Wemecs Discuss Fourth Play Plans

Miss Betty Tempest Is To Coach "Once There Was - -"

A special meeting of the Wemec Dramatic Club of the Wesley M. E. church was called Tuesday and although the rain was heavy, twenty-two were on hand to try out for parts in the new play which the Club will stage in the High School on Friday evening, November 22.

The play selected was "Once There Was - -" and will be coached for the fourth successive time by Miss Betty Tempest, of the High School faculty. The play committee was selected at the closing meeting of the Club last June and comprised Miss Dorothy Wadsworth, chairman; Jane Carrough and Horace Baldwin.

For the first time there will be a large number in the cast. Fifteen will take part. Doris Wakefield, Dorothy Wadsworth, Jane Carrough, Dorothy Patton, Alma Knudson, Gladys Lindbloom, Ella Walker, Miriam Akersten, Alice Mathews, Mary Elizabeth Compton, Horace Baldwin, Charles Gebhardt, H. Vail Ryan, Alan Crisp and one other member will be chosen later.

This will be the fourth production of the Wemecs and all effort is being spent to inaugurate the fall play in a fitting manner. Heretofore the club has given one play a year in the spring, the policy being changed this year to run two, one in November and one in the Spring.

Business committees will be ready to function within a week and tickets will be out shortly. There will be reserved seats as formerly.

The Epworth League meeting last week held at the Wesley M. E. Church on Sunday evenings at 7 was featured by a talk by Miss Alice Ling who is a student in this country. This Sunday evening Mr. Charles Gebhardt will speak on the topic of "Law Enforcement" which promises to be well worth hearing, as many phases will be touched upon. ## Town Refuses To Accede To Kearny's Pipe Line Request

Belleville Feels Neighboring Municipality Should Maintain Holmes Street Till Paving Project Is Ready

The Belleville Town Commission Tuesday afternoon at its regular weekly conference refused to accede to the request of Kearny officials that the latter be released from maintenance of Holmes street and responsibility from accidents on payment of $25,000 as stipulated under a contract between the towns. The contract was drawn prior to Kearny constructing a water main in Holmes street to the Belleville Reservoir, which main will afford Kearny a supply of Pequannock water.

Kearny wants to be relieved at this time. Belleville feels that it should not be released until Kearny paves Holmes street, as a further part of the agreement.

Town Engineer Albert S. Blank declared the ground will settle over the main for some time and Kearny should be responsible until the street is in condition for paving.

Another Lad Enters Delivery Boy Contest

Henry Haffner Donates 2 Quarts Of Ice Cream To Winner

By EDDIE TAYLOR

The delivery boy contest is certainly getting hot. Our latest entrant is Harry Seeman of 75 Division avenue, driver for Henry Haffner's confectionery store, located at 441 Washington avenue. Harry has the Dutch accent that echoes on the ear so mellowly. He has a good sense of humor and is a great mixer among the young men who hang around Haffner's. He is five foot, six inches in height and has sandy hair. Youngsters have a good time in the store when Harry is there as he has unlimited patience with them.

We now have four candidates in the popularity contest in the town. Mr. Haffner has donated two quarts of ice cream as one of the prizes. The entrants are: Sidney Kasen of Belleville Produce Market, Al England of Eddie's Market, Billy Mitsche of Otto Dietz's Market and Harry Seeman of Haffner's. Next week we will publish one more name and then the contest will start in earnest. Get ready to send your votes in.

Billie Dove And Rod LaRocque Screen's Newest Love Team

A new romantic team is brought to the screen at the Capitol Theatre Monday and Tuesday, when Billie Dove's newest starring vehicle for First National, "The Man and the Moment," will be shown.

Rod LaRocque, one of the most popular leading men in Hollywood, is seen opposite Miss Dove in this hectic love story from the pen of Elinor Glyn. LaRocque was chosen to play this important role because of his romantic appeal and histrionic ability.

"The Man and the Moment" is a typical Glyn love story interwoven with jazz parties and fast living. Gwyn Lee, the popular blonde actress, is seen as the "other woman" in the story.

The picture provides the beautiful Miss Dove with some exotic backgrounds, and is expected to prove one of the big hits of the present season in this city.

With the combination of Billie Dove as star, Rod LaRocque as male lead, Mme. Glyn as author and Fitzmaurice as director, First National seems to have achieved the ultimate in modern pep and jazz.

MESSAGE FROM SEA SCOUT SIPLE ARRIVES FROM ANTARTIC BASE

Dr. George J. Fisher and "Byrd Scouts" Radio Greetings To Commander Byrd's Personal Orderly At Little America, Antarctica

From Little America, Antarctica, where the famous Byrd Expedition has its base, a radiogram has come across the miles of snow and ice of the South Polar regions and through the summer heat of our own land bringing the greetings of Sea Scout Paul A. Siple, of Erie, Pa., Commander Byrd's personal aide, to the Boy Scouts of America.

The message from Siple was an acknowledgment of the greetings of Dr. George J. Fisher, and the five "Byrd Scouts" who were candidates with Paul Siple for the great honor of participating in the expedition. Their messages were broadcast to the Byrd Expedition base through the courtesy of radio station W G Y at Schenectady, N. Y., on August 24, which was the first anniversary of the memorable occasion when the Sea Scout embarked on the Byrd Flagship "City of New York" to take part in the great adventure.

Dr. Fisher's greeting to Sea Scout Siple follows:

"It was just one year ago that you were in New York City preparing to board ship for your great adventure with the good wishes of all your brother Scouts, two million of them from every corner of the earth, ringing in your ears. Across the thousands of miles that separate us we have heard tidings of the splendid work that you are doing. Your Commander tells us that you are a credit to the Boy Scout Movement and to the boyhood of America, which you are a great measure represent."

"I want to take this opportunity, on the first anniversary of your sailing from New York, to extend to your comrades, the good wishes of the Boy Scouts of America and of myself, and those others of your personal friends who are thinking of you daily and wishing you well. Scout Siple's answer follows:

"The end of the first year finds the expedition in fine shape as well as myself. I am sorry that it is impossible to communicate oftener because of conservation of gasoline, but letters later, I hope, will make up. Please send each of the Byrd Scouts a copy of this message, thank them for the messages they sent me and tell them I think of them a lot and wish they were here or even that I could write to them often. Also please send a copy to Dr. Fisher thanking him for his kind message and one to Douglass and Horowitz. Give my best regards to all my friends in the National office."

SEA SCOUT ORDERS

To insure the safety of Sea Scouts on sailing vessels and in all activities a new code of precautions has been drawn up and made public by Thomas J. Keane, National Sea Scout Director. The safety precautions were issued as an order to all Sea Scouts in the United States and copies were forwarded to them. Scout officials say that if the rules are followed generally by all people using boats, accidents will be cut to a minimum. The new rulings headed "Safety Precautions To Be Observed By All Sea Scouts When Afloat," follow:

No Sea Scout or Scout is permitted to enter a Sea Scout boat afloat unless he has shown satisfactory evidence that he is a swimmer.

No rowing boat containing Sea Scouts is permitted to go further from the shore than the distance that the poorest swimmer in the crew can swim.

No whaleboat or cutter is permitted to leave the harbor unless there are at least four Sea Scouts aboard.

No Apprentice Sea Scout is allowed in a sailing boat.

No sailing vessel on which ordinary Sea Scouts are embarked is permitted to go out of sight of land.

All Sea Scout sailing vessels must have a competent seaman aboard when under way.

Able and Quartermaster Sea Scouts should be given permission to make cruises out of sight of land only when skipper considers that they are qualified to do so.

All Sea Scout sailing vessels must carry as a minimum equipment one life preserver for each crew member.

In addition to the Skipper every Sea Scout vessel on a cruise should have a leader for each eight boys. In no case should there be less than two leaders in addition to the Skipper.

All Sea Scout vessels, during the cruising season, should at the proper time, set an anchor watch consisting of one leader and one Scout.

No rubber boots should be worn by Sea Scouts aboard ship.

Hupp Six Phaeton Has Sport Lines

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 15—Several innovations in sport lines mark the new 1930 Hupmobile Six Phaeton, introduced on August 11, which are unusually distinctive.

In the new Phaeton Hupmobile has succeeded in creating an unusual harmony between the straight body lines and the sweeping curves of fenders, doors and cowling. The result is a pleasing unity of design lines.

The new Phaeton incorporates the long, low lines characteristic of this new six. Yet its road clearance of 9 1-16 inches has not been decreased. Likewise the same new type of smartly extended fenders and distinctively short running board are used.

The hood line from radiator cap tip to the sport cowl edge is straight. The windshield is slightly sloped rearward. Its stanchions, which are chromium plated as is the windshield frame, are flared at the base to conform to the curved surface of the cowl.

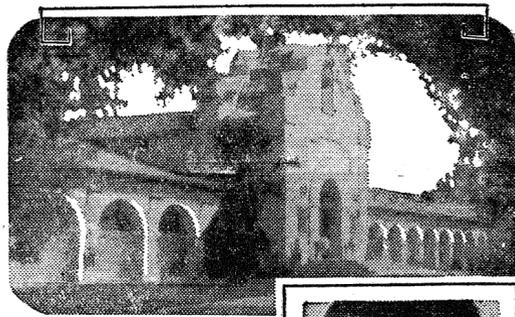

The cowl itself introduces a new sportive note. Instead of ending abruptly at the windshield base as in conventional practice, the cowling is extended to the rear and sharply curved forward at the outer edges. This particular style is now followed in the designing of cowling for the speedy open cockpit airplanes used chiefly in pursuit work.

Another distinctive design note on the 130 Hupmobile Six Phaeton is the new style doors and door fittings.

The forward edge of both front and rear doors forms a straight perpendicular line. The rear edge of the front door slopes smartly backward and upward. The rear edge of the rear doors follows the sweeping curve of the rear fender until just below the door handle from which it slopes smartly backward. Completing these harmonious lines is the top which, when folded, lies parallel with the body. The interior door handles are built flush with the door face, the handles being submerged in small wells.

The list price of the Phaeton is $1100. The other cars in the new 1930 model "S" line and their list prices are Cabriolet, $1075; Sedan, $1060; and Coupe, $995. All prices are f. o. b. Cleveland.

Hollywood Stars Find New Fun In Picturesque Mexican Spot

AMERICA'S PLAYGROUND

Hollywood's movie stars and visitors from all over the country are flocking daily to the newest of North American playgrounds, Agua Caliente, Mexico, near San Diego, Calif., and the now eclipsed Tia Juana.

Dining, dancing, golfing, shooting and whippet racing enter about a beautiful cluster of white stucco, red-roofed buildings amid old-fashioned gardens. They are a bit of old Spain but nothing of the Old World is in the life that fills the place. The hotel accommodates 600 persons. There is a waiting list always. The dog racing plant cost $500,000. There are a $250,000 swimming pool and a $2,500,000 race track.

In the Casino, picturesque native singing and play as the guests eat. Strangely, there are days and nights when the semi-tropical warmth fails the pleasure-seekers. Then a distinctly American device comes into use amid incongruous Mexican surroundings. A Bloomington, Ill., oil-burner soon banishes nature's chill with man-made warmth.

"This Mexican installation makes a total of thirty-three foreign countries in which our burners are at work," said C. U. Williams, president of the Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Corporation.

Baron Long, head of the U. S. Grant Hotel, San Diego, is presiding genius of this new pleasure spot.

Good-bye Stained Teeth

New Safe Treatment Bleaches Dark Teeth in Three Minutes

Dentists have discovered a new safe treatment which bleaches stains from teeth, giving yellow discolored teeth a beautiful blushing whiteness. It is called Bleachodent Combination, and consists of a remarkable liquid which curdles or softens the stains—and a new kind of paste, which instantly removes the softened stains, and prevents new stains from forming. Simply brush the teeth with a few drops of the liquid—then use the paste—and even the dulciest teeth are quickly whitened. Tobacco stains disappear after first few applications. Bleachodent Combination was first made for children's teeth to avoid the use of harsh gritty pastes which are so harmful to children's soft sensitive teeth. While Bleachodent Combination will instantly remove surface stains, do not expect it to remove stains caused by silver fillings, as these are below the enamel, and Bleachodent Combination is not intended to act on the enamel in any way. Fine for the gums, Bleachodent Combination is widely used and recommended. Costs just a few cents, and money back if not delighted. Get it today at all good dealers, such as:

SUPPOSE you are today paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (and there are many very good dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes during a year. Now if you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save each year the price of 25 loaves of bread or 60 bars of soap or 40 pounds of sugar or a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.

Grants Permit Delayed By Surveyor's Mistake

Now There Will Be No Hitch In Nutley Belle- ville Wedding

The Nutley Zoning Board, at a special meeting in the Town Hall Thursday night, granted a permit to E. J. Rhodes to finish his new home at 78 Prospect street. Complications caused by a surveyor's error, with-held the completion of the house until the difficulty was settled by the board.

After the surveyor's mistake was explained, it was found that the house was too near the adjoining property. The meeting was called Thursday night so that the house could be finished, as Mr. Rhodes expects to live there in a few weeks, after his wedding to Miss Marjorie Taylor, a Belleville School teacher.

The board refused Frank Ritacco of Nutley permission to build two store buildings in Washington avenue. His application was referred to the Nutley Board of Commissioners.

Vacation Experiences Told By Club Group

Reception Given Monday To New Members Of Wo- man's Club

A reception to new members of the Woman's Club of Nutley marked the opening fall meeting Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. H. Halsted received, assisted by a committee. Mrs. T. James Reed, pianist, entertained with two groups of selections.

Vacation experiences were informally given by members. Mrs. Frederic Sanford told of a trip to Alaska, starting from Buffalo, going through Colorado and Yellowstone Park and returning home by way of Canada.

Mrs. George M. Gottfried gave impressions of California, Seattle and Mexico among other places visited.

Mrs. Gilbert R. Livingston told of an all-water trip to Quebec.

Mrs. C. E. Hebbert read extracts from letters of her daughter, Miss Martha Hebbert, a representative of the Student Council attending the Geneva Conference, giving her impressions and experiences. Miss Hebbert will make a report on the international student conference at Geneva September 26 at the home of Mrs. Sanford, where a joint meeting of the Woman's Club legislative department and League of Women voters will be held. Miss Katherine G. T. Wiley of the Consumers' League will speak on "Industrial Conditions Met by Women and Children."

Announcement was made of the signing of the deed involving an exchange of a piece of club property for a similar piece owned by the town, which was voted upon in the spring. A recommendation was adopted that members cooperate in the demonstration of the Nights golden jubilee of Thomas A. Edison, October 21 and illuminate their homes for the occasion.

Mrs. Harry W. Little, chairman of the education committee, announced a party to be given the evening of September 30 at the Field Club for teachers of the schools. Mrs. Horace Tatum is chairman of entertainment and Mrs. C. B. Hayward of refreshments.

Lions-Rotary Tie In Baseball

Lions Feast But Rotary Players Rest After Game

In a game abridged to five innings the baseball teams representing the Nutley Lions and Rotary clubs battled to a 3-3 deadlock at Yanticaw Park Thursday afternoon. After the contest the Lions motored to Yonk-tah Country Club for dinner while their rivals, the Rotarians, went home, evidently content with holding the opposing nine to a stalemate.

T. H. Osborne

Funeral services for Thomas H. Osborne of 417 Hillside avenue, who died at his home Thursday after a long illness were held at his home Saturday afternoon. Burial was in Glendale Cemetery.

Mr. Osborne, who was seventy-five years old, was born in England and lived in Nutley twenty years. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Stanley Croasdale and Mrs. Charles McBride, both of Nutley, and a son, William

Essex Park Plan Depends On Interest

"If the demand is sufficient" there will be winter storage facilities for motor-boats in the county park that is planned for most of the Passaic River front of Belleville and Nutley. The park is likely to be ready next year, according to Secretary David I. Kelley of the Park Board. If storage yards are included it will end the present acute shortage of winter space for boats and give boating a tremendous boost in this vicinity.

Letting the Park Board know the extent of the demand for such facilities becomes the task of every boat owner, every boat club and every other person and organization interested in the development of boating and in the improvement of the Passaic River generally.

The board wants to know and it won't know unless it is told. Write the Essex County Park Commission, 810 Broad street, Newark, says the Newark News.

Vocational School Opens This Month

The Essex County Vocational School, Chestnut and Forest streets, Montclair, will be open for registration of evening classes on Monday and Tuesday evenings, September 23 and 24, from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M. Classes will begin September 30. It is advisable to enroll on the registration dates, but pupils will be accepted at any time throughout the year.

Any resident of Essex County or person working in Essex County, sixteen years of age or older, who is employed during the day in the line of work for which the course of study gives instruction, or who is employed in some allied line of work, may enter. The one exception to this is the special course for owners and drivers of automobiles.

Tuition is free, but a registration fee is required of all students. This fee is returned at the end of the course if attendance is satisfactory. Classes meet two evenings a week, on Mondays and Thursdays or on Tuesdays and Fridays, from 7:30 to 9:30 P. M.

The following courses are offered at the Montclair School: Automobile Mechanics, Owners' and Drivers' course, Carpentry and Cabinet Making, Mechanical Drafting, Electrical Work and Painting and Decorating.

Twenty tables were in play Tuesday, at a luncheon bridge benefit for the ladies auxiliary of Nutley Elks, held at Borden's in Newark. Mrs. Louis G. Wiemer was in charge assisted by the entertainment committee.

KIRKLESKI MAY APPEAR AGAIN IN NUTLEY FOOTBALL LINE-UP

Among the Nutley High School football candidates who assemble daily at the Park Oval is one William Kirkleski, fourteen-year-old brother of Frank Kirkleski, former Nutley football star who later attained national recognition as captain and star halfback of the undefeated and untied Lafayette College football eleven of 1926.

Young Kirkleski is out for a back-field job, preferably a halfback post. He is a freshman and consequently has four seasons of varsity competition ahead of him. He weighs about 140 pounds and is five feet six inches in height.

His athletic ambition is to attain stardom on the gridiron like his brother. His scholastic ambition is to graduate from both high school and college and in so doing to duplicate the class room achievements of brother Frank.

It was just ten years ago, this fall that Frank Kirkleski, then an ungainly, inexperienced freshman, reported to Coach Stanford at Nutley for practise. Kirk did not make the grade that year, but in 1920 he won a regular varsity job. During the 1921 and 1922 seasons he was recognized as the greatest quarterback in the state.

Miss Ruth S. Denison Weds Harold E. Crane

Ceremony Performed In Nutley Church On Saturday

The wedding of Miss Ruth Sherwood Denison, daughter of Mrs. Maude Denison of 291 Union avenue, Belleville, and Harold E. Crane, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crane of Basking Ridge, took place Saturday night at Grace Episcopal Church, Nutley, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Peter R. Deckenbach, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Belleville, performed the ceremony.

Miss Joan Lyon, organist at Knox Presbyterian Church, Kearny, played. Palms and yellow fall flowers were altar decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ward Denison, and was attended by Miss Elsie Peterson of 286 Union avenue, Belleville, as maid of honor. Shirley Denison of Montvale, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Sylvester P. Denison, a brother of the bride, was best man. Two other brothers, Henry L. and Charles F. Denison and Carl and Elmer Crane of Basking Ridge, brothers of the bridegroom, were ushers.

The bride wore a full-length princess gown of ivory satin with tulle. Her tulle veil, arranged cap fashion, was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Peterson's gown of ivory antique satin, was a replica of the bride's. She carried yellow chrysanthemums and roses of the same hue. The flower girl, in Nile green georgette, carried a basket of autumn blossoms.

Mrs. Denison wore a dress of black transparent velvet with shoulder bouquet of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore black silk with a shoulder bouquet of pink roses. For traveling the bride had a tailored suit of dark blue cloth with white satin blouse. With it she wore a Japanese marten scarf. Hat, shoes and gloves matched the gown.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the bride's home. Guests were from Chicago, New England, New York, Newark and Belleville.

The couple left on a two week's automobile trip. After November 1 they will live at 172 Cedar Hill avenue, Belleville.

Mrs. Crane is a graduate of Belleville High School and of the Montclair Teachers College. She was a teacher in No. 1 School, Belleville, before her resignation in June. Belleville's first Mayor under Commission government, the late C. Lyman Denison, was her father.

Mrs. Crane, who has lived in Newark the last six years, is a graduate of Bernardsville High School.

NUTLEY OFFICIAL SUES FOR SALARY

Assessor Lefferts' Claims $2,900 Due For Year's Back Pay, Plus Interest

The town of Nutley was served Tuesday night with a summons by Tax Assessor Henry T. Lefferts for the payment of salary due from September 15, 1928 to September 15, 1929, which has been withheld, plus interest for the year's period. The summons, which is returnable within twenty days in Judge Nelson G. Dungan's Court in Newark, was referred to Town Attorney Gorman.

Mr. Lefferts was first appointed to his office July 5, 1921 for three years and was reappointed by succeeding boards of commissioners from year to year until June 30, 1928. Although not reappointed at that time, he was continued in office since then.

Commissioner Raleigh S. Rife named Alfred E. Ga Nun to the office of assessor last year but the appointment was not confirmed by the other members of the board, Mayor Ernest P. Cook and Commissioner Charles E. Sherwood. For a time Nutley had virtually two assessors, Lefferts performing the duties, Ga Nun reporting each day. Several weeks ago an attempt by Ga Nun to have himself installed in the office was quashed by the Supreme Court of New Jersey.

Since September 15, 1928, Commissioner Rife, as treasurer of the town of Nutley, has refused to sign Lefferts' salary check. Mr. Rife would not make any comment Tuesday on Mr. Lefferts' move in the case. The salary of the assessor is $2,900 a year.

Mrs. Ethel Gorman was appointed a clerk in the water department Tuesday night by the board of commissioners. She will replace Mrs. E. L. Rounds, resigned. Robert Harlow was named acting plumbing inspector during the absence from town of Health Officer Eugene H. Sullivan during this week.

An ordinance was introduced for extending Highland avenue to Olsen avenue. The town must acquire property for the project. A hearing will take place October 1. An ordinance providing for installation of water mains in Warren street from Chestnut street to Vreeland avenue, was passed.

A petition, from twenty property owners in Elm place, requested the town to construct sidewalks and curbs and to pave the street from curb to curb, from Brookfield avenue to Yanticaw place, also in Yanticaw place, from Elm place to Yanticaw School.

The petitioners recalled it was the third time they had put in such a request and that the desired improvement would benefit the property owners. The petition was referred to the Department of Streets and Public Improvements.

A meeting of the All-Nutley Bowling League was held recently at which plans for the coming season were discussed. As all of last year's teams were represented, it was finally decided to drop the last two teams who had entered the league, which were the Spartans and Chemical Engine quintets. By doing this, it will be possible to go through three rounds, making continuous bowling for 27 weeks.

STATE ACTION ON RIVER IS URGED

Closing Plants Less Costly Than Present Damage Passaic Group Says

Appeal to the State Department of Health to use prompt means of cleaning up the Passaic River was made in a resolution unanimously adopted by the Passaic River Association last week at the Rutherford Yacht Club.

The resolution said that any economic loss resulting from the shutting down of one or more of the offending industries would be easily compensated for in the lessening of the destructive action on property in general of hydrogen sulphide now given off by the contaminated water.

The resolution was presented by John J. McHugh of Arlington, vice president of the association. C. M. Edward Schroeder, a Rutherford chemist, took issue during the meeting with the sense of the resolution by saying, "We should not stop factory pollution until we stop municipal pollution."

Mr. Schroeder's attitude was a surprise. He explained, however, that chemicals emitted by the factories were serving to counteract the organic waste that is daily being dumped into the river.

Some dyes and chemicals have no doubt found their way into the river," Mr. Schroeder said, "but most of us seem to forget that these same dyes are expensive to manufacture and are not as a rule wasted."

"The only way to purify satisfactorily the Passaic River without changing the municipal sewage condition is to add to the present sewage a large quantity of chlorine, an expensive chemical used in all drinking water in this part of the state. The task is so enormous that it is impracticable."

"Vegetable matter, not chemical matter, is polluting the Passaic. Vegetable matter comes from grease on sheepskin used in the manufacture of woollens and from a comb left on silk by the silkworm. Chemicals purify a river, but vegetable matter can thoroughly be done away with only by a slow process of sand and tides."

C. H. Hemingway said after Mr. Schroeder's address: "We are not so interested in what is causing pollution of the Passaic River as in how to stop it. At our next meeting at the Yacht Club State Senators from our four counties should be called upon to attend."

The resolution said: "Whereas, Specific and definite evidence of Passaic River pollution and its source exists in the findings of the chemist and reports of the engineer to the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, as published in the Newark Evening News of recent date; and

"Whereas, The findings of Dr. Edell, chemist, of Newark, as determined by samples taken from the river, are to the effect that putrescible matter and hydrogen sulphide are the prime polluting substances; and

"Whereas, Putrescible matter consumes available oxygen, thus creating conditions tending to encourage propagation of dangerous bacteria, such as typhus, bacilli and

"Whereas, Hydrogen sulphide is highly poisonous to human beings in both concentrated and dilute form whether in water solution or as gas mixed with air, causing colic, nausea, vomiting, drowsiness, feeble respiration and disintegrates red blood corpuscles; and

"Whereas, Harry C. Helminger, industrial chemical engineer of Kearny, confirms the findings of Dr. Edell and further concludes that the source of the poisonous hydrogen sulphide is that of dye waste; and

"Whereas, It is urgent that relief be prompt and efficacious, the offenders having had ample time to apply well known and successful methods to eliminate the nuisance of industrial wastes; and

"Whereas, Any economic loss resulting from the shutting down of one or more of the offending industries will be easily compensated for in the lessening of the destructive action of the offending sulphide on property in general; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Passaic River Association, that these hereinbefore stated facts be presented to the State Board of Health and that body be and is hereby most urgently requested to take such action that by law it is so empowered and will abate this dangerous menace to the health and property of the public resident in the affected Passaic Valley such action to be positive and immediate as is possible and be it further

TABLE KNIVES SHRINK

One of the biggest of industrial revolutions, which will permeate the daily life of every individual, is in the making.

The cutlery manufacturers have proposed a drastic change in the size of the ordinary table knife. After some centuries of use, the long knife seems to be doomed. The manufacturers have come to the sensible conclusion that a knife three inches long will answer the purpose for which it was devised as well as one three to four inches longer. Three inches of cutting edge should be enough. Perhaps the long knife developed out of the theory that the edge would last longer if there was more of it.

With the small-bladed knife must come the short-handled fork. It is obvious that present day forks are as needlessly long as the knives.

Steel knives have very generally taken the place of the silver knives which some years ago were thought more "swagger." Now, it is recognized that a steel knife is more fitted for the business although the silver knife is the proper thing for certain courses and every housewife must have a set of them.

The small knife will save a lot of steel, it will probably be cheaper and more satisfactory all around. But it has taken some time for the cutlery makers to come to it.

ROOM FOR BOTH

The old and never settled problem of whether a big city or a country town is the best place for a college has been revived by Dr. Bernard Iddings Bell, warden of St. Stephen's College, New York. He believes that the clamor and rush of a big city are fatal to collegiate training.

Dr. Bell comes from a college that is located at Annandale-on-Hudson. It is not wholly surprising that he favors the little town as a college centre. University presidents in New York, Chicago and Boston are convinced that the city is a stimulus to thinking. The argument will go on endlessly, with city colleges proclaiming their advantages and with country colleges pointing out their superiorities. Presumably both types are needed. Each has advantages for certain temperaments among students.

A SLOGAN FOR DANCERS

The Dancing Masters of America, Inc., have adopted a slogan. The florists have done so well with "Say It With Flowers" that the professors of tersichore offered a prize for the best short sentence to popularize dancing. An Ohio newspaperman was the winner and soon we shall be advised to "Try Dancing."

For a slogan, it seems to us only fair. It lacks that little touch of sentiment that made such an appeal for "Say It With Flowers." When anyone does anything clumsily, the flippant younger generation will be sure to chant "Try Dancing." We like it better than its closest rivals—"Two Dancing Feet Bring Miles of Happiness" and "Those Who Dance, The Years Touch Light," but we suspect that the dancing profession has not yet found the perfect slogan.

CONTRASTS

The year 1929 is likely to be remembered as a speed year. The Graf Zeppelin encircled the world faster than man had ever done it before. English seaplanes have travelled faster than man ever has travelled.

Historians of the future who chronicle these startling events should not, however, neglect to note that flying has not solved the problems of pedestrians or automobile drivers in cities. Whether we drive or walk from point to point in Newark or New York, we are slowed up a little more each year. A very few people participate in breaking speed records, but most of us, to our regret, are forced to make new slow records altogether too often in this year of rapid transit.

That the business concerns that serve you best are the ones who continuously tell you through the printed page who they are, where they are and what they have to offer you.

That continuous advertisers are the ones who do everything in their power to satisfy your every want; they always offer you reasonable merchandise reasonably priced.

That local dealers always serve you best because they know local conditions and needs much better than any firm in a distant city could know.

That you can get what you want and see what you get when you buy from local dealers.

That there is no long wait and no transportation charges to pay when you buy from home dealers.

Home dealers will serve you quickly with the best that can be procured.

It always has been and always will be safer and more profitable to buy at home.

Money saved is money earned. Save by reading the local advertisements and buying from local dealers.

AIR-MINDED

EARL J. SMITH

DETROIT—To make America air-minded is the task laid out for Earl J. Smith, nationally known authority in the chamber of commerce field, whose appointment as assistant to the president and chairman of the public relations division of the Stinson Aircraft Corporation has just been announced.

Mr. Smith, as one of the original stockholders in the corporation, has long been interested in commercial flying, and in his work with various civic organizations and chambers of commerce, has encouraged hundreds of communities to develop airports and prepare for the new age of transportation which is coming.

As assistant to the president of the growing Detroit corporation, he will be associated with one of America's pioneer aviators and master aircraft designers, Edward A. Stinson, who has spent more than 14,000 hours in the air and logged some 1,400,000 miles.

"Aviation's pioneer days are over," asserts Mr. Smith, "and the world is about to enter upon a new era, the age of flying. Lindbergh has made us air-conscious, but it remains for less spectacular aircraft enthusiasts to make America air-minded, as much at home in the air as on the ground." "The community that fails to develop an adequate airport within the next two years will find itself as isolated as if it were miles away from any railroad line."

IN-BETWEEN

These are the days when the Summer wardrobe suddenly begins to bore; when we long for something new with which to freshen up the collection of frocks which has been seen us through the Summer, but when, cautiously, we don't wish to buy anything which may not be worn well into the Fall. The little frock shown here solves the problem neatly. It is ideal for afternoon wear and for informal dining in warm weather, and just right under a coat for early Fall.

Circular flounces adorn the skirt, which is attached to a wide yoke, and a circular ruffle deftly accents the surplus line. Excella Pattern No. 2961. Sizes 14 to 42, 25 cents.

Those who marry for business may repent for pleasure.

Failure is often due to a belief that all things come to those who wait for something to turn up.

You can't tell anything about a person until you have lived with him, but after that you can usually tell a lot.

One way to make people happy is to keep out of their own affairs.

It is the easiest thing in the world to think up a lot of reasons why other people should be satisfied with what they have.

The horse had one advantage over the automobile. It didn't become obsolete a year after you bought it.

The Warship Question

Cheaper Cars Coming? Standard and Shell Diamonds From Sugar

RAMSAY MACDONALD arrives soon to talk over armaments at sea. He probably comes prepared to ratify officially a programme already agreed upon, substantially. He would not want to return with nothing, after Snowden's triumphant round trip to the Hague.

The British, well informed by their separate air department, care little about surface ships for any future war. They know ships will cut no figure. But they have 70,000 miles of sea coast to patrol in their empire. Their cruisers are really floating forts or police stations, boarding houses for marines that can be landed when needed, then moved on to soothe the next troubled spot.

If the President would establish a separate air department, appointing a head engineer with others under him, all controlled by Engineer Hoover, to develop new ideas, Uncle Sam might not spend his life copying Germany, Italy and Britain. And we would not worry about warships.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, told stockholders he bought "a substantial interest" in Opel, great German automobile concern, to develop German manufacture of automobiles rather than supersede it with organization and methods entirely American.

This country depends largely on export of manufactured articles. It is, therefore, interesting to hear from Mr. Sloan that in Europe his company in 1928, in dollars and number of units, sold more automobiles than any European concern manufactured.

Mr. Sloan plans for Europeans the kind of car they want at a price they can afford. Not so rich as we, they do not demand so much luxury. Mr. Sloan, Mr. Ford and others in this country may need to produce here a cheaper car than any now offered.

General Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck, plans a car for $200. Henry Ford years ago showed the writer a small, powerful engine made for a car to sell at $250. He probably has kept the plans for that product.

Prof. Hershey of McPherson College, told scientists at Minneapolis that genuine diamonds, of superb color, can be made by subjecting ordinary table sugar to a pressure of ten tons to the square inch.

He has produced such diamonds in his laboratory. In another laboratory, the Senate, Mr. Smoot is about to prove that he can produce for friends enough money to buy all the diamonds in South Africa by subjecting ordinary table sugar to a tariff pressure of two cents or so per pound.

Standard and other oil stocks have been going up despite the British invasion by "Shell." The 24,754,967 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey are worth about two billion dollars now.

That is just one fragment of old Standard Oil, built up by Mr. Rockefeller, and chopped into pieces by a rampaging government because it was supposed to be worth "nearly a billion" altogether. What Old Standard is really worth now nobody knows. Including oil in the ground, ten billions probably would be a reasonable price.

Secretary Mellon needing $500,000,000 for Uncle Sam's use, invited subscriptions to treasury certificates. He was offered $1,488,000,000, almost a billion more than needed. And he did not pay nine percent, or the federal reserve six percent discount rate either.

Mr. Mellon could have bought the $500,000,000 of certificates himself, and saved on income tax. But he avoids all business connected with government. And besides, he knows how to invest more profitably.

In his government Mussolini held eight posts. Now the powerful Italian resigns seven of his cabinet offices, remaining premier and minister of interior only. The king announces the changes by royal decree. Mussolini told him what to announce.

The years are passing, Mussolini knows it, and seeks to build a government machine that will survive. The Italian question is: "After Mussolini, what?"

Twenty-eight European nations are working at a plan called "The United States of Europe plan." Germany says she will join, but not if there is an "anti-American pact." That's another hint to President Hoover and others responsible to make this country strong enough to take care of itself.

JERSEY BANKERS' CONFERENCE ON TRUST ACTIVITIES

State Association Plans A Two-Day Gathering In November

The New Jersey Bankers' Association will hold a conference in Newark on November 14 and 15 to discuss trust matters. The annual meeting of the convention, which has always been held in Atlantic City in May, has been an occasion of importance and interest to the bankers of the state, but owing to the number of subjects considered it has been felt that more attention should be given by the state association to the work of trust departments. Therefore, it is hoped that this new conference on trust matters will be a permanent addition to the activities of the association in much the same way as the trust company division of the American Bankers Association.

The following committee was appointed by William J. Couse, president of the state association, to consider the separate conventions for trust work: Leslie G. McDouall, associate trust officer, Fidelity Union Trust Company, chairman; George Letterhouse, trust officer, Commercial Trust Company, Jersey City; H. Douglas Davis, treasurer and trust officer, Plainfield Trust Company, Plainfield; Earl S. Johnson, vice president and trust officer, Savings Investment & Trust Company, East Orange, and H. M. Sypherd, vice president, Guarantee Trust Company, Atlantic City.

The committee held a meeting in the Essex Club, Newark, recently and reported that there had been a gratifying response to a letter sent on August 19 to all New Jersey banks suggesting a conference on this important phase of bank work. It was decided to hold the first conference in Newark and it is expected that future annual conventions on trust work will be held in other cities of the state. This arrangement will eliminate this subject from the annual general convention in Atlantic City.

The conference will be held at the Robert Treat Hotel and there will be discussions on both days, with a banquet on the night of November 14. Special entertainment will be provided and a number of outstanding guests of honor will be invited. Indications from the responses of the banks are that the affair will attract over 250 delegates.

Upholds Belleville Firm's Patent Suit

Overman Cushion Tire Company Gets Injunction Against Goodyear

Patent for two types of pneumatic cushion tires, held by the Overman Cushion Tire Company of Belleville, have been upheld by the Federal Court in an infringement suit against the Goodyear Rubber Company. An injunction and accounting was ordered. If the higher courts sustain the opinion, the Overman Company will be entitled to an accounting of profits resulting from the Goodyear product.

M. C. Overman, president of the plaintiff company, states he is pleased with the decision and hopes the suit would end successfully. Robert W. Byerly of New York, counsel to the Overman Company, said he saw no reason why the higher courts should reverse the opinion. Mr. Byerly added he could not estimate the royalties the company would collect if the suit should be successfully completed.

One type of tire was brought out in 1923 and the other, called the super-pneumatic, in 1927. The tires are used on heavy trucks.

The attorney said Mr. Overman was a pioneer in the cushion tire field. He is credited with having made "a valuable contribution to the tire art," Mr. Byerly declared.

On With The Show

By ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1929. Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

"ON WITH THE SHOW," is the first 100% natural color, Vitaphone picture. It is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

"Welcome Home," a musical comedy trying out on the road, is stranded. Willie Durant, the financial backer, is friendly with Nita French, the star, but, strangely enough, refuses to put up any more money. Behind Nita's back he is attentive to Kitty, the check room girl with stage aspirations, and induces her father, "Dad" Malone, stage doorman, and her sweetheart, Jimmy, head usher, to invest their life savings in the piece. Jerry Connelly, the manager, is unable to pay salaries. Sam Bloom, scenery builder, comes to take the sets. Jimmy suggests robbing the box office, but Jerry vetoes the idea.

 "Of course he will." Without giving him any opportunity to protest further, Sarah dragged Bloom along with her. Jerry heaved a sigh of relief. "Well, that staves off calamity for awhile, anyhow." He began pacing back and forth, still trying to figure some way out of his difficulty.

A blare of music finished up the specialty number, and the twins came running off. Back for their bows, then off again. A soft crooning melody rose and fell as the curtain went up on the second scene of the first act to reveal an old plantation with a white pillared, Southern mansion gracing one side of the stage. Now the wings were cluttered with moving forms rushing pell mell falling into step, and swinging out in front of the audience.

Sounds of words drifting back through the wings fell on deaf ears. Jerry still walked the floor, looking for the light that would break through this darkness beyond which there seemed to be no dawn. If only some way out of the difficulty would present itself. Durant had told him more or less definitely last night that he was through with the show for good and all. Jerry had talked and argued and pleaded, but to no avail.

"What we don't see doesn't hurt us."
 "What we don't know doesn't pain."
 The voices on the stage took up the slow waltz tune.

"And if our faith won't desert us. We'll see the sun through the rain. Please don't take away my dreams..."

"Don't take away my dreams," Jerry muttered to himself. A lot of dreams he had felt, he reflected bitterly, and there wasn't any sunshine in this storm. Here he was, part owner of a show that he was certain had every possibility of becoming a Broadway success, and he couldn't even road it in to the Main Stem. There wasn't one person left from whom he could borrow any more money. He was sunk.

"Say, listen, Jerry," the voice of Jimmy interrupted his silent soliloquy. "I got an idea to keep Sam from getting the dough in the box-office."

"Spill it," Jerry commanded abruptly.

"While Sam's out there in the wings I could hold up the box-office and take out the money," Jimmy began eagerly.

"Oh, for the love of Pete," Jerry caught the boy and shook him. "One more crack like that out of you and I'll knock you down. What a wise-heimer you turned out to be!"

"It'd be a cinch," Jimmy protested, his eyes shining. "I could do it easy enough; it wouldn't take much to throw a scare into George. And then, Kitty and me and Dad, all of us'd be fixed. Gosh, Jerry, it would get you out of a terrible jam."

"Yeh, and you'd spend the rest of your life in jail, you poor sap. Just let me catch you trying to pull a stunt like that. You let that box-office strictly alone. You hear me?"

"Well, I didn't say I was going to do it," Jimmy murmured, crest-fallen. "I just suggested it," he added apologetically.

"Well, it's like most of your suggestions—terrible!" Jerry snorted. "Forget it, kid."

Jimmy retired a few paces away to nurse his disappointment. His plan to him had seemed simple enough. He could just give George a good scare and take the money. After all, the money belonged to the show, he told himself. It weren't for the show the money wouldn't be in the box-office, and after Broadway had set its stamp of approval upon the piece there would be plenty to pay back the house management. Still, he didn't want to go to jail, and yet it all seemed so logical and easy. The loss of his own hundred dollars he could bear, but he had to think of Kitty and Dad.

As Jimmy was revolving the idea in his mind a light step, sounded behind him and Kitty laid a hand on his arm.

"Hello, Jerry," the girl greeted the manager. "Gee, we've got a peach of a house. I checked eighty more coats than last night," she smiled happily.

"Must be colder out," Jerry remarked unfeelingly without stopping his nervous prowling.

thing's sure to turn up." Kitty shook her head. Why, if Bloom took the scenery away the show would absolutely have to close. And there was Dad with all his little savings gone. And Jimmy's few pennies. Surely, there must be some way out of the situation. She couldn't let this terrible catastrophe fall upon her father's head. She did not mind the loss so much herself. She was young and she could work, but it was Dad! And the fact that Durant had promised to take care of them didn't reassure her. She was beginning to distrust his motives. It hadn't been for the love of Dad and Jimmy that he had sold them a piece of the show.

"But—but if the show closes, Jimmy, what are we going to do?" she demanded, still clinging to the boy. "I don't care so much about myself, but it's Dad. What are we going to do about him?"

"I don't know, Kitten," Jimmy patted her shoulder tenderly. "But no matter what happens, we're going to stick together like we promised that day at the beach. You remember?"

"Uh-huh," Kitty nodded solemnly. "I'm still wearing the ring," she held up her hand, displaying the plain silver band on her little finger. "Through thick and thin," she read, turning the ring around. "Through thick and thin," Jimmy repeated. "And it sure looks good to me. Some-pretty thin now, honey."

They stood in silence, each looking at the little ring that meant so much to them. If she could only think of something to do. Kitty sighed. Some way to get Durant—Durant! That name brought a rush of memories to throng her mind. Durant was interested in her. At least, he had made a number of advances, all of which Kitty had waved off without the slightest compunction.

But now the situation was serious. Some one had to act, and act quickly. And no one seemed to be able to think of anything to do. Suppose she talked to Durant. Perhaps she might play up to him a little. She looked at Jimmy thoughtfully out of the corner of her eye. Jimmy wouldn't like that, she knew, and she really loved Jimmy. But it wouldn't be anything personal, she assured herself. It would be for the sake of everyone concerned.

Jimmy's arm slipped about her waist and he drew her close to him, his lips pressed against her cheek.

WINDOW SILL REFRIGERATION DANGEROUS

Window-sill... back-porch... cellar... pantry—all are dangerous, insanitary and unreliable in the preservation of perishable foods.

Doctors and public health authorities everywhere agree that only artificial refrigeration the year around affords adequate protection. Fifty degrees is the danger point. When the temperature creeps above that mark the micro-organisms which cause food to spoil multiply astonishingly. And when foods are kept at too low a temperature there is danger, too. They are frozen or frost-bitten, and lose their nourishment value.

To insure the health of your family—and to prevent costly food waste, use artificial refrigeration the year around—in January as well as June.

St. Peter's Bachelors Game Is Called No Contest

In what was probably the final twilight contest of the season the Bachelors-St. Peter's skirmish was called at the beginning of the fifth because of darkness, Thursday evening.

St. Peter's, behind Ral Flynn's superb twirling, was in the van by 5-1 at the time the no-contest decision was rendered.

The second-place Saints, who had lost two in a row previously to the fast-stepping Bachelors, had determination written all over their collective faces in the first frame and registered four times to gain the lead never to be disputed.

Carragher opened this eventful canto with a single to left and promptly stole second. Sug Flynn's timely bingle to right scored Carragher with the initial marker. Then followed in rapid succession Polfisch's one-ply blow, a pair of felder's choices and Johnson's single to run the St. Peter total to four for the inning.

After walking Fitzpatrick in the Bachelor half of the same frame, Ral Flynn, St. Peter slab artist deluxe, reached the heights by whiffing the next three batsmen on just nine pitched balls. It was a brilliant effort and alone worth the price of admission.

"Ral" Flynn's line single, coupled with a pair of free tickets and a felder's choice added the fifth and final St. Peter tally in the second.

In this same round Flynn exhibited his lone streak of wildness passing three Bachelor stick-wielders, which, coupled with "Pat" Dunn's single to right, allowed the Lawlor-men to score their single marker and avert the whitewash brush.

In the fourth "Ral" Flynn again performed his specialty and retired the side on strikes.

With one St. Peter player retired in the first half of the fifth, approaching darkness, which made it hazardous to continue playing and forced a postponement of the tilt.

It will be played off tomorrow as the second game of that triple-header.

Panthers Prepare For Basketball

The Belleville Panthers, after a highly successful season on the diamond in which they defeated most of the leading junior nines hereabouts, decided to inaugurate their basketball season the first week of December at a meeting held Thursday evening.

Many promising candidates have already reported for the court squad and a winner looms likely.

Among others the Panther squad include such stellar performers as: Schenck, Otto, McCarthy, Byrnes, Suderley, Laird, Lamb, O'Neil and Bloemeke.

Any junior nines in the vicinity desirous of booking the Panthers, write to the booking manager William Schenck, Cortlandt street, Belleville.

Want Belleville Opposition

The Cohens and Kelleys A. C. of Newark wishes to book all heavy midget or light Junior basketball teams of Belleville.

The team will travel or play on its own court. The Newarkers have Weinfeld of Belleville High with them this season. Weinfeld was out last year because of an injured leg. They will also have the Simkowitz brothers, Henopsky, Maranz and Haas. Coach Jacoby will take charge of the team and promises a banner season. Address all letters to Milton Weinfeld, 220 Greylock parkway, Belleville, or phone Belleville 3085 between 4 and 5.

Many Attend Hill Block Dance

The Block dance of the Belleville-on-the-Hill Improvement Association held on Adelaide street, between Little street and Tiona avenue, Saturday night was well attended.

Rain interrupted the dancing at intervals, but not seriously. Much home-made cake remained to be sold when the dancers made a sudden bolt during an early shower. In a panic the refreshment committee hastily auctioned the entire stock only to regret it when the dancers returned.

Clintons Hold First Football Practice

Under the guidance of Coach Sullivan over thirty candidates for the Clinton A. C. football team worked out at Belleville Park, Saturday afternoon. Prospects for a successful season for the Clintons appeared bright as many of the veterans return and new men are added to the team.

One of the latest additions to the squad is Vinve Neilan, brother of Herb Neilan, former Benedict flash. Neilan will undoubtedly earn a post in the Clinton backfield. Although confined to rudimentary football at practice he showed up well and should prove a valuable addition to the team.

Another newcomer to the Clintons, but not new to the football fans of Belleville, is Pat Dunn, former star pivot man for the Capitol S. C. Dunn will probably be seen in the center post in most of the Clintons' contests.

An entirely new line will have to be built, but with such material as Monaghan, Maguire, Clark, Irving, Cole, McHale, and Lukowiak to work with this should be the least of Coach Sullivan's worries. Many of the youngsters composing last year's second team will be fighting hard for a first string berth and this will bring out, in early season what should be expected of a team in mid season.

Howard "Pebbles" Pethit, captain of last year's team has not yet reported but the followers of the Clintons may expect to see this star in the line-up for their opening game with Union A. A. on October 6.

With this array of stars a successful season should be expected of the Clintons, but add to this talent the veteran backs, Marty Mallack, "Sus" Howley and "Bungo" Gorham and what have you.

These three are part of the Clintons' original horsemen. Captain Pethit was the other member of the quartet. All four could plunge, pass and kick. Mallack and Howley were demons in a broken field, and with the line bucking or Gorham and the passing and running of Pethit it was possible for the Clintons to beat teams far outweighing them.

It would be a source of much satisfaction of the followers of the Clintons to see the Four Horsemen as one again, but Captain Pethit will probably be seen at one of the wing posts and Neilan or Proven will go to the backfield.

Practice will be held at Belleville Park on next Sunday morning at ten o'clock and any other candidates for the team may report to Coach Sullivan at that time.

Ints Establish Excellent Record

The Intertown A. C. ended its baseball season with the impressive record of nineteen wins and four losses.

The Ints registered a shut-out to the strong Spartans and won four by the forfeit route. Other strong victims of the Ints were the Passaic Avenue Stars, Belleville Opals, Belleville Outlaws, Newark Erectors, Night Owls and the Patriotic Order, Sons of America.

The Ints superiors were the Nutley Cardinals, winning two games, the first by a margin of 8 runs, the largest ever scored by the opponents, the Cohens and Kelleys and the Auburn P. C.

The Ints were the runners-up in Nutley, defeating all Nutley teams to face them, except the Cardinals. The Ints claim that if another three game series should be played with the Cardinals they would be victorious as the Ints have been playing the best brand of ball lately.

The Ints not only came in second in the Nutley race but they also claim the Belleville midget title as no Belleville team has been able to defeat the Ints. The strong Opals, Memphis, Borders and Outlaws of Belleville all fell victims to the Ints.

Jack Tuozzolo and S. Liguori lead the Ints in batting. Cappy A. Jannarone, Onfrio Natale, T. Jannarone and F. Tuozzolo, did all the mounding work bringing in good performances. T. Liguori also deserves much credit at the catcher's post, nabbing many runners at home and catching many foul balls which were hard to get.

Ints Establish Excellent Record

The Ints are getting ready for football and although this is their first year they expect good results.

The first game is scheduled September 23 and the Nutley Red Wings will furnish the opposition.

The Ints players will be Jack Tuozzolo, T. Jannarone, R. Jannarone, A. Cappy, and S. Luzzi in the backfield with J. Jannarone, Alfred Tuozzolo, D. Debrowski, P. Vitello at the end posts, R. Longo, S. Liguori and P. Sisbarro at the tackle. Riccardi and Vuono at guard and C. Vitello at center. J. Tuozzolo was elected captain and S. Luzzi manager of the football team with August Jannarone, coach.

Belleville American Legion Noses Out Nutley, 10-9

In a ten-inning fracas at Clearman Field Saturday, the Belleville American Legion* nine earned its third win of the season over the Nutley A. C., gaining a close 10-9 decision.

After getting off to a poor start when the Nutleyites dented the rubber nine times in the first four innings, Jim Mallack, local slab artist, shut out the losers with but one decision.

Ryan and Scheper, who divided the hurling burden for Nutley, were both hit hard by the localites, who amassed a grand total of seventeen separate and distinct wallops from their offerings.

Nutley was first to score, opening the second stanza with four runs on but a lone single. Several Belleville misplays, a free ticket and a felder's choice combined with this bingle to produce the tallies.

In their half the local boys came within a single marker of tying the score with a three run assault on Ryan. Button's double over the left field fence with two on followed by Carragher's single to left provided the necessary scoring punch.

After Nutley had injected some variety into the affair by wasting a pair of hits in the third, the Bell-boys went on a rampage driving Ryan to cover under a five-hit barrage.

Three successive singles by Kearney, Curran and Lilori tied the score for the locals and knocked Ryan off the hill. He was replaced by Scheper, who was promptly greeted with a long sacrifice fly to left by Carragher and Button's single, which sent the homesters into a short-lived two-run lead.

In the fourth, however, the losers opened up on Jim Mallack for five tallies, their last of the day, on three hits.

Ryan's double with three on was the most potent of these smashes. Taylor and Scorso also came through with timely blows during this rally.

After Scheper had reached the heights by retiring the winners on strikes in the fourth, the Legionites pushed across a lone tally in the next round. Kearney opened with a single, stole second, reached third on Curran's sacrifice fly and scored on Button's third successive bingle.

From then until the tenth the twirlers were supreme with Jim Mallack continuing his superlative pitching of the previous three cantos. Then Mallack busted up the old ball game with his timely and sensational round-tripper.

Bill Kearney was the busiest swinger for the home club, collecting four consecutive blows while tallying three times. He also displayed some gilt-edge fielding, his gloved hand stop of Johnnie Lamb's hard-hit grounder in the tenth being a gem of the first water.

Jim Mallack garnered two singles besides his homer, while Bill Buttons was the timeliest clubber, banging out a double and two singles to drive in four runs.

"Rosy" Ryan was Nutley's only man to solve Mallack's offerings for more than one hit. His collection included a double and single.

"Kelly" Taylor provided the fielding fireworks from a Nutley angle with several sensational stops and throws. A lightning double play started by him cut short a promising Belleville rally in the ninth.

This Whirl Of Sport

Last Saturday's overtime skirmish between Belleville and Nutley was probably as great a diamond battle as Clearman Field has ever witnessed.

It had everything: real pitching, hard and timely clubbing, sensational fielding and a real wind-up thrill in Jim Mallack's long homer to break up the old ball game in the tenth.

For sterling mound artistry, who could offer a nicer performance than that of the above-mentioned Jim Mallack when he shut out the Nutleyites with but a lone bingle for the final six frames? The exhibition appears even more remarkable when his poor start, in which the losers got nine runs, four of which were earned is cited.

Seventeen safe clouts is sufficient testimonial of any team's ability to swat the ball hard and often. That was the Legion's collection for the day.

As for fielding just mention Bill Kearney's beautiful gloved hand stop in the tenth to one of the numerous fans who attended the game and he will promptly go into rhapsodies of admiration. It was a humdinger. Kelly Taylor, Nutley star short-stop produced another fielding gem in the ninth to nip a Belleville rally in the bud. In this frame he caught Curran's sizzling line drive and converted it into a double play with a fast toss to first. Carragher and Curran made several fine catches in the outfield to add lustre to the brilliant fielding of the day.

A few more games like this one, which had the many fans on their toes from start to finish, and the Legion officials will have to make new ground rules to control the crowds.

Next Saturday afternoon local baseball fans will have in all probability the pleasure of witnessing that rarity of rarities, a baseball triple-header.

Due to the inadvisability of playing any more twilight ball and the desire to end the League quickly and to the satisfaction of all, the local legion moguls have set Saturday as the final day of reckoning for the League.

At 1:30 the Bell-Nuts-Capitol seven-inning affair will begin. A win for the Caps will cinch the pennant for them, while a Bell-Nut victory will give the Bell-Nuts undisputed possession of the third-place.

At the conclusion of this all-important tilt, the long-awaited Bachelor-St. Peter clash will take place. It means much for both as a Bachelor win will place them in the running for third place, while the Saints will be fighting for a chance to battle the Caps for the pennant.

The third game, if necessary, will bring together the Bell-Nuts and St. Anthony's for final settlement of third place.

What a bargain bill, fans! Three of the most promising games of the entire season, all in one afternoon. It will be a real treat for the scores of the League's faithful who are sure to attend.

Each succeeding practice session seems to cast a rosier hue on Belleville High's grid prospects for the coming season.

The veteran backfield of Schwickler, Short, Arderten and Fred Plenge is coming along in great style and should take its rank among the leading backfields of the state.

A strong line is slowly but surely being moulded around the numerous veterans back such as: Galluba, Salter, Estelle, Brand, D'Elia, Casale and Udansky.

It is often heard and correctly that a team is only as strong as its reserve strength. When this adage is applied to the Bell-boys, their bright prospects are made even brighter for their's is a wealth of reserve material ready for every emergency.
