Avenue and Mill Street. After failing field sobriety tests, he was arrested and released on his own recognizance.

■ A theft was reported from a resident on Liberty Avenue at 2:34 p.m. A woman said $80 was taken from her wallet, which was sticking out of her purse in her home. That same day, movers were taking furniture out of the home. The woman is pursuing the matter with the moving company.

a shopping cart at 525 Main St. The cart contained seven DVDs, two packages of cheese and one piece of pizza dough. He had a no-bail warrant from North Arlington.

May 25

■ Two Hispanic women were observed placing something in a bag at the CVS pharmacy, 519 Washington Ave. at 5 p.m. The two then escaped west down Little Street in a gray van. Police are investigating.

■ A Watsessing Avenue homeowner reported hearing loud banging on her door at 10:50 a.m. and then heard two suspects running away after she called out. Pry marks were found on the door jam. Police are investigating a possible burglary attempt.

All suspects are presumed innocent until proven guilty.

Cache of pirated DVDs found at woman's home

A Carmer Avenue woman was arrested after police discovered more than 8,000 bootleg DVDs, CDs and music DVDs and Prada sunglasses at her apartment after being tipped off by the woman's landlord.

Police Capt. Mark Minichini said after further investigation of the bootlegs, Yesmin Cabrera, 38 was charged with several counts of transferring pirated DVDs and CDs, the manufacture of pirated DVDs and CDs, and the illegal labeling and forgery of copyrighted materials, including clothes and sunglasses. The raid took place on May 21.

"The landlord checked a shed on the property that belonged to the suspect, and it raised suspicions when he found the bags of current DVDs," Minichini said.

The Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) and the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) are conducting a further investigation, he said.

"I understand they lose billions of dollars from this every year," Minichini said.

The investigation is continuing, he said.

"There may or may not be other persons involved," Minichini said. "It is unknown at this time."

Investigators found music by well-known music stars like Jennifer Lopez and Beyonce, movies currently in theaters, including "Spiderman 3" and "Shrek the Third" and even copies of pornographic films, he said.

The forgery charges stem from the discovery of knock-off jeans, T-shirts and sunglasses from well-known designers in the suspect's car, Minichini said.

Heroes of wars past and present honored

There were a series of events in Belleville commemorating Memorial Day this past Monday, including a flag salute at the cemetery near the Dutch Reformed Church. Seen here is Richard Hult holding the American flag as police officers and firefighters look on.

ALL PHOTOS BY FRAN BALTZER/
BELLEVILLE TIMES

Seen here are Col. Jorge Martinez of the New Jersey National Guard and Fornarotto, of the Belleville Disabled American Veterans post, during a brief speech at the veterans monument on Union Avenue.

Even the pooches were showing their patriotism Monday. Seen here with "Fella" and "Trey" is Lenore Tigrath, owner of Lenore's Canine Clippery, whose daughter Ariel Peldunas is in the Marine Corps Reserve.

Remember the fallen - and the wounded too

Up until 2002, Memorial Day for years had been an occasion to remember the fallen from wars fought at least a generation earlier, conflicts that were long gone from the front pages. The men who marched to honor their buddies who never came home were elderly or aging, the pain of war just an abstraction for the majority of Americans. Then came 9-11, and conflict in Afghanistan and then, a short time after that, Iraq. And America re-learned a painful lesson: during wars, it's mostly young men barely old enough to shave who do the dying. In this nation's most recent conflicts, an increasing number of women are making the ultimate sacrifice for their country too.

These latest conflicts also perpetuate a trend that has been developing since the Civil War. Alongside advances in weaponry have come startling strides in medical science. The advent of plasma, penicillin and rapid helicopter transport to makeshift field hospitals have seen more and more people leave the field of battle alive than would have been the case a generation before. In Iraq and Afghanistan, 21st century medical technology is - mercifully - saving even more men and women from Iraq and Afghanistan.

But with this heartening trend comes challenges. America's veterans hospitals are filled with severely wounded who in many cases require extensive rehabilitation and who will spend the rest of their lives contending with injuries that would have killed them had they suffered those wounds in Korea or Vietnam. These profoundly wounded vets will need help from every corner of society as they come home.

As we all saw this past Monday, there are many ways to honor the memory of those who gave, and are giving, their lives for their country. One of the best ways to honor that sacrifice is to call on our leaders to ensure that those who gave just about everything but their lives receive all the support a grateful nation has to offer.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR:

After reading Councilman Kevin Kennedy and Angie Paserchia's letters, I could not figure out whether to laugh or cry. It's evident to me that both of the letters were written by the same person and that someone didn't realize that Angie's daughter is President of the Library Board and Kevin's friends including Richard Yanuzzi are also on the board. If these two say Mr. McCrohan has wasted money then they are indicting their own family and friends as well. To use their quote, "just check the records." Whomever this ghost writer is, I think he has to learn to dumb it down if he wants to sound believable. If you have ever heard Kevin or Angie speak, like I have, you would quickly realize they could not have written these letters, let alone put together more than two coherent sentences. I understand that Angie, on the other hand, tells everyone she is an "educated" businesswoman. Signing her name to this type of letter proves otherwise, I believe. She is merely a puppet.

Recently I was asked why very few educated and qualified people run for Public Office in Belleville. After reading the "editorials" by Kevin and Angie, it is evident why most intelligent people shy away from Belleville politics. I have met many articulate, intelligent, successful people who didn't have the opportunity to pursue higher education. Sadly, I don't believe that Angie nor Kevin fit that description. Anyone who would sign their name to such a vicious attack on a kind and gentle man like Mr. McCrohan should be in therapy. Indicting their own family and friends for wasting Township money at the same time is even more bizarre behavior.

You have asked yourself why would anyone attack a person who has spent over 40 years of their life educating children. Mr. McCrohan is an educator who has volunteered a tremendous amount of time to our community. He is retired. He does not need or want anything but the opportunity to serve the community he loves. I have known Tom for over 20 years. He has been a good neighbor and a good friend.

Maybe they attacked him because he ran for the Board of Education. Maybe they are trying to force him off the Library Board. Either way it is a sad day when a Belleville resident like Tom has to withstand such an abusive attack. Why Kevin Kennedy, an elected official, who swore an oath to protect and serve the people of his community would find it necessary to be a part of this attack is beyond comprehension.

Complex owners have really cleaned up

TO THE EDITOR:

This is in reply to the letter and picture you received from Jorge Benalcazar about the Dumpsters at Audubon Place, parking lot #1 on Columbus Avenue., showing overflowing dumpsters on April 29, 2007. I am a homeowner on Columbus Avenue also and have been for over 30 years. Before Audubon bought it, everyone had reason to complain. Since they have taken over, pick-up has improved from 3 times a week to four (Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.) There are never pick-ups anywhere on Sundays. Also, it was the end of the month when people were moving and throwing things away that they did not want to take with them. Also, there are now three Dumpsters, where there used to be two. They are also enclosed with a fence. If the fence is broken it is because the trucks that pick-up the garbage have banged into them. Another improvement made by the complex management is to have maintenance cleaners going around cleaning around the Dumpsters before and after pick-up, as well as pushing the garbage from the front of the Dumpster to the back because the tenants throwing away their garbage do not use the back of the Dumpster. Also, the reason for some of it being on the ground is because if the Dumpster is missed, it's not picked up and thrown in, it's just left there on the ground. I also want to mention that several residents on the first half of Columbus Avenue as well as Mr. Benalcazar's tenant have been trespassing on the private property of Audubon Place and illegally dumping their private garbage into the Dumpsters. I have seen it being done and so have some of the residents of the complex in the Columbus Avenue area. Don't they have garbage cans of their own? Also, as far as moving the Dumpsters, where are they supposed to move them to? How far are the tenants from that area, and especially those near Belleville Avenue supposed to travel in order to throw away their garbage? Besides, the Dumpsters were there well before he bought his house, so he knew they were there when he bought the house and moved in. I'm not totally in favor of the complex. There are still improvements to be made, but it has improved between 90 and 95 percent since they have taken over and the people they are now getting in there are much more respectable than what they had in the past.

If it wasn't for Councilwoman Marie Burke and Freeholder Ralph Caputo, the complex wouldn't be in as good a condition as it is, because they have been monitoring the conditions and it's improvements.

He also complained about dog waste. It is not just from complex tenants, but people from other areas walking their dogs around here and not picking it up, but just continuing to walk.

Also in reference to the letter you received from Anita Tur, putting in more Dumpsters in any parking lot would decrease the space for cars and therefore make parking on Columbus Avenue and probably Branch Brook Drive also even more difficult than it is now. Parking is at a premium, especially for the homeowners without driveways or who have more cars than their driveways will hold. At least she has a parking space at her disposal in whichever lot is nearest to her if she chooses. Some Columbus Avenue residents do not have this choice. She should be very glad that this complex does not charge for parking spaces in the lots as some other complexes do.

Schools investing in fiber optics, other tech items

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

The Belleville Public School District approved its technology plan for 2007-2010, a renewal of a continuing program to keep students on the cutting edge of computer technology, according to School Board President William Villano.

"When I was first of the board, we put this together," Villano said. "Now, we're trying to keep up with it."

More than just keeping pace with technology, he said he would like the district to be ahead of the curve.

Villano said the district has made progress with fiber optics, which should allow students and school staff to enjoy Internet speed increased by "a minimum of 10-fold" in all public schools.

"We still have work to do with infrastructure," he said. "And we also need help with tech support."

As with everything else in the district these days, progress is impeded by the bottom line.

"It's a matter of whether we have the money," Villano said. "We know where we sit (with major money problems)."

The district has also made some progress with buying computers, but he said that is a never-ending cycle.

"We need to stay on top of that, because they get dated so quickly," Villano said. "To try and stay ahead is the challenge."

The move to fiber optics is expected to save a minimum of $5,500 per month, he said.

The district got rid of the Verizon cable and phone lines, and will eventually save more than $5,500 when the district moves into it further, saving on all kinds of things, Villano said.

Villano said in a previous statement that this is a substantial commitment, dollars-wise and future-wise.

A contract was approved in February to pay Technology Services of Clifton $728,025 to build a fiber optic network "in accordance with their proposals," according to the official resolution.

The installation ends a long process of refining and changing the plans, Villano said.

Villano said in an earlier interview that the new voiceover phone system will totally eliminate the current phone system, with a difference in quality and a savings in costs.

The changes will enhance the telephone system, including communication between schools, and improve security, and is a great business and educational rational, "a win/win," he said.

He said parents will be able to connect to computers with better speed to see what their children are doing academically.

Villano has previously credited School Board Administrator Edward Appleton for his efforts in bringing fiber optics to the district.

The upgrade will also allow for streaming video on all computers, said Villano, who has chaired the school board's technology committee.

School officials said the new computers will be much faster, and will enhance the students' use of the computers by cutting down the waiting time for the computer to boot up. They can get more done in the time frames they have, according to officials.

A similar upgrade has been made to the Montclair Public Schools' computers. Installation of a new high-speed fiber optic network, video-conferencing with students across the globe, and partnerships with Montclair State and other universities are just some of the ways Montclair schools are taking the lead in technology teaching and learning, according to the district's Web site.

Fiber optics are thin glass filaments within a jacket or bundle that optically transmit images or signals in the form of light over distances, with extremely low high-bandwidth quality losses, according to the definition given by a special Internet technology dictionary.

According to the New Jersey School Boards Association, fiber optics "has been fairly successful in New Jersey as many schools were being wired over the last year" and "there is a dire need for facility improvements in New Jersey public schools (including) a distribution system using fiber optic cable."

The Belleville district passed a resolution to wire all of its schools. Six of the schools cost $75,908 each, including Schools 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10 and the middle school. School 7 cost $78,831 and the high school ran $177,502.

The initiation of a fiber optic communication system was approved by the BOE unanimously.

Villano said the change will be dramatic, with users "flying," as they say in computers.

Officials said firewalls will be in place to keep students out of questionable sites.

As for the money spent, Villano said it will pay for itself over the years, as a powerful investment that will pay back year after year.

The payback will include students having better computer speed, which will help them learn faster, he said.

District continues to root out illegal students

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

On the same night that a reprieve from the Township Council allowed the reinstatement of a second domicile investigator, school officials gave the public what they said is more evidence that the investigators are detecting and removing illegal students from the district.

School board member Antoinette "Toni" Marone chairs the board's residency committee. She said removing illegal students, "is a tough, tough road. I'm happy the domicile investigator has been reinstated. It means a lot of money to Belleville."

While much of the money is saved by illegal students never getting into the schools, a resident questioned how much tuition the district received from parents of illegal students last year, and where that money is in this year's budget. School Administrator said the approximately $29,000 is in the budget's general fund under tuition.

April was another month when Belleville Public Schools domicile investigators continued to detect and remove students illegally attending district schools. The efforts are an ongoing process that is constantly changing to find more suspected students.

Marone said Iris Rodriguez, the second investigator, is "a great, great help," more so because she speaks Spanish.

In April, the investigators denied 30 students entrance into the district because of non-residency status, Marone said. Another 30 were transferred out when it was proven that they did not live in Belleville, she said.

For the month of March, 36 more students were transferred out for non-residency status.

Another 28 students were denied entrance, and 19 more were denied for having incomplete registration.

She had previously said Domicile Investigator Bruce Morgan informed the committee at a recent meeting about new areas that are being monitored.

Previously, several bus stops where students might be entering and exiting Belleville from other towns had begun being monitored by the two domicile investigators.

For February, 32 students were eliminated from the district's rolls, for either failing to prove residency or not producing proper paperwork, Marone said.

Nine additional students are being monitored by the domicile investigators, but Marone said removing them is sometimes difficult.

She said the state keeps districts from removing them for various reasons, but Morgan is working very hard.

This year's school Central Registration numbers show more illegal students being removed from Belleville schools, a move that continues to help reduce the taxpayers' burden, officials said, by recovering lost tuition and preventing students from ever illegally attending Belleville schools.

Other recent numbers showed that during Central Registration, held in August, a total of 134 students were denied entry when their non-residency status was exposed, according to Marone.

At that same time, 129 students were transferred out of the district, when their residence in the township could not be verified, Marone said.

For central registration, it begins in early August, and all new students moving into the district have to call and make an appointment to register.

Officials said previously that the program has had excellent results since it was started several years ago.

Centralized registration has stopped many students with questionable credentials from entering the district, according to officials.

Dessert maker's expansion a sweet deal for town

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

The Planning Board has given the green light for one existing business to expand and another to relocate to Belleville, both of which will increase the ratable base for the township, according to Township Manager Victor Canning.

This follows the bigger effort to attract new ratables to Belleville, changes to the Master Plan that have had public hearings before the Planning Board and will go before the township council, according to officials.

Canning said "two big manufacturing companies" will now have a bigger stake in Belleville.

First, the Bindi dessert maker production facility on Main Street has been given planning board approval for a major expansion.

"They're doing very well here," Canning said.

Next, the Oberlander Orthodox Bakery is relocating to Belleville from Brooklyn. The bakery, which makes matzohs, is taking over the former Cabalbo's warehouse on Cortlandt Street.

"This is significant," Canning said.

Meanwhile, at the June 12 council meeting, Canning said he assumes there will be a public hearing on the Master Plan revisions. "They're moving along," he said. "It's coming out nice."

The changes are designed to make the township more friendly to developers while keeping the character of Belleville's neighborhoods from being damaged, officials said.

Canning said previously that the changes send the message that after 15 to 20 years of haggling, rundown and unimproved properties can be developed, without developers being given a difficult time. Now, he said, the developers can come in with a dialogue and a level of comfort that they will invest but get what they came for from the township.

The planning board will soon hear a final site plan review following the granting of a stream encroachment permit for the Lowe's Home Improvement Center at the former Walter Kidde site on Main Street, he said.

The north end of Washington Avenue, where the former dry ice factory sits vacant, has been purchased by developer George Jacobs, who has a six-month window to come up with a plan for mixed usage of the property, with retail below and residential above, Canning said.

Development has already been approved for a similar mixed-use variety at the southern end of Washington Avenue, he said.

Then there is the former Jurgens and Roche property adjacent to Clara Maass Medical Center on Franklin Avenue. Another mixed use development zone, it will feature retail and commercial use for development like medical office buildings, with 12 acres earmarked for residential, three acres commercial retail, and three and a half acres set aside for the public. The owners have the option of giving the township the appraised value of the land, if they want to develop it, Canning said.

The township could use it for open space, even senior housing, he said.

With the developers having to pay a percentage of the costs as a co-obligation to the town, the development is "a two-fold benefit" for Belleville, Canning said.

He said if the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) department does not come through with approval for senior housing, the money from the co-obligation could pay for senior housing.

The Planning Board put forth a number of zoning changes, and a planning expert, John Madden, was hired in 2005 to examine the changes and give his input, according to Canning.

He said that except for some small changes, Madden's report is basically what the planning board wanted, so the recommended changes will now likely come to the council. Canning said that ultimately, the mayor and council will decide.

The changes include rezoning the acreage next to Clara Maass Medical Center, according to long-time planning board member Al Schmitt.

He said the medical center's surrounding buildings are probably the township's biggest asset for ratables, even though the hospital is non-profit. The board proposes a development zone that can provide another medical office building.

Schmitt said Clara Maass officials have said such a building could be easily filled, but they can't afford to build it themselves, so an outside developer would be sought.

He said that all planning board members are concerned with hospital closings, but since Clara Maass's leading competitor, Mountinside Hospital, is switching to for-profit, indigent patients will need to have Clara Maass continue to operate.

The three and a half acres for public use was to be for a new school for Silver Lake, but voters rejected a $55 million school referendum in December 2005, more than $20 million of which was to build a new School 4.

Canning said that with the Centex project, which included the construction of 262 units at the former Soho property near Belleville and Franklin avenues, the township got virtually nothing.

He said the developers gave the township approximately $600,000, which went for repairs and upgrades of Municipal Stadium.

If Centex had given $80,000 for each of the units built to satisfy their obligations under state Coalition for Affordable Housing (COAH) guidelines, which would have been approximately one out of every eight units, Canning said the township would have received several million dollars.

That money could have been used to fund the senior citizen housing proposed for Mill Street, behind the senior citizens building. The township has re-applied for federal funding for 70 units at the site.

For the upcoming Lowe's Home Improvement Store coming to Main Street, the co-obligation will be a negotiated payment for every 20,000 square feet of space the development uses, Canning said.

That money can be used to help residents who meet a certain income low- or moderate-income levels to install new roofs, windows and rehabilitate housing units, he said.

You can apply for a variance or get a building permit at the Building Inspector's office, second floor, Nutley Town Hall; get a certificate of occupancy at the Code Enforcement office, second floor, Nutley Town Hall; get a marriage license at the Dept. of Public Affairs, 149 Chestnut St.; get a dog license at the Town Clerk's office, Nutley Town Hall, 1st floor or register to vote at Nutley Town Hall, 1st floor.

Lifestyle choices can greatly increase your risk of cancers

For some people, susceptibility to cancer is a product of where they live and work. For many more people, however, lifestyle choices can greatly increase the risk of cancer. Though the term "lifestyle change" can seem drastic, oftentimes the changes necessary for average citizens to reduce their risk of cancer are minimal.

While lifestyle changes are minimal, the results often are not.

According to the Canadian Cancer Society (CCS), research has shown that Canadians could prevent 50 percent of cancers simply by changing or adopting certain behaviors. And those statistics are not exclusive to Canadians, as cancer numbers across the globe could greatly decrease if certain behaviors were universally changed or adopted. In an effort to lower cancer rates both in and outside of Canada, CCS has developed their Seven Steps to a Healthier Lifestyle, including:

1. Be a non-smoker and avoid secondhand smoke. These days, nearly everyone who lights their first cigarette is fully aware of the negative health repercussions that result from tobacco use. In Canada, smoking is responsible for roughly 30 percent of all cancer deaths. Across the border in the United States, smoking is responsible for 1 out of every 5 deaths, according to the American Cancer Society (ACS). That translates to right around 440,000 smoking-related deaths per year in the United States, making smoking the single most preventable cause of premature death in the U.S.

But smoking does not only result in lung cancer. Smoking also increases a person's risk of developing cancers of the mouth, throat, cervix, pancreas, and colon, among others. Perhaps the scariest effect of smoking is that a person doesn't even have to smoke to be affected, as Health Canada estimates that more than 300 Canadian non-smokers die from lung cancer each year after exposure to secondhand smoke.

2. Make positive changes to your diet. For some people, making the right dietary changes can be as difficult as quitting smoking. However, healthy foods have the added benefit of tasting good as well, which can help ease the transition. Thanks to research that suggests as many as one-third of all cancer cases are a result of what people eat and drink, both ACS and CCS recommend a diet that includes five to 10 servings of vegetables and fruits per day. Diets should also be high in fiber and low in fat, while alcohol consumption should be limited. It's also recommended to limit consumption of processed foods and red meats.

ATLANTIC CITY

Legends in Concert returns to Resorts

Atlantic City's favorite and longest-running variety show is back to heat up Resorts' Superstar Theater for the month of June! Legends In Concert has been delighting AC audiences for over a dozen years with a rotating cast of superstar clones. Sure, they're counterfeits, but these talented performers are incredible in their renditions of their tribute targets - megastars past and present. Classically trained artists themselves, the physical resemblance is immediately striking, and their voices, moves and physicality recapture the essence of the legends. Lavish costuming, a live onstage band and a troupe of specially choreographed backup singers and dancers combine to convince audiences they're seeing "the real thing!"

During the month of June, we'll be treated to a parade of beautifully staged re-creations of an all-star lineup comprising country star Shania Twain; the soulful Tina Turner; fifties legend Bobby Darin; sexy singer Rod Stewart; and the timeless Tom Jones. The show will continue to feature the talented Legends dancers as well as the live orchestra that accompanies each performance.

Stacey Whitton captures the down-home warmth and sex appeal of Shania Twain's hits "Still the One," "Man I Feel Like a Woman" and "Honey I'm Home." Cookie Watkins turns in a high-energy interpretation of Tina Turner's classics like "Better Be Good to Me" and "What's Love Got To Do With It." Art Vargas brings his audiences back to the 50s and 60s with the legendary Bobby Darin's heartfelt ballads and swinging tunes including "Beyond the Sea," "Mack the Knife" and "Splish Splash." From the raspy voice to the wild hair, John Anthony is Rod Stewart incarnate, and his renditions of Stewart's "Maggie May," and "You're So Far Away" are guaranteed showstoppers. Steve McCoy began performing Tom Jones songs at the age of five. Perhaps the ultimate compliment of his talent and authenticity is that McCoy won an impersonation contest - with the real Tom Jones as a judge. He captures the energy and excitement of Tom Jones with his uncanny renditions of some great selections from the T.J. songbook.

This latest edition of Legends in Concert runs at Resorts' Superstar Theater, June 2-7, 10-11; 13-18; 20-21; 24-25; 26-30. Show time is 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 9 p.m. on Fridays; and 8 p.m. on Saturdays. Tickets are $25.

While visiting Resorts, be sure to stop off at Gallagher's Burger Bar on the dining/theater level. An informal, cozy setting, it's an ideal spot to grab a fast bite, be it lunch, a light pre-theater dinner or late-night snack.

Since its opening earlier this year, Gallagher's Burger Bar has achieved a huge success. They've recently expanded to table seating for 50, with additional seating at the bar itself. Gallagher's Burger Bar is open Mondays through Thursdays 4 to 10 p.m.; Fridays and Saturdays 12 Noon to 11 p.; and Sundays 12 Noon to 10 p.m. Beginning July 1, they'll open daily at Noon.

Everyone's favorite blue collar comedian, Jeff Foxworthy plays Harrah's Concert Venue with two shows Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Known for his redneck jokes and Blue Collar Comedy Tour, Foxworthy is the largest-selling comedy-recording artist in history. He's currently on summer hiatus from the unlikely FOX TV hit Are You Smarter Than A 5th Grader? Tickets are $50.

Tickets are now on sale for Mary J Blige's concert at Borgata Saturday, July 28. Ducats are $95, $115 & $135, and Borgata's Event Center's 2500-3000 seats are expected to sell out fast!

12 Miles West, 'Fringe' joining forces

12 Miles West Theatre Company and Lunatic Fringe are joining forces for four nights of improvisation, stand-up, sketch and comedy in the second annual "Improvapalooza" comedy festival.

In addition to performances by some of the area's best comics, the series highlight will be two stand-up competitions. Patrons will be able to vote for their favorite Outstanding Standup in an adult competition June 1 and 8, and help select "New Jersey's Funniest Kid"

June 9 as children ages 9 to 18 vie for the title. "Improvapalooza" is scheduled for Friday and Saturday evenings, June 1 through 9, at 8 p.m. at 12 Miles West Center for the Arts, 562 Bloomfield Ave., Bloomfield.

June 1 will feature the preliminary round of the adult Outstanding Standup Competition, hosted by Frankie Spear and with the standup comedy of Steve Lazarus (The Beer Man). June 2 brings the "Rumination on Mortality and the Ultimate Meaninglessness of Existence of Leanne Littlestone, Multiple Personality Disorder," whose show includes improvisational comedy sketches such as those seen on the popular television show, "Whose Line Is It Anyway?" and audience suggestions to shape scenes the performers instantly create onstage. Also included is "Motherhood and Other Desperate Acts" from veteran improvisational comedy performer Deb Maclean, who will take the audience on a wild ride from hipster to hip replacements. June 8 is the final round of the Outstanding Standup Competition, featuring some of the best tri-state area comics, including both new comics and some returning from last year's competition. Finally, Saturday, June 9 features the talents of New Jersey's funniest kids as they compete for that title, and Lunatic Fringe one of New Jersey's premiere improvisational comedy groups and co-host of "Improvapalooza."

"Improvapalooza" tickets are $15 for general admission and $12 for students and seniors.

Growing Up in Silver Lake (cont'd)

LIFE IN SILVER LAKE
CHARLES BURKE

You're free to dream a child's dream
With heroes so close by
We're not afraid to fall asleep
Beneath the western sky.
So off we slip to wonderland

On pillows 'neath our head,
We'd wake to find our morning clothes
Placed neatly on the bed.
We'd rush to eat our breakfast
And hurried out the door.
Our friends were in the schoolyard
At good ole Number 4.
We'd gather round in circles,
Some stories we did tell.
The clamor turned to silence
By the ringing of the bell.
A line was formed like soldiers tall,

Some faces showed their gloom,
Then scooted up the stairs to find
Our teacher in the room.
We'd say the "pledge," she'd read the prayer,
Oh, yes, it was allowed.

So sorry, but it must be continued in the next column. But I'm sure you people don't mind since it is so entertaining. And, the author must wait to take a bow until it is finished.
And remember, we love Silver Lake.

BHS SOFTBALL

Cosme excels as softball team wraps up solid season

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

The Belleville softball team concluded its finest campaign in four years last week, losing a tough 5-2 decision to Livingston in the NJSIAA, North Jersey, Section 1, Group 4 playoffs on May 22.

"I was very pleased with the way our kids performed this season," Belleville coach Chris Cantarella said. "When we went to Livingston, I told our kids to leave it on the field, and they did a good job. Livingston is a good team, well coached, and I think both our programs showed a lot this year."

Belleville finished the 2007 campaign with a 15-11 mark, the program's best record and first winning season since 2003.

"I know our seniors wanted to have a good season and they came through," Cantarella said. "The kids are aware of the winning tradition this program has had for 20 years and they wanted to re establish it. We've shown improvement the past few seasons and to have a year in which we won 15 games and made the states, I think we're headed in the right direction."

Bianka Cosme, a four-year starter for Belleville, played brilliantly in her final game at Livingston.

Cosme was 4 for 4 at the plate and got Belleville on the board after it fell behind 3-0 early. In the second inning, Cosme tripled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Moriah Lucena. Belleville cut the deficit to 3-2 when Nicole Velardi doubled, Ronica Sorice singled and Cosme singled to score Velardi.

"Bianka played a tremendous game," Cantarella said. "I told her she should be proud of what she's done here."

Cosme will play at Bloomfield College next year. Her coach there will be Rocco Constantino, a Belleville High graduate and one time assistant softball coach at BHS.

Belleville played its final home game on May 21 when it defeated Passaic in an NNJIL contest, 13-3.

"It was a pretty emotional day for us," Cantarella said. "I know it was a special day for the seniors, but the younger kids were choked up a little about the seniors leaving. It said a lot about what this team has meant to the girls. It was nice to see."

On the field, Sorice was 2 for 2 and scored three runs, Cosme was 2 for 3 with an RBI, Tiffany Deeubol was 2 for 2 with five RBI, winning pitcher Rebecca Colon hit a grand slam homer and Lucena ended the game when she hit a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning.

Colon (5-1) yielded four hits while striking out two and walking three.

BHS TRACK AND FIELD

Tandazo, Soto, Shaun lead track team

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

The Belleville track team competed at the freshman/sophomore novice meet at West Orange last week in the final regular season competition of the season.

Laura Palmerezzi's team raced at the state sectional championships last weekend.

Those who finish in the top five of their respective event will move on to the group championships tomorrow at Egg Harbor Township.

At the novice race, Adrianna Tandazo won the mile in 6:04.6 while taking second in the two mile (13:52). Samantha Soto ran 6:16 in the mile and came back to capture the two-mile with a time of 14:59.

"It was a good race for our younger kids," Palmerezzi said. "We've had a good season and this was a nice opportunity for the kids to compete."

Brian Antonio medaled in both the shot put (38'4") and the discus (105'). Sherry Tigrath did a good job in the 200 meters (30.7) while Brian Deoleo grabbed a medal in the mile (5:07.5).

Zee Shaun won the 800 meters (2:18) and came back to finish among the leaders in the mile (5:13.3).

At the county championships, Belleville's lone medalist was Maurice Jones, who took second in the 100 meters with a time of 11.18. Jones, who qualified for the prestigious Meet of Champions last season, ran a blistering 10.9 in a qualifying heat.

"We're hoping Maurice has a good performance at the sectionals and moves on the groups," Palmerezzi said.

Other Belleville athletes who were expected to perform at last week's sectionals included Huan Tran, Deoleo, Antonio, Allison Hogan and Sherece Shabazz.

The aforementioned Meet of Champions follows the group championships and features the top runners from each group in the state.

BHS BOYS TENNIS

Bucs conclude season, state tourney awaits

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

The Belleville boys tennis team concluded its season last week with a 3.5-1.5 loss to Nutley in an NNJIL battle.

Tony Salese's team finished 9-10 this year, including an 8-8 record in the NNJIL. Belleville will now prepare for the state individual championships, which begin this Saturday at Mercer County Park and Veterans Park in Mercer County.

Mikko Sunico, Belleville's number one singles player, will compete, as will the first doubles team of Jan Racaza and Jason Cecilio.

As for the team portion of the season, the Bucs lost to Ridgewood twice, the latter coming in the NJSIAA tournament. Belleville also lost to Don Bosco Prep of Ramsey, 5-0, Passaic, 3-2, and Montclair, 4-1 as the season wound down the past two weeks.

In its finale with Nutley, Sunico won at first singles, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5, while the second doubles team of Edgar Roque and Gil Santos split the point, 3-6, 4-4 (ret).

"I was happy with the way we played this year," Salese said. "We were .500 in the league and in our division. And for the second straight year, we qualified as a team for the states, as well as having players compete in the singles and doubles individuals at the states."

Salese also announced that Sunico would be named to the second team, All-NNJIL.

"He's had a tremendous season at first singles," Salese said. "Mikko has played against some of the best players in Northern New Jersey, especially in this league, and has performed well."

The Bucs also received good seasons from seniors Jude Cecilio at second singles and James Dublin at third singles. Racaza and Jason Cecilio, also seniors, have enjoyed a solid season at first doubles while second doubles has been ably manned by Karl Susas, Arnie Visaro, Roque and Santos.

"We had a good turnout at the start of the year and with our J.V. team continuing to get better, we have players who should be able to step in next season and make an impact on the varsity," Salese said. "We lost some good players from last year's (16-6) team, but we had kids step in and we were successful again this season."

MARTIN GUMB/BELLEVILLE TIMES

ONE AND DONE

Sophomore catcher Juan Lisojo, and the rest of the Belleville Buccaneers, made an early exit from the North I, Group IV tournament last week, falling in the first round to Passaic County Tech, 13-3. The Bucs, seeded 13th in the tournament, finished the season with a mark of 12-12-1.

Senesky is back as a head football coach

Thirty years ago, the Belleville Board of Education took a chance on a 31-year-old coach who had no head coaching experience to take over the varsity football program.

For the next 20 years, John Senesky did more than just coach the Bucs to some marvelous seasons, he helped teach his players life's lessons. From 1977 through 1996, Senesky guided Belleville to 10 winning seasons, four trips to the North Jersey, Section 2, Group 4 playoffs at a time when only four teams qualified and one championship game appearance. Even more importantly, Senesky's class, spirituality, organization and decency left a lasting impact on the young men he coached.

Senesky resigned as Belleville's coach after the '96 season, but never wavered far from the game. After a year off, he was working as a linebacker coach at Montclair State University for three seasons. In 2002, Senesky "retired" from his teaching job at Belleville High after a 35 year career and moved with his wife, Carmela, to San Diego, California.

If anyone thought that Senesky would ride off into the sunset, they were mistaken. Shortly after moving to California, he took a part time job as a wood shop teacher at Castle Park High School in Chula Vista. He was also hired as an assistant football coach that fall and was enjoying his second career as a teacher and coach.

This spring, the head coaching position at Castle Park opened up and Senesky saw an opportunity to return to a very familiar role. And it didn't take long for the Administration at Castle Park to realize that Senesky was their man, naming him the head football coach for the 2007 season.

Thirty years after he first landed a head coaching job, John Senesky is back.

"Carmela and I spoke about it, and she was totally behind me applying for the job," Senesky said by telephone from his home in California last week. "When I heard there was an opening, I really had a good feeling that I should try for it. I was excited from the outset about the chance to get the job, but knew there were some good candidates out there as well. I feel very fortunate to have this opportunity."

Castle Park High School has approximately 2,300 students. Its football program, ably run by coach Paul VanNostrand for a number of years, has had its share of successes, making the playoffs the past five seasons.

"Paul did a tremendous job here," Senesky said of VanNostrand. "He had the chance to take a job at a new high school in a neighboring town, which also gave him the chance to coach his son."

Senesky also noted that the Greater San Diego area is growing rapidly.

"The population is growing in leaps and bounds," Senesky said. "They're building new schools here on what seems like a regular basis. There are new malls going up every where, as well. The dynamics have changed a lot since we moved here five years ago."

BUC SHOTS

Senesky is impressed by Castle Park's athletic programs and overall commitment from the school's administration.

"They're really behind the programs here, and they take football very seriously," Senesky said. "Our enrollment here is big, but there are schools in Southern California that have 3,500 in their system. I'd say we would be the equivalent, size wise, of a Group 3 school in New Jersey."

Senesky is busy building his staff. Some of the coaches from VanNostrand's staff will stay on board with Senesky and he's quickly filling in the remaining vacancies. There isn't much time to waste. Senesky's first official game as head coach comes on Aug. 31, when Castle Park visits Chula Vista. Overall, there are 10 regular season games on the schedule, all on Friday nights, before post-season play commences in mid November.

He plans to bring back the conditioning programs that worked well for him at Belleville. He admitted being a little nervous when he worked his team out for the first time recently.

"I was leading them in stretching drills and I have to admit, I was hoping to keep up with them, that my body will be in good shape and that I have the endurance necessary," Senesky said. "I'm a little older now than that guy who started at Belleville as the freshman coach (in 1968). But The Lord has given me good health and I'm looking forward to teaching and coaching this team."

Senesky admitted that his coaching style has changed somewhat from the coach who had a hard time ending practice at a dark Clearmon Field over 30 years ago.

"I was coaching the freshman team and (assistant coach) George Zanfini would say to me, 'John, it's getting dark, we should wrap it up.' And I would say, let's move the practice closer to Union Avenue, so that we could take advantage of the street lights. George would look at me and say 'John, you're wearing them out.' You realize, over time, that you have to change your style a little. Kids today are different from the type of kid I coached in the mid 70s. I want the kids to enjoy the game and to learn our system. There has to be discipline, too, but I think kids actually want that in their lives."

Senesky hopes to spend the remainder of his coaching years at Castle Park.

"This is not a spring board for another job," Senesky said. "It's an opportunity to coach again. I'm at the age now where I want to coach and perhaps help young coaches become better at their jobs, too. I'm just excited to have the chance to run a program again. I haven't felt this good about coaching in a long time. It's really invigorating."

Senesky's organization and attention to detail was legendary during his days at Belleville. And long after he gave up the coaching job, his impact was felt by former players.

"Coach Senesky had the most organized, detailed practices that I've ever seen," recalled Mike Mundy, a former Belleville High quarterback from 1991 to 1993 who later played baseball at Rutgers and was drafted by the Colorado Rockies in 1998. "I learned from some good coaches in my life, but when I look back at how Coach Senesky ran a practice and how well prepared he was, it was really something."

Senesky appreciates his impact on former players.

"(Former assistant coach) Joe D'Ambola sees former players from time to time, and it's really nice to hear how much they learned from us, not necessarily about football, but life in general," Senesky said. "Our work with the FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) has been a very important part of my life and has affected, positively, some of the kids who went to the FCA huddles and meetings."

A devout Christian, Senesky concluded our conversation by quoting from Psalm 127 in what he hopes to accomplish in his return to the demands of head coaching.

"Unless The Lord builds the house, the laborer labors in vain," Senesky said. "It basically means that if you leave Him out, you could be destined for failure. I know The Lord has given me this opportunity, and I hope to provide the young men who play for me the chance to be better football players, but most importantly, better people, too."

Council cuts almost $1 million more from budget

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

Township officials have some good news about the 2007 municipal budget.

"The mayor and the budget committee have made further cuts, bringing the total to $1.7 million," said Township Manager Victor Canning.

That number has risen from the earlier trimming of $857,000 from the spending plan, almost a $900,000 increase in savings, he said.

That will benefit taxpayers, who will see tax increases for many go from more than $700 to the high $400 range to about $500, Canning said.

He cautioned that those numbers will not hold true for every taxpayer.

"It depends on what homes were valued at before the revaluation and what they are at after," Canning said.

For a home that was appraised at a "ridiculously low number" at the last revaluation in 1979, where the neighborhood has since become "nicer," taxes "are going up significantly," he said.

For someone else, who was appraised closer to the fair market value in 1979, the increase will not be as steep, Canning said.

"I can't put a figure on it, because it's not going to hold true for everyone," he said.

To reach the new budget reduction number, positions were eliminated to ease the tax burden that Canning said "could've made the town run better."

He said he believes at this point the budget will be introduced on June 12, with a public hearing at the later June council meeting.

The budget bind became worse after the Canning's proposal for debt restructuring to the state to try to save a few million in expenses was denied.

Belleville was denied by the Local Finance Board, so the council had to go back and look for more to cut, he said. Canning credited Mayor Raymond Kimble and Councilman Kevin Kennedy with continuing to work hard. Canning said previously that there are "huge" increases in pension payments, health insurance payments, and especially police and fire contracts, where binding arbitration makes it difficult to negotiate smaller pay increases.

Those whose property values have risen by eight times or more "have to watch" for a big tax increase, but those below "are not in bad shape," Canning said.

He said any further cuts to the budget are problematic, because officials could really be affecting services that people have become used to, and instead officials were looking at eliminating positions.

While a restructuring of debt might have helped this year's budget, Canning said state officials have told him that the funding problems are not going away in 2008, like the town's taking over pension costs and many other costs that municipalities cannot control.

He said if the town doesn't increase revenues somehow, things won't get better, which is why he is encouraging development in places that are now zoned inappropriately.

He mentioned the Lowe's Home Improvement Center coming to the empty property on Main Street, development of the Hoffman LaRoche property next to Clara Maass Medical Center and areas of Washington Avenue as the main areas where development. Those developments can bring in rates that will mean more tax revenues for the township.

He said those developments could bring in $2 million to $3 million - which would be a huge help, especially later. The township would be lucky to see any of that money in 2008, but probably would in 2009, Canning said.

Impartial crew chosen to name town's best slice

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

The League of Women Voters of the Nutley Area and the Nutley Jaycees invited Nutley, Lyndhurst and Belleville pizzerias for the 11th Annual Pizza Tasting Contest, which officials called a social and financial success. As in the past, the event raised college scholarship monies for a Nutley High School graduate. The Nutley Jaycees will award $500 to two 2007 graduating seniors.

The Nutley LWV and the Nutley Jaycees officials urged everyone to frequent the community-minded pizzerias that supported this year's contest, according to contest official Sally Goodson. Not only do these establishments make the best pizza in the North Jersey area, they also actively support the goals of Nutley's volunteer community, Goodson said.

"We had all out-of-town judges deliberately," Goodson said. A few years ago, there were accusations made that judges were being influenced to pick certain winners.

This year, Casa Turano won first place in the 2007 Nutley contest, Turano's Pizza Pasta Grill won first in Lyndhurst and Joey's Pizzeria was first in Belleville. Goodson said the contest officials were grateful to the Nutley League of Women Voters members who volunteered to be ballot counters.

Ettore Turano, owner of Casa

Turano Pizzeria, said he was happy that there were out-of-town judges this year.

"Before, it was more of a popularity contest," Turano said. "It was a matter of how many of your friends and family you could get to vote."

As for winning this year, he said his pizzeria uses the best, fresh ingredients, including importing the most important ingredients.

"We make it daily," Turano said. "We take pride in our pizza."

He had a message to those pizzerias from Nutley and the area that chose not to participate this year.

"Nutley and the pizzerias should participate, because it is more of a fundraiser," Turano said.

Judging committee member Mike Paolino said there was not as much participation as last year, including those who won in the past not being involved.

Michael Laplantney, Manager of Joey's Pizzeria, said this was the sixth time the restaurant has won, and said the success is because owner Joseph Barrett stresses quality.

"We start with the right ingredients, and keep the quality all the way through," Laplantney said. "We mix our own sauce, and use only the best until we're done."

Joey's is celebrating its 20th anniversary this month, he said.

The LWV was brought in to make sure that all judging was done fairly after the accusations of impropriety a few years ago.

Jeanne Van Steen, Goodson, Walt Smith, and Paolino were the 11th Annual Pizza Tasting Contest Committee.

This year the committee invited volunteer pizza tasters to join the balloting fun. The committee named Al Pawlowicz co-owner of Pizzaland, North Arlington, Dave Cambiotti owner of Tomato Pie Cafe Landing, N.J. and four dietetic and hotel management students from the Montclair State University's Food Management Program: Elizabeth Meenan, Alison Perez, Sam Richman, and Jorge Vasquez. They made up the strictly out-of-town judges.

Goodson said area residents should thank the following community-minded businesses in Nutley: Casa Turano Pizzeria, Petracco's, and Diamond Spring Cafe, in Lyndhurst: Turano's Pizza Pasta Grill and Pizzalino's and in Belleville: Joey's Pizzeria, Turano Bros. Pizzeria & Restaurant and Antonio's Restaurant. Nutley's multi-year winner, Ralph's Pizzeria, donated the paper products for this year's event.

Humane method tried to set the goose loose from county

BY DAVID HINRICHS
of Belleville Times

Tired of competing with the geese for your backyard? Sick of walking through a park and treating it like a minefield, weaving between droppings? Well, Geesepeace just might have the remedy many have been searching for.

Founded in 1999, Geesepeace is an organization "dedicated to building better communities through innovative, effective, humane solutions to wildlife conflicts." Recently, they have begun testing a new method of Canada Goose population control in Essex County implemented last month.

Their new strategy is to coat the Canada geese eggs with cooking oil. The oil is absorbed into the egg through the shell, stopping the growth of the embryo and terminating the gosling. "This method works because it slows down or even stops the increase of the goose population in the area by limiting the amount of hatchlings. Limiting the number of goslings is extremely important in removing the geese because the adults will not stay long in an area that they believe is uninhabitable," said a representative from Geesepeace. "The goal is to have them determine the area unsuitable for nesting and migrate back north to Canada."

The geese nesting season stretches from March to May and is followed by a molting period where the male adults lose their feathers and are unable to fly for six weeks or longer. "It is very important that we reach the eggs early in nesting season, while the adult geese can still fly and relocate," said a Geesepeace representative. "It is also important that the nests and eggs remain in easily accessible areas during the oiling period so that the nests can be located. If the geese are scared off and forced to nest somewhere else close by out of fear, they will hide their nests and make it very difficult to oil their eggs. That is why we encourage private property owners and town employees to take our training program and learn how to properly oil the eggs themselves, increasing our area of effect."

Past strategies to lower the local geese population have included gassing, hunting and unleashing predators on the geese population. Many of these methods were viewed as cruel and inhumane, being terminated not long after their arrival. "This was more humane. It doesn't sound good to people if you're going out there gassing and killing geese," said Tara Casella in an interview with The Star Ledger. Casella works in the Essex County environmental affairs office.

According to an article in the Star Ledger, Geesepeace visited six different Essex County communities, including Nutley, and oiled between 80 and 100 eggs in an attempt to lower the Canada geese population. These methods have been used with some success in 10 different states around the country this year and in parts of the United Kingdom. Essex County is the first county in New Jersey to support Geesepeace.

The New Jersey Canada geese population has soared to over 90,000, according to the state Division of Fish and Wild Life, a number that many feel is just too high. "It has become an issue. I'm not someone who is against animals or anything like that, but they make a lot of noise and scare the children. They are all over the place, I think it is about time something is done," said Nutley resident Maria Infantino while visiting Yantacaw Park. "They treat the parks like their own personal restrooms."

Officials will know the success of the oiling process over the next 10 to 20 days. The success is dependent largely on the percentage of total eggs oiled and the reaction from the adult Canada geese population.

tion of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The Rev. Paul Walker, Vicar of Christ Church, will officiate and preach. The Feast of Corpus Christi is one of three parish festivals that Christ Church observes; the other two being the Feast of the Transfiguration, the normal name day for parishes bearing the name Christ Church, and the Feast of Christ the King.

The Feast of Corpus Christi is celebrated on the Thursday following Trinity Sunday; the actual feast day is Thursday, June 7. Corpus Christi is one of two celebrations in the church that commemorate a doctrine rather than an event in the life of Jesus Christ; the other is Trinity Sunday which precedes it. The feast day celebrates the doctrine of the real presence of Jesus Christ in the Body and the Blood of the Mass. Normally it would be celebrated on Maundy Thursday, the day that the Sacrament was instituted, but the events of the Triduum overshadow it, so it is observed on the first Thursday after the octave of the celebration of Pentecost, the closing of the Paschal season.

The parish is also receiving gifts for its own Flea Market tables. Persons wishing to make donations are asked to call the church or to leave them at the church.

Christ Church has announced that it will continue its tradition of marching in the New York City Gay Pride Parade on Sunday, June 24. Currently, 44 bags of non-perishable food are distributed monthly to local families. Items needed regularly include: juice, crackers, rice, canned vegetables, sauces, tea, Bisquick and syrup, canned chicken, canned stews and canned fruits. Your donations are much appreciated. TAMOXIFEN MAY CAUSE EYE SWELLING

Tamoxifen is one of two types of drugs often used to prevent breast cancer recurrence. It blocks estrogen receptors in the breast. New types of medications, called aromatase inhibitors, inhibit estrogen production. Breast cancer patients should know that tamoxifen may cause swelling within the eyes. Researchers came to this conclusion while studying a part of the eye known as the optic cup.
This depression inside the eye is close to where the optic nerve exits on its way to the brain. Among women who were taking tamoxifen, the average optic cup volume was less than half of that of women with no history of breast cancer or who were taking aromatase inhibitors.

If you are taking tamoxifen to prevent the recurrence of breast cancer this recent study should interest you. At ROSSMORE PHARMACY, we always stay up to date on the latest studies so that we may inform you of the latest developments in the world of medicine.
So if you are interested in discussing this study please come to 338 Washington
Avenue, or call 973-759-1968 or 973-759-1956 today. Greeting cards, cosmetics, toiletries, cameras and film, timex watches, radios, baby needs,
Russell Stover candies, and other gift items are available.

HINT: The study mentioned above involved patients who were older than 50 years.

links to recent award-winning teen books, book and movie reviews, new books and NextReads, which suggests follow-up reading; Links and Websites for Teens; and BPL Teen Volunteer information, which invites Belleville teens to become a part of the Library's Teen Advisory Council.
