school system as acting assistant education commissioner for county and regional services."

In a biography included in his selection as 2007 Distinguished Service Award Winner from the American Association of School Administrators, the website states, "Melindo A. Persi has been involved in public education in New Jersey for the past 50 years, beginning his career in Warren County as a middle school teacher. At the age of 26, Persi acquired his first appointment as superintendent at Washington Township in Mercer County, N.J. He has since served in several leadership capacities including executive committee member of New Jersey Association of School Administrators, the AASA Federal Legislative Committee, assistant superintendent of schools in Madison, Morris County, and many other leadership positions.

During his tenure in Morris County, he fostered a cooperative special education relationship with neighboring districts that ultimately became the Morris Union Special Educational Consortium. In addition to his career roles in education, he has served in many leadership roles in his community as well. Since his retirement, he has served as the interim superintendent in two New Jersey School Districts (Plainfield and Willingboro); was a consultant to the Yonkers, New York School District; is serving as the interim school business administrator in the Brick Township School District and is the current executive director of the New Jersey Association of Former County Superintendents of Schools.

The source said Monday's school board meeting was canceled when board member Eric Schwartz could not attend, leaving one choice one vote shy of being selected.

Kliszus is scheduled to leave the district as of Oct. 1.

School board members said previously that the search for a new superintendent of schools would proceed as quickly as possible. Kliszus announced at the July 21 Board of Education meeting that he is leaving the district effective Oct. 1 to take a similar position in Hackensack. His contract will run from October through the next four years in Hackensack.

The school board's leaders immediately formed an ad-hoc committee to begin the search for a new district leader.

Longo said the committee solicited input from the New Jersey School Boards Association about the best way to do the search.

He said the district advertised for the position, and accepted applications and resumes.

They then weeded the applicants down to five, and the committee made a recommendation for an interim superintendent, Longo said.

This week state lawyers are in court fighting for their version of a school funding law that would free up more cash for disadvantaged students living outside those school districts that have been deemed low income, the so-called Abbots that include districts like Newark and Camden. The basic premise behind the Abbot funding law is that the state must channel additional money to poor districts so there is equity with wealthier communities whose schools are supported by a stronger tax base.

The new law the state is fighting for in court,

LETTERS Neighbor wants your vote

TO THE EDITOR:

My name is Andrew M. Bloschak, a proud Belleville resident for the past 24 years, and I am running for the elected position of Essex County Freeholder for District 5 in the November 4, 2008 General Election. I am writing this letter to you because we share the same concerns about the condition of our country, state and national government, in these uncertain and chaotic times that we live in.

As we all know the economy is in serious trouble and good paying private sector jobs are being lost at an alarming rate. I have personally experienced the loss of my good paying blue-collar job of 24 years, in 2005, with the Assembly Plant at General Motors Corporation in Linden. The stock market is in chaos, high energy prices for gasoline, home heating oil, electricity and natural gas have strained our pocket books to the breaking point. Home foreclosures are at an all time high here in Essex County, and the worst of it is not over yet. But despite the recent deep distress and misfortunes affecting our everyday lives, our elected and appointed officials in Essex County are still doing business as usual, taxing and spending with no regard for our and our families' financial future.

Furthermore, to make matters worse, over 112 public officials in New Jersey have been indicted, convicted and imprisoned for political corruption, the majority of them Democrats, some of them right here in Essex County.

So we ask, what is the solution to these problems: political corruption, higher taxes, higher tolls on the Parkway and Turnpike, higher fees charged for government services, public sector salaries and benefits higher than the private sector, our highways and bridges in disrepair. We can defeat these problems together by electing people to public office who are not afraid to take on the corrupt, self-serving political system in Essex County and institute positive change and honest government.

they want to live and restore their family life. Fortunately, their house can be modified to make it accessible, safe and comfortable for the family.

The Richard McAllister Special Needs Trust has been established to serve as a mechanism to collect contributions to support Rich's health, welfare and maintenance. The home modifications are among the most important of these needs, at this time. Unfortunately, contributions to the trust are not tax deductible. Contributions are strictly from the heart. Another way to help would be to provide access to favorable pricing on building materials, appliances, fixtures and other aspects of the home modification project.

Rich's family, church family and supportive friends are planning a fundraiser to benefit the Richard McAllister Special Needs Trust. The event will be held on Friday, October 3 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at St. Catherine of Siena, East Bradford Avenue, Cedar Grove.

Most people see a chiropractor when other medical treatment has failed, such as for back pain. A typical patient might have seen other doctors or therapists and may have been treated with medication or perhaps had surgery recommended to them. Once the medication has worn off, or the surgery has been performed with less than satisfactory results, the problem returns. The problem is often one requiring not just a quick fix, but a long term approach. Chiropractors treat the patient, not just the problem.

The nervous system controls all our movements, and our overall health. When the spinal vertebrae become misaligned through trauma or repetitive injury, two health issues manifest themselves: pain, and illnesses such as headaches, arm and shoulder pain, sciatica, numbness and tingling in arms and legs. Quite often, most of these have no known cures only temporary remedies. Chiropractic theory says the interruption of nerve flow can eventually lead to pain, disability, and an overall decrease in the quality of life. Conversely, the removal of that interference has been shown to have significant, lasting health benefits. Chiropractic is a drugfree, non-surgical science.

Dr. Pontoriero takes a detailed health history, including X-rays, if needed, and takes the time to meet with you to find out what you really expect of your treatment. She'll discuss not only her treatment, but also ways you can take charge and empower your own health. For instance, children can be shown how to properly carry their backpacks and school bags. A busy Mom can learn another way of holding her baby, while a sports fanatic can benefit from adjustments to a weary body not used to the rigors of athletics. Dr. Pontoriero views each patient as an individual, not just a symptom, and you'll find that her relaxed office atmosphere will contribute to vour overall well-being. Dr. Pontoriero has received many prestigious awards, including

The Nutley Jaycees Distinguished Service award for Outstanding Young Adult, as well as various civic awards. Among others, she was selected by the Consumer's Research Council of America as one of America's Top Chiropractors and has been accepted as a life member of the National Registry of Who's Who. Currently she serves as the president of the Nutley Chamber of Commerce and serves as committee member on several Nutley community service committees.

If you want to improve your health and really enjoy your quality of schedule life. an appointment with Dr. Pontoriero. You have nothing to lose except aches, pains and illnesses that detract from enjoying your life. You'll have everything to gain, including improved health and well-being.

Dr. Pontoriero is available to speak on various health topics for your church, organizations, employees or clubs.

ATLANTIC CITY

By Ellen Burke Rawls

Tropicana offers five pianos + singers, Wonder Woman plays at Harrah's

Tropicana has hit the jackpot yet again with another spectacular production show Piano Men, debuting in the US from that wonderful Montreal company which gave us The Best of Broadway several seasons ago. This time out, a quintet of hugely talented pianist/singers gather to pay tribute to the greatest piano stylists of our generation. Piano Men is no rip-off of Legends in Concert, as there is no pretense of impersonation of the geniuses who've produced the songs that make the whole world sing.

The opening curtain reveals a breath-taking multi-level set with five – count 'em, five – grand pianos arrayed on three raised levels of the massive Tropicana stage. Yet two more tiers provide for the instrumentalists who flesh out the presentations.

Opening with a crashing performance of Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto, the thunder of the five pianos and nine-piece instrumental accompaniment gave the piano classic a treatment worthy of a symphony orchestra. Before we're over the shock, the tempo changes to the pop classics rendered by combinations of two-, three-, fourand five-piano aggregations reprising the massive songbooks of Barry Manilow, Billy Joel, Elton John, Ray Charles, Little Richard and Jerry Lee Lewis. The five featured pianists trade off on the various numbers, combining their vocals very much as the songs had been originally created and introduced. The male pianists' vocals are backed by three stunningly-gowned backup singers who add significantly to the visuals with their elaborately choreographed moves, even when they're not contributing to the vocals. "IWrite the Songs,""Just the Way You Are," "Bandstand Boogie," "My Life" and "Crocodile Rock" set the tone for the evening, and before long the audience is rocking, swaying, and dancing in their seats.

A '50s medley includes Fats Domino's "Blueberry Hill," Little Richard's "Good Golly Miss Molly," and "Tutti Frutti" and Jerry Lee Lewis' "Whole Lotta Shakin' Going On" plus a couple of Beatles classics for good measure. There are whole segments given over to Barry Manilow, Burt Bachrach, Ray Charles, Elton John, and of course, Billy Joel. The pianists join a cappella for Billy Joel's "For the Longest Time."

Throughout the show the tempo is maintained at fever pitch, the backdrops and lighting ever changing to suit the music, and there are a number of special effects such as the erupting 50-foot "flames" released with Jerry Lee's "Great Balls o'Fire." With the finale of Elton's "Saturday Night's Alright," the ladies descend into the audience and select partner to boogie in the aisles....others in Sbeeial Advertising Feature the audience are springing to their feet to let loose by themselves or with their significant others. There's a roaring standing ovation, and the gang returns for a sentimental encore of the signature "Piano Man." How perfect! "Piano Men" runs at Tropicana through October 25 with shows Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m., Saturday at 9 p.m. There are also a few scattered Sunday matinees at 3:30 p.m. The ticket is a steal at $25 for an all-encompassing entertainment experience! This one is a must-see!

The mood is quite different across town at Harrah's in the Marina. TV's superheroine Wonder Woman Lynda Carter has emerged as an accomplished chanteuse, and has created a sophisticated, intimate showcase for her vocal talents, running at Harrah's through this Saturday night.

The booking came as a surprise to us: will Ms. Carter appear in her WW costume, fending off bullets with her magic wristlets? In actuality, it turns out that Lynda was first and foremost a singer, accompanying herself on guitar. By age 17, she was traveling as a girl singer with a series of bands, and along the way she won a series of beauty contests. Returning to her first love, Lynda presents a sultry, sexy, and elegant persona backed by a team of outstanding Nashville musicians. Her program ranges from an amusing "Put the Blame on Mame," which she'd performed in a film bio of '50s bombshell Rita Hayworth to a pensive interpretation of John Lennon and Paul McCartney's "In My Life," her own steamy rendition of Willy Nelson's "Crazy" and a throbbing "Fever" accompanied only by bass and drums. Her "dirty blues" triumph of "St. Louis Blues" opens a cappella, and builds to a joyous crescendo with the crowd clapping along and swaying in their seats. Lynda presents a glorious, striking body and face, belying her 57 years, and we're treated to her very winning personality as she introduces her band members and generously affords each his own instrumental solo. She chats with the audience - achieving a very warm one-on-one rapport, and they love it, cheering loudly after each offering. She strikes a perfect closing with the admonition to casino audiences that it's all in the attitude, introducing the upbeat "I Feel Lucky."

Show times at Harrah's 8 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, and 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets are just $25, so it will behoove you to hustle down to Harrah's to catch this hot "new" talent prior to her opening next month a Michael Feinstein's Supper Club at the Regency in New York with a cover of $87!

HOPING FOR i A HOME

Yogi, a purebred Akita, was found by a couple who took him into their home - only their cat had other ideas about that! He is now waiting for a permanent home. Being a rather large dog, Yogi will need lots of room to run around. He is only 2 to 3 years old, and has plenty of energy! Yogi prefers to be the only pet (he's a star, you know!). Yogi's other special requests are there be no small children to take the attention away from him! Being man's best friend, Yogi takes this literally and prefers men! A lot of requests from Yogi, but he will make a great companion for some lucky person. To learn more about the Akita breed, go to akitarescuewny.com Meet Yogi at the John A. Someone saw this guy getting tossed from a car window. They alerted one of our volunteers, who brought him to our shelter. An absolute doll. Willie seems to be a Russian Blue mix with that trademark gray coat and piercing light green eyes. Don't let that serious face of his fool you, he is a love bug and it's a mystery why anyone would even think of giving this guy up - let alone tossing him from a car window. He is now safe with us and waiting for you! Please come and meet Willie!

Freshman Analee Delgado became the first singles player in Belleville's 33-year tennis history to advance to the finals of the Essex County Tournament.

Delgado advances to ECT final

BY MIKE LAMBERTI for Belleville Times

Analee Delgado has quickly made a name for herself in the annals of Belleville High School athletics.

The freshman advanced to the Essex County Tournament sintennis gles match last Sunday at the Althea Gibson Tennis Center in Newark the final," Delgado said. "Once I before losing to defending champion Rachel Cantor of Millburn, 7-5, 6-0.

in the 33-year history of Belleville girls tennis to advance to a county final, a fact that pleased the unassuming Delgado.

"I'm very proud of making history for my school," Delgado said shortly after the championship match. "I learned a lot from playing in this environment. It was a wonderful experience and I hope to get better from here."

Delgado's high school coach, She's only 14 years old, but Jane Palumbo, was obviously elated. "She played very well," Palumbo said. "She was very focussed and battled back from a slow start."

Delgado fell behind Cantor, a senior, 5-0 in the first set, but ralchampionship lied back to tie it at five.

"I was a little nervous going into fell behind. I said to myself 'just play your game' and I was able to force her into some mistakes and Delgado became the first player got back into the match. I look at it as a great opportunity to play in a county final as a freshman. (Cantor) is a very good player."

Delgado's quest for a county title began last week when her team battled Livingston in the first round of the tournament. Delgado stopped Alya Dukhan, 6-0, 6-1 in

Bucs stop Indians, await Bengals

BY MIKE LAMBERTI for Belleville Times

Chris Judge threw four touchdown passes and Kalvin Cohen put together his second straight tioned '91 game in Bloomfield 100-plus rushing game as coach Mike Carter's first season as Belleville defeated Passaic, 40-28, the Bengals' mentor and just his last Saturday in Passaic.

The win improved Belleville's record to 2-0, matching last year's mark after two games and marking the first time since 1982 and '83 that the Bucs have had consecutive 2-0 starts. Tomorrow night, Belleville will seek its first 3-0 record since 1982 when it visits Bloomfield in a key game. Bloomfield is 1-0 and coming off a bye week. Belleville last defeated Bloomfield in 1991, 28-0, at Doc Ellis Field. Belleville's last win at Bloomfield was a 24-0 triumph in 1987.

Last Saturday's win was also Belleville's first in Passaic since 1987 and marked the most points Belleville has scored against the Indians since a 40-6 win in 1969. It was also the first time the Bucs had beaten Passaic in consecutive years since 1980.

The win also provided first-year coach Chris Strumolo the best start to a football coaching career at Belleville since Rocco Caffone opened 2-0 in 1970 following wins over Bayonne, 27-12, and Bloom-ic," Strumolo said. "I told the kids to enjoy it for about a day, and then it's time to get ready for what should be a tremendous atmosphere on Friday at Bloomfield. It's going to be a playoff-type game and we're really looking forward to it. Bloomfield is a very good team and we'll need to cut down on some of the mistakes we made against Passaic if we hope to win. Bloomfield is very well coached and they're very athletic."

ment for his team.

"I told them to research the last time Belleville beat Bloomfield in football," the coach said, before being told it was the aforementioned '91 game in Bloomfield coach Mike Carter's first season as second overall game. "I knew it was a while back."

Bloomfield in 17 years, it should sack. be noted that the schools didn't play each other on the gridiron from 1992 through 2003. The rivalry was renewed in Joe Fischer's first year as Belleville's coach in 2004 when Bloomfield won at Foley Field, 13-8. The Bengals won easily in 2005 and 2006 by scores of 35-7 and 34-7, respectively. Last year's game was an outstanding contest with Bloom- to credit Kalvin for another field winning in overtime, 21-14, at tremendous game. Our kids Doc Ellis Field.

As for last Saturday's game, Belleville had plenty of firepower, something which pleased Strumo-10

"It was a tough game," Strumolo said. "Passaic was running well, and they had a few leads on us in the first half. I liked the way we battled back before half-time, then took control in the third quarter."

Passaic (0-2) scored first, but Belleville rallied back when Judge hit Chris Herrmann with a 46field, 7-6. Caffone lost in Belleville's third game of that season to Nutley, 23-8. "It was a good win over Passa-ua" Strumple soid (II to be the field the best of the best of the Bucs scored twice, once on a 46-yard run by James Colson and the second an 85-yard scoring run by Cohen which made it 21-14 at the half after Girgis kicked two successful conversions.

In the third, Belleville pulled ahead 34-14 on an eight-yard scoring pass from Judge to Herrmann and a six-yard run by Cohen. Judge concluded an outstanding day in the fourth when he found Doug Richardson with a seven-Strumolo also had an assign- yard scoring strike in the fourth quarter. Judge was 13 for 19 for 185 yards and four touchdowns. Cohen rushed 15 times for 180 yards, marking the second straight week he rushed over the century mark.

Herrmann was marvelous on both sides of the ball. The junior had three catches which accounted for two scores and made six While Belleville hasn't beaten tackles on defense, as well as one

> "Nicky was tremendous," Strumolo said. "His blocking down field was outstanding as well."

> Colson had a touchdown and provided six tackles on defense. He was also effective on kickoffs, booting two balls into the end zone.

"James is a big-play threat for us," Strumolo said. "And you have stepped up and played well. We do need to cut back on the holding penalties, which is something we'll work on this week. But every week, our offensive line continues to get better. We had almost 400 vards of total offense against Passaic, and that's a credit to them."

NOTES: Since 1969, Bloomfield leads the overall series with Belleville, 12-8-2. Belleville's most successful run against the Bengals was from 1982-1987, when the Bucs won six straight contests. The teams tied in 1972 and 1988 and, strangely enough, did not play each other from 1977 through 1981 and again from 1992 through 2003, despite the natural rivalry the schools always enjoyed. Before last week's game, Belleville's last victory in Passaic was a 31-22 donnybrook in 1987 when Belleville led 25-0 before Passaic scored 22 unanswered points in a three-minute span early in the second half. The Belleville girls cross country team won its first race of the season last week when it blanked Montclair, 15-50. The team fell short to Paramus, 15-48, in the other part of the tri race at Darlington Park.

Leading the way for Belleville was senior captain Adriana Tandazo, who ran a personal best of 23:39 on the 3.1 mile course. Tandazo was followed by sophomore Crissabel Victorio, who also ran a personal best of 24:03.

Strong performances were also turned in by juniors Sherry Tirgrath (25:49), Rhea Nigli (25:53) Christina Colon (25:55) and Yanil Delgado (26:26). Other runners who competed and did well were junior Christie Avila, sophomores Nichole Benavides and Melissa Miele and freshmen Jamie Bono, Kristy Bono, Stephanie Car-rasquillo, Mary Diaz and rasquillo, and Stephanie Tran.

The boys cross country team lost to Paramus, 18-44 and Montclair, 17-44. Sophomore Terrance Boyce paced Belleville with a solid time of 18:27 while Bryon Cure, a sophomore ran 20:08 and junior Alexander Valentine finished in 20:10. Sophomores Jeffrey Chacon (21:53) and Jared Clark (21:55) also did well. Head coach Scott Herman also saw solid running from freshmen Anthony Avino and Justin Colon.

The Bucs raced against Bloomfield, Hackensack, Immaculate Heart and Don Bosco earlier this week at Darlington Park. The team returns to action on Oct. 7 at Garrett Mountain, against Nutley and Teaneck.

The Belleville girls' soccer team was 0-3 heading into this week's action, but first-year head coach

Lois Johansen is far from discouraged.

"The kids are improving," Johansen said. "They played a nice game last week against Bloomfield and I'm seeing a lot of good things."

Michelle Knafo scored for Belleville in a 3-1 setback to Bloomfield while the defense did a very good job for the Bucs. Johansen is also buoyed by the addition of three players, Nicole Velardi, Leah Benacquista and Alexa Veniero.

Belleville will visit Immaculate Heart Academy tomorrow afternoon in a 4 p.m. kickoff. Next Wednesday, Oct. 1, the team visits Paterson Eastside, also at 4.

movie, many people would view the toothbrush and toothpaste as leading actors, with all other accoutrements (floss, tongue scrapers, mouthwash) as part of the supporting cast. But dental professionals say this isn't really the case. All oral health items should share the lead in keeping smiles bright and teeth healthy.

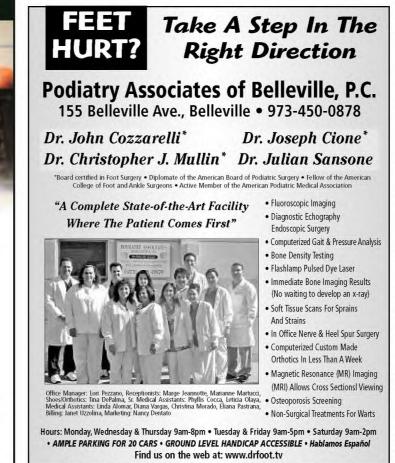

> Many people are quick to brush their teeth twice a day, but far fewer take out dental floss and keep up with the task regularly - especially children. But that could be a mistake. Flossing removes the tiny bacteria that reside between teeth, bacteria that are responsible for producing acid, which eats away at tooth enamel. Bacteria are also notorious for contributing to bad breath. The earlier kids get into the habit of flossing, the sooner they're on the road to a lifetime of good oral hygiene.

According the American Dental Association, flossing once a day is key to keeping the mouth healthy.

Put the fun in flossing and promote kids' oral health If we were to think about keeping Apart from reducing cavities and bad breath, flossing has an even more important purpose. Without flossing, you're leaving behind roughly 40 percent of the bacteria present in your mouth. Over time that bacteria can build up causing plaque, which hardens into tartar along the gumline, meaning more time spent in the dentist's chair. And what child wants that? Tartar can inflame the gums and lead to periodontal disease. Periodontal disease is more than just a few loose teeth and swollen gums. Gum disease has actually been linked to an increased risk of heart disease and stroke that's certainly nothing for kids to smile about.

> Children know flossing can be difficult, messy, and pretty much a pain - especially when there are better ways for them to spend their time. Also, kids may have difficulty perfecting the dexterity required to pass a piece of floss between all of their teeth. So, it's no wonder children often opt to skip this important step.

However, now good flossing to FireFly(R) Kids' Flossers by Dr. Fresh(R). These colorful, single-use Flossers are easy to use - even for beginners - and perfectly sized for a child's small mouth. There's no more grappling with awkward, slippery lengths of floss, or struggling to reach tight spaces in the back of the mouth. Kids simply grip a bright, Firefly character handle pre-loaded with the perfect amount of high quality nylon waxed floss for each use. Then, they gently slide the Flosser between two teeth, using a saw-like motion, and repeat until all the teeth have been flossed. After that, the teeth are ready for a final rinse, and the used product gets tossed.

"Holding the handle instead of the floss itself is not only easier, but also a far more hygienic approach for kids," says Steven J. Brattesani, D.D.S., a San Francisco-based dentist. FireFly Kids' Flossers are designed for kids ages 4 through 12. "The shape and color of the Flosser are fun, and they're the perfect introduction to a lifetime of good oral care habits."

JOMAX House Wash washes away dirt, algae, and mildew stains on vinyl, stucco, brick, wood, aluminum, and painted surfaces.

Don't forget the roof. A beautiful home begins from the ground up and a clean roof is like icing on a cake. The hot summer sun often discourages homeowners from getting up on a ladder - so take advantage of the cooler weather and clean your roof. JOMAX Roof Cleaner removes black streaks, dirt and mildew stains from asphalt, wood, metal and composite roofs. Plus, it kills mold and mildew on tile, slate and other non-porous roofs. While you're up there, make sure your gutters are clean and clear of any debris like dirt, sticks and leaves to prevent blockage.

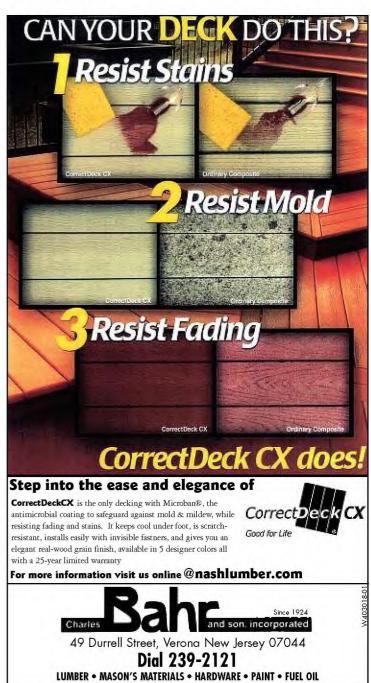

Make outdoor furniture last. The key to keeping outdoor furniture and accessories looking great for years is to make sure dirt, grime, algae, mildew stains and odors don't remain on your furniture. Many homeowners decide to bring outdoor furniture in or cover it up when

Lighting up the Room

Proper lighting allows for more time spent in the outdoor living rooms. Whether you're looking for decorative electric lighting or just simple candles or lanterns, additional lighting makes the space enjoyable at various times of the day.

Cozy outdoor fireplaces or fire pits serve as an option to bring both light and warmth in the cool evening hours and to extend the use of the outdoor space into the transitional seasons of spring and fall.

Keeping Safety and Privacy a Priority

While homeowners are eager to spend time in their outdoor spaces, there are a variety of ways to make the outdoor room more private and protected like the inside of a home. Patio and deck awnings create an extension of the home, serving as an outdoor ceiling.

"An awning not only provides protection from the sun and heat, it also keeps your home cooler by shading windows and doors from the harmful rays of the sun," said Sahlin. "And with the ability to choose from a variety of awning styles, sizes and fabrics, you don't have to sacrifice on design elements."

Fences and lattice provide additional privacy, serving as walls to the outdoor living spaces. Some homeowners have successfully grown climbing plants, such as grape vines and Virginia creeper, on open fence for privacy.

Creating a Focal Point

In addition to landscape elements, consider decorative items that enhance the outdoor room. Similar to pictures and wall decor inside a home, wind chimes, fountains and different hangings can add to an overall design theme. And what better way to enjoy the view of your outdoor room than with coordinated deck or patio accessories. Lounge chairs, tables, benches and hammocks all provide a relaxing way to take in the indoor/outdoor transition you've created.

Here are some things you may not know about heating your home with wood to burn, man has used it to stay warm. Our predecessors who discovered fire had the edge on a renewable heating source that is not only cost-effective, but also an environmentally friendly way to heat the home.

Still, many of today's homeowners rely primarily on gas, propane and oil to heat their homes rather than looking to wood. Why? It could be because they don't have the facts about burning wood efficiently and the home heating products that help toward that end.

Here is some information about using wood to heat your home that may surprise you.

1. Wood is environmentally friendly. It may seem that cutting down trees for fuel would be counterproductive to the "green" movement. However, trees are a renewable resource that, like other biomass, is carbon neutral. While growing, trees absorb carbon dioxide; when they die they release carbon dioxide regardless of whether they burn or decompose. Fossil fuels by comparison are a one-way street, releasing greenhouse gasses in a matter of minutes that have been captured deep in the earth over millions of years.

As long as there has been wood burning logs in the new generation because of the high burn temperaof high efficiency hydronic furnaces (or wood boilers), like those offered by Greenwood Technologies, the heat generated is more intense and little is lost up the chimney. These furnaces can be used in lieu of standard heating systems featuring gas or oil during the heating months, or as an add-on when homeowners prefer to use other heating sources as their primary method of heating. This reduced need for oil, propane and natural gas means a reduction in monthly heating bills. In fact, many homeowners using a Greenwood system have seen energy bills reduced by up to 70 percent during winter months. One of these furnaces pays for itself in energy bill savings in just a few years.

3. Wood can be a clean way to provide heat. There are plenty of people who have wrestled with cords of wood to stock wood-burning stoves or fireplaces, only to find that the mess left behind in the way of trailed bark and ashes leaves much to be desired. However, homeowners who use the next generation wood boilers, like the Greenwood will find that there is little to no mess involved. That's because they burn wood at such a high temperature (2000 F) that no discern-2. Wood can save money. When able smoke is created. What's more, ture, very little ash is generated, meaning the firebox only has to be cleaned once a month rather than once a day. Also, the furnace can be installed indoors or outside and be set up to heat the entire home, eliminating the need to transport logs through the house.

"Celebrating 70 years of dedicated service"

4. Wood is a safe heating method. Using a wood-fired furnace can be just as safe as any other traditional heating source. Just as with other furnaces, proper operating procedures should be followed. In the case of the furnaces offered by Greenwood Technologies, safety is the primary focus. Their furnaces are certified for indoor use to strict UL and CSA standards and are as safe as using gas or electric appliances. Very few competing wood-burning furnaces or boilers meet these stringent safety standards.

When upgrading your home and heating system this season, or if you're thinking about an entirely new way to enjoy efficient, environmentally friendly heat, consider a Greenwood Hydronic Furnace. Learn more by calling (800) 959-9184 or on the Web at www.GreenwoodUSA.com.

Mas for Maass: Hospital facilities expanding selves on delivering excellence and these kind of expansions and innovations will ensure that we continue to do so."

The Joint and Spine Institute has been relocated to the 3 North Annex of the medical center and now uses nationally recognized patient management programs that provide guidelines for orthopedic patients to follow both pre-operation and post-operation. Education is an essential component of the program and is designed to lessen anxiety before surgery and enable faster and easier rehabilitation. The institute will have eight private rooms, a separate gym and a full staff. "The various programs we have incorporated into this upgraded unit will promote a culture of wellness," said Frank Femino, MD, Medical Director of the Joint and Spine Institute. "To establish this, early patient mobility is key. This will provide our patients with exactly what they need to feel confident about their surgery and optimistic toward their rehabilitation."

Speakers at the ceremony also said that the expansion of the Emergency Department is critical and something many are looking forward to. When Clara Maass first opened its doors it averaged 27,000 visitors a year. Now, that number has ballooned to over 70,000. "This expansion will allow us to continue to provide members of our community with the excellent emergency services they deserve," said John Fontanetta, MD, Director of Emergency Medicine at Clara Maass Medical Center. "The tools available in the Emergency Department are essential and this expansion will allow us to accommodate even more patients than we do now."

The expansion will add 16 new beds plus additional monitors and technology to the area. "This is what I was most excited about, to be honest. You can never have too much emergency equipment in my opinion," said Brian Gillespe, a local resident in attendance yesterday. "The emergency room is so important for a hospital and it is the last place in the building that you want to run out of room in. I know this sounds obvious but the people who come here need medical attention immediately and an expansion on this room could save a lot of lives."

Saving lives is what the people at Clara Maass do and Fontanetta told the audience that this medical center was as good as any at doing this. "Yesterday I had a male patient in his fifties who came in with chest pain. We were able to quickly identify that he was having a heart attack and were able to open his artery and treat him. I had to go talk with his family, two daughters, and I could see they were nervous," said Fontanetta. "They were both nurses at other hospitals and I could tell they were questioning if this was the right place to bring their father. I proudly and confidently told them that there was not a better hospital anywhere for their father to be at and that he was in good hands. Today he is up in the ICU room recovering and doing well."

Also announced was the designation of a Progressive Care Unit, a transitional area in care for patients between the Intensive Care and Telemetry Units. "The Progressive Care Unit is something that was much needed here," said Kimberly Byrne, RN, Nurse Manager of the PCU, which was already housing patients. "The PCU will help alleviate some of the flow and traffic in the Emergency Department and ICU."

Those in attendance were also excited about the PCU. "It is an awful feeling when you are hurried out of the ICU and put in the regular area when you know you could have used a few extra days rest or special attention. This will limit that from happening and as someone who has had two surgeries I can tell you this will be a delight," said Nikki Grinds, a Belleville resident. "I think it is a wonderful idea and finally something designed not only to treat the patient, but to make them comfortable."

The ceremony ended with a ribbon cutting outside the hospital and a tour of the three new areas. Currently, Clara Maass is ranked in the top twenty in the state for treatment of heart failure, pneumonia, heart attack and surgical care improvement. It is also in an elite 17 percent of hospitals that have a 90 percent or better success rate in opening heart arteries. "This all started as a vision for us and has come true here. We are now one of the best hospitals in the state and a place that people can come to and be confident in their treatment," said Fontanetta.

Thomas A. Biga, the hospital's executive director, addresses staff Monday.

BOE member says he's victim of payback

BY RICHARD DICKON of Belleville Times

School board member Eric Schwartz is accusing former Belleville Republican chairman Richard Yanuzzi of making good on a political threat by alerting the Belleville Times to an outstanding criminal complaint against him, while Yanuzzi countered that Schwartz has "sold his soul" to the Democrats in return for a job.

Meanwhile, the woman who filed the complaint said the matter has been settled for quite some time, that the complaint has to be officially settled by a judge, but she and Schwartz, who once dated, are friends who "still hang out"

The complaint was filed by Cara Muscarella, and states that Schwartz committed "the act of taking a motor vehicle without the consent (a 2004 Suzuki yellow motorcycle) belonging to Muscarella."

Schwartz said the matter was settled between the two. "But all this dirt is being brought out because I wouldn't vote to hire the principal or the superintendent (of schools) that Yanuzzi wanted, so I was threatened by the Republicans that if I didn't do what Richard wanted, I would be attacked," he said. "But I would never hire anyone but those that are...better [for] the school district. I would never be a puppet for him. I held my ground. I've lived here for all my 36 years, and I refused as a father to let him hurt the school district."

Yanuzzi said the point was that this is a member of the school board and an indictable offense.

"Mr. Schwartz is not a man of his word," Yanuzzi said. "He came to me for help during the election, and promised to right the wrongs done by (Superintendent of Schools) Dr. (Edward) Kliszus and the board members he was elected to replace. Once in office, he sold his soul to the Democrats and got a job as an Essex County corrections officer. He was told to vote with Arlene Schor. He can't hide the charges he has against him, and they are unrelated to anything on the board of ed. It's about stealing property from his girlfriend." Muscarella said that while the two were boyfriend and girlfriend, she paid off the motorcycle and gave him the title.

"Basically that's all it was, the end of it," she said. "There was no big hoopla. I went to Belleville to tell them it was okay, that he'd paid them off, and gave me a check. But because we had dated at the time, it was sent down to the Essex County Prosecutor as a domestic be.

dispute. My father, who is a retired Newark police officer, called and was told the judge had to take it off, I couldn't do it on my own."

Muscarella called the whole matter "the stupidest thing ever. We had a relationship, we broke up, and I didn't want to be liable. But we're friends. We talk, we hang out. I don't hate him."

The matter will be laid to rest once a court date is completed later this fall.

None of the principals were sure when the court date would be.

BONE DRUG WITH ANTI-CANCER EFFECTS

Researchers have found that a drug used to prevent bone loss during breast cancer treatment substantially reduces the chance that the cancer would return. One of the group of bone-building drugs called bisphosphonates, Zometa is usually used to fortify the bones of breast cancer patients whose tumors have spread to the bone. The study, which involved 1,800 premenopausal women taking hormone treatments for early-stage breast cancer, found that Zometa (known generically as zoledronic acid) cut the risk that the cancer would return to their bones, or anywhere else, by 36%. Reseachers are not sure how the drug works, but they think it may inhibit cancer cell growth or prevent cancer cells from sticking to the targeted organ.

We always stay up-to-date on recent studies, like the one discussed in this week's column. At ROSSMORE PHAR-MACY, our knowledgeable staff of well trained and caring pharmacists can discuss breast cancer treatments and medicines with you in a manner that you will understand. Located at 338 Washington Avenue, we invite you to stop by and discuss with us in person any issue that you may have. Or you can call us on the phone at 973-759-1968 or 973-759-1956.

HINT: If another ongoing study also finds a benefit, it is predicted that Zometa will be tested against other cancers that tend to spread to bones, such as prostate and kidney cancers.

Tips for our readers on how to submit photos to the Belleville Times Organizations often hold a meeting, ceremony or fete and seek a mention of it in the newspaper. The event often can be summed up in a photograph, which, if done right, can be more attention-grabbing than a press release.

The standard "passing-a-check" or "line-'em-up-and-shoot-'em" photographs usually go unnoticed by readers. Recognizing this fact, Belleville Times is reluctant to publish photographs of static lines of people staring at the camera. Candid photos of people having a good time or actually doing something will draw readers' interest.

Changing the angle from which you are shooting can make significant difference in the aesthetics of a photo. Try shooting from a higher or lower angle. Photos of a few people, rather than a large group, are more noticeable, as readers respond to faces and the newspaper can identify them in a caption.

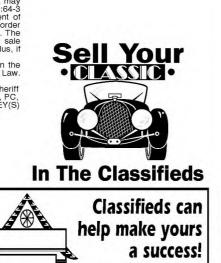

Editors choose photos that are of the best quality. Please make sure your group's best photographer is behind the lens and captures an imaginative image.

Please also include the photographer's name with the photo submission, and identify everyone in the photo, with their first and last names.

And, obviously, the photograph must be relevant to Belleville.

Pictures may be submitted electronically in JPEG format, with a resolution of at least 200 dots per inch, to bellevilletimes@ northjersey.com.

Send hard copies to Belleville Times, 90 Centre St, Nutley, NJ 07110-1093. For more information, call 973-667-3895.
