Man Is Arrested In Girl Kidnapping Alleged Abductor of Belleville Child Is Held In Poughkeepsie.

Belleville police Wednesday learned that Lawrence Ferris, 22, of Arlington, N. Y., who was being sought on a charge of kidnapping 14-year-old Daphne Fields of Belleville on Saturday night, has been arrested in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The abduction of the girl occurred Saturday night when Ferris reached Belleville after leaving a truck stolen in Belleville on the road at Blackbird, Del.

Ferris had been living in Belleville for several months and on learning that Robert Joiner, florist, of 333 Main street had a truck for sale, he borrowed it last Thursday on the pretense of giving it a tryout. He borrowed license plates for the truck from John Cappola of 224 Washington avenue, and in company with Cappola's son, went to Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

At Poughkeepsie Ferris contracted to move a load of furniture to Dover Del. When he reached Blackbird, the truck broke down and Ferris and the younger Cappola deserted it. They returned to Belleville Saturday night.

On his return Ferris went to the home of Harry Jennings, 63 Washington avenue, where he had been living, and induced Jennings' stepdaughter, Daphne Fields to accompany him. He went to Poughkeepsie. Acting on the information received from young Cappola, the Belleville police notified the police of Poughkeepsie and Ferris was apprehended. It was learned that Ferris was wanted in Poughkeepsie for abandoning his wife and three children. He was also wanted there for a violation of the Mann act and also for the larceny of two radios sets valued at $250.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1928-29 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1928, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 13

Good deductive bidding is very rare, not only because it is not an easy proposition but also because the opportunities seldom arise. Here is a hand in which the dealer has his opportunity and took advantage of it:

Hearts — A, 4
Clubs — A, K, Q, J, 7, 3
Diamonds — 10, 6
Spades — J, 10, 7

Y :
A B :
Z :

Hearts — K, J, 9
Clubs — 9, 4
Diamonds — K, J, 9, 7, 4, 2
Spades — Q, 4

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed. Y bid one club, B bid one spade and Z bid two diamonds. A bid two hearts; Y bid three clubs and B passed. What should Z now bid?

This is the problem Z had to solve and the correct solution depended on proper deductions from the bidding:

Problem No. 16
Hearts — Q, 8, 7, 5
Clubs — A, K, Q
Diamonds — 4
Spades — none

Hearts — K, 6, 4, 2
Clubs — none
Diamonds — J, 10
Spades — 9, 8

Hearts — A, 10, 9
Clubs — 8, 5
Diamonds — 6
Spades — K, 5

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win six of the eight tricks against any defense? Solution in next article.

Hearts is a good problem in the bidding of slams at Contract:

Problem No. 17
Hearts — Q, 6, 2
Clubs — J, 7, 5
Diamonds — A, Q
Spades — A, Q, 9, 8, 2

Y :
A B :
Z :

Hearts — K
Clubs — K, Q, J
Diamonds — Q, J, 10, 9
Spades — none

Hearts — A, 10, 7, 3
Clubs — A, 4
Diamonds — K, 5
Spades — none

Spades are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win all the tricks against any defense?

Solution: Z should lead the trey of hearts and trump in Y's hand with the trey of spades. Y should now lead the nine of spades. B must discard. He cannot discard a heart or Z, with two re-entries, can establish his hearts. B must, therefore, discard either a club or a diamond. It is really immaterial for no matter which of these two suits B discards Z will discard the same suit and the result is the same in either case. As A has more strength in diamonds than in clubs, suppose B, at trick two, discards the trey of diamonds. Z should then discard the five of diamonds. A should discard the nine of diamonds. If B had discarded a club at trick two, Z should have discarded the four of clubs.

At trick three Y should lead the suit B discarded, which we have assumed to be diamonds. Z wins this trick with the king of diamonds. Z should then lead his ace of hearts. A is forced to

First, Y made a third hand club bid and a rebid. The proper deduction from this bidding is that Y holds a set-up club suit and a trick or more on the side. Second, B's bid of one spade, A's failure to assist the bid and B's failure to rebid should indicate that B's spade suit is not overly strong. Third, that Z's queen-four of spades plus Y's possible holding is a probable stopper. Fourth, that Z's holding in hearts is strong enough to warrant a no trump bid.

After these deductions from the bidding, Z very cleverly bid three no trump. All passed and A opened the eight of spades.

When Y's hand was placed on the table it was evident that Z's deductions were very sound and that he could easily score game at no trump. On the other hand, Y could have scored only four odd at clubs so Z's deductive bidding won a game and rubber not otherwise possible. Be on the lookout for similar opportunities.

Here is a little end play that came up in actual play:

Hearts — J, 3
Clubs — 10, 9, 3, 2
Diamonds — 5
Spades — 3

Hearts — A, K, 5
Clubs — A, Q, 10
Diamonds — K, 10, 8, 7, 5
Spades — K, 7

No score, rubber game. Z bid one diamond, A passed, Y bid one spade and B passed. Z now bid two no trump, A passed, Y bid three no trump and B passed. How should Z and Y bid their hands from now on so that they can arrive at a little slam by sound bidding? Think this over and compare your opinion with the analysis that will be given in the next article.

Sea Beasts Try Teeth On Telegraph Cables

Repair Expeditions Discover Queer Happenings Along Floor of Ocean

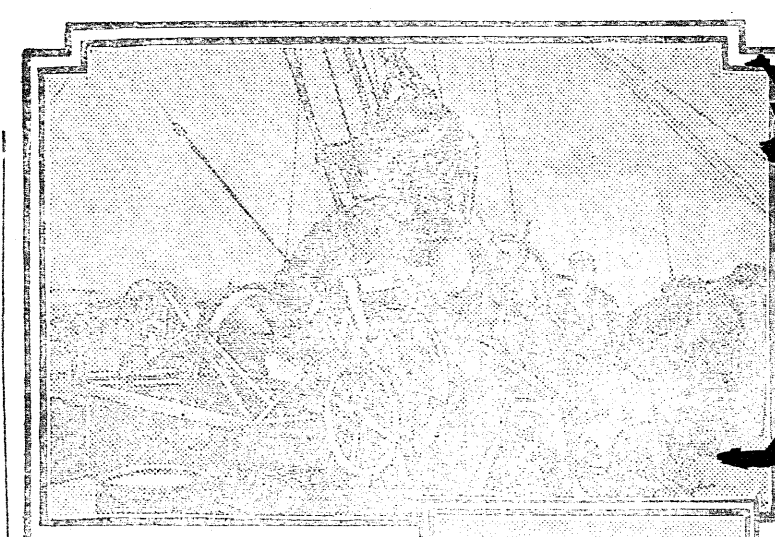

A COMPACT little steamer, its deck a mass of giant buoys and curious mechanism, battles through a howling February gale toward a little dot on the chart, miles at sea—a dot that gives, with amazing accuracy, the location of any interruption to telegraph cable service. At that exact point, say the electricians ashore, something has happened to cause a "fault." Sea water has penetrated to the core of the cable, and the damage must be repaired immediately.

The ship reaches the indicated latitude and longitude. Down go the grapnels, and in surprisingly quick time, up comes the cable. Soon the ship has established communication with shore. The damaged section is located, a new piece spliced in, and once more the hurried whispers of commerce are speeding along the bottom of the sea. But the cause of all this trouble on a cable costing millions of dollars is an insignificant little worm with an appetite for the gutta-percha that insulates the copper core. He has burrowed in, eating as he goes, and carrying the sea water with him, cutting off the flow of telegraph impulses as effectively as though he had severed the wire.

Sharks Attack Cable

Another time it may be a swordfish who has tried his snout on the terminable snake-like strand that he finds in his path. Such a thing happens, sometimes, in tropical waters. Sharks, too, seem to resent the invasion of their waters by the cables, and their broken teeth, penetrating to the copper conductor, bear mute testimony to their irritation.

The fact that such things do happen makes it essential that the route of a cable be charted with the greatest possible accuracy.

Some of the intricate machinery on deck of the cable ship, used in picking up and repairing cables.

That is one of the most important functions of the cable-laying ship. In the case of a cable just laid by the Western Union Telegraph Company, between Newfoundland and the Azores, every foot of the route has been charted, every variation of bottom contour noted, even the exact temperatures at the surface of the water and at the bottom of the sea recorded. If trouble occurs, there will be no blind groping for the indicated location, as might be the case with some of the older cables. This new cable has the largest message capacity of any in the world, and it has been laid with an exactness that has never been approached before.

Perhaps the queerest story in all the annals of cable ships is the one about the whale that entangled himself in a cable off Alaska. It was winter, and the repair was delayed for weeks. Finally, when the cable was raised to the surface, up came the whale, quite obviously and odorously dead, with several turns of the cable wrapped around him. He had gotten a loop around his lower jaw in some way, and in an effort to extricate himself had become hopelessly ensnared.

The cable buoy, which supports the end of the cable until repairs can be made.

Promise of An Exciting Contest

Next Sunday will mark the beginning of another attendance contest between the Everyman's Bible Class of Belleville and Montclair.

Last Sunday morning when the two classes met in joint session in Belleville, considerable enthusiasm was aroused, and no doubt both groups are busy this week rounding up delinquent members and ferreting out new candidates for membership. The trophy will be a beautiful silk banner and if the Belleville do not want the local class to do down in ignominious defeat next weeks hence, they must back up fellows up with their attendance. Mr. Ebel, the leader, will speak next Sunday on "Two of the Disciples."

NEED BETTER QUALIFIED LAWYERS

There has been some agitation for stricter requirements in examination applicants for license to practice law in New Jersey. Some of the older members of the bar have discovered that lawyer factories are grinding out members of the bar faces in any effort to stiffen the requirements for admission that some of the law schools that turn out large numbers of graduates are nothing more or less than commercial enterprises dependent upon the money derived from tuition fees.

That a considerable percentage of the applicants in this State are rejected is good evidence that the examinations are conducted properly and the standard is being maintained as far as the examiners have the power to go. The great difficulty lies in the laxity of law schools in acceptance of students. The percentage of the students should be discouraged if not prevented from taking the course in law.

Many among them are lacking in the education that is essential in every day life. Their ability to display some sort of certificate that they have completed certain required courses in other schools. Others are wholly unpersonality and in no other profession is that qualification of initial value.

There are too many poor lawyers, too many lawyers that never have been admitted to the bar. Make the laws rigid and keep out the unworthy and place the power of decision where it will be absolute and administered. The New Jersey courts and the New Jersey bar are highly esteemed by the rest of the country and the regulations must be rigidly enforced.—Rahway Record.

THE STORM

It was an "old-fashioned" snowstorm that descended upon us Thursday, the heaviest of the season, just as we were congratulating ourselves on our escape from the rigors of winter. All of which goes to show that you never can tell, and that winter is never over until the time comes for the flowers to bloom in the spring, tra, la.

Somehow we have come to believe that winters of long ago were worse than anything we have had of recent years. But we have got to take the age of 50 years to prove anything. And that shows that our snowstorms must as likely to come roaring in Thursday as on some day in 1888. Next year some blizzardish downfall may engulf us. Old Boreas is alive and kicking.

One reason for believing that our winters are less severe than the "old-fashioned" kind is found in the fact that our streets and even country roads are kept free of snow for the benefit of automobile traffic. We see less of it, therefore, we think there is less. But in the long run it is there, back in the woods.

A REGULAR RUN

Lovers of the process of flying may have their dearest wishes fulfilled in April, when, according to the promises of General John F. O'Ryan, chief of the Colonial Airways system, a regular daily run will be made, consisting of two round trips a day will be undertaken instead of one, as at present. Planes will leave the Newark municipal airport and the airport daily at 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. The actual flying time is one hour and 45 minutes.

Each passenger plane will be fitted with all the modern wrinkles, such as radio, desks, books, magazines. The cars will be equipped with everything to give warning as to weather conditions.

There is nothing very unusual about this, except that this section has never previously had regular service to New England.

Think what a wonderful age this is.

A MOTORING MENACE

Some precautionary measures to decrease the death toll from automobile accidents may have to be adopted in the face of the increasing numbers of cars who pull small carts through residential sections to deliver articles to the houses. In daylight, car drivers can easily avoid them, but after dusk, when the lights of a car coming from the other direction, the number of narrow escapes from running down these errand boys is increasing too.

If the carts are to be pulled along the streets instead of on the sidewalks, it is necessary to compel them to have small red lights. Reflectors are just as useful as warnings. But for the sake of the boys themselves, careful motor car drivers something should be done to minimize this peril to life in streets.

A COSTLY FIVE MINUTES

According to the Einstein theory, five expeditions of scientists from the United States, England, France, Germany and Austria will journey thousands of miles to observe the total eclipse of the sun which will be visible in further May. The English group started last week, and the others will follow.

On average man the Einstein theory does not mean very much. But the science to science is emphasized by this despatch of five costly expeditions to islands for a glimpse of a phenomenon that will last for five minutes. A few clouds may make the whole expenditure useless. But science does not have to count the pennies as it did in the past.

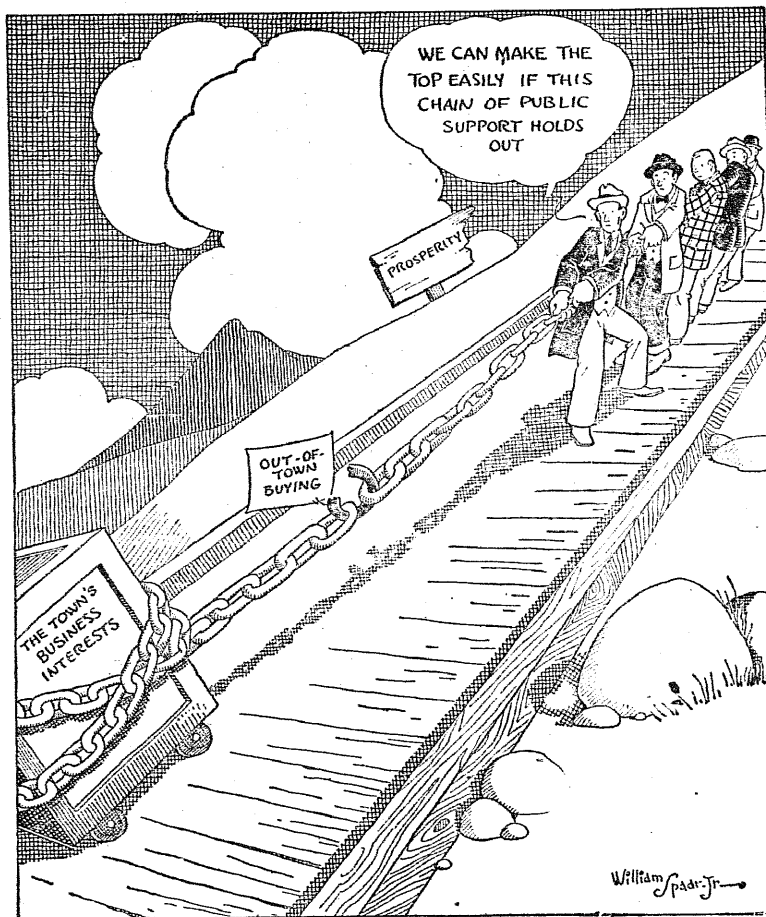

CHEAP AND EASY.

The pastime of offering President Coolidge vast sums to devote his time to this, that and the other thing, when he retires from office, is a very cheap and easy way to obtain free advertising.

There is a newspaper in Denver making him a proposition to become a resident of that city—which anyone could tell he would not accept.

Now expect a flood of offers for Mr. Coolidge's services, all of which are possible of acceptance, and all giving nice publicity to the persons

THE WEAKEST LINK

A VARIED LIST.

If there is any product, manufactured or grown from the soil, which is not demanding higher tariff rates from the special session of Congress, it must be something too unimportant to be visible to the naked eye. The latest hearing developed duties on imitation pearls, tooth brushes, agate buttons, cork board, foliage for decorations, goat furs, artificial flowers and other things too numerous to mention.

Perhaps higher duties are needed on all these products, but is it about time that someone began to wonder what is going to happen to the cost of living if they are all granted.

SOLD OUT.

Last week The Belleville News copies were at a premium. The issue was completely sold out.

There must be a reason for this. Mr. Advertiser, you should not pass up an opportunity to use us. We don't flim-flam. Ask any newsdealer how the copies of the paper sell. Don't you think advertising in Belleville's most progressive paper would pay?

WE FAW DOWN.

A person's standing in the community is uncertain this winter. But the one who takes a fall may console himself with the thought that it is the wicked who stand in slippery places.

We are content to faw down and go boom!!

The Voice of Others

A Compassionate Judge

Editor News:
It is said that a learned judge in passing sentence on a man who had been convicted of murder, concluded his remarks as follows:

"This court did not intend to order you executed before next spring. The weather, however, is very cold; and, unfortunately, our jail is in a very delapidated condition. Much of the glass in the windows is broken, the chimneys are in such bad repair that no fire can be made to render your cell comfortable. Besides, owing to the large number of prisoners, there are not enough blankets to go around. For you to sleep comfortable at night is out of the question.

"In consideration of these circumstances and wishing to lessen your suffering as much as possible the court, in the interests of humanity and compassion, hereby orders you to be executed tomorrow morning, as soon after breakfast as may be convenient to the sheriff and agreeable to you."

DUNT."

Lack Of Expression

Editor The News:
I am depressed by the lack of originality in the remarks of motorists whose cars bump against one another on slippery days.

Half a dozen recent bumps of that sort have come under my observation. And the best that the angry motorists could think of to shout at each other was, in each instance, some variation on, "Where do you think you're going?"

Not much like old days on the water front, when some truckmen prided themselves on being able to "bawl out" other drivers for five minutes at a time without repeating a line!

Editor The News:

In the last issue of your paper, February 22nd, 1929, several statements were made in reference to the Building Department of the Town of Belleville, which were somewhat contrary to facts.

First, in making the statement that the Building Department is headed by Mr. Matthew J. Richards. This is not true. I am the head of this Department, and have been for a period of five (5) years. Mr. Richards is merely clerk and does his work directly under my supervision at all times.

In the same article your reporter states that Commissioner Carragher used the expression that the Building Department is "rotten." Of course, I was not present at the afternoon conference, and do not know whether Mr. Carragher made this statement or not. However I do know that whatever Mr. Carragher stated at the time, he has already been in and personally apologized for his remarks, which were made in the heat of anger.

In fairness to the present Board of Commissioners I wish at this time to state that while the Building Department during my time as Building Inspector, has had various Commissioners, the nominal heads of this Department, at no time has the Department been more efficiently conducted and in more capable hands than it is at the present time. Mayor Kenworthy has had installed various up to date systems which have proved to be of real advantage, not only to the Town itself, but to the builders and those people that come in direct contact with the Building Department.

In reference to the application for a permit to construct a factory on Ralph street, which was the cause of some discussion last week, I wish to emphatically state that this application complied in every respect to the Building Code, and to the ordinances of the Town of Belleville. The location proposed is in an industrial zone. The applicant has been in business in the Town of Belleville for four (4) years without any complaints having been filed against the conduct of his business. After proper inspection of the plant by the Inspector of Combustibles and myself, the matter of the permit was referred to Health Officer Eugene T. Berry, who made an investigation into the insecticide that was being manufactured, and subsequently reported to Commissioner Clark that there was nothing injurious to the health in the manufacturing of this product. In justice to Mr. Richards, I wish to state that he does not approve applications for permits, or the plans for construction of buildings. This matter is left directly in my hands, and I appreciate that I am personally responsible for the issuing of any permit.

On another page in your newspaper, speaking editorially, you state that Mr. Richards issued this permit, and again make mention of the fact that he heads the Building Department. In fairness to Mr. Richards, and in view of my statement that I not only issue the permits personally but also head the Building Department, I hope you will give this correction space quite as prominent as that to which you gave your criticism.

Very truly yours,
R. H. WILLIAMS,
Building Inspector.

The Reformed "A" team practically won the All-Nutley Bowling tournament when they stopped Happiness for three games Monday night. The Reformers had to be at their best to beat the Happiness and proved their mettle by bowling three 900 games. Packs found the Junior Order Team an easy victim as did the St. Pauls "B" the Chemical quintet by taking them over for three games. The Parks by virtue of their wins are still four games behind the leader.

A dinner will be held by the Bowling League and announcement of time and place will be made later.

Bowlers Of Nutley Win League Title

Nutley Bowling Club, with twenty-nine victories and thirteen reverses, is winner of the Inter-City Bowling League title for the 1928-1929 season just ended.

Though the Nutley team has led the league throughout the season, the race has always been close, particularly in the last few matches. In its last match of the season Nutley dropped three games to the Plauderville-Social Bowling Club of Garfield, and Pavlich's Big Five of Wallington and Pavlich's Big Five of Wallington won two of its last three games from the Lodi Academy Whites to finish one game behind the leaders.

The steady bowling of the Nutley regulars, Brooks, Linn, Kadmus, Mutch and Junkers, carried the team to victory through fast competition. Only four games separated the four clubs finishing in the first division. The Plaudervilles captured third place and McDonald's Five of Passaic was fourth.

Burke of the Garfield Club had the highest individual average, 195. With a score of 1,074, the Pavlichs were first for high team score, and high individual score, 267, was made by Mulick of the Pavlichs.

Considered one of the strongest teams in the league at the opening of the season the Interboro Five of Carlstadt was unable to do better than head the second division.

Toward the close of the season the Carlstadt team did some real bowling and won its last six games. The team was composed of Hess, Frey, Schenone, Dieffenbach, Wellekamp and Palas.

Approval of the league, which was formed this season, has been voiced by every team in it, and four more teams have already agreed to join next season. Secretary Gene Hess has announced.

The season will close officially tomorrow night with a dinner at the Interboro Alleys, Carlstadt. Jack Hartmann of Garside, president, will be toastmaster. Music will be by an orchestra and vocal solos will be given by Case Koelman, Thomas Cameron and Harry Umbach. Thomas Hughes will be at the piano.

Nutley Eliminated In First Round Of Inter-Town Tourney

At the Montclair Y. M. C. A. last week the Nutley Collegiates were eliminated from further competition in the inter-town tournament conducted by the Y. M. C. A. of Montclair. The Y. M. C. A. team did the trick by stopping the Collegiate boys, 33-19.

From the beginning the Montclair boys showed a marked superiority in their passwork and this proved the Nutley team's undoing. At half time the Y. boys were leading, 19-16. With the start of the second half the Collegiates began to find their shooting eye and closed the gap opened by the Montclair team in the first half, the score standing at 24-16 at the end of the third period. But in the final quarter the Montclair boys out-played the Nutley team to finish ahead, 33-19.

Games Next Week

Grace vs. St. Paul, First Game. St. Marys vs. Vincent, Second Game.

The leaders in the Nutley inter-church league kept their trails clear of defeat by winning from their opponents easily. In the first game St. Marys took the Paulies into camp, 21 to 15 while in the last game Vincent failed to stop Grace as the latter was in the van at the end of the fray, 25 to 17. Both contests were interesting but lacked the snap and dash of last week's games.

Colored Group Gives Concert At P.-T. A.

A large and appreciative audience heard the musical program presented by colored members and their friends at the meeting of the Parent Teacher Association Thursday evening at School No. 8. The star of the artists was Mrs. Beatrice Purvis of Newark, soprano soloist. Mrs. Purvis is eighty-one years old and her voice is strong and true. She has entertained over the radio frequently.

The New Hope Quartet of Newark and the Les Entre Nous Quartet also of Newark gave several pleasing numbers. Two members of the New Hope quartet, Mrs. F. Crumpton and Mrs. Jeffrode are choristers at St. John's Church in Newark.

Mrs. J. E. Shanck of Atlantic Highlands, elocutionist, gave a number of monologues and little Miss Katherine Harris of Washington street School, Newark, also a radio artist, showed much histrionic ability. A trio from Belleville's No. 1 School, Ernestine Wilkes, Charlotte Marshall and Roberta Wilkes, gave a novelty number "I Can't Give you anything But Love, Baby."

The musical program was arranged by the following P. T. A. members: Mrs. E. H. Peterson, Mrs. William Salters, Sr., Mrs. William Salters, Jr., and Mrs. Alma Marshall. During a short business session preceding the entertainment, a communication from the Student Loan Council, acknowledged $100.00 from the P. T. Belleville A. A. Wins Again From Nutley

Swish! A field goal by McBride from mid-court gave the Belleville A. A. its second victory over their rivals, the Nutley Collegiates, by the close count of 32-31, Friday. The game was bitterly contested, not more than a few points separating the quintets at any time.

Going into the final seconds of play the Nutleyites were leading by one point, and were almost assured of victory, when came McBride's dazzling basket to turn the tide in favor of the A. A. boys. This provided a fitting conclusion to a well played game.

The "Bell" boys started fast and compiled a short lead before the Nutley outfit began to function. However, the Nutley guns soon began to roar and from then on the battle was up and tuck. Belleville's five hung on to their lead and at half time were leading the Collegiate array, 22-17. The Collegiates came out in the second half determined to do or die. They seemed as though they were going to run up their lead.

Eight points before the Nutley team garnered one. "Al" Lange started his team off with a pretty one and shot, and with his mates following the Collegiates began to over haul the A. A. aggregation.

Late in the final quarter the Collegiate passed the "Bell" boys and took the lead with a few seconds to go. This set the stage for the ever reliable Coach McBride, who came through in a pinch.

McBride and Metz were the high scorers for Belleville, the former netting 19 goals and three fouls and the latter accounting for two goals and three free tosses. Bob Mutch put up a strong floor game besides tallying five points.

Art Macauluso and Al Lange were the shining lights with the former coming through in the second half to tally nine points as a result of three free tosses. Al Lange put up a strong floor game besides netting 7 points in the scoring column. Ted Sentner was strong on the defense, breaking up many of the opposition's passes.

BELLEVILLE LOSES INTER-TOWN SERIES TO NUTLEY HIGH SQUAD

Nips and Tack Affair at Nutley Gym Has Fans On Edge All During Game

In one of the games of the current season coach Stanford's tossers handed Belleville High School their second setback at the Nutley court Washington's Birthday afternoon, 20-17. By virtue of their win the maroon captured the series.

From the opening whistle until the very end action was crammed into every minute of playing time, the game not being decided until the last minute of play when Gibney tallied a field goal and Stager a foul to give Nutley victory.

In the first period the teams battled along on even terms with Nutley holding a slight advantage, 7-5. The second canto proved as hectic as the first with both fives matching point for point. Leading the Belleville attack was Armour while Gibney kept up the Nutley end of the offense. The score at half time read Nutley, 12; Belleville, 10.

The record crowd on hand which chattered every inch of the Nutley gym was treated to a fine exhibition of basketball in the second half. The third period ended Nutley, 17; Belleville, 15.

Then the last period Crawford shook of the defense underneath the basket and made a pretty jumping shot as the ball came off the blackboard. A few minutes later Armour duplicated with a long short from mid-court. Then Short broke away and sunk one for the Blue and Gold that knotted the count at 17 all. Here the crowd went wild and had to be quieted before play could be resumed.

With the score even Gibney broke lose for Nutley, and on a running shot located the rim for a double-decker. A minute later Stager made a foul and the game was over.

Armour for Belleville and Gibney for Nutley were the high scorers with seven points each. The work of the Nutley guards was above reproach while Jackson stood out for Belleville. Crawford, Nutley center, had no chance to break into the limelight because two Belleville men were covering him all the time. The game was one of the best of the season and cleanly played.

defeated Belleville, 25-12. Unlike the encounter at Belleville the Nutley seconds made the affair a lopsided one.

The ability of the Nutley team to cage baskets from all angles proved the undoing of the Bell Boys. While the defense of the Maroon and Gray
