

Taming Belleville politics

Lack of usual contest makes for a smooth BOE election

STEVE DEVRIES/BELLEVILLE TIMES

Belleville residents Florence Pentol and Judy Domenick set up the voting machines at Belleville High School on Tuesday. Though the two incumbents running for the Board of Education weren't challenged this year, voters still had to decide on a $49.8 million budget. See how things turned out inside, page 5.

■ An attempted vehicle theft was reported to a Dodge van in the area of 90 Heckel St. on April 17. The ignition and steering column were damaged after the door was pried open. The woman who owns the van called police four days earlier to say that three males were trying to steal the vehicle.

■ Police arrested and charged Joseph Botros, 22, of Newark, with impersonating a police officer, possession of marijuana, failure to carry identification, having tinted windows and no front license plate. Police say he pulled over three young women and told them he was giving them a warning for a motor vehicle infraction but no ticket on April 16. An off-duty U.S. Customs inspector saw the man use strobe lights and a siren, and flash a gold badge at the three women while driving a blue Acura.

■ Police arrested and charged Adalberto Arroyo, 37, of Newark with robbery after he tried to steal several items from the Pathmark on Washington Avenue on April 16. When a store security guard tried to stop him from leaving the store, he swung his arms back and forth, injuring the back and neck of the security guard and a member of the store's management team. Both refused treatment at the scene.

■ Police arrested and charged Tara Homage, 21, of Bayville, with possession of three wax folds of a controlled dangerous substance with the green writing "Diesel" on the folds and two vials of white powder believed to be CDS after a traffic stop on April 12. She was driving her silver Chevrolet in an erratic manner and then tried to hide the CDS under the seat. She was released on her own recognition.

Cops nab fugitive across the street

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

A suspect who escaped a roadside work detail to commit additional identity thefts was captured again at the Motorcycle Mall in Belleville on April 14 after police were tipped off.

Police arrested and charged Tony Tucker, 34, of Newark with warrants from the FBI for identify thefts and fraud, and for escape from the state Department of Correction. The business he was discovered at is right across Washington Avenue from the Belleville Police Station.

"He was on work release at one of those side of the highway cleanups," said Belleville Police Capt. Mark Minichini. "He got away."

He was a suspect in a bank fraud using a stolen bank credit card for more than $1,200 from the Valley National Bank on Bloomfield Avenue in November 2004, according to Det. Thomas Gazzo, who was involved in the apprehension.

Then in February, at the Bank of America on Washington Avenue, he attempted to obtain a $7,500 bank loan, and was again charged with fraudulent theft.

All together, Tucker is charged with identity theft, receiving stolen property, theft and giving false information.

He was arrested as he entered the Motorcycle Mall at approximately 12:49 p.m. on April 14.

"Everything went smoothly without incident," Minichini said. "Thanks to the perseverance of Det. Gazzo, we apprehended this menace to society who had victimized so many innocent people by stealing their money."

Motorcyclist killed on Route 21 Sunday

BY ASIYLYN LODER
Special from The Record

A Garfield man died in a motorcycle accident on Route 21 south in Nutley Sunday afternoon, just three days shy of his 24th birthday, police said.

Cvete Zupanowski was traveling near the Route 3 junction when he lost control of his Yamaha motorcycle and crashed into the guardrail shortly before 1 p.m., said Nutley Sgt. John Ross.

Zupanowski's motorcycle then skidded back onto the highway and burst into flames, forcing police to close Route 21 south for 45 minutes, and snarling traffic on both highways for several hours, said Ross, who got caught in the traffic jam. Emergency personnel from Nutley and Clifton responded.

No other vehicles were involved in the wreck. Police did not know what caused the accident, Ross said, adding Zupanowski was wearing a helmet.

Zupanowski was taken to the trauma center at The University Hospital in Newark, where he was pronounced dead at 1:23 p.m.

Music, make-believe part of library galas

IN OUR VIEW

Belleville should cash in on blossomfest

If you haven't been down to Branch Brook Park for the Cherry Blossom Festival this week, you should get down there before it's too late. Strolling beneath the pink and white flower canopies, passing the smiling faces of families and friends is an idyllic enough experience to make Norman Rockwell's work seem like renderings of the Dust Bowl during the Great Depression.

This past Sunday was a great time to go. The weather was perfect and all of the trees were in full bloom. People from all over the world converged on the park, telling their kids to "smile for the camera" in a thousand different dialects. It felt like Branch Brook Park had become the center of the universe. And despite the crowds, there was no hostility or impatience in the air, just a leisurely pace and sense of community that was infectious.

For me, the experience was so much more fulfilling than going to see the over-hyped and uninspired art exhibit in New York's Central Park, "The Gates." You may have caught the incessant news coverage on the installation, which consisted of orange fabric panels hung just above head level from thousands of tall orange frames. It cost $20 million to build and took over 26 years to come to fruition.

According to the artists, Christo and Jean-Claude, the installation created a visual golden river highlighting the shapes of Central Park's footpaths. As I shuffled through, passing under sheet after sheet, I was thinking what everyone else seemed to be thinking: "Why am I supposed to like this?" There didn't seem to be much of a current in this golden river. A sheet's a sheet, no matter how many you drape overhead.

I counted at least three dogs lifting their legs to register their own critiques. It was nice to see someone so unworried about being labeled culturally bankrupt.

If there was something to lure them further into town, such as a fairground, food tent or concert, local businesses could have reaped the rewards.

But at Branch Brook Park on Sunday, no one needed a tour guide to explain why he or she should enjoy the cherry blossom trees. Each one was self-evident — low to the ground sprawling outward in exotic draperies of spring color. Their Japanese "roots" are evident as they mirror the shape of trees pictured in the Orient.

Belleville's participation is more limited these days than in years past. Thankfully, the library keeps a full week of activity going to correspond with the festival. However, the township should be doing more to cash in on the event. There were thousands of tourists wandering the Belleville end of Branch Brook Park that day. If there was something to lure them further into town, such as a fairground, food tent or concert, local businesses could have reaped the rewards.

The Gates was a huge boon to New York City. The Cherry Blossom Festival could be a huge benefit to Belleville if wise community leaders would partner with Newark to make it happen.

You can still catch the tail end of the festival on Saturday with the Cherry Blossom Bicycle Tour from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Branch Brook Park, Heller Parkway, and Lake Street. Further info can be obtained by calling (973) 744-7252.

Great job

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to applaud and congratulate Freeholder Ralph Caputo and Council Member Marie Strumolo Burke for the outstanding job and undying effort they did on Branch Brook Drive. I tried for years to get something done but maybe I just didn't try hard enough to get it done. If not for Freeholder Caputo and Council Member Strumolo Burke staying on this matter and going after them, I feel it would have never been sold. They and the tenants are to be applauded for saving that section of Belleville.

Making fans

TO THE EDITOR:

On Sunday Jan. 23 while I was cleaning up the snow, something strange happened to me. My councilman Steve Rovell drove by and asked how many times the plow had come by. I have been living in my current home since 1986 and that never happened before.

For those of you who don't know him, this example of Steve's behavior illustrates his concern for the residents of Belleville.

Frank Tartaglia

Stagecraft Club now abolished

TO THE EDITOR:

Do you recall that terrific production of "Grease" at the high school last year? What about the many super shows at the high school over the years? Are you aware that the high school Stagecraft Club was recently and surreptitiously abolished by the board of education without any input from the students or their director?

I think that Belleville taxpayers should ask why it was necessary to replace the Stagecraft Club with a program that increases cost by approximately 400 percent. I think the Belleville taxpayers might ask why an award-winning Belleville graduate veteran teacher, Mrs. Shuhan, who had been running an aesthetically pleasing and financially self-supporting program involving some 100 students each year in Belleville, was overlooked to participate in the new theatre arts company?

For decades successful play productions and talent shows were performed through her Stagecraft Club program and under her leadership. With a "zero budget" Mrs. Shuhan raised a total production costs to run three shows a year for the students and still have reserve for the following year's slate. The Stagecraft Club raised $11,800 for this year's show and scholarship, only to be abolished. (Under the new leadership, only one play is scheduled for April).

Why was it necessary to replace the Stagecraft Club with a program that increases cost by 400 percent?

Angelo Christiano

Not only had the board voted to abolish the Stagecraft Club, but in its place more than $11,800 was appropriated to pay for what she did for $2,300! Another question to ask is why would her program and expertise be replaced by relatively new, non-tenured, non-Belleville, and/or non-certified personnel — and at a greater cost to the taxpayers of Belleville? I wonder why the board of education chose this alternative "for the students" of Belleville. Don't you?

Angelo Christiano

Birthdays, bashes and fundraisers

It gives me great pleasure to announce that Angelo Sorice of Heckel Street, celebrated his 69th birthday on April 10. You can look far and you can look wide and you will still come up with the name of Angelo Sorice, who in my opinion is an honorable man and who truly cares about his neighborhood and his fellow men. He is the commander of the American Legion post on Belmont Avenue, right here in Silver Lake. And if you ever have an occasion to go into the legion, gaze upon all his pictures with quite a few 'beauties'.

Happy birthday sweet sixteen to Jonathon Serrano who celebrated his day on April 14 and Stacy Sanabria, on the 17. Both of these teens are Heckel Street residents and sophomores in BHS. Stacy, a beautiful young woman, is an avid dancer for 13 years and a teachers assistant who loves children. Our Jonathan, a handsome dude, is on the varsity baseball team and very active in Belleville High School. And don't let me forget that AnnMarie Sanabria, Stacy's mom, will celebrate her 46th on April 18.

I love hearing from the secretary of the Friends of the Library, Josephine Sorice. This time she tells me about their 16th Annual Fun Auction on Thursday, June 16, at 1 p.m. at the main library on Washington Avenue. Whether it be a money donation, which will be well showcased at this event, or a donation of a gift, which will be auctioned to the highest bidder, it will be greatly appreciated. Monies raised by the Friends have been used in the past to purchase a large screen TV for the James J. Cozzarelli, Jr., Children's Room and the trustees room; a bookcase for the lobby and magnificent grand piano for the Carnegie Room, to name a few. So, anyone interested in attending the auction, please call the library at 450-3434. And before I forget, Silver Lake wishes Margery Lordi, president of the Friends of the Library, get well wishes. You are some type of a lady. Hopefully, when you feel better, you can again plan that English Tea. Our Silver Lake gals would like to attend this classy event and will join in with the wearing of our white gloves and picture hats. Sounds like fun and games. Get well soon, Margery.

Few voters kill BOE budget

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

Residents came out to the polls April 19 in extremely low numbers, defeating the Board of Education budget and reelecting two incumbents in an uncontested race.

Some are blaming the lack of a contest, unusual for a political town like Belleville, for the low turnout and subsequent defeat of the budget.

Just 1,002 voters turned out, or 5.8 percent of registered voters, less than half the average turnout.

The Board of Education put forth a $49.8 million 2005-2006 school budget, which raised taxes $205 on a home assessed at $39,857, the township average. The amount of money to be raised through taxes increased $2,215,500 to $26,811,356.

The unofficial budget vote was 500 against and 472 in favor. The budget will now go before the Township Council, which will recommend cuts.

School board members Dawson Bloom and Antoinette "Toni"

Route 21 Accident

On April 19 a 6:45 a.m. a one-vehicle crash took place on Route 21 north in Belleville.

According to the driver, Talya Smith Evans, 27, of Newark, her car went into a slide and then rolled over hitting some construction barrels and equipment. Also in the vehicle was an unidentified seven-month-old female in a car seat in the back.

Police responded to the accident 6:47 a.m. and keeping the area closed until 7:30 a.m., said Lt. Gerard Campanella. The accident investigator on the scene was Officer George Geyer. Injuries of both victims are unknown at press time.

Marone were re-elected in an uncontested race. Bloom garnered 541 votes, while Marone earned 692.

Bloom led the board's budget committee, which came up with the final budget numbers.

"Obviously, I'm very disappointed," he said. "Every year it seems the budget passes or fails by about the same amount. With an uncontested election, I expected the low turnout to be the case. There was not a lot of activity."

Now the school board and council must agree on an amount to cut from the defeated budget. If the school board doesn't like the amount, it can appeal to the state Commissioner of Education.

"Now it's on to the next step in the process, to meet with the Town Council and see what the they want to consider," Bloom said.

Both candidates said they really appreciated the voters who did turn out to vote for them. They each won three-year terms.

Bloom is one-term incumbent employed as an engineer.

He is a lifelong resident of Belleville and was educated in the Belleville school system. He received bachelors and masters degrees in civil engineering from the New Jersey Institute of Technology and is a licensed professional engineer in New Jersey. He has worked for Vollmer Associates, a civil engineering consulting firm, since 1992 and is currently the director of civil engineering for its Newark office. He and his wife, Cathy, have one son, Dawson-Liam, who attends kindergarten at School 7.

Marone was selected by the school board to fill the unexpired term of John Notari, who was elected Fourth Ward councilman last May.

Marone has been involved with the schools as a parent, a parent teacher association president and an effective fundraiser for different schools.

For a short time she was a secretary at School 7 on Passaic Avenue. She later worked in the high school business office as assistant board secretary/purchasing agent.

For 42 years, Marone has been part of the Tri-Town Business and Professional Women of Belleville, Nutley and Bloomfield. The group has given two scholarships every year in each town.

Shooting suspect claims killing an accident

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

A local man who claims he accidentally shot his girlfriend while he was playing around with a gun has been charged with her murder, according to Belleville Police Capt. Mark Minichini.

Jared Serrano, 25, is charged with the murder of Ji-Hyun Lin, 25 on April 13. Serrano called police from the couple's house on Honiss Street in an agitated state, and the call was transferred from state police to Belleville police at approximately 1:20 a.m. The call from the distraught man was made as the woman lay on the kitchen floor, bleeding from a point blank gunshot wound to her chest, Minichini said.

Lin was pronounced dead at the scene.

"She's bleeding! She needs help! Where is the ambulance?" Serrano said during his phone call, according to Minichini.

He said Serrano was initially charged with a weapons offense, but after an investigation by the Essex County Prosecutor's Office, Serrano was charged with murder.

"He was claiming it was accidental," Minichini said. "He was just playing around."

Serrano was arraigned on April 13 in Superior Court in Newark before Judge Donald J. Volkert. He set bail at $250,000, and Serrano was being held at the Essex County Jail.

Minichini said the suspect had no history of domestic violence and there were no witnesses to any argument. The one shot came from a nine millimeter Luger, he said.

All that is known about Lin is that she had a driver's license from Florida, but her family is from Jersey City, according to Minichini. She is survived by a mother and sisters, he said. Serrano took over the house from another family member, Minichini said.

Arthur Branch owns the two-story brick house on Honiss Street and lives upstairs from the couple. He said he didn't believe Serrano, whom he has known for most of Serrano's life, is capable of murder. "I don't believe that," Branch said.

Branch was home when the incident took place but said he heard nothing until the police knocked on his door.

Serrano had lived in Belleville all of his life and Branch had known him for most of that time. Branch said Serrano was a happy kid, always smiling.

"He was very easy going, always smiling," he said. "Every time I said something to him, he grinned. He was a nice kid. I hope (it was accidental). I'd hate to think he deliberately killed someone. It would ruin the life of himself and everyone around him."

Branch did not know if Serrano was into guns. "I didn't even know he had this one," he said.

As well as he knew Serrano, which he said was "since his (Serrano's) mother was pregnant," he knew little of Lin. "I don't know how they met," he said. "I don't know where she came from."

Such violent behavior is not usual for the neighborhood that Branch has called home for many years.

"I've lived here 40 years, and this is the first time I've ever heard of anything like this (violent crime)," he said. "I was mugged five years ago, but I think they got the guys."

Belleville High School Principal Joseph Petrillo said he did not have much of a memory of Serrano.

"Most of the kids that come through here I have some memory of, but I'm not familiar with him," he said.

You've tried everything to stop your spouse's snoring.

It's time to try something that works: The Mountainside Hospital Center for Sleep Medicine.

If you're one of the millions of Americans affected by snoring, you should know that it can be more than a nuisance. It can be a sign of a potentially life-threatening disorder called Obstructive Sleep Apnea, which has been linked to depression, high blood pressure, heart attack and stroke.

We can help put your worries to rest with a simple, painless sleep study, conducted in one of our comfortable, hotel-like rooms. As the patient sleeps, our team will monitor and record his or her brainwaves, muscle activity, heart rhythms, respiratory activity and oxygen saturation levels. The results are then carefully analyzed by a physician who will recommend the appropriate treatment.

Call (973) 429-6858 to find out if a sleep disorder is keeping you from a restful night's sleep.

Planning board negotiates Soho terms further

BY ANNA SPIEWAK
of Belleville Times

The Planning Board amended the resolution that pushes forward the application for the proposed construction of 262 townhouses on the Soho property.

Developers Wellington Belleville/Rainmaker Capital came before the planning board last week to address a number of conditions that were given to them as part of the approval. The developers took the planning board to Superior Court in Newark on four out of the 74 conditions, but the planning board won three out of the four, said Sebastian "Sam" Papa, chairman.

Although the Planning Board lost the condition that would have preserved the Great Lawn, the developers ultimately relinquished their rights to it. This was a matter that was of great concern to many residents. Rainmaker Capital developer Jerry Nardella entered into a settlement agreement with Kaiser Pathan, whom he was litigating against over rights to that parcel of land.

In return, the developers' attorney Ralph Salerno requested that the board allow his client to replace the plans for a tennis court with a passive recreation area, possibly featuring a gazebo and a garden with benches. Salerno said when the plans were reviewed with an engineer, it was determined that high fences would need to be constructed so that the tennis court would not bother nearby residents. A passive recreation area would have less negative impact, he said.

The Belleville Planning Board also asked the applicant to get the Essex County Planning Board's approval to construct a deceleration lane heading southbound on Franklin Avenue and a left-turn lane heading northbound. The county's engineers approved only the northbound left, which developers said they saw as the more important one. They did not approve the deceleration lane. The county engineers didn't think the traffic volume was bad enough, where there was a safety condition at stake when making a right-hand turn, said the developers' traffic expert Nick Verderese, who said he was present at the meeting with the county engineers.

"We want the application to go forward and not hold the developer up," said Planning Board Attorney Tom Dibiasi at the board meeting before members took a vote.

He asked the developers to appeal the engineers' decision before the county planning board and ask them to "entertain the idea" of a deceleration lane going south.

"In order to protect the best interest of our community that effort needs to be taken," he added.

Board members voted 7-2 on the application, with only Jay Bouker and Michael Nicosia voting against it.

Bouker said he has a problem with a one-acre section that holds a water basin and therefore the developers can't do anything with it, so he's worried that they might use that parcel of land for something else.

"That one acre belongs to the Great Lawn, it was designated as passive recreation use," said Bouker. "They can cover that and still have a retention basin."

Nicosia said he had a problem with the deceleration lane not being approved.

"I have a concern with cars turning into the development, it will be a danger," said Nicosia. "Cars on that road drive at a high rate of speed, it could have been done."

But Papa, who voted "yes," said

"We want the application to go forward and not hold the developer up."

Tom Dibiasi
Planning Board Attorney

he thought the decision to move the application forward was a "fair conclusion." And the board did its part by asking the applicants to go before the county planning board to appeal the decision against the deceleration lane.

"If they actually appeal like they're supposed to, it shows good faith on their part that they're doing what the board asked," he said.

Nardella said he's very happy with the application being passed, which allows him to move ahead with the construction, beginning in the next couple of months.

NJN to profile School 3 Holocaust program

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

The small screen will soon be featuring a long-running live theatre tradition in Belleville.

"Classroom Close-up," a six-time Emmy winning show produced by the New Jersey Education Association and NJN Public Television, will be visiting Belleville School 3 on May 9 to tape a story about what the show's producers called "an amazing program" commemorating the 60th anniversary of the Holocaust.

Wanda Swanson, executive producer of Classroom Close-up, New Jersey, said she was impressed by School 3's annual Holocaust program, staged annually for the last 13 years.

"This will be a memorable experience for the students and a source of pride for the school district, to be featured on a statewide award winning television show," she said. "We spend a full day taping one segment, and the goal is to make everyone look good and feel proud of his or her participation in the show and the school event."

The Holocaust program was started at School 3 in the classroom of Isobel Villano. At that time, former principal Rae Saulino encouraged Villano to broaden the production and present it not only to the school but to outside guests, Villano said.

The Holocaust teaching started as just a classroom exercise, but then became a play performed by students in costume with sets for the whole school, and eventually invited guests.

Then-superintendent of schools Dr. Joseph Ciccone encouraged her to continue this curriculum because it followed the state's mandate to teach Holocaust studies, she said. The school is now designated as a demonstration site for Essex County in Holocaust Studies.

Among the awards the Holocaust presentation has won is the Axelrod Family Award from the Anti-Defamation League and several awards from the New Jersey Holocaust Commission.

"We feel our students do a terrific job and wanted others to benefit from their expertise," Villano said. "The students from the past still have this wonderful memory of sixth grade in their hearts and ask, 'Are you doing the Holocaust production yet?' This is an experience that we as teachers hope they will always carry with them."

She said this is an important historical period in the world that they hope teaches students how to live in a diverse world.

"It has been the best five years since working with my present partner, Marilyn LoCoco," Villano said. "Together we have enhanced our social studies curriculum to include the teaching of tolerance, (preventing) bullying and genocide."

Both read the New Jersey Education Association magazine and researched how they could bring their school into the spotlight, and the PBS show was one way.

The NJEA is the major underwriter for Classroom Close-up, with additional support by PSE&G, NJ Family Care and Bristol Myers Squibb Co. Each half-hour segment shows how caring school professionals inspire and motivate students, Swanson said.

The show has more than 1.5 million viewers, and contains four stories, each about five minutes long. In preparation for each story, the show obtains permission from the local school board president, principal and superintendent. Release forms are sent to the teacher to distribute to parents/guardians of all students participating in the show.

The School 3 episode will air Mondays Oct. 3 and Nov. 7 at 6:30 p.m. and Saturdays Oct. 8 and Nov. 12 at 7 a.m. on NJN.

Second school resource officer on duty

The middle school started its new school year with a school resource officer at the building. Det. Wanda Scheumeister is in uniform when she reports to the middle school to oversee the students. She used to be the D.A.R.E. officer and oversee G.R.E.A.T. (Gang Resistance Education And Training) prior to taking the new position in January. When school is not in session, the school resource officers report to the juvenile unit at police headquarters, said Lt. Jerry Campanella. The high school has had a school resource officer on the premises for the past two years now, Det. Paul Auriemma. The board of education and the municipality split both school resource officers' salaries. The board of education reimburses the municipality for the two positions, not to exceed $102,000 a year. Funds for the two positions are reviewed on an annual basis.

Retiree carries effort for Municipal Stadium

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

He was there when it all began, when newspaper photos captured dozens of students and community members rolling up their sleeves and pitching in to refurbish the locker rooms at Municipal Stadium.

And now that the excitement has died down, and many of the workers have stopped returning, he's still there toiling, often times with little help, a man in his 70s.

Vincent Strumolo Sr., 72, had been the steady force in what started out as a community effort to fix the deteriorating student facilities at Municipal Stadium, according to his son, board of education member Vincent Strumolo Jr.

Of course the effort couldn't have made it as far without the donations of time, wood and services by the community. So far the substandard varsity lockers have been removed and replaced with new, handmade wooden ones.

Work is just beginning on the bathrooms at the site, but a desperate call is being put out to anyone who can volunteer their time.

"They're trying to redo the bathrooms with no help," Strumolo, Jr. said at the April 11 board meeting. "Anyone who can give an hour or two, we need you. The bathrooms are probably worse than the lockers. They're a bigger task."

The work was done thanks to his father and a very few other volunteers, and more work is yet to be done.

"I'm still there, but it's not getting any better with help," Strumolo, Sr. said. "I had a guy helping me who was 75 years old, and now he needs tests on his heart."

An out-of-work carpenter is helping him with the concession stand, he said. The big job right now is the bathrooms at the concession stands.

"I'm going to take a break soon," Strumolo Sr. said. "I work like an animal, like a young guy. I refuse to get old. It's just a shame nobody else is coming to help."

He said people like to procrastinate, until it's time to get their hands dirty, then they say they pay taxes, let the town do it.

The stadium is the town's center attraction for sports, Strumolo, Sr. said.

"This is what people see, and if it is beat up, they say 'What kind of town is this?'" he said. "This is my life, the kids. If one of them says I did something nice for them, it's worth a million dollars."

Strumolo, Sr. said funds are starting to run out, but it's amazing what has been done for very little money, including the lockers, which had the lumber donated and a cabinet maker working for free to build them.

People have pledged at least $100 to have one of 31 new lockers dedicated to the memory of someone, but 64 are still unaccounted for, he said.

"I'm tired of talking, when nobody wants to give us any action," Strumolo, Sr. said. "I did my part. It's up to some other people to do their part."

Strumolo, Jr., said he hopes there will be an opening ceremony for the new facilities after baseball season.

His comments drew words of thanks from the audience about Strumolo, Sr.'s efforts.

"I really admire your father," senior citizen Florence Pentol told Strumolo, Jr. "I hope the work isn't going to be done in vain. If the council had their way, they would bulldoze the stadium tomorrow. It's said you're not getting any help. He needs plumbers and electricians."

Fellow senior Edith DeFeo echoed Pentol's sentiments, saying Strumolo, Sr. should be credited with doing something good, but that the rest of the town should chip in.

Strumolo Jr. has said anyone interested in helping can come after 5:30 p.m. on weekdays and pretty much all day long on weekends.

He invited all residents to come and see the results of the all-volunteer effort.

Strumolo, Sr. is the director of the Junior Football League and has been involved in sports for 20 years.

People were working during the day when they don't have to be at their own jobs, and everyone was coming together on the weekends, Strumolo, Jr. said of previous efforts on the lockers.

The new lockers are dedicated to Richard Luzzi, a former Belleville football star.

Modern changes promised for local station

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

Imagine a new, state-of-the-art public access channel with streaming video, replete with sound, replacing a stilted, graphic based channel. Streaming video allows the viewer to watch something like a film on the channel, with sound like a film, all through the benefit of modern computer technology.

Residents are now used to just seeing announcements, which are the stilted graphics referred to above.

A glimpse into that future, coming to Channel 34, was shown to the board of education and a handful of residents at the April 11 school board meeting by a representative from TelVue Virtual Television Networks (TVTN).

Robert Shank, speaking on behalf of TVTN, outlined some of the main features viewers will see April 11.

This follows an agreement between the school board, which runs the cable access channel, and TVTN. The schools get a new, state-of-the-art access channel that is paid for with business sponsorships that will be less intrusive than traditional commercials.

Administrators with appropriate clearance will post messages to the station almost immediately in the event of an emergency.

Professional, highly localized weather announcements, including five-day forecasts, will be available, while traffic news will be punctuated with images fed directly from traffic cameras on major highways.

Shank explained that the channel will cost the township nothing due to programming sponsorship from local businesses. Comparing the situation to Public Service Broadcasting, Shank said local businesses will sponsor certain time slots for one year. He said no other towns have had trouble getting the necessary sponsorship.

"We can take Belleville's blue and gold and use them in the graphics," Shank said. "We can use video shot at the schools or elsewhere."

He said there are more than 4,000 public service messages available that schools can pick and choose to use, such as health spots for diseases.

Voiceovers, which can be done by public officials, can be used for things like job requirements and fundraisers, Shank said, and features like "Student of the Month" or year can be featured.

With an automatic updating system, there will be no old information on the station since every announcement has a starting and ending date, Shank said. The channel can have a "programming wheel" as short as 15 minutes or as long as 90 minutes, with fresh information and features repeated in those time periods.

Ocean City, the example used by Shank, "loves it," he said. "They have information about what's going on in town, and the schools, and with the securing of sponsorship, it's not costing anything."

Nearby Bloomfield has a channel under construction, showing that the area is coming around to this idea, Shank said.

The cost is about $400 per month, which means four or five sponsors are needed, he said.

The type of sponsorship limits businesses to only saying "sponsored by" and not asking viewers to purchase goods or services, Shank explained.

Board member William Villano asked what happens if they get more sponsorship than the need. Shank said the money can only be used to fund the channel.

Villano said approving the company to do the channel is only "phase one" of the process.

"Deciding the location of the studio is phase two," he said.

The TV studio in the high school is currently ready for a makeover, but might not be the best place for the access station to come from, Villano said.

That process is ongoing, with no decision close, Villano said.

Resident Vincent Frantantoni said he would like the channel to be used to notify residents about township ordinances and also feature community news.

He said in 1987 when he was a township commissioner he did a program on recycling where he explained the details of the program. "We gave a tour of the drop off points," Frantantoni said.

Now he would like to see different ordinances, like for construction codes, where people would be reminded that when they move into an apartment, they have to get a certificate of occupancy from the town.

As far as televising school board and council meetings, Frantantoni said he would favor it "if officials would act more professionally." The televising of school board meetings is a separate issue to the public access station, according to school board officials, and is being studied separately.

Spillane honored as Woman of Achievement

Barbara Spillane, a long time member and past president of the GFWC Woman's Club of Belleville, was one of six women honorees at the 24th Annual New Jersey Women of Achievement Awards sponsored by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs at Douglass College of Rutgers. The award ceremony was held on April 3. Presiding over the event were Deen Meloro, president of the NJSFWC and Carmen Ambar, dean of Douglass College.

Spillane has been a member of NJSFWC for over 30 years. During this time she has served as charter president of the Junior Woman's Club of Belleville and president of the Woman's Club of Belleville for two terms spanning eight years. During this time, she has led the club to being a viable community organization and has led committees to renovate the clubhouse, instituted new club projects, such as scholarships for female students at Belleville High School, the poetry contest, sponsoring the Middle School Stompers and many other activities.

From 1980-1892, Spillane served on the executive committee of the NJSFWC as the junior director. In this position, she provided leadership to over 300 junior clubs and 3,000 junior club women. A highlight of this term was the state project for Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS). For the first time in the Junior Woman's Club history, over $100,000 was raised for this project. The money was used to start two SIDS centers, one in the southern part of New Jersey and one in the northern part.

For the past 22 years, Spillane has been a social studies teacher at Belleville Middle School. During this time, she has participated in curriculum tasks, initiated student projects such as National Geographic Bee and annual UNICEF collections, and has been an association representative to the Belleville Education Association. Eight years ago, she initiated the High Achievers' Club for honors students. The youngsters participate in various county competitions for gifted and talented students.

For the past 16 years, Spillane has received grants for summer institutes. These grants have taken her on study/travel tours to Japan, to China as a Fulbright Scholar, South Korea and England.

"My goal in accepting these programs has always been to better prepare me as a teacher, enrich my students and to share my experiences with my colleagues and community," stated Spillane.

Her programs have reached hundreds of students, teachers and citizens over the years. This summer, she has accepted a grant from the Goethe Foundation to participate in a two-week study/tour of our Surgical Department, patients are recovering from their surgeries faster.

We know how important it is for people to get back to their normal lifestyles after surgery. That's why here at Mountainside, we offer so many breakthrough minimally invasive surgical procedures. Some of the most performed include; surgeries for gall bladder removal, thyroid, hernia, and weight reduction, and treatments for melanoma and breast cancer.

And all of these procedures are performed by the leading surgeons in their fields, physicians that are dedicated to getting their patients back into the pool, off to the mall and up and about as soon as possible. It's what we do best, inside Mountainside.

NOTHING TO COUGH AT

How many times have you gone to the cough drop section in the pharmacy and mulled over all the choices you have? There are cough drops with echinacea (to lessen the duration of symptoms), those with menthol (to cool your throat), those with pectin (to coat your throat), and those with phenol or benzocaine (to numb your throat). Which works best? They all do. Sucking on any cough drop stimulates the flow of saliva, which helps to lessen the irritation of a sore throat. As for the active ingredients, which are formulated to ease symptoms, their effects largely wear off by the time that the cough drop dissolves. So let your taste buds be your guide to cough drop selection. Whenever you have a question on a prescription or over-the-counter medication give us a call at ROSSMORE PHARMACY, 338 Washington Avenue (759-1968 or 759-1956). "Your Doctor Knows Us-Your Doctor Trusts Us." For Mother's Day we have a fine choice of greeting cards and gifts.

P.S. If your on a diet, check the amount of sugar in the cough drops you intend to use.

BOE claims illegal student hunt is a boon to local taxpayers

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

Administrators claim that their efforts to detect and remove illegal students from Belleville schools have resulted in smaller classes and a lighter burden for taxpayers.

Sixteen non-resident students were transferred out of Belleville schools in the month of February, according to School Board Vice President Arlene Schor, who chairs the board's residency committee.

After several court appeals were lost by parents of illegal students, the amount of tuition collected this year stands at $27,592, Schor said.

"We're making classrooms less crowded and saving taxpayers money," she said.

She credited domicile investigators Bruce Morgan and Iris Rodriguez for the ongoing victories.

To help the board remove illegal students, the township council is considering imposing penalties on any adults housing or aiding out-of-town students in the school district.

Following much discussion with board members, Second Ward Councilman Steven Rovell has proposed joining such towns as Green Brook, Nutley and Bloomfield, in imposing a $1,250 fine to parents as well as any adults who lend their address to a non-resident student.

Schor said families have the right to appeal to the courts. "It's never a form of harassment," she said. "We have negotiated settlements for less when there is a hardship. The courts judge within reason. We're not heartless."

She said right now there are quite a few cases with reasonable grounds.

"We will go to court," Schor said. "It's theft of services. Why put the burden on the taxpayer?"

She said the district has ample documentation.

"We're not a wealthy town,"

Schor said. "A person who puts their child in school illegally didn't take taxpayers into consideration."

She said the district will go after both parents and homeowners who said the children were living under their roofs.

"We go after them," Schor said. "This is the right thing to do. I feel sorry for the children, but the parents caused them to be victims."

She said since the beginning of the school year the district has "exited" a number of students the size of one of the small elementary schools, thanks to the top-notch investigators.

Other efforts are continually being stepped up by the board of education.

In November, the two domicile investigators started monitoring bus stops at Belleville High School and Belleville Middle School, to ensure students taking those buses are going to residences in Belleville, she said.

Parents might send their children illegally to Belleville because Belleville's school system is perceived to be superior to the one in their town. Illegal students cost taxpayers money because their parents are not paying taxes to Belleville to fund their child's attendance.

Once a student is found, the family will be taken to court, Schor said, and the district will strongly pursue tuition owed through the courts. The district's two domicile investigators pursue leads on possible illegal students, and present the cases.

The district has recovered thousands in tuition in recent years.

ESWT eases chronic pain for suffering patients

ESWT stands for Extra-corporeal Shock Wave Therapy, a very simple non-surgical procedure. ESWT was studied for chronic heel pain management resulting from plantar fasciitis and heel spurs with 92 percent of patients reported to be healed or dramatically improved following ESWT.

Your doctor will complete a thorough examination and will inform you of a diagnosis and what treatment is recommended. If ESWT is right for you, here's what you can expect:

You lie back in a comfortable chair with your foot resting on a large fluid-filled rubber dome. A local anaesthetic is used for the procedure. The equipment has a wide range of settings and penetration depths. This allows the doctor to fine-tune the procedure to your individual diagnosis. Ultrasound will be used to view and target the damaged location. Shock waves stimulate the diseased tissue, activating your body's natural healing process. Blood and oxygen rush to the site, activating a metabolic response that will stimulate healing by the growth of new connective tissue.

The procedure only takes about a half-hour to complete. ESWT does not hurt. This is not a painful or invasive procedure. There is no cutting of skin.

Since the procedure encourages blood flow to the area, you may experience some mild bruising or soreness. Never does your current condition get worse. If you have any concerns of a long drawn-out recovery cramping your style, you can forget that. From the first day, improvement is expected. The only thing that is individualized is how much improvement and how soon. In general, it can take up to 12 weeks for complete relief of the pain. You do not need to plan time off from work or your life. There is very little recuperation time following the procedure.

We at Podiatry Associates have been performing the procedure for over four years and have seen much success from the treatment. If you feel you may benefit from ESWT, contact us for a complete evaluation. Podiatry Associates of Belleville, 155 Belleville Ave. Belleville NJ 07109, 973 450-0878.

12 MILES WEST

Mosaic Dancers to reveal 'Visions'

Mosaic Dance Theatre Co. of Glen Ridge will take part in "Celebration 2005: Visions of the Near East" as part of 12 Miles West Theater Company's Guest Artist Series.

Performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30 at 8 p.m., and Sunday, May 1 at 3 p.m.

Mosaic Dance Theater Company presents dance, music and folkloric traditions from the Mediterranean countries. "Visions of the Near East," as the theatrical dance concert is subtitled, traverses the lands of North Africa and the Middle East, with choreographies celebrating the rich culture of these Arabic lands.

Some of the folkloric dances include a women's cane dance from Upper Egypt (as well as a man's version); a scarf dance from Tunisia; a Bedouin dabke (line dance) from Lebanon; Khaleegi dance from Saudi Arabia; classical danse orientale; and the whirling dervish. Also included are Mosaic's signature pieces: El Zar (exorcism ritual) and Moulid (festival dance), both from Egypt; plus a story-theater rendition of "The Djinn of the Feather Cloak," a Moroccan tale reminiscent of its European cousin, "The Swan Maiden."

Featuring nine Middle Eastern dancers, Mosaic boasts Samara as its star performer and choreographer. Based in New York City, Samara is one of the most sought-after international Middle Eastern dance performers. A protégé of the late master Ibrahim Farrah, she was a featured performer with his Near East Dance Group and performed internationally, as well as at Carnegie Hall, Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center, the Kennedy Center and the Spoleto Festival. The other performers in the cast are: Morgiana Celeste, Yasser Darwish, Adriana, Nina, Rayhana, Autumn Ward, Angel Burgos and Atara. Arabic singer Maurice Chedid and drummer Gamal Shafik provide live musical accompaniment.

For additional information, visit the Web site www.MosaicDanceTheaterCo.org.

All tickets are $25.

12 Miles West Theatre Company is located at 562 Bloomfield Ave., Bloomfield, just west of the Garden State Parkway. 12 Miles West is not wheelchair accessible at this time.

For reservations or more information, call the theater at (973) 259-9187 or visit the Web site www.12MilesWest.org.

'Nutty By Nature' to benefit 'ARFC'

In times when charities are struggling to make ends meet, a group of actors is pitching in to help two worthy causes.

"Nutty By Nature," a professional improvisational comedy group based in northern New Jersey, will perform at a fundraiser benefiting the AIDS Resource Foundation For Children ("ARFC") and the ALS Association, Greater New York chapter.

ARFC provides housing, educational and other means of assistance to children and teens infected with or afflicted by HIV/AIDS. The ALS Association funds research and provides support and patient services for people afflicted with ALS, a progressive neuromuscular disease also known as Lou Gehrig's Disease.

"Nutty by Nature" is an eight-member comedy group that performs throughout northern New Jersey. Its charity fundraiser "Laughter is the Best Medicine" will be held on Thursday, April 21 (tonight) at 12 Miles West Theatre Company, 562 Bloomfield Ave., Bloomfield. Show time is 7:30 p.m., with refreshments to follow. Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for students, and can be ordered by calling (973) 566-9700 or visiting the Web site www.aidsresource.org.

'JazzTalks' at BC

Bloomfield College's Westminster Arts Center will host the third installment of its new "JazzTalks" series, intimate evenings of conversation and performances with contemporary jazz artists on their life and music.

"JazzTalks" continues with cellist Akua Dixon of Quartette Indigo, with husband trombonist Steve Turre of the Saturday Night Live band, on Monday, April 25 at 8 p.m. in the Westminster Arts Center Art Gallery.

These evenings are designed to both inform and entertain, giving the audience greater insight into the humanity of the artist, and a greater appreciation for the jazz art form. A particular focus will be to explore each artist's personal and artistic development within the context of their own journey through social, spiritual, economic, political and popular American life trends.

The goal will be to reveal each artist's story, so as to invite students and the general public to personally relate to the artist's life experience. A reception will follow each evening, giving students and patrons the opportunity to make personal contact with each artist.

Tickets for JazzTalks are $20 for general admission; $5 for students and seniors. For reservations and information, call (973) 748-9000, ext. 297.

The Westminster Arts Center is a disabled-access facility, located on the Bloomfield College campus, at the corner of Fremont and Franklin streets. For directions, visit the Web site www.bloomfield.edu/about/location.asp.

NUTLEY LITTLE THEATRE

Last call for 'The Butterfly Collection' this weekend

This is the final weekend to catch Nutley Little Theatre's latest production, "The Butterfly Collection."

Written by Theresa Rebeck, "The Butterfly Collection" is a drama about a family, its inner conflicts and the tensions that arise with the arrival of two outsiders. Directed by Penny Potenz Winship of Montclair, "The Butterfly Collection" will run on April 21 (tonight), 22 and 23 only. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for all remaining performances. Tickets are $12 and may be purchased by calling (973) 667-0374.

The cast includes Marco Cirin of Rutherford, Paul Diverio of Ringwood, Christine Haraburda of Montclair, Kevin Hersh of Caldwell, Jeanmarie Garver of River Edge and Sally Walker of Cedar Grove. Alex Oleksij of Nutley is stage manager and production manager. Barbara Budris of Nutley is assistant stage manager. Elyse Halloran of Somerset is technical manager.

Nutley Little Theatre stages its productions at the NLT Barn, 47 Erie Place, located off Brookfield Avenue (one block east of Franklin Avenue) in the heart of the Erie Place Historic District. For directions, visit the Web site www.nutleylittletheatre.com.

Alan Alfieri awarded for academics

Alan Alfieri of Belleville was the recipient of The 2005 Abbott Associates Academic Achievement Award which was presented to him by Abbott Associates President, Mark Roger at the Knoll Country Club West in Parsippany March 24.

Alfieri is currently a student at Saint Peter's College and is active member of the community. He plans to graduate next May with a bachelor's degree in accounting. The Saint Peter's College Accounting Society thanks those in the community who came out to join them in honoring Alan Alfieri and celebrating the special evening.

Math for dollars raises funds

This year the eighth grade math students participated in St. Jude's Mathathon which is a fundraiser for St. Jude's Research Hospital.

The students asked family and friends to sponsor them for an agreed amount of money for each problem they solved. They raised a total of $1,996.14. Arlene Yaoto and Robin Bach raised the most money. Mrs. Whittom would like to thank Mr. Stoddard and Mr. Silvera for their help. She would also like to express her thanks to all the students who participated.

Golden Age Concert

The Belleville Public Library and Information Center will present "Welcome to the Golden Age" May 4 which brings audiences the amazing beauty, history and romance of 30 rare Italian string instruments which the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra purchased in February 2003. The musicians will demonstrate some of the instruments, perform several works as an ensemble, and discuss the world of the 17th century, when these instruments were created. This program is made possible by a generous donation from Carolyn and Dr. Jack Grundfest.

Fun auction collection

Now is the time to start bringing your new or gently used items for sale at the Friends of the Library Fun Auction. Donations will be gratefully accepted at the library in preparation for the Fun Auction which will take place this year on June 16.

Tribute to Fire Department

The Belleville Public Library is searching for pictures and family histories of all Belleville firemen past and present to be remembered in history. Call Diana Price at 973-450-3434 to have items scanned and returned immediately.

Yanuzzi, Giangrande capture relay title

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

Belleville's Tom Yanuzzi and Nick Giangrande captured the Hudson County Coaches' shot put relay championship last Saturday at Jersey City, combining for a throw of 84' 8 1/2".

Giangrande threw 42' 9 1/2" while Yanuzzi finished at 41' 11" for the championship effort.

"They did a tremendous job," Belleville coach Laura Palmerezzi said. "The Hudson Coaches' meet is always a top relay and for our kids to win the event says a lot. Give Bill Bakka the credit. He's the throwing coach and he has worked a lot with the kids."

Yanuzzi and Giangrande also placed sixth in the javelin, with Yanuzzi throwing 119'3" and Giangrande finishing at 114'2".

The 4 x 200 relay team of Nick Campione, Ken Cohen, Dennis Manning and Chris Liloia won its heat in a time of 1:46.

The boys and girls team will compete at the Millburn Relays on Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. from Millburn High School. Next Tuesday, the team heads to Paramus Catholic for a quad meet which includes Paramus Catholic, St. Joseph and Holy Angels.

NOTES: Coach Palmerezzi had a busy weekend. She ran the Shore Marathon last Sunday, finishing the 26-mile course in an outstanding time of four hours, three minutes. It was her second full marathon. Last fall, Palmerezzi ran the New York City Marathon in 4:39.

"I was happy with the result," Palmerezzi said. "I improved 35 minutes from my first marathon, so I can't complain."

Palmerezzi's next marathon will be this October, at the Marine Corps Marathon at Quantico, Virginia.

Baseball bounces back with two victories

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

After dropping two games to start last week, the Belleville baseball team rallied back to defeat Ridgewood 7-6 and Lyndhurst, 3-2.

Alan Frank's team took a 4-5 mark into a game with Bloomfield Monday. Yesterday, the team played at Nutley and tomorrow, it's off to Passaic for a 4 p.m. game. This Saturday, Belleville should be playing a preliminary round, Greater Newark Tournament game. The seeding meeting was held Monday, so check local listings for time and location. Next Monday, Belleville plays at Barringer and next Wednesday, Bergen Catholic comes to town for a 4 p.m. game.

Belleville has played well of late, winning four of six after an 0-3 start.

"We need to be a little more consistent, but overall, we're coming around," Frank said. "We started last week slowly, but came back with two good wins against solid teams."

The Bucs lost to Paramus 13-1 and Teaneck, 7-3 last week. The team then rallied from 6-4 down in the seventh to defeat Ridgewood, 7-6 last Friday.

Giancarlo Cifelli pitched 5 1/3 innings before giving way to Andrew Brenneman, who was superb in relief. Brenneman worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the sixth, then struck out the side in the seventh after yielding a leadoff double.

"Both kids pitched very well," Frank said. "And I was happy with the way we came back in the last inning. Our kids didn't quit."

In the seventh, Craig Binkowicz singled and stole second and third.

James Rovell singled home Binkowicz, but was retired on a fielder's choice by Nick Riggi. Matt Roman then tripled home Riggi to tie the game and Matt Alfano came in to pinch run. Michael Cassese followed with a suicide squeeze bunt to score Alfano with the game-winning run.

Versus Lyndhurst, Jonathan Serano pitched an outstanding game. The sophomore, making his first varsity start, spun a two-hitter, striking out two and walking one. Trailing 2-1 in the third, Belleville tied the game when Brenneman hit a two-out single, stole second and scored on Rovell's single. In the fourth, Belleville took the lead for good when Cassese singled, stole second and third and came around to score on a throwing error.

Rovell, a junior first baseman, is off to a sizzling start, hitting .714 through the first nine games.

"He's really hitting the ball well," Frank said. "You can't ask for much better than .714."

Binkowicz (.352) and Jason Luzzi (.333) have also been hitting well for Belleville, which faces a key set of games this week.

SOFTBALL

Bucs struggle at plate

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

The Belleville softball team has been struggling at the plate in the early going of the 2005 season.

Carl Corino's team took a 2-5 mark into a game at Bloomfield last Monday. The girls hosted Nutley yesterday and tomorrow, will host Passaic at 4 p.m. On Saturday, Belleville will play in the Clifton Classic, taking on Pope John at 5 p.m. and Sparta at 7 p.m. Next Monday, Belleville is host to Barringer at 4 and next Tuesday, West Orange comes to town, also at 4.

After winning its opener over Paterson Kennedy, Belleville played a solid game, but lost to powerful Immaculate Heart, 1-0 on April 6. The team also lost to Hackensack 12-8, Livingston 4-1 and Paramus 6-0 before defeating Teaneck last week, 7-4. The team lost to Ridgewood last Friday, 9-0.

"We're not hitting well," Belleville assistant coach Chris Cantarella said. "Our defense is pretty good and our pitching has been above average, but we need to start hitting better. We're striking out too much."

Belleville did get a big win over Teaneck, as Candice Serritella and Elise Pace each went three for four and had key two-run singles in the later innings to secure the win.

Serritella and Jianna Paladino have been Belleville's best offensive players to date. The defense is led by third baseman Jaclyn Gian-

GIRLS TRACK AND FIELD

Improvement shown each week

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

On April 13, the girls competed against Ridgewood and Nutley at DeMuro Park in Nutley. Nichole Fields had an outstanding meet, winning the 100 and 200 meters. Tricia Somma captured the 3200 meters, Lourdes Bernabe won the discus and Jasmine Allen prevailed in the shot put. Second place finishers for Belleville were Roli Kushwaha (1600 and 3200 meters), Katherine Cueva (400 meters), Bernabe (shot put) and Allen (discus).

Christianne Saavedra (100 meters), Somma (800 meters) and Allison Hogan (discus and shot put) finished third in the tri-meet.

Last Saturday, the girls competed at the Hudson County Coaches' Relays at Lincoln Park in Jersey City. The shot put relay team of Allen and Bernabe earned a sixth place medal, with Allen throwing 29'11" and Bernabe finishing at 27'3".

The 4 x 100 meter relay team of Jennifer Santos, Saavedra, Cueva and Fields finished in 58 seconds. That same foursome came back to run the 4 x 200 meter relay in 2:05.7.

The sprint medley team of Saavedra, Fields, Cueva and Somma turned in a solid time of 5:05.8.

Head coach Mike Popovich has been pleased with the team's steady progress.

"This team is a pleasure to coach," Popovich said. "They all are eager to learn and perform well. We have a few minor injuries, but the girls are so determined to excel that it's hard for the coaching staff to slow them down. That's the type of attitude you can't teach. The one major injury on the team is distance runner Joanne Campione. We miss her and her talents on the track. She is recuperating and should be doing some light work in a few weeks. Despite her injury, she is at every practice and meet helping out the team as much as she can. That's the kind of attitude I'm talking about."

Belleville will compete at the Millburn Relays this weekend at Millburn High School. Next Tuesday, the team travels to Paramus Catholic at 4 p.m. for a meet that also includes Holy Angels.

grande, shortstop Bianka Cosme, Paladino at second and Serritella and Marielle Murnock, each of whom have seen playing time at first. The catcher is freshman Ronica Sorice, who has done well in her first year of varsity competition.

Jessica McNally has pitched in just about every inning so far this season.

"Jessica has done well," Cantarella said. "Her control has been good and she's given the defense chances to make plays. We just have to become more aggressive at the plate, and if we do that, then I think everyone will settle in and play better."

Robotic Laparoscopic Prostate Surgery:

Prostate surgery
so precise,
it's not humanly possible.

"I never thought I'd be back to normal so soon after prostate surgery."

Surgical removal of the prostate gland is the gold standard of prostate cancer treatment. However, the fear of side effects from surgery is often greater than the fear of the cancer itself. While no surgery is completely risk-free, robotic surgery can shorten recovery time and significantly reduce the risk of long-term side effects — precisely because it's so precise.

To find out more about robotic prostate surgery, go to www.TheUniversityHospital.com or call 973-972-4465.

BELLEVILLE CLERGY ALLIANCE

Bethany pastor revisits Holy Week

Holy Week revisited – psalms – raised in victory celebration. Dropped as ground cover. Palms – distributing bread. Offering the cup of blessing. Praying in Gethsemane. Pierced at Golgatha. Dear God, What were they (we) thinking! Jesus crucified—not Barabbas: Today this side of the Resurrection—2005. Christ is Risen. Christ is Risen Indeed! We know it! We shout it! We rejoice in and live this New Life. Or do we?

Listen to these words from the poem by Shel Silverstein, "The One Who Stayed." Silverstein writes a creative twist about the Pied Piper who through his beautiful music, "piped away the children of Hamlin Town—dancin', spinnin', turnin'—except for one boy who stayed home."

His father praised the boy's wisdom but the son knew better. The piper's music had stirred something in him, something life-giving; and he knew he'd regret silencing his longings to follow.

The boy says: "I cannot say I did not hear that sound so haunting hollow I heard, I heard, I heard it clear... I was afraid to follow."

Jesus came to give us Everlasting Life. Jesus came to wake the deadness, listlessness, and apathy that keeps us captive and silenced. Jesus frees us to speak, witness and dance. We've heard, we've heard, we've heard the message clear... Are we too, afraid to follow?

Rev. Nancy Moore, Pastor
Bethany Lutheran Church

If you are a pain sufferer who has given up . . .

Medication-Assisted Manipulation could be the answer for you.

Nationally recognized, MUA expert Robert C. Gordon, D.C., ABCS, FRCCM, DAAPM, will be in Jersey City, NJ, on April 28, 29 and 30, to perform this advanced procedure.

If you suffer from neck or back pain, fibromyalgia, migraine or cervicogenic headaches, TMJ or CTS, you could be one of 15 patients selected to benefit from MUA.

While no guarantees are made or implied, the recovery rate among the thousands of patients who have discovered MUA is as high as 98%!

If you have tried everything else without result, we urge you to participate in this special opportunity.

Please call Larry Petracco, D.C. 201-533-0055 today to schedule your selection screening appointment.
