TOWN'S SOLDIER DEAD HONORED WITH SERVICES YESTERDAY

Unveiling Of Memorial At St. Peter's Marks Annual Event—Brief Services Held At All Cemeteries

Rev. John Nelligan, curate at St. Peter's and Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach of Christ Episcopal Church were in charge of Memorial Day services yesterday at the Victory Monument in front of the Municipal building from which the parade line of march went to Academy street to Hornblower avenue to St. Peter's Church.

Memorial Unveiling

The unveiling at 9:45 o'clock Memorial Day morning of a memorial to "the military and naval forces of Belleville of the several wars of our nation" by the people of St. Peter's parish was well attended.

Bishop Walsh attended the ceremony, escorted by the color guard of the Knights of Columbus. His arrival was followed by the introduction of the chairman of the memorial committee, John A. Breen, by Rev. John S. Nelligan, curate at St. Peter's.

The Bishop blessed the new flag, which was raised on the eighty-five foot pole at which the monument was erected on the church park. Community singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," led by pupils of St. Peter's School, and the pledge to the flag, led by Lieutenant Edward J. Lister, further marked the blessing and raising of the emblem.

Presentation of the memorial was made by John A. Matthews. After its unveiling, wreaths were placed at the base by the veterans and the children of St. Peter's School. At this point Rev. Edwin J. Field, pastor of St. Peter's introduced the bishop.

James A. Hamill of Jersey City made the speech of acceptance. The singing of "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," and the sounding of taps concluded the ceremonies.

It was arranged to have the color guard of the Knights of Columbus meet the Memorial Day paraders at Hornblower avenue and Academy street and escort them to the scene of the unveiling.

Though the monument is designated to honor all the town's soldier dead, it is in a particular sense a memorial to the boys of St. Peter's parish who died in the World War, and their names are inscribed on it. There are thirteen.

The memorial, which is eight feet six inches in height, rests upon a plinth. Dominic Walsh of Newark is the sculptor.

The program committee comprised Father Field, Father Nelligan, William H. Williams, Miss Elizabeth Cousins, Mrs. Nellie Cogan, Miss Theresa K. Salmon, Thomas Ward, Lieutenant Lister and Frederick Pixley. Mr. Breen, as chairman of the committee was master of ceremonies.

Following these services the march was resumed to Christ Episcopal Church Cemetery where a short service was held followed by decoration of graves. A similar service and decoration of graves took place at the Reformed Church Cemetery. At the Rutgers street bridge the Ladies of the G. A. R. placed flowers on the Passaic River in memory of the ones who lost their lives at sea.

Dinner was served in the Reformed Church by the ladies of the veterans' auxiliaries.

General Committee members were: Thomas W. Fleming, chairman; William H. Hood, secretary; Stanley Mallinson, treasurer; Arthur Christie, Richard Flanagan, Joseph Delaporte, John Morgan, Chris Dotterwich, W. Mac Nair, George Cole, John J. Barrett and Joseph Wells.

Ill Health Compels Rev. Nelson To Quit Grace Church Post

Ill health has been given as the reason for the resignation of Rev. Harold W. Nelson, as pastor of Grace Baptist Church. The resignation, which has not yet been accepted by the church, is scheduled to take effect September 1.

Mr. Nelson plans to locate in the country if possible. He has no definite plans at present.

Commission Moves Ahead For Factory In Belwood Park

The Town Commission Tuesday night passed on second and third readings an ordinance to change the zone of Belwood Park from residential to factory. At least this is the sense of the move which has to do with the repealing of the ordinance which a year or so ago made the zone residential. This was done over the protest of homeowners in Belwood Park and, according to Mayor Samuel S. Kenworthy for the "good of the entire town."

As they have consistently done Commissioner Patrick A. Waters and Frank J. Carragher objected to the change. The Mayor, who has been the strongest exponent of the factory, was backed by Commissioners William D. Clark and James Gibson. George Stewart, a Belwood Park home owner, informed the board that if it could raise no better monument as an achievement than the factory, it appears to him as failure. He said, in effect, that if he employed back room politics he might be able to change the vote against the factory.

Eternal Partisanship

Mr. Stewart charged that "eternal partisanship is the price of political patronage."

Statements, he said, had been made that the town at large would benefit. Belwood Park would be glad to pay the difference to keep out the factory, he added.

As regards the Belwood Park petition against the factory, he explained it contained 125 names, while the Soho petition for the factory contained over 200, many of whom do not own homes.

"If we had desired only residents we could have had 500 names," he stated.

Former Recorder Samuel Figurelli submitted another petition from about twenty home owners whose property is within 100 feet of the proposed factory.

Present Entertainment

The entertainment and dance given Friday night at Christ Episcopal Church, Belleville, by the Girls' Friendly Society and the Women's Auxiliary was well attended.

The program comprised a comedy "Alice's Blighted Profession," by eight girls; a dialog, "What Street?" and group singing. In the play were the Misses Elizabeth Yindra, Nellie O'Neil, Bertha Mumford, Marjorie Davis, Jeanette Crockett, Julia Lewis, Catherine McCluskey and Lorraine Ross.

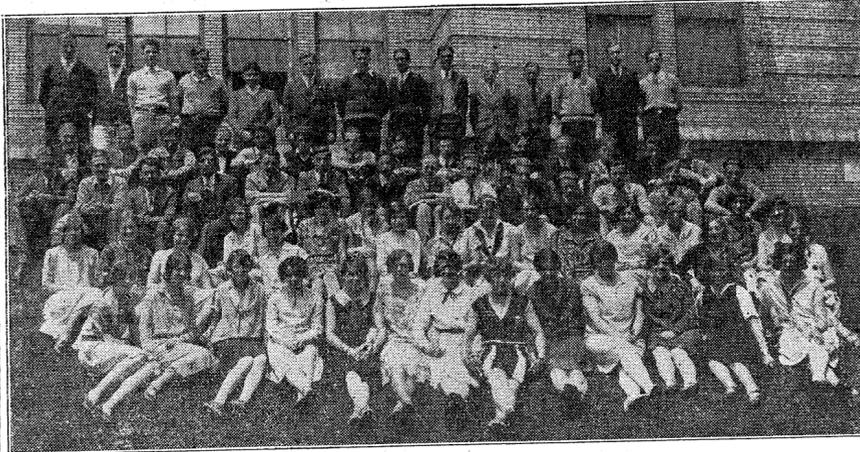

Mrs. George Kelsall, branch president, was coach. Dialog parts were taken by Miss Ruth Hess and Miss Ruth Williamson, Mrs. Harry Edwards played for the song numbers.

JOINT RECITAL PLANNED THURSDAY AT WESLEY

It is indeed fortunate for all music lovers that such a splendid program has been arranged for next Thursday evening at the Wesley M. E. Church, when a joint recital will be rendered by Lila Wellington Methvin, soprano of Columbus, Georgia, and the Schubert Trio of Belleville. It will take place at 8:30 o'clock under the auspices of the choir and the proceeds will go towards the organ fund.

Lila Wellington Methvin is well known in music circles in her native state. She is music critic for one of the large daily newspapers, besides being a member of the Orpheus Society and the Conservatory of Music in Columbus. Critics have praised her highly wherever she has been soloist in recitals in many cities. Her way northward to attend the national biennial music convention in Boston as delegate from the Orpheus Clubs of Southern Georgia, she will be the guest of her sister Christine Wellington Phillips of 39 Van Houten place. Thru her good nature, she was prevailed upon to give this special recital in collaboration with the Schubert Trio of which her sister is a member. The choir deems itself fortunate that thru the kindness of the artists participating, such a splendid program could be arranged.

The Schubert Trio made a very successful debut on May 8th, at Fawcett Presbyterian Church and later repeated its success at a recent recital at the Grace Baptist Church. Those composing this pleasing Trio of instrumental artists are, Eleanor Bacon Peck, pianist; Gladys Debow Brown, cello, and Christine Wellington Phillips, violin.

The program for the evening is as follows:— Old English Group, "My Lovely Celia," George Monroe; "So Sweete Is Shee" arranged by W. A. Fisher; "Shepherd thy demeanor vary," Thomas Brown; Lila Wellington Methvin, Aria from "Il Re pastore"; Mozart, Lila Wellington Methvin, violin obligato by Christine Wellington Phillips. Minatures, Frank Bridge, "Minuet," "Gavotte," "Allegretto," Schubert Trio. Modern English Group, "There is no other to say," Owen Mase; "Listening,"

News To Us

If stories are true about the revision to the zone map Clearman Field, on the map, is the site of apartment houses. According to information at the town hall the revised layout is to cost $1,200 or thereabouts. It seems that any Belleville youngster—if time were taken to look at the spot—could tell whether that green athletic field is an apartment site.

TRADE AT HOME CAMPAIGN IS NEARING END

KING STREETERS SAY THEY PAY ON 25X100 FEET LOTS THAT ARE ONLY 25X90 FEET

Elect Joseph Gorman To High Office In State P. B. A. Group

Joseph Gorman, Belleville patrolman, who has for four years served as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the State Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, has been elected second vice president of the organization. The association ratified the election at its regular monthly meeting in Elizabeth Elks' Home May 23.

At the meeting Past President Joseph A. Donovan, who has been chosen a sergeant in Elizabeth was tendered a testimonial dinner. Because of his raise in rank he had to follow a precedent of the P. B. A. and resign from its ranks.

President Dennis Byrne of New Brunswick congratulated Donovan on his promotion and thanked him for his efforts and devotion to the state association. Henry Miller was installed as first vice president.

Following close on the heels of the protest of Cedar Hill avenue property owners that they are assessed too much for small homes, as told exclusively weeks ago in this paper, other sections of town are taking up a battle for lower assessments.

The latest protest comes from King street. Residents there Wednesday filed with the County Tax Board a similar petition to the one circulating on the hill section. They felt the increase in taxation when the bills went out recently. Fifteen homeowners—nearly all those on the street feel that they are assessed more for 25x100 feet lots than they are actually worth. They claim the tax books show the lots at this size while in reality the lot are only 25x90 feet. The assessment on these lots, bordering on the high tension line, surrounded by factories is about $650 for each lot.

Several Silver Lake home owners are also up in arms, in these cases as individuals. They will file petitions this week, it is said. The petitions have already been filled out.

NAVY OFFICER INJURED BY ACCIDENTAL SHOT AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Boy, Picking Up Empty Cartridge, Jolts Arm Of Firing Squad Member, Discharging Blank In Officer's Face

This One New On The Judge

"This," declared Recorder George A. Fitzsimmons in Police Court last week, "is something brand new. They tell me that a man who bites a dog creates news, but you've gone him several better. Ten dollars or 10 days."

A peddler, ruefully pulled a bill from his pocket and handed it to the court. He had just admitted, freely and frankly, that he was guilty of cruelty to animals. He bit his horse on the right ear.

It all happened because the horse developed temperament to such an extent that the peddler lost his temper. The peddler set out on his rounds in his usual amiable mood, and everything went well until he, his horse and his wagon reached the hill section. At this point, the horse suddenly decided it needed a rest. It stopped.

The driver tried persuasion, to no avail. Then he reluctantly applied the whip. When the animal still refused to budge, he alighted, seized the horse's bit and tried to pull it forward.

Dog Causes Accident To Cop's Motorcycle

Peddler Bit Horse's Ear; Fined $10 Dollars.

A dog which grabbed Motorcycle Officer Richard Nourse of Belleville by the shoe as he was riding his machine in Greylork avenue, near Linden avenue Sunday, caused the officer to collide with the rear of a parked automobile. Damage was confined to a bent mudguard on the motorcycle, the dog was reported owned by C. L. Waldie of 236 Linden avenue.

Herman Schwarzenbek, ten, of 36 Hampton place, Nutley, suffered shoulder injuries when the bicycle he was riding west in Chestnut street Sunday night, was in collision at Passaic avenue with an automobile driven by George Glover Jr., of 164 John street, Nutley. The latter and Patrolman Johnson took the boy to Dr. Oscar J. Denes of Nutley, who ordered an X-ray examination to determine whether the collar bone is broken.

The significance of Memorial Day was forcibly impressed yesterday upon those who gathered at the Victory Monument in front of the municipal building.

One salute from a firing squad from the Brooklyn Navy Yard had been discharged and the squad was about to fire the second salute when one gun belched forth, by accident, Chief Petty Officer Robert Griglet of the U. S. Navy lunged against a comrade and fell to the pavement, dazed.

The shot—from a blank cartridge—had come with such force against his left ear and side of his face that it is feared he may lose a portion of his ear.

Veterans nearby picked up Griglet and rushed him across the street to the office of Dr. Edward Flynn where he was attended by Dr. F. P. Carrigan of Nutley. He was then taken by an ex-service man, George Cole, to the Navy Yard. Griglet, who lives at 585 Palisade avenue, Jersey City, was shot by one of his pals, also from the Navy Yard, John J. Henry of the U. S. S. Williamson. As the squad raised the rifles for the second volley, a youngster in the crowd of nearly 2,000 rushed up behind Harry to pick up one of the empty shells from the first volley. Harry's arm was jolted by the boy, bringing the rifle on a level with Griglet's ear and accidentally discharging the shot. Griglet will recover.

Hardly had Rev. John Nelligan, curate at St. Peter's, and Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, given addresses on the patriotic solemnity of the occasion, when the near fatality occurred. Taps were immediately sounded to prevent disorder and Belleville's observance of the day was on the largest and most impressive ceremonies yet held in town. Volleys were fired at other places in town where services were held, but police cleared onlookers from the vicinity of the squad.

While attending the unveiling of a monument at St. Peter's directly after the first mishap, Anthony Signorin, a small boy, was taken ill and removed to his home, 2 Smith street. A friend Imogene Klump, eleven, of 14 Smith street, went to visit him and was bitten by a dog owned by the Signorins. She was attended by Dr. Carrigan. The dog will be observed by the health authorities.

NUTLEY TRUANT OFFICER SHIFTS

Board of Education Is To Have Own Instead Of Policeman.

The Nutley Board of Education decided Monday to engage its own truant officer, rather than use a member of the town police force, a practice which has been in vogue for some time.

Mrs. Frederick Sanford, chairman of the rules and regulations committee of the board, who introduced the idea, said that Mayor Cook had expressed a desire to withdraw patrolmen from truancy work because of need of all men for regular police activities. Under the old plan, the Board of Education and the town shared equally in the expense. No salary was fixed Monday, that and the selection of a person for the position being left in the hands of the rules and regulations committee.

Mrs. Sanford also reported on the redistricting of the schools. She said that some children are in schools where they do not really belong, but were sent there because of the crowded conditions in their own districts. These pupils will be permitted to continue in the school they now attend unless their presence overbalances. All other students will be subject to the new boundaries recommended by the rules and regulations committee.

One exception to this ruling applies to the pupils living on Franklin avenue, south of Harrison street, who now attend the Park School. There are but eighteen of these pupils this year, while from the same neighborhood twenty attend the Lincoln School. Since these eighteen pupils are distributed through the grades in such a way as not to cause any unbalancing of the grades of the Park School, they will be sent back to Lincoln School, their original district.

The question of the erection of a sand pit or coal pocket by Felicitia Jannarone at Park avenue and Walnut street again came to the attention of the board. Although the town Board of Commissioners refused a permit for the construction of the proposed yard, Walter S. Rheinheimer, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee of the educational body, said that word had been carried to him that a steam shovel was in operation at the location, opposite the Washington School.

Mrs. Sanford said that she had been informed that Jannarone was merely going to erect an office there. Mr. Rheinheimer was authorized to investigate.

WOMEN DRIVERS MOST RELIABLE

Safety Engineer Resorts to Science for Evidence to Support Idea.

Logic, psychology and science have been commandeered to build up a stronger case for the woman motorist as a more reliable and safer driver than man.

Coming to her defense this time is Robert Clair, safety engineer and chairman of the taxicab and fleet owners' section of the National Safety Council. Clair discards as unfair the old arguments that were used to prove the superiority of woman as a driver and resorts to more scientific evidence for the defense.

His case is built up on answers sent in by 100 representative men and the same number of women pleasure car drivers, besides verbal statements from 300 commercial car drivers. Asking them whether they believe the average woman driver is as careful as the average man, he finds that 74 per cent of the men reply "No," while 84 per cent of the women shout back "Yes."

On Woman's Side.
But the word of these men and women isn't the deciding factor for woman's defense. Clair goes to Dr. F. A. Moss, of the department of psychology at George Washington university, who set out to learn which of the sexes responded more quickly to danger signals.

The tests showed that the women students selected for the tests were as reliable as the men, "if not more so." And they were more consistent. "In concluding his tests," Clair reports, "Doctor Moss stated there is no physical reason why a woman may not drive as well as a man and that he has also found no psychological reason."

But Clair sees the fallacy in exalting women drivers on the basis of accident and license statistics.

Women Drive Less.
"The average woman drives proportionately many fewer miles than the average man," he points out. "Thousands of commercial vehicles roll up tremendous annual totals in mileage—20, 30, even 40,000 miles being common."

"Much of men's driving is necessarily at the hazardous hours of maximum traffic congestion, while women drive, as a rule, exclusively for pleasure, for convenience or for shopping tours."

"Thus not only does the woman spend many fewer hours behind the wheel than the average man, but her mileage figures are substantially lower."

Nevertheless, Clair insists, science and a newer logic prove woman at least is as good a driver as man.

British Building Wider Highways to Help State

While some of the individual states of this nation have almost as many motor cars as England, the same cannot be said of the development of the system of highways. Although no part of the English road network is designated as a national route, local authorities receive moneys for the movement from the national road fund. In return for this help, the government may acquire a belt of land a quarter of a mile wide along the course of new arterial roads so that the enhanced values developed will benefit the state.

Special Headlight Now Shines Around Curves

Hazards of driving the automobile at night are reduced by a special headlight so adjusted that a wide beam is projected to both sides of the road, without glare to approaching cars and with better illumination of the highways on curves, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The lamp plainly shows the road before the driver turns. It is not intended to take the place of the regular spot or headlights, but for special service on winding roads.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

WHAT WILL YOU LEAVE?

WHAT will you leave when you die?

That is not an inquiry into your financial condition. The inventory of the little pile of dollars, or the big pile, as the case may be, will be of only passing interest. A matter of a few taxes and some regrets that you had not been more saving.

The dollars that you leave will soon be scattered and probably spent not at all as you would have spent them and if you could send a message from where you hope you are going you would probably pay few compliments to those who will be distributing what you collected.

What are you going to leave besides money?

Are you going to leave a pleasant memory?

Are those who stay here for a little while after you are gone going to speak kindly of you?

Are they going to recite good deeds that you did and kind words that you spoke?

Stamp Commemorates Light Anniversary

A special two cent postage stamp to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the first incandescent lamp invented by Thomas A. Edison will be issued by the United States Post Office Department.

The new stamp will be the same size as the two cent ordinary stamp and will be printed in red ink. The central design will have a picture of the original lamp with rays issuing therefrom. Immediately above and partly encircling the lamp will be a ribbon with the words: "Edison's First Lamp;" above this and reaching the top of the stamp will be a semi-circular panel with the words: "United States Postage" in white Roman letters. In both upper corners are ribbon scrolls with the year "1879" at the left and "1929" at the right. On either side of the lamp and through the rays of light will appear the following legend: "Electric Light's Golden Jubilee." The white numerals "2" will appear in both lower corners within dark circles, which will be connected by a dark panel forming the base of the lamp and containing the word "Cents" in white Roman letters.

The new stamp will be placed on sale June 5 at the post office at Menlo Park. The stamps will be available at other post offices as soon after that date as production will permit.

Phone Co. Honors Its War Heroes

Following a custom of several years' standing, New Jersey Bell Telephone Company employees will attend memorial services May 30 to honor two former associates, Leonard P. Borrell, and Harry E. Wickham, who died in service during the War. One service will be held at Mr. Borrell's grave at Rosedale Cemetery, Orange, and the other at Mr. Wickham's grave in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, East Orange. The services will be simple. At their conclusion, wreaths will be placed on each grave.

New Jersey telephone men who are buried in other parts of the country will be honored in similar fashion by the associated companies in the Bell System in whose territory the graves lie. The American Telephone Company has made arrangements to honor those telephone men who are buried overseas.

Impossible To Stem Metropolitan Growth Says W. J. Orchard

Editor the News,
I have been interested in the recent discussions in your paper by editorial and through letters from correspondents concerning the desirability of Belleville's industrial expansion and I would like to present certain factors for your consideration.

It is absolutely impossible to stem the growth of the Metropolitan area. Even if we wanted to we could not stop the continued expansion and development of the entire district. The Hudson River has ceased to exist as a barrier. It is now crossed by one bridge and in a few years there will be more tunnels and more bridges and the whole of Essex County and all the counties of northern Jersey

HOOVER CLEANING Keeps Fresh the Beauty of Fine Rugs

THERE are only two ways to remove all the dirt from rugs. One is to beat it out by hand, the other to dislodge it by Positive Agitation through the Hoover cleaner.

The latter is the efficient way and the safer for your rugs. To this beating action is added that of sweeping to gather up threads and lint, and suction to remove completely all the dirt that has been brought to the surface.

Hoover-cleaned rugs retain their colors, the nap stands upright and your rugs remain as pleasing as when first laid.

The Hoover is guided by the lightest touch of your hand on its pistol grip handle.

See the Hoover at the Public Service store nearest you, or write or telephone for a demonstration in your home. Such a request involves no obligation.

Hoover No. 700, $75 cash. Hoover No. 543, $59.50 cash. At a small increase either model may be purchased on terms of $5 down and $5 a month.

PUBLIC SERVICE and the whole of Belleville is going to be built up solidly.

What are we going to do? Sit idly by and watch this development go elsewhere and let Belleville take the overflow or are we going to guide its development along logical lines to the end that the things that Belleville wants will come to Belleville and come here sooner than in other areas?

That brings us to the question of what does Belleville want? Unquestionably Belleville wants a balanced development. It wants extensive high grade residential areas;—it wants residential areas where families of smaller means can live in attractive quarters; it wants apartment houses; it wants factories and industry to supplement its retail business and to provide work for its residents. Without all of these things it cannot have a balanced development.

It is all very well for some idealists to want Belleville developed as a strictly residential community,—but that is basically impossible. The growth of this area is largely going to be due to the demands of industry and the necessity of those working in industry finding suitable living quarters near to their work.

The sensible thing to do is to guide the development of Belleville by the allocation of definite areas of the town for definite purposes. By all means have adequate area for industrial development. More than half of the employees in Belleville's industries will find residence in Belleville—as they do now—and as the industries remain longer located within our limits a larger percentage of employees will become Belleville property owners and Belleville tax payers.

Every citizen of every community wants public improvements, wants good roads, playgrounds, schools and adequate municipal government. The only way that they can be obtained is by revenue from taxes. Per square foot of area industry pays many times the taxes of residential property. Industry does not of itself increase the burden on the school system, does not of itself increase the burden on the Police Department, the Health Department or the construction of streets or playgrounds. Industry brings to Belleville more rates, more tax revenues, more property owners, more business for our local merchants,—and if Belleville is to fill the bright place in the future of the Metropolitan area that it can fill if it will, it will be through the encouragement of industry suitably located.

To me it seems that to endeavor to develop the section of Belleville between Washington avenue and the river for anything other than industry is not sound economics, because that area lies between our two principal arteries of transportation—the Railroad—and the River. Some day we are going to have a channel up the Passaic River for vessels of considerable draft, and suitable dockage and wharf facilities to make use of its wonderful transportation possibilities. Some day we are going to have a spur line of the Erie Railroad running up and down, say Cortlandt street, to serve the industries that will come. These industries will provide the revenues in the form of taxes for the operation of a splendid, modern municipality. Most of the executives and workers will reside in the residential sections of Belleville set off by our Zoning Regulations from the industrial areas.

The Zoning Amendment gives the power to regulate our development. If that development is controlled and guided it will increase Belleville's revenues in a way that will not detract from its residential possibilities. Everyone with the future of Belleville at heart will encourage—not discourage—the growth of industry within its boundaries.

Very truly your,
WM. J. ORCHARD.

BIGNESS AND HAPPINESS

The Merchants' Association of New York thinks that the rest of the country ought to know more about the metropolis. So a handbook has been prepared which informs us that more than 190 people pick up a telephone receiver every second, that a baby is born every four minutes and six seconds, that New Yorkers eat 7,000,000 eggs daily.

There are numerous other statistics which are equally formidable. But what the rest of the country would like to know is whether the New Yorker is happier than the resident of the average American small town. He has more neighbors, more things to see, and he can get more excitement out of crossing a street than a small town resident gets in a whole day. But is he happier? Or as happy? No statistics can tell us that, but the New Yorker seldom looks as though he were enjoying life.

ECONOMY

The wife of a Cleveland millionaire has made application for separation from her husband on rather unusual grounds. Although the husband is rich in this world's goods, he is an extreme economist if what his wife alleges in her petition for divorce is true.

She relates that during a trip with him to Florida they were walking through a park one night where there was a man with a huge telescope directed at the moon.

The proprietor of the telescope made a nominal charge of 10 cents for a look at fair Luna.

Mrs. Millionaire expressed a desire to take a squint at the moon. She told her husband she had never looked at the moon thru a telescope and asked him for 10 cents to pay for this privilege. Thereupon she says he looked aloft and replied:

"Why that moon is only in its first quarter—10 cents is too much to pay for a look at only one-fourth of the moon. Come on, dear—I'll let you look at it some other time when it's full."

FREE LOANS TO UNCLE SAM

When the Liberty Bonds were being marketed and quickly snapped up, for patriotic and other reasons, it was said of the enormous distribution of these securities, reaching as it did into the humblest homes, that it would provide a liberal education for the people; would teach them the convenience and safety of investment in government securities, and generally would familiarize them with financial transactions in which they never had participated before. It would train them also, it was asserted, to look after their money and to keep an eye on their investments.

This was a good doctrine, and we would not controvert it. Nevertheless, we were moved to a word of comment over the announcement from Washington that, notwithstanding all the Liberty loans and Victory notes have matured and no longer draw interest, some $40,000,000 worth of them remain outstanding. In other words, this is so much money loaned to the government without interest; a most altruistic proceeding, if handled over to Uncle Sam to help him prosecute a war but not exactly businesslike as a matter of personal financing. Of course, death and many other factors have contributed to this condition of seeming national carelessness; but we imagine that scores of our citizens, not the least intelligent of them either, might dip into their safe deposit vaults and their desks and bureau drawers, and find a great many hundreds, if not thousands of dollars tucked away in wartime paper, on which they have only to ask for the cash and get it.

THE FACTORY PROPOSITION

It has been said that the proposed factory in Belwood Park section of town will benefit the town at large. It may be placed in a zone which only a year ago was changed to protect residences.

Aside from hurting the investment home owners have made in Belwood Park, the factory, to our way of thinking, is not going to benefit the town at large as much as some people think. And when we speak thus strongly we hope some will not misconstrue our meaning. We appreciate the fact that they may also be entitled to a slant at this matter.

Belleville is favored with a beautiful setting in Belleville avenue near Franklin avenue. In case it has not been made quite clear, the factory is proposed not far away from that intersection, where there is a wonderful park development, a $3,000,000 hospital about to be constructed, a new school and some fine homes. It is about the best approach Belleville has.

It seems to us that if the factory goes in Belwood Park it will be the opening wedge for more factories there. It will kill the only really decent approach the town has to convince outsiders that Belleville is one of the finest towns in the state, as our Mayor publishes far and wide. If it is so good, why not make the approaches inviting? To our mind a highly residential development out toward our neighbor, Bloomfield, would be a good investment from an advertising standpoint, even though it might be said the short sightedness of town officials in ever letting residences spring up along a railroad is almost folly. Industry invariably follows railroads. We can't excuse mistakes that have been made, but we can protect people who live there, now. There is plenty of room in Belleville for factories in proper locations—without deliberately antagonizing some of our best people who have invested life savings in homes. We would vote against the factory if we were in a position to do so and say that if it wanted to come to Belleville there are plenty of sites available where not one—let alone 125 home owners would be harmed. Personally, we would like to see this case go to bat in the courts. Zoning is beginning to come into its own. Zoning primarily protects. We would like to listen to a judge query as to why a zone had been made residential one year—people fined for violating it—and then have it revert back to an industrial zone for the consideration of one concern.

Doings in the Field of Sports

Bachelors Defeat Kearny Red Sox, 9-8

The Bachelors defeated the strong Kearny Red Sox 9-8 at Capitol Field Saturday.

Noonan, Bachelor twirler, although hit hard at times was particularly effective in the pinches, especially in the ninth frame when he struck out the last man to face him with the tying run on third base.

All of the Bachelor tallies were the result of some heavy clouting on their part as their aggregate of fifteen hits will testify. "Jim" Clark was particularly effective with the bludgeon for the victors, getting three clean safeties, including two doubles. Lawler and Connelly were the fielding stars for the Bachelors.

Ellsworth and Hyde were the shining lights in the losers' attack.

Next Saturday the Bachelors will attempt to add the Angora A. C. to their string of victories at Clearman Field, while on Sunday afternoon, they will engage the Rambler A. A. of Elizabeth.

In their next league start the Bachelors will encounter stiff opposition in the league leading St. Peter's nine, but an upset in the dope bucket is promised by the Bachelor cohorts.

Panthers Defeat Park Club, 6-2

On Sunday afternoon the Belleville Panthers defeated the Park A. C. for the second consecutive time this season by the score of 6-2. Mayor Kenworthy was on hand to pitch the first ball to inaugurate auspiciously the Parks' opening at their home grounds, Belleville Park.

"Mac" Lamb on the mound for the Panthers was in rare form allowing but five hits off his delivery and retiring eleven Park batters via his strike-out route. Paul, Park pitcher, was hit hard by the Panthers who accumulated sixteen hits from his slants.

The Panther's big inning was the sixth when they scored four times to sew up the game. Successive bingles by Laird, Bloemeke, McCarthy, Byrnes and Murphy featured this assault.

Byrnes, Murphy and Mc Carthy featured the Panther attack while Schenck contributed a sensational running catch in the fifth.

Belleville Separates Hang Up Two Wins

Roseville A. C. Team Falls As Do St. Benedict C. C. Players

Belleville Separates scored two impressive wins over the week end. On Saturday afternoon at Separates Field they downed the Roseville A. C. nine by a 4 to 2 score. Manager Johnny Woods, Separates speed-ball artist, starred on the mound by striking out seventeen batters and allowing but four hits. This defeat was the first to be chalked against the Roseville squad this season.

Sunday morning the Belleville nine travelled to Celluloid Field and scored an easy victory over the strong St. Benedict C. C. team by a 13 to 6 score. The St. Benedict team is entered in the Suburban League representing Newark.

"Pep" George on the mound for the Separates, was in superb form, allowing eight hits and fanning twelve St. Benedict batters. Woods was the batting star for the winners pulling out three hits, one a circuit blow with the sack loaded. The Separate batters hammered the offerings of Haefner and Wallace for a total of fifteen hits. "Shrimp" Del Guercio, Separate short stop poled out four hits in as many times at bat. Mart Mallack received a big ovation from the 600 fans who attended the game by running to deep left and making a marvelous one handed catch.

FIRST NATIONAL MORE THAN EVENS RECENT DEFEAT BY PEOPLES' BANK

The First National Bank of Belleville more than avenged the recent defeat by the People's National Bank & Trust Co. in handing out a sound wallop in a return game played Wednesday, 25-3.

People's opened up by scoring two runs in the first inning. This lead, however, was short lived when First National money changers got up. Walker, the opposing pitcher, was banged all over the lot, and the support he received was no consolation.

Karosen of the First Nationals, playing short stop, proved to be a very cagey ball player, catching not a few men asleep on second base. Miller played a bang-up game in left field for the First Nationals, spearing flies from all angles, giving the crowd many a thrill while he raced around after them.

Walker of People's, while being hit plenty, lasted eight innings, having good control, and was then relieved by Howley. Wagner covered the position as short stop for People's very efficiently.

Dingle had the better time in the pitcher's box, fanning men with ease, and other times scooping up hot ones for a put out. Bennett caught for the First Nationals and covered home plate in great style. Dailey of the First Nationals shaped up as the heavy hitter of the day, clouting out a three bagger and a brace of two baggers. He was robbed of a home run by a strong wind carrying the ball out of bounds.

The Parks opened the games auspiciously with a single run in the first on a single, an error and a sacrifice. In their half the "Caps" came right back with three tallies. Successive hits by Flynn, Mallack, Dunleavy, Schessler and Gelschen produced these markers.

After failing to score in the next two frames, the Parks again tallied in the fourth on Lawson's single, a hit batsman and a "Cap" error.

In their half of the inning, however, the Capitols went on a batting spree, the whole side batting around as ten men dented the rubber. This frame witnessed the appearance of three Park slingers none of whom were effective against the Capitols' murderous onslaught. Five singles, two doubles, three passes and a hit batsman accounting for the wholesale scoring, which was started after two men were out.

The Parks scored their third and last run in their half of the sixth on a double by Cavallo, a stolen base and two passes.

Dunleavy, Capitol right fielder, was the batting star of the day with four successive hits to his credit, including a double. Schessler and Gelschen also featured, each contributing three safe wallops to their team's batting orgy. Joe Flynn was outstanding in the field for the "Caps" with a leaping catch of a line drive by a Park batter, resulting in a fast double play.

Cavallo was the batting hero for the Parks getting two of the four bingles his side accumulated.

Capitols Overwhelm Park Players, 13-3

On Wednesday the Capitols decisively defeated the Park A. C. nine to the tune 13-3 in an American Legion League game.

The Parks used three twirlers in a vain attempt to stop the Capitol hitters who accumulated a total of sixteen safe wallops, including five doubles. "Tommie" Dunn on the mound for the winners, pitched a steady and effective game limiting the Park to four bingles scattered in as many innings.

The Parks opened the games auspiciously with a single run in the first on a single, an error and a sacrifice. In their half the "Caps" came right back with three tallies. Successive hits by Flynn, Mallack, Dunleavy, Schessler and Gelschen produced these markers.
