STREET PAVING JOB FOUR YEARS OLD IS BEING PROBED BY TOWN

Board of Commissioners Favors Leasing Part Of Allotment In Passaic Valley Sewer

An official investigation is under way in town to determine whether the paving of Brighton avenue and Wallace street was properly accomplished when the streets were laid out about four years ago.

Property owners along the two streets have raised a cry against payment of assessments for the work because of what they term "the present bad condition" on the streets, which have been resurfaced several times.

It was revealed at Tuesday night's commission meeting that cross section maps of the work, which would show whether the proper excavation was made, were missing. Commissioner Patrick A. Waters and Town Engineer Albert S. Blank were directed to make an investigation.

Disappearance of papers showing cross sections was given as a reason for asking postponement of confirmation of the assessments. Gordon Grant, a Newark lawyer, represented taxpayers opposed to the assessments.

"Sad State of Affairs" "It's a sad state of affairs when a council cannot obtain records to check assessments," Mr. Grant said. He was assured by Commissioner Waters, director of streets and public improvements, the papers would be found or corresponding figures produced.

Mr. Waters said a discovery had been made regarding the assessments which would undoubtedly result in lowering the cost.

Commissioner Frank J. Carragher was the only objector to renewal of the license of the Capitol Theatre at $250. The commissioner wanted to table the theatre's application a week until he could present a resolution requiring the theatre to remain closed Sundays or be liable to revocation of license. Other members of the board said a town ordinance governed Sunday closing and the prohibition could not be directed at an individual concern.

Passing on first reading an ordinance requiring Sunday closing of hardware stores "smacked of provincialism," according to Anthony B. Micone, an objecting hardware dealer. The ordinance provides a $10 fine for a first violation and $25 for each subsequent one.

The ordinance passed by a 3 to 2 vote, Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy and Commissioners James Gibson and William D. Clark favoring and Commissioners Carragher and Waters opposed. A majority of hardware dealers of the town petitioned for the ordinance.

Harry Higgs of the engineering department was appointed assessment clerk at a salary of $200 by Commissioner Gibson. Mr. Carragher objected on the grounds Mr. Higgs was already doing the work. Mr. Gibson said no one person was responsible for following assessments through the five departments where they are handled and for their being brought up expeditiously for confirmation. The money would be otherwise delayed, Mr. Waters stated.

The request of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission that Belleville lease an unused portion of its sewer capacity to Kearny was favorably regarded.

If the town grants a lease it will be the first municipality to cooperate in a "brotherly" manner with the sewer commission, according to William Gavin Taylor, consulting engineer, who represented the commission. Other municipalities have asked such unreasonable terms that negotiations with them were dropped, Mr. Taylor said.

Figures pertaining to revenue Belleville would receive as profit by leasing 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 gallons of its 10,000,000-gallon daily capacity, approximately 8,000,000 gallons of which are reserve capacity, were kept confidential. They will be announced when Town Engineer Albert S. Blank reports on the capacity the town will need in the next ten years. This probably will be within a couple of weeks.

Roughly, Mr. Blank estimated the town would not need more than a 4,000,000-gallon capacity in the next ten years. The town is using about 1,500,000 gallons daily of its capacity.

The reason for Belleville's large reserve capacity is that much land in the town is devoted to park and golf course purposes. Such use of the land was not foreseen when the capacity need was planned.

K. of C. Council Host To Other Councils

Four Out Of Town Groups Entertained In Belleville

Belleville Council, No. 835, Knights of Columbus, played host to visiting members from Irvington, Jersey City, Nutley and Union City Councils, Monday. It remained for Nutley Council to provide the entertainment.

The Lecturer's Committee composed of John S. Herron, Leo Dempsey and James M. Lynch, Sr., did a good job and kept the members entertained until a late hour when refreshments were served.

The master of ceremonies was James M. Lynch, Sr. The senior is used advisedly for Jimmy "unhooked his vest and threw out his chest and said listen to this boy of mine" as Jimmy Jr., and his two sisters Regina and Eileen playing the piano and saxophone respectively accompanied him with his violin. The family made quite a hit and if Jimmy has any more at home Eddie Foy will have to look to his laurels.

Jimmy next presented Charles Thoma who though afflicted with a cold made a valiant effort to sing and despite the handicap the quality of his voice was evident. Alfred Frobose was next and accompanied Mr. Thoma; they presented a tap dance. These two young men show promise and it would not be a surprise to the Nutley members to see them break forth on Broadway.

Improvement Association Dance Scores Biggest Success Of Social Season

As predicted and confidentially felt by all who were intimately associated with the planning of the dance of the Belleville on the Hill Improvement Association, last Saturday's record turn out for the annual event at Elk's Hall surpassed any event on the town's social calendar. Nothing was left to be desired from both the social point of view of the entertainment features. Those who for various reasons were not present were the only losers and have at this early date resolved that they'll never miss another event the Hilltoppers will hold. More than 700 passed through the doors and the carnival spirit manifested itself at an early hour.

Music Puts Crowd In Mettle Early indications were that the crowd came to enjoy itself and it did. Every last man, woman, yes and kid die too (there were quite a few present) entered the spirit or dance music with a vim seldom witnessed at local affairs. Price excelled in serving the jazzologues which had the dancers on the floor for every number. The evening was crowded with novelties, not a moment being found wanting with idleness. The novelty dances proved special features for the crowd to make Whoopee. The lucky number dance prize—a console mirror—donated by Otis and Otis was won by Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson of Belleville. The prize of a handsome pair of ladies' shoe buckles for the Balloon Dance went to Miss Lillian Burns also of Belleville.

Mr. George Harrison, a member of the Association was the donor of a fruit basket made up from Nature's precious gifts grown in various corners of the globe and donated by Mr. Frank Wolenski of the Association was won by Mr. L. A. Schroeder of Irvington. The Five Dollars in gold offered as a door prize went to Mr. George Rawcliffe of Belleville. Cole's Studio And Belleville Gardens Well Received.

An unusual departure for a dance was seen in the presentation of two unique entertainment features. Dan Downey's Snappy Revue, now being presented at Belleville Gardens on Main street was all that the local night club advertised it to be. Owing to the revue just opening only part of the company put in appearance. Their singing numbers enlivened the crowd. Of more than passing mention was the stage presentation of Bob Cole's Dancing Kiddie Revue. The applause of the crowd and the repeated encores that some of the wee entertainers were requested to give left no doubt as to the high calibre of their performance. Especially pleasing was Bouncing Baby Betty Lott, the smiling, dimpled, tousled-haired vamp of vamps. Betty completely captivated her audience. Dorothy Nickles won favor with her tap dancing and Bob Cole himself literally had the crowd on their toes with his acrobatic dance. The Green Sisters from Jersey City were a pleasing sister act and their military tap dance was the best seen here in years. It seemed that very one remained until "Home, Sweet Home" was played for the ball room was just as crowded at 1 A. M. as at 9 P. M. Success is really a mild word for the description of this event which will be long remembered by all who attended.

American Legion Plans First Annual Dance

Affair Will Be Held At Elks' Home On May 10.

The Belleville American Legion League of Athletic Development, the recently organized twilight baseball league, will hold its first annual dance at the Elks' Hall on Friday, May 10. The purpose of the dance is to raise funds to defray expenses of the league.

The league has already received many enthusiastic promises of support from the townspeople and a capacity crowd is expected at the dance. The ticket sale will be limited, as the Legion does not want to overtax the capacity of the dance hall. Every one is urged to procure their tickets at an early date.

The league is composed of the following teams, Bachelors, Capitols, St. Anthony A. C., John Daly Association, St. Peter's Dramatic Club, Park A. C., and the Bel-Nuts. There will be prizes awarded to the organizations disposing of the greatest number of tickets. The committee in charge is negotiating for the services of one of Essex County's most famous Jazz organizations, and the result of this negotiation will be later announced. There will also be popular entertainers to lend to the hilarity and joyfulness of the occasion. All of Belleville's prominent Whoopee Makers have pledged themselves to attend and bring their gangs.

The dance will be in the nature of a get-together for the teams which will be later battling three nights a week for the town championship. The Legion asks all citi-

Josiah H. DeWitt Buried In N. Y.

Descendant of Old Belleville Family Died in Genoa On Tour.

Services were held Wednesday morning in St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Fifth avenue and Fifty-third street, New York, for Josiah Hornblower DeWitt, a descendant of two old Belleville families. He died in Genoa, Italy, March 26, while on a pleasure tour of Europe. He formerly resided in East Orange.

Mr. DeWitt was a son of the late Josiah Hornblower De Witt and Amanda Moss. He was a descendant of Josiah Hornblower, one of the early settlers of Belleville, whose memory will be honored April 24 when members of the Newcomen Society for the Study of the History of Engineering and Technology will unveil a tablet on his tombstone in the graveyard of the old Dutch Reformed Church, Main and Rutgers street. Josiah Hornblower died in 1809. He was the designer of a steam engine that preceded that of Robert Fulton for many years.

The DeWitt family for many years operated a wire factory on Mill street Belleville.

John D. DeWitt, 161 North Ninth street, Newark, was a cousin of the man whose funeral took place Wednesday.

MERCHANTS BAND FOR TRADE AT HOME CAMPAIGN

A group of business men who are interested in the "Trade at Home" campaign which will culminate in the award of a Plymouth car to some Belleville person have formed a committee to interest other merchants in the proposition. Paul Westerman, of the Carson-Westerman Chrysler-Plymouth agency, has been named chairman of the committee, to be assisted by Berney Fenias, manager of the Capitol Theatre, as secretary, Leighton George and B. Shargel.

To stimulate the campaign the Capitol Theatre will cooperate to the extent of placing the Plymouth in the lobby of the theatre, arranging a display of articles from local merchants which will be given away there the last week of the campaign, composing a "trailer" for the screen, telling who the merchants are that are cooperating. The theatre will also mail announcements and other advertising matter for the merchants.

While advertising space may not be bought on the Capitol screen, this feature being contrary to Stanley-Fabian ethics, local merchants who participate will have their names mentioned on the screen. The Capitol Theatre has consented to do this because it feels that Belleville needs closer cooperation among its business concerns. The theatre offers all assistance possible.

In order to be in the running for the car, local persons should ask merchants for tickets which will be given out for each $1 purchase. The tickets should be deposited in a box at the First National Bank. The winner of the car will be drawn from the tickets in the box. The drawing will be done by some prominent citizen of the town at the Capitol Theatre, the exact date of which will be announced later.

Any merchant, who desires to enter this campaign, should communicate with the committee for tickets and the method of getting them. Merchants already in line suggest that all who have not entered should do so. Merchants don't delay! He is a chance to convince Belleville folks that you have just as much merchandise as any store in New Jersey. Join the campaign and keep Belleville trade in Belleville.

Ask your nearest merchant neighbor. He, no doubt, is already enthused. He will explain to you. You are obligated only to the extent that you have a desire to prove that your store is a leader and serves Belleville.

YOUNG MATRON IS HELD IN PLOT

Lyndhurst Bank Employee, 28, Charged With Conniving To Embezzle $14,000.

A young pretty woman, Mrs. Frances E. Doremus, 28, of Lyndhurst was taken into the United States marshal's office in the Federal building Friday on a bench warrant charging her with conniving with a depositor to embezzle a total of $14,000 from the People's National Bank and Trust Company of Belleville, of which she was a trusted employee.

As a book-keeper, on the ledger containing the accounts of Edward Stanziale, a butcher, of 120 Eighth avenue, Newark, who was arrested Thursday, it is charged, she made it appear that the account he had overdrawn was financially sound.

Indicted April 1 She was indicted April 1 with Stanziale, following her admission of the misappropriations, to Nathan H. Berger, the bank's attorney, of 776 Broad street.

Mrs. Doremus, according to Berger, had been employed by the bank only a few months, but had gained a reputation for honesty and industry that matched her appearance. In her confession, she is said to have told Berger that, when Stanziale referred her a small sum of money to cover up his overdrawings, she acceded because she needed the money. Later, however, when Stanziale is alleged to have continued overdraw her account, she wanted to quit services in spite of the money she gave her. He would not let her, however, she told Berger, and threatened her with exposure of her financial error if she did not go on covering him up.

The errors in Stanziale's account was discovered through a method of bank employes to check up on its employes, whereby bookkeepers moved unexpectedly to ledgers containing other accounts.

Stanziale was accused Thursday his shop on a bench warrant by Deputy U. S. Marshall Eckenrode, who also apprehended Mrs. Doremus. Bail of $5,000 was set for Mrs. Doremus, though not living with her husband.

Officers Elected by Christian Endeavor

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the Reformed Church held its annual business meeting in the chapel, Monday evening, April 15.
 The following officers were elected: President, Everett Burden; vice president, Robert Wolf; secretary, Edith Lutz and treasurer, Elsie Mart-ling.

The meeting night was changed from Monday night to Sunday night at 6:45 beginning May 5.
 A vote of thanks was given the Missionary committee for the work accomplished during the past year.
 An announcement of a lecture on May 3 at Park Presbyterian Church in honor of the Anniversary of the Goodwill Home and Rescue Mission was the last act the retiring President, Miss A. Johnston, made.

Mr. Wolf announced it is a pleasure to be chairman of the Prayer Meeting Committee. He stated he received splendid cooperation during the year. An announcement that Northern District of New Jersey Christian Endeavor would be held in Newark on April 27 at the Y. W. C.
 A. was made.

"B" YOU LUCKY?

An exceptionally large number of girls and boys of this community were evidently very studious as the largest number of answers were received from those trying to obtain two free tickets to the Capitol Theatre.

These energetic youngsters obtained the Comic Section of the Belleville News and counted the number of "B's" appearing in the advertisements. Many more than usual were correct, but as is customary, only the first ten correct answers were recipients of two tickets each to the show. They are: Louis Ledogar, 59
 Campbell avenue; Emma England,
 10 Jerome avenue; Evelyn Abramson, 500 Washington avenue; Welsley Earl, 75 Bell street; Elwin Taylor, 79 Preston street; William Petrie, 242 Belleville avenue; Grace
 Gimbel, 46 New street; Lillian Hull, 179 Garden avenue; Annette Muller,
 54 Campbell avenue and Lester F.
 Dunham, 227 Little street.

Their accompanist Ralph Wilkinson favored with several piano selections.

Colds seemed to be the order of the day and the ever popular Al Kirchoerffer was right in style. Al showed the effects of this and the strains of "The Road to Mandalay" penetrated no further than Union avenue and Joralemon street. His efforts were well received and he favored with several encores.

The next act was the feature of the evening, Lieutenant Arthur J. Fortier, did some mathematical tricks with apparently no more help than a blackboard and a piece of chalk.
 His feats of adding columns of figures at a glance kept the audience shaking their heads in dismay and puzzlement.

Everyone voted the evening the best yet and Belleville Council immediately resolved to outdo it on their next trip to Nutley.

A last minute request of State Deputy J. Connor French for the Belleville Council Degree Team to go to Carteret, N. J., to put on a First and Second Degree necessitated the cancellation of the regular Tuesday evening rehearsal of "The Thirteenth Chair." The next rehearsal will be held on Friday evening at St.
 Peter's Annex.

Permission Granted V.F.W. To Bring Back Dead From Siberia

Permission by the War Department has been granted the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States as a national body of foreign service men, to begin negotiations with officials of the Soviet Republic, with the objective in view of "bringing back to the United States every soldier, sailor and marine who now lies buried under the frozen tundra in the far-flung wastes of Siberia.

In the dreary wastes of Siberia, seemingly forgotten lie many comrades of the A. E. F., men who gave their all in the late great world catastrophe. Owing to the situation in which the United States finds itself in its relations with the Soviet Republic, it has no been in a position to negotiate nor present a request for permission to bring back to the United States the bodies of the men who did their bit on the frozen steppes of that far-away outpost of military activity during the late war.

The decision of the government to permit the V. F. W. to open negotiations with the Soviet Republic indicates a confidence in the overseas men's group as well as a sincere desire to accord the A. E. F. Siberian heroes the same consideration as those who gave their all in Flanders' fields.

It has been the policy of the Government, where conditions made it possible, to bring back home from foreign fields its soldier dead. In this instance the United States has not been an dis now in a position for direct negotiations with the Soviets.
 The opinion is expressed in official V. F. W. circles that the permission of the Soviet Government will be given and that the homeward-bound journey across the Pacific to the bi-vouacs of the dead in the U. S. is not far distant.

The last Session of the 70th Congress has completed its work and there were twenty-six measures relating in whole or part to the veteran or the dependents of Veterans of all was passed and signed by the President. A few of the laws backed by the vets are:

Public Law No. 1031—A measure to amend the World War adjusted compensation act, as amended, by reducing the rates of interest on loans made by the Veterans' Bureau upon the security of adjusted service certificates.

Public Law No. 670—A measure
 extending relief to certain members of the Navy and Marine Corps who were discharged because of misrepresentation of age.

Public Law No. 950—A measure
 for the relief of soldiers who were discharged from the Army during the World War because of misrepresentation of age.

Public Law No. 952—A measure to enable mothers and widows of deceased soldiers, sailors and marines of the American forces now interred in the cemeteries of Europe, to make a pilgrimage to these cemeteries.

A most welcome visitor on the fourth of every month is the caller with the bluish-gray uniform and the loaded mail bag. Somehow of other you never keep to postman waiting—never refuse him admittance of tell him to call again—especially on the fourth of the month. The organized veterans have made this agreeable contact with the postman visible. He is bringing to the disabled and infirm veteran the fruits of organized effort.

If you were in Foreign Service during any war, insurrection or campaign, which the Government has issued a campaign badge, you should join the Veterans of Foreign Wars, because:

It is exclusively a "Gold Stripes" organization.

It is the only national organization all of whose members have seen foreign service.

It gives, through the common bond of foreign service, a unique spirit of comradeship.

It has passed the experimental stage and is a "going" organization.

Unusual Entertainment Planned By 3 B's.

An unusual picture, "The Birth of a Race," will feature the moving picture entertainment to be given by the 3 B's of the Wesley M. E. Church tonight in the church parlors.

The picture deals with the Creation, struggles of the ancient tribes for supremacy on earth, Noah's Ark, and a vivid portrayal of the Life of Christ. Then one is swept on up through the ages until our own Country's historical events are depicted, gradually showing the birth of America and the Spirit of America. The concluding scenes show the return of the "Doughboys" from the World War and a vision of Peace.

 The program is well rounded out by a Felix-the-Cat cartoon, which the older folks will enjoy as well as the young. There will be an "Our Gang" comedy which needs no comment, and one of the funniest comedies ever screened. "School Pals" is the name of this mirth-provoker and the almost human actions and antics of trained chimpanzees are guaranteed to cause hundreds of laughs and that is a good deal for one picture to accomplish.

The 3 B's say that if anyone likes the unusual and different the feature picture possesses these characteristics as no other film quite depicts a series of events with such a scope as "The Birth of a Race." Also in the entertainment will be found a never-to-be-forgotten comedy.
 A large audience is expected to see these features and the committee in charge desires to say that in order to eliminate any disturbance which the show is on, that they would appreciate it if all patrons would arrive before 8:15 which is the scheduled time for the show to commen-

History In The Making As Regards Hornblower

Engineers Plan Tribute To Pioneer Belleville Citizen Who Built Fire Engines Years Ago

Tribute will be paid to a little known pioneer in the development of the steam engine when the Newcomen Society for the Study of the History of Engineering and Technology unveils a tablet on the grave of Josiah Hornblower in the old Reformed church graveyard at Main and Rutgers streets next Wednesday afternoon.

These ceremonies will precede the fifth annual dinner and meeting of the American branch of the society at 29 West Thirty-ninth street, New York City. London is the headquarters of the organization.

The dedication of the tablet was authorized at last year's meeting of the American branch and a committee, consisting of Lenor R. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad; F. R. Low and C. E. Davies, corresponding secretary for America, was appointed. At the meeting in New York after the exercises at the grave, Mr. Loree will read a paper on "The First Steam (Fire) Engine in America."

Mr. Hornblower's engine, called in Colonial times a "fire" engine but really an atmospheric one, antedated by many years the steam apparatuses imported from England to run Robert Fulton's Clermont and the first locomotive on an American railroad. The Hornblower engine was used in mining copper from a shaft in the Schuyler mine, near what is now the corner of Belleville and Schuyler avenues in North Arlington. Operation of the mine from drifts and tunnels bored into the hillsides began about 1715, but by 1747 the shafts had been pushed down so far that further mining was unprofitable because of the difficulty of pumping water from the shafts by hand or horse power, the only means then available in the colonies.

Hearing that several mines in England were being operated by what were then called fire engines, Col. John Schuyler, proprietor of this mine, placed an order for an engine with Joseph Hornblower and his sons who were manufacturing the Newcomen of Cornish type apparatus at Cornwall, England. But in those days the laws of England prohibited the exportation of any machinery or skilled laborers who might set up an industry that would compete with manufacturing at home.

Therefore there was a lapse of about four years between the placing of the order and the building of an engine for Colonel Schuyler. It is believed that in the intervening time he used the influence he had with persons high in official life to circumventing of the restriction statutes. When the engine was at last ready, in 1753 Josiah Hornblower, fourth son of Joseph and at that time 24 years old, was chosen to take it to America and set it up there.

After a thirteen-week passage in a small scow, the engine reached New York on September 9, 1753, and upon being transferred to a smaller boat was floated through Newark bay and up the Passaic river to a point on the east bank nearly opposite the mouth of Second river at Belleville. Thence the engine was carted about a mile to the mine shaft.

Then Josiah Hornblower really began his task—that of getting it up in a land totally unprepared for and unfamiliar with such an apparatus. This job took him nearly a year and a half before the machine was ready to function, about March 12, 1755, nearly seven years after the order for it had been placed by Colonel Schuyler.

Simple in construction, the engine proved very effective in use but wasteful of steam and fuel. The pump cylinder had an inside diameter of ten inches and the wooden pump was six inches square. The capacity of the pump was 134 gallons a minute, approximately 180,000 gallons a day.

Instead of returning to England after he had set up the engine, Josiah Hornblower became superintendent of the mine, and on July 1, 1761 he and John Steardall leased the mine from the Schuylers for fourteen years at a rental of one-seventh the output of ore.

Fire seven years later seriously damaged the engine. Partly on that account and partly because of the unsettled conditions during the Revolutionary period, activity in the shafts was suspended for about a quarter of a century.

Meanwhile Mr. Hornblower had built a home on the opposite side of the river, in what is now Belleville, and had become proprietor of both a general store and a ferry. For a time later on he was superintendent of the mine under new lessees.

An energetic patriot in the War for Independence, he represented New Jersey in Congress, was a State Assemblyman for several terms, being for a time Speaker of the House, and presided as a magistrate over the lower courts. He died in Belleville on January 21, 1809.

Because the simple white slab marking his grave in the Reformed Church cemetery had become so worn by the elements that the inscription on it was almost obliterated, the Newcomen Society decided to restore the inscription and place an appropriate tablet there also.

Recorder Speaks At Lions Club Affair

Discusses Playgrounds And Police Work At Weekly Luncheon

Conditions in Belleville as regards lawlessness are not so bad, said Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons last Thursday in a talk before the Lions Club.

While there are some stills in town it is a difficult task to eliminate them, he explained, discussing the laws, as constructed, make it a waste of time to bother to any extent with such offenders.

The Recorder traced the operation of his department and the police adding that the police department is "second to none" and Police Chief Michael Flynn is one of the "straightest shooters" he knows.

Additional playground facilities were urged by Mr. Fitzsimmons, who said somebody should ask the town to take care of this matter.

More Teachers Signed Up In The Schools

Task Of Compiling List For Next Year Nearly Finished.

One Teacher Leaves System

The Board of Education Monday in the High School accepted the resignation of Miss Marion G. Steere, as a teacher, to take effect June 30. The following reappointments of present members of the teaching staff were made: Helen Bailey, Robert Fagen, Viola Kroehl, Estelle Kachnick, Elizabeth Current, Regina Brennan, Pearl Alderstein, Helen Collard.

The following new appointments were made: Elizabeth Kelleher, Murray Wilcox, Robert Folsom, Wilhelmina Pfister, Alice Walters, May Lewis, Anna Pruden, Charlotte Bray, Josephine Baltine, Irva Briggs, Marjorie Freiday, Eleanor Hagemann, Alice Kennedy, Augusta Musel, Christine Meyer, Grace Meyer. Clerks Ethel Schaffer, Edith Otten, Viola Curran were also reappointed.

Coal Contract
The coal contract was awarded to Smith Brothers, coal to be supplied in sufficient quantities to heat all schools between September 1, 1929 and May 15, 1930 at the following prices: Rice, $5.32, per ton; Pea, $7.44 per ton; Stove, $11.29 per ton.

Bids for grading school No. 5 were tendered by B. E. Daniels Co. of Nutley and E. W. Simpson of East Orange. They were referred for tabulation.

Permission was granted to the American Legion to use Clearman Field Monday, Tuesday and Friday evenings, and Saturday afternoons for baseball games, subject to any changes by the school.

Superintendent of Schools George R. Gerard reported that 312 of the 372 eighth grade pupils intend to enter high school in the fall. This, he said, will increase the high school roll to about 800.

A discussion, without any definite action, centered around the establishment of a junior high school. Details will be made public later.

Following Easter vacation over 100 entered the kindergartens. The board plans to equip a kindergarten at School No. 10, which will open in the fall at Belleville and Franklin avenues.

1,500 Enjoy Milk
Approximately 1,500 school children are now partaking of milk which is served during the day. Crackers—will be added to the menu—soon, it was reported.

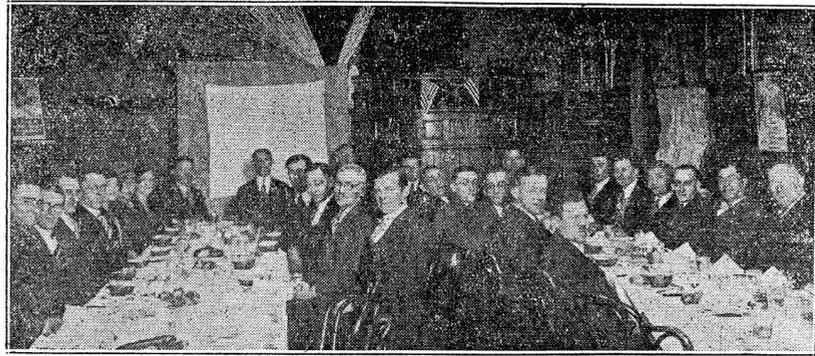

Distribution of milk for some time at a small profit made a surplus of funds which will cover cost of the crackers.

Pupils will receive the milk and two or three crackers for five cents each, the same as was paid for the milk alone.

The school savings account for all schools except 2 and 4 shows 3,389 deposits. The report for the other two schools shows on March 28, 628 accounts with a total deposit of $2,837.30.

The grammar schools gave a physical training exhibit recently at which nearly 2,000 were present. It is proposed to hold a field day at Clearman Field in the latter part of May, at which time the general public will be invited to see the health and physical work in large numbers.

Local Men Make Connection With National Organization

This picture was taken at a dinner given recently by the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club at its Club House, located at New and High streets, Newark.

The occasion was the first conference of managers of service stations appointed for the American Automobile Association of Washington, D. C., of which the New Jersey Club is the local official representative.

It was attended by Messrs. Harold Kortright and E. T. Paxton, proprietors of the Greylock Garage, who were awarded the appointment as station in Belleville for furnishing service to AAA members.

American Legion Plans First Annual Dance

zens desirous of giving the youth of the town an opportunity to develop athletically to buy tickets and attend for a good time is guaranteed to all.

Attend State Meeting.
Joseph Williams, Athletic Director of the Belleville American Legion attended the State meeting at the American Legion Athletic Directors which was held at Trenton, for the purpose of forming rules for the nation-wide American Legion Junior Baseball competition, on his return from the meeting Mr. Williams announced that Belleville would again enter a team. Last year the Belleville team nearly defeated the Irvington team which won the state championship, and it is predicted that the team which will be entered for Belleville this year will do even better.

The team to be picked is not to be confused with the Legion's Twilight league, for the twilight league will comprise of teams which have men over the age of sixteen and will only play in Belleville.

The plan on the Junior team is as follows: Teams in each town will compete for the honor of representing the town in the county play off and county winner will compete for the state championship. Later in the season the State champions will play in one of the major league parks in New York. No team can play any man who will reach his seventeenth birthday before September 15 of this year.

The Belleville Rangers, the team representing the legion so ably last year, have already agreed to enter the competition, and other good teams are expected to fall in line. Any team wishing to enter should get in touch with Mr. Joseph Williams, 84 Columbus avenue, Belleville, N. J.

Belleville Man Injured In Crash

Thomas Lipton Gives Trophy To Sea Scouts of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. Thomas Lipton Trophy, the world-famed yachtman of the Sea Scouts of Brooklyn, N. Y., was presented in this country and has been in the care of the Brooklyn Sea Scout Committee. The trophy, a loving cup of sterling silver awarded each year to the Sea Scout of Brooklyn doing the best work for Sea Scouting, is a gift to the community. The trophy is the most beautiful in existence, of sea activities.

The cup is of sterling silver surmounted by a lovely modelled figure of a sailor holding the Torch of Peace and with an anchor symbol on the shield. Standing within the cup are the crossed flags of the American and British navies. The cup is surrounded by the crossed flags of the Lipton and the American navies. The cup stands on a decorative wooden plinth, the top of which is fitted with silver inscriptions of the Fleur deLys which represents the badge of the Sea Scouts.

The trophy committee consists of Mr. Chairman, Alexander Aronson, Mr. G. Gilchrist Gesswein.

LUCKY SCOUTS

Letters received from Washington, D. C. show that the War Department has given permission to the Scouts of the Queens Council, N. Y., to use part of the Camp Military Reservation which they have at their Boy Scout camp at River, N. Y., for hiking and study. The action of the Department was the result of negotiations of the Scoutmaster, Mr. F. Trusbee Dastar, Assistant Secretary of War, and Attorney Richard Newcombe, Secretary of the Queens Council of Boy Scouts of America and in recognition of the gift of the use of the land to the Scouts. The government has set up that forest land to the Scouts as a great boon to Scoutmaster and the Queens Boy Scouts. The Scouts are grateful indeed to the War and the War Department.

WIDE CAMPAIGN

The result of a borough-wide campaign, the Queens Boy Scouts' Association raised more than $10,000 last fall, part of which was used to purchase a 245-acre tract for a camp. It was the Camp Newcombe in honor of Mr. Newcombe, and in recognition of his work on behalf of the Scouts.

The camp is situated at Wading River and is immediately east of the Wading River lands, affected by the War Department.

A section of Upton National Forest which the Scouts will use in the study of nature and woodcraft covers 2,800 acres of beautiful land north of Middle Country Road, a few miles from Long Beach in Suffolk County.

Another section of Upton National Forest, south of the tract mentioned, has been lent to the Scouts. It is situated on the northern section of Middle Country Road.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION

Carl Szegedi, 14, of 661 East 10th Street, Cleveland, Ohio, ran into a boat while coasting recently, and was severely injured. Scout Marvin Brown, 15 years old, of 9114 Hillside Road, volunteered and gave a half of his blood to save the life of his friend. Both of the boys are members of the Scout Troop and attending Technical High School in Cleveland.

LOTS OF TOYS

Working with the Lions Club of Anaheim, California, Boy Scouts of Troops in that city sponsored by the Lions Club, opened a workshop and made toys for the crippled children of the city. 227 toys for the crippled including dolls, kiddie-cars and all manner of odd playthings, were constructed by the Scouts. The Lions Club and the Scouts did not confine themselves to Anaheim alone, but took care of every crippled child in Orange County, California.

COLLECTING BOOKS

When the Hospital Service of the Public Library in Freeport, Illinois, ran short of books recently, Boy Scouts of the city decided to conduct a campaign to furnish the library with an adequate supply. Conducting a house to house canvass they soon collected many hundreds of good books and in addition presented the library with several tons of current magazines. The current magazines in good condition were put to use while the others were bundled and sold and the proceeds used to buy additional volumes of books for the Hospital Service of the library.

A TRIBUTE

In a park at La Crescenta, California at the corner of Orangedale Avenue and Florence Drive, the Boy Scouts of that municipality have planted a memorial tree in honor of Scout Paul McCartney who died in early September following an accidental shooting while the lad was on a vacation trip in the mountains.

A tribute paid by Guy A. Weakly, Superintendent of the Crescenta School District, is an evidence of the esteem in which Scout McCartney was held by the people of the valley in which he lived. The school Superintendent said, "Paul was one of the most modest and unassuming boys I ever knew. No matter how much he did for an individual or an organization he did it in the true spirit of service. He gave assistance because he liked to be useful."

We cannot understand why Paul was taken from us full of youth, vigor and promise, nor do we know why his parents and loved ones must suffer his loss, but we know full well that even though he has been with us a short time, we have had a better school and community because Paul contributed of his time, his interest, and his service."

TRAFFIC SURVEY

Boy Scouts of Alameda, California recently conducted a complete traffic survey as their Good Turn in aiding Alameda to solve its traffic problems. Traffic at all points of entry was checked for fourteen hours by Alameda Boy Scouts under supervision of the Civic Service Department of which Col. H. G. Mathewson is Director. The work was personally supervised by Scout Executive A. R. Groenink. Several hundred Scouts participated.

SCOUT TRAINING

Julian Edelson, 13-year-old Boy Scout of Malden, Mass., performed his "Daily Good Turn" in a wholesome manner on March 2. When the Scout detected the odor of escaping gas in the street near his home, he became instantly on the alert, summoned the police and fire departments and aroused more than twenty five of his neighbors, assisting several of them to the street. Even with the hasty action of the Scout, seven persons were so severely affected by gas, that they were removed to the Malden Hospital in an ambulance. Leaking gas mains on Danielson Street in Malden, Mass., were responsible for the accident.

AT OXFORD

The May issue of BOYS' LIFE opens with an unusual story by James Saxon Childers called "The Empress of India." It is a rowing story, and the hero is an American boy, a member of one of the college teams of England's famous Oxford University. Paschal Strong and E. A. Wood also contribute stories to this issue, and there is a debating story by H. B. Davey.

Regional Rule For North Jersey Is Only Way Out

Expert Decides, In Analysis Of Transit Commission Report

Northern New Jersey, faced with a transportation system that leads to New York and to nowhere else, will have to entrust its future to a metropolitan district government if its problem is to be solved, according to an analysis of the 1929 North Jersey Transit Commission report by Philip H. Cornick, of the National Institute of Public Administration, to be published in the May issue of the National Municipal Review.

The complete Transit Commission project for improvement of Jersey transportation facilities, comprising 600 miles of rapid transit lines, 14 new single track tunnels under the Hudson river, adequate intercommunication between all parts of Jersey, and between those parts and Manhattan, and requires an estimated expenditure over a 25 year period of approximately three quarters of a billion dollars.

To accomplish this, Mr. Cornick points out, cooperation between 265 municipalities and two states is essential. Such cooperation, involving as it does all the problems of adequate planning for urban land utilization, must in reality take the form of a metropolitan government; for financial autonomy, a separate debt limit, authority to levy taxes and special assessments, and power to construct finance and operate improvements of a regional nature, is obviously impossible with authority between hundreds of local units.

Commission To Be Elected

The proposal of the Transit Commission, of which Mr. Cornick approves, is the conversion of the North Jersey Transit District into the North Jersey Metropolitan District, to be governed by an elected commission.

"Just as every devout Mohammedan turns his face toward Mecca at least once a day, so a large percentage of the inhabitants of the North Jersey Transit District turn toward New York City," Mr. Cornick writes.

"But what of the pilgrim who would visit other shrines?" he asks. "Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Elizabeth, Bayonne, Passaic, Hoboken, Perth Amboy, New Brunswick, Bloomfield, Rahway and Kearny, whose industries draw their daily streams of pilgrims even from New York City; the high class suburban residential communities of Englewood, Montclair, Summit, the Oranges, Plainfield and Morristown; the famous resorts of Asbury Park, Atlantic Highlands, Long Branch, Rumson and Shrewsbury; all of these too, have their devotees, and we owe to those unfortunate dissenters who live on one of the radial lines leading the New York and would make obeisance at an altar located on another of those lines."

In a great number of cases, they find it easier to journey into New York and then out again to their destination, rather than to cross the short distance intervening between the radial lines by the available circumferential means of travel.

"The first step in the proposed physical plan for improvement in Jersey transportation, was to be the construction of an interstate loop. The New Jersey portion was to intercept all commuting lines at points beyond the present congested terminals; the New York portion was to deliver and collect the commuters at a series of stations conveniently located along the backbone of the business section of Manhattan Island between 59th Street on the north and the Battery on the south.

"The completed project would have comprised six hundred miles of rapid transit lines and fourteen new single track tunnels under the Hudson River; would have provided adequate means of intercommunication between all parts of the district, and between those parts and Manhattan Island; and would have required an estimated expenditure over a twenty or twenty-five year period of not less than three quarters of a billion dollars.

"The district commissioners now found themselves with a white elephant on their hands. They had succeeded first in proving that what had previously been looked on as a group of unrelated little problems, each affecting a separate section of the district, was in fact one big problem affecting the district as a whole. They had no difficulty next in providing a plan of construction which would solve that problem, and which presented no insuperable physical obstacles. So far, so good. But three quarters of a billion dollars is a lot of money, whether it is to be expended in one year or in twenty. Some effective organization with ample legal authority to find that money and to administer its expenditure had to be created.

"With the same energy they had shown in the other phases of their work, they set out to formulate the legal and financial plan. They soon found that other explorers in the field of government have discovered—that it is easier to plan a public work than to find an equitable method of apportioning its costs among the beneficiaries; that it is easier to pierce that state boundary line which may happen to run down the middle of that river; that it is easier to achieve unit control in train operation than to accomplish multiple unit control with 265 municipalities.

"Finally, the commission made the bold assertion that adequate planning for a comprehensive transit system was impossible unless all other essentials of urban land utilization were combined with it. Among those essentials for northeastern New Jersey, the report specified regional water supply systems, regional sewerage, and regional meadows reclamation—all of which are at present in the hands of special state commissions—and subdivision control, which except in one or two municipalities, is not being exercised at all.

"It proposed, therefore, as the prerequisite to transit construction, the conversion of the North Jersey Transit District into the North Jersey Metropolitan District, to be governed by an elected commission, that commission to have financial autonomy, a separate debt limit, authority to levy taxes and special assessments, and power to construct, finance and operate public improvements of a regional nature.

"When the North Jersey Transit Commission combined Sewerage, water supply, meadows reclamation and subdivision control with rapid transit, was it writing nonsense or molding history?" Mr. Cornick asks. "Time alone can tell," he replies. "In any event, a joint resolution providing for a commission to study the entire problem of regional government in New Jersey is now before the legislature in the state."

Mrs. H. Lester Hamilton and daughter, Constance, of Holmes Street and her mother, Mrs. Frederick H. Brenn of 156 Parker Street, Newark, returned Friday from a stay of two months at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Church Breakfast Served By Women

More Than 500 Holy Name Members Gather For Belleville Event

Five hundred and thirty-four men attended the annual communion breakfast of the Holy Name Society of St Peter's Church, Sunday at the school hall. The breakfast was served by the women of the parish after the men had received Holy Communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Edwin J. Field, pastor of the church.

The speakers and their subjects were: Edward J. Hart, "History as the Confirmation of Ethical and Religious Development;" Charles F. X. O'Brien, county register of Hudson County, "Spiritual Ethics of Life Applicable to Daily Vocations;" Circuit Court Judge Edwin C. Caffrey, "God as the Primary Cause and Objective of Life," and Rev. Harold Purcell, C. P., editor of The Sign, a magazine published by the Passionist Order, "The Need of Social and Religious Commingling." Father Field also spoke.

Mr. Hart traced the history of the Catholic Church and told of the part it has played in the development of the arts, literature and science. Judge Caffrey related some of his experiences as a Common Pleas Judge before he went on the Circuit Court bench. He urged young men to be loyal to their church and their homes. He told of the increase of crime among young people and blamed it on the lack of religious training.

The toastmaster, Frank A. Neary, was introduced by William Watters, president of the society.

Fourth Man Fights For Seat On Council

Another candidate has filed a petition for councilman from the Third ward of Bloomfield. James A. Wylie, former town engineer of Nutley, filed his petition with Town Clerk J. Cory Johnson Friday morning. He makes the fourth candidate who will seek the Republican nomination for councilman in the June primary. The other candidates are Daniel Shafer, Henry Albenson and J. W. Betts.

Mrs. Joseph King of 28 Malone Avenue was hostess to a luncheon club yesterday.

Public Service Electric and Gas Company

Frigidaire Company Works Three Shifts

DAYTON, OHIO, April 18—With its mammoth plants operating overtime, many departments working at night, some on triple shifts and production of several models more than doubled, Frigidaire Corporation is making herculean efforts to meet an unprecedented demand for electric refrigerators. All records for compressor shipments were broken in March.

Orders received during the first week in April alone were sufficient to tax the factory capacity for several weeks. The Frigidaire payroll is the highest in its history and the corporation is experiencing a period of the greatest popularity its products have ever enjoyed, according to E. G. Biechler, president and general manager.

The organization exceeded its sales quota for the first quarter. March shipments were fifty per cent ahead of the month preceding and 35 per cent ahead of the same month last year. During March a total of 1040 carloads of finished products left the factories for all parts of the world. Units crated for export were 50 per cent more in number than during the same month of the preceding year.

"Prospects for April indicate still more broken records," said Mr. Biechler. "We have already doubled scheduled production of our popular models. March orders and shipments were ahead of forecasts and as a consequence April shipments will be the greatest in our history."

"People called at Frigidaire display and sales rooms last month in steadily increasing numbers to inspect new models. The percentage of floor sales was the highest we have ever experienced. General warm weather prevailing this spring has had something to do with the unusually early demand. But the introduction of the new Frigidaire cold control, through which the user can obtain any necessary temperature for dessert making has, we believe, contributed even more to present phenomenal conditions.

"More than 25,000 of these cold control devices have been ordered as special equipment for machines in the field, which is a fair indication as to what people best able to judge of the value of this device actually think of its particular advantages. It is not merely a temperature adjustment for the food compartment but it is primarily a device for controlling freezing speeds in the dessert and ice trays and is capable of producing near-zero temperatures in the freezing compartment at the turn of a handle."

The newest household model, with a capacity of four cubic feet for food storage, selling at the lowest price in Frigidaire history seems destined to become the most popular model yet introduced. Although production has been increased twice in the past four weeks the factories are thousands of orders behind on this particular model and the demand is increasing steadily, according to Mr. Biechler.

"The average user will put more things in an electric refrigerator than she will in an ice box," he said. "For this reason we have felt that a cabinet with a storage compartment of five cubic feet was the smallest we should build for general use. But there has been a long and insistent demand for a smaller household model, which we have been forced to supply with a four cubic foot cabinet. This is a beautiful unit, equipped with the cold control, self-sealing ice trays, and other exclusive features which have helped to make Frigidaire the choice of the majority. In refrigerating results it equals any of our highest priced models."

Two outstanding features of the month were the marked increase in sales of household equipment and the increase in the number of installations made through power and light companies. Frigidaire Corporation recently began the policy of shipping its smaller household units completely assembled, ready to plug into an electric outlet. As a result, power companies are increasing their retail sales of the corporation's products.

JAPAN DELEGATES APPROVE NASH "400"

Nash manufacturing principles and merchandising policies received the unqualified approval of these overseas visitors who were guests at Kenosha Nash headquarters last week. The party was headed by Seishichi Iwasaki (center) of the Aoi Motor Car Company, Nash distributor in Tokyo. Mr. Iwasaki, a graduate of Cornell University, is the Japanese employers' delegate en route to the International Labour Conference in Geneva. He is also president of the Tokyo Gas Company and vice-president of the Tokyo Chamber of Commerce.

Cut Ground Hazards At New York Airport

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 18—Early opening of New York City's municipal airport, Floyd Bennett Field, was forecast by Clarence Chamberlin, consulting aeronautical engineer for the airport, with the awarding of contracts for nearly a mile and a half of broad concrete runways to eliminate the hazards of landing and taking off of heavy transport planes.

Mr. Chamberlin, hero of the New York to Germany flight, recently returned from an aerial tour of Europe inspecting its principal airports. In Floyd Bennett Field he is incorporating every possible modern feature which will add to the security and efficiency of commercial aviation.

New York, without an airport of its own, has hitherto had to depend on ports located far out on Long Island or in New Jersey. The time required to reach the heart of the city from any of the flying fields materially reduced the saving in time effected by inter-city air passage. The site selected for the municipal airport is on Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, within easy access of Manhattan.

A roughly rectangular port, consisting of 380 acres, has been laid out. In the ample space reserved for administration and terminal buildings, hangars, etc., Mr. Chamberlin hopes to build one huge structure combining under one roof all airport service units. One concrete runway 3100 feet long parallels Flatbush avenue in front of the proposed port building; another runway 4,000 feet long is to extend at right angles to the first, the far northeast corner of the port. In the contract just awarded for these runways, the third of their type to be built in America, a width of fifty feet is specified. It is probable, however, that when complete they will be 100 feet wide, for it was found that the cost of the fifty-foot runways was considerably lower than the original estimate. As a consequence, and in view of the greater utility of the 100 foot strips, plans are being prepared to add fifty feet to the width of the runways.

Mr. Chamberlin has repeatedly stressed the importance of hard paved runways because of the danger of operating heavy planes on ground which becomes rutted in wet weather and dusty in dry.

Paved Runways for Army

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 18.—Authorization of an expenditure of nearly $800,000 for paved runways at Army Air Service flying fields by the last Congress is expected to result in a definite appropriation during the extra session.

As drafted, ten Army air fields are named in the authorization. Of these Randolph Field, Texas; Langley Field, Va., and March Field, California, are to be equipped with the most extensive installation. At March Field concrete has already been specified.

Nash Co. Issues Earnings Report

KENOSHA, WIS., April 18—At a meeting of the directors of The Nash Motors Company held April 10, 1929 the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share was declared payable May 1, 1929 to stockholders of record at the close of business April 20, 1929.

The company reported that for the first quarter, covering the months of December, January and February, after all expenses of manufacturing, including depreciation, selling and administration and providing for taxes, state and federal, the net income amounted to $4,118,870.49 as compared with $2,604,378.12 for the same quarter a year ago, an increase of 58.1 per cent.

In commenting on the report, President C. W. Nash said, "The management feels that the earnings report is very satisfactory, particularly in view of the extremely cold weather during January and February which prevented dealers throughout a large portion of the country from making delivery of cars. Despite these adverse weather conditions January sales ran 77 per cent beyond January last year, and February exceeded last February 1-3 per cent. And with the more favorable weather of March, the first month of our second quarter, the popularity of the new '400' series, which was so pronounced during the fall, again manifested itself with the result that sales rose 44 per cent. beyond March, 1928."

"Orders on hand for April indicate that this month will show another great increase in sales and will emphasize again the high standing of our product with the public."

"Export sales are setting new records also, with business for the first quarter of this fiscal year 25 per cent greater in volume than the corresponding period last year. March export sales showed a further gain with nearly 32 per cent increase over March 1928."

"It is our belief that there never has been a line of cars giving owners more generally satisfactory service than this '400' series. Reports from the field show that the Nash dealer organization is in excellent condition and looking for continued big gains in business. Both as to the character of its product, and as to the prosperous status of its dealers The Nash Motors Company believes it occupies the most favorable position in its history."

Seaman Named Director In Nash

KENOSHA, Wis., April 18—(Special)—The appointment of Harold H. Seaman, president of the Seaman Body Company of Milwaukee, a half interest in which is owned by The Nash Motors Co., to the board of directors of Nash Motors, was announced here today by C. W. Nash.

Mr. Seaman, who has long been recognized as an outstanding leader in the automobile body building industry, has been closely identified with Nash Motors ever since its inception, and has played an important part in the success of the great Wisconsin manufacturing organization. His appointment to company directorship comes at the peak of Nash manufacturing achievement and is considered another mark of recognition of the success won by the famous Salon bodies which feature the Nash "400" Series of cars.

"Mr. Seaman finds a warm welcome at the Nash directors' board," President Nash said today. "It is a real pleasure to make this announcement of his well merited advancement and to bring him even closer into the management of all Nash Motors Company affairs. His judgment and counsel have always been valuable assets to the company and his executive ability and untiring energy have earned the respect and confidence of us all."

"In achieving the Salon bodies for the '400' Series of Nash cars, Mr. Seaman and his organization have climaxed a remarkable success in the world's coach building field and one that is recognized in Europe as well as in the United States. It is my opinion that the entire Nash organization is to be congratulated on this addition to the directorship."

The Directors of the Nutley Chamber of Commerce have written to the Essex County Board of Freeholders, disagreeing with the conclusion of County Traffic Engineer Hawley S. Simpson that traffic lights are not necessary at Union Avenue and Center street and Passaic avenue and Center street, Nutley.

Mr. Simpson, replying to a request of the Nutley Board of Commissioners, following several accidents at the intersections mentioned, that lights be installed there, said that the only requirement was the enforcement of the stop-street regulation.

Taken to headquarters, the boy confessed to the robbery of the High School and Park School with the aid of two older boys, 13 and 14, during the last three months. Mr. Ings found the rear door open after discovering the second floor ransacked.

Police believe a key was used in this instance. A half-inch jimmy was used to pry open a rear window in the home of Mrs. William Harris Arnold of 98 Whitford avenue. A similar tool was used in recent robberies in neighboring towns.

A linen closet and two bureaus in the Arnold home were pried open Mrs. Arnold is at her New York home. Police were unable to determine the loss. The entry was discovered by an employee Friday morning.

Option By Cirrus Taken On Airport

Signs Ten-Year Lease For Use Of Pine Brook Field.

The American Cirrus Engine Company of Belleville has signed an optional ten-year lease for use of the Pine Brook airport, after withdrawing its application for space at the Newark Airport, it has been announced by company officials.

On April 8 in a letter to Newark officials, Allan C. Hoffman, vice president of the company, wrote that he was returning the unsigned application for space at the Newark Airport, partly because of the length of time taken in negotiating for property and also because the company deemed it more advisable to locate elsewhere.

The letter thanked Newark officials for their "hearty co-operation and courtesy," and expressed the hope that inasmuch as the company plant is in the Newark area, opportunities to use the airport would ensue later to the benefit of the company and the city.

The company plans to hold its test and demonstration flights at the Pine Brook field, as well as a service station for Cirrus engines. It will share the field with the Union Airways, Inc., which has a flying school there.

Minisi, recently appointed judge of the District Court of the Second Judicial District of Essex.

Judge Minisi was born in Newark and educated in the Public and Law schools of this city. During his third year at law school he gave up his studies to become a part of the vast Army taking part in the World War. He went to Camp Dix and became a part of the 312th Infantry Regiment, 78th Lightning Division. The Division was then under the command of Major General Hugh L. Scott, now Chairman of the New Jersey Road Commission. From a private in the rear rank Minisi the student-rookie was soon promoted to corporal and later became a sergeant. While on the battlefields of France his soldierly qualities were further recognized and soon he was commissioned a Lieutenant. Upon his return to America after the Armistice he became a member of the 78th Division Reserve. He is now a Captain of Infantry. Minisi resumed the studies of law and soon successfully passed his bar examination. In 1923 he became Counsellor-at-Law. He was always taken an interest in veteran welfare. He served for two years as Commander of the Teddy Roosevelt Post American Legion, two years as President and seven years as Trustee of the 312th Infantry Association, three years as Vice Commander of the Veterans' Alliance of Essex County. In 1925 and 1926 he served as a member of the New Jersey Legislature. In 1928 he was made Parliamentarian of the House. When the Legislature for 1929 was organized he became Secretary to the Speaker of the House. He resigned this position when Governor Larson appointed him Judge of the Second District Court of Irvington.

Villani, Chairman Ticket Committee; Colonel Richard Hartdegen, Chairman Reception Committee; Edward Fenias, Chairman Speakers Committee; Carlos V. Girod, Chairman Publicity Committee; Anthony A. ## Country Club Diners Undisturbed By Blaze

Fire in a kitchen ventilator at Yountakak Country Club, failed to alarm diners or disrupt service Sunday night. The alarm was telephoned to police headquarters shortly after 8 o'clock. Firemen responded with more than usual alacrity, recollecting a blaze that destroyed a former club-house on the property years ago.

The blaze was caused by grease and soot in the ventilator. No serious damage was done.

NUTLEY YOUTH AND HIS PUPPETS TO TRAVEL CHAUTAUQUA CIRCUIT

Osmond Molarsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Molarsky of 62 High street, a freshman at Swarthmore College, will show his puppets this summer on the Chautauqua circuit, which will include Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Vermont. The puppets are well known in this vicinity, having been shown in the schools, Newark Library and Museum and Montclair Art Museum and schools.

Molarsky, who is nineteen years old, has been exhibiting the puppets about five years. When a child, he saw a show in Gloucester, Mass., put on by Lillian Owens. This made such an impression on him that he began work of his own. From stocking rag dolls, he experimented in carved wood and paper mache. All the clothes, curtains and theatre properties have been made and designed by him. The puppets, numbering thirteen, stand about two and a half feet high. Various critics who have seen them feel that their activity and tricks are remarkable, especially the character of Mobile Zeek, the colored sheik.

Among others are Hans and Fritz, Pickanninies, the Nancy Brig, Clementina and Samantha Ann and a scene from "The Merchant of Venice."

Last winter Molarsky assisted Edna St. Vincent Millay in directing a play, "Two Slatters and a King," at the Little Theatre, Swarthmore. One of his ideas was that Chance, the principal character, dress like a clown and repeat the act of the prologue in the play. Molarsky is ambitious to become a theatrical producer. He was part author last year at "The Unfinished Symphony," an operetta written and produced by Nutley High School students.

Hat For Half Dollar At Belleville Lions' Club

William MacNair of 185 Linden avenue, has a new hat. It's a perfectly good, non-breakable black derby of the latest style, and he bought it for fifty cents Thursday at the regular meeting of the Lions club at the Elks' Home.

The hat, donated by A. E. Loucher as an attendance prize, was won by Brewster H. Jones. As he isn't partial to the type, he gave the headpiece to the club to be raffled off for the benefit of the charity fund. Twenty-five cents a member was asked and in a few minutes $9 was added to the fund and Charles Gebhardt was wearing the hat, which didn't quite fit.

"Who wants it for a half a dollar?" he cried. "I," responded Mr. MacNair, who had been sizing up the head-piece and thought it would fit him. It did. Recorder George Fitzsimmons talked on his experience as police judge in Belleville. He stressed the need of play places for children, saying frequent complaints come from people annoyed by boys playing in the street.

Birthday Party.

Dancing was then enjoyed. Refreshments were served with the assistance of Mrs. Irvin, Mrs. A. Storms, Mrs. F. Ward, Mrs. J. Chrenko, Mrs. W. Hanner, Mrs. J. Buttery, and Miss M. Sweeney. Vinnie received many pretty gifts from her friends.

A midnight supper at the John J. Daly Association headquarters at 83 Harrison street, Belleville, will follow a dance of the association at the Belleville Elks' Club tomorrow night. Vaudeville acts by entertainers of the Belleville Gardens Hotel will be presented between dances.

Award Jannarone Contract For Paving

Mayor Cook Introduces Ordinance On Taxicabs

The contract for laying new concrete pavement, curb and sidewalks on Bloomfield avenue, from Daily street to Harrison street, and on Orange street and Melvina street, Nutley, was awarded Tuesday night by the Commissioners to Carmen Jannarone. The bid was $65,033. The town had appropriated $97,000 for the work.

Mayor Ernest P. Cook introduced an ordinance which was passed for a hearing April 30, providing for licensing and operation of taxicabs. It specifies the owner must post with the town, a surety bond or insurance policy for $5,000 for each vehicle operated, for the protection of passengers of others who might be injured. Maximum fare charges are established at forty cents the first half mile for one or two passengers, ten cents for each quarter mile thereafter, ten cents for each three minutes of waiting and twenty cents for each additional passenger. When hired by the hour, the maximum charge is fixed at $3.50 for the first hour and $3.00 for each additional hour, while a flat rate of $30 is established for engagement by the day, or ten hours.

The owner is required to purchase a license at $10 per year and drivers at $2 per year. The driver must be twenty-one years old and a citizen. Cruising and parking of vehicles outside of designated areas are prohibited. A fine of $25 of thirty days in jail or both, is applicable for violation of any section of the ordinance.

Ordinances providing construction of concrete pavement, curb and sidewalk in East Center street and Walnut street, south to Washington avenue, estimated to cost $35,000, and installation of water connections in those streets, estimated to cost $2,800, were passed for hearings April 30.

A petition from Teresa Gennaro, 161 Mt. Prospect avenue, Newark, to change a corner of Union avenue and ing street from residential to business zone, was referred to the Zoning Board of Adjustment. Also referred to this board was a petition from Stanley Sabatino of 33 High street, Newark, to change the zone on the west side of Bloomfield avenue, between Laurel and Emily avenues, to a "two-and-one-half-family" zone.

Abraham Slaaf of Yale street objected to an award of $1,000 for acquisition of fifty feet of his property for extension of that street. The board upheld the offer of the Board of Assessors. Commissioner Sheppard declared $20 per foot was a fair award for unimproved property.

Frank Bucknow of 130 Grant avenue said smoke from the Hudson Hat Company at Park and Washington avenues created a health menace to residents in that neighborhood and children in Washington avenue School. The matter was referred to Health Officer Eugene H. Sullivan.

Mrs. Anna B. Warner of 72 Cathedral avenue wrote that a neighbor filled in a ditch used to drain storm water from property in that section, installing a pipe too small to carry the water. Surrounding property was flooded as a result, she declared. The matter was referred to the Department of Streets and Public Improvements.

SHORT CUTS IN THE SCHOOL

Short cuts in education—hasty steps by school officials, impromptu acts of expediency by teachers, snapshot judgment by parents of pupils—often prove the longest way to the goal.

Ill-considered short cuts can lead to disturbing consequences, and—in many instances—to waste of community funds, to impairment of school morale, to a wrong attitude on the part of the pupils.

Short cuts in the schools can be as detrimental as in any other activity of life. That they can be the bane of existence is evidenced in our daily lives by the jaywalker who perils his life to cross the street in midblock; the fellow who tramples the lawn at street corners; the chap who dashes zig-zaggedly through crowded traffic just to gain a second of time; the automobile driver who takes the turn at fifty an hour with consequent strain on offside tires.

There is the misguided youth who washes the starboard side of his face and neglects the highways and byways of ears and neck; the individual who jumps to the closing chapter of a book to know how the plot comes out; who wants to leap headlong into the game but is loath to undergo the necessary period of training; who indulges in snap judgment rather than endure the discomfort of thinking his way to logical conclusion.

Short-sighted short cuts find their parallel in the schools. The new member of the School Board who wants to control the school policies before he has become acquainted with the school needs thorough experience in taking a short cut. The teacher who wishes to get into the school system through influence of friends or other means before she has prepared herself by proper training and practice-teaching is taking the short cut. The pupil who quits school in order to get to earning money is taking the short cut. The parent who wants the child passed on to the next succeeding grade in spite of the fact that the child's foundation is not adequate is advocating the short cut. The pupil who loafs in school and manages to get through to graduation partly on bluff is taking the short cut.

The school officials who promote policies tempered by local pressure, where these are not for the best interest of the young people, are taking short cuts. The executive who sacrifices the school's interests for public favor is taking the short cut. The teacher who goes to the Board of Education on school problems or the school official who deals directly with the teacher rather than through the regular channel of the superintendent's office, is taking the short cut. The parent who condones antagonistic sentiment to school or teacher on the part of the pupil is encouraging that pupil to take the short cut. The community unwilling to finance adequately the deserving school program is taking the short cut. The school district which affords a six-month school while its neighbors operate nine months is taking the short cut. The parent who unloads on the school all responsibility for pupil attendance, progress and behavior is taking the short cut.

The business of education is a seasoned profession, evolved by thinking men and women, based upon years of research and experience. Advocates of short cuts in it should think before lending support to doubtful departures.

THE TALLEST TOWER

Work has already been started on the Chrysler building in New York, which will overtop the Woolworth building by 17 feet. Plans have now been drawn for a 63-story structure, the Bank of Manhattan building, which will be 840 feet high, 31 feet more than the Chrysler.

The new skyscraper, located in the heart of the financial district, on historic Wall street, will be a conspicuous addition to the astonishing skyline of the most amazing city of the modern world. To anticipate the inevitable flood of questions, however, it is worth noting that the Bank of Manhattan building, when completed next year, will be the tallest office building in the world, but not the tallest structure ever reared by man. The Eiffel Tower, with its 984 feet, has held that record for 40 years and is likely to retain it for several years more.

MODERN BOYHOOD

The kites flown this Spring are not homemade. They are manufactured in mass production, and sold for a nickel or a dime or some such sum. They represent the industrialization of one of boyhood's last old-fashioned privileges.

The old swimmin' hole has vanished, replaced by the sanitary and regulated swimming pool. Fishing becomes annually more difficult for boys living in the growing cities. Supervised play has taken the place of "one old cat," and hockey has replaced shinney. Now the boys are buying manufactured kites. For the sake of their contentment, we hope they never learn what they're missing.

Reports from Washington say that women of the Nation control 41 per cent of its wealth. This is surprising information. We always believed they controlled 99 per cent of it.

Calvin Coolidge recently paid New York City a visit and got back to Northampton without any of the metropolitan reporters discovering what he came to New York for. As a remarkable achievement this probably stands out as the greatest Calvin Coolidge ever performed.

The Waterbury American declares that "the bill board must go." If the women of America have decided this form of outdoor advertising must be eliminated it seems probable that the days of the bill board are numbered.

TRAVEL TRIFLES

The transatlantic passenger liners give the American railroads at the ports a travelling party each year which exceeds the complete population of the state of Maine.

In Paris the oldest house is now a laundry. It was built 250 years before Columbus discovered America. It may be found on the Cite, near the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

Nine German cities which keep track of the number of American tourists who visit them annually, report an annual total of about 80,000, the cities favored most being Berlin, Cologne and Munich.

Americans visiting Switzerland seem to go mostly to Interlaken, Lucerne, Geneva, Vevey, Montreux, St. Moritz and Lausanne, in all of which resorts nearly one-fourth of the visitors are from America.

Dresden china was really originated in Meissen nearby. There in 1700, Johann Boettger was experimenting for a process to make gold and discovered the art of making white porcelain which has been made there ever since. Meissen is an interesting town with its cathedral and beautiful castle.

The Swiss tourist industry is intimately linked with its watch industry. An Englishman visiting the canton of Neuchatel in 1680 needed repair work done on his watch. A clever locksmith was asked to try his skill, and he was inspired by success to attempt to make a watch himself. Thus started the great Swiss industry.

Precisely 80 years to the day before the "Graf Zeppelin" landed in Lakehurst the first German transatlantic line was inaugurated by the departure from Hamburg of the sailing ship "Deutschland."

The national museums of the Paris district comprising the Louvre, Luxembourg, Cluny, Versailles, Saint Germain, LaFitte, are in a flourishing condition. The number of new exhibits acquired each year is in the thousands, and the sale of reproductions of works of art brings in a profit of $46,880.00 a year. About two million tourists from all lands visited the museums annually.

The oldest restaurants in the world, all of them much frequented by tourists, are the Bratwurstglocklein at Nuremberg, where sausage has been eaten for 525 years, the Mitre Hotel at Oxford, which has a service of 500 years, the Cafe de la Regence in Paris, which has been open for 200 years and the Ratskeller in Bremen, built in 1405. The Capello Nero of Venice also counts its age in centuries.

If all the passengers who visited Europe in a year, were to catch hold of each other's hand, they would stretch a line from Albany to Buffalo, or from Chicago to St. Louis.

In spite of the unkind attention which the English Channel has in the minds of those who do not swim across it, over three million passengers a year cross it in the steamers between France and England.

All strangers entering Cologne by auto now receive at the outskirts of the city, free of charge, a small map showing the route by which the center of the city can best be reached, and giving the location of the hotels, garages, and public buildings en route. Different maps have been prepared for every one of the ten main streets leading into the city. In Berlin the German Automobile Club furnishes special "pilots" to guide tourists to their destination.

One of the most popular of Paris exhibitions is the Concours Lejune, held in August and September. This is a show reserved to small inventors who exhibit their ingenious household devices and toys, hoping to gain recognition and wealth.

Persons who wish to see the Midnight Sun must be in Norway at the North Cape from May 14th to August 1st, at Tromsøe from May 21st to July 26th or at Bodo from June 5th to July 13th.

The first advertisement printed in a newspaper was a "Travel Ad," in the Gazette de France, July 4th 1631, advertising the waters of Forges.

According to reliable estimates about 30,000 Americans visit Holland annually, spending each year about a million dollars.

Taxis are not favored by visitors to Rome; they prefer horse-drawn cabs. To meet this demand 600 new ones are being licensed. The horses must be "young, well-fed and robust" with drivers wearing neat, well-tailored uniforms, officially designed.

As an illustration of the manner in which tourists use airplanes in Germany, the Tempelhof airport states that in the month of August eighty planes either arrived or departed each day, carrying in that month 6,257 passengers and 200 tons of freight.

Although Czechoslovakia has been on the tourist map of Europe only since the war, nearly ten thousand American and Canadian find it worthy of a lengthy visit each summer. em-rbT zofasb oWrat feq-rd du d

In response to the universal demand from American tourists for quaint English inns a concern called "Trust Houses Ltd." has been formed giving a list of 35 inns. Nor has the mere gathering finished to job. We read in the circular that the traveler "even in a 15th century hostelry may be sure of a hot bath, clean linen, well-cooked meals attractively served, and efficient, modern service."

The first known record of a ship is on an Egyptian monument, 4,000 years old. It was propelled for forty oars.

Of passengers who leave American continental ports for Europe, it is found that nearly 11 per cent are Canadians, nearly 10 per cent are foreigners returning to Europe after a visit to America and Canada, nearly 28 per cent are immigrants returning to their native lands and a little over 50 per cent are strictly American tourists.

For the amusements of overseas visitors, London has 470 theatres, 64 parks comprising 91,000 acres, 197 bus routes, 40 day coach trips, 65 steamship trips, 122 golf courses, 615 tennis courts, 49 dance-halls, 171 historic buildings and 624 restaurants.

The cheapest air trip in the world is to be had in Germany at Bad Oeynhausen, Westphalia, where for $5 a passenger can fly over half of Germany in about three hours.

Cagnes-sur-Mer, France, has been discovered by American artists. This little medieval town near Nice promises to supplant Paris as a center of American painters. They find there unlimited subjects for painting, together with living expenses much more moderate than those in the city.

For the benefit of those whom the word "Dolomites" is but a name, which some associate with "The Dol drums," it may be explained that the Dolomites are part of the Alpine chain of mountains in the northeast of Italy. Previous to the Great War part of the Dolomite country was in South Tyrol, Austria, but the new frontier line has brought the whole district of 45 square miles within the confines of Italy. It is a region full of tourists the year round.

Iceland, though a northern island, is misnamed. Instead of vast areas of unmelting ice-fields, the surface is highly volcanic, with vast areas of lava field. There are hot springs and geysers and a great volcano is liable any moment to sudden eruption, but collectors have found 130 different varieties of flowers growing there.

Parknasilla, Ireland, is in the same latitude as lower Hudson Bay, but is in such a sheltered situation that the vegetation is sub-tropical, with palm trees lining the roads, very much as in the West Indies.

A. S. Micone Writes Commission Anent Hardware Closing

Editor The News: Attached herewith you will find a true copy of a letter which has been mailed to the Town Commissioners. I feel that this matter should be brought to the public and trust that it will receive your co-operation and support.

I am, Very truly yours, ANTHONY S. MICONE.

April 12, 1929

Board of Commissioners, Town of Belleville, Belleville, N. J. Honored Sirs:

A representative of some Women's Club of this Town approached me last week asking that I affix my name to a petition, to be addressed to your Honorable body, memorizing you to bring about the closing of Hardware stores, and other places of business dealing in house furnishings and other commodities.

I refused to sign this petition, not because I make a practice of opening my store on Sunday, but for the reason that I believe that this is a matter touching the individuals concerned, and should not be subject to municipal restrictions.

It raised the mooted question of strict Sabbatarian observance, and this differs greatly with locality. My personal feeling in the matter is that with such people as may have certain scruples as to this matter, they should feel free to follow the dictates of their convictions in his respect.

It is my feeling that any action by your body in such a matter would smack too much of provincialism, such as one would expect to meet in small rural communities where the inhabitants appear to have very little to interest them other than attending to the affairs of others. In the greater metropolitan areas in this country, the tendency is to leave these matters to the individual and not to impose restrictions which are usual with "small town" and the usual "small town" idea upon this question.

I hope that you will not be misled into taking a step which will savor of the rural viewpoint upon the matter. Obviously, if their idea were carried to its logical conclusion, every place of business should be closed, that no discrimination might be shown, and this would be a bit medieval, to use a mild characterization.

Jokes

While on a holiday trip to New Zealand, Dr. Henry van Dyke had an amusing experience when visiting a school for little children. The children had been taught to say, in reply to the question, "What would you do if a fire broke out in this building?" "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle and march quietly out of the building," and they repeated this in chorus several times. Dr. van Dyke came into the room and took a seat on the platform and the teacher asked the children, "What would you say if I told you that Dr. van Dyke is to speak to you this morning?" They promptly replied in chorus, "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building!"

A correspondent wrote as follows: "Dear Editor—Please tell me the name of the most reliable fortune teller."

The editor wisely replied, "Dun and Bradstreet, New York City."—U. S. Publisher.

Mistress (to cook from the country)—Well, what do you think of our gas fires? Cook—I think they're wonderful, ma'am. Why, those in the kitchen haven't gone out since I came here over a week ago.

At a public school examination in free-hand drawing a pupil appeared without a pencil. He was promptly taken to task by the teacher. "What would you think of a soldier without a gun?" she demanded. "Why," stammered the boy, who happened to be a member of this school's training corps, "Why, I should think he was an officer."

The prosecution had a strong case against Paddy. His hat, which all the inhabitants could identify, had been found on the premises. Paddy, however, denied all knowledge of the headgear, and swore that he was not within a mile of the place at the time of the outrage, and so well did his witnesses corroborate his statement that he was able to prove an alibi. Paddy was found "not guilty" but seemed reluctant to leave the dock. The magistrate, thinking he did not understand the verdict, explained: "Well, my man, you are discharged; you need not wait." If ye please, yer honor," replied Paddy, "I'm waitin' for me hat."

A bright boy in a Western city was asked to write an essay of two hundred and fifty words on an automobile ride. A studied effort resulted in a fair description of a family ride abruptly terminated by a sudden crash into a telegraph pole. "Now," wrote the boy, "I have one hundred words. The remaining one hundred and fifty are what father said when the crash came, and it would not be best to repeat them."

Terrence stood in the Union station waiting for the Medford train. The busy doors were swinging in and out and the people were bustling to the long and crowded trains. Suddenly a nervous man, with a natty grip and an Easter lily, rushed in. He looked around in a dazed way, while the lily swayed with sympathetic emotion, and at last he spied Terrence. He took the Irishman by the arm. "I say, my friend," and he pointed across the room, "is that clock right over there?" Terrence gazed at the wall, and, dodging the lily, turned around with a look of pity on his ruddy face. "Begorra, an' it ain't nowhere else, sorr."

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1928-29 by Wynne Ferguson
Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1928, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 17

Y :
A B :
Z :

There has been much discussion as to the advisability of bidding four or more of a suit headed by the ace king without an outside trick. Practically all players agree that such a bid is a losing bid if the bidder is left in to play the hand, but they also agree that the information given by such a bid is of the greatest value to partner if the opponents win the final declaration. In other words, such a bid is weak as an offensive proposition but strong from a defensive standpoint. For example, suppose as dealer you hold the following hand:

Hearts—10, 6
Clubs—8, 4, 2
Diamonds—9, 8, 7, 6, 3
Spades—A, K, 7, 4

If you bid one spade on this hand and are left in to play it, you probably will go down a trick or so; but even then you doubtless will have saved a game by doing so. On the other hand, suppose you bid one spade, second hand bids two hearts and all pass. Your partner now knows what to lead—and how often that information saves the game!

From a defensive standpoint there is no doubt as to the value of bidding top cards, such as ace king suits with four or more, on the opening round. If you pass such a hand, the contract may be too high to justify a bid on the second round.

For example, suppose the dealer passes with the foregoing hand, second hand bids one heart, the dealer's partner passes and the partner of the heart bidder says "three hearts". What can the dealer do then? His hand is too weak to bid three spades, so he is forced to pass and his partner, without the information given by the spade bid, is forced to guess as to the proper lead and is more apt to guess wrong than right.

Don't hesitate to bid a suit containing top cards on the first round of bidding and thus anticipate an adverse declaration that otherwise might puzzle partner as to the proper lead. Such bids are always sound defensive bids and the advantages of bidding them more than outweigh their disadvantages.

For example, here are two hands where the lead is an important factor:

Hearts—A, 7, 6
Clubs—10, 8, 5
Diamonds—Q, J, 9, 7, 5
Spades—Q, 9

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A bid one heart, Y bid two diamonds, B bid four hearts and all passed. What is Y's proper lead? The only lead that would have saved game is in this hand was the queen of spades; but how many players would be able to guess that lead? The normal opening is the queen of diamonds and with this Z's hand A B will easily score game.

Z's hand was as follows:

Hearts—5
Clubs—9, 6, 3, 2
Diamonds—8, 4, 2
Spades—A, K, 5, 3

He said after the hand that he didn't consider the hand contained a sound opening bid. That probably was true from a bidding standpoint, but not from a defensive one. Don't hesitate to make these bids as dealer, or as defensive bids on the first round, provided, of course, the preceding bids are not too high.

Here is another hand showing the importance of the opening lead:

Hearts—K, J, 7, 4
Clubs—10, 8, 5, 2
Diamonds—7, 6, 3
Spades—A, 8

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A bid one diamond, Y passed, B bid one no trump and Z passed. A bid five diamonds and all passed. What is Y's proper opening lead? The only lead that will defeat the bid is the ace of spades, followed by the eight. A will win this trick and lead a diamond which Z will win with the ace. Z will then lead a spade, which Y will trump and thus defeat the contract by one trick. Any other lead by Y with the foregoing hand will give A B the game and rubber.

The lead is so very important in Auction, and even more so at Contract, that too much thought cannot be devoted to a study of sound leads. When a positive direction as to the proper lead can be given on the first round, don't hesitate to make the bid even without only four or more to the ace king and no outside tricks.

Here is a tricky hand just submitted by a correspondent:

A B :
Z :

Hearts—Q, J, 4, 3
Clubs—10, 9
Diamonds—9, 8, 7, 6, 3
Spades—A, 9

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed and Y bid one club. If B passed, what should Z bid with the foregoing hand? An analysis of this hand and the holdings of the other three players will be given in the next article.

Here is another query from a correspondent:

Problem No. 21

Diamonds—Q, 9, 8
Spades—A, 10, 4

Z :

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, bid one no trump and A passed, what should Y bid with the foregoing hand? An analysis of this hand and of no trump take-outs will be given in the next article.

Here is a hand where the play is the all-important feature. Figure out your plan of play and compare with the analysis that will be given in the next article:

Hearts—9, 8, 5, 2
Clubs—9, 6
Diamonds—10
Spades—K, Q, 9, 8, 6, 5

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed, Y bid one no trump, B bid two hearts, Z bid two spades and passed. Y bid two no trump, B bid three diamonds, Z bid three spades and all passed. A opened a low heart which B won with the ace. B returned a low heart and all followed suit. How should Z play the hand from there on?

Spring Garden P. T. A. Has Regular Meeting

Feature Is Presentation To Schools Of Stillotton Machine.

The regular meeting of the Parent Teacher Association of Spring Garden School was held Tuesday night. Frank Rusby led the Community singing.

The soloist of the evening was Mrs. William Smith, who sang two groups of songs. A feature of the evening was the presentation by the Association to the school of a Stillotton Progressive Machine.

J. L. Redstone of New York, a still film operator, demonstrated the working of the machine.

The Parent Teacher Association also presented to the school ten silk American flags and a New Jersey State flag and Confederate Battle flag. Harry Little gave a talk on the history of the flags.

The Art of Painting

EVEN the small boy, who touches up his express wagon with a little red color, paints—that is, performs the act of painting.

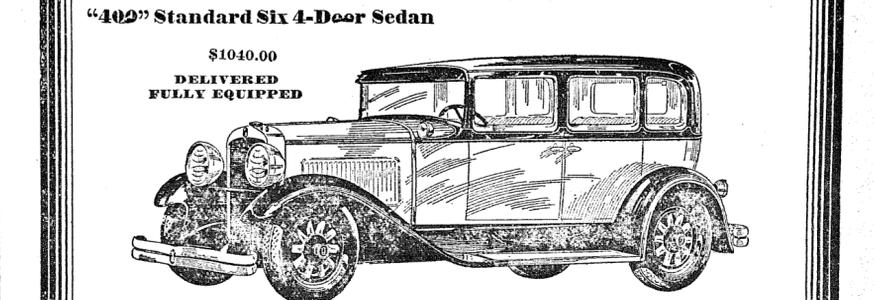

The art of painting is another thing. It involves a thorough knowledge of materials and methods—an understanding of surfaces, paint mixing and paint applying.

We have this knowledge—mix our paint specially for each job so that it perfectly meets all conditions. Only the best materials are used, such as Dutch Boy white-lead.

Long-lasting, good-looking paint work is the rule with us. May we submit an estimate?

THE RECORD BREAKING NEW NASH "400"

Ask the Salesman this Question:

EVERY prospective motor car purchaser should ask every salesman he talks to, this question: "What is the price of this car, delivered to me, fully equipped with all the equipment?"

You should also ask what the difference is between the factory (f. o. b.) price and the delivered price—and then ask what that difference buys.

Heretofore it has been customary for factory prices to cover only the bare car. This permits the dealer to sell you your bumpers and the other accessories, at retail prices.

Nash, in introducing the new "400"

Series, pioneered a new practice, by installing this extra equipment at the factory, at no extra cost to you.

When you ask the suggested question you'll find most salesmen (not Nash salesmen) reluctant to answer. They would rather not say how much more there is to pay, or what the extra money buys.

And you'll also find that by reason of the Nash policy, Nash "400" delivered, fully-equipped prices are much lower than those of many other cars with the same factory (f. o. b.) prices, and lower than some cars with even lower factory (f. o. b.) prices.

10 Sedans from $1040 to $1858, delivered. 8 Coupes, Cabriolets, Victorias from $970 to $2502 delivered.

St. Peter's Prepare For Opening Game In Legion League

The baseball team sponsored by the St. Peter's Dramatic Club underwent a strenuous workout, Saturday afternoon, at Clearman Field in preparation for their opening game in the American Legion League with the Capitols.

About twenty players reported for practice at the field. Twenty-six members of the club have announced their intention of trying for the team.

The team is being coached by John "Sugar" Flynn, who is assisted by "Biddy" Carragher and Joe Lister. About the beginning of May the team will be cut to a squad of 15 who will thereafter represent the club.

Among the candidates who have reported for practice to date are: Out field—Johnson, Kinnealy, Gorman, Brady, Hood, and Spillane; infield—Mallack, Lamb, Comeskey, Irving, Ashworth, Leonard, Lukowiak, Herkness, Howley, and Wengel; Pitchers—Curran, Flynn and Hannan; Catchers—Marshall and Welsh.

The starting lineup for the opening game has not as yet been picked, but it will be the best the club has to offer. Another practice is scheduled for next Saturday afternoon and all candidates for the team will be given a chance to show their wares before the coaches.

Nutley Tramples Upon East Side

Nutley High School's balltossers opened their season by trampling upon East Side High, 16 to 3 at Park Oval, Saturday.

Nutley showed great hitting power, walloping every pitcher East Side put in for a total of sixteen hits. East Side collected eight hits, combining three of these in the sixth inning to score their only three runs.

Nutley started right off in the first inning by gathering five runs on four hits a walk and a couple of misplays on the part of East Side.

Fenrich, a new pitcher who relieved Baykowski at the end of the fifth showed up very well. He was touched for three hits and three runs the first inning he was in the box but soon settled down and held the opposition scoreless the last three innings. Fenrich climaxed his creditable performance by striking out three of the invaders in the last inning.

Wallace, Stager and Jacques shared the hitting honors for Nutley while Cann and Cuzzo each connected for two hits to bolster East Side's amount. Saturday Nutley meets St. Benedict's Prep at Park Oval. Game starts at 3 o'clock.

NUTLEY CUBS TRIM FALCONS

Last Sunday at the Cubs' Oval the Falcons were the victims in the first game losing 8-5 to the Nutley Cubs. "Ray" Faith, on the mound for the victors, was in tip-top form, allowing but six hits and sending no less than twenty batters to the bench via the strikeout route.

The game was a nip and tuck affair for the first seven innings when the cubs forged ahead to keep the lead to the finish. Cullari, Gorman and Faith shared the hitting honors for the Cubs. Hepp, Ihde and "Walt" Kellett did the heavy stick work for the Falcons.

AMERICAN LEGION LEAGUE OPENS ON APRIL 27TH

The opening date of the American Legion Baseball League has been advanced from Monday, April 29, to Saturday afternoon, April 27. The Capitols and St. Peter's will battle one another then.

A gala program is being planned which includes a parade of all the teams, officials and town commissioners starting at the Town Hall, proceeding along Washington avenue to Joralemon street to Union avenue and to Clearman Field. Mayor Kenworthy will throw up the first ball with the Commandant of the American Legion to receive it.

At the Legion meeting it was also decided to close entrants into the league and proceed as a seven team league. Several new rules were made up dealing with umpires and the Legion executive board, as is shown in the league rules. The Park A. C. contract for players was submitted and accepted by the league.

Plans were furthered for the Legion Dance to be held May 10 at the Elks' home. Each club was given an allotment of tickets to sell in order to put the thing across.

Following are the rules:

1.—All League Games will be played on the Twilight Basis.
2.—Each league team shall be composed of not more than eighteen members. Each team shall on April 27th file a preliminary roster with the Belleville American Legion Athletic Director. After June 15th each team shall be limited to eighteen players. They shall on said June 15th submit their final roster of eighteen players and will not be permitted thereafter to play any other than those named on the final roster.

3.—A coach will be assigned to each club in the league. This assignment is to be made by the Athletic Director of the American Legion.
4.—An executive committee shall be formed which will have control over all executive, administrative, and all disputive matters in the league. This committee shall consist of one delegate appointed by each team, and also each coach assigned to the teams by the Athletic Director. The Athletic Director shall be the Chairman of said Committee. Said committee shall, on organization, select such other officers as it shall deem necessary.

5.—No player can transfer from any one team in the league to any other team in the league, unless said player shall give notice in writing of his intention to transfer two weeks previous to his playing on the team to which he is transferring. Said written notice to be given to the Athletic Director. No transfers, however are to be allowed after June 15.
6.—All games played shall stand even though there be changes in the make up of teams entered in the league.

7.—All umpires, scorers and other game officials shall be selected by the Executive Committee.
8.—Announcements as to prizes and Trophies to be awarded shall be made before June 15.
9.—The making of schedule shall be left to the Executive Committees, in the event of postponement of any league games for any reason whatsoever, the manner of playing off the postponement shall be entirely in the discretion of the Executive Committee.

10.—The rules of Organized Baseball shall govern in this league, excepting those instances where the league has formed a rule which is inconsistent with rules of Organized ball.
11.—Seven innings shall constitute a league game, excepting in the case of ties, or weather conditions, the umpire shall determine in his discretion the duration of the game.
12.—All players must lay in uniform forms.
13.—Each contesting team shall furnish the umpire with one new baseball at the beginning of each league game and the umpire is to return ball to the team at the end of the game.
14.—Umpires shall have full power to dismiss any player from the field for misconduct and report the same to the executive committee.
15.—All matters of misconduct of players or teams shall be dealt with by the executive committee, and the executive committee shall have full power to impose any penalties as to suspension that it may deem fit.
16.—The league shall adopt as its official ball the D. and M. baseball.

PUPILS GIVE TRAINING STUNTS

The annual physical training exhibition of Belleville High School was held Friday night in the gymnasium before an audience of 500. Many had to stand.

Sophomore girls appeared in a gymnastic exhibition and a mazurka. Freshmen girls danced a schottische and gave a wand drill. An Indian club drill and a waltz were given by junior and senior girls and a relay race was run by sophomores and freshmen.

The boys worked in teams, Lee Rutan leading. Rope skipping, tumbling, rope climbing and work on the bars were among the activities. Apparatus work was done by girls as well as boys.
Albert K. McBride and Miss Muriel H. Mayo, directors of physical training at the school, were in charge.

Separate Team Loses To St. Benedict C. C.

St. Benedict C. C. turned in a 6-4 victory over Belleville Separates Sunday morning at Celluloid Oval. It was the first contest of the season for both teams and both put up a fine brand of ball despite the poor condition of the diamond.

The Saints were credited with one error and the Separates had a clean sheet. The visitors got in the running in the second frame, when Purcell singled, stole second and tallied on Wood's double. Woods died on second base as Bob Kaiser retired the side. The Saints in their half retaliated. Vogler singled and advanced to second on a passed ball, then chased all the way home on Chip Freibott's drive down the third base line.

The Saints got in a run in the third session and one in the sixth. They bunched enough hits in the eighth to get in three runs. The Separates threatened in the first half of the ninth, when they batted out three runs before Kaiser tightened and retired the side.

Woods, losing pitcher, had fourteen strike outs, but walked four men and was nicked for eight hits. Kaiser had eight strike outs, gave but one free trip to first base and allowed eight hits.
The Saints will take on the Nutley P. C. Sunday morning at the same Park Oval at 3 o'clock.

Nutley High Meets St. Benedict Nine

This Saturday afternoon at the Park Oval, if the weather man permits, Nutley High School will meet its ancient rival, St. Benedict's Prep. The Maroon and Gray team stands an even chance of whipping the "Prep" team, a feat which has not as yet been accomplished in the seven years that Coach Stanford's boys have been playing the Newark school.

"Chief Stanford will have out his strongest line up for the game presenting, Stager at first; Bill Sentner at second; Jim Sentner at third and Crawford at short. The outfield will be covered by Capt. Ray Gibney in centerfield, Jacques in right and Jones in left. Wallace will do the backstopping with Baykowski on the mound. This same team with one exception came within a hair of downing St. Benedict's last year. The Nutleyites were leading 3 to 1 going into the fourth inning when rain interrupted. All fans wishing to see the game should be on hand at the Park Oval at 3 o'clock.
