Cariga received first honors, and juniors Aileen Emralino, Eileen SanFelipe, Jessica Schor and sophomore Felicia Escorpizo received second honors.

Rider University junior Smith attends student leadership seminar

Tracy Smith of Belleville was one of 37 students selected to attend the Rider University and American Re-Insurance Student Leadership Seminar Nov. 9 in Princeton.

Smith, a junior who is majoring in elementary education and sociology at Rider, will have the opportunity to improve her leadership skills and traits through various educational sessions. The topics of discussion include sex-gender issues, critical thinking skills, mediation, leadership and technology, and global issues.

Almost 200 students were nominated by university faculty and staff members to participate in the program. From that pool, students were selected for the seminar by Rider's Leadership Development Board, based on their prior and current campus leadership involvement, community activity, leadership goals and academic success.

Newark will be the celebrant at this service and will preach the sermon. A reception will follow in the upper room of the recently redecorated Parish House.

The service is open to the public.

OUR OPINION

Modern plague

Cancer center looking for new weapons against killer disease

With the dreaded illness of cancer touching virtually every family today, it's somewhat comforting to know that the Garden State Cancer Center opened its doors last week in Belleville.

The center conducts research into new treatments to combat cancer.

North Jersey suffers from one of the highest cancer rates in the nation. Therefore any new facility is greatly appreciated.

Two questions, however, must be asked: Why is the FDA dragging its feet in approving many promising new treatments, treatment that Europe and other countries have long deemed worthwhile? ... And why do scores of U.S. scientists continue to insist that federal funding for cancer research remains disturbingly low?

If the bottom line was one of funding alone it might be easier to accept, particularly with across-the-board cutbacks hitting virtually every government agency. But when new treatments appear ignored by the FDA, it only serves to fuel charges of government mismanagement and corruption.

Many other countries offer promising new therapies. In Germany, cancer is treated with enzymes, reportedly with dramatic success; in Cuba and New Zealand, shark cartilage has become mainstream; in Mexico, laetrile continues to gain widespread acceptance despite some setbacks more than a decade ago.

Just last week, baseball superstar Brett Butler talked on CNN about his own bout with throat cancer. Butler said he travelled to Mexico for laetrile treatments and vitamin therapy; he now appears cancer free.

Visiting a foreign country, however, is not a viable option for most Americans.

The FDA's standard argument regarding this matter is that the agency seeks to protect cancer victims from snake oil salesmen. The problem, however, is that fewer and fewer cancer patients seem to want that protection. Indeed, they now want protection from the FDA.

If the federal government indeed theorizes that a particular cancer treatment is worthless, the treatment should still be permitted in a free and open society. An FDA warning would be sufficient to help guard the public from quackery.

Ultimately, the issue here is one of freedom.

America has always taken great pride in its revered role as leader of the free world; hundreds of thousands of U.S. servicemen have given their lives for that lofty title. But this nation's freedom apparently does not include choice of all known medical treatments.

The federal bureaucracy is very often criticized for being behind the times, a criticism that rings loud and true when it comes to FDA approval of new medical therapies.

Cancer patients deserve the freedom to make their own informed choice.

We must respect the dignity of those suffering from a terminal illness by acknowledging they have legitimate right to choose their own destiny.

YOUR OPINION

Thanks for support

To the editor:

I would like to express my appreciation to the voters in the northern portion of Belleville, whose strong support on Election Day will allow me to continue serving their neighborhoods and seven other North Essex towns on the county's Board of Chosen Freeholders.

In seeking a second term on the Board, I presented my record of the past three years as well as the issues I believe must be addressed during the next three years. It is gratifying, therefore, that so many Belleville residents recognized the effort I have made on behalf of the community and demonstrated their confidence in my ability to represent Belleville's interests in county government.

Perhaps the most heartening development on November 5 was the large number of registered voters throughout North Essex who cast ballots that day; northern Belleville's 67 percent turnout was nearly 20 percentage points above the national average. This high level of involvement is crucial both to the vitality of our civic life and to the capacity of elected officials to perform their public duties.

I am honored to have the opportunity to serve another term as the 5th District freeholder, and I hope that the people of Belleville will help me do the job in the most effective way possible.

Trust the youth

To the editor:

I am a junior at Belleville High School, and I have written to voice my anger about the inexplicable negligence of the youth of this community. I have many friends from neighboring towns such as Bloomfield and Nutley, and I'm brought to the point of jealous rage when I see the kind of advantages they have. What makes these towns supposedly better than Belleville?

I look at other young people from different communities and they are proud of their athletic, academic and social aspects of their town. When I observe the overall morale of this community, according to the young residents' attitude, I see negativity, mistrust of town officials, and a sense of going nowhere but down.

How long are the adults of this town going to hold on to the memories of how Belleville was before they open their eyes and see how Belleville really is. I could go on and write a book on all I believe is wrong with our town, but basically what I'm trying to say is that the adults need to wake up and start having some confidence in the youth of this community. They need to pay more attention to our needs and stop blaming us for their problems.

We need to eliminate this attitude of "it could be worse" and start realizing things could be better. The day we build and nurture our youth (perhaps the pass the town budget for once) is the day we will see a drastic change in our town's self-esteem.

Ramiro Perez

Thanks for your help

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the following businesses for their generosity. The "Kids Love Kids" committee raises money to be donated to children and families who have catastrophic situations. We received donations for stadium cushions that are being sold. We also received donations for our Halloween fundraiser dance. Many thanks to the Great American Party Store, K-Mart, Belleville, Walter Bauman Jewelers, Nicotelle Auto Body, Not Just Roses, Belleville Bagels, Plaza Chemist, Three Guys Pizzeria, H. DeFrance & Sons, Jo-Lee Nursery, Shop-Rite, State Fair, EFM Software, Good Health Pharmacy, Mark Veniero Trucking, Belleville Cards & Gifts, Plaza Bakery, McDonald's, Joe's Shell Station, First DeWitt Bank, and Bruno's Pizzeria.

I would also like to thank Mark Muro, who on short notice came to DJ our dance. Also, a big thanks to the parents for the baked goods and the students of School 7 who participated in the dance.

Also, none of this would be accomplished so easily without the support of our principal, Mrs. Marilyn Hawthorne. For that, I thank her.

Last, but not least, a special thank you to Sue DeFrance, Linda DeRogatis and their committee members for a job well done.

Community enrichment

Library's new programs prepare residents for today's work force

Helping others to help themselves is a service that the Belleville Public Library and Information Center will be providing to the community through a $10,000 Library Services to Special Populations grant from the New Jersey State Library.

These funds will go towards providing free service to help residents search for a job in today's job market and provide one-on-one counseling to residents on how to update their resume or write a cover letter. Counselors will also give career advice and help point residents in the right direction.

The grant will provide a career and job center filled with books, audio and videos and CD-roms; a series of public programs on career development and job search skills; counseling in resume preparation and cover letter writing on a one-on-one basis and a computer system dedicated to resume writing and printing.

Starting in March, there will also be career workshops available to the public on different careers and methods to find the right job.

Residents might say that their job search is limited because he or she does not have access to a computer. This should no longer be an excuse because the library offers computers for use on the second floor where residents can type up and print a cover letter or resume.

To help residents in the job search there is the library's Internet connection which is open to the public.

Not only is the library connected to the Internet, but it also has its own web page which was funded by a $20,000 Infolink Public Internet Access grant.

This grant allowed the library to purchase software to set up Internet access, and three computers. In addition to these three computers the library previously had 10 IBM compatible computers.

This web page, which provides library information consisting of a calendar of events, books, general information; school report cards and Belleville Township information.

The web page also has links to useful web sites which include Civil Service job listings by the N.J. State Department of Personnel, a one stop career center by Work Force NJ Public Information Network, company information links and telephone directories.

Also on the web page, users can utilize an inter-library loan catalog to search for book holdings in the eastern New Jersey region.

The web page has another link to a periodical database provided by Infolink — which has a directory of 1,000 periodicals along with full text documents.

The library's new grants truly put Belleville Township above the rest in helping its residents find a job that is best suited for them.

North Ward Center organization will honor Newark Auxiliary Bishop Nicholas A. DiMarzio, Tuesday, November 26th. The presenter of the award to Bishop DiMarzio will be Donald C. Mann, Chairman of the Prudential Foundation. The group will also honor the memory of the late Msgr. Geno Charles Baroni who died twelve years ago. His birthday has been celebrated every year by the North Ward Center. Adubato says, "Without Msgr. Baroni, there would be no North Ward Center." Msgr. Baroni joined hands with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in Selma, Alabama bringing the Catholic Church officially into the Civil Rights Movement. The son of an Italian immigrant Pennsylvania coal miner, Msgr. Baroni so lived his life that he emulated the principles and objectives of the Civil Rights Movement.

• BELLEVILLE Kiwanis recently honored its outgoing president, Grace Purdue, at its 41st annual Past Presidents Night held at the Gondola Restaurant. Grace was the first woman member and president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club. In the past, the Belleville Chamber of Commerce selected Grace Purdue as its Woman of the Year. Grace, by any measure is a Belleville treasure. Former President of the Board of Education, she was also an active member of the Belleville Alliance for Substance Education, the Special Education Parent and Professional Organization, the Essex County Services Commission, Charter President of the Belleville High School Home and School Association, charter member of the Belleville Music Parents Association, member of the Board of Directors for Community Mental Health and member of the Clara Maass Auxiliary, The Kiwanis Club and Belleville Chamber of Commerce have led the way in recognizing the outstanding contributions of Grace Purdue in improving the quality of life in Belleville. It now remains for our town fathers to officially recognize her contributions. Meanwhile, our congratulations and gratitude to Grace Purdue for her contribution in making life better in Belleville.

• THE U. S. Senate campaign was one of the worst ever. Both candidates, Republican Dick Zimmer and Democrat Bob Torricelli went negative most of the campaign. The worst campaign technique — if there was such a thing — was Zimmer's simulation of a news telecast in which a television anchor was a female model impersonating a television news anchor announcing "breaking news" which was a crawler at the bottom of the television screen advising observers that it was a breaking news item, when in fact, it was a paid political commercial which was so identified in the beginning of the telecast. But overwhelmed by the message, unfortunately leading the observer to believe it was a live telecast by a responsible television station. There should be a law against this kind of campaigning.

• OUR condolences to Lyndhurst attorney George Savino and his family upon the death of his brother, Lt. Col. David Carmine Savino who died recently at 48 — an age too young to die for he had so much to offer his state, country and family. David was a pilot for Continental Airlines. He was the son of the late Carmine Savino, Jr.

Treating graceful athletes of 'The Nutcracker' ballet

By Robert Ruffalo, PT, DC, CCSP

Traditionally, this is the time of year when you can enjoy the dance and music of "The Nutcracker" ballet. The entire ballet unleashes the holiday spirit of the past and present. If you've ever experienced the show at Lincoln Center in New York, you'll remember the tree ornaments which greet you with open arms as you enjoy yet another year of the performance. If you're like my patient, Mary, you can never see "The Nutcracker" ballet enough.

"They make it look so easy. They float so gracefully with every move," commented Mary. "How do they do it?"

Well, Mary, this spectacular event holds more than meets the eye. The world of dance has always carried a certain mystique with it. While you sit back to enjoy "The Nutcracker" or any other ballet, you probably don't realize that dancers, like athletes, go through rigorous training. This makes them prone to injuries as a result of working so hard. As a group, dancers are very motivated individuals. If they have an injury, they want to get back to performing as soon as possible. Whether the dancer is a student who is determined to make it to the top, or the professional with several years as a performer, injuries are common, due to the fact that they can overuse certain muscles, thereby causing sprains and strains. In more severe injuries, they may even tear ligaments.

A very common injury that I have observed when treating dancers is impingement of the ankle. This is caused by excessive "pointe" work in toe shoes. This can be extremely painful due to excessive inflammation in the back of the ankle. Usually, patients are given ice packs and the area is massaged until the dancer returns to pre-injury condition.

A dancer will push his/her body beyond its limit to achieve extreme ranges of motion. Unfortunately, the body is not prepared to handle the stress placed on both the muscles and bones. For example, male dancers who usually must lift their partners are prone to back pain, due to extreme abdominal muscle stress.

"I'll never look at the dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy the same way again!!" Although the prince makes it look simple, he is overworking his body in a big way," Mary exclaimed.

Mary never realized that ballet dancers need physical therapy too. If they use their bodies incorrectly with the thousands of steps they take every day, it will affect their chances of doing good ballet. Teaching them proper techniques for using muscles and joints properly will reduce incidence of injury.

I treat dancers from Broadway shows and other local theater productions. It is my pleasure to help these graceful athletes return to the stage. Fortunately, I see more dancers on stage rather than off! My great admiration and appreciation for ballet encompasses the hours of training for a spectacular performance. Enjoy the show, Mary. See you there next year!

As part of the "Hands on Health" campaign, A T.E.A.M. Nutrition On-line

By Michael A. DeAngelis

A feature of The Nutley Sun, Belleville Times, Bloomfield Life and Glen Ridge Voice

We continue the three part series that focuses on eating right while living a life on the go.

Our last meal on the go is dinner. Many people like to sit and relax while eating dinner and so many busy people tend to go to restaurants for dinner.

In restaurants, the first thing to remember is to be in control of the meal. You are the patron and you decide what you want and how you would like it prepared.

The best thing a person can do is to be vocal about what it is you like. Ask to have food prepared a special way. Most restaurants will oblige and prepare food differently so that it is healthy for you.

It is important that you remember some words that can tip you off to the fat content of the foods. The words that you should look out for are: "crispy," "fried," "golden," "crunchy," and "breaded" since these foods are prepared in oil and can hide a great deal of calories.

When the restaurant has a "nightly specials" menu, be inquisitive and ask how the food is prepared, what is served with it, and even the price (for more practical reasons).

You will never know what you are eating unless you ask.

Always remember to mix and match foods from different categories of the menu in order to be able to eat from each food group.

Just because you are "eating out" does not mean to forget all the basic principles of good nutrition.

Be sure your plate looks like the Food Guide Pyramid; this means that it has many grains, vegetables, fruit and meat.

Finally, plan ahead before you go to your favorite restaurant by thinking about the food choices you will make.

Eating out for dinner can be a relaxing, entertaining, delicious and nutritious time. Try these simple hints and enjoy your next dinner while on the go!

With Diet-Pik-Up

Lose weight for the holidays

Six months ago, Joe Martinez was told that he has diabetes. He went to his supermarket in Plainsboro and was aghast to find that beyond the fresh fruits and vegetables, most other food items were either high in sugar or high in fat.

But Martinez, a pharmacist formerly with The Medicine Shoppe in Nutley, did something to help people with the same problem. He asked his brother-in-law, Victor Borkowsky of Nutley, who has worked in the food service industry for years, to come up with some meal ideas, and then he started Diet-Pik-Up, Inc. to provide freshly cooked meals to people on weight reduction and/or diabetes-control menus.

The meals are fresh, not freeze-dried or frozen. Each meal follows the American Heart Association food guidelines, has 300 milligrams or less of cholesterol and less than 30 percent of the total calories come from fat. They are also low in sodium and are made without preservatives.

Since starting the Diet-Pik-Up program, Nancy Gillies enthusiastically reports that she has lost over 27 pounds in just four weeks.

Another Diet-Pik-Up client, Maria C., has lost 15 pounds in three weeks.

The meals come in either 1,000 or 1,800 calorie sizes. The 1,000 calorie meals cost an average of $4.50, the 1,800 calorie meals average $5.25, Martinez said. Meals are microwaveable, except for the pizza, which cooks crispier in a regular oven, he said.

The meals are ordered and paid for a week in advance, and are either picked up or delivered twice a week. Martinez said the foods are delicately seasoned, but can be spaced up.

Here are some items from the menu: Cinnamon Apple Oatmeal with Sour Cream Breakfast Biscuit and Whipped Fruit; Multi-Bean Salad with Fresh Seasonal Fruits, Herbed Chicken and Old Fashioned Polenta.

Meals can be ordered from Diet-Pik-Up and Martinez is setting up distributorships across the state and into New York State. For more information, call 1-888-344-DIET, (908) 249-5225, or check out the firm's web site: <http://www.diet-pikup.com>.

CLEAR PERSPECTIVE

Dr. Walter Shurminsky Jr.
Optometrist

Q. Do you test for glaucoma?

A. The subject of this week's article is not glaucoma. That will be covered in a future edition. As a preliminary discussion, I want to first talk about what constitutes an eye examination and why it's important. The headline is put that way primarily because that seems to be a common question underlying the more important inquiry, which is "What does the doctor do during the exam?"

In this day and age of HMOs, people are becoming more and more skeptical about the thoroughness of their exams, whether it's eyecare or with other health care professionals. And what reason do they have to think otherwise, since the system has them switching from doctor to doctor like herds of cattle.

Well, I can speak about the eyecare industry, and in the state of New Jersey, there are minimum requirements which must be met to comply with the state board's regulations. So when people ask if I do this or that, they're usually asking if I do a full exam.

The eye exam consists of a series of tests intended to determine both the health of the eyes and other systems as well as to analyze the visual system. First and foremost, we need to ensure our patients have healthy eyes. We do this using an instrument to look internally within the eye and a microscope to see the front surface. Then we use certain simple tests to determine nervous system function. Something as simple as shining a light in front of each eye can tell us so much. I'm sure you've all seen this done on TV to determine brain function. "E.R."

Once eye health is determined to be optimum, we can then proceed to find our patient's best vision. This is done using the phoropter to both objectively and subjectively find the best end result. Then we prescribe our visual correction for each patient.

The eye exam is a little different for each patient, based on his or her symptoms or complaints. Regardless of this variation, the minimum requirements need to be performed in accordance with the state board.

Summarizing the exam, your eye doctor is responsible for your visual health. But more importantly, he/she is responsible for your overall health as well, since within the eye one can see blood vessels and nerves. The assumption that if you can see well, then your eyes are healthy, is logical, but in some cases unfortunately wrong.

In future issues, I'll get into the topics of contact lenses, eyeglasses and eye disease. Please direct any comments or questions to my office at 667-0331 or to Orechio Publications.

Are You Experiencing Any Of These Symptoms?

Some common vision conditions

Nearsightedness (Myopia): You see close objects more clearly than those at a distance.

Farsightedness (Hyperopia): You see far objects more clearly than close ones.

Astigmatism: You see blurry or distorted objects at all distances, because the front part of your eye (cornea) is slightly irregular in shape.

Presbyopia: A natural part of aging begins to blur your reading and near vision by about age 40-45 and gradually worsens.

Glaucoma: A build-up of excess fluid in your eye, causing internal pressure and damage to the optic nerve. Can result in severe vision loss and even blindness.

Cataracts: A clouding of the clear lens of your eye that distorts entering light, causing blurred or hazy vision. Can lead to blindness if not diagnosed and treated.

Sierra Club chapter to meet

The Sierra Club, Essex County Group, will meet on Thursday, Dec. 12, at the Verona Park Boathouse, corner of Lakeside and Bloomfield avenues, Verona.

Meetings are the second Thursday of each month. The general public is welcome.

Find out how to get more involved in preserving our environment as well as upcoming hikes and activities sponsored by the Sierra Club.

Rawls to perform on Dec. 7

Singer Lou Rawls will come to the Union County Arts Center, Rahway, for two shows on Saturday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 and 10 p.m.

The concerts are being sponsored by Comcast Cablevision.

Rawls, a four-time Grammy Award-winner, has garnered one platinum and six gold albums, as well as a gold single, during his singing career.

Rawls' humanitarian efforts have won him numerous honors, including a street named after him on the South Side of his hometown of Chicago. The United Negro College Fund has been a longtime beneficiary of his support and talents. Through Anheuser-Busch's sponsorship of the Lou Rawls Parade of Stars, begun in 1980, he has raised more than $100 million for over 42 African-American colleges throughout the United States.

His appearance at the Union County Arts Center is no exception: Anheuser-Busch will donate a $1,000 scholarship to any African-American student from Union County who plans to attend an historically black college.

Tickets for both performances are $35 and $20. In addition, a very limited number of $50 tickets are available for the 10 p.m. show. The $50 price includes an orchestra seat plus a special "meet and greet" reception with Rawls after the show.

The Union County Arts Center is located in downtown Rahway. Free parking is available close to the theatre, with valet service available, and concertgoers can also take NJ Transit to the Rahway station, which is two blocks from the center.

Belleville SPORTS

Thanksgiving Day game set for 10:30 a.m.

Bucs routed by Don Bosco

By Mike Lamberti

What started out as a possible offensive shootout soon turned into a one sided game as the Belleville Bucs lost a 48-19 decision to Don Bosco last Friday evening in frigid Ramsey.

The Bucs, now 2-6, will prepare for the Thanksgiving Day finale with Nutley.

Please note, the game time at Doc Ellis Field next Thursday is 10:30 a.m.

Don Bosco quarterback Ed

Fernand completed just eight passes in the game, but five went for touchdowns. Fernand passed for over 400 yards in the game.

"It was an embarrassing loss," Buc head coach John Senesky said. "Their quarterback threw some good passes. But it was a matter of their receivers just beating our defenders."

The Bucs trailed 7-0 in the first quarter, but came back to tie when Efrain Mercado hauled in a 27 yard pass from quarterback Rich DeFalco. Edwin Garcia kicked the point after and the game was tied at seven after one quarter.

The second frame was a disaster from Belleville's perspective. Don Bosco tallied 20 unanswered points and took a comfortable 27-7 lead into the halftime.

Belleville closed to within two touchdowns in the third quarter, thanks to a quarterback sneak by DeFalco that ended up as a 55 yard run to the D.B. two.

Donnell Graham scored the touchdown that cut the lead to 27-13.

Don Bosco answered that score later in the third and were in control, 34-13 heading into the final frame.

There, the Bucs scored a late touchdown on a 33 yard pass from Greg Sheridan to John Farina. But it was too little, too late, for the Bucs, who fell to 0-6 in the NNJL Pacific Division.

NOTES: We'll have plenty on the Belleville-Nutley rivalry in next weeks issue.

The Raiders are also 2-6, with their wins coming against Don Bosco and Paramus. In three other games, Nutley held second half leads but fell late in the game. The Raiders are a young team that should be a solid club in 1997.

Three of Belleville's opponents from this year, St. Joe's, Hackensack and Teaneck have qualified for the playoffs.

Buc defense gets ready for play during recent game. Team plays its season finale on Thanksgiving Day.

Donnell Graham hobbles off field during game with Eastside. Graham has been slowed by ankle injury this year, but did score a touchdown in last weeks game at Don Bosco.

Local churches start youth basketball

The Montgomery Presbyterian Church, a church with a long history of serving children and youth in Belleville, is co-sponsoring a basketball event with the Christian Faith Church of Bloomfield.

Every Thursday night, beginning November 7, from 7-9:30 p.m., youth from both churches and surrounding neighborhoods will come together in the basement gym to play basketball.

According to the Rev. Robert Bellin Jr., the pastor of Montgomery, who is heading up the effort, the program will be co-ed, and open to both senior and junior high youth, as well as young adults. "We want to make every effort to include everyone who wants to play and have fun," Bellin said. "No matter how big you are or how old, or what your skill level is, you are going to get a chance to compete."

The Rev. John Esposito, pastor of the Christian Faith Church, reports that a total of 16 youth and young adults from his church have signed up to participate.

Rev. Bellin hopes that the program will expand into a basketball league that will include many area churches.

The two churches formed an alliance this past summer with a trip to Great Adventure. The success there led to the idea of playing basketball in the winter months.

Both pastors feel that recreational programs like this provide a positive and healthy outlet for young people, especially in the winter months.

Playing basketball gives the youth the opportunity to build strong relationships with one another and with adult role models in both congregations.

Anyone interested in more information on the program can call Rev. Bellin at 201-759-2747, or Rev. Esposito at 201-680-1522.

Montgomery Church is located at 638 Mill Street, near the Belleville Little League field.

The Christian Faith Church is located at 132 Montgomery Street in Bloomfield.

Jr. Buc 'A' team stopped in Super Bowl

The Belleville Junior Buc "A" team lost in the Super Bowl to powerful Livingston 20-0 last Sunday in Kearny.

The Bucs, who stopped Garfield in the semi finals, 8-6, played Livingston hard, holding them scoreless through the first quarter, thanks to solid defensive play from Mike Fortunato, Mike Spiga and Chris Hernandez.

Turnovers hurt the Bucs in the second and third quarters. The Bucs incurred three interceptions and were assessed six costly penalties.

Despite the loss, the season was very successful. The Bucs finished 8-3, quite an improvement over last years 2-7 mark.

Leading the team this year were

The coaches were Joe Troise (head coach), offensive coordinators Ralph DePasquale and John Borrello, defensive coordinator Mike Gibbons and assistant Billy Gray.

The coaching staff wishes the players the best in their high school careers.

Special thanks to the parents and fans for their support this season.

Bob Mayer named coach of the year, Michelle Reilly player of the year

The Sports Editors of the Nutley Sun, Bloomfield Life, Belleville Times and Glen Ridge Voice have made their All-Star Quad-Town soccer selections. Nutley and Bloomfield have established programs and Belleville just completed its first varsity soccer campaign. The Glen Ridge soccer program is still in the development stage and the team was limited to junior varsity play this year.

Coach of the year

Bloomfield's Bob Mayer has been named coach of the year. Mayer, recently completed his 8th season as head coach has compiled a 102-64-20 record during his tenure and has a recorded 1 Essex County Tournament Title in his career ledger. "I am really happy that some of our girls have gone on to play soccer in college," said Mayer. "It has been a pleasure working with all the girls over the eight years. The girls have always received a lot of support from their parents" added Mayer.

Player of the year

Bloomfield's Michelle Reilly, who operates from the Center/Forward position has been unanimously selected as player of the year. The junior striker has been named to the first team of the Northern New Jersey Inter-scholastic League and the first team of the Essex County Coaches poll. She tallied 19 goals on the season and added seven assists. Reilly was the Bengal's biggest offensive threat. She was the leading scorer in the county and had 6 game winning goals on the season and was named to the New Coaches top 20.

Laura Foster-Bloomfield

Foster was also a New Jersey Coaches top 200 selection as well as first team all NNJLL and All County. The senior tri-captain was the key to the Bengal defense from her sweeper position and tallied 1 goal and 4 assists.

Jill Watral-Bloomfield

Watal, a senior tri-captain, patrolled and controlled the mid-field for the Lady Bengals and scored 6 goals and had 4 assists on the season. She has been named first team All County and to the 2nd team all NNJLL this season.

Donna Leacy-Bloomfield

Leacy was a stopper who was called upon to mark the opposing team's best offensive player. She is a tough, aggressive player who uses her height to take opposing shots out of the air. She had 1 goal and 1 assist on the season.

Destree McGhie-Bloomfield

This was McGhie's first year patrolling the net and she registered 12 wins against 8 losses and 1 tie. She made 193 saves and had 6 shutouts.

Beth Calkins-Bloomfield

Calkins, a senior forward, was blessed with outstanding speed which helped her score 3 goals and tack on 3 assists. She helped advance the ball into "enemy" territory and scored the game winning goal in the Essex County Tournament against Livingston.

Joelle Cicci-Bloomfield

Cicci, a junior forward found the net 6 times this season and chipped in with a pair of assists. She used her aggressiveness and tenacity to become a factor in the bengal offense this season. She had 4 first and scored 4 goals in the first 3 games which helped the Lady bengals get off to such a fast start.

Jennifer Yanuzzelli-Nutley

Yanuzzelli, a gifted senior speedster, and a top 200 pick, was used primarily as a sweeper but the senior tri-captain was moved up front periodically to help the offense. She led the team in scoring with 7 goals, despite limited offensive action. She was named to the first team All NNJLL and first team All County. She will play in the Robeson All Star Classic later this month.

Kristen Puzio-Nutley

Puzio, another top 200 player and tri-captain, was a force in goal for the Lady Raiders for the past two seasons. She frequently dazzled spectators with circus like stops and was a physical force in the nets. She was named to the second team All County and NNJLL.

Gayle Weber-Nutley

Weber, the other Lady raider tri-captain, was slowed by early season injuries and was moved back and forth from the forward to midfield positions throughout the season. A gifted speedster, she collected 4 goals and added an assist. She was named first team All County and second team All NNJLL.

Heather Syme-Nutley

Syme, perhaps one of the most gifted and versatile players in recent years was shifted to midfield this season from her accustomed center/forward slot. She responded with 2 goals and 2 assists but was a terror at midfield defensively. A late season injury slowed her down a little but she stopped many an attack by opposing strikers. She was named to the second team All County and NNJLL.

Jennifer Posternock-Nutley

Posternock, a very hard working senior, alternated between Stopper, sweeper and midfield and even saw some late season action upfront. She is a tenacious defender with good ball skills. She was given honorable mention All County and All NNJLL.

Dana Verdi-Nutley

Verdi, a junior midfielder, shows a lot of promise. She has excellent ball handling skills and an acute awareness of the game. A possessor of excellent downfield vision and a strong foot she will remain a force to be reckoned with next year.

Sarah Negra-Nutley

Negra, a senior fallback and stopper, might have been Nutley's best kept secret. She constantly demonstrated a physical toughness and knowledge of the game. She patrolled the back end of the field and struck terror in the hearts of many strikers attempting to penetrate the Lady Raider goal.

Obituaries

Honored surgeon passes away

Dr. Cono Pecora, 67, of Glen Ridge lost a valiant battle with thyroid cancer last Saturday in the hospital that he worked for over 31 years.

Pecora, a 25-year Ridgewood Avenue resident was recently honored with the dedication of a surgical intensive care unit at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville. "Dr. Pecora was a pioneer and an innovator at Clara Maass," Neil Delorosso said.

Pecora's planning and leadership led to the implementation of the intensive care unit at the medical center.

His innovative idea was to splitting the ICU unit into two distinct units.

One was for post-surgery patients and the other was for those suffering from serious problems.

A board certified general surgeon, Pecora diagnosed, performed operations, prescribed medications and was comforting to his patients, Delorosso said.

Pecora was born in Newark and graduated from Seton Hall University in 1951 with a Bachelor of Science, and received his medical education at the University of Bologna in Italy in 1957.

Pecora is survived by his wife, Barbara; two children, Anthony and Lisa; two sisters, A. Marion Pecora, also a doctor; and Shirley P. Schurr, and his brother, Joseph.

In lieu of flowers, the family is asking that contributions be made to the Robert Rich Medical Educational Fund at Clara Maass, 1 Clara Maass Drive, in Belleville.

Anthony Bocchino

A Mass for Anthony Bocchino, 76, a lifelong resident of Belleville, was offered Nov. 6 in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville.

Mr. Bocchino, who died Nov. 3 in Mountainside Hospital, Glen Ridge, was a repairman for Rouson Corp., Newark, for 20 years before retiring in 1978.

An Army veteran of World War II, he was held as a prisoner of war in Germany for 1 1/2 years and, following his release, was the first POW of the war to come home to Belleville in January 1944. He was a recipient of the Bronze Battle Star, the Purple Heart and the World War II Victory Medal.

Mr. Bocchino was a member of Disabled American Veterans Post 288 and Amvets Post 26, both of Belleville.

Belleville School system and they are saying that ten percent of their property is in Belleville and 90 percent is in Newark. They are paying Newark taxes so they should be in Newark schools," Montagna said.

Board members also expressed concern about the excess of $39,751.83 in the 1996 audited budget.

"Normally your looking for a surplus of 3 percent of your budget in our case that would be about $900,000," said Edward Appleton, board secretary.

"We are not maintaining a surplus of what we would prefer to be... This year we are running unusually low," he added.

"If something unusual happens in our operation we only have a $39,751.83 cushion and that is not much of a cushion to have," said Board President Ralph Mazzuca.

The board voted unanimously to support a free government audit.

"The Concerned Citizens of Belleville asked that both the town council and the board of education request a free audit from the local government review team. In essence that has already been done by the town council and myself," Fuscaldo said.

"We are already on the list and have been on the list since August of last year," Fuscaldo said.

Athletic Director Karen Faccello told the board that the NNJIL will meet on Dec. 5 to discuss realigning the league based on geography versus size.

She will then report the league's decision to the board.

HOW ASPRIN WORKS

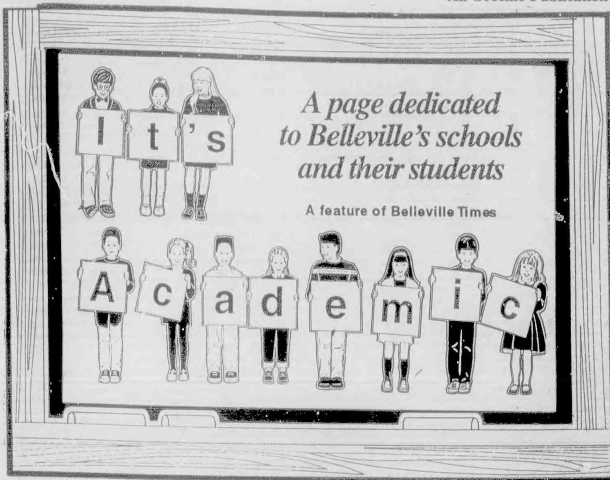

Twenty-three hundred years after Hippocrates began recommending willow bark (which that time active ingredient is aspirin) to relieve pain, and two years ago when aspirin was introduced as a painkiller in 1899, scientists believe they fully know for the first time how aspirin works. According to research published in Nature Structural Biology, aspirin causes a one-two punch against the enzymes that trigger inflammation. First, the drug physically modifies the enzyme and renders it incapable of dispersing molecules that cause swelling and pain. Then, it blocks the path that those molecules would have followed. Aspirin's ability to physically modify the enzyme also helps to explain its blood-thinning effects, in that it binds enzymes that cause blood to get sticky. It is hoped that the recent revelations about aspirin may lead to the development of new drugs that have more targeted effects.

"When you need information about a particular medication, we are here to help. ROSSBORO PHARMACY is located at 158 Washington Avenue and our phone numbers are 739-1955 and 739-1968. Wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, canes and other convenience aids are available on a sale or rental basis. We also carry greeting cards and beautiful flowers and plants for all your Thanksgiving needs. Hours: Daily 9am-5pm, Sunday 9am-1pm. Have a very Happy Thanksgiving."

HINT: Other anti-inflammatory drugs, such as ibuprofen, only inhibit inflammation by temporarily blocking the enzyme that causes inflammation. They do not carry aspirin's double punch against inflammation.
