Untallied votes unlikely to change the outcomes

By Howard Klausner

Belleville voters have turned back an attempt to have the government revert to commission form. The unofficial vote is 2,837 to 2,609.

A number of absentee ballots and a number of provisional votes are to be tallied by the Essex County Clerk. These total some 200, according to an unofficial assessment.

Provisional votes are those cast by persons who have changed their residence since the last election.

On the local level, Democratic candidate for Governor, Senator James McGreevey, outpointed Governor Christine Todd Whitman, 4,397 to 3,875.

Nutley Mayor Garry Furnari led incumbent Senator John Scott, 3,986 to 3,675.

Scott's fellow Republicans fared better. For Assembly, the vote was: John Kelly (R) 1,064, Paul DiGaetano (R) 1,023, Kenneth Sorkin (D) 828 and David Sivella (D) 814.

For Sheriff, Armando Fontoura (D) swamped Orlando Mendez (R) 1,282 to 630.

Half the eligible voters - 49.91 percent - went to the polls.

Whitman went on to retain her job in an extremely tight race for governor statewide. Furnari captured the 36th District State Senate seat, ousting Scott, but Assembly members Kelly and DiGaetano were re-elected by voters across the 36th District.

Fontoura easily outpolled Mendez across Essex County to win another term as sheriff.

Parade set for Sunday

More than 1,000 marchers, ranging from cheerleaders to the military, will take part in the annual Veterans Day Parade, Sunday.

Barbara Tuck, secretary of the Veterans Council which sponsors the event, said it will begin with the gathering of participants at 1 p.m., at American Legion Post 105, 621 Washington Ave.

The marchers will start at 2 p.m. for the reviewing stand in front of the Municipal Building, one mile distant.

Council Member James Messina is Grand Marshal of this year's parade. Representing Governor Christine Todd Whitman will be Joseph Lauder milk of the New Jersey Department of Military Affairs.

Among the participants will be 450 ROTC cadets and members of the 113th Infantry Regiment, headquartered at the Rosedale Armory in Newark.

Leading the way will be the Belleville Police Department and Public Safety Director Raymond Kimble.

Business education opens opportunities

By Pamela Hagerty, Chairperson
Business Education Department

The Business Department is the most volatile, radically changing department in Belleville High School. Computers continue to be an integral part of business education curricula and have caused course changes at all levels.

The seven business educators and myself who comprise the Business Department prepare students at BHS with the competencies to productively use current business hardware and software for entrance into today's global economy and the job force of the 21st century.

Three years ago, the business department consisted of two classrooms of typewriters and one class-

Dr. Emanuele Alfano of Bloomfield will be honored as the Man of the Year by the Federation of Italian-American Societies of New Jersey at its annual Harvest dinner-dance.

The event will take place on Sunday, Nov. 9, at 4 p.m. at the Mayfair Farms, 481 Eagle Rock Ave., West Orange.

Dr. Alfano, a chiropractor, is being feted for his many contributions and dedication to the Italian-American community.

Retraction

The Belleville Times retracts the following line from its page one story in the October 23, 1997 issue. 'Petrillo said he blamed Board Member Frank Montagna for exaggerating the number of students who are enrolled illegally.' We regret the mis-information that led to the conclusion.

Cost of a dogbite is more than money

By Howard Klausner

Audra Sheppard is a nurse by profession, as well as a single mother, and she has seen her share of suffering and grief.

"But nothing prepared me for the sight of my little dog, Spike, in the mouth of a large dog that seemed about to eat him alive," she said.

Spike is a 10-year-old Yorkshire Terrier weighing 4 pounds 8 ounces. The larger dog seized Spike while Mrs. Sheppard was walking him on his leash in front of the condominium where they lived formerly alone.

"The big dog was shaking him like he wanted to break his back, the way an animal does in the wild."

The large dog's owner pried Spike loose from her pet's mouth. Mrs. Sheppard said the dog had rushed out of its house without a leash.

"My screams were so deafening, I couldn't believe it was me," Mrs. Sheppard said. She wrapped Spike in a blanket and rushed him to the West Caldwell Veterinary Emergency Group.

"My uniform was one mass of blood. He had severe lacerations that required 19 stitches. He had drains in him for two weeks."

"I couldn't give him pain medication because of the nature of his internal injuries. He cried in pain for two weeks."

The incident happened the day before Mrs. Sheppard moved to a new home that she had bought on Crest Drive.

"You can imagine the tremendous strain on me," she said.

The veterinary costs have come to more than $1,000 so far, Mrs. Sheppard said.

Aside from That

By Howard Klausner

It began with the 50th anniversary reunion of the Belleville High School Class of 1946, last year. The graduates, most of whom survived the half century and reside in or near the old home town, had a wonderful time. "They asked, why not meet more often?" Peter Del Vecchio of the Class of '46 said. Last May, he met with three other classmates, and they decided to have monthly meetings at the Knights of Columbus Hall, and this won the support of George Lynch, the official Knight of all Knights who manages the Hall. . . . Every month, the meeting attracted more and more classmates, and the invitation was extended to anyone who had been graduated 50 years ago, or more. "It's a chance to renew acquaintanceships," Mr. Del Vecchio said, "And more than that, we want to do something good for the town. Maybe a charity, maybe a scholarship. We're working on it." Last month, more than 40 of the boys turned up for a lunch, a lot of round table talk and a lot of catching up with the past. Everyone, of course, has had a story, or more, to tell. Mr. Del Vecchio married a schoolmate, Margie Lalama, and they have four daughters, Carmie Gesner, Margie Van Dongen, Lucy Smith and Patti Nicoletti, and seven grandchildren. . . . The Class of '46 thought it was entering the post-war world, blissfully unaware of future battles in Korea and Vietnam. Many of the boys were married men with families very quickly after graduation. Mr. Del Vecchio entered the building business with his father, John, in the family firm, Forest Home Builders. "The building hasn't stopped, and business has continued," he said. . . . Jerry Racioppi of the Class of '46 said, "I'm a man of all trades." He found general factory work with International Telephone and Telegraph in Clifton for 12 years and then stayed 32 years with Western Electric in Kearny. "Now I've got two pensions and Social Security and I'm doing absolutely nothing, and enjoying it," he said. His mother, Carmela, is 91 and living at home with him and his wife, the former Carmen Aspeta. He heard about the monthly meetings from Nicky Duca, Class of '46. Duca retired two years ago after working as credit manager for DDB Needham, a New York advertising agency, for 22 years. Before that, he was credit manager for the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York. "I started with CBS as a collector. First, I was collecting from advertising agencies. Then I was collecting from the agency clients." He moved to Nutley 30 years ago, "But I live within one and a half miles of my birthplace on Greylock Avenue, in the Valley." He married Florence Bedigian of North Arlington. "We used to commute together on the bus to New York, and that's how we met." . . . Mr. Duca said his wife is of Armenian descent. "And they prefer to marry Armenians. But her mother always liked Italians because she was befriended by Italians on the boat to this country, and she always said that if she had daughters, she'd like one of them to marry an Italian." And Mr. Duca showed up. Now there are two children, Nicholas III, and Lynn Marie Diaz, a pharmacist, and both are in Pembroke Pines, Florida. Go raise children. . . . It may be politically incorrect, but the gathering is at present restricted to the boys. "It's easier to talk with each other. You talk about old times. You relive old experiences. It's really wonderful," Mr. Del Vecchio said. And, of course, it was before marriage. . . . A delegation from Congregation Ahavath Achim went down to Kinnelon, Sunday, for the unveiling of the monument stone at Beth David Cemetery for Joseph Shlissel, who served many years as president of the congregation. A native of New Haven, Mr. Shlissel came to Belleville as a young man to work in a factory, ultimately becoming the production manager. Friends knew him as a "diamond in the rough", a hearty man with an appetite for life and a courtliness toward the elderly, doing much to keep the small congregation alive, and giving unsung help to people in the community at large. He passed away at 83. Among the visitors were Congregation President David Berkowitz, Clara Creditor and Seymour Edelman. . . . Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says the future of Belleville is assured. "The town is so unreliable politically that it can never be crossed off any politician's list. They have to be nice to us, at least during the last week of October." . . . Zilch's political supporters, The Kool Kukumber Boys, are disappointed with the showing of their write-in candidate for Governor, Harry Zilch. "We realized too late that his supporters have to be able to write." . . . Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro Di Vincenzo Mitten, says voters at the Knights of Columbus Hall polling place were surprised to learn that the voting machine had broken down. "They just assumed it was the normal Belleville response to the voting process."

TICKLING THE IVORIES — Jack Bender, center, a Bloomfield High School student, recently gave a piano concert before 150 people at the Belleville Public Library and Information Center. Meeting with him are artists Dena Cetrullo, left, and Marcia Miele. The Belleville Public Library and Information Center, 221 Washington Ave., hosts concerts throughout the year and its next concert will feature jazz pianist Rodam Schwartz on Thursday, Nov. 6, at 1 p.m. Call the Circulation Desk at 450-3434 to register. If you are interested in sponsoring a concert, contact Adrea Cohen at the library at 450-3434.

Advances in business courses

room with three word processors. Typing I, Typing II and personal typewriting were taught in the two rooms with typewriters.

In word processing, Displaywrite 4 was taught, using the three word processors.

Accounting I and II were strictly textbook and workbook based.

Today, no typewriters exist in the Business Department for students use as virtually no typewriters exist today in general industry.

In order to determine the competencies required of our students for success in today's global economy, representatives from the following business schools are invited to Belleville High School: Berdan, Berkeley, Cittone, The Gibbs School, DeVry Institute, Dover Business School, Hohokus, RETS Institute, and Wood-Tobe Coburn.

These business schools are devoting a substantial amount of their training to the use of computer, and this is an indication of the demand for computer training and the even greater demand for workers skilled in the use of computers.

This year, our business department at BHS has four computer labs with a combination of 72/486 and Pentium-equipped PCs and 10 Hewlett Packard Deskjet printers.

Seventy percent of the cost of this equipment was covered by grant requests written by the business department. An additional $10,000 grant was awarded to us by the state this year to implement Worklink.

Worklink is a computerized system developed by the Educational Testing Service, which makes it easy for work-bound students and employers to find each other through a computer-based information page constructed by students at school.

One classroom designed to replicate a business office environment contains 13 Pentium PCs, one special needs workstation and four Hewlett Packard Deskjet 682C color printers.

This year, Microsoft Office '97, which is being utilized in 80 percent of the Fortune 500 companies, will be taught to word processing and advanced word processing classes.

For the 1997-98 school year, the following classes are taught using computers: Keyboarding I classes (8); Keyboarding II classes (4); Personal Keyboarding classes (7); Computer Applications (4); Accounting I (3); Accounting II (1); Financial Management and Record Keeping (1); Word Processing (2); and Advanced Word Processing (1).

In effect, we have a total of 31 classes utilizing computers and total students numbering 478.

While the teachers in the business department are still teaching theory in Accounting I and II, they are integrating more computerized accounting into both courses.

In addition to the courses already mentioned, the business department also offers these non-computer classes: College Notetaking; Cooperative Business and Marketing Education; Introduction to Business; Consumers in the Economy; Business Law; and Retail Merchandising.

The 13 non-computer classes are taken by 201 students.

The business department is where it is today thanks to alternative funding from the state and federal government through Carl Perkins grants and additional budgeted funds due to the support of Superintendent Michael Lally for technology implementation.

Also this year, three computer labs staffed by business department teachers are scheduled three periods each day.

A computer lab period is a structured learning environment for students and teachers alike to familiarize themselves with today's technology and equipment.

We tried this concept last year and found it to be extremely effective. The business department believes that technology has transformed the way we teach and students learn, and that technological skills are essential for students and teachers alike.

It is hoped that these computer labs will assist not only the students but teachers to understand, evaluate and apply technology in new and effective ways.

We continue to try and improve the course offerings for our students at Belleville High School. We realize that the skills most important to retaining a job years ago are changing today because job, machines and expectations are changing faster than ever before.

Our students will be changing careers more often and if specific job skills can't make them indispensable in their fields of origin, they certainly can't increase their value in a new industry.

As we look to the future, I propose the following:

- Upgrade all computers to Pentiums;
- Install Windows NT and Microsoft Office '97 on all computers;

- As English, math, and history and science are required subjects, and in light of today's emerging technology and industry standards for employment, I would like to inaugurate a semester course in computer applications as a graduation requirement;
- Install an additional computer lab;

- Provide Internet access for all students in the business department;
- Launch a LAN (Local Area Network) in the business department so users can share information, programs, and other costly resources;
- Investigate the feasibility of securing funds from foundations and corporations who have demonstrated an interest and history of funding educational technology projects to justify requests for new technologies;

- Replace existing furniture with ergonomically designed furniture.

In conclusion, as computers continue to be an integral part of business education curricula and have caused course changes at all levels of education, from elementary school through university levels, course content needs to be continually reviewed and evaluated to ensure it is meeting the needs of students who will be going into the workforce or continuing their education.

The challenge is for the members of the business department to keep current and be comfortable with their demanding roles as facilitators of learning.

We are now in the midst of the introduction of the new order; the challenge and opportunity for business educators is to use their unique technological background and leadership skills to facilitate the change process.

They recorded their predictions in their math logs and were pleasantly surprised at some of their results. From left, Sharisbel Rosario and Angel Gaud.

My Creed

I have one life in which to live,
Upon it will depend
Heaven gained or Heaven lost,
When I have reached the end.
I must be sure to put away
Good works for God to view,
Nor spend my time in vain pursuit,
As men are wont to do.
I must get rid of foolish pride
Which plagues me night and day,
Bite my tongue before someone
Is hurt by words I say.
Never grow too fond of all
The glitter that I see,
Be content with only what
The Lord has given me.

Remember, it is never too late to stop smoking. The last time you take a puff is the first day you start to get better, so get smart and take that last puff. It's a crying shame to see the young high school kids who get out of school and can't wait to light up a cigarette. If they think it's cool, they will regret it later.

Condolences to the family of Micki Chimento who died suddenly last week. Also to the family of Salvatore Longo, son of Rae and husband of Joanne and brother of Jo Ann Trezza and Annette Hammond.

I understand that Sylvia Pagonelli is now recuperating at home. Irene Caruso fell and is also recuperating at home.

Welcome back to Agust Nigro.

Happy birthday to Lucille Pennell who celebrated her 84th birthday Oct. 29.

I am shocked to hear that the BIACA banner was taken down because someone called in and complained it was ethnic because it had Italian in its name. I am proud to be an Italian and I think this should be decided at an open forum of the different organizations meeting at the center and not by some biased person or persons.

Congratulations to Dominick Belli of the Old Guard bowling league for bowling a high game of 240. Charlie Podesta hit a high game of 230. And my daughter-in-law, Debra Restaino, hit a 201 in a charity bowling. Congratulations to all. Good bowling.

The Essex County Council of Senior Citizens Club is trying to get the cost of prescriptions for seniors in the P.A.A.D. from $5 per prescription down to $2. My personal opinion is that they should try to get the amount needed to qualify raised so that more seniors can qualify. I would gladly pay $5 per prescription. So I say, let's raise the limit and then, when more money is available, lower the price.

I would also like to remark on the insurance mess. Fraud is getting to be a bigger problem every day. It seems to me that if a company like N.J. Mfg. can give discounts and operate without surcharges, something must be wrong with the other companies who are not following their example. Why hasn't the state made the other companies follow the good example of N.J. Mfg.? Again, why?

Osteoporosis is threatening about 20 million Americans every year. The preconception that this is part of aging is not so and is simply a mistake. This disease renders bones so fragile that a hug can shatter a rib. The National Academy of Science two months ago issued a statement urging Americans to add the equivalent of one glass of milk a day to their diet so they can get more calcium. They state that it is important to start the process at the age of 6 to 16. It is important that children get plenty of calcium from yogurt, cheese, green veggies, salmon, soy beans and shrimp. If you are concerned about fat, use low-fat items. This is also for men and women.

The Tuesday Senior Club Inc. held its annual anniversary celebration at the Branch Brook Manor. A large number of volunteers helped to make the occasion a success. Music was supplied by the Tony Donato Trio.

"If it can be verified, we don't need faith . . . Faith is for that which lies on the other side of reason. Faith is what makes life bearable, with all its tragedies and ambiguities and sudden, startling joys." Madeleine L'Engle.

Belleville Health Department issues warning on rabies

The Belleville Health Department offers free rabies vaccines to cats and dogs of Belleville residents.

The rabies clinic is offered each year in the spring. Dates will be announced in local newspapers.

A New Jersey resident died recently of rabies after being bitten by a rabid bat, and the man did not seek treatment until symptoms appeared, the department said.

The rabies virus is transmitted through saliva of an infected animal, most commonly a bat, raccoon, skunk, groundhog or fox. It can be transmitted through a bite, scratch or any contact with an open wound or mucous membrane, such as the eyes.

Post-exposure treatment is safe and effective in preventing the disease, when given promptly following exposure, the department said. Once symptoms of rabies appear, there is no treatment known to cure the infection, the department said.

In New Jersey rabies was first identified in bats in 1960, and each year 15 bats test positive for the disease. Since 1960, more than 3,500 animals, mostly raccoons, have been diagnosed with rabies.

The department said that one of the most important steps people can take to protect themselves and their barrier that can prevent transmission from wild animals to humans, the department said.

Another step is to "bat proof" your home, the department said; this can be done by blocking crevices that allows bats to enter, in particular the attic.

Fall is the best time to do this, because most bats have left their roosting sites for hibernation elsewhere, the department said.

It is important not to handle bats or animals that appear ill, according to the Health Department.

Anyone who is bitten or has direct contact with a bat or other wild animal should seek medical help immediately and notify the Health Department, the department said.

Free oral cancer screening at Belleville Health Department

The Belleville Health department will offer a free oral cancer screening to Belleville residents on Wednesday, Nov. 19, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

The screening will be held at 50 Newark Ave., Suite 207.

Pre-registration is required. Please call 450-3393 to register.

Oral cancer is a highly curable cancer when diagnosed and treated early, the department said, oral cancer is most common in males over the age of 40 and risk factors include use of tobacco in cigarettes, cigars, pipes and smokeless tobacco, as well as excessive consumption of alcohol, the department said.

The department said that squamous cell carcinoma is the most common malignant oral tumor, accounting for 90 to 95 percent of all oral cancers, and most of these cancers occur on the lower lip rather than intraorally.

A major factor in lip cancer, the department said, appears to be intense sunlight.

All chronic ulcerative lesions that fail to heal in one to two weeks should be examined by a physician and biopsied, if necessary, in order to be properly diagnosed, according to the department.

Thomas Longo, health officer, urges Belleville residents to take advantage of this free screening offered by the Belleville Health Department.

OUR OPINION

Reaping the whirlwind

There was a recurring theme at the testimonial dinner for Raymond Kimble held last week. The theme was that the Township will lose his services as Township Manager if the change of government is approved.

Under the Commission form of government, there can be a Business Administrator, who in many towns functions as a manager of the municipal operations.

But the business administrator is in a subservient position to the Commissioners, whose wild and wonderful ways often made for great newspaper copy but poor government in the past.

Glen Ridge has a Commission. Nutley has a Commission. They do fine.

But those towns have a tradition of responsible government that has been intermittent in Belleville. There have been administrations in the past that did what they could to encourage business and industry, and they succeeded for a while in doing that, up until the 1960s.

At that point, the failures of the town fathers to provide a proper infrastructure, or do such basic things as create parking for shoppers, and the killing of Washington Avenue altogether by the Main Street shopping development, all added to the economic decline that followed the disappearance of industry here.

The government that existed up to 1990 obviously could not, or would not, meet the challenges.

The Council-Manager form of government that was instituted in 1990 showed great promise. A competent, experienced Manager appointed a group of executives who won the support of the community.

There were signs of growing business interest in the town.

And then a power grab followed that made a mockery of the government. A manager was installed who did what he was told, and the budget surplus was raided until it disappeared.

Thus, the 53 point tax hike.

This was not the doing of Ray Kimble.

But if the voters turn back to the commission, it will be because of the irresponsible actions of those politicians who destroyed the purpose of the Council-Manager government.

Cutting down on candy?

The Township Council has taken on itself a pointless task.

Aside from worries about surviving the pending vote on a change in government, the Council has come up with a new goal - banning door-to-door sale of candy by Belleville students.

The candy sales have been a major fund raising source for the parent-teacher organizations. The parent-teacher organizations have irritated at least one member of the Board, Frank "The Finger" Montagna, for daring to question his antics.

So a concerted assault has been launched against these organizations by an effort to cripple their fund raising ability.

The money raised by the Consolidated Association of Parents and Teachers has provided the schools with many items that have not been included in the regular school budget - from fans for the high school to school supplies.

The attack was begun before the tragedy occurred in Jackson Township, in which an 11-year-old boy was murdered by a teen-ager whose house he was visiting to sell candy.

The tragedy is now being used as a reason to ban door-to-door sales by Belleville youngsters.

Even a normally sane and informed person such as former Mayor Jim Messina takes up the cudgels. "My child will not be allowed to sell candy door to door," he told the Council.

Fine. No parent who disapproves of the idea should be obligated to allow a child to participate.

But the fact remains that we let our children go out by the thousands on Halloween, and we send our children to school every day on foot, and we pray for their safe return as we do every moment of the day and night.

But with parental supervision, children should be able to participate in fund raising efforts that benefit the entire community, as do the fund raising efforts of the parent-teacher organizations.

Through a Child's Eye

Through a child's eye,
those caring little eyes filled with wonder and delight.

Those child's eyes so sweet so gentle, as the morning dew at sunrise. They wait in anticipation.

They laugh, they play, like little puppies happy to roam free.
In the warm sun
and cool breeze.

We learn so much by seeing that world through a child's eye.

Of All Things

By Frank Orechio

• BETTER late than never - Nutley's popular Ralph DePiro, owner of the Nutley Pet Shop in Belleville and Chief of Security for the Sports Authority, is the 1997 champion golfer of the 89th Annual Nutley Invitational Golf Tournament. Ralph won the William Harris Arnold Cup, an annual tradition of the Tournament since 1909. The winner of the tournament gets the privilege of organizing the 1998 tournament which will mark the event's 90th anniversary. A nicer guy doesn't exist.

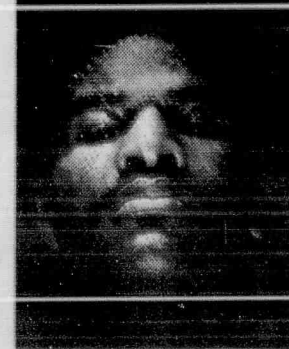

Ralph DePiro

• FINALLY, the Nutley Board of Education and the Teacher's Association presided over by Ro Tangorra, ratified a contract coming regrettably after a limited job action by the teachers. The pact guaranteed educators a 3 percent salary raise annually along with some major perks. It is regretful that the teachers voted to withdraw participation in school club activities over the first 30 days of class.

Teachers were refusing to engage in any extracurricular activities such as supervising school clubs and staying after school to assist students needing additional tutoring. To demonstrate solidarity, the teachers walked into their respective schools together. Big deal.

• WE'RE lucky that the Clara Maass Medical Center is almost a stone's throw away for our use. In the recent past, its Speech-Language Pathology Department introduced new programs. Clara Maass received state approval for a cardiac catheterization laboratory and dedicated an upgraded nuclear medicine department. It opened a Women's Health Center. The Surgical Intensive Care Unit was dedicated in honor of Dr. Cono Pecora. Under the leadership of Board Chairman Dr. Hal Wolkoff, President Bob Curtis and Medical Staff President Dr. Mario A. Criscito, Clara Maass' reputation has gained a few notches.

• SATURDAY night, November 8th, will be one of the best ever nights for professional boxing. Heavyweight Champ Evander Holyfield is scheduled to meet Michael Moorer. I can't wait to turn on my television set. It will be a very exciting bout, and I look for Holyfield to knock out Moorer in the later rounds.

• FORMER U. S. Senator Bill Bradley is regarded by some as a potential Democrat presidential candidate in the year 2000. I don't see it that way. No one will obtain the Democrat presidential nomination in 2000 without a number of bruising presidential primaries from New Hampshire to California. That's not where Bill Bradley is at. The 2000 presidential nomination still looks like it belongs to Al Gore.

• THE Glen Ridge Board of Education has a momentous decision to make at its meeting November 12. Should alcoholic drinks be permitted at school related adult events with children present? The issue has divided parents. We're on the side of those parents who want a zero tolerance policy prohibiting drinking at any adult events where children might, if not for the presence of alcohol, become involved. As one observer put it, "Some parents are choosing wine over their children."

• GIVE the Glen Ridge Tennis Squad a lot of credit for its guts, standing tall, fighting for the last point even though its season is 5-14.

• THE Glen Ridge Boys Soccer Team is to be congratulated for remaining over the .500 mark which qualifies it in time to make the cut for the Group One State Tournament.

• BLOOMFIELD School Superintendent Leonard Elovitz recently reported enrollment is up by 245 pupils; overall there are 5,530 students in 11 schools. By moving students around the various schools, taxpayers for the present, anyway - do not have to build a 50,000 square foot addition to the Middle School.

Musica promises the best Italian food, service and music around.

"This is one of the only places to celebrate your anniversaries, birthdays during the week," Romeo said.

If you require something that is not on the menu, Musica's chef can make it for you at no extra charge.

"Everyone says that the music is delightful and they keep coming back," he added.

Musica features singer Joe DiGennaro of the TV show "Bringing Italy to You."

DiGennaro said that many guest stars from the Italian music world will drop in for live television appearances at Musica.

Diners will be able to participate in the music performances and the cooking show.

"We are open for suggestions from the public," Romeo said. "We want to make people happy."

The chef recommends the cold antipasti Carpaccio (filet mignon), followed by the special music salad (arugula, endive, radicchio, tomato and shrimp), Capellini Monalisa (pasta in garlic sauce with shrimp) and end with the music note special (lobster, filet mignon, chicken and shrimp).

HOROSCOPES

November 9-15

ARIES - March 21/April 20

Don't let your temper take control of you early in the week, Aries. A minor problem with a business associate upsets you, but it's really not as bad as it seems. If you remain calm, everything will work out fine. That special someone wants to spend a romantic evening with you. Say yes.

TAURUS - April 21/May 21

It's a busy week for you. There are so many things — personal and professional — that you have to get done by Friday. Don't stress out, or you'll never get them finished. Turn to loved ones for help. The person you've had a crush on for a long time finally asks you out. Be ready for an exciting night. Virgo plays a key role.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

You need to think fast when a family situation arises on Wednesday. A loved one is counting on you to keep everything under control. A close friend introduces you to a business associate. Don't let a negative attitude overcome you. He or she really is friendly. Sagittarius plays a role.

CANCER - June 22/July 22

You feel like you're on an emotional roller coaster early in the week, Cancer. One minute, you feel great; the next minute, you're ready to scream. Take some time for yourself. Being alone will help you clear your mind and set your priorities. Don't worry; you'll feel like your old self soon.

LEO - July 23/August 23

Don't disregard your feelings during the middle of the week. A touchy situation at work makes you suspicious. Try to find out why. Someone isn't telling the whole truth. An old friend shows up at your door late in the week. Make the time to catch up with him or her. Gemini plays a key role.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

People will leave you alone this week, Virgo. They know you have a lot to do and don't want to bother you. Make the most of this time. Keep your shoulder to the wheel, and don't let yourself get distracted. A loved one needs your advice. Be honest without being cruel.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

A good-natured rivalry with a friend gets somewhat heated early in the week, Libra. Don't get offended by his or her gibes. He or she is just overworked and doesn't really mean what's being said. A friend asks to borrow money. Don't do it; you're going to be in a financial jam before the week is over.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't get caught up in a family member's lies. Tell the truth. It's the only way to keep your family happy. A close friend drops by unexpectedly and needs your help. Don't let the surprise visit throw you off. Do what you can to help him or her. He or she truly needs you. Aries plays a key role.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Your optimism gets you through a tough week. There are a lot of problems at work, and many co-workers have fears of being fired. Remain calm; everything is going to be all right. As for loved ones, they need your input about a family situation. Be honest. Capricorn plays a role late in the week.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't be shy early in the week. You meet someone who has a lot of influence in your field. Get noticed by him or her; it's sure to help your career. A friend takes you out late in the week. Enjoy yourself. Pisces and Cancer play important roles.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't overanalyze a romantic relationship, Aquarius. You've finally met someone you really like — just enjoy the time the two of you spend together. A loved one tells you about a family gathering. Even though it's inconvenient, you have to go. Try to make the best of it.

PISCES - Feb 19/March 20

You're a bit confused early in the week, Pisces. There are so many things going on in your life that you don't know what to do next. Turn to a close friend for advice. He or she will never steer you wrong. An interesting person enters your life late in the week. Make plans to see him or her again soon. Leo plays a role.

House of Holy Comforter expansion nears completion

At The House of the Holy Comforter, a residential health care facility for seniors in West Orange, construction of a new wing is quickly nearing completion.

The major expansion program marked a milestone recently when residents moved from their former rooms to the newly-constructed quarters in the new facility.

A grand opening and dedication ceremony for the new facility is scheduled for Nov. 15 at 3 p.m.

The House of the Holy Comforter is expanding from 15 rooms to 38 private, spacious rooms for men, women and couples. The new rooms are large and include a full bathroom, roomy closets and ample space for residents' own furnishings, enabling residents to personalize their private space.

The House of the Holy Comforter board president is the Rev. Wade Renn, former rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Nutley.

"Our residents are now immensely enjoying the fruits of this major expansion project," he said.

"The facility includes a beautiful new library, chapel, Victorian dining room, living rooms, activities room and a veranda," Renn said.

The new wing is decorated with the warmth of Victorian decor, but offers all the advantages of a completely modern facility.

With the addition, The House can offer more area seniors a home where all their needs are met in a caring environment.

Residential aides provide assistance with a variety of daily living activities. Social events and planned activities foster friendships and interaction. Residents enjoy walking on the landscaped grounds, taking in the fresh air on the comfortably-styled veranda and sharing three meals a day in an elegant setting.

Residents also benefit from regular visits by a registered nurse and they can attend weekly chapel services.

Located at 33 Mount Pleasant Ave., West Orange, The House of the Holy Comforter has provided care, shelter and services to area seniors since 1919.

The House is a not-for-profit organization operating under the aegis of the Episcopal Diocese of Newark and administered by Health Care Management of Hackettstown. The House of the Holy Comforter is open to everyone, regardless of religious affiliation.

The House of the Holy Comforter is currently accepting new residents for its expanded facility. For information or a tour of the facility, call Jennifer Hawkins at 736-1194.

Residents care for kids with disabilities

Claire Centrella and her daughter, Melissa, wanted to show that they cared.

So on Saturday, Oct. 25, National "Make A Difference Day," Claire and Melissa organized a drive to help infants and toddlers in the Building Blocks Early Intervention Program sponsored by Cerebral Palsy of North Jersey.

Under their guidance, with the help of staff from Clara Maass Medical Center, Claire, Melissa, and her friends collected hundreds of toys and pieces of equipment for babies with developmental disabilities.

"Make A Difference Day" was established by the President and leaders of the April Summit on Volunteerism as a nation-wide day of caring for citizens to demonstrate their commitment to the community. Hundreds of corporations and individuals participated throughout the country.

Melissa Centrella, now 20, is no stranger to the problems faced by people with disabilities because she suffers from dystonia, a progressive neurological disorder. But Melissa is still concerned about caring about others' hardships, since she is thankful for whatever she does have in her life. She wanted to do something extra-special for children with disabilities who had very little access to toys or even essential baby equipment like strollers.

Claire, who lives on Spatz Avenue in Nutley, has had many years of organizing charitable drives. She is president of the local chapter of the National Dystonia Foundation, and served for many years as her company's United Way coordinator. The Centrellas contacted Lisa Russo, director of Cerebral Palsy of North Jersey's Building Blocks program in West New York, and asked if they could help by collecting toys and equipment.

Next, the Centrellas enlisted the support of Gail Beyer, R.N., supervisor of the Community Benefits Department at Clara Maass Medical Center in Belleville. Beyer had formerly served as a nurse for Melissa. Since the function of Beyer's Community Benefits Department at the hospital is to develop and initiate community programs, she felt this was a natural.

Beyer, in turn, enlisted the support of fellow staff members; husband and wife team Louisa and P.J. Martinez of Belleville, JoAnn Murray of Nutley, Glen Collin of Premium Health Center and Pat Meyers, to organize the campaign by selecting sites and arranging for vans to pick up donated merchandise.

Donors were asked to drop off new and gently-used toys, plus baby equipment like high chairs, strollers, car seats, as well as cash donations. Community volunteers, including Carl and Ellen Wolf of Nutley, Debi Schap and Lisa Russo, staffed four sites in Nutley and Belleville.

These sites included Nutley Parks & Recreation building, Clara Maass Medical Center's lobby and the Nutley Red Cross building.

Cerebral Palsy of North Jersey serves more than 600 children and adults with developmental disabilities in Northern New Jersey. Its Building Blocks program provides occupational, speech and physical therapy as well as special education and nursing care to infants through three-year-olds in the communities around East Orange, Lyndhurst and West New York.

CPNJ's Horizon School provides special education for about 60 children, ages 3-21, who have cerebral palsy or other disabilities. More than 70 adults attend recreational and therapeutic programs at the East Orange Adult Center.

Next month, CPNJ will open a group home for six developmentally disabled adults in West Orange, to be followed by a special apartment complex for people with disabilities, scheduled to open in Newark in March of 1998.

For more information on CPNJ or its programs, contact Bonnie Sirower at 674-1150, extension 19.

Here's Looking at You!!

It's National Diabetes Month; check for related vision problems

It is well known that people who have diabetes are unable to properly use and store sugar, and are at risk for an assortment of medical problems.

However, many people may not be aware that diabetes can affect eyesight, causing severe vision loss and, possibly, even blindness.

Dr. Jonathan Dittkoff, M.D., an ophthalmologist at the Eye Care Center of New Jersey, 108-112 Broughton Ave., Bloomfield, offers answers to commonly-asked questions regarding the relationship between diabetes and vision loss:

Jonathan W. Dittkoff, M.D.

Q. How can diabetes affect my eyesight?

A. In the United States, diabetes causes approximately 12,000 new cases of blindness each year. People with the disease are twice as likely as other adults to get cataracts — clouding of the eye's natural lens — or glaucoma — increased pressure within the eye which can damage the optic nerve. They are also at risk for a condition unique to the diabetic, known as diabetic retinopathy.

Q. What is diabetic eye disease or diabetic retinopathy?

A. Diabetic retinopathy results when there are changes in the blood vessels of the retina (a layer of nerves at the back of the eye that helps send light images to the brain). These vessels may swell, leak fluid, or grow on the surface of the retina, resulting in vision loss or blindness. According to the American Academy of Ophthalmology, "Diabetic retinopathy is the leading cause of new blindness among adults in the United States. People with untreated diabetes are said to be 25 times more at risk for blindness than the general population."

Q. Are there symptoms of diabetic retinopathy I should be aware of?

A. In the early stages of diabetic retinopathy, there are usually no symptoms or pain, so it is important to find and treat eye problems early. In its advanced stages, symptoms of diabetic retinopathy may include: blurred or double vision; seeing distorted images, spots or floaters; haziness; or difficulty in seeing fine details.

Q. What can I do to protect my eyesight from diabetic retinopathy?

A. A thorough eye examination is the only way to detect the disease in its early stages, which is why regular examinations — at least once a year for people with diabetes — are essential. The ophthalmologist does a dilated eye exam — the pupils are enlarged with eye drops — and uses a special instrument, called an ophthalmoscope to look inside the eye. If signs of the disease are discovered, further testing can be done to determine the extent of its progress.

Q. Will good control of diabetes help protect my eyes from vision loss?

A. Yes. Vigilant monitoring and management of the disease will slow down any changes that may affect one's vision. The American Diabetes Association recommends that all diabetics undergo glycated hemoglobin testing several times a year. This test measures the levels of blood sugar over a period of time. The information acquired will help keep patients' sugar levels, and their diabetes, under good control.

Q. What treatments are available for diabetic retinopathy?

A. The good news is that there are several highly effective treatments for diabetic retinopathy. Laser surgery has been successfully used to seal off leaking blood vessels or shrink abnormal vessels that have grown on the retina, resulting in slowing down or reducing severe vision loss. If there are other complications, such as when the fluid in the eye is clouded by blood, the ophthalmologist may use cryotherapy (freezing of the retina) to shrink the vessels or, for advanced cases, vitrectomy, a surgical procedure which replaces the blood-filled liquid with a clear solution.

Q. Is the damage done by diabetic retinopathy reversible?

A. Unfortunately, although the disease's progression can often be controlled, vision that has been lost cannot always be restored. That is why early detection and careful monitoring through regular eye examinations are essential to protect your sight, one of your most precious assets.

Dr. Dittkoff and his colleagues at The Eye Care Center of New Jersey are dedicated to full-service, total quality eye care, from exams to surgery. Founded more than 20 years ago by its medical director, Dr. S. Jerome Holtz, the practice offers general ophthalmology services, as well as the treatment of cataracts, glaucoma, and corneal and retinal problems. Refractive surgery, which reduces or eliminates the need for glasses and contact lenses, is a popular elective procedure.

For further information on their services, which include free eye screenings and providing speakers for community groups and events, call 743-1331.

'Hands on Health'

Woman's health and physical therapy

By Robert Ruffalo, PT, DC, CCSP

It never fails that in order to remember important things, our society dedicates a month or day to the cause. Last month was "National Physical Therapy Month" and "National Breast Cancer Month." Many women are placing ribbons on their clothing to demonstrate their support for the cause. This is both admirable and serves to unify women.

However, I'd like to dedicate this month as "National Women's Fitness Month."

Women are often thought of as superhuman. A woman today must know how to balance her life, whether she is single or married, with or without children, working or volunteering time. The list is endless. Women play several roles throughout their lives such as mother, grandmother, wife, girlfriend, career person, friend, teacher. Throughout the years, the energy required to fulfill roles creates stress and can also lower self-esteem when too many responsibilities pile up.

Exercise and a healthy body can help keep motivation levels up. If you think of the body as a time line, you can identify with specific body changes and their effects. At each level of life, women are susceptible to different changes. In the earlier years and through later years, low back pain is often a common complaint. The middle years often are associated with pregnancy and sciatica pain caused by pregnancy. Through the older years, osteoporosis and incontinence are often common complaints.

Physical fitness through physical therapy often assists the body to restore itself. Although not all conditions can be treated with exercise, a great number of them can be resolved by increasing strength. For example, low back pain can decrease by knowing proper lifting mechanics and strengthening the muscles of the lower back through exercise. Additionally, studies prove that the effects of osteoporosis can be reduced by employing weight bearing exercise into your daily routine. Incontinence, a condition which affects 11 million American women, can be addressed by using conservative physical therapy intervention such as pelvic floor muscle rehabilitation. Menopause can be better managed both physically and emotionally by adding an exercise to your schedule as well.

As a physical therapist and chiropractic physician, married to a "superwoman," I understand the many concerns a woman has today. I certainly think that exercise, diet and proper body mechanics can improve a woman's overall well-being, physically, emotionally and mentally.

As part of the "Hands on Health" campaign, FREE information on strengthening exercises can be obtained by calling 429-3001. Dr. Robert Ruffalo, director of A.T.E.A.M. Spirituality topic of hospital seminar

Members of the clergy, mental health and medical professionals, and interested others are invited to participate in a free monthly seminar series at Mountainside Hospital in Glen Ridge, titled "Spirituality and Mental Health: Common Boundaries... Values... and Concerns."

The program will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the hospital's Conference Room No. 1.

A professor of religion and clinical psychologist, Jones is the author of the book, "Contemporary Psychoanalysis and Religion." He is also the distinguished recipient of the American Psychological Association's 1993 Bier Award for his contribution to the psychology of religion.

The series is offered by Mountainside Hospital's Department of Pastoral Care and Psychiatry/Behavioral Health. Refreshments will be served and free parking is available in the Walnut Crescent parking lot, located across the street from the main hospital entrance.

Everyday health and exercise

When looking at health care and the many different avenues there are to maintain wellness, you must indeed include your physical fitness. This is an area that tends to get overlooked, especially by many doctors. Everything that you can do for your body as far as herbal health care, counseling and any other wellness therapies can all be enhanced by a body in physically fit condition.

Everyday health and exercise is very simple. You need not join an expensive gym or have really expensive exercise equipment in your home. All you need is determination. The town that you live in offers you many places to begin a walking program. Start off slow, even if that is to your street corner and back. Every day, you can add a little distance to your walk. Stairmasters are built right into your home. Start using them. Stairs aren't just there to get from one floor to the next.

If a gym and exercise equipment is something you choose to utilize, then shop around. Get the most for your money. Regardless of the path you take to achieve physical fitness, just keep it consistent and always check with your health care professional before beginning any exercise program.

This is Part II of a series of articles that take us from early childhood vision up to the mature years. Hopefully, you'll get some valuable pointers, both for yourself and your children. It will be a four-part series discussing various aspects of vision at different stages of life.

The learning years

Changes in your child's vision may occur during the learning years, but he or she may not realize a problem exists because a child assumes everyone sees the way he or she does.

Vision problems can affect your child's ability to learn, since 80 percent of learning activities involve vision. Problems may range from seeing a blurred chalkboard to reading difficulties stemming from poor eye movement, focusing and coordination.

Children who do not learn often become frustrated and can develop a poor self image, lose interest in school and even turn to delinquent behavior.

To give your child good vision for learning, have his or her eyes examined at the beginning of each school year. Conditions such as nearsightedness, farsightedness and astigmatism often affect school age children. Also, be alert for behavioral signs that may indicate vision performance problems and bring these to your optometrist's attention.

Signs that you and your child's teacher may spot include:

- Frequent eye rubbing or blinking
- Short attention span or frequent daydreaming
- Poor eye/hand coordination
- Poor reading
- Avoiding close work
- Frequent headaches
- A drop in scholastic or sports performance
- Covering one eye
- Tilting the head

Though your child may have 20/20 eyesight, that doesn't guarantee perfect vision. It means he or she can see at 20 feet what should normally be seen at that distance. There are other interrelated vision skills that contribute to good vision and affect how well your child performs.

Belleville SPORTS

Arcilla earns spot on quad-town tennis team

Junior second singles player compiles 11-5 record to capture spot on first team

The evidence speaks for itself.

With a season record of 16-9, the Bloomfield High School girls' tennis team proved it was solid from top to bottom, and that is reflected in this year's Orechio Publications quad-town all-star girls' tennis team.

The team is comprised of talented players from the high schools covered by The Nutley Sun, Belleville Times, Bloomfield Life and Glen Ridge Voice.

After losing a number of seniors and finishing 17-6 last season, the Lady Bengals came back with a group of players who didn't have much varsity experience.

It didn't seem to matter as the squad mustered just one less win than last year's team.

The top player of that crew, Melissa Mottola finished with a record of 17-7 and established herself as one of Essex County's top players as a junior. Mottola is the Player of the Year.

After losing a few seniors and guiding his team to 16 wins, coach Ron Masson deserves some of the credit for the Lady Bengals' success as well. Masson is Coach of the Year.

Shalimar Arcilla

She waited her turn to become the first singles player, but once she got her shot in that position, she played tremendously against a lot of top players in the Northern New Jersey Interscholastic League.

With a powerful serve and great ground strokes, Mottola played very well in most of her matches this season. Masson more than likely is looking forward to Mottola's return next season.

Sarah Dumansky

Dumansky's just a sophomore and a darn good player at that. She was the Player of the Year last season, and if not for Mottola, may have been again.

Shalimar Arcilla

Nutley doesn't play a long schedule, and on a team with little experience, Dumansky didn't get the opportunity to play too many extra matches in the Essex County or state tournaments.

Dumansky compiled a record of 10-4 at second singles. But on a Nutley squad that had a very rough season only winning five matches, her record speaks volumes about the kind of player she is. Dumansky should be the team's first singles player next season.

Liz Kwack and Jessica Palumbo

In Belleville's second spot, Arcilla also played well on a team that didn't manage many wins.

Many times when the squad lost a 4-1 match, Arcilla often was the reason the Lady Bucs got a point in the match. Her 11-5 record was the result of her fine play.

As she steadily improved her serve and volley game throughout the season, the junior with a big serve again will figure to be an important part of the Belleville squad next year.

Katie Wollner and Amanda Pescatore

With all the talent on the Bloomfield squad, Masson had the luxury of having a pair of strong doubles teams in the arsenal. The doubles side of that arsenal was led by two seniors.

Wollner and Pescatore started the season together, ended the season together and posted a 14-11 record in the process.

While recording their 14 wins, Pescatore and Wollner played very well, and during losses, this tandem always seemed to give opposing teams fits. Should be interesting to see how this pair is replaced next season.

Player of the Year

Here's the other end of that double-barrel shotgun Masson had in the arsenal.

Kwack and Palumbo, a senior and junior combination, also didn't take too long to get while at times being the team's safety valve at the end of the lineup.

Quite a few of the team's 3-2 wins were secured by this tandem, as Kwack and Palumbo posted a 14-11 record as well. Palumbo either will get a new partner next season or move up to singles as Kwack graduates.

Coach of the Year

Our Coach of the Year in 1996 managed a repeat performance thanks to his squad.

And although it takes the players to come up with the wins, don't take anything away from the oil in the machine. Masson helped his players maintain their confidence, kept encouraging them and allowed them to play through their rough times.

Masson lost big-time players last year and pulled together a team that slightly exceeded even his expectations. The Lady Bengals attained most, if not all, of their goals and Masson deserves some of the credit.

Moreno finishes 16th in county, Cifelli sidelined by knee injury

By Mike Lamberti

The Belleville cross country team competed in the county championships last Friday at Branch Brook Park.

John Tosaro's team will take part in the sectional championships on Saturday at Warnaco Park, Elizabeth. That race will wrap up the '97 season for the team.

Jose Moreno had a tremendous race for the boys team, taking 16th place overall in a very competitive field.

Moreno's time on the 3.3 mile course was 18:15.

"The course is longer than it used to be," Tosaro said. "Jose's time was excellent. We couldn't be happier with his performance."

Sean Rodriguez was next for Belleville to cross the finish line, taking 55th overall in 20:02. Mike Testa was 82nd in 20:44. He was followed by Jorge Miranda (22:28), Ashutosh Shukla (22:32) and Torny Kveitkus (24:45).

Newark Eastside won the county championship for the second straight year. Columbia was second and Seton Hall Prep finished third in the race.

In the girls' race, Maria Insua was the first runner across in 27:55. Julie Bolante was next in 29:07. Aziza Awa followed in 30:40 and Anhar Hayek rounded out the Belleville effort with a time of 33:30.

Melissa Cifelli, the girls' top runner, was sidelined because of a knee injury.

"We're hoping she'll be back for the sectionals this weekend," Tosaro said. "She wanted to run in the counties, but there was swelling in the knee and we didn't want to take a chance."

The team competed in a quad meet against Nutley, Passaic and St. Mary's of Rutherford at Nutley Park, using the Maroon Raiders home course.

Even though Belleville and Nutley both call Nutley Park "home", the courses the teams use in meets are slightly different, Nutley's being a little shorter in length.

Moreno took fourth overall in the race with a time of 15:17, which, if calculated on Belleville's course, would have been his personal best time of the season.

Testa finished in 16:48 and Miranda ran 18:54.

"Both Jose and Mike took a full minute off the team they had the last time they ran Nutley's course," Tosaro said. "It was a good test for them."

Lady Buc soccer team wins third game of season

By Mike Lamberti

Malerie Clarke-Cameron and Katie Dunn scored goals, leading Belleville to 2-1 victory over Queen of Peace last week.

The victory was the third for the Lady Bucs this season.

Carlos Folleco's team was 3-12-1 heading into the final week of action this week. This afternoon, the season concludes with a home game against Bloomfield at Clearman Field. Kickoff time is 3:30 p.m.

There will also be a small ceremony for the Belleville seniors who will be playing their last game at halftime of today's contest.

Cameron's goal tied the game at one in the first half and Dunn's tally late in the first period gave Belleville the lead for good.

"We needed a win," Folleco said. "The girls have been working hard all season long and it's good to see them get a victory."

Belleville wasn't as fortunate in a game against Chilton, losing 6-0.

Chilton scored five goals in the first half and coasted to the win.

"We played a bad first half," Folleco said. "I was happy with our second half. The kids didn't quit."

Caruso touchdown pass to Roberts stuns previously unbeaten Garfield

The Belleville Junior Buc 'C' squad pulled off a major upset last Monday night, beating previously undefeated Garfield 13-12 at Doc Ellis Field.

Belleville will battle Lodi in the first round of the playoffs. The time and date of the game has yet to be announced. Lodi is the only team to have beaten the Bucs this year.

In facing Garfield, the 'C' team battled a juggernaut. The Boiler-makers came into Doc Ellis undefeated, having shutout six of its eight opponents.

Things didn't look good for Belleville in the early going as Garfield dominated the action and took a 12-0 first quarter lead.

That margin lasted until the fourth quarter, when Belleville began its comeback, spearheaded by the passing of David Caruso.

The Bucs marched down field on passes from Caruso to Joe Roberts, Joe Muraglia and Joe Pizzi. The drive was culminated by a three yard run by Joe Droz, who carried a few Boiler-makers on his back en route to the score.

Droz scored the extra point, cutting the Garfield lead to 12-7.

The Buc defense held Garfield on its next possession. Belleville got the ball back on its 45 and began the winning drive.

Caruso was once again tremendous under pressure, firing a beautiful pass to Roberts, who made an over-the-shoulder catch on a dead run.

Roberts then broke a tackle and raced into the end zone for the go-ahead tackle.

The Garfield fans, who brought a banner that read "We Are Back For Pay Back", had to take their sign down. The sign was in reference to last year's Super Bowl, when Belleville beat Garfield for the crown.

Several Belleville players saved their best game of the year for this effort. Henri DeFrance had ten tackles, Muraglia came through with several game saving tackles, Jose Martinez finished with two quarterback sacks and a number of pressures on the passer, Mike Biase contained Garfield's running game, Jon Yochum had six tackles, Pizzi made seven tackles, Anthony DeVivo forced two fumbles, Pete Maccarone had six tackles and one sack and Lou Ritacco did a good job of containing the Garfield run.

Offensively, Caruso was 18 for 25, 310 yards and one touchdown. The offensive line of Yochum, Chris Serron, Chris Hemsley, Martinez, Maccarone and Ritacco gave Caruso the time to throw.

Other standouts included Lance Gomes, who pinned the Boiler-makers deep with his kickoffs and Muraglia, who opened the second half with a 53 yard kickoff return.

The winner of the Belleville-Lodi playoff game will advance to the Super Bowl in Nutley. Once again, the date and time of the game with Lodi has yet to be announced.

Belleville natives doing well in college ranks

As second year Caldwell College head men's soccer coach Bill McGrath headed into the 1997 season, he had one major concern.

Replacing All American goalkeeper Emmitt Idzhal.

Sophomore keeper Natalie Guagliardi soon put McGrath's worries to rest. Though the Cougars lost their first two games, played at the Richard Stockton Classic in Pomona, New Jersey, Guagliardi was named to the All-Classic Team and showed McGrath that he was up to the task.

Guagliardi, a 1996 graduate of Belleville High School and a key member of state championship Buccareer teams, has stepped in and made an immediate impact at Caldwell College.

A three year starter for Gino DePinto at B.H.S., Guagliardi has drawn the compliments of his coach.

"I knew that Nate had the ability," comments McGrath, who last year led the Cougars to an 8-5-2 record in his first year at the helm.

"He also showed in practice that he had the toughness, and the knowledge to be a steady keeper. Yet as a coach, you never really know about a keeper until he is 'game tested.' Nate showed me in his first game that he could get it done."

Since that first weekend, the Cougars have put together eight victories, and head into the final two weeks of the season with an overall mark of 8-7 and a Central Atlantic Collegiate mark of 3-1, good for second place in the conference.

The Cougars have already clinched a berth in the C.A.C.C. playoffs, which begin today.

Caldwell's eight wins have all been, amazingly, the result of a Guagliardi shutout.

"It's a pretty simple philosophy," says McGrath. "If Nate and the defense holds the opponent scoreless, we can't lose."

Along with his eight shutouts, Guagliardi has put together a goals against average of 1.1.

Palic earns spot on Lady Monarch tennis team

Tanya Palic, a 1996 graduate of Belleville High School, has earned a starting berth on the King's College tennis team.

Located in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Kings College boasts a solid tennis program. The team was 8-7 as of last week, posting wins over Rutgers-Newark and FDU-Madison.

Palic has posted a 1-7 mark in singles play and a 3-6 record in doubles. Considering that she has made the varsity in her second year of college is quite an accomplishment.

She played high school varsity tennis for four years under the direction of coach Tony Salese.

"She was a great kid to coach," Salese said recently of Palic. "You're not going to find a harder worker. She was one of the best players we've ever had here."

"I'm glad she's playing on the college level. She is becoming a very good player there with more experience."

Another local product is also doing well at Kings.

Bloomfield's Lisa Fitzgerald had compiled an 8-7 mark at second singles and was 7-4 playing doubles.

She posted wins over FDU-Madison (6-4, 6-4) and Rutgers-Newark (6-2, 6-0).

Fitzgerald, a junior at Kings who played high school tennis at Bloomfield High School, was also a part of the winning doubles team in matches against FDU-Madison, Albright, Moravian and Drew.

FOLLOWING PRESCRIPTIONS TO THE LETTER

People often joke that classes in handwriting should be required for all medical students so that their future patients could read their prescriptions after they become doctors. This may not be such a bad idea after all. The National Coordinating Council for Medication Error Reporting and Prevention has found that problems including illegible handwriting, the presence or absence of leading or trailing zeroes used with decimals, misinterpreted abbreviations, and incomplete medication orders account for 15% of all reported medication errors each year. As a result, patients may receive the wrong medication, the wrong strength, the wrong dosage form, or even the wrong directions for use. This potential for error leads to the recommendation that patients ask their doctors to clearly spell out their prescriptions if there is any question.

You are welcome to ask us any questions concerning directions for your medications. Drop off prescriptions or have your doctor call us at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue (759-1968, 759-1956). We are Medicare and Blue Cross approved. Greeting cards and Russell Stover candies are available for Thanksgiving and other occasions. Hours: 9am-10pm daily 9am-9pm Sundays.

HINT: Whenever possible, a doctor's prescription should include a brief notation of purpose, as well as the patient's age and weight.

Vincent Caputo

Vincent J. Caputo, 88, of Morris Plains died Oct. 31 in the Summit Ridge Nursing Home, West Orange.

A Mass was offered Monday in Our Lady of the Blessed Sacrament Church, Roseland, after the funeral from the Spinelli-Scura Home for Funerals, Orange.

Mr. Caputo operated a newsstand or 40 years and owned his own newsstand in Hoboken for 20 of those years. He retired 18 years ago.

Born in Newark, he lived in Belleville before moving to Morris Plains five years ago.

Surviving are a son, Vincent Jr.; a daughter, Angela Burns; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Weichert, Realtors begins 19th annual holiday toy drive

James M. Weichert, president, has announced the launch of Weichert, Realtors' 19th annual toy drive.

Each of the company's 200 sales offices will collect toys for distribution to financially and/or physically disadvantaged children within the local community.

Weichert offices will accept donations of new toys through Friday, Dec. 5. Local charities which aid needy or underprivileged children will deliver the toys during the holidays. Last year, more than 18,000 toys were distributed by charitable and service organizations in the communities Weichert serves.

To make a donation, drop off a new, wrapped toy at a local Weichert, Realtors office. Toys should be marked to specify the appropriate age of the recipient and whether the gift is for a girl or a boy. For more information, contact a local Weichert office.

James M. Weichert, president, and Santa prepare for Weichert, Realtors' 19th Annual Toy Drive.

IF YOU MISSED OUR OPEN HOUSE YOU SHOULD REALLY INSPECT THESE FINE HOMES.

Monthly payments are for 30-year conventional fixed rate mortgages. No down payment. For purchase, prices up to $250,375, monthly mortgage payments (principal + interest) quoted by our ads are to qualified buyers, based upon a 20% down payment and a conventional 30-year fixed rate loan at 6.875% with 3 points, A.P.R. 7.220%. As an example, a $100,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $656.93. For purchase prices from $250,375 to $499,999, the monthly payments are to qualified buyers based upon a 20% down payment and calculated at 7.125% with 3 points on a "jumbo" 30-year fixed rate mortgage with an A.P.R. of 7.442%. An example of a $500,000 loan would mean 360 monthly payments of $3,361.55. Figures herein are approximate and do not include property taxes, hazard insurance, or homeowners association dues for a condominium purchase. Interest rates quoted are as of Oct. 2, 1997, and subject to change. Not responsible for typographical errors, while information is believed accurate, we request that the payment be validated with a mortgage provider prior to purchase.
