8 seconds to cross the avenue

Elderly are stranded by Four Corners work

SMILES OF CONCERN: Ashok Kapadia, left, owner of package store at intersection of Joramemon Street and Franklin Avenue, and Helen Burns, are witnesses to the difficulties for pedestrians at Four Corners.

ACCIDENTAL VIEW: Barbara Mastrolanni, head teller at Collective Bank branch, has window on corner of Continental Street and Franklin Avenue, where pedestrian died two years ago.

LONG WALK: Tessie Julian walks to traffic light quarter mile distant from this corner.

UNDERGOING SIEGE: Victor Guevara and son, Tommy, 2, have been unable to find parking in front of their Washington Street house while street is torn up for gas line connections and repairs.

By Howard Klausner

The completion of road and sidewalk work at the intersection of Franklin Avenue and Joramemon Street - known locally as Four Corners - has made it easier for motorists to turn right from Joramemon to Franklin.

But the widening of the streets have raised a new problem for pedestrians, particularly the elderly, but also young mothers pushing strollers and baby carriages.

"It's eight seconds to cross," a Crossing Guard said. "For most of the elderly, it leaves them half way across before the cars start moving."

The Township Council was scheduled to pass an ordinance which would make it illegal to make a right turn against a red light at the intersection.

Residents said this might help, but the fact remains that the streets are now wider than ever, and more dangerous than ever.

Ashok Kapadia, owner of Pioneer Wines and Liquors at the northeast corner of the intersection, said, "It's hard enough for me to cross Franklin to get to the bank. For the elderly, it's impossible."

Mr. Kapadia, a man in his 50s, said, "The six or eight seconds they have to cross is not enough."

Helen Burns, a resident of a nearby apartment complex, says she is very upset about the situation.

"Not only this intersection, but the corner of Continental and Franklin, a block away, are very dangerous for the elderly. We just do not get time to cross," Ms. Burns said.

Now in her 80s, Ms. Burns has lived several years in the complex.

"I see accidents all the time, fender benders. And people jumping out of the way of cars and trucks. But I have a special feeling about road injuries. My niece, Barbara Ciccone, was in a car accident at Kennedy Street and Belleville Avenue in 1994.

"I'm going to the hospital now to visit her. She has been like a vegetable ever since the crash. She is only learning to swallow now, and when we see a sign of recognition by her, it's like a holiday."

Ms. Burns said that two years ago, a pedestrian was killed at the corner of Continental and Franklin, where there is no traffic light.

Barbara Mastrolanni, head teller at the Collective Bank branch at the corner of Continental and Franklin, said, "We see a lot of accidents - a lot of fender benders over there. We have a lot of senior citizens as customers, and they are going in and out all the time."

Tessie Julian, who resides on Franklin Avenue across the street from the bank, said that the crossing is so dangerous for her that she walks a quarter mile to the corner of Franklin and Joramemon, and takes her chances there. "At least it has traffic lights."

Lou Santana, who uses a cane, said, "We need a light here."

He chose to take his chances by walking across Franklin Avenue against traffic. A truck came to a halt to allow him to cross.

Mayor Mario Drozd said that the ban on right turns at Four Corners would be of some help. The matter of a traffic light at Continental and Franklin Avenue was up to the state and the county.

Washington Street remains under siege for three weeks

The Columbus Parade has come and gone, but the Public Service crews that arrived that day, Sunday, Oct. 19, are still there.

Their arrival was heralded by police cars with loudspeakers announcing that all cars had to be removed from the street by 2 p.m., or be towed.

Two cars were towed, after the warnings were unheeded.

Public Service has begun to replace the existing gas lines that dated back a century.

Gas service was interrupted only sporadically, but daytime parking was prohibited.

In a neighborhood of working people, most of whom left for work early in the day, the main problem was for those who normally parked during the day.

For Renee DiModica, a single mother, the problem was that her son, Ricky, 7, is wheelchair bound, a victim of a spinal problem.

"I had park the car around the corner, instead of across the street," she said.

Others said they were adjusting to the situation as best as they could. Victor Guevara, who recently renovated his house, can only move things in during daylight hours, making last long enough to do the job.

Employees of Public Service said the job was to have been completed last Wednesday, but cold weather intervened.

"On cold weather days, we have to answer emergency calls," a Public Service worker said.

"When we complete final connections with depend on the weather."

The last five days have been below average, and more cold weather is predicted.

Cemetery riot brings police

Belleville police were among those from several communities to respond to a riot call from North Arlington, when a fight broke out among some 60 mourners at a funeral in Holy Cross Cemetery, Monday morning.

Back-up was supplied by Belleville, Lyndhurst and Kenilworth, as North Arlington police acted to quell the disturbance.

Some 16 North Arlington police were involved by the time that two sons of the deceased were charged with being disorderly persons.

North Arlington police said the dispute broke out when the sons insisted that their father accompany them home in their car. An uncle and aunt of the young men wanted to have the father accompany him.

"As it was," a North Arlington police officer said, "the sons left the cemetery under arrest, and the father went home with somebody else."

PRIZE WINNER - The topic of David Martinez' essay on Black Saints was Martin de Porres, who served the poor of Latin America, and David compared him with Mother Theresa. It won him a $200 Savings Bond from the Newark Archdiocese and a manuscript from Archbishop Peter L. Gurity at Sacred Heart Cathedral. Here, he is shown with Vice Principal Patrick Martinez of St. Peter's School, where David is a first grade pupil, holding Black Saints Essay award.

All are safely back from the League of Municipalities convention in Atlantic City. Township Manager Ray Kimble returned early - "I had too much work to do" - and he remarked on the large number of concessions in evidence. Everyone has something to sell to the municipal governments. This is one of the reasons that Council Member Victor Canning gave for not attending at all. "I never go to these conventions. You hear a lot of speeches from people, some of that not that knowledgeable, and then there are all the free gifts being offered. Politicians and officials are not supposed to accept them, but people look the other way. They give a speech on avoiding the handouts, and then they go out to the dinners offered by Bruno Associates, the banks, and everyone else. I stay home and do work." • • • • In all fairness, there are symposiums and even product demonstrations that can be helpful, and we think it is important for municipal officials to share information and advice. And then go off to a free meal. • • • • We had the pleasure of meeting four of the most poised and articulate teen-agers we have ever encountered. All are Belleville residents, and they all attend Lacordaire Academy in Montclair. This is a private school under the auspices of the Sisters of St. Dominic with an enrollment of 125, and a teaching staff of 21, with Sr. Suzanne McCaffrey, OP, Ph.D. as principal. It provides a college-oriented education and 100 percent of its graduates go on to college. The youngsters who attend receive the kind of education possible when both they and their teachers are highly motivated. • • • • The occasion of our visit was the exhibition at the school's new Pride Gallery of works of art created by the students. The gallery is under the direction of Art Teacher Judith Cavaleri. The works show a freedom of expression and inquiry that indicates independent young minds at work. Rose-Ann Holandez, a Third Year student, created a sculpture of wire and fabric which she calls "Farewell to Art". "It expresses my sorrow at completing the art course with Miss Cavaleri, which I really enjoyed," Miss Holandez said. The daughter of Pablito and Erlanda Holandez, who immigrated here from The Philippines and settled in Belleville nine years ago. "I definitely want to go to college, and go into government of diplomacy." She laughed, "It would keep me near New York." She is president of her class, president of the Key Club, class editor of the literary magazine, yearbook photographer and a mean varsity lacrosse player. "I like to work in black-and-white photography." An Honors student, she says of Lacordaire, "It offers a lot, without the worries of a co-ed school." Brother Paul is a technician at Clara Maass Medical Center and sister Pauline works at a doctor's office. • • • • Mary Ann Bravette, a Fourth Year student, created three untitled sculptures - "Demonstrating the principles and elements of art. The daughter of Frank and Marie Bravette, she is a First Honors student, and her ambition is "to become a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, or to be involved in criminal justice. It has a fascination for me." She was named Student Athlete of the Year, playing tennis, basketball and softball, and she is a member of the National Honor Society. She is think of attending either Drew University or Felician Sisters College. She likes Lacordaire, she said, because "It's mostly like a family. It definitely recognizes the people who go there." Brother Frank is studying business administration at Seton Hall University. Brother John is studying criminal justice at Seton Hall. Sister Angela is a sports therapist. • • • • Sisters Floradeliza and Marissa Mejia are the children of Federico and Mariafina Mejia, who came to this country from the Philippines. Floradeliza, a Second Year student, created a work produced by linoleum block printing. It shows the same building in three versions of color. "My family went cross country, visiting a lot of cities, and I noticed we were seeing basically the same structures, and that's what I show." A First Honors student, she is interested in film making and communications, and would like to attend Ithaca College. A Senior Girl Scout, she is working for the Gold Award, Girl Scouting's highest honor. As a lacrosse player, she was named Rookie of the Year. She is also Class Editor of the Yearbook. Speaking of Lacordaire, she said, "When you have an interest, they help you to develop that interest to the best of their ability." • • • • Marissa Mejia is a Senior who produced a number of works. "It's multi-media, and I was just doing it for fun." An honors student, her ambition, she said, was to attend Quinnipiac College and study physical therapy. One of the appeals of the school to her, she said, was "Everyone here knows each other. You make friends for life." The girls spoke of attending small classes, where they received personal attention. "Freshmen are friends with the teachers, and seniors are friends with the freshmen." The girls also had strong words of praise for Miss Cavaleri. "She is an inspiration to us. Whenever we felt down, she got us up again, so we would never stop trying." • • • • The parents of the girls were not professionals or business people. They ranged from chemist and auto mechanic to floor installer and postal worker. But they were united in their desire to provide their daughters with the best possible education, and it probably meant at least some financial sacrifice on their part. And it means that there will be some wonderful contributors to society when the girls enter their careers.

Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says, "In local politics, the people with time on their hands seem to be the ones who are active. Show me someone of no visible means of support and I'll show you a political operator. Show me a business person, and I'll show you someone on his or her way to court to answer a violations charge." • • • • Zilch's political supporters, the Kool Kukumber Boys, are seeking some creative public relations approaches to boost the township's image. "How about placing 'Welcome to Upper Montclair' signs around town?" is one suggestion. • • • • Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro Di Vincenzo Mitten, is told that a lot of the votes against the change of government proposal came from petition signers who found out the petition was not for new playground equipment, after all.

SHE OVERCOMES PROBLEMS - Renee DiModica, shown walking her dog who has pulled himself out of the picture, copes with transportation for wheelchair-bound child, despite ban on day-time parking.

Cerebral Palsy Center's 51st annual meeting

Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson held its annual meeting Nov. 18 in conjunction with the Parents-Teachers-Therapists Association and the agency's affiliated Housing Organizations, 42 State St., Inc. and 31 Cuzzo St., Inc.

Paul Amsterdam of South Orange was elected president of the Board of Directors and Mrs. Sofia Burbano of Kearny became the new president of the Parent Group (P.T.T.A.)

The following individuals and organizations who provided support to the Center were recognized:

James Flynn who is a member of the Belleville Elks and serves on the Elks Crippled Children's Committee. Through his volunteer activities at the agency, the Center received funds from the Prudential Insurance Company to support programs and services.

The late John Vidal of Livingston, a "25 year supporter of the Center and a former member of the Board of Directors."

The four United Way organizations in Essex County: United Way of Essex and West Hudson, United Way of No. Essex, United Way of Bloomfield, and United Way of Millburn-Short Hills, and the Glen Ridge Community Fund who have supported the Cerebral Palsy Center for more than 35 years.

Charity Council for Cerebral Palsy, a recently disbanded group who supported the Center, was given a citation for nearly 50 years of providing equipment and funds totalling nearly one million dollars.

In lieu of a keynote speaker, the Center provided a program, "Life After School," featuring present enrollees of the various Center programs and services. The program highlighted the Center's commitment to adults with disabilities in assisting them in meeting their life-long goals and addressed the need to consider the development of new services and the expansion of present activities. Housing, employment training, greater community access, respite services, adult education and programs for aging adults are the present concerns of the clients, their families and the Center staff.

Following the meeting, the attendees had the opportunity to tour the facility and visit the Center's newly-built group home at 31 Cuzzo St. which will provide residence for six individuals.

Old Memories

There are those special memories
We cherish through the years,
The most of them are happy ones,
A few are touched by tears.
They all become more beautiful
The older now they grow,
And with their age they take their place
As days of long ago.
They are the pictures of a past
For which we sometimes yearn,
But which we know so well is gone
And which cannot return.
They have no market value in
Our commerce of today,
They are not even anything
That we can give away.
And yet those memories can play
A most important part
As they inspire or console
Or otherwise help the heart.

Betty Barr was in the hospital. Irene Caruso is still recuperating from a fall. Sylvia Paganelli is resting at home.

We were talking to Marie Cataldo. She likes it in Fairfield but she misses everyone from the club.

Happy birthday to Leah Swanhart, Bob Johnson and Frank Krycher. A happy anniversary to Pat and Mary Cavallo and Anthony and Flo Amico.

Best wishes to Carmen Urso who will be going into the hospital for double knee surgery.

When banking:

• Many criminals know exactly when government checks arrive each month, and may pick that day to attack. Avoid this by using Direct Deposit. This sends your money directly from the government to the bank of your choice.

• Store your valuables in a safe deposit box at a bank.

• Never give out your credit card number or account number to someone who calls on you, identifying themselves as a bank official. A bank will never ask you to remove your money.

The week of Nov. 6, Nat Dimichino bowled a 213 scratch at the Brunswick Lanes in the Old Guard League. Last week, John Cantagallo was high man with a 218. Good bowling, guys.

Condolences to August Anuso who lost his brother. Also to you, Provi.

Last week, the senior clubs lost a very important member when Fred Behan passed away. Fred was very active in both clubs. He was an officer in the Tuesday Club. I first met him a few months after I joined the Tuesday Club, about 20 years ago. This distinguished looking man came up to me and asked if I would like to sit at his table at the next club party. I gladly accepted and was introduced to his lovely wife, Dorothea, the late wonderful Janet Daly and the flower specialist, Leah Swanhart. I forgot Fred and Peggy

Bergman. Later on, Ed and Dot Barbig joined the group and then Tom and Carmel Pallante. Last but not the least, Frank Federico became a member of our group. We became great friends and though we did not see eye to eye on many things, Fred would always give you a hug, a big smile and forget about it.

Fred and Dorothea came from the same section of North Newark. Dot and I graduated Elliott Street School (not together) and she taught two of my children at #7 School. Fred was the kind of guy you could hold a conversation with, always had a good joke to tell and brother, he made a perfect Manhattan. Fred always went out of his way to help you and he didn't look for any reward, just happy to be of help. Fred and his wonderful wife, Dorothea, helped me so many times in the past 20 years and Fred, every time I drink a Manhattan, I will be thinking of you and of the beautiful times we had. Rest in peace, Buddy.

My condolences to you, Dorothea, on your great loss. Also to Joan, Don, Gertrude and Peter.

I must mention that Fred and Dorothea were volunteers at Clara Maass and put in over 1000 hours. He was also a past president of the Nutley Camera Club.

A special birthday to my son, Joseph, and may he and his wife, Lani, have a very special day.

You know God has smiled at you when:

• Yours is the first piece of luggage down the ramp at the airport terminal.

• You get pulled over for a traffic violation and all you get is a lecture.

• Your kids tell you that you are doing a pretty good job of raising them.

• You expect a car repair bill for $300 and are handed one for only $38.26.

• You go to the bank during your lunch break and there are no lines.

• You weigh yourself after two weeks vacation and find that you have actually lost two pounds.

Zilch's political supporters, the Kool Kukumber Boys, are seeking some creative public relations approaches to boost the township's image. "How about placing 'Welcome to Upper Montclair' signs around town?" is one suggestion. Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro Di Vincenzo Mitten, is told that a lot of the votes against the change of government proposal came from petition signers who found out the petition was not for new playground equipment, after all.

Old Memories

There are those special memories
We cherish through the years,
The most of them are happy ones,
A few are touched by tears.
They all become more beautiful
The older now they grow,
And with their age they take their place
As days of long ago.
They are the pictures of a past
For which we sometimes yearn,
But which we know so well is gone
And which cannot return.
They have no market value in
Our commerce of today,
They are not even anything
That we can give away.
And yet those memories can play
A most important part
As they inspire or console
Or otherwise help the heart.

Betty Barr was in the hospital. Irene Caruso is still recuperating from a fall. Sylvia Paganelli is resting at home.

We were talking to Marie Cataldo. She likes it in Fairfield but Bergman. Later on, Ed and Dot Barbigo joined the group and then Tom and Carmel Pallante. Last but not the least, Frank Federico became a member of our group. We became great friends and though we did not see eye to eye on many things, Fred would always give you a hug, a big smile and forget about it.

Fred and Dorothea came from the same section of North Newark. Dot and I graduated Elliott Street School (not together) and she taught two of my children at #7 School. Fred was the kind of guy you could hold a conversation with, always had a good joke to tell and brother, he made a perfect Manhattan. Fred always went out of his way to help you and he didn't look for any reward, just happy to be of help. Fred and his wonderful wife, Dorothea, helped me so many times in the past 20 years and Fred, every time I drink a Manhattan, I will be thinking of you and of the beautiful times we had. Rest in peace, Buddy.

My condolences to you, Dorothea, on your great loss. Also to Joan, Don, Gertrude and Peter.

I must mention that Fred and Dorothea were volunteers at Clara Maass and put in over 1000 hours. He was also a past president of the Nutley Camera Club.

A special birthday to my son, Joseph, and may he and his wife, Lani, have a very special day.

You know God has smiled at you when:

- Yours is the first piece of luggage down the ramp at the airport terminal.
- You get pulled over for a traffic violation and all you get is a lecture.
- Your kids tell you that you are doing a pretty good job of raising them.
- You expect a car repair bill for $300 and are handed one for only $38.26.
- You go to the bank during your lunch break and there are no lines.
- You weigh yourself after two weeks vacation and find that you have actually lost two pounds.

Aside from That

By Howard Klausner

All are safely back from the League of Municipalities convention in Atlantic City. Township Manager Ray Kimble returned early - "I had too much work to do" - and he remarked on the large number of concessions in evidence. Everyone has something to sell to the municipal governments. This is one of the reasons that Council Member Victor Canning gave for not attending at all. "I never go to these conventions. You hear a lot of speeches from people, some of that not that knowledgeable, and then there are all the free gifts being offered. Politicians and officials are not supposed to accept them, but people look the other way. They give a speech on avoiding the handouts, and then they go out to the dinners offered by Bruno Associates, the banks, and everyone else. I stay home and do work." * * * In all fairness, there are symposiums and even product demonstrations that can be helpful, and we think it is important for municipal officials to share information and advice. And then go off to a free meal. * * * We had the pleasure of meeting four of the most poised and articulate teen-agers we have ever encountered. All are Belleville residents, and they all attend Lacordaire Academy in Montclair. This is a private school under the auspices of the Sisters of St. Dominic with an enrollment of 125, and a teaching staff of 21, with Sr. Suzanne McCaffrey, OP, Ph.D. as principal. It provides a college-oriented education and 100 percent of its graduates go on to college. The youngsters who attend receive the kind of education possible when both they and their teachers are highly motivated. * * * The occasion of our visit was the exhibition at the school's new Pride Gallery of works of art created by the students. The gallery is under the direction of Art Teacher Judith Cavaleri. The works show a freedom of expression and inquiry that indicates independent young minds at work. Rose-Ann Holandez, a Third Year student, created a sculpture of wire and fabric which she calls "Farewell to Art". "It expresses my sorrow at completing the art course with Miss Cavaleri, which I really enjoyed," Miss Holandez said. The daughter of Pablito and Erlanda Holandez, who immigrated here from The Philippines and settled in Belleville nine years ago. "I definitely want to go to college, and go into government of diplomacy." She laughed, "It would keep me near New York." She is president of her class, president of the Key Club, class editor of the literary magazine, yearbook photographer and a mean varsity lacrosse player. "I like to work in black-and-white photography." An Honors student, she says of Lacordaire, "It offers a lot, without the worries of a co-ed school." Brother Paul is a technician at Clara Maass Medical Center and sister Pauline works at a doctor's office. * * * Mary Ann Bravette, a Fourth Year student, created three untitled sculptures - "Demonstrating the principles and elements of art. The daughter of Frank and Marie Bravette, she is a First Honors student, and her ambition is "to become a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, or to be involved in criminal justice. It has a fascination for me." She was named Student Athlete of the Year, playing tennis, basketball and softball, and she is a member of the National Honor Society. She is think of attending either Drew University or Felician Sisters College. She likes Lacordaire, she said, because "It's mostly like a family. It definitely recognizes the people who go there." Brother Frank is studying business administration at Seton Hall University. Brother John is studying criminal justice at Seton Hall. Sister Angela is a sports therapist. * * * Sisters Floradeliza and Marissa Mejia are the children of Federico and Mariafina Mejia, who came to this country from the Philippines. Floradeliza, a Second Year student, created a work produced by linoleum block printing. It shows the same building in three versions of color. "My family went cross country, visiting a lot of cities, and I noticed we were seeing basically the same structures, and that's what I show." A First Honors student, she is interested in film making and communications, and would like to attend Ithaca College. A Senior Girl Scout, she is working for the Gold Award, Girl Scouting's highest honor. As a lacrosse player, she was named Rookie of the Year. She is also Class Editor of the Yearbook. Speaking of Lacordaire, she said, "When you have an interest, they help you to develop that interest to the best of their ability." * * * Marissa Mejia is a Senior who produced a number of works. "It's multi-media, and I was just doing it for fun." An honors student, her ambition, she said, was to attend Quinnipiac College and study physical therapy. One of the appeals of the school to her, she said, was "Everyone here knows each other. You make friends for life." The girls spoke of attending small classes, where they received personal attention. "Freshmen are friends with the teachers, and seniors are friends with the freshmen." The girls also had strong words of praise for Miss Cavaleri. "She is an inspiration to us. Whenever we felt down, she got us up again, so we would never stop trying." * * * The parents of the girls were not professionals or business people. They ranged from chemist and auto mechanic to floor installer and postal worker. But they were united in their desire to provide their daughters with the best possible education, and it probably meant at least some financial sacrifice on their part. And it means that there will be some wonderful contributors to society when the girls enter their careers.

Fifth Ward Councilman Harry Zilch says, "In local politics, the people with time on their hands seem to be the ones who are active. Show me someone of no visible means of support and I'll show you a political operator. Show me a business person, and I'll show you someone on his or her way to court to answer a violations charge." * * * Zilch's political supporters, the Kool Kukumber Boys, are seeking some creative public relations approaches to boost the township's image. "How about placing 'Welcome to Upper Montclair' signs around town?" is one suggestion. * * * Our Copy Cat, Baldassaro Di Vincenzo Mitten, is told that a lot of the votes against the change of government proposal came from petition signers who found out the petition was not for new playground equipment, after all.

SHE OVERCOMES PROBLEMS - Renee DiModica, shown walking her dog who has pulled himself out of the picture, copes with transportation for wheelchair-bound child, despite ban on day-time parking.

Cerebral Palsy Center's 51st annual meeting

Cerebral Palsy of Essex and West Hudson held its annual meeting Nov. 18 in conjunction with the Parents-Teachers-Therapists Association and the agency's affiliated Housing Organizations, 42 State St., Inc. and 31 Cuzzo St., Inc.

Paul Amsterdam of South Orange was elected president of the Board of Directors and Mrs. Sofia Burbano of Kearny became the new president of the Parent Group (P.T.A.).

The following individuals and organizations who provided support to the Center were recognized: James Flynn who is a member of the Belleville Elks and serves on the Elks Crippled Children's Committee. Through his volunteer activities at the agency, the Center received funds from the Prudential Insurance Company to support programs and services.

The late John Vidal of Livingston, a "25 year supporter of the Center and a former member of the Board of Directors."

The four United Way organizations in Essex County: United Way of Essex and West Hudson, United Way of No. Essex, United Way of Bloomfield, and United Way of Millburn-Short Hills, and the Glen Ridge Community Fund who have supported the Cerebral Palsy Center for more than 35 years.

Charity Council for Cerebral Palsy, a recently disbanded group who supported the Center, was given a citation for nearly 50 years of providing equipment and funds totalling nearly one million dollars.

In lieu of a keynote speaker, the Center provided a program, "Life After School," featuring present enrollees of the various Center programs and services. The program highlighted the Center's commitment to adults with disabilities in assisting them in meeting their life-long goals and addressed the need to consider the development of new services and the expansion of present activities. Housing, employment training, greater community access, respite services, adult education and programs for aging adults are the present concerns of the clients, their families and the Center staff.

Following the meeting, the attendees had the opportunity to tour the facility and visit the Center's newly-built group home at 31 Cuzzo St. which will provide residence for six individuals.

Betty Barr was in the hospital. Irene Caruso is still recuperating from a fall. Sylvia Paganelli is resting at home.

We were talking to Marie Cataldo. She likes it in Fairfield but she misses everyone from the club.

Happy birthday to Leah Swanhart, Bob Johnson and Frank Krycher. A happy anniversary to Pat and Mary Cavallo and Anthony and Flo Amico.

Best wishes to Carmen Urso who will be going into the hospital for double knee surgery.

When banking:

Many criminals know exactly when government checks arrive each month, and may pick that day to attack. Avoid this by using Direct Deposit. This sends your money directly from the government to the bank of your choice.

Store your valuables in a safe deposit box at a bank.

Never give out your credit card number or account number to someone who calls on you, identifying themselves as a bank official. A bank will never ask you to remove your money.

The week of Nov. 6, Nat Dimichino bowled a 213 scratch at the Brunswick Lanes in the Old Guard League. Last week, John Cantagallo was high man with a 218. Good bowling, guys.

Condolences to August Anfriso who lost his brother. Also to you, Provi.

Last week, the senior clubs lost a very important member when Fred Behan passed away. Fred was very active in both clubs. He was an officer in the Tuesday Club. I first met him a few months after I joined the Tuesday Club, about 20 years ago. This distinguished looking man came up to me and asked if I would like to sit at his table at the next club party. I gladly accepted and was introduced to his lovely wife, Dorothea, the late wonderful Janet Daly and the flower specialist, Leah Swanhart. I forgot Fred and Peggy

Bergman. Later on, Ed and Dot Barbig joined the group and then Tom and Carmel Pallante. Last but not the least, Frank Federico became a member of our group. We became great friends and though we did not see eye to eye on many things, Fred would always give you a hug, a big smile and forget about it.

Life in Silver Lake

By Marie Strumolo Burke
A feature of Belleville Times

Strike up the band!

Our Silver Lake Civic Association Holiday Party has arrived. The date — Friday, Nov. 28 at the Branch Brook Manor, featuring the Fabulous Infernos. We have a sell-out crowd and we are thrilled. Our "doo-wop" shoes are being shined and we're ready to party. Thanks to the "Angel" for chairing the event.

Silver Lake Day

Hey, all you Silverlakers out there. We have a date on Sunday, Nov. 30 on the corner of Lake and Jerald at "high noon." All the dignitaries have been rustled up in honor of our big day and the Historical Society will help handle the history of our area. The only thing missing will be our good friend, Eddie O'Neil, the Belleville historian, who started this day. Eddie passed away. He was quite a man. Ed, we will think of you that Sunday and you will always be in our hearts.

After the ceremony, we will all meet at Pico's Tavern to savor some Sicilian pizza, compliments of the SLCA. So, don't be late 'cause it's a date, and we'll all meet under the historical sign posted on Jeraldo Street. Let's make this the biggest and best Silver Lake Day ever.

Before I forget. Let me send out a 20-gun salute to our SLCA members who took part in the Belleville Nutley Columbus Day parade. The head honcho was V.P. Dennis Forlenzo, wife Susan and children; Phyllis Scanzillo, Anthony Sessa, Donna and Paula Iannia, Angela Cuozzo Zarro and other School #4 children and parents. And what's a parade without a vehicle, and what a vehicle we had, thanks to the Veniero family. The SLCA contingent was a "hit," especially with our clowns, Dennis, Phyllis and Angela, who did a little skit that excited the crowd. Everyone enjoyed the candy that the children threw to the on-lookers. The word I hear from the committee is "Wait until next year." I really don't think that I can keep my composure waiting a year, but I'll try.

Candlelight ceremony

It's that time of year again. The SLCA will hold our tree lighting ceremony on Saturday, Dec. 6. We'll all attend the 5:30 Mass at St. Anthony's and then promenade down Franklin Street, with lighted candle in hand, to the Holly Tree, planted in memory of Joseph Zarro and his wife. Committee members Grace Constantino, Billy Bizzarro and Anthony Renna will handle the arrangements. Hot cider will be provided to ward off the cold. Christmas carols will be sung and we'll have a grand old time.

The Belleville PBA and SLCA have joined together to hold a Photo with Santa on Saturday, Dec. 13. Place to be announced. Details will follow.

Let me end on a sad note. The Silver Lake Civic Association is grieving the loss of Samuel LaMonica of the LaMonica Funeral Home. Sam was a good friend to the association. He was always there to help us, whether it be with a sizeable donation or attending our fundraising activities. Condolences to wife, Josephine and children. And to our friend, Sam, from the SLCA — Rest in peace. We'll all miss you.

Remember, we love Silver Lake.

DiGaetano named to auto insurance task force

Assembly Majority Leader Paul DiGaetano, R-36, was named by Assembly Speaker Jack Collins to serve as a member of a special joint legislative panel on auto insurance reform.

DiGaetano's district includes Nutley and Belleville.

Last June, in what DiGaetano remarked as a "good beginning," the State Legislature, through a bill sponsored by the Assembly majority leader, eliminated surcharges for good drivers, ended automatic rate increases, cracked down on fraud and prevented the insurance industry from arbitrarily dropping good drivers.

As DiGaetano sees it, "We still have our work cut out for us. In simple terms, consumers want affordable coverage without having to sacrifice reasonable protection."

However, DiGaetano went on to admonish the insurance industry's role for high premiums by stating, "They should practice what they preach."

DiGaetano was referring to the previous claims by the insurance industry for having to raise their premiums because of the high number of automobile thefts. Yet, when the Uniform Crime Report confirmed a 34 percent decrease in automobile thefts from 1991-1995, there was no reflection of that in lower premiums.

Said DiGaetano, "If the insurance industry is as concerned about the consumer as we are, let's see some action."

Other members of the panel will include Speaker Jack Collins, Assembly members Scott Garrett, Clare Farragher, Joe Doria and Joseph Charles. Senate members will be John Bennett, Gerald Cardinale, Joe Kyrillos, Richard Codey and John Adler.

A schedule of committee hearings will be released in the near future.

Kelly civic group seeks toys for needy

The John V. Kelly Civic Association and Veterans of Foreign Wars Stuart E. Edgar Post 493 have announced their annual Toys for Needy Children drive, to be held at the VFW Post, 271 Washington Ave., Nutley, on Friday, Dec. 5, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Admission to the event is an unwrapped toy for a boy or girl or a $10 donation. Santa Claus will stop by. There will be refreshments and entertainment for all.

These toys will go to children in need in the Nutley and Belleville area.

If you cannot make the affair, but would like to send a donation, please mail your check to the John V. Kelly Civic Association, P.O. Box 22, Nutley, New Jersey 07110.

Bits and Pieces at St. Peter's

By Sr. Frances Devlin

Academically, St. Peter's Elementary School has participated in several contests outside the school lately.

On Saturday, Nov. 8, accompanied by their teacher, Sister Jeanne, four seventh-grade boys were at the "Pirate Open" at Seton Hall Prep. Brian Ravancho, Jeremy Atendido, Albert Rodriguez and Luis Moran found the questions difficult since they were up against eighth graders from 12 other participating schools.

The Petreans enjoyed the competition though.

"Wait'll next year," Luis said. "They'll see who is the best!"

Two other students from St. Peter's, eighth graders this time, took part Nov. 10 at Queen of Peace High School in a computer quiz competition. Accompanied by their teacher, Linda Arndt, James Healy and John Maloney fielded questions in social studies and religion.

The boys brought home certificates of excellence and a good feeling of having done well against the 24 other schools represented there.

This contest will have prepared them for another Academic Bowl on Dec. 6, also at Queen of Peace, where, as John said, "Then we'll show them who has the brains!"

And finally, in another area of endeavor, St. Peter's will perform a Christmas musical named "Miracle on Bethlehem Street."

Program coordinator Marge Fittin has written and directed the play with a drama cast of 23 students and musical selections from all grades.

Kathleen McNally is musical director and Kethly Tuella is preparing the scenery, aided by several capable art students.

From joyous to gentle, "Miracle on Bethlehem Street" captures the Christmas story with clever dialogue and heartfelt songs.

The goals? For St. Peter's children to understand that all are welcome to know Jesus, to review the story of His birth, and to have fun praising God.

There will be a dress rehearsal on Dec. 11 at 1 p.m. and a performance for parents in the evening at 7 p.m.

OUR OPINION

Just staying alive

The world seems to be becoming less and less safe for the pedestrian, and the elderly pedestrian in particular.

There has been a natural increase in vehicular traffic - natural in the sense that the general population has increased and every year, another 10 million cars are pumped into the highway system.

Cars are moving faster than ever, but Senior Citizens are not getting any fleetier, even with the improvements in health care and longevity.

We now have some highways through town which are simply impassable for the elderly, the disabled and the baby carriage set.

In some cases, installation of street lights are a partial answer.

But what we have to realize is that we are moving into a new century, when the motor is liable to drive the shoe from the streets.

It requires a whole new look at traffic control and urban design.

Throughout the country, there are communities in which motorized traffic is prohibited.

That is not a viable solution for Belleville, unless we reconstruct the town from scratch. But there is such a thing as a traffic engineer, and this is someone who has been working on ways to cope with co-existence between man and machine.

We also have a problem of different jurisdictions - state highways, county avenues and township streets.

The township has very limited powers over Washington Avenue or Franklin Avenue. It cannot put up a traffic light on these thoroughfares, even if it wanted to spend the $86,000 it would require.

There was a time when towns were responsible for their own water and sewage systems, and when garbage disposal was handled by a town dump.

Traffic - and concurrent problems of pollution and noise - is something beyond the control of an individual town, and unless some sort of Traffic Control Authority is created, we are going to cross even the quietest street in real fear for our lives.

The 2 percent solution?

Mayor Mario Drozd has brought back something from the recent League of Municipalities Convention in Atlantic City - a new approach to school funding.

The League School Finance Committee came up with a proposal to replace the current property tax for school funding with an income tax - a flat 2 percent on each taxpayer.

This would not apply to commercial or industrial property, and the committee states it has "a revenue-neutral effect within each school district; tax burden is merely shifted within the districts from lower to higher income residents."

This "mere" shift is not likely to win the applause of higher income residents, except that since they probably also pay high property taxes, they might come out ahead of the game if the school tax disappeared.

According to the League - based on 1993 tax rates - the Belleville school tax rate would decrease by 58 points, under this proposal.

Our arithmetic is not such that we can confirm or deny this claim.

Mayor Drozd says that the current method of school funding is under attack as unconstitutional. The league apparently believes that a flat 2 percent school tax would be constitutional.

The proposal would have the state deduct the money from the income tax paid by the taxpayer, and the money would be funneled back to the community - but not quite.

The community would have to certify just how much it was spending for schools that year, and what with all the bookkeeping and collection time, it would be a year before the tax money would be handed over to the school district.

The Times has always suspected that sooner or later the school tax would have to become an income tax.

For those on fixed income, the steady rise in property taxes is driving them out of their homes. A flat 2 percent tax does not necessarily preclude a flat 3 percent or a flat 5 percent tax, but it is probably better than the present system of confiscatory taxes.

The passing of the old H-N

The sale of the North Jersey Herald and News to the Record of Hackensack marks the end of an era.

As an alumnus of the Herald-News, the Editor can recall the time when the the H-N and the Record were neck and neck in circulation and growth. Unfortunately for the H-N, its management left it on a plateau and then a downward spiral, while the Record built up its staff and augmented its coverage.

In the late 1950s, the H-N had a circulation of about 60,000. On its change of ownership, announced last week, it claimed 54,000, a figure which may represent a generous estimate. The Record is well over 150,000.

Both newspapers had good staffs, and they covered communities which had vibrant lives and strong individualities. The Record benefited from a population explosion in Bergen County, and the H-N failed to capitalize on that same growth, although it did inch up to 100,000 when the old Newark Evening News died. But it did not seem to have the vision or the courage to establish itself strongly in Essex County.

Like any New Jersey newspaper that had weathered the Depression, the H-N had a staff of experienced, home-grown reporters and editors who knew their communities intimately and reported on them accurately. They were not rewarded for their efforts.

The Record did reward its employees, and it paid off. The H-N staff withered and died, to be replaced by inexperienced reporters whose main aim was to get enough experience to move on. Circulation withered and died as well.

The same management that acquired the H-N managed to lose the Hudson Dispatch and the Elizabeth Journal before it finally had to give up its flagship paper, now called the Herald and News.

What the Record will do with the neighboring daily is problematic.

Today, it is the weekly newspaper that stands triumphant in the market place, because it still tells the home town story to the home town reader.

YOUR OPINION

Alice says farewell

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the customers of Alice & Mac's Candy Store for their patronage over the past 28 years. You were not just customers, you were our friends.

I cannot tell you how much your kindness and compassion meant to me and my family after Mac's passing.

It was with sadness that I sold the store, but I will always treasure the memories of the good times and the many good friends we made over the years.

Thanks to all of you for your kindness and friendship. I will miss you.

Alice McManus

did not support the council manager form of government had some legitimate reasons for not doing so. We can only hope that those reasons will be addressed as this township prospers.

Let us continue as one family to build the best community for all our residents.

Lou Messaro
Committee to Continue the Progress

Scott thanks the 36th District

To the editor:

It has been an honor and a privilege for me to serve as the state senator for the 36th Legislative District for the past six years, and I would like to thank the voters who had confidence in me and gave me the opportunity to represent and serve them.

Many things were accomplished on the state level that I was proud to be a part of. There are still some major issues to be addressed, key concerns that many in the 36th District shared with me, that hopefully will be dealt with in the coming session of the Legislature.

The most rewarding aspect of serving as a state senator was the ability to provide assistance to so many people in need of help. Annually, my district office handled thousands of notary application endorsements, unemployment and health insurance matters, motor vehicle incidents and problems dealing with almost every department in the state. And, the office, this year alone, was able to get homestead rebate checks for more than 300 people who did not receive them when expected or received the wrong amount.

The lasting memories, however, will always be of those individuals who wholeheartedly and continuously stood with me and supported my efforts. The friendships, old and new, that solidified and developed over the years are the true rewards of any public servant and a gift that I will proudly carry with me for years to come.

My special heartfelt thanks go out to each and every person who supported me over the years and elected me to have the honor of serving as their senator in the 36th District.

State Sen. John Scott
36th Legislative District

Thanks to voters

To the editor:

The Committee to Continue the Progress wishes to thank the residents for their heartfelt support of our community during the election held on Nov. 4.

Through your efforts, our cause was successful, and Belleville retained the government it selected some seven years ago, when it changed from commission to council manager.

As with any new project, we experienced some growing pains while trying to understand the needs of a community that has a diversity of interests.

Under the direction of Township Manager Raymond Kimble, our township has seen those diversifications addressed and responded to in an efficient manner. We have repaved some 66 streets, many of which were not done for over 25 years, and in many cases, have replaced old curbing and sidewalks in an effort to keep pride in ownership for the property holders in those areas.

The Township Council has seen three new ball fields and eight areas where new playground equipment was placed during the past seven years at its direction. These things did not happen overnight, but with careful planning. They heard your requests for these needed improvements and brought them to fruition for the enjoyment of Belleville's children and citizens.

Our committee had taken notice of these changes before it was formed and decided to support the new look in Belleville government, and it appears that many of our citizens took notice also, for, after all, it is you who have a large stake in the manner in which your community grows.

The committee presumes that those of you who

• NUTLEY lost one of its all-time treasures in the death of former Mayor Harry W. Chenoweth. My first contact with Chenoweth was in April of 1940 when he was campaigning for the election of his political partner, the late Commissioner John Lucy. Over the years, our paths crossed many times leaving happy memories for me. His passing came after a long illness, and not only is his death a sad event, but more so because he died alone.

Harry's stories went back to the days when his mother was the wireless operator keeping Nutley in touch with the outside world. For a time, it seemed the Mayor's seat alternated between Harry Chenoweth and Commissioner Carmen Orechio - the friendliest of changeovers. Among my memories of Harry was seeing him every Sunday morning with his sidekick, John Lucy, passing the basket at St. Mary's Church 10:00 mass. He was a God-loving, God-fearing member of the human race. He lived and died the life of a bachelor, dedicated totally to his legal profession and Nutley's government. Harry's participation in Nutley government enriched the lives of all of us. When he retired from government, he always maintained a keen interest in local activities. Harry never aspired to go beyond serving the people at the Nutley Town Hall level. He was a decorated World War II hero, participating with his childhood friend, Anthony Andriola, in the Battle of the bulge. While we mourn his passing, the legend of Harry Chenoweth will be among us forever.

Our son had a long, shaggy beard when he made his first trip to Europe. Several years later he went abroad again, using his still-valid passport. A customs official studied the passport photo and then his face, now cleanly shaven. Finally, the woman signaled him through, saying, "Your mother must be very happy."

• GEORGE SIEGEL, member of a pioneer Nutley family who makes his home in Boca Raton, Florida, attended a 50th wedding anniversary of former Nutleyites, Mr & Mrs. Walter Wilhelm. The event was sponsored by their four children, three of whom live in Florida and one in Idaho. We extend belated 50th wedding anniversary greetings to the Wilhelms.

George says the only bad thing about retirement is that "you never get a day off." He goes on quoting the late Maurice Chevalier - when asked how he liked being 80, Chevalier said, "It's better than the alternative." And - George, I can agree with the observation.

YOUR OPINION

Thanks from School 7

To the editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the following for their generous contributions to our "Kids Love Kids" Halloween Dance. This committee of the Organization of Parents and Educators of School 7 raises money to be donated to needy families in our community.

Brunswick Olympic Bowl, ShopRite, K-Mart of Belleville, Good Health Pharmacy, Gialanella Pizzeria, Nicolette Auto Body, Cheryl DeNotaris and family, Mom and Pop Deli, Walter Bauman Jewelers, Belleville Cards and Gifts, State Fair, Plaza Chemists, $1 Zone of Belleville, Park Diner, Sunshine Fundraising, Jr. and Sons Hot Dog Truck, D.J. Ralph Tunis, Michael Caprari, Footprints Orthotics, and the parents who baked and donated all the cakes and juices.

We would also like to thank the following for sponsoring the seat cushions that we sell for this committee:

Nicolette Auto Body, Frade's Deli and Meats, Joe's Shell Station, Jo-Lee Nursery, Here's the Party and Positive Electric.

The success of this committee is also due to the generosity and work done by the members of the O.P.E., especially the chairpeople, Linda DeRogatis and Sue DeFrance. The O.P.E. would be lost without these two women.

Last but not least, I have to thank our principal, Marilyn Hawthorne and our custodians, Vinnie Fazzari and Louis Tafuri. We all appreciate their help and support.

Because this money is given to families with tragedies to deal with, sick children, etc., my wish is that one year, we will not need this committee. But until that time, we appreciate the generosity and kindness of all those who have donated.

Janice McManus
President, School 7 O.P.E.

Assemblymen thank local voters

To the editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of the 36th Legislative District for allowing us the privilege of continuing to serve this district for two more years.

trict for two more years.

We especially would like to thank the many individuals who were instrumental in making our campaign a success. There are so many, it would be impossible to name you all, but we sincerely appreciate the effort made by each of you.

We would be remiss if we did not recognize our families, whose patience and understanding is always appreciated.

We would also like to thank all the candidates for extending their time and efforts. Thank you again.

Thanks from Guardsmen

To the editor:

On behalf of the Imperial Guardsmen, Belleville's own Junior Drum and Bugle Corps, may I take this opportunity to express our appreciation and gratitude to the people of Belleville whose generosity made last month's fundraiser weekend a success.

In a community where fundraisers such as ours are held virtually every weekend, Belleville once again has shown its support for our kids.

Our thanks as well to our Parents' Association for their untiring efforts and commitment to our kids. Without you, our goals could not have been achieved.

Our thanks to K-Mart, Walgreens, A&P and Plaza Bakery for their continued service to the community and for allowing us to use their locations; to the Elks, Knights of Columbus, and American Legion posts for honoring the Imperial Guardsmen with the privilege of representing the town; and to the township itself and the Board of Education for standing behind us.

Most of all, our thanks to the great group of kids who make up the Imperial Guardsmen and whose hard work and dedication make it all worthwhile.

We are very proud of you and we will not let you down.

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Benedetto

Veronica Valvano wed to David Benedetto

Wedding vows were exchanged recently by Dr. Veronica A. Valvano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Valvano of Belleville, and David R. Benedetto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benedetto of New Vernon.

The Rev. Dennis Cocozza performed the ceremony in St. Anthony's Church, Belleville. A reception was held at the Saddlebrook Marriott. Readings during the ceremony were by Claudia Gallelli and Pamela Falcone.

The bride wore an off-the-shoulder gown of silk organza, trimmed with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

Marigrace V. Flynn of Cranford was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Katrina Kashey of Manasquan, Michelle Fornarotto of Union, Christa Fornarotto of Union, Tara D'Alessio of Nutley and Licenne Sodano.

They were attired in fuschia chiffon gowns and carried pink and white carnations.

Junior bridesmaids were Stephanie Kashey of Manasquan and Danielle Pennisi of Cedar Grove. They wore pink chiffon gowns and carried fuschia and white carnations.

Douglas Falcone was best man. Ushering were Joseph Sodano, Steven Horowitz, Rick Hurwitz, Stephen Engst and Drew Fleyzor. Nicholas and Christopher Sodano were junior ushers and the bride's nephew, John P. Flynn of Cranford, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Valvano chose an all-beaded royal blue silk gown while the groom's mother was in a red gown. Wristlets were of white roses.

Dr. Valvano, an alumna of Belleville High School and Rutgers University College of Pharmacy, is in medical affairs at Hoffmann-LaRoche, Nutley.

Mr. Benedetto, a graduate of Summit High School and Rutgers University, is with National Educational Music Co., Mountain-side.

The couple honeymooned in St. Lucia following the June 7 wedding.

Establishing ground rules can avoid fights during holiday family reunions

More family reunions are held during the holiday season than any other time of the year. Unfortunately, family gatherings that begin with good intentions often become marred by arguments over parenting, old feuds and a variety of other reasons.

But long holidays can be enjoyable for all generations if ground rules are established before the weekend. For instance, agree that all history is ancient history. Don't go dredging up fights that began years ago. The odds are nobody can remember what started the argument or its result.

Other suggestions to a healthy holiday stay include:

- Discuss potential problems before gathering. Oftentimes, problems can be avoided if family members are aware of them beforehand. Subjects such as recent divorces or separations can be off-limits only if everyone knows that before the weekend begins. If there is a touchy subject that needs to be discussed, set aside a time after the holidays.

- Let parents discipline their own children. Grandparents, uncles and cousins should spend the time enjoying the children, not disciplining them. Let the parents handle misbehavior. Arguing over parental discipline only creates hostility.

- Assign tasks to young children. Let them set the table, hang up coats and hats when guests arrive or help serve dessert. By involving them in the holiday, they won't feel left out and will be less restless.

- Set aside time for adults. Uncles, aunts, grandparents and other adults need time without children. After the kids are in bed is the perfect time to brew another pot of coffee and bring the family up to date on the latest happenings.

- Don't over-extend your stay. Stress can be created by planning too many activities over an extended period. Cut a long weekend short by one day, leaving time for everyone to unwind and unpack before returning to school and work on Monday.

- Be realistic. Don't expect everything to be perfect. There will be moments of heated exchanges; children will break something or spill their food; and there won't be three or four straight days of unbridled happiness for everyone. Keep your expectations realistic and chances are you'll have a great holiday.

An appeal for Jonathan

Jonathan is a one-year-old terrier-mix who has had a very hard life.

As with most stray dogs, he is malnourished, dirty and frightened. Worst of all, he is hurt. At a young age, a heavy rope was tied around his neck. As his body grew, no one loosened the rope and it became imbedded in the skin around his neck.

Four weeks ago, Jonathan was harassed by young boys who pulled him by that rope until it tore the flesh from his neck. Passersby, seeing the incident, called the authorities and Jonathan was taken to Plainfield Animal Hospital to be euthanized.

The veterinarians at Plainfield, believing that they could save Jonathan's life, asked People for Animals to take responsibility for him.

Seeing Jonathan today, you would never know it was the same dog. He actually looks like he is smiling. His neck is healing, but he has heartworm and will require additional care.

Anyone wishing to donate to Jonathan's care may send a contri-

Nanina's in the Park returns to 'cooking for friends'

From the humble beginnings of a Cutler Street fish market/restaurant in Newark to grand ballroom banquet dining, Nanina's in the Park is returning to home style A La Carte dining.

Back by popular demand, Nanina's is cooking for friends again.

Nanina's banquet dining is also available for weddings, parties, anniversaries, etc.

"We had such a demand for A La Carte dining and people were so angry with us," Nanina's owner Lynn said.

"My brother chef Alan decided that banquets weren't enough for him," she added.

"He's really the creative force behind Nanina's," Lynn continued.

"Alan likes to create new dishes and match wines with food."

Alan studied in Europe for many years. He took courses throughout Venice, Florence and Rome.

Nanina's also have wine cellar dinners Wednesday through Saturday.

This dining experience consists of nine courses with seven wines for parties with a minimum of eight to a maximum of 16 people.

As far as A La Carte dining is concerned Lynn said it's like a return to Alan's dream on a small scale.

"He wanted a small scale restaurant with only 40 seats so that you have the atmosphere of home," she said.

"We started out cooking for friends and we're ending up cooking for friends," Lynn concluded.

Nanina's in the Park is located at 540 Mill Street in Belleville. For reservations call 751-1230.

Bucs-Raiders renew rivalry on Thanksgiving Day at Oval

By Mike Lamberti

A storied rivalry will renew itself tomorrow morning when Belleville and Nutley play its annual Thanksgiving Day game at the Oval.

Kickoff time is 10:30 a.m. For Belleville coach Pat Dowling, it's the first time he's coached in this rivalry. And while he knows it's special, he doesn't want his kids to think of this game any differently than they would for the other eight games on the schedule.

"I told the kids, if you want to consider this a special game, show me in practice. Don't just expect to show up and play well. There's only so much you can do with emotion. Our kids have to practice harder. If they do that, then they'll be more successful on game days."

Belleville won last year's game, 20-0 in the last game of John Senesky's 20 year coaching career at B.H.S. The '96 Bucs were a senior oriented team.

This year, the Bucs have struggled. They've yet to win a game and in the past few weeks, they've been dominated. Nutley has played well in spurts, with three wins. This year, the tables are somewhat reversed, as the Raiders have the senior laden team.

Nutley, coached by Rich SanFillipo, has the slight edge in this rivalry in the 90's, holding a 3-2-2 lead. The Raiders won in 1991, 27-6, '94, 14-6 and in '95, 34-0.

SanFillipo came to Nutley in 1990 and has led the team to three playoff appearances (1991, '92 and '95). The '92 team won the Group III, Section II championship, beating Morris Knolls in the finals.

Belleville's other win in the 90's in this series came in 1990, 21-6. The Bucs and Raiders played to an epic 7-7 tie in 1992. In '93, the two teams tied at 14, although that game wasn't nearly as intense.

The Bucs have not won at Nutley since this rivalry became a Thanksgiving Day event in 1984. Belleville's last win at the Oval was in 1983, 12-6 on opening day.

The series has been one of streaks over the past 25 years. Nutley had the upper hand in the early 70's, but Belleville began to take over in 1978, with a 31-0 win at Municipal Stadium. From 1978-83, the Bucs won six straight from the Raiders.

The tide turned on Thanksgiving Day, 1984, when Nutley went into Municipal Stadium and won a 19-6 stunner. The Raiders, from 1984-89, won five of six. (See graphic for scores from 1971-1996, along with highlights).

When the series was moved to Thanksgiving Day in '84, an M.V.P. trophy has been awarded to the top player from each team in the game. Belleville's M.V.P. in last years game was Rich DeFalco.

Dowling admits that a win here would do a great deal, not only for this season, but the future.

"Beating a good team like Nutley would give the seniors a good way to end their careers and would give our returning players some confidence as they prepare for next year," Dowling said. "I know that this is a big game and there will be a big crowd there. Thanksgiving games are a bigger event, because there's family home for the holidays and it's the final game of the season."

Embarrassing performance by adults should be scrutinized

By Mike Lamberti

Last Sunday at the Oval in Nutley, the Belleville Junior Buc football teams fielded two squads, the 'A' and 'C' teams in the 'Super Bowl' games in those categories.

In both instances, Belleville played Garfield, and in both instances, Garfield won the games. In winning, the Garfield fans and coaches conducted themselves well and their players, not so surprisingly, did the same.

Sandwiched between the two Belleville-Garfield games was the 'B' contest, where Garfield once again was entered, this time opposite Nutley.

A point of reference. The 'A', 'B' and 'C' teams are made up of young players. The 'A' squads are the oldest, usually with 12 and 13 year old players, the 'B' squads consist of 10 and 11 year olds and the 'C' teams are 8 and 9.

With that in mind, maybe someone can explain the chain of events that occurred after the 'B' game. For the record, it was a hard fought, exciting game. Nutley won, 14-13, with the difference in the game being a point after conversion that Garfield failed to convert in the fourth quarter.

The game ended with Garfield deep in Nutley territory. The Raiders were able to hold the Boilermakers on the Garfield 22 as the clock hit :00.

What should have followed was two teams shaking hands and congratulating each other on a hard fought, well played game.

What the fans saw, instead, was poor sportsmanship at its finest, courtesy of the Garfield coaches, led by the head coach.

As the game ended, the head coach had to be restrained by two of his other coaches as he attempted to approach the officials. The head coach was not offering glad tidings of the upcoming Thanksgiving season.

As he was making a idiot of himself, his players slammed their helmets on the ground and the Garfield stands began to erupt in anger at the officiating.

When the coach was finally calmed down, he laced some profanity at the officials as they were heading off the field.

In the meantime, the scene on the field was beginning to get ugly. The happy Nutley players attempted to congratulate their counterparts, but the Raider coaching staff, seeing that things were getting somewhat nasty, told the players to wait on their sidelines.

The officials were now out of the picture, but the Garfield coaches and now, some people in the stands, were still angry.

The aforementioned head coach continued his ridiculous ranting and raving, telling an older man, in essence, to get away from his huddle and using a few more profane sentences, mainly about the older mans mother, who I'm sure, the head coach doesn't know.

Finally, the kids, you know, those 10 and 11 year olds, managed to get order under control as they shook hands at the center of the field.

Guess what? There was no problems when the kids shook hands. It was just with the adults.

The Garfield 'B' team is named the Junior Boilermakers. Call the Garfield coaches and parents the Senior Troublemakers.

If these people had ever decided to take a moment and think, rather than disgrace themselves at the end of the game, then maybe they would have realized a few things.

First and foremost, their actions could have led to a very dangerous situation on the field.

Secondly, and just as important, making complete dopes of yourself doesn't exactly present the right message to 10 and 11 year old kids.

Garfield should be proud of all three of its teams. They won two Super Bowl crowns and came within two points of a third.

But because the 'B' team lost, perhaps on some questionable officiating, grown ups decided to act like two year olds.

One more note to that head coach with the great vocabulary.

If you had won, would your coaching career been enhanced? Did the head coaching job at Temple University slip through your fingers because of that Super Bowl in the 'B' game?

Maybe next time, you'll think before you act.

Junior Buc 'A' and 'C' teams fall in Super Bowl to Garfield

Super Bowl titles fell short for the Junior Buc 'A' and 'C' teams last Sunday at Tangorra Field in Nutley.

The 'C' team lost to Garfield 14-0 and the 'A' team fell to Garfield 20-0.

"We were short a few key players," said 'C' coach Dennis Sheridan. "The kids played hard, we just came up a little short."

The 'C' team took the opening kickoff and drove into Garfield territory. However, a Buc fumble was returned 70 yards for a Boilermaker score and Garfield led 6-0.

Midway through the second quarter, Garfield scored its final touchdown and held a 14-0 lead going into halftime.

Jon Yochum and Lou Ritacco had their best games of the year for Belleville. Yochum, Ritacco, Nick Riggi, Joe Muraglia and Joe Pizzi had outstanding games on defense.

The offense was paced by the running of Muraglia and the passing of David Caruso.

The 'C' team finished with a solid 8-2-1 mark and enjoyed its second straight trip to the Super Bowl.

Congratulations for a tremendous season.

The 'A' team was hit by the turnover bug in the first half and fell behind 20-0 at the half.

Joe Troise's club put together a solid year in 1997, but couldn't get a consistent offensive game going.

Once again, congratulations to both teams for advancing to the Super Bowl.

Joe Muraglia has ball and is heading upfield during Super Bowl game last Sunday in Nutley. Muraglia and his teammates fell short in title game. There are more photos on pages 15 and 20 of this weeks issue.

Attention Kids: Santa's mailboxes open

Santa's Mailboxes-1997

Belleville boys and girls are encouraged to get out their pens, pencils and crayons and start writing their lists to Santa Claus now.

Special mailboxes are set up from November 24 until December 22 to accommodate the expected heavy mail. One is at Town Hall on Washington Avenue and the other is in the front of the Silver Lake Fire House on Franklin Street.

Children can't miss the mailboxes. They're bright red and clearly marked SANTA'S MAIL so no one has an excuse for not writing early.

By very special arrangements made between Mr. Claus and the Dept. of Recreation & Cultural Affairs, all letter writers are guaranteed an answer. A self addressed, self stamped envelope must be included with your letter to Santa so that he can write you back.!

If children are too young to write, they are urged to draw a picture and Santa will get the message. Be sure to have someone print the child's name and address on your return envelope so that Santa can answer the letters.

HOROSCOPES

Nov. 30-Dec. 6

SCORPIO — Oct 24/Nov 22

A co-worker's harsh words really hurt, but you can't let them get to you. Remain calm, and keep working hard. Superiors have their eyes on you to see how you're going to react. That special someone you've been seeing breaks a date. Get all of the facts before you get angry, or else you could say something that you regret.

SAGITTARIUS — Nov 23/Dec 21

You need to be brave this week, Sagittarius. Shocking news from a loved one makes everyone in the family nervous. Try to remain calm and help people understand the situation. A close friend needs you to be his or her date on Friday. Help him or her out. Your efforts will be appreciated.

CAPRICORN — Dec 22/Jan 20

Your admiration for a loved one clouds your judgment when you find out that he or she has made a bad decision. Don't let your feelings stop you from seeing what's right and what's wrong. You've got a quiet weekend ahead of you. Enjoy it.

AQUARIUS — Jan 21/Feb 18

You're certainly full of surprises early in the week, Aquarius. You take on a lot of extra responsibilities and help relatives and friends out when problems arise. They all appreciate everything you do. A chance encounter in a store brings you together with an intriguing person. Ask him or her out.

PISCES — Feb 19/March 20

Your compassion is wearing thin by week's end. It seems as if everyone wants your sympathy. Before you get angry with the wrong person, take some time for yourself. Clear your mind, and relax a little. It's the best way to get back to your old self again. Virgo plays an important role.

ARIES — March 21/April 20

A skirmish with a friend gets you extremely mad early in the week, Aries. However, before you end the relationship, think about how much this person means to you. He or she always has been there for you; don't let this slip away. A loved one needs your help. Be supportive.

TAURUS — April 21/May 21

Even though you try to keep your feelings for an acquaintance a secret, you wear your heart on your sleeve whenever you're with him or her. Be yourself, and you're sure to win his or her heart. A problem at home gets you upset. Turn to a loved one for advice and help. Things will be back to normal soon. Leo plays an important role.

GEMINI — May 22/June 21

You need to be in two places at once during the middle of the week, Gemini, in order to get important matters taken care of. Since this just isn't possible, take some time to get your priorities in order. It's the only way to accomplish anything. A close friend is in trouble. Do what you can to help.

CANCER — June 22/July 22

While you really want to take credit for something you didn't do, your conscience won't let you, Cancer. Don't be angry with yourself. Instead, be proud that you did the right thing. That special someone has a romantic evening planned. Enjoy yourself. Sagittarius plays a key role early in the week.

LEO — July 23/August 23

You're on top of the world this week, Leo. Everything is going well, and people are acknowledging your efforts. However, don't let this praise go to your head; keep working hard. A friend introduces you to an interesting person, but don't get your hopes up. He or she is involved with someone.

VIRGO — Aug 24/Sept 22

You're on pins and needles this week. You're waiting for some important news, and it's due very soon. Don't worry — you'll hear the words you've been hoping for. A business associate reveals his or her true feelings for you. While you're shocked, say yes to a date. It's sure to be a good time.

LIBRA — Sept 23/Oct 23

A family argument has you worried, Libra. There's no need to fret; everything will work out for the best. You run into an old friend and want to rekindle the relationship. Ask him or her out on a date; he or she won't say no. You can catch up on what has been happening with both of you. Scorpio and Taurus play important roles.

Veterans urged to register with VA

Congressman Bill Pascrell Jr., D-8, an Army and Army Reserve veteran, is calling for all veterans to register with the Department of Veterans Affairs health care system.

Registration will help ensure that veterans programs in New Jersey are fully funded by the federal government.

"It is critical that all vets who have not done so already to register with the VA. We have to let the VA know who is out there and what veterans require today. The men and women who have defended our great nation deserve to have their special needs met, but in order for the VA to do this, veterans must let the VA know that they are out there," Pascrell said.

At a recent meeting of his Veterans Advisory Committee, Pascrell learned that many veterans erroneously believe that any veteran who does not register with the VA by October 1998 will be denied access to health care from Veterans Affairs hospitals and outpatient facilities. This unsubstantiated rumor is widespread and evidently not limited to New Jersey.

In response to this report, Pascrell and Congressman Lane Evans, D-Ill., the ranking Democratic member of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, have written to Hershel Gober, the acting secretary of the United States Department of Veteran Affairs, asking the VA to take all appropriate steps on a national basis to notify the veterans community and the general public on the property procedures for enrollment in the VA health care system. Pascrell will also be producing a public service announcement on this subject to be played on television.

The toll-free Veterans Affairs registration number is (973) 676-1000, extension 2692. Veterans who have questions on eligibility should call (973) 676-1000, extension 1407 or 1409.

"Even though no veteran will be time-barred from receiving VA health care, I cannot stress how imperative it is for all vets to register. My hope is that acting VA secretary Gober will heed our call to dispel this baseless hearsay. We must get the word out there," said Pascrell.
