By Howard Klausner

Tentative agreement on a teachers contract was reached at 4 a.m. Saturday after a session that began at 5 p.m.

The details of the settlement were not made public, pending a vote on the proposed contract by members of the teachers union, the Belleville Educational Association, on June 10.

"Nobody got everything they wanted," Board of Education President Robert Molinaro said, "but we are satisfied with it."

Trustee Louis Pallante headed the negotiation committee for the Board, with Trustee Frank Montagna as member of the negotiating committee.

Among the negotiators were Superintendent Michael Lally, Board Secretary Edward Appleton and Assistant Superintendent Dr. Joseph Ciccone.

Jack Ayers, president of the BEA, headed the union's negotiations team.

On Monday, Pallante was named chairman of a committee to evaluate School Number One, with an eye toward the possible sale of the building, the oldest school building in the district, erected before World War I.

For several years, it housed the administrative offices of the Board of Education, until two years ago when the Board moved into Belleville High School.

An estimate of the cost of rehabilitating the building to meet modern safety codes was given as more than $7 million.

The building was expected to house the temporary offices of the Municipality, while the Municipal Building undergoes a renovation of its interior. However, there are indications that the Township has alternative plans.

The building is located off Rutgers Street and is on the site of the first public school in Belleville more than 150 years ago.

The Crime Watch: Triple!

Police activity in Belleville Park in the wake of complaints by area residents of men performing sex acts there resulted in three arrests within a few minutes of each other, on the afternoon of May 28.

Detectives Dante Pasquale, Ralph Marotti, Michael Giuliano and Robert Capece were in the park at the dead end of Mill Street shortly after noon when, in rapid succession, they found three men performing what police described as lewd acts.

Arrested were Marcos Campos, 36; Carlos Santana 23, and Carlos Rodriguez, 38, all of Newark.

Police said that there was an outstanding warrant from Newark for Mr. Campos.

Police in recent weeks have arrested a number of men on lewdness charges in the area, some of the suspects coming from various parts of the state.

On Tuesday, three more arrests were made for lewdness. Details of the arrests were not immediately available.

While both the Internet and a publication have advertised Belleville Park as place for gay men to meet, police said the crack-down was on acts of lewdness, not on any particular lifestyle.

Those arrested have ranged in age from the early 20s to the late 60s, some of them driving expensive cars to reach Belleville.

On June 1, at 10:30 p.m., a group of men standing at the corner of Valley and Holmes Streets reportedly were harassing passers-by. Police Officers Steven Linfante and Albert Henry arrested Jesus Manuel Vargas, 18, of Belleville when he reportedly refused to move on, and tried to put two bags of marijuana in his pocket while being questioned.

On June 1 at 9:30 p.m., Police Officers Philip Gamaro and Carl Castellano found two men in the rear of 46 Heckel St., rummaging through a pile of aluminum windows.

One of the men ran off and was stopped by police a block away, after putting up a struggle.

Police charged Vasilio Martinez,

18, of Belleville, with assault, criminal trespass and possession of a white powder suspected of being a drug. William Rosado, 23, of Newark, was charged with possession of a hypodermic needle and criminal trespass.

Both men had outstanding warrants from other municipalities.

The Taco Bell drive in became the scene of a battle involving three customers, shortly after 11 p.m. on May 31.

Police Officers Scott Simonetti and Giovanni Torluccia arrested cousins Tommy Uribe, 20, and Anthony Uribe, 23, both of Belleville, and Nathaniel Rivera, 30, of Nutley.

Police said that Rivera got out of his car to approach the Uribe car, behind him, and a fight ensued in which Tommy Uribe used a baseball bat to strike Rivera.

Rivera has outstanding warrants for his arrest from Fairton and Belleville. Tommy Uribe was charged with aggravated assault, and the others were charged with simple assault.

Silver Lake Association hears of railroad threat

By Howard Klausner

The annual meeting of the Silver Lake Civic Association heard warnings that New Jersey Transit planned to put passenger trains in Belleville.

Marie Strumolo Burke, Dennis Forlenza and Planning Board Chairman Sebastian Papa each told the gathering that trains of the Boonton Line may be routed through Silver Lake on the existing Amtrak line.

"This is a serious threat," Mrs.

Burke said. "If it happens, it will be the end of Silver Lake."

Forlenza displayed a sample of NJT literature which showed a full-sized locomotive sandwiched between Silver Lake buildings.

Papa, who has been a proponent of light rail transit in the area, said the railroad would be devastating to the community.

The SLCA remains opposed to the extension of the Newark Subway into Silver Lake, as well as the construction of a trolley repair shop in the community.

Middle School students remember the Holocaust

Students in Belleville Middle School have been studying the Holocaust in their social studies and language arts classes. School work has included textbook readings, novels, videos, displays, plays and a Holocaust survivor speaker.

Act One presented a play, "Lives to Save" at the public library. This was viewed by 50 students.

The play depicts the efforts of several rescuers who risked their lives to help Jews escape the Nazis and concentration camps. The students particularly enjoyed watching hidden families practice drills in case of a German official coming to the door.

On May 13, 100 students attended "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" at the Paper Mill Playhouse. This two-act play consisted of readings, drawings and songs of children who were held at

All-night vigil at St. Thomas Church

A communion of reparation all-night vigil to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the Immaculate Heart of Mary will be held tomorrow, June 6, and Saturday, June 7, from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. at St. Thomas the Apostle Church, 60 Byrd Ave., Bloomfield.

Life in Silver Lake By Marie Strumolo Burke

To make things interesting, I thought that I would mix up the news a little. A little bit from Silver Lake and a little bit from Belleville. A match made in Heaven — don't you think?

O.K. YOU'RE ON, SILVER LAKE — Did you know that Tom Bowers of Heckel Street has hit the big 50? You might remember him by the tag I gave him — Courageous Tom. Why did I name him that? Because he tried to prevent a crime on Heckel and Brook streets. Well, anyway, we wish you the best on your birthday. A 50-gun salute is now being launched. Happy, happy, Courageous Tom.

Birthday greetings to Grace Constantino. Her lucky day was May 28. What an energetic lady she is and a plus for the SLCA. A birthday banner is being sent to you. It should be coming your way right now, so reach out and grab it.

It's here — the Feast of St. Anthony, to be held on Friday,

Marie Strumolo Burke

Saturday and Sunday, June 13, 14 and 15 on Heckel Street. All you have to do is show up — walk up and down the street and you can buy whatever your little heart desires — like sausage and peppers, steak, hot dogs, lemonade, ice cream, soda, and that meat on a stick that I can't for the life of me spell. And of course, those wonderful tasty zeppoles.

And for the kiddies' amusement, there will be rides, balloons, cotton candy and toys. The highlight of last year's Feast was the outdoor cafe hosted by Cafe St. Honoré of Nutley. What a delight it was to sit down and sip cappuccino or whatever other coffee tickled your fancy. So, come one, come all, to the Feast of St. Anthony. It's a time to renew all your old acquaintances and bring back the memories of yesteryear. See you there.

We lost another Silverlaker — a lovely lady named Ann Sena of Florence Avenue. Condolences to her husband, Gerardo, and her son, Gerry and daughter, Annette. Let God be with all of you.

Two sisters on Heckel Street needed a friend to talk with them and comfort them. So, Florence Nightingale, better known as Phyllis Scanzillo of Eugene Place, volunteers and comes to their rescue. Phyllis arrives with plant in hand and a lot of funny conversation. Thanks, Florence. You did a good deed, woman.

AND NOW IT'S BELLEVILLE'S TURN — Happy 46th anniversary to Lorraine and Michael Parrillo of Clinton Street. Lorraine didn't tell me the date and unfortunately, I didn't ask, but have an Anniversary Waltz on me anyway, you happy couple, you.

Would you believe that Seymoure Grossman of Tremont Avenue has hit the big 77 mark? No, that not a race, it's his age. Oops, was I supposed to tell? But don't worry, he won't get mad. And, Sy, happy belated birthday on April 26. I must say you don't look a day over 60, you handsome devil.

What an honor for Belleville when nearly 100,000 students worldwide compete for the National Latin Examination and a total of 18 medals and awards are won by — you got it — B.H.S. students.

And again, to all you doubting people out there who bash our schools and town — put these in your pipe and smoke 'em.

Remember, we love Silver Lake.

THE FIREFIGHTER - Belleville Fireman Dave Murnock sinks to his knees in exhaustion after emerging from smoke filled basement of house at 52 Walnut St., May 28. Fire was reportedly caused by unattended candle. Homeowner Debra Figueroa, 36, was hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation. Fire Department has issued public safety notice about use of candles, in the wake of several similar fires.

Belleville Senior News

By Joseph Restaino

Your Name
You got it from your father,
It was all he had to give.
So it's yours to use and cherish
For as long as you may live.
If you lose the watch he gave you,
It can always be replaced.
But a black mark on your name, son,
Can never be erased.
It was clean the day you took it
And a worthy name to bear.
When he got it from his father,
There was no dishonor there.
So make sure you guard it wisely.
After all is said and done,
You'll be glad the name is spotless
When you give it to your son.

From Dear Abby

Get well wishes to my good friend, Fred Behan. Arthur Keenan is in Mountaintop Hospital.

Welcome back to Angie Marsiano, Clair Oaks and Seigrid.

Sorry to hear that Angie Marsiano lost her sister, Grace Angelo.

On a more pleasant note, welcome back to my daughter, Phyllis and her husband, Herb Lager, who just returned from an extensive cross country trip to California and back that took them thru many states. Among the many stops was a trip to the Grand Canyon, a stop in New Mexico, where they got caught in a huge blizzard.

Then they went to California to visit relatives, then back to Las Vegas. After visiting several other states, they arrived back in Long Island this past week and stopped over to tell us all about their wonderful trip. They took their dog, Dilly, on the trip with them and she enjoyed the trip as well as they did. Welcome back, guys.

It seems that every time there is a police chase, a lot of people blame the police for some of the tragedies that happen. I know darn well that if these suspects committed acts of crime and violence people would ask, "Where are the police?" Well, when they do show up and try to capture these suspects, they are stopped from doing their job by these same people. You can't have it both ways. You must let the officers do their job. What everyone seems to forget is that if the suspect does not flee, there will be no police chase. Do we want the police to ignore anyone who does not cooperate, runs away or assaults them with a vehicle? These suspects would have little to worry about if this was so.

It is time that people blamed those responsible for any tragedies that occur during these chases. I hope that newer and better methods will be used, but at present, they can only use what they have. Remember that the officers who pursue the suspects are putting their lives on the line every time they chase these criminals, so let's give them the credit they deserve.

I am appalled at the idea of being able to purchase one gun a month. Why do you need a gun every month. Do they go out of style so you have to get a new one to be hip? No way. One gun a lifetime is more like it. I don't begrudge anyone qualified to have a gun, but let's stop this nonsense of one gun a month. You know that these extra guns are going to be sold to those who can't legally buy one. Wake up and smell the roses.

John and Frances Iracane are very proud of the fact that their granddaughter, Michelle Iracane (daughter of Elinor and Robert Iracane, products of the Belleville school system), graduated from Villanova University on May 18. Elinor is the daughter of Lee Mastello of Belleville. Congratulations to all.

In the past month, all we seniors have heard is the 53-point tax increase. Why? A lot of seniors are scared. They are living on a limited income and a huge increase such as this is going to create many problems for seniors and also some of the younger taxpayers. Many have lost their jobs and are in danger of losing their homes. I understand that the budget committee came in with many suggestions. Why have a committee if you don't want to take their advice? So if you want your tax bill lowered and you want to save your homes, come to the June 10 budget meeting at 8 p.m. at Town Hall. Don't talk about it. Do something about it. Be there at 7 p.m.

Tid bit: Don't forget the Alliance of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Immaculate Heart of Mary June 6-7 (9 p.m. to 6 a.m.) at St. Thomas the Apostle Church. Call 338-9190.

It's up to you to help keep Belleville Beautiful!

A Holocaust survivor talks to Middle School

To enrich students' experience during their study of the Holocaust, students at Belleville Middle School were enlightened by a Holocaust survivor lecture.

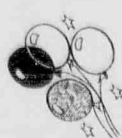

Murray Goldfinger was only 12 years old when Germans took over his small Polish village. He was the second youngest of nine children and the only one of his family to survive the ordeal. From 1940 to 1945 he was placed in a series of ghettos and concentration camps.

During this time with "a little luck" and good survival skills, Goldfinger managed to survive. In 1941 when Hitler imposed the "final solution," thousands and thousands of Jews were killed daily.

In one camp, Goldfinger ate dog biscuits which were left for the dog of the man he was working for. Another time he was shot at; the guard aimed for his head but hit his shoulder instead. Thus once again he was able to survive.

Goldfinger was finally liberated by American troops from the camp called Buchenwald near Weimar, Germany. He was then sent to Switzerland and later emigrated to the United States. Today he lives with his wife and family in Convent Station.

Approximately 125 students heard this somber talk which as arranged by BMS teacher Heather Schlosser.

All donations, gift certificates, should be brought to the library by June 6 so they can be labelled.

auction. Other committee members include Marge Waldron, Andrew Lordi, Lillian Westcott and Isabel Wittlinger.

Monies raised by the Friends have been used in the past to purchase the large-screen televisions in the Trustees Room and the James J. Cozzarelli Jr. Children's Room, which have been utilized for hundreds of library programs for children, teens, adults and seniors; for the bookcases in the lobby; for the magnificent grand piano for the Carnegie Room; for the many piano tunings needed for the grand piano before a concert; for the computer for the children's room; for the dial-in telephone line from home to the Gaylord Computer System; for book collections; and for cultural programs, such as concerts.

Book plates will list the name of the donor and the name of the person being honored or remembered will be placed in each book.

Organizations wishing to adopt the library should consider establishing donations for book collections that are needed by the library, such as children's books, large type books, mysteries, best sellers, science fiction, science books, business books, self-help books, psychology books, books on religion, health books, recipe books, literature and history, just to name a few areas. Call the director if you would like her to speak about donations at your next meeting.

Nutrition On-line

By Michael A. DeAngelis

A feature of The Nutley Sun,
Belleville Times, Bloomfield Life
and Glen Ridge Voice

Some of my fondest memories are the memories of working in my grandfather's garden.

The smell of moist dirt and the taste of bell peppers right off the vine are memories that I share with my grandfather. Even more important was the great nutritional benefits of fresh vegetables.

As the summer slowly approaches, many people are planning their vegetable gardens. There are some things to know before you get started.

First, prime the soil on which you plan to grow the vegetables. This means taking the time to remove the weeds and overgrowth and turn the soil under.

Then, add fertilizer such as lime and/or manure. Lime will adjust the acidity of your soil. It is used often to help tomatoes grow better.

Manure is one of the cheapest and most effective general fertilizers. It can be used when preparing any garden.

Some people prepare a compost pile made from the skins of vegetables, peels, coffee grounds, egg shells, and other table scraps.

As they sit in a pile, they begin to decompose and produce a great carbon source to enrich your soil. Some people start the compost in a new garbage can to cut down on the odor.

Turn your soil again once the fertilizer is added to the soil.

New Jersey is not called the Garden State for nothing. Many great vegetables grow in our soil.

For example, I can remember that my grandfather used to grow tomatoes, corn, peppers, string beans, broccoli, eggplant, watermelon, and pumpkins. These foods are crops that will continue to contribute all summer long, and you can freeze the extras for the winter!

However, aside from the health benefits of home grown, fresh vegetables, there is a therapeutic effect of gardening.

Gardening is a great way to relieve stress. It is a calming, "back to nature" activity that can be beneficial to anyone who is a bit frazzled.

Gardening in the Garden State is a perfect activity. This summer enjoy a Jersey garden!

Dr. Jonathan Dittkoff, right, of The Eye Care Center of New Jersey, explains to Dora Gutierrez how sunglass protection is measured on the UV meter.

Sun-related vision problems prevented by use of sunglasses

Fortunately, slips on the ice and strained backs from shoveling — some of the physical hazards associated with winter weather — were for the most part avoided in this area this year.

The sunny days of spring bring another danger that can affect the eyes of those people eager to resume outdoor activities and enjoy the warmer weather. The use of sunglasses, often viewed as mere fashion accessories, should be considered a necessary precaution for protecting one's eyes from the sun's ultraviolet rays (UV).

"There has been extensive media coverage warning of the sun's detrimental effects on aging of the skin and the occurrence of skin cancer. Not as widely known is the evidence that, over many years, the ultraviolet rays of the sun can permanently damage eyes which are unprotected," states S. Jerome Holtz, M.D., an ophthalmologist and medical director of The Eye Care Center of New Jersey at 108-112 Broughton Ave., Bloomfield.

"My colleagues and I recommend wearing full-spectrum UV absorbent sunglasses to protect the long-term health of your eyes when driving, engaging in sports activities, or whenever outdoors during daylight for any period of time, at any time of the year. It is important to keep in mind that using darkly tinted glasses without adequate UV protection causes the eyes to dilate. This may permit more harmful rays to reach one's eyes than if no glasses are worn," he said.

The American Academy of Ophthalmology cited a dozen studies, conducted over the past ten years, which suggested that "long hours in the sun without proper eye protection increase your chances of developing eye disease."

Long-term exposure to UV-A and UV-B light rays has been linked to the formation of cataracts, which cloud the eye's natural lens, the studies reported.

Dr. Holtz, who has performed more than 5,000 cataract operations noted, "After cataract surgery, one's eyes are more vulnerable, making it imperative to wear glasses that filter the sun's rays."

The academy warned that unprotected exposure to some intense light sources can cause a permanent central vision loss or a painful condition of the cornea, called photokeratitis.

Dr. Jonathan W. Dittkoff, M.D., the corneal specialist at The Eye Care Center, cautioned, "Looking directly at the sun or the increasingly popular tanning lights must be avoided."

"People who have retinal disease must be very careful to protect their eyes, even when outdoors for short periods of time and in overcast conditions," he said.

"Macular degeneration, a retinal disease which has been associated with UV exposure, is one of the leading causes of blindness in adults over the age of 55 in the United States. Also, certain medications can cause photosensitization, making your eyes and your skin more likely to suffer damage from the sun's rays. Individuals should discuss this possibility with their physicians when new medications are prescribed," Dr. Dittkoff said.

Since even short-term exposure to the sun has been known to affect night vision, wearing sunglasses which block the harmful rays is advised when golfing, exercising outdoors, or even just going for a walk. The academy recommended purchasing sunglasses that block 99 percent to 100 percent of both UV-A and UV-B rays (wavelengths up to 400nm). Wraparound sunglasses and brimmed hats further reduce the amount of damaging UV rays that can reach one's eyes.

Many people purchase polarized lenses, which diminish reflected glare and are especially helpful when driving. However, the purchaser should be sure that the polarized lenses also provide UV protection.

When selecting sunglasses, Dr. Dittkoff recommended reading labels carefully to determine if UV blockage is adequate, and discussing the latest technology in sunglass protection with a knowledgeable optician.

Facing Osteoporosis: Women at Risk

By Annette Cozzarelli-Franklin, M.D.
(First in a three-part series)

Virtually everyone has seen aging women whose posture and height have been affected when fractures of the small bones — or vertebrae — in their spinal columns collapse that bone structure.

This is what unchecked osteoporosis — literally porous bones — can do. Twenty-five million Americans, 80 percent of them women, suffer from some degree of the disease.

Osteoporosis becomes more prevalent after women reach menopause. Once her body's natural estrogen supply diminishes, a woman experiences bone mass loss at an average rate of three percent.

The activity of osteoclasts (bone-absorbing cells) outpaces activity of osteoblasts (bone-building cells). Although bone-building takes place throughout life, the process cannot overcome the rate of bone loss for some women after menopause without medical intervention.

Osteoporotic bones, often called brittle, present a dangerous threshold for fracture. Even a simple fall that ordinarily would cause bruising can break bones. At least 1.5 million people with osteoporosis experience such fractures from falls or spontaneous collapse of brittle bones.

The physical impact of osteoporosis is compounded by the tremendous toll people pay with their emotions, social lives and finances. Fractures of the hip, spine and arm produce more than $10 billion a year in U.S. health costs.

Osteoporosis can lead to long hospital or nursing home stays and even can be potentially fatal. Women who are bedridden, sometimes for more than a month, can develop unhealing pressure ulcerations, commonly called bed sores, pneumonia, and deep vein blood clots that can travel to the lungs.

Women should recognize that although natural menopause has been cited as the danger point for osteoporosis, bone loss goes on throughout life and can begin much earlier. Some women experience premature ovarian failure, either from early menopause or because they have undergone surgery to remove their ovaries or chemotherapy for ovarian cancer.

Because estrogen production primarily comes from the ovaries, their removal sets off the escalating bone loss progression that would have occurred years later.

Even without premature or medically-induced menopause, women begin losing bone mass without enough bone-building compensation as early as their mid-thirties, at a rate of one percent yearly, depending on nutrition and exercise patterns.

Certain populations are predisposed to osteoporosis. These include small-boned, fair-skinned women, sedentary females, those with a genetic history of the condition, and predisposed women whose ancestors come from northern Europe, British Isles, Japan and China.

Women with chronic illnesses that prevent exercise or those using corticosteroids on an extended basis for asthma or arthritic conditions also face bone loss. Smoking and excessive alcohol intake also contribute to the condition.

Early-stage osteoporosis can be asymptomatic, or can produce mild backaches, often thought of as normal aches and pains of daily living. When a postmenopausal woman feels days of intense spinal pain, then nothing, she may have undergone an osteoporotic vertebral fracture. Enough of these cause the "dowager's hump" generations of women have endured, with the accompanying inability to digest food comfortably or to take full breaths.

Fortunately, early diagnostic tools, awareness and treatment technology — options not available a decade ago — now give women the potential to combat osteoporosis early in life and once it has presented its life-threatening profile.

O'Brien, Meyers earn assisted living certification

In preparation for the opening of the Assisted Living Residence at the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center at Kearny, two top administrators of Clara Maass Medical Center were among the first to graduate this year from a Certified Assisted Living administrators' course offered by the New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services.

Billiejean M. O'Brien, vice president of Home Health and Continuing Care, and Patricia Meyers, assistant vice president of Home Health and Continuing Care, recently completed the 64-hour course required for administrators of assisted care facilities, one of the fastest growing sectors in today's alternative healthcare industry.

The intensive training course focused on several aspects of patient care within the assisted living atmosphere, including a patient's independence, individuality, privacy and dignity, all within a home-like setting.

The two Clara Maass administrators utilized the newly gathered information and certification as they planned for the May 1 opening of the 30-unit Assisted Living Residence at the Clara Maass Continuing Care Center at Kearny.

"It really provides people with an alternative to nursing home placement, one that is more home-like and residential in nature than what most people have been exposed to before," O'Brien said. "It provides an opportunity for Clara Maass to add another link in its continuum of care."

"It happens to be the most talked about alternative to nursing home care ever," Meyers said.

The Continuing Care Center at Kearny is among the first licensed assisted living residences in northern New Jersey and features 30 assisted living units, located in a beautiful facility on Belgrove Drive. It is aimed at responding to the special needs of adults through a progressive concept that supports dignity, quality of life, independence and good health.

Among the features of the Continuing Care Center at Kearny are 24-hour services that include three waiter-served meals daily, weekly housekeeping, social, recreational and educational programs, daily resident visits and safety checks, a telephone message service, cable-television-ready units, scheduled transportation to shopping areas and round-the-clock emergency response.

In addition to healthcare needs, assistance with daily living tasks is provided by personal care attendants, whose respect for residents' personal needs is combined with effective, quality care.

For more information on the Assisted Living Residence in the Continuing Care Center at Kearny, call 955-1960.

'Hands on Health'

Balancing nutrition with an active lifestyle

By Robert Ruffalo, PT, DC, CCSP

Is the fountain of youth really a myth? The latest trends in nutritional supplements points to fashionable tablets taken to help just about anything! From Ginseng to improve your sex life to Antioxidants to prolong life to Melatonin to improve your sleep, advertisements in popular tabloids promise that all you have to do is keep swallowing tablets to maintain a longer, more fulfilling, and healthier life.

It's not quite that simple and easy. Research consistently shows that the effects of exercise training programs and dietary regimens aid in the prevention of various diseases, particularly cardiovascular disease.

"I take about 20 different kinds of nutritional supplements a day and I don't feel the effects promised by the nutritional gurus," exclaimed my patient, Melanie. "I have to take one of these, two of these, and four of the green ones and I don't feel any younger or more refreshed," she further commented.

The combination of an active lifestyle, combined with nutritional supplements is the answer. Recently, Chinese folk medicine is getting a second look by modern investigators of physical medicine and nutritionists alike. For example, ciwuja (pronounced su-wahja) has been proven to decrease heart rate and increase oxygen intake per heartbeat. It also shifts the body's energy source from carbohydrates to fat during exercise. But the most major benefit is that this herbal enhancer lacks any known side effects.

Unlike the popular steroids which have been known to produce a wide spectrum of adverse side effects, nutritional supplements are the least likely to cause harm and may serve as insurance for those who don't eat well. In our fast-paced lives, many of us cut corners by eating fast foods. While most people think the overabundance of fast foods in our diets is the problem, it's really the fact that they contain too many calories and too much salt.

A sedentary person will not be able to handle a steady diet of "MacFatFoods" without suffering the consequences. Many studies make it clear that if you maintain a physically active lifestyle, eat a well-balanced diet and incorporate nutritional supplements into your diet, you will reap the benefits!

Furthermore, the National Institutes on Health has recently opened an office on dietary supplements which examines claims made by supplement manufacturers. While the FDA focuses on regular pharmaceutical products, the NIH focuses on herbal therapies.

Dr. Robert Ruffalo, licensed chiropractor and physical therapist, practices at A T.E.A.M. Approach Chiropractic & Physical Therapy Center, located at 265 Broad Street in Bloomfield. OUR OPINION

Here comes the express!

There are a lot of things to be said for making Belleville into a center of transportation and commerce, but running an express train down the Amtrak line across three busy streets in Silver Lake is not one of them.

When our own Marie Strumolo Burke warned the citizenry, "This could be the end of Silver Lake!" she was not being overly-dramatic.

Unless a tunnel is built that will carry rail traffic under - and not on - Belmont Avenue, Franklin Street and Heckel Street, you will have converted the community into a railroad yard.

Even it were not an invitation to disaster to have rapid transit trolleys racing across those streets, the noise factor would be enough to make life unbearable in the area.

And there is a possibility that passenger trains could be routed through Silver Lake, in the wake of the demise of the Montclair Connection.

Using the Amtrak line to carry trains of the Boonton Line to the Meadowlands and beyond is actually being explored as an alternative to the Montclair Connection.

In point of fact, we do not oppose the improvement of New Jersey's commuter train operations.

Properly done, it could reduce highway congestion and air pollution, and help ratables. In South Orange, for example, the shaving of 22 minutes in commuting time by a simple re-routing of trains from Hoboken to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan has had a real effect on real estate.

Besides improving property values, it has helped South Orange to keep its municipal tax rate exactly the same for four years in a row.

But ramming the trains through Belleville will not help. How can anyone expect the community of Silver Lake to survive with railroad traffic slicing it like a pie?

If a sane method is found to bring traffic through - and we see a tunnel as the only feasible answer - the result would mean prosperity.

Street-level transit will bring desolation.

The savings mount?

The law requires that the Board of Education provide schooling only for residents of the school district.

It has an obligation to remove from the rolls students whose parents or legal guardians do not reside here.

So the drive on "illegals" has always been a phoney issue. All school boards have diligently examined the residency of each student.

The argument is made that this examination was not done with sufficient rigor, and that only in the past two years has a real effort been made to find the so-called "illegals".

A part time investigator has been hired at the rate of $18,000 a year to augment the services of the current attendance officer.

Lawsuits have been launched against families who allegedly enrolled their children illegally in the school system.

The investigation into illegal residency has turned up more illegal apartments created by homeowners who are trying to stay afloat financially than it has illegal students.

The fines that are being imposed on the families found to have children in the system illegally may look good on paper, but are hardly likely to be collected.

The only thing certain will be the legal fees the school district will pay to meet appeals against those fines.

In previous times, the families would have been quietly advised to take their children out of the system. Under the pressure of a grand-standing school trustee, punitive lawsuits have been started which will produce nothing for the schools, except legal bills.

Claims have been made that the cost of educating an "illegal" student is $10,000 a year. None of this seems to be reflected in school expenditures, which seem to stay the same regardless of the number of pupils who drop out of the system.

State aid of $5,000 to $7,500 per student does disappear with each departure, however. If we take credit for eliminating 100 students over a three-year period, we must also realize that we have eliminated $500,000 to $750,000 a year in state aid.

That is perfectly legal and proper, and should be of some comfort to the taxpayers who would rather not have the state aid.

If the only contribution you can claim is that you put non-resident students out of the school system, you have simply emphasized the importance of the attendance officer, who has been doing the same thing all these years without the fanfare.

No school board has ever deliberately closed its eyes to the presence of illegal students.

And there is no certainty that every child who drops out of the system is actually an "illegal". The probability is that most do so because the family happens to be moving out of town.

Or, do you take credit for moving families out of town?

YOUR OPINION

Paserchia gives position

To the editor:

I took great offense to the title of last week's article, titled "Paserchia offers budget cuts, but they're a mystery."

As I explained to the Belleville Times editor, Howard Klausner, I did not believe it was proper that I share the more than $1.5 million in budget cuts I proposed with the press until my Township Council colleagues and the township manager had the opportunity to review them.

I also explained that I had many questions regarding these cuts, and before I could ask the council to vote on them, I needed more information and further explanation.

When Mr. Klausner asked me for information because he was writing an article, I felt I could accommodate him by issuing a press release the mentioned some cuts specifically, but generalized my overall approach to the budget-cutting process. I believed this was sufficient until the time came when I offered final cuts for the council's consideration.

In my opinion, your headline was misleading and did a disservice to my goal of cutting the budget to avoid any tax increase.

Angie Paserchia
Councilwoman-At-Large

Budget opposed

To the editor:

Belleville residents should prepare for tax increases of $200 to $600, courtesy of the Township Council, who has introduced a budget calling for a 53-point tax increase.

The Council-Manager form of government we have had since 1990 has been on a spending binge never before experienced in Belleville. Excessive raises have been awarded. New positions have been created.

Our water rates were doubled. Out debt has been increased to almost $20 million through bonding not only for roads and building costs, but also for such current expense items as copy machines and installing used radios in public works vehicles.

We, the homeowners and tenants of Belleville, are the "stockholders" of this corporation. Our seven councilpersons are our "board of directors."

On Tuesday, June 10, a public hearing will be held on this out-of-control budget. It is important that we all attend and demand a stop to this outrageous spending.

Former Councilman Frank Noonan once stated that the Council was "spending like drunken sailors." Let's all show up and sober them up!

In addition to large tax increases, we are all suffering a decline in our property values.

Vincent J. Frantantoni

Let's work together

To the editor:

On Tuesday, May 27, I appeared before the Township Council on behalf of many Belleville senior citizens who are concerned with the proposed 53 point tax increase.

At that time, I did not have the opportunity to fully explain my position.

First, I did not advocate that any particular municipal department should be eliminated. Rather, I believe, the Township Council must review every option available to them to save tax dollars. The budget committee provided many suggestions. Each and every one of these options should be looked into.

Second, I believe that many senior citizens who reside in Belleville and are retired could provide valuable assistance and ideas to our council in their efforts to hold the line on taxes.

Let's work together, seniors and the council, to keep Belleville a great community.

Joseph Fornarotto

Miss Blossom writes

To the editor:

I would like to thank the Blossomfest Committee for the honor of choosing me to be "Little Miss Blossom '97." Everyone was so very nice to me and I had a wonderful time.

I want to thank all of the vendors of Belleville for their very generous and nice presents. I especially loved my trophy. I will cherish it forever.

I will remember this very special day for the rest of my life. A very special thank you to my wonderful teacher, Mrs. Idleberger from the Arthur M. Pico School #8, who teaches me to be the very best I can be.

I would also like to thank Mr. McGrath for letting me ride in his really cool car. Thank you to all of you who made this day very special for me.

HOROSCOPES

June 8-14

ARIES — March 21/April 20

While you need to voice your opinions can get you in trouble, it won't this week when it comes to your career. Superiors at work are interested in hearing what you have to say. You even may increase your status. That special someone wants to step up your relationship. Consider your true feelings before agreeing.

TAURUS — April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn about accepting help from co-workers. It's a busy week, and you are overloaded with assignments. Getting some help is the only way you'll get things done. As for your family life, you won't feel threatened. Everyone is there to support you, not to aggravate you. Gemini plays a role.

GEMINI — May 22/June 21

You need to think fast on your feet early in the week as problems arise at work. Your ideas can remedy the situation and make you the star of the office. You'll be in the spotlight when it comes to romance too. That special someone you've been interested in finally notices you. Make your move.

CANCER — June 22/July 22

A co-worker's mistake puts you in a bad mood, because you're the person who has to repair the damage. Stay calm, instead of getting angry and upset. Your decorum will serve you much better than self-pity. A loved one reveals a secret to you. While it shocks you, you must be supportive and help him or her out.

LEO — July 23/August 23

Your arrogant nature takes control of you at work early in the week. You deserve the praise you get from superiors, but you shouldn't get cocky. This only makes you look bad. A close friend tells you that he or she has romantic feelings for you. Consider your true feelings before rejecting him or her.

VIRGO — Aug 24/Sept 22

You have nothing to worry about this week. Everything at work goes smoothly, and you make great progress on a project. As for loved ones, everyone is supportive and concerned about your needs. Your love life is even doing well. That special someone responds to your advances.

LIBRA — Sept 23/Oct 23

You need to seek balance this week. From your career to your family, everything seems to be overwhelming you. Take some time for yourself to set your priorities straight. You can clear your mind and create a "plan of attack." Remember to think of your needs; you have to look out for No. 1.

SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't let your ego get the best of you this week. Even though you're making great strides at work, you have to remember that you're still the employee — not the employer. A close friend introduces you to an intriguing person. Don't be afraid to get to know him or her better.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov 23/Dec 21

Hold your temper in check this week — even when your plans seem to backfire. You're an intelligent person who can deal with these problems without blaming others. Just remain calm and rational. A loved one turns to you in a time of need, because you've always been willing to listen. Don't disappoint him or her.

CAPRICORN — Dec 22/Jan 20

Your gentle nature serves you well at work this week. When everyone seems to be stabbing each other in the back, your steadiness gets the office back to normal. Superiors appreciate your help. A romantic relationship ends, but don't get discouraged. He or she wasn't right for you.

AQUARIUS — Jan 21/Feb 18

It is smooth sailing at work this week. You finish a difficult project and help a manager organize a new program. Your efforts will not be forgotten. However, when it comes to romance, you hit some rough seas. Those few dareless nights turn into what seems like a long dry spell. Don't get discouraged.

PISCES — Feb 19/March 20

You feel like you're being held back at work this week. Perhaps it's time for you to move on. However, before you burn any bridges with co-workers, make sure you've crossed to the other side. That special someone calls you for a date. Say yes.

'Lost World' loses story, gains excitement

By Kelly Tahaney

Rating:  1/2

At last the sequel to "Jurassic Park" has come to a theater near you.

Spielberg movie brought the dinos to "Lost World" but where's the plot?

Kids should love this movie for its random action and cool effects.

However, it was a bit too hokey at times.

Jeff Goldblum is okay as the scientist guy but he's overshadowed by a photographer, of all people!

The story goes like this: Goldblum's paleontologist girlfriend runs off to another dino infested island in Costa Rica.

This is the original island from hence the pre-historic beasts were spawned.

Goldblum's teenage daughter stows away in the island-bound boat and Jeff ceases to become a factor in the rest of the movie.

There are some intense scenes which include plenty of blood and guts, cracking of bones and such.

The lack of variety of dinos was disappointing too.

However, to his credit Spielberg maintains the suspense and keeps your interest for most of the film.

It was a bit long and the ending was right out of Godzilla...the 1920's version.

Overall, see "Lost World" if you're under 17 definitely. Seventeen and above...wait for the video.

This film is now playing at the Bellevue in Montclair.

Belleville SPORTS

BUC SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Luzzi's pitching was key to '87 Lady Bucs

(Third in a series)

It's been ten years since Carl Corino's 1987 Lady Bucs put together a record breaking season at Belleville High School.

"Looking back on the books from that season," Corino said, "it brings back a lot of memories. When I see the box scores, I start to remember key moments from some of those games. Those kids were so mentally tough. They never let things get them down."

The team had won its first 13 games of the season before a 3-1 loss to DePaul High School in a night game at the Belleville Little League field. Back in the 1980's, Corino would schedule a few games at the Marotti Little League field, so that the girls could play some night games in a different type of environment.

The team had a good mix of youth and experience on the roster. Laurie Dondarski was the lead off hitter and played second base. Stacey Johansen was the number two hitter and either played shortstop or pitched. Catcher Laura Caruso batted third and Janine Luzzi was the cleanup hitter and either pitched, or was designated hitter.

Trisha Tramultola batted fifth and played either third or shortstop. Raquel Melson hit sixth and played center field. Carol Morrison hit seventh and played right. Cindy Ruggiero batted eighth and played first and Maryann McArthur was the nine hitter and either DH'd or played left field.

Luzzi, Dondarski, Johansen and Caruso are all members of the Belleville High School Hall of Fame today.

Luzzi's contributions from 1987 were outstanding. A 21 game winner in 1986, she shared the pitching responsibilities in '87 with Johansen, a freshman who arrived with great expectations to the varsity level.

"Janine was the pitcher I went to when we played the tougher teams on our schedule," Corino said. "She was a junior, she had been there and was tough. I had the luxury in '87 of having two talented pitchers. I certainly wanted to use them both and not over tire any one player."

"When Luzzi didn't pitch, she was still one of our key players. She was our clean up hitter and the catalyst to the offense."

The team opened the '87 season with a 7-1 win over Hackensack. In game seven, the girls won a key 2-1 decision over Paramus Catholic.

"That was a key early win for us," the coach said. "Luzzi pitched and was excellent."

Belleville broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth when Johansen tripled and scored on a Caruso sacrifice fly.

Two games later, the team won an exciting 3-2 game over Clifton, back then the teams chief NNJL rival. In 1987, the league was still in the Essex-Passaic format.

"If we were going to have any chance of winning the league title," Corino said, "we had to win that game. It was a big win for the team because it showed them they could compete with anyone in our league."

Belleville took a 3-0 lead and held on for the 3-2 win with Luzzi hurling a two hit, complete game. Belleville had just two hits in the game but made the most of their opportunities.

Following the first loss of the season to DePaul in the 14th game, the team beat Bloomfield and Eastside before losing its second game, to Clifton.

The county tournament began and Belleville, which had lost in the '86 county final to Caldwell, 2-1, made its statement for supremacy with a 13-3 win over Cedar Grove in the semi finals.

"That was the best game we had played so far that season," Corino said. "Luzzi had gotten hurt, but she was back and was the DH for that game."

The win put Belleville back in the county final, once again opposite Caldwell. And, in that game, Corino's team suffered a heartbreaking 3-2 loss.

"We're up 2-0 in the top of the seventh," the coach said. "Stacey's pitching a great game. But Caldwell gets on base with a hit by a pitch, a bloop hit, a sac bunt, a walk, error and then, with the infield in, a blooper that goes over second base and the winning runs score. We lose without a ball ever leaving the infield."

The loss could have been demoralizing, but the team would not give up.

Next week, we'll continue this series with a look at the state tournament and a key game with Union for the Group IV, Section II championship.

See you next week.

Two shells advance to national semis

Crew team wraps up season

By Kolleen Myers

The 1997 Belleville varsity crew team ended its season at St. Andrew's Academy in Delaware where the Scholastic Rowing Association held its 63rd annual regatta. This regatta is informally known as the Nationals. Here, the Bucs posted respectable results from the six boats that were entered, as two advanced to the semi finals.

In the qualifying heats, the boys junior four placed fourth, the boys lightweight four finished sixth, the girls senior four took fourth and the girls lightweight four came in sixth.

The two boats that qualified for the semi finals were the boys mid-weight four and the girls' junior four shells. The midweight four took a third place in their qualifying heat and advanced to the semi finals. The girls junior four garnered a second place finish behind Boone, a team from Florida.

In the semi finals, the competition was much stiffer. The first race of the day was the girls' junior four competition. In this race, Belleville was up against teams from all over the country whom they've never raced before. The Lady Bucs came in fifth place in their semi final, which was not good enough to advance them to the finals.

The boys' midweight four competed next for Belleville. Although they pulled their hardest, the team finished in fourth place behind LaSalle and was unable to advance to the next round.

Despite the tough competition they faced, the Belleville crew team had a productive and successful season.

Carnival lasts through this Sunday

BBC, BSC promising fun for everyone

Let the games begin.

The Belleville Baseball Commission and the Belleville Softball Commission are joining forces once again to host their second annual carnival extravaganza from Wednesday June 4 through Sunday June 8 at Belleville High School, 100 Passaic Avenue, Belleville.

The carnival will open from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Wednesday June 4, Thursday, June 5 and Friday, June 6, 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., on Saturday, June 7, and from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Sunday, June 8. Various challenging games of chance along with many exciting kiddie rides will be on hand. Several special features will highlight the five day event as well.

One added attraction will be the dunk tank. The BBC & BSC are finalizing negotiations with Belleville PBA Local 28 to have a dunk-a-cop competition with all proceeds generated from this attraction to go to the PBA as a token of the BBC's and the BSC's appreciation for its assistance with furnishing the policing needed for the carnival.

The BBC and BSC are also attempting to blend in a dunk-a-coach and/or politician competition. Other special attractions include the speed pitch, the computer portman and the test-your-strength challenge.

A special offer is available to those attending the carnival on Saturday, June 7 and Sunday, June 8 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. as for just $10, kids can go on as many rides as they want. In an effort to assist Belleville's youth in need, the BBC and BSC will have designated areas for special raffles to take place for the Andrew Idenden Fund, the Friends of Jamie Conway, the Jr. Legion baseball program and the girls' softball all-stars.

Plenty of traditional carnival foods and treats will be on hand. Those include zeppoles, pizza, soft ice cream, sausage and peppers, hot dogs, cheese steaks and more.

All regular proceeds from the carnival are split equally between the BBC and the BSC and go toward purchasing safer playing equipment, proper field maintenance, quality uniforms, and the hiring of certified umpires. The organizations will once again be associating with State Fair Amusement Corporation to arrange the carnival.

For more information on the carnival, contact BBC president Bruce Morgan at 759-1663 or BSC director Mary Anne Lopreato at 759-8313. To sponsor the event, call BBC vice president Anthony Sessa at 450-4723.

Summer should be busy time in town

By Mike Lamberti

The arrival of summer means good news for our local athletes. It means school is over, and while that also constitutes the end of the sports year, it is far from a quiet time in our township when it comes to sports.

The American Legion baseball team begins play this week and will play a tough schedule that ends on July 14, with the playoffs set for July 19.

All legion home games will be contested at Belleville High School. There is a schedule for the '97 Legion team printed in this weeks issue.

Baseball will be a prominent sport in town. While the Essex County Baseball League has been disbanded, Belleville will be playing semi pro ball this summer in the prestigious Metropolitan League.

The season began last week and will be played through early August. The team plays a 35 game schedule. The Belleville Twins will play its home games at Belleville High School.

This is usually a very competitive brand of baseball, played by men of college level, or higher. We'll hopefully have a schedule printed in next weeks issue and coverage of the team will begin next week.

The Belleville Recreation Department will be very busy. There are plenty of summer time events for the kids. A listing of those events is printed in this weeks Recreation Roundup.

Over the next few weeks, we'll begin wrapping up the spring sports season. Our Quad Town teams will be announced, beginning in the June 12 issue.

We should have some feature stories over the summer months, and if space permits, the return of our "Flashback" series.

The Buccaneer football team begins a new era with Patrick Dowling as its head coach. The team generally begins pre season camp in early August and we'll have coverage of Dowling's first camp when the time comes.

If anyone in town has something special they would like covered, please feel free to call the sports department at the newspaper.

Recreation round up has plenty to offer

Applications for the Belleville Recreation 1997 Fall Sports programs are now available in the schools and at the Recreation office. Boys and girls, ages 6-14, may participate in Recreation Soccer. Belleville resident children who will be 6 by December 31 and who will be no older than 14 on December 31 are eligible. Nobody above 8th grade can play, and all returning players must re-apply.

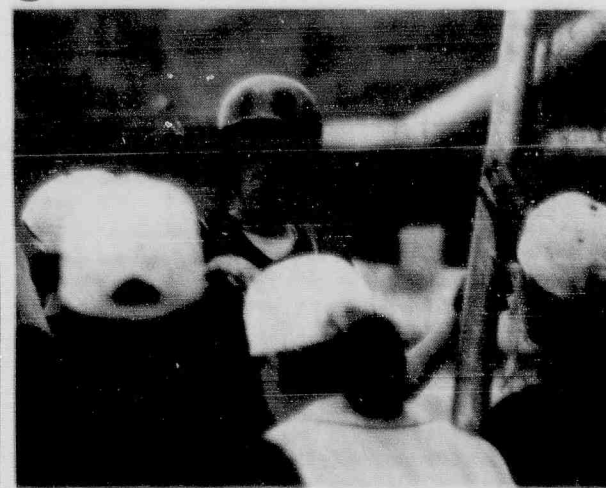

Boys ages 7-10 can play touch football, if they so choose. Belleville boys who will be 7 by December 31 and who will be no older than 10 on December 31 are eligible. All returning players must re-apply.

For both soccer and touch football, all completed applications must be returned to the Recreation Department, 407 Joralemon Street, with birth certificates. The registration deadline for soccer is August 1, and the deadline for touch football will be August 22. Children are advised not to register for more than one fall sport since football, soccer and touch football games and practice schedules conflict.

For the convenience of persons unable to register during daytime office hours, registration will also take place at the Recreation office on Wednesday nights, 6-8 p.m., from June 11-August 6.

Thanks, Kim, for a great career at B.H.S.

Kim Mahoney accepts congratulations from teammates after hitting homer during game last month. Mahoney was a top athlete at Belleville High School during her four year career.

Mahoney, here playing first base, was also a standout basketball and volleyball player for the Lady Bucs. Injuries curtailed her basketball season, but she still put up some good numbers.

Mahoney is taking off for second base here. She was an effective lead off hitter for Lady Bucs this year and an outstanding first baseman.

Pharmacy Footnotes

Vincent Cozzarelli Reg. Ph.

HOW DO YOU TAKE YOUR COUGHING?

Before choosing an over-the-counter medication to self-treat a cough, identify the type of cough you have. If it is a non-productive, dry cough, look for a cough remedy containing dextromethorphan. This synthetic morphine derivative generally stops irritating hacking within 15 to 30 minutes by increasing the brain's cough threshold. Thus, this cough-suppressing agent, known as an antitussive, works much in the way that an analgesic numbs pain. An antitussive is not appropriate for a productive cough, which is characterized by a series of expirations that clear airways of excretions. Instead, an expectorant may be used to loosen phlegm that might interfere with breathing and possibly set the stage for lung infections.

If you have any question as to which medications would be best for your cough, ask our pharmacist at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue (759-1956 or 759-1968). We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Father's Day and graduation greeting cards, Russell Stover candies, transistor radios and many more gift items are available from us. Hours Daily 9am-10pm, Sundays 9am-9pm.

HINT: If a cough of any type persists for more than two to three days, a doctor should be consulted.
