Mental health funding ended

By Howard Klausner

Community Mental Health Services has lost the $40,000 annual donation provided by Belleville, presumably for economy reasons.

Alice Ricci, director of the agency, says she does not see the economy of the move, particularly since it endangers services to Belleville estimated at $215,000 a year.

According to a memorandum sent to the Township Council - but not acknowledged by it - more than 1,000 Belleville residents are seen monthly by the agency.

Some 10 domestic violence cases are handled monthly, 12 child abuse cases, and three referrals from the Belleville Juvenile Conference Board.

The agency provides care in cases of drug or alcohol abuse, mental health problems and it maintains a school for emotionally disturbed children, to which the Belleville school district sends some 20 children a year.

The agency operates on a budget of $2 million a year, most of which is provided by government agencies.

"We'll have to try to develop some new sources, to make up for the Belleville cut. I'm saddened by it, but I don't see it as the end of the world," Ms. Ricci said.

"What I don't understand is the discourtesy that was shown to us, and the lack of consultation, after many years of close contact, and long service to the township."

The Liloia Family saga

By Howard Klausner

Dr. Michael P. Liloia, who practiced dentistry for half a century in Belleville, died at home on Sept. 3. He was 77.

He was one of six brothers and two sisters who grew up in the midst of Depression and war, five of whom pursued professional careers.

They were the children of Peter and Mary Sibilia Liloia, growing up in the Big Tree neighborhood of Nutley and Belleville, where immigrant Italian-American families struggled to find a foothold in American society.

The Liloias were distinguished by the fact that so many of them went on to college and professional careers, in a neighborhood where this was exceptional.

The father, a native of Avellino, Italy, had been a builder. His first job in America was digging ditches. Ultimately, he did go on to become a contractor.

Mary Sibilia was a native of Newark when she met Peter Liloia. They were married around 1910 and settled in Big Tree.

The first born, Nicholas, was born in 1912. "You are going to go to college," his father told him, and he did. When he applied for the University of Maryland School of dentistry, his family financed his education by mortgaging their house, which Peter had built.

When he received his degree in 1934, he could not afford furniture for an office, so the family shared its resources with him to get his office into shape, and his first customers were quite often unable to pay for his services.

When World War II came, he was commissioned in the Army. After the war, he practiced in Nutley, until his death in 1965.

The next son was Louis, who was the first to enter the Army, in 1942. He contracted Parkinson's Disease after his discharge, and he gave up his enrollment at a college of Aeronautical Engineering. Louis died in 1990.

Michael P. Liloia followed his older brother, Michael, to the University of Maryland School of Dentistry. On graduation in 1943, he was commissioned a Captain in the Air Force.

After the war, he opened his practice in Belleville. He married Anna Marie Vogel, and the couple had two sons, Michael and Peter, now a Doctor of Dentistry, and daughter Suzanne Feuhrer. Dr. Liloia had six grandchildren.

Three brothers attended the Newark College of Engineering, now known as New Jersey Institute of Technology.

Dr. Michael Liloia

Gerald Liloia became a Chemical Engineer. During World War II, he served his country by working on the Manhattan Project, which produced the atomic bomb. He died in 1987.

Gerald married the former Sondra Lowitz, and their son, Philip, is an attorney working with the New Jersey Legislature.

Anthony Liloia served in the Navy during World War II. A mechanical engineer, he worked at the Picatinny Arsenal until his retirement. He now lives in Clifton.

Peter Liloia Jr. became a civil engineer. His son, Peter Liloia III, is an attorney. Son Michael Liloia is a graduate of Princeton University, now in merchandising.

Daughter Yolanda married Laurence Perrotta, who was severely wounded at the Ruhr River while serving as a First Lieutenant. He set up practice as a Certified Public Accountant in Nutley, until his death in 1992.

Daughter Laura Jean Ross teaches English Literature in high school near Princeton. Daughter Mary Perrotta teaches Romance Languages at Nutley High School. Daughter Yolanda Evans is an attorney for the Nutley Board of Adjustment.

Josephine Liloia married Anthony Iannicelli. Son Anthony is an engineer. Son Peter is an attorney with the Government Accounting Office in Washington. Son Joseph is pharmacist.

Dr. Michael Liloia was a member of the American, New Jersey and Essex County dental associations, the Gorgas Odontological Society, Nutley Elks Lodge No. 1290, Belleville American Legion Post 105 and Amvets Post 30, Nutley.

Born in Nutley, he moved to Belleville in 1946.

A Mass for Dr. Liloia was offered Saturday in St. Peter's Church, Belleville, following the funeral from the S.W. Brown & Son Funeral Home, Nutley.

ENDANGERED SPECIES? - Belleville Township Manager Raymond Kimble is target of drive for change of government back to commission form. He declined comment on certification of the petitions on Friday.

Change of government petitions are certified

By Howard Klausner

Deputy Township Clerk Kelly Nash has certified the petitions seeking a return to commission government as meeting the required number of signatures.

Unless challenged successfully in the courts, the petitions put the question on the November ballot.

Township sources indicate there will be an effort to disqualify the petitions, although no official or private individual has announced plans to do so.

The required number of valid signatures was 3,594 - or 20 percent of the registered voters.

The number of signatures certified was 3,912, or 319 more than required.

The petition group, headed by Zoning Board Member Jerry DelGuercio and former Board of Education Member Thomas Fuscaldo, presented a total of 4,690 signatures, of which 775 were disqualified, on grounds ranging from illegibility to non-registration.

Earlier, some 3,800 signatures were brought in, but after examination, only 3,300 were accepted. The petitioners were given an additional 10 days in which to obtain sufficient signatures, and according to Miss Nash, they succeeded.

If the voters endorse the change, it will mean that an election will be held in May to select five commissioners.

If the proposal is defeated, the voters will select three At-large members of the Council.

Voter turnout is expected to be higher than usual because of the election of a Governor. In 1993, 60 percent of the registered voters came out. In 1995, an off-year, only 23 percent of the voters went to the polls.

There are currently 17,907 registered voters in Belleville.

Members of the Council have wavered in their expressed feelings about a change in government. Mayor Mario Drozd has issued statements denouncing commission government as corrupt.

Charzewski, pay phones and scavenger Tales of wrongdoing!

By Howard Klausner

Angry members of the Belleville Township Council threatened lawsuits against Henry Charzewski, a standard fixture at Council meetings, after he said that some of them should be in jail.

Demands that he back up his claims by going to the Prosecutor's office, or otherwise face action for libel, came from Mayor Mario Drozd and Council Members William Escott, Jim Messina and Victor Canning.

Escott, a retired Belleville Detective Captain, was particularly incensed. He asked Township Clerk Mary Lou Hood for a transcript of Charzewski's statements, which came during the period when the public is allowed to address the public.

Charzewski asked loudly, "Didn't they put silicone instead of cement to point the bricks of Town Hall?" He has stated at previous sessions that repair work on the Municipal Building was done improperly.

Another citizen's complaint about overcharges at "bootleg" pay telephones brought on a litany of complaints.

Louis Celfo said that he had reversed charges on a call of less than five minutes, and a bill for $34 was received.

Council Member Escott said, "Youngsters trying to get picked up by car after a game have been charged $6 and $7 for a call."

Mayor Drozd said, "I was charged $3.40 to dial an 800 number!"

Township Attorney Robert Giordano said that the private telephone company pay phones were usually on state or county highways, and not under township jurisdiction.

Raymond Vander Zwaan said he had seen a scavenger take a bribe to take away debris from a neighbor's house, where new siding was being installed.

Township Manager Ray Kimble said he would investigate.

Aside from That

By Howard Klausner

Al and Betty Bowman Smith are a couple who personify Belleville. Al, a lanky type with the gait of a woodsman and the large, strong hands of a farmer, made his living for 30 years as a route man for the Clinton Milk Co., retiring a few years ago to the comfortable Fairway Avenue Cape Cod he bought in 1952, not far from the house where he was born. "I was born on Fairway. I have lived all my life on Fairway," he says, with justifiable satisfaction. He attended School 10 and was graduated from Belleville High School in 1946. Growing up as a teen-ager during the years of World War II, and his buddy Don Ross were among the boys who occasionally took unscheduled school holidays to work their way to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn where the price of admission might be some aluminum or other scrap metal. . . . "Nobody had a car. We hitch-hiked to the Shore, usually Belmar, and sometimes we slept under the boardwalk." Once, the man who gave him a lift was the Pastor of St. Peter's Church who was on his way to a retreat at Spring Lake. He gave the hitchhiker a stern lecture on skipping school, and drove him the rest of the way to the Shore. Then came graduation, marriage and Patty, Barbara and Thomas, followed by the grandchildren. His grandson, Steven Spillane, 9, last May planted a magic sunflower in the backyard tomato patch. "We have no idea how it took off, it just kept getting bigger and bigger, and then it topped off at about 14 feet, and the flower is about a foot across." Steven suggested it might be a magic beanstalk. Al Smith is susceptible to the idea. Friends brought it to the attention of the Times, and that is how the world finally saw a picture of Al Smith in the press, posed proudly beside the sunflower. . . . His house backs on to the golf links of the Forest Hill Country Club, separated from it by a tiny stream that rises from a bubbling spring not far from Al's house. "My brothers and I used to drink from that spring. I don't know how it is now." The golf course supplied employment for Mr. Smith as a caddie. "We had as many as 8,000 people come to a tourney back in the 40's. Bob Hope and Babe Ruth used to come there. It's still a beautiful course." It supplies a rich, green background to the home that the Smiths have lovingly enlarged and improved over the years. "We just had new siding put on. It cost more than the house did when I bought it." This week, Al and Betty are out on the West Coast. They were scheduled to fly out to Los Angeles and take a rented car up the coast past Big Sur and on up to San Francisco and any other points of interest. "We don't make reservations. I hate the idea of having to keep to a schedule from one place to another. We like to roam free." Possibly a reaction to 30 years of scheduled stops for the dairy. . . . We've all heard of the "Blackboard Jungle", which was the title of a book about teachers in big city public schools in the 1950s. It was not the kind of book to encourage Bruce Kemnitz to enter teaching, but he did, anyway, and sure enough, he found himself in a jungle. It was the Summer of 1992, and Mr. Kemnitz, who now holds the title of Science Supervisor for Grades K-12 in the Belleville school system, found himself in the tropical rain forest of the Central American republic of Belize, on the shore of the Caribbean. He also journeyed to an island off the coast of Belize, South Water Cay, which has some rich examples of tropical flora and fauna. In 1996, he was back in Belize. One of the teachers who accompanied him in 1996 was Sean Devine, who this past summer visited the tropical rain forests of Peru. Both teachers have returned to the Belleville schools with tales of the jungle and all the wonder they can impart to their students. Teachers John Tosato and Ralph Kosberger also went on rain forest journeys in 1994 and 1996. . . . "Some people think we are crazy to do this," Mr. Kemnitz said. "But it is the experience of a lifetime." It also adds credibility to his science courses - particularly when the youngsters learn that rattlesnake meat tastes just like chicken, according to someone who has sampled it.

THE PROVIDERS - Members of the Belleville Music Parents Association prepared picnic hot dogs and the fixings for the band to celebrate the completion of its first week of pre-school practice. The youngsters worked from 9 to 5 for a week. From left are Diane Ceseana, Toni Gotto, Joan Henry and Elaine Teemar.

Furnari endorsed by NJEA

The New Jersey Education Association's (NJEA) Political Action Committee voted recently to endorse Nutley Mayor Garry Furnari in his bid to become the 36th District's state senator.

Furnari is the Democratic contender for the seat currently held by incumbent Sen. John Scott, R-36.

The announcement was made by State NJEA President Dennis Testa.

"I am honored to receive the support of New Jersey's teachers," Furnari commented when he received the good news. "With their support, I will win in November and go to Trenton and fight to improve the lives of all New Jersey citizens, and to fulfill our commitment to ensuring a quality education for all our children."

"Garry Furnari will work hard to ensure quality education for families of the 36th District," said Ro Tangorra, president of the Education Association of Nutley and a member of the delegate assembly to the NJEA.

"As the father of four young children, Garry knows how critical education is for our families - our children, our parents, and our grandparents. Garry also understands the challenges of education funding. Garry will make sure that Trenton finally gives our District our fair share of education funding. And we in the education community knows that in Trenton Garry will fight to make schools free from guns and drugs," she said.

The NJEA represents approximately 150,000 educators throughout New Jersey. Recently, the NJEA announced endorsements for legislative candidates, including Democrats and Republicans. However, NJEA members voted not to endorse Gov. Christine Todd Whitman's re-election campaign.

Prior to Furnari receiving the group's endorsement, the board reviewed his position on several issues of importance to educators and students. They also reviewed Furnari's efforts as commissioner of parks and recreation in Nutley, where he established comprehensive recreation programs for children, and created popular new programs for girls.

"I want to make families first in Trenton by fighting for our fair share of education funding," Furnari said. "Our families deserve better school funding, lower property taxes, real auto insurance reform, and a clean and safe environment for our children. Kids and their grandparents should be able to walk through a gun-free school zone and gun-free parks. I will fight for that for our families. Family means everything to me - that's why I'm running for the New Jersey Senate."

Prior to becoming mayor, Furnari served as the Township Attorney and Municipal Prosecutor for many years.

The headquarters will be open every night until election day.

Anyone who would like to lend a helping hand to aid Assemblymen Kelly and DiGaetano's re-election are invited to attend.

Life's Weaving
My life is but a weaving
Between my God and me.
I may not choose the colors,
He knows what they should be,
For He can view the pattern
Upon the upper side,
While I can see it only
On this, the under side.
Sometimes He weaveth sorrow,
Which seemeth strange to me;
But I will trust His judgement
And work on faithfully.
'Tis He who fills the shuttle,
He knows just what is best,
So I shall weave in earnest
And leave with Him the rest.
At last, when life is ended,
With Him I shall abide.
Then I may view the pattern
Upon the upper side.
Then I shall know the reason
Why pain with joy entwined,
Was woven in the fabric
Of the life that God designed.

Get well wishes to Sylvia Paganelli who is in Clara Maass Hospital's intensive care unit.

Condolences to John McGee on the loss of his sister.

I was shocked to hear of the passing of Dr. Michael Liloia of Belleville. It seems such a short time ago when my wife and I were with him and his lovely wife, Ann, at the Orechio Publications' Christmas party. His death will leave a void among the towns of Belleville and Nutley. To Ann and her family, we offer our sincerest condolences. May he rest in peace.

A couple of weeks ago at the Brunswick Lanes on Washington Avenue in Belleville, Mike Lania, a senior bowler from the Nutley Old Guard, put it all together and came through with 12 strikes in a row to bowl the bowler's dream, a 300 game. I bowl with Mike and he is capable of doing it again. Congratulations, Mike, well done. Willie Fioravanti from the Belleville Seniors bowled a 223. Very good, Willie.

I hear that Bill and Phyllis Grainger are celebrating their anniversary this month. Phyllis is in charge of the arts and crafts at the Tuesday Club. Congratulations.

To Elsie and Andy Horvat and to my good friends, Carmel and Tom Pallante, many happy returns. May the blessing of the Lord be with all of you.

Many happy returns of the day to Phil Livecki, Sam La Sala, Gerry Gerard, Pat Orsogno, Nick Mauncele, Fred Moench, Pat Cavallo and my neighbor, Madeline Aranecki. Also Marion Maggio and Sam Cocuzzo.

A workman, tool box in hand, rang the doorbell. The lady of the house answered, "Good morning, I'm the plumber. I've come to fix the pipe." "But I didn't call a plumber," said the woman. "Aren't you Mrs. Foster?" asked the plumber. "Goodness me, no. She moved away two years ago." "How do you like that?" snorted the man. "They ask for a plumber, claiming it's an emergency, and then they move away!"

Medical scholarship offered

The New Jersey Association of Local Pageant Executive Directors, a division of the Miss America Organization, has announced its first annual medical scholarship.

The scholarships awarded may be as much as $1,000 and are sponsored in part by Bally's Park Place, the association said.

Applicants will be considered for the awards based upon a combination of factors including grade-point average, rank, MCAT or other standardized test scores, extra-curricular activities, honors won and financial need.

Women are eligible for this scholarship if they have participated in at least one official local scholarship pageant which serves as a preliminary to the Miss New Jersey Scholarship pageant and Miss America Pageant. Candidates must either be enrolled in medical, veterinary or nursing school or be an undergraduate enrolled in a pre-med/pre-vet/nursing program.

Young women can become eligible for the medical scholarships by competing in the Miss Essex County Scholarship Pageant. Women between the ages of 17 and 24 and who live, attend school or work in Essex County full time can earn scholarship money in order to reduce the demands of college tuition payments.

The Miss Essex County Scholarship Organization will award scholarships to contestants excelling in community service, interview and academics. Last year, more than $30 million was awarded on the national, state and local levels.

The Miss America Organization is the world's largest source of education scholarships for women.

Young women interested in the medical scholarship or about entering the Miss Essex County Scholarship Pageant can obtain more information by calling Christopher Roemmele, executive director of the Miss Essex County Scholarship Organization, at 908-686-2005, or writing to P.O. Box 1806, Bloomfield, New Jersey 07003.

the search is on for the 198 Essex County high school senior most representative of her classmates in communities throughout Essex County.

The young woman chosen as Essex County's Junior Miss will compete with other county winners at Cherry Hill, in January 1998 for the New Jersey Junior Miss title.

The Nutley Jaycees will be sponsoring the 36th annual Junior Miss Scholarship program on Sunday, Nov. 30, at Nutley High School.

Banjoist Mark Tonelli of Belleville will perform with the group Swinging Dixie on Sunday, Sept. 21, on the main stage at Bloomfield Harvest Fest '97.

Other Swinging Dixie members are Bloomfielders Pat Burns, clarinet, and Tom Mulvaney, drums; David Lotozo of Montclair, trumpet; Judson Laidlaw of New Milford, trombone, and Kim Frankel of West Nyack, N.Y., tuba. Burns said the group has been together "off and on" since 1993.

"We're all classically trained except for Mark, who just earned a master's degree in jazz performance," he noted. "But we enjoy getting together to perform Dixieland music from time to time."

The band will play "standards, a lot of popular stuff that people will recognize," he said.

Bloomfield Harvest Fest will take place Saturday, Sept. 20 and Sunday, Sept. 21, rain or shine, on Broad Street between Belleville and Bloomfield avenues in Bloomfield. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sept. 20 and noon to 6 p.m. on Sept. 21. Admission is free.

Now in its fifth year, the fest has expanded and will feature a second stage devoted to country music and additional children's activities.

Other highlights will include ethnic foods, high-quality crafts and other merchandise for sale, a parade starting at James Street noon Saturday, health fair, kids' area including rides, petting zoo, pony rides, face painting, clowns and hands-on science, antique and new cars, Turtle Back Zoo exhibit, baby buggy races for adults, special events, and more.

Appearing on the main stage on Sept. 20 will be Miss New Jersey and Miss Essex County, Robert Oakes and Friends, the DelMonicos, Grover's Mill, Smooth Sounds of Silk and the His Voice Choir.

Performers on Sept. 21 will be Swinging Dixie, Fear of Falling, the Mel-O-Chords and Parkway.

The country stage, presented by the New Jersey Country Music Association, will feature Orville David and the Dakota Band, Jerry Piper, and Circle Zen on Sept. 20, and Tomike and TenderHeart and other guest artists on Sept. 21.

Robert E. Burrows, NJCMA president and personality on WFDU-FM, "Country 89," will host. In addition, the Y-107 "New Country Radio" roadshow van will be on hand from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sept. 20.

For vendor or other information about Harvest Fest '97, phone 680-4077 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

OUR OPINION

When - and if - change comes

The certification of the change of government petitions brings Belleville to another moment of indecision.

If the petitions are not challenged successfully - and the possibility of disqualifying some 300 signatures is not unthinkable - the voters will have before them not only a choice between Christine Todd Whitman and James McGreevey for Governor, but a choice between Council-Manager government and Commission.

We use the word indecision because the public is not sure if change of government is the answer to our tax problems.

Taxes went up under commission government. Taxes have gone up under council-manager.

In all probability, they will continue to go up, unless someone finds a way of restoring revenue sharing, which was a program under which the federal government sent back some of the loot it was taking from the state governments.

Under this program, Trenton fed the counties, and the counties fed the municipalities, keeping taxes down.

The man who promoted revenue sharing was none other than Richard M. Nixon. Succeeding administrations did not like the idea of sending tax revenues back to the states, and we have been enjoying the results ever since.

So, in the absence of federal or state bailouts, the municipalities will continue to pay higher taxes even if they change their form of government to pre-Colonial Tribal.

At a time when the Township offices are scattered to points where taxpayers cannot find them, replacing the government altogether will only heighten the confusion.

But, then, confusion is Belleville's middle name.

Energy tax elimination benefits all

By Gov. Christine Whitman
Energy costs represent a sizable portion of most household budgets. We pay for energy all year 'round, whether we're trying to cool off in summer or warm our homes in winter.

For those on fixed incomes, higher energy bills can make a huge difference in their quality of life.

New Jersey's 113-year-old Gross Receipts and Franchise Tax (GR&FT) gave us some of the highest utility costs in the nation. In fact, our high energy costs have been cited as one of the top five reasons for businesses leaving our state.

New Jersey residents deserve a break - and that's what they will get. Through legislation I signed last month, we have eliminated the 13 percent GR&FT utility tax, replaced it with a 7 percent tax, and thus reduced the state taxes consumers will pay over time for gas and electric by 45 percent.

For the average New Jersey family that heats with gas, that's like getting a coupon for more than $15 in savings every month during the heating season. Over the next six years, energy customers across New Jersey will save more than $1 billion.

For businesses, the savings can be used to create jobs and increase prosperity in New Jersey. For municipalities, who will receive a total of $3.7 billion in revenues over the next five years, these funds can be used to help control local property tax rates.

For municipalities, eliminating GR&FT means that they will get more money from the utility taxes the state collects than they do now. This year, every municipality will get more money - every one, guaranteed. In fact, the New Jersey State League of Municipalities agrees that the plan will guarantee "growth in property tax relief for all towns..."

This legislation makes the system fairer all around. Energy users will pay less, municipalities will get more utility tax money for property tax relief, and all energy producers will pay the same tax.

Governor Christine Whitman

The GR&FT has an interesting history. It started back in 1884 as a small tax on utilities, but grew to be a large and significant source of revenue for municipal governments throughout the state. A few years ago, when the state began deregulating the energy business, the money collected from GR&FT began to shrink.

With deregulation, businesses found they could get the energy they needed from sources that weren't subject to the tax, such as out-of-state providers or their own co-generation plants. So, while the tax rate didn't go down, the revenue did.

Of course, this concerned mayors and councils all around New Jersey. If this revenue started drying up, they would either have to cut essential services or raise local property taxes.

We couldn't let that happen. We had to preserve this important source of revenue for our local towns and reduce energy costs as well.

So I appointed a Joint Task Force on Energy Tax Policy, and the legislation I signed this month is a result of its efforts.

With the elimination of GR&FT, we're restoring fairness to the system, while guaranteeing more money to send to towns across our state. This is so important, because property taxes in New Jersey are too high.

Over the past 3 1/2 years, property taxes have been rising at a smaller rate than in years past, an encouraging trend. But it's not enough. I won't be satisfied until we see local taxes actually go down, just as we have actually lowered state income taxes.

Eliminating GR&FT is particularly good news for our senior citizens. No one is hurt more by higher costs than those on fixed incomes.

With this tax cut, the 14th tax cut of my administration, we're helping seniors, both by providing property tax relief and by reducing energy tax rates. In fact, this new law generates the purchasing power for all gas and electric consumers, regardless of their age.

Eliminating the Gross Receipts and Franchise Tax is one more way we are fulfilling the promise I made to fight for property tax relief for all New Jerseyans.

Our record shows that we will have increased aid to local governments and to individual property taxpayers by more than $1 billion in the four years of my administration. We've provided aid to schools, assumed the costs of the county courts, ensured additional aid for local road projects, increased revenue for Urban Enterprise Zones, and reestablished the Property Tax Deduction Act to provide direct savings for local property taxpayers.

Of course, there's more to do, but we've made good progress on reducing the growth of property taxes to the lowest level in over two decades. Eliminating the GR&FT is another step in keeping property taxes under control and in providing municipalities with revenue that can be used to help control property tax rates.

In fiscal year 1998, the elimination of the GR&FT will mean an anticipated $4,380 increase in state funding for Belleville, a $5,042 increase for Bloomfield, a $697 increase for Glen Ridge, and a $3,951 increase for Nutley. Those figures are expected to at least double in fiscal year 1999.

Once again, we're leveling the playing field, and all taxpayers are winners - in lowered energy rates and controlled property taxes.

College debts could be paid

Every parent hopes to send their child to college. But it's a hope that is increasingly being dashed as tuition costs skyrocket well beyond the average family's ability to pay.

Most students are willing to help absorb a part of the fiscal burden brought on by their college education, but they are limited because they have yet to fully enter the job market. Generally, the youths sign on to student loans that help them fund their higher education.

Aggravating the situation are low starting salaries for recent graduates, coupled with the fact that the low salaries rise a mere 6 percent per year, while college tuition and related costs are increasing a whopping 31 percent annually.

The problem certainly demands attention; that's why U.S. Rep. Bill Pascrell visited Bloomfield College last week.

Pascrell used the opportunity to announce legislation to help ease what he termed an "oppressive debt" being incurred by youths.

Under the terms of Pascrell's bill, graduates would be allowed up to 25 years to repay their student loans. They currently have up to 10 years.

Homebuyers are routinely granted long-term mortgages, Pascrell noted, adding that college graduates deserve the same long-term opportunity.

Pascrell's bill is a worthwhile step in the right direction and deserves to be passed swiftly by Congress.

Now, if we can do something to lower college tuition and restore affordable education we will show young people that their future is indeed a priority for the nation.

Life in Silver Lake

By Marie Strumolo Burke
A feature of Belleville Times

Being like me, most of you probably don't know why "Pomp and Circumstance" is always listed on the graduation program.

So, I decided to research it a bit to find out what it really meant. I will explain it in just two words: ceremonial procession.

Get it? Good. I bet you all feel a lot better now that we fully understand why this phrase is used. Now, let me proceed to tell you why I even brought up the subject.

One of our youngest members of the SLCA has graduated William Paterson College in Wayne with a bachelor's degree. A communications major with concentration in broadcast journalism and public relations. Let me add that he graduated with honors, cum laude, in the school of Arts and Communication with a final grade-point average of 3.6. Wow!

Do you want to hear some of his college highlights? Ok., first he hosted his own cable radio show called "the Thursday Night Jukebox" on WCRN. He performed live news and sports updates on hit radio 8817, WPSC FM; performed play-by-play and color commentary for WPC baseball, football and basketball; was a news anchor, sports anchor and an associate producer for WPC-TV's very own news program "Newsline," and a member of the WPC chapter of the national communication honor society.

Are you all wondering who this chap is? Well, let me give you some more facts to digest, and maybe, just maybe, you'll guess who it is.

This person is currently looking for work in public relations and his goal and dream is to be able to do work that makes a difference.

He is a lifelong Belleville resident and a Silver Lake for 13 years who resides on Naples Avenue. Anthony...oops, I almost let the cat out of the bag, as they say; well, no really, you only know his first name...is the v.p. of the Belleville Baseball Commission and an active member of the Silver Lake Civic Association.

It makes me feel good that such a young man really cares about his neighborhood. Whenever I ask for volunteer to help out at our SLCA meetings, Anthony is always willing.

And, I might add, he does the job with a smile and with lots of vigor, defined as energy, vim and vitality. I added a few vocabulary words, Anthony, 'cause I know you look forward to it.

All right already, it's time to reveal the name. The envelope please...

It gives me great pleasure to introduce to you a fine young gentleman who I know will go far in life and whose work will surely make a difference and his name is...Anthony Sessa.

Silver Lake is sending you out a 21-gun salute. I know you can hear it in the distance. You deserve it.

And remember, we love Anthony Sessa and Silver Lake, too.

Of All Things

• PATRICIA HURT, deputy administrator of Essex County and a former assistant prosecutor, appears to be the front runner for the $115,000 a-year-job. She has the support of the two people who count the most in Essex County - Republican County Executive Jim Treffinger and GOP County Chairman Kevin O'Toole. Of equal importance, perhaps, is that she enjoys the support of the influential Black Ministers Council of New Jersey. But more important, perhaps, is the fact that she is extremely well qualified having spent nine years as a prosecutor in positions ranging from child-abuse prosecution in Essex County court to disorderly persons offenses in Newark's municipal court. Hurt says, "I know the whole process. I know the courts at the municipal and county level." Patricia Hurt is a worthy successor to Clifford Minor.

• SINCE I mentioned in my last column that Dr. Michael P. Liloia was afflicted with the infirmities of the senior citizen aging process, sadly the day after I published the comment, my friend Michael Liloia answered the last call. Mike was a very modest person; somewhat retiring, he was somewhere between an extrovert and an introvert. Always pleasant, never combative, he was the very soul of an honorable, compassionate person. Admired and respected by those among us fortunate to call him friend, his very presence made for uplifting conversation. He was tall among men, but never lost the common touch. He was a loving husband, a father who wanted the best for his daughter and two sons and shared the deep affection of his two sisters and two brothers. His grandchildren were his pride and joy. The Orechio family not only lost a neighbor but a good friend. Mike, I think I know where you are - you will always be remembered by those among us who were indeed fortunate to share your friendship for so many years. God bless your soul.

Dr. Michael P. Liloia

• SURPRISES of surprises - we have a hard-to-believe report. Bloomfield attorney Ralph Salerno's name is bandied about to replace the retired Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission attorney Bob Brown, former mayor of Orange. Salerno's last appointment in government was as counsel to the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission.

• THE League of Women Voters of the Nutley Area has just opened its finance drive. The League is a very important part of the quality of life that Nutley residents enjoy. Readers are encouraged to make contributions to this non-partisan organization by mailing checks to League of Women Voters c/o Margaret Farabaugh, 519 Prospect St., Nutley.

The September dinner is set for Tuesday, September 30th with the famous environmentalist, Ella Fillipone, as principal speaker. Ella has a great message to deliver. Try to make the meeting. You will be rewarded.

• PASSAIC County Sheriff Eddie Englehardt held his annual picnic Sunday on the grounds of Ramapo State College at the New York state border. The event looked like tent city. Numerous tents were erected for various activities including refreshments of any kind one can imagine except hard liquor. Attendance exceeded 10,000. Englehardt, the most popular person in Passaic County, is campaigning hard to elect the Republican slate of candidates headed by Senate candidate, Freeholder Norm Robertson. Bloomfield and Glen Ridge voters have the opportunity to support Robertson.

In Nutley and Belleville, it's incumbent Republican Senator John Scott challenged by Nutley Democrat Mayor Garry Furnari.

• NO sooner did we try to adjust to the death of Princess Diana that we were hit by another body blow, the death of the popular Mother Teresa who made her home among the Calcutta, India, slums. She made a total commitment to help the helpless among us. She did more than volunteer a few weekly hours in charitable efforts - she dedicated her life.

Mother Teresa was revered as a "living saint" for her work with "the poorest of the poor". The Nobel Peace Prize winner worked 24 hours a day in the charity work that possessed her entire being. She never hesitated to kiss the hands of lepers or pick maggots from the wounds of those lying in the streets.

Honesty + Quality = Squeaky Clean Carpet Cleaning

It's that time of year again. The time when vacation is over for parents as well as children. Back to work, school, and getting the house back in shape after a hopefully fun-filled summer.

If your summer was full of fun, there may have been some spills of soda and food on your carpets or upholstery. Maybe no spills, but the pets may have tracked in some dirt. Squeaky Clean Carpet and Upholstery Cleaning is here to help you with post summer clean-up.

Art and Donna Velotti, owners of Squeaky Clean, are honest business people who know what it is to be ripped off by cleaning services. That is why they offer a no-hidden-charge, satisfaction guarantee. The price you see in their ads is the price you pay, with no additional charges.

As you see, Squeaky Clean's prices in this paper, you will be amazed at the reasonable rates. The only additional charges are for mildew or sewage on carpets and heavy pet odors.

On top of all that, Squeaky Clean offers a satisfaction guarantee. If you are not completely satisfied, they will redo it free of charge and if not satisfied then, Art and Donna will rip up your check!!!

In the time that Squeaky Clean has been in business, they have not had a dissatisfied customer. If spots reappear after a cleaning, they cheerfully return to take the spots out. Art and Donna are not afraid to offer this guarantee because they do all the work themselves and they know the best job possible is done the first time. Other companies offer a low price and then add to it once they get their foot in the door. By the way, most companies charge an access or travel fee to get their foot in the door. Imagine paying someone to come to your house to rip you off some more. This has not nor ever will happen to you with Squeaky Clean. Other companies charge extra for shampooing before they steam clean and deodorizing, but it is all included in the prices shown. They even take care of mild pet odors at no charge.

So send the children off to school and get ready for your own duties, but leave the carpet and upholstery cleaning to Art and Donna. Squeaky Clean is almost cheaper than renting the machine yourself.

Call anytime, day or night, and leave a message if they don't answer the phone. Donna will call you back quickly to set up an appointment. Their number is (973) 743-1122.

The main difference in their quality work is because they care.

Formerly Employed Mothers at the Leading Edge meets

The Northeast NJ chapter of FEMALE, Formerly Employed Mothers at the Leading Edge, will hold its annual open house on Wednesday, Sept. 24 at 8 p.m. in Nutley.

The purpose of the organization is to offer support for mothers who are making the transition from employment outside the home to staying at home full-time to care for their children. Recognizing that raising children is a demanding and isolating job with few opportunities to establish new friendships, FEMALE provides a chance to meet meet other at-home moms, form play groups, attend social/educational meetings and receive a monthly newsletter.

FEMALE is a national non-profit support group. Visitors are welcome to come and are under no obligation to join. Call Kathy at 743-9720 or Robyn at 235-0815 for more information.

OVER-THE-COUNTER SAVINGS

According to a study conducted for the Nonprescription Drug Manufacturers Association, the ability of American consumers to purchase nonprescription, over-the-counter (OTC) medications saved them $20.6 billion in 1996. The study arrived at this figure by comparing the average cost of an OTC medication with the typical cost of visiting a physician, purchasing a prescription medication, and losing income from time missed at work while keeping doctor's appointments (if applicable). Increasing consumer health care savings are attributable to the continuing transfer of prescription drugs to non-prescription status and consumers' willingness to take advantage of self-care options.

Take advantage of the knowledge of our staff when you need advice in selecting an over-the-counter medication. ROSSMORE PHARMACY, located at 338 Washington Avenue is open from 9am-10pm daily, 9am-9pm Sundays. Our stocks include greeting cards, baby needs, camera, and film. For prescription service call 759-1968 or 759-1956.

HINT: According to the study mentioned above, consumers saved themselves $4.2 billion in 1996 by turning to OTC pain relievers to self-treat headaches.

BUG SHOTS

By Mike Lamberti

Earl

By now, you know from reading my columns that if the headline is a single name, then what I'm about to write is something of a eulogy.

Sadly, that is the case this week.

Earl Haight, a long time friend of mine, passed away on August 29. He was 74 years young. He left a wife, Marie, a daughter, Nancy, a son, David, a sister and four grandchildren.

To his friends, especially those on Liberty Avenue in Belleville, where Earl and his family resided for close to 40 years, he was simply the man who always worked.

A neighbor across the street from where the Haight's reside told me last week that "Earl was always working. You would always find him in front of the house, mowing the lawn, doing the hedges, working on the cars. The man loved to work."

Earl was a veteran of World War II. He distinguished himself by being awarded the Silver Star, Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Earl worked for 40 years following the war, 'retiring', if you will, ten years ago. Retiring to some is moving to Florida and playing golf six days a week.

To Earl, retiring was working 12 hours a day instead of 18. This man's number one priority was to be a loving husband to his wife and a caring, giving father to his children.

Earl more than accomplished those goals. He gave his family a beautiful home and saw to it that his children would not be in need of anything. If Earl said he would be home by 6 p.m. for dinner, you could be assured that he would be there at 5:59 p.m., or sooner.

If this man gave you his word, you could bet the proverbial ranch on it.

How do I know so much about him? Well, Earl and I go back about 28 years, to when I was about ten years old and growing up in Belleville.

You see, I had, without question, the worlds biggest crush on Earl's daughter, Nancy, when we went to grammar school, junior high school and high school together.

Nancy, of course, wouldn't give me the time of day for most of our school years together. We were in the same eighth grade class, so she would actually talk to me from time to time, which would, of course, make my week.

By the end of high school, Nancy and I were actually fairly good friends, although I still hadn't quite worked up enough nerve to ask her out.

It was by mere luck one afternoon in May of 1981, while out running, that I saw Nancy in front of her house, struck up a conversation and, finally, got a date with her.

We ended up going out together for over a year and during that time, Earl and I became very close friends. He would always tell me stories about his work, he always took the time to ask how I was doing and, was very sincere in his interest in my business career, which was just starting to take shape 16 years ago.

Earl had an interest because he liked me. He also wanted to make sure that his daughter wasn't going out with some guy who had no future plans. He was always a father to his daughter first.

There would be times when Earl and I would tease Nancy unmercifully, especially if her New York Mets weren't playing very well.

But most of all, there were good times in the Haight household. There was respect and honesty at all times.

Earl was a strong man. He battled when he nearly lost his eyesight in the early 80's, getting an eye transplant. One day he was in the hospital, the next day, it seemed, he was back at work.

In one of my more dumber moves, Nancy and I did not end up as the childhood friends that would marry. We, happily for me, remain friends today.

Nancy and I had a nice conversation at our 20th high school reunion last November. If she wasn't talking about her two wonderful children, she was telling me how her dad was still the constant worker. He was also a standout grandfather, spoiling his grandchildren something crazy.

Until recently, I would drive down Liberty Avenue and there would be Earl in front of his house and he would wave and say hello.

That will probably be my lasting memory of Earl Haight. He was the working man.

That section of Liberty Avenue which is closer to Passaic Avenue and Belleville High School will never be quite the same again.

If I can ever be thought of in the same vain as Earl Haight one day, I will be a very fulfilled person.

I'll miss this man, very much. The memories of some great times many years ago will always be cherished.

Thanks Earl, for so many things, most of which you know and I don't have to repeat.

But thanks, especially, to you and Marie for bringing a wonderful daughter into the world and for letting me share in her life for a while.

Folleco optimistic about season

New era for Lady Bucs soccer

By Mike Lamberti

A new era in Belleville girls soccer begins tomorrow afternoon when the Lady Bucs host Glen Ridge in the regular season opener for both schools. Kickoff is set for 4 p.m. from Clearmon Field.

Belleville has a new head coach in Carlos Folleco, the former Nutley girls freshman coach.

Folleco, 31, spent two years at Nutley before he was hired as head coach in Belleville this fall. He is employed in the school system as a physical education instructor.

"I'm looking forward to helping this program continue to improve," Folleco said. "When I heard of the opening, I said 'why not'. I had seen Belleville play the last few years when I was at Nutley and felt this would be a good opportunity."

A native of Colombia, South America, Folleco has a good background in the sport. At Nutley, he was well respected by his players.

"The kids have been very enthusiastic and the parents very supportive," Folleco said. "The kids are very anxious to learn more about the game and are quickly improving."

Girls soccer arrived in Belleville in the fall of 1994 and became a varsity sport last year. The team went through the expected growing pains of playing a tough schedule in the NNJIL last fall.

It became even tougher when Belleville's best offensive threat, then sophomore Malerie Clarke-Cameron, went down with a serious knee injury in early October of '96.

Thankfully, Clarke-Cameron is back in the lineup this fall and is playing well.

The team has three captains, seniors Jill Ernst, Kristyn Puterbaugh and Jessie Santiago. Clarke-Cameron, now a junior, is a co-captain.

Other seniors on the roster include Christina Vassallo, Nicole Lopreato and Gennifer Piscatowski. The juniors are Odalis Polanco and Stephanie Curran.

The sophomores include Anabelle Rodriguez, Michelle Jablonski and Dana Lopreato.

Folleco has a big freshman class, led by Leila Alfonso, Sharon Nardiello, Anna Panova, Tina Auerbach, Katie Dunn, Angela Ferens and Danielle Green.

The team Folleco expects to start tomorrow afternoon against Glen Ridge will feature Rodriguez in goal, a defense of Piscatowski at stopper, Dunn at sweeper and full-backs Jablonski and Curran.

In the mid field, look for Nicole Lopreato, Green, Puterbaugh and Santiago.

The forwards should be Ernst and Clarke-Cameron.

"We had 21 girls come out for the team this season," Folleco said. "Like I said, they've been very good to work with."

"We're in a tough league. Nutley had a huge turnout of players this year. Immaculate Heart is going to be very strong and Ridgewood and (defending county champ) Montclair are going to be solid teams."

So, a new era will begin tomorrow as the Lady Bucs face a young Glen Ridge team.

Girls soccer is even newer in Glen Ridge than Belleville. Last year, the program began with a J.V. schedule and the Ridgers responded with an 8-4 mark. This year, the program is ready to compete on the varsity level and their first game will be tomorrow at Clearmon Field.

NOTES: Team had played two scrimmages as of last Monday, beating Linden 3-0 and losing a 2-1 decision to North Arlington.

The entire 1997 girls soccer schedule will appear in next weeks issue.

Starting jobs on the line for Buc football team

By Mike Lamberti

Time is of the essence for the Buccaneer football team. Pat Dowling's squad opens the 1997 campaign next Friday night, at home against Scotch Plains, and the first year coach has plenty of work to do in preparing for the new season.

The Bucs have played two pre season games so far, against Pascack Hills and Memorial of West New York.

The team is scheduled to play at Parsippany-Troy Hills in the final pre season game, either tomorrow night or Saturday morning.

To say that Dowling is starting with a fresh slate is putting it mildly. Not only is this his first year as the Buc head coach, he also has a group of players with very little varsity experience.

"Right now, getting the kids playing time is important," Dowling said. "The effort has been very good in the practice and the scrimmages so far. But we only have three kids who have any type of varsity experience, so that's where we need to concentrate."

The 1996 Bucs had 20 seniors on the roster. This year, the Bucs have some good talent in the skill positions, but the depth factor is a big concern.

"Right now, we don't have a lot of size and depth on the front line," Dowling said. "The first set of guys on the line are okay, but after that, there is a difference between the first and second teams."

The quarterback battle is between seniors Greg Sheridan and Tom Barbello and sophomore Marquis Talmadge. Dowling was hoping to decide on a starting quarterback before the final pre season game with Parsippany Troy Hills.

"All three kids are good athletes," Dowling said. "So they'll be seeing playing time somewhere else, depending on who gets the starting job."

The half backs are Ricci Bello, who played a good deal last year and was effective and Frank Zarro, a very strong athlete with good speed.

The full backs are Anthony Marcantuono and Mike Abidelli. Both players saw some playing time last year and should be key to the offensive success this season.

Dowling has been pleased with the play of Gary Mascotelli, who has done well at defensive tackle and guard.

Peter Rosato should be the starting tight end and John Farina, who did well last year in the starting lineup, is back at wide receiver and linebacker.

Chris Michel will be a starting wide receiver and Mohammad

Shama will see time at offensive guard and defensive end.

Sophomore Lance Bowers did a good job in the scrimmage against Memorial last Saturday and could be in line for a starting role at defensive end.

"He stepped in and played well," Dowling said of Bowers. "I was real pleased with his effort."

Joe Acurso started the pre season as a tight end, but he has been moved to offensive left tackle and has done very well.

"That's an example of a player who we wanted to see at another position and he's done a great job there," said Dowling. "We're trying to build some depth at positions by letting kids play different spots in the scrimmages."

The kicking game has not really been tested yet, but will get some time in the Parsippany scrimmage. Sheridan and Bello are both candidates for the punting job and one of those players could be in line for place kicking responsibilities.

As for the first two scrimmages, Dowling noted the Bucs played poorly against Pascack Hills but were noticeably better in the Memorial game.

"I think the Pascack Hills game was a tough spot for them, being it was the first day of school and they were a little nervous for the first game," Dowling said.

"We were a little concerned because we didn't practice as well as I would have liked going into the Memorial game. We talked to the seniors prior a day before the game and the kids came out and played very well against Memorial."

"It was a good test for us, Memorial is a tough Hudson County team and their kids battled us pretty good. But I came away from that scrimmage feeling a lot better about our team."

The Bucs will soon have to focus entirely on Scotch Plains and Dowling knows that the Union County team will be primed to avenge last years game.

In 1996, the Bucs went into Scotch Plains in the season opener and won impressively, 33-13. Last year, Belleville was the team with more experience while Scotch Plains was mostly a sophomore and junior laden team. This year, the roles are somewhat reversed.

"We want to make sure the kids understand that Scotch Plains will be coming in here looking to get some revenge from last years game," Dowling said. "They're going to be up for us. We beat them at their place last year and they would love nothing more than to return the favor this season."

NOTES:

The Bucs complete 1997 schedule will appear in next weeks issue.

Thankfully, no injuries to report so far this pre season. Bucs played pre season game with J.P. Stevens last Tuesday.

Hartford named X-Country captain

By Mike Lamberti

Another cross country season is about to commence at Belleville and veteran head coach John Tosato is happy with the early results from his team.

The Bucs open next Tuesday at Don Bosco in a meet that will also include Immaculate Heart and Teaneck. Race time is 4 p.m.

(The teams complete schedule will appear in next weeks paper).

Following three good seasons, the boys cross country team is in somewhat of a rebuilding mode, although Tosato does not like to refer to it that way.

"I don't like to call it rebuilding," Tosato, entering his 15th season as head coach, said. "We've got seven boys out for the team, and eight to nine girls out. Last year, the boys team was mostly seniors, so we have lost experience."

Senior Christie Hartford will be the team captain this year and she'll lead the girls team.

"Christie had an injury last year, but she showed some good signs in the indoor and outdoor seasons and should be strong this year," Tosato said.

Leading the way for the boys team will be junior Jose Moreno. This is his second year of cross country and Tosato is looking for good things from him.

"He's been running all summer and is looking forward to the season," Tosato said. "I think he understands the sport a lot more this year than last. He ran very well last year, now with a years experience, he should be even stronger."

Moreno has a good chance of challenging the outdoor track school records in the mile and two mile next spring. In the mean time, he's a very talented long distance runner who should be in the top percentile of most of the teams races this season.

Aerial Lane, an Honorable Mention all NNJIL runner last year, is back for the girls team. Another runner who has done well in practice is Melissa Cifelli.

"Melissa has been running every day during the summer," Tosato said. "I think she should do very well."

Dot Perretti makes every party more fun

As a mother and former teacher, Dot Perretti knows just what makes a child's birthday fun and special.

For younger children, she has them clapping, jumping, wiggling and shaking to music with all kinds of musical props. Then she brings out her parachute for even more fun.

For older children, she specializes in all types of themed parties (luau, '60s, Harriet the Spy, sock hops, etc.) She also comes dressed as characters from Meg of Hercules to Winnie the Pooh.

Dot uses treasure boxes, puzzles, etc. as art projects and the goody bag for parties. Dot loves to have balloons at her parties, too, especially balloon party hats, swords, doggies or even crowns!

Dot has even appeared on TV and was recently interviewed by Sesame Street magazine's Parents magazine for their birthday parties for toddlers issue.

When Dot's at your party, the party is totally fun and memorable.

To find out more, call her at 746-2256 or fax her at 509-8570.

Rita's Italian Ices extends the cool flavor of summer with new raspberry flavor

Just when you thought summer was coming to a close, Rita's Italian Ices extend the cool taste of summer with its newest flavor, Raspberry.

Rita's Raspberry Italian Ice offers the sweet flavor of summer-ripened raspberries, mixed with the cool goodness of Rita's silky smooth ice. The new addition brings the total number of flavors now offered at Rita's to 20.

"We wanted to go out with a bang," said Ron Savare, local owner of Rita's Italian Ices. "So we saved the best for last by introducing our newest flavor just as summer's coming to an end. It was a great summer, and Rita's Raspberry is our way of saying thank you and giving the community one more reason to visit Rita's before we close our doors for the summer."

Rita's, which is located at 34-38 Franklin St., Belleville, is part of a national franchise chain of more than 150 units. Rita's serves 20 different flavors of Italian ice including chocolate, passion fruit, pina colada and now its newest flavor - raspberry. Rita's also offers Gelati, a layered concoction of old-fashioned frozen custard and Italian ice.

For more information about Rita's Italian Ice contact Savare at 759-7482.

A Home's Energy Efficiency Is Part Of Its Price

(NAPS)—While size, livability and location are all important factors when looking for a home, don't overlook what it costs to heat and cool. Simply put, the more energy efficient it is, the more you'll be able to afford in mortgage payments.

Four basic areas of energy efficiency you should examine include:

- Optimum amounts of insulation, caulking and weather-stripping.
- Energy efficient windows and doors.
- A high-efficiency heating and cooling system.
- Energy efficient lighting and appliances.

Today, a properly insulated home not only helps you save on your fuel bills, it can help to improve indoor comfort. Many experts recommend that quality insulation such as CertainTeed Building Insulation or InsulSafe III® Blown-In Fiber Glass should be installed to today's recommended R-values in the attic and side-walls. Insulation should also be installed in the floors, garages and crawlspaces and around the water heater, pipes and within and around ducts.

In the area of windows and doors, look for energy-efficient models like low-e double paned windows, which provide three times the efficiency of single pane glass for added energy savings.

Perhaps most important in terms of your annual energy bills, is your central heating and cooling system. Have a professional evaluate or test the system. In addition, look for oil and gas furnace modifications such as higher efficiency burners and automatic electronic thermostats.

Energy-savers such as the proper amount of insulation in the attic, floors, garage and around the water heater will save you money 365 days a year.

tion, look for oil and gas furnace modifications such as higher efficiency burners and automatic electronic thermostats.

Lastly, but still important are the lighting and appliances in a home. Perhaps the best way to evaluate the efficiency of major appliances, such as dishwashers, water heaters and furnaces, is to look for the bright ENERGY GUIDE label to help you determine the annual operating costs.

In the area of lighting, remember that a 40-watt fluorescent bulb gives off more light than a 100-watt incandescent bulb at half the energy costs.

Weichert's Dan Gray earns office award

James M. Weichert, president, has announced that Dan Gray, a sales associate with Weichert, REALTORS' Upper Montclair Office, has earned the office's top listing award for the month of July.
