PD communications center unveiled

Five years in making, includes new 9-1-1 system

BY DAVID HINRICHS
of Belleville Times

After nearly five years of work the Belleville Police Department finally has a new communication center.

The project, which was spearheaded by Deputy Chief Charles Hood, has given the department a whole new look both aesthetically and technically. "It is very exciting to finally have this thing up and running. We are all excited at the station for it but now we have to learn a lot of new stuff," said Hood. "There is a lot of new technology that we have to acquaint ourselves with but once we get past the initial learning curve things will run a lot smoother around here."

Some of the new features include a brand new 9-1-1 system, a new radio console and a digital recording system along with video surveillance that will be throughout the entire building. "This upgrade is going to make us much more organized. A lot of our older systems were giving us stress because they were not working the way they were supposed to and some of the equipment we needed could not be found," said Hood. "One of the new features I am most excited about is the ability to track 9-1-1 cellular calls. We can't pinpoint exact locations but we will be able to get a general area for where the call is coming from so that we can respond quicker and with more accuracy."

The project, despite taking much longer than expected, managed to stay within its initial budget of $1.2 million. "I was given this budget almost five years ago and I have not spent one extra penny on this project. It was not easy, but we were able to do it," said Hood.

"Communication is possibly the most important thing a police station can have with its officers and residents so this was vital to us...."

Steven Rovell
Belleville Township councilman

The Belleville Township Council, along with Mayor Ray Kimble, also supported the project and have been involved over the last two years. "Communication is possibly the most important thing a police station can have with its officers and residents so this was vital to us. Our police force is our first line of defense against all threats posed and we must make sure that they are properly equipped," said Belleville Township Councilman Steven Rovell. "This project in particular was very dear to me because I remember being around when they laid out the initial communication center years and years ago. My father was a part of that process and I am very pleased to have been involved with this process."

The communication center is currently fully operational and only minor projects still remain incomplete. "It is great to see things get accomplished. That is what we want to see in this town and this is something that really needed to get done and we did it," said Rovell.

Hood also indicated that the police station was undergoing a change in radio frequency, something that would be formally announced in the coming weeks.

Man who phoned his victim sentenced in rape case

Essex County Prosecutor Paula T. Dow announced this past week that a Belleville man has been convicted by a jury of sexually assaulting a 17-year-old girl in December 2005.

David Vasquez, 29, originally of the Dominican Republic and last living in Belleville, was found guilty of three counts of second-degree sexual assault. Essex County Superior Court Judge Joseph Cassini scheduled sentencing for June 20. Vasquez faces between 15 and 30 years in prison.

According to Essex County

Assistant Prosecutor Deborah Freier, who tried the case, on December 5, 2005, shortly after midnight, the victim was returning from New York City by train from the Broad Street Station and proceeded on foot to the intersection of Broad Street and Clay Street. The defendant pulled up to the victim driving a white 1991 Oldsmobile.

After the victim refused a ride in the vehicle, the defendant ordered her into his car at gunpoint. Vasquez then drove to an isolated area and sexually assaulted the 17-year-old. The defendant managed to obtain the cell phone number from the victim and later that same day called her using a fictitious name in order to meet up with her. The victim immediately contacted police and was brought to Newark's Beth Israel Hospital where she was given a sexual assault examination kit.

After learning that the defendant was trying to reach the victim by cell phone, detectives instructed the 17-year-old to arrange a date with him. At approximately 8 p.m. that evening, Vasquez was arrested in front of the Rita's Water Ice store in Belleville. A DNA match was returned linking the evidence from the sexual assault examination to the defendant. In addition, the victim's sock was discovered in the Oldsmobile after detectives had seized the vehicle.

Belleville Police Capt. Mark Minichini said the department's involvement in the case was limited.

"We helped sit on the location at Rita's Lemon Ice and waited for the suspect to show up and then the arrest was made," Minichini said.

The defendant is facing similar charges from an incident that occurred in Hudson County in 2002.

Prosecutor Dow commended detectives Anthony Iemmello of the Newark Police Department, Eric Serio of the Essex County Prosecutor's Office and John McAlloon of the Belleville Police Department with the investigation.

Artist's work on display at meeting

"Following my Dream from Kindergarten to Grandma Moses" will be presented by Florence Goldstein at the meeting of the Bloomfield-Belleville-Nutley Chapter of Hadassah on Tuesday, May 20, 1:30 p.m., at Temple Ner Tamid, Bloomfield.

Goldstein, who was a kindergarten teacher in Bloomfield, has been making jewelry for the past 14 years, but started to paint seriously when she retired 12 years ago. Since then she has been awarded ten ribbons and has exhibited in art shows, concentrating on florals and still lifes. Although she prefers painting to making jewelry, her jewelry pieces have been met with acclaim. As part of her presentation, she will exhibit pieces from both genres.

Members are welcome to bring guests. Light refreshments will be served. For more information, call 973-338-4025.

Hadassah is the largest Jewish membership organization in the United States. In Israel it supports pacesetting medical care and research, education and youth programs, reforestation and parks projects. In the U.S., Hadassah promotes health education, social action and advocacy, Jewish education, volunteerism and leadership skills.

To Your HEALTH

Dr. Donna A. Pontoriero

CHIROPRACTIC IS MOST EFFECTIVE WHEN USED EARLY ON
As with many forms of health care, chiropractic treatment is most effective when it is applied during the early stages of a condition, particularly for acute lower-back pain. Spinal manipulation is most helpful for a lower back problem when it is done within the first month, according to the U.S. Agency for Health Care Policy Research guidelines. In fact, if you don't see positive results after eight to 12 visits, chiropractic care may not be the right approach for your condition. In that case, your chiropractor should be able to refer you to another health professional. The benefit of early chiropractic treatment extends, of course, to any area of your body that needs it. The body has more than 200 bones and connecting parts like muscle, tendons and ligaments. Most of these bones are capable of movement and come together at joints. Each bone has a position it's supposed to occupy and a well-defined range of motion. When any of these moving parts get out of alignment, through trauma or overuse, for instance, they can cause pain and other problems. The sooner you bring them to the attention of a chiropractor, the sooner your problem will be under control.

Visit Pontoriero Chiropractic Center to see how treatment might help you.

Caputo should relinquish a position

Freeholder and Assemblyman Ralph Caputo has been a stalwart public servant throughout his lengthy career, and enjoys a well-deserved reputation for being responsive to his constituents. Nevertheless, holding two elected offices simultaneously is problematic and he should give one of his posts up.

As Caputo himself admits, other officials who have held two offices at the same time have been the object of scandal – namely, former Newark Mayor Sharpe James, recently convicted on corruption charges stemming from his activities while leading the state's largest city (the charges didn't have anything to do with his activities in state government). But as Caputo also rightly points out, he himself has never been entangled in scandal, and there's no reason to believe he would be.

But dual office holding, as James demonstrated, can lead to abuse. A freeholder-Assemblyman like Caputo enjoys power on two levels of government. At each of those levels, the rules are structured so there are checks on the office holder's power. The system in place, however, did not have dual-office holders in mind.

There's also a fairness issue at play here. Incumbents for many elected offices in New Jersey already enjoy a huge advantage, one that few challengers can overcome. A challenger against Caputo for either of his offices would undoubtedly have an even tougher time because his constituencies – and therefore his name recognition and influence – overlap.

Addressing the question, there is now a law against dual-office holding, but one that contains a grandfather clause from which Caputo benefits. As fine and as conscientious a lawmaker as Caputo is, he should nevertheless adhere to the spirit of that law and relinquish one of his elected posts.

Correcting the record

TO THE EDITOR:

Congratulations to Mr. Longo and Mr. Freda for winning the Board Of Education Election.

However, a letter was circulated to the electorate with my endorsement for Mr. Longo and Mr. Freda. Since I am no longer a politician and now a public employee, an endorsement of any candidate will never be penned by me.

Whoever sent the endorsement out with my name attached to it and without my knowledge made an egregious error. Also, I apologize to Ms. Lozaw and Mr. Vellon and congratulate them on running a clean campaign and for caring enough about their town to try to correct what they thought should be corrected.

Jim Messina
Belleville

Can-do candidates

TO THE EDITOR:

As everyone knows by now, another council election is less than a week away. I consider this election to be as important as any in recent years. I have had the opportunity to work with Steve Rovell on the council for two years. Two years of which I am very proud. Steve and I started out two years ago not getting much cooperation due to residual tensions from my election. What I am most proud of is the way we were able to put all issues aside and focus on what is best for the town.

Steve had two more years of experience than I, so I took some guidance from him. With his guidance we were able to change people's perception of us. It took a little time but the outcome was a unity that breeds progress. This shows in what is being accomplished today. The problem with our town is our council seems to have a revolving door with council members changing every two years. This has to stop. Progress takes time, unity amongst the council members and the drive to see it through. We have it all.

What progress?, some may ask. Well for the first time ever, Belleville has been ranked in the Top 100 best places to live in New Jersey. In towns with populations over 30,000 we are number five. Lowes has finally made it through the endless trail of red tape. State approval for construction to begin will be forthcoming. In preparation for this approval, on April 1, Lowes renewed their agreement to purchase the property on Main Street. Senator Ron Rice has committed himself to helping Belleville any way possible. Councilman Rovell and Councilman Notari were authors of several letters to Senator Rice, endorsed by the council, asking for help to get us through the never ending trail of "red tape," a trail almost at its end.

Councilman Rovell had a vision of a safer, more secure community. He felt that updating the Communication Center for the Police Department would help in bringing this vision to fruition. With cooperation from the previous mayor and council as well as this mayor and council, Steve was able to guide this project through to completion. Another project Steve has focused on is the redesign of the town's website. With the full cooperation of the manager, mayor and council our website is second to none. In the near future, you will be able to pay water bills, tax bills, fill out construction permits and more online. Please check it out by going to www.bellevillenj.org.

Municipal infrastructure including roads, water mains, buildings and fields are being updated all over our town. This is being paid in large part, by grant money as to lesson the burden on our taxpayers. New development is coming to Washington Avenue as seen at the old Ice Factory next to Pathmark. If anyone has read the local newspapers recently, you will see the developer's comments. He commented on the cooperation and respect by the mayor and council while moving this large project forward. This project is in the hands of the D.E.P. awaiting environmental approvals. Washington Avenue is in the planning stages of getting a total redesign through a "Streetscape Program." There are many more projects on the horizon and all of them due to the fact that people are getting along on the council. Having an individual like Steve Rovell with a Bachelors Degree in Engineering, a Masters Degree in Management as well as a Certification in Project Management is an advantage this town cannot afford to let lose.

I urge everyone in the Second Ward to come out and vote for Steve Rovell. I also urge everyone in the Third and Forth Wards to go out and vote for John Notari and Paul McDonald. Together we can and are doing better.

Thank you. I am looking forward to seeing you all at the polls May 13th.

Michael Nicosia
Councilman at Large

TO THE EDITOR:

My name is Vincent J. Frantoni and I respectfully announce my candidacy for Third Ward Councilman.

I decided to seek office because Belleville residents are struggling to pay oppressive taxes and fees assessed by the present and past Councils. Ray Kimble and Kevin Kennedy campaigned on a platform to reduce taxes. They proposed to use half of the $7.1 million surplus and provide us a $300 tax decrease. After they were elected they gave us the largest tax increase in Belleville's history. In 2007, our municipal budget was larger than the BOE budget. Poor decisions by past and present councils generated dozens of lawsuits costing taxpayers hundreds of thousands. Our municipal borrowing has stretched the limit of our citizens' ability to pay.

If elected, I will unite our citizens and township employees to achieve common goals. We will limit municipal borrowing only for necessary capital projects that are fully explained and presented to the public. We shall demand more accountability from our township manager and department directors. Our purchasing policies will be reviewed and revised. We will demand our public facilities be properly maintained so they do not deteriorate to the point where we need massive funds to rebuild them. The Municipal Stadium, the Friendly House, and the demolished DPW garage on William Street are examples of poor management.

I will insist on strict compliance with our master plan and zoning ordinance to insure the proper development of our township. My positions on the future development of our township are well known to Belleville citizens. As a community leader, official, and activist for many years I have expressed my views at town meetings and many letters to the editor.

I have been a Belleville resident, homeowner, and businessman for 41 years. My civic involvement includes Peanut League coach, Cub Scout leader, former Vice-President of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, President of the Concerned Citizens of Belleville, Trustee of United Taxpayers of New Jersey and Passaic River Coalition, and County Chairman-Americans for Prosperity. I served eight years with the 102nd Armored Cavalry New Jersey National Guard and I have been a general contractor since 1972. I served as a Belleville Commissioner from 1987-1990.

Raising three children with my loving wife of 44 years, Phyllis, I am acutely aware of the financial strains being placed on our taxpayers. We must provide a stable fiscal environment so young families can afford their future and seniors can enjoy their "Golden Years."

On May 13, 2008, I seek your vote for Third Ward Councilman.

Kennedy Civic Association honors residents, legislator

The Kevin G. Kennedy Civic Association recently sponsored its 15th Annual Scholarship Breakfast at the Chandelier. The association, founded by Belleville Councilman Kevin G. Kennedy, hosts the annual event to raise funds to provide scholarships to deserving Belleville High School seniors who plan to enroll in a four-year college or university. To date, the association has contributed more than $35,000 in scholarships to Belleville students.

"This year's event was another success," said Kennedy. "I thank everyone who contributed to this event, and to our honorees for their willingness to help."

This year, the association honored P.B.A. President Tony Wieners as the Humanitarian of the year. Also Senator Ronald L. Rice for his community service. The association also honored the memory of several prominent Belleville residents who passed away during the last year. Those whom memories were honored were Anthony Mullen, Jerry Lomengello and Edith DeFeo, along with the six that are honored every year.

"It was a great honor for me to recognize these wonderful individuals for their contributions," and the memory of friends that have passed. Kennedy added.

More than 300 people attended this year's gathering. A family member will present scholarships on behalf of there loved one during the Belleville High School Scholarship Program in May.

My love for Belleville, my dedication to our citizens, and my civic, business, and government experience will guide me to return stability to our township. I welcome your support of my campaign, at 973-759-4111. I am not accepting contributions, I simply ask that you get yourself, friends, and neighbors to the polls on Election Day. Together, we will save our "Beautiful Village." Sincere thanks.

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to say a few words on behalf of candidate Marie Strumolo Burke. I have known Marie for over 15 years and I have never seen a woman who does so much and cares so much for Belleville.

When you visit Marie you have to wait while she answers 60 phone calls from people all around Belleville. They know she will get to their problem and get it done no matter how much time it takes to do it.

I feel that she is the best candidate for Ward 1 and she will continue to do all she can to be there for the people of Belleville. In fact

I would say, "Just leave it to me, my name is Marie."

Essex County's high-achieving students honored

THURSDAY, MAY 8, 2008 BELLEVILLE TIMES

JOHN MONTALVO/BELLEVILLE TIMES

Belleville's Lisa Bui was among those honored by the county last week.

BY DAVID HINRICHS
of Belleville Times

Many students work hard year round, earning elite grades and performing community service deeds to help their towns but go unnoticed by most. At the April 29th Essex County Academic Awards Banquet, they got noticed.

Nanina's in the Park hosted the 21st annual awards banquet last month and students from all around the county received recognition for their outstanding academic and community accomplishments. "This is a great opportunity for us to acknowledge some of the fine student minds that we have here in Essex County. Our students work hard year round and it is important to let them know that we see the great things they are accomplishing," said Thomas Dowd, banquet chairperson and interim Essex County Superintendent of Schools. "These students recognized here do not just excel in the classroom but they also excel in the community."

This long-standing tradition receives a strong attendance each year and this year was no exception. "The room was filled to capacity and we even had some people standing this year. The parents, faculty and administration of our schools really come out to support our children on this night," said Dowd. "It is a special night of the year for everyone."

Each high school is asked to select two students from its senior class to receive recognition at the banquet. Each student that is nominated is called up individually and given a plaque along with a community-donated $100 savings bond. Most schools select their top two students by academic rank. "We made our selection by picking the top two students in the class. The order they were placed in at the banquet is not necessarily representative of their position in the class, but the two students we chose were number one and two in our senior class," said Belleville High School principal Victor De Pauw. "The two students we chose this year are exceptional students, as are all who receive this award. It was nice to see the kids throughout the county all come together for one night and get to be in the spotlight. It was a very nice affair and a tradition that all the principals and administrators in the county look forward to year in and year out."

Students from Belleville, Bloomfield, Glen Ridge and Nutley were honored at the banquet. Those students were as follows:

From Belleville High School Roshan Ardhasseril and Lisa Bui. From Bloomfield High School Irina Kuzmich and David Vetrano. From Glen Ridge High School Vincent Ning and Hannah Wilson and from Nutley High School David Falcone and Aaron Petronico.

Literacy Volunteers need tutors

Literacy Volunteers of America (LVA) of Essex/Passaic County is asking for volunteers to tutor adults in Basic Literacy (BL) and/or English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) for one to two hours a week.

Working one-on-one or in small groups in libraries and other public places, trained volunteers dedicate themselves to help other adults increase their reading and writing or conversational English skills. The only requirement to becoming an LVA tutor is a high school diploma and completion of an LVA workshop. Knowledge of another language is not necessary.

A free 18-hour workshop, which teaches both BL and ESOL techniques to tutors, is scheduled on the following Tuesdays and Thursdays: May 20, 22, 27, 29 and June 3 and 5 from 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Congregation, 67 Church St., Montclair, NJ 07042.

Area officials defend double-office holding

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

Is double-dipping always a bad policy for taxpayers?

One local lawmaker is a dual office holder while another has a paid public position with the county and state legislative seat, but both say their multiple roles help them better serve their hometowns and all of their constituents.

Gov. Jon Corzine signed into law last fall a ban on state lawmakers holding other elected posts like mayor, freeholder or municipal council member. While the Nutley official does not hold dual office, he does have a high profile, well-paying public position in addition to serving Nutley in the state assembly, which leads to questions of dual pensions, or "pension stacking" as it is called. He offered proof that he has turned down all "perks" that he can legally reject.

The Belleville official points out that his salaries as assemblyman and freeholder do not constitute a large salary and he is definitely not pension stacking.

Frederick Scalera is a Nutley native who serves the township along with several Bergen County municipalities as state assemblyman. He also recently gave up a $100,000-plus position as Nutley's Deputy Fire Chief, the highest paid non-volunteer position in the fire department.

He traded that job in for a $90,000-plus job as deputy director in the Essex County Sheriff's Department in charge of Emergency Management and co-chair of Homeland Security.

He said his assembly position pays about $49,000, and as a public employee, he is not allowed by law to give up all of his pensions, but after a meeting with officials he now has no pension from the county.

"There is nothing in the law that allows me to waive my pension on the state level," Scalera said. He has a 401K plan as part of his county emergency management and homeland security job.

"Homeland Security has become my life," Scalera said of his decision to leave one public job for another, and he added that the new position allows him to broaden the scope of preparing the entire county, and by extension Nutley, to prevent or deal with a terrorist biological, chemical or bomb attack.

Belleville's own Ralph Caputo is a Freeholder and state Assemblyman, and said his dual role allows him to answer residents' questions on a variety of topics. He earns $49,000 as an assemblyman and "$31,000 and change" as a freeholder.

In defense of so-called double dipping, Caputo said, "First of all, I work two full-time jobs, and I was elected to both. It doesn't seem like democracy if you don't let the people decide on who should have these jobs. The fact that I am on a ballot with (U.S. Sen. Frank) Lautenberg and (U.S. Congressman Bill) Pascrell means something to me. I can be a strong advocate for my constituents in both Essex County and the state Legislature."

As for long-term perks, he said he doesn't "pension pad," does not even have a retirement account, "and it's a very low salary when calculated. This is not an attempt to enrich myself. I've worked hard for the fifth district and the legislature. I know some have been involved in scandals. But I don't have any scandals, and hope never to."

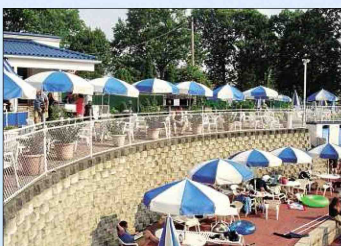

Scalera said another city in Essex County wanted him as homeland security/emergency management leader, but he took the county job so he could do more for the entire county. He said the New York Times defended his dual public positions, saying homeland security was his career, and he is looking forward to the largest county bioterrorism drill being performed soon.

"There was a limit to what I could do in Nutley," he said. He waived the $4,000 stipend when he agreed to be Nutley's volunteer fire chief, and just recently performed inspections when the deputy chief was unavailable. He also served as county HAZMAT leader for 18 years for no salary.

"I never put in for overtime (as deputy chief)," Scalera said. "I know that looking at this, I never was trying to pad my pension. I waived my benefits at the county, which would cost $6,000 to $8,000. When people say I'm doing double duty, they're 100 percent right, but I waived the Nutley salary and the county benefits. The others don't allow me to."

As for his new job, he said he has been told by people like the North Caldwell Police Chief that "Essex County is going to be able to do great things" with him at the helm.

Scalera said he had to attain a certain level of expertise by learning things in the field, and his extensive training uniquely qualifies him for his new job.

"I can now take that knowledge and use it for the county," he said. "Someone coming in with no experience wouldn't make a good candidate."

Caputo has been chided by a political rival for not dropping out of the freeholder race, but said his dual office holding "does meet the letter of the law. (State Senate Majority Leader Richard) Codey didn't see it as a problem. Constitutionally, I have the right. If not, we're not letting the people make the decisions. It would be like the old days of the party bosses picking the candidates. If the people don't want me, they'll let me know. I didn't want to do this, but all I've gotten is encouragement."

Freeholder candidate Bob Russo, former mayor of Montclair, has called upon Caputo to give up his attempt to retain both seats in the June 3 primary. He said Caputo's candidacy for re-election as a freeholder is a violation of the spirit of the new law banning dual office-holding. Russo has challenged Caputo to remove his name from the primary election ballot.

In a statement, Russo said, "Ralph has served two terms on Board of Chosen Freeholders, and was elected to the state assembly last year, promising the voters that he would not seek re-election this June to his county seat if elected to the assembly seat. His original commitment would follow the spirit of the new anti-dual office-holding legislation and concur with the majority of public and journalistic opinion on the practice of elected officials 'double dipping'."

Caputo said, "Russo is saying 'drop out,' which means he automatically gets the nomination. That's not what this process is all about."

Hillside Café to host 'Beatles sing-a-long'

The Hillside Café, a non-profit music venue in Nutley devoted to acoustic music, is featuring a special Beatles' Sing-a-long on Saturday, May 17 at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. Doors open a half-hour before the show.

Employing a hand-picked "Beatle" band of local artists, music patrons will be treated to as many Beatles' hits as they can sing during two two-hour concerts.

The band includes Dave Kleiner of Bloomfield, Paul Little of Nutley, Jeff Little of Montclair and Joe Ribaudo of Bloomfield, with vocal assistance from Liz Pagan of Bloomfield and Vicky Chalk of Nutley.

"If you love the Beatles, this is the event for you," says Hillside Café staff member Linda DeSimon of Bloomfield. "We plan on projecting all the lyrics so everyone can sing without worrying about the words, and your $20 admission includes delicious homemade desserts, coffee, tea and soft drinks. What could be better than that?"

The set list has been created based on suggestions collected from Hillside Café patrons and friends over the last few months. The two-set concert is expected to focus on "pre" Revolver music before intermission and "post" Revolver music after intermission.

"If you're a true Beatles aficionado, you'll understand," DeSimon said.

Little, a School of Visual Arts student who was named after Paul McCartney by his mother, Vicky Chalk, grew up listening and playing guitar to The Beatles. His brother, Jeff Little, a Montclair State University music student, likewise cut his "musical" teeth on The Beatles. Kleiner, a singer/songwriter and past president of the Folk Project of North Jersey, ran a three-season workshop entitled "The Beatles - A to Zed." Ribaudo is a CBS/Pavilion Records recording artist, a classically-trained drummer and a serious Beatles fan. Assisting with vocals is Pagan, a soprano; and Chalk, an alto.

'Riding Hood' strays into Luna Stage

Running Rabbit Family Theatre's (RRFT's) newest production, "Little Red Riding Hood," is straying into the Luna Stage for performances on Thursday, May 8 (today) through Sunday, June 8.

The time-honored classic receives the trademark "RRFT spin" in this fanciful version by Patricia Goldberg (book) and Kevin Arruda (music and lyrics). Little Red travels through the forest to visit her ailing grandmother. She encounters many challenges along the way, not the least of which is the Big Bad Wolf - whose 1950s rock 'n roll take on life adds to the hilarity.

Directing the show is Paul Whelihan, a noted New Jersey director, actor, playwright and RRFT co-founder.

"The play is sure to delight children and their 'grown-ups,'" said Whelihan. "It has clever music, a joyful book, and we're highlighting its knowing wink to the adults in the crowd."

Whelihan's innovation in creating works for family audiences brings the piece to the RRFT stage. He has directed theatre for young audiences for over 20 years with Pushcart Players, A Kids' Forum, Growing Stage, Ironbound Theatre and numerous other theatre arts organizations. Other directing credits include "Talley's Folly" and "LUV" with Forum Theatre, "A Beautiful Home for the Incurables" with Luna Stage, "Eleanor Descending the Staircase" with Passage Theatre and 18 productions for RRFT, many of which he wrote and appeared in.

Portraying Red Riding Hood is Victoria Gutierrez, a Montclair State University theatre graduate. She has performed in "Anything Goes," "Summer Brave" and "Twelfth Night" and she originated the role of Patty in Ben Calverson's "Spilling Stuff and Breaking Things." While still in high school, Victoria sang during two performances at Carnegie Hall with the Clifton High School Concert Choir.

Peter Daddabbo, most recently seen in RRFT's "Tales of Custard the Dragon," is the wolf. His favorite roles for young audiences include Poppa Geppetto in "Pinocchio," Triton in "The Little Mermaid" and Prince in "Snow White." Daddabbo serves as director of operations at the Hampton Country Day Camp, and he has performed regionally as Bernardo in "West Side Story," Danny in "Grease" and Jud Fry in "Okla-homa."

Little Red's mother is portrayed by Erika Insana, previously seen in RRFT's "A Winnie the Pooh Christmas Carol," "The Frog Prince" and "Schoolhouse Rock." She has appeared throughout the country in "Jesus Christ Superstar," "Footloose," "Singing in the Rain," "Two By Two" and many more.

Michele Tauber stars as Granny Fanny, Little Red's ailing grandmother. Tauber is an RRFT favorite, having appeared in regional houses nationally and worked in locally filmed television and movie projects. Tauber's memorable RRFT performances include Mama Bear in "Goldilocks," the stepmother in "Cinderella" and (most recently) Rapunzel's mother, the witch.

Patrick Starega is Fritz the Woodsman, a friend to Little Red and her family. Starega is a founding RRFT member and a New Jersey Association of Community Theatres board member. He has directed, choreographed and stage managed throughout the region.

Musical direction is by James Campodonico, having served in that capacity for over 100 musicals in New York and New Jersey. His musical "Between the Lines" was produced at Luna Stage and in New York, receiving the Star-Ledger's recognition for best musical score. Campodonico also taught choral music in the public school system for 33 years before his retirement.

RRFT shows are recommended for children ages two and up and their families. All seats are reserved. Tickets are $14 each, with discounts for groups of 20 or more.

"We want to offer a break when choosing to come to the theatre," said RRFT co-producer Ellen Beattie of the reduced ticket rate. "Too often when people are nervous about the economy - which they are now - theatre is one of the first options to go. We don't think of theatre as a luxury but as a necessity. Fortunately, a lot of our patrons do too, and we hope that a less expensive theatre ticket will help out."

Camp and school groups, day-care centers, Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops and other organizations are encouraged to book early for best seating availability.

And continuing an RRFT tradition, young audiences are invited to bring a grandparent for free - theirs or someone else's - to the "Grandparents' Day" performance on Sunday, May 18 at 11 a.m. To order tickets, call the box office at 973-744-3309 or visit the Web site www.RRFamilyTheatre.org.

The "Little Red Riding Hood" performance schedule is as follows:

Luna Stage

- Thursday, May 8 at 10:30 a.m.
- Saturday, May 10 at 11 a.m.
- Saturday, May 17 at 11 a.m.
- Sunday, May 18 at 11 a.m. (Grandparents' Day)
- Saturday, May 31 at 11 a.m.
- Sunday, June 1 at 2 p.m.

NLT Reader's Theatre to return May 18

The Reader's Theater group of Nutley Little Theatre is presenting a reading of "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little" on Sunday, May 18 at 5 p.m. at the NLT Barn, 47 Erie Place, Nutley.

Penny Potenz Winship of Montclair directs the production, which is free and open to the public. Reader's Theater features actors reading scripts of new and established plays, supplementing NLT's regular, fully staged performances.

"And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little" by Paul Zindel is a searing drama of three sisters whose lives are moving in separate directions after the loss of their mother, who raised them alone after the father deserted the family long ago. A visit by neighbors brings long-simmering resentments to the surface.

In the cast are Melissa Surow of West Orange, Gerry Kirschbaum of Montclair, Cody Dalton of Montclair, Linda DeSimon of Bloomfield, Don Sheffrin of Little Falls, Deborah Bernstein of Maplewood and Julie DiPietro-Renshaw of Maplewood.

ANNIVERSARY

Mickey and Anthony Biondi wed 50 years

Mickey and Anthony Biondi of Nutley celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with family and friends at a reception at Nanina's In The Park.

The former Mickey Rossi and Anthony Biondi were married on April 19, 1958 at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in the Ironbound

Section of Newark. They have a son, Anthony, Jr., and a daughter Ann Marie and her husband Jude Belas. They are the grandparents of Julianna and Jude.

The couple are the founders and owners of the Biondi Funeral Home of Nutley.

If you had a choice, what would you like to be?

The other day, I began to think of all the things I've been or still am and several I would never tackle.

I am a mother to four great children, grandmother to six boys and one girl, widow of a handsome charming Irishman, mother-in-law (no comment), aunt, Godmother to three, matron of honor once, maid of honor once, bridesmaid many times (with the worn-once gowns to prove it), lay leader of my church, Sunday School teacher (went in for what I thought was going to be only a few weeks and stayed for years), president of St. Paul's Women's Guild, charter member of Group 22 of the Guild, elementary school teacher, patrol advisor, substitute teacher, social editor, stock clerk, retailer (men's ties and toys), resume writer and so on and on.

And some things I would never tackle. I have never allowed myself to be elected treasurer of anything. President, sure. Chairman of a major fundraiser, sure, Member of a board of directors, sure. Treasurer, no way. Why? I don't want to be responsible for anyone else's money. My own I can handle. Anybody else's, no thanks. And it's not that I'm dishonest. I'm not.

I could never be a dancer. Two left feet. Nor a singer. Voice like a frog, with apologies to the frog. Nor an actress. Nor a million other things.

There are several things I would like to be. A millionaire for example, with loads of money to give away. Some chance. A midwife, although after watching too many episodes of "A Baby's Story", I've sort of changed my mind about that. A lot younger. Wouldn't we all.

Keep barbecuing safe for everybody at all times

It's that time of year when we enjoy cooking on the grill

During these events many burns and fires will occur. These are mostly due to carelessness or unsafe practices.

Here is a list of suggestions to keep your cook-out safe and enjoyable.

- For gas fueled grills, follow manufacturer's instructions for changing bottles, checking hoses and lighting gas jets.

- Always use approved lighter fluid to start charcoals or instead use pre-soaked type charcoal. Never squirt fluid on burning coals.

- Choose an open area away from patio overhangs, shrubs and house. Never grill in an enclosed area.

- Use proper hand mitts and long handled tools.

- Educate young children about hot grills and establish a "No Zone" around grill.

- Do not leave food unattended on grill.

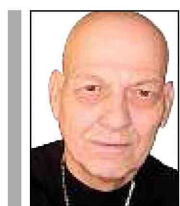

- Keep fire extinguisher or garden hose nearby.

- Store bottled gas out of sun and house. Never paint the tank a dark color.

- Cool any burns immediately with water. Seek medical help if serious. Post emergency numbers on outdoor phone.

BHS SOFTBALL

Bucs stop here

ECT run, 12-game winning streak comes to an end

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

When Belleville softball coach Chris Cantarella first saw the seedings for the Essex County Tournament a few weeks back, he knew his team, seeded second, might have to play a dangerous team in Bloomfield in the quarterfinals.

Even though Bloomfield was seeded tenth, most knowledgeable coaches and fans knew well the Bengals' talent on offense, as well as its savvy head coach, Bob Mayer, who has compiled over 400 wins as well as three county championships during his 20 seasons as head coach. Add that to the quarterfinals being played on Bloomfield's home field, Pulaski Park, and Cantarella had reason for concern.

Last Saturday, the Bucs ran into a tough freshman pitcher and the result was a 5-1 Bloomfield victory that moves the Bengals into the semifinals. The loss snapped a 12-game winning streak for Belleville, which was ranked in the Star-Ledger's Top 20 for the first time in six years last week.

Belleville, which took a 15-2 mark into a game on Tuesday at Paramus Catholic, will play at Bergen Tech of Hackensack this afternoon at 4. On May 14, the Bucs host Livingston in a big game at Clearmon Field, starting at 4 p.m.

"We've been hitting the ball very well all season long," Cantarella said after the Bloomfield game. "But last Saturday, we couldn't get anything going against them at the plate. If you told me we'd hold them to two runs through six innings, I would have liked our chances. Bloomfield's pitcher (Lea Magliacavello) pitched very well. She kept us off balance all game."

Magliacavello held Belleville to three hits while striking out five and walking four in a complete game effort. She got stronger as the game progressed, retiring the final seven batters.

Belleville's only run came in the fifth. Ronica Sorice singled with one out and Mariah Lucena singled her to third. Amanda Veniero walked to load the bases and Gabby Chimento hit into a fielder's choice, scoring Sorice. Magliacavello worked out of further trouble by striking out the next batter to end the inning.

Sorice, Lucena and Jessica Benacquista had the lone hits for Belleville. Bloomfield (10-8) was led by senior centerfielder Ashley Martinez, who had two hits and drove in three runs and Lisa Orlando, who had three hits and scored a run.

Chimento (11-2) pitched a gutsy game, striking out eight and walking four. She worked out of jams in the third, fifth and sixth innings without allowing a run, but Bloomfield, which scored twice in the second after two were out, put the game away with a three run seventh inning, highlighted by Martinez's two-out, two-run single.

Earlier last week, Belleville won an impressive game at Clifton, 4-2, in nine innings and blanked Teaneck, 13-0. Against Clifton, Chimento pitched a complete game, striking out six and walking three while yielding six hits. Belleville broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of runs in the ninth as Briana Rary and Crystal Cruz hit RBI singles. Lucena, Veniero and Cruz had two hits each to lead Belleville.

Versus Teaneck, Nicole Velardi had three hits while Sorice and Cruz collected two hits each to back Veniero's shutout pitching. Veniero (4-0) gave up four hits while striking out four and walking two. She also hit a homer and drove in three runs.

BHS BOYS TENNIS

Veteran squad performing well

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

The Belleville boys tennis program has quietly built a winning tradition.

Having become a varsity entry 31 years ago, the team struggled for many seasons as it faced a tough NNJIL schedule and, for nearly a decade, had to compete strictly on the road because the home facilities were in poor condition.

The Township of Belleville did its job over the past decade in restoring the tennis courts and the program has responded in kind with some outstanding seasons, including its effort so far in 2008.

Tony Salese's Bucs are off to a 7-2 start this spring behind a veteran team.

"The kids are playing very well," Salese, who has been the team's head coach for the last 20 years, said. "Ever since we established a J.V. program, it's done wonders for our team. We've had good turnouts and the younger kids who don't play varsity right away get the chance to play J.V. and it's been a plus."

Belleville's starting lineup, which consists of all seniors, features Mikko Sunico at first singles, Arnie Visoro at second singles and Mike Baldonado playing third singles. Sunico has put together an 8-1 record, with his only loss to Montclair in a third set tie breaker.

Gil Santos and Edgar Roque play first singles while Lester Bosea and Isaac Kim make are at second singles.

Belleville started its season with a 3-2 win over Bayonne on April 2. Sunico won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-4 and the first doubles team of Santos and Roque won in three sets, 5-7, 6-2, 7-6 (7-3) while the second doubles team of Bosea and Kim prevailed in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

The Bucs blanked St. Joseph of Montvale on April 9, 5-0, with all the starters gaining wins. On April 11, Belleville stopped Bergen Catholic of Oradell, 4-1. Three days later, Belleville shut out Paterson Eastside, 5-0 and followed that with a 5-0 win over Paterson Kennedy on the 16th. In that match, Ajani Robinson, a senior, won at third singles, 6-0, 4-6, 7-5 and the second doubles team consisted of seniors Andrew Manaquil and Derik Tom, who won in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0.

Belleville's other wins were a 4-1 victory over Paramus on April 18 and a 5-0 sweep of Hackensack on April 23. The lone defeats came to Montclair, 5-0, and Verona, 4-1.

Zanfini recalls a decade of excellence

MIKE LAMBERTI

(First in a two-part series)

George Zanfini might have coached his last game over 20 years ago, but the memories are still quite vivid for the beloved Belleville High School teacher and coach.

Zanfini, 64, retired as a history teacher after 41 years last spring. A Belleville native, he's still a regular at Buccaneer sporting events, working the scoreboard during the fall and winter months and being a big fan in the spring.

On May 16, the varsity baseball field at Belleville High will be officially renamed in Zanfini's honor in what should be a very emotional night. The festivities will begin with a reception in the high school library at 6 p.m., followed by a walk to the high school field where the sign will be officially unveiled, around 6:30 p.m. Belleville High will play a varsity game that evening against Watchung Hills, starting at 7.

"I remember when (Councilman) Mike Nicosia announced at my retirement dinner last (June) that the field would be named after me," Zanfini said last week. "I was beyond stunned. I thought maybe he would say there would be a plaque in the dugout, or something like that, but to have the field named after me, that's unbelievable. I'm overwhelmed."

It was particularly appropriate that Nicosia made the announcement, since Zanfini considers him one of the best players to ever wear a Belleville High baseball uniform.

As Zanfini prepares for his big night, he's had the chance to look back at some great years as Belleville's head coach. He held that title from 1975-1982, and again in 1987. His record during that run was an incredible 156-59. He led his teams to two Big 10 championships in 1976 and '78 and an NNJIL title in '87. In 1981, Zanfini guided Belleville to its only Greater Newark Tournament crown when the Bucs defeated Glen Ridge, 10-4, in the title game.

Before becoming head coach in 1975, Zanfini had an equally impressive run as the freshman baseball coach for five seasons, compiling a 62-17 record from 1970-1974 and giving him a 218-76 mark as a baseball coach at Belleville High.

Zanfini remembers the influence of legendary coach Ed Berlinski when Zanfini first became the freshman coach in 1970.

"Ed was an incredible athlete and later a great coach at Belleville," Zanfini said of Berlinski, who had a marvelous athletic career at North Carolina State. "When Eddie's coaching career began to wind down, he was teaching gym at the junior high and I was a teacher there. We began talking and I told him if he decided to step down, I'd like the chance to be the baseball coach. Eddie had a tremendous influence in my life. I always talked to him about coaching and he was a great help."

Zanfini replaced Charlie Travers as the varsity baseball coach after the 1974 season.

"I was a history teacher at the junior high from 1966 through 1974," Zanfini recalled. "It worked out well for me because I moved up to the high school as a teacher after the (1973-74) school year and was named the head coach at the same time."

In Zanfini's first year as head coach in 1975, the Bellboys starred the season 9-1, but struggled down the stretch and finished 14-10.

"That first year was one of transition," Zanfini said. "There were some good seniors there who had played for Charlie for three years, but I had coached them as freshmen. It's tough taking over a varsity program with seniors who have been used to a different coach. But kids like Victor Pasquariello, Vinnie DeNotaris, Joe Panalone, Steve Gerard and Louis Grasso were tremendous. That year, we lost (junior pitcher) Ricky Loma to a broken finger and that was a big hit in the middle of that season."

There was also the epic contest on May 2, 1975, when Belleville, riding a nine-game winning streak, hosted the state's number one team, Irvington. The game went 14 innings before Belleville lost a 4-1 heartbreaker. Greg Petite pitched the first 11 innings for Belleville and was marvelous. The game clearly wore both teams out. The Bellboys would lose 9 of its last 14 games that year while Irvington also struggled and fell from the state's elite ranking.

"I knew in '75 that the 1976 team would probably be very good," Zanfini said. "We had some great offensive players and the pitching was coming around."

The '76 team was indeed fantastic. They would finish 24-4 and win the Big 10 championship. For five straight weeks, it was ranked first in the state by The Star-Ledger as it won 20 straight games after a 1-0 loss to nemesis Irvington in the season opener.

"The Big 10 had some outstanding teams back then," Zanfini said. "We played Bloomfield three times that year and they were all good games. Irvington, Columbia, Montclair and Essex Catholic were all solid teams. There was never an easy game. The Greater Newark Tournament was a great event, with teams like Livingston and Our Lady of the Valley competing."

Next week, the series continues with a look at some of the players from that '76 team and some memories of the 1981 and 1987 campaigns.

Bucs snap four-game skid

BY MIKE LAMBERTI
for Belleville Times

With its hopes of making the NJSIAA playoffs down to the wire, the Belleville baseball team won a big game on Monday night, rallying in the late innings to defeat Nutley, 5-4, at Municipal Stadium.

Joe Sorce's team took a 7-10 mark into a game on Tuesday against Paramus Catholic. This afternoon, Bergen Tech of Hackensack comes to town and tomorrow, Kearny visits. Belleville needs to be at .500 by the end of tomorrow's action in order to qualify for the state tournament.

"I told the kids we can't win four games in one day," Sorce said following the Nutley game. "We can only play one at a time, and tonight, we got a good win against a solid team in Nutley. Now, we have to beat Paramus Catholic and get ready for Bergen Tech."

An enthusiastic crowd greeted the Bucs on Monday night against Nutley. But it was the Raiders who struck quickly, taking a 2-0 lead on John Isabella's two-run homer in the first inning.

Belleville rallied back to tie it in the last of the first. Shawn Gonzalez singled and went to second when Angel Gaud was hit by a pitch. After a pop up for the second out, Chris Judge was hit by a pitch to load the bases and Robbie Vocaturo followed with single that scored Gonzalez. Gaud, who was also attempting to score, got caught in a run down between third and home, but beat the throw to the plate and scored the tying run.

Belleville took a 3-2 lead in the second when Joe O'Donnell homered down the left field line.

Nutley scored twice in the third off Judge to take a 4-3 lead, but Judge would settle in and shut Nutley down for the next three innings.

Nutley threatened in the sixth, putting runners on first and second with one out. But Judge recorded a strikeout and Josh Bini made an outstanding defensive play at second, diving to his right to snare a grounder, then throwing from his back to second base for the force out.

Belleville tied it in the sixth when Jon Suchdolski singled and went to third on O'Donnell's double. After a pop up, Gonzalez hit a sacrifice fly to tie the game.

In the seventh, Judge led off with a walk and Mike Kirikatos pinch ran. After a fly out, Suchdolski ripped a line drive to right centerfield that went all the way to the fence, easily scoring Kirikatos with the game-winning run.

BHS NEWS AND NOTES

Volleyball team gears for county tournament

The Belleville volleyball team improved its record to 18-4 last Monday with a hard fought win over NNJIL rival Hackensack.

Ed Saggio's team, which was ranked 19th in the state by the Star-Ledger on Monday, faced West Essex of North Caldwell earlier this week in an Essex County Tournament quarterfinal round contest. A victory there would move the Bucs into Saturday's semifinal round against the Bloomfield-East Orange winner, in Bloomfield. The county finals are set for May 17.

Belleville needed three sets to get by Hackensack, winning 25-19, 20-25 and 25-22.

"It was a good match against a well coached team," Saggio said. "We don't match up well with teams that have height, and we have to work harder to find ways to win. Overall, we've been playing very well this year. The kids work hard."

Marlou Zanoria had 26 assists and Aljohn Tabat recorded 12 kills in the Hackensack match.

Saggio credited Zanoria's setting, the hitting of Tabat and Rudy Hernandez's play in the middle for his team's outstanding season.

Crew team races at City Championships

The Belleville High crew team raced at the City Championships last weekend in Philadelphia.

The freshman boys four shell earned a silver medal with a second place finish. Abdullah Alhorrani, Erik Cueva, Mike Bell, Danny Campos and coxswain Jeffrey Chacon had another solid race after a good showing at the Cooper Cup on April 27.

Also doing well were the novice four boys team, which finished fifth in the finals.

Belleville will race at the Upper Merion Regatta in King-of-Prussia, Pennsylvania this weekend. On May 16 and 17, team competes in the prestigious Stotesbury Regatta in Philadelphia.

Newcomer seeks Pascrell's Congressional seat

BY PAUL BRUBAKER
For Belleville Times

Roland Straten knows he has an identity problem as the Republican challenger to Rep. Bill Pascrell Jr. "I have to get that name recognition," said the 67-year-old Straten, the outgoing CEO of a Paterson fire protection company. "I could have the best ideas, but if nobody's heard of me, I don't stand a chance."

Reaching voters could prove to be difficult as the presidential race galvanizes the Democrats who dominate most of the 21 communities that make up the 8th Congressional District in Passaic and Essex counties.

Add to that New Jersey's spirited race for the U.S. Senate, which will make its own demands on voters' attention.

Yet Straten, Pascrell's seventh challenger since first elected to Congress, believes he can win.

An engineer who holds degrees from Duke University and Dartmouth College, Straten has crunched the district's voter registration numbers and concluded that since the majority of voters have no political affiliation, many could be swayed to support him.

Straten has already embarked on a "viral marketing" campaign through his Web site, sending regular e-mails to voters.

He also stops at two to three civic club gatherings every evening, he said, bringing a platform that he describes as akin to that of GOP presidential candidate John McCain. The planks include:

■ Health care reform: Straten would support a "whole life" system in which people paid into a coverage plan beginning when they were young to build equity for medical needs in later years.

■ Iraq: More troops should be deployed to save American lives in the long run while withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq would be "a terrible disaster."

■ Immigration: Amnesty for illegal immigrants is a mistake; people should be encouraged to enter legally.

But it's his ties on both sides of the county border that make Straten most confident about his prospects.

"I'm in an ideal position," said Straten. "Being raised in Wayne,

'This type of election is going to be much more about getting to the people.'

Roland Straten
Republican congressional candidate

having a business in Paterson, living in Montclair sort of fits in with the district."

In 1971, Straten took over Associated Fire Protection, a company that his father started in 1947 and now has sales of $6.7 million. He'll soon pass the reins to his son, Brett.

He has headed the city's Chamber of Commerce and was a founding member of the Paterson Economic Development Corp. He has held similar positions in Montclair where his family has lived for nearly 40 years.

Straten says he won't engage in a battle of war chests with Pascrell, who had raised $1.2 million by the end of March.

He considers himself a "small-businessman that's done OK" who is not in the same category of self-funded millionaire politicians.

"This type of election is going to be much more about getting to the people," Straten said. "I'm hoping to demonstrate what I want to do in Congress, and that's spend money more efficiently."

Stop smoking, sleep more, lose weight, improve your health with hypnosis

You want to quit smoking. You need to lose weight. You're anxious, sleepless, or you find yourself avoiding people or necessary tasks. Imagine sleeping well, eating well, or putting down the cigarette habit for good without anxiety, weight gain or mood swings.

Nicotine addiction and unwanted weight can both lead to a frustrating roller coaster ride of hope and disappointment. Panic attacks and anxiety disorders can manifest themselves in physical symptoms such as stomach pains or insomnia, or behaviors like avoidance or extreme shyness. Regardless of the issue, you can discover what thousands of others have already learned: hypnosis offers a painless path to freedom and change.

The Hypnosis Counseling center has been helping people change their lives for the better for over 20 years. Group classes are offered at more than 35 adult schools and recreation centers throughout New Jersey to help people quit smoking and lose weight. Improve air quality indoors

When the topic of improving air quality comes up, much of the discussion focuses on how to improve outdoor air quality. Solutions such as reducing harmful emissions from vehicles and properly disposing of certain household items are easy ways to improve outdoor air quality.

But what about improving air quality indoors? Ways of doing that are not discussed nearly as much, as it's common to overlook indoor air quality. But poor air quality indoors can be just as harmful as outside air - or even more so considering the amount of time spent indoors - making it a good policy to keep tabs on indoor air quality via the following tips.

■ Dust frequently. Dusting is an easy chore when it's done frequently. However, the longer dust is allowed to build up, the more arduous removing it can become and the more damaging it is to the quality of indoor air. When dusting, do so with microfiber towels and dusters. Such products attract dust, which will cling to the fibers instead of simply dropping dust to the ground. The object is to remove the dust entirely, not simply move it around to let it fall to the ground where it's not as visible.

■ Clean the blinds. Blinds are common gathering places for dust, which tends to gather on the outside-facing part of the blind, making it seem as though the blinds are clean when they are not. Clean blinds weekly using the same microfiber dusters used to remove dust from the rest of the house.

■ Bathe and brush pets regularly. Pets contribute mightily to poor indoor air quality, particularly pets that stay outdoors while their owners are away. Pets' coats are often loaded with dirt and dander (skin flakes in animal fur or hair).

New school board votes to replace lockers

At the most recent Board of Education meeting, appointments and designations were made following the April 15 school board election and budget vote, while two contracts were awarded and tuition rates were set for the 2008-2009 school year.

Frank Pomaco, longtime school board attorney, was reappointed for a term running from July 1 of this year to June 30 of next year. Pomaco is a partner in the firm of Gaccione, Pomaco and Malanga. Valley National Bank was approved as the designated official depository of school monies.

A contract was awarded in the amount of $158,865 for student locker replacement at the high school to the Locker Man, of Middlesex, in accordance with the company's low bid opened on April 17.

The replacement was outlined as a one-time only new expenditure in the 2008-2009 school budget that voters passed.

A contract was awarded in the amount of $60,929.50 for paving at School #3 and School #7 to D & L Paving of Nutley in accordance with the company's low bid on April 17.

A contract was awarded to RK Occupational & Environmental Analysis, Inc. of Phillipsburg in the amount of $3,700 to provide the state Environmental Protection Agency's AHERA Compliance Three Year Re-inspection.

A contract was awarded to the same company in the amount of $22,605 to provide Professional ASCM Services for Asbestos Abatement Projects at School #9 and the middle school in accordance with the company's proposal of Feb. 1.

School Board Administrator said the EPA and asbestos abatement projects are state mandates paid for by the state.

Finally, the annual tuition rates for the 2008-2009 school year were approved, both on annual and a daily basis. Any student attending Belleville legally from another town or found to be attending Belleville schools illegally are required to pay tuition.

For kindergarten, the annual rate is $8,337 and the daily rate $46.32. For grades one through five, the annual rate is $9,440 and the daily rate is $52.44. For grades six through eight, the annual rate is $9,927 and the daily rate $55.15.

For grades nine through 12, the annual rate is $10,319 and the daily rate is $57.33.

For students with language learning disabilities, the annual rate is $14,042 and the daily rate $78.01.

For students with behavioral disabilities the rates are $17,638 and $97.99, while students with multiple disabilities pay $21,326 and $118.48. For preschool handicapped part time students, the numbers are $10,446 and $58.03, for full time the rates are $16,868 and $93.71.

Treatment for disc problems

Reoccurring low back pain/leg pain can be debilitating. It restricts activity for times with family and friends, etc. Anyone suffering is well aware of the limitations. With 85 percent of all people having back pain at some time in their lives, back pain is the most frequent cause of activity limitation in people less than 45 years of age. But thanks to new technology, Dr. Susan Guarino, D.C., is able to offer her patients a highly effective, non-surgical solution to this growing concern.

The DRX9000 treats herniated discs through non-surgical spinal decompression. Intrigued by the clinical results of this technology, Dr. Guarino researched the treatment and found that she could effectively treat her patients with an over 86 percent success rate for debilitating back pain.

The DRX9000 improves the disc by gentle expansion and contraction movements on the involved disc to re-hydrate the disc material. Bringing fluid and nutrients to the disc will help to speed recovery for low back pain.

Dr. Guarino finds that the DRX9000, along with chiropractic adjustments and light therapy (a form of light laser) is a winning combination of results for her patients suffering from disc problems and lower back pain.

Call Guarino Chiropractic Center at 973 759-3600 today for a free consultation to discuss if you are a candidate for DRX9000.

Particle pollution is dangerous

According to the American Lung Association (ALA), particle pollution is the most dangerous and deadly of widespread outdoor air pollutants. Formerly known as soot, particle pollution itself is not visible, though the haze it creates when the sunlight hits it is visible. Some of the main sources of particle pollution are ash, diesel exhaust (commonly from buses, trucks and heavy equipment), chemicals, metals, and aerosols. The ALA reports the city most polluted by short-term particle pollution in the United States is Los Angeles, including the surrounding areas of Long Beach and Riverside. The greater Los Angeles area is followed by Pittsburgh-New Castle and Fresno, and Bakersfield, California, as the cities most polluted by short-term particle pollution. While larger particles can be coughed or sneezed out thanks to the body's natural defense system, smaller particles can be very dangerous. That's because they can get lodged deep in the lungs, remaining there and resulting in sickness or disease. The cleanest area for short-term particle pollution in the U.S. is Baldwin County, Alabama, which is situated in southern Alabama along the Gulf Coast.

Thorough school sweep meant to send message

BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

A recent sweep of high school lockers was meant as a deterrent and as part of a lesson in drug resistance, according to school and police officials.

On April 16, a limited facility inspection of Belleville High School took place, and the initiative included the inspection of student lockers.

This inspection was not in response to any specific problem in the high school, according to Dr. Edward Kliszus, Superintendent of Schools.

"This initiative was planned as part of our ongoing efforts to ensure an optimum and safe learning environment for our students," he said.

The inspection was conducted in cooperation with local and county law enforcement authorities, in accordance with school policy, and guidelines as set forth by law enforcement officials. Kliszus said.

Nothing illegal was found in the search, but if the inspection team had found something in a student's locker that warranted parental attention, those parents were advised as soon as possible and informed of what steps were to be taken to address any concerns, Kliszus said.

Kliszus said "The goal of our parents, students, and school community is to continue maintaining a safe and secure learning environment for every student attending Belleville High School."

Belleville Police Capt. Mark Minichini said the operation was done at the request of Kliszus, and with the approval of the county Prosecutor's Office. The county Sheriff's Department's canine unit was employed along with local detectives, he said.

"We don't ever say 'We're coming in here and doing a sweep,'" Minichini said. "This was not done in response to anything going on, it's just a deterrent. Nothing turned up, which is good. We hope this had the desired effect for kids and parents. It went fairly smooth for it being the first one."

Kliszus said that while this was the first such search at BHS, similar sweeps have been done in neighboring towns, including Nutley and Kearny.

"It's done all over the state," he said. "We're very pleased that nothing was found. We want the message to be sent the children are going to be kept safe and drug free."

Mothers' Day gift certificate available at Starlight Dance

Mother's Day comes only once a year, so why not buy her something special. At Starlight Dance Center you can purchase your favorite "Mom" a gift certificate for the vast array of classes that Starlight has to offer.

Moms can go high tech too

Dad may go ga-ga over the latest technological offerings - from big-screen TVs to mobile phones - but Mom is no shrinking violet when it comes to going high-tech. She, too, appreciates a new invention, especially if it will lighten her workload.

Mom keeps the household running efficiently. She can soothe bumps and bruises while balancing the checkbook and finishing up on her paperwork. "Dr. Mom" is also the first person to offer medical "treatment" when someone in the home is under the weather. So doesn't Mom deserve special attention and gifts that will make her medical house calls - and all of her other daily tasks - even easier? Here are some great "techy" gift ideas that do just that.

Cool take on reading temperatures: Some moms swear by the lips-on-the-forehead method of determining whether her child is feverish, but the best way to get accurate results is with a thermometer. There are a few different types on the market - from oral to rectal to thermometers that are placed inside the ear canal - but none is more convenient than a temporal artery thermometer. It is as accurate as a rectal thermometer but involves only a quick swipe across the forehead to register temperature. With two dozen studies attesting to its accuracy and reliability, and almost 30 percent of hospitals and physicians relying on its accuracy, the Exergen TemporalScanner® is the leader in temporal artery thermometers. The temporal scanner makes a great gift for baby showers, new moms or Mother's Day. Mom can accurately and quickly diagnose fevers and check up on "patients" even when they are sleeping. The Exergen TemporalScanner is available at Babies"R"Us, Toys"R"Us, Wal-Mart, Walgreens, Costco, and Sam's Club around the country.

We have beginner to advanced dance classes including Salsa, Foxtrot, Cha Cha and more! If working-out is more her style, we have fun and fitness classes available too! BY RICHARD DICKON
of Belleville Times

For anyone passing the imposing-looking building at the back of the great lawn near Belleville and Franklin avenues, the structure's history may be a mystery. While some may know its recent history as a geriatric hospital and later in the 1990s as a cancer research center, it was once a respected refuge for those suffering from contagious diseases.

Phyllis Smith recalled her childhood in Belleville, when her father was a doctor at what was known as "the isolation hospital" in the 1930s and 1940s, but doesn't remember things in a negative way, but rather as a fun place to be a kid.

"We had a lot of people who stayed there with tuberculosis, and they were permanent residents," Smith recalled. "They used to all go out to the playgrounds."

Even though there were residents there with every type of contagious disease, from TB to polio, from measles and chicken pox to scarlet fever and diphtheria, the hospital grounds was still a place for play time.

"We played there," Smith said. "They had a tunnel to and from the hospitals, and we used to roller skate, and bike. The tunnels were all attached to the hospitals. It was a fun place, particularly the tunnels on a rainy day."

On one of the top floors of the main hospital there was a pool table on which the doctors played, so there was always time set aside for recreation, even in the midst of dealing with terrible diseases, Smith said.

In addition to the tunnels, there were tennis courts, swings and playground equipment. Most poignantly, Smith would interact – at a distance – with young patients.

"The kids would sit by the windows, and I used to talk to them," she said.

While Smith was enjoying all the innocent freedoms of childhood, her father was doing very important work.

Her dad was Dr. Ellis Smith, and he began his career treating polio patients in Minneapolis.

"He was a specialist in polo before the Sabin and Salk vaccines," Smith said. "A lot of doctors did that back then. With all these diseases, even the measles, you went to the hospital. The back end of the property that now is condos was the original site. Then they built the new hospital. The old hospital's gone now, but time moves on."

She was born at the hospital in May 1932, so she knew nothing outside of growing up around contagious disease patients. Her father had grown up in Oklahoma and met her mother, from Nova Scotia, in the unexpected locale of Jersey City, when he was a doctor and she a nurse at Christ Hospital. He took over the Belleville hospital right before Smith's birth, and did not retire until 1960.

The family resided in the brick house on the corner of the property that has recently been renovated, much to Smith's approval.

Still, while her life began in the throes of the Great Depression, she said she had no complaints growing up.

"I was a kid," Smith said. "I didn't know any better. I know I didn't have any memories of being hungry."

There were signs of the difficult times that did interrupt her idyllic childhood that she knew understands. "I remember there was a guy with a horse who would come around," Smith said. "He would visit homes, and take our picture with the horse to make money."

Then came World War II, and her father was not sent to the front lines because he was deemed too important to fighting the war at home against contagious disease. Smith has a memory of those years probably familiar to most people her age.

"We used to have times, because they were worried about bombs being dropped on us in school, where we had to go downstairs and curl up against the wall," she said.

Most children's fathers, however, were not whisked away to a secure location in Livingston when a bombing threat materialized, however, but Smith said her father was always going there to prepare to treat potential bombing victims.

She said one of the family's prize possessions is a commendation from President Dwight D. Eisenhower from about 1957 presented to her father for his work during the Second World War.

Even with her pride over her father's efforts, Smith said that despite the attempted eradication of diseases like measles and polio, it troubles her to see the occasional outbreak in this country or abroad.

"Once in awhile you see something about measles or another disease, and then another shows," she said. "I guess it's never really gone. Especially in a place like India."

Something Smith probably shares with many Americans is a feeling that her last name is too common, something her parents handled in a unique way.

"In my family there is an Ellis, a Leon, an Otis and a Macon," she said. "My parents said they were not going to have a kid named John Smith."

These days Smith keeps up with her elder statespersons from Belleville with reunions, and jokes about the need to combine more than one graduating year because of advancing age.

"We'll have our 60th reunion in two years," she said. "We also have the class of '51, because there just aren't that many of us left, but we meet every year. Of course it is more of a luncheon, but we always have a good time."

So the next time you pass the big hospital on the hill of the great lawn, remember that many sick persons were helped there in the previous century, but for at least one child, it was a fun place to call home.

Foundation awarding thousands in scholarships

The Belleville Foundation announced that it would distribute $23,000 in grants and loans to Belleville High School seniors.

The decision was made at the 66-year-old foundation's recent annual meeting. Officers and trustees were also re-elected at the meeting. Rene Gabbai, President, Steve Rovell, Vice-President, Martha Bowden, Secretary and Al Schmitt, Treasurer will continue to serve along with Trustees Carole Casale, Bob Cassin, Robert Gaccione, Lori Ippolito, Judy Rotino and Arlene Schor. All appointments are for one year.

The trustees voted to award a $2000 scholarship at the Belleville High School awards program in May. This scholarship will be renewable for three additional years upon the student showing acceptable progress toward a degree at an accredited college.

The award will be made on the basis of academic and need. Applications must be made no later than April 15 and returned to Deborah Perri at the high school Office of Student Services. Application forms can be obtained at the Office of Student Services or can be downloaded at the Foundation's website, www.bellevillefoundation.org. Applications must be accompanied by two letters of character reference supplied by a person unrelated to the applicant.

The trustees also agreed to provide $15,000 in interest-free loans to Belleville High School students. These loans are available to a student who will pursue higher education at a college or an accredited trade school.

The loan application for the first year is also due no later than April 15 and can be received from the Guidance Office or online from the Belleville Foundation website.

The loans are renewable in future years and a payment schedule will be provided upon the student's completion of higher education.

The Belleville Foundation was established as a 501(c)3 organization in 1942.

Its early contributions were in support of many civic activities, including a separate student scholarship fund. Among its early priorities were to bring a hospital to Belleville, and later gifts of $270,00 were made to Clara Maass Hospital.

The Foundation welcomes bequests, its address is Belleville Foundation, Gaccione, Pomaco & Malana, 524 Union Ave., Belleville.

IN RARE CASES

A rare disease is defined in this country as a disease that occurs in less than 200,000 individuals. Unfortunately, for those who have such disorders, relatively little drug research and development is focused in their direction because it is not usually in pharmaceutical companies' financial interests to do so. To address this harsh reality, the government passed a law that gives "orphan drug" status to medications that treat rare disease. This step has been taken in hopes of encouraging the development of drugs that are necessary but would be prohibitively expensive and/or unprofitable to develop under normal circumstances. The Orphan Drug Act has made it possible for hundreds of drugs to be developed that otherwise would not have been created. It is important to consider when you take your medication. Fortunately for those who suffer from rare diseases the Orphan Drug Act does exist. At ROSSMORE PHARMACY, we encourage those who do have a rare disease to come in to 338 Washington Avenue to discuss any possible research being done. We are here to help everyone regardless of the rarity of their condition. Call 973-759-1968 or 973-759-1956 with any questions. We are Medicare, and Blue Cross approved.

HINT: Prior to the passage of the Orphan Drug Act, few orphan drugs were available to treat rare diseases.

200 Club honoring firefighters, police officers

The 200 Club of Essex County, founded to assist the families of police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty and the oldest such organization of its kind, will hold its 2008 Valor Awards luncheon on Thursday, May 8th at Mayfair Farms in West Orange at 11:30 a.m.

Established in 1966, The 200 Club of Essex County has raised nearly $2 million to support the spouses of fallen officers and to fund scholarships for their children through membership dues and the annual luncheon.

The 200 Club of Essex County, comprised of regional business and civic leaders, has spawned 18 similar charitable organizations throughout New Jersey. Arthur S. Guida, director of external affairs for PSE&G and The 200 Club president said, "This special organization is dedicated to the principle of caring for those who care for us. Each year, our support from business and community leaders has dramatically increased."

"The job of a police officer or firefighter is tougher today than ever before," stated Essex County Sheriff Armando Fontoura, a member of The 200 Club's board of trustees. "Law enforcement and firefighting are extremely hazardous professions which are performed at tremendous personal risk. The work of The 200 Club of Essex County is greatly appreciated by the entire public safety community and their families."

According to Guida, ten local law enforcement officers and seven local firefighters will be recognized for bravery, dedication to duty, courageous vigilance and selflessness during the upcoming Valor Awards luncheon which will feature Weyssan Dun, Special Agent in Charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Newark Division, as principal speaker. SAC Dun is a specialist in national security matters, violent crime, street gangs and terrorism.

The 200 Club of Essex County will also remember the lives of Newark police Sergeant Tommaso Popolizio and F. B. I. Special Agent Barry Lee Bush during the club's Roll of Honor. The two officers were killed in the line of duty last year.

Nominations for The 200 Club's Valor Award are made by chiefs of Essex County's municipal fire and law enforcement agencies and the commanding officers of federal, state and regional public safety departments.

Valor Award recipients are selected by The 200 Club's Executive Committee.

Among this year's Valor Award honorees are Irvington police Lt. Dwayne Mitchell who confronted and arrested armed suspects who were responsible for a string of robberies;

North Caldwell police Sgt. Bill Texas and Officer John Lynch saved the life of a woman from her estranged husband who had set their home on fire and threatened physical harm to the woman;

Newark police Sgt. Joseph Juliano who single-handedly confronted and captured armed suspects who had fired upon one teenager and were in the process of robbing a second teen;

Essex County sheriff's Lt. John Ferrara and Detective Mahmoud Tamimi, a resident of Caldwell who pursued and arrested two armed carjacking suspects despite their police vehicle being struck head-on by the suspect car;

Essex County sheriff's Detective Robert Scarrillo, Jr. for saving the life of a woman who was thrown from a speeding van by her husband onto the center lane of heavy traffic on Route 80 and for capturing her assailant;

New Jersey Transit Police Officer Michael Bavosa who saved the life of a driver of a tractor-trailer that crashed into a concrete barrier on the New Jersey Turnpike then flipped over and burst into flames;

Port Authority Police Officers Anthony Mezzacappa and Ronald Yates who tracked down and arrested a strongarm robbery suspect responsible for the death of Newark police Sgt. Tommaso Popolizio;

Montclair fire Capt. Michael Bailey and Firefighters Ronald Catania and Richard LoMonte who rescued four victims from a burning residence;

Irvington fire Lt. Fred DeLima who rescued three victims from a house explosion;

And, Newark fire Capt. William Murnane and Firefighters Krzysztof Sroka and Abnathy Mason who rescued three victims from a burning four-story building.

Tickets for the annual 200 Club Valor Awards luncheon are available at $75 each.

One sacrifice worth more than any other Religious history includes many accounts of an altar system of sacrifice. We remember Abraham willing to sacrifice his own son, Isaac, on the altar. Fortunately, an animal appears to be sacrificed instead of Abraham's son.

Is this ancient practice kept alive today in different form? How many of us sacrifice our health and peace of mind by working 60 or 70-plus hours per week? Do we think God would love us more? True accounts of suicide attempts and self-destructive actions are many. We continue to sacrifice our health and mental stability on altars of harmful drugs, foods and self-defeating relationships. Our inability to succeed in relationships of peace with those from different backgrounds is responsible for the sacrificing of our sisters and brothers on the altar of war.

Some people tell clergy that we should preach about Hell, fire and brimstone. But wait! Jesus' message is about 'Amazing Grace.' The 'once' lost are found; fears are relieved through this amazing grace.

The Lord has promised good things topped off by hope. Jesus' willing sacrifice on the cross, complete with his resurrection frees us from our efforts to earn our connection to God through blood sacrifice.

We are free to be. Free to live. Free to enjoy our God-given lives in praise of our God for sending us His son to pave the way for us.

Away with complaining, fear and pointing the finger of blame to others. The promised Holy Spirit abounds. We are privileged to use our gifts and abilities to spread God's healing word to all of the world.

Will we?

Seat belt enforcement being stepped up

Law enforcement officers throughout New Jersey will be stepping up enforcement and education of the state's Primary Seat Belt Law. The enforcement and education campaign comes as part of the nationwide Click It or Ticket mobilization.

The goal of the program is to increase the statewide seat belt usage rate to 93%. Last year, the seat belt usage rate in New Jersey rose for the 11th consecutive year, to 91.4%. In 2007, there were 716 motor vehicle fatalities in New Jersey, a large percentage of which were not wearing a seat belt. Seat belt use saves lives and prevents injuries. Between 1975 and 2000, seat belts prevented 135,000 fatalities and 3.8 million injuries nationwide, saving $585 billion in medical and other costs.

Seat belt use is especially important for teens and young adults. Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for people age 15-34 in the United States.

During the mobilization period from May 19-June 1, local police agencies will conduct a zero tolerance seat belt enforcement campaign. Motorists who are not buckled up will be issued a ticket. In addition, concerted efforts are going on locally and statewide to raise awareness about the importance and life-saving benefits of seat belts.

"High visibility enforcement saves lives," said Pamela Fisher,

Director of the New Jersey Division of Highway Traffic Safety. "Our goal is to make sure that all motor vehicle occupants are properly restrained, on every trip."

"We are committed to the Click It or Ticket strategy," added Tom Louizou, Regional Administrator of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. "Tickets are a strong deterrent and the results are meaningful: Fewer deaths on our road."

86th anniversary for Rotary

Chartered in April of 1922, the Rotary Club of Belleville this year celebrates its 86th year. Consisting of a cross section of business and professional people from Belleville and neighboring towns, the club is part of a global organization, Rotary International, which was formed in 1905.

RI has over 31,000 clubs in more than 165 countries, with total membership of approximately 1.2 million.

Rotary's motto "Service Above Self" has been followed by the Rotary Club of Belleville in the many acts of community and international service that it has been a part of throughout its 86 year history.

Most notably, the club is proud to have participated in Rotary International's efforts to stop the spread of polio throughout the world, and most recently it received a Rotary grant of $1000 which will be used in coordination with the Pure Water for the World organization to provide clean drinking water to twenty-six families in Haiti. In addition, each year the club contributes money and time to the Gift of Life arm of Rotary which brings children to the United States for heart operations that could have not been provided for them in their native countries.

More locally, the club donated money for the construction of a recreational area for Belleville High School students so that they can sit outside to eat in the good weather, and each year the club purchases a dictionary for each third grader in the Belleville School System.

The Rotary Club of Belleville, 86 years strong, is looking ahead to many more years of dedicated service to its local and global community.

President Phil Nobile invites interested parties to join the club at its weekly luncheon, held each Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at the Bella Casa Caterers, 2 Acme Street in Belleville. Those interested in membership can call Joan Taub at 973-450-3434 for further information. We welcome those to whom Service Above Self sounds like a worthwhile goal.

The 10th Annual NUTLEY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE 5K RUN/WALK was an enormous success. We would like to thank our township officials, the many volunteers and the following contributors for their generous donations to support and promote this event.

Phoenix Center gets grant for autism students

A 2008 $5000 grant from The Daniel Jordan Fiddle Foundation will allow the Phoenix Center to enhance its bowling league for its adolescent students with autism as part of its overall educational program. The Daniel Jordan Fiddle Foundation's pilot grant to the Phoenix Center in 2007 got this important program off the ground. The students at the Phoenix Center participate in this recreational activity many of us take for ranted, with the assistance of special bowling ramps and gutter bumpers to help them roll the ball and knock down the bowling pins. The Phoenix Center is a 501(c) (3) not-for-profit private school for students on the autism spectrum and those with other severe developmental disabilities. 147 students from ages 5 – 21 attend the school located in Nutley. Students hail from 63 towns in nine New Jersey counties including Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Morris, Passaic, Sussex and Union. "Our goal," said Dr. Geraldine Gibbia, Executive Director of the Phoenix Center and Wyckoff resident, "is to provide inclusion opportunities in less restrictive settings, to provide programmatic excellence in a small nurturing environment, and to empower our students to become independent members of society. This amazing grant from The Daniel Jordan Fiddle Foundation allows us to do that by providing our students with opportunities others take for granted – normal recreational activities, like bowling." Dr. Gibbia sums up the incredible success of this program by the reactions of the parents. One parent said that it was the first time her son had ever bowled. Because of the behaviors associated with his autism, this parent was afraid to take him to a bowling alley with the rest of her family. Thanks to the bowling league at the Phoenix Center, that parent now feels the confidence to take him on her own on the weekend, This program truly makes a difference in a child's life and that of his family. The Phoenix Center was co-founded on 1991 by Dr. Gibbia and Dr. Douglas Berrian. Dr. Gibbia also serves as the Second Vice President of ASAH, the New Jersey Association for Private Schools for the Disabled. The Daniel Jordan Fiddle Foundation, located in Ridgewood, awarded grants to over 23 residential, recreational, vocational, educational and family support programs that benefit adolescents and adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD.) This year for the first time the foundation has a grantee in Israel. "The Phoenix Center's Bowling League for Adolescents is an important part of the curriculum that will create opportunities for socialization and skill development and we are so please to support the dedicated efforts of Dr. Gibbia," said Linda Walder Fiddle, Executive Director of The Daniel Jordan Fiddle Foundation. If you are interested in learning more about the Phoenix Center and its programs, contact Dr. Gibbia at 973-542-0743 or www.phoenixcenterinc.com. Groups get Essex County grants

Forty-eight local community arts groups received $142,339 in 2008 Local Arts Program Awards during a technical assistance workshop and awards ceremony at Essex County Kip's Castle Park March 25. The grants are funded through the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, and the program is administered by the Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs. Local recipients include the following: ■ The Belleville Public Library and Information Center received $2,500 to fund its "Music Together" early childhood program. ■ The Bloomfield Public Library was given $2,000, allowing it to offer a series of 13 concerts and plays. ■ The Bloomfield-based Garden State Concert Band, Inc. received $3,000 to present a live concert for fourth and fifth graders. ■ The House of Ecuadorian Culture, Belleville, was awarded $500 to present four community folk festivals. ■ The Mosaic Dance Theater Company, Glen Ridge, was awarded $4,000 for an upcoming dance production. ■ The Township of Nutley received $500, allowing it to offer a visual arts youth workshop.

"Essex County is fortunate to have a diverse and active cultural arts community that positively contributes to our quality of life. Music, dance, theater and visual art programming attracts visitors to our downtown areas, provides worthwhile entertainment and recreation opportunities and, most importantly, stimulates our minds and senses," said Essex County Executive Joseph N. DiVincenzo, Jr. "The micro-grants we are announcing tonight support these agencies' goal to raise awareness about and expose greater audiences to the arts." During the event, Essex County Division of Cultural and Historic Affairs staff provided technical assistance and guidance to help the agencies.

Bucs golf results

The Belleville High golf team split a match with Paterson Kennedy and Don Bosco Prep of Ramsey, defeating Kennedy, 211-264 and falling to Don Bosco, 158-211. The Bucs dropped a tough one stroke match to Hackensack, 224-225. The team also stopped Paterson Eastside, 221-275, then played very well in a win over Passaic, 178-232. In the Passaic match, Andre Amparo, a sophomore and team captain, shot a 37 over nine holes, which gave him his fourth qualifying round for the NJSIAA championships. Junior Simeon Knafo had a 39, which helped Belleville to its lowest round of the season, to date. On April 29, the Bucs lost to undefeated Bergen Catholic of Oradell. Amparo shot a 41 and just missed an eagle and birdie in the round. The following day, the Bucs beat Teaneck to improve its team record to 6-10. Amparo and Knafo each shot a 40 to lead the way.

The names shown are as they appear in the Tax Duplicate and do not necessarily mean that the parties are the present owners of the property. Following the tax sale, the property continues to be assessed in the name of the owner. The reason for this is that a tax sale certificate does not give the purchaser thereof title to the land and does not divest the tax delinquent owner of this title. The tax certificate merely gives the purchaser of the certificate an interest in the property and the right to foreclose pursuant to established statutes. Said lands to be sold in fee to such persons that will purchase the same subject to redemption of the same at the lowest rate of interest but in no case in excess of eighteen per cent per annum. This payment for sale shall be made before the conclusion of the sale, or the property will be resold. PAYMENT MUST BE MADE IN FULL BY CERTIFIED CHECK, MONEY ORDER OR CASH. (Chapter 237, P.L. 1918). No letters of credit or wire transfers will be accepted. Any parcel of real property for which there shall be no purchaser will be struck off and sold to the municipality in fee for redemption of not more than eighteen per cent per annum. The Tax Sale is made under the provisions of an Act of Legislature entitled "AN ACT" concerning unpaid taxes, special assessments, water, sewer, or municipal charges on real property and providing the collection thereof by the creation and enforcement of liens, thereon and any Supplemental or Amendments thereon. Industrial Properties may be subject to the Spill Compensation and Control Act (NJSA 58:10-23.11 et seq.), the Water Pollution Control Act (NJSA 13:1K-6 et seq.). In addition, the municipality is precluded from issuing a tax sale certificate to any prospective purchaser who is or may be in any way connected to the prior owner or operator of the site. Parcels are to be sold subject to rollback taxes under the Farmland Assessment Act of 1964, improvement assessment installments not yet due and any omitted or added assessments for improvement as provided in NJSA 54:1-63.2 and 54:4-63.3.1. At any time during regular office hours, BEFORE MAY 29, 2008, the undersigned will accept payment of the amount due on any property with interest and fees incurred up to the date of payment plus all interest due on any subsequent delinquencies which are not included on this list. PAYMENT MUST BE MADE IN FULL BY CERTIFIED CHECK, MONEY ORDER, OR CASH.
